Virtual Radio: Is It Coming To An Air Shift Near You?

by Jeff Silberman

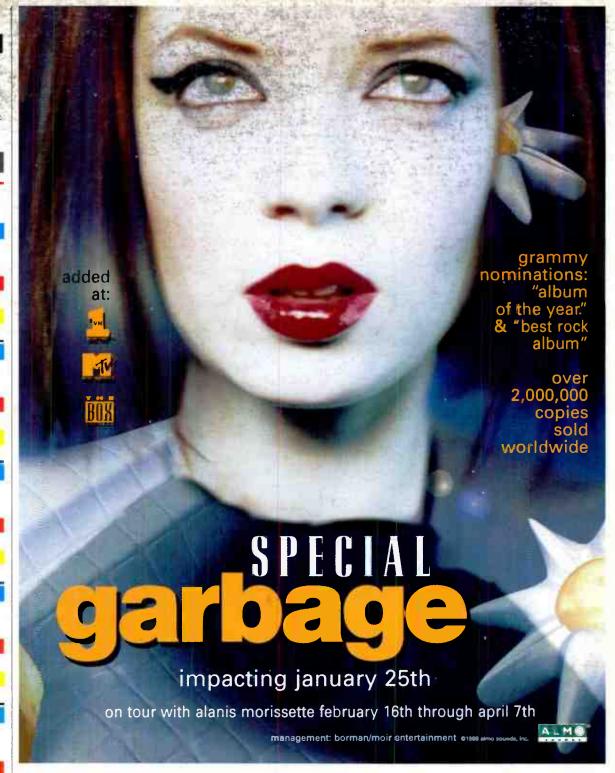

The use of multi-market automation, or Virtual Radio, continued its march across the deregulated radio landscape last week, and the players involved large and small broadcast concerns alike. Jacor, a longtime advocate of sharing voice-tracks between different markets via ISDN, officially rolled out its previously reported Ohio-based country Buck-eye Network and launched a live oldies night shift based in Las Vegas. But even a veteran Oregon PD/announcer is now offering to voice-track dayparts to small- and medium-market stations.

With Virtual Radio's spread continuing, Top 40 Airplay Monitor talked to officials at Capstar. Citadel, and Jacor (which uses the same Prophet computer program as Capstar's Star System), as well as Portland, Ore., PD Bob Ancheta, about the inner workings of the new services, which may be coming to an air shift near you sooner than you think.

Jacor, like Capstar and other previous advocates of such automation, insists that the main benefit of voicetracked dayparts is bringing majormarket air personalities to smallmarket stations that couldn't otherwise afford such talent. Yet once the costs of hardware and infrastructure are assimilated, it's inevitable that another result will be. at the very least, considerable savings from using fewer night and overnight air talents. Indeed, PDs from other radio groups claim they've noticed an influx of recently beached Capstar and Jacor person-

Jacor's Buckeye Country network is made up of eight Ohio stations, from WGAR Cleveland and WCOL Columbus to outlets in such small markets as Lima and Marion. The Continued on page 6

FCC Report Cites Discrimination

by Frank Saxe

According to a report commissioned by the FCC, 91% of R&B and Hispanic radio stations say they have run into "no urban" or "no Spanish" dictates and that potential advertisers are advised by media buyers not to purchase spot time on their stations. Those guidelines, combined with lower rates charged to advertisers, reduced station revenues by an average of 63%, according to the study, which was released Jan.

FCC Chairman Bill Kennard said the findings suggest some advertisers are stuck in an outdated mind-set. "They do not recognize the purchasing power of minority consumers and the ability of minority-formatted stations to reach them," he said.

The report, which follows last year's leak of a racially derogatory memo by Katz Media, recommends that agencies adopt a code of conduct to oppose "unfair ad placement and payment, to encourage diversity in hiring and training, and to enforce laws against unfair business practices." Kennard will meet with Madison Avenue executives at a New York summit Feb. 22

The Los Angeles Times reported Jan. 14 that both Sen. Paul Wellstone (D-Minn.) and Rep. John Conyers (D-Mich.) were calling on the FCC to investigate whether recent deals between group broadcasters and labels skirt payola laws. Last month, the Times, following Top 40 Airplay Monitor's lead, reported a $237,000 promotional deal between A&M and Chancellor Media on behalf of artist Bryan Adams. Now, Conyers says, "the idea that radio stations may have invented new ways of accepting pay-for-play confirms my worst fears about merger mania.

For his part, FCC mass-media bureau enforcement chief Charles Kelly tells the Times, "We have not made a decision yet as to what course we will follow, but this is certainly an area that we could pursue.'

The Times article also touches on the exclusivity deal between Cumulus Broadcasting and independent promoter Jeff McClusky. Following last week's Monitor Profile on the controversial deal, Jefferson-Pilot VP of prograinming Don Benson called to take issue with McClusky's assertion that J-P previously had some form of group deal with an independent. "At no point in Jefferson-Pilot's history have we had any kind of group deal with an independent," he states. "Individual stations may have had and may still have rela-tionships with certain independents, but nothing on a group level.'

FORMATS: NEW PARTY IN ORLANDO

At a time when some industryites are again beginning to doubt the staying power of top 40, as well as the need for dance music in the rhythmic format, it's news when somebody signs on a traditional Hispanic-leaning rhythmic outlet. At 5 p.m. Jan. 15, Cox Radio crashed into WTLN Orlando, Fla., with Luke's "Raise The Roof," as WPYO (95.3 Party), under the helm of VP/GM Rich Reis, PD Phil Michaels Trueba (now using his real last name), and consultant Bill Tanner. (Reis' son, Jason, will also be involved in the new station in some capacity.) Expect to hear a new air staff within three weeks. Eric Edwards from KPWR (Power 106) Los Angeles is the voice of the station.

Here's a sample hour on the new Party: Jay-Z, "Can 1 Get A..."; Lauryn Hill, "Can't Take My Eyes Off Of You"; Proyecto Uno, "Quiero Seguir Balando"; RuPaul, "Supermodel (You Better Work)"; Monifah, "Touch It"; Rockell, "In A Dream"; Will Smith, "Miami"; Freak Nasty, "Da Dip"; Stars On 54, "If You Could Read My Mind"; 'N Sync, "Tearin' Up My Heart"; Elvis Crespo, "Suavamente"; 2Pac, "Changes"; La Bouche, "Sweet Dreams"; Cher, "Believe"; TLC, "Silly Ho"; Puff Daddy, "Ain't Nothin' Gonna Hold Me Down"; and 69 Boyz, "Tootsie Roll."

In other format news, Radio One, owner of

R&B/crossover outlets WKYS Washington, D.C., WERQ (92Q) Baltimore, and WDTJ Detroit, among others, launches its first non-R&B FM, as classic rock WWBR Detroit becomes mainstream AC 102.7 Kiss-FM, offering "the best variety of light rock from the '70s and '80s." Meanwhile at 92Q, late-nighter Dion Summers adds APD stripes, replacing Frank Ski. WERQ's morning job, which was originally to have been filled by Tony Richards, remains open.

CITADEL SELLS, WAITS TO CLOSE

As part of its plan to focus on larger markets, Citadel Broadcasting is selling 25 radio stations in Billings, Mont.; Tri-Cities, Wash.; Eugene and Medford, Ore.; and State College and Johnstown, Pa., to Marathon Media for $26 million. The lone top 40 in the transaction is WGLU Johnstown. Once the deal is approved, Citadel will own stations in 20 midsize markets. Separately, the FCC has delayed approving Citadel's proposed purchase of Wicks Broadcasting's five Binghamton, N.Y., stations, citing concentration concerns. The $77 million deal was announced in November; it also included eight stations in Charleston, S.C., including top 40 WSSX and three stations in central Indiana.

Veteran Divas Back On The Charts

ORIGINAL DIVAS: In February 1979, both Blondie and Cher were riding high on Billboard's Hot 100 chart with uncharacteristically disco-tinged hit singles. Blondie's "Heart Of Glass" eventually hit No. 1, and Cher's "Take Me Home" rose to No. 8.

This issue, the reunited Blondie debuts at adult top 40 with "Maria" (Beyond), the group's first chart appearance in the Monitor era. Blondie had nine songs chart on Billboard's Hot 100 in the late '70s and early '80s, including the No. 1's "Heart Of Glass," "Call Me," "The Tide Is High," and "Rapture." It last charted with "Island Of Lost Souls," which peaked at No. 37 in summer 1982. Sharing the adult top 40 chart with Blondie is Cher's "Believe," which also debuts at rhythmic top 40 this issue. Besides putting Cher back on all three top 40 charts, the song marks her first chart appearance in Monitor since "One By One," which peaked at No. 9 at AC and No. 29 on adult top 40 in the summer of 1006.

40 in the summer of 1996.

Evelyn "Champagne" King was also on the charts in winter '79 with "1 Don't Know If It's Right," the follow-up to her breakthrough, "Shame." She hasn't been seen on the pop charts since her January 1986 Hot 100 appearance with "Your Personal Touch" but continued to have R&B hits into the late '80s. After a decade's absence from the charts, King makes her first Monitor appearance on a Monitor chart, debuting at rhythmic top 40 as a featured artist on Sweetbox's reworking of her 1982 hit, "Love Come Down" (RCA).

NEXT IS NOW (STILL): Quick, name the chart for which PDs are willing to hold on to the hits for an entire year. Your first answer to that one is probably AC or adult top 40. But this issue, Next's 'Too Close" (Arista) hits the one-year mark on the rhythmic top 40 chart. One notch up, Aaliyah's "Are You That Somebody" clings to the rhythmic chart for its 31st week.

1T'S BEEN 21 WEEKS since Barenaked Ladies weren't in the top 10 of the adult top 40 chart, and that streak won't be interrupted, even now that the group's "One Week" falls out of the top 10 after 20 weeks. It's replaced by their follow-up, "It's All Been Done" (Reprise), which is up 14-10 this issue on the adult chart.

Kelly Helps KXXM Crash San Antonio's Party With Mainstream Hits

At this time of year, most programmers are sitting on pins and needles, waiting for the next important Arbitron book to come out. But few PDs are as confident of the outcome as that of KXXM (Mix 96.1) San Antonio. Under PD Krash Kelly, the station signed on last fall and has made an immediate impact, debuting at 3.0, then jumping to 5.3 in the next Arbitrend. "We're excited about getting the fall book," he says. "Our latest extrapolated numbers have our cume at a quarter-million, No. 2 in the market."

The reason Mix has met with such favor out of the box is the fact that San Antonio hadn't had a mainstream top 40 in years. That hole convinced Kelly to give up the job he loved: PD of KHFI Austin, Texas. "I was very comfortable there, and I had no reason to leave," he says of the Clear Channel sister station. "I was excited about joining the battle with [new rhythmic rival] KQBT. Then I heard through the Clear Channel grapevine of their property in San Antonio [formerly R&B KSJL], but I didn't throw my hat into the ring until I heard what format they wanted the new station to be. I couldn't understand how a market the size of San Antonio [No. 34] didn't have a mainstream top 40, as well as a modern adult and a modern rock."

KXXM's music mix is classic top 40—the best of everything, with an ever-so-slight lean to rock. "We just added Will Smith's 'Miami' a week or two ago," he says. "It was already a top 10 song before we added it. On the other hand, we're earlier on Everclear's 'Father Of Mine' and matchbox 20's 'Back 2 Good,' which are essence songs on our station. Shawn Mullins wouldn't be exposed in San Antonio if Mix 96.1 wasn't here."

Here's a typical hour on KXXM: Britney Spears, "... Baby One More Time"; Dave Matthews Band, "Crash"; Everclear, "Father Of Mine"; Enigma, "Sadeness"; Sugar Ray, "Fly"; Barenaked Ladies, "It's All Been Done"; TLC, "Waterfalls"; Sheryl Crow, "My Favorite Mistake"; Cardigans, "Lovefool"; matchbox 20, "Back 2 Good"; Semisonic, "Closing Time"; 'N Sync, "(God Must Have Spent) A Little More Time On You"; Midnight Oil, "Beds Are Burning"; Donna Lewis, "I Love You Always Forever"; Marcy Playground, "Sex And Candy"; and Prince, "Kiss."

Kelly is putting the finishing touches on Mix's first call-out research package to find out if he's totally in tune with his 16-34 female core. "In our preliminary research, we discovered that most of our songs had not been exposed in San Antonio but had been penetrated by [modern adult] KAMX Austin, which at one point had a 4 share here. Then last year they moved their transmitter to Austin proper, and they lost their coverage here. Soon after they moved out, we moved in."

In terms of competition, "there really isn't one individual station to focus on," Kelly says. "We may share 20% of our list with [heritage rhythmic top 40] KTFM, but in reality the hot AC KSMG [Magic 105.3] moved more in a direction to block us. Apparently, they're worried about us taking away the younger end of their target demo, so they've added songs by Fastball, Alanis Morissette, and Sarah McLachlan."

Kelly expects the positive showing of the first two trends to continue into the imminent fall book. The trick now is to turn samplers into core listeners. "Our strategy is to keep them entertained, keep the music hot and fresh, and do fun promotions on the radio. We just started a birthday cash-giveaway game, where we give away smaller amounts of money more often."

Kelly prefers having more winners win small

Kelly prefers having more winners win small cash prizes than one winner taking a huge sum. "Most people don't actually believe that they'll win a million dollars or whatever they give away in Publishers Clearinghouse," he says. "That why, when Magic ran a $10,000 lumpsum cash contest right as we signed on, it generated almost no market buzz. I believe people can grasp the notion of winning if they see a lot of people winning anywhere from $400 to $1,000. We can make a lot more people happy for a longer period of time. And the response has already been strong for our contest."

has already been strong for our contest."

Helping to spur Mix's out-of-the-box impact has been the piecemeal hiring of an air staff. "Top 40 stations build from the night show back," Kelly notes. "And our night show, hosted by MD Duncan James, is already No. 2 12-plus. The last piece of our puzzle has been mornings, where, after having half our morning show suddenly leave for personal reasons, we just hired his replacement, Dean Novak, who was doing swing work at country KATM Modesto, Calif. Previously, he was part of KRAK Sacramento, Calif.'s morning show. Our surviving co-host, Deb Ireland, knew him, so we talked to him, and he got it—he understood the format, what our goals were, and has the right attitude about being a team player. We auditioned him on the air last week, and he and Deb sounded awesome together.

"Mornings will be a challenge," he continues. "KTFM has a very established morning show with Dr. Drex and his crew, but it's all talk and a bit risqué, which may embarrass mothers taking their kids to school. We're going to put on a morning show that plays a lot of music and does fun things. We'll get in and out of bits quickly, then go back to the music—inform, entertain, and play the hits."

Another reason to look forward to the book is that it will finally give the station's sales staff some Arbitron numbers to show the agencies. "The agency business has been thin, because we had no full book underneath us," Kelly says. "We've strictly been selling off the buzz of the station. Fortunately, people in town have been thrilled with us. Everywhere you go, you can hear the station."

Helping fuel the street buzz is a massive bill-board campaign, which has been in place since day one, and a TV campaign that will hit the air next week. "We've already refreshed the billboard campaign by putting them in different places and changing others. We're emphasizing the logo, being 'all new,' and offering 'to-day's best music.' You can't drive anywhere without seeing one."

After 10 years in radio, Kelly has adjusted his future goals to suit the new corporate radio era. "When I started, I expected to hop from market to market. Now I expect to stay with this company, which takes care of its people and gives them the opportunity to move up in the organization. They've been very good to me, so I can focus on what's happening right now and make Mix the best possible station for San Antonio. If something else comes down the road, I'll evaluate the situation then. But for now, my goal is to make my 401(k) as high as I can."

Virtual Radio: Is It Coming To An Air Shift Near You?

"hub" station that cuts all the voice work is WCOL. All stations will have their own morning shows; some will also have local midday and, at a couple of stations, afternoon talent. But voice-tracking will rule nights and overnights. "As far as I know, most of the people doing the voice-tracking work at WCOL and even [top 40 sister] WNCI," says Jacor national program coordinator Sean Comp-

Those jocks will customize the night's voicetracks for each participating station. The lead time for liner copy can be anywhere from the day before to a few hours before broadcast. "The [local-station] PDs have to ensure that [the voice-tracks] sound localized, so they have to work with the talent to make sure they pronounce the names of area towns and landmarks correctly, mention events going on in their market, and so on," Compton notes. "One thing [Jacor's] Randy Michaels taught us as we moved forward with this is to never forget to wrap your arms around the community.

Capstar's Star System, which serves a variety of formats, including top 40 and country, has hubs in Austin, Texas, and Fort Lauderdale. Fla., to service mainly stations from Capstar's Gulfstar division and a few owned by the Southern Star division. The stations decide how many shifts they want tracked. Lead time for voice-tracking can be anywhere from a few hours to two days in advance. The jocks can change [the tracks] on the fly as well, in case something important happens in the market.

What's different: The jocks who do the voice-tracking work only for the Star System and not at any other Capstar station. "Some flocks can track four to six shifts at once. Capstar senior VP of programming Jack Taddeo says. "It depends on the station's format. A jock can do six to eight stop-sets at the same time for stations that do 10 in a row, but not as many for the more interactive, personality

Another slight difference: While each Capstar station programs its own music, Jacor stations in the Buckeye network have the option to air music programmed from WCOL

Taddeo estimates cost savings to small-market stations of about 20% over using local air talent. However, he also cites the high cost of the Prophet system. "There's a considerable upfront investment to build a studio, hire the air talent, and procure the Internet servers to build a wide-area network," he says. "The [bottom line] doesn't look that good at the end of the first year, but this is a long-term project.

Compton says that, so far, most of those affected by the Buckeye network will "assume other duties. We can shrink the jock's shifts. Instead of doing four- or five-hour shifts, they'll do two-hour shifts and spend more time doing remotes and promotions.

BABY STEPS QUICKLY

Jacor's other new project, tentatively titled the Kool Network, is made up of seven oldies stations in the West tied to a hub at KOOL Las Vegas. A live, four-hour show will broadcast from 7-11 p.m. PST from the Stratosphere hotel/casino.

All music will be programmed in Las Vegas, although the host will take requests from all stations via an 800 number. Compton notes that few if any night jobs will be lost, as several stations either had no night jocks or were start-ups. "We couldn't do this a few years ago, because the satellite cost was prohibitive,' he says. "Now that we own NSN satellite, we can afford to uplink our program and deliver

The oldies and country networks are not the first, nor will they be the last, steps in Jacor's long-term plans to streamline and exploit its programming. "Kool Oldies is the first non-talk live network programming we've done," Compton notes. "We have already been very successful with a gardening and home-improvement talk show in Ohio; we're starting the same thing up in Colorado and Wyoming. A lot of talk stations struggle to find quality talent for weekends. So last year, we began rotating talent, such as Roger Hedgecock from KOGO San Diego and Bill Cunningham from WLW Cincinnati, for nationwide weekend shifts. We're putting our best local talent on a national stage.

"1998 was the year we experimented with talk stations; this year we're going to experiment with everything else. We might try something for our top 40 stations, although nothing is definitively planned just yet. We have to be careful. We're going to take baby steps quickly."

Jacor is installing Prophet technology in all of its stations, so when it does create something for top 40, it can hit the air quickly and smoothly. Jacor personalities in a variety of formats have been approached about doing the work. "We intend to aggressively reward our key talent with intelligent cross-utilizations in all formats," Compton says.

Educating PDs on how to use the Prophet system is also key. Both Jacor and Capstar programmers travel to the Prophet Academy in Olgalalla, Neb, a two-hour drive east of Denver, where they train for two to four days. There can be additional training back at their stations.

CITADEL ADMITS VOICE-TRACKING

Paralleling the Jacor oldies show is Citadel's recent decision to use the overnight host of country WRKZ Harrisburg, Pa., on five other regional country outlets. According to VP of product development Scott Mahalick, Citadel has been voice-tracking dayparts for as many as 50 of its stations for up to five years. Although most of the voice-tracking was done within each station using DAT technology, classic rock KGGL Boise, Idaho, did use the Virtual Radio services of the Research Group; then, following the Research Group's much-publicized recent difficulties, it started handling all of its voice-tracking in-

That Citadel would use any multi-market networking might seem a little unusual since Citadel honcho Larry Wilson has long been a vocal advocate of local talent. And Mahalick himself is quick to note that Citadel still "believes live and local personalities will beat automation every time. We're very selective about where we track. It has to be the right competitive conditions. Tracked work still lacks the heart and soul of live talent. As far as the technology has progressed, we're still a few years off from seeing it perfected."

THE LITTLE GUYS FIGHT BACK

Voice-track technology isn't available only to mega-groups. Bob Ancheta, a 29-year Portland, Ore., air talent and programmer, has been voice-tracking for album KTWS (the Twins) Bend, Ore., as well as several foreigncountry programs, since last April. Now he's ready to expand and take on more clients.

Here's how he does it: Each night, he receives a fax from KTWS with a complete log for the next night's four-hour show. "I get weather updates, and I read the Bend newspaper off its Web page," he says. "It takes about 20 minutes to cut a four-hour show. The next morning, I use an MP3 encoder to shrink it down, then [transmit] them to the station's Web site by noon. There, the station downloads them into their automation and, boom, I'm there." The cost for his work: just $500 a month.

Ancheta, who is actively talking to interested small-market stations, has formed Internetiock.com and recruited the services of country KUPL Portland, Ore., vet Joe Casavetti: modern AC KINK Portland, Ore... middayer Cindy Hanson; 10-year classic rock talent Jolie Wolf: liner voice Eric Wright: and KTWS PD Ron Alvarez to handle future work.

Instead of fighting the onslaught of technology, Ancheta has decided to join it. "I got bounced around a lot myself," he says. "A lot of jocks are on the street due to automation

Is Research Making Top 40 Too Liberal?

It's something that you've heard probably since you got into radio, or at least since you worked at the first station big enough to be able to do research: "Find out what the audience wants and give it to them."

That's always been a truism in radio, perhaps radio's single biggest truism. But it hasn't always been true. In the late '80s, top 40 radio researched itself into a particularly tight corner by listening only to that rapidly shrinking number of P1 listeners who contributed the fabled 80% or so of its stations' quarter-hours. Eventually, it became clear that while PDs probably had a pretty good idea of what the core wanted, they had little sense of where the rest of their cume was going, or why, although they were all pretty sure it had something to do with rap.

A decade later, that phenomenon may be repeating itself. We've already seen research make some major-market top 40 stations a lot slower to move songs through the pipeline. Now, I'm also seeing a few major-market stations burn through their hits super-quickly, too. Songs that still seem strong nationally are already reduced to 10-12 spins a week, while songs that mentally strike me as belonging in the B's or a "power new" category are powers.

Until recently, I wouldn't have secondguessed these stations. I would have figured that these stations are immaculately researched and, clearly, their PDs were seeing something in their market that wasn't apparent to an outsider. Now, I'm wondering if some stations are being taken hostage by a relatively small number of super-active listeners, the ones left in the research pool because other P1s are becoming P2s again (while other P2s and P3s are wandering off, judging from the preliminary fall numbers). That theory would also explain why some PDs are seeing only the more "extreme" uptempo records testing, while the poppier stuff falls

In other words, I wonder if the people who are being asked what they like are, once again, asking for something that will further isolate them from the people who are not. The latter group are the people who make the difference between top 40 being a 5-share format and a 7-share format in a given market. They don't deserve to be super-served at the expense of the actives, a mistake top 40 has made before. But the format also can't let them wander off untended as it did a decade ago.

Country programmers have found themselves in a similar quandary in recent years. With their young end siphoned off by top 40 or modern AC, they've allowed the increasingly conservative listeners who remained to make the format even softer, thus ensuring the departure of any remaining 18-34s. After four years of this, the Country Radio Seminar finally commissioned research to find out where country's former listeners went and what it would take to get them back. Top 40 radio doesn't have as many listeners to lose as country PDs did and shouldn't wait for five years to start asking what its P2s are thinking.

My initial tendency is to suggest that research isn't serving the format very well right now and call for a research "timeout." But that's not very realistic and, besides, the second-biggest truism in top 40 is that research is only as good as the way it's used. It makes more sense to say that research—which always has to be taken in context-needs to be viewed in a particularly broad context for a while. That either means taking the picture with a wider-than-usual camera lens or merely being willing to temper the results with common sense until we have some idea of whether top 40's frustrating fall book is a wobble or some larger problem.

and voice-tracking. When groups pay so much for properties, inevitably nonessential air talent is the first to go. You have to be on top of the next move, or you won't be in the radio business.

LESS IS MORE QUALITY?

The increased use of corporate-radio voicetracking is sure to revive fears of staff cuts and future talent shortages, as nights and overnights have traditionally been the shifts where the superstar air talent starts and develops. "It is a concern, but I'm more interested in sharing quality product," Compton says. "We can now serve stations from Los Angeles to Cheyenne, Wyo., with top-quality talent. But are we just slicing and dicing air staff to do that? No way. We still have room to develop local talent

"The good people will stay in this business no matter what," Taddeo adds. "This will probably clear the forest a bit of the people who ultimately fall out of the business. It used to be a competition for 12,000 jobs. Now they'll be competing for 6,000 jobs, and not only will better people get those jobs, but they'll rise through the ranks more quickly."

Inevitably, something gives when areas that typically went to newcomers in the business become fewer," Mahalick says. "Yet we still have plenty of part-time opportunities and new positions in our company that were created from this consolidation. There are other ways to get exposure, be it in production or promotion.

"In some ways, those people are learning more and advancing their careers a bit faster than those who start in overnights," he adds. "People in night shifts don't get as much attention as those who work during the day, who learn more about the business by working in a variety of areas. Some positives are manifesting themselves in this new environ-

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detec tions. Airpower awarded to those records that attain 900 detections for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. ©1999, Billboard/BPI Communications.

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records that attain 900 detections for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records that attain 400 detections for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks. @ 1999, Billboard/BPI Communications.

Records showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A record that has been on either chart for more than 20 weeks will not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to those records that attain 2,000 detections (mainstream) or 600 detections (rhythm) for the first time. If two records are tied in number of plays, the record being played on more stations is placed first. Records below the top 20 are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.
