Nashville's Country Stations Get A Makeover

■ by Ken Tucker

While the number of country stations in the Nashville market has not changed during the past year, there have been major changes at all four major players (see graph, page 35). There are new PDs in place at three of the four stations, two have undergone significant airstaff changes and one has a new owner.

As radio broadcasters gather in Nashville this week for Country Radio Seminar, many of these changes will be evident. Airplay Monitor spoke with the programmers of WSIX, WKDF, WSM-AM and WSM-FM about their respective stations' positions in a changing marketplace.

'BIG HORSE IN THE BUSINESS'

Clear Channel regional VP of programming/Nashville director of operations Clay Hunnicutt, who came on board in October from Chattanooga, Tenn., sums up the changes that WSIX has made. "I think it was [a matter] of putting the 'big' back in the 'Big 98,'" he says, citing the station's longtime slogan. "For a lot of years [people thought] of WSIX as the big horse in the business. It was loaded. It had morning shows in every daypart."

New WSIX PD Keith Kaufman agrees. "We

WPYM Connects With Gay Listeners

■ by Deborah Wilker

When WPYM Miami took to the airwaves on the last day of December 2001, the rhythmic/dance music outlet owned by Atlanta-based Cox Radio didn't set out to do much more than reflect the pulsing South Beach club scene.

With few commercials and endless blocks of hopped-up top 40 remixes and underground club hits, "Party 93" quickly found its way into bars, cars and gyms—a format tailor-made for clubgoers and fitness buffs comprising the station's core audience.

Then, just a few months into its run, WPYM took a turn.

Interspersed between such songs as Razor N' Guido's "Do It Again" and the latest Madonna remix and ads for Cadillac and Budweiser, came a slate of new promos for such events as the Gay & Lesbian Film Festival, Fort Lauderdale's Gay Pride Parade and AIDS fundraisers like Miami's world-renowned White Party.

What was striking, though, was not that WPYM

Clear Channel Fires Bubba The Love Sponge

In the wake of the FCC's vow to crack down on indecency, controversial syndicated morning man Todd "Bubba the Love Sponge" Clem has been fired. He was based at Clear Channel's active rock WXTB (98 Rock) Tampa, Fla., and his show was heard on two other CC stations in Florida.

"Clear Channel radio stations WXTB Tampa, WJRR Orlando and WPLA Jacksonville have ended their contractual relationship with the Bubba Radio Network, which provides the Bubba the Love Sponge show," CC/Tampa VP/GM Dan DiLoreto said in a statement. "We recognize the importance of understanding and airing content that is consistent with the standards and sensibilities of the local communities we serve. After conducting a review of the Bubba the Love Sponge show, we concluded the show will no longer be carried in our markets. Clear Channel Radio CEO John Hogan supports the decisions of our local managers in Florida."

In January, a proposed $715,000 fine was levied against Clear Channel by the FCC for allegedly indecent material that originally aired on Clem's show in 2001 (Airplay Monitor, Jan. 30). Clem's show was No. 18-34 in Tampa in the fall Arbitron book.

The jock has been removed from WXTB's Web site, while Clem's own site, bts.com, is no longer operational.

Clem is no stranger to controversy. In 2002, he was acquitted on animal cruelty charges stemming from an incident the previous year in which a boar was castrated and slaughtered in the station's parking lot during his show. Ironically, in a 2001 interview with the St. Petersburg Times about the incident, Clem defended Clear Channel, saying, "I absolutely could not ask for a better company to stand behind me. I would have been fired by a lot of other companies."

McCain Bill Boosts LPFM

A top Senate lawmaker says he will introduce legislation soon to authorize the creation of hundreds of low-power FM (LPFM) radio stations across the country. Proponents say the move could revolutionize the diversity of voices—and music—on radio. Sen. John McCain, R-Ariz., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, will introduce the bill. He congratulated the FCC for a policy turnaround in recommendations sent to McCain's office Feb. 20 granting approval for the new stations.

The radio industry has long opposed LPFMs, saying they would cause interference; proponents accuse the industry of trying to stifle competition.

BUSINESS & MANAGEMENT

Viacom has appointed Henry Moniz to the

THE MOVE WB Taps Johnson

Cynthia Johnson is named senior VP of urban promotion for Warner Bros. Records. She was previously VP of urban promotion at J Records. Johnson replaces Waymon Jones, who exited at the end of 2003.

Music-video network Fuse has appointed Robert Weiss to the newly created position of head of programming. He was previously head of East Coast development at VH1. Based in New York, Weiss reports to Fuse president Marc Juris.

R&B industry veteran Woody Johnson died recently of natural causes. He was 50. Johnson's career spanned more than 20 years, starting with RSO. He spent most of his career with Interscope Records as its mid-Atlantic rep. Services were set for Feb. 27 at the Calvary Episcopalian Church in Washington, D.C.

newly created post of VP/associate general counsel of compliance. He previously was a litigation partner at Bingham McCutchen in Boston.

PROGRAMMING: STRASSELL ELEVATED

Greg Strassel is promoted to senior VP of programming for Infinity. He previously was VP of programming for WBMX/WODS/WZLX Boston and Infinity's VP of hot AC programming. He has also served as PD for WBMX since 1991 and WODS since 2001. Strassel succeeds Steve Rivers, who was recently named Infinity president of programming (Monitor, Jan. 30).

In addition, Infinity ups Jon Zellner to VP of programming for hot AC from VP of top 40 programming. He will continue as VP of programming for Infinity/Kansas City and as PD for K.C. stations KMXV and KSRC. Also, Mike Preston is named VP of top 40 programming at Infinity; he is also PD for KBKS Seattle.

Scott Sands is promoted to WZPL (Z99.5) Indianapolis OM/PD, as well as director of Internet development for parent MyStar Communications.

DJ Law is named PD/MD at R&B WOWI (103 Jamz) Norfolk, Va. He replaces Heart Attack, who had served as interim PD/MD and exited the station in December.

Michael Erickson adds PD duties at smooth jazz KKSF San Francisco to his programming responsibilities at R&B oldies sister KISQ (Kiss-FM). He had been interim PD at KKSF since late last year.

R&B KBLR Omaha, Neb., PD Steve Fisk exits. Afternoon jock Bizzy B. is now interim PD.

Former oldies WWMG Charlotte, N.C., PD Jim Radford is tapped as OM for Clear Channel/Panama City, Fla., and PD for country WPAP. He replaces Todd Berry, who recently moved to the company's Huntsville, Ala., cluster for a similar position (Monitor, Jan. 30).

Country WCOL Columbus, Ohio, air talent Joby Phillips is tapped as PD for similarly formatted WCEN (the Moose) Saginaw, Mich. He replaces Jim Johnson, who remains PD/morning man for AC sister WGER (Magic).

AC WJLT Evansville, Ind., PD Mike Dylan takes a bus to country WWJO St. Cloud, Minn., where he becomes PD/afternoon driver. He replaces Bill Fink, who exits.

Country WFRY (Froggy) Watertown, N.Y., APD/MD/morning man Stan Soboleski is named PD for that station and sports talk sister WNER. He replaces Matt Raisman, who recently exited. Soboleski is looking for an afternoon driver for Froggy.

Country WLFF Lafayette, Ind., PD/morning man Don Elliott exits because of budget cuts. He may be reached at donelliott99@yahoo.com.

Zeo Radio Networks adds weekend mix show "MoJoe's Country Party Mix" to its country programming lineup. The two-hour program is hosted by KATM Modesto, Calif., MD/night jock MoJoe Roberts.

106.7 Problems

Country KAJA San Antonio has launched a new Sunday-night show, "The Other Side of KJ," which features "mostly Texas music with a little outlaw country mixed in," according to PD Clayton Allen, who is the show's host.

FORMATS: MORE HARRISBURG MOVES

On the heels of Citadel's flip of '80s WRKZ Harrisburg, Pa., to country WCAT (Red 102.3)

(Monitor, Feb. 20), the company has debuted WCPP "Cool Pop 106.7." The female-targeted station, which occupies WCAT's old frequency, is described by Citadel as "all things pop culture." The music is a mix of "the biggest pop culture hits of today blended with recent pop culture hits [from] the past few years."

Recently named WCAT PD Will Robinson adds those duties for WCPP. Former WRKZ PD Claudine DeLorenzo is promoted to director of programming for the cluster, while keeping her duties as PD of modern rock WQXA. Meanwhile, former WCAT PD/MD/midday host Sam McGuire rejoins the station, albeit at another frequency, as APD/MD/afternoon driver. McGuire exited the previous incarnation of WCAT a few weeks ago. Former WCAT morning team Michelle Cruz and Dennis Mitchell take that shift on Cool Pop.

In other news, adult R&B simulcast KSJL-AM-FM San Antonio flips the FM to rhythmic top 40 "Hot 92.5."

Classic country WCMS-AM Norfolk, Va., will flip to sports talk on or about May 1 as an affiliate of Fox Sports Radio. The station, which will eventually include local programming, will become Barnstable's second sports talker in the market, joining WGH-AM (ESPN 1310).

PEOPLE: LIL JON LANDS RADIO SHOW

Lil Jon has inked a deal to host Crunk Radio, a national weekly show for American Urban Radio Networks. The two-hour, hit-driven, R&B/hip-hop program will also feature R&B WHTA (Hot 107.9) Atlanta afternoon personality Emperor Searcy. The show is slated to launch in the spring or summer.

Country WSOC Charlotte, N.C., morning co-host Carrie Ann Boggess has filed a lawsuit accusing OM/PD/morning man Jeff Roper of harassment, intimidation and volatile outbursts, according to The Charlotte Observer. The suit, which was filed in Mecklenburg Superior Court and also names Infinity Broadcasting and parent Viacom, asks for damages in excess of $10,000 and a jury trial. According to the story, Boggess took medical leave from the station Feb. 4. Calls to Roper for comment were not returned.

Longtime Howard Stern sidekick "Stuttering" John Melendez has a new boss: Jay Leno. Melendez will be joining "The Tonight Show" as an announcer in late March. He's working with a speech coach to control his trademark stutter. While best-known for asking celebrities inappropriate questions, a "Tonight Show" spokesperson says the late-night program won't use Melendez in that regard.

Former country KYCW Seattle morning host Sammie Phelps and KRDO-FM (the Peak) Colorado Springs, Colo., air talent Mark Goldberg join country KKCS Colorado Springs for wake-ups. The pair complete a recent revamping of the station's lineup.

R&B WPEG (Power 98) Charlotte, N.C., morning co-host Derrick "Fly Tie" Jacobs joins former co-host B.J. Murphy at adult R&B KRNBB Dallas (Monitor, Feb. 13). KRNBB morning co-host Rudy Rush exits.

Country KMLE Phoenix promotion director Rosie Martinez exits after nine years with the station. PD Jay McCarthy is looking for a replacement ASAP. Send résumés and proposals to jay.mccarthy@infinitybroadcasting.com.

Sandy Bennett moves from evenings at oldies WMJI Cleveland to AC WSNY Columbus, Ohio, for middays.

R&B WERQ Baltimore overnight jock Stretch exits. A replacement has not yet been named.

Modern KROX Austin, Texas, names Sean "Phills" Phillips to mornings, joining Trina and Jason Dick. He last worked at Emmis' Phoenix cluster.

Recently appointed country KIIM Tucson, Ariz., night jock "Cactus" Dave Lavender segues to sister KSZR (Star 97.5) for afternoons. KIIM promotion coordinator/weekend jock Chris Mathews is promoted to nights.

Active KXFX (the Fox) Santa Rosa, Calif., interim MD/midday jock Todd Pyne removes the "interim" from his title.

Michigan country radio veteran Carl E. joins WNNW-FM Battle Creek, Mich., for afternoons. He replaces Wild Bill, who exits.

Sirius names Elise Brown senior manager of public relations.

Sorry to report the death of Country Music DJ Hall of Fame member Pappy Dave Stone (real name Dave Pinkston) Feb. 18 in Colorado. He was 90. Stone started his radio career as a traffic manager and bookkeeper in 1946 and went on to become the owner and manager of several stations in Texas, including KDAV Lubbock, KPEP San Angelo and KZIP Amarillo as well as Colorado stations KPIK-AM-FM. Waylon Jennings got his start in radio as one of Stone's DJs. Stone also owned and booked a country music club in Lubbock. He was inducted into the Country Music DJ Hall of Fame in 1999.

had recognized that many of its listeners were gay, but the matter-of-fact way the station addressed it.

This was still more than one year before Bravo and NBC hit pay dirt with "Queer Eye for the Straight Guy," a show that has certainly loosened parameters in mainstream broadcasting.

Yet back in early 2002, WPYM simply went about things as if big, 100,000-watt radio stations in major markets had always been the proud sponsors of gay-themed events—even though it was an approach that most conservative hit-radio corporations had likely never even considered.

Now, two years later, the station continues to earn big profits and strong ratings, while the "gay aesthetic" (as marketing mavens call it) is so seamlessly integrated that few seem to notice anything unique about it.

"This has been a gutsy move," says Sean Ross, VP of music and programming at New Jersey-based Edison Media Research. "Cox has certainly proven to be more innovative."

Given all that has recently transpired in television, should the FM dial be gearing up for gay themes? Has WPYM made a case that bears watching?

"If sales managers aren't thinking about it, they should be," says Carmen Cacciatore, co-founder of New York-based Fly-Life Marketing. "Radio has been behind the curve. They've been cautious. But things have definitely opened up. Gay spending power is enormous. Once there's more clarity and more research, they're going to [find] that it's just as important as testing the Hispanic or African-American market or any market."

The club-rooted, pure-dance format that WPYM plays is typically either loved or hated—there's no in-between, no casual fans. But the demographic of those who do tune in is an advertiser's dream. Listeners gay and straight tend to be hip, free-spending professionals who thrive on excitement and are exceedingly loyal to the format—that is, when they can find it on the dial.

Although the popularity of dance and club music continues to grow worldwide, it often tanks on commercial radio for lack of household-name recording artists, tidy three-minute songs and, until recently, failure to embrace the genre's roots in gay culture.

Analysts point to New York's famed WKTU, which plays a mix of retro disco and current tracks, and Boston's WQXX and Dallas' KKDL, which program a less intense version of the format, as a few that have lately been getting it right.

"If you counted all the successful dance stations in this country," Ross says, "it would hardly add up to 10."

WPYM PD Phil Michaels Trueba says the only way to make it work is with an all-or-nothing commitment.

"We take the risks, and if it hurts us, so be it," Trueba says. "We're not gonna be fake about it and only do it halfway. Stations that try and clone this format but only dip their toe in don't make it. This station is not run from a corporate headquarters in Atlanta. We're authorized to make local decisions."

At the very least, WPYM has clearly struck a tone that could be instructional elsewhere, though that was never the intent.

EYE-OPENER FOR THE STRAIGHT GUYS

Straight guys Trueba and Michael Disney, the station's VP/GM, freely admit that going in, they had only cursory knowledge of the gay marketplace and no idea just how much of their audience would be gay.

It didn't take long for them to learn, but once they did, they acknowledge that they still weren't quite sure how best to reach this audience in an authentic manner without alienating listeners and advertisers. Going on little more than a gut feeling, they took their first tentative steps in April 2002, when they accepted an invitation to sponsor Miami's Gay & Lesbian Film Festival.

"It just kind of happened," Disney says. "We began to do some things in the community, and it was very well-received by all of our listeners."

After the strong response, the station moved quickly into researching and hiring staffers with more specific marketing knowledge.

"It all comes down to autonomy," Cacciatore says, "and props to Cox for letting these guys understand their market. They saw something, they identified it and they went after it."

Advertisers both sexy and stodgy followed. McDonald's, Bell South, Sprint, Major League Baseball's Florida Marlins, Miller Beer, AutoNation and even conservative local newspapers like the South Florida Sun-Sentinel are regulars.

OVER THE RAINBOW

Just as quickly, the station launched a community-minded Sunday-morning talk show, "Issues Over the Rainbow." The program, which started as a commercial-free half-hour show, was recently upgraded to an ad-supported hour in a better time slot and attracts a fairly impressive guest list.

In addition to the local and national politicians who have appeared, Cyndi Lauper, Margaret Cho, Bruce Vilanch and Ian McKellen have visited. Cast members from HBO's "Angels in America" and the guys from "Queer Eye" also appeared on the program.

But those expecting an over-the-top hour on divas and decorating will be disappointed. Rather, it's a measured, low-key affair about equal rights and everyday life that has attracted listeners from all corners.

"It's just about everybody's concerns, from both a straight and gay perspective," says host Mark Gilbert, a gay father of two teenagers who was married for 10 years before coming out.

Although talk had circulated that Cox was thinking of changing WPYM's format, recent ratings have been strong enough to put that rumor to rest. WPYM leads the market with Latino men 18-34 and ranks third with males overall.

In 12-plus numbers, the station had a 2.5 share in the fall book, trailing rivals rhythmic top 40

WPOW (4.6) and mainstream top 40 WHYI (3.1).

Trueba says that no matter the ratings, the station is highly profitable because overhead is extraordinarily low. While there aren't any DJs, WPYM does employ a group of well-known, mostly freelance personalities who appear on the air occasionally but whose main job is to provide the energy at constant, communitywide promotional events.

The station also is far more profitable than it ever was in its former incarnation as WTMI, the region's long-running (and only) classical outlet. Although classical enthusiasts were outraged by the format switch, it's unlikely that continuing protests will ever return the station to Bach and Beethoven.

What matters now, Cacciatore says, is to integrate gay themes beyond the dance format into "all areas of radio. If you have an on-air talent who just happens to be gay, you don't have to hit everyone over the head with it," Cacciatore says. "It's just something that becomes part of the mixture."

Deborah Wilker is Florida bureau chief for The Hollywood Reporter.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrenents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of detections. (○) Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrenents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. * Initial impact songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders. ☆ indicates title earned HitPredictor status in research data provided by Promosquad.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station down-time for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airplay awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Hot 97 And Fuse Call Yearlong Promo Partnership A Win-Win

Video may have killed the radio star, but when the worlds of radio and music TV team up, it can make for a formidable tandem.

Emmis-owned WQHT (Hot 97) New York and music TV network Fuse recently announced their multifaceted yearlong event production and programming partnership (Airplay Monitor, Feb. 13), and they are already making plans to expand that relationship.

According to Emmis Communications VP of sales and marketing Matt Ross, the partnership with Fuse “just seemed to make perfect sense. Last year, when we did Summer Jam at Giant Stadium, we were exploring ways to put Summer Jam out to a national platform. I had been well aware of what Fuse and their predecessor MuchMusic had been doing, because they’re a New York-based company.

“They had initially established their brand as a rock-based music television network, and I thought what we had was a great way for them to credibly jump into the hip-hop arena,” Ross continues. “They thought so as well; they agreed to create a prime-time show around Summer Jam, which garnered their highest prime-time ratings last year.”

For Fuse VP of marketing Mary Corigliano, Summer Jam was the right event for the network.

“At Fuse, every quarter we try to take a big event in the entertainment/music industry and create a TV program out of it,” she says. “We saw what Hot 97 was doing [with Summer Jam], and clearly they’re a leader in this space of hip-hop. In looking for an event to execute in the second quarter, you couldn’t get any better than the talent that they had at Summer Jam,” which included Eminem and 50 Cent.

“It was a huge-ass show,” Corigliano adds. “We have a national audience that we need to satisfy, so anything that we put on our air has to be high-quality, high-impact, and our audience [has to] enjoy it. Last year’s Summer Jam lineup really said to us that this would make for great TV and that our audience is going to like this. And we were right.”

FURTHERING THE ALLIANCE

The success of the show led the two companies to look at furthering their alliance in 2004.

“We knew we were both on to something,” Ross says. “It wasn’t just that their brand was growing and our event was growing, but there was a clear opportunity for the two of us to put our skill sets together and evolve that event and make it bigger.

“We started approaching 2004 by thinking about the other ways in which we could work together,” he adds. “One of the big things that happens in New York is Fashion Week. Obviously, if you ask hip-hop kids to rank 1 to 5 what’s most important to them, fashion is in that top five. We both felt that if we created an event that combined both the hottest fashion and designers with current artists, we would have another great TV/live event concept.”

‘FULL FRONTAL’ HIP-HOP

That concept became Full Frontal Hip Hop, a fashion and music event featuring live performances by Ashanti, Cassidy and Young Gunz.

The combination live concert and fashion show—featuring such designers as Sean John, Phat Farm, Baby Phat, Akademiks and Enyce—will take place March 2 in New York. It will be taped for a one-hour special to air March 26.

“It was really taking the expertise that [Hot 97] brings to the table as a very influential hip-hop entity and bringing that to what we can do on the television side and just marrying the two,” Corigliano says. “It was a great opportunity to grow that partnership.”

In addition to Full Frontal Hip Hop, the two entities will partner again for Summer Jam. This year’s event is scheduled for June 12 at New Jersey’s Giant Stadium.

Full Frontal Hip Hop and other forthcoming co-branded events will be marketed through affiliate events, street team marketing, print advertising in local media, cross-channel spots and on-air content and promotions on both Hot 97 and Fuse.

“Hot 97 is and always has been a unique radio brand, because it has a national and even international credibility,” Ross says. “Hot 97 reaches 2 million-plus people weekly in just the tri-state area. It’s the dominant youth marketing tool in this area and one of the dominant players in the country. So, we thought [the partnership] would [help] people to recognize the magnitude of what we do. We wanted to take this local radio brand and do something that most local radio brands don’t do, and that’s explore some sort of national brand marketing.

“Fuse was the perfect partner, because they get this sort of thing,” he adds. “They’re entrepreneurial. They understand what it means to build something from the bottom up.”

Corigliano notes that for Emmis, “it wasn’t just about the TV [exposure]. It was about the cross-promotion. We had their DJs on our live show interviewing talent with our VJs. So, it wasn’t really just a programming partnership but a really great marketing/co-promotion partnership.”

Along those lines, Hot 97 is looking to broker further promotions for Full Frontal Hip Hop.

“Some of those promotions will tie back to sponsor partners,” Ross says. “We’re close to signing a few deals that might involve local-market promotions outside of New York as well as flyaway trips from other markets like L.A., Chicago, Detroit [and] D.C.”

‘THE SUPER BOWL OF HIP-HOP’

As for Summer Jam, Ross has high hopes that the show’s national exposure will carry it well beyond the tri-state area.

“With Fuse’s help, we’re trying to brand Summer Jam as the Super Bowl of hip-hop,” he says. “This is the biggest hip-hop event in the world. Last year, Eminem and 50 Cent played together in [only] two places domesti-

Diddy Does Houston

Janet Jackson and Justin Timberlake weren’t the only performers at this year’s Super Bowl halftime show. Sean “P. Diddy” Combs was also among those who participated in the MTV-produced event. While in Houston, Combs stopped by KBXX (the Box) to hang out with the station’s night crew Kracker Nuttz. Flanking Combs, from left, are the crew’s Baby Jae, Ron EG, Klean Kut and Joker.

Welcome To L.A., Sleepy Brown

cally—Detroit and our event. For us, that’s a major statement.”

While the companies have talked about furthering their relationship beyond these two events, Full Frontal Hip Hop and Summer Jam are their primary focus right now.

“Clearly, their goal is to build awareness right now—particularly with our community—and hip-hop credibility,” Ross says. “There are a variety of other cross-promotional-type programs that we can do. So, there are a lot of things that are on the drawing board. [But] we’re going to focus on doing these two events really well before we move on to 18 events. We want to make sure that the March 2 fashion event is the bomb.”

According to Ross, the support of Fuse has already yielded dividends for the radio station.

“We’ve been able to go out there and do some new deals as a result [of the relationship],” he says. “From a sponsor perspective, the fact that we have a national cable partner creates a much bigger jumpoff point for what this event can be. Right now, we’re talking to them exclusively about New York, [but] all of sudden now we have a national platform. So, there are cross-sales opportunities that we are beginning to explore. As we get this fashion event under our belts and move to Summer Jam, we’ll be doing more of that as well.”

Fuse also sees the various benefits of teaming with radio stations like Hot 97.

“I would like to create partnerships like this with radio stations across the country,” Corigliano says. “One of the things that we pride ourselves [on] is that we want to use our air to help people further their brands . . . That’s extremely valuable to us.

“We’re able to integrate each other’s platforms,” she adds. “How great would it be if we did another type of partnership with a radio station in another city, and we could leverage each other’s media like that? We could have that radio station come to our studios to do their airshifts live from our studios, for instance. If they’re interested in the national exposure . . . that’s something we want to provide. That’s just adding another layer of value onto what they’re already doing.”

According to Corigliano, Fuse is currently in conversations with other stations in other formats for partnerships.

“Last year for the Grammys, we worked with Z100 [WHTZ New York] where they came and did their Grammy preshow live from our studios, and we aired it live,” she says. “There are a number of ways that we can do it. We’ve had many radio personalities on our live show [“IMX”] co-hosting with our VJs, interviewing talent, etc. It’s a great synergy for both of us, and it’s an opportunity that we would like to explore moving forward with Hot and other radio stations.”

Songs ranked by number of detections. (○) Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrences and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

tried being the 12-in-a-row station, and it just didn't pay off," he says. "Everywhere we went, people were talking about how 'SIX was known for being a personality-driven radio station. That's what built it, and we had gotten away from that."

To that end, the station was relaunched in October with a new slogan and positioners, along with a number of airstaff changes. "[Morning man] Gerry [House] has always had very successful numbers," Hunnicutt says. "The numbers in the other dayparts had gotten a little soft, and we needed to build those up. We just needed a fresh approach on [WSIX]."

Kaufman sums it up another way. "We weren't standing out outside of morning drive," he says, "so we injected attitude."

Big D & Bubba were brought in from WYNK Baton Rouge, La., to handle afternoons. Former MD/afternoon driver Billy Greenwood, who had been live, now voice-tracks middays from his current station, KSD St. Louis. For nights, the station recruited market veteran/former staffer Hollywood Hendrix.

Hunnicutt says the results are positive. "Everybody here is incredibly focused on making the station a winner."

Returning the station to its "Big" heritage also extends to promotions and imaging, according to Hunnicutt. "We want to be on the cutting edge," he says. "When we do things, we just ask, 'How can we make them bigger?' That's the approach."

The changes extended to the station's music as well. "We overhauled everything," Hunnicutt says. "It's a little more recurrent-driven, but [we] still place a high priority on the best of the best currents, and we still play a rather large database of gold records."

Hunnicutt stresses that the station is improving. "[Former WSIX PD/current KWJ] Portland, Ore., PD] Mike Moore did a great job... running the radio station. [He] set the bar very high. We're just trying to raise it even higher."

'A NATURAL PROGRESSION'

Though his station has stayed the course as far as musical direction, positioning and ownership, WKDF OM Dave Kelly did deal with changes in morning drive and afternoons.

Morning man Carl P. Mayfield "wanted to do a talk show, and we had a station to put him on [N/T sister WGFX]," Kelly says. Mayfield, a market veteran, did mornings on WGFX for three months before leaving the station. He is currently sitting out the remainder of his contract and noncompete.

Kelly tapped then-MD/afternoon driver Eddie Foxx and his sidekick, Stuntboy Justin (who also voice-tracked overnights), to fill the morning slot. Foxx has progressed from nights to afternoons and now mornings at WKDF since its country inception five years ago. "When I first met Eddie, he was doing nights, and I knew then that he had the potential to be a star and wasn't going to let him go," Kelly says. "It was a natural progression for him."

Kelly is complimentary of Foxx's show. "Everybody on the show understands the daypart; they understand the mentality the listeners are in during that daypart, and they play toward that," he says, adding that Foxx "puts on an entertaining, compelling show."

To replace Foxx in afternoons, the station hired market veterans Dean Warfield and Kim Leslie and also gave Foxx's former MD job to Leslie. "In looking at market value and somebody who knows the market, Dean was perfect," Kelly says. "What we didn't want was just a jock show in afternoon drive. It's not something we've had in the past, and we didn't want it moving forward."

Kelly tapped Leslie to join Dean, knowing they had worked together in the past. "I just thought a strong female would be perfect with him," he says. "The hardest part of putting a team together is chemistry—either you've got it or you don't. Fortunately with them, we were in a situation where they had it before they even cracked the mike."

WKDF is the only outlet that hasn't made major changes to its imaging or music in the past year, but Kelly feels there is room to grow. "Everything that we've got going on right now, if you look at the radio station as a whole, I feel like we have nothing but growth potential," he says. "[We have] the ability to continue to grow the morning show, the ability to maintain the numbers that we've had in middays and maintain and grow the numbers we've had in afternoons."

BALANCE HERITAGE, MOVE FORWARD

WSM-AM PD Brian Landrum, who came on board last April, walks a fine line while making changes to the heritage station.

"The radio station had really been all over the road musically," he says. "The direction of the radio station was really to be a museum, to be the preserver of country music and all things country. While all that is charming, it doesn't mean anything to the local audience and never really translated into ratings and revenue. We needed to figure out how to balance the heritage of what this great radio station is about but [also] move forward."

Market research, along with gut feelings, helped define the sound of the station, he says. "We found that the music that [the audience] really wanted to hear was from the '60s to the '80s—with a spicing of music from the late '50s and traditional-sounding songs from today—including cuts from the Grand Ole Opry."

The station has increased its visibility in the community, added more contesting and launched a new jingle package that Landrum says is reminiscent of "the days of WLS [Chicago]," emphasizing the calls letters rather than a slogan or frequency. The station also changed its slogan from "America's country station"—which Landrum characterized as "maybe too broad"—to "Nashville's country legend."

Convincing a veteran airstaff that changes needed to be made can be daunting, but Landrum says the process has gone "better than I ever expected. It wasn't as intimidating as I thought it would be to come into a radio station where you grew up listening to most of these guys," he says. "I think by the time I got here, they were ready for a program director and some direction. That really helped."

His passion for the station may have helped Landrum guide the transition as well. "I came in and let them know how much I loved WSM-AM," he says. "All the goofy things I've done in radio have been so that I can eventually program this radio station."

WSM-AM recently picked up NASCAR broadcasts from its former sister station, N/T WWTN, a move that Landrum believes will help the station build its audience. "I think NASCAR is going to accelerate the growth that we anticipated by a year," he says. "We're going to get an influx of cume that we would have never been able to get before."

NO MORE 'LIVE 95'

WSM-FM is also a different radio station from what it was one year ago, according to PD Lee Logan, who joined last May. "We've relaunched the radio station," he says. "The station was sold [from Gaylord to Cumulus], and that was the genesis of the relaunch."

The changes start in mornings. "We brought back Katie Haas, who was actually part of the last show that beat Gerry House," Logan says. She is paired with Stefan Carpenter, who joined from KUBB Modesto, Calif., for what Logan calls "a fun, irreverent kind of show."

There is at least one difference between his station's morning show and those of its competitors, Logan says. "The biggest difference between us and them—regardless of who 'them' would be—is that there still is a pretty decent music percentage in our morning show."

APD/former afternoon driver Frank Seres—

"the last remaining soldier from the old days," according to Logan—holds down middays. "He does all the fun things that the midday show has had a reputation for doing."

Former WUSY Chattanooga p.m. driver David Earl Hughes and former Gavin country editor Jamie Matteson (aka Eva Knight) handle afternoons as Dave & Knight. Logan calls the pairing "probably our biggest personality break from everybody else in afternoons. They are diametrically opposed personalities, and that really works for them," he says. "It is a big, personality-based show that still has a decent music percentage."

Nights are handled by Su-Anna Bearford, who joined the station from KWJ. Logan says that her strength lies in her use of the phones. Bearford previously worked at "Young Country" stations WYCD Detroit and KYCW Seattle and, according to Logan, "has those telephone skills that 'Young Country' people were so well-trained in."

WSM-FM's new music mix and positioning came from a studied approach, Logan says. "We discovered that the country listener in Nashville uses all three [FM country] radio stations to create one that they really like. We thought, 'What if we could do that?' 'Nashville's best country' came from the concept that we would do a lot of research to find out what people liked and play it for them. It's funny, but what we are is an amalgamation of [WKDF and WSIX]. There is a fairly decent percentage of classics on our air, as well as a good current base."

HitPredictor Now Testing Country Titles

In our ongoing effort to provide programmers with the most accurate charts, breaking industry news and informed analysis of gathering trends, Airplay Monitor is pleased to introduce the popular HitPredictor feature to country readers (see graph, page 38).

Already successfully identifying positive consumer reaction to new music for the R&B/hip-hop, modern rock, AC and top 40 formats, Nashville's country fare is the most recent addition to the HitPredictor menu of products.

Launched in 2002 by veteran promotion executive Rick Bisceglia and venerable programming expert Guy Zapoleon as a unit of their PromoSquad venture, HitPredictor is an online research method that helps labels, programmers, artists and managers gauge the hit potential of new songs.

Although many record labels contract with HitPredictor to aid them in selecting singles, the company also tests virtually every new song released to radio once the label has picked a single and chosen an impact date. Every song tested is eligible to appear on the HitPredictor weekly chart. The outcome of the scoring process can be influenced only by the consumer panel selected to evaluate the songs.

The music is blind tested by a large group of carefully qualified, active consumers who have identified country as their primary music taste and regularly listen to country radio. No industry insiders or tastemakers are allowed to participate in the testing. Research participants must listen to each song at least three times in its entirety in order to register a response. Hook-testing is never used in this process, which adds substantial credibility to the research and is the primary basis for the integrity of the results.

Artists are never revealed to the research participants, which largely prevents name-associated bias in the responses. Of course, participants may recognize a particular artist's voice, but their response is never aided by the inclusion of that information as part of the research exercise.

Songs are rated on a 1-5 scale, and the final results are based on weighted positives. The HitPredictor chart highlights songs that have scored 65 or higher and are judged to have top 10 callout potential (see legend below graph, page 38).

The first glimpse of the weekly results is published every Monday in the Monitor Hotline fax and appears adjacent to the Country Airplay chart in each issue of the magazine.

If you're not receiving our Hotline fax, call 646-654-7255 for subscription information. To learn more about PromoSquad and HitPredictor, visit hitpredictor.com.

Also note that with the introduction of HitPredictor, our weekly top 20 country recurrents list moves from the pages of Monitor to the Hotline fax.

We look forward to hearing your thoughts about these changes. Feedback is always welcome and encouraged.

WSM-AM: We Serve Millions

WSM-AM Nashville not only reaches a local audience, but because of its 50,000-watt clear channel signal, streaming Web site (wsmonline.com) and presence on Sirius Satellite Radio (on channel 137), it also reaches a worldwide audience.

"We have 1.5 million hits on WSM Online, with an average of 100,000 to 150,000 streamers a month," PD Brian Landrum says. "Sirius [has] 300,000 subscribers, [and] there's certainly a few thousand people who listen to us [there] as well."

But having a worldwide audience can, Landrum says, "change your definition of success," which is not necessarily a good thing.

"We get cards and letters from New Zealand and e-mails from Germany, New Jersey and Montana . . . people saying how great [we] are," he says. "That's a neat feeling, but when your ratings are falling in Nashville, you've got a problem."

In recent months, Landrum says the station has done a better job of focusing on the task at hand (see story, page 35). "We needed to really focus on making the AM a better radio station," he says. "We knew if we did that our other [outlets] would grow, because if you win at home, it makes you better elsewhere."

WSM-AM recently picked up NASCAR coverage for its local broadcast, which means that jocks voice-track shows that run on the Web and on Sirius in place of the races. The result, according to Landrum, is that "national and international listeners don't lose the image of what the station is about. There's a certain charm about WSM nationally and internationally. We want to make sure that we don't offend those listeners." KEN TUCKER

ON THE ROW

Brandt Counts 'Em Down Up North

Canadian country artist Paul Brandt will launch a weekly syndicated show, "Paul Brandt's Canadian Countdown," this spring. It will be syndicated by the Edmonton, Alberta-based Da Silva Group Radio Network. That company has also signed a co-production and distribution deal with KS Entertainment for a Canadian version of the weekly syndicated show "Cool Country," hosted by Jenny Gill. The Canadian version will have 35% Canadian content as required by law.

Hank Adam Locklin joins the Country Music Assn. as senior manager of membership and industry relations. Locklin, the son of country artist Hank Locklin, previously worked in artist management and music publishing at Loretta Lynn Enterprises and Bluewater Music. The industry relations part of his job previously was handled by Kim Leslie, who left to join WKDF Nashville several months ago. Also at the CMA, Jamie Piatt is promoted from membership coordinator to membership manager.

In related news, the CMA Awards will move from their traditional Wednesday-night slot to Tuesday, Nov. 9 this year. The show will be televised live, as usual, on CBS from Nashville's Grand Ole Opry House.

Also, the CMA will switch to online entries for its broadcast awards this year. A new Web site, broadcast.cmaawards.com, will be up and ready for submissions in the broadcast personality, broadcast station and national personality categories by April 2. The site will also contain guidelines and instructions for entries. Judges will be able to view and hear the submissions online rather than paging through the binders and CDs previously used for entries.

Kim Markovchick joins Sony Music Nashville as senior director of marketing. She previously held a senior marketing position at Mercury Records, where she worked for 17 years. In other Sony news, the label has signed singer/songwriter Trent Willmon to its Columbia artist roster. Frank Rogers is producing Willmon's debut album. As a songwriter, Willmon is signed to SeaGayle Music, co-owned by Rogers, Brad Paisley and Chris DuBois. His debut single, "Beer Man," goes to radio March 29.

KZLA Los Angeles morning man Peter Tilden has been chosen as the "voice" of the Academy of Country Music's new Web site for associate members. The ACM teamed with Yahoo's Launch service to create the new associate membership program aimed at country music fans who are not part of the industry. Associate members will be able to vote in the video of the year category for the ACM Awards, which has been rebranded the Launch video of the year. Associate members will also have access to a password-protected fan club site at acmcountry.com or acm.launch.yahoo.com. Content on the site will include Tilden's interviews with celebrities as well as the Internet station ACM Radio.

Sorry to report that Larry Pareigis Sr., the father of Sony Music Nashville senior VP of promotion Larry Pareigis, died of cancer Feb. 20 at his home in Franklin, Tenn. He was 70. Donations can be made to the Sarah Cannon Cancer Center or Willowbrook Hospice in Nashville or to the American Cancer Society.

High Noon In Cleveland

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrends and are removed from the chart after 20 weeks.

WNOR Stands Alone In Norfolk

When Airplay Monitor last caught up with active WNOR (FM99) Norfolk, Va., PD Harvey Kojan in 2002, his station had just tied for first 12-plus in the Arbitron ratings. This time, the station is sitting by itself at the top and is one of the few rock stations in the fall Arbitron book to do so.

While music is one of the biggest elements of any station, Kojan says that the nonmusical aspects of WNOR may have helped it ascend the ratings.

"I've always been reluctant to attribute our station's performance in a particular book to specific things we did or didn't do, because it's more often simply a case of how the dials fall," he says. "However, I do think our handling of the two big local stories of the year—the war and Hurricane Isabel—had to have an impact.

"The Norfolk area has a huge military presence," Kojan continues. "I can't imagine there's a market in which patriotism is more highly regarded. So there were absolutely no doubts about how we should respond to the Iraqi war. Supporting our troops was job one. For many years we have very aggressively established WNOR as the station that supports the troops and the community. Our regard for the military is unequivocal, and the listeners recognize and appreciate that."

KOJAN

The lack of an all-news station in Norfolk might have helped WNOR as well. "We've made a concerted effort to make WNOR a credible source for news and information," Kojan says. "We're not afraid to suspend regular programming and go into news mode. That's exactly what we did during the first hours of Hurricane Isabel, and it really paid off. Many radio stations were off the air, while most others were in regular format. So for many residents the only place they could go for info was WNOR.

"Overall I was extremely proud of the way our staff handled the situation," he adds. "Everyone really rose to the occasion, and their collective efforts helped cement the emotional bond we have with our listeners and this community."

In addition to WNOR's 12-plus victory, it also finished first 18-34, dethroning powerful R&B signal WOWI (103 Jamz).

"The idea of anyone beating WOWI 18-34 once seemed ludicrous," Kojan says. "We've always been strong in that demo, with double-digit numbers that would be good enough for No. 1 in most markets. But WOWI's numbers were in the stratosphere. That's mainly because this market is one-third African-American, and for many years WOWI had the R&B audience pretty much to themselves.

"However, things have changed dramatically. WOWI has a lot more competition now, and their numbers have fallen accordingly. So it's more a case of them coming back to the pack than us chasing them down."

WNOR's morning duo, Tommy & Rumble, also plays a key role in WNOR's success. "That one-on-one relationship between the station and our listeners all starts with the morning show," Kojan says. "They're much more than just entertainers. They reflect the community in which they live. The war and the hurricane had a significant impact on our listeners' lives, and Tommy & Rumble expertly tapped into that, just as they do with all local issues. There's your key word: local. I have great respect for some of the syndicated morning shows, but there's just no way they can compete effectively with a show like Tommy & Rumble."

EVANESCENCE IS ITS ESSENCE

The success of Evanescence on WNOR is an indicator of the programming team's desire to think outside of its format's somewhat limited boundaries.

Last year's cross-format success of Evanescence's "Bring Me to Life" marked the first time women had been heard at active rock in a while. However, WNOR has played both of the group's follow-up tracks, including "My Immortal," which, so far, has only performed at top 40.

"Our success with Evanescence has been both rewarding and instructive," Kojan says. "[APD/MD] Tim Parker deserves all the credit. He immediately identified 'Bring Me to Life' as a multiformat smash. More important, his passion for the song helped push aside any doubts I may have had about its appropriateness for WNOR. Good thing, because our listeners completely embraced the song. Phones were huge, with zero negatives, and it debuted No. 1 in our callout. Our unqualified success with 'Bring Me to Life' made adding and banging the next single, 'Going Under,' a no-brainer, and it performed nearly as well.

"Nevertheless, 'My Immortal' seemed like a big stretch for us," Kojan continues. "We had never played anything remotely like it since going active rock. But we had established Evanescence as both a rock band and a WNOR band and loathed the idea of relinquishing them to other formats. So we added the song and, lo and behold, it has turned out to be another smash.

"I admit I check the frequency every time it airs, figuring I'm listening to the modern AC," he continues. "[But] our experience with Evanescence has reinforced the notion that the active rock audience is receptive to a broader range of music than we may think."

THINKING BEYOND THE BOUNDARIES

With that lesson in mind, Kojan says. "We actively seek out multi-format hits, because many active rock artists have relatively narrow appeal. Our P1s may love them, but it stops there. The whole idea of having exclusive music is overblown. We want hits—the bigger, the better.

"Many active rock PDs seemed to mourn the days when bands like Creed, Staind, Nickelback, Linkin Park and 3 Doors Down all started showing up on other formats," he continues. "Worse, they stopped playing some of their biggest hits. Unless they had objective research indicating those songs were truly burned out, we think that's a big mistake.

"I can't imagine a scenario in which dropping the biggest rock hits can be a good thing," Kojan adds. "Overall I think our willingness to embrace as many different styles of music as possible has played a big role in our success."

The Jacobs Media-consulted WNOR plays some acts that most actives wouldn't touch, along with the ones they've cautiously embraced.

"Both the White Stripes' 'Seven Nation Army' and Jet's 'Are You Gonna Be My Girl' were huge hits for us," Kojan says. "We've always been hit-and-miss with Blink-182. Sublime, which predated our move to active rock, is one of our best-testing bands. Ditto for the Beastie Boys. We play as many of the 'softer' things as we can get away with, including things like Fuel's 'Hemorrhage' and Lifehouse's 'Hanging by a Moment.'"

Shout At The Straight Guy

Modern competitor WROX is WNOR's closest rival, but Kojan says, "I view every station as competition, particularly our fellow rock stations. For years WROX's music has most closely aligned with ours, and we usually share more audience with them than with any other station—although we also share with adult top 40 WPTE as well as our classic rock sister WAFX.

"Of course, the market is in a bit of turmoil now since Barnstable flipped country WCMS to mainstream rock and Sinclair switched triple-A WKOC to country," he continues. "This market has always been particularly receptive when it comes to new stations, so it'll be interesting to see how things pan out in the short term.

"In the long term, I'm completely confident that we will prevail," Kojan adds. "We've got a great group of people here."

Songs ranked by number of detections. (C) Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrenents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ( ) Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airplay awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs are blind tested online by Promosquad using multiple listens and a nationwide sample of carefully profiled music consumers. Songs are rated on a 1-5 scale; final results are based on weighted positives. Songs with a score of 65 or more are judged to have top 10 callout potential, although that benchmark number can fluctuate based on the strength of available music. New Releases are songs that have been recently serviced to or impacted at their respective formats; Recently Tested Songs are the songs tested during the past month with the highest score. For a complete list of current songs with Top 10 Callout Potential, see HitPredictor.com. © 2003. Promosquad is a trademark of Think Fast LLC.

J Records, RMG Dominate Adult R&B

Luther Vandross' "Think About You" moves 4-3 on the adult R&B chart, giving J and the RCA Music Group (RMG) a stranglehold on the top three positions on this week's chart. J is the first imprint and RMG the first promotion label to dominate the top three slots in the chart's history.

Above Vandross on the chart are Alicia Keys, who holds at No. 1 for a 10th week with "You Don't Know My Name," and the Ruben Studdard song "Sorry 2004," which stays at No. 2 and trails Keys by a mere 10 detections.

In addition to the top three, J bows the second single from Keys, "If I Ain't Got You," at No. 33, giving the imprint the most songs (five) on the chart this week, as Vandross' stalwart "Dance With My Father" is still on the chart at No. 18.

Further down the adult R&B list, "Losing My Mind" by Trina Broussard (Universal/UMRG) debuts at No. 39. It's the first appearance by the artist since she took "Inside My Love" from the "Love Jones" soundtrack to No. 22 in 1997.

WOMEN SCORE TRIPLE-A HAT TRICK

For the first time in the eight-year history of the triple-A chart, the top three songs on the list are by female acts. Melissa Etheridge's "Breathe" (IDJMG) moves into the top spot with a 26% increase in spins, pushing Norah Jones' "Sunrise" (EMC) 1-2 despite an 8% spin increase. Rounding out the trio is the Indigo Girls with "Perfect World" (Epic), which climbs 5-3.

For Etheridge, "Breathe" represents her second triple-A No. 1. "Angels Would Fall" spent three weeks at No. 1 in October 1999.

The back-to-back No. 1s by Jones and Etheridge mark the first time since 1997 that female artists have had consecutive chart-toppers. In June of that year, Abra Moore's "Four Leaf Clover" held the No. 1 spot and yielded a week later to Sheryl Crow's "A Change Would Do You Good."

The streak extended to three female No. 1s in a row when Sarah McLachlan's "Building a Mystery" bumped Crow from the pole position six weeks later.

SIMPSON SCORES HER FIRST NO. 1

Jessica Simpson earns her first Airplay Monitor No. 1, as "With You" moves to the top of the mainstream top 40 chart. The track bumps "The Way You Move" by OutKast Featuring Sleepy Brown from No. 1 even though the latter song is up slightly in detections.

Simpson gives Columbia Records its first Beyoncé-free No. 1 (including her work with Destiny's Child) since Savage Garden's "I Knew I Loved You" topped the chart in January 2000.

'YEAH!' EXTENDS DETECTIONS RECORD

"Yeah!" by Usher Featuring Lil Jon & Ludacris (Arista) holds at No. 1 on the rhythmic top 40 chart for a third week and extends the mark for detections at the format. With the 4,359 detections that "Yeah!" posted on the previous chart, the song moved past "Baby Boy" from Beyoncé Featuring Sean Paul (Columbia), which peaked at 4,308 detections in October. This issue, "Yeah!" adds to its mark as it increases to 4,426 spins.

On the R&B/hip-hop chart, "Yeah!" ends the five-week reign of "Slow Jamz" by Twista Featuring Kanye West & Jamie Foxx at No. 1. The track is the fourth No. 1 at the format for Usher, who will celebrate 10 years of hits on the Monitor charts in October. Ludacris and Lil Jon take their second trip to the top of that chart, as both featured artists earned their first No. 1s within the past six months with "Stand Up" and "Damn!," respectively.

LONESTAR POSTS HIGH DEBUT

Lonestar posts its highest debut in nearly three years—and its second-highest ever—as "Let's Be Us Again" (BNA) takes the Hot Shot Debut at No. 43 on the country airplay chart.

The track is the group's highest arrival on the chart since "I'm Already There" opened at No. 42 in April 2001 on its way to spending six weeks at No. 1 later that year.

The country chart shows little movement in its upper reaches, with no new titles moving into the top 10 or top 20. SheDaisy's "Passenger Seat" (Lyric Street) is the only title to crack the top 30, where it advances 32-29.
