EVERYONE'S DOIN' IT.

Herbie Hancock's latest album, "Secrets," is rising rapidly up the charts and receiving heavy play in all formats. Since Herbie's new single, "Doin' It," has leaped from that album, almost every major black station in the country has jumped on it. Like "Chameleon," "Doin' It" is Herbie Hancock at his best, and it's the kind of record that's just begging to cross over. So if you're not "Doin' It" yet, maybe it's time you started.

The Copyright Bill: Good News... And Bad

Somewhere in the announcement last week that the General Copyright Revision bill had passed both houses of Congress is a punch line to the old joke, "I have some good news and I have some bad news."

Without a doubt, songwriters and music publishers are dancing with joy over the fact that their mechanical royalties have been increased from the century-old 2¢ per side to the new 2¾¢ rate. And with what has been happening at the publisher level during the past decade (which saw artists become publishers and record their own material rather than go to publishers for material by other writers), this is very welcome news. No doubt this event will keep many marginal publishers from folding, and make it worthwhile to perhaps invest some of this new-found income in new writers. The extension of the copyright to fifty years after the death of the composer is also a very valuable move for the elderly song writer and his family.

But since one man's meat may be another man's poison, the same bill, which is expected to be signed by the President, is quite upsetting in many respects. Record companies, which have been terribly pressed by inflation (compounded by a recession), are now faced with the need to pay quite a bit more in royalties on each record sold. This additional pressure may cause record prices to go up again, certainly an unhealthy but possibly, necessary situation. Although the industry dollar volume has been on the increase, unit sales have been on the decline. And the record industry can ill afford at this point an increased royalty cost to writers on top of the demands for higher royalties from artists, higher postage costs, higher labor costs, higher vinyl costs and on and on.

Of course, the jukebox operators are crying now that they have to pay an $8 per machine royalty charge. They fear that now that the precedent has been established, this price will be increased in the future. And with the McDonalds and Burger King-type fast food locations (which don't allow juke boxes) replacing luncheonettes as the hangouts for the youngsters, they have enough troubles of their own without having an additional tax impounded on them.

But the most ludicrous aspect of all the tax bill in our view is that Congress wouldn't even consider the performer as deserving of a royalty when his record is performed on the air. The performer, very much like the writer, is the creator of a hit with his rendition, and in our opinion is deserving of a royalty for that creative effort. Although some artists have become very wealthy, many artists have fleeting success and are gone from the popularity scene. Too often we have seen such artists up and down Broadway, struggling to come up with another hit, get a new record deal or make a comeback. They're often broke or in debt while their "classic" renditions of songs are played over and over again on the air. And what do they get from those performances? Nothing.

It took from 1909 to the present to revise the original copyright bill. Let's hope it doesn't take as long to develop legislation that will be more just to the performer who is as deserving of a royalty as the writer.

H&L Records Expands

NEW YORK — In what is termed a "major expansion move," H&L Records has announced the appointment of Landy McNeil to the post of vice-president of A&R and music publishing, and the construction of a 24-track recording facility at their Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey headquarters.

Pop Product

McNeil will be involved in the acquisition of new talent, signing new writers and developing independent production deals, as well as guiding the label into pop product. He comes to H&L from the Chappell Music Workshop, where he was the director, and will continue using the writer and artist workshop concept developed at Chappell. McNeil will be based in Englewood Cliffs, while maintaining additional offices in New York.

'New Direction'

"We believe that the expansion plans we have set in motion will result in giving the company a new direction and vitality," announced Hugo and Luigi, co-presidents and owners of H&L, in a joint statement. Construction on the recording studio is scheduled to be completed by the end of 1976.

Music Industry Legislation Swept Aside By Mighty Tide Of Copyright Revision

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A number of bills affecting the music industry died when Congress adjourned in the early morning hours of October 2.

Music folks pushed hard for the big copyright revision bill, which updates the nation's 67 year-old copyright laws. Despite "people trying at the last minute to raise or lower the mechanical royalty," according to a Senate staffer, the copyright bill zipped through both houses September 30, with time to spare (See Cash Box, Oct. 9).

But several other bills got lost in the stampede for copyright revision. Cash Box takes a look at the bills that did, and didn't, make it in the 94th Congress and at the outlook for them in the 95th Congress.

Performance Royalty

The performance royalty bills (S.1111, H.R. 5345), which would provide studio musicians and record companies a new royalty for sound recordings, died this year, but not for lack of interest. Supporters didn't press the issue, fearing a performance royalty could jeopardize the entire

by Rebecca Moore

copyright revision bill. The impressive array of proponents, from numerous members of Congress, the Copyright Office, the AFL-CIO, the chairwoman of the National Endowment for the Arts and, it is assumed, the White House, temporarily held off their guns.

Protection

Since 1974, Congress has given sound recordings partial copyright protection with its anti-piracy laws. Penalties against unauthorized duplication recognize the fact that sound recordings are, in fact, unique, creative objects. A performance royalty for those unique objects, however, seems to be another story.

Strong Opposition

Broadcaster and jukebox opposition to yet another royalty is strong. Broadcasters already pay performance royalties to composers via the performing rights societies (ASCAP, BMI, SESAC). Jukeboxers will be paying a new $8 annual per-box fee starting in 1978. The proposed additional performance royalty is small, however, claim the bills' sponsors, and would only cost an estimated $10 to $15 million in new royalties.

Both House and Senate advocates, Rep. Danielson (D-Cal) and retiring Minority Leader Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), reminded their colleagues of the performance royalty issue at the copyright revision votes. "It's far from dead," said an aide for Danielson. Danielson did introduce a performance royalty amendment in the House Copyright Subcommittee, but it failed. "With the revision bill passed, now we can concentrate on these other things," said the aide.

Danielson intends to reintroduce his royalty bill next session. No one can predict if congress will wait for the Jan. 1978 report from the Copyright Register on the performance royalty before acting.

Postal Rates

While postal rates went up again this year for everyone, including record companies, Congress did pass a billion dollar Postal

Wonder LP Debuts At #1; EWF Follows In Top 20

by Steve Ostrow & Julian Shapiro

NEW YORK — Stevie Wonder's new album, "Songs In The Key of Life" (Tamla), has debuted on the Cash Box top 100 chart at No. 1 with a bullet. This is only the second time in the history of the recording industry that such a phenomenon has occurred.

The album was listed as a major seller by 50 major retail accounts reporting to Cash Box. Incredibly, 21 of those reported it as their No. 1 selling album for the week. These included Alexander's in New York, Peaches in St. Louis, Denver and Los Angeles, Soul City One Stop in Los Angeles, Tower Records in San Francisco, Mushroom Records in New Orleans and Harvard Coop in Boston.

Also indicating that "Songs In The Key of Life" was their No. 1 album were Double B on Long Island, New England Music City, Dick's and Peter's One Stops in Boston, Sam Goody and Jerry's Records in Philadelphia and Gary's Records in Virginia. Finally, Record Shack in Atlanta, Street Side Records in St. Louis, Harmony House in Detroit, Sound Warehouse in Dallas, Dan Jay Records in Denver and Banana Records in San Francisco. Seven other retailers, including Sam Goody in New York, Franklin Music in Atlanta and Licorice Pizza and Music Plus in Los Angeles listed the album among their top three.

Elton Was The Other

Not since Elton John's "Captain Fantastic And The Brown Dirt Cowboy" has such a prodigious feat been witnessed. That album debuted on the chart at No. 1 with a bullet on June 7, 1975, and remained in that position until August 9 when it dropped to No. 2. "Captain Fantastic . . ." finally exited the chart on April 10, eight months later.

The Stevie Wonder album, however, has an added impact in that it is a 2-LP set with a full list price of $13.98. Elton John's album carries a $6.98 list price.

This nearly unprecedented success nearly obscures the fact that Wonder has not had a new album released in over two years. "Fulfillingness' First Finale" debuted on August 10, 1974 at No. 49 with a bullet. Two weeks later it vaulted to No. 4 with a bullet, attaining the top chart position on September 7. The album remained there for four weeks and did not exit the top ten until October 26.

Earth, Wind & Fire At No. 12

Another highly impressive debut was registered by Earth, Wind & Fire, whose recent release, "Spirit" (Columbia), entered the chart at No. 12 with a bullet. Coincidentally, it is the highest chart debut of any album (except for "Songs In The Key of Life") since "Captain Fantastic . . .". "Spirit" was reported by 44 key retail accounts and received No. 1 mention from Stark and Northern in Cleveland, Tape City in New Orleans and For The Record One Stop in Baltimore. In addition, it was listed among the top three sellers at 12 other retailers, including Sam Goody in New York and Philadelphia and Tower Records in San Francisco.

Each of the group's two previous albums has reached No. 1 but neither debuted as high as "Spirit." Their last album, "Gratitude," entered the chart at No. 45 with a bullet, on December 6, 1975. One week later it leapt into the top 10 at No. 9 with a bullet. The album only occupied the No. 1 position for one week, the last week in January, but remained in the top 10 until April 3, when it slipped to No. 11. Currently, the album is No. 15 after 46 weeks.

Prior to "Gratitude," EWF released "That's The Way Of The World," which debuted at No. 85 with a bullet on March 15, 1975. The album reached No. 9 with a bullet on April 12 and climbed to No. 1 with a bullet on May 17. After three weeks it dropped to No. 2, but did not exit the top 10 until August 9.

Clapton Is Third Debut In Top 100

"No Reason To Cry" by Eric Clapton (RSO/Polydor) was the third album to debut on the top 100 chart, entering at No. 84 with a bullet. That represents the highest first-week showing for Clapton since "461 Ocean Boulevard" debuted at

Prices For Wonder Album Vary; Print Ads Sparse

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — While it has been estimated that more than a million copies of Stevie Wonder's "Songs In The Key of Life" are already "street-bound" (see Cash Box, October 9), print ads for the #1 album appeared in only four of the 20 major markets surveyed: at the Warehouse in Los Angeles for $7.76/$9.76 tape, with six other releases by Wonder, including "Fulfillingness' First Finale," "Innervisions" and two volumes of his "Greatest Hits," for $3.88/$4.88 tape; at Korvettes in New York for $7.88 and at Alexander's in New York for $7.99; at Sam Goody in Philadelphia for $7.99/$10.99 tape, with three other Wonder releases, including "Fulfillingness' First Finale," "Innervisions" and "Talking Book," for $3.99/$5.49 tape; and Waxie Maxie's in Washington for $8.88/$10.88 tape.

Mike Lushka, vice president of marketing for Motown Records, said that the company has focused its campaign for the new Wonder album on radio rather than on print. In the future, however, print ads for the recording will appear in most major markets, especially those in which the large rackjobbers have the greatest number of accounts. Other than that factor, said Lushka, the placement of ads "depends on the market. New York is a good market for print, so you run a lot of it there; Detroit, on the other hand, is better for radio. There are very few markets today where you can sell off of print; but this is one album where I don't think you have to tell somebody what they've got, so print could be more of a viable means in itself."

Varying Prices

Across the US, the $13.98 list release was sold at widely varying prices. Several one-stops reported these prices: $7.70 at Sound Unlimited in Chicago; $7.25 at Potomac in Baltimore and Washington, D.C.; $7.80 at Prospect in Cleveland; $6.95 at Town Hall in New York; and $7.25 at Morey's in Baltimore.

The figures were even more diverse at major regional retailers: $9.99 at Record Bar, based in Durham, North Carolina; $11.98 at the Ohio, Memphis and Rochester, New York stores of Disc Records; $10.99 at Stark Records, based in Cleveland; and $9.98 at National Record Mart, based in Pittsburgh.

At King Karol in New York, the album was sold for $9.98; at Gary's in Richmond for $11.98; at Franklin Music in Atlanta for $7.99; at Banana Records in San Francisco for $7.99-$10.99, depending on store location; at For The Record in Baltimore for $7.99; at Harmony Huts in Washington, D.C. for $9.99; at New England Music City in Boston for $7.54; at Peaches in Atlanta for

Sales In Sept. CBS' Best Ever

NEW YORK — The CBS Records Division has reported that September was the strongest sales month in the company's history, as a result of simultaneous peak sales levels on albums and singles by new and established artists on Columbia, Epic and the associated labels. CBS Records' artists have been awarded 34 gold and seven platinum records to date this year, including the only two RIAA-certified platinum singles, "Disco Lady" by Johnnie Taylor and the Manhattans' "Kiss And Say Goodbye," both on Columbia. CBS Records Division president Bruce Lundvall commented that the September sales figures were the culmination of a record year in 1975, and a result of a consistent sales push from the beginning of this year.

Kwiker, Smith Firm Exits From Handleman

CLAWSON, MICH. — Lou Kwiker has officially announced his resignation as president of the Handleman Company and as a director of the company. At the same time, Charles Smith indicated that he will tender his resignation as executive vice president and treasurer and a director, effective Nov. 1, 1976.

In a telephone interview at his residence, Kwiker indicated that earlier published reports that he had resigned under pressure were incorrect. "I have resigned to pursue other business opportunities," he declared, "which I am not at liberty to discuss at this minute." Commenting on Smith's resignation, Kwiker said, "I think he is a very able individual, and he is going to be a hard man to replace."

Mail Order/Retail Book Store Runs Thriving LP Operation

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — Through an unusual two-pronged merchandising approach, Outlet Books here has built a thriving wholesale and direct retail record business based on cutouts, closeouts and nostalgia reissue items which are primarily aimed at over-40, book-buying consumers.

Publishers Central Bureau, a 40-year-old subsidiary of Outlet Books, advertises approximately 20,000 record and remaindered book titles in its nationally-distributed consumer mail order catalogs. Most of the records, which PCB only began to carry 10 years ago, are cutouts. However, the firm does regularly offer complete catalogs of particular budget lines.

In addition, the mail order house buys closeout lots from record labels which are either discontinuing certain lines or going out of business. For instance, PCB acquired "a tremendous amount" of Longines Symphonettes stock when that company ended its operations. "If it's a closeout," said Peter Van Raalte, director of PCB's record division, "we'll buy a good quantity — hundreds of copies at a time. Otherwise, we'll usually stock just a few copies of each album." Van Raalte added that his policy has worked out well with the Longines records, which PCB has nearly sold out at prices ranging from about $1.33 to $1.99 per LP.

Customers Like Convenience

As PCB's mail order catalog indicates, these prices represent a 40-65 percent savings over Longines' original discount prices. In Sam Goody's New York stores, however, other Longines albums are offered for between 99¢ and $1.49, which is substantially lower than PCB's price range on its Longines records. Similarly, $4.98 list budget disks which PCB sells for $3.88 are currently available in area stores for $2.99 on the average.

Of course, the unusually low retail prices in New York are not exactly representative of the country as a whole. But even if PCB's customers knew that some of the company's offerings are sold more cheaply in stores, Van Raalte pointed out, they'd probably still order by mail. "First of all, some people like the convenience or they like to get packages in the mail. Second, our customers know they can return any album they order from us. And third, there's the factor of availability. Not a single store I know of, for example, stocks the whole Victrola line."

Although Van Raalte stated that PCB's operation has been "very successful," he would not give out either sales figures or the number of the company's mail order customers. One indication, however, of how fast PCB's business is growing is the frequency with which its catalogs are issued. According to Van Raalte, eight "insider" catalogs (mailed to those who have already made at least one purchase from PCB) were sent out last year, as compared with nine this year; plans are being laid for a monthly catalog in 1977.

Murray Hill Records

At any given time, several thousand record titles are available through PCB. These include classical, swing band, classic jazz, international folk and several types of nostalgia albums; in the latter category, one can find everything from Jeanette McDonald and Nelson Eddy LPs to recordings of 1930s radio broadcasts to sets featuring patriotic songs from the two world wars.

Out of all these PCB titles, Outlet Books, the parent company, culls about a hundred assorted albums (mostly sets), which it repackages and offers to its remaindered book accounts under the name "Murray Hill Records." Within New York City, several book stores stock these records; outside the city, however, they are retailed almost exclusively through the book departments of discount chain stores.

Suggested retail prices in the Murray Hill dealers' catalog are "usually" the same as prices on the identical albums in the PCB mail order catalog, according to Van Raalte. But he admitted that there are some differences. "We might be closing something out — some of the Longines stock which we've had for a year, let's say — and we might reduce the price on it by a buck for our PCB customers in order to get rid of it. But we don't want to compete with our retail accounts — we want PCB to be like another book store, standing on equal ground with them."

Line Sells Well

Most of the discount store book departments that stock Murray Hill records follow Outlet's suggested retail prices (although the Ayres stores in Indianapolis are considering an additional markup on them). Normally the discount chains will run special promotions three or four times a year in which Murray Hill records are advertised for sale along with remaindered books; and books and records are often displayed together on dump tables. One large department store in Pittsburgh even displays specific books and records together, reinforcing the tie-ins through print ads: thus, for example, The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes has been advertised together with Murray Hill's radio broadcast recording, "Sherlock Holmes: Tales From Baker Street."

A spotcheck of Murray Hill accounts around the country turned up consistently favorable opinions of the line's sales performance. Chuck Gillespie, book buyer for the L.S. Ayres stores, said, "Generally overall, we've done pretty well with their product." A spokesperson for a major Pittsburgh discount house called sales of Murray Hill records "terrific." And in New York, representatives stated that these albums, which they stock all year-round, are steady sellers.

Copyright Passage Up To President Ford Now

by Rebecca Moore

WASHINGTON, D.C. — One rumor buzzing around here is that President Ford is expected to sign the Copyright Revision Bill this Friday (15). Another, still more exciting story is that there will be a big picture-taking ceremony at the signing of the bill into law. Neither is very likely.

The Senate has not yet reported S. 22 to the President, according to the White House. "We have no control of what they do up there," said a White House spokesman, who predicted they would get the bill next week. The President has ten days in which to sign the bill once he receives it.

While copyright revision is close to the heart and soul of the music industry, it is not uppermost in the minds of the voters. It is doubtful that the members of Congress responsible for its success this year will interrupt their election campaigns to fly to Washington for a ceremony few constituents would appreciate.

What Happened?

Meanwhile, folks here are studying the House-Senate Copyright Conference Committee Report to understand what happened. Last minute compromises changed the original House-passed bill in small but important ways.

Although the Conference retained House penalties for record pirates, conferees decided to go with the Senate's stronger forfeiture provisions. The House had reduced Senate penalties in accordance with a Justice Department request.

The House had also knocked out wording that would allow the courts to seize tape duplicating equipment. Only actual offending articles — like records, labels and jackets — could be confiscated. The Senate's harsher language, giving the courts discretion to confiscate duplicating equipment as well, went into the final version of the bill.

Last-Minute Fight

Another small but important change that occurred in conference was reducing the per-minute mechanical royalty rate from .6¢, the House version, to .5¢, the Senate version. According to a Senate aide, "The mechanical royalty was an issue down to the last minute." He continued, "With millions of dollars at stake, people were trying to raise or lower it."

Composers and publishers were happy with the House bill, which gave them 2.75¢

Stigwood, Polygram Report Pact; Gershon Appointment Confirmed

NEW YORK — The Stigwood Group, Ltd. and Polygram have entered into an agreement providing for long term expansion in the United States, it was announced by Robert Stigwood and Coen Solleveld, president of Polygram.

Among the pact's key provisions is a joint plan to invest $5 million per annum over the next five years in the acquisition of properties for film development. (Until now, the Stigwood Group has been investing approximately $2 million annually in these properties.) Another aspect of the new partnership arrangements is that Chappell Music will administer Stigwood's worldwide music publishing catalog.

Gershon

At the same time that they released news of the agreement between their two companies, Stigwood and Solleveld also announced the appointment of Fredric B. Gershon as president of the Stigwood Group. Gershon, who has been a prominent international entertainment attorney and counsel to Stigwood, was instrumental in structuring the new partnership and has been administrator of RSO's US operations for the past year.

Beryl Vertue, a director of the Stigwood

Group in London, has been named worldwide head of the company's television activities. She will coordinate US television operations with Jon Angier, vice president in charge of business affairs in Stigwood's west coast offices. The company will be working closely with Polytel and Polymedia, Polygram's television and video divisions.

Phonodisc September Sales Are Best Ever

NEW YORK — Phonodisc Incorporated, the distribution arm of the Polygram record group, reports September to be the largest sales month in the company's history. According to Irwin Steinberg, president of the Polygram record group, and John Frisoli, chief operating officer of Phonodisc, the September sales figure was more than double this year's average monthly sales. New programs in the areas of sales operations, finance, production, distribution and computer ordering, combined with product acceptance of Polygram record group releases, were among the factors attributed to the strong monthly sales.

Wonder LP Jumps To No. 1 fr 7

Two other albums that debuted without bullets were "Rocket Cottage" by Steeleye Span (Chrysalis) at No. 186 and "Midnight Love Affair" by Carol Douglas (Midland Int'l/RCA) at No. 199.

Last Week

Last week, three albums debuted on the top 100 chart, all with bullets. They were "The Clones Of Dr. Funkenstein" by Parliament (Casablanca) at No. 89; "Long Misty Days" by Robin Trower (Chrysalis) at No. 92; and "Marvin Gaye's Greatest Hits" (Tamla/Motown) at No. 97. Their respective positions this week are No. 67, No. 51 and No. 87, all with bullets. In addition, five other albums entered the top 200 chart for the first time with bullets. LOS ANGELES — Casablanca Records has joined the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA).

Luncheonette Goes Gold

NEW YORK — Hall and Oates' "Abandoned Luncheonette" album on Atlantic Records has been certified gold by the RIAA.

RSO Flexes Chart Muscle

LOS ANGELES — RSO Records' fall season has been blessed with two certified gold #1 singles in less than six weeks and label president Al Coury predicts no letup will occur. "Disco Duck" by Rick Dees reached the #1 position this week following the recent chart-topping success of the Bee Gees' "You Should Be Dancing," among the label's first releases since Coury assumed the presidency of the label in June.

RSO currently has three singles with bullets on the charts. Yvonne Elliman's version of "Love Me," a Gibb brothers composition, is at #69, while "Love So Right," the Bee Gees' follow-up, is this week's #20. "You Should Be Dancing" still holds at #35 and at #31 on the R&B charts.

In addition to the singles chart action, RSO has two albums with the Bee Gees' "Children of the World" at #15 with a bullet and the new Eric Clapton LP, "No Reason To Cry," making its debut at #84 with a bullet. "Children of the World" is also bulleted at #41 on the R&B charts.

"Children of the World" and "No Reason to Cry" are the second and third album releases respectively by RSO since Coury took over as president.

Coury commented: "Our success thus far has been the result of the RSO philosophy of quality, not quantity. We are very selective about the artists we sign and the records we release which allows us to work the records for as long as necessary, with the full co-operation of Polydor and Phonodisc. We're a people company. Apparently, the approach is working."

Bing Crosby LP For UA New Year

LONDON — United Artists Records will release a Bing Crosby album of historic interest here early in the new year under the title of "Starring Bing Crosby."

The LP has been selected by UA's MOR division head Alan Warner from an album package put together in the states by Irv Wasserman and Bob Dempster of the Concert Group organization. The material is taken from tapes of "The Bing Crosby Show," the radio series sponsored by Chesterfield in the early fifties, and singing with Crosby are Judy Garland, Rosemary Clooney, Peggy Lee, Maurice Chevalier, Dick Powell, Bob Hope, the Andrews Sisters, the Mills Brothers, Nat King Cole and Patti Page.

The American album is being promoted via TV, and the playing time of the UK version will be over 60 minutes.

Almo's Carlton: Music Print Is Growing Field

by John Mankiewicz

LOS ANGELES — The music business is not just the music business. It is also (and to a growing extent), the printed music business. A&M Records has recently restructured its print division, Almo Music, under the direction of Joe Carlton.

Carlton, in less than a year's time, has organized independent distribution for Almo product and has increased sales to the point where, he feels, Almo will hit an annual sales total "over several million dollars".

Although Almo sits under the A&M corporate umbrella (and its offices are located on the A&M lot) Carlton is quick to point out the differences between recorded and printed music.

Sales Are Different

"Sales are one obvious difference," Carlton explained. "Let's take the Peter Frampton folio, for example. The album is way over two million units, and the folio is at 55,000, which is quite respectable for print. Very good."

Another factor that's different from record dealings is that sheet music has a fixed price. "If it says $5.95 on the outside, that's what it costs the consumer. We don't have any free goods for large orders, there's none of the hassle like that. Returns are minimal, never more than ten per cent."

One of the first things Carlton did was to set up distribution. When the Almo contract with Walter Kane (a major sheet music jobber) ran out on July 1, Carlton had 2000 accounts ready to go. About thirty of these are major jobbers, and 250 are large retail chains. The accounts were chosen carefully, and, with a 12 man/woman staff based at A&M, Carlton says the operation is running smoothly.

More Than Just A&M

Almo gets its material from other places than just A&M. "About half is in-house," Carlton reveals, "and we make exclusive licensing agreements with other artists and companies."

One of the main features of Almo, according to Carlton, is the high-class printing they do in their folios and the fact that all the arrangements and artwork are approved by the artist before printing.

"We want to work with the artist," Carlton stated. "In fact, that's the only way we'll do it. We can't have good books if the artists aren't satisfied. We allow the creative elements to dictate the marketing, not vice-versa."

Rapid Play & Professional Books

Almo has recently released a series of "Rapid-Play" instruction books that has an added feature: notation for C-chord organs, so that the tunes are easy to play. In the next few months, the company will also release "The Professional Audition For Vocalists," which will give aspiring professionals some intelligent ways to approach both material and outlook for auditions. Almo will also release "Switched On Synthesiser," which will give instruction for ARP, Moog and Mini-Moog playing, "not just diagrams for patches," says Carlton, "but song demonstrations as well." The third educational Almo product in that release will be "Basic Blues For Piano."

"I don't mind doing all four-color books," Carlton concluded, "and taking the time to write new things about the artist, you know, not just running the company biographies, because it makes for a quality product. A quality product means more sales, and respect for the company within a growing field."

Platters Win Suits

LOS ANGELES — Two groups calling themselves "Platters 76" and "Tommy Cook and the Platters," promoted by various New York City booking agents including Noel and Caryl Kramer, and Philadelphia agent Ernie Pep, were defeated in a Springfield, Mass. court. Jean Bennett, president of The Five Platters, Inc., a Las Vegas based corporation, and her attorneys obtained an injunction against the groups.

Previously, in U.S. Federal Court in Baltimore, The Five Platters, Inc. were granted a permanent injunction against another bogus group, the "New Century Platters," their officers, managers and agents.

Judge C. Stanley Blair proclaimed that The Five Platters, Inc. owns the U.S. registered trademark for the name "The Platters," and that no other group has any legal right to use the name or any variation thereof.

The Atlantic record was produced by Jim Mason. UA Music will administer Burnett's firm, Powder Music (ASCAP), throughout the U.S. and Canada. A co-publishing deal exists between Burnett and UA for the rest of the world.

Sept. Sales Rise At Retail Chains

NEW YORK — The nation's biggest retail chains reported increased sales during September over the same month a year ago, although some retailers noted that their volume had slackened off during the second half of the month.

Sales of durable goods accounted for most of the moderate gains. Sales of apparel and other soft lines, continued their lackluster trend of recent months, barely expanded beyond the present inflation rate of 5.5 percent.

Sales Swelled

Overall, however, retail sales during September swelled at a faster rate than inflation did. Sears, Roebuck & Co., the nation's largest retailer, said that its September volume rose 9.3 percent to $1.54 billion from $1.41 billion a year earlier. This represented the company's heftiest year-to-year increase since April. And S.S. Kresge Co., the quickest-growing chain in the country, reported its sales up 22.4 percent to $799.6 million from $653.2 million in the prior-year period. About half of Kresge's gain was attributed to the opening of many new K-Mart discount stores. According to Robert E. Dewar, chairman of Kresge, 271 K-Mart units will be added to the chain by the end of November.

Year Earlier

In its most dramatic year-to-year advance since May, September sales at the Dayton-Hudson Corp. rose 9.8 percent to $159.8 million from $145.6 million. Volume at the Zayre Corp. climbed 10.7 percent to $110.7 million from $100 million in Sept. 1975. And at the May Department Stores Co., sales rose 7.5 percent to $199.6 million from $185.7 million a year earlier.

Modest Expansion

Following a 9 percent gain in August, J.C. Penney Co. said that its September sales increased only 6.7 percent to $764 million from $716 million last year. At Montgomery Ward & Co., similarly, volume expanded by a modest 5.6 percent to $369.2 million from last September's figure of $349.6 million. Both companies laid part of the blame for these unexciting sales performances on the recent auto strike, which curtailed consumer demand in the midwest.

Volume Climbed

For the 35 weeks ended Oct. 2, Sears reported that its volume climbed 8.5 percent to $10.1 billion from $9.4 billion in the prior-year period. Kresge's sales during those 35 weeks rose 21.19 percent to $5.1 billion from $4.1 billion. At Woolworth's, sales during the same period advanced 11.8 percent to $3.15 billion from $2.8 billion, and Montgomery Ward's reported its volume up 5.5 percent to $2.49 billion from $2.36 billion in the first 35 weeks of 1975. For the eight months ended Oct. 2, Penney's sales increased 9.6 percent to $5 billion from $4.5 billion.

WAR AT DODGER STADIUM — To celebrate their "War's Greatest Hits" Gold album, War and friends (including retired Dodger star Maury Wills) take the field at Dodger Stadium for a celebrity softball game with KISS Radio. The festive occasion was highlighted by the distribution of some 35,000 complimentary copies of War's Gold single, "Summer," to fans in the stadium while a plane towing the sign, "War Is Wonderful," zoomed overhead. The game was the first of a series which will continue next year, when War expects to play similar exhibitions in every major league baseball park in the country. Copyright Stops Music Bill Service subsidy (H.R. 8603) that prevents any further increases until next March. That's the due date for a report on rates and procedures by a seven-member Postal Service Commission.

The main benefit of H.R. 8603, which gives Congress more oversight of the independent Postal Service, is a 10-month moratorium on temporary rate increases. Previously, the Postal Service could raise rates while the Rate Commission considered requested rate hikes.

Under the new law, already signed by the President, the Service can file for an increase, but cannot impose any permanent or temporary raises for 10 months. Only if it takes the Rate Commission longer than 10 months can the USPS implement the higher temporary rates. Assuming the Postal Service filed Oct. 1, 1976 for a raise, the earliest it could possibly impose a temporary hike would be next August 1.

Postal Centers

The six hearings on bulk mail centers (BMCs) this year did not lead to any legislation regulating the highly mechanized, centralized mail processing plants. The BMCs have been responsible for enormous increases in lost and undeliverable records and books.

According to a House Postal Facilities staffer, the subcommittee intends continuing its inspection and study of the BMCs. He noted that book and record companies are keeping the subcommittee "apprised" of developments.

One complaint record companies made at the hearings has been partially remedied. Testimony against the USPS's practice of auctioning off "loose-in-the-mails" — books and records separated from their invoicing envelopes and therefore "lost" — resulted in a three-month moratorium on auctions to study the problem.

As of September 20, 13 dead-parcel branches resumed their auctions. The "significant" difference, said a USPS spokesman, is that the USPS now clearly marks each item with a stamp that reads "Purchased at USPS auction." "This should solve the problem of people claiming they have unsold merchandise," said the spokesman.

K-tel Releases '76 Sales Report

MINNETONKA, MINN. — K-tel International, Inc. reported that its sales during the fiscal year which ended June 30 rose 31 percent to a record $115,284,000 from $87,831,000 in fiscal 1975. Volume for the fourth quarter was $26,241,000, compared with $22,055,000 for the same three months in the previous year.

During fiscal 1976, K-tel's net income jumped 26 percent to a record $4,063,000, or $1.06 per share, from $3,215,000, or 80¢ per share in the prior year. Net earnings for the fourth quarter, however, declined to $994,000 from $1,521,000 during the prior-year quarter. This decreasing profitability was attributed primarily to "substantially" increased advertising charges incurred by promotional programs that did not produce the expected sales gains.

'Olivia' Leased By ABC Music Prod.

LOS ANGELES — ABC Music's new division, ABC Music Productions, has leased for the world, excluding U.S. and Canada, a master recording, "Olivia," b/w "Everything's Rainbows," recorded and written by Adrian Loveridge and produced by Hal Yoergler.

In front: lead guitarist Rick Neilson.

Capitol Sets Two LPs

LOS ANGELES — Capitol Records, Inc., will release The Sylvers' "Something Special" album and Al Martino's "Sing My Love Songs" album in October.

Wonder LP Price Varies Across The Country

$7.98; at Sam Goody in Philadelphia for $7.99; at Tape City in New Orleans for $8.98; at Richman Bros. in Philadelphia for $7.00; at Alexander's in New York for $7.88; at Jerry's Records in Philadelphia for $6.98; at Tower Records in San Francisco for $7.88; at Licorice Pizzeria in Los Angeles for $8.77; and at Swallens in Cincinnati for $9.25.

Price No Obstacle

Lushka said he was not surprised by the broad gamut of prices for "Music In The Key of Life." "I'm sure for the first month or so, you'll see a lot of different prices; then it will probably level out."

Although the album is selling more than enough copies to justify a large markup on it by retailers, Lushka said he fully expected many of them to advertise the release at prices below their normal store prices. "Most of your accounts are going to use this album to bring people in. So the best price they can offer, the better chance they have of bringing more people into the store, where they might buy other albums, too."

Perhaps for this reason, Sam Goody is advertising the Wonder album this week in The New York Times for $7.98. However, it doesn't appear that the lowered price will have much of an effect on sales of the release. In a test conducted by the retailer, a Goody store where the album was sold for $7.98 turned over 300 copies of it in one day; but in each of four other Goody stores which sold the release for $11.98, an average of 200 copies moved over the counter on the same day. "It's interesting to know that you don't have to give your best product away," quipped George Levy, president of Goody.

Standoff In New York

PORTRAIT OF TWO WINNERS — Portrait Records recording artist Burton Cummings and producer Richard Perry sat recently in Perry's newly completed Studio 55 in Los Angeles and mixed Burton's solo debut album "Burton Cummings," preparing it for release. The premier disc from the brand new CBS Records label, the LP contains the single "Stand Tall" which is 62 bullet in the CB charts. The charts are familiar grounds to Cummings who co-wrote and sang lead on all the hits of the Guess Who. Cummings, with manager Shep Gordon of Alive Productions, is now preparing Canadian and American tours.

Copyright Passage Up To President Ford and .6¢ rates. Record companies, on the other hand, preferred the lower Senate rate of 2.5¢ and .5¢.

House conferees had already okayed the compromise 2.75¢ and .5¢ rates when a House member then started lobbying for a .55¢ fee. "The real fight focused on playing time," said one music industry rep. Another admitted his group's attorneys fought to keep .6¢ the same.

It might have been the fact that the House had already agreed to .5¢. Or letters and calls from the Consumer Federation of America might have made the difference. At any rate, the Senate stuck with their original .5¢ per minute rate.

The increase is estimated to cost recording companies close to $25 million dollars, according to the RIAA. The increase to the consumers is expected to be more. Cash Box last week reported the cost to be $47 million to $100 million. These figures were for a 3¢ mechanical, however.

New York retail prices remained at the low level where they have been for the past few months. In ads that appeared in the Sunday Times and the New York Daily News, Korvettes promoted eight "super-specials" for $2.99: "Wild Cherry," "War's Greatest Hits," "Whistling Down The Wire" by Crosby/Nash, "Hard Work" by John Handy, "Love, Life & Feelings" by Shirley Bassey, "Barefoot Bullet" by John Klemmer, "You Are My Starship" by Norman Connors and "Ole ELO." Additionally, in the Thursday edition of the News, Korvettes advertised "Silk Degrees" by Boz Skaggs and three of his other releases, including "My Time," "Slow Dance," and "Moments," for $2.99. And once again, the chain offered "Peter Frampton Comes Alive" ($7.98 list) for $3.99.

Other retailers, however, seemed to be letting up some of the pressure that has kept prices down. Sam Goody's price for its ten "Picks of The Week" rebounded to $3.69 from last week's figure of $3.49. Jimmy's Music World ran no ad in the Times for the first time this month, and its ad on Thursday in the News promoted only nine items for $2.99, compared to 12 albums the previous week. Of these low-priced LPs, only four were hot sellers: "Good King Bad" by George Benson, "Silk Degrees" by Boz Skaggs, "A Fifth of Beethoven" by the Walter Murphy Band, and the debut LP by Dr. Buzzard's Original Savannah Band.

Record Of The Month

The Columbia "Record Of The Month," "George Gershwin Plays Rhapsody In Blue," was advertised in three markets: at The Wherehouse in Los Angeles for $2.99; at Sam Goody in Philadelphia for $2.99; picks of the week

DEODATO (MCA 40631)

Peter Gunn (4:51) (Northridge — ASCAP) (H. Mancini)
From his recent LP "Very Together," this song is a new arrangement of the TV theme written by Henry Mancini. Peter Gunn goes to the disco. The orchestrated arrangement is done clean and efficiently. Watch for this one to dance right up the charts.

NATURAL GAS (Private Stock PS 45,116)

Once Agaln, A Love Song (3:55) (Pepper — ASCAP) (J. Molland)
From the recent LP "Natural Gas," this song is written by group member Joey Molland, formerly of Badfinger. Pleasant vocals and harmonies along with smooth production from Felix Pappalardi set up this Beatlesque tune for a natural high spot on the charts. For AM and FM radio.

CATE BROS. (Asylum E-45354)

In One Eye And Out The Other (3:18) (Big E Little e/Cate Bros./Midnight Hour — BMI) (E. & E. Cate, S. Cropper)
This song is from the group's recent LP "In One Eye And Out The Other." Chunky rhythms and R&B-influenced production from Steve Cropper work together to make it a strong request item all across the board.

STARZ (Capitol P-4343)

(She's Just A) Fallen Angel (2:53) (Rock Steady/Starzong — ASCAP) (Harkin, Ranno, Sweval, Grob, Smith, Delaney)
From the recent "Starz" LP, this song opens with a slashing hard rock guitar lead. Jack Douglas, who has worked with Aerosmith, provides a clear production. A good idea for AM radio even if only to provide relief from disco overkill. Also for FM.

THE JIMMY CASTOR BUNCH (Atlantic 45-3362)

Everything Is Beautiful To Me (3:15) (Jimpire — BMI) (E. Henderson, Jr.)
A delicate electric guitar introduction establishes the lilting melody right away; after the first few bars the rhythm track settles in and Castor wraps his expressive voice around both. The chorus on this, "It's so beautiful," gives the tune a hook that won't quit. Slate for pop and R&B airplay.

RAY CHARLES (RCA JH 10800)

Oh Lawd, I'm On My Way (3:15) (Chappell — ASCAP) (D. Heyward, G. Gershwin)
From the recent LP "Porgy & Bess," this is a well-known Gershwin tune. The famous Charles vocal reappears again. An upbeat gospel choir follows him all along the way. Interest should be forthcoming from R&B playlists.

BRIGATI (Elektra E-45349)

Gotta Get Next To Somebody (3:19) (Rag Pickin' — ASCAP) (E. Brigati, E. Kobylarz, D. Brigati)
From the recent LP "Lost In The Wilderness"; mellow strings open the song. Ron Dante provides a ballad-oriented production. The group has achieved a true pop sound. Adds are possible from AM radio.

THE GROUP WITH NO NAME (Casablanca NB 868)

Get Out In The Sunshine (3:22) (Lotts of Miles/Apple Cider — BMI) (J. Lott, A. Miles, K. Sagai)
From the recent LP "Moon Over Brooklyn," this song has a strong R&B flavor. Backup vocals are hot and spicy. It seems this tune might one day be stolen for use in a TV commercial for tanning lotion. Chart action might be a sure thing for pop radio with possible interest coming from R&B playlists.

OPUS IV (Cotillion CO 32063)

If It Don't Fit (3:49) (Muziki — BMI) (S. Moy, D. Johnson)
This number kicks the dust right off of the dance floor. A steady beat works tightly alongside the funky vocal. The band keeps some slick rhythm in motion. It should get plenty of adds on R&B playlists.

CAROL TOWNES AND FIFTH AVENUE (Sixth Avenue JB 10793)

If You Leave Me (I Will Surely Follow You) (3:00) (Dunbar — BMI) (L. Courtney)
A fine piano and saucy vocal split the song open. The production is surefire. Lou Courtney has written a guaranteed hit. Expect this one to zoom right up the charts. For R&B and AM playlists.

THE MANHATTANS (Columbia 3-10430)

I Kinda Miss You (3:40) (Nattahnam/Blackwood — BMI) (W. Lovett)

The Manhattans were wise to follow "Kiss And Say Goodbye" with this lingering, wistful ballad. The emotion here cannot be overlooked, especially when slickly emphasized by well-charted strings. This time the spoken part is at the end and it's great: "I seal this letter with a tear . . ." Must for R&B, pop play across the board.

JOHNNY GUITAR WATSON (Columbia 1019)

Superman Lover (3:18) (Vri John — BMI) (J.G. Watson)

From his recent LP "Ain't That A Bitch," this song is already quite hot. The rhythm is stronger than a locomotive and the vocal can leap tall buildings in a single bound. An instant bullet on R&B charts with easy crossover into AM top 40.

TAVAREZ (Capitol 4348)

Don't Take Away The Music (3:36) (Bull Pen/Perren Vibes — BMI) (St. Lewis, Perren, Yarian)

From the group's recent LP "Sky High," a good idea as a followup to their hit "Heaven Must Be Missing An Angel." This song shoots sky high. Quick R&B rhythms dance through sweet harmonies and a tight group arrangement. A guaranteed hit for the charts on both R&B and AM radio.

SOUL TRAIN GANG (Soul Train JH 10792)

Ooh Cha (3:58) (Hip Trip Writers — BMI) (J. Aikens, J. Bellmon, V. Drayton, B. Turner)

DAN HILL (20 Century TC 2305)

Hold On (3:33) (Welbeck — ASCAP) (D. Hill)

Canadian songwriter Hill has yet to break big in the United States, but this one will certainly give him a good push. It's a lovely ballad, performed with a base of sweet acoustic guitar, and FM progressives will gobble this up. The chorus features some Eagle-like harmonies that are hooks in themselves.

BONNIE BRAMLETT (Capricorn CPS 0262)

Never Gonna Give You Up (3:12) (Downstairs/Parabut — BMI) (K. Gamble, L. Huff, J. Butler)

From her recent LP "Ladies' Choice," Bramlett swings right along on this smooth ballad. Her vocal's upfront with a hard edge. She gets some help on harmonies from Dobie Gray. Already a heavy item on progressive FM. Both AM and R&B radio could have adds forthcoming.

FUNKY KINGS (Arista AS 0209)

Slow Dancing (3:39) (Jazzbird/Benchmark — ASCAP) (J. Tempchin)

A slow tune with crisp vocals, written by Jack Tempchin, who has had some previous hits by the Eagles: "Already Gone" and "Peaceful Easy Feeling." Soft harmonies weave in and out behind a strong production. A good idea for both AM and FM playlists.

NINO (Epic 8-50294)

I Want To Spend My Life With You (3:47) (20th Century — ASCAP/Fox Fanfare — BMI) (L. Weiss, J. Williams)

From the recent LP "We Made Love, Regresa A Mi," this song is a slow ballad for the older generation. A pure MOR sound is clearly achieved. Adds may come on AM playlists.

THE DETOURS (MCA 40626)

Try To Hold On (3:40) (Famous/High Sierra — ASCAP) (H. Beatty, S. Tobin)

The telephone rings, drums start a beat. The man says hello to his woman, and before you know it the woman is in tears. As she cries, the group starts their song. This is a guaranteed R&B hit with good strength for possible AM crossover.

LYONS & CLARK (Shelter/ABC SR 62005)

Love Lines (2:38) (Tarka — ASCAP) (D. Lyons, P. Clark)

From the just-released "Prism" LP, these two fine artists have released an ambitious first single that shows much potential. Concentrating on slick two-part harmonies, the melody is always interesting due to great use of minor chords. A soulful horn solo doesn't hurt. Must for progressive lists.

JIMMY SANDERS (Capitol P-4342)

Na Na Hey Hey (Kiss Him Goodbye) (2:30) (MRC/Little Heather — BMI) (DeCarlo, Frashuer, Leka)

This song is a disco remake of the hit by the group Steam. The chorus "Na, na, na, na, hey, hey, goodbye" is featured among a screaming vocal and a familiar disco mix. Watch for adds from top 40 AM and possibly R&B playlists.

COUNTRY JOE McDONALD (Fantasy F-790)

Love Is A Fire (Continuation) (2:51) (Alkatraz Corner — BMI) (J. McDonald)

Country Joe is back again, this time with a fast-paced rocker. The arrangement with horns adds an interesting disco blend. Backup vocalists provide the complementary chorus. Airplay might happen on both FM and AM radio.

BABYFACE (ASI 10009)

Never In My Life (1:56) (Tektra — BMI) (Barth)

PABLO CRUISE (A&M 1876)

Crystal (3:35) (Irving/Pablo Cruise — BMI) (C. Leros, D. Jenkins)

From the group's recent "Life Line" LP, this song sounds reminiscent of Elton John's "Tumbleweed" period. Orchestra and harmonies combine effectively to make it a possible hit for AM radio.

HELEN CORNELIUS (RCA JH 10795)

There's Always A Goodbye (3:42) (Blackwood — BMI) (R. Richards)

A driving guitar riff opens the song, as Cornelius' vocal moves straight on ahead in this original pop ballad. AM radio should pick up on this one immediately.

BERGEN WHITE (Private Stock PS 45,105)

Duke Of Earl (2:58) (Conrad — BMI) (B. Williams, E. Dixon, E. Edwards)

Here's yet another remake of the classic '50s tune. Trumpets hail the opening note. This song sounds one step removed from a "Happy Days" TV show soundtrack. Might be a good idea as a novelty record. Possible adds may come on AM playlists.

ROBERTA KELLY (Oasis OC 409)

Love Power (3:30) (Unbelievable — BMI) (Vann)

From the recent "Trouble-Maker" LP, Kelly moves right on down on a happy soul stomp'n' dance tune. A bass-styled piano slaps out some steady notes. The vocal struts and won't let up. Watch for this cut to get some good power play on R&B and AM playlists.

DONNY GERRARD (Greedy G-107)

Greedy (For Your Love) (3:05) (Joyfully Sad — BMI) (H.G. Marx, R. Buchanan)

From the recent LP "Donny Gerrard," a smooth shining chorus opens this tune. Strong harmonies and striking guitar riffs grab out along the melody. Should get a good amount of R&B airplay with possible crossover for AM radio.

KAAY's 'Beaker Street': Progressive Format, Radio Drama, Satisfies U.S. Nightowls

by J.B. Carmicle

LOS ANGELES — There's a distinct set of nightowls around the country who are finding themselves fed up with truck driving music, talk shows and top 40 music on America's 50,000 watt station's all night shows. Some of those listeners found an alternative to those formats over eight years ago when a station in Little Rock, Arkansas, KAAY, began broadcasting a show called "Beaker Street" — but some are just discovering that the show exists. "Beaker Street's" devoted fans, who now range from factory workers to students to just plain insomniacs, tune in each night at 11:00 for progressive music, old time radio dramas and host Stuart McRae's rap, and stay with the program until they're either off work or ready for sleep. Hundreds of letters pour into the station each month requesting "Beaker Street" posters, bumper stickers and songs while the show's popularity zooms, with new listeners calling nightly from the twenty states KAAY's signal covers at night. When Cash Box talked to McRae, he explained not only why the show fills a void in nightowls' lives, but why the show's format is valuable to those who live in areas not served by hometown radio stations at night.

Relating

McRae has no trouble relating to the show's listeners — he rode around at night with high school friends in New Orleans in 1969 and listened to "Beaker Street" him-

Radio Arts Debuts Three Major Specials

LOS ANGELES — Radio Arts, Inc., Burbank California based MOR programming service company, has initiated a national campaign to introduce three major musical specials hosted by renowned composer-conductor John Green. The packages contain a musical and personal introspective into the lives and careers of Tony Bennett, Judy Garland, Liza Minnelli and George Gershwin.

Green hosted the sessions from his home studio in Beverly Hills and the programs contain both live and recorded performances.

"This is our inauguration of a newly formed, specialized programming division of Radio Arts," announced company president Larry Vanderveen. John Green is far more than just a moderator, he is a close, personal friend of the performers and the end result offers a unique and refreshing insight rarely found in similar programs."

The first of the three specials features Tony Bennett in a four hour production titled "Style Is The Man," which includes live vocal performances by Tony of Green hits "Body And Soul" and "I Cover The Waterfront" with the composer at the piano. Liza and Vincente Minnelli star in the second presentation, "I Remember It Well," and a special tribute is paid to Judy Garland in this four hour program. The third in the series, "I Remember Gershwin," provides a seven hour in-depth look into the music and life of George Gershwin by many of his close colleagues. A highlight of the show is the appearance of guest stars Fred Astaire and Gene Kelly.

ARB Repeats Ethnic Listening Report

NEW YORK — For the third consecutive year, Arbitron is producing special ethnic market reports to show how the black and Spanish population listens to radio. Last year, Arbitron produced black listening reports in fifteen markets. This year, the addition of the Houston-Galveston radio market brings the number of 1976 black reports to sixteen.

Two additional Spanish listening reports will be introduced in 1976 to bring the total number of markets with Spanish listening estimates to four. The two new markets to join New York and Los Angeles are Miami and San Antonio.

Arbitron plans to publish volume 3 of How Blacks and Spanish Listen to Radio from the 1976 ethnic reports. Volume 3 will be a complete update of the findings in Volume 2 and will be available in late November.

For The Record

EAST COASTINGS — RINGO SPEAKS OUT — Ringo Starr has responded to the advertisement Sid Bernstein placed in the New York Times and the International Herald Tribune two weeks ago, entreating the Beatles to get together for one concert one last time. Bernstein offers tremendous financial rewards with the added incentive that all concert viewers (who would see the show over closed circuit TV all over the world) would contribute food and clothing for the needy and that a good portion of the projected gross which Bernstein estimates at half a billion dollars, could be turned over to charity. Questioned about the ad by Melody Maker, Ringo responded bluntly, "Haven't read it properly yet, but if it's another one of those things that offers us the moon to do one concert — as of now, it's out." Ringo went on to say that the four former Beatles were now going separate ways. "I can't speak about what might happen in five years' time, but as of now — no Beatles. We just don't need it."

YOU ARE MY LAWFUL WEDDED STARSHIP — Grace Slick will marry lighting director Skip Johnson in Hawaii sometime in November at a small ceremony to be attended by family and selected friends. The Starship's next album will be titled "Flight Log," with an actual flight log represented on the cover. The LP will be an anthology of Starship favorites, which WRNW-FM's Dene Hallam, who interviewed Marty Balin on the project, reports will contain "Please Come Back" among other songs. Balin also intimated that the Starship is planning a live album, and will be touring Europe and Japan after January. Balin added that his "Bodacious" LP will be reissued shortly, and that he is planning a solo album of his own, which he envisions as a "funky Arif Mardin-type production."

ALBUM NEWS — San Francisco hard rock quartet Yesterday And Today have been signed to London Records. . . . Jose Feliciano's next Private Stock album will be co-produced in Muscle Shoals by Jerry Wexler and Barry Beckett. . . . Boz Scaggs is seriously interested in playing Radio City Music Hall. . . . Sound familiar? Manager David Spero reports that the Michael Stanley Band will record a live double album in late October at the Agora in Cleveland that will list for $7.98. Bill Szymczyk who has produced all of Michael Stanley's albums on Epic, Tumbleweed and MCA, will produce this session as well, and Joe Walsh is expected to show up for all three nights of the engagement. . . . Tammy Wynette has sued her fourth husband, John Tomlin, for divorce. . . . The cover photo for Eric Carmen's upcoming album "Boats Against The Current" was shot in Clive Davis' apartment, because it afforded "the perfect baby grand piano" along with paintings of ships on the wall behind. One of the cuts on the album, "Marathon Man," was inspired by Carmen's reading of the novel, since he saw a correlation between the long distance runner and the musician on the road. There was talk of using the song in the Dustin Hoffman/Laurence Olivier film based on the novel, but red tape could not be surmounted.

BOOK CORNER — Soon to be released is The Rolling Stones, an illustrated record by Roy Carr, covering the group's members before they were the Stones, and then picking up Mick and the boys in 1963 and following them to the present. Replete with photos, LP covers and complete discographies, the 12" square softcover will list for $6.95. . . . Chappell Music has entered the children's book field with two hardcover songbooks: a Rogers & Hammerstein's children's songbook and Old King Cole. . . . Two volumes of Happy Traum's Basic Guitar Lessons have been published by the Acorn Press. . . . Watch for Playback by Dave Dexter, Jr., writer and record producer, in which he examines popular music from Louis Armstrong to the Beatles. . . . Alec Wilder's new song collection, Songs Were Made To Sing, has been released by TRO Publications. The folio contains comments by Wilder on his songs and many of the people who originally sang them, including Tony Bennett, Cab Calloway, Ella Fitzgerald, Stan Getz, Lena Horne, Peggy Lee, Mabel Mercer, Bobby Short, Sarah Vaughan, Frank Sinatra and a list of equally well-known names too long to include in its entirety.

SHORT SUBJECTS — Elton John's "Blue Moves" will be a joint MCA/Rocket release in America and Canada, scheduled for late October. . . . RCA Red Seal is releasing a commercial single from Tomita's electronic interpretation of Holst's "The Planets," including sections of "Venus" and the 5/4 ostinato movement, "Mars," which incidentally was commercially released on King Crimson's "Wake of Poseidon" album as the "Devil's Triangle" (an uncredited note-for-note ripoff). . . . Frank Sinatra will become the first solo performer to do a full week at London's Royal Albert Hall this February. . . . The Copacabana to reopen October 15, mainly as a discotheque with some live entertainment. . . . Nektar have terminated their management association with British Talent Managers and its American affiliate, Ron Powell Productions. . . . Clive Davis, president of Arista Records, will host an "Evening With Clive Davis" at Central Synagogue (123 E. 55th), under the sponsorship of the Music and Performing Arts Lodge of the B'nai B'rith. . . . Van Der Graff Generator making a rare American appearance at the Beacon Theater, October 18. . . . The opening of "The Song Remains The Same," Led Zeppelin's feature length concert film, will actually take place Oct. 19 in New York, and on the 21st in L.A. . . . B.T.O. will begin touring Japan Oct. 29, for four dates running through to November 4. . . . Songwriter Abel Baer died October 5 at his home in New York City at the age of 83. . . . Al Green has contributed a personal check for $10,000 for the benefit of Jackie Wilson. . . . Fashion designer Ralph Lauren and Warner Communications Inc. have formed a new company to market and sell fine men's and women's fragrances, Warner Fragrances Ltd., with Warner Communications the majority stockholder. Lauren feels that "designing a fragrance is the next logical step" for him in expressing his "concept of style." The lines should be introduced in early 1978, adding still greater diversity to the conglomerate, the various enterprises of which now include cable television and electronic games, and publishing operations including DC Comics and magazine. . . . On Don Kirshner's Rock Concert for October 16: Frankie Valli, Walter Murphy, Starbuck, and comedy with Franklin Ajaye and Gary Muledeer.

RCA HONORS HOROWITZ — Virtuoso pianist Vladimir Horowitz celebrated his 72nd birthday on October 1, and was feted in New York at a reception sponsored by RCA Records. Horowitz will begin touring the U.S. on October 17 in Iowa City, with dates in most major cities. He will not play in New York this year, since the 50th anniversary of the Kiev, Russia-born musician's first New York concert will occur next year, offering the opportunity of a triumphant return of terrific impact. "The Horowitz Concerts, 1975/76" is a celebration of his first nationwide concert tour in nearly a quarter of a century. The concerts were given in 15 cities, from the east coast to the west coast and in Canada, and all the recordings were taped live during the course of the tour, with applause eliminated at Horowitz's request.

POINTS WEST — RIDE THE HORSE IN THE DIRECTION IT'S GOING — We don't know if George Harrison is an est graduate, but strong rumor has it that he's taken his new LP, "33 1/3" over to Warner Brothers in the midst of Dark Horse squabbles with A&M. Guess exactly how old Harrison was when he made this LP. . . . The Sgt. Pepper movie we heard so much about is scheduled to begin shooting in January. Billy Shears is the starring role, and maybe Peter Frampton will play it. . . . "Ob-La-Di, Ob-La-Da" will be the next Beatles single, b/w "P.S. I Love You" . . .

Eric Clapton never goes halfway! You know, most folks put out an album, the cover is art, the back is just notes. You could never mistake the two. The back of "No Reason To Cry," with those great woodcuts of song titles is so good that some people might take it for the front. No matter here's the real cover. Guitar players, that's what your flat pick should look like after the gig.

Waylon Jennings at The Troubadour, Oct. 26, 27. . . . Robert Palmer's recent "Some People Can Do What They Like" LP got special treatment at Phono Pressn Inc. a pressing plant in Burbank. It seems 5100 of these disks got pressed up on rare Swedish machines that gave Palmer two db more highs than usual.

Island is behind this record like you wouldn't believe: sealing wax stamps of Palmer's own dolphin logo, sweatshirts, T-shirts, stickers. Palmer's helping too, with a national tour starting Oct. 18 in Charlottesville, Va. He'll hit The Roxy at the end of November 1.

WALDEN'S NAVY — Tuskegee, Alabama recently celebrated Phil Walden Day and the Capricorn president was made an honorary Admiral in the Alabama Navy. Even though we were assured that the state really does have some ships, it's a little like being made honorary Music Editor of The Wall Street Journal.

WIPE THE WINDOWS, CHECK THE OIL, DOLLAR GAS — is the great title of a new 2-pocket live Allman Brothers set to be released Nov. 1. All unreleased stuff, recorded at places like Watkins Glen and Winterland. . . . Earl Slick celebrated his "21st" birthday at Chicago's Aragon Theatre at night and at a record store during the day. . . . While The Fab Four still mulls over those huge comeback offers, Bing Crosby has already made his move. Bing returned to Broadway's Paramount Theatre for a two week gig that started Oct. 7.

WHAM-BANG, NICE MEETING YOU — Arista's Silver paid a visit to CB's new offices last week and talked about their writing habits. "We write about personal experience," said one band member. "We hope the next LP will have songs about counting money." The next single, "Memories," ships this week.

REEL TO REEL — Morgan Cavett and John Kay finishing Kay's solo effort at Heritage Sound. Lowell George and Nickey Hopkins will be in to add appropriate parts. Cavett, also a writer, is scripting disaster pic called "Killer Cablecar!" . . . Columbia Studios in San Francisco has Tony Bennett and Bill Evans recording LP for Improv Records. Lenny White's there too, backed by Herbie Hancock and Verdeen White of Earth, Wind, and Fire. So were Jonathan Richman and The Modern Lovers, who just finished their third Beserkley Record. Phoebe Snow's third (second for Columbia) was just mastered; it's called "The Driven Snow". (Get it?)

NOT THOSE CHARTS, LORETTA — Well, you see, Charlie was trying to find out exactly where he was shot and he told Loretta to look at the charts so maybe she could find out, and Loretta said "I don't know what good that will do, Charlie, but OK" and she thumbed through an issue of (you guessed it) Cash Box, Cash Box. By now (if you're following the show) Charlie's probably relaxing in bed reading a good book, like maybe "The Sun Also Rises."

WHAT'S THAT BANDSTAND FOR? — RCA celebrated The Starship's gig at the Forum last week with a big party in the hotel next door. There was a little bandstand set up at the end of the convention room, and nobody ever played. Not members of Starship, that's for sure; they were probably too tired. Not Fleetwood Mac, Flo and Eddie. (We were betting on Jerry Rubin, but even he let us down). Nothing like those jam sessions. . .

ROCK 'N' ROLL LOVE — The First Annual Rock Tennis Tourney did not draw the crowd it expected, but then all the people promised to appear did not show up. Linda Ronstadt did, but not Jeff Beck. (Come to think of it, have you ever seen them in a room together? Maybe. . .) The Eagles, we guess, had better things to do, but Minnie Riperton showed surprising talent; teamed with Ronstadt, spectators were probably looking at a twenty-octave range.

Taxes

The big tax reform package squashed several tax bills affecting the music trade. A new tax treaty between the U.S. and the United Kingdom a bill allowing periodicals to deduct January and February and partial March returns from their previous year's income and a check-off box for contributing to the National Endowment, for the Arts (NEA) and for the Humanities (NEH) on individual tax forms, were postponed till next year.

U.S.-U.K. Treaty

The U.S.-U.K. treaty, which would exempt from withholding tax any performers making less than $15,000 a year, is "low priority" in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, observed counsel for the committee. The hang-up is a treaty article that takes some power to tax away from the states. "Many states object, and so do senators from those states," said the counsel.

The new treaty, signed by the President, is one of the first to use model treaty guidelines developed by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development. The $15,000 exemption is new, and does not seem to be controversial.

But the state tax issue "will hold up consideration of the bill, unless the administration pushes on this...Why should we hold hearings?" is the sentiment," according to committee counsel.

New Accounting

RIAA reps testified before the Senate on H.R. 5161, a House-passed bill that would allow magazine publishers to deduct 2½ months of returns from the preceding year's income. This deduction is a generally accepted accounting practice, but is not currently allowed by IRS.

Records, as well as periodicals, should be allowed to deduct returns on the previous tax year, claimed RIAA. The estimated revenue loss was $18 million for the one-time deferral.

Rep. Corman (D-Cal) will probably reintroduce his bill next year, says his legislative assistant. When asked if Corman intends to include records in his periodical tax benefit bill, the L.A. responded, "That's what killed the bill this year. Treasury objects strongly. Now everyone's trying to get on the bandwagon."

The L.A. felt there was a stronger case for periodicals than for records or paperback books, since magazines have a date printed on them. "There's absolutely nothing you can do with an outdated periodical," she claimed.

The Treasury Department may not be the only interest down on tax breaks. With taxes a major election issue, the members of Congress may not want to support H.R. 5161 if records are included. It's difficult to tell at this point.

Arts Money

H.R. 8274, a bill to put a check-off box for contributions to the NEA and NEH on the income tax form, got lost in the House Ways and Means Committee. Hearings weren't held this Congress on the measure that would put a box similar to the General Election Fund deduction box on the tax return.

The check-off would raise an estimated $1.8 billion from individual contributions. Last year's NEA budget was $82 million, with $12.2 million going for music and musicians. This year's NEA authorization was up: $85.5 million. NEA grants go for research, composition, operas and orchestras, as well as to individual artist support.

"We didn't expect it to go through this time," said a spokeswoman for the National Council on Arts and Education, the group pushing the bill. NCAE has racked up a long list of endorsements, will start a letter-writing campaign next year, and will soon announce a prominent chairman.

"We're in a good position now," said the NCAE executive director. "Chances of getting it out of committee are good" Rep. Richmond (D-N.Y.) plans to reintroduce the bill at the beginning of the 95th Congress.

Jefferson Starship/Heart

THE FORUM, L.A. — It was hard to believe. Here was a seminal early- and mid-sixties band, really among the first purveyors of acid rock, and here they were again in 1976 with a show that was as good as any in their long performing history. Sure, there had been some personnel changes over the years, but the nucleus was still there, even though the name was different.

Grace Slick, 36, was virtually the same driving vocalist she was ten years ago. Some of her range has escaped her, but she more than compensated with class, emotion and intelligence. She never tried to do songs that were beyond her capabilities and concentrated heavily on the ones that were.

Guitarist Craig Chaquico filled the gap. Where once Ms. Slick's vocals would have soared over the basic melody line, the young player substituted guitar fills and solos that were at once fluid and piercing. Marty Balin shared many of the vocals, and his is a confident style, particularly on "For Your Love," the current single. Pete Sears (with a full cast on his broken leg), played one of the best bass solos we've heard in rock music for quite some time. He got every possible sound out of the instrument and alone on the stage he captured the rapt attention of the mostly full Forum audience. "Ride The Tiger" was a highlight number that saw Paul Kantner add slick harmony parts to an encompassing group sound.

Grace Slick proved that she has not lost her way with the blues, singing a Bessie Smith-like tune accompanied only by Pete Sears rollicking barrelhouse piano work.

The Starship also had some of the best light work around. Wisely using a backdrop, there were exciting full color screens, and a dramatic backdrop of the "Spitfire" LP cover.

Heart, although reviewed in these pages when they opened for Loggins and Messina, deserves special mention. Here they were allowed to get loose, and did a lot more rock 'n' roll than they did at the Amphitheatre a couple of weeks before. It's rare for an opening act (especially for the Starship) to get people standing up, but that they did. "Magazine," their next single, got terrific response. j.m.

Temptations/Dramatics Jeannie Reynolds

L.A. FORUM — There were only 10,000 people at the Forum due to the three other major shows in town that night. Unfortunately there were many sound problems throughout the entire show, which seemed to throw everybody off. The Temptations orchestra, probably an excellent group, sounded like a toy band.

The highlight of the entire show was the Temptations doing many of their old hits including "My Girl," "Just My Imagination" "Papa Was A Rolling Stone," "Ain't Too Proud To Beg" "Psychedelic Shack" and more. The audience was on its feet during that entire segment of the show. Most of the other songs were accepted in a rather unresponsive manner, with isolated instances of excitement.

The Dramatics, whom I have seen put on excellent shows in the past, were also touched by the ongoing problems of the evening. Their choreography was not as smooth as it usually is, leaving them looking a little sloppy to the audience. They did manage to bring the crowd to its feet when they sang "In The Rain," and "Me And Mrs. Jones." Their harmonies were the only thing untouched by technical difficulties.

Jeannie Reynolds, sister of L.J. Reynolds of the Dramatics and better known as the fruit lady, sang her current single "The Fruit Song," and people seemed to like it. The remainder of her selections were unfamiliar to the audience, but she is a promising newcomer. c.a.

John Mayall The Fabulous Rhinestones

BOTTOM LINE, NYC — To dwell too heavily upon John Mayall nurturing of British rock superstars is to neglect a full career marked by exploration, experimentation and change. A player with a feel for many instruments, Mayall has varied his concentration from keyboards to harmonica to guitar and his bands have gone through many phases, including hard rocking blues, a soft accustical sound with no drum kit and an all-star cast of American jazz musicians. His current touring ensemble combines elements of the past with at least one concession to pop music trends: two female vocalists at stage left.

Mayall's set featured selections from his latest ABC album, "A Banquet of Blues," including up-tempo songs such as "Sunshine," and a slow blues number with a lyrical hook, "The Boy Most Likely To Succeed." Aside from Mayall's work on acoustic piano and harp (often simultaneous) the solo duties were handled by veteran saxophonist Buddy Holloway and guitarist Gary Rolles, who was at his best playing a very clean slide. Though Mayall's vocal prowess has always been secondary to the instrumental, his voice maintains its distinctive sound and his singing has taken on a relaxed quality that helps the flow of the slower songs. The set was well played and produced overall, though a bit too restrained and therefore not thoroughly exciting.

In a wise programming move, Mayall closed with his most renowned FM hit, "Room To Move," and the finger popping mouth percussion brought the crowd to its feet. The encore was "Stormy Monday," not the most original choice, though the sax and guitar solos were tastefully constructed and the audience was pleased once again.

Opening the evening were the Fabulous Rhinestones, the group featuring leading session bassist Harvey Brooks. Their decidedly pop style was sparked by high energy and tight instrumentals, all meeting a warm reception. p.d.

Bruce Cohn: Doobie Manager Saves For Group's Rainy Days

by Paul Simmons

LOS ANGELES — Bruce Cohn, personal manager of the Doobie Brothers, only smiles with amusement when confronted with the suggestion that his actions on behalf of the group border on outright pessimism. Cohn has decided that the future of the Doobies (or any successful recording act) is as fragile as fine crystal and he has already taken precautions to ensure the group's later years will be comfortable. "I have to protect them from the inevitability of no longer being a big name act. Groups come and go all the time. They make a bundle during their peak, but in the end many end up broke," Cohn reflected.

Protection

To protect the Doobies' future, Cohn has developed a miniature corporation complete with attorney, accountant and investment counselor. Cohn utilizes the corporate structure to maximum advantage for the Doobies, protecting their income through tax shelters. He has also instituted a pension and profit sharing plan. Through the pension plan, a certain portion of the group's income is put away. It remains untaxed until used, at which time it is taxed in a lower bracket. Too cautious? Cohn doesn't think so: "You never know when the rainy days are going to be here," he joked.

Cohn's operation is located in Sonoma, California, not far from the state's most renowned vineyards. In fact, Cohn himself owns a vineyard that yields him a harvest of pleasure during his spare time. Cohn's own firm, Bruce Cohn Management, is small but efficient. Attorney Bob Gordon, accountant Peter Weiss and investment counselor Don Yost complement Cohn's "no frills" business attitude.

Pitfalls

A competent manager must always be on the lookout for numerous business pitfalls. At an early stage, Cohn became aware that some unscrupulous business people were out to sell the group all kinds of unsolicited merchandise. To avoid this situation, Cohn hired a friend of his, Don Yost, to be the group's investment counselor. Cohn has found Yost to be most able, and one who always keeps the group's best interests in mind. Cohn likes to keep a diversified portfolio of investments. He stated, "Real estate investments seem to be the best idea for long term income. All of the properties are in California. The group has to prepare for 20 years down the line. They should feel secure enough to do whatever they want in their later years. I'm sure they'll be playing for many years to come. They don't tire, playing gives them a lot of strength."

Diversification

The key to longevity for the Doobie Brothers seems to be diversification in their music. They're always seeking out new directions. The Doobies are a very active touring band. They've been to Japan and are quite popular in Australia. There has been at least one European tour for each of the last four years. In January the Doobies will be touring Australia, playing some outdoor summer dates. Their entourage includes 42 people including stewardesses. Two "Doobie-liners" are employed. Counting the Memphis Horns, there are 13 members in the band.

Booking Agent

During a year's time, the band tours the U.S. in three separate sections. Cohn also relies on a dependable booking agent. He remarked, "Dan Weiner has been our booking agent since '71. I've found him to be fundamental in building the band as a touring act. His company is the Monterey Peninsula Artists Assn., which also books for Jesse Colin Young, the Tubes, Cheech & Chong and Chicago. Promoters of large halls know they can count on the Doobie Brothers to sell out their shows."

TV Medium

The Doobies also use the TV medium quite effectively. They have been on all of the standard programs — "Midnight Special," "Don Kirshner's Rock Concert" and "In Concert." This past summer they appeared on the program "Dinah's New Friends." The show received very high ratings. Besides performing some well-known songs, they did some skits. One was called "All The President's Doobies" and in another they were the seven dwarfs. Recently they were invited to co-host the "Mike Douglas Show." Cohn is interested in opening new markets for the group. He stated, "The group is broadening their potential. From their last LP, 'Taking It To The Streets,' came a country and western following and also some from R&B. We now have about a 30% black audience. There's some live footage from a concert at the Cow Palace which we intend to use for TV commercials promoting the new LP 'Best Of The Doobies' and also for prepromotion in Europe and Australia. The new LP will coincide with a 40-city U.S. tour, hitting one million people."

Worthwhile Cause

The Doobies feel it's important to be involved in some worthwhile cause. One project which they organize yearly is a Christmas program for the Stanford Children's Hospital. The hospital is one of the nation's top ten research centers for cancer and leukemia. This year's show will be co-hosted by Tommy Smothers. Manager Bruce Cohn certainly has his hands full. He seems confident that he has a tight grip on the reins. He sees his primary concern and occupation as continuing to make key decisions to prolong the career of the Doobie Brothers.

HAYES TO RECORD FOR TATTOO — Singer/songwriter David Hayes has signed a recording contract with Tattoo Records. His single "Margarita," produced by Roy Segal, is being rush-released and will be followed by an album. De Nave Explores New Turf As Robert Palmer's Manager

by Paul Simmons

LOS ANGELES — Few managers can afford the luxury of specializing in just one client (unless, of course, it's a seven figure superstar). Usually they choose to juggle a number of different acts. Connie De Nave, manager for Island recording artist Robert Palmer, finds herself in an ideal situation; Palmer is her only client. De Nave told Cash Box, "There should be less pressure and fewer problems when a manager has the opportunity to give a more personal touch. I've had offers from other acts, but when you're trying to establish an artist, you have to stick to priorities. There's so many management aspects you have to be involved with, such as immigration, taxes, and the artist's mental well-being."

Enthusiasm

After working in public relations for 18 years, De Nave retired last January to do some writing and producing. She has completed the first draft of a novel and has also started her autobiography, to be titled "I Rock And Rolled." During her respite from the business she saw Palmer perform at the Bottom Line. Immediately all her enthusiasm for music returned. Taking time to catch her breath, she exclaimed, "Even if I were the worst manager in the world, Robert's going to be a star. One of the reasons why I retired from PR work was that so much of today's music is Xerox copies. It tends to get quite boring. The music industry is like one huge battery; at times it's very difficult to get recharged. Robert started my energy flowing again. When we spoke, I could see his head was straight. He knew what was necessary for conducting himself as an artist."

De Nave's office is located in New York. Jim McPeak is her assistant; he supplements in publishing and road work. McPeak has worked in the past for the William Morris Agency and Dick James.

Palmer's U.S. tour begins Oct. 20. De

Nave is excited about the tour, which will be booked by Premier Talent. She stated, "Robert is a hot item in major markets. He's recognized as potentially great. To bust open we have to go into other places to reach the masses. We shouldn't have to do it too fast with a lot of hype, just nice and slow. Robert doesn't want to get pushed."

Palmer seems to have a natural affinity for his audience. He designed the cover of his new LP, "Some People Can Do What They Like," and also the promotional t-shirt. Palmer has also shown interest in the stage sets for the upcoming tour. De Nave expounded further, "Many artists cheat their audience by performing on a small scale. Robert intends to do a full-fledged production. He'll have a nine-piece orchestra, three backup singers and a girl percussionist. In the really small clubs it might even be necessary to remove a few tables. The band will all be wearing tuxedo jumpsuits. Robert's outfit will be a suit designed by Federico Fellini. The personal touch may seem impractical and involve extra time, but it all helps in the long run."

A year ago De Nave organized a group called the National Association of Women. The goal of the organization is to help raise the qualifications of women who wish to enter the music industry. Many record companies have already offered their support and assistance to the organization. De Nave told CB, "We want to be able to make major contributions to the industry. The group will offer constructive seminars for both men and women in the areas of PR, management and producing."

Whether serving as the president of the National Association of Women or as Robert Palmer's personal manager, Connie De Nave finds herself involved in a very active and rewarding career; in fact, she seems to give new definition to the term perpetual motion.

Managers' Notes

Aaron Russo, personal manager for Bette Midler and the Manhattan Transfer, reports that Midler will be taping her first TV special for the NBC network in February, with broadcast scheduled for either March or October. Other future plans for Midler include starring roles for five Columbia motion pictures, a taped performance from her last tour "Clams On A Half Shell" will be shown on national pay TV this fall, and a new studio LP is in the works produced by Tom Dowd. The Manhattan Transfer will begin a cross country tour Nov. 1, with 2 shows at Carnegie Hall on Nov. 6. . . . Manager John Morris was especially busy this week with clients Stomu Yamashta and Michael Shrieve in town for group discussions. . . . John Kaye, formerly of Steppenwolf, has been talking to Ron Stone of Lookout Management about representing Kaye as a solo artist. . . . Ron Umile has just signed Tattoo recording artist David Hayes for management. . . . Alan Carr and Dennis Pregolato of Anonymous Management are not really living up to their company name. With Frankie Valli making a big splash on the east coast at Madison Square Garden and Chita Rivera making an impact on the west coast, the 2 managers were highly conspicuous rather than anonymous. . . . Chocolate Milk, the RCA group produced by Allen Toussaint, have signed for management with Elzy White and Bill Traut of Creative Direction. . . . John Blostrom, President of American Bands Management, has just signed Vince, Vance & The Valiants and Potliquoer.

POLYDOR INKS STRANGLUND — Robb Strandlund, co-author of "Already Gone," the Eagles' first major hit, has just signed a long term recording contract with Polydor Inc. Strandlund's debut LP, produced by Ken Mansfield, will be released in early October. Shown witnessing the event are (from l to r) Polydor's west coast publicity manager Len Eppard; Trav Talmadge of Laguna Productions, representing Strandlund; and Polydor's west coast director of A&R Barry Oslander.

ALBUM REVIEWS

PART 3 — KC & The Sunshine Band — T.K. 605 — Producers: Casey, Finch — List: 6.98

With the success of "(Shake, Shake, Shake) Your Boots" (included on this LP), this new one should get an immediate sales boost in both pop and R&B markets. KC is a remarkable production and performance stylist, and he shows off his uniqueness on cuts like "I Like To Do It" and "I'm Your Boogie Man." Throughout, the sound is crisp and shot through with that single's energy. The horn section is evident on many tracks and it really cooks, adding short punchy riffs for punctuation. A nice package will bring this straight to the eyes of Christmas consumers.

THE PAINTER — Paul Anka — United Artists UA-LA 653G — Producer: Denny Diante — List: 6.98

The title of this album is apt: Anka has ten new songs in an Andy Warhol package. As always, there are some great ballads, songs that will doubtless be covered by a number of other artists. "The Painter," for example, is a terrific tune that has a sweet hook, as is "Wildflower" and "(You Bring Out) The Best In Me," the first cut, which is reprised at the end of the LP. Denny Diante's production includes such all-star players as Larry Carlton, Wilton Felder and Joe Sample. MOR and pop stations will jump on this right away.

LIVE! — Bob Marley And The Wailers — Island ILPS 9376 — Producers: Steve Smith, Chris Blackwell — List: 6.98

Originally available here only as an import, Island wisely succumbed to the heavy pressure and released this officially in the States. There are burning live versions of seven top Marley tunes, including "Trenchtown Rock," "I Shot The Sheriff" and "Lively Up Yourself." What with the reggae boom as it is, this should take off with both sales and airplay. Any FM progressive programmer could drop the needle anywhere; all the tunes have good live sound and hot mixes. Retailers: display this up front!

BENSON & FARRELL — George Benson and Joe Farrell — CTI 6059 — Producer: Creed Taylor — List: 6.98

Five years ago a collection like this would have found its way into the hands of jazz buffs; it would get airplay only on jazz outlets. Now, with Benson's huge success, this LP will get a lot of deserved exposure. He's playing better than he has on his current pop stuff, and Farrell is one of the best flute and sax players in the business. They stretch out on cuts like "Camel Hump" and "Old Devil Moon." The well-charted arrangements are by David Matthews, who covers both the funk and melodic cuts with equal ease.

10 YR OVERNIGHT SUCCESS — Black Oak Arkansas — MCA 2224 — Producers: John Ryan, Black Oak Arkansas — List: 6.98

"When The Band Was Singin' 'Shakin' All Over'" is already making great strides as a single, and there are a couple more on this hard-rocking LP that could possibly follow suit. No surprises here — this is pure rock 'n' roll from one of its best practitioners. The vocals have that traditional hard edge, punctuated by searing guitar fills that just won't quit. FM progressives will want a quick taste and AMs could check out "Pretty, Pretty" and "Fireball." The stark cover is a decided eye-catcher, so it should be placed where it can be seen. Don't be afraid of heavy initial ordering this will be a great help to rack sales.

ON THE ROAD TO KINGDOM COME — Harry Chapin — Elektra 7E-1082 — Producer: Stephen Chapin — List: 6.98

Harry Chapin is back with another fine bunch of romantic story songs — there's even one ("The Parade's Still Passin' By") that's probably the first on record to be dedicated to the memory of Phil Ochs. "Your greatest gift/ and the curse that you lived with/ was that you could always care." Other tunes are good too, like "Corey's Coming" and the ultra-melodic "Roll Down The River." The darling of the FM progressive airwaves, Chapin will get tons of play and plenty of LP sales. His brother Stephen's production is sensitive to the singer's needs; strings are effective, but never obtrusive.

PORGY & BESS — Ray Charles and Cleo Laine — RCA CPL-1-1831 — Producer: Norman Granz — List: 14.98

This long-awaited two-record set is a true gem and proves that George Gershwin is a timeless artist. Charles and Laine weave magic throughout every one of these justifiably classic tunes. This will do extremely well during the holiday season as the marriage of these two talents, combined with an attractively boxed package, is just right for giving (and receiving). An instructive folio with extensive and well-researched liner notes by Benny Green serves as a guide to this swinging musical. Charles is not without his instrumental spotlights; his piano work is wonderful, as always. The duets are spectacular.

CRYSTAL BALL — Styx — A&M SP 4604 — Producers: Styx — List: 6.98

Styx's fiery brand of rock 'n' roll emerges full-force in this new LP. The five-member group presents a fairly unified sound, with keyboards and guitars handling rhythm as well as lead work in a unique and satisfying way. Vocals are done up in a complicated, yet accessible manner, with an extremely full sound. Classical roots are evident (although the record is a compendium of all sorts of eclectic sources) in "Clair De Lune/Ballerina." FM airplay is a must; this heavily textured sound will come across great on progressive outlets.

NAKED & WARM — Bill Withers — Columbia PC 34327 — Producer: Bill Withers — List: 6.98

Bill Withers LPs are few and far between; when one is released it's an occasion to rejoice. This one has eight brand new tunes (some of which may be familiar to recent concert audiences). The ballads like "I'll Be With You" are handled with the flair we've come to expect from Withers in that genre; however, the faster cuts, like "If I Didn't Mean You Well," are done up with surprisingly funky and exciting productions. The lyrics are simple, hard-hitting, and fit well with their respective melodies. Airplay will happen with every cut. This should chart fast in pop and R&B categories.

BRISTOL'S CREME — Johnny Bristol — Atlantic SD 18197 — Producer: Johnny Bristol — List: 6.98

Bristol has always had a way with ballads, and this album proves to be no exception. Each of the eight songs is about love, and the emotion comes through on vinyl. Check out "She Came Into My Life" — it starts with beautiful acoustic guitar work and then slips into a solid catchy rhythm underneath a consummately sensitive vocal. Many of the jazz-tinged cuts are powered by attractive horns and strings, which were well-arranged by Paul Riser. There are faster cuts here too, like "Love To Have A Chance To Taste The Wine." Programmers in R&B and pop outlets could safely play anything he a.

ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE — Rush — Mercury SRM 2-7508 — Producers: Rush, Terry Brown — List: 7.98

Rush is a heavy-metal power trio and the power comes through on this bargain two-pocket set recorded during their last American tour. The tracks encompass selections from their four previous Mercury LPs, including a stunning reading of a series of cuts from "2112." For Rush fans this is a perfect history of the band's progress thus far. Indeed, the band's own liner notes call this LP "the end of a chapter." Retailers should be aware of the low list price; properly merchandised (Mercury is behind this one) one could move a lot of copies with great speed.

MAGIC TOUCH — Tony Silvester — The New Ingredient — Mercury SRM 1-110 — Producer: Tony Silvester — List: 6.98

Tony Silvester approaches all music, whether he's producing, performing, or both (in this case) with the same enthusiasm that produces a spark throughout all his projects. This is a tight album, with tracks of different flavors (disco, Spanish and pure soul) that should wind up on all R&B playlists before too long. Musically this is better than anything the Main Ingredient has turned out (the melodies hang together much better). "Cosmic Lady" and "Keep It Up" are standout cuts that will get immediate action. The title cut will no doubt hit the discos with strength.

MCA RECORDS

MCA-2227

IN ONE EYE AND OUT THE OTHER — The Cate Brothers — Asylum 7E-1080 BSP — Producer: Steve Cropper — List: 6.98

The Cate Brothers' second album will push them into national acceptance. The first almost broke wide open with the single "Union Man," but this has more than a couple of cuts with that capability. "Start All Over Again" has the same kind of across-the-board appeal that was behind "Sara Smile," and the title track, believe it or not, seems right for disco play too. These twins, with Steve Cropper producing again, have come up with an ambitious and almost flawless second effort. Look for this one to break big in the pop direction and then seep into other chart areas.

IT AIN'T WHERE YOU BEEN... — Latimore — Glades/T.K. 7509 — Producer: Steve Alalmo — List: 6.98

Latimore's latest is obviously a labor of love; each tune has been constructed with form and style in the forefront of the arrangement. His legendary smooth vocals are captured in the grooves; his keyboard work, especially on Fender Rhodes, is startlingly effective. Many of these seven cuts are over five minutes, but with proper edits "Somethin' 'Bout 'Cha," "I Get Lifted" and "All The Way Lover" could be radio favorites. Latimore seems to prefer writing tunes that are based on riffs, but these are innovative riffs that have a mesmerizing effectiveness. A must for R&B play, some of these tunes could cross over.

PRISMS — Lyons and Clark — Shelter/ABC SRL-52005 — Producer: David Kershenbaum — List: 6.98

Debbie Lyons and Pam Clark are two excellent musicians whose combined talents create a whole greater than the sum of its parts. The tunes are sweet, winsome and reflect a healthy jazz influence. They've obviously been singing together for some time. The harmonies are that good, and they've attracted some hot session players, like Tom Scott and Steve Gadd. The title track is a killer; the two sing the imaginative melody over an infectious bass line. The record will get a lot of FM progressive play. Comparisons will doubtlessly be made to the McGarrigle sisters, but these two are at least as good. "No Deal" is another excellent cut.

THRILLS — The Lost Gonzo Band — MCA 2232 — Producer: Michael Brovsky — List: 6.98

The Lost Gonzo Band achieved its notoriety when it served as Jerry Jeff Walker's backup unit and (this is its second LP on its own) the reputation has grown. This is a collection of good-time songs, mostly, and although there are no real virtuosos in the band, it stands tall as a solid entity. "Write A Song," "Sweet Little Lilly" and "Sexy Thing" come immediately to mind as good selections for FM progressives, while AM country stations will want a piece of this too. Special guests include hot steel player Weldon Myrick.

SMALL CHANGE — Tom Waits — Asylum 7E-1078 — Producer: Bones Howe — List: 7.98

What rhymes with spatula? "Bachelor," replies Tom Waits in this new LP. There are, as in his other records, a couple of masterpiece tunes, like the title track and "Invitation To The Blues." His voice is more on the edge than ever, melodies are now implied, words are slurred in the best smoky jazz club tradition. Waits' acknowledged cult will appreciate the spontaneity here — recorded in five nights on two-track stereo tape, the LP carries much of the energy of a live performance. His most adventurous, and ultimately successful recording, this will broaden his audience.

JUST LIKE IN THE MOVIES — Ace Spectrum — Atlantic SD 18185 — Producers: Ed Zant, Tony Silvester — List: 6.98

This record marks the debut of two new Ace Spectrum members: Lawrence Coley and Frederick Duff. These additions seem to complete the Spectrum sound. The vocals are entirely smooth, well-constructed. R&B programmers will want to check out the title cut and "Sweet Music, Soft Lights And You" as definite airplay selections. Retail outlets should give this one a little in-store play, which should go a long way with sales.

BUGSY MALONE (SOUNDTRACK) — Various Artists (words & music by Paul Williams) — RSO/Polydor RS 1-3501 — Producer: Alan Marshall — List: 7.98

Soundtracks to movies are often boring unless you really loved the film and like hearing dialogue and bits of music. This is an exception; it stands on its own. Paul Williams' tunes are always imaginative, always listenable — here, it seems he's outdone himself. With four different singers featured (Williams is one), the LP has a lot of variety going for it. The merchandising tie-in should not be ignored; the album should be displayed in a prominent position. The title cut and "You Give A Little Love" should be just right for pop airplay.

CLOSE-UP — Bonnie Koloc — Epic/Columbia PE 34184 — Producer: Arthur H. Gorson — List: 6.98

This is a fine LP, definitely the best in Koloc's career, and should be merchandised correctly so that it doesn't merely fall into the hands of a cult audience. The choice of material is excellent, from John Prine's "Clocks And Spoons" to "Silver Stallion." The production is clear, relying on class instead of force, and Koloc's vocals are superb. This just might be one of the big sleepers this year; when it starts its climb, it will be a steady chart item.

TURNING POINT — The Tymes — RCA 1835 — Producer: Billy Jackson — List: 6.98

Another fine album from The Tymes made at Philadelphia's Sigma Sound Studios. There's the standard, excellent fare that we've come to expect from this group: smooth, slick vocals on R&B-oriented tunes, but there are a couple of more ambitious cuts as well, which seems to be hard evidence of the group's maturation. "The Reader," for example, is the record's longest cut (5:35) and it's a fully-realized tune with excellent lyrics. With the addition of singers Terri Gonzales and Melanie Moore, this record's going to be hard to stop.

SPACE TRAVELER — James Vincent — Caribou/CBS PZ 34237 — Producer: Bruce Botnick — List: 6.98

James Vincent is a great musician and he's put together a fine jazz-rock LP that also has some pop crossover potential. The playing is always top-notch (there's a lot of unison work here, like RTF) and Vincent has a soulful, expressive voice. "Drifting Into Love" was already released as a single. Possibilities for the next include "How I'm Gonna Miss You" and the title cut. The string and horn arrangements by veteran Jack Nitzche add the proper touch of funk (he did the music for "Cuckoo's Next," among other things) and E,W&F's bassist Verdine White lends his capable hands to some of the tracks. FM progressive, jazz and pop.

ANYTHING YOU WANT — John Valenti — Arlola Amerlca ST 50012 — Producer: Bob Cullen — List: 6.98

With the single from this LP, "Anything You Want," working its way slowly but surely up the pop charts, this album should do very well in all pop markets. The tunes are professional pop productions, virtually all with effective (if not clever) hook lines. The rhythm parts are something to look for; some of this stuff would be good for disco play. Valenti has assembled a fine cast behind him (Michael Melvoin, Dean Parks and others) and he sings with a confident and pleasing voice. Horns are used with good effect.

TATTOO — Tattoo — Prodigal/Motown P6-10014S1 — Producer: Ray Ruff — List: 6.98

Tattoo is a pretty good rock 'n' roll band and establishes itself firmly as such on its debut LP. The tunes are okay, all written by band members. The vocals are outstanding. Well-placed harmonies were given smart emphasis in the Ray Ruff, Tatoo, Randy Nicklaus mix. "The Highway Calls My Name" could be a good singles choice along with "What Did He Do," which has definite AM possibilities. Good new groups are hard to find, and Tattoo just might be one of them. Pop programmers across the board should give this one a careful listen.

Cash Box Country

COUNTRY ARTIST OF THE WEEK

Mel Tillis

"The Old Faithful Hit Maker Mel" — For a guy who is such a brilliant songwriter, Mel Tillis is a fantastically good singer. And, he is unquestionably the funniest man in country music who does not work full time at being a comedian. Mel Tillis can be summed up by saying that he is a showman's showman: other country music stars love him.

He has written nearly 500 songs that have been recorded, and have won him more than 25 citations (mostly for writing but in some cases for his recordings), and he owns a Grammy Award for writing "Detroit City". Mel was so good as a songwriter that, for a while, his singing ability was overshadowed. He recorded for Columbia for five years and then with Decca for three. He had his first hit on Ric Records with "Wine", then with Kapp, Mel was on his way. In early 1970 Mel joined MGM, where a few of his top hits were "Stateside", "Heart Over Mind", "Life Turned Her That Way", "Arms Of A Fool", "Neon Rose", "Sawmill", "Midnight, Me, And The Blues", and "Mental Revenge". Now back at MCA he has a hit single with "Love Revival" and "Good Woman Blues", produced by Mel and John Virgin.

Today Mel is one of the busiest entertainers around. At the root of his activities are more than 200 personal appearances throughout the country each year, joined by his band, the Statesiders. Add to that regular guest appearances on virtually every TV variety and talk show, and a raft of syndicated country series and specials. His pet project is his Sawgrass Music Company, named for the grass that grows near his Everglades home town in Florida.

Exclusive booking is by The Jim Halsey Company.

Bill Anderson added another award to his credit recently when he received the first annual "Peanuts And Diamonds" trophy. The trophy is nearly two feet tall and has a can of peanuts glued to its top encircled with rhinestones. Bill and his Po' Boys won the trophy when they defeated a softball team comprised of employees from Oakland's KNEW Radio. Although the Po' Boys won the 18-16 game, Bill joked, "The score was 'Liars One, Believers Zero'." The trophy will remain in Bill's possession until next year when he gives KNEW a chance to win it back on the ballfield.

EDDY BAILES (Cin-Kay 112)

Honky Tonk Away (2:57) (Touchdown — BMI) (D.L. Smith, D. Gibson)

Uptempo basic country and already getting airplay.

SOMEBODY SOMEWHERE — Loretta Lynn — MCA 2228

Loretta has the kind of delivery that makes each song a personal experience. Featuring the title song which is also her single, this package is a study of an artist who knows her work and does it well. Produced by Owen Bradley, selections include "Sundown Tavern", "The Games That Daddies Play", "While He's Making Love I'm Making Believe", "Crawling Man", "I'll Leave The Leavin' Up To You", "Your Woman Your Friend", "Blue Eyed Kentucky Girl", with our favorites being "Me and Ole Crazy Bill", and particularly, "Playing With Fire".

THE MAGNIFICENT MUSIC MACHINE — Tom T. Hall — Mercury SRM 1-1111

The storyteller has set his tales to a bluegrass beat and delivered a fast moving, busy package to set the toes a-tappin'. Two of our favorites are "The Fastest Rabbit Dog In Carter County Today" and "Magnificent Music Machine". Also included is the John Prine selection "Paradise", Bill Monroe's "Molly and Tenbrooks", and Tom's current single "Fox On The Run", produced by Jerry Kennedy. Rounding out the lot is "Mama's Got The Catfish Blues", "Bluegrass Break-up", "I Don't Want My Golden Slippers", "I'll Never Do Better Than You", "Rank Stranger", and "Bluegrass Festival In The Sky".

LYNN ANDERSON GREATEST HITS VOLUME II — Lynn Anderson — Columbia KC 34308

The gal that gave us the unforgettable "Rose Garden" is at her best with an uptempo hard-driving tune. This package of single hits produced by Glenn Sutton deals primarily with this so d that fits comfortably into the cross-country bag. You'll meet old friends such as "What A Man My Man Is", "Smile For Me", "Top Of The World", "Keep Me In Mind", "Dixieland, You Will Never Die", "All The King's Horses", "He Turns It Into Love Again", "I've Never Loved Anyone More", "Sing About Love", and "Rodeo Cowboy".

COUNTRY CLASS — Jerry Lee Lewis — Mercury SRM 1-1109

Featuring his current hit single which is also the album title, "Da Killer" has put together (with three exceptions) a package of easy country style ballads. On only two is a glimpse of the rollickin', rockin', rollin', Jerry Lee of "Whole Lotta Shakin'" fame. These are "Jerry Lee's Rock and Roll Revival Show" and "Only Love Can Get You In The Door". Included is the Chilton Price/Pee Wee King/Redd Stewart oldie "You Belong To Me", with our favorite "The One Rose That's Left In My Heart" featuring the harmonica of Charlie McCoy. Throughout is an abundance of Jerry Lee's own distinctive piano.

I DON'T WANNA TALK IT OVER ANYMORE — Connie Smith — Columbia KC 34270

With distinctive clarity Connie puts solid country into her delivery. This collection produced by Ray Baker is a writer's showcase of Don Everly's "So Sad (To Watch Good Love Go Bad)", Jessi Colter's "Storms Never Last", Tupper Saussey's "Love Don't Care (Where It Grows)", and Connie's "Constantly", one of our favorites. The featured title song by Eddie Raven plus his "The Latest Shade Of Blue", Don Gibson's "I'm All Wrapped Up In You", Dottie Rambo's "I Wonder If The Angels Could Use Another Singer" and another of our favorites by Powell and Orender, "You Crossed My Mind A Thousand Times Today," round out the album

HANK 'N' ME — Ray Price — Dot DOSD 2062

A rare collection of Hank Williams tunes recorded in the smooth timeless style of Ray Price; uniting in sound a friendship that ended twenty-three years ago on the death of Hank Williams. An added bonus is the liner notes by Jerry Flowers that give a little of the history of that long ago friendship. There're no strangers in "Hank 'N' Me"; all are the well loved, often heard tunes by the legendary writer, such as "Why Don't You Love Me", "I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry", "Jambalaya", "I Can't Help It", "Your Cheatin' Heart", "Hey, Good Lookin'", "Kaw-Liga", "A Mansion On The Hill", "Half As Much", "Cold, Cold Heart", and "You Win Again", all set for listening pleasure with production by Jim Fogelsong.

Country Album Reviews

THE LAST OF THE WINFIELD AMATEURS — Ray Griff — Capitol ST 11566

Many dream but few succeed in writing, arranging, producing and vocalizing on their own selected collection. Ray Griff is just the man that could and did. Beaming his own intimate husky delivery on the featured title song, others include "I Never Should Have Crossed The Mississippi", "You Put The Bounce Back In My Step", "Between This Time And The Next Time", "Rusty", "A Passing Thing", "That's What I Get (For Doin' My Own Thinkin')", "Let Me Be You", "Piano Man", and "It's Not For You". The style is cross-country with spots of harpsichord, synthesizer, vibes and reedsn along with basic rhythm.

FOR THE 83RD TIME — Tennessee Ernie Ford — Capitol ST 11561

This is the ole pea picker's eighty-third album. Falling into the country sound, it has no limitation in its entertainment value. Tennessee Ernie's solid deep delivery is refreshing as is his ability to cover and hold the range required of such selections as "Sweet Feelin's", "The Dogs And Sheriff John", "I've Been Through The Mill", "Good Friends and Fireplaces", "Everybody Needs A Rainbow", "I Been To Georgia On A Fast Train", "Cowboy", "Daddy What's A Tree", "I've Been There Too" and "Ain't Goin' Down In The Ground Before My Time". Heavy box plays are predicted. Produced by Steve Stone.

JUST LIKE YOU — Linda Hargrove — Capitol ST 11564

Basic country, flirting here and there with western swing, folk and progressive Linda has penned all selections except four co-written with others. The musicians read like "Who's Who in Country music." Tommy Alsup, Pig Robbins, Grady Martin, Buddy Spicher, Chet Atkins, Buddy Harmon, Bob Moore and Jerry Kennedy are only a few that contribute their talents, with Johnny Rodriguez adding vocals. There's a heap of top listening produced by Pete Drake. Selections include "Most Of All", "Your Love Sure Saved Me From Myself", "Old Fashioned Love", "Just Like You", "We've Gone As Far As We Can Go" (one of our favorites), "Fire At First Sight", "Down To My Pride", "20/w0 Hindsight", "Winonah", and "The Only Man-Made Thing In Heaven Are The Scars On Jesus' Hands".

TROY SEALS — Troy Seals | Columbia KC 34271

A sample from the new breed that some may call progressive country, others may call rock or pop. Showing the freedom which comes from doing his own thing well, under the excellent production of Billy Sherrill, selections included are: "Tall Texas Woman", "Neon Lady", "San Antone-EE-O", "Sweet Dreams", "A World Of Good", "Easy", "You And Me, Me And You (That's The Way Our Love Song Goes)", "One More Thrill", "Easy Come, Easy Go", "We're Much Too Close (To Be So Far Apart)".

MISSISSIPPI — Barbara Fairchild — Columbia KC 34307

One of the best albums we've heard in many moons. Barbara's fresh, little girl delivery that gave us "Teddy Bear" now brings the title song of the album, plus "Under Your Spell Again", "You Are Always There", "Cheatin' Is", "The Music Of Love", "Did It Rain", and "Let Jesse Rob This Train". Saving what we think is the best for last is "What You Left My Memory", "Let Me Love You Once Before You Go" with particular emphasis on "Touch My Heart". Billy Sheridan completes the package with his excellent production.

TONIGHT! AT THE CAPRI LOUNGE — LORETTA HAGGERS — Mary Kay Place — Columbia PC 34353

This is it — the album Mary Kay Place, also known as Loretta Haggars of "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" fame, has told the world she wants to be number 1 in Cash Box. Mary Kay's delivery is fresh and uncluttered, moving with ease within the country style she has chosen. Dolly Parton, Emmylou Harris, Anne Murray and Herb Pedersen lend strength with backup vocals on selections such as: "All I Can Do", "Streets Of This Town", "Baby Boy", "Good Old Country Baptizin'", "Settin' The Woods On Fire", and "Get Acquainted Waltz" others are "Vitamin L", and "Have A Little Talk With Jesus". "Baby Boy" the title of Mary Kay's current single is featured along with "Vitamin L". Brian Ahern handled production.

TWO MORE SIDES — Cledus Maggard — Mercury SRM 1-1112

Each title is a tip-off — just make your selection of zany subjects, scattered. Throughout are a few that try to walk straight such as "I Can't Remember A Time Without You", "The Torn Flag", and "One Small Pearl" but the rest are something else again. Like — there's such goodies as "Bring Back The Miniskirt", "What Are They Teaching My Boy Floyd", "Little Nags", "Poppin' Um", "The Banana Bowl", "Virgil And The $300 Vacation", plus of course Cbers' "Bear Blue", and "Martian Modulation". A laugh-along LP produced by Jerry Kennedy.

11 MONTHS AND 29 DAYS — John Austin Paycheck — Epic KE 33943

A colorful character sings a colorful song — 10 of them — in his gutsy basic country style. Produced by Billy Sherrill the lyrics are mostly with that extra punch Paycheck's style demands. Featuring his current single, other selections are "The Woman Who Put Me Here", "The Feminine Touch", "I Sleep With Her Memory Every Night", "I Can See Me Lovin' You Again", "Gone At Last", "Closer Than I've Ever Been Before", "I've Seen Better Days", "Live With Me", and "That's What Outlaws In Texas Want To Hear".

TEXAS WOMAN — Pat Boone — Hitville H6405 S1

A white Texas stetson joins the white buckskin ~~worn~~ with no untidy bits and pieces to jar the nerves, selections unfold such as "Throw It Away", "Indiana Girl", "It's Gone", "Country Days and Country Nights" (gospel flavored), "Oklahoma Sunshine" (Pat's current single), "Don't Want To Fall Away From You", "Won't Be Home", "Young Girl", and "Lovelight Comes A'Shining". Production is by Ray Ruff.

100% COTTON — Cotton Ivy — Canaan CAS 9796 LP

With the improbable name of "Cotton Ivy", and very similar to Jerry Clower, he has burst upon the scene telling tall tales about all sorts of things like coon dogs, bananas, hogs, politicians and boo hedgeapples. Cotton uses a recitation type delivery working within a live audience atmosphere. To quote the liner notes by Norman Odlum, "Cotton's not a stand-up comedian, he's a humorist — a combination Mark Twain and Will Rogers". Suffice to say he and Jerry Clower could put on a good debate which we'd attend any day.

FLOWER OF THE SOUTH — Shylo — Columbia KC 34161

Progressive country with a strong folk flavor is the makings of this Scaife/Hogan penned LP. Falling comfortably into the "now" sound, selections include "Whiskey Fever", "Didn't Get No Lovin'", "Sail Away (Better Get Your Ship Together)", "Beyond The Sun", "Showdown", "Livin' On Love Street", "Heartbeat", "Ole Man River", "Dog Tired Of Cattin' Around" and "Fine Lovin' Woman". Larry Rogers carries producer's credits, with special thanks going to all sorts of things like the frogs in the bathroom, ole yeller, Sam the cat, Rod and The Midnight Turkey, to name a few.

JOHNNY GIMBLE'S TEXAS DANCE PARTY — Johnny Gimble — Columbia KC 34284

And here's Johnny Gimble with a lotta great listening at the "Texas Dance Party", and Johnny tells it like it happened on the liner notes. "Preparation for this album began about 1940 when I played my first 'Texas Dance Party'. On July 4th, 1975, we played an outside show near Kerrville, Texas, right after a big rain and folks were dancin' in the mud so I knew things hadn't changed too much . . . that's when the idea for the album came about. There's some old tunes and some new tunes here but all of them are like the ones I grew up playin' — listen, and it makes you wanta dance! Come out LIVE next time we have a TEXAS DANCE PARTY!!"

ABC/Dot Cuts List Price Of Country LPs

LOS ANGELES — The list price for ABC/Dot country albums has been lowered to $5.98 from its previous selling price of $6.98. The slash is effective immediately and includes upcoming and recently released ABC/Dot LPs.

In revealing the change, board chairman Jerry Rubinstein said that "country product has never been discounted to the same degree as pop product. Therefore, we feel that country LPs have never hit their true sales potential because of the higher price." ABC/Dot is only the second major label to lower its country album prices. He also said that the cost to dealers and racks will come down in accordance with the list price.

Some of the ABC/Dot product covered by the change includes new LPs by Tommy Overstreet, Billy "Crash" Craddock, Freddy Fender and Don Williams.

Dudley Leads UA October Release

NASHVILLE — United Artists Records will release six new country albums in October, including "Dave Dudley Presents," "I'm Not Easy" by Billie Jo Spears, "Jean Shepard's Greatest Hits," "Almost Persuaded" by Sherri King, "10th Anniversary" by Del Reeves and "Kenny Rogers."

Epic Expands Its Horizons

NASHVILLE — The last year has witnessed Epic Records' expanding the label's already epic horizons as one of Nashville's most formidable forces in the country music industry. Epic's powerful artist roster and strong corporate spirit dub the label a country giant, with muscle sufficient to spill its records throughout the national country charts.

The first lady of country music, Tammy Wynette, has sold over 5½ million albums; with singles, a total of over 10 million records. With her singles "Golden Ring," "Till I Can Make It On My Own" and "You And Me," she continued to conquer new generations of country music. A four-time winner of the CMA's female vocalist of the year award, Wynette scored three nominations for the forthcoming CMA Awards: female vocalist of the year, song of the year and vocal duo of the year (with George Jones). Her command performance at the White House for President and Mrs. Ford was internationally recognized by over 500 foreign diplomats. Her life as a country superstar has been featured in nearly every domestic periodical and publication.

Epic entertainer Charlie Rich's "Behind Closed Doors" LP passed the three million units mark in 1976. Adding "All Over Me,"

"Since I Fell For You" and "Road Song" to his extensive list of hits, Rich released his "Greatest Hits" LP. Rich's five-language interpretation of "America, The Beautiful" and his spiritual-flavored "Silver Linings" album expanded sales and an awareness of his versatility as a recording talent. Currently, Rich's "Silver Fox" and "Very Special Love Songs" albums are approaching gold and platinum respectively.

In twenty years, every album released by George Jones clinched a rating on the national country charts. "The singer's singer" has dominated airplay, charts and sales with an absolutely consistent history of fine recordings. In 1976, Jones has captured a younger and more varied audience. His enormous discography was supplemented with recordings of "The Battle," "Memories Of Us," "You Always Look Your Best (Here In My Arms)," "Her Name Is" and "Golden Ring" (with Tammy Wynette), which recently garnered the #1 slot. With over 100 albums to his credit, Jones will add his new LP entitled "Her Name Is."

Epic totally solidified their commitment to the southern music movement by signing a major force in southern music, The Charlie Daniels Band. The CDB bowed with their highly acclaimed Epic LP, "Saddle Tramp." Currently approaching gold status, "Saddle Tramp" reaped increased multi-format chart success for the band.

As a fitting Epic crown, 1975 signee Joe Stampley, with clock-like consistency, logged five consecutive hits with "Billy, Get Me A Woman," "She's Helping Me Get Over Loving You," "Was It Worth It," "The Sheik Of Chicago" and "Whiskey Talkin'."

John Austin Paycheck developed a more progressive direction and delivered "11 Months And 29 Days," which secured increased acceptance for this Epic mainstay with multi-format airplay. "The Feminine Touch," "All-American Man" and "Gone At Last" proved solid singles. Paycheck looks to be a most exciting Epic artist for the remainder of 1976.

Michael Murphey drew gold with his "Blue Sky Night Thunder" album, and his "Swans Against The Sun" LP is nearing the same gold status.

ON JAZZ

Mercury will debut a two-pocket reissue series under a resurrected Emarcy banner late this month. Artists in the first release include Buddy Rich, Rahsaan Roland Kirk, Dinah Washington, Maynard Ferguson, Gene Ammons and Clifford Brown. The Ammons is a complete edition of all the late tenor sax star's work for Mercury while the Brown is the first of two projected two-fers chronicling the work of the Clifford Brown-Max Roach Quintet. Dan Morgenstern and Don DeMichael have been involved in the programming.

Gale to Sweeten

Eric Gale's first Columbia LP is in the works and the basic tracks have been completed. Only sweetening remains to be done at this point.

Pianist Lamont Johnson, who has worked and recorded with Jackie McLean and Ornette Coleman among others, has a new LP titled "Nine" on the Masterscores label.

Money For Jazz Radio

The Citizens Committee To Save Jazz Radio was the beneficiary of two concerts on October 4 at The Village Gate and Top of the Gate clubs owned by Art D'Lugoff, George Coleman, Sonny Fortune, Louis Hayes-Woody Shaw, Billy Taylor, Stan Getz, Lou Donaldson and Cecil Payne were headliners. Considering the situation at WBUS-FM in Miami and KBCA-FM in Los Angeles, the group could probably find out of town causes in addition to their work on behalf of listeners of WRVR-FM in New York.

Banjo — Bebop Style

A bebop banjo player? Dennis Smith of Renaissance Records claims to have one in Pat Cloud. Cloud's first LP titled "Contemporary Patterns For Banjo" will be released in December.

Earl Hines is back at Michael's Pub in New York for a three week stay. Singer Marva Josle and reedman Rudy Rutherford are currently featured in the Hines band.

New York Knicks star forward Spencer Haywood hosts a Saturday jazz show on WRVR. Haywood is no newcomer to jazz broadcasting having previously done a show in Seattle while playing with the Supersonics.

October 20th will be the opening night at the refurbished Avery Fisher Hall. ECM Records will present a concert that evening featuring Jack DeJohnette's Directions, Ralph Towner-John Abercromble, Gary Burton's Quartet with Pat Metheny and Eberhard Weber. Charlie Mariano will make an appearance with the Weber group and that in itself is an event!

Veteran pianist Sam Price celebrated his 68th birthday and his fifty-third anniversary as a jazz musician with a special party at the Crowdaddy in New York. The occasion also marks Sam's first year at the club.

Jim and Raymond Harrison whose jazz Spotlite productions have been a part of the New York scene for quite a while are now booking Sam's Place in Brooklyn. Shirley Scott, Irene Reid and Houston Person-Etta Jones are scheduled for upcoming engagements.

Gag on Venuti

Variation on an old (but true) story: violinist Joe Venuti was greeted at his recent opening at a Chicago club by twenty bass players displaying signs asking, "Is this the gig, Joe?"

Additional winners of the Johnson Publications, sponsored Ebony Mike awards were CTI/Kudu artists Esther Phillips and Grover Washington Jr. The latest CTI LP featuring George Benson and Joe Farrell has a cover design featuring a simulated cigarette pack stating: "Warning: The Surgeon General has determined that this record is likely to turn Gold." We don't know about the Surgeon General but the album is a beauty with Joe mostly on flute and George as strong as always.

Mangione To Tour

Chuck Mangione is beginning a western tour. His new LP for A&M has been completed and is scheduled for release shortly.

Art Farmer, Paul Jeffrey and Roland Hanna will headline Jack Kleinsinger's "Highlights In Jazz" concert October 20th at NYU's Loeb Student Center.

Stuff Is Here

Stuff has finally arrived! The famed New York rhythm section comprising Eric Gale, Cornell Dupree, Gordon Edwards, Richard Tee, Steve Gadd and Chris Parker has their first Warner Brothers album entitled (appropriately): STUFF.

Pee Wee Ellis, Lee Ritener, Oscar Brashear and George Bohanon are the featured soloists in the second Impulse album by Brass Fever, "Time Is Running Out."

BLUE NOTE LIVE AT THE ROXY — Various Artists — Blue Note LA 663 — Producer: George Butler — List: 7.98

These are the proceedings of a monster evening at the Hollywood club last June with the exception of the Donald Byrd pair recorded in Central Park. Apart from Byrd, Alphonse Mouzon, Carmen McRae, Ronnie Laws, Earl Klugh and an all-star group featuring Gene Harris, Bobby Hutcherson, John Lee Gerry Brown are the featured groups. The music is quite representative of the current direction of all the artists involved and indeed the direction of the label itself. Blue Note, formed in 1939, is a vital force in jazz records and this album is an ideal way to bring that message home today. The only complaint is the pressing, which is badly off center on the review copy.

GAGAKU AND BEYOND — Herbie Mann — Flinadar 9014 — Producer: Herbie Mann — List: 6.98

At one time or another Herbie Mann has been heard in every kind of group except the Salvation Army Band, so it should not come as any surprise to find him in Tokyo getting into traditional Japanese music. Don't be put off by the fact that Mann's family is accompanied by traditional Japanese instruments, because anything he does has a solid rhythmic groove to it. The key track here is "Shomyo (Monk's Chant)" but there is interesting and unusual music throughout the album.

Jazz Album Picks

OREGON/ELVIN JONES TOGETHER — Vanguard VSD 79377 — Producers: Oregon and Ed Bland — List: 6.98

This pairing of artistic entities works quite well, with Elvin Jones, whose individual jazz style has been colored only slightly by alternate influences, and members of Oregon, who work with a fusion of classical, jazz and ethnic music, meeting each other at the perfect midpoint. Reedman Paul McCandless lays aside his oboe for the more appropriate saxophones and bass clarinet, and guitarist Ralph Towner contributes some interesting piano work to this improvisational session. Jones lays back a bit to mold his drum kit to Oregon's subtle timbres, and plays some fine solos in addition to a melodic duet with Oregon's percussionist Colin Walcott.

SIDNEY BECHET AND MEZZ MEZZROW — Classic Jazz 28 — List: 9.96

These recordings originally on Mezzrow's King Jazz label have never been issued on LP in the US before and Classic Jazz is to be commended for this two-record set. There should be enough for another double and perhaps more after that. Bechet is the star of the quintet and septet titles and Sam Price plays some of the funkiest piano ever heard on his six titles. The only drawback to these immortal sides is Mezz himself, but then he supplied the bread (and possibly the muggles) to get this music on record. It is unlikely that there will be a better collection of traditional jazz issued for some time.

Black Retailers Protest Stevie LP Price, Others

by Cookie Amerson & David Budge

LOS ANGELES — With the shipment of the long-awaited Stevie Wonder LP "Songs In The Key Of Life," on Tamla with a suggested retail price of $13.98, a great deal of attention has been focused on the pricing structure of LPs, and specifically the new releases by black artists. Several small black dealerships are complaining that larger chains are considerably underselling them on major new releases by black artists. They complain bitterly that the chains are receiving special deals from distributors, making it virtually impossible for the independent black retailer to compete economically. A check of four major chains produced the following evidence.

	CHAIN STORES
	Tower	Licorice Pizza	Wherehouse	Music Plus
Wonder	7.88	7.98	7.76	8.99
E,W&F	3.88	3.98	3.88	3.99
O'Jays	3.99	3.98	3.88	3.99
Parliament	3.99	3.98	3.88	3.99
LTD	3.99	4.98	3.88	3.99
Watson	3.99	4.98	3.88	3.99

	INDEPENDENT RETAILERS
	Loveless (Lynwood)	Outasight (Compton)	Sound City (Compton)	Wilson's (Compton)
Wonder	11.95	11.98	9.98	9.98
E,W&F	4.98	4.98	4.98	4.98
O'Jays	4.98	4.98	4.98	4.98
Parliament	4.98	4.98	4.98	4.98
LTD	4.98	4.89	4.98	4.98
Watson	4.98	4.89	4.98	4.98

The six sample albums in the above chart reflect two categories: one, established superstars (Wonder, E,W&F, O'Jays), and two, acts that are hot prospects (Watson, LTD, Parliament). From the representative figures CB gathered, the independent retailers seem to have a point, economically at least. In only two cases did an independent undersell one of the four chains mentioned on any of the above LPs: Outasight selling LTD and Johnny Guitar Watson at $4.98, just nine cents under the Licorice Pizza price. However, Tower, Music Plus and Wherehouse sold the two LPs anywhere between $3.88 and $3.99, considerably under Outasight.

Representatives of the manufacturers of the six test LPs told CB that their control over pricing ends very early in the life cycle of an album. They claimed it was the responsibility of one-stops and distributors to pass savings on to the independent retailer and indicated the savings were there to be had. Another suggestion from the manufacturers was development of the co-op philosophy, an issue Cash Box explored at length with black retailers in the Los Angeles market (see CB, Sept. 11).

Mike Lushka, speaking on behalf of Motown Records, commented, "It is illegal for the manufacturer to set prices; records must be sold at least six percent over the wholesale price. U.S. pricing is based on volume, so naturally the larger stores are able to buy more and sell for less." Renny Roker, national sales and promotion coordinator at Casablanca, told CB, "Small black stores should band together so that they will have the same buying power that the large stores have." Roker indicated that the two primary black one-stops in L.A. pass savings on to the retailer and he urged other independents to at least inquire about pricing before buying from another source.

Rich Kudolla, speaking for CBS Records, indicated that the company has field merchandising aids just for the purpose of dealing with small stores. Said Kudolla, "Our merchandising aids make stores and one-stops aware of all new releases, helping them set up displays. We strongly urge the one-stops to pass on all discount deals offered by the company (to the retailer)." Arnie Orleans, A&M's national sales manager, elaborated from his label's perspective: "Because we deal with an independent distributor, we have absolutely no control over the pricing, as do the large corporations like CBS and Warners. Once we sell our product to the distributor, they sell to the retailers and one-stops at prices they set, and unless we find them doing something very unethical, we are very happy with our distribution." Orleans added that A&M, in order to promote better contact between the independent and the label, hired regional merchandising managers and local marketing coordinators.

The recurring statement from manufacturers that they were helpless to alter prices once product had reached the distributor level was looked upon with disbelief by some independents. One retailer told CB, "It seems like the manufacturer is only interested in what he can make. After that he washes his hands. It's that attitude that's burying many black retailers."

John Jackson, whose John's One-Stop services the four independents referred to in the graph, put the law of supply and demand in perspective when he informed CB, "There are no controls on pricing records. A retailer can charge what he wants to charge for a record and the distributor can charge the dealer what he wants. It's as simple as that. There is a small percentage of manufacturers who are certain to make me aware of all new releases and bring me display materials which I pass on to my customers, but we probably miss out on a great deal of things because we are unaware of them from either the manufacturer or the distributor. The manufacturer should pay more attention to the mom and pop stores, because they are the ones who break records, especially R&B records. The key to the pricing problem lies with the large manufacturer; he has a lot to do with the pricing of records." Jack Lewerke of Record Merchandising (who sells to the four chains depicted in the graph) refused to comment on the pricing situation.

The matter of pricing, especially at the street level, has once again surfaced as a volatile issue and black independent retailers seem, at least for the present, to be taking it on the chin. The CB survey (9/11) indicated black retailers do not see the probability of a co-op in the near future so the power of the mass-purchase dollar is not in their possession. For the time being, it appears the black retailer will have to rely on the support of faithful customers, customers who are not aware that Stevie Wonder is selling for $7.98 on the other side of town.

Prices For Wonder Album Vary In Major Markets fr 18 and at Odyssey Records in San Francisco for $2.88. These unusually low prices for a record that is nominally part of the full-price Masterworks line resulted from a special deal which Columbia is offering on the album for a three-month period.

Although the release will not carry a list price until it ceases being the "Record Of The Month," both The Wherehouse and Odyssey Records included a list price of $6.98 in their ads. The Wherehouse has a policy of not discussing its prices with the press, but David Town of Odyssey said that his chain had not planned to mention the dummy list price in its ad. "It was not set up by us. We just added our name and the (sale) price." Town emphasized that in-store signs and album stickers at Odyssey Records include only the sale price for Columbia's "Record Of The Month."

When questioned about the list price for these special albums, which have been named on a quarterly basis since last January, Mike Kellman, product manager of Masterworks for Columbia, insisted that "there's no such thing. That's the marketing strategy that (these dealers) chose. What they're trying to do is show that they're giving a big discount."

Ethical Practice

"The standard price for all Columbia Masterworks records is $6.98," Kellman continued. "And this is a regular Columbia Masterworks record. Our point is that we sell the record for 90 days and code it at a very special low price, which they (dealers) are supposed to pass on to their customers. The purpose of this is first to sell records, second to expose young artists and third to get people into classical record stores. Now, if they feel that the best way to point out that $3.99 is a bargain is to advertise a suggested list price and call it that at $6.98, that's OK, because it is a $6.98 record in the sense that we're selling it cheaply for three months. In fact, the spine of the record is even marked '$6.98.' So I would say there's certainly nothing unethical about using the list price in this way."

Asked about Town's assertion that Columbia was the source of the Odyssey Records ad which mentioned a list price for the album, Kellman ascertained that the company's national office had not been responsible for this particular ad. "It may have been made up by our (area) branch, in which case I don't know what they put down. Odyssey is probably right. They're on the stick."

Pointing out that the "Record Of The Month" has been proven as a very effective marketing tool for Columbia, Kellman said that each of these special albums has sold at least five times as many copies as the typical Masterworks release. A major reason for the success of these albums is their wide-based consumer appeal, which Kellman cited as one of the criteria used for selecting a "Record Of The Month."

Cutouts at Radio Shacks

For the second week in a row, a flood of cutouts deluged the country. Advertising supplements were used to promote assorted cutout stereo tapes for $2.99 (any four for $10.00) and a special CB release for $3.49 at Radio Shack stores in 10 monitored markets: Atlanta, Baltimore, Chicago, Cleveland, Dallas, Denver, Detroit, Minneapolis, Pittsburgh and Washington. In addition, according to a Radio Shack spokesman, ads for these items appeared in all other cities where Radio Shack stores are located.

Despite this widespread advertising, the spokesman said, record sales generate only a tiny fraction of overall volume in the audio equipment chain's 5,000 units. "We are virtually not a record store. We sell records mostly for promotional or demonstration purposes, and we almost never offer top 40 hits."

KAAY's 'Beaker Street' Satisfies Night Radio Audience fr 24

self, claiming that "it was the thing to do." Noting that the show's listeners send poems, pictures, drawings, requests and questions in general, McRae acknowledges each letter on the air with the name and location of the writer. "The mail is very inspiring," he remarked, "and it's the least we can do to acknowledge them. The feedback they provide is very important, but what's more important is the fact that they sit down and write to us." McRae claims he was baffled at how much personal impact the show has on people, but says he feels the unique and relevant atmosphere of "Beaker Street" is part of the reason. "We've got to keep in tune with the people who listen to us," he added. "They want different types of music because they're from different areas of the country and that provides the show with its variety."

"Mass Appeal"

Although the show's format is progressive music, McRae has tried to broaden that base to "mass appeal AOR" (album oriented rock.) He explained that the show's music used to be geared toward "punk rock," with an abundance of Rush, Black Sabbath, and Deep Purple. You would've never heard a Loggins and Messina tune a few years ago," McRae added. Claiming that he's under no strict rotation on the music he plays, McRae called that free concept dangerous if a jock is allowed to play "30 minutes of African bongo music" thinking that his audience is digging it as much as he is. "I have to worry about overshooting the listeners' consciousness. If I play mass appeal music, the balance should eliminate that concern." The show is also balanced into two equal segments, according to McRae. From 11 pm until about 2:15 am, he plays "movin' energy rock and roll. . . party radio," and after airing the radio drama at 2:15, the mood changes to a more mellow, broader programming base exemplified by blues, jazz and country. McRae said he considers the drama as an intermission.

Nightly Programming

"Beaker Street" theatre is a high point of the nightly programming, McRae concedes. "We'll air old time radio dramas like 'High Adventure' or 'I Love A Mystery,' and never receive any negative response." The show is popular with the night audience, because it's low key. "It runs for about 20-25 minutes," he added, "and we'll run a double feature on Saturday night." Shows like "War of the Worlds," which aired on the theatre recently, help to attract and hold listeners until the music begins again, McRae noted.

New Listeners

Although McRae is happy with his "national" audience, he is constantly seeking to attract new listeners, too. Instituting a feature called the "Beaker Box," he invites listeners to send in their names on slips of paper for a chance to win albums. "A few weeks ago a fellow from Anchorage, Alaska won one," McRae related. Although there may be "Beaker Street" listeners in those distant places, McRae is just as certain there are lots of "people in areas between who also listen regularly."

With station management elated over McRae's approach to "Beaker Street," and listener response to the station increasing rapidly, the accomplishments McRae has seen since he began as host in June, 1976 are not only something he's proud of but provide a challenge for the show's future direction. No matter, those nightowl listeners who sought something other than the normal talk shows, country music or top 40 music at night, are finding it in abundance on KAAY's "Beaker Street."

Kwiker, Smith Leave Handleman Company fr 7

plain the apparent coincidental timing of the two resignations.

Handleman Comments

But David Handleman, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, who has assumed the position of president with Kwiker's departure stated, "One (resignation) was not related to the other. It was just a coincidence." Handleman denied that this was part of any broad corporate shakeup. "It's a transition we're going through," he explained.

No replacements have been considered yet, but Handleman indicated that a search firm would be retained to interview potential candidates.

Future Plans

Smith, in his announcement, notified Handleman that he was resigning "in order to accept a high executive position with another company." However, Smith refused to identify the name of the firm.

Kwiker remarked that "probably in a month or so" he would have an announcement regarding his future endeavors. "But as for now," he concluded, "I have no ill feelings toward the Handleman organization."

CASH BOX COIN MACHINE

Update: New York City

by Roger C. Sharpe

NEW YORK — Ambiguities. It is this word alone that can sum up the New York situation. Somehow the left hand didn't know what the right hand was doing; so now both will have to pay the price.

This isn't just a New York problem, for whatever the outcome, the industry as a whole from the West to the Midwest to the South and the North, will all feel the repercussions. The issue isn't just a New York based phenomenon. The public will begin viewing you all in the same light, and, unfortunately, with the same misgivings and apprehensions. So don't be too quick to turn your back on the happenings in the Big Apple because your future may be shaped by what will occur in the next few months.

If pinball can't make it in the major metropolitan center of the world, what do you think the legislators in Fargo, N. D. will think? Or Peoria, Illinois? Or hundreds of other small towns and cities, let alone other major cities?

The problem of pinball in the past has been its inability to gather together the members responsible for its existence in a unified way. Instead, splintered groups try to handle their own affairs, normally without the show of strength that could make the task easier. Let me hypothesize about New York or even Chicago.

Do any of you honestly think that these areas could have kept pinball out for so long, if an outpouring of shock at the blatant exclusion had been pointed out by thousands of letters from all over the country, or even the world, decrying the discrimination against a thriving and honest American industry? An industry that contributed greatly to the success of the war effort in the '40s. This fact is buried in antiquity, known and revered only by the older members of the industry. What of the games donated to hospitals and charitable institutions? What of the contributions to local civic and humanitarian causes? Is the worth of the Gottlieb Memorial Hospital to be slighted? I would hope not. But I don't sense the outrage that you should be feeling.

If someone slandered your family, would you be so slow to help? Does the ultimate future of the industry mean so little; can any of us afford to be so short-sighted that we run the risk of duplicating the history of the late '30s? New York isn't the cause. Rather, righting the inequities perpetuated by news-hungry press and political opportunists. This is where your energies should be turning if you are to survive the onslaught that is as sure to come as the warnings of earthquakes, another ice age and even famine.

Granted, pinball is just a game; but somehow I feel some moral conviction to see that it exists. By the rights of the First Amendment, I want to choose if I want to play the games in my local neighborhood or across a state line. Isn't it an inalienable right we all have in a free democracy? So these are the parameters of the issues at hand, not the mockery of a city caught up in its own tangled web.

The road ahead for pinball will be a short and rocky path, with bills pending from the state capital all the way to local municipalities. In New York City the delineations are vague, yet exact. It is, alas, a paradox that must be dealt with. As the law stands now, the only places that can legally have pinball machines in operation are bars and grills, movie theatres, health clubs, bowling alleys, hotels and motels. The ones that cannot are candy stores, pizza parlors and luncheonettes.

What is important to understand is that liquor licenses also enter into this drama. Somehow, a place must have one to also have pinball machines. But then, with this being the case (or is it?), the games that are in candy stores, pizza parlors and luncheonettes must be removed. First because at this time they are unlicensable, and secondly because they're breaking the law by being operated and can run the risk of being confiscated and destroyed.

So what happened in New York? Everyone thought the games could be run anywhere there was some space. Obviously, it was a false assumption. But how can you get a group of individuals to remove their games when they know that ten other people are just waiting to put their games in? You're damned if you do and damned if you don't. This is where New York stands, because people can't trust other people.

Before the end of this month (probably next week) a show of strength will be needed to bring in more applications to the Department of the Commissioner of Consumer Affairs. Those operations that are being run legally, but lack a license, will have to come forward before it's too late.

The M.A.A., headed by Irving Holzman, has held emergency meetings to straighten out matters, and hopefully their efforts will not go unrewarded. On September 16th, one such get-together outlined the new laws and applications that operators and distributors would be facing. The facts were made clear, and whether or not they will be acted upon en masse is anyone's guess at this juncture.

The lesson to be learned from this is apparent: act as a unit, as one, and be aware of what is going on around you. Ask questions. Support causes such as this one with your letters or whatever else is needed. And lastly remember one important fact: this the '70s — turning your back on the issues won't change them, and ignoring the issues won't make them go away.

Marcus Appt'd. CDI Prexy

CHICAGO — Sam Gensburg, chairman of the board of Chicago Dynamic Industries, announced the appointment of Jerry Marcus as president of Chicago Dynamic Industries, the parent company of Chicago Coin. Gensburg further announced that Marcus had also been appointed to the board of directors.

He is a veteran of twenty years in the coin machine industry, having previously been executive vice president of Rowe International and vice president of finance and administration of Seeburg.

Marcus received his B.S. from NYU and his M.B.A. from CCNY. A resident of Olympia Fields, Illinois, Marcus is married and the father of two teenage children.

EDA Makes Old Games New

LOS ANGELES — A new concept in video games development enabling owners to update game displays on a fast and frequent basis was announced Sept. 23 by Electronic Design and Assembly (EDA), Inc., a Tempe, Ariz. electronics firm.

According to company president Donald Swatek, the technique involves changing a single integrated chip on the main computer board of a game, which makes it possible for owners to produce new games on a monthly or weekly basis.

"The ability to update the video game," said Swatek, "will permit the owner to have a new, exciting game when his current game has decreased in popularity for substantially less money than would be necessary if the game unit were to be replaced. This process allows for unlimited change of games. As new games are conceived, new games will be offered, thereby prolonging the revenue to be realized from an initial investment. Technically, we can produce any game display on the monitor."

According to Maurice Watson, a marketing executive at EDA, the firm is presently accepting orders, on a three week delivery schedule, for upright and cocktail video action games, both of which can be modified by the one-chip-change technique. EDA, Watson said, will display its equipment and demonstrate the new video display change concept at the upcoming MOA exhibition Nov. 12-14 in Chicago.

EDA is producing and has available for immediate shipment a conversion kit for modifying current "Pong" games. Installation of the kit, according to EDA, will convert most "Pong" games, regardless of manufacturer, from the two basic tennis and hockey games to six games — Hot Shot, Ricochet, Pro Hockey, Tournament Tennis, Bumper Pool and Super Soccer.

The conversion kit may be installed by the owner or his service man, or, for a nominal charge EDA will make the conversion. According to EDA, the conversions will add "new dimensions to 'Pong' games, providing more entertainment for players and increased revenue for game owners."

AMA Holds 2nd Coin-Op Tourn.

NEW ORLEANS — The second annual Greater New Orleans Coin-Operated 8-Ball Pool Tournament is currently in progress, under the direction of A.M.A. Distributors, Inc., this city, and the co-sponsorship of the Coin-Op Amusement Game Operators of New Orleans. A total of $12,000 in cash and merchandise prizes will be awarded, according to A.M.A.'s chief executive Robert E. Nims and "anyone can win" either one or more of the prizes, he added.

'Determine Finalists'

"Nine consecutive weeks of qualifying rounds are now in progress at each of the 48 sponsoring locations," Nims said, "to determine finalists for the championship playoffs which will be held at the local Marriott Hotel in late November."

In the championship playoffs, cash prizes totaling $3,550 will be awarded to 24 winners and runners-up and a total of 561 cash, merchandise and trophy awards will be presented in the tourney.

Compete

Nims pointed out that over 5,000 men and women players are expected to compete in the event, shattering last year's record of almost 3,200. The 1975 tournament was the first of its kind held in this area.

Nims said that each of the 48 participating business establishments is holding one qualifying round weekly for eight consecutive weeks, in order to obtain an equal number of winners. Each weekly winner is receiving a professional "Hustler" 2-piece cue stick with a black leatherette carrying case. During the ninth week the eight weekly winners will compete in a double elimination round at each location to vie for first place in one of the three class divisions (A,B,C). The three division winners from each location will receive trophies and certificates and become eligible for the championship playoffs.

The tournament is open to the public and, as Nims indicated, contestants pay no entry fee.

AS WE GO TO PRESS, the annual NAMA convention is in full swing at the Civic Center Convention Hall in Philadelphia (7-10). NAMA's pr director Walter Reed indicated that the show was a sellout and attendance was expected to top the 8,000 mark, to rank the '76 event one of the vending group's most successful in recent years.

SPOKE WITH MAC BRIER at National Coin who, along with Carl Schmitt, prexy Elmer Schmitt's son, has taken over the responsibilities of newly retired Mort Levinson. Carl is now a full-time staffer at National and really pitching in, as Mac indicated. Both are concentrating on present business, of course, and making plans for the distrib's participation in the upcoming MOA and IAAPA conventions.

ASSOCIATION NEWS: Music Operators of Michigan will sponsor its second coin-operated billiard league commencing in January of 1977, with tournament finals set for April in Lansing. The association's 1976 event attracted more than 6,000 players representing 49 locations throughout the state. Participation is limited to MOM members.

CATCHING UP ON PRODUCTION of the big selling "Emerald" shuffle, and a soon-to-be-released 4-player pinball machine for the domestic market has been the order of the day at Williams Electronics Inc. in the two weeks since the strike was settled at the factory. Production resumed Sept. 28 and has been at full steam ever since!

ATTENTION OPERATORS: Give a listen to "Lonely Eyes" by Randy Barlow on the Gazelle label out of Nashville, Tenn. Label rep Barbara Kelly said it's a natural for country locations and operator promotional copies are available.

IN CONVERSATION WITH Burt Davidson, manager of sales, North American market for the Lowen Automaten NSM phono line, Cash Box learned that arrangements were just finalized for the appointment of National Coin, here in Chicago, as distributor of the NSM line covering the territories of Illinois, the quad cities, northern Indiana and southwest Michigan. Burt also said the new line would be on display at MOA Expo and that the factory would be introducing its new solid state phono during the show. The Lowen Automaten exhibit will contain quite a few outstanding attractions this year, as Burt indicated, including a unique promotion showing the phonograph mechanism actually being played underwater! Should be something to see!

A SPECIALLY DESIGNED and illustrated pinball calendar will shortly be marketed by Roger Sharpe, author of The Pinball Book (E.P. Dutton), which is due for release late this year. Conceived by Rog as a tie-in with his book, the calendar will have an oversized format and feature the standard date and national holiday markings as well as full specifics (dates, times, places, etc.) of the various industry-related functions — and photo illustrations to make it even more personalized for the coin machine industry! Contact Roger for further info.

MAYOR JIM SHAFFER of Clarksburg, West Virginia, a member and director of the West Virginia Music and Vending Association, issued an invitational mailing under his personal seal to stimulate attendance at the association's Oct. 14-16 annual convention at the Sheraton Inn in Clarksburg. "I feel that our 1976 convention will be as productive and fun as the past meetings have been," he wrote. "I will be attending the planned events and look forward to seeing you." Excellent pr for the association!

MINNESOTA MUSINGS

HAPPY TO HEAR THAT Dean Schroeder and family, Hub Music, Aberdeen, South Dakota, enjoyed the Viking-Rams game while in the twin cities recently. Understand they had the opportunity to meet some of the Vikings players.

HERB PETERSON of Millbank, South Dakota and Mrs. & Mrs. Gordon Runnberg of Moose Lake, Minnesota, among others, were in to visit the folks at Lieberman Music Co. (Minn.) recently. Lieberman's Solly Rose reports that Midway's Sea Wolf and Toronado Baseball have been just great lately. Atari's Breakout and LeMans have also been very hot, with Gremlin's Trapshoot showing good sales as well. Lieberman reports holding their showing of the new 1977 Seaburg Sunstar on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 5-6.

MINNESOTA WELCOMES EUGENE RIPKA, Elgin Vending (Elgin) into the music and amusement games industry. Eugene is expanding his route from its current vending-only status.

HOME FROM THE HOSPITAL and doing fine is Tom Suggs, Jubilee Music (Minn.). Tom is recovering from an unknown virus. We all wish him well.

A VARIETY OF EQUIPMENT is moving well at Hansen Distributing (Minn.), according to coin sales manager Randy Jensen and president Ray Hibarger. Tournament Soccer sales are as strong as ever and the Cobra Gunship is seeing brisk activity. There is also an upsurge in sales of English leather pool tables. Randy indicated that the Gremlin Fooswall has a new mask that looks more like a soccer game. Its much improved graphics are turning it into a real moneymaker. Other news from Hansen includes a report that they have been concentrating heavily on expanding their electronics department. Also the firm has appointed a new sales secretary, Sharon Seamon.

PINBALL ORDINANCES are being amended in the twin cities area, according to reports from operators there. A hearing was held recently to change a Minneapolis ordinance which prohibits minors from playing amusement machines. In St. Paul a game room ordinance which lowers the age for playing and spells out hours for minors is also being worked on. Details will be available shortly.

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

WISCONSIN'S CONTINGENT to the MOA convention and show this year will be headed by an MOA v.p. and two directors of the national organization. Rolife Tonnell, Cigarette Service, Appleton, was elected to the three-year v.p. post last year. Wally Bohrer, Hastings Distributing, Milwaukee, is in his second of a three-year director term, and Russ Dougherty, Rapids Coin, Wisconsin Rapids, will be an MOA director through 1978. The three gentlemen also hold the three highest posts in the WMMA. They are v.p., president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

COLLECTIONS ARE GOOD at Modern Specialty, Madison, and the summer was excellent too. This variance from most reports may be due in large part to the enormous number of students in Wisconsin's capital city. Sea Wolf has been Modern Specialty's leading game lately. Dave Peterson was recently added to Modern's staff as operations manager. Dave had been a Madison real estate broker and developer for about 12 years. A contingent of Marv and Charlotte Sweet and Roger Westmont attended the recent WMMA convention in Wausau representing Modern.

WMMA'S APPRENTICESHIP PROGRAM is fully explained in a new promotional piece available from the association office. The booklet contains an explanation of the program, a list of division of apprenticeship and training district offices, a list of the program's ad hoc advisory committee members, an outline of the curriculum and a list of first year apprentices and some of their comments about the program. The booklet also contains the necessary application forms for signing up for the program. According to the WMMA, theirs is still the only apprenticeship program in the U.S. designed especially for training coin operated amusement device repair technicians.

WISN RADIO HAS CANCELED the services of Chuck Arnold, who was an announcer-exec. with the station for 16 years. Arnold is now trying his hand at freelancing, while Tom Lambert takes over his duties on FM, moving to that spot from AM. The WISN personnel change was just the latest in an onslaught of major changes in recent months by Milwaukee radio stations. Most notable shifts have been made at WEMP and WFMR, where total revamping took place.

EASTERN FLASHES

The new Rowe R-81 phonograph models are very much in the spotlight at Rowe International-Albany, and attracting plenty of attention, according to Bob Catlin. Fact is, he said, most importantly of all, "they're not only admiring 'em — they're buying 'em!" Bob was getting set for the annual inventory out there when Cash Box spoke with him last week, and for an anticipated expansion move into larger quarters. More details later . . . Hear tell that veteran operator Jack Hearn is making his rounds in a new set of wheels — a Datsun Z, mind you! . . . No complaints about present business at Active Amusement Co. in Philly. Frank Ash said the distrib's been enjoying steady activity with the Rock-Ola phono line and he's quite pleased with reaction to the new Gottlieb "Surf Champ" 4-player. A couple of very strong Atari pieces these days are "LeMans" and "Breakout." Frank will be heading for Chicago come November to attend the annual MOA convention; and then on to New Orleans for the IAAPA show . . . Poughkeepsie operator Steve Linzay just opened up a new arcade . . . The good word from Al Kress of Coin Machine Distributors Inc. (Peekskill) is that "business is excellent!" He's moving a lot of equipment and he's mighty proud of his newly remodeled facilities. As we spoke Al described how great the place looks with the paneling, overhead lights, color decor and additional showroom space, which he really needed.

ON THE SINGLES SCENE: Frank DIMarsico of Program One Stop (Union, N.J.) notes that area ops are showing interest in the following: "Oh Bess, Where Is My Bess" b/w "Oh Lawd I'm On My Way" by Ray Charles (RCA), "Wherever You Go" by Skip Mahoney (Abet), "A Dose Of Rock & Roll" by Ringo Starr (Atlantic), "Groovy People" by Lou Rawls (Phila. Int'l.), "Do You Feel Like We Do" by Peter Frampton (A&M) and a disc side "Baia" by Allce Street Gang (Amazon).

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

MOA has so many people busy these days! Among those enjoying this active period is Sega's prez Harry Kane, who says watch for surprises from Sega in Chicago. He's presently partaking of good fortunes from his new Road Race, a "tremendous piece." Tracer is also doing well. Sega's in the process, he says, of introducing new Tic-Tac in a cocktail and upright. Very optimistic results in street locations reported. Preliminary field testing response "very gratifying." Sega also now into projection television; Kane expects it will relate well to the game machine business.

George Ambeatlos at Pico Indoor Sports reports equipment going very well. Pool tables steady. Pal and partner Chris Loumakas will no doubt be at MOA in Chicago to check out new lines. George says Capt. Fantastic, the Elton John-inspired wonder, is selling fast. George awaits new shipment of game next week. Move 'em out, George.

Speaking of which — Ira Bettelman at C.A. Robinson says Capt. Fantastic promotion campaign by MCA, radio KHJ and of course Bally will really help to sell that one.

Meadows Games up north has Lila Zinter and Alan DeWolf looking forward to RINA and MOA. DeWolf says new Meadow four-in-one is going "hot and heavy."

Carol Kantor and everybody at Atari excited by their acquisition by Warner Communications and their new offices. Everybody getting closer together up in Sunnyvale. Colleague Terry Speizer just back from Montana meanderings. New games, two of them, to be out by the end of October, "good ones," says Carol.

Laughing Sailor fr 53

MOA convention in November and subsequently show it at the IAAPA Park Show later the same month.

As depicted in its name, the outstanding feature of the machine is the infectious laugh track which draws immediate attention to the unit, even from a distance; and the source of the laughter is a sailor, with a funny looking rubber mannequin face, characterized in the appropriate attire and seated on a stump, with bottle in hand. He rocks back and forth as the laughing continues, which is enough to induce laughter in even the most stoic of individuals.

Universe Affiliated president Barry Feinblatt expressed confidence that the machine will enjoy as much success as a standard arcade piece in the U. S. as it did in Europe.

UA's Warner Treads MOR Path

'Artists Can Live Forever In Popularity'

by Nigel Hunter

LONDON — Alan Warner, known in the UK music industry as somewhat of an expert in middle-of-the-road (MOR) repertoire, will move to Los Angeles to take a staff post with United Artists Records. Warner has specialized in the MOR field throughout most of his career and has been particularly successful during the last few years heading the MOR department of UA's British operation.

"Actually, I detest the term MOR, but it's difficult to shake off," Warner said. "The music I'm into isn't square. I call it popular music."

Warner started in the business with record retailing in Lincolnshire and joined EMI in January 1961 in the record library.

He later transferred to the department dealing with record retailers, then into the licensed repertoire section and finally took over managing labels licensed to EMI for Britain. One of the latter was UA, and when it started independent operations here, Warner was invited to join.

Apart from his glowing MOR track record, Warner is a noted film buff. His hobby has accrued additional advantages and profit for UA's balance sheet.

"I've always been into movie music, and I was naturally very interested when UA TV bought the pre-1949 Warner Brothers pictures.

"The Laurel and Hardy single 'Trail Of The Lonesome Pine' sold 400,000 units, which amazed me somewhat in terms of the total, but didn't really surprise me. Some luck is always needed, of course, but there's always potential there in this sort of repertoire if it's tapped properly at the right time."

Warner has been widening the scope of his MOR department this year, and is pleased with the repertoire of Bing Crosby, Fred Astaire and Rosemary Clooney.

Experience has made Warner wary of advancing the cause of his kind of music. He rather resents the fact that the big promotional campaigns still seem to be reserved for rock artists.

"MOR needs much packaging and intensified campaigns to be successful, not just a color photo and a laminated sleeve. So much money is spent on bands and you hope to hit a high peak as a result of it. Popular music can hit high peaks, too, but doesn't drift away afterwards.

"Crosby has proved that popular music artists can live forever in popularity, particularly if they have a touch of stardust."

Grammophon GM Betcke Dead, 77

HAMBURG — Following a long illness, Dr. Walter Betcke, age 77, died on Sept. 27. Betcke was the former managing director of the Deutsche Grammophon Gesellschaft, Hamburg, and a member of the board of the former Philips' Phonographische Industrie, Baarn, The Netherlands.

Betcke received international recognition of his efforts not only through the successful growth of the firm, but also through his activities within the International Federation of Producers of Phonograms and Videograms, whose first German president he became in 1961; he was subsequently named honorary president in 1964.

Teichiku Falls Short; Sets New Goals Higher

TOKYO — Teichiku Record Co. reported sales at $32,333,333 for the year ending Aug. 20. This figure is 3 percent below the company's target goal but a 3% increase over the previous year's sales. Records made up 61% of the sales while tapes accounted for 39%.

The target for the forthcoming year has been set at $38,333,333, approximately 18% higher than in the past year.

Discos TK Seeks Dist.

BUENOS AIRES — Discos TK product manager Hugo Piombi has started a tour of Peru, Columbia, Venezuela, Mexico and the States regarding the distribution of his catalog in these markets. He recently traveled to Brazil for negotiations regarding the launching of newly-signed Sergio Denis, singing in Portuguese, in that market, and of Gianfranco Pagliaro, singing in Italian.

CBS Int'l. Makes Management Moves Creates, Fills Positions Through Ranks

NEW YORK — Paul Atkinson, former manager of CBS International A&R, has been appointed to the newly-established position of A&R director for CBS Records International (CRI); one of three management moves recently made by that company.

In his new post, Atkinson will be involved in all phases of CRI artist and repertory activities, surveying the rosters of the company's overseas subsidiaries for artists with market potential in other culturally related areas, and developing international artists for the U.S. market in cooperation with the A&R staffs of Columbia, Epic and Portrait Records here. He will also be charged with administration and A&R liaison on product by U.S.-based artists who are the specific responsibility of CRI.

Other company moves find George Tavares named to the newly created position of manager, area desk west, CRI; and Harvey Shapiro appointed to the new position of senior director, royalty accounting and administration.

Tavares, coming to CBS after several years of managerial experience in his family's business, will monitor the international music business in relation to political, economic, sociological and technological conditions in countries where CRI has, or anticipates establishing, subsidiary companies. His primary areas of concern will be Canada, Central America, South America and Japan.

Former director of accounting for CBS, Shapiro will be responsible for exactly what his title implies: all aspects of royalty accounting and administration for CRI.

Island, True North Ink Distrib. Pact

LOS ANGELES — An exclusive distribution deal between Island Records and the Canadian record company, True North, has been announced by Island president Charley Nuccio. The agreement provides Island with exclusive rights to distribute True North product in the United States.

Bernie Finkelstein, president of True North and head of True North's management organization, was recently in Los Angeles to finalize the pact. Previously distributed in the States by CBS, the Toronto based label has been twice voted Canada's top independent record company.

True North's roster of artists includes, among others, Canadian singers/songwriters Murray McLachlan and Bruce Cockburn. Between them they have received nine Juno awards (the Canadian equivalent to the Grammy) and several gold records. McLachlan's currently in the middle of an extensive Canadian tour with his band, the Silver Tractors, while Cockburn is finishing up work on a new album. The first True North product will be released around the first of November.

Nuccio sees Island's expansion into distributing as "coming at the right time" and True North as the right company with whom to take the first step: "True North has shaped its own progressive identity in Canada and the True North management and roster are very compatible to what Island has been doing worldwide."

CORRECTION: Lyricist Ryo Yano has been elected a director in the Nippon Ongaku Chosakuka Rengo, the Japanese union of lyricists and composers, and not to Japan's Association of Rights of Authors and Composers (JASCRA) as previously reported in this section Sept. 11.

CHARLEY PRIDE

(Tied With Ronnie Milsap)

Top Male Vocalist — Singles

With twenty-two albums in his catalog (twelve of them gold), and a steady stream of chart-topping country singles, including the million-selling "Kiss An Angel Good Morning," Charley Pride is today one of the industry's biggest country artists, his popularity having long since spilled over into the mainstream of popular music.

Charley has been chosen artist of the year and male vocalist of the year by the Country Music Association, entertainer of the year by the Music Operators of America, as well as being awarded every top honor from the trade and fan magazines. In addition, he has Grammys for best sacred performance for his RCA album, "Did You Think To Pray," for best gospel performance for his single, "Let Me Live" and for best country performance (male) for his album "Songs Of Love By Charley Pride." Charley's network TV exposure has ranged from "The Lawrence Welk Show" and "Kraft Music Hall" to "Hee-Haw" and "The Johnny Cash Show."

He has toured Australia, Tasmania and New Zealand twice each, and has received one gold album in Tasmania, three in New Zealand and a total of five in Australia.

Charley was born in the town of Sledge, Mississippi, about sixty miles south of Memphis. He left Sledge at seventeen, and started playing ball in the Negro American League, with Detroit, and with the Memphis Red Sox. He made it to the major leagues in 1961 for a brief period, playing outfield and pitching for the Los Angeles Angels while working at nightclubs in the evening.

Late in 1963, Red Sovine happened in on Charley's club act and suggested that the singing ballplayer seriously consider making music his career. Charley went to Nashville the following year, and Chet Atkins signed him to an RCA contract. His first single, "The Snakes Crawl At Night" in 1965, was followed by a steady stream of hits, including "Does My Ring Hurt Your Finger," "Is Anybody Going To San Antonio," and "My Eyes Can Only See As Far As You." His current single, "A Whole Lotta Things To Sing About," is #5-bullet on this week's CB chart.

RONNIE MILSAP

(Tied With Charley Pride)

North Carolina-born Ronnie Milsap says "The only music I heard for the first six years of my life was country. I have played, and can play, any kind of music, but you do what your heart feels is right, and to me that's country."

Milsap, blind since birth, is like so many other persons without sight in that he has many talents in other fields and has developed those talents a thousand-fold — "seeing" more with his heart than most see with their eyes. He was a violin virtuoso by age seven and can play many instruments with professional ability.

He has also been thoroughly groomed in classical music, and his favorite composers are Mozart and Bach.

After completing high school, Ronnie attended Young-Harris Junior College in Atlanta where he studied pre-law before entering law school at Emory University on a full scholarship. But at this point his first love, country music, surfaced in his consciousness and the road eventually led to Nashville and a record contract with RCA. His first single "I Hate You" was followed by such hits as "Pure Love," "Please Don't Tell Me How The Story Ends" and "Daydreams About Night Things." His current single, "(I'm A) Stand By My Woman Man," recently topped the CB chart.

Milsap is an avid collector of old radio shows, some dating back to the 1920s. He is also a ham radio operator; his call letters are WB4KCG.

C.W. McCall

Top Male Vocalist — Albums

Bill Fries (pronounced Freez), also known as C.W. McCall, was born in Audubon, Iowa. He spent much of his youth traveling in a silent movie circuit with his parents, who were musicians creating live music and effects for the films, then went into the study of classical music and reed instruments at the University of Iowa. However, he was fast disillusioned by the complexity of the art, and after a stint as a roving reporter, Bill Fries joined Bozell Jacobs in the creation of what was to become one of America's leading ad agencies. He is today creative director of that organization.

Breaking into the recording field artist as C.W. McCall with the LP "Wolfcreek Pass," he became an "overnight" success, and the single "Convoy" and other albums such as "Black Bear Road" and "Wilderness" quickly met with even greater acclaim.

A leader, a pacemaker and "father" of the CB craze, Polydor's C.W. McCall is "a big 10-4" in everyone's book — and Cash Box's Top Male Vocalist on albums.

LORETTA LYNN

Top Female Vocalist — Albums

Loretta Lynn was the first female artist to win the Country Music Association entertainer of the year award. Today, in addition to being chosen female album vocalist of the year for the second time by Cash Box, she is also winner of the vocal album duo award with Conway Twitty, her duet partner at MCA.

Recording, writing or appearing on television's top talk and variety shows, the five-foot-two-inch coal miner's daughter of Butcher Hollow, Kentucky, brings to the music industry the honesty, sincerity and trueness of heart that is the core of country music itself. Although one of country music's highest paid artists and in constant demand touring the United States and Europe with her group, The Coalminers, Loretta still finds time for her many services to her fellow man.

Currently Loretta presides over Hurricane Mills, Tennessee, her home. The only difference between a regular homeowner and Mrs. Lynn is that she owns the whole town, 1450 acres, complete with post office and general store. Loretta's other interests include the Loretta Lynn Western stores that span the country.

Her autobiography, "The Coal Miner's Daughter," is currently among the top ten on the New York Times best seller list.

Her latest MCA single and LP are both entitled "Somebody Somewhere."

TANYA TUCKER

Top Female Vocalist — Singles

Tanya Tucker became a teenager and a recording star all in the same year. She was only thirteen years old when she recorded her nationwide hit, "Delta Dawn" for Columbia Records, following in quick succession with "Jamestown Ferry," "What's Your Mama's Name Child," "Blood Red and Goin' Down," and "Would You Lay With Me (In A Field Of Stone)." After joining MCA Records, Tanya had the hit singles "San Antonio Stroll," and "Don't Believe My Heart Can Stand Another You," as well as her current #1 single, "Here's Some Love."

What little spare time Tanya has is spent on her new ranch near Nashville. There Tanya, who loves riding, raises horses. She has several pets, including dogs, cats and even some deer who live on her property.

When asked about her future, Tanya's reply is surprising. "I still have a lot to do. I'd like to have a good image and a good name. I'd like to be as professional as I can, to be able to go on stage with the biggest stars, with the best. Actually, there's a lot more I can't describe, but I haven't come near to fulfilling my goals in music yet."

DAVID ALLAN COE

Top New Male Vocalist — Albums

David Allan Coe sees himself as a backwoods poet and a musical prophet. He hates being labeled, and he doesn't like being told what to sing or how to sing it. David's latest album, "Longhaired Redneck," is yet another window to David as a poet and a pioneer of musical direction.

Coe's recording career started in 1968 with the release of his first album, entitled "Penitentiary Blues," on the SSS International label. He also received some success with his top 40 recordings "Tobacco Road" and "Two Tone Brown."

After signing with Columbia Records his first album was "The Mysterious Rhinestone Cowboy," followed by "Once Upon A Rhyme." Some of his singles have been "You Never Even Called Me By My Name," "Long-Haired Redneck" and his current "Willie, Waylon And Me."

TOM BRESH

Top New Male Vocalist — Singles

Tom Bresh, winner of the Cash Box Top New Male Vocalist Award, is a master of many facets of the entertainment industry. At the age of three he was singing and billed as "Hollywood's youngest stuntman," at sixteen he became a performer with Hank Penni's touring show. Following a record production stint, Tom settled into a recording career.

Along with his vocal ability, he has added guitar mastery and a superb flair for personality impressions, such as Howard Cosell and Charley Pride. After joining Farr Records, Tom Bresh made his debut record the top ten single "Home Made Love," and followed it with his current single "Sad Country Love Songs."

DOTTSY

Top New Female Vocalist — Albums

Dottsy started her professional career at the age of 12 at a district firemen's convention in her home town of Seguin, Texas. Club appearances, talent shows, variety shows, and conventions followed at a rapid pace.

It was at one such convention that Dottsy met her present manager, Happy Shahan, owner of Shahan's Alamo Village. Shahan recognized her talent immediately and took her in to meet another protegee of his — Johnny Rodriguez. After hearing Dottsy sing, Johnny asked her to appear with him at an upcoming rodeo in Austin.

That night marked the beginning of the Dottsy-Shahan partnership, a partnership that was to lead to Nashville and an RCA Records recording contract.

Dottsy's first single release, "Storms Never Last," was followed by "I'll Be Your San Antonio Rose" and her album titled "The Sweetest Thing," from which a single of the same title was pulled. Dottsy's current single is "Love Is A Two Way Street."

JONI LEE

Top New Female Vocalist — Singles

While visiting a Conway Twitty recording session, Joni Lee was asked to do the duo part on "Don't Cry Joni." When the record became a number-one single for Conway and his daughter, MCA Records decided that Joni could handle a release on her own.

The record "I'm Sorry, Charlie" became an immediate hit and was followed by "An Angel On My Shoulder." It all sounds easy, but Joni has worked since she gave her first live performance when she was four years old. The Oklahoma City Times has voted her into the top ten women in Oklahoma news, and now Cash Box has named her top new female vocalist. Joni's current MCA release is "Baby Love."

CONWAY TWITTY &

BILL ANDERSON & MARY LOU TURNER

Top New Country Duet-Singles
Top New Country Duet-Albums

The teaming of Bill Anderson and Mary Lou Turner has resulted in the top new duet in singles and albums in this year's Cash Box poll.

Singer-composer Bill Anderson is a major TV personality, a top recording artist (for MCA Records) and a concert performer whose name spells box office success. A member of the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Bill is the star of his own weekly television series, "The Bill Anderson Show."

The Bill Anderson Show, which stars Bill Anderson and Mary Lou Turner, Jimmy Gately and the Po' Boys, draws record-breaking crowds to theatres, fairs, music festivals and concert halls. Bill and his troupe have appeared throughout the United States and Canada and at the London Palladium.

Bill has written hundreds of songs which have become hit records for himself and other country artists. He has received more than 45 awards, has been honored as male vocalist of the year and songwriter of the year (three times) and, with Jan Howard, for top duet of the year.

The South Carolina-born entertainer is a former newspaperman who broke into show business when he became a disk jockey at a small radio station in Georgia. He later turned to singing and composing and landed a contract with MCA Records. His just released single is titled "Peanuts And Diamonds."

Mary Lou Turner was born in Hazard, Ky. and her musical training came from her dad, who was a musician. He helped her during the early years and arranged for her to audition for the Jamboree in Wheeling. Mary Lou has been a member of the Jamboree for seven years, and although she can only get to Wheeling a few times a year, she still considers herself a member. Recently MCA Records signed her to a singles contract.

The duo's hit singles include the #1 charter "Sometimes," "That's What Made Me Love You" and their debut album is "Sometimes."

DOLLY PARTON & PORTER WAGONER Top Country Duet — Singles

Repeat winners as Cash Box's top vocal duo in singles, Porter Wagoner and Dolly Parton have recently announced a new structuring of their various enterprises.

They are each masters of their own profession, writers, recording artists, stage and television personalities and astute executives.

A native of Missouri, Porter Wagoner is a veteran of some twenty successful music-oriented years. A Grammy Award winner and star of his own TV syndicated "The Porter Wagoner Show," he is seen weekly in over 100 markets, with a viewing audience in excess of 45 million people. His current RCA release is titled "When Lea Jane Sang."

From the hills of Tennessee, and one of a dozen children from a musical family, Dolly Parton had a successful history of TV and recording work when Porter Wagoner asked her to join "The Porter Wagoner Show." A successful singles artist, Dolly is now host of her own syndicated television show called "Dolly." Dolly writes many of the songs she sings and her hits include "Coat Of Many Colors," "Jolene," "The Seeker," and "Hey, Lucky Lady." Her current single "All I Can Do" was recently #1 on the Cash Box chart.

THE STATLER BROTHERS Top Country Vocal Group — Singles Top Country Vocal Group — Albums

The Statler Brothers are four young men from Virginia who are neither Statlers nor brothers. The group consists of Harold Reid, Don Reid (the only two brothers), Lew De Witt and Phil Balsey.

Their professional careers began in 1964 when Johnny Cash asked them to join his road band. Recording dates, personal appearance tours, TV guest spots, and movie appearances keep the boys busy.

The group first gained national acclaim with such hits as "Bed Of Roses" "Thank You World" and "I'll Go To My Grave Loving You" followed. Their current "Thank God I've Got You" is #42-bullet in Cash Box this week.

The group's most ambitious and unusual album project to date has been "The Holy Bible — New Testament" and "The Holy Bible — Old Testament." This is the sixth time that the group has been chosen the top vocal group by Cash Box.

ASLEEP AT THE WHEEL Top New Vocal Group — Singles

Asleep At the Wheel was formed in the early seventies on the east coast as a small country rock band, but during the ensuing years the group moved into a form of music known as western swing.

Western swing started in Texas during the 1930's. The music itself stressed the "western" half of "country and western" and developed as honky-tonk, boogie-woogie music tempered by a jazz feel. It virtually disappeared for several decades until Asleep At The Wheel pioneered its revival.

The nucleus of the group is three easterners; lead guitarist and vocalist Ray Benson, rhythm guitarist and vocalist Leroy Preston (also the group's main songwriter) and pedal steel guitarist Lucky Oceans (known to his family as Reuben Gosfield).

Group member Danny Levin, a young piano player from New York, joined the band at its inception, left, and re-joined in 1976. One member who stayed was Chris O'Connell, a young secretary just out of high school. She added another rhythm guitarist and vocalist to the group's evolving sound. Asleep At The Wheel then performed with the Medicine Ball Caravan, later playing some dates with Poco.

Eventually the band moved to the San Francisco Bay area, where they backed a number of country entertainers on tour and played with Commander Cody.

Tony Farnier, adept at both electric and upright bass, soon came into the fold. As the band toured the country, they found their largest audience was Texas, so in February 1974 they moved to Austin and released their second album in September 1974. At that point Leroy Preston moved to rhythm guitar and began to concentrate more on singing his original material.

Asleep At the Wheel joined Capitol Records for the release of their "Texas Gold" album in August 1975.

Asleep At The Wheel has developed into a 10-piece, well-rounded, diversified western swing band with a singing steel guitar, honky-tonk piano, male and female vocals and double and triple fiddles. Their latest LP is "Wheelin' And Dealin'."

THE OUTLAWS Top New Vocal Group — Albums

Waylon Jennings, Willie Nelson, Jessi Colter and Tompall Glaser combined their talents this year to produce the certified gold LP "The Outlaws." The four followed up the album by taking their "Outlaw Music Festival" across the country this summer, playing to capacity crowds wherever they went. The anthology LP was a hit unto itself, but it also created a greater demand for the four artists individually. This LP shows only a small sample of what these artists are capable of creating.

BILL BLACK COMBO Top Instrumental Group — Singles

When Elvis Presley burst upon the music scene during the 50's, bringing a total new sound, one of the men "behind the scenes" was Memphis bass player Bill Black. Bill traveled and appeared with Elvis from the beginning of his career until 1959, when he left to form his own group, the Bill Black Combo.

The very first record recorded by the combo was "Smokie," which sold over a million copies, as did two of the next three songs released by the Combo.

In the early 60's Bill Black's Combo won dozens of awards as the world's most popular instrumental group, releasing over a dozen hit records and over thirty albums.

Untimely Death

In 1962 Bill Black turned over the leadership of the combo to Bob Tucker, a Memphis guitarist who had been working with the group for some time. After Black's untimely death in 1965 the demand for the group was so great that Tucker signed what amounted to a lifetime agreement with Black's widow to keep the Combo active in recording and personal appearances. Bob Tucker is now in his 14th year as leader of the Bill Black Combo.

Seventy-five percent of their personal appearances are for country shows and clubs, and they have always been one of the biggest jukebox sellers in the business.

Heavy Airplay

To establish their place in country music, the combo released their first country album in 1975 on Hi Records, entitled "Solid And Country." One song on the album got such heavy airplay and request action that it was pulled for immediate release as a single; "Boilin' Cabbage."

Subsequent singles have been "Back Up An Push," "Fire On The Bayou," and their current single, "Redneck Rock."

DANNY DAVIS & THE NASHVILLE BRASS Top Instrumentalist Group — Albums

Danny Davis and The Nashville Brass have one of the most glittering success stories to ever come out of "Music City, U.S.A." since the "Nashville Sound" itself.

Although it did take Davis nearly six years to find the person (Chet Atkins) who would believe in his Brass idea enough to record it, the impact of his success thereafter was felt in less than two years.

Since the birth of the Brass in August 1968, they have received top trade, Grammy and CMA Awards and a citation from the Nashville Chamber of Commerce 1975—1976 has seen the release of such albums as "Dream Country," "Country Gold" and "Texas."

THE ATKINS STRING COMPANY Top New Instrumentalist Group — Albums

This award is based on the RCA LP "The Night Atlanta Burned." The group might be called The Atkins String Company, but the style is Chet Atkins'. Put together on research made by John D. Loudermilk, on the old time string bands which were favorites in the New Orleans of the Civil War era, the album exposes another facet to the roots of country music.

CHARLIE MCCOY Top Instrumentalist — Singles Top Instrumentalist — Albums

Country music is based on the talent of legendary musicians such as Charlie McCoy. Although a master of any and all instruments, Charlie's forte is the harmonica, which he began playing at the age of eight. Working in various sorts of groups from society parties to rock dances, the Miami-born Charlie has studied conducting, theory, arranging and singing, but didn't settle into any set phase until he and country music came together in Nashville.

Today the winner of the Cash Box Top Instrumentalist Award in albums and singles is a recording artist for Monument Records, where he produces his own recordings, including "Today I Started Loving You Again," "Orange Blossom Special," "My Boy McCoy," and "Silver Wings."

MAURY FINNEY Top New Instrumentalist — Singles

Maury found his first opportunity to play professionally at an early age. When he was 15 and living at home in Humboldt, Minnesota, the saxophone player for a local band was out due to sickness and Maury played well enough that the band decided to keep both when the original band member came back. Maury continued to play with the band until the end of his high school years. He then worked construction jobs, studied electronics and continued to play with various bands on weekends and finally started a rock band called The Charms. Jerry Diamond decided they should be on record and created his own label, Jay Dee Records.

CHESTER & LESTER Top New Instrumentalists — Albums

Chet Atkins and Les Paul have been named the Top New Instrumentalists in albums, as a result of the RCA LP titled "Chester And Lester." Unique in bringing together two master instrumentalists, the package is an exercise of exciting guitar sounds. While neither of these artists is himself "new," the sounds that this duo makes can certainly be classified as both new and original.

JERRY CLOWER Top Comedy Performer — Albums

Jerry Clower is the Mississippi fertilizer salesman who made good with his particular brand of humor. The MCA Records artist is a super seller on or off the stage. His zany tales of real-life experiences as a Mississippi youth in Amite County have established him as one of America's best-selling recording artists.

This 275-pound ex-Mississippi State football player and noted lay minister rates encores and rave reviews on package shows or platform appearances wherever he goes. The stories Jerry Clower tells have really happened, and the power behind the telling has sold many albums for Jerry and MCA Records. The first album to be produced was titled "Jerry Clower From Yazoo City, Mississippi, Talkin'." His next album was "From The Mouth Of The Mississippi," followed by "Clower Power," and "Live In Picayne." His current LP is titled "The Ambassador Of Goodwill."

Jerry is a regular member of the Grand Ole Opry and has appeared on many syndicated and talk shows. He was a featured subject in Sports Illustrated Southern Living and People Magazines, and has been featured on the Walter Cronkite CBS news, the Orange Blossom CBS-TV special, and at the Orange Bowl parade in Miami, Florida.

CLEDUS MAGGARD Top New Comedian — Albums

"The White Knight" was an off-the-wall hit single, but then Cledus Maggard (aka Jay Hugueley) is a pretty unusual man to be doing that sort of thing.

Two years ago he joined Leslie Advertising in Greenville, S.C., writing, producing, and performing commercials, following a 15-year career in show business as an actor (TV and stage), theater owner, singer and director of various American and British stage show companies.

Jay, in working on advertising ideas, came up with a CB novelty recording entitled "The White Knight," Mercury purchased the master, and he had an immediate pop and country hit. Cledus Maggard (Jay) has since had such hit singles as "Kentucky Moonrunner" and "Virgil And The $300 Vacation," and an LP titled "The White Knight."

RED SOVINE Top Recitation Performer — Single

Over the years and through affiliations with Decca, MGM, Chart and Starday Records, Red Sovine has been one of the most prolific entertainers in the country field. He has brought to the listener such tunes as "The Intoxicated Rat," "Giddy Up Go," "Little Rosa," "Phantom 309," "I Didn't Jump The Fence," and his famous emotion-drenched recitations such as his Starday recording "Teddy Bear."

A native of Charleston, West Virginia—Woodrow Wilson (Red) Sovine's first job was with Jim Pike and The Carolina Tar Heels, where he was featured in the band on the Friday night "Old Farm Hour Show" at radio station WCHS. The group later moved on to the WWVA, Wheeling Jam-boree.

In 1947, Red formed his own band, "The Echo Valley Boys," and appeared regularly on Radio Station KWKH in Shreveport, Louisiana. When Hank Williams left the Louisiana Hayride to become a regular on the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Red was tabbed to take over Hank's place on the Hayride. He was the featured performer for five years, then he too was invited to join the Grand Ole Opry.

Opryland U.S.A. Wraps Up Another Year Of Music And Entertainment

NASHVILLE — From the spirited sounds of live music that drifted across the park as musicians struck up the bands in 11 exciting musical shows, to the screams of passengers streaking through the sky on the Wabash Cannonball, Opryland USA provided sparkling entertainment in 1976.

At the top of Opryland's showbill for the bicentennial year was "Liberty's Song," an Americana musical recap of our country's 200 years, which was presented on the stage of the Opry House twice a day. And in the Theatre-By-The-Lake, Opryland's "Ambassadors in Blue Jeans and Calico" were singing and dancing in "Country Music USA," the show that captivated audiences in the Soviet Union, returned for two command performances at the White House and was featured as a major network television special with Tennessee Ernie Ford.

There was also a new bumper car ride this year, and a beautiful bicentennial garden with more than 90,000 blooming plants and trees.

While the Cannonball, the world's newest "screamer" roller coaster ride has been drawing crowds since it opened last year, live entertainment was still the main attraction at "the home of American music," and there was music everywhere. Five music areas, all designed and decorated in period Americana, were the settings for the 11 live music shows which offered everything from the full-fledged Broadway-styled musical "I Hear America Singing" to a lineup of country music artists performing in the Opry House as the Opry guest star of the day.

Just inside the entrance gates, Opryland visitors entered the world of country music, where Bashful Brother Oswald and Charlie Collins, two of Roy Acuff's Smoky Mountain Boys, were picking and singing in the gazebo in front of the Roy Acuff Music Hall and Museum. Bluegrass and folk music came alive in the hill country, where audiences could watch two Opryland folk groups performing on the stage of an outdoor rustic theatre in an Appalachian mountain town straight out of the Tennessee hills. For jazz buffs, the Opryland Dixieland Band played the best of Scott Joplin and Louis Armstrong in the pavilion of the Cafe Bois de Chanson and the La Cantina Theatre featured wild west comedy.

But all of the entertainment at Opryland this season wasn't on stage. Clowns and magicians traveled through the park delighting the younger guests and sharing the "roving entertainment" spotlight with Johnny Guitar, Delilah Dulcimer, Barney Bass, Freddie Fiddle, Jose Mandolin and Yancy Banjo, six giant musical characters that led the daily Opryland parade, stopping to meet and greet young Oprylanders having a day of fun in the park.

Major television producers from New York to Los Angeles brought their shows to Opryland this year. The CBS television network signed Johnny Cash to do a weekly summer series and a Christmas special, all taped before a live audience in the Opry House and the park; and Porter Wagoner is doing 13 of his syndicated country music shows from Opryland stages.

This June Opryland welcomed a delegation of guests from around the world to the Opry and Opryland — the 144 permanent representatives to the United Nations.

But while there were new television shows and new live music shows planned for Opryland '76, there is a show at Opryland that hasn't changed much in half a century. In its new home, the world's longest running live radio show, the Grand Ole Opry, is going strong in its 51st year with capacity crowds every weekend. Matinee performances were added to the peak summer schedule to take care of the overflow of country music fans who come from around the world for the Friday and Saturday night Opry 52 weekends a year.

'In Advance'

"Although the Grand Ole Opry is at Opryland, a lot of people don't understand that tickets for the Opry performances are handled exclusively by the Opry and people who want reserved tickets for the Opry must write to that ticket office in advance," says Ed Stone, Opryland's public relations manager. "There isn't a combination Opry-Opryland ticket. But while our tickets are handled separately, the Opry and Opryland are definitely members of the same family. In 1968, Irving Waugh, president of WSM, Inc., and executives of the National Life and Accident Insurance Company were looking for a site for the new home for the Opry. The show had just outgrown its facilities at the old Ryman Auditorium in downtown Nashville and they decided it was time for a new home especially designed as an auditorium and television studio. When everybody got together and started talking about parking facilities and land for expansion, they said, why not build a whole theme park around the music of America? They settled on 358 acres out here on the banks of the Cumberland, 9 miles from Nashville, and started building. But the park was completed first and Opryland opened in the spring of '72 while the Opry House wasn't completed until March of '74."

Popular Rides

More than 7 million guests have visited the park since it opened in 1972 and attendance in '75 totaled 1,926,835 compared to the 1974 figure of 1,872,514. With all this live musical entertainment you may be wondering what to do between shows or maybe there is somebody in your crowd that doesn't like to sit still too long — Opryland has 15 of today's most popular rides, including a kiddie ride area. When you get hungry, menus in 19 specialty restaurants offer everything from "Ham What Am" on buttermilk biscuits to chilled Shrimp Arnaud Garni and Jalapeno cheese bread. For shoppers there are 24 quaint little shops in the villages throughout the park and a crafts corner with Tennessee artisans making hand-tooled leather items and wood carvings.

Opryland

So whether you are a music fan, a ride fan, food fan, or just someone looking for a lot of entertainment and excitement, chances are that Opryland has just what you are looking for. The park will close for the season on October 31 and reopen in the spring.

Opryland, the Grand Ole Opry and the Opry House are entertainment properties of the National Life and Accident Insurance Company and are affiliates of NLT Corporation.

1976 'Fair' Year For Deaton

NASHVILLE — 1976 found Billy Deaton becoming more involved in fairs than ever before. He placed Faron Young at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield, the Alabama State Fair for four days in Birmingham, the Gregg County Fair in Longview, Texas and the Gillespie County Fair in Fredericksburg, Texas. Deaton also placed Jan Howard at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield, and at the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville. He kept Faron Young in front of the TV viewers by way of "Hee Haw," "Good Old Nashville Music," "Pop Goes The Country" and "The Ronnie Prophet Show" on the Canadian network. Connie Smith appeared at the Wembley Festival in 1976 in London, England.

'The Outlaws,' Multitude Of CMA Nominees, Topped A Remarkable Year At RCA

NASHVILLE — With roots firmly planted in past accomplishments, RCA's Nashville country stands ready and waiting to harvest the rewards of country caring.

After capturing five of the Country Music Association's top awards presented on nationwide television in 1975, RCA has again excelled by holding the majority of finalists nominated for awards in 1976, with three out of five nominees for entertainer of the year, two out of five for album of the year, two out of five for male vocalist of the year, two out of five for instrumentalist of the year, plus nominees for female vocalist, vocal group and vocal duo.

1975-76 saw a major breakthrough into the new style of sound which had been anticipated but nebulous. "The Outlaws" album, which has been certified gold with a platinum award just around the corner, has had more impact on the national music public than any other since the Elvis Presley breakthrough in the early '60s. With CMA male vocalist of the year for 1975 Waylon Jennings standing at the core of the "outlaw" movement, this is only the beginning.

Ronnie Milsap maintains his solidarity with chart topping singles which have sparked excellent LP sales, making him one of the top marketing figures in the industry.

Along with the ever-growing national acceptance of country music, coupled with its ever-shifting facets, many new avenues are now opening. 1975 CMA female vocalist of the year Dolly Parton has now restructured her career with her own national television series titled "Dolly." RCA vice president Chet Atkins, billed as "Mr. Guitar," has emerged as a vocal artist with a single novelty titled "Frog Kissin'." He has been experimenting with an old/new string sound for a group called The Chet Atkins String Company, and has also released a collector's LP (teaming his artistry with Les Paul) titled "Chester And Lester".

Major happenings throughout the year include the return of Eddy Arnold to his long time home base. Charley Pride, whose career is ever spiralling upward with top chart and sales action, plus heavy international concert demands, found and contributed to the production of the highly successful group of Dave and Sugar. Jim Ed

Brown and Helen Cornelius emerged as a #1 duet success.

Closing the year, RCA can boast nine #1 singles and 10 #1 LPs. Jerry Bradley, division vice president of Nashville operations, says "RCA will continually strive to maintain its position of leader in the country music field".

Capital Country Features Diversity Of Talent, Major Restructuring In 1976

NASHVILLE — 1976 is the third full year of operations for Capitol Records country division under the guidance of Frank Jones, vp and general manager and Bill Williams, head of country promotion and sales. 1975 saw a major restructuring of the Nashville office when Capitol abandoned the concept of regional country promotion managers and brought Ed Keeley, formerly regional country promotion in Chicago, into the Nashville office to operate as field coordinator directly under Bill Williams. 1976 has seen a further refinement of this restructuring as Ed Keeley assumed direct responsibility for singles promotion with

Williams shifting his efforts to marketing and overall promotional planning. 1976 also has seen the addition of Chuck Flood as director of press and special projects, including heavy concentration on working country acts at AOC and AOR radio.

Capitol remains firmly committed to the breaking of new acts as the lifeblood of this operation and point to such diverse acts as Gene Watson, Ray Griff, Asleep At The Wheel, Dr. Hook, LaCosta, Linda Hargrove, Connie Cato and James Talley as evidence of this commitment. These people are all well on their way to becoming major acts in the field of country music. "Add these

Tom Bresh Gets Farr Off To A Good Start

LOS ANGELES — While less than a year old, Farr Records has already made its presence known in the country marketplace. The company's debut country single, "Homemade Love" by Tom Bresh rose into the top ten on the country charts, establishing both Bresh and Farr as hit makers. Currently climbing the charts is Bresh's latest single, "Sad Country Love Song" and his first Farr LP "Homemade Love." Bresh was chosen #1 new male vocalist on singles in the 1976 Cash Box country poll.

Asa Farr is Founder

Farr Records, division of Farr Music, Inc., is headquartered in Los Angeles at 9220 Sunset Blvd., Suite 201, L.A. 90069. Asa Farr is founder and board chairman of the company bearing his name.

SESAC Celebrates A 'Convoy' Of Hits For The Bicentennial

NEW YORK — 1976 has seen the greatest expansion and growth of country music in its long and illustrious history, and since country music has long been recognized as the nation's own musical art form, it was only natural that the celebration of America's 200th birthday would find the country sound emanating from everywhere. Even radio stations that had previously prided themselves on programming "pure" rock, jazz, background music, etc., began infiltrating country tunes into their solid formats. Truly during this bicentennial year, country music came of age and proved once again that it is the one music all America loves because it is America's own.

This phenomenal growth of country music throughout 1976, SESAC's 45th year, has made the firm's Nashville office, first opened in 1964, a constant center of activity as more and more new, as well as established, country writers and publishers signed agreements for worldwide representation of their works. These works, as well as those of our many longtime affiliates, have kept SESAC constantly on the move.

Early in the year, SESAC writer and country music artist C.W. McCall made history with his recording of the #1 country and pop crossover hit "Convoy." Written by Chip Davis and Bill Fries, this tune has been credited with starting the current nationwide craze for CB radios, and because of the record's success, C.W. was signed this fall by the NBC radio network to host a 52-week series entitled "Modulatin' With McCall," which premiered on Oct. 4.

The theme for the show, aired five times a week, is also by Chip Davis and Bill Fries and published by American Gramophone (SESAC).

But "Convoy" was only one of the many chart-topping hits to come from the SESAC catalogs during 1976. Charley Pride hit the top of the charts with another SESAC song by the award-winning writer Ted Harris, "The Happiness Of Having You," which also became the title song of Pride's RCA LP. Faron Young, too, scored chart billing with his Mercury recording of "Feel Again" by John Virgin of Cherry Tree Publications (SESAC). And the list goes on with such writer-affiliates as Tommy Overstreet, Ricci Mareno, Della and Glenn Ray, Gary Branson, Charlie Black, Jerry Gillespie and others.

Five New LPs Cap An Exciting Year For Phonogram Inc./Mercury

CHICAGO — Capped by five new albums, the traditionally outstanding country success of Phonogram, Inc./Mercury Records has been especially evident this past year. The new albums (Tom T. Hall's "Magnificent Music Machine," Jerry Lee Lewis' "Country Class," Cledus Maggard's "Two More Sides," Johnny Rodriguez's "Reflecting," and the special "Country Sampler" featuring tracks by eleven artists) are just the final touches on an incredible year for Mercury.

Cledus Maggard was responsible for Mercury's biggest country single of the year, "The White Knight." The novelty CB record was number one across the U.S. and firmly established Cledus (aka Jay Huguely), as a force to be reckoned with.

Rodriguez also enjoyed his biggest single in three years recently, with "I Wonder If I Ever Said Goodbye." Likewise, Hall struck number one with the single "Faster Horses," and Top Ten with the LP of the same name.

Lewis is currently enjoying his biggest single in three years with "Let's Put It Back Together Again." The Statler Brothers had a fine year, with two gospel albums achieving combined sales of over 175,000 copies and "The Best Of The Statler Brothers" album becoming the biggest country album in Mercury's history.

The two relatively new artists enjoyed good initial success with Nick Nixon's "Rockin' In Rosalie's Boat" moving high up the charts and Jackie Ward's current single, "I Never Said It Would Be Easy," becoming his biggest for Mercury. Also, a new-to-Mercury artist, Skeeter Davis, has hit the charts with her current single, "I Love Us."

This past summer saw the introduction of what may be the surprise of next year in the internationally known Twiggy. Her album "Twiggy" was not recorded as a country LP but seemed to emerge that way. Her single, "Here I Go Again," is currently being heard on country and pop stations.

Of special interest was the re-signing of the man responsible for producing most of the country hits on Mercury, Jerry Kennedy.

Elektra/Asylum Records Enlarged Roster, Staff In '76

NASHVILLE — Since 1975 the Nashville operation of Elektra/Asylum Records has evolved from a promotion office to a major division of the label with several new staff appointments and a growing artist roster. Mike Suttle, now the division's marketing director, was joined by Jim Malloy, director of A&R, and by Terry Fletcher as national promotion director. Malloy had been vp A&R for Mega Records for several years and has produced an impressive string of hits, including the three-million selling "Help Me Make It Through The Night." Malloy immediately began strengthening the country roster by signing new artists and assisting in the selection of materials for them.

Recently, David Malloy, who produced the Eddie Rabbitt sessions independently, was hired as a staff producer. Eddie Rabbitt scored two number one singles this year, "Drinkin' My Baby Off My Mind" and "Rocky Mountain Music," which also charted pop. Even Stevens, a songwriter with 190 cuts to his credit in the last two years, broke through as an artist with three chart singles. Sammi Smith was reunited with her "Help Me Make It Through The Night" producer Malloy at the label and has completed an album titled "As Long As There's A Sunday." Archie Campbell, star of the "Hee Haw" television show, recorded a live album for the label in Tupelo, Miss.

Linda Ronstadt continued to prove her across-the-board appeal with three top ten singles and two number one albums in the country charts. The Eagles also made it to the top of the country charts with "Lyn' Eyes." Carmoi Taylor completed his first Elektra album, "Songwriter," containing the hit single, "Really Had A Bail Last Night."

E/A has recently signed several new artists: Jerry Inman, with Snuff Garrett producing, has just released his first album, and Stella Parton, Wayne Carson and Vern Gosdin are readying singles for immediate release.

CMA Expands Activities, Moves Into Second Half Century

NASHVILLE — Without a doubt, 1976 has been one of the busiest years in CMA's history, and the board has acted to initiate new activities and expand upon others.

Country Music Month

Case in point: CMA's Country Music Month promotion. First of all, the annual Country Music Radio Station Contest will now be judged on the basis of all station promotions within the period of Oct. 1, 1976 and July 31, 1977. Winners will be selected on the basis of the station's country music promotions completed within the Oct.-July eligibility period, as well as their work in the promotion of "October Is Country Music Month." And, to encourage competition between stations of all sizes, winners will be selected in three market sizes: small (0-50,000), medium (50,000-500,000) and large (500,000 and up).

Buyers Seminar

This year's Talent Buyers Seminar, set for Oct. 7-11 at Nashville's Hyatt Regency Hotel, has developed into one of the industry's most interesting and informative gatherings of fair managers, amusement park owners, show promoters, booking agents, music executives and country artists from all over the United States and Canada. This year's event features a full program of panel discussions, workshops, informal rap sessions, agency open houses and talent showcases.

Other Activities

The international scope of CMA's activities has been expanded to include the production of a country music show during Mosexpo '76 in New Orleans this past September, and a country music gala for MIDEM in Jan. 1977.

Numerous other programs and activities were introduced in 1976, including a CMA Speakers Bureau, which is now in full operation, a pilot country music program in the New York City area, and a soon-to-be-released CMA audio/visual presentation for music retailers, media buyers and the news media.

Banquet Show

In keeping with the CMA's desire to upgrade and improve its activities, there will be a new format and location for CMA's 18th Annual Cocktail Party, Banquet and Show, which is set for Thurs. evening, Oct. 14. The event will take place at the Grand Ole Opry House, starting at 6:00 p.m., with banquet seating set for 7:30. Ticket holders will then move inside the Opry House at 9:00 for CMA's traditional banquet show, produced by Gene Nash with musical direction by Bill Pursell. Just prior to the show, Jerry Clower will present CMA's DJ of the year winners with their awards, which will have a new look in '76.

CMA Awards

The CMA Awards Show, which has been expanded from 1 to 1½ hours, will take place at the Grand Ole Opry House on Monday evening, Oct. 11 from 8:30-10:00 p.m. Hosted by Johnny Cash and Roy Clark, the live CBS network telecast will feature many top country music artists, both as presenters and performers, as well as present the newest inductees to the Country Music Hall of Fame.

Golf Tourney

Once again top name celebrities and touring golf professionals will join with members of the Association of Tennessee Country Gentlemen, music industry executives and business executives for the 12th Annual Music City USA Pro-Celebrity Golf Tournament at Nashville's Harpeth Hills Golf Club this Oct. 8-10.

The event, which will begin with a golf clinic and driving contest on Oct. 8, is sponsored by the CMA, Nashville Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, WSM, Inc. and the Tennessean.

Quarterly Meetings

In 1976, the CMA board held quarterly meetings in San Juan, Puerto Rico, Austin, Texas and San Francisco, Calif. The association's fourth quarterly board meeting is scheduled for Oct. 12, and the annual membership meeting will take place on Oct. 14 at Nashville Municipal Auditorium at 9:30 a.m. Polls for election of officers open at 9:00 a.m. and close at 10:30 a.m.

Lavender-Blake's 1st Year Happy

NASHVILLE — August 1 marked the one year anniversary of the newly formed Lavender-Blake Agency. The year was characterized by rapid growth as the agency added such artists as Ronnie Milsap, Donna Fargo, Johnny Paycheck, Joe Stampley, Larry Gatlin and Larry Bradshaw, bringing their talent roster to 35. Increased involvement in specialized booking was also realized as exclusive accounts were set up with the Fairmont Hotels in New Orleans and Atlanta. Shorty Lavender also finds a significant increase in fair sales, as the agency has made tremendous headway in producing some of the top fairs across the country. Lavender-Blake's total gross was in excess of $6,000,000 for 1976, as they participated in almost 5,200 events. This represents an average of 153 dates per act.

Employees

The agency employs six full-time agents: John McMeen, Dave Barton, Jack Lynch and Ty Coppinger, as well as administrators Shorty Lavender and Richard Blake. Their four secretaries are Theresa Everett, Etta Lackey, Patty Keelins and Linda Edwards. Lavender-Blake's offices are housed at 1217 16th Avenue South in Nashville.

MCA Promotion: Accessibility, Flexibility Key to C&W Image

by J.B. Carmicle

LOS ANGELES — Contending that MCA Records' promotion staff must be as versatile as the various styles of music the label's artist roster represents, MCA's vice president of promotion Vince Cosgrave describes the company's 25-man promotion crew as "men who wear many different hats," a quality which he claims enables them to more effectively expose the label's product to hundreds of program and music directors across the country. MCA promotion men are not specialized in just one type of music, according to Cosgrave; their backgrounds are varied and they work the label's country artists as hard as they do its rock or progressive artists. He attributes their rapport with country programmers and the continuous flow of information back to the home office with huge part of the label's success with its country roster.

Cosgrave related that when MCA Records' promotion staff approached top 40 stations in 1972 with Olivia Newton-John's "If You Love Me (Let Me Know)," they were not only confident that the record would be added "right out of the box," but convinced that the song would be a hit. Surprised and disgruntled because top 40 programmers were unreceptive to their excitement about the record, Cosgrave said that the promotion staff then placed the record in the hands of country programmers, where it received immediate airplay and requests, with sales resulting from that. Armed with the record's successful acceptance by the country audience, promotion men returned to the top 40 stations now able to convince those PDs and MDs of the record's worth. Cosgrave sees more potential crossover records as a result of having a staff that works country stations as well as it works rock stations.

MCA's national director of country promotion John Brown views the relationship between promotion man and country programmer as one of the closest relationships in the record business. He stressed that top 40 stations, because of their tight playlists, don't give as much hope to a promo man as a country outlet does, an outlet which generally plays more records on the air and has traditionally added more records on a weekly basis. Brown, who deals daily with the company's promotion staff via phone, noted that "one of the joys in country promotion" is a relaxed session where both the promotion man and music director listen to new product and discuss its potential. "Country just provides a nicer atmosphere," Brown added.

MCA utilizes two methods to communicate information to its promotion men in the field — the telephone and the newsletter. Cosgrave explained that the promotion crew calls a special Los Angeles number nightly in order to find out updated information on the label's product. "We provide them with a three minute telephone message," Cosgrave noted, "and they report on the progress they've made each day in their individual markets after they hear our message." Cosgrave said it works extremely well, because the field representative's message is available to his L.A. staff when they arrive the next morning. MCA also prints "Air Force," a weekly newsletter which includes status sheets on individual records, new chart numbers and other text that would be timely to the promotion man. "It's printed overnight," he continued, "and mailed to reach each man by Monday. With this additional information, they can get a good start on their weekly visits to stations."

Cosgrave said MCA beefed up key markets like New York, San Francisco, Atlanta and Los Angeles at the beginning of 1976 with additional promotion men because "our guys need more help in those areas." Although he feels that the current promotion staff is covering the entire scope of the label's product, Cosgrave insisted that "if we see the need in other markets for additional manpower we'll supply it."

The MCA promotion staff has proven its capability in breaking both pop and country product, yet it is of the utmost urgency to Brown and Cosgrave that the promotion staff remain flexible and accessible to country radio.

Hitsville Makes Impact In '76

LOS ANGELES — Motown Records' country label, Hitsville, has made a significant impact in the music arena during 1976. Under the effective leadership of Ray Ruff, who joined Hitsville as creative director in May of this year, Hitsville (formerly known as "Melodyland") has become a major contender on both the singles and albums charts. In the month of September alone, Hitsville boasted four representatives on the national charts, including T.G. Sheppard, Pat Boone, Kenny Serratt and Jerry Naylor.

New Policy

The steady growth of the label can be partly attributed to the fact that, in addition to his duties as creative director, Ray Ruff is simultaneously coordinating promotion and sales for Hitsville, in conjunction with Motown's field staff. Ruff has instituted a new policy, whereby the label's three regional promotion men work directly with the distributors, to establish better coordination between airplay and product availability. This new alignment leads to better communication, and the end result is improved sales.

Hitsville's promotion team includes John Curb, director of west coast promotion, Peter Svendson, director of midwest promotion, and Buster Sullivan, the label's Nashville-based director of southern regional promotion.

Star Status

One of the shining talents of the Hitsville artist roster is T.G. Sheppard. Sheppard, who has previously scored with Hitsville's premiere album release, "T.G. Sheppard," and the successful follow-up, "Motels and Memories," is currently establishing his star status with the current "Solitary Man" LP. Included is his hit rendition of the title track, along with the current chart-climber, "Show Me A Man."

Pat Boone, long familiar to the American record-buying public and one of the most popular recording artists of all time (over forty-five million records sold), has had one of his most successful years in over a decade. With a top-forty country single called "Texas Woman" and the subsequent release of "Oklahoma Sunshine," Boone has only just begun to make his distinctive mark in country music. A new album, entitled "Texas Woman," successfully illuminates previously unrevealed dimensions in Boone's impressive singing and songwriting talents.

Ample Strength

Both Kenny Serratt and Jerry Naylor have added their luster to the Hitsville label in 1976. Serratt, who recently moved from Los Angeles to Dallas (where he has a large and vocal following), has recently shown ample strength with his "I've Been There Too" single, carrying a message of universal identification. Naylor, who was once a member of Buddy Holly's Crickets in addition to being a celebrated radio personality, has once again shown his record-selling strength with a recent chart entry, "The Bad Part Of Me."

United Artists Records Continues Country Success

NASHVILLE — United Artists Records continues to be one of the leaders in the country music field. Led by Larry Butler, vice president country product, UA Country has made strong inroads into the country market, with equally strong crossover potential being realized for many of its country acts.

One of UA's hottest attractions is Billie Jo Spears. Having accumulated a string of hits that include "What I've Got In Mind," "Misty Blue," "On The Rebound" (her duet with Del Reeves) and her current "Never Did Like Whisky," this talented young lady has become one of the most in-demand performers in country music.

Kenny Rogers, who with his now defunct First Edition caused quite a stir with a succession of top-selling records, is now causing quite a stir in the country music industry. His hits "Love Lifted Me," "While The Feeling's Good" and his current release, "Laura (What's He Got That I Ain't Got)" have firmly entrenched Kenny in the country-pop market.

A lady who no longer need be introduced as Loretta Lynn's little sister, Crystal Gayle is on the verge of superstardom on her own. Last year's "most promising female vocalist" for the Academy of Country Music and this year's Country Music Association finalist for "top female vocalist," Crystal Gayle has had a great year with hit singles "Somebody Loves You," "One More Time" and her #1 "I'll Get Over You." Her "Somebody Loves You" LP was one of this year's longest chart-riders, and her current album, "Crystal," is moving up the charts.

Ed Bruce, whose impressive debut with

"Mamas Don't Let Your Babies Grow Up To Be Cowboys" and "The Littlest Cowboy Rides Again" firmly established him among country and progressive country fans, continues his success story with his current single, "For Love's Own Sake."

Calico, a band based in Texas where many progressive stars are being found these days, combines a mellow sense of melody with a strong sense of rock dynamics to come up with a sound that should appeal to both urban and country music lovers. Their second album, "Calico Vol. II," coupled with some very important personal appearances, promises that Calico is a band that should be heard from in all markets.

There's not much anyone can say about Doc Watson other than to say that he is literally a legend in American contemporary music. Backed by son Merle and their band, Frosty Moon, Doc and the boys are a major force in the music industry, as his Grammy awards indicate.

Country star Del Reeves remains a hot attraction, as his UA catalog of albums continues to keep him on top, and country thrush Jean Shepard remains one of the premiere country singers on the scene today. And, of course, Slim Whitman remains one of the all-time international favorites, as does that truckin' Dave Dudley.

No discussion of the country-pop field would be complete without the inclusion of the (Nitty Gritty) Dirt Band, whose airplay and sales defy categorization. A hard-working aggregation, their continuing concert appearances win them many record-buying friends.

'76 Good For ASCAP Writers

NASHVILLE — With a record number of award winners, a cache of "bankable" new writers and publishers and an expanded staff, the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) in Nashville is wrapping up another growth year.

"It has been an extremely productive year for us and a number of our songwriters and publishers," said Ed Shea, southern regional director for ASCAP. "Within the next couple of weeks we will honor some 84 songs, 12 more than we did last year, and 213 award winners at our annual banquet. Interestingly, 10 of those 84 songs were #1 in the nation.

"We have also been excited to see several ASCAP songwriters receive the recognition they deserve. Richard Leigh, who joined ASCAP last year and whose song 'I'll Get Over You' became a #1 in Cash Box, is an example. Rory Burke, Russell Smith and Guy Clark are three other ASCAP songwriters who have enjoyed a good year, and we are extremely proud of them all," he continued.

The past year has also been a period of internal reorganization and expansion for the Nashville ASCAP staff. "We have taken and are continuing to take a strong look at our strengths and weaknesses. Both Merlin Littlefield and Connie Hurt, who joined our staff this past year, have added new dimensions and depths to our staff and we have realigned and broadened the functions of several other staff positions," explained Shea. "We have also, as a result of the staff expansion, been more active this year in industry affairs."

"But our main concern centers around the songwriter and the music publisher. We are here to help them and that is the reason

'76 #1 Year For Combine Music

NASHVILLE — The Combine Music Corporation capped their year with a five-hour showcase Aug. 31 at the Exit/In. The show featured 18 artists affiliated with the company and was later broadcast on WSM radio.

Songs which reached the #1 chart position this year from the Combine catalog included Johnny Duncan's "Stranger" (written by Kris Kristofferson) and Dickey Lee's "Angels, Roses And Rain" (written by Bob Morrison and the Zerface brothers).

Other tunes which generated considerable chart action included Larry Gatlin's "Broken Lady," Elvis Presley's recording of "For The Heart" (written by Dennis Linde), Kenny Starr's "Tonight I'll Face The Man" (written by Bob Morrison and Bill Anthony), Billy Swan's "Just Want To Taste Your Wine" (written by Bobby Emons) and Mel McDaniels' "Have A Dream On Me" (written by Bob Morrison).

Writers associated with the parent company, Combine, include Billy Swan, Rob Galbraith, Thomas Cain, Alan Rush, Dennis Linde, Randy Cullers, Arthur Alexander, Sandy Posey, Mel McDaniels, Terry Dearmore, Lee Clayton and Maryann Duve.

Subsidiary companies include Resaca Music (Kristofferson, Michael Bacon), First Generation Music (Larry Gatlin), Music City Music (Bob Morrison), Tennessee Swamp Fox (Tony Joe White), Youngun Publishing (Benny Whitehead), Joe Allen Music (Joe Allen), Rising Sons Music and Vintage Music.

BMI Continues To Support Country Music

NASHVILLE — Continuing a tradition of leadership, BMI, its affiliated writers and publishers and its ever-growing country music catalog have been crucial over the past year in the continuing growth of interest in all forms of country music.

Over 75% of the country chart positions in Cash Box between January 1 and September 1 were claimed by BMI-licensed songs.

As of 1976, over 45,000 writers and publishers chose BMI to administer their performing rights. BMI's dedicated stewardship of those rights is reflected in the continuing association of affiliated writers and publishers.

Nowhere is this choice more evident than among BMI's country writers.

Since this time in 1975, a significant number of country writers who have been strongly represented on the trade magazine charts have renewed their affiliation with BMI. Among them are Dickie Betts, Larry Butler, J.J. Cale, Jessi Colter, Charlie Daniels, Larry Gatlin, Bobby Goldsboro, Mark James, Waylon Jennings, George Jones, Gary Paxton, Curly Putman, George Ritchey, Glenn Sutton and Porter Wagoner.

In line with this, it is to be noted that the number of BMI country writers and publishers has tripled in the last decade, and that 27 of the most performed songs in the BMI repertory are country.

That BMI is such a major factor in country music is no accident of fate. The company came into existence to ensure a competitive source of music licensing. In part it has served as a safeguard against monopoly; chiefly, it has encouraged and supported areas of music that, with increasing exposure, influenced the flow of American and eventually world music.

BMI's attitude was spelled out in the first year of its operation with a pledge that has remained basic to day-to-day functioning, from 1940 to the present: "To open the road for all who have anything to say in music . . . to assure equal opportunity and fair compensation for all composers, old and young."

Central to BMI's vision of the best of everything for the country creator and publisher has been Frances Preston, the company vice-president who heads the Nashville office and is in charge of the southern area. A product of Nashville and one who loves and respects country music, she has worked with rare dedication in the cause of country.

With the recently rebuilt and expanded Nashville headquarters as her base, Ms. Preston directs a highly-motivated staff, including Roger Sovine, director of writer administration, southern area; Helen Maxson, director, performing rights, southern area; Patsy Bradley, director, publisher administration, southern area and Del Bryant, writer administration.

Ms. Preston's continuing commitment to country music is regularly recognized. During the last Country Music Week in Music City, she was presented the Metronome Award by Nashville Mayor Richard Fulton for being "an outstanding ambassador of good will for the Nashville music industry."

When accepting this award, Ms. Preston said: "This is an honor for me to accept. But really, my greatest award comes from the opportunity to work with the wonderful people in the industry."

One step beyond this and you have the BMI attitude — to work for the betterment of the industry, most specifically for writers and publishers, and to encourage all those who make music.

It is a matter of no small satisfaction to BMI that recent chroniclers of the country music story have recognized the substantial contribution the company has made in providing the opportunity for country music to be heard and its creators recompensed, ultimately resulting in the growing acceptance of the writers and performers.

We move into the future intent on following the procedures of the past in all the many worlds of music.

'76 Was A Busy Year At Pete Drake Prod.

NASHVILLE — It has been an active year for Pete Drake and his talented group of artists and writers at Pete Drake Productions and Window Music.

Drake has been almost living in the studio producing, working with and developing artists.

Skeeter Davis recently signed a new recording contract with Mercury Records through Pete Drake Productions. Drake produced her first release for Mercury, "I Love Us," a Jeff Tweel composition.

Linda Hargrove took time out this past summer to record her newly-released Capitol album, "Just Like You." Friends making a guest appearance on the album with her include Johnny Rodriguez, Melba Montgomery and Chet Atkins. This is the fourth album Hargrove and Drake have done together.

Total Involvement For Chardon, Inc.

NASHVILLE — Chardon, Inc. was formed last year by Charley Pride and Don Keirns and handles, in addition to Charley, three other RCA acts — Dave & Sugar, Gray Stewart and Ronnie Prophet.

Recording Contract

Less than a year ago Dave & Sugar didn't even have a recording contract. Today they have two RCA hits to their credit, "Queen Of The Silver Dollar" and "The Door Is Always Open," which was number one in all three trades for one week in July. Dave & Sugar are also part of the Charley Pride Show. Gary Stewart and Ronnie Prophet offer two more aspects to the Chardon story: Gary with his hard-hitting, raw country style so popular among the younger fans today, and Ronnie Prophet with his more traditional approach to music and comedy.

70 Dates

In 1976, the Charley Pride Show played 70 dates in the U.S., four in Japan, 13 in Australia and 10 in England, in addition to an extensive tour of Canada. The foreign tours reflect one of Charley's primary purposes in forming Chardon — to extend his audience worldwide.

T.V.

As might be indicated by the television shows he has done this year — "Dinah!" in Sydney, Australia, Ronnie Prophet's "Grand Old Country" in Toronto, "Hee-Haw," "The Johnny Cash Show," the "Tonight Show" and others — Charley looks ahead to a much more significant involvement with TV, hoping eventually, in his own words, "to present American music, all of it, as it really is, without any slickness or unnecessary frills."

ABC/Dot Sets Sights On 'Best Country'

NASHVILLE — The year 1976 was another year of growth and expansion for ABC/Dot Records, as the company made adjustments calculated to strengthen the label's marketing and artist development activities. Already acknowledged by many as producer of "America's best country" music, ABC/Dot's year was one of continued chart successes, as the label set its sights on laying claim to being "America's best country" label.

A key factor in ABC/Dot's successful year is the strength, variety and depth of the artist roster. Twelve different artists contributed to the total of 21 top 10 records ABC/Dot has scored so far in 1976, with five different artists (Billy "Crash" Craddock, Roy Clark, Freddy Fender, Joe Stampley and Don Williams) sharing the seven number ones. The ABC/Dot roster touches all bases, including virtuoso instrumentalists, comics, progressive country artists and country-rock groups, as well as mainstream country performers.

Consistent

"We are fortunate in having artists who are not only very strong, but extremely consistent," says ABC/Dot president Jim Foglesong. Among those are Don Williams, who has tallied six straight number one records and is a finalist for this year's Country Music Association male vocalist honors; Tommy Overstreet, 13 straight top 10 efforts; Billy "Crash" Craddock, the North Carolinian whose dynamic live shows and 11 top 10 recordings (including six number ones) contribute to his ability to draw huge crowds to small towns; Narvel Felts, who tried for 17 years for a hit record and now turns out continuous top five country hits; Freddy Fender, the Tex-Mex performer whose first full year as a national artist brought him four number one and two gold singles, a gold album and awards from every major trade magazine and country music association; and Roy Clark, television star, picker extraordinaire and the first country entertainer to headline a tour of the Soviet Union. Other ABC/Dot artists who regularly netted chart action were Johnny Carver, Hank Thompson, Jim Mundy, Ray Price, Eddy Raven, Sue Richards and Buck Trent. Chris Gantry, Jimmy Gately and Jerry Max Lane also returned to the airwaves with strong efforts this year.

Roster Building

This was also a year in which ABC/Dot engaged in roster building and artist development. Barbara Mandrell's first ABC/Dot release went top five and played a part in her being named one of five finalists for the Country Music Association's female vocalist of the year honor. Another newcomer to ABC/Dot, Randy Cornor, also had a top five release and continued ABC/Dot's tradition of acquisition of successful masters. Red Steagall added a top 10 with his first release, and Roy Head's first efforts on ABC/Dot show promise of coming top 40 pop crossover records. Another ABC/Dot signing, one that caught many industry observers by surprise, was Doug Sahm and the Texas Tornados. Sahm, remembered by many fans from his days with the Sir Douglas Quintet and for hits like "She's About A Mover" and "The Rains Came," is an acknowledged leader of the Austin and progressive country movements. Also signed was newcomer Kathy Owens, to be produced by Dolly Parton.

Marketing

As part of the increased marketing emphasis, ABC/Dot kicked off a mid-summer campaign centered on the slogan

"America's Best Country," in which more than 25,000 t-shirts bearing that logo and artwork/call letters of 40 key country radio stations were distributed to the stations in exchange for advertising time for ABC/Dot product. Cigarette lighters and ashtrays bearing the symbol were handed out to key salesmen, sales accounts and country radio personalities, and special discounts and advertising incentives were offered on the ABC/Dot catalog.

Product Manager

In Los Angeles, Bob Kirsch was brought into the newly-created post of product manager to act as liaison between Nashville and Los Angeles operations and to represent ABC/Dot in promotion and marketing meetings held there, ensuring improved communication within the corporate structure and faster implementation of marketing decisions. Kirsch will also be responsible for the repackaging of ABC/Dot product for rerelease. ABC/Dot's Nashville publicity staff was increased to three in 1976. Joining publicity manager Jerry Bailey were full-time publicist Jerry Flowers and Jeanne Porter as secretary to the department.

The emphasis on stronger marketing, coupled with the efforts of the sales department headed by ABC/Dot vice president B.J. McElwee and the artists and repertoire department under vice president Ron Chancey, paid off early as ABC/Dot turned a three-year-old Joe Stampley record into a number one hit, marking the rare occurrence of an artist having a chart topper on other than his currently-contracted label. The song, "All These Things," recorded before Stampley left ABC/Dot in January 1975, had never been released as a single.

'76 A Year Of Growth For Cedarwood Pub.

NASHVILLE — Cedarwood Publishing in 1976 has had a year of development and contrast. During the first few months, the company had an upsurge in new songs and several new writers were added. Probably the most important item during the first six months was the remodeling of Cedarwood Sound Studio and the addition of a new 16-track recording operation.

In early summer, Billy Joe Burnette and Dale Royal were added as exclusive writers and their first effort was the hit "Teddy Bear." The Starday Red Sovine record was one of the most played and requested records of the year, and it reached the number one position in less than five weeks. Hot on the heels of "Teddy Bear" came another Dale Royal-Billy Joe Burnette song called "Teddy Bear's Last Ride," recorded by Diana Williams, on Capitol Records.

The Red Sovine recording of "Teddy Bear" has now been certified as a million seller and the album is reported to have sold well over 250,000 copies. The Diana Williams record of "Teddy Bear's Last Ride" is reported to have sold well over 250,000. Another song by the Royal-Burnette team, "The Preacher Man," has been recorded by Jimmy Dickens on Columbia Records.

Meanwhile, Moe Bandy on Columbia had his own hit with "Here I Am Drunk Again." This record was a steady climber on the charts and achieved a very comfortable sales level.

A new album for Diana Williams was recorded in Cedarwood Sound Studios and a new single will be released from it.

Foreign recordings have continued to be a steady growth factor for the Cedarwood catalog.

NSAI Continues To Strive For Songwriters' Rights

NASHVILLE — The Nashville Songwriters Association International is a non-profit organization, chartered under the laws of the state of Tennessee, and constitutes a voluntary association to advance, promote, foster and benefit composers and authors of musical compositions. NSAI's purpose is to bring recognition to the songwriter and to work for the songwriter's equitable rights.

NSAI boasts this year approximately one thousand songwriter members. Until April of this year, the organization was known as the Nashville Songwriters Association; but, with members in every state of the Union and in several foreign countries and Canada, the word "international" was added.

NSAI's efforts on behalf of the songwriter reach far and wide. Since its inception, the association has taken definite stands for a revision of the antiquated Copyright Law of 1909. The Congress of the United States in the latter part of 1975 became receptive to the idea of a revision; in February a contingent of songwriters from Nashville traveled to Washington, D.C., and together with songwriters from New York and California, met with congresspeople to state the songwriters' viewpoint on the revision of the law as it affected the songwriter directly. This was a revelation to some of those persons in the Congress who expressed delight in meeting "a real live songwriter." A second trip to the nation's capitol was made by these same songwriters in July; and, with such concentrated effort on the part of all concerned, giant steps have been made with respect to this law.

The Senate has passed a bill which changes the tenure of the copyright; instead of the life of the copyright being 28 years, and a one-time renewal of 28 years — total life, 56 years before it becomes public property — the new law will provide "life of the writer plus fifty years." The bill now is ready for the President's signature, which means it could be made into law at any moment. As part of the new law, a tribunal will be set up whereby any segment of the copyright structure may be reviewed within given periods of time. Overall, the revision is in itself one giant step toward equality for the songwriter.

On June 22, 1976, many Nashville songwriters, led by Don Goodman, Rick Sanjek and Mark Sherrill, along with WKDA radio personality Mike Hanes, BMI's Roger Sovine and ASCAP's Merlin Littlefield, gathered together to show their appreciation to NSAI for the efforts made toward the revision of the copyright law, by staging a gala super-songwriters night. George Jones' Possom Holler Club was packed to hear numerous songwriters perform their work, and proceeds were given to NSAI to help defray expenses for its further efforts toward this major cause.

NSAI is presently working on a project which will boost the visibility of the songwriter on the airwaves. A loose-leaf notebook containing information on songwriters will be distributed to radio stations across the country at no cost to the station, thus making available to the DJ reference material about the songwriter.

CBS Records International Capitalizes On Country

NASHVILLE — CBS Records International spearheaded the country music campaign overseas, reaching a global market in 1976. Particular success was found in countries where Columbia, Epic and Monument artists were themselves on hand to promote their extensive catalogs and most recent product via tours and television appearances in England, Holland, Germany and the Scandinavian countries.

The CBS International effort is directed by M. Richard Asher, president, and his team in New York; Allen Davis, vice president, creative services; Bunny Freidus, vice president of marketing services; and Vincent Romeo, vice president of international artist development.

Epic's first lady Tammy Wynette has maintained the momentum which resulted from her #1 singles "Stand By Your Man" and "D-I-V-O-R-C-E." Most recently, Wynette garnered the chart-topping slot for "Till I Can Make It On My Own."

George Jones is recognized as a country giant overseas. Currently, Jones' "Alone Again" LP is climbing the charts.

Columbia artist Johnny Cash remains the pioneer in taking country music to the European audiences. Cash is a long-established favorite of country music audiences throughout Europe. Cash, on the continent earlier this year, increased his share of the European market with highly successful concert tours which included Germany, Switzerland, France, Holland and Sweden.

Columbia's Willie Nelson, another European favorite, flew to London in March specifically to perform at the New Victoria, sharing the bill with Monument's Billy Swan. By European demand, Nelson's forthcoming LP "The Troublemaker" will be released in Europe. Additionally, Lynn Anderson, Sonny James, Mac Davis and the Oak Ridge Boys have captured international success.

Monument

Monument secured Roy Orbison this year and released his "Greatest Hits" LP, which captured and held the number one post on the United Kingdom charts for three consecutive weeks, remaining in the top ten for ten additional weeks. Orbison's "Greatest Hits" LP secured the revered gold status.

Epic's Joe Stampley will embark on his initial European tour in November, with concert tours of Germany, England and Holland.

Columbia's Flying Burrito Brothers launched a most successful major European tour which included England, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Germany, with a final date at the Olympia in Paris.

Columbia's Marty Robbins is set for a November release of "Border Town Affair" in the United Kingdom. Robbins has consolidated his gains by crossing the Atlantic, as has Columbia songstress Connie Smith.

Epic's Charlie Rich completed a European tour to coincide with his then-current single "Since I Fell For You." Rich's current release "Road Song" is currently climbing the charts in Australia, the United Kingdom and Japan.

Tree Celebrates 25 Years

NASHVILLE — Tree International deserves special recognition this year on the occasion of its 25th anniversary. Established in 1951, Tree has grown from a simple hip-pocket operation into an international empire encompassing 14 foreign offices, in addition to New York, Hollywood, and its Nashville headquarters.

Business within the Tree complex was bolstered this year by a 43% increase in the monies received from its international copyrights. Tree's stateside operation also experienced an upsurge in activity, reporting a 25% increase in the number of Tree songs recorded this past year, as well as a 10% increase in the amount of Tree material consistently in the charts.

Billboard Advertisement

The year of their silver anniversary also saw the Tree organization experimenting with an outdoor billboard advertisement displayed on Sunset Strip in Los Angeles, urging viewers to 'Call A Nashville Hit Man.' Believed to be the first endeavor of its kind for any Nashville-based publishing company, the ad campaign is believed to be a determining factor in the acceptance of Tree songs within that area. More specifically, it is considered to have been largely responsible for the cut they obtained this year on Dionne Warwick, titled "Till I Get It Right," which was authored by Tree's Red Lane.

Expansion within the staff this year found Dan Wilson moving from Jim Reeves Enterprises to the professional department at Tree International, while a number of writers were also added to the roster, including Doodle Owens, Don Cook, Rick Schulman, Janet Stover, Harris M. Taft, Glenn Douglas Tubb, Red J. Williams, Danny Dill, Dan Eckley, Rock Killough, Mike McCale, O.B. McClinton, Rudy McNeely, Gary McConnell, Gene Nordan, Jamie O'Hara, Margo Pendarvis, Allen Rhody, and Betty Jean Robinson, as well as Clark, Edwards & Flynn.

Spearheaded by Jack Stapp, Buddy Killen and Don Gant, Tree International also administers the publishing interests of Twitty Bird, Conway Twitty Music, Warhawk, Uncanny, Stallion, Green Grass Music, Wilderness, Tom Cat, Stairway and Cross Keys.

Tree International is headquartered in its own three-story complex, located at 8 Music Square West, on Nashville's Music Row.

Songwriter Griff Hits 'Pay Dirt' In 1976

NASHVILLE — One of the most consistent songwriters in Nashville, Ray Griff, hit pay dirt in 1976 as the author and publisher on Gene Watson's hit record "Where Love Begins." Griff also reaped the rewards of material he had penned and published this year on other artists such as Hank Snow, Narvel Felts, Randy Cornor, T.G. Sheppard and Crystal Gayle. The current release by Gene Watson, titled "Her Body Couldn't Keep You Off My Mind," also belongs to Griff.

Chart Contenders

Griff composed, produced, arranged, and recorded three chart contenders for Ray Griff Enterprises on Capitol: "If I Let Her Come In," "I Love The Way That You Love Me" and his newest single "That's What I Get (For Doin' My Own Thinkin')."

He also produced his own Capitol albums this year, which gave him his first LP on the label titled "Ray Griff," as well as his current album, "The Last Of The Winfield Amateurs."

Playboy Packs Indy Punch

Expansion Program

The label also launched an expansion program in 1976, which included the Playboy roster additions of Layng Martine, Jr., Benny Barnes, Sunday Sharpe and Theresa Neal.

Spearheaded

Tuneful Year At Young/Deaton

NASHVILLE — 1976 has been another great year for Young/Deaton Publications, owned by Faron Young and Billy Deaton. The various companies, under the direction of Dewayne Orender, have grown and many new songs have been added to the catalogs. "Ain't It Good To Be In Love Again," written by Dewayne Orender, has been recorded by Connie Smith (album), Faron Young (album), and Vicki Fletcher (single). "Be Grateful" written by Don Hosea, was recorded by Charley Pride for his latest gospel LP. "Some Old Rainy Mornin'," written by Jimi Young and Dewayne Orender, was recorded by Faron Young (single and album). Another division of the company, Birchfield Music, owned by Benny Birchfield, Faron Young and Billy Deaton, has had songs recorded by Jean Shepard: "I'm A Believer" written by Ken Jones, "Another Neon Night" written by Joanne Spain and Carolyn Howard (both singles) and "I Can't Imagine" written by Jimi Young and Dewayne Orender (album).

Big Hit

Kilroy, who heads up the Playboy offices in Music City, also created a hit for the label when he put together "After The Storm" by Wynn Stewart, his first big hit since "It's Such A Pretty World Today," which went to #1 for him exactly 10 years ago.

There was also a definite upswing this year in the reaction to Playboy artist Chick Price, whose singles included "Last Of The Outlaws" and "I Don't Want It," both produced by Kilroy.

Another Kilroy production effort resulting in a top 20 hit was "Someone's With Your Wife Tonight, Mister" by Bobby Borchers, whose followup release, "They Don't Make 'Em Like That Anymore," is currently moving up the charts.

An additional accomplishment during the past 12 months at Playboy is the label's first southern distributors meeting. Staged in Atlanta, the conference allowed them to present an in-depth picture of all Playboy product to an assembly of their key sales people in nine southern cities.

Autobiography Highlights The Year For Loretta Lynn

NASHVILLE — About every six months, someone always asks, "How much bigger can Loretta Lynn get?" So far, no one has come up with an answer. Loretta herself simply replies, "How do you expect me to answer a question like that? Whatever you do, you do it the best you can, and you hope that the disk jockeys and the fans will like it."

That seems to be a philosophy that has earned Loretta Lynn a recognition that few entertainers from Nashville have ever achieved. "The most important thing we do every year is our records," says Loretta. "Every once in awhile we kinda lose sight of the fact that making records is what it's all about."

Probably the highlight of 1976 for Loretta has been the publishing and reader acceptance of her autobiography, Loretta Lynn, The Coal Miner's Daughter. Published in April by the Henry Regnery Company of Chicago, the book has achieved national prominence with a period of nine weeks on the New York Times best seller list. "I never thought there was much to my life, at least no more so than lots of other people that I've known, but my manager kept telling me that it's something we should do, so we sat down and found George Vecsey from New York and he traveled with me for over a year, taking down all the stories I could tell him. I think I could have done a book myself, but I don't think I could have put everything in the right place the way George did." The success of Loretta's book continues with the recent sale of the paperback rights to Warner Brothers Books and an anticipated November announcement about the sale of the motion picture rights. Loretta's only regret about making a movie about her life is, "They can't get Gregory Peck to play my father."

'76 Banner Year For Faron Young

NASHVILLE — Faron Young, "The Singing Sheriff" and perennially popular entertainer, has enjoyed an outstanding year, leading off with his successful single releases for Mercury Records: "Feel Again," "I'd Just Be Fool Enough" and the current single "The Best I Ever Had." His latest album, "I'd Just Be Fool Enough," includes "Here I Am In Dallas," "Feel Again" and the title song of the album. All of Young's recordings are under the direction of Jerry Kennedy.

Young, with the Country Deputies, made special appearances several times this year. Among these shows were the July 3 bicentennial event for the WWVA's Wheeling Jamboree, and the bicentennial celebration at Cambridge, Ohio's Salt Fork Junction. Young was chosen to be grand marshal at the 420 Winston Cup Grand National Race at Nashville's Speedway and the Texas Prison Rodeo at Huntsville.

Faron, with special guest artist Dolly Parton, toured the northwest extensively for Jack Roberts in Spokane, Portland, Seattle and the Canadian cities of Edmonton, Winnipeg, Regina and Calgary. Fairs filled most of Faron's remaining schedule; he played to fairgoers at the Alabama State Fair, the Illinois State Fair and Texas' Gregg County Fair.

During the year Faron Young's executive office building in the heart of Music City was completed and is at near total occupancy. Faron maintains his own suite on the top floor of the three-story building which abuts the Music City News building, also owned by Young. Faron has opened his Faron Young's Jailhouse at Third and Broadway in Nashville, a nitery which seats 550 people with an upper level restaurant facility seating 250. Continuous entertainment features star shows on weekends; dinner entertainers Robin Young and Dewayne Orender; and, each weeknight evening, guests and house bands.

Early in February, Loretta swept the Academy of Country Music Award Show by winning the album of the year, best female vocalist of the year, best duo of the year (with Conway Twitty), and the highly coveted entertainer of the year awards.

Then in June, during Fan Fair, the Music City News Readers Poll Awards again voted her awards for the female artist of the year, the album of the year, the duo of the year (with Conway Twitty), and with the Coal Miners for the best traveling road show.

Loretta maintains a grueling pace of over 120 concert appearances a year, not counting television, recording dates, benefits or the time it takes to travel to each of those 120 dates. "People tell me that's a lot of work, I guess maybe it is, but it's just the way I was brought up. I don't see nothing wrong with work. I guess what really terrifies me is the thought of what happens when they don't want me anymore. I've had about everything that an entertainer can get, and I really owe it all to my fans. The thought of cutting down also makes me laugh. I can just see myself 10 or 15 years from now down on the ranch begging people to take my autograph when they get lost and wind up in front of the house."

Asked why she continues at the pace she does, Loretta shrugs and says, "I really don't know. They tell me I've got a lot of money in the bank and that I can afford to do just about anything I want to. I guess what it really comes down to is that the fans and the disk jockeys and everyone have been so good to me that I feel I really owe 'em and as long as they want me on stage or on television or anywhere else, I'll be there."

And that's the philosophy that has made Loretta Lynn.

Don Williams Made It Look Easy

NASHVILLE — Don Williams is as uncomplicated a performer and talent as can be found. He very simply writes good country songs, entertains without frills up front before just two traveling pickers, and leaves the stage and business for home and family when not committed for a performance the next day. You just don't find Don Williams hanging out a lot with the show biz crowd; he'd much rather take his two boys fishing, and he's been known to turn down radio appearances even to plug a new record when it cut into his brief time spent at home in Ashland City, Tenn.

If John R. Cash is the man in black, Don Williams is the man in denim and a worn, rolled, cavalry-type hat. There's no mistaking the trademark uniform he wears to any and all functions. The simplicity of his dress is an extension of the simplicity of the man and he likes it just fine, thank you.

His sweet country ballads are as comfortable and devoid of flash as the artist who created them; country in feel, yet not much at all in sync with the "new sounds" heard today from Nashville outlaws and superpickers. His shows probably contain more music content than his contemporaries, because Don Williams finds it difficult to make small talk on stage. He'd rather give you a song, allow you to soak it up and then strum another. Don's audiences are thoroughly appreciative of his style and the almost boyish charm he emits up there under the lights. They applaud and stand and ask for more from the entertainer who does his thing in a most casual way, at least to the onlooker.

Don Williams has proven himself in the past couple of years in the U.S., sending his single and album releases to number one on the charts and causing fans to request his songs all the time on radio. He paid his dues; it's time. And since last April when he caused all-out pandemonium at the Wembley Festival in London shortly after being named country performer of the year by the CMA in Britain, he is on a second tour of the UK. The British took his "Gypsy Woman" single and sent it to number one on country charts, then made it a pop hit too. They caused six of his LPs to be listed simultaneously on music charts this summer in positions one, two, three, four, fifteen and nineteen, breaking an all-time record.

Upcoming for Don are appearances at the Palomino Club in North Hollywood (10/27), concerts in other cities, other states, and a most prestigious headlining gig at Carnegie Hall, N.Y. in early February. He just wrapped up studio time on a seventh album for ABC/Dot and will be back soon to write and record more good country songs. The writing is an obsession and his real first love, professionally.

Sound Shop Has 'Sound Future' In '76

NASHVILLE — Sound Shop, Inc. saw business soar to new heights of success this past year with an increase of over 40 percent in its studio bookings.

Serving both music and advertising, the Sound Shop has consistently attracted top recording stars while garnering a reputation for its highly creative commercial productions for a host of national advertisers.

Schedule

1976 saw many well-known names appear on the Sound Shop schedule, such as Tanya Tucker, La Costa, John Hartford, Lester Flatt, Vassar Clements, Mickey Gilley, Jerry Lee Lewis, Bill Anderson, Johnny Tillotson, T.G. Sheppard, Dolly Parton and TV personality Anson Williams.

Commercial productions involved such accounts as Budweiser, Amax Coal, John Deere, Bell Telephone and Dodge trucks. Among Nashville artists utilized within that area were Ed Bruce, Arlene Hardin, Jan Howard, Bobby Braddock and Loretta Lynn.

24-Track System

A major expansion also took place within the studio itself this year when the Sound Shop installed a 24-track system, along with a new set of Dolby noise suppressors to further accommodate its customers.

Internally, there were two major promotions made this year, when Jon Shulenberger was elevated from the post of secretary-treasurer to executive vice-president and John Curtis Meyer was named vice-president.

Cleo

The highest honor that can be claimed in the world of advertising — the Cleo — was also earned by the Sound Shop this year, when Jon Shulenberger picked up the

'76 Brought Hits To Window Music

NASHVILLE — Window Music, part of the success story of producer/steel guitar player Pete Drake, is located with Drake's other operations at 809 18th Avenue South.

Window's success in the last year has been led by the talented singer/songwriter Linda Hargrove with hits by Johnny Rodriguez, "Just Get Up And Close The Door," Olivia Newton-John, "Let It Shine," Lynn Anderson, "I've Never Loved Anyone More," and a number of chart records of her own, "Love, You're The Teacher" and "Love Was (Once Around The Dance Floor)." Linda Hargrove has become one of Nashville's premier female songwriters.

The Mysterious Rhinestone Cowboy, David Allan Coe penned "Long-Haired Redneck" (with Jimmy Rabbitt) for a chart record for David on Columbia Records. David has been with Window Music six years and has had cuts by Tammy Wynette, George Jones, David Rogers, Melba Montgomery, Tanya Tucker, Johnny Cash, Barbara Fairchild and Jimmy Rabbitt.

Style

Larry Ballard is another Window writer/artist who is quickly stepping into the mainstream of country music with a style all his own. In the three years Larry has been with Window he's had cuts by Linda Hargrove, David Rogers, Melba Montgomery and Nick Nixon.

Newcomer to the Window Music staff Jeff Tweel brings to Nashville his country soul. Jeff penned Skeeter Davis' new single "I Love Us." Other artists who have cut Jeff's songs include Brenda Lee, Billie Jo Spears, Del Reeves, Melba Montgomery, Arlene Hardin, Pam Rose, Larry Ballard and Ronnie Robbins.

Just recently signed with Window Music, but no newcomer to the music business, is Rex Gosdin. He was with the Gosdin Brothers who recorded the hit, "Just Enough To Keep Me Hangin' On." Rex has had songs recorded by several major artists.

Pete Drake is always listening for new talent, always having a special interest in young writer/artists.

Rose Trimble, administrator and general manager for Window, has recently completed setting up representation for sub-publishing around the world.

award for his creative efforts on Baldwin Music's Fun Machine radio commercials.

Woodland Lays Down Tracks

NASHVILLE — Nine years ago, Woodland Sound Studios began its career in the music industry. Since beginning operation in 1967, Woodland has since expanded from one studio to two full service studios, including a Studer-Neve 24 track studio service, two Newman equipped mastering rooms, an editing room and film facilities.

This past year has proved to be its most successful, for it has drawn an increasing amount of business from the realms of motion picture producers and the wide range of country and pop artists.

Woodland was used to produce music tracks for Robert Altman's movie "Nashville," and for Mulberry Square Productions, the tracks for the movie "Hawmps." A musical production which was the main attraction at Circus World in Florida was recorded at Woodland, with Bill Pursell conducting a 40-piece orchestra during the session. The score itself was written by Paul Crabtree.

Woodland's Westlake mastering room celebrated its first anniversary this past summer. The room was the first of a new generation of oval-shaped rooms specifically designed for reproducing the master tape and transferring this signal to the lacquer. The use of first class seats from a 727 jetliner (for the producer, artist and engineer) added an offbeat touch.

Thus, Woodland Sound Studios wraps up another year in the music business aided by its staff which includes: president Glenn Snoddy, chief engineer Jim Pugh, engineers Rex Collier, David McKinley, Lynn Pterzell, Les Ladd and Mike Porter, mastering engineer Denny Purcell and secretaries Dee Henry, Mary Lynn Campbell and Vici Ballard.

Screen Gems Made Changes In '76

NASHVILLE — This past year has seen many important changes in the Nashville Screen Gems office. Now under new corporate management, the company's BMI name is Screen Gems-EMI Music Inc., and the ASCAP company is Colgems-EMI Music Inc.

Paul Tannen continues as general manager, Charles Feldman as professional manager and Phyllis Hill as office manager. The company has enlarged its space and now occupies both floors of 1207 16th Avenue South. A small demo studio is in the works, and more space for songwriters has been created.

This past year Screen Gems acquired the Press Music catalog from Chips Moman, and has had chart action on such songs as "Suspicious Minds," "Cry Like A Baby," "Here's Some Love," "Hang On Feelin'" and "Take Me To Heaven."

A stronger emphasis has been placed on writer/artists in the past year, and the company's efforts in this area will be seen in the coming year with released product by the Side of the Road Gang (Capitol), Paul Harrison (RSO) and Bettye Pierce (RCA). The Side of the Road Gang charted with their first single, "Suitcase Life," and a second single from their album, entitled "What Am I Doin' Hangin' 'Round," has just been released.

Record deals are currently pending on David Patton, Michael J. Martin, The Jeff Pollard Band and Max D. Barnes.

Mark James has recently received BMI citations for two million-performance songs in the Screen Gems catalog, "Suspicious Minds" and "Hooked On A Feeling." Screen Gems has constantly been in the country charts with material from both new writers, as well as its catalog. Country and contemporary writers currently working with the Screen Gems professional staff are: Mark James, Paul Harrison, John Beland, Mac Davis, Max D. Barnes, David Patton, Michael J. Martin, Bobby Abshire, Buzz Rabin and Alan Ross.

Year Of Growth At Anderson Ent.

NASHVILLE — 1976 was a year of growth, change and excitement at Bill Anderson Enterprises. The year started with Bill and Mary Lou's hit record "Sometimes," followed by another hit single, "That's What Made Me Love You," and the "Sometimes" album. "Peanuts And Diamonds" was released as a single for Bill in July, followed by his latest album in September, "Peanuts And Diamonds And Other Jewels."

Mary Lou Turner also had her biggest record to date in the summer of 1976, "It's Different With You," written by Bill Anderson. Bill also became a record producer this year when he formed Whisper Byrd Productions in conjunction with Mary Lou's husband David Byrd. They are now producing Jimmy Gately's records for ABC/Dot and will soon produce the Po' Boys for MCA.

Another exciting event of the past year was Bill's election to the Nashville Songwriter's Association Hall of Fame. 1976 was also the year that Bill achieved one of his life-long ambitions . . . to own his own radio station. He now not only owns one, but is actively involved in its operation. It's KFTN radio in Provo, Utah, and needless to say, programs country music.

The Bill Anderson fan club continues to grow under the able guidance of Jeanne Gaddis, who not only operates the fan club, but serves as financial assistant to Bill Anderson Enterprises as well. Jeanne has been with Bill's organization for over seven years.

Bill Hudson & Associates Made More History In 1976

NASHVILLE — Bill Hudson, president of Bill Hudson & Associates, has played an important part in the professional promotion of Nashville's entire music industry for over 13 years as a top executive within the field of advertising and public relations.

Bill Hudson has been an effective pioneer in promoting the "Nashville sound" and has been instrumental in extending the image of Nashville's music industry beyond its own city limits.

One of the most successful assignments completed by Hudson's organization was coordinating the United Nations visit to Tennessee.

Serving as project director for over 100 permanent representatives to the United Nations, Bill Hudson moved to special UN offices to coordinate this event, which gave each ambassador the opportunity of taking home his own individual impression of Music City, USA. Through personal appearances by Dottie West, Freddie Hart and The Stoney Mountain Cloggers, as well as an Opryland tour and special performance of the Grand Ole Opry, this project created good will and resulted in international press for the music industry. It was hailed by the secretary of state as "an innovation in American diplomacy."

Hudson spearheads Nashville's oldest PR operation and is considered by many the "dean" of public relations in Music City. His involvement within the music industry on various levels has allowed Hudson to establish a highly successful track record and to help expand all boundaries of the business.

Hudson has coordinated the Nashville visits of such celebrities as Paul McCartney, Carol Channing and Burt Reynolds. During the past three years, he has played matchmaker in the marriage of the music industry to political campaigns from Nashville to Washington, handling the successful campaigns of Governor Ray Blanton and Mayor Richard Fulton. And this past year his agency even extended into the campus area when staffer Betty Hofer became the first instructor of a formal course in music business PR at Belmont College.

PR clients currently represented by Bill Hudson & Associates are Tree International, Ray Griff, Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass, The Sound Shop, Inc., Beech Bend Park and Playboy Records.

CBS: Marketing Is A Science

NASHVILLE — One year ago this month, CBS Records launched a long-range major marketing program and organized a marketing team that has molded the selling of country music product into a science, and has made new and vital contributions to the unrivaled acceptance enjoyed by country music today.

In this marketing move, CBS Records appointed Tony Martell as vice president of marketing, CBS Records, Nashville, thus becoming the initial label to provide a vice president in Nashville to spearhead its country marketing efforts. Martell's appointment solidly sealed CBS Records' commitment to the maintenance and development of its artists' careers and its dedication to the ongoing betterment of the country music industry.

Prepak Program

Shortly after assuming the country marketing reins at CBS, Martell instituted the first major album prepak program in the history of country music. This unprecedented game plan entitled "This Country Is For Everyone" became the first country prepak, and it shipped platinum. Martell commented: "By featuring music that appeals to the entire country music buying audience, our first prepak enabled CBS Records to create new marketing frontiers and rack product into marketplaces previously considered unpenetrable by the country music marketing world." Martell added, "After analyzing the most favorable results realized by our initial prepak program, CBS Records has recently initiated a second country prepak program entitled 'This Is Your Country.' 'This Is Your Country' is yet more organized, refined and sophisticated than our previous venture, and has already displayed indications of soaring to even higher plateaus of marketing achievement."

Recently CBS Records promoted Martell to vice president and general manager for the CBS associated labels. In fulfilling their continuing commitment to country music, CBS immediately secured Rick Blackburn to pilot the vice president of marketing post in Nashville.

New Headquarters

As Blackburn assumes the leadership, CBS moves into their new Nashville marketing headquarters, which will accommodate Blackburn's entire division at 49 Music Square West. Blackburn commented: "With this unprecedented expansion, CBS Records is further acknowledging the unlimited scope and influence of country music. Additionally, we are maintaining an active focus on the southern music movement in its totality that is occurring on a national scale.

"It is my belief that the next five years will provide a major explosion in southern music. It is the total dedication from our CBS marketing staff and family of artists that will make CBS Records the front-runner in that significant section of the industry. With all departments now Nashville-based, we are, in effect, making facilities and expertise available to our country artists in every aspect of career development. I look forward to the challenges and the opportunities that lie ahead."

Most vital components of the extensive country marketing campaign launched by CBS Records during the past year were the members of the Nashville marketing team and the broad-based field force consisting of regional country marketing managers and branch country music specialists.

Sales And Promotion

The national sales and promotion efforts for Columbia Records country are guided by Joe Casey, who assumed these responsibilities after scoring remarkable success with CBS in the southeast. In commenting upon the secret of the Columbia success story, Casey stated: "We are gearing every record release for mass appeal, and are not stifling ourselves by aiming at a select buying audience. With a local promotion staff of 22, a regional staff of five, in addition to our country specialists, we have the most powerful promotion and sales force in the entire world of country music. Our CBS force is operated to work hand-in-hand with product management, publicity, artist development and graphics."

Steering the promotion and sales endeavors for Epic Records and the associated labels is Roy Wunsch. Wunsch, director of national sales and promotion for Epic country, commented upon just one of the numerous prominent areas of progress attained by Epic: "With the total CBS country marketing force, single record sales at Epic have reach unparalleled heights. The sale of non-crossover country records has surpassed all previous figures at Epic. In the past, large percentages of singles sales were due to jukebox activity. However, we have exceeded that today."

Joe Johnson's Total Media Dream Is Now A Reality

NASHVILLE — For two and a half years most people in Nashville thought that the innocent looking six-story building was probably just going to be another office building. Sure it was on Music Row, but that wasn't a big enough clue. No one suspected that this was going to turn out to be the biggest audio-visual facility around, the home of 4-Star Multi-Media Recording Companies.

As soon as you walk in the door, though, the secret is out. This is certainly not your average Nashville structure. You find yourself in the middle of an atrium, with trees that run up the middle, with waterfalls and with hanging plants and flowers. The sun is dimmed through darkened glass, yet there's a warm feeling to the inner building.

There should be. 4-Star, the brainchild of company president Joe Johnson, is an all-encompassing media operation that looks to create waves in more than Nashville. And the people there are doing it with a graceful style, which accounts for the warmth.

Joe Johnson started out in the music business as a promotion man for Columbia Records, and he soon moved into production work, with songs like "Primrose Lane" and "Release Me" to his credit. ("Release Me," for example, is one of the ten most recorded songs in history!) He formed Challenge Records in the early sixties, but soon became disenchanted with the predominant acid rock sound of the time, so Johnson turned his considerable powers of concentration toward his publishing arm: 4-Star Music.

Thumbing through the 4-Star catalog, one is immediately impressed by its astounding depth in material. "Am I That Easy To Forget" was first recorded by Carl Belew in February 1959 and has been covered by fully more than one hundred other artists up to and including Sammi Smith's version in February of this year. And there are more.

Visions of Video

A few years ago Joe Johnson realized that visual images were going to be combined with sound, good, sound much better than television. He wanted to build a studio that would have the capabilities to record both media with state-of-the-art quality.

"I always wanted to build the finest facility in the world," Johnson revealed. Why this incredible drive? "The best facilities will attract the best talent," he replied. "It's that simple."

Along with great facilities, Johnson knew that he had to have a powerful staff working along with him. He hired Paul Wyatt as marketing manager. Wyatt came to 4-Star with a wealth of varied experience. He'd been director of administration for CBS Records. He'd been a studio manager for Columbia Recording studios in Los Angeles, where in a short five years he increased the billing of that operation ten-fold. He had been involved in publishing on both coasts and he possessed a thorough knowledge of all aspects of sales. In other words, a terrific marketing manager for 4-Star.

Bob Breault came along as studio manager/v.p. in charge of recording. Johnson laughs when he's asked how he feels about stealing Columbia Records' employees, but Breault also came from there, where he was a sound mixer for both studio and remote sessions, and where he became thoroughly familiar with studio setup. Before that, Breault was at Capitol Records, where he was a master dubber. The man brought 27 gold records down to Nashville with him, records awarded for work with artists ranging from Johnny Cash to Santana, certainly a broad and challenging scope.

The three men, with a full complement of assistants, run operations at the just-opened facilities. Within the obviously well utilized 62,000 square feet, there will be three studios by the time everything is finished. The penthouse is a lavish apartment with every luxury you could want; things like saunas and jacuzzis were not overlooked. If a band comes into Nashville and wants to sleep near its work, members can stay in the penthouse or in a smaller apartment on the fifth floor.

Closed-Circuit Producing

This is not so unusual. Look at Caribou or any other studio with sleep-in facilities. But, can any other studio offer artists a chance to sleep where they work? Through the use of closed circuit television, a producer can never leave the penthouse apartment but still produce the session.

And not just one session at a time. 4-Star has three of them, all 24-track. Through complicated and careful planning, 4-Star has come up with three studios that can be patched into one another at a moment's notice. And since every room in the building has the capability to be connected with closed-circuit television, the producer can watch and supervise three studios at once (perhaps, in some of the more relaxed situations, while sipping a cool drink in the comfort of his temporary penthouse digs.)

Other than pure convenience, this is a real breakthrough. While some of the tracks must be used for connecting the three different studios, there are still 69 tracks available if you're using all three. That means a lot to a producer and an artist. That means you can save tracks if you like, as many as one could possibly need to create the perfect guitar solo, or the horn arrangement that sounds natural. And if that same producer is so inclined, he can have every session, in all three studios, videotaped with television's traditional high quality. All the rooms are set up for monitors and cameras.

There will also in the near future be a restaurant on the premises called The Choice. An apt name, this eatery will feature two menus, each diametrically opposed to the other, but both will be high class all the way. Knowing the eclectic tastes of music industry folks, Johnson decided that he better be able to cater to both vegetarians and carnivores; accordingly, there will be a complete menu for both groups of people. The place will be open to the public too, because Johnson thoughtfully made certain that the studios could be made secure from the public aspects of 4-Star. How about the sidewalk cafe that will sit on the edge of the atrium, right next to The Choice?

"That we'll put to double use," explained Johnson. "Of course it will be a charming place to eat, next to the waterfalls and flowers, but it will be just as good when it's

Thanks, Joe Johnson, for taking Ampex along to the top as you soar up to your new 4-Star Multimedia Production Center. With all that Ampex audio and video recording equipment on hand, 4-Star is going to carry the Nashville Sound a long way. [“Video discs,” says Johnson, “are the wave of the future. 4-Star will lease mastering equipment from MCA.”] put to use as a set for television production. Artists can conduct interviews there; they'll never have to leave the building. Plus we've got some interest from independent television outlets who want to produce from there.”

Video-Discs

This last thought brings a crucial point into play, an idea that occurred to Johnson about two years ago. “I heard about video-discs,” he reveals, “checked into them and decided that they were inevitable, the wave of the future. And I also decided, while I was launching into this recording/video studio, that as long as I was going this far, I should prepare for the video-discs.”

Johnson reasoned that since the hardware being developed was slated to cost the consumer about five hundred dollars, and since the video discs themselves would retail for around ten dollars, record buyers would be hard pressed to avoid the innovation. There would have to be places to produce the video discs and 4-Star was going to be one of them.

Video disc hardware is currently being developed by both MCA, in conjunction with Philips, Inc. (in Holland), and RCA. The race is on. The difference between the two proposed systems, Johnson pointed out, is that the MCA/Philips unit works with a laser stylus so that a beam of concentrated light reads the information off the platter. RCA, on the other hand, is working with a more conventional stylus, one that makes actual contact with the record. Johnson prefers, therefore, the MCA/Philips prototype because the video disc will never wear out — it is never touched by a needle.

Johnson further reasoned that there will have to be a place to master these discs and he wanted a chance. He's made an agreement with MCA/Philips that will allow him to lease mastering equipment when the right time comes around.

Along the lines of innovation, 4-Star also made a deal with a company that produces recording hardware: Ampex. This deal promises 4-Star first delivery of any new recording devices. At the beginning of this coming year they will receive a computerized automatic mixing system which will allow the direct transfer of unmixed tapes to disc. Amazingly, this machine will also have the capacity to take care of all of 4-Star's bookkeeping.

Yet, with all this going on, 4-Star has economized space so much that they can rent out one third of the office space. A new CBS marketing office works out of some space on the fifth floor. “We broke it down like this,” said Johnson, “one third for outside office leases, one third for the studios and one third for our offices.”

Nothing Out Of The Question

And although Johnson states that in-house production will account for a small percentage of work done at 4-Star, he says that he is reactivating Challenge Records, and the publishing arm, recently headed by Steve Clark, is in full swing. “There's nothing limiting us to any one field,” Johnson remarked. “There's the video discs, the sound and visual recording, the restaurant, but there's nothing stopping us from going in a million different ways. We've got the capabilities, and I wouldn't move ahead on any project without the qualified personnel or machinery.”

Nothing is out of the question, according to Johnson. He's talking with television people about producing a Nashville-based soap opera out of the studios there. “I've seen a couple of scripts,” he said, “and they look pretty good.”

People in Nashville who've gotten a chance to see the 4-Star complex have been, in a word, impressed. Lawyer Larry Stewart, whose practice has taken him to creative circles within the music industry, said, “The place is incredible! I would advise anyone connected with any aspect of the media to come down here and check it out.”

“We have a landing pad for a helicopter on top of the garage,” Johnson continued, “and an artist could fly in, set up residence in the penthouse for two weeks, or even six months, record an album, and never have to set foot in Nashville. All of his needs will be taken care of.”

How will the rest of Nashville's music establishment (a reputedly hard-knit group) react to 4-Star's venture? “Well,” Johnson mused, “the music people here are top professionals and I know that they respect other professionals. We're going to bring a lot of business here, which can't help but spur business in other places in town. And besides, we're doing something that they're not, which shouldn't cut into their profits. I think things will work out. We've had nothing but good reaction so far.” Indeed, Johnson credited Charlie Tallent, another respected professional in town, with helping 4-Star plan its studio space.

[“We're going to be bringing business to Nashville, which can't help but spur business at other places.” — Joe Johnson]

"Projects" would seem to be Joe Johnson's middle name. He explained another on-going endeavor: "We're in the midst of organizing a World Olympiad of Music," he revealed. "Senator Howard Baker (R.-Tenn.) has sent invitations to all 144 United Nations countries asking them to select what they feel to be the top talent in their specific countries, and we'll go to each of them with a remote unit and record both sound and videotape. Then we'll come back here, make a two-pocket video disc, and besides selling the discs commercially, a copy will be distributed to each country."

An independent venture plans to bring in facilities for lithography and a print shop. This will, according to Johnson, lend a total-package touch to cover everything from t-shirts to album covers.

One of the three studios is equipped specifically for radio broadcast, as well as the traditional recording features. Plans are underway for a hundred foot across geodesic dome on top of the penthouse, a dome that could be used equally well for rehearsal and performance. Indicative of Johnson's style, he went straight to the inventor of the geodesic dome, Bucky Fuller, to get the correct specifications.

Everything Ready

So it seems that Johnson and everyone at 4-Star is ready for the big push. Things have to fall in place to be sure, but there's no reason to think that they won't considering the tremendous strides 4-Star has already taken. Video cassettes and discs must become the booming industry Johnson believes that they will in order for this to work successfully. Look at it this way: nobody believed video cassettes would be the big business that they are now; video discs seem to have the same prospects. Three years ago one didn't know anyone with a video cassette deck; now, one knows four or five. Video stories are starting to appear in the arts sections of Sunday supplements instead of the science departments. And Joe Johnson, who used to be a music publisher, has changed his life and those of his colleagues by creating such a media-accented organization. And if all works like it looks it will, 4-Star will change your life as well.

1976 Was A Productive Year For Singletree-Doubletree-Republic

NASHVILLE — A little less than three years ago, David Burgess arrived in Nashville and established Singletree Music, which obtained exclusive administration and management of Gene Autry Music Enterprises, numbering several publishing companies and hundreds of copyrights. In November 1975, an agreement was signed with Glen Campbell and Burgess wherein Campbell's company would be administered by Singletree, including signing of writers and reviewing material for

Shortly thereafter Singletree pacted an agreement for sole Nashville representation of Fullness Music, Jerry Fuller's company. Fuller, widely acclaimed record producer with production credits for The Union Gap, Andy Williams, Johnny Mathis, Al Wilson and others, has merited over forty million sales.

And before year's end, Singletree purchased the California catalog "Sage And Sand, which contains many copyrights, including "Burning Bridges," "Hill-billy Heaven" and "Lorena." In the spring of 1976 Singletree made yet another publishing administrative agreement — the Hank Williams Jr. catalog, Bocephus Music, Inc. This year Singletree Music established "the Singletree Award" to honor excellence in any facet of the recording of a Singletree copyright. The first such presentation was to Playboy Records' Eddie Kilroy for excellence of production in the song "Don't The Girls All Get Prettier At Closing Time" by Mickey Gilley.

Doubletree Productions, the production portion of the music complex, has exclusive production contracts with Kathy Barnes (Gene Autry's protegee), Larry Barnes, Brian Shaw, David Rogers, Nate Harvell, Dee McCall and The Champs.

Republic Records

In March of this year, Gene Autry, realizing a lifetime ambition to develop an important record label, reactivated the dormant Republic Records when he pacted a long-term agreement with Dave Burgess, made the Burgess Corral at 815 18th Avenue South in Nashville national headquarters for the label and made Burgess vice president and general manager. Signed to the label immediately were Kathy Barnes and Larry Barnes. The label is total in concept, inasmuch as it will be a showcase for new talent and will sign all types of acts. Foreign distribution of all Republic product is handled by London Records with national distribution in the United States by IRDA. Maggie Cavender's agency is retained for public relations and publicity.

Since March the label has signed Nate Harvell, who is sponsored by Hank Williams Jr., David Rogers, Brian Shaw, Dee McCall, and The Champs and "Munch," two pop groups.

Collector's Edition

Republic Records released in July a Gene Autry album package which included a double collector's edition album and three others. Soon after Republic released "The Great American Singing Cowboys," featuring six singing/acting cowboys: Gene Autry, Roy Rogers, Eddie Dean, Rex Allen, Tex Ritter and Jimmy Wakely.

A Gene Autry single, "Back In The Saddle Again" b/w "The Last Roundup," was released from the album.

Pete's Place Is Remodeled

NASHVILLE — Pete Drake's studio on 18th Avenue South, Pete's Place (so named by the pickers in Nashville) has just gone through some major remodeling. In order to enlarge the control room, the 24-track machine, Dolby system and several various multitrack machines have been recessed in the walls. The ceiling was lowered slightly and designed for a truer frequency response from the monitor system. New lighting has been installed to create a more creative atmosphere.

Drake's studio, which has been in operation for nearly three years, has catered to such artists as Meba Montgomery, Linda Hargrove, Leon Russell, Little Richard, James & Bobby Purify and almost all of the Lone Star label artists.

NASHVILLE — SESAC's 12th annual country music awards will take place on Friday evening, Oct. 15.

This year's ceremony (moved from its regular Thursday slot to Friday in order to accommodate the CMA and its dinner-show at the new Opry House) will be held at the Woodmont Country Club in Franklin, Tenn. Featured will be a star-studded show headlining Bert Parks and a bevy of contestants from the 1976 Miss America pageant.

SESAC will limit its announced awards presentations during the evening to only eleven major categories. The bulk of the individual writer, publisher and artist awards will be listed on a printed program and distributed to each guest at the show, with certificates mailed to the winners following the evening's festivities. Annual awards to be presented will be: ambassador of country music, A&R producer of the year, best country single, country music writer of the year, most promising country music writer of the year, and an international award presented for the SESAC song most recorded overseas during the year. Added to these long-established categories will be five new awards including: best country song, best country album, most recorded country song, a SESAC Hall of Fame award, and a special award honoring outstanding journalistic achievement in the field of country music. These eleven awards will be the only presentations made during the evening. Guest presenters will include Eddy Arnold, C.W. McCall, Charley Pride and Faron Young.

Dress for the "invitation only" affair will be optional, with cocktails at 7:00 p.m., show time at 8:00 and a buffet dinner and reception starting at 9:30.

Hosting the affair for SESAC will be its president, A.H. Prager and Brad McCuen, director of country music.

'76 Brought Abundant Hits To Chappell-Nashville

NASHVILLE — A string of #1 hits and top 10 records marked this past year as one of the most successful for the Chappell-Nashville office.

Headed by vice president Henry Hurt, in the 1975-76 season the country music division produced such #1 hits as writer/artist Eddie Rabbitt's "Drinkin' My Baby Off My Mind," Cledus Maggard's "The White Knight" (written by Jay Hugueley), Billy "Crash" Craddock's "Easy As Pie" (by Rory Bourke, Gene Dobbins and Johnny Wilson) and Tanya Tucker's "San Antonio Stroll" (by Peter Noah). In addition, the office had such top chart singles as Tommy Overstreet's "Here Comes That Girl Again" (Bourke, Dobbins, Wilson), Ronnie Prophet's hit renditions of the three Rory Bourke songs "Sanctuary," "Shine On" and "It's Enough," and Bobby Borcher's "Someone's With Your Wife Tonight, Mister" (by Bourke and Wilson).

Bulleled Records

In the current period, Chappell-Nashville is again returning to the top with such bulleted records as Merle Haggard's "Cherokee Maiden" (Cindy Walker and D. Kirby), Marty Robbins' version of the standard "Among My Souvenirs" (Leslie-Nichols) and Bobby Borcher's "They Don't Make 'Em Like That Anymore" (Bourke). Also on the top 100 are David Wills' "What She Bottled Up In Me" (Doodle Owens and Gene Vowell), "One Night" by Roy Head (D. Bartholomew and P. King) and Kenny Starr's "Victims" (Bourke, Dobbins, Wilson).

With a growing catalog of strong copyrights, the songs of Chappell-Nashville are recorded by some of country music's biggest names. Currently represented by over a dozen chart LPs, Chappell's songs can be found in albums by Asleep At The Wheel, Glen Campbell, Roy Clark, Johnny Duncan, Loretta Lynn, Elvis Presley, Johnny Rodriguez and others.

Part of Chappell's growth and success can be attributed to its maintenance of a small but select roster of writers and writer/artists. Exclusively represented by Chappell are Rory Bourke, Johnny Christopher, Gene Dobbins, Jay Hugueley, Hugh Moffatt, Darrell Statler and Johnny Wilson.

In Print

Chappell-Nashville also had many of country's big hits in print. In this area, Chappell released not only the best-selling sheet "Convoy," which was one of this year's biggest singles by C.W. McCall, but also a folio based on his hit LPs "Black Bear Road" and "Wolf Creek Pass." Chappell made its entry into the field of hardcover publications with a successful book by Tom T. Hall entitled "How I Write Songs, Why You Can," and published such music as Cledus Maggard's "The White Knight" and "The Complete Works Of Hank Williams."

Although still a relatively young office, Chappell's country music division continues its growth under the supervision of vice president Henry Hurt and his energetic and creative staff, including Pat Rolfe, Celia Hill and Fay Kirk. With this "convoy" of hits, Chappell-Nashville is on the road to another chart-topping year.

TV Looms Large For Morris Agency

NASHVILLE — "This has been the biggest year in gross business since I have been involved in the business in Nashville," says Bob Neal of the Nashville office of the William Morris Agency.

The staff of the William Morris office was strengthened recently with the addition of Dolores Smiley, long considered one of the top booking agents and one of the most knowledgeable people in Nashville's music industry. One of the primary reasons for the addition of her expertise to the Nashville staff was for extra concentration in television areas. Her many contacts and friends make it possible for the clients of Nashville to have extremely strong representation. Dolores joined the staff of booking agents which includes Bob Neal, Sonny Neal and Dave Douds.

Top country attractions represented by William Morris include Bobby Bare, Tom T. Hall, C.W. McCall, Jerry Reed, Charlie Rich, Jeannie C. Riley, Johnny Rodriguez, Rex Allen Jr., Asleep At The Wheel, Barbi Benton, Linda Hargrove, The Hart Family, Marilyn Sellars and Jim Stafford. In the past few weeks, new artists signed by the office include Alex Harvey, Eddie Rabbitt, Billy Swan, and most lately Tommy Overstreet.

The climax of the year came with the auditions and taping of a new pilot for CBS TV.

Columbia Records Packs Innovative Country Clout

NASHVILLE — Columbia Records states that in the past year over 70% of their country artists have consistently placed songs in the upper realm of the charts, and over 81% of all singles released reached the top 20. With the successful delivery of newly-acquired artists, and the constant focus on the maintenance and development of the careers of their numerous established artists, Columbia Records reconfirmed its status as a leader, innovator and trend-setter in the country music industry. With sales at an all-time high, Columbia Records is producing and marketing product that appeals to the total spectrum of the country music buying audience.

Columbia Artists

Willie Nelson's first Columbia single, "Blue Eyes Cryin' In The Rain," was a number one country record and crossed over into a top-forty hit. His first Columbia album, "Red Headed Stranger," went gold. His second Columbia single, "Remember Me," achieved the number one post. Nelson's second Columbia album, "Sound In Your Mind," captured the number one position and is currently approaching gold status. Nelson has sold over two million Columbia albums and singles. Nelson is nominated in three categories for the upcoming CMA Awards: "entertainer of the year," "male vocalist of the year" and "vocal duo of the year" (with Waylon Jennings). His current release "If You've Got The Money" recently held the chart-topping position, and his just released spiritual-flavored "Troublemaker" LP has already entered both the country and pop charts. Columbia also returned the legendary Johnny Cash to his appropriate spot — on top, with his number one single and high charting album "One Piece At A Time," Cash's first #1 since 1970.

Marty Robbins returned to Columbia (having no number one record since his departure). His homecoming was triumphant as his first release, "El Paso City," rose to the number one domain on the national country charts. His second release "Among My Souvenirs" is following the same Columbia hit pattern. Robbins won the first Grammy Award for a country song. He was the last performer to play the stage of the old Ryman, and the first to grace the stage at the new Opry House.

Columbia launched an extensive campaign and shot Johnny Duncan to the number one pocket on the national country charts; "Stranger" became the first #1 record of Duncan's career. Currently, "Thinkin' Of A Rendezvous" is rapidly geared toward the same place. Columbia's "Best Of Johnny Duncan" LP remains in the upper categories of the album charts.

Moe Bandy joined Columbia this year as a healthy singles artist with weak album sales. Bandy's first Columbia single and album, "Hank Williams, You Wrote My Life," changed that, and established Bandy as an important LP artist. Enlarging that success, Bandy followed with hits "The Biggest Airport In The World" and "Here I Am Drunk Again."

Columbia signed, from the enormously successful "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" television series, Mary Kay Place — known to her millions of fans as Loretta Haggars. Loretta's debut Columbia LP, "Mary Kay Place Starring Loretta Haggars" includes her first single release, "Baby Boy." A major metro market tour is planned and Mary Kay has been cast to star in Martin Scorsese's "New York, New York" film with Liza Minnelli.

"The Southern Gentleman" Sonny James, rose, as always, to the forefront, as the industry became increasingly aware of his genuine versatility as a talent. James' historically valuable "200 Years of Country Music" LP was recognized by President Ford and the Bicentennial Committee. "200 Years of Country Music," which includes hits "Back In The Saddle Again" and "The Prisoner's Song," is nominated for "album of the year" for the 1976 CMA Awards. Additionally, "Guitars of Sonny James" album with heavy airplay hits "Eres Tu" and "Apache" won James praise as a quality instrumentalist.

David Allan Coe produced three hits in "You Never Even Called Me By My Name," "Long-Haired Redneck" and "Willie, Waylon And Me." In the past twelve months, Columbia has firmly established Coe in the marketplace as a unique talent with national acceptance.

Workin'

Always on tour working the biggest country dates in America, Lynn Anderson proceeded with her hit-making ways during the past year as "Dixieland," "Paradise" and "All The King's Horses" appeared on the country singles chart, as does her latest single "Sweet Talkin' Man." A semi-regular on "Celebrity Sweepstakes" with guest appearances on "The Tonight Show," "The Midnight Special" and "The Olympics Special," among others, the national demand for Lynn's talent continues to soar.

Homecoming

Freddy Weller returned home to Columbia this year, and Columbia released Weller's "Greatest Hits" LP and followed with three releases which established Weller as a consistent chartmaker: "Liquor, Love, and Life," "Ask Any Old Cheater Who Knows" and "Room 269." Columbia has also discovered a heavy teen appeal market for the former member of Paul Revere and The Raiders.

Mac Davis, Barbara Fairchild, Faith O'Hara, and Connie Smith repeatedly provided top singles and albums throughout the year. After three years of a steadily building Columbia career, Connie Smith hit with her top-five "Till I Kissed You."

Production

Billy Sherrill, vice president, A&R, CBS Records, governs all record production and studio efforts for Columbia's Nashville headquarters. Ron Bledsoe, vice president, talent acquisition, steers the drive for new artists and future trends. While Sherrill produces many of the Columbia artists, he is capably assisted by Bledsoe, along with Glenn Sutton, Ray Baker, Don Davis, Charlie Bragg, Johnny Cash, George Richey, Brian Ahern, Glen Spreen and Larry Rogers.

The Columbia Nashville marketing team is committed to success — success unequalled by any record company in the country industry.

Marketing

The label's vice president of marketing Tony Martell has piloted the entire thrust of total marketing efforts for the past year, building a national network of country music specialists, coordinating a prepack which shipped platinum and putting together the most sophisticated marketing team to hit country music.

Joe Casey directs all sales and promotion for Columbia Records. In addition to Martell and Casey, departments of product management, graphics and art, artist development, and press and public information comprise the force based in Nashville.

Columbia has added new dimensions to the country music industry in 1976 through the innovative and dedicated expansion and total development of its roster and its very special commitment to country.

CMH Records Formed In 1976

LOS ANGELES — CMH Records, a contemporary music label with a heavy emphasis on bluegrass music, was formed in Los Angeles in April by Martin Haerle and Arthur Smith.

At the same time, Haerle and Smith announced the signing of Mac Wiseman, Lester Flatt & the Nashville Grass, Don Reno & Bill Harrell, Grandpa Jones with Ramona & Brown's Ferry Four, Carl Story and Benny Martin to the label.

The initial CMH release of the aforementioned artists consisted of a series of six newly recorded two-record sets and twin-pack tapes of "bluegrass classics," which were distributed through independent distributors in mid-April.

"CMH will release traditional bluegrass product by some of the biggest names in the field," says Haerle, who is the company's president and who personally handles the marketing, sales, promotion and administration of CMH Records, "but we will also move into the 'newgrass' field of music, where some of the younger performers mix traditional bluegrass with contemporary rock and country elements."

Haerle's roots in country/bluegrass music extend back to 1960, when he was vice president of Starday Records in Nashville during that company's early successful years. In 1964 he left Starday and pursued his personal interests in country music radio. Later in 1968 he joined United Artists Records, and for the past five years has headed U.A.'s manufacturing division as general manager, supervising the operations of the All Disc and Research Craft pressing plants and the Liberty/UA tape duplicating plant.

Smith, who is CMH's vice president of

A&R, is responsible for the creative activities of the company. He will work with outside producers as well as produce a number of the label's acts himself. He operates his own recording studios in Charlotte, N.C. and for many years has produced and syndicated his "Arthur Smith Television Show," currently in over 60 markets. Smith authored "Dueling Banjos" from the motion picture "Deliverance."

Tremendous Growth

Haerle notes that bluegrass music has experienced a tremendous growth over the past couple of years. "The college-educated consumer has been the largest contributing factor in the marked rise in sales of bluegrass product. I attribute this to the attempt of young people today to shed their urban surroundings and get back to their more traditional roots." He projects that CMH will release at least 25 albums in its first year.

Cowboy's Saga Goes On

NASHVILLE — The amazing saga of the irrepressible Jack "Cowboy" Clement continues to surprise the Nashville music industry. After a quarter-century career in music, Cowboy has chalked up successes as a songwriter, publisher, studio builder and producer. He now has his sights on a career as a performing artist, a role he initially assumed shortly after the Korean War.

Public Appeal

A series of sell-out shows at Nashville's Exit/In and Old Time Picking Parlor have proven his appeal to the public. The Music City recording industry has taken notice of these shows — details of the contract and label should be announced soon.

Con Brio Shows Enthusiasm In 1976

NASHVILLE — 1976 has been a good year for Con Brio Records with marked growth in the areas of sales and in the level of consumer acceptance.

Con Brio boasts a roster of fine artists like: Sheila Tilton, the Hawaiian songbird who recently climbed the national charts with her rendition of the Hank Williams song "Half As Much"; Dale McBride, the original Texas "good guy" from Lampasas in the Lone Star State, who is widely known for his club work in the southwest; Don King, prolific songwriter and energetic entertainer originally from Omaha, Nebraska, who has now settled in Nashville; Lori Parker, cute, wide-eyed and very talented, from Oceana in West Virginia; Reg Lindsey, Australia's number one country music entertainer, who now does the majority of his recording in Nashville. Reg has quite a collection of gold records and awards accumulated Down Under and 1977 could very well be the year he makes his mark on the United States country music scene; Debbie Grebel, from St. Louis, Missouri is a well known club performer in her local home town. She has received a Bachelor of Music Degree from Fontbonne College in St. Louis.

Well-Rounded Label

Each of these artists has something individual to offer and the people at Con Brio feel this makes for a well-rounded label.

All artists on the label are produced by Nashville producer, music director and arranger Bill Walker, who acts as executive producer for the label.

Promotion for the label is handled by Biff Collie, vice president in charge of promotion, and he is capably assisted by Edie McCrosky and Carol Marrero. Betty and Debbie Gibson, representing the label's distributors, Nationwide Sound Distributors, also work on promotion.

Other people involved with the label include:

Jeff Walker, who handles the financial aspects of the company's operation; Dee Parf, who is responsible for all matters associated with public relations; and Jeanine Walker, coordinator for the record company's associated publishing companies.

Con Brio in Italian means "with enthusiasm," and the people behind the young record label are very enthusiastic about the future.

"Dolly" Is Latest TVer From Show Biz, Inc.

NASHVILLE — In 1960 a company was formed to produce a television show around a young star. The company was Show Biz, Inc., the star was Porter Wagoner, and the show was "The Porter Wagoner Show" — shot in black and white (as was most everything back in those days) on the marvelous new invention — videotape. The videotape had to be sent to Chicago where kine (film) copies were made. Not many TV stations had videotape equipment then, and virtually no TV station except those in states contiguous to Tennessee would consider running "a hillbilly show."

The people at Show Biz knew that they were launching something big — both in the star selected for the first show, and in the venture itself. But probably no one realized back then that within the next 15 years Nashville would become a major production center for television entertainment programs.

Nor did anyone realize that Show Biz, Inc. would become a leader in the field of production of first run entertainment TV shows for syndication.

3 Years Ago

This season Show Biz is continuing on a carefully-conceived pattern activated three years ago, broadening the exposure for the Nashville sound each television year through a new and varied half-hour series. The first show in this plan was "Pop Goes The Country," hosted by Ralph Emery and featuring a wide variety of stars of the Nashville sound. Now in its third year, "Pop!" is seen each week on 131 stations. The following year brought "Nashville On The Road," which takes the stars to the people. Show Biz travels hosts Jim Ed Brown and Jerry Clower and guest stars to such places as the Mississippi Gulf Coast, Six Flags Over Texas, the Florida resort strip and so forth for the shooting of this show, which is now seen on 111 stations.

The entry for this season — "Dolly," starring Dolly Parton — is by far the most elaborate, most expensive Nashville-controlled production to date. Industry sources estimate the budget for "Dolly" at $85,000 to $100,000 per episode. With 126 stations and almost all of the major TV markets, "Dolly" is being seen by more people in more markets than any other total-Nashville TV series ever before.

Television has grown — Nashville has grown — country music has grown since Show Biz launched that first major show 16 years ago.

Chellmans Busy In Music City

NASHVILLE — Eight years ago a team of music executives was formed: Chuck Chellman and his wife Georgia Chellman, known professionally as Georgia Twitty. From a very small and unpretentious beginning, the team has expanded to become a major identity in the country music world.

The Chuck Chellman Company, headquartered at the Chellman Building, 1201 16th Ave. S., Nashville, Tenn. is the parent company for a multitude of activities. The primary interest of Chuck Chellman is record promotion, working for companies like April/Blackwood Music, Sunbury/Dunbar Music, Brunswick Records, Midland Records, DeLite, Atlantic, Denim, and artists like Conway Twitty, Loretta Lynn, Tom T. Hall, Jim Ed Brown and Helen Cornelius, Danny Davis, Jerry Reed and many others.

Record Label

In addition to his promotion activities, Chellman does independent production for his record label, Renegade, a custom service label primarily used for exposure of new artists to the radio media.

Business Structure

Adventure Music and Touchdown Music are publishing companies under the parent Chuck Chellman business structure. Georgia Twitty serves as active head of these two groups. Last year and this year, Adventure Music (ASCAP) has won awards for songs published. Jim Foster, artist and writer who is currently helping put together the publishing catalog, was given an ASCAP award for his song "That's How My Baby Builds A Fire," recorded by Johnny Russell on RCA. This year the award received will be for "Who Wants A Slightly Used Woman," written by Tommy Boyce and recorded by Connie Cato on Capitol.

P.R.

Georgia Twitty's main interest is in representing artists and record companies through public relations and publicity. Her company name is Veeson International, and offices are also in the Chellman Building. Ms. Twitty is currently executive director for FICAP, (Federation of International Country Air Personalities). FICAP is a newly formed trade organization that has a great number of members in the radio field, and associate members in other areas of the music industry. One of the main functions of FICAP is to fund the Country Music Disc Jockey Hall of Fame that was founded in 1975 by Chuck Chellman. Chellman is the trustee for the foundation.

Label.

WE HELPED MAKE COUNTRY MUSIC HEARD ROUND THE WORLD.

In 1940, Broadcast Music Incorporated became the first licensing organization for Country music. We made sure that publishers and writers had their performance royalty rights protected. And, in doing so, BMI has helped make Country part of our nation.

However, we've helped Country artists earn more than just money. For with the aid of 38 foreign performing rights societies, they've also earned international recognition. Which is why most Country writers and publishers license their music through BMI in the first place. You see, when it comes to helping Country writers, we've got everyone beat by a Country mile.
