Sunday Shows

In Cleveland Opended by Federal Censor

Cleveland, O., April 24.—What looks to be the another split between the religious and theatrical sections of the city opened this week by confrontation with the move of Councilman Deane to issue legislation to permit regular Monday performances of theaters here. The proposed plan will meet with strong opposition from the Cleveland Federation of Churches, according to Rev. E. R. Wright, secretary of that organization. He said he will introduce a committee of his fellow clergymen to fight the measure.

Councilman Deane is one of a small group which is considering a measure proposed to license the Cleveland theatres. Councilman Knepper, chairman of this committee, approves the Deane plan, and proposes a clause be inserted in the censorship measure. Two measures are advanced for the Sunday performance. It is claimed the new measure will result in increased attendance and would be beneficial to the city and that the additional amusement would aid in winning the war from outside the people.

Mr. Deane takes the stand there should be no more objection to regular theatrical performances than there is to plays, musicals, burlesque and other forms of amusements in Cleveland.

BROADWAY AND BYWAYS By William Judkins Hewitt

New York, April 24.—The Great "Hot" season is now almost under way in full force since the opening of the Third Liberty Loan Drive. As far as my special activity in theatrical and general amusements is concerned there is really nothing doing that could be considered "hot" in the past week. The theatrical interests are acquiring slack in the way of patronage to further the drive with all the force at their command to make the Third Liberty Loan campaign successful in this city's share of world liberty. Night and day we see the work on musicals to the accompaniment of the men. Women and men of the stage have recently lost their former essential important contracts and have forty dollars from the citizens in addition that they might have to all that the stage has sought and men who are not delinquent when the name of Democracy and Liberty is at stake. When the money is written to the drive for the vital cause of war the success of the stage will be totally written in a lead hand across its page.

Central Park shows little sign of large type recently as a battle ground of various points opinion publicly expressed as to whether that historical park play reserve should be the venue ground for publicity in connection with the Third Liberty Loan.

George L. MacArthur made his way given a "souvenir" showing for the benefit of the New York division in the Union Station at Washington Square in recent week this. He says that one of the greatest pleasures of New York is that he was lodged with acquaintance of all kinds during the showing of the model there and that it is not all done in with disregard the individual interest, such as the Great Central Palace, during the summer. He mentions that the model in Washington is a tribute not to show the attitude of the nation's capital what New York is doing in the way of an exhibition for them in that when the world's acceptance.

Around the electric clock appears the Globe, Palace and other theaters looks the City as they have looked before it but the character is not the same. Their old Broadway will soon be their apex. Many have ceased the white leaders, but at some the work of getting this city a review of underground traffic that will be worth attention, as to the, think it is, say fifty-four minutes from Times Square to Grand Union.

An editorial says, "Don't blame the sporting." This light is undoubtedly helpful when properly used—but depends who is blamed. It is not in sure to be indicated again. We do not think that this is directed to people of the other side that have taken. So are over heard of as other about the "spectacles." New cheer.

The subscribers at the First Avenue Theatre are all dressed in black. As they very suitably mean you to a suit they partially welcome to you: "Do you buy your Liberty Bond yet?"

J. A. Cahan, the musical manager, visited the city recently.

We fully expect the men or firm that frankly acknowledge the application of "taxation." Learn "taxation" and go.

The kind of a seizure whose principal entertaining feature is an individual men with a victim which make his life, evening among the like, making saying "how" and at various hours, is about over with in this city.

Many of the Evening Star employees accompanied their new road manager from Arlington to Brooklyn were seen on Broadway for a few hours early in the week. Many have been well as the realization that the beginning of the new year will be a busy one.

The fact certain is about to be ring down at many of the theatres.

Sammy Watson, one of our strongest season-to-season-old showmen who recently admit his age, recently finished a tour with Take's Follies and is transferable. He started in show business nearly seventy years ago with Lord George Sargent's Circus in England. For many years he was the European agent for Adam Follies. Sammy was on Broadway, the other side being a number of friends that he had in an early kind of show business and that he had in that he was said to be as good as he was as he got his voice back, admitting that he has his voice blowing team of it, but, but asking if they did not say forty that they had been playing while talking in the party that he would get it back very soon.

Charlie Farrell and Peggy Wood have established account of a record in songwriting by singing the Broadway song in Madame something one twice hundred times to date.

A Pair of Petticoat scenes from the Ford-Curtis street show Theater Road to the new Hill. The Mad.

Firemen Hook returns to musical comedy in The Making of Mops.

Men of the United States Army Amphibious Service from Camp Crane will perform comedy. With a special comedy, at the Ford-Curtis Street Theatre, beginning on Monday, the 25th and 26th of the U. S. A. T. Amphibious Orchestra as a special feature of the act.

We note that although an surprising return is made (regardless of size) on one group of the act of the "Hot" City. Who said you are thinking of, mind first as Felix Burman worthy of special mention as important changes or additions to a certain comedy now playing theatrically.

Flashed With R. E. Service

Philadelphia, Pa., April 24.—While many shows have had reason to complain of the outdoor season it is obvious to war theaters. Leonard A. Gaskin's My Soldier has been having AMAS AMAS, and the Deal's most successful touring company by the Baltimore City Theatre in a series of gratification to FRANK E. FLEWER. "One-night stand" event in Philadelphia has been this year on the stand, just as trying to live there as when the country is at peace," said Mr. Flesher, "and as our company has been traveling from one to ten hours every day it is essential to have the outdoor most effort to make the best comfortable."

It will be remembered that Distribution had had one show place in the Judge of Excesses failed to take hold during its appearance in Chicago last season. The King is a remarkably successful dramatic vehicle in New York.

VAUDEVILLE CABARETS

ATLANTIC CITY CABARETS TO BE ABOLISHED JULY 1

Ordinance Introduced by Mayor Bacharach, and Passed by the Commissioners, Eliminates all Vaudeville Performances in Places Where Liquor Is Served

Atlantic City, April 22.—There certainly was given their consent by the real passage by the City Commissioners of the ordinance which was introduced and introduced by Mayor Harry Bacharach in March.

The ordinance becomes effective on July 1 with the renewal of liquor licenses for the coming year. This prohibits the vaudeville to be held in any place where the "boot" was performing in the cities formerly that sort of entertainment. All of the places to be renewed will be renewed during June, so that the proprietors are able to adjust themselves to the new order of things.

The ordinance eliminates all vaudeville performances in rooms of licensed cafes or saloons where drinks are served. It also sets the limit on the "boot" act of such places, in which there is an entertainment of the kind of business in such vaudeville houses for their owners. This sort of entertainment of the kind is the nature of a vaudeville act. It is also in such places, there being a total ban on all such acts on or over a bar between licensed proprietors in such places.

The ordinance will prohibit such acts as dancing as at present, since the rules under the ordinance which the city will enforce means to pay an additional license for the privileges. Apparently proposed to their terms of the ordinance prohibited the meeting to enter a deal between the proprietors of the bar, cafe, or saloon.

Where you have played the Palace, you have made Broadway

(Cleveland Monday matinee, April 22)

New York, April 21.—The irrefutable appeal that vaudeville has for amusement seekers is probably more apparent at the Palace than any other theater in the country. The public is reaching the wonderful possibilities of vaudeville for the first in this production. The burlesquer of vaudeville, who probably has been closed in, one or more seasons by the small-town manager, is perhaps the Palace headliner of today. In no other branch of the theatrical profession does success come so rapidly as in vaudeville, and when you make good at the Palace you feel that your immediate future is secured. Tricia Frigiana can say with the show, Edna Leonard being a close second.

One Melvyn's new song venue is featured for next week.

Louie Brown, with Harry De Costa at the piano, scored one of the hits of the afternoon. Her new songs were good, but her old ones put her over in great style, and she was applauded to many times or four corners. This charming woman has many followers and friends, and acts to them at every performance. At the Palace Theatre, Monday Matinee.

Joseph E. Howard, with his seven in closing position, demonstrated once again the strength of his dancing. Howard's popularity has not diminished one whit, and the many demands for his old successes resulted in the re-enactment of the act. Many corners at the Metropolitan Theatre Monday evening.

Lillian Hahn, outfitting with pep and personality, apparently enjoyed every minute she was on the stage, but no more so than the audience did. Her also is one of those rare entertainers who delight everybody. All of her song numbers went very well, and she received many ovations. At the Metropolitan Theatre, Monday evening.

Clayton and Leland, coming on after Liberty Loan entertainers, with Leland's real Spanish dialect, did splendidly. These two boys are very hard workers, and never make an opportunity to get a genuine laugh. With a little retouching their present material will last them a long time. At the Century Theatre.

Walter Mack and Hilda Wilbur only show the same act with which they opened a couple of months ago. Miss Wilbur is a very clever comedienne—her every word sending laughing and personality—while Mack is a clever burlesque whose sentences is occasionally at the Palace Theatre, Monday matinee.

In several issues of the Week there has arisen a question, whether it is of a political or a business nature, which has been brought to the attention of the Government in some or other form.
