8 Monitor This!

The Music Monitor Network first came together in 1997 under the guidance of The Record Exchange's Don Rosenberg, who had blazed the trail for independent retail coalitions several years earlier with the Independent Music Retailers Association. Comprised of eleven chains, representing 102 stores, the MMN has helped launch the careers of artists from Norah Jones, Ryan Adams and Lifehouse to P.O.D., Linkin Park and Drowning Pool. MMN's Executive Director, Michael Kurtz, recently spoke with CMJ Retail about what his coalition has planned for today's music industry: "We need to fight back and reclaim the music — make it something people are willing to spend their own hard earned money for."

INDUSTRY NEWS

As the one-year anniversary of September 11 draws near, many are searching for the appropriate way to pay their respects. McGathy Promotions has recently set up a website, www.musiciansforamerica.net, for radio stations to obtain MP3s of artists addressing the tragic events and the feelings of the country for on-air tributes. Musicians are encouraged to call 212.895.3117 and leave a recorded message with their take on the events. The web site will be up-and-running until this Sept. 11. • It looks as if any glimmer of hope that Napster had of finding a savior to rescue the embattled company from bankruptcy is quickly fading. With an asking price of $25 million, Napster failed to attract any new bidders before the Bankruptcy Court's deadline (Aug. 21), poisoning Bertlesmann to finally be able to take control of the pioneering file-sharing server after a final hearing on Aug. 29. Bertlesmann has not yet specified what it intends to do with Napster, but with the exit of executive Thomas Middelhoff, who fronted the investment into the company, the future is not looking very bright. • Listen4ever.com, a web site that had been offering thousands of copyrighted songs for download, has shut down. The RIAA filed a lawsuit against the four companies that control the domestic Internet's main long-haul pipelines, which allowed Americans to access the Chinese web site. However, once Listen4ever.com voluntarily closed down, the RIAA withdrew its lawsuit against the Internet service providers, but promised further litigation should the site ever revive itself with a new name or move to a new server. •

Responding to several reports of its impending bankruptcy, Sirius Satellite Radio recently issued a press release in which the company admitted that it needs additional funding, but called the premature cries of bankruptcy "blatantly false." "We are making significant progress in solidifying our balance sheet, and I remain extremely confident that we will secure additional financing shortly," stated Sirius CEO Joseph Clayton.

LABEL NEWS

RED Distribution has announced the formation of its new dance division, RED Dance. The new department will provide independent dance labels with sales and marketing support to help bring their acts to a wider audience. •

Attention all sensitive, sweater-wearing guitar players: Deep Elm is currently accepting musical submissions for inclusion on the ninth Emo Diaries compilation. Visit www.deepelm.com for more information. • Neil Foster has been named Executive VP at RCA Music Group. He previously served as Executive VP/Operations at BMG North America.

MUSIC NEWS

While most hair metal icons have faded into obscurity, surfacing only to face charges for their latest criminal offenses or to appear in homemade sex tapes, Sebastian Bach is doing just fine. True, the former Skid

Row frontman had his own run-in with the law earlier this year during a drunken bar scene, but he has since been exonerated and is back to work in his burgeoning second career as a musical stage actor. Following his appearances on Broadway in both Jekyll & Hyde and the Rocky Horror Picture Show, Bach is getting ready to head out on the road as none other than Jesus Christ. The singer will take on the role for a touring production of Andrew Lloyd Webber's musical Jesus Christ Superstar, which is scheduled to begin a two-and-a-half week run in La Mirada, California on Nov. 1 before traveling throughout

Ryan Adams

North America for at least a year. • Ryan Adams may have a reputation for being one of the most prolific artists in the industry, but despite his creative output, the alt-country icon hasn't actually released a massive amount of material. Well, he's about to start changing that, starting with the Sept. 24 arrival of Demolition, a collection of 13 demos that the singer-songwriter recorded last year and in late 2000. Among the tracks included are the excellently titled "Tennessee Sucks" and "Jesus (Don't Touch My Baby)." • Adams will also be one of more than 60 acts performing at the inaugural Austin City Limits Music Festival in Austin, Texas on Sept. 28-29. Other artists on the bill for the spanking new event include Wilco, Emmylou Harris, Luna and Los Lobos. For full details, visit the festival web site at: www.acfestival.com. • Tom Waits, Sarah McLachlan and Billy Bragg with Wilco are among the performers who have recorded songs for VHI's For The Kids benefit compilation. Proceeds from the album, which streets Oct. 22, will go to the Save The Music Foundation. Ivy, Remy Zero, Barenaked Ladies, Cake and others are also featured on the disc. Waits donated a new track, titled "Bend Down The Branches," to the collection, while McLachlan's contribution is a cover of the Muppets classic, "Rainbow Connection."

Kermit The Frog

• Speaking of the Muppets, Rhino Records is getting ready to celebrate the 25th anniversary of everyone's favorite puppet show with the Sept. 17 release of The Muppet Show: Music, Mayhem And More. The collection features 27 tracks of songs and dialogue from the classic TV show, as well as all the subsequent Muppet movies, including the original version of "Rainbow Connection" and the Kermit

The Frog staple "Bein' Green." • The Rolling Stones are set to release a career-spanning double disc set to coincide with its current world tour. Forty Licks will be released on Oct. 1, with one disc featuring material from the band's early tenure on ABKCO records and the other spotlighting material from the band's releases on Virgin Records. The band members chose the tracks on both of the 20-song discs themselves and also recorded four new songs for inclusion on the release. •

Singer Julian Casablancas may still be hobbling around (or at least performing sitting down) after suffering the knee injury that has sidetracked the Strokes of late, but it hasn't stopped his band from booking a lengthy two-month tour. Set to kick off Oct. 1 in Portland, Maine and roll through Nov. 25 in Raleigh, North Carolina, the Strokes' latest jaunt will see the New York band join the Stones as a support act for two dates of its tour, Oct. 4 and 5, in Maryland and Connecticut. • More tour news: Gomez will finally be strutting its stuff on North American stages in support of In Our Gun, with dates starting Sept. 23 in Washington, D.C. and continuing until Oct. 14 in West Hollywood, California; Doves begin its second Last Broadcast-driven assault on the States in the space of a few months on Sept. 8 in Pontiac, Michigan, after a date at a Chicago radio fest the day before. The band will be on the road until it winds up in Los Angeles for two gigs on Oct. 8-9; Underworld kicks off a series of gigs in support of its Sept. 24 release, A Hundred Days Off, in Chicago on Oct. 14. The pioneering dance act will play a total of six dates in U.S. major markets before heading off to Europe for more promotional fun; Phish is coming back: the band will end its two-year hiatus with a three-set New Year's Eve performance in NYC (at Madison Square Garden) and three dates in Hampton, Virginia (at the Hampton Coliseum) from Jan. 2-4. Okay, so it's not exactly a tour, but the group is promising more dates to come next year, as well as a return to the studio to record a new album.

BRAD MEHLDAU

Largo (Warner Bros.)

Pianist Brad Mehldau's playing has always been subtle and introspective, an approach that often overshadows his ambition and flair. No disguising any of that on this collection, which showcases original compositions and a trio of unusually revealing covers. The opening "When It Rains" flaunts Mehldau's ability to write effortlessly simple progressions and punctuate them with rippling melodies on the black and whites. As for the covers, in the wrong hands an acoustic jazz reading of Radiohead's "Paranoid Android" (no, that's not a typo) could be downright offensive, but Mehldau's version has groove and grit. Helping keep excursions like that on track are nimble producer Jon Brion (Rufus Wainwright), veteran drummer Jim Keltner and sidemen who've played with Beck and Smashing Pumpkins. Other daring covers include a breezy splice of Antonio Carlos Jobim's "Wave" with the Beatles' "Mother Nature's Son" where Mehldau switches to vibraphone played rapid-fire atop washes of warped melotron, putting some bop in that bossa nova. NIGHTMARES ON WAX

Mind Elevation (Warp)

George Evelyn (a.k.a. DJ Ease, Nightmares On Wax) was making fashionable downtempo music years before the genre became the living soundtrack for lounge hopping beautiful people and socialite star fuckers alike. Truthfully, Evelyn's latest, Mind Elevation, as well as his previous releases (such as 1995's classic Smoker's Delight), are the perfect recordings for dorm room bong gatherings rather than swanky brown nosing sessions about town. Mind Elevation is best described as a tripped-out green house where the elements of soul, R&B and hip-hop find a place to meet, greet and get high together. "Mind Eye" opens this joint with elegant strings and lazy percussion that perfectly sets the mood for the record. However, you'll find that some of the finer moments are those that combine Evelyn's top notch programming skills with varying styles of vocal work. When you awake from this nightmare, you'll realize that Mind Elevation is really a dream come true.

DEREK TRUCKS BAND

Joyful Noise (Columbia)

The major label debut from expert blues-rock guitarist Derek Trucks (nephew of Allman Brothers drummer Butch Trucks) enables him to experiment with the benefits of a studio setting and work with a variety of guest performers, an ideal situation for Trucks and his band to showcase their diverse talent. The group is right at home playing behind Susan Tedeschi covering "Baby, You're Right," and becomes soulfully at one with the legendary Solomon Burke for two tracks, with particular emphasis on "Like Anyone Else." The proof of this band's talent is in its ability to adapt to the styles of two other guest performers, namely Ruben Blades ("Kama-ma-lay") and vocalist Rahat Fateh Ali Khan (a Qawwali song named "Maki Madni"). During the latter, the band blends remarkably with Khan and Trucks may convince listeners that the electric guitar is a traditional Pakistani instrument. On its own, the band is equally as notable, ranging from the acid sounds of "Lookout 31" to the hypnotic "Every Good Boy."

SING-SING

The Joy Of Sing-Sing (Manifesto)

When Lush broke-up in 1996 following drummer Chris Acland's suicide, guitarist Emma Anderson teamed up with vocalist Lisa O'Neil to form Sing-Sing. But don't expect a shoegazing wall of guitar texture. Instead, Sing-

Sing is a dreamy pop experiment. Sparse electronics and programming accentuate fragile and beautifully sung melodies that strike the ear like the soundtrack for a hip French science fiction movie from the 1960s. Even when the guitars pack enough punch to be considered "aggressive," as in "Tegan" (translated as "beautiful little things" in Cornish), the melodies and true pop soul of the songs shine through. "Feels Like Summer" (originally recorded for the band's first 7-inch in 1998) could keep Austin Powers and an army of go-go dancers entertained. The Joy Of Sing-Sing may be a slightly eccentric record, but it's the little idiosyncrasies and charming nuances that make it so appealing. Every time you listen, you'll be able to find something new. It's a gift that keeps on giving.

BOOM BIP

Seed To Sun (Lex)

There's something to be said for onomatopoeias in music. Just as Erykah Badu took her assumed surname from the scat sound she loved most, one can guess that Bryan Hollon, a.k.a. Boom Bip, chose his moniker to describe his music as much as himself. And if hearing the name evokes a sonic crossroads situated somewhere between hip-hop and leftfield electronica, then he was pretty much on the mark. Seed To Sun is Boom Bip's solo debut, following the underground success of Circle, his collaborative effort with quirked-up rapper Doseone. Hollon worked with a number of live instruments on the album and then sampled his own work to create tracks with names like "The Use Of Unacceptable Colours In Nature" and "Mannequin Hand Trapdoor I Reminder." While the latter, which has already been blowing up at college radio, is yet another brilliant collaboration with Doseone, for the most part, it's the instrumentals that define this record, skillfully weaving together the organic and the inorganic — just as the man's name implies. SUPREME BEINGS OF LEISURE

Divine Operating System (Palm)

Straddling the fence between soft lounge music and club-ready dance anthems stands Supreme Beings Of Leisure's sophomore album, Divine Operating System. Now working as a duo, musician/programmer Ramin Sakurai and singer Geri Soriano-Lightwood don't attempt to break any new musical boundaries as much as the pair tries to perfect its blend of sexy and intelligent trip-hop, with just the right amount of pop sensibilities. Throughout the disc's entirety, Soriano-Lightwood's sultry smooth vocals weave in-and-out of cosmic grooves and futuristic hooks of booming beats, distant horns, lush strings, warbling vibraphones and wah-wah guitars that prove to be dramatically glamorous. The bombastic "Get Away" turns up the intensity with pulsing beats, an amazing brass section and some cunning scratching courtesy of DJ Swamp. "Touch Me" finds SBL going retro, giving its listeners their fill of disco rhythms and handclaps, making D.O.S. the perfect house-party soundtrack. — Louis Miller

Lucky 7 (Mega)

We don't know about you, but sometimes the urge to go completely postal is stronger than it should be for normal human interaction. We suggest avoiding Cannibal Corpse albums during those tense times. Instead, before electing to reenact key scenes from Falling Down, immerse yourself in happy music that will pacify the machete-toting manic within. Enter the fun-lovin' Pop-Punk of San Diego's Lucky 7, whose previous full-length, 1998's Miss Fortune, sold over 10,000 copies without distribution and is one MP3.com's best selling CDs of all time. Like Unwritten Law, it's virtually impossible to be a grumpy bastard when listening to these SoCal punksters. The band's latest self-titled effort is crammed with more hot singles than an Ibiza dance club. Want proof? Have a listen to "Come Monday," a track that exposes a head-ringing hook at just 57 seconds in, or soak in the melodically delicious "Face The World," an obvious radio smash in wait. You can basically play pin-the-tail-on-the-single with this album, but for further aural pleasures spend time with "Falling Asleep," "One Track Mind," "The Last Time," "Be The One" and "My Father's Son." — Kevin Boyce

(New Amsterdam Records)

The raindrops may be falling in Seattle, but New York's own AWEK has captured the essence of the Northwest in five elegant songs. Currently making an impact on the charts and gaining quite a bit of attention, this quartet is on its way to indie rock bliss. Simmering in this magic are band members Paul Schalda (vocals, guitar), Mike Sweeny (guitar), Russell Smith (bass) and John Carbonella (drums), four lads with a gift for writing beautiful songs and creating exquisite sounds. The opening track, "Is It This Easy?," is a radiant tune, sparkling with a crystal clear quality similar to the likes of 764-HERO and Built To Spill. Proving to be a favorite among fans is "Phototype," a delightful present that's catchy enough to appeal to a wide audience, while "Say Goodbye" is a must listen with its playful pausing, rocking chair tempo and soft vocals. Schalda's voice will resonate in your ear like candy on your tongue, while his bandmates chime in like a gentle breeze. Be sure to check out AWEK; New York can no longer keep the band a secret. — Antonia Santangelo

MONITOR THIS!

Since its inception, the Music Monitor Network has brought indie retail chains together to turn today's new artists into tomorrow's household names.

TIn 1993, there were a destructive few at labels and distribution companies who refused to cooperate with independent retail efforts. Many were upset about the growing trend of used CD sales at these accounts and so made harassing these stores part and parcel of their countrywide retail campaigns. Their lack of vision would cost them. Eventually their bullying met its first organized opposition when The Record Exchange's Don Rosenberg (NC) faxed an open letter to the music industry. His, along with other retailers' rallying cries (remember Terry Currier's West Coast BBQ-Garth Tour?) resulted in the attempt to create the IMRA (Independent Music Retailers Association), 100 loosely knit retailers, who attempted to band together to try and combat the majors' heavy-handed tactics. This was only the beginning. Soon to follow, in 1995, CIMS (Coalition of Independent Music Stores) formed and though mid-sized retail chains didn't necessarily fit into the CIMS mix, the concept of organized independent retail had taken hold.

By 1997, Rosenberg felt that combining the efforts of independent mid-size chains would create an even stronger marketing opportunity for labels and distribution companies who wanted to maximize their efficiency in reaching indie retail customers. At the time, Don's own stores (as well as several other retailers) were already creating successful samplers (Notes From Home and Monitor This!) and in-house publications (The Music Monitor) that were becoming excellent vehicles for championing and informing customers about new releases — and now they were even getting marketing support from the labels to do it. The first partner in this new effort was the Nashville-anchored Cat's chain, based at Music City Record

Music Monitor Network

Story by Curtis Hawkins
kingcurtis@att.net

Distributors. That partnership grew, and by year's end, the Music Monitor Network was born. Initially 31 stores, now several more chains were invited to join and the MMN began to prosper.

Today, the Network is 11 chains strong with 102 stores that share nearly half a million square feet of retail space across 15 states and total sales that reach more than $100 million. These are smart, experienced stores whose Network-wide average for years-in-the-biz totals more than 22 years. They are well equipped for taking on today's mass merchant, CD-burning, MP3 downloading and superior-product battles. The fact that the Network covers more than 20 diverse metropolitan ADI markets and a host of smaller ones is testament to the amazing promotional reach of these "tastemaker" accounts.

How do you spot a MMN store? There's no standard look; they range from slick to funky, from malls to old downtown brick. Current members include The Record Exchange (nine stores), Cat's/Pop Tunes (30), Gallery Of Sound (11), Bull Moose Music (nine), Compact Disc World (ten), Streetside Records (nine), Dimple Records (four), Zia Record Exchange (seven), and their newest members, Rasputin Music (seven), and Independent Records (six).

On the heels of its third annual convention, which saw the election of new Network president David Lange (Compact Disc World CEO and owner), CMJ Retail caught up with MMN's executive director, Michael Kurtz, and spoke about the strengths, growth and future of this influential coalition.

You recently had a national convention. What were you able to accomplish?

Holding the convention in New York City was a great way for us to meet and hold meaningful discussions with over 150 label folks, as well as distributors. The inspirational stuff happened when we were given a speech on the meaning of being “independent” from Sam Phillips and when we heard White Light Motorcade, Silvertide, Simple Plan, Rhett Miller, Ours and other artists perform. In the end, it is the music that keeps us all going.

What are the Network’s plans for expansion?

We will be cautious in adding members. We know what the labels need and want from us and we have a structure in place that supports those needs as well as our own. Instead of expanding, we are looking at working with other retailers to create opportunities. The recent joint MMN/CIMS licensed Weezer EP is a good example.

What is the future for the Network?

Our goal is to thrive. We want to develop more bands and sell more music. This means we are going to have to help the labels figure out a way to remain healthy at a time when pressures are enormous. The high tech industry has done an awesome job using music as the latest killer-app for selling more crap. We need to fight back and reclaim the music — make it something people are willing to spend their own hard earned money for. Within the Network there are very talented people. [Our hope] is that labels and distribution companies will tap into this talent, both individually and collectively, and use it to change the way the music business operates.

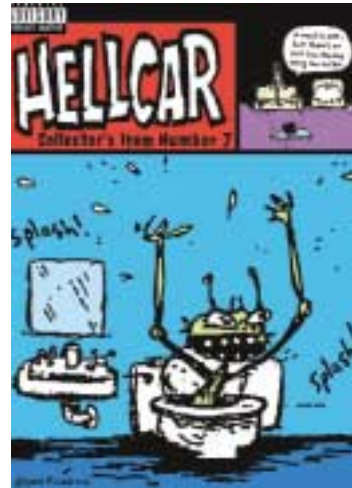

What are some of MMN’s greatest successes in breaking new artists?

Drowning Pool, Powerman 5000, Lifehouse, 12 Stones, Saliva, Sum 41, Ryan Adams, Norah Jones, Union Underground, Trick Daddy, Nappy Roots, Hoobastank, P.O.D. and Linkin Park are good examples of big-gener ones. It seems funny to mention these artists now, but honestly, when we first tried to set-up promotions with commercial radio for bands like P.O.D., Drowning Pool and Linkin Park, they totally blew us off. At the time, their attitude was arrogant. They were convinced no one cared about these bands. But we kept at it and now these bands are household names. Having said that, I don’t want to come off like the Network is solely responsible for breaking any band. We can’t do that. Bands are broken by a lot of different people and a lot of different organizations that act in concert together. You have to have radio. You have to have press. You have to have a retail community that supports and loves the music. There are so many factors, but collectively the Network provides a service labels can count on and we do a damn good job supporting their bands.

Other than your being comprised of chains, how is MMN different from CIMS?

There are many similarities, but the big difference is that all of our guys were crazy enough to take a one or two store operation and grow them into a small chain of stores, while only some of CIMS stores did. Seriously, because each Network member shares the experience of running an independently owned chain of stores, we were able to set up a structure that benefits from an economy of scale that couldn’t be achieved if each chain acted alone. A good example of this is the magazines we publish [several MMN stores have their own chain-wide publication], our comic book [Hell-car], the CD samplers [Monitor This!] and the co-branded EPs we create. We also handle our yearly conventions differently [than CIMS]. Our convention is set up to hold our internal meetings in a time and a place where we can also cost-effectively meet with a maximum of label and distribution folks. All these factors separate us from CIMS and other coalitions. Not that any of this makes us better. It doesn’t. We’re just different.

What is your sense of independent retail’s future?

The future for independent retail is healthy. The people who run these stores tend to be tenacious and agile and individually (as well as collectively), the labels recognize their ability to quickly respond to promotional opportunities. The future of [indie retail] coalitions lies in our ability to work together to level the playing field where the huge corporations and us compete. Competition is good for everyone, so the success of retail coalitions is something that everyone wants and needs.

“We have such a great group of progressive retail minds. I know we will come up with an even more dynamic organization for the future.”

From desperation comes invention and the independent retailers of today must be inventive. As retail’s landscape continues to evolve, many independents have begun to think strategically about how to survive — together. Music Monitor Network also continues its own evolution, and though they’ve become quite successful over the last few years, members are constantly looking for ways to innovate and improve.

“As successful as The Network has been,” new MMN president David Lange commented, “we still have a long way to go in order to meet tomorrow’s challenges. We will be devoting a good portion of our next meeting [to be held in Orlando, March 2003] to discovering how The Network can better serve its members and the music business. We have such a great group of progressive retail minds. I know we will come up with an even more dynamic organization for the future.”

MMN stands as a great example of a business community whose desire to work together has turned it into a national force both labels and distribution companies can now turn to for help in breaking new artists and in turning today’s unknowns into tomorrow’s household names. NMR

SUNSET BLACK

Emotionally gut wrenching stories enveloped by raw aggression. Like Sunny Day Real Estate meets the Deftones... an exposed nerve, and a serial killers focus.

"Americas best kept secret, emotional rock from Minneapolis with a garage attitude."

ROBB RIVERA drummer • Nonpoint

Sunset Black's debut album "Common Ground" in stores now! Go to www.sunsetblack.com for more info!

LEGENDS OF RODEO

If you like Ryan Adams, Dashboard Confessional and The Strokes... You need to check this out!

"With Punk Rock and Classic Rock influences, LOR has taken the garage band out of the garage and into the great wide open."

- ALTERNATIVE PRESS

"LOR allows its country-influenced rock to get rowdy, reminiscent and downright sad. It sounds like Tom Petty kicking Paul Westerburg's ass, and Paul liking it."

- MIAMI HERALD

Legends of Rodeo's debut album "A Thousand Friday Nights" in stores now! Go to www.lormusic.com for more info!

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

WARM GUNS

Put the Warm Guns on and you will instantly feel like you're back in the age of classic, positive pop. Like the Beatles' Rubber Soul and Sgt. Pepper's, or David Bowie's Hunky Dory, the songs on the Guns' new album, Blown Away, will stick in your head and the smart lyrics will make you think. The Warm Guns is a band that won't let you forget that pop music can have meaning, substance and intelligence. Recently, CMJ caught up with the group and asked the band's multi-instrumentalist songwriter, Rex Monday, a few questions about the Beatles and the power of music.

Can you give us a little band history?

This is definitely a cart-before-the-horse project, in that we went into the studio and recorded the album and then put the band together.

Why the name the Warm Guns?

Happiness is a warm gun and we hope to create happiness. Also, if you take that title, "Happiness Is A Warm Gun," and take out the allusions to heroin that the Beatles used — bang bang, shoot shoot — I think everybody has their "warm gun," a place they go to for joy or pleasure. They can get that through family, or intimate relationships, and the place where they go is their "warm gun." The name has many meanings.

The band's motto is "veritas vos liberabit" (the truth shall set you free). Can you explain that a bit in the context of the band?

There are so many ways that veritas vos liberabit.

Judging by the manifesto on your web site (www.thewarmguns.com), you are a band that firmly believes in the redeeming, positive power of music. Can rock still change the world in these dangerous times?

It's an incredibly powerful medium. Look at the way kids are reacting to Britney Spears, Jennifer Lopez and *NSync, as well as the more "heavy duty" bands like Green Day and Limp Bizkit. They are all doing a particular thing and it's affecting the way young people think. I know a little girl who is a complete Britney Spears fan and she knows all the dance moves and is totally into all that and it's conditioning where she's coming from. Our drummer actually went to a Britney Spears concert and she was working a stripper pole. I'm not going to categorize her message as being bad, but I'll say it's risqué and sexual and there are seven-year-olds going to her shows. So, what is that putting out there? On the other side, with bands like Limp Bizkit, TOOL and KoRn, it seems really aggressive and angry. There are a lot of bands putting out this message of angst and I wonder if people are really so angry that they need to market it.

The Warm Guns make vintage sounding pop music. Where do you think that sits in between the teen pop and the angry bands?

I don't think it fits in. Hopefully we can be another message that's an alternative to all of the other types of music that aren't really teaching anyone about anything.

Many of your songs have a political message. Would you consider yourselves a political band?

The album was written quickly and I didn't think about politics. As odd as it might sound, it just came out that way. But yes, it is political. We talk about gun control. Certain lyrics came up during the making of the record that we hadn't really decided what they meant at the time; we just threw them in because it sounded good and it made sense in the song. They just kind of channeled through. A song like "My Twenties Through Sixties" is political because the main character in the song is going back in time and trying to right all these wrongs that were done in that time span. A song like "What You Need" is much like [John Lennon's] "Imagine." It's trying to put the "all you need is love" idea back into the mainstream. If you really follow that, and figure out what love means in your life, you can ease some of the suffering in yourself and in the world. The opening line to the song "I Love That Voodoo" is, "History's lessons are taught, but you don't listen." A lot of the songs bring up what happened in the 20th Century. We are fresh into a new century and I don't want people to forget what happened in the last one. It was a motherfucker of a century for the human race.

The album is full of really dense, epic pop. Was that difficult to coordinate in the studio? Can you talk a bit about the recording process?

It sort of evolved. We started out simply and we wanted to do it old school. Each song dictated what kind of production to use. Thankfully, we have a cellist in the band, so we arranged all the strings, hit-or-miss, until we got it right.

Did you use any sampling or electronics in recording the album?

Yeah, actually, we did. We used some trickery in there. We took some familiar things, I won't state exactly what they are, but we tweaked them, made them our own and made them fit with what the song needed. As far as sampling goes, we use very little actual electronic gear. We used a sampler on just a few songs. I really wanted to keep out the electronic element because it wasn't necessary or needed. We wanted the album to hearken back to the days when a band played a song live in the studio three times, did some overdubs and that was it. We wanted to pull all of the technology out of the album.

Do you guys enjoy being compared to the Beatles and David Bowie?

Actually, that's the best complement we could get. Those are two of our all time favorite artists. It's greatly flattering.

Was it a conscious decision to create such a vintage sounding record?

It was definitely planned. We wanted to let the Beatle influence filter through us and that's what you have before you. When I was writing the record, I was writing music that I wanted to hear and hadn't heard in a long time.

What about some more modern artists that inspire you?

Peter Gabriel, Kate Bush, Mike Johnston of The The, No Doubt, Doves and Radiohead. We can sit here all night and name off bands we love.

Any other comments you want to make to CMJ?

Each individual can and does make a difference.

Morbid Angel guitarist/Hate Eternal HNIC Erik Rutan has elected to leave the Angel and focus on the Eternal full-time. Of his decision, the death metal maestro says, "Being in Morbid Angel for the past nine years has been the greatest time of my life. To play in my favorite death metal band of all time has been a tremendous honor. It's now time for me to stand on my own two feet with Hate Eternal." No replacement hath been named. • Mötley Crüe has inked a deal which will allow the dastardly band to turn the autobiography The Dirt into a film. The tome, which was like the Boy Scouts Manual On How To Be A Bad Ass Mother Fucker In Rock 'N' Roll, detailed the debauchery of the Crüe in its heyday! Hell, Vince Neil's young daughter passed away and none of his ex-bandmates even called to express sympathy. Foul! The movie should be a blast, as the Crüe will air its filth-encrusted laundry in front of millions. No word on whether or not the band will appear in the flick. • December, Destruction, Kreator and Cephalic Carnage are embarking on a U.S. tour this fall. See it and have your face unceremoniously ripped from your skeleton. •

Morbid Angel

Hardcore is so incestuous! Former members of Louisville's By The Grace Of God (which, scenesters will remember, featured former members of Endpoint) have formed Black Widows. The Widows have released Stops A Beating Heart through Initial Records and it's a raging slab of Washington, D.C. post-core. If you like Swiz, Sweetbelly Freakdown and Drive Like Jehu, check out the Widows. If you never heard of the aforementioned bands, do your homework and then check out the Widows. • Burnt By The Sun's phenomenal drummer, Dave Witte, is going to perform with Atari Teenage Riot revolutionary Alec Empire at various performances this Fall. He's also gonna bash the skins with indie rockers Melt Banana. Um, we like him best in BBTS, quite possibly the best band to storm out of Jersey in eons. • A moment of silence, since Samson founder Paul Samson passed away from cancer. • Morgion and Relapse Records have parted ways. • Don't all scream with unabashed desire at once, but Helloween is working on new songs in Germany. A new album, The Dark Ride, will be available next year. Can hardly wait. • Left of center stoner rocker Dead Meadow has signed with Matador Records, graduating from Fugazi rocker Joe Lally's Tolotta label. Congrats and kudos. • Beer City Records is going to re-release classic DRI records over the next few months. • We told you Grade was breaking up and reforming without hottie frontman Kyle Bishop under the name Heir To The Throne. The ink barely dried on the news when the Canadian kids decided to change the name to Somehow Hollow and will name its first recording Heirs To The Throne. Fickle, fickle. But oh so clever. • Reports indicate that, on the eve of the metalcore behemoth's signing with Victory, Martyr AD throat Mike Fisketti has left the band. The search for a replacement is on. • Even though Poison The Well just released Tear From The Red, pre-production on its next effort will begin in January 2003. • Canadian rap metallers Headstrong and RCA have parted company. Dang, that was fast. New RCA act the Color Red is about as radio-ready as it gets, as evidenced by the band's NYC showcase. • P.O.D.'s Sonny Sandoval — has he got the face of angel or what? — has been sidelined with a herniated disc in his neck and back. He'll undergo surgery. • Warner Bros. promo darling Rachel Howard slipped us an advance of Trapt. It's rock in the vein of Hoobstank and should show up on your cluttered desk shortly. • If you're thinking of catching the soap opera sideshow titled "Sans Halen," the David Lee Roth-Sammy Hagar tour debacle, we urge you to do it! We caught the show one hot August night, and it was, to quote a popular Van Hagar song, "The Best Of Both Worlds." DLR — looking older than dirt, with bleached hair, a tight six-pack belly, and skintight pink 'n black bell bottoms — was all about himself, performing all his VH classics. He couldn't get his legs up to do the kicks though! Love him. The yellow-clad Red Rocker performed his old tunes, like "Three Lock Box" and "I Can't Drive 55." But for the most part, it was all VH hits. A hit parade...the only thing missing? Eddie Van Halen, Michael Anthony and Alex Van Halen, who are, to paraphrase Murphy's Law, sitting home and rotting. Somebody fix this mess!

INDUSTRY NEWS

Earache publicity guru, the unruly but lovable Curran Reynolds, has a band. It's called Wet Nurse. He says it's psychedelic grind metal and we would not expect anything less from the man who parties so hard at metalfests, he'd make Pantera turn its collective head in amazement. Check www.wetnurse.4mg.com for more info. So, Curran, send over a nifty demo to P.O. Box 1670, Rutherford, NJ.07070. Please. • Crucial Spins reporter WPXC/Cape Cod, MA will no longer report to the panel, since the "Pixy 103 Extreme" show has been cancelled in favor of a more mainstream, new music, alternative specialty show. Apparently, the station as a whole is dropping most of the aggro-leaning active cuts from its regular rotation. The host, Eric Stafford, will continue to spin more crossover acts on his specialty show, like Tool and Disturbed, so keep him on your mailing lists if you've got artists of this ilk. Good luck with the new show, Eric! Thanks for being one of the first stations to join Crucial Spins back in the day. • The add date for Chevelle's heady Wonder What's Next has been pushed back to Oct. 7-8. Apparently, Epic is hoping to have big first week numbers, à la TRUSTcompany. • WVFS/Tallahassee, FL Loud Rock Director Dan Rosenblum sent a copy of his band Cream Abdul Babar's disc, The Catalyst To Ruins. Whoa. It's arty like Isis, dense like Neurosis, and the goofball name is no indicator of this band's go-for-the-jugular ferocity.

LOUD ROCK PROFILE

Dave "The Madman" Pirtle

Dave "The Madman" Pirtle of KSJS in San Jose, CA "enjoys" both music and metal director titles at the station. He says, "I love doing this more than any class I've ever taken or any paid job I've ever had." And, he's so dedicated that he plans on staying at the station until he cannot mentally or physically handle it anymore, since alumni are allowed to retain positions. He ultimately wants to start his own record label, but for now, we caught up with the Madman and found out he's not so mad and that his steelheart (yes, that band reference is on purpose!) is impossible to tear apart.

How did you cultivate the nickname "Madman?"

I killed three and ate their raw flesh. Well, not really. It originated my senior year of high school because I was almost always mad about something. Fast-forward to 1999, when I started getting more involved with the station, helping out one of the other metal DJs, pulling music, recording phone calls, etc. He said, "Damn, you're running around here like a madman!"

Give us the lowdown on the show you host, "Insanitarium."

I try to play a wide variety, since there is so much different metal out there; it's a bit schizophrenic. Thrash, death, traditional, hardcore, black, power, even some of the fast rock 'n' roll-type stuff. I figure if my mind is fucked up, everyone should share my pain! Plus, I hate to be confined by other people's expectations, so I just play the stuff that I like, knowing that there's an audience for all of it. There's nothing like following up Decide with Nashville Pussy to mess with people's heads, then randomly throwing on cartoon themes or parody songs. Too many people take this music way too seriously, and they need to loosen up. The most popular part of the show is the "Local Disturbances" hour, which is — you guessed it! — all local bands. Some of the bigger stations out here are jumping on the local bandwagon but they won't play anything too heavy. I try to mix that up as much as, if not more than, the rest of the show, to display the variety of music coming out of the area.

Why is a "metal heart hard to tear apart?" Why did you add this snazzy quote to your email signature?

I stole this from Hammerfall. My interpretation is that a true metalhead is passionate about their metal, and nothing will ever make them stop loving it. As time goes by and the mainstream gets worse and worse, the metal heart gets stronger and stronger. From a non-musical standpoint, a strong heart could be said to be made of metal, and if you have that, it's hard for people to bring you down.

END THIS DAY Sleeping Beneath The Ashes Of Creation (Lifeforce)

We're coining a new phrase: NWOAMC. That's "New Wave Of American Metal Core." Fortunately for Wisconsin's End This Day, the band is going to be our guinea pigs in dissecting and explaining this sound.

NWOAMC is sweeping the American shores, from California to New England. It is earmarked by hardcore patented breakdowns, an able-piped singer who can shriek with the kind of vigor and venom that wakes the dead as well as busting a melodic note here and there, and an influence of European, black or death metal with emo and post-hardcore flecking the music. Oftentimes, the bands like to show off desert-dry senses of humor and artiness through strange song titles and fancy album titles. End This Day is a member of this NWOAMC alliance and Sleeping Beneath The Ashes Of Creation is belligerent proof of that. The band's "black roots" are showing, as an undercurrent of black metal speed and style rips through tracks like "Silently Choking On Her Regret" and "Killing In The Month Of July." Utterly righteous.

INTERNECINE The Book Of Lambs (Hammerheart)

You'll feel as though you've entered the fifth circle of hell with Internecine's The Book of Lambs. Why? Because it's death, death, death and more death metal. Internecine is the baby of Hate Eternal's Jared Anderson. On the recording, Anderson played guitar, bass and sang, with guest drumming by his Hate bandmate, Derek Roddy, and Nile's Tony Laurenno. His boss, Hate Eternal mastermind Erik Rutan, contributes blinding guitar solos in addition to producing the effort. The Book Of Lambs addresses religion in its lyrics, a trait typical of most death metal acts, and the album is faster and more cunning than a street hustler and will pound your skull into a pile of fine dust. "Ceremonies Of Deceit" and "Hymns Of Sanctity" are premium face rippers, so start with those.

SUGARCOMA Becoming Something Else (MFN-Koch)

With such a sweet, perky name, it wouldn't be a stretch to assume that Sugarcoma is a troupe of energetic pop punkers. But many times, assumptions couldn't be farther from reality and the truth. Sugarcoma's debut full length, Becoming Something Else, is one of those cases. These British teens — consisting of three chicks and a male drummer — are committed to hard rock with hooks and jump up 'n down riffs, held together by the solid production of Colin Richardson (Carcass, Five Pointe O). Think Veruca Salt or Hole jacked up on a metal fix. Frontwoman Jess Mayers uses her throat to sing like a swan for the most part, but on "Windings," "Last Orders" and "Zero Star," she contorts her larynx and winds up sounding like she used to be in the Doughnuts (remember that all-female, Swedish hardcore act on Victory in the mid-1990s?). Sugarcoma doesn't get mired down in grrl power politics or too much of a "rock chick" image. And any band — regardless of how many women it is comprised of — that can cover Britney Spears's "(You Drive Me) Crazy" has gigantic balls.

DRILL 187 The Faceless Majority (Unsigned)

Haven't heard of Drill 187? Is The Faceless Majority your first brush with the band? That's okay. Not to worry. The buzz is louder than a hornet's nest right now. The North Carolina band is thisclose to picking up major management and a record deal should soon follow. So, metal programmers that lean towards the "active" rock sound should jump on Drill 187 like yesterday, and be down with the group before it blows up. The Faceless Majority toes the line between new metal and active rock. Frontman Jason Lilley sings more than he screams while his cohorts make music for the masses that have already embraced Disturbed and Sevendust. "Scrape It Off" and "187" are two "could be" smashes.

KOVENANT In Times Before The Light (Hammerheart)

Kovenant's In Times Before The Light is an old Kovenant album, recently reworked, remixed, remastered and redesigned by the band for mass consumption. The album was often difficult for diehard fans to locate, so the nice chaps in the Kovenant decided to give its fans a little nugget to cherish. Equal parts black metal and ominous, synth rock, In Times Before The Light is a melding of metal genres. If those German freaks in Rammstein set themselves on fire to a Cradle Of Filth record, it'd sound like In Times Before The Light. A must have for completists.

How many watts is your station? How many people do you reach?

We're approximately the size of a drive-in movie theatre, targeted mainly at the campus residences, but if you include Internet streaming, we have the potential to reach 6 billion people!

How long have you been and will you be MD?

I started in the hallowed halls of CFRE in 1999, and don't plan to leave until I graduate. This is my fifth year at U of T and my second year as MD.

What's your programming philosophy?

I like to mix the new with the old — get people to listen to the station by playing the songs they recognize, while tossing in a good mixture of new stuff to turn 'em on to the stuff that college radio is all about.

What do you do to build your station's audience?

Anything and everything — you name it, we've tried it. Everything from serving pancakes for breakfast to students passing by the station to DJing in local bars.

Are you on the air? What kind of show do you do?

For the last three years, I've hosted a show called "The New Alternative," playing all kinds of great tunes that don't get regular radio play. I think this year I might host a show with the station manager, Matt Sullivan, called "The Worst of CFRE," playing some of the stuff that we can't believe even gets serviced to college radio. (All you MDs know exactly what I'm talking about and have all secretly wanted to host a similar show.)

What's the craziest thing that ever happened to you while you were on-air?

Nothing too crazy has happened here, but I've had calls from listeners as far as Germany, Las Vegas and British Columbia.

What was your most embarrassing radio-related moment?

Probably my first show. I was a frosh, and me and my buddy Jeff hosted a comedy show under the pseudonyms Jack Daniels and Jim Beam. We kept screwing up and calling each other Josh and Jeff.

What's the best line a promoter ever used on you to get you to play a record?

I can't remember anything specific, but Moose has had some gems.

What's the best promo item you've ever received?

I'm still waiting for the Star Wars standee that I won in a contest from Team Clermont. Conveniently, right after I won it, Lucas left.

What would you like to see at this year's CMJ Music Marathon? Who are you going to be there with?

I'm hyped to see Ben Kweller and Kid Koala. It looks right now like I'll be the lone Canadian representing from CFRE, so if anyone is looking for a roomie, I'm your man. I don't take up a lot of room — I can just curl up on the end of the bed.

Name one CD you're embarrassed to say you own.

Weird Al Yankovic is a guilty pleasure of mine. I've got a bunch of his old cassettes.

Why did you go into college radio?

Because I applied to Radio And Television Arts at Ryerson and didn't get in. So I'm taking the back road to a career in radio.

What's your major?

Major? Damn, I knew I forgot something!

Are you interested in going into the music industry? Doing what?

I'd love to be an MD at a commercial alternative station to help weed out the crap there. It's really tough for new bands to crack the Canadian market.

What's your favorite Behind The Music episode?

I don't really have time to watch TV, but I'd love to see one on Tenacious D. I'd also love to be on Becoming or Gonna Meet A Rock Star with the D.

Any shoutouts?

I wanna give a quick shoutout to Chris Wagner, Mike Rachmel, Vicki Bonanno, Jen Costa, Shevan Bastiapaldi, and all those who came before me. I still have mail here addressed to you waiting to be opened!

COPE WITH IT

In a land and time far, far away and long, long ago (OK, 50 years ago in New York City), Seymour Solomon and his younger brother Maynard founded Vanguard Records. With a $10,000 loan from their father, they landed a tiny one-room office on Broadway. Two more years and an additional $13K loan were all it took to launch what today remains one of America's leading independent record labels.

My first Vanguard record was Country Joe And The Fish's Electric Music For The Mind And Body, which was immediately followed by I Feel Like I'm Fixin' To Die. Later, I got turned on to great blues artists like Mississippi John Hurt, John Hammond and the Chicago blues scene. Just as incredible were the folk influences of blacklisted artists like Paul Robeson and the Weavers; folk music from Buffy Sainte-Marie, Joan Baez, and Richard and Mimi Farina; and bluegrass from, well, just about the best guitar player in the business (even better than Jimi), Doc Watson. Vanguard was and remains an amazing label with a tremendous history, finding success by maintaining the integrity of their artists' original recordings.

Today, Vanguard is owned by the Welk Music Group. Yes, it's the same family that produced Lawrence and his bubbles — but it's also home to a number of strong labels with a great combination of established and breaking artists. Vanguard, Ranwood and Sugar Hill make up Welk's label core. Vanguard is primarily a catalog/compilation label with a few new artists like John Hiatt. Ranwood represents the likes of Lawrence Welk, Myron Floren and the Lennon Sisters. But the icing on the cake is Sugar Hill, a label who in the last two months has released Dolly Parton's Halos and Horns (over 150,000 shipped) and the current smash from Nickel Creek, This Side (over 300,000 shipped and 50,000 scanned its first week). Oh yeah, and they have Rodney Crowell.

So what's the big deal? Well, first of all you gotta respect what these guys release, both historically and musically. But the real story is that here is one of the few truly successful independent record companies still in operation. When their distributor, DNA, headed south with Valley, the Welk Music Group faced a major dilemma: place their future in the hands of an interested major, find another indie distributor or do it themselves. It wasn't an easy decision, but GM Kevin Welk and VP of Sales Dan Sell decided to take control of their own destiny and sell direct to every legitimate account in the business — a ballsy move for a small company in the land of giants.

The move has proven to be a wise one. I worked with the Welk Music Group for a short time and can honestly say it is a company as concerned about its artists as it is about its bottom line — and it looks like they've got it under control. Kudos to a job well done and for keeping the independents alive. It can be done. Peace, Cope.

Part II next week.

"There is nobody more tenacious the business than the individual thinking, the individual worker known as the individual merchandiser of music. I can tell you that I owe really my career and the career of all the people I recorded to you."

-the legendary Sam Phillips addressing the Music Monitor Network members Music Monitor Network Convention - BMG Night - August 5, 2002

BMG Distribution and its family of labels would like to thank the Music Monitor Network for their continued support.

Buyer/Marketing Director
Graywhale CD Exchange
Salt Lake has always been a hotbed for both independent music and retail. As buyer and marketing director for Graywhale CD, the only indie chain left in Utah (as listed on www.the-ird.com), I think I'm qualified to comment on how this evolution has happened. In the '70s and '80s, SLC was filled with Ma and Pa stores (Pegasus, Sound Off, Raspberry, Eli's, Randy's, Starbound, Salt City CD, Get In Here, the Heavy Metal Shop and Graywhale, just to name a few). Due to the national-chain expansion craze of the early '90s, sadly, Randy's, the Heavy Metal Shop, Starbound and Graywhale are the only true indie stores left standing. Graywhale CD opened in 1985 as an exclusive compact disc store, less than one year after the medium's inception. Just a couple of months after opening the store, founder and president Steve Gray decided to start selling his personal collection, becoming the first retailer to sell and exchange used CDs in Utah. Since 1985, Graywhale CD Exchange (as it is now known) has expanded to eight locations — stocking and selling new and used CDs, DVDs, video games and systems, and even vinyl! We have locations next to most of the universities in Utah and our main location/office is located in the heart of Salt Lake just beneath the University of Utah campus. Our stores range in size from the intimate 1000-square-foot main location to the 3500-square-foot west side store. With the combination of employees who really know their music and our growing yearly sales, Graywhale CD Exchange is the place to shop. Recently Best Buy (and soon Virgin Megastore) infiltrated our area, but it's a challenge our stores can survive. As much as people think the behemoth will take over, Utahns look for value and intelligence. Contrary to what some may think, Utah rocks pretty hard. There's always been a prominent

Video for "Need To Get Some" has been made and will be serviced in late fall (rather than now) as part of Epitaph's ongoing efforts to really develop their artists along a sensible timeline.	Video for "To Hell With Good Intentions" is just finishing up now and will be serviced to all the regular suspects soon.	No video. However, the Broken Spindles live experience features movies projected onto large video screens and tons of special lighting. Joel made the films specifically for the live show and tailored them for its performance.
Press/TV	Always a press darling, this time's no exception. Major support from Time , People , NY , LA and Chicago Sun Times and all music mags at every level. TV appearances on Today , Fox News's On The Record with Greta V., Inside Edition , 3 episodes on HBO's the Wire . Expect him to make all late-night circuit stops.	Press has been very good so far. Rolling Stone ("Hot Band" issue out 8/30), Spin , Entertainment Weekly , Pulse! , Alternative Press , Filter Revolver , Guitar Player , Big Brother , Mean Street , Soundcheck (cover), Venice and more.	Press pouring in from Alternative Press to Pettigrew , CMJ Monthly , Gear , Magnet , Mean Street , Revolver , Rockpile , Stance , Skyscraper , Strength , Thrasher and more. The real key in breaking this band is for people just to hear it—garage rockers and more will convert.	Publicity is still in its early stages, but Girlie Action is working the record and has already secured press support from Heckler , XLR8R , Shout , Urb , Magnet , Alternative Press , Blender , Tokion , CMJ Monthly and more. Fanzine support is beginning to pick up as well.
Tour	Northeast and Midwest tour starts mid-November. As of this writing, dates are still being finalized—check sites below for up-to-date info.	Division Of Laura Lee on tour with Haven (we love Haven) 10/1 – 10/22. On 10/22 they play a second show to kick off their 10/22 – 11/2 tour with The (Intl.) Noise Conspiracy and Ikara Colt. Playing at CMJ 2002 on 11/2.	Major market tour dates TBA, but the full invasion will come at the beginning of the year.	All upcoming dates will be with Azure Ray and Now It's Overhead. Tour runs 9/6 – 10/5 with a Tiger Style showcase at the CMJ Music Marathon 2002 on 11/1. Spindles tour to hit most major markets.
Internet	Best sites are steveearle.com and artemisrecords.com. Both sites give the latest news, bios, videos, links, pics, etc. Both also have players where fans can stream five Jerusalem tracks. Artemis working closely with Amazon through the rest of 2003.	Go to the new epitaph.com just launched. It's got everything fans need on DOLL. The new Epitaph site is much easier to use—fans can make mix tapes from available audio and watch videos. DOLL has gotten several thousand hits since their page went up last month.	Best site for now is the long one: beggars.com/us/artists/mclusky/mc.html —a good place to start to get introduced to everything Mclusky. Beggars will be initiating a "Seeding" program with file sharing sites where the focus track will be offered and promoted to file sharing subscribers with R.I.Y.L. tastes.	Good sites for checking out Broken Spindles are tigerstylerecords.com and thefaint.com. Good places to get mp3s and video footage as well.
Notes	If you want in-store play copies, POP, or tickets to a show, hit up Nick Tieder at nickjrb5@aol.com (212.433.1885). This is a landmark album for Steve that further solidifies him as one of America's brightest creative lights. His Transcendental Blues Live DVD comes out 9/24 as well. Counter bins for both DVD and CD, POP (2x1).	Part of why word-of-mouth travels so well is that Epitaph has been strategic about including DOLL on several key samplers including Punk-O-Rama V.7 (over 200k shipped), Vans Warped Tour 2000 (100k), Extreme Sound sampler (140k as value-add during Epitaph's summer catalog restocking program). R.I.Y.L. Hives, Jesus and Mary Chain. DOLL is it's own flower. Definitely n-store play "Need."	A great quote from Dazed and Confused gives you a taste of how people are responding to the record: "What they do is celebratory, funny and funky enough to make the famously reticent [producer Steve] Albini dance in a strange, angular, arms-out fashion." In-store play "To Hell With Good Intentions." Contact euvin@beggars.com for any questions.	Posters and in-store play copies available for all. Joel and the Spindles will be available for several in-store appearances and/or performances during slower tour days. Their full live show, though, includes video screens, special lightings, etc. Get in touch with Mike Treff at Tiger Style about possible ticket giveaways: mike@tigerstylerecords.com or 212.777.8056 x 22.

Who would have thought a renaissance in music retailing would be going on in the faraway North Detroit suburbs? From the unorthodox use of street promotion teams for store events to the brilliant idea of selling shirts that double as both discount coupon and walking billboard — the folks at Rock-A-Billy's are always thinking. Selling front-of-house is not unusual for retailers, but Rock-A-Billy's does it all the time. One night they sold simultaneously at three different shows (Sum 41, Hatebreed and Cheap Trick)! Even though there are plenty of local music retailers, big and small, that would be much closer to the venue, Rock-A-Billy's was recently chosen as the official retailer for the Warped Tour's 2002 Detroit stop.

Hall Road, one of Michigan's most traveled, is like an endless train of strip-malls and mega-stores. Just when all hope seems lost, a CD shop with flames shooting off its signs appears just ahead. Rock-A-Billy's owners Bill and Donna O'Keefe opened the store November 21, 1993, in Shelby Township, 20 miles north of Detroit. Since northern Detroit suburbs had very little to offer music lovers, their store was born from Bill's passion for music, his desire to provide great music to people at low prices and to have a comfortable hang-out environment to do it in. Rock-A-Billy's offered several things the area had never really seen before — used CDs, a truly knowledgeable staff and free live music. During these early years O'Keefe also helped found the DMRC (Detroit Music Retailers Collective).

Manager Scotty Hagen with owner Bill O'Keefe (wearing the famous Rock-A-Billy's coupon T-shirt).

Now after three locations, Rock-A-Billy's has finally found a permanent home in an old bakery. The store features an extensive collection of indie, punk, hardcore, rockabilly, hundreds of local consignment titles and a performance stage. Local and national bands often stop by the store to play, hang out, shop and sign autographs. Their local cable TV station regularly tapes RAB's live shows and events for local broadcast. Rock-A-Billy's also hosts listening parties, midnight sales, breakfast sales and release parties. In addition to an e-mail newsletter, RAB offers CD listening stations, DVD stations and large window murals on one of Michigan's busiest roads.

NEWSWORTHY

Weezer Rocks Indies

In a deal with indie coalitions Music Monitor Network and the Coalition of Independent Music Stores, Muppet-cavorting spectacle-rock icons Weezer will drop an exclusively licensed CD EP on September 24 that will only be available in the coalitions' vast network of indie stores. The EP, titled The Lion And The Witch, will include six live tracks recorded on their 2002 Japan World Cup Tour.

According to the official Weezer Web hub, the exclusive live document came in response to their label, Geffen, doing EPs with other artists that are only available at major chains like Best Buy. "CIMS and Music Monitor ... approached Geffen asking to have the same treatment except, instead of having Sheryl Crow or U2, they asked for Weezer." The CD will have a limited pressing of 25,000 and will be available in the dozens of CIMS and MMN stores. No word yet on whether the estate of C.S. Lewis plans to sue the boys back into the Stone Age over that title.

Avril Lavigne falls for "Sk8r Boi" (spelling-be-damned!)

Punky pop songstress Avril Lavigne is doing just gr8 with her new guerilla performance video "Sk8er Boi." MTV aired the "Sk8r Boi" Making The Video in mid-August, after the huge success of her single, "Complicated." Avril appeared on Total Request Live last week to hand-deliver the "Sk8er Boi" video, and now the 17-year-old Canadian skate-punk has been launched into a st8 of acceler8ed popularity. "Sk8r Boi" shot to No. 1 on TRL on its second day of the countdown. Her Arista debut, Let Go, has recently crossed the threshold of double platinum and is currently w8ing for certification.

subculture here (remember SLC Punk?) and we've always had a successful punk/indie rock scene. Karl Alvarez and Bill Stevenson from seminal punk bands Descendents and All are from here. Salt Lake has always had a good local scene — from '80s heroes the Boxcar Kids to today's favorites the Red Bennies and Hammergun. We recently saw a couple locals get signed and move on to bigger and better things: the Used to Reprise and Silvercrush to Redline. Overall, independent music and its culture are alive and well in "Zion."

"What clever bastards! It reminds you just how great popular music can be."
-- Greg Penny, Producer (K.d. lang, Elton John, Cher, Poperetta, Jonathan McEuen)
"...a strong album that stands on its own. Full of smart songs with thoughtful lyrics and impeccable arrangements."
-- Music Editor, Baby Sue Review
"An album of two halves. Fortunately for us, one is Sgt. Pepper's while the other's Hunky Dory."
-- Irfan Shah, Crud Magazine (U.K.)
