Radio Set For 9.2% Growth, Records To Rise 9.4% In '95

Veronis, Suhler forecast: Radio will bring in $11 billion; record sales to reach $12 billion

The U.S. radio industry will grow by 9.2% in 1995 — to $11 billion dollars — according to projections in the 12th annual "Communications Industry Report" by Veronis, Suhler & Associates. The domestic record industry is expected to reach $12 billion by virtue of a 9.4% gain next year.

"With local advertising returning to health and the improvement in the overall economy, radio stations should experience much faster growth over the [five-year] forecast period," the report said. Veronis, Suhler predicts that local radio billings will rise at a 7.3% compound annual rate over the next five years, hitting $12.7 billion in 1998.

Network radio, however, is expected to rise at only a 3.3% annual rate through 1998, at which time it will reach $540 million.

Reaching The Peak

Thus, Veronis, Suhler projects that "radio advertising as a whole will total an estimated $13.2 billion by 1998, growing at a 7.1% compound annual rate from $9.4 billion in 1993."

The New York-based investment banking company said radio should finish 1994 with growth of 7.2% over 1993, winding up just above the $10 billion mark. The growth rate is expected to peak at 9.2% in 1995, then drop to 6.1% the following year.

Talkin' Turkey With FCC Brass

First of a four-part series

Starting this week, R&R turns the tables on FCC Commissioners by having them answer rather than pose the questions in a four-part series of interviews. First up on the "10 Questions With..." hot seat is Commissioner Andrew Barrett, who makes "no apologies" for his EEO stance and "clearly expects [small markets] to do a better job."

Among Barrett's other intriguing comments:

- "The people who are still hurting are mainly minority broadcasters. And I'm not sure it's due to anything that we [the FCC] are doing as opposed to what the ad agencies are doing."
- "I am not a regulator per se; I am one who believes... we ought to let market forces operate. And we ought to be concerned about indecency issues, making sure people have access, and making sure various voices are heard, regardless of what one thinks about them individually."

Rounding out the interview series in subsequent weeks will be Commissioners Rachelle Chong, Jim Quello, and Susan Ness.

RAB Board Votes To Retain Fries Into Next Century

Officers elected; political ad proposition tabled

SAN DIEGO — RAB President Gary Fries was given a solid vote of confidence by the bureau's board of directors at their semi-annual meeting and assured of job security until 2001. The board also elected Federated Media's John Dille its new Chairman, Granum Communications'

Fries

Herb McCord Vice Chairman, and Albimar Communications' Skip Finley Finance Chairman.

Fries, who joined the RAB in 1991, is credited with injecting vitality into an organization and industry that had been in deep slumps. As a result of his overhaul of RAB's staff and operations, its membership, revenues, and attendance at conferences and meetings are at all-time highs.

The RAB board also unveiled a plan to add more women and ethnic minorities to its ranks and decided, for the time being, not to deal with a controversial proposal to establish a board that would review political ads.

Outgoing board Chairman Paul Fiddick said the board di-

Ayeroff, Harris To Launch Columbia West Coast Label

Longtime music industry partners Jeff Ayeroff and Jordan Harris have joined Columbia Records to pilot a new West Coast-based division. A new name for the imprint wasn't announced, but it is known that the staff and roster of Columbia's Chaos Recordings will join the new venture.

Ayeroff and Harris began working together at A&M Records in the late '70s and again as the heads of Virgin Records through the late '80s and early '90s.

"I have been a real fan of Jeff and Jordan since their A&M days, and I can think of no better team — on a creative and A&R level

Arbitron Details Problems Behind Delayed Monthlies

The glitch in new Arbitron software that delayed the release of Phase One Fall Arbitrends by a week affected many more markets than perhaps originally thought. But the company, which said all of the figures are now in order, started releasing the monthly results Tuesday (11/15) in accordance with its revised schedule.

According to an Arbitron source, the problem affected unlisted households in metros with so-called "split counties" (counties that are large or diverse enough to require division into two or more segments so that each segment can be weighted differently).

The problem: Since telephone prefixes usually span several zip codes, Arbitron's outside vendor for unlisted telephone numbers, Metro Mail, can offer only an estimate of a would-be respondent's zip code. Arbitron eventudeal more money than small stations can afford to pay them. Then you may have to go outside your area and try to recruit people. That general kind of statement probably wouldn't hold true.

Maybe in Oklahoma it's a little different. But when I find a station in Georgia within 70 or 80 miles of Atlanta, where they have more black colleges than anyplace

BARRETT/See Page 17

Q What challenges do you see facing radio broadcasters?

A Even though we have generally seen a surge in radio business revenues during the last year and a half, the people who are still hurting are mainly minority broadcasters. And I'm not sure that it's due to anything that we [the FCC] are doing as opposed to what the ad agencies are doing.

[Many minority-owned stations are] low-power, weak stations in terms of power, and there may be some management problems. I think LMAs have hurt minority stations more than they have anyone else.

Q Some African-American broadcasters at the NABOB conference said they don't like the ownership limits increasing. Is that a legitimate argument?

A That is a legitimate argument from NABOB's perspective. But if the stations were out there, I question whether or not NABOB would be willing to buy them. I'm just wondering whether or not capital markets will respond to NABOB as they do to the general public. I think NABOB makes a very good point. But the problems associated mainly with NABOB's members are something that's almost out of the power, out of the realm of the FCC — unless we look at doing some power increases, and certainly we can do that.

The other thing I think we need to do: We probably need to react a little faster on petitions and things that small stations — be they NABOB members, members of the Hispanic community, or members of the general public — have before us.

This system harms them more than it does people who can afford big-time lawyers, because they can come in and get things moving.

Q What about raising the number of employees that categorizes a station as "small" and reducing EEO paperwork?

A Sounds like an excuse to me. Certainly there are markets where you are going to have a difficult time getting qualified minorities. Not because they're not there, but because many of them have degrees in, let's say, accounting, management, or engineering.

Clearly, there are great opportunities for them to make a great

Less Regulation Expected Under New GOP Congress

The broadcasting industry is still trying to figure out how it will be affected by the fallout from the political neutron bomb that hit Washington last week, when a decisive Republican Election Day victory gave the party control of both houses of Congress.

Broadcast issues certainly weren't key to an election that many viewed as a referendum on President Clinton's social agenda and economic policies. But the buzz around Washington is that the key word for the 104th Congress is "deregulation."

"Republican philosophy is generally less regulatory and more pro-competitive or free market ... and I think there will be some changes in those areas," said NAB Sr. VP Jim May.

FCC Commissioner James Quello echoed those remarks. "This is the biggest change in recent history, but I don't see anything drastic coming down except a less regulatory approach and more acceptance for deregulatory proposals," said Quello, who occasionally plays tennis with

FCC Replaces EBS, But Questions Remain

The FCC voted to replace the Emergency Broadcast System (EBS) with the digital Emergency Alert System (EAS). But it didn't completely eliminate on-air testing in its decision last week (11/10).

Also, the Commission announced its seeking comments on a proposal to allow unattended operation of broadcast stations, in light of new technology. Broadcasters will be required to replace EBS equipment with EAS equipment by July 1, 1996. Costs should range from a few hundred to a few thousand dollars, depending on FCC requirements.

PDs are likely to welcome the scaled-back on-air testing included in the FCC's decision. After July 1, 1995, stations may transmit the shortened two-tone attention signal for not less than eight seconds or more than 25 seconds.

Details Sought

Broadcasters still have questions, however. "I would like to see more detail" about costs, said Ed Brouder, Chairman of the New Hampshire State Emergency Communications Committee.

Connecticut State Emergency Communications Committee Chairman Bill Clede said he wants to know about technical specifications. "Obviously [the FCC is] not going to endorse a particular manufacturer, but I don't know how it's going to be resolved."

Confused by the lack of specifics, New York State Emergency Communications Committee Vice

"Obviously [the FCC is] not going to endorse a particular manufacturer, but I don't know how it's going to be resolved."

- Bill Clede

Chairman John Nelson called the FCC's statement on the EBS-to-EAS switch a "typical piece of rewritten government gobbledegook."

Firms Vie For Business

Two companies that may supply radio stations with EAS equipment are TFT Inc. of Santa Clara, CA and SAGE Alerting Systems Inc. of Stamford, CT. Both participated in field trials in Denver and Baltimore last year.

TFT Director/Marketing Darryl Parker said he's waiting for the technical specifications, which should be out about December 10. But he's telling broadcasters the cost will be between $750 and $1000, with an optional printer decoder that will probably cost $500.

SAGE President Gerald LeBow said his system will probably cost $2500, which would include a "multiple actuation controller" and a 286 computer.

In announcing its interest in gathering comments on whether to allow stations to run with no operator on duty, the FCC cited improvements in the "stability, reliability, and automatic control" of transmitters. It is also proposing to do away with the requirement that operators have FCC permits. No deadline for filing comments has been announced.

El Dorado Disputes KACE/L.A. EEO Record

Having failed to secure a court injunction to block the sale of KACE-FM/Inglewood (Los Angeles) to Cox Communications, El Dorado Communications has petitioned the FCC to deny the sale, charging that current owner All Pro Broadcasting violated EEO rules by not hiring enough Hispanics.

El Dorado acknowledged that KACE's employment record "does not show an underrepresentation of minorities overall." All Pro owner Willie Davis is African-American, as were most KACE employees prior to a July LMA by Cox. But the petition claims the FCC should focus on Hispanics, the largest minority group in Los Angeles (34.3%).

El Dorado noted that it is Hispanic-controlled and "employs a large number of Hispanics" at KMQA-FM/West Covina (Los Angeles), and charged that the number of Hispanic employees at KFI-AM & KOST-FM/Los Angeles is only slightly higher.

All Pro called El Dorado's arguments "fatuous, at best." It said the petition's only purpose was to delay the sale while El Dorado, which claims it had a binding deal to buy the station, pursues a court suit against All Pro. Cox accused El Dorado of submitting an "inaccurate and inflammatory petition" and staunchly defended its own EEO record.

FCC: Duopoly Impact Inconclusive

The duopoly concept is now two years old. However, the FCC hasn't been able to determine the impact doubling up has had on the radio industry.

Of 10,057 commercial stations, 2048 are currently participating in duopolies or LMAs, according to a staff report requested by the Commission to measure the 1992 ownership rules' effect on competition, diversity, and minority ownership.

FCC economist Scott Roberts told R&R the report "offers no conclusions — all it does is present data." The study found that minority ownership increased by 18 stations from 1993 to 1994, now representing 2.9% of all stations.

Federal Probe Targets Record Labels

The U.S. Justice Department is investigating whether six record companies are conspiring to fix the performance royalties they charge foreign music channels to play videos, a possible violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

Time Warner Inc., Sony Corp., PolyGram Holding Inc., EMI Music, Bertelsmann Music Group, and MCA Inc. were asked to supply documents in the probe. With the exception of Time Warner, requests were limited to documents located in the United States.

Justice Department documents say it is investigating "monopolization of domestic and international markets for cable, wire, and satellite-delivered music programming through price-fixing cartels and overbroad joint ventures." In the U.S., cable networks don't pay performance royalties. According to court filings, the companies have "uniformly objected" to producing information or documents related to foreign activities.

While denying it had violated antitrust laws, Warner Music Group said in a statement, "The information sought by the Government relates solely to overseas businesses and activities over which the Department of Justice has no jurisdiction."

Canadians Ride DAB Vans

Mobile DAB demonstrations were noticeably absent from last month's NAB Radio Show in Los Angeles. But DAB vans were cruising through Winnipeg last week for the Canadian Association of Broadcasters convention.

Unlike U.S. broadcasters, who are holding out for a DAB system that will operate in tandem with current AM and FM stations, the Canadians are racing ahead to implement the European Eureka-147 system at L-band (1452-1492 MHz).

The equipment used at the CAB convention is now being sent to Vancouver to test L-band reception in the city's hostile multipath environment.

tually determines the correct zip code when it receives a completed diary and the correct information is entered into its computers.

Nationwide Problem

But Arbitron's new "sample management system," which was implemented with the current phase, apparently ignored the updated zip codes. That put into question the validity of some 1400 diaries — out of 70,000 used in the phase nationwide — returned by unlisted households in split counties.

Arbitron said a software patch will prevent that problem from occurring again. It also admitted that it paid $2 premiums to 18-24 males and black respondents in 13 metros when it should have given $3. It plans to offer $4 or higher premiums in the third phase in order to compensate for any possible response shortfall as a result of the lower premium.

'ZINE SCENE

'Hit Men' Scribe On Warner Story!

This week's New Yorker looks at politics in Washington and in NYC, where "Hit Men" author Fredric Dannen reports on the recent drama at Warner Music U.S. Those quoted include Robert Morgado, Mo Ostin, Danny Gold-vine, Metallica managers Cliff Burnstein and Peter Mensch, a couple gossips from America Online, and an Entertainment Weekly editor who explains why Doug Morris wasn't on the magazine's recent "Power 101" list.

According to one of the Doug Morris "loyalists" who'd gathered at A*Vision chief Stuart Hersch's NYC apartment during Morris's celebrated duel with Morgado, Morris returned victorious from the meeting and told the assembled, "Let's have some salmon and get back to work."

Talkin' Loud

In its "Focus On Your Money" section, Newsweek spotlights talker Sonny Bloch, who's being sued for collusion with an advertiser that was allegedly operating a Ponzi scheme. Bloch argues, "How am I supposed to know that they are ripping off people of millions of dollars? With 22,000-plus spots a year I try to be as careful as possible, but these guys had me totally fooled. I certainly didn't see any of the $16 million or $20 million."

Armstrong Williams, a conservative black radio host, tells Vibe, "I'm not a pawn of anybody. No matter how vehemently many blacks oppose black conservatives, deep down they want to embrace the message."

Mr. Jones

Heart's Ann Wilson tells Rolling Stone former Led Zeppelin bassist-turned producer John Paul Jones is "so easy to work with. God, does he have war stories. Ours sound like the Osmonds' by comparison."

Robert Plant also tells Stone, "If Jonesy had come along [to play on 'Unleaded'] it would have been Led Zeppelin without the name, and this is not Led Zeppelin. This media awareness about names and badges is unnecessary. It was better to sort it out as the classic combination of guitarist and singer."

On redoing old hits like "Kashmir," he muses, "You've got to get the chainsaw and cut the song in places and pleat it to make it bleed, and then bring in the Egyptians. And with that combination of musicians, and with everyone playing in that drone state, you can sing anything."

Oh, Pairs!

A last-minute 6pm tea date with Barbra Streisand made Prince Charles 90 minutes late for dinner at Aaron Spelling's house (People).

"That's the great thing about Hollywood: They have stunt kissers. At least that's what she told me" — Clint Black, asked if he objects to wife Lisa Hartman Black doing love scenes (People).

Lisa Marie and Michael Jackson have banned all their employees from using cologne. "Insiders say the couple's Scientology religion is against the use of fragrance of any kind" (Star).

INXS singer Michael Hutchence has called off his marriage to model Helena Christensen (Star).

By the way, Elton John is suing the Star for reporting he and "Mr. Hotlanta" are an item ('Zine Scene, 11/4).

Boles's Roles

Epic Sr. VP/Black Music Lamont Boles rates a page-long profile in Ebony Men as one of the "Ebony Men To Watch." He says the best part of his job is "making today's John and Jane Doe tomorrow's superstars," and the worst part is "being the bad guy. But somebody's got to do it." Epic artist Luther Vandross is the subject of a cover story.

Lamont Boles

Simple Pleasures

Lyle Lovett, who plays a Texas boot manufacturer in Robert Altman's forthcoming "Pret-A-Porter" film, tells Premiere that he didn't come unprepared for the job. Of costar Sally Kellerman, he says, "Sally's breasts were the first breasts I'd ever seen onscreen ... so it's really nice to work with her."

John Mellencamp comments on his recent heart attack: "I'm a smoking machine. Hell, sometimes I wake up 10, 15 times a night to smoke a cigarette ... My doctor told me that people have said to him that Mellencamp really got paid back for his rock & roll lifestyle. I've got one thing to say to those people: 'Blow me'" (Rolling Stone).

'Princess Gangsta Bitch'

"Singing is a hobby to me, but raising dogs is a love," says Aaron Hall, who tells Vibe he breeds dogs and keeps 26 of them in his home. The self-described "little black pit bull" — shown in a photo with a bulldog named "Princess Gangsta Bitch" — charges $6000 to train an attack dog, and does so in German, "so black motherfuckers won't know what I'm saying." He likes the dogs to get real-life experience, so he sometimes leaves them in the back seat of his car with the engine running, the windows down, and money on the seat.

Each week R&R sneaks a peek through the nation's consumer magazines in search of everything from the sublime to the ridiculous in music news. R&R has not verified any of these reports.

LIFESTYLES

Targeting Today's Women In Their Twenties

If you're trying to target women 18-34 by giving away "Reality Bites" videos during remotes at the local coffee house, you're wasting your time. According to a recent survey by the NYC-based Roper Organization, barely one-fifth of today's twentysomething women (and there are 46 million of them, representing a $125 billion market) fit that "Generation X" stereotype — but 95% resent being labeled as such.

Based upon in-depth interviews with 1000 women in their 20s, the survey found — contrary to popular belief — that few of the respondents displayed "slacker" qualities such as apathy, listlessness, or pessimism.

Instead, 95% of the women surveyed said sticking to their beliefs/values was their highest priority, followed by having a happy marriage (76%), financial independence (74%), finding a challenging job (68%), getting to the top of their field (64%), and owning a home (64%).

Independence Days

Nearly nine out of 10 respondents (88%) are optimistic about their future and consider themselves independent thinkers. The majority are satisfied with their work (81%), believe they'll fulfill their ambitions (80%), feel they have a lot of options available to them (75%), and are happy with the way their lives are going (74%).

Fully 71% say they know what they want and are determined to get it — 82% even set goals for themselves. The most important goal? Feeling good about themselves, cited by 82% of the women surveyed. However, 80% believe the media focus too much on the way they look and not enough on their accomplishments or intelligence.

Women in their 20s want to be in control of their lives (77% agree) and don't want to depend on anyone else (66% agree). This may explain why money is top-of-mind for 64% of the respondents, ahead of concerns about the future (58%), family relationships (50%), work (47%), getting ahead in life (47%), and love (46%).

Spending Priorities

Tracking respondents' spending priorities — once such essentials as rent, food, utilities, and laundry have been accounted for — the survey found clothing was the main repository for disposable dollars (60% of the women surveyed rated clothing a priority). Home furnishings and eating out tied for second place (33% rated them a priority) with car and vacations/travel deadlocked in third place (23%).

Movies (18%), having guests over for dinner/parties (16%), cosmetics/beauty products (15%), CDs/tapes (13%), books (11%), and jewelry (10%) were the other top priorities.

HOW TO SPEAK HIP

Don't Know Much About Geography

For years, the government and various trade occupations have used certain words and phrases to describe areas of interest in the U.S. For instance, a governor can declare a "disaster area"; meteorologists can warn of a "hurricane path."

Owing to the media's frequent usage, these terms have become generic and have worked their way into the everyday English language. Grady Clay — whose "Crossing The American Grain" program airs on National Public Radio — defines these and many other now-commonplace names in "Real Places: An Unconventional Guide To America's Generic Landscape" (University of Chicago Press). Here are a few pit stops:

Declining Area: "On the face of it, any Declining Area is an affront to prevailing progressive sentiments ... When growth turns into decline, somebody is to be blamed: the mayor, president, congress, Russians (to 1990), Japanese auto makers, or Arabs."

Drop Zone: "'Drop Zone' occurs not merely in talk among paratroopers, it also occurs in civilian talk about a place not found on one's handy-dandy city map. One need not be a sociologist to spot a Drop Zone. Just stop your car at the end of the off-ramp the next time you exit a local expressway. It's full of cigarette butts and, sometimes, bottles. Such places give off signals to would-be dumpers, who feel free to drop their loads of trash." Larger zones "may exist in the form of non-growth or derelict rings around a city center."

Impact Area: "A recent invention, Impact Area has expanded to include — in a property-conscious society burgeoning with 'Watch Neighborhoods' — an oil-soaked river bank 300 miles downstream from a refinery spill; a clutch of houses close to new early-morning takeoffs from the local airport; or Antarctica with its penguins carrying remnant chemicals from half a globe away."

Water Ranch: "A new generation of entrepreneurs is selling a pre-resource to the highest bidder, with potentially profound effects on the development of the West," noted the Los Angeles Times. The resource is irrigation water. The device for so doing is the Water Ranch, a man-made oddity. A Water Ranch has saleable qualities of water flowing through or past [it] or underground. The owners are cropping their water as though it were hay, soybeans, or corn, sold to distant buyers."

Some of the above-mentioned words and phrases also can be found in the American Heritage Dictionary Of The English Language, Third Edition (Houghton Mifflin Co./$40), for which column-compiler Anne Soukhanov served as Executive Editor. For more info, call the publisher at (617) 725-5000.

Putting A Price On The American Dream

How much money would it take to make your dreams come true? The average American adult says an annual income of $102,000 — up from $50,000 seven years ago — according to the latest survey by the NYC-based Roper Organization.

But when asked how much money it would take to ensure your family lived in reasonable comfort, the average American adult said an annual income of $40,000 — up from $30,000 in 1987 — would suffice.

As for the annual income it would take to just get by? The answer was $25,000 — up from $20,000 seven years back.

Interestingly, the actual median household income for Americans in 1993 was $31,200 — up from $26,000 in 1987.

Universal Fantasy Gap

The distance between minimal and fantasy incomes remains remarkably similar regardless of income bracket. Among those earning $50,000+, the median dream income is $204,000. While this is double the average, it's also five times as much as people in the $50,000+ bracket say they need to get by.

Meanwhile, Americans earning less than $15,000 fix their annual dream incomes at $88,000 — only six times more than the $15,000 they say they'd require just to get by.

Of course, that "just getting by" level is higher for those accustomed to a higher standard of living. The majority (59%) of those earning $50,000+ per year say they need at least $40,000 just to get by (only 24% of those earning $30,000-$50,000 say they need $40,000 to get by).

Interestingly, 40% of Americans earning between $30,000-$50,000 say they need an annual income of at least $50,000 to live comfortably.

Where We Live: Census Tells All

Nearly one-third (30%) of American households are located in the suburbs of large metropolitan areas — defined as those with populations of one million plus — according to the '94 Census Bureau survey.

About one-fifth (19%) of U.S. households are located in the central cities of those same large metropolitan areas. Another 12% of U.S. households are located in the central cities of metropolitan areas with populations of less than one million, and another 17% live in these cities' suburbs. The remaining 22% of U.S. households are found in smaller cities and towns that don't qualify as metropolitan areas.

Does More. Costs Less.

Now that's a combination every broadcaster is looking for. You've probably heard about the DSE 7000 Digital Editor. We've been telling you about it. EZ Worth Less Than 'Street' Value?

EZ Communications doesn't like the way it's being treated on Wall Street. On Tuesday (11/15), EZ issued a letter to current and potential investors that stated the company believes its stock is undervalued.

EZ said it would try to boost interest in its stock and improve its fundamentals, but added that its board would consider a stock buyback program if those efforts fail. The company has scheduled a special presentation for investors next Tuesday (11/22) at a hotel near its Fairfax, VA headquarters.

Top CAA music agent Tom Ross won't become the next RCA Records President after all. ST hears Ross turned down a fairly lucrative deal — rumored to be in the neighborhood of a $3 million cash advance and a million-dollar-per-year salary for five years.

Look for KKNU/Eugene, OR PD Cary Rolfe to become APD/MD at KZLA/L.A.

Precious nanoseconds prior to deadline, Hall Communications announced a $3.5 million duopoly deal to add New London Broadcasting's WNLC-AM & WTYD-FM/New London, CT to Hall's WICH-AM & WCTY-FM/Norwich, CT.

From The Dog House To Madonna's House

Terry Anzaldo

RCA Sr. Dir./Pop Promo Terry Anzaldo finally gets his contractual release from Nipper and becomes Maverick VP/Promo, reporting to GM Abbey Konowitch.

Rumors

- Has Columbia's choice for president finally come down to a short list?
- Will Power Pig/Tampa APD/MD Jeff Kapugi soon grab his first PD post?
- Is the open KMXV/KC PD slot down to afternoon Steve Wall and KIXY/San Angelo, TX OM/PD Mike Steele?
- Will WWKX/Providence PD Scotty Snipes be upped to OM? And is APD/MD Tom "Jammer" Naylor about to be named PD?
- With Z100/NY's Jeff Ballentine hitched to the KS104/Denver PD post (see Page 9), will KS104 take a more Pop/Alternative CHR direction?
- Will a Midwest video mogul sign on a Des Moines CHR on a newly assigned frequency?

Delayed L.A., New York Arbitrends: Small Change

Precious little change in the seven-day-delayed NYC and L.A. Aug./Sept./Oct. Arbitrends. AC WLTW (4.9-5.0) still rules the Big Apple roost with Gold WCBS-FM (4.3-4.6), CHR WQHT (4.5-4.5), CHR WHITZ (4.6-4.4), and Hot AC WPLJ (4.5-4.3) bunched behind. UC WRKS — which had rebounded from a soft spring book — trended back downward (4.2-3.8), while competitor WBLS held steady (4.1-4.0). Spanish-language WSKQ-FM (3.4-3.9) showed the most movement this time out.

Out in El Lay, Ranchera KLAX/L.A. (5.4-5.9) rebounded to take sole possession of first place, while another Spanish-language entrant, KXED, doubled its numbers (1.0-2.0). AC KOST — which experienced a soft summer book — climbed 3.8-4.5. KFI (4.7-4.7) again bested KABC (3.7-3.3) and KMPC (flat at 0.8) in the battle of the talkers.

Wolfman Jack

Wolfman Jack is about to become bad 'n' nationwide. Thanks to the success of his "Live From The Hard Rock" show on Gold WXTR/Washington, Liberty Broadcasting is offering the Wolfman's show for Friday nights. Affiliate relations and advertising will be handled by Tampa-based Dignet Syndication.

Columbia Nat'l Dir./Alternative Promo Todd Bisson and West Coast Alternative Promo dude Marc Kordelos have left the label.

Look for ex-Geffen A&R guru John Kalodner to come along with Aerosmith when the rockers rejoin Columbia. Kiboshing widespread speculation that he'd either set up his own imprint or take a key management gig at one of the suddenly volatile label situations, Kalodner told the L.A. Times, "I don't want to be a president or anything. I don't want the crap that goes with that job. I just want to sign new bands and make records." Meanwhile, ST hears that Tom Zutaut will be the next Geffen A&R genius to leave the building.

C'mon Let's Turkey Trot

To help feed the homeless at Thanksgiving, Alternative WWDX/Lansing invited listeners to fill a bus with canned goods and nonperishable food items that would be donated to the area's food bank. Morning hosts Allyson & Kristin camped out in the bus all last weekend, promising to walk all the way to Detroit (90 miles) — if listeners could fill the bus.

Well ... the footsteps to the Motor City begin next Monday (11/21). The duo will walk about 15 miles a day, taking a break for Thanksgiving, but returning where they left off. The station's van will be in pursuit for live broadcasts and to transport the footloose duo back to Lansing. Listeners are pledging a certain amount of money per mile, all of which will be donated to the Lansing Food Bank.

"The feeling is that this surge is going to continue through 1995," Veronis, Suhler Managing Partner Jim Rosenfield told R&R. Then he expects competition from other media — cable in particular — to heat up, with radio "returning to a more normal growth curve" as a result.

Records Still Strong

Recorded music, one of the hottest industry segments tracked by Veronis, Suhler over the past five years, should see its growth rate slow only slightly in the coming five.

U.S. spending on recorded music rose at an annual rate of 9.9% from 1988 through 1993, trailing only the emerging "interactive digital media" segment (16%) and cable TV (10.4%). The domestic market for recorded music broke the $10 billion mark in 1993 and is expected to approach $11 billion this year.

Veronis, Suhler attributed the increases in the recorded music sector to "the rebounding economy, the growing popularity of country music, and the widening demographic base of recorded music purchases."

Although the industry's growth from the replacement of vinyl with CDs is nearly complete, Veronis, Suhler predicts only a modest slowdown in growth rates. Recorded music spending is still expected to grow at an average annual rate of 8.2% through 1998, hitting $14.9 billion.

Bright Digital Future

According to Veronis, Suhler Managing Partner Robert Broadwater, the recording industry is well positioned for the coming information superhighway — whatever form it may take — despite being a mature and consolidated industry. "They are the most digitized of all of [the communications industries]," he noted. He did, however, point out a possible stumbling block: "The issue of copyright in a digital world is up in the air right now."

Still, Broadwater sees no public rush to replace the distribution system for music. He noted that cable TV systems have had disappointing results from marketing subscription digital music services.

"The radio industry and the recorded music industry have 75 years of experience in delivering music, mixed with information, to the consumer at an attractive price," Broadwater said. He doesn't foresee either industry being seriously challenged by new competitors anytime soon.

else, that's not a very valid argument. So I think there are differences in small markets in terms of how it impacts based on the resources. They have to try a little harder, it seems to me.

I'd ask [broadcasters] a very basic and fundamental question: Are the charges we've brought against them real or imagined? I mean ... small stations, have they really recruited? Have they really attempted to? Or have they, like a lot of people, hired somebody's little dumb cousins or their own little nephews and nieces? I understand that, but clearly I expect them to do a better job. I make no apologies on my EEO position.

Q How can a federal agency promote the hiring of women and minorities?

A Business does a pretty good job, particularly in the large markets, at large stations. Are there still problems? Certainly there are. Is there a possibility that our decisions, our goals, may impact smaller stations differently? Of course there is, depending on where they're located. They may have to try a little harder.

But I'm willing to [listen to] any suggestions ... what I'm not willing to do is look at effort, because I know what effort means. Effort means you have somebody send you 10 resumes from black folks and you call them up. That ain't gonna fly.

Q Has the FCC changed much under Chairman Hundt?

A I think Reed Hundt has done an excellent job. You see a few more faces of color, and you see women in certain posts. I'm not satisfied with what I see in terms of Hispanics, but I think we'll see more. But once again, I want to see qualified people. Was there a problem with that before? Yeah ... the harder I pushed for those efforts, somebody always wanted to make them part of a deal or for a vote, and I refused. I'm not trading my vote for a job.

Q In his speeches, Chairman Hundt discusses a social pact that broadcasters should have with the public. What do you think?

A I haven't the slightest idea of what a new social pact means. First of all, I don't know whether the term is compact or contract. I haven't the slightest idea what either one means. If you find out, let me know. But the chairman has never talked to me about it.

When it comes to the media, be it radio or television, they do have a unique obligation because they're using the public airwaves. And that's the one thing they seem to forget quite often.

Q What do you think about conservative talk shows and President Clinton's response to them?

A He has a legitimate complaint to the extent that his message is being twisted quite often. I'm not sure that it's always by so-called conservatives as opposed to just generally.

Q Is the FCC going to collect any indecency fines against Infinity soon?

A I think we may have one fine prepared for collection, for $6000. It may have been the very first one. As for the others, I would say the problem is that you've got a First Amendment right and you've got due process. If, in fact, there are still administrative or judicial processes open to Infinity's management, we can't stop them from taking advantage of those. They're not being held up because we just want to hold them up.

Q What strengths and weaknesses do you bring to your job?

A I understand regulation. I've been in it since 1980. And I understand the economics of the situation. I am not a regulator per se; I am one who believes that to the extent we can, we ought to let market forces operate. And the things we ought to be concerned about [are] indecency issues, making sure people have access, and making sure various voices are heard, regardless of what one thinks about them individually.

My weaknesses: I work my staff too hard, and I probably expect people who come before me to be a lot smarter than they are, to make cases that are concise and to the point, and to be less combative about other people. The one thing I don't allow other people to do is come in here and bad-mouth someone else. Don't do that — make your case.

Q Do you listen to much radio?

A I must tell you — and I don't say it because [Jerry Washington, aka "The Bama"] died — WPFW on Saturdays and Sundays was my radio station. I keep one radio station on all the time in my house, and that's WTOF because I want to hear the news. I'm an absolute news junkie. I listen to public radio from WAMU and then — when I get tired of the repeats on WTOF — I turn to public radio and listen to the Howard University station [WHUR].

iversity plan was dubbed the "McCord Accord" in honor of the idea's originator. "We all recognized that in order for our board to more accurately represent our industry, it needs to have more women and people of color on it."

Under the plan, future members of the board — which until now has generally been composed of group heads — could designate a company executive to take their seat on the board if that person was a woman or person of color.

Political Ad Backlash

The board also decided for now not to accept an invitation, proffered by Ketchum Advertising, to form a bipartisan group of broadcasting and publishing executives to screen political advertising.

The invitation came in the form of a full-page newspaper ad that appeared in several national newspapers last week slamming the political process for its mudslinging ways. It cited several particularly vicious ads, including one TV spot that opened with white letters on a black screen asking, "KILL THE JEWS?"

"This is filth. Political filth that is not advertising and shouldn't be dignified by being called advertising," the piece — written by noted ad executive Jerry Della Femina — declared.

It continued, "Let those of us in advertising, broadcasting, publishing, and business stand up together and say, 'Stop' We're calling on you to set up a bipartisan group, to screen all future political advertising. A group made up of broadcasting executives, publishing executives, and bona fide advertising executives."

But the idea met with a chilled reception among RAB board members. Among their objections:

- Broadcasters are prohibited from censoring or altering political advertising
- The issue is politically oriented, not sales-oriented (thus moving it out of RAB's realm)
- First Amendment concerns.

The board decided to let its executive committee deal with the issue early next year.

Same Old Issues

Fritts cautioned that the "issues aren't going to be any easier" and said broadcasters shouldn't expect to get off easy in a GOP-run Congress. He listed a number of broadcast issues that will continue to draw attention on Capitol Hill: performance royalties, beer and wine advertising, spectrum fees, and advertising tax deductions.

Republicans seeking to balance the budget will "be in a struggle to find where the money comes from," Fritts said. "I think we'll be on the list, so we'll have our work cut out for us."

Asked about NAB's relationship with the incoming Speaker of the House, Fritts said Rep. Newt Gingrich (R-GA) has a "good grasp of our issues, and he's a very quick study."

Gingrich, apparently a Talk radio devotee, popped up on Rush Limbaugh's program Thursday (11/10). Driving back to Washington from Georgia, the Speaker-to-be dialed Limbaugh from his car phone after hearing a discussion about a letter he had written to Speaker Tom Foley (D-WA) warning departing Democratic staffers not to remove or destroy any records.

Congress

new Senate Commerce Committee Chairman Larry Pressler (R-SD).

New Faces

In addition to Pressler, other GOP members who appear likely to chair committees important to broadcasters include Sen. Bob Packwood (R-OR) as chair of the Communications Subcommittee; Rep. Tom Bliley (R-VA) as chair of the House Energy and Commerce Committee; and Rep. Jack Fields (R-TX) as chair of the Telecommunications Subcommittee. Fields already appears ready to step into his expected new role. Last week, he hosted a conference in Houston that featured a number of major players in the telecommunications industry.

NAB President/CEO Eddie Fritts urged broadcasters to familiarize themselves with emerging players such as Fields, who "need to know you, your business, and your concerns before they begin to consider issues that affect your station's bottom line."

Vanessa Williams – 'The Sweetest Days' Ahead

Vanessa Williams produced most of the tunes on her third LP, "The Sweetest Days," with Gerry Brown. Sting provides backing vocals on her version of his "Sister Moon," which also features Herbie Hancock, Ron Carter, and Toots Thielemans.

Babyface produced and plays guitar on "You Can't Run" and "Betcha Never." Roy Hargrove plays trumpet on "EllaMental," a tribute to the late Ella Fitzgerald. The title track is at radio now, and the Wing/Mercury LP hits stores December 6.

Hall Of Famers

The Rock & Roll Hall of Fame will next year induct the Allman Brothers Band, Al Green, Janis Joplin, Led Zeppelin, Martha & The Vandellas, Neil Young, and Frank Zappa. The Orioles will be recognized in the "Early Influence" category at the January 12 ceremony, to be held in NYC.

Best Of 'Unplugged'

The latest "Unplugged" project is due from Warner Bros. on December 6. "The Unplugged Collection, Vol. One," features heretofore unreleased unplugged performances by Elvis Costello & The Rude 5, Don Henley, Elton John, Lenny Kravitz, K.D. Lang, Annie Lennox, John Mellencamp, R.E.M., Paul Simon, SoulAsylum, Rod Stewart, and Stevie Ray Vaughan. Other cuts come courtesy of Eric Clapton, Paul McCartney, 10,000 Maniacs, and Neil Young.

Much Of Blige

On "My Life" — her second studio album — Mary J. Blige steps out as a lyricist. The Uptown/MCA set was produced by Sean "Puffy" Combs (her original A&R man, who's since formed his own Bad Boy label), Chucky Thompson, Nasheim Myrick, Herb Middleton, Mr. Dalvin, and Poke. The '70s style on the record is heard not only in the tunes but in the interludes that bridge songs on "side one." "Be Happy" is at radio now, and the full CD arrives November 29.

Prince: Black To Reality

Prince's long-suppressed, widely bootlegged "Black Album" is about to become available to the legitimate buying public — but only for two months (November 22-January 27). Just one of the eight tracks has been released: "When 2 R In Love" was on the "LoveSexy" album; now a video will be released to support that cut.

WB is releasing the set in its original all-black packaging and shipping it to UC, Rhythmic CHR, dance, and college stations this week.

Impossibly Lowe

Nick Lowe makes his Upstart debut with "The Impossible Bird." Lowe co-produced the 13-track set with Neil Brockbank. Former Commander Cody guitarist Bill Kirchen plays on the country-influenced collection of originals and covers. The latter include Percy Sledge's "True Love Travels On A Gravel Road" and Ray Price's "I'll Be There."

Lowe renders his own "The Beast In Me," which Johnny Cash covered on his recent "American Recordings" set. "Soulful Wind" is the first radio track. The LP arrives November 29.

SCREEN SCENE

Stars Step Out For 'Pret-A-Porter' ST

For the first time ever, the Rolling Stones have contributed a new tune to a (non-concert) movie soundtrack. Robert Altman's "Pret-A-Porter" features the Stones' "Jump On Top Of Me," as well as a host of other new cuts. In this Fine Line film (set to open December 21), the director of "M*A*S*H," "Nashville," "The Player," and "Short Cuts" turns his lens on the Paris fashion world.

As usual, Altman's plots and subplots are enacted by a large ensemble cast, which this time includes Julia Roberts, Tim Robbins, Sophia Loren, Danny Aiello, Teri Garr, and MCA recording artist Lyle Lovett (see Page 12).

The Columbia soundtrack features new cuts from Janet Jackson ("70's Love Groove"), Salt-N-Pepa ("Here We Come"), Terence Trent D'Arby ("Supermodel Sandwich"), the New Power Generation ("Get Wild"), Brand New Heavies ("Close To You"), Sam Phillips (a cover of Nancy Sinatra's "These Boots Were Made For Walkin'"), Super Cat (covering Fats Domino's "My Girl Josephine"), M People ("Natural Thing"), and Deep Forest ("Martha").

New remixes of U2's "Lemon," the Cranberries' "So Pretty," and Ce Ce Peniston's "Keep Giving Me Your Love" round out the set. The current radio track is Ini Kamozé's UK hit, "Here Comes The Hotstepper." The full CD hits the streets December 6.

Phillips On A Role

In another cinematic first, Sam Phillips will make her silver screen debut playing a terrorist in "Die Hard: With A Vengeance." Director John McTiernan chose her for the role after seeing her picture on her album cover. Bruce Willis and Jeremy Irons also star in the third installment of the series, now shooting in NYC and South Carolina.

'Dumb And Dumber' ST

The Crash Test Dummies remake XTC's "The Ballad Of Peter Pumpkinhead" and Deee-Lite redo Hot Chocolate's "You Sexy Thing" for "Dumb And Dumber," the next Jim Carrey comedy. Jeff Daniels co-stars in this tale of two nitwits who travel cross-country to give a suitcase full of cash back to its rightful owner.

While the Proclaimers cover the Temptations' "Get Ready" and the first radio track is Deadeye Dick's "New Age Girl," the soundtrack also features Green Jelly, the Butthole Surfers, Echobelly, Pete Droge, the Primitives, Gigolo Aunts, the Lupins, Willi One Blood, and Bret Reilly. The New Line movie, which co-stars Lauren Holly and Teri Garr, opens December 16. The RCA LP arrives November 22.

Connick Plays 'Copycat'

Columbia act Harry Connick Jr. plays a serial killer in "Copycat," a psychological film about serial killers. Sigourney Weaver and Holly Hunter star as a psychologist and a cop, respectively, and Jon Amiel ("Sommersby," PBS-TV's "The Singing Detective") is directing. The picture is currently shooting in San Francisco and due out next fall.

DEMOS ON DEMAND

Summer '94 Ratings Rundown

Rock stations in the Top 100 continuously measured markets scored more gains than losses during the summer Arbitron. Exactly half logged increases, 44% slipped, and 6% remained flat.

The biggest gainers were WAVF/Charleston, SC (7.8-9.8), KQRS/Minneapolis (10.5-13.1), and KATT/Oklahoma City (6.0-8.9). The stations with the largest losses were WONE/Akron (7.6-5.3), KLBJ/Austin (7.5-5.5), WSFL/Greenville-Jacksonville, NC (8.3-5.4), and WIBA/Madison (11.1-8.4).

Two of last book's No. 1 rankers (12+) retained their crowns: WZZO/Allentown (13.0-11.6) and WHJY/Providence (8.8-10.6). Joining the No. 1 12+ club this book: WFBQ/Indianapolis (12.3-13.7) and KQRS/Minneapolis (10.5-13.1).

Where The Men Are

Rock stations continued to fare well, with the majority ranking first in their primary demos (see chart below). Fully 84% of stations ranked Top 3 in their respective markets in men 18-34 and men 25-34. The next strongest demo was men 18-24, with 79% of the stations ranking Top 3. Rounding out the demos, 63% of stations ranked Top 3 in adults 18-34, and 57% ranked Top 3 in men 25-54.

	No. 1	No. 2	No. 3
Men 18-24	49%	16%	12%
Adults 18-34	33%	19%	11%
Men 18-34	51%	25%	7%
Men 25-34	48%	24%	11%
Men 25-54	25%	20%	11%

Classic Rock

Classic Rock remains strong among men 25-54, with 61% of stations ranking in the Top 3. The difference between first, second, and third place was not as large as with Rock stations. First- and second-rankers tied, with third following close behind. In adults 25-54, only 28% of stations ranked Top 3.

	No. 1	No. 2	No. 3
Adults 25-54	6%	14%	8%
Men 25-54	23%	23%	15%

Nearly half (47%) of Classic Rock stations in the Top 100 continuously measured markets posted gains, 44% suffered losses, and 9% stayed flat. None of the Classic Rockers ranked first 12+. The biggest gainers were WSKZ/Chattanooga (5.5-7.7), WMFX/Columbia, SC (5.1-7.7), WQMF/Louisville (4.8-6.3), and WAFX/Norfolk (2.9-4.9).

Stations with the greatest losses were KOFX/El Paso (5.1-3.6), KJFX/Fresno (6.3-4.5), WGFY/

Nashville (6.3-4.9), WCKW/New Orleans (3.7-2.7), and KKZX/Spo-kane (10.8-9.8).

Summer Averages

Katz Radio Group VP/Research Gerry Boehme found Rock shares had decreased from an average of 9.1 in Summer '90 to 7.2 in Summer '94. One reason for the decline is the increased competition — not only from Rock stations — but also from Classic Rock, Alternative, Z-Rock, and '70s Hits. Here's the breakdown:

Rock Market Format Shares
Summer '90	9.1
Summer '91	8.7

Kudos

Congratulations to all successful Rock and Classic Rock stations. Next week, three heritage Rock programmers will discuss how their stations have evolved.

RIDING BOOTS — KLBJ/Austin morning personality Debra Cole and Charlie Sexton were auctioning off a pair of Jimmie Vaughan-autographed ladies boots when Cole noticed Sexton looked uncomfortable holding them (kind of like when a guy is asked to hold his wife's purse). So she offered to wear the boots and ride Charlie on stage. He took her up on it. (Hold your groans, please.)

Stations Reach New Ratings Plateau

■ Significant increases recorded in Summer '94 books

Alternative ratings have been on the rise for almost two years, but the Summer '94 Arbitron will be remembered as the book in which many stations became significant players in their markets. Overall, nearly 41% of Alternative stations have at least a four share 12+.

Although the format saw some huge increases — 62% of the stations surveyed improved their Spring '94 12+ shares — the format's median 12+ figure remained flat at 3.2. Since last summer, total shares have increased 86.4-131.6 while the 12+ average ascended 2.9-3.2.

Demo Summary

In persons 18-34, 19 stations (46%) are among the Top 5 in their market. However, even more remarkable is that nearly 30% are No. 1 or runner-up — twice as many as in the spring book (see "18-34 Dominators").

mented, "We're stoked. This is the first time in eight years that we were able to topple longtime leader [CHR] KMEL in our target demo. It's a fantastic achievement to be No. 1 out of more than 60 stations in the Bay Area."

The overall results are even better for 18-24s — 24 stations (59%) are among the Top 5, with nearly 40% No. 1 or No. 2. WMAD/Madison, KWOD/Sacramento, KXRK/Salt Lake City, XTRA-FM (91X)/San Diego, KOME/San Jose, and KNDD/Seattle finished on top.

On the upper end of the 18-34 spectrum, 17 stations (41%) finished Top 5 in persons 25-34, while six (15%) ranked second in the demo.

Another interesting phenomenon is that several stations also are attracting upper demos. The following stations rank among the Top 10 in their markets 25-54: WKQX/Chicago, KEGE/Minneapolis, XHRM/San Diego, WHFS/Washington, 91X, KXPK, WRZX, KOME, and WMAD. We'll examine how stations are scoring Top 10 across the board in the weeks ahead.

- LP: "The Murmurs"
- Label: MCA

• Essentials: Following an independent release — the Murmurs — fronted by 22-year-olds Heather Grody and Leisha Hailey — are the latest band to emerge from New York's East Village. The pair met while attending the American Academy of Dramatic Arts.

In an effort to capture the spirit of their live performance, co-producers Roger Greenawalt, Billy Basinski, and Larry Klein focused on the duo's guitars and vocals, while local musicians added drums, piano, cello, mandolin, and saxophone. The group's influences are Jefferson Airplane, early David Bowie, and Joni Mitchell.

• Artist POV: Hailey says, "We didn't plan to have a band; it was just a hobby we did after school. We've never played with a band because it feels raw and organic with just the two of us — our energy really connects. We both write songs separately. I wrote 'You Suck' — in the heat of the moment — about this close friend we had a business relationship with and who ripped us off emotionally and financially."

• Label POV: MCA National Director/Alternative Promotion Gary Spivack notes, "'You Suck' has quickly turned into one of the format's phone-reaction records of the year. It's acoustic punk all the way — lifestyle, attitude, and song."

Byrd Takes Talk Format Under His Wing

■ WLIB/New York host holds community together with 'Global Black Experience'

Ten-year WLIB/New York talk show host Gary Byrd — whose 30-year career has included airwork on Black and CHR stations — discusses the emergence of black Talk radio.

Byrd's radio pursuits began in 1964 at age 14, doing parttime airwork at WUFO/Buffalo. "WUFO was the home and training ground of a number of black jocks who later made [it through the] 'black hole' from Buffalo to WWRL/New York," says Byrd. "There were Eddie O'Jay, Frankie Crocker, Jerry Bledsoe, Don Early Allen, Jay DuBard, Darcell Holliday, Sonny Jim Kelsey, and myself. We all made the same journey."

Making The Transition

Byrd explains his transition from music personality to talk show host. "After doing 'The Gary Byrd Experience' from 1969 to 1984, I made the switch. The show now is called 'The Global Black Experience.' Black Talk radio probably is the cutting-edge format in relation to the future of communications and its role in the black community.

"The program operates as the drum of the black community in the ancient African tradition. It's repre-representative of what Talk radio can do — the glue that holds together our people, organizations, issues, and values. I use a phrase in the broadcast: 'In the information age, what you don't know can kill you.'

"I operate on the premise that in an information-dominated, high-tech society — where reality shifts are occurring at a very high speed — it becomes the responsibility of black Talk radio to identify the critical issues and opportunities for the black community as well as be proactive in building on the best our history, culture, and tradition have to offer."

'A System Of Survival'

Byrd continues, "Because I've done this type of broadcasting now for a decade — and because of my music background with the 'Gary Byrd Experience' — I don't do a typical radio talk show. I've created a show which combines a magazine-format with interactive talk and the golden age of radio, when we had theater of the mind. A number of times we actually feature theatrical segments and some 'new age' programming.

"For example, we're currently doing a series called 'The Health Holocaust In Progress — A System Of Survival,' which talks about the various types of micro-organisms that create life-threatening scenarios in different areas of the country. Most people are focused, for instance, on AIDS. But recently there was a dangerous micro-organism in New York's drinking water. Although this wasn't a [breaking] news story — it had been around for a while — it's the type of story you must make the public aware of.

"Ultimately, we're trying to show people how to develop a system of survival to actually deal with these challenges. We cover events, politics, culture, education, entertainment, religion, and sports from a global perspective and from a per-

Black Consumers Seek Fairness In Advertising

To appeal to ad-wary African-Americans, advertisers and marketers should aim to combine several factors in their approach: Show advertising that reflects the real lives and experiences of black Americans, both positive and negative; show respect for black shoppers both in ads and in retail environments; and offer products that are perceived as "the best" product on the market. According to a 1992 survey by Yankelovich Partners & Market Development, African-Americans feel slighted by advertisers, with 58% saying they feel ads are designed only for whites.

The effort can pay off because black consumers enjoy shopping. The survey shows that African-American shoppers are almost twice as likely than others to say they enjoy shopping for clothes, while far more non-African-Americans say shopping is enjoyable but frustrating and time-consuming.

In choosing where to shop, loyalty to black-owned stores counts for less (26%) than stores that treat black customers the same as other customers (61%). Less than half (43%) prefer stores that have black salespeople, and 31% look for stores where other African-Americans shop.

spective most people might call 'Afro-Centric.'

"In terms of stretching the envelope, my broadcast has become the networking center for a whole range of black progressive people from the U.S., Africa, and Europe. England's black population numbers more than one million, and they're aware of what I do. They network through to the U.S. with projects that are, of course, run through my show in order to reach the black community here. So our show really is 'The Global Black Experience.'"

Multiculturally Speaking

Would Byrd ever consider an offer from a general-market Talk station? "It becomes a matter of the right project with the right people. We aren't in a market where general market Talk radio is especially appealing. WABC has basically taken a pretty biased position toward people of color and progressive issues. WOR, for example, is skewed toward an older audience. Outside of that, we don't really have the KABC/Los Angeles dynamic working in this market. I'm open to other possibilities, but I'm more interested in building what I've created into an institution, possibly through syndication and other expansion projects that capitalize on ownership opportunities.

"As we approach the 21st century, we're seeing a predominately black, Latino, and Asian population — especially in the metro urban areas. So it's inevitable that more and more personalities at stations in these areas are going to appeal to that transitional demography. The situation will dictate that these major stations have broadcasters who can relate to and be able to converse with the people of a multicultural society. It's important to note that not only will this audience and the landscape look different, but these people might also have a different kind of value system than what the traditional Talk stations have addressed."

WJZW: Another Auspicious Debut

■ 'Conservative' Viacom converts WCXR/Washington as its first in the format

Viacom is the latest major broadcast group to come to the NAC party, converting Classic Rock WCXR/Washington to NAC WJZW. Viacom President/Radio Division Bill Figenshu and WJZW PD Steve Kosbau discuss the decision.

Bill Figenshu

Before the interview began, Figenshu humorously revealed the extent of the pressure that goes hand in hand with the presidency of a major radio group when he quipped, "Only 400 more books before my kids are in college and I can quit."

Figenshu acknowledges Viacom is somewhat conservative — which makes its commitment to the format even more meaningful — but says entry into the NAC arena was the result of careful deliberation. "When we bought the station, it wasn't our intention to turn it NAC. But as we do with all the stations we buy, we watched the market and did our research — all the things you're supposed to do. Even though Washington is a duopoly situation for us and we'd already been in the market, we never had looked at it except from a Country perspective."

Rethink Assumptions

Figenshu continues, "We felt rather than make assumptions about the market based on our current thinking, we should approach the station by imagining it was new to us and in a new market. We believed there was a disenfranchised NAC audience [left by the demise of WJZE (Jazzy 100) in late '92], but we didn't know how large it was. We also assumed that the present owners of Jazzy probably had made the right decision; would they drop NAC without good reason? In other words, our approach was to research the market not from the perspective of championing the cause of NAC, but to verify the accuracy of their decision.

"We did studies and, despite our hunch, found there was a sizeable audience that would support a smooth jazz/NAC station. Under a duopoly, we could live with that size audience because, with two separate products, we weren't betting the family farm — our success didn't rest entirely with one facility.

"Looking at the success of NAC in other markets had some influence on us, but it's a mistake to make sweeping generalizations based on success elsewhere. I prefer to take an individual market-by-market approach as each market has its own particular nuance. You'll notice that Viacom has diversified its format base considerably in recent years based on local market conditions, not on trends.

"However, the qualitative aspects of NAC are very appealing to us. Another factor that weighed in our decision was that the market's previous NAC station broke the ground for us with respect to its acceptance by both the audience and the advertisers."

PD's Dream Team

With a programming background in Classic Rock, Rock, and CHR, Kosbau's enthusiasm and expectations for NAC are high. "It's a tremendous thrill to be part of the decision to reintroduce NAC to Washington. Considering Viacom's tremendous resources, plus the talents of Bill Figenshu, GM Charlie Oaks, OM Gary McCartie, and assistance from Broadcast Architecture, we believe this format is a perfect match for Washington — and one with which we will succeed. We've taken great care to learn about the market, and our approach will reflect the audience accurately. The market is very affluent, well-educated, and diverse — much like other major markets where NAC has done very well."

Most PDs in the format have come from another radio genre, but Kosbau is unfazed by his move from Classic Rock to NAC. "The transition hasn't been difficult for me. Anyone who knows radio knows that all the proven principles of good radio — marketing, promotions, working with air talent — transcend format boundaries. The only part I wasn't completely familiar with was the music, although I've always enjoyed listening. The staff of Broadcast Architecture has been extremely helpful in that regard.

"I'm extremely pleased with the WJZW airstaff; they've all worked very hard and, by all accounts, fit right in. We had one opening at the time of the format change, but our morning, midday, afternoon, and overnight talent stayed with us [from the WCXR staff]. We filled evenings with former WJZE morning talent Felicia Ledesma."

Mass-Appeal Approach

According to Kosbau, "We really want our musical approach to be mass appeal. We're building the sta-

"The community embraced the station instantaneously. In terms of our marketing efforts, thus far we've relied primarily on word of mouth. Since we kicked off the format, we've received literally tens of thousands of phone calls, several thousand faxes, and countless letters, so we know the word is getting around. We've also got bus sides up that just say what and where we are. A full-paint bus advertising us just hit the streets, too. Although it's premature for me to reveal our upcoming marketing plans, it's safe to say you'll soon see Viacom is extremely committed to the station's success."

CRS 26: Taking It To The Next Level

Although the start of the holiday season is just a few days away, most of us haven't even begun to think about Christmas — let alone next year's Country Radio Seminar.

But it's not too early to plan for CRS 26, especially since the early-bird registration deadline's just a few days after the holidays (see "Important CRS Dates"). Things can get lost in the shuffle, but you can save your company some money by being ready for the registration packet that should arrive on your desk in the next couple of weeks.

For those of you who haven't decided whether to attend this year's confab, here's a preliminary menu to whet your appetite. For you CRS regulars, there are some major changes next year which may affect you dramatically if you don't plan ahead.

The theme of CRS 26, to be held March 1-4 at Nashville's Opryland Hotel, is "Taking It To The Next Level." As always, the four-day event is chock full of educational panels. Setting the tone for this year's seminar, Country Radio Broadcasters President Ed Salamon notes, "Because of the increasing competitive environments of both radio and records, it's important for the seminar to offer common ground and foster cooperation. The curriculum and networking that are such a big part of the CRS offer unique opportunities for forming strategic alliances that can be beneficial both personally and professionally."

One more note: You must make your own hotel reservations again. The CRB has obtained blocks of rooms at discounted prices at four area hotels, including Opryland. The "Hotel Reservation Request" is included in the registration package, which also includes information on airline and rental car discounts.

Here's a day-by-day breakdown of the events scheduled for CRS 26:

Wednesday, March 1

The ever-popular video and radio artist taping sessions will occupy the entire day. Those planning on taking part should arrive in town the day before. The video session, sponsored by CMT, is set for 9am-1pm; the radio session, sponsored by TNN, is 1-5pm.

Here's where one of the CRS's biggest changes comes in. In the past, anyone who showed up with radio credentials, tape, and a recorder was allowed in. Now participants will be required to obtain an ARTS pass issued by the CRB office. The application form will be in the registration packet; don't overlook it. Obtaining this pass in advance is crucial — no pass, no artist liners. The application form also includes information on what you need to bring and what's supplied, and guidelines on what the artists can record.

The traditional Wednesday night "when-did-ya-get-in" gathering, sponsored by Gaylord Entertainment, is now called the "Attendee Welcome Reception" — with the word "artist" mysteriously deleted from the name. (Hopefully, they'll all know they're still welcome and will come anyhow.) Here's another important change: The site of the party has been changed from the Opryland Hotel to the Wildhorse Saloon in downtown Nashville. Transportation from the hotel to and from downtown will be provided from 5:30pm-midnight.

The reception runs from 8-10pm, with "Dinner In The District" (op-ditional) planned from 5:30-8pm. Downtown merchants and restaurants will offer special discounts to CRS registrants.

Additionally, some record labels are in the early stages of planning parties at downtown clubs. You can bet there's going to be plenty going on Wednesday night, both before and after the official reception. Hospitality suites also will be open from 10pm-midnight at the Opryland Hotel.

Thursday, March 2

Thursday morning's opening ceremonies will be highlighted by the "Super Faces Show," which had been held Thursday night since its inception a few years ago. The shift comes as the crunch for time increases. The large-room showcases have proven to be very popular, but the 9:30pm-midnight (Thursday) and 7pm-midnight (Friday) time slots kept people out of the suites, much to the chagrin of exhibitors and others. (More on that in a minute.)

Following the morning's entertainment is "The Power To Win," a longform presentation by well-known manager, producer, and author Ken Kragen.

Next up is a choice between two 80-minute panels: "Protecting The Franchise — Focusing On The Future" and "Record Industry And Radio — Meet In The Middle." Both of those panels will then break into "rap rooms," allowing the discussion to continue from 4-5:30pm. The topic of a third rap room is "Talking Country."

Also taking place from 4-5:30pm are "The Ratings Game: It's A

Important CRS Dates

Here are some dates to remember if you're planning to attend the 1995 Country Radio Seminar or want to submit entries for various awards. Registration packets should be arriving in the next couple of weeks — watch for them!

- January 6: Early-bird registration applications due at the CRB office. Full registration, which includes one ticket for all meals and seminar events, costs $320 when received by this date. Entries for Promotions Awards also due; guidelines and an entry form are in the registration packet.
- January 14: Applications for the Humanitarian Award due. Details on entering are included in the registration packet.
- February 1: Last date to reserve space for inserts in registration bags.
- February 3: Second deadline for early registration. Registrations received between January 7 and February 3 cost $350; the seminar will cost $425 if you register after this date.
- February 7: To receive the special rates at one of four area hotels, you must register for the CRS and make your room reservation request by this date.
- February 20: If you want your station included on the annual CRS aircheck cassette, your TV spots on the in-room TV channel, or your promotion paraphernalia on display, all materials must be in the CRB's hands by this date.
- February 25: Applications to attend the Artist Radio Taping Session are due and Video Artist Taping Session participation forms finalized. This is a major change for '95. Everyone wishing to attend must apply for admission in advance. The application and session rules are in the registration packet.
- March 1-4: CRS 26!

Changing Game" and "Against The Ropes — Ratings Vs. Revenues."

That brings us back to the showcases, which run from 6-10pm both Thursday and Friday nights. Seven half-hour performances are scheduled for each night, up from 12 last year. Dinner will be served both nights as well. Hospitality suites will be open from 10pm-midnight.

Friday, March 3

The Country Music Association kicks off Friday's activities with "Fire Up Your Playlist III," a presentation of upcoming releases.

Your choices for the next seven hours include panels on improving voice techniques, a sales workshop, a couple of different marketing sessions, some rap rooms, and a longform presentation by Barry Skidelsky — the self-described "Attorney Outlaw."

Showcases again run from 6-10pm, with hospitality suites open from 10pm-midnight.

Saturday, March 4

Saturday begins with panels starting at 9am. Six morning sessions cover a myriad of topics, including "Identity-Based Marketing," "Performance Royalties, Music Rights, And Spectrum Fees," and a discussion on maximizing through communication the relationship among radio, artists, record companies, management, and promoters.

After lunch, sponsored by the Canadian Country Music Association, attendees will have their choice of sales and promotion panels in addition to more rap rooms.

Indeed, the rap rooms run consistently throughout much of the seminar. Designed to offer a "better environment for one-on-one time to address and debate issues raised in the large sessions," topics include "New Technologies," "Country Cares For St. Jude's Kids," "Better Commercials," and "GMs Up From The Programming Ranks."

Once again, the week's seminar portion winds up with "WCRS Live!" hosted this year by the imitable Charlie Monk. And concluding the CRS is the unparalleled "New Faces Show & Banquet." Sponsored by BMI and hosted by WB/Nashville artist/comedian Jeff Foxworthy, the show will feature 10 or so of Country's top new acts.

Finally, there's one more interesting new wrinkle. For the first time ever, the organization will be handing out its "CRB Record Awards," as voted on by radio people. A nominating ballot containing 11 categories — including those for promoters, producers, publicists, artists, and songwriters — will be part of the registration package. The final nominees will be announced at CRS 26, and there will be "voting booths" on site for the final balloting. Winners will be announced at a special banquet in June, which replaces the CRB's "Casino Night" fundraiser.

Be There!

That's the early rundown of what's in store for CRS 26. Panelists and performers still are in the process of being confirmed; we'll keep you updated. If you need more information or don't get a registration package by mid-December, call the CRB office at (615) 327-4487.

Whatever you do, plan to attend CRS 26. It really is the most educational of all broadcast industry gatherings — and certainly an event no one in Country should miss. Hope to see you in March!

All-Star Elvis Tribute CD On Deck

"It's Now Or Never - The Tribute To Elvis," a multi-artist compilation set for release December 6, features live performances from the recent tribute concert at Memphis's Pyramid Arena.

Billy Ray Cyrus, Faith Hill, the Mavericks, Marty Stuart, Travis Tritt, Tanya Tucker, and Dwight Yoakam are among the artists crooning the King's tunes on the Mercury/Nashville album. Portions of the proceeds will benefit St. Jude's Children's Hospital and the T.J. Martell Foundation.

"Any self-respecting son of the South has to love Elvis," says Stuart, whose "Don't Be Cruel (To A Heart That's True)" will be the collection's first single. The cut — which features background vocals by the Jordanaires, who sang with Presley on the original track — ships to radio the first week of December. Portions of the concert also will air December 15 on a two-hour ABC-TV special.

Tootsie's On TV

Speaking of tributes, Willie Nelson is planning a television special honoring one of Nashville's most famous honky-tonks. "Tootsie's Orchid Lounge: Where The Music Began," hosted by Nelson and Jimmy Dean, will focus on the music written in the club. Songwriters set to reunite for the project include Joe Allison, Tom T. Hall, Harlan Howard, Kris Kristofferson, and Curly Putman.

To emphasize the influence of such classic songs as Nelson's "Crazy," Howard's "I Fall To Pieces," and Kristofferson's "For The Good Times," several of today's top artists — to be selected by the writers themselves — are slated to perform them for the syndicated special. Although no one has been confirmed, some of the names being mentioned are John Anderson, Mary Chapin Carpenter, Vince Gill, Alan Jackson, Reba McEntire, John Michael Montgomery, Sawyer Brown, Travis Tritt, and Steve Wariner.

According to Kathi Atwood of Special Promotions, which is producing "Tootsie's," the only difficulty is matching up the artists' schedules with the taping schedule. The hourlong show will be shot next month at Tootsie's Orchid Lounge and the Ryman Auditorium and is scheduled to air in June. Atwood says she hopes the special will inspire a tribute album as well.

Reel Country News

- The Amy Grant/Vince Gill duet "House Of Love" will be featured in the forthcoming film "Speechless," starring Michael Keaton and Geena Davis. Grant's latest home video, "Building The House Of Love," hit stores last week; the 84-minute documentary, directed by Jim Shea, focuses on the making of her "House Of Love" album.

- Randy Travis co-stars deep in the heart of "Texas," a home video released last week. If you missed the movie, based on the James A. Michener novel, you're not alone — "Texas" never made it to the big screen. But unlike most direct-to-video releases, this one cost $12 million to make. The film, which chronicles the westward migration and the state's formation, also stars Patrick Duffy, Maria Conchita Alonso, Stacy Keach, and Rick Schroeder.

Meanwhile, Legacy (a division of Sony Music) has released "Texas":

CRUSIN' TO GOLD — Arista/Nashville recently celebrated the gold certification of Blackhawk's self-titled debut with a cruise on the Belle Carol Riverboat. Flying high above Music City's mighty Cumberland River are (l-r) band members Henry Paul, Van Stephenson, and Dave Robbins.

the CD. Touted as "a musical collection inspired by the film," the album features 20 tunes by such country legends as Gene Autry, Johnny Cash, Marty Robbins, and Bob Wills & His Texas Playboys.

Morgan Madness

Lorrie Morgan is planning an early Thanksgiving dinner this year; she's leaving that night for an 18-city holiday tour. The singer will perform tunes from her 1993 "Merry Christmas From London" album with various symphonies during the performances, which also will include slide shows. Morgan will return home to Nashville right before Christmas. Meanwhile, she'll be in the studio recording three new songs for a greatest hits album; one tune, "Candy Kisses," was a hit for her father, the late George Morgan.

'Classic' Sampler

SOR this week released "Classic Country Christmas," a promotional sampler featuring 12 songs from various artists and holiday projects. The album, compiled exclusively for Country radio as part of the label's 10-year anniversary, includes songs by Clinton Gregory, Ray Price, the Geezinslaws, and Faron Young. Incidentally, SOR's first United Kingdom release, Willie Nelson & Curtis Potter's "Six Hours At Pedernales," recently debuted at No. 10 on the Music Week UK country album chart.

Strait-Aced Album

George Strait's road group, the Ace In The Hole Band, has released an album of its own on Texas World Records. "Ace In The Hole" contains 10 songs; one tune, "What Comes Natural To A Fool," features guest vocals by Mel Tillis. The band still plays for Strait, whose latest album ("Lead On") was released last week.

KRBE Weathers Storm, Comes Out On Top

■ PD Poleman stages 4.4-5.7 ratings vault; station takes second place in summer book

Susquehanna CHR KRBE/Houston vaulted 4.4-5.7 in the Summer '94 Arbitron. PD Tom Poleman shares how he convinced staff and management to go with 'RBE's new musical direction and prepare for an upward — albeit bumpy — ride.

Following former PD Steve Wyrostok's departure last year to join consultant Guy Zapoleon, Poleman knew he had to maintain or outperform Wyrostok's 5.2 Summer '93 book.

Tom Poleman

After KRBE altered its musical focus from pure Pop/Alternative CHR to a more hit-oriented Alternative direction, it weathered some off books (5.2-4.9-4.2) with a slight 4.2-4.4 spring increase. However, the shaky start gradually gave way to an impressive stronghold, evidenced by the summer numbers (largest 12+ share in years) for second place in the market, and No. 1 in 12-24 and 18-34 adults and women.

Bracing For Change

"Under Steve, KRBE was an Alternative-leaning Top 40 and I still consider us that," says Poleman. "Top 40 has evolved into that kind of music, and Alternative has moved toward Top 40. I really hate format names; no other station sounds like KRBE. It's focused on this market, so it's more of a lifestyle, mood, or atmosphere than a format. And it's more than just the music — it's the jocks, sweepers, and promotions working together to create a stationality.

"We've become more hit-oriented with our Alternative lean, which evolved from three independent research studies. We took all of the common threads and weaved them to discover the lay of the land to better serve the core and bring in some extra cumers. Before, KRBE relied heavily on dance Alternative, and our fear was that if that genre dried up we'd be left with nothing. Until the last few days with the 'Rocket' [Shamrock Alternative KRQT, formerly CR KZFX] signing on, we didn't have anyone duplicating our music. We knew we'd eventually have competition from that front, so we were prepared."

Poleman has learned important lessons from his experience with a Top 40 approach. "While niching is important, you can niche yourself out of an audience as a Top 40. I get concerned about being too hip for the room. The idea is to be hip for the core without scaring away everyone else. Alternative music will play a big role in the immediate future of

- A unique morning show with Sam Malone, Maria Todd, and Psycho Robbie

- Fun jocks who are knowledgeable about music

- An interactive entertainment source

- Information about what's happening in 18-34 pop culture

- Community-oriented features/environmental messages.

"Two people who really contribute to the brain trust and support our future game plan are [VP/GM] Nancy Vaeth, who empowers us to make a lot of our own decisions and work out our own problems, and Paul 'Cubby' Bryant — probably the best MD in the country. He's 23 years old, has really strong instincts, and his expertise at certain sounds complement my expertise in other areas.

"The jocks still don't talk over records, but aren't quite as stifled,"

TICKET HYPE — KRBE's visual on every TicketMaster envelope is a miniature of the station's billboards across the metro.

Top 40, but don't overdose on one sound. I've fallen into the trap before. Top 40 is about diversity. When we decided to broaden, we were prepared for some down books — the winter book is traditionally down — but knew that when things gelled the [audience] potential would be higher."

Benefit-Driven Positioning

Among the other alterations was a positioning change from "Hits Without The Hype" to "Wire Into Today's Music." Poleman recalls, "Wyrostok made the 'Hits Without' move when we desperately needed to separate ourselves in sound from [former CHR, now Country] KKBQ. I thought it was brilliant. It focused on what KRBE didn't give the audience — no screaming jocks, no talking over intros, no jingles." Without a similar CHR competitor, KRBE's positioning is now benefit-driven, focusing on what KRBE provides, including:

says Poleman. "We have a lot of energy and it's a fun on-air presence with production elements by Keith Eubanks from sister WNNX [99X/Atlanta]. Three in-house people — Ryan Chase, Andy West, and Donnie Marlon — voice, write, and produce our promos and sweepers. Having this kind of team with a digital work station is one of the secrets to unleashing the creativity in our minds."

Strong Marketing Presence

With increased competition, Poleman feels a strong marketing presence is essential. For that, he relies on seven-year KRBE vet and Director/Promotion Mark Shecterle, who arranged for KRBE's logo to be on the back of all TicketMaster envelopes and more than 3.5 million tickets. Says Shecterle: "We're also locked into every major run [marathon] or athletic event. For every major holiday we come up with a big event like the 'Uptown Holiday Lighting Ceremony', where 150,000 people gather to watch the lighting

CLOSING THOUGHTS

14 Years In The Blink Of An Eye

How do I sum up my 14 years as R&R's CHR Editor. It's not easy. In my mind, it was only yesterday when I started. Then I blinked, and it was suddenly 1994. But here goes.

First things first: I want to thank you, our readers in the radio and record communities. Without your daily input, support, and friendship this would have been just a j-o-b. Instead, it's been my passion.

Many industry changes — too numerous to list — have occurred since I first sat down in this chair. And radio will continue to change. But how it evolves is in large measure up to you. Are you passionate about your station? Does that passion flow from the GM's office to sales and programming, to the air personalities, then finally on-air to your listeners? If not, then something's drastically wrong.

Case in point: the CHR/Top 40 format. It's everyone's darling one minute for the great 12+ numbers it generates. The next minute, however, it's everyone's stepchild for the lack of 25-54 numbers it attracts. Reread this week's article about KRBE/Houston and last week's about KGG/Riverside-San Bernardino. They're different in sound, approach, music, and texture, but they share several important elements — 18-34 targets and a strong passion for their audiences, local music, and the on-air product. Both stations are winners and profitable because they concentrate on listener expectations.

Ride The Trends

Given the fierce competition for ratings and listeners, when will this format finally realize the on-air product comes first? It's harder to assemble a winning sound than it is to find someone who is passionate about selling a successful, youth-driven format. The idea is to use your creativity to make your station stand out. There are no easy fixes. Don't jump on the latest musical fad — ride the trends instead. Winning radio is possible if you make what comes out of the box touch your listeners' lives.

Before I close, I want to also extend heartfelt appreciation to R&R Founder & Publisher Bob Wilson for my shot at this; to Exec. VP/GM Dick Krizman, who kept me from falling into the abyss on many occasions; to COO Erica Farber for her support and wisdom; to VP/Sales Michael Atkinson for his ongoing passion for the product; to Sr. VP Charley Lake for his unfailing friendship; and to my assistant Paul Colbert for his tireless efforts.

And I can't forget the support and guidance of former Sr. VP/Editor Ken Barnes, VP/Exec. Editor Gail Mitchell, Sr. Editor Don Waller, Managing Editor Ron Rodrigues, Art Director Rich Agata and his staff, plus all of my fellow R&R editors and staffers — both past and present. And thanks to my wife, Ria, for putting up with the long hours. Best wishes also to my successor, Tony Novia. Please make him feel at home.

Once again, thanks for your support and friendship. Peace and happiness to all.

— Joel Denver

of the 50+ trees and all the major buildings.

"At our 'Labor Day Block Party' we presented 10 bands for $.0 — including Lisa Loeb, Sister Sledge, Anything Box, Cause & Effect, Collage, Channel 69, Hunger, Red Red Groovy, Liberty City, Deee-Lite. But '104 Card Holders' [over 57,000 in circulation] got in for $5." An estimated 12,000 people showed up to enjoy the music and play games such as Sumo wrestling, boxer jocks, gyrosphere, water wars, velcro wall, and the rain room.

Additionally, KRBE is back into contesting "as long as it's something of value that you can't buy," qualifies Poleman. "A good example was having Lisa Loeb perform in a listener's living room [and letting the winner] invite people over. Sam Malone did his whole morning show from the winner's living room, and cut two of [Loeb's] CD is the 'living room mix' crediting KRBE."

No Rocket Counterattack

As for the Rocket, Poleman assesses, "It's going to be hard to tell until they've been on the air a few weeks. We're not responding to their programming or on-air bashing because we have the No.1 cume. We also have a great product and there's no reason to give them any listeners. All we're doing is staying focused and playing music that's well-researched and in proper rotations.

"Add all of this to an incredible team of people who are as concerned with how we come off when we answer the phone as to how we sound on the radio. That's why KRBE will stay a winner."

SHE STAYED — Lisa Loeb stops by KRBE for a visit with (l-r) APD Scott Sparks, PD Tom Poleman, and MD Paul "Cubby" Bryant in front.

What Makes KRBE Win

KRBE PD Tom Poleman lists the basics behind his station's success:

- On-target music for 18-34s
- Entertaining mornings
- Effective marketing campaigns
- Management/sales passionate about on-air product.

HOT AC OVERVIEW

WPLJ: Bursting With Personality

By logging No. 1 18-34 and No. 2 25-54 stats in this summer's Arbitron, Hot AC/Adult CHR WPLJ/New York again proved it's unquestionably one of the country's most successful stations.

Masterfully programmed by PD and "Scott & Todd" morning show co-host Scott Shannon, the Cap Cities/ABC powerhouse boasts two daily shows with a morning drive flair. For the past 21 months, one-time 'PLJ morning driver Rocky Allen has been presiding over 4-8pm festivities.

Tom Cuddy Scott Shannon

Unbeatable Team

"Most stations these days have to watch dollar signs," notes WPLJ VP/Programming Tom Cuddy. "It's hard enough finding good morning talent — being lucky enough to also have a good [afternoon personality] is easier said than done. Most stations feel they can [compete in afternoon drive] by just being a juke-box."

Previous morning drive experience for this "morning show in the afternoon" concept should prove to be a plus. "It helps if you can find someone who can take what he's learned in the morning and 'bring it back' a little in the afternoon," Cuddy comments. "We don't do news in the afternoon like we do in the morning. However, if a story we talk about in the morning has been updated, we'll address it in Rocky's show."

While both drivetime shows are entertaining, the 'PLJ morning and afternoon dayparts have a separate sound. "They complement each other very well, but what Scott & Todd [Pettengill] do is 180 degrees from Rocky's show," Cuddy says. "It works out very well for all of us."

Cultivate Several Components

Shannon adds, "Our shows have two completely different styles — we're not matching bookends. At first, we wondered if this would be too confusing for the audience. But, there hasn't been a problem and our listeners aren't pitting one show against the other."

He also stresses that stations should cultivate several multilayered components. "There are ways of developing personality in your music. We also try to maximize the layer involving individual station personalities. Stationality — which isn't connected with music or personality — is yet another layer. The sum total is a mixture of these layers."

Reflecting back to his '80s WHTZ ("Z100")/New York programming days, Shannon recalls, "We were a wonderful-sounding 12-34 station and I loved it. But on my way home in the afternoon, I sampled Howard Stern when he started on WNBC. He didn't play much music, the show was personality-oriented, and he was very interesting.

"I wondered why I was spending more time listening to Howard [than to Z100] and realized that I liked to hear a little talk and personality in the afternoon. At Z100, we weren't quite ready to evolve to that point. We had personality, but not to the extent [WNBC] did."

I knew that if I ever programmed a full-service adult station, I'd certainly want to be involved with a personality-oriented afternoon show. It's come to pass.
-Scott Shannon

Hitting Right Balance

Making a mental note of that situation, Shannon explains, "I knew that if I ever programmed a full-service adult station, I'd certainly want to be involved with a [personality-oriented afternoon show]. It's come to pass." Allen rarely is guilty of doing excessively long bits and as Shannon points out, "It's too long when it isn't compelling. No personality hits everything 100% of the time. We try to shoot for the highest possible percentage."

WPLJ supported Allen's show with a healthy research allocation. "For the first year, we constantly monitored audience response," Shannon explains. "We did focus groups and callout to guarantee we had the right mix."

A typical 'PLJ afternoon hour includes six to eight songs. "When we first started, the count was higher," he says. "We were very careful and relied on our research because we didn't want to go too far."

Notes Cuddy, "We wanted to spoon-feed the audience and didn't want to scare them away. After a month or two, we'd take out a song or two an hour. You can always give the audience 'more.' But, by going too fast, you might hurt yourself."

Having well-targeted music and a strong personality-driven afternoon show is an unbeatable team. If the only thing you have going for you is music, you become very vulnerable.

- Tom Cuddy

Cuddy wanted to find an element that would give the station a distinct difference. "It's what you put between the records that's important. Having well-targeted music and a strong personality-driven afternoon show is an unbeatable team. You have to pay extra for it, but in the long run, you'll sit up on a very big mountain. If the only thing you have going for you is music, you become very vulnerable."

Hot Highlights

- WPLJ/New York and WRQX/Washington are the only Hot ACs in the Number 1 club. WPLJ is dominant among 18-34s; WRQX topped its market in the 25-54 race.
- In 59.2% of the cases, Hot ACs score better among 18-34s, 23.8% do better among 25-54s, and 16.6% rank the same in both demos.
- Hot ACs generally placed sixth (6.1) among 18-34s and seventh (7.2) 25-54.
- Hot AC's typical 18-34 share improved 6.5-6.7, while the average 25-54 share inched 5.6-5.7.
- Last summer WIOG/Saginaw, MI and KSTZ/Des Moines, IA were the only Hot ACs registering double digits among 18-34s. This year, KSTZ earns demo honors and is joined in double digits by WIOG; WSSX/Charleston, SC; and WKT/Milwaukee.
- WIOG repeats as 25-54 champ. Others posting 25-54 double-digit shares are KSTZ and KKOB-FM/Albuquerque.
- Half the Hot ACs listed are down (18-34) from last summer, 47.6% improve, and one station is flat. KSTZ is the clear-cut winner, while WMC-FM/Memphis experiences the largest decline.
- Ironically, among 25-54s, 50% improve, 47.6% drop, and one station remains even. KVUU/Colorado Springs, CO enjoys the largest gain; WMC-FM again suffers the most significant erosion.

RANDALL BLOOMQUIST

PD ROUNDTABLE

The Caller Pool: Should It Be Deeper?

Conventional wisdom says only 1%-3% of a talk show's audience ever picks up the telephone and joins the on-air discussion. Is that a problem? Would stations benefit from having more callers on the airwaves? What are programmers doing to convert longtime listeners into first-time callers?

Here's what several PDs had to say on the topic of deepening the caller pool.

PD TOM LANGMYER, KMOX/ST. LOUIS

Tom Langmyer

Our research shows that participation is higher on KMOX than on most Talk stations. Upwards of 10% of our listeners call us. We try to get specific types of people to call us. For example, if we are talking about health care reform's impact on doctors, we ask doctors to call us. We might ask lawyers to call to comment on some aspect of the O.J. Simpson case.

I think that at some stations talk has become just a forum for people to voice their opinions, regardless of their knowledge of the issues being discussed. We don't want to discourage that, but we also want to hear from people who can ask informed questions.

The objective is to have compelling radio. After a while, people just giving their [uninformed] opinions just isn't very compelling.

At some stations talk has become a forum for people to voice opinions, regardless of their knowledge. We don't want to discourage that, but we also want to hear from people who can ask informed questions.

-Tom Langmyer

VP/GM MICHAEL PACKER, WXYZ/DETROIT

Michael Packer

I don't believe that 1%-3% statistic. In my core audience research I've found much higher rates. Up to 25% of that core audience have said they've called a talk program during the past year.

We try to encourage first-time callers because it's a way to broaden the scope of the on-air conversation. We never want the station to sound like it belongs to a clique of people who use it as their personal on-air forum.

We limit callers to once every three weeks and have a special phone number set aside specifically for first-time callers.

PD GARY BURNS, WWRC/WASHINGTON

Gary Burns

Talk stations have made a lot of progress toward getting new voices on the air. It's not just a bunch of seniors filling up the air anymore. We've got deals with both of the local cellular phone companies to allow people to call for free, so we're getting lots of calls from people stuck in traffic.

But the real secret to getting new people to call is to provide really exciting, topical conversation and guests. If it's something that really grabs their attention and interest, they'll call.

PD GREG MOCERI, WSB-AM/ATLANTA

Broadening the caller base has not been a top priority with us. We get a pretty good diversity of opinions among our callers. That might be because our hosts themselves run the gamut of different political opinions.

We don't make any real effort to attract first-time callers, because I just don't think it's that important. Have you ever listened to a station and said, 'Wow, they get a lot of first-time callers!'

-Steve Konrad

We don't have a problem with repeat callers. We just don't get many, and we have rules that keep regulars off the air — unless they have something to say. And that's the important part. It doesn't matter how many different people you have calling — what matters is whether they have something to add to the show.

It doesn't matter how many different people you have calling. What matters is whether they have something to add to the show.

-Greg Mocerri

PD JOHN MAINELLI, WABC/NEW YORK

John Mainelli

I think broadening the caller base may be more important in a small market, where regular callers are quickly identified. Here in New York that's not such a problem. We've never had to work at getting first-time callers, because new people are calling all the time.

Most of our hosts have rules against people calling more than once a week or month. But we do have some [easily recognized] regulars, some of whom the hosts put on the air just so they can spar with them.

One way to encourage new callers is to have enough phone lines to keep one or two always open. We have 14 lines, three or four of which are usually kept open. Sometimes that's hard to do when the conversation gets hot. But it helps if you tell screeners not to park callers who aren't going to get on the air. That's unfair to the callers, and it ties up lines that could be available for first-time callers — or important callers, like someone who is personally involved in the topic being discussed.

PROGRAM MANAGER STEVE KONRAD, KSTP-AM/MINNEAPOLIS

I'm pretty happy with the calls we get. We don't make any real effort to attract first-time callers, because I just don't think it's that important.

I hear [crosstown] WCCO and network talk shows making a big deal out of greeting first-time callers, and I think, who cares? Have you ever listened to a radio station and said, "Wow, they get a lot of first-time callers!"

SALES

ATTENTION SMALL MARKET RADIO OWNERS

The dreaded "First Quarter" is only weeks away. Right now, for a limited time, your station has an opportunity to have a great first quarter, maybe even better than the Holiday season if you follow my plan. If you are in a market of 75,000 or less and have one or more competitors breathing down your neck (TAKE NOTICE) I have the most powerful copyrighted sales promotion that will revolutionize small market radio advertising. It guarantees that the "commercial content" of all your advertisers' messages will be heard! Think of the possibilities! I will come to your station and train and arm your sales department with the most powerful sales tool in the country. It will make your station the Dominant Advertising Force in your market in 1995.

So, if you have at least three sales reps and want to inspire and motivate them, call me now before it's too late to do anything about the dreaded first quarter.

Remember, training is one of the best ways to send a message to your sales team. The worst example of hindsight is the radio station that says, I don't want to spend money training my people, because they might quit and go to another station. Much worse than training people and losing them is not training them and keeping them. Training pays you back.

Train them now. Be prepared for the first quarter with the most powerful small market sales tool in the country. Because of the short amount of time left in 1994, I will be able to "help" only six stations between now and December 23, 1994. Call now, before it's too late to help the first quarter of 1995.
