Levyne's Letter.

To the Editor of "The Blliboard:"

Sir-East St. Louis, 111., has 3,000 Dear feet of boards, which are owned by C. O. Skinner. Population, 50,000. This city is really a part of St. Louis, and if the right was to take this plant, it would prove oner. Just think what an inducement to a St. Louis merchant to offer to post his paper at 9 cents when It costs 12 cents across Yet hardly a St. Louis business firm usea these boards.

Mr. Skinner seems to be a hard-working fellow, for I found him posting paper on my arrival, but as he could not go with me, I just closed up, as I cannot contract for postlng. This town should have 7,000 feet of boards at least, for there are any amount of good locations. Mr. Skinner told me he would build more boards as soon as possible, but they all say that, and in justice to the advertiser, 3,000 feet is not enough for a town of thia size. Bill posters are so afraid to have empty boards. 7,000 feet of boards would not remain empty in this town if the advertisers know of it, and the way to let them know it, is to advertise in "The Billboard."

Alton, Iil.—Population, 20,000, and Mr. Wm. Sauvage has 3,500 feet of good boards, besidea a lot of three and eight-sheet stands. Mr. Sauvage manages the theater, and with the assistance of his wife, has succeeded in his undertakings. With his aid, we sold some posters, aithough it was a bad week to see the merchants.

I found Sauvage quite out of touch with the bill posting names, and this ignorance was caused by his reading the "Bill Poster," instead of "The Billboard," but had no trouble to get his aubscription. His war cry is "Hospitality."

Jacksonville, 111.—Geo. W. Stark & Son run the plant in thia city. They have 2,000 running feet of boards. Told bim to get another thousand, for his town bas 15,000 population. He will do it. The old gentleman died last week, and now Charley will build. We started out early and did a little trade, and found he atood well with his merchants. Thia city atands in the Garden Spot of Illt-nola, and surely prosperity has called upon these good folka.

To-day I was told that Walter Horn, of Springfield, was trying to concentrate some aix or seven towns into a trust and call it the Inter-State (or some name like that) ciation. Wants to bring in Danville, Bioomlngton, Llncoln, Decatur, Jacksonvlile and some others. If Editor Mac will write him, he may find a new Fitch trying to pop up, and if some one else writea blm, he may pop down. A bili poster asked me: "How in blazea did he get the presidency?" Search Peorla, Ill.-Population, 70,000. City Billi Poating Company owns ail the boards. Cham-beriln & Harrington. This plant has 125 firstclass locations, the smallest of which will take a twenty-four sheet stand, with a line of boards as fair to look upon as the face of my Cincinnatl girl.

Mr. Harrington is a most agreeable sentieman to deal with, but with all his work he finds it hard to bring back this city out of the slough in which Mr. ike Monk left it. Monk charged the local merchants 12 cents per sheet to post and turned in 3 cents to the company. Harrington said the more he post-ed the poorer he got. No, I would not say that Monk was a degenrate, for he never got any higher than his namesake—and now i an "roasting." I feel as if I must do something, and so— Well, here it is. A two-cent o. Just a stamp stuck on an envelope, sed in the first mail hox, and Levyno would have been so happy that he would not have thought of roasting anyone.

I wish i had a million dollars, and although not as good looking as Lew Scott, I think 1 could get along.

"Grimes' Ceilar Door" disbanded here. Could not huck against torchight processions and political speeches. These kind of deals are working against the best of them this Galesburg, Ill .- Gart & Johnson own all the boards, about 3,500 running feet, but as a street fair was in progress, I only remained In town a few moments. Chamberiain sold this plant out to these people after holding the same for a few months. Johnson is all right, only he is "nutty" on Donaidson, and at one time tried to knock me, only I would not stand for it, but to-day he is in line.

Burlington, la.—The battle is over—the smoke is cleared away. The echoes of the guns have made their last roar. Chamherlain is on top, and with a smile "showed me" his membership for Des Moines, and now I will say In all truth the advertiser will gain thereby. This is the Burlington plant. thereby. Let me tell you something of what a steel plant will do. J. V. Ritchy, of this city, on Nov. 20 had posted a 24-sheet litho which I sold him, and it remained up without renewal until March 23 following, in good condition Just saw a 200-foot board finished, made of It will remain uncovered for two weeks to get seasoned. All these hoards are framed. Moldings are painted in three coats, and solid two-inch. Capped by 2 x 6, dressed, and painted black in three coats. The fact of the matter is, the paper fits like "de paper on de

You see, there are so many rotten enes in the country, that I can not pass by a good one without writing an appropriate squib.

Mr. Chamberlain took me down in his wine celiar, under the theater. "O! what a head-ache!" Nine different brands of champagne, seven of whisky, eleven of red wines, besides lots of cases of mineral waters, ginger ales, and beer. Any one of the boys traveling in this direction wants to sing, "Let me off at Burlington." Yours truly,

Oakland Special.

Oakland, Cai., Oct. 19.—(Special Correspondence.)—At the last meeting of the conncil an ordinance limiting the height of all bill boards to ten fect was indefinitely postponed and a substitute limiting those to be erected in future to ten feet, was passed to print on suspension of the rules. It was stated that the bill board people had agreed to reduce the height to ten feet on all boards where any objection was made.

Chicago Anti-Billboard.

Chicago Anti-Billboard.

The Chicago ripper anti-bill board ordinance has passed the city council, and now only awaits the Mayor's signature to become a law. The Chicago Tribune comments on it editorially in its Issue of July 11, as follows, viz.: "Relief from the bill board nuisance is to be expected, now that the city council bas passed the ordinance regulating them. The measure received a unanimous vote, and it is taken for granted that the Mayor will approve it. The ordinance provides that hill boards in Chicago shail not contain more than 100 feet superficial area and not be more than 100 feet superficial area and not be more than ten feet bigh, which will prevent them from obscuring the view and cut down to a reasonable size some of the most unsightly. It is provided that they must be of incombust ble material, which they are not now, at they must be at least three feet from the ground. The provision that they must he twenty-five feet hack from the street line will abolish many of those now in existence and prevent the marring of the street front. One of the most sensible provisions is that which requires the consent of the owners of three-quarters of the frontage on both sides of the boulevards. This will banish the hoards altogether from blocks in which houses are, for the disfigurement of the boulevards by their presence can hardly be approved by the necessary frontage. The penalty for violation of these conditions is that the owners must pay a rental of 50 cents a foot a year to the city. This will be practically probibitive, and is therefore to be approved. It would he hetter if the bill boards were to be abolished altogether, but probably the present ordinance will be the most effective way of dealing with them."

The Trihune has been one of the largest users of bill board space in Chicago. The remarkable utterance chronicied above is insineere in part and untruthful also.

The law itself is unconstitutional. The Tribune knows it. So do all persons of average intelligence. Any man wbo owns a lot can

What the Associated Bill Posters need is a Credit Clearance Bureau. It would prove far more effective and useful than a Collection Agency. It operate on the principle that "an onnee of prevention is worth a pound of cure." In a word, it would prevent the making of bad debts to a large extent, and render it impossible for a national advertiser or solicitor to obtain credit from the nembers collectively beyond a certain sate amount, which may be determined by the capital said advertiser or solicitor his in his business. #### Enterprising Bill Stickers.

The following is clipped from the Boston "Record and Guide." Itili posters are sometimes as pestiferous as mosquitoes on a moist, warm day. The owner, builder and agent have to he always on the bokout for them to prevent unseemly invasion of the premises owned by them or in their charge. In spite of continued vigilance, they often gct a good front upon which to do their evil work without paying tribute to the owner. Th. other day a swarm took possession of No. 12; West Forty-second street, an oid-fashioned brownstone dwelling that la being altered for stores and offices, during a short absence of the contractor, notwithstanding that his men were at work in the house, and in a surprisingly short space of time covered the whole front with theatrical postera. Wire brushes, though worked vigorously under the rage and disgust of the contractor and owner, were able to remove but a small part of what was done with the long implements of the bill postera, and as a consequence the use of a fine advertising stand was obtained over Saturday and Sunday free of charge, which, by the way, could not bave been obtained on any erms for auch a purpose.

Kokomo, Ind., Komments.

To the Editor of "The Hillboard:"

Dear Sir-You will remainber that in August I bought the interest of Wm. Funk in the Wm. Funk Bill Posting & Distributing Company, of this city. The plant will be known hereafter as the Commercial Hill Fosting & Distributing Company, and I will carry on the business under that name in the future. I have also put in a small plant at baleville, ind., which is located on the Muncle extension of the Interurban Car Line, and the Hig Four and C. & S. E. Railways. The capacity of this plant is 500 sheets, and the incations the best the town affords.

In addition to the slove-mentioned plants, on Oct. 8. I purchased the H. E. Henderson plant at Kokomo, Ind. In etice in your issue of Oct. 13 you give me quite a write-up for Kokomo. I wish to assure you and the public that it was not my intention to run Mr. Henderson out of business when I went to Kokomo. I commenced to huild a plant there, snd after i had built about 700 lineal feet of full-sized beards, Mr. Henderson sent for mand we commenced dickering for his plant, and as I said above, on Oct. 8 I was the sole owner of the il. E. Henderson plant at Korbento and as I Bacu and a converse of the il. E. Henderson plant at Kokonio.

All foreign business should be directed to me at Anderson, Ind. Wim. Funk will be manager of the plant at Kokomo, and I will be the general manager of the three plants. Communications must be addressed to me at Anderson, ind., and any one wishing to advertise in the above-named places will please communicate with me. I expect sooner or later to be more extensively in this line of business, and will make it to the interest of all advertisers to look me up. My plants in the three named towns will be run under the name of the Coumercial Bill Posting & Distributing Company. I have put on the streets here a new wagon, the finest in the city. Respectfuily,

A. M. OSWALT.

Wichita, Kan., Wieldings.

To the Ed.tor of "The Billboard:"

The grest Wichita Street Fair heing over, we are having breathing time again. The fair was a great big success in every way. Over 65,000 people came in ou, Friday to see the cicetrical pageant, which started on time and went off without a hitch. Over 200,000 paid admissions were taken at the Midway entrance. Every foot of hill hosef space was taken for September, and the present outlook is for nearly the same thing in October. The theatrical season is on, and requires room for from two to four shows a week. In commercial paper we have en the boards Bull Durham Tohacco, Grand March Clgars, Gold Crown Cygars, Idoh Tyler Clgars, Niesragua Cigars, Red Cross Cough Drops, Friend's Oats, Sapolio, Burt & Packard Shoes, Guysr Hats, ilsws Hats, local jeweler and local dry goods, Dry Chinate Clgar and Littel's Liquid Sulphur. Distributing is dull at present. September rains caused a good deal of renewing, but Octeber so far has been clear. Falk-Veronec (stock) opened at Crawford Theater Oct. 15 to S. R. O. before 8 p. m. Yours truly,

Passing of the Poster Craze.

To all intents and purposes, the poster craze has passed away, says the "Brooklyn Life." In any event, one hears no longer of the horde or more of less discriminating collectors that was in such distinct evidence four years ago. No doubt—as must be the case with every collecting fad—the sifting-out process has reached the point where it is practically in the hands of the genuine amateur, who, as a rule, is not much given to publicity. That there are still posters worth the pains of collecting is being demonstrated every day in shop-windows, at the newspaper stands and on the bill hoards. Some that are large enough to he the despair of a collector who wishes to handle his posters with ease are among the best. One showing a child drinking from a bowl, with three cats at her feet looking up enviously, deserves especial praise. Newer and quite as striking see those in the New York Journal series. Two of the newest proprietary articles and s popular-priced cigar are advertised in other recent examples of lithographic art. At the theaters, Race Rock lighthouse has furnished a most effective poster for "Caleb West;" there are two of unque design for "The Rose of Persis." and much may be said in favor of those designed for "Arizona." All of those mentioned possess distinct advertising value, as well as of originality of design.

SIXTH PLACE

In the current Issue of Bradstreet's is a table showing the rank of the first fifty cities of the United States according to the postal receipts. The table is particularly interesting to Cincinnati, as it shows what has been maintained all along, that the true importance and size of the city is not shown by the recent census figures.

The relative rank held by Cincinnati in regard to postal receipts shows that the husi-ness done here earns for the Queen City a better showing than she is made to have in the table of population. It might also he noted that while there is a large suburban territory on the Ohio side of the river that ites just beyond the limits of the city proper, this territory, with its many villages, is all under the jurisdiction of the Cincumnal post-office. This shows again that if Cincinnati were credited with all that is rightfully hers, she would show up much larger in the table of population figures as well In regard to the matter, liradstreet's says:

Some interesting comparisons of the relative importance of cities in the population table importance of cities in the population table and in the matter of postal revenues are afforded by a compilation made by the Auditor of the Post-office Department. The standing of the leading cities of the country as regards population has, of course, been made familiar by the numerous publications thereon from time to time, but the table of postal receipts shows a considerable shifting from this rank, proving that large populations do not necessarily indicate proportionate standing in the volume of postal business. The following table shows the standing of the first fifty cities of the country as regards postal receipts, the first column showing their relative rank in population and the second their rank in postal business:

Distributors Love Your Business.

A man can no more be successful in a business he does not like than can a man be happy with a wife he does not love. Enthusiasm is the power which impels men onward in any and every vocation.

Without it men are lethargic. They will drift. Ilut to pull against the tide they are as unable as they are unwilling.
Drifting, however, does not win the race, either in business or aquatic events. There must be the long pull, the strong pull and the pull with vigor.

Men in business today have no easy task. There is a great deal to discourage and very little to encourage. There are foes within and foes without to contend against.
Under such conditions it is no wonder so many either fail altogether or eke out a mere existence.

The antidote for despair is enthusiasm, and the germ of enthusiasm is love for or pleasure in that business or vocation in which you are embarked.
Therefore, if you would succeed get in love with your business.
Keep your town before the eyes of advertisers constantly.
Link your name with that of your town. Get them associated together in the minds of advertisers. An ad. in "The Billboard" will do it.
Which has the most members—the I. A. of D. or the I. D. A.? Runey, "it's up to you."

Why Business Men Should Use Booklets.

Every good business man is a believer In the profitableness of advertising.

Which is the most profitable form of business publicity? "that is the question."

Consider that in a booklet you are the only one brought to the mind and attention of the reader. In a newspaper, in a program, on a boarding, you are only one among many. The readers attention is exclusively YOURS while he reads your booklet.

In a newspaper you are only occasionally sure of the exact number printed. Even then you never know how many copies are returned unopened and unread, but you are absolutely sure that the advertising rates are based on the highest possible number that can be ciaimed.

Known circulation is positively obtained by the use of the booklets.

ibear Sir—This town feels the good times, and has been growing rapidly and steadily for two years. Many new residences are going up, and old ones improved. Our one railroad is adding lurgely to its sbops. round house and enlarging every way, and using a much larger force of men, and will bave to do so, as this is a central point. But heing only one road, freight, etc., is high here, and also being a mountain town, living expenses are high.

Hence all kinds of work gets better wages, penses are high.

Hence all kinds of work gets better wages, and has to, including distributing. For a few months past there has not been much medical matter distributed, but I am now receiving considerable from oid customers and new. No traveling men lately. Population is over 5,000. High altitude is said to require lots of nerve medicine. Have not seen a copy of your valuable paper for a good while, but I don't have to hunt work now, but work hunts me at good wages. I only bave a few bours

The contract was secured through their gentlemanly representative, Mr. Smith, and had I not been well recommended to bim, I would not have received the work. My work is not only guaranteed by the I. A. of D., but it is recommended by the interested business men of the city. I have also signed contracts for work to be begun next month. I am now arranging with our druggists to handle a digestive tablet for a New York Chemical Co., which expects to do considerable advertising. About ten days ago there was some very poorwork done in this city by some travelling distributors. About one year ago a party passed through this city and did the same kind of work, and for the same firm. I am satisfied they would receive much better results to give their work to some local distributor, who can give a guaranteed service. Yours for honest work. can give a guaranteed service. Dear Sir-Business here in the posting of commercial work has been very duli this fail. I have been busy putting out small signs and doing a good deal of distributing this month. I have just finished two of the finest bill boards in the State. They are fifty feet each, and made of matched and dressed lumber. The Selis & Gray Show showed here to two performances on the 18th to packed houses. They did a tremendous business. The show was fair. The John Robinson Show will exhibit here on Nov. 8. Yours very respectfully, II. C. HENICK, City Biil Poster.

How About Damages.

To the Editor of "The Billboard:"

Dear Sir—A large drug firm here in Los Angeles—Haas, Baruch & Co.—received 12,000 pamphiets for me to distribute; instructions are sent to me from Philadelphia to distribute in October, and not before. I go down for the goods Oct. 1, and find that Haas, Baruch & Co. bave given them to some one else, and that they have been distributed, contrary to the desire of the owners, in September. Now, I rise to inquire where I come in? And who indemnifies me for the loss of this work? Regrets are expressed, but regrets don't quite cover the ground. The gross negligence of tlaas, Baruch & Co. is responsible for the error, and they, in my opinion, ought to be compelled to indemnify me for this loss. I shall be glad to read the experience of others who have become victims to the magnificent carelessness of drug bouses. Yours truly,

Sumter, S. C., Sayings.

To the Editor of "The Biliboard:"
Dear Sir—I have closed contracts with H.
H. Warner's Safe Cure Co., of Rochester, N.
, to distribute 800 pamphlets in Sumter, S.
C., for them this fall. Also, contracts with Dr. C. I. Shoop, of Racine, Wis., to put out his advertising matter in my city six times this fall and winter, and with Chattanooga Medicine Co., of Chattanooga, Tenn., to distribute all their advertising matter in Sumter, S. C., for them all the time. I will guarantee honest scrvice. Dr. Thacher, of Chattanooga, Tenn., had his medicine samples distributed here in Sumter, S. C., the 19th of last month, and the samples were found lying in my yard by my mother the next morning, Sept. 20. Now, why don't he give me that work? I will surely take an interest in it, and guarantee honest service at reasonable rates, or no pay. Yours very truly,

. CRUSADERS.

The motive by which the crusaders against the bill boards claim they are actuated is the mulifting of art. The American Park and Outdoor Association, Scana, Frederick Law Olmstead and Dr. Krielm, all justify the warfare of persecution they have instituted against bill posters, by asserting that their object is primarily the advancement of art.

Let us see. They frankly admit that they would abolish the bill boards altogether if they could. There are in the United States and Canada exactly one hundred and seven poster printing establishments. These firms employ one thousand and forty-three artists (statisties of 1895). If the bill boards were abolished all of these poster printers would have to close, and all of these artists would be thrown out of employment. Truly, a fine way of advancing the cause of art.

No. The ernsaders are not-can not be-either honest or sincere in their contentions and arguments. One is forced to conclude that they are either very, very ignorant, or willfully and purposely false and misleading in the statements they make and the arguments they advance. The bill board is the poor man's picture gallery. The posters it displays are always artistic -quite frequently they are in every sense works of art. They arouse and uplift artistic instincts in the masses. Every blow aimed at the bill boards is a covert attack on art, and it can never in any sense be construed as a defense of it.

It has been said that the real motive that actuated the crusaders was love of cheap notoriety. They know that every cut and thrust which they aim at a hearding will be veciferousiz applauded by a low and venal press, which franky admits that it can not exist on its own subscriptions, but depends for subsistence on advertisers. Shame! Shame on the crusadersshame on the press that upholds them - shame on the luisiness they are both engaged in.

What is going to become of the Associated Bill Posters' Protective Company? It has failed to serve the purpose for which Sam Pratt organized it. Having failed to prove a blow in the solar plexus to Gude, Sam immediately lost interest in it. He does not want to bother further with it. Neither does Gude, for he can not convert it into a boomerang, to bannee on Sam's devoted head. Fitch is the only one that seems to keep up his interest in the scheme. But then that is only natural, as long as the members can be milked for three thousand dollars yearly sal-

But that is not all. They would do away with the painted bulietin as well. We can accurately estimate the number of artists employed in this line, but it is considerable. Gude, Gunning, Wiiiiamson, Hote, Robison and Morton alone employ about a hundred. They are all artists, too. Their creations proclaim it, and the fact is further attested by the frequency with which they graduate and take up landscape painting, portraiture and other branches of non-utilitarian art. We cite T. C. Lindsay, R. D. Tissot, Evan Ehrgott, D. H. Hammersly, Sol. Sioan, Roland Wood and many, many others. They were all bulletin painters, and acquired their love for the brush and palette on the seaffold. If there had been no bulletius in their early days the world would never have been enriched by their many exquisite crea-without the bill poster—when it has to.

The bili posters of America owe much to him. and will not be allowed to forget it, either, as long as "The Billboard" is in WATCHED. the field.

A report was recently submitted in New York by Mr. Frederick Law Olmsted, Jr., secretary of the American Park and Outdoor Association. Mr. Ulmsted was deligated to make a thorough investigation of the disfigurement of buildings and landscapes by advertising signs, with a view to seeing what could be done to "mitigate the nuisance." Its report deals with the subject in a very iread fashion, admitting that nothing very radical can be done by legal restriction.

This is from the Alameda (Cal.) Argust.

radical can be dooe by legal restriction.

This is from the Alameda (Cal.) Argus:
"The movement against unsightly bill boards goes on deliberately, but is making headway, it was not until comparatively recent times that any such movement would have been listened to at all. There has always been in this country that spirit of utilitarianism that has exensed everything that had some paipable purnose. But now people are getting more definite ideas as to the fitness of things, and are heginning to see that it is just as easy to have things grateful to the eye as to have them hideous, and costs no more. The bill board will have to go." It is a safe bet that the Argus will go long before the hill boards, especially if it does not cease loading down its columns with rot like the above.

ing down its columns with rot like the above, il Gaylord Wilshire, manager of the Lor Angeles Bill Posting Company and candidate for congress on the Social Democratic ticket, is whooping things up with characteristic vigor. Ile its inited everywhere, and is no doubt the best advertised candidate in the United States. The Times of Los Angeles in a recent issue says: "Il. Gaylord Wilshire, capitalist, bill board magnate, golf devotee, rily charter framer, Socialistic candidate for congress, and other things too numerous to mention, was again arrested yesterday afternoon, for the third time, on the charge of violating the park ordinance. Pairolman llenderson found him in Central Park again engaged in preaching Socialism and other doctrines to a crowd which was parily in accord with his sentiments, partly amused at his antics.

Business among the poster printers throughout the country continues brisk. This is usually the dollest season of the year, but demand keeps up at a most astonishing rate Many lirns who had arranged to shut down, according to custom, to take stock, have had to abandon their plans.

The San Francisco (Ual.) supervisors have finally concluded to let the advertising fences remain at a height of twenty feet. The daily newspapers have failed in a crusade for months against these bill boards. But again the newspapers have failed in this, their latest crusade—ignominiously, utterly for months against these bil boards. But again the newspapers have failed in this, their latest crusade—ignominously, utterly failed. The daily newspapers of that city are iosing whatever uned cum of influence they may once have possessed. They are merely the personal organs of three rich men. In that newspaper alliance the people look with suspicion upon their motives in the anti-hill icard irusade. There was once a judge in San Francisco who was riputed to make laudable decisins from impure motives. Correspendiosly, the people so construe the motives of the newspapers in their assault upon the bill leards.

For the first time in the history of Cincinnati has the oid water tower on East Third street been converted into a bill posting tower. The lithegraphs of the Republican nominics have been posted on the same, and from their lefty height gaze down upon the citizens of East Third street. Much indignation is expressed by the people in that vicinity for using city parks as political advertising mediums, and a committee will be sent to headquarters to ascertain whether more advertising space is on sale. No objection is raised if political or other advertisements are displayed outs de of public parks or in the windows of public efficials, but to use the walls, trees, public statues and even water towers of centmon institutions as hill poets are transferessions which the people of the East Endbelieve should not be tolerated.

A. G. Ovens, manager of the Grand Opera House, Columous, O., crossed arms with the police department lately over the distribution of liandbills advertising the play "Sapho," which was presented at the Grand. Mr. Ovens, so the story runs, had several boys and they were interrupted by Sergt. Edward It. Baker, who told them that if they did not desist he would place them under arrest. This, the sergeant said, was done not because the moral lone of the performance was questioned, but because the bills were littering the streets. Mr. Ovens immediately called upon Superintendent W. P. Tyler, of the police department, and after a somewhat lengthy conference it was agreed that the circulation of the bills should be suspended, on condition that others who resort to this method of advertising should be required to do likewise.

Printing Inks that Light Fades.

It is not difficult to find coloring materials which bleach in light almost as rapidly as chloride of silver darkens. Among these may be mentioned to hydrochloride of furfuraniline, formed by mixing alcohol solutions of furfurol, smiline and aniline hydrochloride, this compound having an intense crimson color. Another very fugitive color is the eyanine of Mr. Greville Williams, obtained hy the action of iodide of amyl on chinoline. Both these coloring materials may be made into a kind of pseudo lake by precipitation sions with carbonate of barlum, and the pigments so obtained may be mixed with linseed oil varnish and used as printing colors; by which means prints may be obtained which disappear rapidly in sunlight. Altuough such discharges by light have been suggested as the basis of a method of three-color heliochromy, the nse—or rather misuse—of such fugitive inks has hitherto searcely gone beyond the printing of the off-seen legend "made in Germany" on Christmas cards or posters—the impression being lasting enough to carry the goods through the custem lique, but encluded soon afterward to disappear. Terrell's Barn Burned.

Paduenh, Ky., Oct. 20.—(Special Correspondence.)—trarris' Nickel Plate Shows. closed the season here to-day to remarkably good business.

Last night about 8 o'clock, Mr. Ed. Terrell, who had just retired at his residence on his farm, two miles north of the city, was awakened by his watch-dogs barking very loudly. The immediately got up, and started out to Investigate the cause of their uncassuess, when the colored man, who sleeps upon the place, informed Mr. Terrell that their big barn, which sets about one hundred yards northwest of the house, was on Ire. Noticing the flames, the latter telepaoned to Mr. John Terrell, at the livery stable, the latter in twin notifying the fire department, which at once went to the scene, but no assistance could be rendered, as the watermains do not extend that far, and they failed to carry the engine along; but it is more than probable that nothing could have been done by throwing a stream from the pend closs by, as the fire had gained great headway upon their arrival.

After notifying the department, Mr. Ed. Terrell immediately ran over to the structure and discovered that the blaze had started on the side farthest from his home, and was being fed in such a manner by the hundreds of tons of hay stored within that nothing could be done to retard its progress, and the building was completely destroyed, with its entire contents.

There was nothing in the huilding except hay, which was parilally covered by lusurance, as was the barn, but as it is, about $2,500 of the $4,000 loss will fall upon the owners.

$2,500 of the $4,000 loss will fall upon the owners.

The Messrs. Terrell have had a watchman on the place heretofore, guarding their property, but last night, unluckly, he was allowed to attend the Harris Circus, thereby causing his temporary absence to prove very costly. The blaze lighted up in a brilliant manner the entire horizon in that direction, causing many to think the cutire northern portion of the city was being swept away by the fiames.

There is never any fire kept around the barn, which leaves the owners under the impression that it was louched off by some one whose purpose is unknown. When asked if they thought any of the former employes of Buckskin Bill's Circus had fired the structure, they stated they did not, heing of the opinion that the men formerly employed with the circus would not stoop to such a dastardly deed.

Neveral other barns are close by, but none were damaged by the conflagration, which is

Several other barns are close by, but none were damaged by the confingration, which is quite fortunate, as some of them contain some very fine animals, while the hurned buildings had hay only.

Of Mexico.

Fred. A. Hodgson, manager of Orrin Bros.' Circus and theater in the City of Mexico, is in Los Angeles, Cal. He has been connected with the firm for twenty years, and is a showman of great experience. Every year Mr. Hodgson makes a trip to the State to contract for attractions for the winter season. He will meet the Ringling Circus in Los Angeles and expects to secure several of the star acts for his season, which runs from December to May.

The Mexican people are very partial to this class of entertainment, which is run as in European countries, combining a performance on a stage at one end of the auditorium and regular circus acts performed in a ring in the center.

Beneath the ring is a cement tank six feet deep, in which all kinds of aquatic features are given. A complete change of program occurs every night.

Mr. Hodgson says Mozzatial, the famous Spanish buill fighter, will return to the City of Mexico next year. Seats for fights in which this toreador takes part, sell as high as $20 each. The last time he appeared in the cupital, the receipts were almost $25,000 for a single performance.

Billy Stewart.

"Billy Stewart" is the name that appears in big letters of the programmes of Ringling Bros. Circus. "Billy Stewart" is the boy acrobat, and a wonder in his way, though the story is affout that "Billy Stewart" is none other than a Portland (Ore) boy who has been missing for some time, and that he is the son of a Hebrew family by the name of Hackmaun.

When Billy was a little boy he went to the circus with his mother, and the nam who wore gayly striped tights and could waik on his hands quite as well as his feet was a marvel whom he tried long hours to limitate.

Now every afternoon and evening a handsome, muscularly huilt young man dazzles the large audiences by his clever aerobatic work. He turus somersaults and makes daring leaps with the ease and grace of a tried professional performer, and accepts the applause of the onlookers with the non-halance of an artist. According to the story told by the man, a tinge of romance is in the life of the knight of the hippodrome and five-ringed show, lieven years ago he was a school toy in Portland Ore. His parents were well to do, and indulged his whints and wishes. A circus struck the town one day and along with other lads he watched the preparations for the opening performance. He was so imbued with the loys of circus life that he decided to run away from home. He was added in his plan by a member of a troupe of tumbiers, who saw in him a likely recruit to the acrobratic ranks. The circus foided its tents the next day and left the city, taking with it the Hackmann hoy, who was then but eleven years of age. years of age

The rumor which has it that the Buffalo Bill Show will go to Europe next year can not be confirmed. It is hinted, however, that early in the season there was some foundation for the report. It is said that the new big show for next year, which was to he known as the Barnum, Bailey, Forepaugh & Sells Shows, may not take the road, after all. Norris & Rowe are getting a great business in Texas. The State is in the best shape it has been for years. The cotton crop is so hig that planters can not get niggers enough to pick it. In some localities they are paying pickers $\frac{1}{2}$ per hundred. This means that good niggers are making $\frac{1}{2}$ a day. Whole families are engaged at this work, and when the children are well grown the family makes from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ a day.

"Considerable interest was aroused at the first announcement of Ringling Bros. return visit to Ft. Worth, Tex., on Wednesday, Oct. 24. It has been two years since the show was here, but the Ft. At the time of its first visit, it easily discounted all previous exhibitions of its kind that had ever come to Texas, and each successive visit has seen a marked growth and improvement in the show. This season it is bigger and greater than ever. Some idea of the size and scope of this year's offering may be gained from the fact that five trains of double-length cars are required to transport it from city to city, while the performances are given in three rings, upon two stages, in mid-air and upon an immense hippodrome racing track, uuder an enormous canvas payillon.

Giles Pullman was born in Herkimer county, New York, in 1836, and when the Civil War broke out he enlisted in Co. A, 117th New York Volunteers. He served all through the war, and at its close he went to Buffalo, where he made his home.

In 1866 he joined Alex. Robinson's circus as general agent, and in succeeding years was connected with other like ventures. From 1873 to 1876 he was with Adam Forepaugh's show. In 1881 he was associated with his brother, Henry Pullman, and Dan Shelby, of Theatre Comique fame, in the management of a circus menagerie.

He was also associated with John Hamilton, under the firm name of Shelby, Pullman & Hamilton. Mr. W. E. Franklin, then a young man, was general agent of the show. Although Sunday was a heautiful, warm, bright day, all the houses opened well in the sfternoon and all turned people away at night.

THE COLUMBIA SHOW.

There has been no vaudeville attraction at the Columbia this season that averages as well as the Orpheum Show. The acts are bright, ingenious and pleasing, and there euough variety to sult the most exacti The management of the Orpheum have certainly exhibited excellent judgment in the selection of the people who offer auch a de-lightful entertainment. Weston and Herhert do a clever musical act, in which they pro-duce music from hureau drawers, typewriters and other contrivances that make their lnge-nuity little short of marvelous. Bertie Fowler, a pretty girl, la only a partial success as a mimic. She received the least applause of any one on the hill. A sketch which is an admirable little picture of New England life and brimful of homely humor, is presented by Will M. Cressey and Blanche Dayue. Jack Noworth has some new songs and gags that went with a hurrah. He calls himself the juil hird coon, and the lockup furnishes him material for a lot of fun. He has a good tenor voice. The Newsky troupe of Russians are excellent in their way, but the class of music they sing is not calculated to enliven an American audience. Their costumes are fantastic and tasteful. Every one was pleased with the work of Johnson, Davenport and Lorello as the farmer and football players. Severus Shaffer is the most marvelous equilibrist ever seen here, and at the same time he is a veritable Hercules in strength. Louise Dresser is a fascinating woman, and with her two picanninies amused and entertained with coon songs. The color pictures made a hit.

AT PEOPLE'S THEATER.

The performance given by the Rose Hill Folly Company is not up to the standard, and Managers Rice and Barton will no doubt take Manager Fennessy's advice and Inject some talent into the ranks before it goes much

"Superba," which has been a theatrical gold mine for the Hanlon brothers, is at the Walnut again this week.

At Robinson's Opera House, "East Lynne" packed them afternoon and night. The hoodoo that has so long wielded its haleful in-fluence over this house seems at last to have been lifted for at both performances yesterday the place was packed, and in the evening standing room was at a premium in every part of the theater. The revival of the sterling old play, prohably the most popular emotional drama ever staged, appears to have been a wise move on the part of the management, and a good business will probably be done all through the week. The band concert preceding the play was well received, and many numbers applauded.

A new star in a fitting plsy was the attraction at Heuck's yesterday afternoon, and at the very outset the same can he set down as one vastly superior to the average pleces seen on the stage of that theater. The star is Mr. Al Wilson, a magnetic and pleasing comedian who, in his new play, "The Watch on the Rhine," hids fair to become to the Germau drama what Chauncey Olcott and Andrew Mack are to the Irish stage tales of adven-ture and song. Mr. Wilson has a sweet and sympathetic voice, and his singing of several pretty songs is the star feature of the per-

Shot to Kill.

Zora Card, an actress formerly engaged at Sam T. Jack's, shot and prohably fatally injured Joseph Pazen, a theatrical agent, of Chicago, Ili., Oct. 18, in his office on the third floor at 126 Washington street. The shooting was preceded by a quarrel, during which Pazen is said to have used violence upon the woman. She drew a revolver from the folds of her dress and fired. The hullet entered Pazen's right side.

Miss Card Says Pazen has been persecuting her for several weeks, and she links the name of W. A. Phelon, formerly with Sam T. Jack, to the conspiracy, which, she says, was hatched to drive her out of the city. In September she took an engagement at Hurtig & Seamon's music hall, and she says it was through Pazen'a influence that she lost her position.

seamon's music hall, and she says It was through Pazen's influence that she lost her position.

At the Central police station Miss Card talked freely about the shooting. She said: "I had some difficulty with Mr. Phelon last summer. He sent me an outrageous letter, and I had him arrested. Ite was held over by United States Commissioner Mason to the federal grand jury. The case was to have come up thia month, and he has been making every effort to get me out of the city so that I might not testify against him. When I secured an eugagement with Hurtig & Seamon, Phelon got his friend Pazen to use his influence In having my contract canceled.

"After I was thrown out of employment, Pazen made me several offers to go out of the city with traveling companies, but I declined them all, as I was determined to remain here and prosecute my case against Phelon. Yesterday Pazen wrote me a note asking me to call at his office. I went, and he repeated his offer to secure me an engagement with an out-of-town compsny. I then called him a hlackguard and a hlackmaller. He said he would throw me out of the office, and selzed me by the throat, pushing me against the wall. I then drew my revolver and shot him, My action was in self-defense, and I am very sorry I did not kill him."

William A. Phelon made this statement: "I formerly took care of Miss Card, getting her engagements at the Trocadero and Sam T. Jack's. Some three unonths ago I told her I was tired of the friendship that had existed hetween us. Soon after she had me arrested on a charge of mailing her an improper letter, but I was held over in a nominal bond without a cent of property schedule, showing how tr'val the woman's allegations were regarded. As to my share in the conspiracy to have Miss Card thrown out of employment, I will say that I do not know a solitary person connected with Hurtig & Seamon's theater. I was told that she refused to pay Pazen his commissions on her salary, and her engagement was therefore canceled."

By Billy Thompson.

The scheme adopted by the wealthy Senator Clark, of Montana, to use vaudeville and stage jokes to further his campaign for reclection in that State is said to have heen engineered by Colonel "Billy" Thompson, the weil-known Cincinnatian, who is still in the West with his Boston Lyric troupe. A story from the West also Illustratea a rather rude turn-down that the Colonel received at the hands of James Neill, the stock actor-manager, whose company is also playing the larger cities of that State. According to the story, Mr. Neill was approached by Thompson with a tempting offer of $1,000 to introduce a few "Clark jokes" into his plays wherever it was possible. Twice the offer was refused, but Thompson was peraistent. On the third time sfter turning it down again, Mr. Neill replied: "The three great institutions which most influence public morals are the newspapers, the pulpit and the stage. When these are corrupt the future of American political life will look indeed gloomy," and the Colonel retired in good order.

New Chicago Theatre.

The dedication of the new Chicago (III.) theater and playhouse, "Illinoise," which has not its counterpart in the United States for originality and heauty of design, decoration and finish, took place Oct. 15, with great success. It is unique in the fact that it is devoted solely to the uses of the drama; a monument to plays and players; a memorial in which those who love the theater for its own sake will delight; something at once picturesque, satisfactory and adequate. "It is certainly the most heautiful theater in America," said Julia Marlowe, to whom has been accorded the honor of first occupylng the stage, "and certainly the idea of one theater in the United States devoted to art alone is pleasing. It comes nearest my idea of an endowed playhouse—art for art's sake alone—and I highly appreciate the hour of being the first one to play in it."

As to the stage: It is forty-two feet deep, seventy feet wide and eighty-four feet to the gridiron. The stage floor is in sections, carried upon jacks, so that any part can be removed without the usual disfigurements necessitated by "cuts." There are two star dressing-rooms on the stage and rooms for others extend helow the stage toward the front of the house. There are a dozen on each side of the huilding, completely equipped with hot and cold water, and two large supernumerary rooms similarly equipped. The toliet and ventilisting arrangements are excellent.

Politics on the Stage.

Politics on the Stage.

This is the season when to the ordinary array of minor annoyances which temper the theater-goer's enjoyment of the theater is added a new nuisance—the "political gag." Wherever they go to enjoy any of the lighter forms of theatrical entertainment, comic opera, extravagauza, minstrel show, farce comedy, vaudeville, their intelligence is insulted by asinige, perfunctory and insincere expressions of the valushle political viewa of acrohatic comedians, interlocutors, end men, monologuists, ballsdists, song and dance artists, etc., which expressions you always expect to rapturously applaud if you happen to favor their candidate and to endure in decorous silence if you don't.

These "political gags" are always annoying in a theater. Nearly every theater-goer, during a presidential campalgm, gets enough of politics outside the theater. The allusions are almost always stupid, hecause the performers, who generally take no interest in politics, know that it isn't worth while to try to make them eloquent, apt, or funny. Experience has taught them that it is necessary only to shout, apropos of nothing, "McKinley" or "Bryan," according to circumstances, to get the sought-for "hand," and you don't care a rap which name you shout. If the allusion is unfavorable to their candidate, they are disgusted with your stupidity, annoyed at the idicey of the blind partisans about them and generally disgruntled and uncomfortable. If the allusion is in favor of their candidate they applaud it to "show their colors" and lest his name should seem to he "coldly received," but they feel themselves rather a fool while they are doing it. For they are aware that you re utteily lusinnere, besides heing of fensively familiar with the nsmes of men entitled to your respect, that the drift of your allusions are governed solely by what you suppose to he the political sentiment of the majority of your audience, that what you say about their candidate here they will say about the opposing candidate elsewhere and that they have b majority of your audience, that what you say about their cand date here they will say about their cand date here they will say about the cand date here they will say about the cand date here they will say about the opposing candidate elsewhere and that they have been caught with their eyes open by a stale, old trick for winning undeserved applause.

Performers who indulge in these "political gags" and managers who permit them in their theaters make a great mistake. A public entertainer who knows his businers ordinarily seeks to avoid offending any part of his audience. A public entertainer who springs "political gags" during a hot presidential campaign cannot avoid giving offense. If you try to be impartial—to give each side an equal share of raps and of compliments—you generally succeed in offending everyhody in your audience. If you are frankly partisan you are aure to offend a certain number of persons. This does both you and the theater a certain amount of harm.

In all the Queen City theaters, at this time, the audiences seem to be almost exclusively Republican. Consequently, the performers who spring "political gags" are most enthusiastic supporters of McKinley and Rooseveit, and mention Mr. Bryan's name only to prophesy his overwhelming defeat. Of course you are uproariously applauded and probably feel that the audience is with you. Ilut you forget that every audience inevitably contains a certain number of liryan sympathizers who are offended and disgusted, justly. They have paid for their seats to be entertained, not to hear the Republican candidate lauded and cheered, nor to have their political convictions and prejudices derided hy some offensive partisans about them. A Bryan sympathizer can hardly attend a theater in most of our leading cities newadays without heing made to feel that he has been tricked into paying for admission to a Itepublican mass-meeting. This fact would, we should think, tend to keep Bryan sympathizers away from most thealers at present.

The "political gag" in the theater is a at present.

The "political gsg" in the theater is always an offense to some theater-goers and rever a drawing attraction for any theater-goer. Before the campaign is half over it has come to be a bore even to those whom it is intended to please by its partisanship. It is a managerial tradition that theatrical business is always duil during a political campaign. We are inclined to believe that the stupid, tiresome, unescapable "political gag" is largely responsible for the duliness.

Dick Hunter, for many years agent for Ringling Bros. Circus, died suddenly Oct. 18, at Creston, Ia., aged forty-nine years. The remains were brought to lierlin, Wis., the home of his parents, for burlai. The Masonic fraternity will have charge of the ceremonles.

All the News.

New York, Oct. 21.—While new productions at the theaters this week will be few, those scheduled are of considerable importance from the vice-point of art and from that of the folk who get nothing but diversion from what the footights shine upon. Maude Adams, with "L'A.sjon," comes first, and, naturally, interest to-day is focused mainly on her. Not a few there are who do not see how her dainty, winsome art as expressed in "Rosemary" and "The Little Minsister" can cope with the passion, hope and despar, which tilled the short life of the unhappy son of Napolion. But this will send none to the Kniekerbocker Theater to-morrow evening prejudiced against the little player. Iternbart not having been here yet, no odious comparisons can be made.
"Hedge, Podge & Co." opens at the Madison.

"Hodge, Podge & Co." opens at the Madison Square Theater, with Peter F. Dadey at the head of the organization presenting it. While less of a clussic than "L'Algion," it is not likely to want for spectators.

"Monte Cristo" is to be presented at the Academy of Music by James O'Neill, with such circumstance and detail that the occasion of its opening will be comparable to an initial performance.

Friday afternoon is the time set for Mrs. Le Moyne and Otis Skinner, assisted by Elesnor Robson, to enact lirowning's drams, "In a Halcony," at Wallack's. This intellectual affair will be preceded by "The Land of the Heart's liesire," a highly praised play. This occasion will be one quite unusual, and will serve as a gange as to whether or not New York is growling more willing to receive its entertainment through the head rather than under the ribs.

Late in the week a new tierman comedy, "The Candidate," which was to have been produced last Thursday, will be played at the Irving Place Theater for the first time in New York.

"Her Majesty," played by Grace George and company in the Manhattan Theater, has apparently developed into a money success.

Weber & Flelds' burlesque on "Arizona," done for the first time Thursday night last, promises to do much toward filling their musch hall in the future, as it has been almost constantly thronged thus far this season. The carriature on Augustus Thomas' play and people is well enough carried out to be as amusing to those who have not seen the originals as to those who have. Lillian Russell, as the Colonel's wife, wears gowns of the kind which have come to be associated with her name.

All idea of having John Drew play anything hut Richard Carvel this acason has heen and andoned. Before his stock company returns to the Empire, Charles Frohman will prohably see that one other of his theaters on Itrondway is vacated to allow the colonial drama to be transferred without having to leave town.

"The Belle of liohenia" continues to interest the patrons of the Casino. Its successor, "Florodora," has been announced, but no date has been fixed for putting it on.

Blanche Walsh is carrylog the brunt of a comparative failure upon her shoulders, but in an amazing manner. The Broadway Theater is crowded at every performance, notwithstanding hardly a good word has been written or said about "Marcelle."

Annie Itussell expects to be playing "A Royal Family" in the Lyceum Theater on New Year's Day.

Seats have been sold at the Victoria for the last performance of "The Rogers Brothers in Central Park," and it is five weeks in the future.

"Lost River," at the Fourteenth Street Theater, has drawn overflowing audiences from the start, and George C. Tyler and his helpers have little fear that the tide will soon be stemmed.

"San Toy" will be at Daly's Theater several weeks longer. The stock company will begin its season at Daly's Thanksgiving week. Its personnel will be the same as last year, save that t'issle Loftus will take the place of Grace Rutter Elliston. The latter will play the leading part in a road production of The Tyrany of Tears."

Mrs. Leelle Carter, as Zaza, is playing to audiences that fill the Criterion Theater nightly, and, judging from the demand for seats ahead, the lielasco play could run many weeks ionger. But it must leave the Criterion Nov. 10 to make way for "The Gay Lord Quex."

Richard Mansfield may not be seen by New Yorkers in his splendid production of "King Henry V." after the close of his engagement in the Garden Theater. It had been thought the war spectacle would be brought over on Broadway Christmas week, but A. M. Palmer says not.

Henrietta Crosman will be Mistress Nell In the liljou Thenter but a week longer. The coming of May Irwin in "The lielle of liridge-port" makes it necessary for her to leave. Itut she will move to the Savoy.

The New York ended its career as a theater last night. During the coming week the house will be dark, but the following Monday it will be reopened as a music hall, conducted on the order of the Alhambra and the Empire, London

The "Stars and Stripes," the bright little Elks' paper of Richmond, Va., has the following to say of Al. G. Field.

Al. G. Field, Past Exalted Ruler of Columbus (I) Ledge No. 37, and District Deputy for the Northwestern District of Olio, was born in 1850, near Leesburg, in Loudon County, Virginia. His parents went to Hagerstown, Md., when Al. was about ten years of age. He attended school at Mergantown, W. va., and his education had in view the medical profession. Brother Field is still a doctor, but he no longer preseribes pills and doctor, but he no longer preseribes pills and powders; his permanent prescription is mirth and music.

During his residence in Hagerstown, Al. became a leading member of a singing club, and acquired quite a reputation as an amateur singer, which led to his abandonment of the idea of becoming a physician, after three years of study, and in 1871 he became a member of Sam Sharpley's Minstrels, with which he remained two sensons. He next Joined Simmons and Slecum's Minstrels and then the old Haverley Minstrels with which herefully a wife, and declined to go. Brother Field's success is too well known for comment here. It's name is synonymous with minstrelsy in its highest type. It's she whas always been clean and wholescene and is now unquestionably the stardard. Among the troupe this year are such perfess artists as Arthur Yule. Reese Prosser, Arthur Rigby, Ban Qu'nlan, Frank Berry, Thomas Hennelly, Bor Qu'gley and others, while Al. "gets there in time to tell about the hotels and the man hen effect home."

Brother F'eld joined Columbus Ledge Oct 16, 1888. In 1885 he was elected Exalted Ruler, but declined to accept the nostion over a brother who could regularly attend the sessions of the lodge. He was unanimously elected the Grish Ledge In 1867. He is now serving his second term as District Hometof the Northwestern Bistrict of Ohic. #### Oscar Wilde Dying.

Ogear Wilde was taken to the hospital a few days ago. He underwent a surgical operation, and is now lying dangeronsly near death at the Hospital La Salpetriere. Since making Parls his home, the English poet and playwright has been subject to many hardships. Lately he was almost absolutely helpless. A few admirers of his former talent kept him alive by carrities. If he recovers, Wilde will go to Scotland, where he has been offered a home.

After an extended tour of New Mexico, Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, doing repertoires, we are en route East, and can report a prosperous summer season; in fact, a great deal better than was expected, with Ringling Bros, and Gentry Bros. to controd with. Our regular one-night stands opening is Nov. 5. While en route from Rawlins, Wyo., to Laramie, we exchanged greetings with the great Barlow Minstrels, which was en route the opposite direction. We had not gone many miles until the train to which our private car was attached came suddenly in contact with a coal train ahead of us, demolishing a number of cars. Fortunately, no one was hurt, but the train was delayed several hours. Hence we arrived in Laramie several hours late. When the Si Perkins White Hussar Band appeared, there was a rush for seats, and all were soon sold. Manager Marquardt brought out the S. R. O. sign. After the performance Manager G. W. Harpstrite and G. K. Vetter, business manager, were initiated in Laramie Lodge No. 582, B. P. O. Elks. There have been several changes the past few weeks. Miss Blanche Morgan joined in Denver, Also, Jack Wallace. The roster: Lillian Coleman, Edith Oglesby, Blanche Morgan, Mae Abbott,

A Wise Thing.

The original methods of advertising are not all worked out yet, and without question the medal for the latest and most successful belongs to the Corbetts. Champiou Jim left his wife and started across the ocean, apparently eloping with an actress. While on the way, his wite sued for a divorce; upon landing, he heard of it, started back at once, made it all up, and now they will go on the stage together. Previous to this escapade, Mrs. Corbett was not known to the public, but by reason of this criginal method of advertising she has achieved a notoriety almost equal to that of her husband, and will accordingly command a much larger salary from the theatrical managers.

"George" is Dead.

George, of "liave you seen George?" fame, or the Turtle Boy, well known among street fair and nuseum managers, is dead. The barker announced last season that if you wished to see George you would have to "hurry, hurry, hurry," and if you didn't see him then you are too late now. George is under the cold, cold earth in North Carolina, where he kicked the proverbial bucket, and was laid away in a little casket and burled with befitting ceremonles. George left quite a fortune, one of the show people asserting that the little freak had saved $13,000.

Proverbs and Advertising.

Proverbs are supposed to be epitomes of wisdom—the concerted experience of generations—and yet they are thrown about so loosely as to become the very froth and fizzle of folly, and the pot-wallopings of ignorance and modern rant. If they are the concentrated experience of generations, they should never be applied except in cases where some product of that experienc will be henefited by their application—advertising, for instance—for the man who would use a proverb in lieu of argument in other cause than that of advertising would feed the discarded whiskers of a Populist Congressman to his horse instead of hay. Outside of an advertising proposition the average proverb is reduced to the lowest terms, and contains precious little wisdom and less sense. It has not a single thing to recommend it except its jingle. For example:

example:
"You can't make a silk purse out of a

example:
"You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear."
What son of Adam's misery and transgression ever attempted the feat? No sane man would attempt to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, neither would any son of man, however luny, attempt to make a sow's ear out of a silk purse. The vagaries, nay the follies, of mankind confine themselves or are confined to the figuratively abstract, rather than to the literally concrete. It is only when the fool essays to commit his folly in the literally concrete that be realizes that the field of his folly may, after all, have some bounds. But although no mau attempts to make a sow's ear out of a silk purse, some thousands perform the equally absurd feat of going through husiness life unaided hy advertising. These people are all fully and firmly convinced that "The longest way 'round is the shortest way there," another fool proverb that is self-evident rot. Is there an eight-year-old boy in all America who does not know different, and 'can not prove the contrary?
"Never swap' horses when crossing a stream."

This proverb is altogether too "horsy." It an eight-year-old boy in all America who does not know different, and can not prove the contrary?

"Never swap horses when crossing a stream."

This proverb is altogether too "horsy." It does not concern itself with jack-knives, nor fish yarns, nor lies, nor other articles of barter or exchange—merely horses. It seems reasonable to suppose that any other transaction which shapes for trade may be effected in midchannel. A man may swap wives, for Instance, in crossing a stream; but horses, never! Tis well; hecause the ancient and honorable transaction known as a "horse trade" bas need to be concerned in all its resiliency to the end that the deacon may once in a while he enabled to do up David Harum, and David perform a like service for the deacon.

But fortunately, there is another proverb which says: "Nothing venture, nothing win." If both parties are agreeable to a swap, it makes no difference where the swap takes place. "Nothing venture, nothing win." The advertiser can pin his faith to the latter with perfect confidence; but if he has a lick of sense we would advise him to swap hs horse whenever he sees a chance to get a better one.

You are in the midst of an advertising campaign, and have started out on the steed "Publication Space." If you get a chance to get "Billboard Space," don't hesitate—swap, and swap quick. Suppose you do wet your feet. What does that signify? You can get another shine for a nickel.

"Experience is the hest teacher."

Don't you believe it. Experience is about the poorest teacher a man can receive Instruction from. He can not learn the right and wrong of his actions by or from experience, for all human experience must be incomplete also. Hence, faets, knowledge, learning, derived from incomplete experience, must necessarily he lncomplete, imperfect, defective, worthless. Experience the best teacher. It's blathering tommy-rot. Asylum noise. Experience is not the best teacher. It is the most expensive, if you will, hut you can not apply any other superlative to it. Is not the scrap-bo

If you want a thing well done, do it yourself."

This is a favorite proverb with certain worthy souls who esteem themselves skilled mechanics in the noble art of doing things, and the balance of humanity as mere apprentices, amorphous botchers, tinkers and corporation laborers, when it coures to the test. And what can a man do for himself better than some other man can do for him? But one thing only, and no other—he can die when his time comes in accordance with the seutence prouounced upon him as to the manner of his death. There is not another concrete action, from the cradle to the grave, which he can perform without the help of others. And the human race would cease to exist if it were possible for a man to secure even a drink of water without deht to his fellows. Viewed in this light each man is bis brother's keeper, and no man can, without guilt, rclinquish the imperial trust imposed upon him by virtue of bis buman relationship. "Love one another" is the whole sum of every law, human or divine, whether man will acknowledge it or not, and although it is not easy to discern even the rudiments of love, in the rip and tear and blood and thunder of an all-embracing world-wrestle and struggle for existence. Yet all the blessings and comforts, and every hope of civilization are not hecause of the heroics of war, but because of the victories of peace, chief among which is advertising.

but because of the victories of peace, chief among which is advertising. After all is said and done you bad better leave proverhs to the 'dead ones' who coined them. Pin your faith to posters, and—live happy ever after. Any one who doubts the soundness of this advice is respectfully re-ferred to $am W. Iloke.

Nothing Like Advertising.

The secretary of a hig business institution which started in a small way at Atlanta, Ga., but now has offices in all the large cities, says: "Our success is due more to persistent advertising than to any other cause." No amount of enterprise in any other direction can bring the results that advertising does. What is good for an establishment which seeks husiness throughout the union is just as good for anybody who seeks the patronage of a single community—for professional men, agents, nnanciers, etc., as well as for merchants.

as good for anybody more as good for anybody agents, nnanciers, etc., as well as for merchants.

The Western towns and cities have spent a great deal of time and labor during the past summer in advertising. This has taken a great many forms, some amusing, others ridiculous, but all are progressive. The very brightest was recently given in Kansas City in the form of a night parade. It was called the "Pageant of Pallas." Conditions were most favorable, as the streets were illuminated only by the light of a crescent moon when the ship which is bound for the "Isle of Delight" sailed in the hazy gloaming. The ship appeared but a phantom, with fascinating passengers who were like spirits of the air. History and mythology were drawn upon to give a pleasing variety. Quaint dresses and odd decorations, lighted with flaming torches, composed the most grotesque procession that could well he imagined.

Freaks in Advertising.

Freaks in Advertising.

The art of printing has found, within recent years, a good many developments, of which the average well informed person knows nothing. Machines, for example, have been patented for printing on matches. The matches are thrown into a hopper, whereupon a revolving wheel receives them one by one in its teeth and carries them heneath the instrument that stamps the legend upon them. Another contrivance prints upon gun wads data which informs the sportsman, when he looks into the end of each cartridge, how much powder is contained and what is the size of the shot. The printing on stockings, which includes the trade-mark and often some such words as "fast hlack," is done by a machine made for that sole purpose. Another machine prints lettering on clears, and yet another adorns harrels with the firm names of the concerns whose products fill them. There is a special device for printing on the ends of spools of thread, and another for putting letters on buckets. One of the most curious contrivances is a machine for printing on gelatine capsules. Another device is for printing on proom handles the name and address of the manufacturer. The lettering on collars and cuffs, which states the trade-mark and number, is done by a machine built for that particular purpose. But the very newest contrivance in this class of Inventions is a machine for printing advertisements on the asphalt pavements of streets. It is a species of hicycle, the tire of the front wheel having a series of raised letters on its periphery. These letters, as the wheel revolves, print the name of a soap, or what not, while an automatic blower at the bottom of the fork blows the dust away from the pavement in front.

Have United.

All of the leading business men of Irvington, N. J., have entered into an agreement not to do any more charitable advertising. Of late the various societies and churches of the town have been calling on the husiness men very frequently for advertisements on programs and fans whenever they held any sort of an entertainment. The merchants say the practice has been abused, and they have had the following notice printed, copies of which are posted in all of the stores: "Owing to the many abuses in the past, the merchants of Irvington have united in an agreement to refrain from advertising with societies, entertainments, hicycle races, plenics, All of the leading business men of Irvingor any form of minor advertising. No objection is made to legitimate newspaper ad-or any form of minor advertising. No objection is made to legitimate newspaper advertising."

A German firm of publishers a little while ago hit upon a novel and ingenious method of advertising, which has been attended by the happiest results. They caused to be inserted in most of the newspapers a notice to the effect that a certain nobleman of wealth and higb position, desiring a wife, wanted one who resembled the heroine in the novel named. Thereupon every marriageable woman who saw the notice bought the book to see what the heroine was like, and the work had an immense sale. But it is said that the publishers had to engage the services of several additional clerks to deal with the deluge of feminine correspondence from the numberless ladies who claimed to be the "image" of the heroine.

Advertising Fence Licenses.

"The demurrer of the city attoruey of San Francisco to a suit brought by certain bill board advertisers to test the right of the city to levy a license tax on fences and bill boards over twelve feet in height has been sustained by Judge Seawell.

"This does not go, however, to the merits of the case, as it merely covers a misjoinder of defendants. The court ruled that the city and county alone sbould be sued. An spplication to enjoin the city from enforcing the ordinance was deuled.

"If the bill posters insist, therefore, upon prosecuting their suit, they must amend their complaint and test the validity of the ordinance.

omplaint and test the validity of the ordinance.

"The complainants allege that the enforcement of the ordinance will be damaging to their business. The plea is not, says the Cbronicle, a sound one, for it is well known that the unsightly structures which these complainants are maintaining are damaging to all property in their neighborhood and are a public nuisance, and no business can be lawfully conducted that does the one and becomes the other.

"Should their contention succeed, however, in influencing the court in their favor, the city will still have an effective remedy to apply. The decision recently rendered by United States Circuit Judge Ross clearly establishes the right of a municipality in the exercise of its police powers to regulate the height of these structures to reasonable proportions, and that six feet in height is not unreasonable.

How An Artist Advertised.

Frank Millet, the artist and Frank Millet, the artist and war correspondent, bad no success at all with the critics who passed upon his early work. He regularly sent pictures to the exhibition—and they were good pictures—but no one paid particular attention to them.

One day he hit upon a new way of going to work. He painted a picture of a lady in black sitting on a bright red sofa standing against a vivid yellow background. The effect was startling. Friends who saw it expostulated with him and asked what he was going to do with it. They were astounded when he announced that he was going to send it to the exhibition. In vain they told him that the critics would "wipe the floor" with him. "They ean't do that without mentioning me," said Frank, "and they've never done that yet." To the exhibition the picture went. It killed everything within twenty feet on either side of it. People couldn't belp looking at it; it simply eaught and held them.

The critics got into a towering passion. They wrote whole columns ahout it. They exbausted the English language in abusing it. They ridiculed the committee that permitted it to be hung. They had squibs and gibes about it, but every time they spoke of it they mentioned Frank Millet. He suddenly became the hest known artist in town. Somebody, because of the stir that it had made, bought the picture at a good price, and removed it to his home.

At the next exhibition Millet displayed another picture—of a quieter sort, but no hetter than his rejected canvases had been. The critics had much to say ahout it, and "noted with pleasure the marked improvement" that Mr. Millet had made, "an evidence," as they modestly put it, "of the value of criticism to a young artist." The majority of them never saw that Frank had simply compelled their attention hy a clever trick and hy this means advertised himself.—Ad-Sense.

Patents and Trade-Marks.

The following concise gist of the patent laws is worthy of preservation: A United States patent will be granted to any person who has invented or discovered any new and useful art, machine, manufacture, or improvement thereof, not known or used by others in this country and not patented or described in any printed publication in this or any other country hefore his discovery or invention thereof, and not in public use hor on sale for more than two years prior to his application, unless the same is proved to have been abandoned. In this connection the word "art" means the process or method of producing an oid or new result. If a method of doing anything contains one or more new steps the process is new and patentable. The word "machine" means any device or thing by means of which a mecbanical result may be produced, such as a pin, a churn or a locomotive. The word "manufacture" means a made-up article, such as furniture, clothing, harness and the thousands of things which are offered for sale. "Composition of matter" means a chemical compound of ingredients, such as hard rubber, liquid glue, medicine, etc. Patents may also be obtained for designs for manufactures and works of art for three, seven and ten years. Trademarks may be registered for any arbitrary sign or symbol which is not descriptive; the government fee is twenty-five dollars. Such marks are the exclusive property of the registera for thirty years, and the time may be extended. A "label" is any descriptive tag, print or impression to be praced upon any article or its case, and it may be registered for a "label" is six dollars, but if it contains any special mark or symbol the office decides it to be a "trade-msrk."—Ad-Sense.

College Brands of Rye.

College Brands of Rye.

The enterprise of the advertiser seems to know no bounds in the search for something which will catch the public attention, says the Utica (N. Y.) "Press." It sometimes gets beyond the bounds of propriety and causes individuals great annoyance. Such, for example, is the use of the portrait, either of some handsome lady or well-known man, and many lawsuits have resulted and mucb inconvenience occasioned. A recent and indeed a fisgrant case of this is that of Lawrence McCormick, a Pennsylvania whisky distiller, who has named various brands of his intoxicants after well-known and long-established American and English colleges and universities. He is not satisfied alone with taking the name, but he adds the seals of these institutions as trade-marks on his whisky. His enterprise is not an old one, but he has already patented as whisky trade-marks the seals of Harvard, Princeton, Yale, Oxford, Cambr.dge, Cornell, Lehigh and Columbia. If it is free advertising he is looking for, be is getting a great deal of it, though it is of the sort which may be called notoriety rather than fame. The educational institutions whose seals are thus prostitued to do service as whisky labels are naturally indignant and bave been casting about to discover if the law provides any form of protection which they can invoke. It is stated that seals can not he protected hy copyright under existing statutes and that none of the colleges have ever patented the seal as a trade-mark, so in this way the distiller has the hest of them. The University of Michigan has adopted a new seal and had it patented and is thus able to protect itself. Other institutions could do the same thing, but it would involve the necessity of adopting a new seal and displacing that used for years. If only a slight change were made, the new seal would look like the old one to the casual observer, but even then the distiller will not make his goods popular with the graduates of the colleges whose seals they bear, but by the method adopted he has br

The Indianapolis Carnival.

The much advertised carnival held Oct. 8 to 13 at Indianapolis, Ind., was celebrated by many thousands of people from all parts of the State. The low ratea and fine weather greatly aided the enterprise, but the liberal advertising did more than any other thing to make it the great success it was. The decorations were numerous and attractive, and the parades, floral, business and especially the ridiculous affair of Friday, the last day, were greatly enjoyed by the scores of thousands who lined the streets and filled the windows. The crowds from outside the city almost equaled those at the State Fair.

The Great New Bern Fair.

The great New Bern (N. C.) Fair will open Nov. 12, and continue through the week. It is the purpose of the management to make this the greatest exhibition ever held in the State. The race meet promises to be a big event, while the purses are unusually large. No horseman should fail to be present. Perhaps more attractions will be on the ground than were ever before assembled at one place in North Carolina. A unique feature of the fair will he a mammoth fish and oyster exhibit, covering the whole field of aquatic life. Another department which will prove a whole show in itself will be a whole menagerie of wild game, the section offering a particularly good field in which to obtain every variety and kind. The usual departments, farm, industrial and art, will be augmented to a great extent. No higger crowd ever assembled at any point in North Carolina than will be present in New Bern during fair week. No effort and no money is being spared to make the event memorable.

by Dec. 1, $10,000 to insure the State Board against any loss.

The Galesburg (III.) Poultry Association met lately to consider further the arrangements for the big poultry show to be held in that city during Thanksgiving week. The prospects for an excellent exhibition of fine fowls are becoming brighter as the event approaches, and the affair promises to be of greater proportions than the most sanguine at first dared hope for or expect.

The National Fanclers' Association, which interests itself with fancy poultry and pet animals, will hold its annual show at Chicago, III., Jan. 21 to 26. Heavy cash prizes to be given extra attention, special prizes being offered. Thomas F. Rigg, of lowa Falis, Ia., a pigeon breeder, is advocating the formation of a strong national association of Pasa-The great annual flower festival of Pasa-pigeon fanciers.

The great annual flower festival of Pasadena, Cal., the "Tournament of Roses," which is given on New Year's Day each year, was set in motion for 1901, when the tournament association met recently and elected a new board of directors and officers. Notwithstanding the fact that many of the members of the association are still out of the city, the meeting was attended by a large number of members, who showed a keeu interest in the event.

The sixth annual exhibition of the Western Poultry Fanciers' Association, to be held at Cedar Rapids, Ia., Jan. 14 to 19, 1801, promises to eclipse any show held by the association. It will be held in the Auditorium, now completed, and one of the finest exhibition rooms in the West, all exhibits being cooped in the association's coops, so that the exhibitors are assured of their exhibits showing to best advantage. The same large cash and special premiums that have made lowa's greatest show so popular, will be paid this year.

Arrangements for the flower show to be given by the Denver (Col.) Floral Club are slowly taking form, and within a few weeks the club hopes to be able to announce the full programme for the show, the nature of the exhibits and the names of the exhibitor who will take part in the show. With view to securing entries from Easteru florist the club has been in correspondence wit some of the best known men in the country but no definite replies have yet been received.

but no definite replies have yet been receives. Paui Galila, of Galmesville. Tex., writes a follows: "Our street fair is now on, and I full blast, and I tell you she is a hummer. This is our first venture, and we will surhave the "real thing" next year. I have tw shows in the house every day. Gentry's Do and Pony Show is here, giying two show daily, and about twenty other shows, an they are all doing well. To-merrow the factores. I have had my boards full of pape and enough in bill room to cover them agal as soon as my present contracts exp.re. Hav added a great many new boards."

Brister Gets Divorce.

Brister Gets Divorce.

The divorce suit filed some three mouth since by Chas. J. Brister against his with was decided in his favor tet. 19. Her nan was Mary Corinne Brister. She was insanel jealous. Brister's sister had married brother of his wife. The hrother was also da very jealous disposition. She obtained divorce three months ago, it was learned this she was a sister of the defendant in the first mentioned case, and the plaintiff was a brother of the plaintiff in the other case. Briste said his wife was so jealous of him that shimade life a burden to him. She did not wanhim to even speak to any one, and almost his uited persons when they called at their him the warwick Building. When they we calling or to some social affair, she made spectacle of herself by her actions in regar to him. She nagged him because of her jea ousy, and he became so nervous that he will untited for his work as chief clerk of the Brought file of the sound that in 1898 stried to choke him to death while he siep and that occurrence caused their separation She is supposed to be in Chicago. They we married in January, 1878. Judge Spiegel remembered the first suit of the couple methoned, and sald he would grant a divorce the Brister case also, as it seemed to be or of the same sort. When he made the ainouncement, Mrs. Zimmerman, the sister Brister, rushed to him and threw her ariabout him and klased him in expression her joy that he, too, had been released fro bonds that were as hateful as had been thos from which she had secured freedom. Ther was a veritable love feast then and there for a few minutes between the brother and slst and their relatives and friends, a demoistration unusual in such cases. They had both suffered from that peculiar nature while seened to be dominant in the Zimmerman and were overjoyed to be free from all possible future trouble on that secre. M. A. Janison and J. H. Bromwell were the attorneys.
