★ KEYS TO SUCCESS

1. Know your stuff! Appear all-knowing by being dismissive of any band since they "signed to a major."
2. Don't miss the Red Stars! Flavor of the month? Nah. They stand for places you can get free Dewar's stuff.
3. Look sharp! Second-hand stores are all over lower Manhattan. Can't find what you want? Try the Salvation Army in Jersey.
4. Have a plan! (a) Wherever you are, it sucks. (b) Go somewhere else. (c) If it's cool, stay 10 minutes, then say it sucks. (d) Back to b.
5. Think wardrobe irony! Wallet chains and foam trucker caps are perfect examples of retro, trendy, untrendy, and fashion forward all at once.
6. Be charming! Sure you're egotistical, sarcastic and sardonic. But just smile and let the acceptance begin.
7. Be aware! Venues are subject to change. If you show up and nobody's there, this is your first hint.

ISOBEL CAMPBELL
Milkwhite Sheets (V2)

Singing over spare, acoustic arrangements (or, as on "Loving Hannah," absolutely nothing at all), Glaswegian singer-songwriter Isobel Campbell breathes life into intimate, hushed folk songs on this, her third solo effort. With her casual, imitatively Southern delivery and gentle orchestrations of harmonicas, dulcimers and cellos, it is virtually impossible to distinguish her original songs from her covers of traditional ones. The girl-with-a-guitar genre is a crowded one, but Campbell simultaneously transcends, embraces and subverts the idiom, making Milkwhite the infinitely listenable record that Joanna Newsom's Milk-Eyed Mender should have been. (RR)

WEB: www.isobelcampbell.com
ATTN: Southern Belles seeking their Sebastians.
RELEASE DATE/ADD DATE: November 6
RADIO: Matt Pollack, matt.pollack@v2-artemis.com
KEY TRACKS: "Cashel Wood," "Beggars, Wiseman Or Thief," "Loving Hannah"
OF NOTE: Campbell wrote the track "James" for former Smashing Pumpkin James Iha (who plays on the song "Thursday's Child") after he showed her some open tunings for her guitar.

LADY SOVEREIGN
Public Warning (Def Jam)

On her long-awaited debut full-length, Lady Sovereign proves why she's the Jay-Z-anointed stateside ambassador for the very English combination of grime and rhymes. She raps—in either a rhythmic patois or a tongue-twisting rapid fire—over delightfully cheap-sounding synth bleeps, while her slang-heavy lyrics manage to be both self-deprecating and boastful. With big, hooky choruses and rhymes that are not only cheeky ("I'm getting pissed like Pampers/ throwing a tantrum") but also totally comprehensible despite her accent, Sov should succeed where many of her rapping countrymen have failed. (RR)

RELEASE DATE/ADD DATE: October 31/at radio
RADIO: The Syndicate, college@thesyn.com
KEY TRACKS: "9 To 5," "Those Were The Days," "Random"
OF NOTE: The self-proclaimed "biggest midget in the game" has already collaborated with big names like Basement Jaxx, the Streets and even Beastie Boy Ad Rock, who produced a remix of her track "A Little Bit Of Shhh."

PINEBENDER
Working Nine To Wolf (Lovitt)

Chicago's sleeping giant of a power trio opens their third album with a 14-minute, distortion-addicted slow-burner that sounds like a Dinosaur Jr. 45 being played at 33 rpm. Working is Pinebender's first recording with a new lineup (baritone guitarist Matt Clark left in 2002), but the personnel changes haven't inspired changes in the band's M.O.: They're still cranking the amps and fuzz pedals to 11 and letting the feedback fly. Yet Working sees the group deploying their tense-and-release riffs with newfound acuteness and a keener sense of melody. (MF)

RELEASE DATE/ADD DATE: November 7/November 21

OF NOTE: Vocalist/guitarist Chris Hansen is the only original member of the band still in the lineup.

DAVID AND THE CITIZENS Until The Sadness Is Gone

(Friendly Fire)

Now three albums into a near-seven-year career, David And The Citizens can no longer be afforded the luxury of just rehashing elements, continuing to sit on that "one to watch" list. Fortunately, they've recognized this as well. Already enormously popular in their homeland of Sweden, DATC seem poised to set the record straight everywhere with their most all-around well-constructed record to date. Occupying a space somewhere between Bright Eyes and Beulah, this is music you and your little sister will enjoy. (KK)

WEB: www.davidandthecitizens.com

ATTN: Rainy day women

RELEASE DATE/ADD DATE: Out now/at radio

RADIO: Jessica Caragliano, jess@terrorbird.com

KEY TRACKS: "The End," "Until The Sadness Is Gone," "As You Fall (I Watch With Love)"

OF NOTE: Sadness was originally released in 2004 in Scandinavia, and the band received a Swedish Grammy nomination that year for Best Pop Group.

DAYLIGHT'S FOR THE BIRDS Trouble Everywhere

(This Generations Tapes)

This album's title is a total misnomer. It's all an enormous valley with walls of pristine synth shrills and sheets of beautifully thin organic noise, anchored confidently by pop progressions that owe scores to Robert Smith. Trouble Everywhere's ecstatic reverie wards off any aura of trouble. Above it all are the detached, willful voices of Claudia Deheza and Amanda Garret, who split vocals duties by track, adding images of Dolores O'Riordan to the sprawling post-rock soundscapes. It's completely unfathomable to imagine this dream-pop gem in anywhere but daylight. (SD)

ATTN: Loveless-owners who secretly dig the Cranberries

RELEASE DATE/ADD DATE: October 31/at radio

RADIO: Justin Spindler, justin@fanaticpromotion.com

KEY TRACKS: "Worlds Away," "For No One," "Everybody In The Pool."

OF NOTE: Although former On! Air! Library! singer Claudia Deheza joins her old bandmate Phillip Wann on over half the tracks on Trouble, she is not part of the group's permanent line-up.

EVENS The Evens Get Evens (Dischord)

From Minor Threat's defining hardcore to Fugazi's proto-emo growing pains, what a long, strange trip it's been for Ian MacKaye. No one could have anticipated how he and sometime Warmers drummer Amy Farina would deftly balance almost hippieish jamming with poppy songcraft on their most un-punk record yet, The Evens Get Evens. In fact, it only reveals just how perfectly MacKaye's liberal, utopian message jives with freer tunes, from the idealistic "No Money" to the barbed polemics of "Dinner With The President," which match the cover's ashly Capitol building. Republicans need not apply. (KG)

WEB: www.dischord.com

ATTN: Avenging mathematicians; DIY loyalists; Fugazi fans

RELEASE DATE/ADD DATE: November 7

RADIO: Justin Gressley, justin@aaminc.com

KEY TRACKS: "Everybody Knows," "No Money," "All You Find You Keep"

OF NOTE: Evens are planning a European tour for 2007. As with MacKaye's other band, Fugazi, the duo tries to keep ticket prices low at shows. Their shows also don't have openers.

BENJY FERREE Leaving The Nest (Domino)

Benjy Ferree's voice resembles Rod Stewart's sometimes. Fitting, since Leaving The Nest also has the slack, easy feeling of British bands like the Faces, the Kinks or Humble Pie. Ferree, already press-shy and live show-phobic, doesn't betray any of that shyness here—opener "In The Countryside" kicks off with a "Reelin' In The Years" guitar line before becoming more back-porch than bedroom-pop. Then he channels Langhorne Slim's country boogie vibe on "Hollywood Signs," while sighing violins and waltzy piano brighten up slower tunes like "Private Honeymoon." (JS)

WEB: www.benjyferree.com
 ATTN: Village Green preservationists
 RELEASE DATE/ADD DATE: November 7/at radio
 RADIO: Morgan Lebus, morgan@dominorecordco.com
 KEY TRACKS: "In The Countryside" "The Desert" "Leaving The Nest (It's A Long Way Down)"
 OF NOTE: Fugazi's Brendan Canty mixed the album for Ferree.

GREENSKEEPERS Polo Club (Om)

There's no denying the fact that electro-poppers the Greenskeepers can write a damn catchy tune when motivated, as evidenced by their hit 2004 single "Lotion," which envelopes all the positives this band has going for it: wry lyrics, proficient instrumentation and, above all else, irresistibly danceable grooves. On their third LP, the Chicago-based foursome takes this aesthetic and finally embraces it as a band rather than a loose consortium of like-minded musicians. Polo Club is simply their most substantial effort yet and one that, as should be expected, smacks of playability. (KK)

WEB: www.greenskeepersmusic.com
 ATTN: Club scouts
 RELEASE DATE/ADD DATE: Out now/at radio
 RADIO: Gunnar Hissam, gunnar@om-records.com
 KEY TRACKS: "15 Minutes," "Bedtime," "Wanna New Drug"
 OF NOTE: Polo Club was recorded live from beginning to end and is the first release by the band that's been recorded with all four core members together in one place at the same time.

LOW FREQUENCY IN STEREO The Last Temptation Of... (Gigantic)

This Norwegian quartet displays some of the frosty Euro vibe you'd expect, especially given the chilly swoons of the boy/girl vocals. Though, on their third album, they only slip in those icy tones sparingly, mainly opting for a fairly warm recording of surf instrumental revamps like "Big City Lights" and "Bahamas," full of slightly fuzzed echo guitar, Fender Rhodes-fanned organ and beach sunset atmosphere. "Jimmy Legs" veers indie pop, while "The Last Temptation Of..." drifts into a Doors-y twirl-around they'd best leave to practice jams. They would make a great back-up band to reinvigorate either Chris Isaak or Stereolab's career. (ED)

WEB: www.lowfrequencyinstereo.com
 ATTN: Stereolab in low frequency.
 RELEASE DATES/ADD DATE: October 31/at radio
 RADIO: Justin Gressley, justin@aaminc.com

 OF NOTE: Early on, the band was an instrumentals-only outfit.

PLAGUE SONGS Various Artists (4AD)

This genre-free compilation contains a song for each biblical plague in the Book Of Exodus. Some are frightening, but some are so beautiful they transcend plague status, such as Rufus Wainwright's jazzy take on dying firstborn children, "Katonah," and Imogen Heap's breathy, electro-pop locust raid, "Glittering Cloud." The standout though is Stephin Merritt's bouncy ode to lice, with the lyrics, "Fleas, fleas, STDs, all of Egypt on her knees/Lice, lice, in paradise, unnecessary heresies." Other notable nobles include Brian Eno, Laurie Anderson, Cody Chesnutt, Klashnekoff and others. Wait 'til Pharaoh hears this! (KG)

SHOOK ONES Facetious Folly Feat (Revelation)

Not every pop-punk band is started so a passel of pasty dudes can score with underage girls. Sometimes guys just want to jump around and have fun, and Seattle's Shook Ones guiltlessly indulge their predilections on their second album. Fast, frantic, catchy and caustic, it's difficult not to accuse them of taking too many cues from Lifetime and Kid Dynamite. In fact, they'd probably be stoked if you did. The band's website proudly proclaims their raison d'être: "To stand as a living tribute to the work of [Lifetime/Kid Dynamite guitarist] Dan Yemin." (MF)

THIS MOMENT IN BLACK HISTORY It Takes A Nation

Of Assholes To Hold Us Back (Cold Sweat)

Stock market rah-rah seems particularly hypocritical if you're a resident of Cleveland, where hard times have dropped like napalm. But luckily Brownstown's post-core equivalent, TMIBH, stand strong on their second CD. A spoken intro explodes into "Larry Pulled A Knife On Jesus." Riffs rattle the spine, synths squeal and rhythms race, lurch, then lash like a comrade hunting the blue bloods. You wouldn't know it from all the bedroom-secluded indie boys and blissful R&B club-hiders, but this moment is no time for retreat, as TMIBH reminds. (ED)

CALVIN AYRE

FOUNDER OF BODOG.COM ENTERTAINMENT GROUP

Though Calvin Ayre has made a name for himself as an international gambling entrepreneur, his goals are spreading rapidly. He's recently introduced Bodog Music, the record label arm of Ayre's international digital entertainment company, Bodog.com.

Considering your background in the gaming industry, how did you get into the music biz?

A few years back, while I was standing outside of a local Vancouver coffee shop, I was almost bitten by a dog. The dog's owner—who happened to be a well-known music artist named Bif Naked—luckily called her dog off, and the two of us got talking. Before I knew it, Bodog.com had a music label, and Bif is now one [of our artists]. Since its inception, Bodog.com has modeled its business around the idea of creating a [broad-based] digital entertainment brand. Music, television, publishing and online gambling have certain synergies that can form an all-encompassing entertainment experience.

How involved are you in choosing and/or approving the bands on Bodog Music?

We have a great music team in place worldwide, consisting of over 70 music industry professionals. I am personally involved in all major decisions and the artistic direction of the label. Just based on the scope and size that Bodog Music has grown to, I cannot be a direct part of individual artist development, however, I am very familiar with the majority of the artists on our roster.

Would you say Bodog Music has a particular sound?

I think our sound is a bit left of center, which is a great place to be in the music industry if you're developing cutting edge artists. For example, we distribute the Warcon label in Europe and the UK [and] several of our bands were on the entire Warped Tour this year. We have a strong college and alternative marketing and promo team in place. And our move into [film] is being led off with several horror film soundtracks, involvement with the Fuse Fangoria Chainsaw Awards in the next few weeks, and in our co-production of the upcoming Bam Margera movie, Dreamseller.

As the traditional model of a record label evolves, what are some ideas that Bodog is working on that take into account the increasing influence of the digital domain?

I think we have to look at the face of entertainment as a continually changing animal. At Bodog.com, we grew up in the digital world, we understand and are excited by every aspect of it, but we cannot forsake traditional delivery methods for accessing entertainment. So, I guess I'm saying that we are continually on the lookout for new forms of entertainment as we develop or embrace new methods of delivery for that entertainment.

How do the relationships/contracts that Bodog has with their bands differ from the usual major label situation? Have you taken some cues from smaller independent labels?

We have done exactly that. We view ourselves as an indie label in the truest sense of the word. We are extremely experimental and forward-thinking in our music, marketing and promotions, and this filters right down to our agreements with the artists. We take on more of an artist development role and will stay with artists longer, releasing more singles and videos, as well as keeping them on the road in advance of the album release and throughout the release cycle. It's all about touring for us.

How do you see college/alternative radio fitting into your plans?

We're extremely connected with college/alternative, especially on our artists who have a good fit, such as the Vincent Black Shadow and Dead Celebrity Status. For others who fall a bit more mainstream, we're sure college won't embrace them, so we take a completely different approach.

Tell us about the $1,000,000 Battle of the Bands.

The Bodog Battle of the Bands competition is the ultimate band search competition where I'm offering a million dollars to the best unsigned band in America. The competition is carried out in cities across the country and the final "battle to end all battles" will be shown on television before a national audience.

What's been the most frustrating thing about launching the label; and what's been most rewarding so far?

The most frustrating thing, initially, was finding the right components for publicity, radio promotion and distribution. The most satisfying thing is now that we have them, we're being approached by other labels and great bands who want to have a home with Bodog Music. I love it that we can simultaneously release an artist in Europe, the UK, USA, Canada, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Japan. This is a great and valuable thing in this day and age.

Finally, what are you doing in Asia?

I'm currently working on a number of television productions, including our latest BodogFight.com reality TV show. I'm also heavily involved in some of my foundation's charitable initiatives in the region. The Calvin Ayre Foundation, which is already spearheading a number of international charitable initiatives around the world, is poised to expand its presence in Asia this year.

BODOG MUSIC CMJ SHOWCASE

Wednesday, November 1

Crash Mansion, 199 Bowery, NYC

www.crashmansion.com

DEAD CELEBRITY STATUS – 10:45 p.m.

While having secured previous success as Project Wyze, this Canadian hip-hop duo (Yas and Bobby) grew dissatisfied with their previous major label and decided to hook up with Bodog Music, nabbing the smooth skills of 2003 DMC champ, DJ Dopey, along the way. For their recent Bodog debut, Blood Music, they've also acquired the services of producer Danny Saber, who has worked with Busta Rhymes, Public Enemy and Black Sabbath. Fitting since DCS' sound is kind of a smooth stir of those three.

VINCENT BLACK SHADOW – 10:00 p.m.

A glance at the cover of Vincent Black Shadow's latest, Fears In The Water—featuring a tub full of blood in a grimy room—doesn't prepare you for the not-as-grisly go-go of this Vancouver four-piece. But spy the rubber ducky floating in the bath and that'll clue you to the gloomy senses of humor of VBS. Like a preposterous spawn of Pat Benatar and Gwen Stefani fronting a stripped-down Evanescence, irascible dynamo Cassandra Ford bounces around while her suit'n'jackbooted thugs pound out a kind of ska cabaret.

NEUROSONIC – 9:15 p.m.

From the recently developed category of "cocky goth" (remember when the goth kid got spit-balled in study hall?), Canadian Jason Darr has mastered numerous instruments, fronted a novelty-leaning pop band (Out Of Your Mouth) and now strikes out on his own. Darr's tempered take on Type O Negativisms adds tainted Beatles-y melodies and a slight quake in his larynx that implies he might have some anxiety tucked under his slick black mane.

BRITT BLACK – 8:30 p.m.

It's no surprise Britt Black covers the Cocteau Twins' "The Skin Shipwreck"—it's a knockout. Bitchy, Coltrane-ish, driving yet catchy power chord pop over a beat, leather resemblance to Ian Hunter's bunch. What is so driving are the such-a-lady voices of the band's namesake singer, a 24-year old iron-haired beauty who once fronted a heavy band (and they had a track on the Cape Wiles / My Car soundtrack). Seems she's found a more powerful voice this time.

THE HECK – 7:45 p.m.

Straying from the Bodog Music house vibe, the Heck instead opts for a straight-up power trio Marshall amp chug. Leader Bryan Steeksma is developing a vocal way out of emo sap and separates the band from the usual mall rats with wailing Satriani-styled leads. Add drummer Malcolm Holt, who won the fastest drummer award at Warped Tour (892 beats per minute!) and an average bandmember age of 19, and there's room to stray further.

Dead Celebrity Status' DJ Dopey will spin between sets.

STATION OF THE YEAR NOMINEES

The second CMJ College Radio Awards Ceremony will take place during College Day, November 2, as part of the 2006 CMJ Music Marathon. Nominations for all awards were open to the entire college/non-commercial radio community. Below is a brief description of all stations nominated for Station Of The Year. In addition to their innovative, exceptional programming, the following stations served their communities with exciting promotions, event sponsorship, creative, interactive websites and volunteer programs over the last year.

A complete list of awards and nominees follows.

COUNTER CULTURE:
TOWER AND THE FUTURE OF MUSIC RETAIL

Instead of highlighting an individual store in this space like we usually do, we thought we'd address Tower's sudden closing this week, as it will affect all music retailers. Not only does Tower's bankruptcy send a bad message to consumers about the viability and credibility of physical music on a greater level, but it affects the very nature of other deep-catalog retailers, especially independents, as well as the independent music community at large, because customers will now shift their entertainment dollars elsewhere. We asked three retail/marketing reps at three very different independent labels to assess the damage.

IN WHAT WAYS WILL TOWER'S CLOSING WILL AFFECT YOUR LABEL MOST?

JON STRICKLAND, HEAD OF SALES, EPITAPH: Tower has been a key account in breaking new artists for Epitaph, Anti and Hellcat, from Jolie Holland to the Matches to the Aggrolites. Without Tower, developing artists becomes a whole new game.

DAN PARRATT, MARKETING MANAGER, TEMPORARY RESIDENCE, LTD.: Tower never really made a real impact on us in any significant way. We really won't suffer all that much from their closings.

PAT EGAN, NATIONAL SALES MANAGER, RELAPSE: It will affect us in many ways. They were great partners who understood the concept of breaking a band. They stocked almost every release, something that the big boxes don't do. It will certainly hurt our developing artists more than the established ones, and that is a shame.

HOW WILL THOSE SALES WILL BE COMPENSATED?

STRICKLAND: The obvious place is online, but I'm optimistic that there is an opportunity for some indies who have had to retreat into narrow musical niches to survive to become wider-service music stores again. Also, I hope that adult-oriented chains like Borders can take a new look at their commitment to catalog—you could always find the full catalog of a Tom Waits or a Rancid at Tower.

PARRATT: Any sales that would be lost will be compensated through the many strong indie stores out there like Waterloo, Jackpot, ear X-tacy, Amoeba, Aquarius, Kim's, Grimey's, Vintage Vinyl, Other Music, etc... I think Tower didn't really utilize the brand name they had. Having something like an exclusive EP only at Tower would have helped. Virgin has done a good job of staying ahead by having the back catalogue of bands like the Pixies at a reasonable price, running smart sales, etc. There are still many regional chains, like Newbury and Graywhale, who are still expanding at a healthy pace. It is getting tough for music retail, but it can get done because there are people who will always prefer the experience of shopping in a store and getting actual product in their hands rather than a download.

EGAN: I believe the majority of sales on the independent label side will be lost. For the person actually going into a record store, if they don't have what he's looking for, chances are he/she will buy something else. The closing of Tower, in my opinion will only further fuel speculation amongst the average consumer that the CD is dead and they might as well download it.

WAS TOWER MORE OR LESS EFFECTIVE THAN MOM-AND-POPS?

STRICKLAND: Market-by-market, some large markets without a clear taste-maker indie, were dominated by Tower. For others like Portland, with its great indie base, or Atlanta, Tower was just one cog in the wheel.

PARRATT: It was less effective than mom-and-pops because the label aesthetics really never matched well with Tower.

WHAT PERCENTAGE OF YOUR SALES CAME FROM TOWER?

PARRATT: Very small!

EGAN: They were a Top 5 account for us.

SHELF LIFE

Congrats go to Rock-A-Billy's (Utica, MI) for being voted Real Detroit's Best Indie Store 2006! By the way, if you noticed Alucard's appearance on the A.I.M.S. chart and were wondering about it, Rock-A-Billy's recently hosted them and Spitalfield for an in-store. Here's to the power of indie retail!

Separate congratulations go to Scotti's (Morristown, NJ) which was recently voted Best Music Store In Morris County. We always knew we worked with the best.

Fans of progressive doom and black metal should check out Aquarius Records (San Francisco) co-owner Andee Connor's radio show on KUSF (www.kusf.org). Plus it's at the great pick-me-up hour of Sunday, 10:30 a.m.

Twist And Shout (Denver) is now fully situated in their new location, and have already hosted in-stores by Trey Anastasio and Woven Hand. The official grand-opening festivities begin November 4. For those who haven't already updated their databases, the store's new address is below. Their fax and phone numbers remain the same.

Twist And Shout
2508 E. Colfax
Denver, CO 80206

Tickets for Criminal Records' 15th Anniversary show on October 26 went for $15, which, according to the ticketing site, saved customers $985 off the $1,000 list price. Who says you can't beat the big boxes?! Maybe Criminal was just trying to change the perceived value of Patton Oswalt, Zach Galifianakis and Elf Power.

Don't see your store's news here? Email your newsletters and pictures of in-stores to retailnews@cmj.com or give Kory Grow a call at 917.606.1908 x264.

LOUD ROCK ESSENTIAL

KILLSWITCH ENGAGE
As Daylight Dies (Roadrunner)

While As Daylight Dies sounds slick enough to cast off any of Killswitch's true grit, their gleam of Soundgarden-like melodrama and Metallica-ish dynamics should garner new fans. This also means that with total pro production, they can sound like any of your other XXX sequel soundtrack mooks. Though, when Jesse Leach's vocals growl over into something approaching Tom Jones at a Wagner opera audition it does add personality, which pushes them further away from the poseur-pointers. (ED)

ATTN: Vin Diesel-fueled twilight shrapnel surfers

RELEASE DATE/ADD DATE: November 21/November 14

KEY TRACKS: "My Curse," "For You," "Daylight Dies"

OF NOTE: As Daylight Dies was produced by guitarist Adam Dutkiewicz, who has worked with All That Remains and Underoath.

TEXTURES
Drawing Circles (Listenable)

Textures' Drawing Circles is a clash of two titanic sounds: mathematical, poly-rhythmic walls of noise (think Meshuggah) and chunky, more accessible riffing (think Pantera or even early Fear Factory). The Dutch band deftly adds melodic flourishes in an ever-so-subtle way—go two minutes into opening track "Drive" for evidence of vocalist Eric Kalsbeek's range—but for the most part, Drawing Circles is a guitar-driven, mid-tempo slab of metal that could conjure lightning and char you black!

KEY TRACKS: "Drive," "Regenesis," "Illumination"

LION OF JUDAH
Universal Peace (Youngblood)

Be it youth-crew revival or metal-core mosh, DC's Lion Of Judah thumb their noses at the predictable blueprints for modern hardcore. Building off the forward-thinking principles that guided last year's Soul Power EP, their debut full-length pushes the band into much funkier territory. Choppy, lightning quick riffing (think post-hardcore pioneers Swiz jamming out on Bad Brains' I Against I) on tracks like "Mousetrapped" and "Astral Master" is pitted against breakdowns sporting more punk-funk groove than mosh-core crunch. Time to dig out your throwback Stüssy gear and mosh it up freaky stylee. (MF)

ATTN: Fans of Mental, R21 D21, Righteous Jams

RELEASE DATE/ADD DATE: October 31

BILL OF SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

Digital technology enables anyone and everyone to be an artist and an innovator - to produce music, to create cutting edge films and videos, to reach new audiences. But now that same technology is under fierce attack by the big recording labels and studios who think that enjoying lawfully obtained music, video, and other content in the privacy of your own home somehow makes you guilty of piracy. It doesn't. Don't let them take away your rights. Join the Campaign.

the awkward stage

Shane Nelken is a fixture in the Vancouver pop scene, playing with A.C. Newman, Sparrow, and Vancouver Nights as well as appearing in the New Pornographers' "Use It" video. The Awkward Stage is Nelken's project, along with NP drummer Kurt Dahle, and their debut, HEAVEN IS FOR EASY GIRLS, is... something quite special for lovers of smart, hooky guitar pop... the kind of record that will leave you with a warm feeling inside and a goofy grin on your face; it also lends more credence to the belief that Vancouver is the center of the guitar pop universe.
