Movie-Radio Guide APPLAUDS:

Lionel Barrymore

THERE are actors and actors. Some of them are a complete definition of the theory that an actor must be a human being with an obnoxious degree of ego. Others are decent folk. Into the latter category goes Lionel Barrymore. There cannot be a more-loved personality in Hollywood than Lionel, because there isn't a better man.

The male editors of MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE applaud Lionel because he is a courageous individual who never gave up his job through years of sickness, even though he could afford to retire. Lionel loves acting and intends to stick to it, figuring rightly that his great stamina gives him years more of trouping even beyond his present age of seventy-three.

The feminine members of MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE applaud Lionel because he is the type of man they'd like their man to be when they approach the last lap of a century of living. He is gruff. He is kindly. He has intense interests, likes and dislikes. Lionel Barrymore cannot stand things that are petty, yet he has the infinite patience to compose beautiful music such as his Tableaux Russe, which was played at the Hollywood Bowl only a few weeks ago. He is an expert at etching. He is kind to young players and serves as a model of Thespian virtue for all the newcomers in Hollywood.

If you know Lionel, and many do, you can visit him in his valley farmhouse. You won't enjoy much conversation, because he is mighty busy with his pet Scotties and the house cat which has been hanging around the place for years. He may take you out to see his two razorback hogs. He probably won't tell you why he has those hogs. The fact is he bought them and herded them into a canyon back of his home to destroy rattlesnakes. The rattlesnakes were dangerous to hikers who have been cutting across Barrymore's property. Those gol-durned rattlesnakes might bite a trespasser and Barrymore wouldn't like that—hence razorback hogs.

For one more solid reason MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE applauds Lionel Barrymore. As the elder Doctor Gillespie in the "Dr. Kildare" series of movies he humanizes the medical profession. You can applaud him yourself soon by seeing the grand old man of the movies in "Dr. Kildare's Wedding Day."

BARRYMORE'S annual radio portrayal of Scrooge is a Christmas tradition

The Editors' Note:

ANOTHER in the parade of outstanding color covers which Movie-Radio Guide takes just pride in presenting is a study of Mary Martin by Willinger. The fascinating Miss Martin, having swiftly completed three films for Paramount, is now making plans for her approaching motherhood. For interesting facts turn to page 2

THIS WEEK: By strange coincidence, the brothers Barrymore both appear in this issue of Movie-Radio Guide. On this page we applaud Lionel. On page 38 you see brother John at work in the Rudy Vallee show. We are a little sorry we can't say the same things about John that we do about Lionel, but that's what makes Hollywood the place it is. If John is a little more rambunctious and frequently gets himself in the headlines wrong side to, remind yourself that perhaps the same thing has happened at one time or another in your family. We never saw a "black sheep of the family" who wasn't a darned interesting fellow and, like John Barrymore, usually helped other people by setting a good example of what not to do.

Among others of the always different offerings in Movie-Radio Guide this week is the visit of clownish Fibber McGee to still more clownish Charlie McCarthy. Theirs is a refreshing side of Hollywood life. Likewise refreshing and worth a reminder to our readers is the fact that there are a great many happy married couples in Movieland and almost any maid's night out you can see them as pictured on page one of this issue. We like Mary Martin and her motherhood story, and to top off the stories about fine screen folk there is the spotlight on Ronald Colman on page four. If he isn't Hollywood's finest gentleman, he is a reasonable facsimile.

NEXT WEEK: We are really surprised at the thousands of ballots sent to the editorial offices answering the question "What Do You Think of Lindbergh's Speeches?" Some folks, like Leslie Eicher of Steubenville, Ohio, weren't content with filling out the ballot. Said Mr. Eicher in a typical note: "As for Lindbergh, I am a vet and helped America in '17. I will go tomorrow if I am needed. What Lindbergh thinks should not cause much serious thinking, although I think he should quiet down." Others lauded Lindbergh. The pros and cons of this balloting will be published in the next issue of Movie-Radio Guide. Don't miss it.

In the next issue comes another of these interesting ballots—this time on the President and his policies. Do you think that fifty years from now President Roosevelt will be hailed as one of the nation's really great leaders? This and other questions you may answer for yourself will be published in the next issue.

Movie-Radio Guide for the week of August 23 to 29 will feature a beautiful cover portrait of a lovely radio favorite who only recently returned to the air. Her name is Frances Langford and she is the heroine of the Dick Powell "American Cruise" show.

P. S. Have you done your bit for a soldier in camp this week? Don't forget them! —The Editors.

HOLLYWOOD'S NEWS EVENT OF THE WEEK

FACTS DENY Stars' Unhappy Loves

PROTESTS on the part of editorial writers and others over the many divorces in Hollywood are on the upswing again. This is unfair to stars who are happily married and undoubtedly will remain that way. On Thursday night, maid's night off, MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE cameramen staged a round-up of happy married couples. The result brings forth unusual situations, is an obvious denial that all Hollywood folks don't know how to lead happy married lives. Above you see Claudette Colbert dining with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Tyrone Power, far left. Center is Claudette's husband, Dr. Joel Pressman, who dislikes publicity and can't be blamed for that, because of his profession. (1) The champion happy married couple, Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond. (2) Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Marshall, who are seldom seen in public. (3) Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hayward (she's Ida Lupino) talking with Frances Robinson. (4) Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hope dancing at Ciro's. These are all happy people and there's not a divorce idea in their collective heads. And a lot more Hollywood folks are just like that!

Movie-Radio Guide DISCOVERS: Mary Martin's Plans for Motherhood

MARY MARTIN, "resting" while awaiting Sir Stork's arrival, studies operatic singing, piano, whistling, to keep herself busy

HER FIRST FILM, "The Great Victor Herbert" (with Lee Bowman, standing, Allan Jones, above), made Mary a screen mother. She's following its theme in real life. Below: Mary likes children—and dogs—but believes dogs and children should go together

To Feature Desk:

MARY MARTIN has her own plan for coordinating her real life successfully with her reel life. She is keeping them separate. Her careers at home and at Paramount both will be served.

To the singing sensation from Weatherford, Texas, the "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" toast of Broadway, screen fame without a loving husband is peaches without cream—and a husband and home without babies is like a castle without inhabitants—an empty, dreary shell.

Mary believes a childless actress is missing the happiest part of life—the most important role necessary to be a successful actress.

Mary is wise with her plan to get all out of life that she can. She knew when she married film-story editor Dick Halliday there would be two clashing careers under one roof. He did too. So they planned a clash-proof house.

Besides their living-quarters, Mary and Dick have two extra wings in their home. One wing contains his working office and library. The other is Mary's and comprises music-room, files, piano and a recording machine. Even their radio has dual controls so that both may tune in their desired programs simultaneously.

Then, there's a nursery. It's the cutest in Hollywood—done in pale pink and white candy stripes like a miniature circus. The cradle is 150 years old. The little chairs and tables are antiques, and each curtain is tied back with a little circus doll. The nursery's occupant is expected in November.

However, a Hollywood actress, to have a baby, must risk her career, as she must retire from the screen for a considerable length of time. Mary has tempted fate, asked for a six-month leave of absence starting July 1. Paramount has granted it.

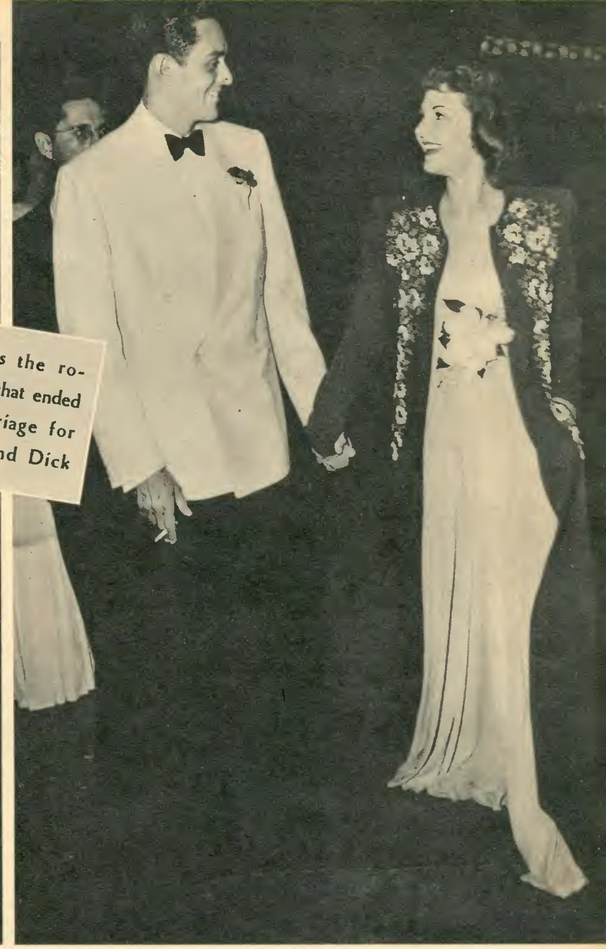
But to continue to be seen on the screen during her necessary absence, Mary worked like a Trojan. She completed "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," with Don Ameche and Oscar Levant, "New York Town," with Fred MacMurray and Robert Preston, and "Birth of the Blues," with Bing Crosby. By the time these pictures have been released, about January 1, Mary will be back making "The Man on the Street" for Mr. Freeman, the Paramount boss.

Meantime, Dick and Mary have selected the name Mary Heller Halliday for their baby, which, they decided, will be a girl. Heller, in Mary's native Texas, means sharp, energetic and alert youngster—which, of course, the baby will be. If it's a boy, they'll just drop the Mary part.

It is said that actresses getting married and having babies lose some of their box-office appeal. I don't think so. I'll bet Mary will have a lot more box-office appeal—and babies! —E. P.

ARRIVING in Hollywood fresh from her Broadway success (her second try at films), Mary was beaued aplenty, but when she met Dick Halliday, both knew their fates were sealed

DICK'S courtship was the most persistent and old-fashioned ever witnessed by Hollywood. Above: Mary and Dick at races



This is the romance that ended in marriage for Mary and Dick

DICK AND MARY went everywhere together. When Mary volunteered to do fashion modeling for the Hollywood Guild charity benefit, Dick took afternoon off to be at Mary's elbow

MISS MARTIN and Halliday danced regularly at Ciro's, and certainly enjoyed every minute of one another's company, as is well told by the candid picture (above) snapped at that popular cafe

FOLLOWING THEIR ELOPEMENT, Dick was a proud husband when he escorted Mary as Mrs. Halliday to a formal Hollywood premiere. With plans smoothly operating, Mary's determination to have a career—and be a mother too—will be fulfilled. The Hallidays are soaring on a cloud of happiness toward expected November blessed event

These pictures will allow Mary to be a star, a mother too!

BEFORE retiring for arrival of baby, Mary completed three films. Above: Mary as she appears in "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," with Don Ameche

MARY co-stars with Fred MacMurray and Robert Preston in "New York Town," a drama of big-city life compressed into lives of six men, a woman

RIGHT: Mary will have returned to work about the time fans see her in "Birth of the Blues," with Bing Crosby, Brian Donlevy, baby Carolyn Lee

RONALD COLMAN, in "My Life With Caroline," assumes task of older man training a young wife

SPOTLIGHT: Ronald Colman

He Tames His Wife

To Feature Desk:

OVER at RKO they've just previewed Ronald Colman's 1941 picture, "My Life With Caroline." He doesn't make many. He made only "Lucky Partners" in 1940.

But "My Life With Caroline" is one of Colman's most whimsical light comedies. There's but a touch of heavy drama in it. The rest is light, sophisticated and delightfully humorous.

More important to MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE was the opportunity "My Life With Caroline" gave to inspect the elusive Colman at close range.

Colman likes to live his life away from the set, undisturbed by photographers, interviewers and trade associates, makes but one picture a year because he believes one is enough.

What, then, is this fifty-year-old actor like? What are the secrets of his masculine allure?

British actress Anna Lee, his leading lady in "My Life With Caroline," said this about Colman:

"Back in England in the days when my connection with the movies was only as a fan, I used to cut out all of the pictures of Ronald Colman that I could find and paste them in a scrapbook which I kept. So you can imagine the thrill I got out of playing opposite him in my first American picture.

"I found that everything I had imagined about him was true. He is the most kind, helpful and delightful person I have met. I was very nervous at first, and he went out of his way to put me at ease in a gentle manner, for which I can never thank him enough."

Lewis Milestone, who directed Colman at RKO in "Lucky Partners" and "My Life With Caroline," said:

"A movie set is a good place to get to know a man. Colman isn't bashful, he isn't always on the defensive, and he isn't a snob. He has been accused of all of that. Colman is just quiet.

"Colman is quiet in the way a scientist is quiet; he does things rather than talks about them. He has done everything an actor can do on stage and screen, and he has become an artist at it.

"There is none of the exhibitionist about Colman. Consequently, he has no idiosyncrasies. He has, however, a philosophy. He believes acting's a good way to make a living but too strenuous a way to live. Therefore, when he is not acting before a camera, he is not an actor but a gentleman who avoids flamboyant living."—E. P.

COLMAN is an accomplished craftsman, a thorough worker. Above: He has a physical check-up before starting a picture—also studies scene changes for entire day

BELOW: Film-making isn't all acting to Ronald Colman. With director Lewis Milestone (center) he inspects set blueprints to learn complete details of picture

ANNA LEE, who was a childhood admirer of suave Ronald Colman and who portrays his young wife in "My Life With Caroline," found him to be the perfect, helpful gentleman she had always imagined him—one who takes pains to put others at ease

BEAUTEOUS Anna Lee (with Colman, above) found him far different in person than role he plays in "My Life With Caroline," a lively modern comedy romance

SPOTLIGHT:

Merle Oberon

She Loves Four Men

THE unsuccessful search of a beautiful woman for love is the theme of "Lydia," starring Merle Oberon

To Feature Desk:

EIGHT years ago Merle Oberon crashed through the upper crust of film stardom with her performance in the English Korda picture, "The Private Life of King Henry VIII," in which she was one of many wives.

Shortly on the screen you'll be seeing Miss Oberon—now Mrs. Korda—as "Lydia," a Boston spinster whose private life encompassed four romances, one of them her cherished secret and the reason she had never married.

Quite a new twist. Boston instead of England. A spinster instead of one of many wives. But judging from the rushes of "Lydia," Miss Oberon, who has been making good pictures consistently since "Henry VIII," rings the bell resoundingly again.

In her own private life, in direct contrast to "Lydia," Merle Oberon has loved but one man, her brilliant film-producing husband. She knew few others except her British-officer uncle, who helped her widowed mother ward off the wolf. Miss Oberon's father, also an English army officer, died of pneumonia just before his daughter was born. Her mother had a struggle. Merle sacrificed and learned to do her own hair—which she still does.

It wasn't quite the thing to do, for an officer's daughter to take up a theatrical career. So Merle at sixteen eased into it gradually by joining an amateur dramatic society in Calcutta. She stole three shows and became incurably infected with footlightitis.

When her uncle took her on a trip to England, she persuaded him to let her stay past his leave—at least till her one hundred dollars was gone. It soon went—on clothes to make an impression as an "actress." Her return steamer ticket yielded eighty dollars. But she was penniless when she accepted a cafe-hostess job for three months before she faced her first movie camera as an extra.

Merle Oberon's subsequent rise to riches was rapid. She had known much self-denial and penury. Small wonder then that she indulged in diamond bracelets and fine furs, costly perfumes and scores of fancy slippers. But the war changed that. Merle threw herself into Red Cross work, contributed heavily in time and money to war-relief activities. She lives with her husband in a simple home without even a swimming-pool. After all, she's an officer's daughter. She knows what war means. —E. P.

Movie-Radio Guide REVEALS:

Fibber McGee's Feud with Charlie McCarthy

FEUD BEGINS when Charlie McCarthy explains to Fibber McGee and Molly (l.) he wishes they "could" have top billing, but "the contract says Bergen's the star—even I must come after him!"

FIBBER AND MOLLY'S troubles began early in RKO's shooting of "Look Who's Laughing." Citified Charlie and Edgar Bergen dropped in on the McGees at quiet, rural Wistful Vista. Battle of wits commenced there

WHEN Throckmorton Gildersleeve (Harold Peary) and Charlie got together on the set, Fibber suspected—rightly too—that they were plotting agin' him, made situation worse

TO CAP CLIMAX, Fibber could have sawed McCarthy in half the day director Allan Dwan took Fibber aside to give him pantomime lessons. "Do it with verve, like this," Dwan illustrated, "just as McCarthy might do it!"

To News Desk:

IN A few weeks RKO's four-radio-star-picture, "Look Who's Laughing," will hit the nation's screens. But the title, frankly, was more literal than general on the sound-stage when the picture was in the making process.

Starring Edgar Bergen with Charlie McCarthy and billing next Fibber McGee and Molly, Hollywood insiders wondered first how the cream of two top-rating and established broadcast programs could be merged into one believable screen play. What's more, railbirds were betting that there would be a feud between the McGee-Molly aggregation and the Bergen-McCarthy team before the shooting was over.

Of course there wasn't a real fight, but there were bruised feelings.

The first and major difficulty was in the star billing. Bergen was signed first and was put on the top line. McCarthy went along with him. Fibber McGee and Molly, who thought they deserved equal billing, were given second place. They weren't exactly displeased over the arrangement RKO had made, but still no performer likes to consider himself of lesser importance than another.

Several years ago on the radio, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy were in the number one or two spot consistently in audience rating and were displaced only by the growing audience of Jack Benny, who finally swung to the top and stayed there.

But last year Fibber and Molly made great gains and landed in the runner-up position, outstripping Bergen and McCarthy and pushing Benny. And just before their season ended this year, Fibber and Molly were right up at the top!

However, that was after their RKO picture contract had been signed—and such matters as billing are settled at the time signatures are affixed.

Ventriloquist Bergen and the Jordans, Marian and Jim (who are Fibber and Molly), are generally to be relied upon for plenty of gags and practical jokes wherever they may be working. Strangely enough, on the "Look Who's Laughing" set they didn't joke much.

Of course they didn't know one another awfully well, and Fibber and Molly both are staid and quiet folks unless they know well the crowd into which they are thrown. Then they cut up and have more fun than anybody. That may have accounted for the lack of gagging and the tenseness of the air while "Look Who's Laughing" was being filmed.

Or maybe it was just because they were busy making their second picture and were not too sure of themselves.

In this picture a whole gallery of new and popular characters will be brought to the public for the first time. In addition to Charlie McCarthy and Mortimer Snerd, Edgar Bergen introduces three new creations upon which he has been working for some time. One of them is a little girl, Ophelia, and the others are two old biddy hens, Maisie and Mathilda.

On the more human side, most of the beloved characters from Fibber McGee and Molly's radio show play important and characteristic roles in the story. These include such nationally famous names as Throckmorton P. Gildersleeve, Mrs. Uppington, Sis, Old Timer, Nick De Popolos, others.

However, toward the end of the making of the film, pretty eleven-year-old Joan Carroll came to RKO to make "An Obliging Young Lady" and came over to visit McCarthy at work. It was a first meeting for Bergen, McCarthy and Joan. Someone suggested a birthday party for Joan at which Charlie would serve as host.

"Let's make it a party for Joan and everyone on the picture," Bergen suggested, and this was done.

Bergen ordered gallons of coffee (his sponsor's brand) and cakes. Fibber McGee observed and was not to be outdone. Came the time of the party and he arrived with cream pitchers full of his radio sponsor's liquid polishing wax!

Everyone had a big laugh and everything became more friendly after that.

—L. R.

ABOVE: Even bashful Mortimer Snerd rated bigger than Fibber with other cast members, such as Eleanor Counts. McGee burned harder

THIRD WEEK of filming "Look Who's Laughing," McGee (below) gets Dwan to insert his gag in place of "unfunny" lines of Charlie's

BELOW: Charlie did a bit of fifth-columning himself, phoned director Dwan that night, hinted, "Who'd I see you with, etc?" Back went his lines into script!

PICTURE'S FINISHED, but there's no joy in Wistful Vista. McGee, despondent over vain efforts to sabotage Charlie, is comforted by Molly. In spite of their pseudo sorrow, they're happy. "Look Who's Laughing" looks like a hit!

Movie-Radio Guide's TOUR OF:

Exciting Picture Sets

WHAT are your film favorites doing now? In what pictures will they next appear? What kinds of costumes will they wear? How do they act while they're working? To answer all these questions, to give a true picture of the business of making movies itself, MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE herewith goes on a tour of several interesting movie sets where stars are at work, presents on this page a pictorial report of what the cameraman saw, recorded.

ON THE "Almost an Angel" set, Deanna Durbin is still the scapegoat for pranks, practical jokes played by director Henry Koster (above, with Deanna), others — in spite of the fact that she's married now!

ON "BIRTH OF THE BLUES" set, Bing Crosby, Mary Martin offer "low-down" rhythm on kitchen utensils as Jack Teagarden supplies classic effects

JUDGING FROM Mickey Rooney's tense look, he's not doing so good at gin rummy with his screen girl friend, Patricia Dane, between scenes of his latest, M-G-M's "Life Begins for Andy Hardy"

GENERAL

Thespian Hens

Usually when in Hollywood slang you "lay an egg" your option is dropped and you start picking up your relief check. Out at 20th Century-Fox the chickens have been laying eggs regularly without any kicks from the front office. You see, they're of the feathered variety. The studio keeps a hen house with about five hundred chickens, all trained, for their film needs. In the interim the hens lay eggs which are used in the studio commissary.

Sports Promoters De Luxe

Bob Hope and Bill Holden are conditioning their sports proteges for a classic race to be held in Dallas, Texas, September 1. Intense rivalry is said to be brewing between them as they prime their respective charges for the turtle sprint championship. Hope is confident. Last year his Mabel was a favorite but finished far in the ruck. This year he says that he will have her razor-sharp. "Mabel won't pull a 'Crosby' this time," he claims. "She'll win all by herself."

Skelton Crosses Fingers

Red Skelton was sipping a coke at the Los Feliz Brown Derby the other evening after his picture, "Whistling in the Dark," had been previewed. No one was bothering him because no one knew him, but such privacy will not be his for long. M-G-M has in Red a comedy sensation of the first water. "Drug Store Cowboys" Organize

The National Association of Drug Store Cowboys has been formed to give that "forgotten man" a tumble. They have drawn up a platform, which is printed with this article, that should bring back happy days to all fountain elbow-benders.

The organization has been resurrected by Lou Costello and Bud Abbott, and they have chosen for their slogan, "Ride 'Em Cowboy." Their only request is that their slogan must not be confused with their new Universal picture, "Ride 'Em Cowboy."

OUR PLATFORM

1. Roped-off spaces in front of drug stores so cowboys may whistle at passing femmes without being jostled by run-of-the-mill pedestrians.
2. Beautiful hostesses in all drug stores to entertain cowboys during inclement or cold weather.
3. Free-lunch counters as an integral part of soda fountains.
4. Drug-store bank nights to make cowboying financially profitable.
5. Club chairs within reach of drug-store magazine racks.
6. More sincere smiles from druggists for postage-stamp buyers and free phone users.
7. Granting of right of way to cowboys over paying customers in drug stores.
8. Abolition of drug departments as unwarranted interference with recreation of cowboys.
9. Installation of pin-ball machines that operate without physical effort on the part of the operator.
10. Construction of grandstands for pin-ball kibitzers.

Gehrig Story Jelling

Producer Sam Goldwyn definitely has decided that the film story of "Larrupin'" Lou Gehrig will be called "Lou Gehrig, American Hero." There is a lot of speculation as to who will play the title role of Lou. At the present time Eddie Albert would seem to have the inside track. Goldwyn is being deluged with letters asking for Albert. Rumor is that Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, is the spearhead of the campaign for Albert. Barrow ought to know. He signed salary checks for Lou for a good many years.

Because of the growing emergency, Hollywood is likely to lose another of its young actors to the armed forces. Robert Cummings, a fast-comer from Universal, has been told to be ready to report "at once." Bob is in the United States Air Corps Reserve.

Fan Mail for Jimmy

A real testimonial to the popularity of Jimmy Stewart is the amount of fan mail he is receiving at camp. In one day 124 letters were received. Many are requests for a photo of Jimmy in his uniform, such as appeared recently on a MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE cover.

Old Favorites Back

Two of yesteryear's favorites will soon return to this country from London. Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon, after a good many years in England, are coming over for a short visit to see their evacuated children.

HOSPITALIZED

Tone Has Visitor

Franchot Tone, victim of a serious operation, is well along the road to complete recovery. Last week he had his first visitor outside of his mother, and it was Olivia de Havilland, his frequent cafe partner.

HONORS

Dunne to Sing

A real honor has been extended Irene Dunne. She has been invited to sing with the Philadelphia Symphony this year, an invitation extended to only one star a year.

Sheridan-Harvard Armistice

Not so long ago Harvard students christened Ann Sheridan least likely to succeed. Despite the Harvard lampooning, Sheridan has done all right. This fall she will make scenes for a picture right on the Harvard campus. Harvard editors have decided to call a truce, admit that Ann is some shucks as an actress. First offering on their part was to make Ann an honorary editor of the school paper, Advocate.

EN ROUTE

Ambassador Fairbanks Again

As soon as he finishes his current picture, "The Corsican Brothers," Doug Fairbanks, Jr., recipient of a "thank you" letter from President Roosevelt for his recent good-will tour of South America, will make another ambassadorial trip south of the equator. It has been hinted that Doug may even get an ambassador post in one of the southern countries.

Myrna Loy and hubby Arthur Hornblow are back home from their motor vacation in Canada feeling great. Myrna will start another of the "Thin Man" pictures with William Powell soon.

Norma Shearer made a rush trip to New York last week to give the final okay on a sculptured bust of her late husband, Irving Thalberg. Norma had to hurry to beat Cupid. The sculptor had just been married and was impatient to go on his honeymoon.

ASSIGNMENTS

Rosenbloom in Celluloid

The boys in Cauliflower Canyon will get a kick out of this one. After Zola, Pasteur and York, Warners decided to film the life of Maxie Rosenbloom. Maxie is going to play himself, which is comedy relief enough. The flicker will be a one- or two-reeler—or don't you think that's enough?

Lombard to Universal

Carole Lombard has finally agreed to another picture. She will make it for Universal and it looks as though she will have Gregory LaCava as director. He was head-man on the "My Man Godfrey" hit. Carole made good on her promise to Gable. She turned down all previous offers so that she could take a three-month vacation with Clark after he finishes "Honky Tonk." The two of them are planning an extensive hunting-fishing trip, with first stop Parker's Dam.

Cooper-Granville Together

Jackie Cooper and Bonita Granville, young real-life romancers, will be able to bring their courtship to the screen. The two of them have been cast in "Syncopation," a story that concerns the origin of jazz. Now that Judy Garland and Dave Rose have taken the leap, Jackie and Bonita become Hollywood's number one unmarried "baby" couple.

Cantor for "Banjo Eyes"

After a thirteen-year absence, Eddie Cantor is going to return to Broadway. Warners have backed Eddie in the musical comedy, "Banjo Eyes," based on "Three Men on a Horse." After the play has finished its run on Broadway, Cantor will return to Hollywood to do the film version.

LIFE STATISTICS

Las Vegas Elopement

Another in the growing list of Hollywood elopements to Las Vegas, Nevada, took place Sunday, August 3, when Carl Esmond, thirty-five, actor in "Sundown" and cast in "Panama Hattie," and Ruth Taub, thirty, a literary agent, flew into 'Vegas and had the knot tied. Hardly a week passes without some couple doing it.

Turner-Martin Tiffing?

The English are betting 1 to 2 that they win the war inside of six months. MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE is betting 2 to 1 that Lana Turner and Tony Martin won't be seeing eye to eye in that length of time. That's a tip from the "know," but like a horse-race, anything can happen in Hollywood.

HOLLYWOOD ITEMIZING

A real forehead-wrinkler was the Al Jolson-Eleanor Powell twosome at dinner two nights in a row. We thought hoofer Eleanor and Merrill Pye were all set to say "I do's" . . . Richard Travis, Bette Davis' protege in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," is moving into the Hollywood social whirl for fair. Was out with Gail Patrick at the baseball game, has been seen with Sheila Ryan, and is generally causing an emotional tremor among Hollywood's bachelor girls. Olivia de Havilland became curious. She went into a projection room, looked at screen tests of him. Watch for that combination now.

Diamonds Are News

AGAIN becoming the film capital's most popular precious stone as general business conditions improve, diamonds now are being worn in a large variety of new ways. Above: Style-leader Joan Crawford fastens her sky-blue wool jacket with novel platinum-and-diamond "button clips." Below: Universal's pretty actress, Frances Gifford, snapped at the Los Feliz Brown Derby, sports a tricky lapel ornament—a diamond plane!

Movie-Radio Guide Critics' Report

• REVIEWS •

"CHARLEY'S AUNT" with Jack Benny, Kay Francis is a laugh-riot

"HOLD BACK THE DAWN" teams Boyer, Paulette Goddard

"DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE": With Spencer Tracy, Lana Turner

"WHISTLING IN THE DARK": With Red Skelton, Ann Rutherford

"Charley's Aunt"

Cast: Jack Benny, Kay Francis, James Ellison, Edmund Gwenn, Richard Haydn, Reginald Owen, Laird Cregar. A 20th Century-Fox picture, produced by William Perlberg and directed by Archie Mayo. Screen play by George Seaton; based on the perennial play by Brandon Thomas.

Type of Picture: One of the funniest and oldest comedies extant, "Charley's Aunt" brings Jack Benny to the screen in a vehicle that is almost a perfect natural for those talents of which he has made so much on radio.

This Is the Story: Benny, as Lord Babbs, is in his tenth year at Oxford and still always getting into trouble. His final escapade brings on threats of expulsion unless he can prove, by witnesses, that it was truly an accident. He says he can and will bring in two classmates, Ellison and "Charley" Haydn, to testify for him. They agree—providing he will masquerade as Haydn's aunt to provide a chaperon for their fiancees. Benny dresses as an old lady in black with curls on his forehead, and the fun begins when the girls' guardian, thinking Benny is Charley's wealthy aunt from Brazil, starts courting him! All ends well, with guardian Edmund Gwenn giving to the phony aunt (Benny) his consent to the marriages of his wards, and Benny's revelation of himself as Lord Babbs—husband-to-be of the true Charley's aunt!

Verdict: Here's an honest-to-goodness, sure-fire flock of laughs for every member of the family from baby to grandpa! —E. P.

"Hold Back the Dawn"

Cast: Charles Boyer, Olivia de Havilland, Paulette Goddard, Victor Francen, Walter Abel, Curt Bois, Rosemary DeCamp. A Paramount production. Produced by Arthur Hornblow, Jr., and directed by Mitchell Leisen. Screen play by Charles Brackett and Billy Wilder. From a story by Ketti Frings.

This Is the Story: Charles Boyer, an itinerant gigolo from Europe, wants to get into the United States to ply his trade among American gullibles. So he contrives to marry an American woman, a procedure which will automatically bring him into the country. He sets his trap and closes it on schoolteacher Olivia de Havilland. Suddenly gigolo Boyer finds himself really in love with his wife, and the picture moves on to an excellent climax.

Verdict: Bound to be classed among year's better romantic films.—L. R.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde"

Type of Picture: This exciting, suspenseful classic comes to the screen again in a fresh melodramatic version.

This Is the Story: Remarkable thing about this third screening of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," with Spencer Tracy in the dual role, is the different treatment it is given. In other versions, evil Mr. Hyde acquired physical deformities which accentuated his evilness. This time the problem is given more of a mental treatment and it presents Tracy at his best.

Verdict: Whether you have seen it before or not, you haven't seen this version of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE gives the picture unqualified endorsement.—L. R.

"Whistling in the Dark"

Cast: Red Skelton, Conrad Veidt, Ann Rutherford, Virginia Grey. An M-G-M picture; produced by George Haight; directed by S. Sylvan Simon. Original play by Laurence Gross, Edward Childs Carpenter. Screen play by Robert MacGunigle, Harry Clork, Albert Mannheimer.

Type of Picture: A suspense-comedy that introduces Red Skelton, a new-type Bob Hope, to America's laugh-loving cinema-goers. He is a lead-pipe cinch to be classified with the cream of Hollywood funsters.

This Is the Story: Skelton is a radio crime-story-teller who is kidnaped (along with Ann Rutherford, his love interest, and Virginia Grey, the nuisance end of the triangle) by a band of racketeer cultists who try and force Skelton to frame a perfect crime. Love and justice win out.

Verdict: Presently, MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE is going to say, "I told you so," when Red Skelton is hailed as the comedy find of '41. —L. R.

COMING ATTRACTION

"ALOMA OF THE SOUTH SEAS" is an exciting Technicolor picture of the islands. Dorothy Lamour, Jon Hall are natives, enact a beautiful love story against a background of intrigue

Star Sparkles

● WILLIAM MILLER, new "Carnation Contented Hour" soloist, first majored in engineering at the University of Akron, then switched to philosophy, and it wasn't until just before he graduated that he decided he liked to sing so well he wanted to make a career of it.

● BOB DUANE, member of the "Wings of Destiny" cast, spent years training to become a concert pianist, did become one and then decided he'd rather be an actor.

● When BOB STRONG, "College Humor" and "Uncle Walter's Dog House" maestro, went to college (Kansas State) some years ago, he was in an orchestra of fellow students. Among them were collegians named BUDDY ROGERS, REX MAUPIN and CLYDE LUCAS—all now baton-wavers.

● RAY BLOCK, bandleader on "Johnny Presents" over the NBC-Red network, has begun his eighteenth year in broadcasting.

Classical Music

A guide for listeners who love great music

—Ronny Jaques Studio

CANADIAN conductor Percy Faith is the popular maestro of the "Carnation Contented Hour" Mon., NBC

MUSIC NOTES: Edwin McArthur, young American conductor, returns to the NBC Summer Symphony podium this Saturday evening. Jacques Abram, pianist, will be the guest on the program . . . On August 16, Mutual will carry the twelfth annual Chicagoland Music Festival program. The festival, sponsored by a Chicago charities group, is presented each year in Soldier Field, Chicago, before an audience of 100,000 music-lovers who see colorful pageantry and hear music sung and played by masters . . . James Melton, the star of the "Telephone Hour," is doing concerts this month in several cities in the South and in Canada. This necessitates quite a bit of air travel as he must be back in New York each Monday in time for rehearsals of his regular radio work.

by Martin Lewis

AFTER twenty-one years radio still has quite a few of the technical problems which were with it in the beginning. One of these is the problem of getting a proper blend of sounds before the combined result goes out on the air.

Despite no little progress along this line, listeners are still annoyed by the tonal disproportion between two voices, or, in some cases, between a voice and the orchestra. It isn't pleasant to sit by a radio and hear one voice of ear-splitting timbre while the other or others are too low after the volume has been adjusted to control the first-named.

It wouldn't hurt for everyone on the air to examine his microphone technique a little more closely. Just because someone has been broadcasting for years is no reason that his work is flawless. A person can still learn in radio, even after he has become a big success.

I have just finished reading William L. Shirer's "Berlin Diary," and I must say that it is as thrilling a narrative as anyone would want to read. More than that, it is a warning to all Americans that they are facing something infinitely more dangerous than they realize. Shirer, a CBS correspondent, spent six years in Europe, where he saw the rise of Hitler and the resulting war. As is the case with most professional reporting, his account of the war is somewhat impartial. It is not so impartial, however, that one cannot grasp the author's fear of the Nazis' tremendous might and the eventual danger to the U. S. from it. If you can get a copy, do so at once. The book will hold you spellbound.

GENERAL

NBC, ASCAP Agree

NEW YORK.—NBC and ASCAP have come to an agreement, and complete peace in the music war is seemingly near at hand. Only minor details, at this writing, delay the official approval by both NBC and ASCAP of a new contract to make available the music society's more than 1,000,000 songs for NBC network programs again. BMI, the rival music society set up by the broadcasters in opposition to ASCAP, is not thrown overboard, for the new agreement provides that NBC may continue using BMI music also. It is expected that CBS will fall in line before long and settle the battle of music for the present.

Today in Radio

Music war near end; Quiz Kids keep busy; Major Bowes recovers

Defense Programs First

NEW YORK.—So many stations have complained they were finding it difficult to accede to requests from government agencies for air time that the National Association of Broadcasters has adopted a "priorities" resolution. Under this plan programs involving appeals for enlistment of manpower for the armed services and national defense industries head the priority list, with defense financing next. Programs of morale-building nature are third, with non-defense programs at the bottom of the list.

From Bombs to Baseball

NEW YORK.—Upon returning from London, Raymond Gram Swing has confirmed the rumor that he flew to England in an unarmed bomber. The commentator reports that he suffered from the cold in the uninsulated plane. Incidentally, Swing's first question after greeting his family upon his arrival at the air terminal was addressed to his son: "How have the Brooklyn Dodgers been doing?"

EVENTS

Q. K.'s Busy as Bees

CHICAGO.—These summer vacation days are busy ones for some of the "Quiz Kids." They've already observed their first anniversary with special events. They've gone on parties to amusement parks and other places, besides keeping up their broadcast "careers." Further activities for the near future include a trip to New York to make another motion-picture short subject for Paramount this week; a regular Wednesday broadcast from New York August 20; an appearance on "Treasury Hour" August 20; the premiere of their first movie at the Chicago Theater September 3.

Mother and Son Celebrate

CHICAGO.—The tenth anniversary in radio of both a mother and her son will be marked August 31. Ten years ago Bess Flynn, a Chicago housewife and part-time actress, towed her young son to a local radio station for a children's audition. They needed a character actress to read lines opposite the children. When the auditions were over both mother and son had jobs. Now Bess is author of the very popular "Bachelor's Children." Son Charles, a recent graduate of Loyola University, is radio's "Jack Armstrong."

Louella to Home Town

HOLLYWOOD.—Louella Parsons will fly to her home town of Dixon, Ill., to appear Monday, September 15, at the dedication of a new wing at the city's children's hospital. The Dixon Chamber of Commerce is donating $1,000 to the hospital in return for her promise to appear at the dedication and for bows at two local theaters that night.

PERSONAL

Mounties Snap Boomer

HOLLYWOOD.—Word received by Evans Plummer, friend of Bill Thompson, the Horatio Boomer and Wallace Wimple of the Fibber McGee show, told how Thompson intended on his Canadian motor tour to make pictures of a group of Canadian Royal Mounted Police in Quebec. But the Mounties had found out who he was—so after they had posed for him, they all pro-

RADIO'S LATEST FAUX PAS

ATHLETES and specialists in other fields have on occasions caused embarrassment to sponsors, radio officials and themselves when they ventured out of their domains in speaking over the air. The late Lou Gehrig's unforgetable slip in saying, "Wheaties is my favorite breakfast cereal," instead of plugging for Huskies, is one of the classic examples of the danger in putting commercial endorsements in the mouths of those not trained for selling such products. Most recent of such blunders occurred on a prize-fight broadcast sponsored by the Gillette Safety Razor Company over MBS, when George Abrams won a decision from Billy Soose. After the fight Abrams said over the air, "And incidentally, tomorrow I'm going to get all the GEM RAZORS I can possibly buy." Announcer Don Dunphy hastily tried to cover up the boner with, "Thanks. That's certainly a grand plug for Gillette."

duced cameras and asked him to "give" for them. He did, and was so tickled he put on an impromptu show for them at their barracks.

Bowes O. K.

NEW YORK.—Major Edward Bowes has completely recovered from the operation he underwent recently and is convalescing at home. As yet the date when he will return to the air is undetermined. Meanwhile Morton Gould's orchestra, together with young singers who made good on the Major's "Amateur Hour," continues to pinch-hit for Bowes.

First Performance Encore!

NEW YORK.—Two hours after Bernard Herrmann had laid down his baton after conducting the world premiere of his "Symphony No. 1" with the CBS Symphony, his wife gave birth to their first child, a girl.

Powell Record Catch

HOLLYWOOD.—Dick Powell, singing star of the CBS Friday "American Cruise" musicals, landed a 178-pound swordfish last week-end while fishing from his new boat, the Normellen, off the southern California coast.

SIDELIGHTS

Girl on "Amos 'n' Andy"

HOLLYWOOD.—Puzzled listeners of "Amos 'n' Andy" will be enlightened to know that it was Bea Benaderet, veteran radio actress, who played the part of the West Indian girl on a recent airing, and NOT one of the two comedians. All other roles were taken by Freeman "Amos" Gosden and Charles "Andy" Correll, however.

Show That Wasn't There

NEW YORK.—Because of a slip-up on the part of those in charge of tickets, about 450 ticket-holders for the July 29 broadcast of "We, the People" arrived at the Times Square studio only to find that the show had gone to Fort Dix, N. J., for that Tuesday's program. Seventy-five persons remained and listened to the program picked up by a radio and transmitted over the theater's loudspeaker system.

Reunion in Comedy

CHICAGO.—Several years ago Ransom Sherman was featured in a comedy program from St. Louis. A young actress named Elmira Roessler played the role of secretary-stooge. Now as star of the new "Hap Hazard Show," Sherman is again supported by a fictitious secretary, Miss Mink. And the role is played by Miss Roessler, now a busy radio actress in Chicago.

Almost Correct!

NEW YORK.—Arlene Francis, mistress of ceremonies of "What's My Name?", began the prebroadcast warm-up period of the quiz show recently by quizzing a contestant about Mark Twain. Speaking in the first person, as is customary in this show's questions, Miss Francis said, "I was born in 1835, spent my early years as a pilot on the Mississippi River, and later became an author. What's my name?" The reply drew a laugh: "Arlene Francis!" But it wasn't quite correct—Arlene's real last name is Kazanjian!

"Red Peppers" to Screen

HOLLYWOOD.—Three youngsters who call themselves the "Red Peppers" can thank Gene Autry for their screen test and chance at making movies. The boys, aged eleven, twelve and thirteen years, were camped outside a San Fernando Valley restaurant to serenade Autry when he came in for lunch. He listened for thirty minutes and then sent them to Johnny Marvin, his manager, for tests.

W. Thomas McGrath

JESSICA DRAGONETTE, soprano, who returns to the air this week on "Saturday Night Serenade," was recently inducted into the Crow Indian Tribe. Solemn rites left her awed but happy about honor bestowed on her by tribe

Hats Off!

NEW YORK.—The fad of big, floppy hats for women has been fouling studio acoustics. Engineers discovered that the sound strikes the considerable surface of such headpieces when worn by female performers and is reflected into the mike as an echo.

PROGRAMS

Radio Presells Movie

HOLLYWOOD.—Marlene Dietrich and John Wayne were two surprise guests at the special audition at the CBS studios here July 27 for the first program of a series of thirteen prepared by Jon Slott from the Tay Garnett screen play "Three Sheets in the Wind." The thirteen-episode broadcast series will be on the air while the film is being made, so that by the time it reaches the nation's screens movie-goers will have an inkling of what the picture is all about. Leading roles in movie and screen play will be performed by Brian Donlevy and Helga Moray.

Verrill Stays on "Dog House"

CHICAGO.—The plans to replace Virginia Verrill, expecting an heir about December, on "Dog House" and "College Humor" have been altered. Ginny will continue on the former show indefinitely, and may be replaced later by Evelyn Lynne. Mary Ann Mercer, vocalist with Mitchell Ayres' band for the past four years, succeeds to Verrill's spot on "College Humor," effective August 19.

Objection Sustained

NEW YORK.—The program formerly called "Court of Missing Heirs" changed its title to "Are You a Missing Heir?" upon the suggestion of the New York Bar Association, which has always frowned upon the use of the word "court" in titles of radio shows.

SHORTS

Jerry Colonna is spending his vacation, when not making personal appearances, roping calves. They're rented calves—and must be returned in good condition! . . . Mort Lewis, writer of "Behind the Mike," was married August 1 to Beulah Allison, a high-school principal . . . Mark Warnow's temporary absence from his radio duties is occasioned by slight ailments that require treatment . . . Paul Rhymer, author of "Vic and Sade," and Mrs. Rhymer celebrated their eighth wedding anniversary July 31 with a visit to their old home town of Bloomington, Ill. . . . Bill Goodwin, announcer for Bob Hope and "Blondie," expects to take his final examination for a commercial-flying license shortly . . . Hollywood reporter Hedda Hopper will receive an honorary degree from Woodbury College in Los Angeles . . . With the opening of the college terms in September, "College Humor," which caters somewhat to the students, will increase its NBC network to 110 stations.

Next Week's Cover

Sparkling Frances Langford, radio's "Moonglow" girl and star of CBS' "American Cruise," with Dick Powell, graces MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE's next week's color cover in a portrait pose worthy of any collector's album. In addition there will be a report on the Lindbergh poll which this publication conducted recently, an interesting story on Cesar Romero, the lowdown on Hollywood baseball—dozens of interesting features. Don't fail to get your copy!

Star Sparkles

● MONTE RANDALL, of "Wings of Destiny" program, carries pipe-collecting to such extremes that his home is practically knee deep in odd types of tobacco burners, ninety-five percent of which are for display only. Prizes of his collection are two foot-long affairs with china bowls, inherited from each of his grandfathers. The pipes are well over a century in age.

● RUDY VALLEE is the latest entertainment figure invited to leave his hand- and foot-prints in the cement forecourt at Grauman's Chinese Theater in Hollywood.

Star Sparkles

● When "Uncle Walter's Dog House" comedians FRANK GILL and BILL DEMLING made their radio debut they memorized the script—a hangover from their stage days. When their sponsors saw the boys work without scripts they immediately leaped to the conclusion that the routine was the only one the pair knew. It's a funny thing, say Gill Demling, but the sponsors were right—they had to work nights to keep ahead of themselves for a while in readying new acts.

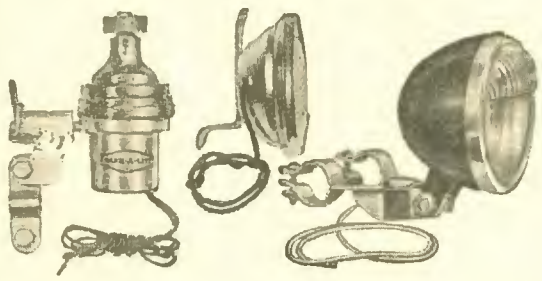
BOYS! GIRLS!

Here is the greatest bicycle accessory you ever saw — and it can be yours absolutely FREE!



Imagine having electricity for your bike lights without having to worry about batteries wearing out—your lights failing when you may need them the most.

This amazing BICYCLE GENERATOR UNIT makes the electricity for your lights as you ride—just like the generator on an automobile. In fact this unit is made by a manufacturer of auto parts—which is your guarantee that it is NOT A TOY, but a real piece of machinery built to give you years of service.

The MAKE-A-LITE GENERATOR UNIT includes a powerful, four-inch headlight, large tail lamp with prismatic lens, and a 6-volt A. C. generator. A patented governor keeps your lights burning with the same brilliance at 7 or 25 miles per hour and prevents excess voltage from burning out bulbs. A feather-weight rubber drive wheel eliminates wear on the tire wall—will not drag. Finished in beautiful chrome and black—tail light in cadmium. Attaches to your bike in a jiffy—anyone can put it on.

Write to me today, giving your full name, address and age, and I will show you how YOU can win this sensational prize without any cost to you—how you can win many other valuable prizes and earn your own money.

SHORT WAVES

MEET LORD HEE HAW, AN IOWA TRAITOR

Fred Kaltenbach, born in Dubuque, reviles the radio waves in behalf of Nazi Germany

SHORT WAVES

Edited by

Charles A. Morrison

President, International DX'ers Alliance

FRED W. KALTENBACH, chief of Goebbels' radio ravers, is a man who assumes many different roles at the German Shortwave Station. On Mondays at 9:45 p.m. he gives the "Dear Harry" broadcasts; on Tuesdays at 11:50 p.m. Fred turns historian to deliver the series "German Contributions to Making America"; on Thursdays at 11:50 p.m. he assumes the role of "Jim, the Know-It-All Canadian," in the program "Jim and Johnny"; on Saturdays at 9:50 p.m. Kaltenbach edits the "Military Review," finishing up his week's activities at 10:20 p.m. EDT the same evening with the part of "Honest American Fred" in the broadcast "Fritz and Fred."

From the state of "Tall Corn" to the land of "Tall Stories" is quite a hop, but Kaltenbach did just that. Fred was born in Dubuque, Iowa, of German-American parents. His father was a butcher. Most of his life having been spent in this country, Fred has a genuine Midwestern accent. During World War I, Kaltenbach served in the United States Coast Artillery Service, rose to the rank of lieutenant but never saw active service. In 1936 he went to Germany to do graduate work at Berlin University, subsequently receiving his Ph. D. from this institution. While in school Fred met a German girl, Dorothea Peters, who was a secretary on the editorial staff of one of Herr Goering's aeronautical magazines. After a short engagement they were married and Fred went to work in the German Propaganda Office. Assigned to the staff of the German Shortwave Station, Kaltenbach began his propaganda broadcasts before the outbreak of the present war. In May, 1939, he returned to the United States to visit his dying father, then in Waterloo, Iowa. While there he made twenty-five dollars by giving an address to the local Rotary Club. In his presentation he extolled the Nazi cause to such an extent that one of the members suggested that if he didn't like this country he should go back to Germany, to which Kaltenbach replied, "I will."

SEE SHORT-WAVE PROGRAM LISTINGS OPPOSITE PAGE

Back in Berlin he plunged into his activities at the German Shortwave Station with doubled vigor, becoming so prominent that British listeners dubbed him "Lord Hee Haw," thus putting him on the pedestal with the then popular "Lord Haw Haw." Hoping to become as popular with North American listeners as Lord Haw Haw (William Joyce) had become with British listeners, Kaltenbach accepted the title and used it in connection with most of his broadcasts. For several reasons the Lord Hee Haw business never caught on in this country, so it is seldom mentioned any more.

Kaltenbach speaks in an unemotional and clear style. Bold and blunt in his statements, he has been the author of many of the most audacious and sensational propaganda ideas that have been released from the German Shortwave Station. In his talks he tries to maintain an informal and intimate contact with his listeners, often interrupting a talk with "Don't you think?" Fred is addicted to name-calling, jingles and gag-lines. Thus, Lord Halifax becomes "St. Hooey-fax"; Churchill is "Roly-poly Windsy," and Duff Cooper is "Toughie Cooper." Kaltenbach's London is always outsmarted by "Socker Berlin."

Kaltenbach's "Dear Harry" broadcasts, the oldest and best known of his propaganda efforts, are directed to a real person, Harry Aayerman, once a schoolmate of his but now a lawyer in Waverly, Iowa. Aayerman, it is said, does not appreciate the publicity and, in fact, has been considerably embarrassed by this unwanted attention from a foreign short-wave station. At one time these one-sided conversations with "Dear Harry" back in Iowa were quite clever and witty. Now they have become pure propaganda with the pretext of talking to "Dear Harry" usually relegated to an introductory and closing line.

The "Jim and Johnny" broadcast is especially for Canadian listeners. Jim, the Know-It-All Canadian, acted by Kaltenbach, is supported by Johnny, who is known to British audiences as "Sinister Sam." The "Fritz and Fred" program is a similar effort with Kaltenbach taking the role of Fred and old Doc Koischwitz as Fritz. These dialog programs give the two participants a chance to discuss timely subjects presumably on a debate status. Actually the opposition is so weak as to be practically non-existent while the defense has all the cards stacked in his favor.

Kaltenbach's propaganda is really no different than that of Ward, Koischwitz or Lord Haw Haw. He just gives it a slightly different slant, seeking to gain your confidence through informal, intimate presentations. Remember that actually Kaltenbach is an experienced and wily propagandist paid by the German government to make you believe things that you do not want to believe.

For some of the facts concerning Kaltenbach I am indebted to the BBC Press Service, to CBS, Time, Current History and Forum and the New Yorker.

This is the third of a series of articles on foreign commentators by Mr. Morrison. Watch for the next in an early issue of Movie-Radio Guide.

General Notes

THE Australian government has installed a more powerful short-wave transmitter at Melbourne. The following calls and frequencies have thus far been assigned to the station: VLG (9.58), VLG5 (11.88) and VLG6 (15.23). YOUNG AMERICA Races for Fame & Scholarships

—International News

THEY'RE off! The race is on! The winner is ——! And on Sunday, August 17, thousands of American youngsters—and their dads—will have their ears glued to their radio loudspeakers eagerly listening to the colorful eighth annual All-American Soap Box Derby finals being run at Derby Downs, Akron, Ohio. There, before an expected crowd of 150,000, more than 125 mechanically inclined American youngsters, between the ages of eleven and fifteen years and victors of their cities' elimination races, will pilot their gravity-powered chugmobiles (which must not cost over ten dollars to build) down a 1,100-foot concrete hill, each determined to win first prize—a $2,000 college scholarship—besides being acclaimed America's number one 1941 Soap Box Derby driver. Fifteen press wires will cover the event in detail, while top-flight sports commentators will broadcast actual races. Tune in the Soap Box Derby Sunday, MBS.

EXCITEMENT will reach fever pitch again this year when above scene and others on this page are re-enacted at the eighth annual All-American Soap Box Derby as more than 125 boys compete for 1941's championship

"REG'LAR FELLERS"

Take a Between-Broadcasts Vacation

"REG'LAR FELLERS" had a right reg'lar time recently when they took a between-broadcasts vacation and spent the day in the country, first chance they have had to have fun since June 8, when they went on the air as summer substitute for the Jack Benny program. Leaving noisy New York City bright and early, they arrived at a rural New Jersey spot shortly before noon. Tired but still enthusiastic, "Reg'lar Fellers" found an ideal place near a clear, fresh-water lake that had tall trees to shelter them from the hot sun. Of course they paid little heed to the "No Trespassing" sign. Just like any other kids, they couldn't see how they could do any harm just swimming, fishing and playing on some land far away from the people who put up the sign. Well, it's true they used a boat without asking the owner's permission. But if they had asked, they probably wouldn't have been allowed to fish and swim on the property; at least that's the way they reckoned—proof that "Reg'lar Fellers" are just like other kids.

Photographs by Newspictures, Inc.

RADIO'S POPULAR "Reg'lar Fellers," with an entire day ahead in which to enjoy swimming and fishing, see no possible reason why they should tire themselves walking to the country (or even standing while trying to thumb a ride). L. to r.: Wash Jones, Jimmy Dugan, Spot, Dinky Dugan, Puddin'head Duffy

THEIR THUMBING pleas didn't stop even one driver, so instead of being crestfallen, they hit the road. Dinky sets the pace for Wash, Jimmy, Puddin'head and Spot (in rear)

WHATTA LIFE! Feller can't do a thing nowadays but what they post a sign ag'in it. Jimmy and cousin Dink are all for tearing it down. Puddin'head and Wash aren't. Then what happens?

WELL, THEY'RE out to enjoy themselves, aren't they? So they fished for their supper (above), dog and all. Forgetting the "No Swimming" sign, they (left) enjoyed a dip before eating. (Wash had never been swimming before.) Below: Soup's on! Next day it was back to the city—and work!

Movie-Radio Guide VISITS:

The Rudy Vallee-John Barrymore Show

WHAT A COMBINATION —The Vagabond Lover (Rudy Vallee) and the Great Profile (John Barrymore)! Separately they entertained for years with sweet songs, suave words. Together now, they've got their second wind as all-out clowns

RUDY spruces up with a shave in his dressing-room before the broadcast. He usually takes a nap also just before air-time

BARRYMORE often takes a workman's dinner-pail to the studio. When he picked up this ham sandwich, he cracked, "What! You here, brother?"

THREE MINUTES BEFORE the broadcast, Vallee, who makes the pre-program talk, introduces his partner, J. Profile Barrymore, for a bit of slapstick. Others of cast enter just before air-time. The show goes on!

RARE, indeed, is this thing called radio. A romantic crooner and a dramatic actor laid aside to some degree the figurative capes and tights that clothed their voices and made them famous, put on the motley of clowns—and have given the radio audience new laugh-thrills and gained themselves new renown. Rudy Vallee and John Barrymore, the pair who have planted corn amongst their gardenias, have made the Sealtest program of Thursday nights one of radio's "don't miss" shows. Guest artists enter zestfully into the burlesque spirit of the fun session, wherein everything is kidded—including the performers themselves. The Vallee-Barrymore show goes on the air from Hollywood in an NBC studio which seats 350 persons. The program has a preview (not broadcast) on Wednesday evening to test gags. Theme of the program is "I'll Give You a Smile for a Smile." Rudy delivers the prebroadcast speech, which sometimes concludes: "There are 3,400,000 cows listening. Barrymore pulls 10,000,000 listeners . . . but the 3,400,000 cows are pulled by our sponsor. I'm only the singer!" —D. M.

Movie-Radio Guide REPORTS ON:

Lanny Ross, Gentleman Farmer

ABOVE: Lanny Ross has given his time and singing talent to the public for a dozen glorious years. He loves music, but he also loves the great outdoors, and some day he'll retire from radio to become a full-time gentleman farmer

ABOVE: The Rosses have a romp with the dog beside their "Singer's Midget" house. To secure privacy, Lanny tries to keep the location of his farm a secret

CELEBRITIES are usually expected to haunt city night-clubs or the seashore resorts or to indulge in some fancy form of play for their relaxation. Not Lanny Ross. When his week's broadcasting chores are over (CBS, Monday through Friday), he immediately jumps into his car with Mrs. Ross and motors to the Ross farm in Dutchess County, New York. Here on Melody Farm—as Lanny has musically named his place—the veteran singer hears the "songs" of chickens, hogs, horses and cattle that he raises on his 487 acres, two hundred of which are under cultivation. To Lanny and his wife, New York is a fine place to work, but they prefer living at their rural retreat. It's completely modern. The tiny house—"Singer's Midget"—contains the latest household conveniences. Only a small piano in a corner of the living-room and a radio in another corner give any indication of Lanny's professional life. Lanny whole-heartedly enters into the spirit of small-community life. He's even a member of the volunteer fire department of the town near which Melody Farm is located. Farming is not just a hobby with Lanny, as it is with some professional artists who become a bit bored with the metropolitan merry-go-round and seek new playthings. Lanny believes that farming is too important an industry to be considered a toy. When Melody Farm begins to pay financial dividends, the singer who once thought he'd be a lawyer will be a happy farmer. —D. M.

ABOVE: The "boss man" himself feeds the horses. Lanny really works while at the farm. But he enjoys it, just as he enjoys working hard at radio in the city

BELOW: Melody Farm livestock includes a herd of fifty-one cows, eight heifers and two bulls. Lanny is proud of one of his cows, a Holstein named Queen Model Supreme, which gives as much as eighty-five pounds of milk a day

BELOW: No mere landlord is Lanny. He's a pretty good farm-hand and knows how to handle all his own farming machinery

BELOW: Always sociable, Lanny carries out good-neighbor policy by joining the neighborhood volunteer fire department —besides, he gets a kick out of the job!

BANDSTAND NOTES

By Maurice Granger

YOUR correspondent was a witness to the celebration of Ted Lewis' 50,000th public appearance the other night. The genial jazz tragedian began his career thirty-four years ago in a nickelodeon in Circleville, Ohio, climbing through the media of tent shows, carnivals, burlesque and small-time vaudeville to the big-time in New York, London and Hollywood. Some people have gone so far as to question Lewis' contribution to jazz, claiming that he was more of a showman than a musician. But regardless of which side you take in the argument, the fact remains that the "Is Everybody Happy?" man was foremost among those who were responsible for swerving music from sweet and soft to hot and fast. Lewis may not have been a great musician himself, but he did employ in his band some of jazzdom's finest instrumentalists. In scanning notes of Lewis' career, one is sharply reminded that the road along which he has been traveling is a changing one. No doubt the top-hatted maestro is at times given to a feeling of nostalgia, particularly when he hears the names of Goodman, Dorsey and Shaw lauded wherever music is the subject of discussion. Twenty years ago the bass-voiced salutation "Is Everybody Happy?" was a national catch-word. To the credit of Ted Lewis he has not, in the intervening years, allowed himself to become dated. Congratulations upon your long and successful career, Ted.

Bandata

A ruling handed down by the leaders of the musicians' union decrees that all musicians playing at concerts, in theaters, hotels, restaurants, on radio programs, etc., must begin and end their performances with the playing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" . . . There is a rumor to the effect that the "Hit Parade" program will switch over to the Mutual network this fall. The reason for the change, the rumorites aver, is that on Mutual the program can take advantage of both ASCAP and BMI music . . . I understand that the juke-box operators have placed a ban on the Andrews Sisters' recording of "Juke-Box Jennie." The operators, it seems, don't like the term "juke-box" and would give anything if people would only call the machines something else. Incidentally, our statistics department tells us that there are 250,000 of these machines in use, the operators purchasing each week an average of one and a half records for each juke-box . . .

Touches of Fall

BY ALBERTA NORTH

ALONG about now we're all beginning to think pretty seriously about the fads and fashions of the fall season which is almost upon us. Already it's a temptation to stop in your favorite shop and buy the first black hat you see, simply because you're a wee bit tired of white and pastels. Of course, you know this is not the best way to start out on your winter wardrobe, because you're quite likely to end up with a hodgepodge of accessories which will not go well with the fashions you'll choose when the complete fall lines appear.

However, it is a good idea to start early to plan your fall and winter clothes budget, investigate the new trends and decide which ones you like. Decide on the colors which will be your mainstay, and then occasionally buy the new items that will fit into your scheme. Also, as a part of such careful planing, you should take stock of the clothes you stored for the summer. A good part of these will be adaptable for the coming year. With a smart new hat, your spring suit can make many appearances in the early fall. Dress up last year's wool dresses with unique pieces of new costume jewelry.

If you're going out to buy some brand-new ensembles, you'll want to remember that green heads the color calendar this year, according to a survey of advance fall showings in sportswear. You have forest, olive, khaki, cactus and vivid Kelly greens from which to choose. To go with these lovely shades, you must take care to select suitable matching and blending colors in accessories.

Your hosiery is one of the most important items. It's a good idea to start September with a good supply of stockings in one of the new shades which are specially introduced to go with the fall shades. The Holeproof Hosiery line has six brand-new shades, and one of these (called Victory) is perfect for the new greens besides being excellent for black, golden browns, blues and crimson. By stocking up with several pairs of this one shade, and you could do this by budgeting for a pair a week for six weeks, you'd find yourself all set for a season with no hosiery heart-breaks.

ONE fall item you must remember this year is a raincoat. Most of us are wont to put off doing anything about rainy days until we're greeted one morning with a downpour. When you've invested your hard-to-come-by pennies on your wardrobe, you should look upon a raincoat as a bit of insurance. If you have a smart raincoat ready for emergencies, you'll never have to risk ruining your pet suit, dress or coat when you venture out in wet weather. An Elasti-Glass rain ensemble of bonnet and coat, such as Irene Winston is wearing above, is very inexpensive and it comes in a wide variety of colors.

If you're anxious to make an early appearance with the first fall dress in your crowd, we'll give you a brief review of some of the best and safest features to look for. Wool jersey frocks promise to be very popular; also front fulness in skirts, longer-torso effects, rounded shoulders without armhole seams, surplice necklines, cuffs on coats, matching leather accessories. You'll find one or more of these charmers on most of the new costumes. We've seen some of the new Fashion Frock models and know first-hand how attractive and flattering the long lines and soft shoulders will be.

Popular bandleader Count Basie's manager reports that the band is not being booked to play during the month of October. In that month Basie will make a lecture tour of the country's leading colleges and universities. His subject will be—you guessed it—hot music . . . Bandleader Johnny Long is really getting up there. The band, now in the Hotel New Yorker, will make an appearance at the Paramount Theater early in October. Only bands who are definitely on top receive the theater's bid, this meaning of course that the Paramount Theater recognizes that Johnny and the lads have "arrived."

Purely Personal

Understand that Helen O'Connell, Jimmy Dorsey's vocalist, has switched her affections from Jim Blumenthal, the Fordham football ace, to Cliff Smith, a Harvard law student . . . The Charlie Barnets are expecting a little Charlie Barnet . . . Joanne Marshall, a night-club beauty, and Dick Haymes, vocalist for Harry James, are talking seriously these days, and it isn't about the war or weather, either . . . Clyde Burke and Roberta Louise, both vocalists with Raymond Scott's band, are also singing love-songs . . . It's a baby boy for the Bobby Kings, the vocalist with Mel Marvin's orchestra . . . Leonard Feather, the noted British jazz critic, has married Carol Rorvig, who once sang under the name of Carol Ash.

Songstuff

As one who is a product of the deep South, any rendition of a "blues" song is liable to awaken nostalgic memories — recollections of fish-frys, the greenness of the young corn sprouts against the background of the rich black of the delta land, and—more poignantly—the pleasant voices of the Negroes as they sang in the fields where they labored. Consequently it was with a great deal of interest that we read William C. Handy's account of his life, which he has appropriately titled "Father of the Blues." To those who are interested in knowing something of the background out of which the blues have come, Handy's book (MacMillan Company) is a gold mine of information. In his autobiography, the man who gave the world the immortal "St. Louis Blues" has assembled a wealth of recollections concerning his rise from humble circumstances to a position of honor in music circles. If you are curious as to hitherto little-known facts about spirituals, jazz, boogie-woogie, ragtime, "lowdowns" and blues, then "Father of the Blues" will satisfy that curiosity.

Recordata

If you should hear Sidney Bechet's recording of "The Sheik of Araby," keep in mind that it features a six-piece band in which every instrument is played by the same man. Here's how it was done: Bechet first played the tenor sax part, which was recorded, and then sat with earphones and played the string bass part while the saxophone part was played back to him. Of course this playback was being recorded on another record, which also was picking up the bass part direct from Bechet's performance. This went on through the other instruments—piano, clarinet, soprano saxophones and drums. Believe it or not, but it was actually done that way.

Letters FROM THE AUDIENCE

Express your opinions. Address, Letters From the Audience, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Ill.

You Tell 'Em!

Dear Sirs:

Say, for whose benefit do the radio artists perform, and whose appreciation is supposed to be most important? Naturally, some of them perform chiefly for the ears of the sponsor and the advertising agency. And naturally, many of them whole-heartedly appreciate their own efforts. Most of the comedians seem to aim their efforts at the studio audience. Sometimes the performers actually consider the listeners of first importance. But by what stretch of the imagination can the writers and producers conceive that the announcer or master of ceremonies is the audience and the judge? In other words, I think one of the most sickeningly artificial devices used on the air—and we all know there are many of those—is the practise of having the announcer or master of ceremonies, after a singer, for instance, has performed well, badly or indifferently, heave a monumental sigh or strike a stage whisper and exclaim, "Thank you, Jane-John Doe, that was lovely!" Tell them we listeners know whether we like it or not, and we'll speak our appreciation or fail to speak it in our own way. Tell them, please!

Elman Matterson, Knoxville, Tenn.

● We don't have to tell them, Mr. Matterson. You've already told them! —The Editors.

Happy Over "Hap"

Dear Sirs:

After listening to "Hap Hazard" on Tuesday nights, I feel that a line of commendation is certainly due this great summer show. Ransom Sherman, who is my choice as the best comedian on the air today, has stepped smoothly into the shoes of vacationing Fibber McGee and Molly and kept this half-hour one of the real high-spots of the week. His breezy, natural style of comedy, together with the makes-you-want-to-buy announcing of Durward Kirby, has created a funfest which should certainly not be lost to the airwaves with the return of fall.

Louise Groves, Washington, D. C.

They're Really Crazy!

Dear Sirs:

I've listened to "Breakfast Club" for years, but I heard one of the programs a few weeks ago that made me wonder a little about the authenticity of all the talk about the show's blithe informality. There was a woman visitor in the studio audience who said she didn't feel quite at home, because she usually listened to the program while she did her dishes at home. Well, Don McNeill, according to what we heard on the air, proceeded to make her feel quite at home throughout the hour program. He sent out for some water and a pan and some dishes to wash. Then he improvised an apron for the lady out of his coat. He even sent for some food, and had a boy in the audience eat it so the dishes would be dirty enough to deserve washing. They even heated the water for the job.

Now, it was all very funny and entertaining, but, honestly, did all this

Bulls & Boners

Bulls and boners are a part of broadcasting. No matter how experienced the performer or how famous the star, chances are that he will make an occasional slip or a statement with twisted meaning which is extremely funny. See how good your ears are. Try to catch broadcasters in some error—the funnier the better—and send your entry to MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago. The most humorous entries will be printed in this column. Watch for your contribution!

actually take place, or do they kid the listeners a little?

Mrs. R. I. Karpe, Birmingham, Ala.

● It really happened. What's more, crazier things have actually taken place during "Breakfast Club." Everything goes—that is, almost everything goes—on that show. That's why people from all over the country make a visit to "Breakfast Club" a special highlight of a trip to Chicago.—The Editors.

The Cost of Quality

Dear Sirs:

It isn't any wonder that so few really unique and totally satisfying programs find their way to the air, for when a station or network does have the initiative to put one on, it seemingly can't be sold to a sponsor. So radio sticks to the "it has to be corny to be commercial" thesis. And some of the sustaining shows continue to set examples in quality and imagination. For the listener's benefit they should remain sustaining—shows like "Basin Street Chamber Music Society," "The Bartons," "Affairs of Tom, Dick and Harry," the "Forecast" series, to mention only a few—but the programs themselves deserve commercialism.

Charles Kraimer, Toledo, Ohio.

MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE'S

THEATRE of the AIR Presents

CHICHI and Papa David (r.) are proud of Toby's promotion to sergeant's rank. But crippled Stephen Hamilton, lawyer who lives in rear of Papa's book shop, can't be happy about anything that goes counter to his intense love for Chichi

IN A NOOK of the book shop Toby hopefully explains the special sentiment back of a soldier's request that his best girl sew his new chevrons on his uniform. This bit of whimsical intimacy results in a proposal of marriage by Toby

"Life Can Be Beautiful"

PART I

IN THE Slightly Read Book Shop on the Lower East Side of New York Papa David Solomon conducts his business—the little there is. More important, though, to the story than selling books is the influence of Papa David's gentle, kindly philosophy and his devout, humble character upon the lives of others around him. But there is more than character study in "Life Can Be Beautiful." There is plenty of action, motivated principally by Chichi, the impulsive young lady who once found refuge as a homeless waif with Papa David. Currently the plot concerns Chichi's deliberation over the marriage proposal of Toby, her long-time friend. Have these pictures before you as you listen to "Life Can Be Beautiful" Monday through Friday, CBS.

THE REAL MEANING of Toby's request is not lost on Chichi as she consents to sew the stripes on his sleeve. Toby has proposed before without success, and hopes that Chichi's action means that this time she has decided to say "yes"

EVER PRESENT in the shop, Stephen happens upon the two and grasps the significance of the situation. Sensing with disappointment that Chichi is considering marriage to Toby, Stephen is still hopeful of winning her over to himself

Gustave W. Gale Photographer

PHILOSOPHIC Papa David counsels Chichi, who deeply respects his wisdom, upon the importance of profound thought to be given to marriage. Meanwhile Stephen is considering how to strengthen the sentiment of his ties with Chichi

I have owned three different makes of radios, but my Midwest tops them all. Distance does not make any difference with Midwest. I can get Berlin, Rome, London, just as clear as a local station. Its tone is excellent and I assure you that my next radio will be another Midwest.

I believe that you are very conservative in your statements. My Midwest has not met any competition even when compared with other makes of radio that cost many times more. Congratulations and more power to you and to your organization for building "Tomorrow's Radio Set Today."
