Modern Rock Starts The Most Hits At A More-Balanced Top 40

Two years ago, for a record to have started at modern rock was as much a hindrance as a boon to its prospects at mainstream top 40. But this fall, modern rock radio has again become the format where the greatest number of mainstream top 40 hits chart first, ending, by a slim margin, a twoyear period in which mainstream top 40 was starting more of its own hits than any other format. In a sign that mainstream top 40 is becoming more balanced than it has been in years, R&B radio, rhythinic top 40, triple-A, and country have also increased the number of hits they send mainstream top 40 over the past six months.

Airplay Monitor analyzed where each of the mainstream top 40 hits from our Nov. 20 issue had first charted. When you include ties, modern rock was first on 12 titles and first outright on nine. That's up from nine songs in total and seven outright from when we last looked at the subject in April. It's also the first time the format has spawned crossovers in the double digits since April 1996, when it was first on 12 songs in total and 10 outright.

Mainstream top 40, by contrast, was first on 11 songs including ties and six outright. That's down from 15 total and 11 outright in the spring but comparable to its 11 total/eight out-

Out Of The Breach: Westwood One Drops Suit Against Casey Kasem, AMFM

BY JEFF SILBERMAN

A spokesperson for AMFM Radio Networks says that rival Westwood One has quietly dropped its $10 million breach-of-contract lawsuit against Casey Kasem and AMFM. The suit originally alleged that Kasem illegally left Westwood One in 1998 to relaunch his "American Top 40" for AMFM.

Jacor's rhythmic top 40 outlet WMAX (Jam'n 107) Rochester, N.Y., which would have lost its coverage of that market as a result of the pending city-of-license swap with modern sister WNVE, is now simulcasting on the frequency of soft AC sister WYSY. The latter station was being simulcast on WISY, where the soft AC format continues.

Longtime adult top 40 outlet WJRZ Ocean County, N.J., flips to country. That station had been either mainstream or adult top 40 since the mid-

KRLA Los Angeles, one of the last long-running music AMs, officially made its previously announced flip to N/T Nov. 29. The station launched as a top 40 from a Pasadena, Calif., hotel in 1959. Dick "Huggy Boy" Hugg, a 48-year air personality, played "That's All" by thee Midnighters as the final tune. Hugg, 70, segues to oldies sister KRTH (K-Earth 101) for late nights.

KLYV Dubuque, Iowa, adopts the Live 105 handle. PD Scott Thomas is on the lookout for a morning co-host and someone to replace automation in middays

Dan Mason, PD of AC WHFB (B99) Benton Harbor, Mich., is the new PD/p.m. driver at WFAT Kalamazoo, Mich., replacing Mike McClain, who exits to pursue station ownership. WFAT, which segued to top 40 last year, returns to the hot AC side. B99's Deb Stuart

With rumors continuing to circulate about an imminent change to R&B oldies at adult top 40 WBIX (Big 105) New York, that station was, at press time, billing itself on-air as "New York's modern hits." In other New York market rumors, both the New York Daily News and Newsday say that adult standards WQEW could be sold to ABC, becoming the New York flagship for children's top 40 network Radio Disney.

PROGRAMMING: NEW ALLIANCES

Bob Davis, most recently the PD of modern adult KALC St. Louis, has announced an association with the Randy Lane Co. Davis, who has been doing some consulting of his own since leaving KALC, will continue to work with his own clients, but he will also be available to Randy Lane's stations.

Amid widespread speculation about the fate of his former employer, the Research Group (and its Virtual Radio product), Mike Anthony is now working with Seattle-based Broadcast Programming's AC, hot AC, and top 40 clients. Anthony assumes the duties held by Casey Keating before his return to the PD chair at KPLZ Seattle. Modern adult outlet KLLY Bakersfield, Calif., is looking for a PD and morning co-host to replace Mark McKay and Bill Fox, respectively. According to KLLY sources, the duo is headed for top 40 WBHT Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

12-Year CBS Veteran Stan Main Tries To Keep The Beat Hot In Austin

If there ever were a Webster's Dictionary of the Radio World, you'd see rhythmic top 40 KQBT (the Beat) Austin, Texas, listed as the definition for the phrase "auspicious debut." How else would you describe the 7.8 12-plus share it pulled in its sign-on book last summer? Furthermore, its presence didn't harm modern adult and soft AC sisters KAMX (Mix 94.7) and KKMJ (Magic 95.5), but it certainly had an impact on heritage mainstream top 40 KHF1 (9.0-5.4).

CBS' Austin director of operations, Stan Main, a 12-year company veteran who once programmed rock titan WCMF Rochester, N.Y., admits that even he was taken aback by the Beat's reception. "We were definitely surprised that the station outperformed our expectations," he says. "Coleman Research helped us with the research, which said there was a huge hole in the market for this type of music. But we didn't realize that the hole was larger than our target demo of women 18-34. We also finished fourth in women 25-54, with KKM] second and KAMX third.

Stan Main
Director of Operations
CBS, Austin, Texas

'We want to make the Beat a bit more adult-friendly and continue to grow'

"With the addition of the Beat, CBS Austin has gone from third or fourth in the market to No. 1 in just about every demo," he adds. "The Mix and Magic hardly missed a beat, and we're excited about maximizing our potential without cannibalizing each other."

What's even more remarkable is that KQBT's big bang was detonated without a major marketing campaign. "We just distributed some bumper stickers in our listening area," Main says. "We got some coverage in the local papers, but not a lot on TV. It was all through word-of-mouth. We just went in tight and right and just waxed the competition."

CBS posse, especially KQBT and KAMX, certainly worked the classic squeeze play on KHFI. "The stations were designed to go up against both sides of KHFI," Main notes. "Each station took a little off the ends of their audience. KHFI initially tried to block us, but there wasn't a lot a they could do without abandoning their mainstream position."

Main credits recently departed PD Rick Thomas for creating the right mix of rhythmic currents, old-school titles, and hip-hop. "He did an excellent job of creating an old-school flavor to a music mix where the passion is driven by currents," he says. "Although I don't have the specifics, I'd imagine that rap comprises no more than 30% of the titles, and it's probably significantly less than that. Regardless, we haven't seen any negative feedback to the music we've played."

Here's a sample hour on KQBT: Nicole, "Make It Hot"; Notorious B.I.G., "Hypnotize"; BLACKstreet Featuring Mya, "Take Me There"; Planet Soul, "Set You Free"; Aaliyah, "Are You That Somebody?"; Zapp & Roger, "Computer Love"; Monica, "The First Night"; Cynthia, "If I Had The Chance"; Uncle Sam, "I Don't Ever Want To See You Again"; Collage, "Love Of A Lifetime"; Brandy, "Have You Ever"; Mase, "Looking At Me"; and Tag Team, "Whoomp! (There It Is)."

"We've been very fortunate to have an abundance of good music to play," Main says. "If we do hit a [hit supply] lull in the future, we can look at some of the stuff we're passing on now. We can use some of the records that might test unfamiliar but can still generate a passion in the listeners."

Main just hired new PD, Scooter Stevens, to succeed Thomas, who decided to return to his roots in southern California as PD for adult R&B XHRM San Diego. "Rick didn't think he'd be here for that long of a time, but as it turned out, he didn't stay as long as even he thought he would," Main says. "He has his reasons for moving on. It's not easy to program a start-up when you're lovesick at the same time. The long-distance thing wasn't happening for him, and he wanted to work closer to his home. I can understand that. Even though I'm a bit disappointed, he's a great guy who was able to broaden the station while staying focused on our target."

Although its target is 18-34 females, the Beat is naturally drawing a lot of teens, too. Main isn't concerned that its teen appeal would scare off some advertisers. "There's plenty of revenue in this market for our demos and the teens," he says. "The station is already meeting its budget, so we're very excited."

The station is currently running 10 spots an hour, but Main wouldn't be concerned about clutter if he decides to add more. "The station is relatively clutter-free right now, so I could see us adding more [spots]," he says. "What's the magic number of spots we could run? That depends on what the market is doing. We pay attention to what our competitors are running, and we're good enough programmers to run one or two more spots and get away with it.

"Our current strategy is to continue to broaden the station," he adds. "The cume is already very healthy. Now we want to make the Beat a little bit more adult-friendly and just let it continue to grow. Remember, we've only been on the air for 180 days, and there are still a lot of people in the market who have never heard us. The jocks have been on the air for only 90 days, and we're just starting our marketing campaign."

Even so, Main is aware that the Beat could lose many of the samplers who temporarily listen to any new station; he's passed along that perspective to the staff. "We've definitely talked quite a bit about there possibly being a drop in the fall," he says. "We're not expecting it, but we are preparing for it. Yet there are definite ways, if the cards fall in our favor, that we can maintain our debut. There are still plenty of growth areas to exploit. We took apart the [summer] book and found some cells that are still not hip to the station. So if we do lose the incredibly long TSL from our core, we can make it up in cume. Rick did a great job in keeping the station fresh, and if we continue to stay that way, there's no telling how high we might go." Recently, KAMX got new competition of its own when modern KFMK switched to rhythmic oldies, aimed at some of the adults KQBT hopes to capture.

As programmer of WCMF Rochester during its five-year heyday, when it routinely hit double digits 12-plus, Main firmly believes that KQBT can reach similarly lofty heights. "It definitely can happen," he asserts. "I haven't moved up our timetable because of our [better-than-expected] start. Our timing was just right for the summer book. We pulled a lot of teens in middays, whom we probably won't have in the fall. We'll take some hits there, but in the long run, I'm certain this station has not reached its high-water mark."

gether and four songs outright in the spring. That format was followed by modern adult (which was first on six songs altogether but only one song outright), mainstream R&B (five songs altogether, four songs outright), adult top 40 (four songs, but all of them shared with other formats), triple-A (three songs altogether, one song outright), country (two songs, both of them exclusives), and AC and mainstream rock (each with one exclusive song).

MUCH MORE MODERN

Modern rock was first to chart top 40's current hits by Third Eye Blind, Shawn Mullins, Eve 6, Semisonic, Fastball, and New Radicals. It was first on both Goo Goo Dolls hit records, as well as matchbox 20's "Real World." It was tied for first on chart hits from Alanis Morissette, Barenaked Ladies,

The fortunes of mainstream top 40 and modern rock have reversed, with top 40 rebounding and modern rock losing stations and, to some extent, audience share' and Eagle-Eye Cherry. Its lead on titles that eventually charted at mainstream top 40 ranged from three weeks (in the case of "Iris") to five months on Eve 6 and more than three months on Semisonic and Fast-

Not only was modern rock earliest on a larger number of hits, it was earliest on the largest number of major top 40 hits. On the chart we examined, the top six hits at mainstream top 40 all began at modern rock, five of them outright.

When modern rock last dominated these stats, the broadcast dial was much different. Modern AC was only a few months old as an identifiable format. Modern rock stations were still popping up in any market that didn't already have one and in some that did. Mainstream top 40 was, after five to seven years of decline, only beginning to rebuild its station base, and the top 40 dance boom, prompted by the success of WKTU New York, was brand new.

Since then, the fortunes of mainstream top 40 and modern rock have reversed, with top 40 rebounding and modern rock losing radio stations and, to some extent, audience share. That, combined with the initial decision by some modern rock stations to go harder and set themselves apart from modern AC and top 40, managed to stem the flow of modern-totop 40 crossovers. So did the rise of the teenoriented pop groups and the record industry's realization that it wasn't always necessary to start a top 40 hit at another format to sell al-

But now, enough modern rock outlets are leaning to the poppier side, as a result of modern AC's presence, that the modern format is again laying claim to some acts that previously might have been ceded to modern adult, i.e., New Radicals or Cherry. (Modern AC, by the way, was tied for first on tracks by Morissette, Barenaked Ladies, Sheryl Crow, Jewel, and Edwin McCain. It was first outright on "Back To Good." Not only does that represent a significant change from a year ago, when modern AC was first on only one title, but it's also the first time that the format has been first on any one song outright. This time, it was adult top 40 that had only four ties to its credit: tracks by Morissette, Crow, Jewel, and McCain. Triple-A, meanwhile, was tied on tracks by Morissette and Cherry and first outright on Everything's

WHAT DOES MAINSTREAM OWN?

The increased presence of titles on mainstream top 40 stations that started at modern rock also reflects the public concern expressed by some PDs about the format's heavy reliance on dance/pop and teen acts. Those have become the two genres that mainstream top 40 owns outright, perhaps explaining why there were fewer top 40 exchisives this time.

Top 40 was first on hits by Jennifer Paige, Britney Spears, 98°, the Backstreet Boys, and Madonna, as well as 'N Sync's "Tearing Up My Heart." It was tied on 'N Sync's "(God Must Have Spent) A Little More Time On You," as well as hits by Jewel, All Saints, Morissette, and Will Smith ("Miami").

After yielding an unusually low number of crossovers in the spring, rhythmic top 40 rebounded in the fall. It was first to chart songs from Brandy, Monifah, Shaggy & Janet, Divine, and Will Smith ("Just The Two Of Us"). It was tied on hits by All Saints and Janet ("Go Deep"), as well as "Miami" and "(God Must Have Spent) A Little More Time On

GOING DEEP(ER) ON R&B

Mainstream R&B, a format that only started one record on the mainstream top 40 chart at this time last year, was more influential at top 40 this fall than at any other time in the 21/2 years that we've been analyzing the issue of where records start. It was tied on "Go Deep" and first outright on hits by Aaliyah, Monica, Nicole, and Lauryn Hill. (Adult R&B, which was first on one title during the spring, was first on none this time around.)

Mainstream top 40's greater acceptance of R&B product probably reflects the lessened availability of (or greater resistance to) dance/pop product, as well as the greater emphasis on R&B product on the rhythmic top 40 chart. It probably also helped that there were more midtempo-to-uptempo R&B hits this year, after a period when many of the biggest R&B hits were either rap or ballads.

This doesn't mean the trip from R&B to mainstream top 40 is necessarily a speedy one. The fastest R&B hit to chart at mainstream top 40 was "Go Deep," which charted five weeks after its R&B debut. None of the other R&B-to-top 40 crossovers made the mainstream top 40 chart in less than 10 weeks. Nicole's "Make It Hot," in particular, took 21 weeks to cross over-more weeks than any other record from any format.

TOP 40 HAS FAITH IN COUNTRY

It was big news last fall when LeAnn Rimes' "How Do I Live" broke country's four-year cold streak at mainstream top 40. This year, the big news is that country has been represented at mainstream top 40 for more than a year. And that for the first time since the early '80s, country is represented by two titles at mainstream top 40.

Unlike in the spring, when country radio charted Shania Twain's "You're Still The One" as an album cut but didn't make it a hit until after pop radio was on board, country clearly had exclusive possession of both Twain's "From This Moment On" and Faith Hill's "This Kiss," both of which charted at country radio many months before crossing

AC EMBRACES CELINE SOLUTION

In the spring, AC could lay claim to being first on only one record, but it was Celine Dion's "My Heart Will Go On." This time, it is first on the R. Kelly/Dion duet, "I'm Your Mainstream rock was also first, by a week, on one mega-hit, Aerosmith's "I Don't Want To Miss A Thing." It was first on two titles, one outright in the spring.

Top 40's Audience Has A Back Story

It used to be that only an oldies programmer had to know his audience's back story. And that was a pretty simple one. If listeners graduated high school before 1971 or so, they'd grown up with top 40 in its first heyday, and their musical frame of reference was roughly the same as everybody else their age. If they came of age after 1971, they were more likely to be classic rock partisans. (In the same way that rap was thought to represent a generational split in the early '90s, "acid rock," which included everything from Led Zeppelin to the Doors, was thought to be the dividing line here.)

But now that mainstream top 40 is considered an adult format by so many programmers, the audience's musical history is suddenly important. Over the past year, I've started to believe that modern adult crossovers have become a major factor, because they remind '70s babies of the singer/songwriters and Southern rockers that they grew up with. Those listeners weren't necessarily on board for top 40's mid-'80s revival; many of them went straight from rock radio to country (when it was filling the Southern rock niche) to top 40, where they became fans of Hootie & the Blowfish, Sister Hazel, matchbox 20, etc.

Those listeners weren't necessarily prime candidates for top 40, but they discovered the format as a result of their kids. In between those 15-year-olds and their 40-year-old moms are listeners with widely varying frames of musical reference, especially those who came of age during the last decade, when top 40 was constantly revising its musical position.

It's hard to nail down the years exactly, but here's a look at how radio evolved over the past 25 years and how listeners' tastes would have been affected as a result. The time lines are approximate, and the generalities are broad, I realize. Not everybody fits this time line, but a surprising number of people do. As always, your thoughts are welcome.

1973-78: For the kids who hit adolescence during this period, album rock is the common denominator. They probably know the poppier hits of AM's declining years, but those aren't the songs they're passionate about, judging from the problems that most '70s oldies stations had getting anything except classic rock to test during that format's brief life span.

1978-79: Disco reclaims a lot of the women and some of the guys, usually those who were interested in picking them up. Outside New York, listeners aren't expected to know the disco that didn't cross to top 40, but there are at least a few records still showing up on radio's radar now ("Mandolay," "It's Raining Men," etc.) that weren't top 40 hits at the time.

1980-81: With the disco backlash, AOR again becomes the dominant musical frame of reference for several years, except in the Southwest, where the first wave of disco stations become the first wave of churbans, playing the last funk records, the first rap hits, and laying the foundation for the old-school revival many years later. Top 40 is so weakened during this period that even its biggest hits have never shown up on the radio again. (Anybody heard 'Physical" or "Bette Davis Eyes" as a retro cut lately, much less "Hearts On Fire" by Randy Meisner?)

1982-83: The early MTV not only sets a stage for top 40's comeback but also makes for another set of common-denominator records, mostly modern rock titles, that aren't played at 1983-86: Top 40's revival is a relatively cohesive musical experience for many, particularly because it brings pop/rock and R&B back under one tent for a few years. There are a surprising number of people who didn't think the 80s were such a watershed, but most of them wouldn't have been top 40 listeners anyway. The only reason they even know the pop music of the day is because AOR, without many hits of its own, was force-feeding them Duran Duran and Lionel Richie for a short while.

1986-90: The Rhythm Years, Part 1: The rise of KPWR (Power 106) Los Angeles makes dance/pop the dominant music in the West and Southwest and a major force everywhere else. Hip-hop moves on to top 40's radar screen. R&B, after a few years of synth domination, becomes grittler with the rise of the "new-jack swing" movement. With the advent of rhythmic AC, then the recent rise of KCMG (Mega 100) L.A., many of these songs are returning to the radio for the first time in 1990-92: The Rhythm Years, Part II: As hiphop gets harder, the top 40 coalition splinters. Top 40 stations are bailing or segueing to hot AC. The hits that come from this period are often like the hits from the early '80s; they were heard by fewer people and aren't likely to be as well-remembered. (Quick, name the followup to Marky Mark & the Funky Bunch's "Good Vibrations" without looking it up.) By the end of this period, most country hits are probably being heard by more listeners than the average top 40 hit, even without multiformat airplay.

1993-1996: The Multitasking Years: We think of modern rock as setting the musical agenda in the years leading up to top 40's latest resurgence, but it's also a period when, more than any other, listeners were using multiple formats in a market trying to piece together the hits (unlike earlier, pre-consolidation lulls, when any given market wouldn't have had as many format choices). It was also a period when, for many people, MTV became the top 40 station, serving as the only place where you could get rock and rhythm in one package.

(One more note: surveying the last 25 years, I realize that my personal musical history bears little resemblance to anybody else's. Next week, an industry person's musical education.)

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detec tions. Airpower awarded to those records that attain 900 detections for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks, @ 1998, Billboard/BPI Comr

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records that attain 400 detections for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. © 1998, Billboard/BPI Communications.

The chart and Power Playlists, reprinted from Rock Airplay Monitor, are based on a national sample of data compiled by Broadcast Data Systems' Radio Track service. 77 modern rock stations are electronically monitored 24 hours a

* * * No. 1 * * *

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records that attain 1,100 detections for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. ©1998, Billboard/BPI Communications.

—) Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on either chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records that attain 7,000 detections (mainstream) or 600 detections (rhythm) for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.
