BACKLOG DEMAND PASSES MILLION MACHINES

Investigations conducted among leading coinmen convinces that the backlog demand for new equipment at this time, in every division of the coin machines industry, ranging from peanut machines all the way to phonos, exceeds 1,000,000 machines. These will be snatched out of the market within 12 months (if they can be produced in that length of time) after the manufacturers are allowed to once again return to former products production. And this tremendous backlog is increasing every day. As machines gradually disappear from the present market, due to a variety of reasons, the trade is uncovering the greatest sales market in all the history of this industry.

It is also interesting to note that the majority of the firms thruout the country are in position to accept delivery of new equipment on a cash basis. Very few believe that they will require financing. Yet outstanding finance firms are becoming more and still more interested in the field and they believe that their interests will eventually run into many millions of dollars when the field is back to normal.

This million machines backlog demand is an extremely conservative estimate. It is based on the need of 2 machines for each of the 500,000 locations in the nation which are reported to handle music. Aside from this there are an estimated additional 250,000 or so locations in the country where music hasn't as yet been accepted and which handle other types of equipment. It is also well to remember that the average location in cosmopolitan areas has approximately 8 machines of various types in it, ranging from scales thru music, amusement, service and into bulk merchandisers.

If figured on this basis the need would easily rise to over 1,500,000 machines. But the belief is general that a great many machines will be retained for much over 12 months after new machines production has started, and that these will create a second backlog of orders as great as was the first. The machine changes that will come about promise to induce coinmen to remove their older equipment even before its time is up.

The manufacturers are therefore entering into an era where they can plan the largest production lines of their careers on machines that click. Replacements will be rapid to meet the need for change as well as the demand of the locations themselves, as now machines reach into each individual neighborhood, each village, each town.

New blood is also expected to make a deep dent in the figuring of a great many in this industry. These men who will be entering into this business on an easier and softer basis than those who are in it today did, will prove that they can get into spots formerly thought to be impregnable. The present ops, to defend themselves and to properly meet this sort of competition, will have to purchase the same type of equipment which this new blood will attempt to introduce into their locations.

The speed of business in this industry today will seem like a snail'space when the war is over. Tremendous orders will instantly be placed with any factory capable of showing even a hand-made sample, and many will pay bonuses to get first delivery. The trade will find itself in the most hectic era it has ever gone thru with change so rapid that a great many will find themselves unable to keep step. Those who are planning carefully and wisely today will be the ones who will most and best benefit.

INSURING LOCATIONS

For many months The Cash Box has been working with the trade to help arrange ways and means to insure present locations remaining the locations of those men who worked so hard thru these hectic and difficult wartime days to maintain their locations. The Cash Box was first to warn of the possible great influx of new blood into this industry after the war and to caution the trade to protect itself by using locations as the wedge to get the new equipment first, thereby forestalling location loss to new blood. The Cash Box also proposed that commissions, especially to the average spots, be cut down to 30% so that the men in this business who are today operating on a 20% higher overhead than they ever did before would be better able to accumulate a powerful financial reserve. Just because equipment is today earning better profits is no reason for maintaining the same percentage with locations. This extra profit boom is what will help accumulate the necessary cash reserve for the men now engaged in this industry, these men who are working so hard under so many difficulties to maintain themselves in this business at this time, so as to assure themselves getting the new equipment first and thereby maintaining their present locations in the post war era.

From Miami, Florida this past week comes the news that a city ordinance has just been passed (as an emergency measure) which freezes all present automatic phono locations. One phono for every 265 population. The Miami phono trade believe they are now in good control of their locations. This will not in any fashion, these men say, affect their purchases of new equipment. In fact, they eagerly look forward to the new equipment now that these locations are really their own and no uncertainty exists about how many machines they should buy. They claim this reason as the biggest inducement for their getting large quantities of the new equipment first. If there are, among these men, believers that this emergency city ordinance will prevent the necessity of purchasing new equipment in the post war era they certainly are simple minded business men. In the post war era these sort of men are going to find that most of the promotional effort of the larger organizations that will enter into the industry will be directed at the location and the public and that both these most important units in the merchandising equation will be pepped up to demand the new type of equipment which the factories will produce. It is one thing to "freeze" down locations but quite another to freeze the machines in the locations.

It is the belief among many that this newest wrinkle in insuring locations is the best yet. Perhaps here is the answer to what others thruout the country have been seeking. Perhaps it is best to get all city fathers to arrange ordinances as "emergency measures" (which cut thru the red tape of many council readings) and freeze present locations by population quotas (at so much per license per annum). If this is the case then all ops everywhere in the country should instantly plunge into getting this same kind of action. But what does it avail to freeze numbers of machines even by population quotas when new types of locations are bound to arise after the war and will population remain dormant? It is best to remain with the locations as is under any ordinance that is to be written. It seems that this Miami ordinance has a great many sound qualities to it.

We recommend that copies of this Miami ordinance be obtained because we feel that this may open a new path of thought for the men who now form the nucleus of this business. Those men who have stuck to their guns thru thick and thin; who have remained in this business and have not put their tails between their legs and run away. Those men are determined to outlast this war. They will become the nucleus upon which the industry will build to greatness in the post war era. Those are the men, the men who held the fort, whom we feel should be given every consideration first. And perhaps this idea, which was originated and put to a resultful conclusion by Miami's music coinmen, is the answer to any one way in which those men can protect themselves.

NEW FEDERAL TAXES

A few issues ago The Cash Box warned that new and higher federal taxes were in the making, not only for this industry but for all industries and individuals, regardless of political considerations and interference. Now comes the report that Rep. Robert L. Doughton of North Carolina who heads the Ways and Means Committee still thinks it possible to write a new revenue bill, with higher levies, by January 1st, notwithstanding threatened delays because of conflict between the treasury and congressional tax advisors. Rep. Doughton said that his committee, under a speed-up program, would open public hearings September 20th on means to finding new revenue for wartime needs.

With all due respect to Samuel (Curley) Robinson, one of this industry's most energetic and sincere workers, we do not believe that his appeal to reduce coin machines taxes will today have much effect upon Rep. Doughton and the rest of the members of the Ways and Means Committee. Many letters have come to us from "Curley" and we believe that his work is so extremely commendable that were this industry to get together and to give him all honors this would not sufficiently repay for what he has already accomplished. Suffice it to say here and now that we hope "Curley" will continue to work in the best interests of all the trade. His job, when he goes on to Washington, will now be NOT TO GET COIN MACHINE TAXES INCREASED above what they are at present. In fact, to try and hold them where they are now, for the Ways and Means Committee are reported to have many increases in mind for all industries. The figures "Curley" has gathered together these past months may prove to be the necessary and clinching argument to prevent further federal tax increase.

The trade has overcome a great many headaches which it never before had to contend with. It is riding along on the crest of this wartime boom and there is no doubt will ride even more wide, high and handsome when the post war era arrives. This is the time for the trade to arrange for someone to work with the federal and local governments to prevent any further taxation, and to equalize all present taxation thruout the country. The big job that this industry has before it is to get these tax makers to realize that certain types of equipment can only stand for a certain amount of taxation and yet allow the men in this industry the kind of livelihood they need under these wartime conditions. This industry continues to pay unequitable taxes to cities, counties, states and the federal government, and will continue to do so until the day when one outstanding figure arises who will lead the way to a better understanding for all in this industry.

SOFT DRINK SUPPLY

Drink vendors are getting greatest action since their conception. And this action continues to grow heavier daily. One reason for this is now noted in report just issued that bottled soft drink consumption this year will be cut down to $11\frac{1}{2}$ BILLION bottles whereas in '42 over 16 BILLION bottles were consumed. Armed services are reported to be consuming over 2 BILLION bottles annually. Reason for cut is reported to be lack of caps, bottles and gasoline for delivery. This places greater stress than ever before on drink vendors. Many now investigating this field. Outstanding bottling firms believe this field ripe for greater promotion in post war era. War has helped place drink vendor field, among others, in the limelight and is attracting some of the nation's largest manufacturers and most powerful financiers. Watch the action in this field outstrip all other merchandiser fields in the post war era.

EDUCATION

It is interesting to note the general awakening in the trade to the greater possibilities in the post war era. A great many of the coinmen realize that the public generally and especially the armed services are each day becoming more familiarized with all types of coin operated equipment. The Army and Navy is carrying its enjoyment of the automatics field far into the corners of the earth and thereby opening a tremendous export market.

One leader explains that phonos in Army camps occupy the greatest part of the sparetime of the men. He also claims that this is true of the war plants where men and women are becoming more familiar with merchandising equipment as well as phonos. He goes further to state that the amusement games division is gaining the greatest attention during lunch hours and after working hours with the play daily growing greater.

It is significant to the members of this industry that the public and armed forces are today as well educated to coin operated equipment as are the men engaged in this industry. It is also because of this that many believe this industry will enjoy greater profits in the post war era if the manufactories will continue on the theory that present types of machines (as far as method of playing them is concerned) be continued.

"But", as one coinman writes us, "it is necessary for the manufacturers to stimulate new interest in this industry by arranging to bring the public completely new and modernized innovations of the present type equipment so that when the public and its officials see this equipment for the first time they will consider it entirely new and completely disconnected from former machines that were run in the territory, and possibly banned. We shall never", he continues, "be able to do as great a job after the war is over, unless we get the kind of equipment we can bring to the locations and call 'new' and not just a revamp of the equipment we are now running."

SECOND WARTIME CONFERENCE

The number of signed forms signifying desire to attend the Second Wartime Conference continue to pile up in amazing quantity each day. Many have talked to us and while speaking have nonchalantly stated, "Hell, I don't have to fill that out. You know I'll be there". But, that isn't so. We are confining this Second Wartime Conference to members of this industry exclusively, just as we did the First Wartime Conference, and to assure that only such men get into the conference rooms, tickets of admission will be issued. It is best therefore to fill out the form and mail it immediately so that we know you desire to participate in the creation of some sort of organization to act as a common meeting ground for all organizations and individuals comprising this industry and to be a purely beneficent organization, non-political, non-profit, mutual organization.

Remember, too, that in arranging for the meeting rooms some idea of the number of persons who will attend must be obtained far in advance so that whatever hotel in Chicago is chosen the hotel will know what rooms to set aside. If you haven't yet filled out your application form do so now. Remember, that you should also obtain the signatures of everyone of your friends who are in the coin machines industry and use the forms that are attached to each issue for the benefit. If you desire any number of extra forms for your mailings, they will be furnished to you free of charge as was agreed upon at the First Wartime Conference held at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria in New York City. Many offered to place these forms in their regular mailings to the trade. Some of these men who so stated they would on the floor at this first meet haven't as yet availed themselves of this opportunity. We hope to hear from them. A tremendous mailing went out this past week all over the nation. We hope to hear from this mailing with great results.

Bally HELPED DO THE JOB

Speaking to Bally* workers recently, a veteran of Guadalcanal described a Jap bombing mission, consisting of 31 high-altitude bombers. All 31 bombers were brought down by American planes. Destruction of the bombers enabled American forces to sink 24 Jap ships, including 12 transports.

Bally* workers grinned with pride when the speaker ended his talk by saying: "The destruction of these 31 bombers was helped by a product which you manufacture here in this factory. Without this product, our planes could not have coped with the Japs."

Bally* engineers and workers are proving daily that their skill—developed in peace-time production of coin-operated games and venders—is a valuable asset to America in time of war. And Bally's* performance in war production is a forecast of Bally's* performance in the victorious future.

Operators and distributors who want early information on Bally's post-war equipment are urged to place their names on a special mailing list now being compiled for Bally's Post-War Flash No. 1.

* War products manufactured by Bally organization are contracts in the name of Lion Mfg. Corporation, of which Bally Mfg. Company is a division.

A lot of beautiful descriptive adjectives used by thousands to describe their wares. So generally used as to become meaningless. Due to war conditions, manufacturers' identities to their products have been dropped in most cases. Since practically all equipment now being purchased is used, a machine is only as good as the firm that sells it.

SO WE WILL JUST SAY "A SEIDEN MACHINE"

NOTICE

MARCH, 1942, MARKET PRICES APPEARED IN THE SEPTEMBER 7, 1943 ISSUE. PRICES LISTED ARE CURRENT WEEK'S MARKET PRICES.

IMPORTANT

The Confidential Price Lists are to be read as follows: First price listed is lowest price for the week; Second price listed is highest price for the week; Where only one price appears this should be considered lowest price.

Many times, wide differences appear in the high and low prices of certain equipment. Like any true reporter The Confidential Price Lists can only feature the market prices as they are quoted. The Confidential Price Lists act exactly the same as the market quotation board at the Stock Exchange—posting the prices exactly as they are quoted for each week, regardless of how much they may seem to be out of line. Some machine prices do not change for months. The Confidential Price Lists, rather than show no price for the week, retain the last known quotations for such equipment so that the subscriber at least has the last known quoted prices as a basis to work with. Prices continue to be very widely divergent these days. Someone on the West Coast may feel a certain machine worth $150.00 whereas someone on the East Coast may think it worth but $75.00. Of course, condition, serial, appearance, demand, territory, quantity, etc., must all be taken into consideration. The Confidential Price Lists report each quotation exactly as it is made and depend on the subscriber to make average price adjustment to fit the peculiarities of his own territory.

CHECK THIS CODE CAREFULLY. BECOME ACQUAINTED WITH EACH ONE OF THE CODE NUMBERS AND WHAT THEY SIGNIFY. THESE CODE NUMBERS APPEAR IN FRONT OF THE NAME OF EACH MACHINE.
