COVER STORY

Vesta

"I truly believe I was conscious of music in the womb," says A&M recording artist Vesta. "There are a lot of things I do, jazzy things, that I shouldn't know how to do. My mother listened to a lot of Sarah Vaughan, Nancy Wilson and Aretha."

The Ohio-born Vesta definitely has the beat of the heartland, and the feel of radio in her blood. Her dad was a DJ, her mom a dancer, and Vesta was blessed by a magnificent singing voice that has earned her accolades throughout the music world. She started singing back-up for such luminaries as Chaka Khan, Bobby Womak, The Commodores, Crusaders, Jeffrey Osborne, Jermaine Jackson, Juio Iglesias, Miles Davis, Gladys Knight and Lone Justice. Finally, on her latest LP on A&M called Vesta 4 U, she knows where she belongs.

"I always felt I should be out front," says Vesta. Her confidence is justified. On this exciting collection she ranges from exciting dance tunes like "Here/Say" and "4U" to a brilliant jazz-tinged stretch "Hunger" and the vocal showcase "Congratulations" with ease. She's backed-up by great players like Paul Jackson Jr. on guitar, Freddie Washington on bass and Gary "Floyd" Prim on keyboards. With the help of co-writer's and co-producers Atlala Zane Giles, David Crawford and Tena Clark, Vesta is proving that she is a force in music to be reckoned with.

Warner/Elektra/Atlantic Holds National Sales Bash

BURBANK, CA. - The Warner/Elektra/Atlantic group of record labels held its annual sales meeting in New Orleans August 27-31. In attendance were personnel from WEA, its various labels, Warner Home Video, Warner Special Products, WEA Manufacturing, WEA Canada and Warner Communications, Inc.

The four-day agenda included after-dinner live performances by ZZ Top, Buckwheat Zydeco, David Lindley, Melissa Etheridge and Judson Spense. Many WEA artists made guest appearances, including Tracey Chapman, Brian Eno, the Sugar-cubes, Julian Lennon and Robbie Robertson.

At the convention, forty-three awards were presented for sales excellence. The "Branch of the year" award went to Cleveland, and "Manager of the Year" award to Cleveland branch manager Mike Spence. The annual award for excellence in the marketing of black music went to Atlanta. Andy Uterano of New York was named "Branch Sales Manager of the Year," Bill Brown of Seattle was named "District Sales Manager of the Year," and Pat Boatenreiter of Atlanta was named "Marketing Coordinator of the Year."

"Y.E.S. To Jobs" A Success

LOS ANGELES - A&M Records has announced that 16 of 1988's 109 minority students for whom the label's Y.E.S. To Jobs employment found summer jobs, have been hired for full-time permanent positions in the record business. In addition, many of the students who are continuing on to college have changed their curriculums to include subjects that reflect their recently discovered interest in music related fields.

"The Y.E.S. To Jobs Program was conceived in 1987 with several goals in mind," stated Gil Friesen, President of A&M Records. "First, we wanted to provide meaningful summer employment for high school students, while providing them with positive exposure to a business about which they would have little opportunity to learn otherwise." He continued, "Not unselfishly, we hoped to find a new resource of talent and ideas for our industry."

1988 saw the program expand to more than twice as many student participants as last year, from 50 to 109, and involve an expanding list of employers. The WEA (Warner/Elektra/Atlantic) Corp. alone employed 15 students in five cities; three of those students will be staying on as permanent employees. Other employers included radio and television stations, retailers, printers and industry trade magazines.

Y.E.S. TO JOBS - A&M President Gil Friesen and A&M recording artist Jeffery Osborne are pictured in Los Angeles with students who have successfully completed this year's Y.E.S. To Jobs summer high school employment program.

EMI-Manhattan Records Becomes EMI

LOS ANGELES - EMI-Manhattan Records has officially changed its name to EMI, it was recently announced by label President and CEO Sal Licata. Along with the change of name, a new logo has been designed.

Commenting on the label's modification to EMI, Licata said, "The paring down of the label's name to simply EMI is part of our effort to develop a name and reputation that is characteristic of our increasing strength and prominence within the industry, while maintaining our international reputation and historic identity. The name EMI has long been regarded world-wide as a leader in music. The new look logo is striking, bold and direct... all ideas that are representative of our achievements, past and present."

Reassignments At BMI

NEW YORK - BMI President and CEO Frances W. Preston has announced a restructuring of BMI's New York and Los Angeles offices. The shift is a result of several reassignments and vacancies created by the recent instatement of an early retirement program.

Rick Riccobono, Assistant V.P. and G.M. has been named to run the L.A. offices's Performing Rights, Writer/Publisher Relations and Performing Rights Administration departments. The assignment was made after the retirement of Ron Anton, V.P. California and Marvin Mattis, Assistant V.P., California. Rick Sanjek, Assistant V.P. Writer/Publisher Relations in New York expands his responsibilities to include all of the New York Writer/Publisher Relations staff, as well as New York's Performing Rights Administration, Musical Theatre and Jazz and Concert Music. This follows the retirement of Stanley Catron in New York. Jean Banks has been named Senior Director of Musical Theatre and Jazz and Norma Grossman has been promoted to Director of the Musical Theatre department.

A BENEFIT FOR THE HOMELESS

Comedy was provided by Aykroyd, John Candy, Lorraine Newman, Chevy Chase and Jon Lovitz. Live-musical interludes came from INXS, Toni Childs, The Blues Brothers with Sam Moore, Ziggy Marley & The Melody Makers, and a joint performance courtesy of Paul Simon and John Cougar Mellencamp (who performed together for the first time ever).

All proceeds from specialized t-shirt sales (available both at the show and through mail order) will be donated to the homeless through the Hard Rock Cafe Foundation.

DRIVE ALL NIGHT - Drive All Night, an innovative 12-piece R&B band, have been generating quite a bit of noise around town lately with their specialized brand of nouveau rhythm and soul. The band - comprised of six horns, four rhythm players and two singers (a highlight is the masterful guitar playing of Adam Levy) - intersperses original tunes with a select number of well-chosen and re-arranged covers. You can catch the band performing at At My Place's seventh anniversary celebration on October 10.

ADDICTED TO IGGY - Fresh on the heels of the release of their major label debut LP (Nothing's Shocking, Warner Bros.), local boys done good Jane's Addiction, have linked up with the incomparable Iggy Pop for a two-week tour in the nation's capitol. The mini-tour began with a performance at Washington, D.C.'s Warner Theatre on September 9 and will culminate on September 22 with a show at Detroit's Royal Oak Theatre. Immediately following, the band will head overseas for some dates before returning to the states sometime in November.

"THE WAVE" IS SWELLING - Los Angeles' KTWV-FM ("The Wave") have announced plans to introduce live announcers to identify music programmed on the station. In addition, the station has added over 500 new cuts to its playlist.

The decision to expand the playlist and add DJ's (in the past the station had no on-air personalities) was announced by KTWV Vice President and General Manager Allan D. Choltwitz. "The changes are in direct response to our listeners and to research which confirmed that the highest level of frustration for our audience was the lack of music identification," Choltwitz stated. "The announcers will identify the music in a very brief, low-key manner. The overpowering DJ personalities of other formats, which many adult listeners find objectionable, will never be part of The Wave."

Announcers are expected to be on the air within two weeks.

DANCE FEVER - Capitol Records has announced the launch of a new 12" dance label, designed to accommodate the label's increasing number of dance-oriented releases. A special label and jacket have been created to identify a record as a dance label release. Initial releases will come from S-Express, Suavé and The Boogie Boys. Future releases will include Johnny Clegg & Savuka, Mazelle, Cheyanne, M.C. Hammer and others.

Until next week...

DREAMS ARE FREE, BUT BOOKS COST MONEY - Look, I'm sorry to admit it, but I read that Albert Goldman bio of John Lennon last week (The Lives Of John Lennon, William Morrow & Company, $22.95) and at this very moment it's still burrowing around my insides making me sick, sorta like I swallowed a live rodent. It's my own fault. I knew the book was a fuzzy little piece of squirming vermin flesh when the freebie review copy arrived, but figuring it wouldn't be right to hate it without giving it a chance, I opened to a random page and read. Neat. Just like TV. You can start anywhere (you know the plot by now), tune in for as long as you like, and quit whenever you want.

And for a while was interesting enough. I got a couple of good reasons for hating the book (as a psycho-bio it's a jumble of pathetic baby talk Freud, as a history it's a junior high school social studies project: tell everything you know, leave out everything you don't and pretend it doesn't exist). Only then I couldn't stop reading it, even when the narrative's ceaseless and meaningless flow of self-degradation, personal violence, and bad sex (again, just like TV) was making me feel sick. It was worse than junk food, worse than junk culture. It was pure junk, like the junk Goldman reveals John and Yoko spiked into their veins upon occasion. Absolute mind numbing garbage.

John and Yoko hated each other. John hated his body. John hated Paul. Yoko was manipulative. If you didn't know these things, if you couldn't guess these things, Goldman spells them out in convincing detail. But do you care about this stuff? There's a gulf between the emotional content of Lennon's music and the book's sordid biographical revelations that Goldman never even attempts to bridge. Which leaves me wondering just what the point of the whole thing is anyway. (And I would't dare suggest it was written to make money. Gee, that'd be cynical.) There's no light, no love, no passion, no contrast here to make the slimy underbelly of Lennon's life seem the least bit important.

Cripes, these days the entertainment industry puts performers under mind destroying pressure and then bitches when their minds are destroyed by drugs, drink, or thirty cups of coffee a day (the latter being one of Lennon's many habits). And in today's climate The Lives Of John Lennon fits right in with the Just Say No hysteria. Not an ounce of compassion. No real attempt to understand why popular culture eats its young. Just a freak show. Bleeech.

REASONS TO NOT WORRY (BE HAPPY) - After that rant, here's a couple of bits of good news: the new Feelies record on A&M, only life, is about as great as everyone thought The Good Earth was...National Public Radio is airing a 52 week (!) series called Afropop focusing on the wide variety of African popular music. Check it out starting October 23, Thursdays, 4pm Eastern Time, Sundays, 12 midnight, Eastern...There is now a Confederation of Female Headbangers to promote equal rights and justice for heavy metal gals. Write P.O. Box 7240, Garden City, NJ, 11503...There will be a new Pussy Galore EP out in October from Caroline...There will be a new Sonic Youth LP out from Blast First in October...There will be a new Opal LP out from Rough Trade in January.

PARTING SPEIL - This is my last Coast To Coast. Dedicated readers who want to keep in touch can reach me at Spin in Manhattan where I'll be doing more or less what I was doing here at Cash Box: losing my mind. A special thank you to everyone who made this fun, especially Tom, Shari, Lee, Coogs (who needs a haircut), Cap'n Joe, Michelle Mena, Mike Krumper, and, of course, Debbie Gibson, without whom none of this would be necessary.

Bros: 'When Will I Be Famous?'

By Brad Buchsbaum

LOS ANGELES – Bros aren't just another group of stylishly attractive British teenagers trying to become the next big thing. They are the next big thing.

Started back in their pre-teen days by twin brothers Matt Goss on vocals and Luke Goss on drums, with the addition of fellow school chum and bassist Craig Logan, the three 19-year-olds have inspired an increasing wave of Bros-mania. More than 100 police were needed to control hysterical fans at a recent appearance by Bros at a London record store. An English newspaper even went to the point of comparing the incident to the days of Beatlemania.

Bros have also taken the British, European, Australian and Japanese charts by storm. Their debut album, Push, shipped Gold in the U.K., entering England's LP chart at Number Two; within two weeks the album had gone Platinum and climbed to Number One. With the recent release of Push in the U.S. by Epic Records, Bros is ready to add America to its list of conquests.

In a recent interview with Cash Box, Matt recalled, "We had our first band when we were 10 or 11 years old, and Craig joined us when we were 12. At the time we were playing slushy soul that wasn't very good, and Craig had been playing in a heavy metal band.

"We started out playing in workingmens clubs. A workingmens club is like a pub, but instead of it being a pub with just a bar, it might also have a pool room. It's usually where older middle-aged men go, and they're not usually very nice. We would play a cover set and maybe play two of our own songs. Those were probably some of the most demoralizing and embarrassing experiences of our lives. The only way someone would even tap their foot was if we played something like 'House Of The Rising Sun.' They might be munching a hamburger and look up and belch as a sign of slight appreciation, and that was only if we were lucky."

Matt, who has been singing along to records since he was a young boy, said that he was slightly upset by some of the things the British press was writing about him when the LP was first released. "For a while, in England, people were saying that it wasn't me singing on the record. They said it was either a black guy, a girl, or some electronic enhancement. I started singing with my mum to the Jackson 5 and Stevie Wonder when I was seven years old. I take a real pride in my voice, and when people who didn't know my background or my influences said it wasn't me, I got very annoyed."

The band attributes a large part of its success to their live shows. According to Matt, "Our show is very, very up. We involve the audience. When you come out of an ordinary show you might say that was great, but when you come out of a Bros gig you're wet and exhausted." Matt insists that a Bros concert is more than just another show it is an occasion.

"Everybody says that a Bros show is just infectious. You go there to see the gig and no matter what age you are or what sex you are, you go there and you go mad," added Luke.

Along with success, came screaming mobs and the necessity for bodyguards, which in turn, has limited the three teenagers normal social lives. But bassist Craig Logan said they were fully prepared to deal with the realities of being pop stars. "When we were at school it was always just the three of us. We knew then that we wanted to be rock stars and everybody else basically thought we were just dreaming. So it got to the point where people would see us and say, 'Oh, there are the brothers.' We had other friends and we knew an awful lot of people, but it was always just the three of us."

On Push the band deals with subjects that are universally understood. "Shocked" takes on the problem of AIDS, "Cat Among The Pigeons" deals with the reality of living in a broken home (Matt and Luke's father left them when they were three), and "Drop The Boy" asks the question "I won't wish my life away, but tell me, who decides when I've grow up and turned into a man?"

Bros have definitely proved themselves worthy of being called men, and they have more than answered the question "When Will I Be Famous?," which just so happens to be the title of their English, Top Five smash single.

THOROGOOD LIVE AT OREGON STATE PRISON – When George Thorogood and the Delaware Destroyers played for inmates of the Oregon State Prison recently they decided to donate their gold record plaque for their current LP, Born To Be Bad, to the institution. Seen at the gold record presentation (l-r): Jeff Simon, The Destroyers; Geoff Bywater, vp, artist development & video, EMI-Manhattan; Sal Licata, president & CEO, EMI-Manhattan; Thorogood; Bill Blough, The Destroyers; Hank Carter, The Destroyers; and Steve Chrismar, The Destroyers.

WHISTLE STOP – Paige Sober, BMI Senior Director, Writer/Publisher Relations, and BMI writer John Stewart caught up with Rosanne Cash during her last concert stop in the Los Angeles area. The trio met backstage to celebrate the success of "Runaway Train," written by Stewart. The Top 40 single is the latest from Cash's smash Columbia album, King's Record Store. Pictured (l to r) are: Sober, Cash and Stewart.

PARTY POLITICS – Atlantic Records recently threw two listening parties to celebrate the release of the self-titled debut album from Dear Mr. President. The events were held at the Palace in Los Angeles and at RCA Studios in New York City. Shown at the Palace (l to r) are: Dear Mr. President's Julian Raymond; Atlantic Senior Vice President/West Coast General Manager Paul Cooper; Dear Mr. President's Eddie Sedano and Joey Hunting; Atlantic Vice President of Product Development/Promotion Judy Libow; Dear Mr. President's manager Bud Prager; Dear Mr. President's Chris George; KROQ Music Director Larry Groves; and Dear Mr. President's C.J. DeVillar.

Pictured below are just a few of the highlights from BMG's sales conference, held in Montreal from Tuesday, August 23 to Sunday, August 28, at the Quatre Saisons Hotel. Going clockwise, starting from the upper left corner, we come upon BMG co-chairman Michael Dornemann (r) congratulating Jo-El Sonnier and Lita Ford at RCA's post show party for the conventioners. Pete Jones, BMG distribution president, looks on. To the right we see Nipper and the RCA label contingent receiving a hearty Bon Jour upon arrival in Montreal. Left to right are: Pete Jones; Dave Wheeler, vp sales, RCA; Bob Buziak, president, RCA; and Rick Dobbis, exec vp & gm. Below, Arista President Clive Davis leads an in-depth product presentation. And below that Michael Dornemann and Pete Jones welcome A&M president Gil Friesen to Montreal. To the left Arista artist Jeff Healey greets execs after his performance at Club Soda. From left: Don Jenner, exec vp & gm, Arista; Joe Rockman, band member; Clive Davis; Healey; Roger Watson, Arista U.K. M.D.; Jim Cawley, Arista vp sales; Pete Jones. In front are: Tom Stephen, band member; and Marty Diamond, dir. artist development, Arista. Finally, BMG Classics' RCA Victor sr. dir. marketing/sales Peter Elliot and president Michael Emmerson are shown presenting Peter Allen and Nicki Gregoroff with BMG Classics jackets. Allen and Gregoroff paid a surprise visit to Montreal to preview songs from Allen's upcoming Broadway musical Legs Diamond.

Miles Davis: Sketches Of A Trumpeter

By Lee Jeske

NEW YORK – Miles Davis sits shirtless in his New York hotel suite – a suite he's occupied since he and his wife Cicely Tyson separated – and contemplates things.

"A big fat airline attendant told me...I said, 'Who's that pretty girl over there?' He said, 'That's my back-up.' Hahahaha. You always have to have a back-up."

Musically, Miles Davis is the king of the back-ups, the master at pulling new musical rabbits out of his hat. Bebop. Poof! "Birth of the Cool." Shazam! Modalities. Ta-dah! Fusion. Voila! And on and on. On this particular day in New York, the man is bitching; he's not happy about the way his band is going. He's getting itchy, you can feel it, he seems to be thinking about digging into the hat for another rabbit.

When Miles Davis was coming up – the brash, well-bred mid-Westerner shadowing Charlie Parker around New York some 40 years ago – things were different.

"In the first place, there weren't enough records out there for me to copy," he says. "There was no copying then. Like, now, everybody who can play a whole chord has a recording. What are you going to say after that? When I was coming up, I was just hating to be compared to other trumpet players, you know, because I didn't get in music for that. I was trying to play like Dizzy at the time, but I couldn't. I told Leonard Feather, 'I wish I could play like Dizzy.'"

"Dizzy and I talked and I said, 'Why can't I play like you?' He said, 'You do. You play the same style, you play the same chords, but it's just in a lower register.'"

Miles Davis has been quoted as saying the thing he'll be remembered for is his sound. That sensuous, slow, vibratoless trumpet sound is, no matter what context it's been placed in over the decades, one of the most distinctive, and most imitated, sounds in American music.

"I developed that sound when I was 13," he says. "That's a mid-Western sound. I'll tell you who else had that sound, Bunk Johnson. I used to go around with him – he could hardly move around when he first came to New York, and he could only play in E-flat."

"But that sound is the way you play in St. Louis, trumpet players. Clark Terry has that sound. The raw sound in St. Louis is like the way I play. My teacher played like that, Elwood Buchanan, I used to love to hear him play."

And there was this guy named Levi, he had the tone. He was crazy. All the trumpet players used to say, 'Levi's getting out of the rest house today, let's go to his house and listen to his tone.'

But he went off, like he would start laughing and couldn't stop."

That sound, when brought East, didn't always meet with the greatest response.

"I used to get made fun of by white players when I played," says Miles, "cause I didn't play like they did. I remember once, Gunther Schuller was with the Metropolitan Opera Band, and they came to Toronto when I was playing there. This is in '48. He said, 'You want to try?' So I sat down with them. One of the trumpet players said, 'Play "Body and Soul." ' So I started, and I played it, but they were making fun of my tone. Because they play a legitimate way, you know. And that means the whole world should be wearing the same suit."

"So I told Gunther, I said, 'Man, it doesn't bother me, because there'll come a time when all of them will have to play like this in order to play in a pop band.' Which is now. Now if you don't have that sound that I have, or close to it, they don't want you to play lead or nothing."

That sound will next be heard on album, ironically enough, back on Columbia Records, which Miles left a few years ago for the greener financial pastures of Warner Bros. He hasn't jumped labels, but Columbia's been sitting for several years on a suite that Danish trumpeter Palle Mikkelborg wrote for Miles several years ago, a suite that was recorded in Denmark with the Danish Radio Orchestra before Miles left Columbia. Then, he says, he's contemplating a live album from his recently completed world tour.

The current band, which Miles is expressing dissatisfaction with, is, like all of Miles' bands for some 20 years, a fusion band. About the birth of fusion music, Miles shrugs:

"Joe Zawinul and I, everytime we'd meet, we'd discuss trying to get Cannonball Adderley to play a little outside of the chords. And Joe had that Rhodes piano, and they used to double the bass line with the bass, which sounded really good. And Cannonball was a funky player anyway, you know, that's just his background. So, anyway, I got together with Paul Buckmaster and said, 'Paul, write me a bass line like James Brown.' That was for 'Bitches Brew.' And Joe was already writing like that, everybody was going that way anyway. All at once, everybody just turned."

Miles Davis, who has been slowly working on his memoirs with writer Quincy Troupe, has a long memory. And his memory seems particularly strong when he's remembering injustices that have been done to him during his career. I ask him about Bird, the Charlie Parker screen biography, which he hasn't seen yet.

"There are different sides of Bird. I never was that close to him, because me and him used to get into things, you know. He'd say, 'What are you smiling about?' I'd say, 'It's just a natural thing in my face.' Shit like that."

"The things he did I didn't like. Like catering to white people. He would come on stage and we'd have, say, 30 seconds to end a song before intermission. He would come on stage and say, 'Bap!' and cut it off. And all the white people would laugh. And to me that wasn't funny."

"I remember once Milton Berle came down to the Three Deuces and he made fun of our band. He's sitting at a table and he said to this group he was with, 'They're headhunters.' I always remembered that."

"So I saw him once when I was in first class on a plane – now this was about 20 years later or maybe longer. And I said, 'Milton, my name's Miles Davis, I'm a musician.' He said, 'Yeah, I know.' I said, 'You did something to us years ago that I've always remembered and I always said if I ever get close enough to breathe on you that I was going to tell you the way I felt.' It was so long ago, but I was getting that anger again."

"I said, 'You know, I didn't like that. And none of the band liked it, those who heard it.'"

"And he said, 'I'm very sorry.'"

"I said, 'I know you are. You are now.'"

"And I went back and sat down."

Bon Jovi knows how to crank-out hits, and this offering will not disappoint the public or Mercury execs. Here producer Bruce Fairbairn and Jon fashion gang harmonies around a typically monumental guitar sound, which really cuts through.

OUT OF THE BOX

JOHN COUGAR MELLENCAMP
Rave On (3:13) – Elektra (7-69370) – Wren Music/BMI – S. West-N. Petty-B. Tilghman – Producer: J. Mellencamp

Mellencamp puts his stamp on this Buddy Holly classic, for the soundtrack of the film Cocktail. Features a fine fiddle break, and some raucous, noisy tracking that gives it that authentic feel. The Cocktail soundtrack is turning out to be one of the richest and most diverse records in a while. This one should show some activity across the board.

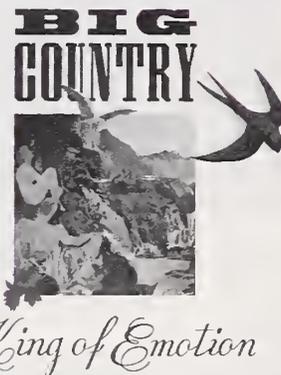

OUT OF THE BOX

ANITA BAKER
Giving You The Best That I Got (3:54) – Elektra (7-69371) – All Baker's Music-Alexcar Music/BMI Eyedot Music/ASCAP – A. Baker-S. Scarborough-R. Holland – Producer: M. Powell

Once again, Baker proves that she is the most sophisticated songstress making pop records on today's scene. On this fine tune, she weaves her vocal stylings around a jazz-tinged track, her phrasing delicate and evocative, always reaching for a new turn of a line. Anita Baker is one the giants of the eighties. Urban, CHR, AC.

OUT OF THE BOX

BIG COUNTRY – King Of Emotion (4:50) – Reprise (7-27737-A) – Virgin Songs Inc./BMI – S. Adamson – Producer: P. Wolf

A rough and ready rocker that has more elements of tough than tender. If "Big Country" sounded like guitars emulating bagpipes, this single (from their new LP Peace In Our Time) sounds like guitars as axes, a decidedly heavier brushstroke here. Of course Stuart Adamson and company were never ones to deliver the expected. Should score well on AOR.

OUT OF THE BOX

CHICAGO
Look Away (3:59) – Reprise (7-27766-A) – Realsongs/ASCAP – Diane Warren – Producer: R. Nevison

Chicago has another smash on their hands, a tune written by hit-songwriter Diane Warren, and rendered rocket-hot by producer Ron Nevison. From their Reprise album Chicago 19, a dynamic track powerfully supports a gruff and pleasingly sweet and sour vocal delivery. This adds just the right touch of dirt to the slickness and the result is eminently entertaining. AOR, CHR.

NEW AND DEVELOPING

TAMARA CHAMPLIN
Heart Of Glass (4:15) – Columbia (38-08035) – WB Music Corp-JSH Music-Tabby Chabby Music-Edge Of Fluke Music/ASCAP – T. Champlin-B. Champlin-B. Gaitsch – Producer: J. Graydon

Tamara Champlin has strong rough-edged vocal chops. She dials it back on this fine slow-rocker, giving you the impression she's got a lot more left (the secret of great singing). "Heart Of Glass" is from the Caddyshack II soundtrack.

FEATURE PICKS

BAD COMPANY – No Smoke Without A Fire (4:33) – Atlantic (7-89035) – Howe's Business-TJT Songs-Phantom Music/ASCAP – B. Howe-T. Thomas – Producer: T. Thomas

An auspicious come-back effort for Bad Company, a boulder-heavy signature track lumbers away under an inspired vocal effort. AOR smash.

JULIA FORDHAM – Happy Ever After (3:36) – Virgin (7-99294) – Baltic Management Inc./BMI – J. Fordham – Producer: B. Padley-G. Mitchell

A sultry voice and a Sade-like tune makes this an alluring and attractive record. Heavy pop potential.

BRENDA RUSSELL – Get Here (4:06) – A&M (AM-1233) – Rutland Road Music-WB Music Corp/ASCAP – B. Russell – Producer: A. Fischer-B. Russell-P. Ekberg

A classic tune with the kind of lyric that makes you want to cheer. Should fly well wherever "Piano In The Dark" is loved.

SAM BROWN – Stop (4:00) – A&M (AM-1234) – Irving Music, Inc.-Dooittle Music/BMI Let's See Music – S. Brown-G. Sutton-B. Brody – Producer: P. Brown

Yes Virginia, they do write songs like that nowadays. Sam Brown gives the performance of a lifetime on a song she wrote for herself, but which sounds like a classic Aretha tune. Should fly across the board.

ROMEO'S DAUGHTER – Don't Break My Heart (4:14) – Jive (1140-7-JA) – Zomba Enterprises/ASCAP – R.J. Lange-C. Joiner – Producer: R. J. Lange

A hit is a hit, despite the cliché for a title. Features a breakneck track that keeps charging. AOR, CHR smash.

THREE O'CLOCK – Neon Telephone (3:57) – Paisley Park Records (7-27733-A) – Parisongs/ASCAP – J. Coco – Producer: I. Ritchie

A high-spirited romping rocker on Prince's Paisley Park. Can you guess who writer Joey Coco is? None other than His Purpleness.

THE FEELIES

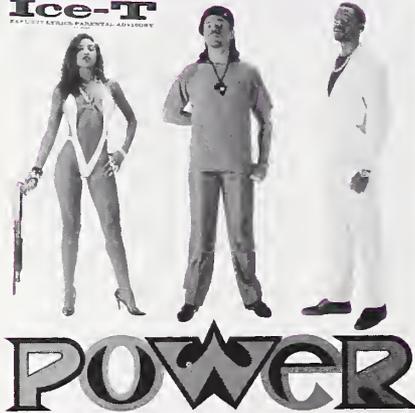

Only Life - A&M (SP 5214) - Producers: S. Rinkoff, B. Million, G. Mercer

An underground sensation for most of the '80s, the Feelies go major label with a slightly cleaned-up version of their strum-happy, cerebral guitar pop, some of it reworked from previous vinyl. The two guitars, generally a 12-string acoustic and a six-string electric, flesh out the simple musical ideas in a lilting, deceptively-layered manner, achieving an effortless momentum. As an added bonus, their vocals are intelligible for the first time ever.

Ice-T

Power - Sire (9 25765-1) - Producers: Ice-T, A. Islam

With one album, the miraculous Ice-T has shifted the center of the rap world from New York to L.A. Not only is he a def rapper, he's funny (in an offensive way) and he's totally cold in the studio. There's more going on in the mix of this record than in any dozen average rap albums. From jazz samples to rock to down-tempo rap, no two cuts are the same. The violent imagery sends a mixed message, but this music is as real as the streets.

OUT OF THE BOX

BOOTSY COLLINS

What's Bootsy Doin'? - Columbia (FC 44107) - Producer: B. Collins

Bootsy Collins has lived in the shadow of his friend and P-Funk bandmate George Clinton for too long. This is a get-down celebration of sexified funk, all samples and horns and booty-bustin' bass lines, with some elements of rap thrown in for currency. It's all over the place, like the best of Sly or Prince, but Bootsy can also get sweet, as in the warm "Yo Mama Loves Ya." This is a party platter par excellence - and much more.

OUT OF THE BOX

KIM WILDE

CLOSE - MCA (42230) - Producers: R. Wilde, T. Swain

Wilde hit it big in the early '80s with the anthemic pop of "Kids In America," but this new album represents a big step forward. There's more of that spritely bubblegum here - "You Came" should be a big hit, and "Four Letter Word" is its equal - but there's also some salsified dance funk and ballads like Todd Rundgren's "Lucky Guy" that could send chills up an unsuspecting spine. Wilde's high, clean vocals are pristine and affective.

FEATURE PICKS

THE SMITHS - "Rank" - Sire (9 25786-1) - Producers: G. Showbiz, P. Dauncey

A posthumous live album from the most influential British band of the last five years, "Rank" skips most of the better-known songs in favor of later, obscure material. Includes a cover of the country chestnut, "(Marie's the Name) His Latest Flame."

TOM WAITS - Big Time - Island (7 90987-1) - Producers: T. Waits, K. Brennan

A live album from Waits' "Frank Wild Years" tour, it is also the soundtrack to an upcoming concert film. Provocative beerhall surrealism from a master songwriter/storyteller.

BUSTER - Original Motion Picture Soundtrack - Atlantic (7 91905-1) - Various producers

Buster is noteworthy for three new Phil Collins' tunes (including a syrupy rendition of "Groovy Kind of Love") and is rounded out by a new Four Tops and some early-to-mid '60s pop songs like "I Got You Babe."

RUBEN BLADES Y SON DEL SOLAR - Antecedente - Elektra (9 60795-1) - Producer: R. Blades

The crossover king offers an all-Spanish album of horn-and-conga salsa, held together by gently humanistic concerns. Irresistible.

ISAAC HAYES - Love Attack - Columbia (FC 40941) - Producer: I. Hayes

Love ballads are the order of the day here, delivered in Hayes' impossibly deep voice in front of mostly synthesized arrangements. There's also some rap balladeering and a cozy, spoken-word come-on preceding "I Stand Accused."

BONNIE TYLER - Notes From America - Columbia (FC 44163) - Producer: D. Child

Tyler lends her huge, raw vocals to a batch of songs by such heavyweights as Albert Hammond, Diane Warren and Kiss' Paul Stanley, but a lot of it comes out overblown, including the Bee Gees' gentle "To Love Somebody."

BOB NEUWIRTH - Back to the Front - Gold Castle (171 015-1) - Producer: J.S. Soles

This reclusive singer-songwriter is aided on this stark and folksy album by people like T-Bone Burnett and Peter Case, but the miracle isn't apparent until you know that most of this incisive material was improvised.

ANTHRAX - State of Euphoria - Megaforce/Island (7 91004-1) - Producers: Anthrax, M. Dodson

These speed metalists are distinguished by tight playing, a hint of punk attitude, an absence of self-important baloney, real-life lyric concerns and a welcome dose of sarcastic humor.

KIX - Blow My Fuse - Atlantic (7 81877-1) - Producer: T. Werman

Produced by Tom Werman, the man who made Cheap Trick a household name, Kix combines elements from Kiss, Motley Crue and Aerosmith into an affective shout-it-out glam-metal whole. It swaggers, it rocks, etc., etc., etc.

ROUGHHOUSE - Roughhouse - Columbia (FC 44178) - Producer: M. Norman

These talented Pennsylvania pop metalists give Bon Jovi a run for their money, with highly charged, melodic material and empty-headed party-time/sex-play lyrics.

Nasty Mix Records: Home Of Seattle's Hip-Hop

SEATTLE, WA - In what would seem to be an unlikely area to give us hip-hop music, Ed Locke, President of Nasty Mix Records has proven that hip-hop can become a viable art form, even in Seattle, Washington.

The 'SWASS' sound is Seattle. The artist is Sir Mix-A-Lot. On the cover of his first EP, I'm A Trip, Sir Mix-A-Lot is riding atop a stretch limosine, firing thunderbolts at passerbys from his hand. On the cover of his new LP, SWASS, he stands bigger than life, towering over Seattle's landmark Space Needle. He has it in his grasp, and his group is ready to trample out the opposition. Sir Mix-A-Lot is on a musical mission.

Born and raised in the same town of superstars such as Quincy Jones, Jimi Hendrix and Kenny G., Sir Mix-A-Lot has certainly given rise to his music in Seattle with his LP having registered sales in excess of 150,000 copies. Response to his latest single, "Posse On Broadway," has been nothing short of sensational. The video was immediately added on the Black Entertainment Network.

Mix-A-Lot has performed with hip-hop heavies like Grandmaster Flash, Afrika Baambaatta, Kool Moe Dee, Jazzy Jeff, 2 Live Crew, and Mantronix. He has also shared the stage with the likes of crossover artists such as Atlantic Starr, RFTW, Jermaine Stewart and Morris Day.

Attitude is central to both Sir Mix-A-Lot's music and his message. His latest release clearly establishes him worthy of the attention he has garnered. But even more, his loyalty and determination to put Seattle on the map is as sincere as any homegrown talent has attempted.

Slack Johnson Named VP At Malaco Records

LOS ANGELES - Record industry veteran Slack Johnson, who recently departed his position as National Director, Black Music Promotion for EMI-Manhattan, New York, has been appointed Vice President, Promotion and Marketing for Jackson, Mississippi based Malaco Records.

Johnson, a well respected music industry professional, has also held the position of VP for EMI-Manhattan and had worked in regional promotion for Elektra Records.

Johnson started his career as a radio announcer under the guidance of the late Manny Clark at WGIV, in Charlotte, N.C. He also wrote and produced a hit single by The Real Thing in the early 70's entitled "The Real Thing."

Johnson has begun to assemble his staff. He has appointed Walter Grady to handle promotion in the Carolinas, and Cheryl Coleman (formerly of WGPR, Detroit) will handle the Detroit/Ohio area.

Dynamic Duo Talks To Cleveland

Lynne Tollier Jr.(l) and Ralph Poole

LOS ANGELES - Lynn Tollier Jr., operations manager of the highly rated WZAK-FM, Cleveland, Ohio, works together with Ralph Poole to host a lively Saturday talk show with a provocative, open-forum format. The very popular talk show Just The Two Of Us, has the city of Cleveland constantly buzzing because the listeners can call in live without a tape delay, which gives the show spontaneity and a tremendous audience.

Always an innovative young programmer, who dares to be different, Tollier is noted as being a leader when it comes to playing records earlier than his competition. He believes in being involved with his community because he firmly understands the importance of being a community-active radio station.

Another highly successful (old school) program is For Lovers Only, whereby the listeners call in and dedicate records over the air.

Former DJ Bows Sheik Records

LOS ANGELES - Veteran radio personality Lucky Pierre, who enjoyed many successful years as one of the top radio announcers on the West Coast, has entered the record business with the creation of his Los Angeles based Sheik Records.

The label's debut single, "Tell Me," by Café Monreal was well received by industry insiders during a recent listening party at the Acapulco Cantina.

Café Monreal is a unique, self-contained group that was founded by Stephen Monreal, and features lead vocalist Cat Brandolino. Monreal, who is no stranger to the music industry, serves as producer, writer and arranger for the group. He is also the drummer for the world famous group Tower Of Power.

Pierre, who has played thousands of hit records during his radio career, believes "Tell Me" has the potential to become one of the biggest dance track releases of the year. "Tell Me" is currently available as a 12 inch single that contains a special added Spanish version. For more information contact Lucky at Sheik Records, 213-388-3310.

BIOS FOR DEEJAYS

Mary Wells

Mary Wells, who is currently clicking with "You Lost The Sweetest Boy," got her start a short while back one Friday in the recording studios of Motown Records in Detroit. The firm has a regular Friday afternoon auditioning session. It was on one of these afternoons that Mary Wells visited the label's studios and told president Berry Gordy Jr. she had a song she wanted him to test for one of his singers. Berry told her to hum it, while he played it on the piano. The lark hummed and then she started her song. And that's when it happened.

Gordy liked not only the song but also the singer and immediately signed her to a long term recording contract. Mary's first release, "Bye Bye Baby," the song she sang for her audition, quickly became a national hit.

Since then the artist has appeared many times on national TV shows and has worked a host of key p.a.'s and club dates. As a result of her personal engagements Mary now has more than 100 fan clubs around the nation.

Writers Old And New Share New Broadway Musical Season

NEW YORK — An almost even balance of newcomers & established writers will show their wares in the 1963-64 Broadway musical season, which in quantity at least is shaping-up as one of the most productive seasons in years.

Going to bat with one or more shows under their belt are such writers as Howard Dietz & Arthur Schwartz with Jennie; Noel Coward with The Girl Who Came To Supper; Jule Styne & Bob Merrill with Funny Girl; Alan Jay Lerner & Burton Lane with as yet an untitled musi-

The Barbra Streisand Boom Underway

NEW YORK — The young lady seen above appears to be headed for a rare type of show business greatness — the kind that happens only a very few times in a decade, if at all. It has been evident within the trade with increasing degrees for the past few months, but in recent weeks a Barbra Streisand "boom" seems to be developing.

Her latest LP, The Second Barbra Streisand Album (Columbia), has, in the four weeks since its release, made unbelievable strides for a female vocalist who's never had a single success. By any standards, her chart success has been fantastic. In three moves on the best selling LP list, her album has jumped from #80 to #31 to #6. And this is only her second album, her first bearing the title The Barbra Streisand Album.

But there are many additional barometers which seem to indicate that the Streisand name could be the biggest to hit show business since Elvis Presley.

Publicity in all sorts of publications, including the leading consumer mags, newspapers, etc., has been fantastic. Hardly a column appears in entertainment sections without her name in it. She is being compared with Judy Garland, Helen Morgan, Fanny Brice and a host of other classic names in show business when reviewers and critics attempt to describe her sound, style and talent to their readers. And there is an obvious feeling that the public is hopping on the Streisand bandwagon. When her name comes up in conversations outside the trade a competition arises to determine who actually saw her first — who discovered her. A select few pride themselves in being aware of the fact that she recorded a few bands in the Columbia LP remake of the 1938 musical Pins and Needles. Others who saw her featured as Miss Marmelstein in the Broadway show I Can Get It For You Wholesale pride themselves in having recognized her ability as a singer and comedienne in that role.

Her nightclub appearances have met with phenomenal rave reviews and she seems to be one of the hottest names in the nitery circuit.

Probably the most significant step in her young career is her winning the starring role in the upcoming Jule Styne-Robert Merrill musical Funny Girl, based on the early life of Fanny Brice. The show opens in New York Feb. 13, and will be recorded by Capitol.

Barbra will soon be taping a Bing Crosby TV special for airing Nov. 8 and behind rehearsals for her Broadway opening October 6.

Columbia Records is continuing an intensive campaign on the consumer level to build the artist.

Single Pick of the Week

WALKING THE DOG/FINE & MELLOW Rufus Thomas (Stax)

Seems as though Thomas has successfully 'gone to the dogs.' His short-while-back stand on the Atlantic-distributed label, "The Dog," took a money-making run in both the pop and r&b marts. His new one, an infectious (self-penned) thump-a-rhythm blueser tabbed "Walking the Dog," can do even better in both depts. On the flip side Rufus waxes a slower, "Fine & Mellow" blues-based affair.

Mascolo, Polidor Aboard At Airborne - Airborne Records (OTC) President John Jossey recently announced the hiring of music veterans Eddie Mascolo and Joe Polidor as consultants for the label.

Mascolo entered the industry in 1969 as an independent promotion man before moving to Polydor for five years of service in regional promotion. He joined RCA in 1976 as a regional promotion director and was promoted in 1982 to Vice President of Promotion. He left the label in early 1988 as Senior V-P of Product Development, overseeing sales and promotion in the AOR, A/C and CHR areas. Mascolo will co-ordinate Airborne's promotion efforts in the rock, pop and black fields.

Polidor's music career began as a retail buyer in 1971. He joined Mercury Records in 1975 and rose through the ranks to be Director of Marketing at parent company, PolyGram. At PolyGram his sales and marketing efforts helped maximize the retail potential of such acts as Def Leppard, John Cougar Mellencamp, The Bar-Kays, Rush, The Scorpions and The Gap Band. He will assist Airborne in the sales, marketing and distributor liaison areas.

Airborne is an independent label funded entirely by a successful public stock offering completed in November. The label currently has eight acts contracted: Mickey Gilley, Bob Bailey, Mickey Newberry, The Sanders, Stella Parton, Rosey Carter, The Headlights and The Wright Brothers.

Getting Ready For the Main Event - Trey Turner, formerly with Keith Fowler Promotions, and Mike Allen, formerly with North American Tours, have joined Reba McEntire's newly formed Main Event Talent. The agency is a division of Reba's Business, Inc., and is set up to handle the artist's personal appearances. The new company's phone number is (615) 742-8835. Pictured (L to R) are: Allen; Narvel Blackstock, McEntire's manager; McEntire and Turner.

Don Langford Named Academy of Country Music Board Chairman - Bill Boyd, Executive Director of the Academy of Country Music, has announced that broadcast veteran Don Langford has been named Chairman of the Board of the Academy of Country Music for the upcoming year, as determined by a vote of the Academy's Board of Directors. Langford served in the same capacity in 1981.

Langford's 24-year broadcast experience began as an on-air rock & roll personality at KBLA in Burbank, CA in 1964. The station later became KBBQ and changed formats to country, and Langford continued with the station for five years as an on-air personality. He later worked as a traffic reporter for KBBQ and for three years in San Diego, CA with a service that covered traffic for KOGO, KCBQ and KSON, among others.

Langford also served as chief assignment editor at All-News KFVB Radio in Los Angeles. Later, Langford was employed at KLAC Country Radio in Los Angeles where he started as a retail sales specialist before being appointed assistant program director. He was later named program director, a post he held for seven years before moving to KRAK Radio in Sacramento, where he has held the same post for the past six years.

In June of 1987, Langford was named KZ Communications West Coast Regional Program Director, in which capacity he continues his program responsibilities at KRAK, Sacramento, and now has oversight responsibilities at KMPS AM & FM, Seattle, KAMJ AM & FM, Phoenix and KFYE-FM in Fresno, California.

John Briggs Promoted to ASCAP Nashville Membership Director - John Briggs, ASCAP's Nashville Director of Membership Relations since 1985, has been promoted to ASCAP Nashville Membership Director, it was announced recently by ASCAP Southern Executive Director Connie Bradley. In his new position, Briggs will continue to report to Bradley and will have expanded responsibilities in writer and publisher signings.

Prior to joining ASCAP's Nashville staff in 1985, Briggs was Assistant Professional Manager with Screen Gems/Columbia-EMI Music. His past music business experience also includes working for Nashville's House of David Recording Studio, and the Wishbone Music Publishing Company. Briggs is a member of the Country Music Association, Nashville Songwriters Association International and NARAS.

Briggs is a 1983 graduate of the University of North Alabama, with a B.S. degree in Commercial Music.

Nashville, TN...Country music legends Merle Haggard (L) and Willie Nelson (R) recently hit the stage at Nashville's Starwood Amphitheatre. Nelson opened the four-hour show with a set that included tunes from his upcoming CBS/Columbia LP "What A Wonderful World" in addition to his pop-standards "Georgia On My Mind," "Blue Eyes Crying In The Rain," and "Always on My Mind". The two superstars opened Haggard's set with their hit duet "Reasons To Quit" (pictured). Photo by Beth Gwinn.

Hall of Fame On The Horizon?...Red-hot newcomer, Ricky Van Shelton, nominated for this year's CMA "Horizon Award" offered congratulations to one of the industry's legendary trend-setters, Hank Thompson, honored with an '88 nomination to the Country Music Hall Of Fame. Thompson, whose influence is having a wide resurgence in today's country music, is enjoying a renewed career wave of touring and record success. Thompson and Van Shelton will join forces at the annual CMA Awards telecast, October 10th, on the CBS-TV network to give viewers a glimpse of the best in country music - then and now.

Airborne's Frank Jones: "We are going to be an important factor on the American record scene!"

In October of 1987, only one offering on the penny stock market survived the "black Monday" stock market crash. Airborne Records, of Nashville, raised a little more than $1 million by offering 120 million units at 1 cent per unit. The consensus is that the offering succeeded due to the strength of the new record company's management.

John Jossey, president of Airborne, has sold records for major labels and independent companies for 30 years. John Lomax III, vice president for publicity, artist development and publishing, is the author of hundreds of magazine and newspaper articles. He has also counted such stars as Dan Seals and Rattlesnake Annie as publicity clients, and has managed Steve Earle, Townes Van Zandt and Rocky Hill. And, vice president Steve Roberts's musical career includes successful results in booking, concert promotion, retailing, artist management and marketing.

Now, we come to chairman of the board and vice president, Frank Jones, who graciously consented to a Cash Box interview, recently. Jones, too, has an impressive list of credentials and honors. He has been senior vice president for PolyGram Records/Nashville; director of operations for Warner Brothers Records/Nashville; vice president/general manager of Capitol Records/Nashville and Los Angeles; and he has a long and illustrious record of service with CBS Records in the U.S. and Canada. In addition, he is a noted and experienced record producer with extensive studio time invested with Johnny Cash, John Anderson, Flatt & Scruggs, Marty Robbins, Ray Price and Lefty Frizzell.

With that past record of success in mind, I listened very carefully when Frank Jones began speaking about today's country music. "Number one, we're still viable in country music. As the industry has progressed, the music has taken many directions. Certain artists and styles appeal to certain demographics. We have broadened the base, and there is something in the music for everybody.

"When we did "Swingin'", with John Anderson, we were asked if it was country? We thought so and proved to be right, but the record and song proved to be even more because we found all kinds of listeners buying the record..from children to the pop audience.

"You have to have that perfect 'marriage' of artist and song. I was told, once, to always remember that we are selling an emotion, when we cut a record. A song is an emotion."

When asked about Airborne's policy regarding new material for their artists, Jones replied, "We have a complete 'open door' policy. There are too many great music people in this town to shut any of them out.

"We are developing a publishing wing, and we are selectively seeking new talent to expand each area of music. We are into all forms of music..country, pop, black, R & B..and, further expansion of Airborne Records is our immediate goal. We are going to be an important factor on the American record scene!"

Airborne's results, so far, have been very exciting! Frank Jones smiles when he says, "We certainly look forward to further development with a great deal of enthusiasm!" With a collective 130 years experience among the officers and executives of Airborne Records, and an exciting and growing roster of artists, we believe Frank Jones...Airborne is going to be an important factor on the American record scene!

ALBUM REVIEW

MICKEY NEWBERRY - A Legend In A New Age - Airborne (ABL-0101) - Producer: L. Butler-G. Humphrey

Known primarily for his songwriting successes, (with cuts by Elvis, Ray Charles, Waylon Jennings...and the list goes on), Newberry gives his solo career a shot in the arm with this LP debut for Airborne Records. Granted, this isn't traditional country music fare, yet it reflects a true sense of what kind of man Newberry is. Backed by only his guitar, a violin and a bass, plus some intriguing sound effects, this project should find open ears in avant-garde country music audiences. Best Cuts: "American Trilogy", "Wish I Was A Willow Tree", "My Father Was A Sailor" and "Once They Were Lovers".

ALBUM REVIEW

WAGONEERS - Stout And High - A&M (SP-5200) - Producer: E. Gordy, Jr.

What a great find this band is! Led by talented singer/songwriter Monte Warden, the foursome lays down some low-down, swingin' tunes worthy of repeated listenings. Although chart success has been slow to come, the emergence of the likes of Yoakam and Owens should help find these guys riding high in no time. Best Bets: "I Wanna Know Her Again", "It'll Take Some Time", "Help Me Get Over You", "I Confess" and "Hell Town".

SINGLE RELEASES

OUT OF THE BOX

RESTLESS HEART - A Tender Lie (3:28) - RCA (8714-7-R) - With Any Luck/BMI - R. Sharp - Producers: T. Dubois-Restless Heart

Asking the one they love to fib a bit about her feelings for them, Restless Heart leans into a compassionate ballad for their latest release. It seems that the truth might hurt a little too much for the heart involved. Their familiar, tight harmonies hit the head on the nail every time. Accompanied by an electric piano, the boys have taken an even softer approach to this song, than to "Bluest Eyes in Texas" which hit the #1 spot recently.

INDIE SPOTLIGHT

TIM MALCHAK - Not A Night Goes By (3:32) - Alpine (APS-009) - MCA-Diamond House-Bright Sky/ASCAP - S. Diamond-J. Weatherly - Producers: J. Rutenschroer-T. Malchak

With one of the best voices among Indie label male artists today, Tim Malchak is garnering some much-deserved respect by radio stations across the country. This release is no let-down. Tim sings about the girl he's lost and her memory, which is forever with him. Sporting an outstanding saxophone solo, the song style stretches the limits a little for country radio, but with a voice like his, we don't think listeners will mind.

FEATURE PICKS

MICKEY NEWBERRY - An American Trilogy (3:10) - Airborne (ABS-10005) - Acuff-Rose/BMI - M. Newberry - Producers: L. Butler-G. Humphrey

Newberry combines several of the South's greatest anthems into a moving and emotional medley on his first release for Airborne Records. The production is understated so as to emphasize the magnificence of his voice. A guaranteed spine-tingler.

GLEN CAMPBELL - Light Years (3:47) - MCA (53426) - White Oak/BMI - J. Webb - Producers: J. Bowen-G. Campbell

In his usual mellow way, Campbell expounds on his feelings of a broken heart with a vocal performance smooth enough to soothe any ear. His voice is in the best shape ever, making this pop-sounding song a possible cross over hit for Adult Contemporary formats as well.

SAWYER BROWN - My Baby's Gone (3:00) - Capitol (B-44218) - SBK Blackwood-Dennis Linde/BMI - D. Linde - Producer: R. Chancey

She's gone, gone, gone but Sawyer Brown keeps rolling on. An upbeat ditty with a razing guitar ride and some heavy-duty harmonica playing, this song suits the flashy boys of country music just fine.

INDIE FEATURE PICKS

DARRELL HOLT - I'd Throw It All Away (3:25) - Anoka (AR-224) - McConkey-Borcha-Tomofame/SESAC - D. Holt - Producer: Unlisted

Holt tells the one he loves that he'll throw his past away for her, only if she'll commit to a lifetime of love. Showcasing his songwriting talents, (with some solid and thoughtful lyrics), as well as his adept vocals, Holt should find widespread airplay on this fine release.

DENNIS PAYNE - That's Why You Haven't Seen Me (2:22) - True (TU 93) - Bent Cent/BMI/Song Box/ASCAP - B.D. Reed-C.R. White - Producers: B. Reed-D. Payne

Singing what every girl in love with a honky tonk man would love to hear, Payne should strike a harmonious chord with many of his female listeners. He offers to make a few sacrifices for his girl in order to gain back her respect and love...yes, valor and chivalry just might be revived with this release.

ROGER MARSHALL - Take A Letter Maria (3:05) - Master (MR-05A) - Vogue/BMI - R.B. Greaves - Producers: L. Shell-R. Zavitson

This revamped version is done great justice by Marshall. Little Maria not only takes a letter here, but gets invited to dinner as well, leaving his wife, with her cheatin' heart, out in the cold.

PROGRAMMERS' PICK

RESTLESS HEART - A Tender Lie - RCA 8714-7

The Programmers' Pick this week is Restless Heart. The five member band is currently in the Top 10 with their newest album Big Dreams In A Small Town. Stations voting for the group include: KYKZ, KBOE, WATZ, WDLW, KZZY, WKUS, WNOE and WRIX.

DARK HORSE CONSENSUS

THE KELLEY'S - Like A Yo Yo Baby - Killer K-1012

The Dark Horse Consensus among our radio reporters this week is The Kelley's. With a gritty blues song, the group grabbed the attention of radio reporters instantly this week. Some of the stations voting for The Kelley's are as follows: WASP, WJRM, KWKA, WVAR, WPAY, WKDY, WKCW and KMOO.

RISING STARS

GINNY PETERS:

She came all the way from Auckland, New Zealand for her first recording session in Nashville. Although Ginny Peters in on the RCA label in New Zealand, she was recording on the Playback label, here, with Jack Gale and Jim Pierce producing.

"Country music, in New Zealand, is much like it was 20 years ago here," said Ginny with that beautiful accent. "We love it! I especially love and appreciate the opportunity to record in Nashville. I'm very impressed with the studio musicians here. They are amazing in their talent."

"I started singing by accident. I wrote and recorded a song, and we sent it to the States. Cliffie Stone wrote back to say that he liked the song, and he wanted me to record it! So, I came to Hollywood in June of ~'86. There were some great musicians on that session, too. Cactus Mosier, Curtis Stone and Jack Daniels (all are now with Highway 101) and J. D. Manus (now with the Desert Rose Band) were all on that session."

Ginny recorded her album session at Reflections Studio in Nashville, and has selected an old favorite, "Freight Train", as her first single release. Ginny is quite well known in New Zealand and, in fact, was awarded the New Artist of the Year honor, there, in 1986. But, she can't contain her enthusiasm for Nashville. "I haven't found anything I don't like here! In New Zealand, Nashville is legendary and 'awesome'. I get some sort of magic feeling just being in this city!"

Ginny Peters is already lighting up the skies over New Zealand. Now, the country music fans in the U. S. are beginning to see her as a rising star here. Ginny is a living example of the goodness and true honesty found in nearly all of the country music entertainers around the world. They are a select group...to which Ginny Peters belongs!

RAPPIN' WITH THE WRITERS:

JEFF PEARSON:

By the time Jeff Pearson was 18 years old, he was a member of a bluegrass band called Beaver Hill. Jeff is originally from Santa Fe Springs, California and the band played Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm and the tourist attractions around the state. As Jeff puts it, "I have done nothing but play music for a living."

Now a writer for Murrah Music (administered by Tom Collins Music), Jeff came to Nashville in 1985. "I came here to write," Jeff said. "I had worked with many Nashville acts on the road, and I knew I'd end up here at some point in time. I wanted to be a songwriter, and I knew where I had to go. There's no better place to learn the craft than Nashville."

"Nashville is a town that welcomes one with open arms. I've learned a lot from my co-writing partners. It's exciting to work with the best. I've had the opportunity to learn from writers like Roger Murrah, Larry Alderman, Paul Overstreet, Steve Dean, Jimbeau Hinson, James Dean Hicks and Randy VanWarmer!"

About his theory on writing songs, Jeff says, "I tell people what Woody Guthrie used to say, 'Let me be known as the man who told you something you already knew.' What the man in the street knows is all that I know. That's the essence of my writing...association. Everyone tries to be different. But, you must be honest with your feelings and hope that you are, naturally, a little bit different."

Jeff Pearson is now beginning what promises to be a long and successful career. He is writing with the best of his peers. He is learning, and he is talented. With his personality and dedication, it's no wonder he found Nashville welcoming him with open arms!

Indie Groove

METALLIC K.O. - Relativity Records has started a new label, Crush Records. According to a press release, Crush will concentrate on "street-music with an emphasis on hardcore, a musical form which features energetic and powerful songs and very personal, thought-provoking lyrics." Just as we suspected - another polka label.

THE NEWS IS BLUE - The recent San Francisco Blues Festival was a certifiable smash, with 20,000 happy souls jammin' to the blues-rock sounds in the shadow of a fog-shrouded Golden Gate Bridge. Highlights included KoKo Taylor's relentless bar-blues, the timeless John Lee Hooker's backwater boogie, a Sunday morning wake-up call by the Gospel Elites, and the Cajun corn that was served backstage (which sent my shutterbug sidekick into the ozone). It should be noted that the San Francisco festival is just one of many big-name blues events in California this month, alongside the Long Beach and Sacramento festivals, all of which are attracting their share of legends.

JOHN LEE HOOKER - Is this guy cool, or what?

While getting blue in the city by the Bay, we spoke with Pat Thomas, who not only does publicity for the festival, but also has his own fledgling record label. Heyday Records celebrated its first release recently, a four-song E.P. by keyboardist wiseguy Randy X (formerly of college-radio faves the McGuires). A production and distribution deal with Rough Trade will enable Thomas to release a handful of prestigious platters in the weeks ahead, including a solo album by Steven Roback of Rain Parade, the first L.P. by Barbara Manning of 28th Day, a new offering from Chris Cacavas of Green on Red and Thomas' own solo album (which he describes as Lou Reed with a banjo.).

THE CHARGE OF THE RAP BRIGADE - A careful look at the various Cash Box album, singles, rap and black contemporary charts reveals something startling - black indies have not only established a beachhead on the charts, they are ahead of the pack, leading the charge to a new musical direction. Specifically, independent rap performers are going head to head with the major label acts - and prevailing. Last week, Salt-N-Pepa had the #1 rap single, with E.P.M.D. at #6, MC Shy D at #10, Rob Base & D.J. E-Z Rock at #11, Easy-E at #12, True Mathematics at #13 and the megapopular Run-D.M.C. at #15. Hats off to the distributors, the clubs and the mom & pop record stores that have made independent rap music such a phenomenon, and especially to the record companies - Fresh, Profile, Tommy Boy, Luke Skywalker, Select, et al

ROB BASE & D.J. E-Z ROCK - Young turks from the Profile label

NEW RELEASE ADVISORY - TVT Records, one of our favorite indies, has unleashed Doctoring The Tardis, a mutated offspring of Dr. Who and Gary Glitter, by the Timelords, a.k.a. the Justified Ancients of Mu Mu ... Zipping your way from the hard-hitting Caroline label are Volatile by Australia's fun-loving Lime Spiders and the debut album from Uncle Slam, featuring two ex-members of Suicidal Tendencies ... And finally, Rykodisc leaps into the brave new world of digital audio tape with Steal Dis Dat, a sampler featuring Mission of Burma, John McLaughlin, Screaming Tribesmen, Dweezil Zappa and more. Now if we could only steal one of those high-falutin' d.a.t. machines ...

Keep the faith ...

JVC FORCE -- Doin' Damage -- B Boy Records (BB20-1000)

Because rap is a street phenomenon, it's more likely that the next big thing will come from a frisky little independent than a major-label grooming salon. Labels like Fresh, Profile, Next Plateau, Tommy Boy and Luke Skyywalker are releasing the music that the majors will be trying to copy or co-opt in the months ahead.

It's time to add B Boy Records to that list. With the release of JVC Force (and such other up-and-comers as Sparky D, Frozen Explosion and Tall, Dark and Hadsome), B Boy proves itself one of the most unpretentiously street-wise labels around. JVC Force is something new -- when was the last time you heard that term applied to rap? -- a posse that cares more about fun than precision engineering. This is one of the loosest rap albums of all time, a frat party of freshness, with the boys hogging the microphone for their various comic voices, which include a newscaster and a British M.C. There's also a dead-solid imitation of dub-master Yellowman ("Puppy Love") to prove that they're not constrained by rap conventions. But that doesn't mean that the Crew can't throw it down. The title track uses a clever sample of "Louie, Louie," and elsewhere the samples and beats have both a richness and considerable variety. Like they say, this is "the Nu School," and soon a nation of hip-hoppers may be matriculating with the JVC Force.

BEN VAUGHN -- Ben Vaughn Blows Your Mind -- Restless (72266-1)

Ben Vaughn has a solid reputation as a musical wit. His songs include "Looking For a 7-Eleven," "I'm Sorry (But So Is Brenda Lee)" (which was covered by Marshall Crenshaw) and the sublime "Jerry Lewis in France." Now that he's no longer a combo, it might be easier for him to veer into private silliness, but he's done an admirable job here of highlighting his more purely musical virtues. He's a songwriter in the classic roots mode, an easy-going rocker with a knack for hooks and tunefully textured arrangements.

His material reminds you of late-night Midwestern radio -- a hint of country, r&b, urban blues, rockabilly and straightforward '50s rock & roll. He never really cranks it up (at least no more than Buddy Holly did), because his music is essentially a frame for his lyrics, but there are moments of fervor and dance energy, such as the cheesy "Darlene." Elsewhere there are sweet harmonic touches and nice use of novel instrumentation (bongos, but no accordion this time -- Gus Cordovox left the band to work in some kind of museum of trash culture in Philadelphia. Could that be the inspiration for the tune "Trashpickin'"?). Lyrically the material is a little more wistful than before, gentle, but still informed by Vaughn's tongue-in-cheek perspective. Vaughn, who tools around in an old Rambler, is an indispensable guide to working-class sentimental-slob subculture. His point of view is unpretentious, self-mocking, and both fresh and familiar at the same time. He does a wonderful job of turning the weepy conventions of rock & roll balladry inside out, puncturing their seriousness but reinvigorating their heartfelt spirit. And in front of an audience, he's a living embodiment of the work ethic. Believe it or not as you see fit, but a guy named Ben Vaughn from Camden, N.J., is the true and timeless spirit of rock & roll.

BEN VAUGHN

BLOWS YOUR MIND

GABRIEL -- Somewhere Elvis is Smiling Slack Records (358)

The album cover says it all -- a pink Cadillac, with plates that read "Elvis," passes through pearly gates that are decorated with musical notes; the only things visible in the cockpit are a pair of fuzzy dice and a halo over the driver's seat. Whether he's dead or alive, Elvis Presley has ascended into a kind of pop cultural god-hood. The fascination with him, the myth that surrounds him and every little thing that he touched, grows bigger and bigger by the year. This record is both a tribute and a tip o' the hat to the growing notion that Elvis is still alive. Gabriel, a multi-talented performer from Las Vegas, has assembled this record with the help of

Music Wholesalers Ready For Annual Convention

The music wholesalers conference of the National Association of Recording Merchandisers (N.A.R.M.) will be held from Oct. 23-27 in Palm Springs, Ca. The wholesalers convention will be divided into three conferences -- on independent distribution, rack jobbers and one-stops. Each of the three conferences will allow wholesalers and manufacturers significant time for one-to-one meetings.

The first conference, Oct. 23-25, is called "Independent Distribution: A Major Force." At last year's conference, almost fifty labels came to Palm Springs to meet with distributors and manufacturers, get current on industry affairs and network with their peers. (It was also at last year's conference that "The Independent Way" was born.) This year, ten hours have been set aside for companies to schedule private meetings with their distributors. In addition there will be conferences on such topics as new technologies, the pending obscenity legislation affecting the record industry and opportunities in the European market.

The second conference, for rack jobbers, is "Expanding Horizons: Music and Video" and will be held from Oct. 24-26. NARM will arrange a schedule of private meetings between rack jobbers and record manufacturers on Tuesday the 25th, and between rack jobbers and video manufacturers on Wednesday the 26th. In addition there will be conferences on such topics as music videos and the new CD3 technology.

The third and final conference, geared toward one stops, will be held Oct. 25-27. There will be eight hours of private meetings between one stops and record manufacturers, as well as individual conferences on such emerging new products as cassette singles, CD3 and CDV.

Registration deadline for the conference is Oct. 3. Accommodations are available at the Palm Springs Plaza hotel. For more information, contact NARM at 3 Eves Dr., Suite 307, Marlton, N.J. 08053, or call (609) 596-2221.

ROCK BAND HAVE SAX ON STAGE! -- That's what the headline of the press release said, anyway. See, what really happened is that Tina Turner's saxophone player got on stage with this local band at the Whiskey in Los Angeles, and the band's p.r. people came up with this clever line that takes advantage of the similarity between the words 'sax' and 'sex.' Anyway, the name of the band is Britton, they're a melodic metal combo, and their new album on TSR Records has already sold a whopping 20,000 copies, which means that soon they won't need suggestive double-entendres to get attention. The sax player, by the way, is Timmy Cappello, and he's pictured here third from left. The rest of these guys are Britton.

parapsychologist Brian Corleone and Vegas lounge comedian Babe Pier. On side one, Gabriel contributes his bluesy title track, available in both a vocal and instrumental version. On side two, Corleone speculates that the lack of vibrations from Elvis' tomb suggests one of three things: that Elvis is not buried (and is living in some place like Kalamazoo, Mich.), that he was cremated, or that he was buried in a lead coffin to block out the energy. Pier then offers some nice recollections of Elvis' club-hopping days at the old Sahara hotel. The album includes a booklet that addresses the various rumors and notes that the name on Elvis' grave in Memphis is misspelled. (!) Ultimately it's open ended, and essentially very sweet to its reverence for Elvis' memory. Yes indeed, somewhere Elvis is smiling thinking how silly we are.

ON JAZZ

THIS NOTE'S FOR YOU - The Blue Note, one of New York's most popular jazz spots, will open a Tokyo franchise in November. Here sealing the deal with an anonymous attorney are Norimichi Itoh (l), president, in Ito Co. (the franchisee) and Sal Haries (r), managing director, Blue Note.

HOAGY ON THEIR MINDS - Hoagy Carmichael was one of America's greatest songwriters; a brilliant tunesmith whose melodies beautifully balanced the zesty spirit of 20th Century America with the slow, rolling tempo of 19th Century America, specifically the measured rhythms of the American mid-West and South. His music, unlike that of any of his contemporaries, draws; it's unhurried, uncomplicated and, best of all, unpretentious American music, informed by the sounds of jazz, blues and early country music.

The Indiana Historical Society, in company with the Smithsonian Collection of Recordings, has just released Hoagy Carmichael's Biograph or Crossroads - a four-LP, three-cassette, 57-track compilation of the music of Hoagy Carmichael (who, when he wasn't writing his own lyrics, was blessed with such lyricists as Mitchell Parish and Johnny Mercer): The Classic Hoagy Carmichael. It is a classic, and classy, package, containing a beautiful and highly-informative 64-page book by the album's producer John Edward Hasse.

The producers have gone out of their way to find brilliance; to find performances that put the music in the very best light. They are not shy about including several versions of important songs: "Stardust," for example, that standard of standards, is done here by Carmichael himself, Louis Armstrong, Frank Sinatra, Artie Shaw and his Orchestra, Ella Fitzgerald and Wynton Marsalis. Carmichael's own charming, laid-back vocals are peppered throughout this set as are such other first-rate Carmichael interpreters as Bix Beiderbecke, Maxine Sullivan, Ethel Waters, Mel Torme, Ray Charles ("Georgia on My Mind," of course), Bing Crosby, the Mills Brothers, Mildred Bailey, Billie Holiday and Benny Goodman. The songs? Well, you know many of the songs - "How Little We Know," "Rockin' Chair," "Small Fry," "Two Sleepy People,"

"Skylark," "The Nearness of You," "Heart and Soul," "Lazy River," "I Get Along Without Your Very Well," "New Orleans," and "Old Buttermilk Sky" - but many of them are lesser-known - like "Bread and Gravy" and "Moonburn" - though no less charming, witty and graceful.

The Classic Hoagy Carmichael is available at the Smithsonian or from the Indiana Historical Society, 315 W. Ohio St., Indianapolis, IN 46202 (317-232-1882) for $42 postpaid.

PASSING ON - Lawrence Brown, the trombonist whose distinctive, creamy sound graced the Duke Ellington Orchestra from 1932-51 and again throughout the '60s, died September 5th in Los Angeles at the age of 81. Lawrence Brown, the last member of the classic Ellington bands of the '30s, had been inactive for most of the past 20 years.

Charlie Palmieri, the roaring, hell-bent salsa pianist, and brother of bandleader Eddie Palmieri, died of a heart attack September 12 in the Bronx. Palmieri, who was two-parts salsa, one-part jazz, and all parts rhythmic heat, was 60.

And James Black, the New Orleans-based jazz drummer, died August 30 in New Orleans at the age of 48.

ROLL ON - Biograph, that historical-minded little Chatham, New York label, has just come out with a new set of historical-minded CDs, three of them taken from old piano rolls - James P. Johnson: Carolina Shout, George Gershwin: Rhapsody in Blue, Fats Waller: Classic Jazz Solos From Rare Piano Rolls - and Three Shades of Blues, with recordings by Bukka White, Skip James and Blind Willie McTell. It's particularly fascinating hearing Waller, Gershwin (although the Gershwin disk features only a few rolls originally cut by Gershwin) and Johnson in digital sound. Some of the nuances might be lost, but those piano rolls are crisp, clear and, in a way, scary: it's as if old Fats or James P. were tickling the ivories right there in your living room.

CALL FOR... - Philip Morris, no? Yes. The cigarette gigundamo is sponsoring a whale of a jazz tour, one that will sneak in a quick U.S. date (New York's Town Hall, October 7) before heading on a five-week tour of Europe and Asia (where Philip Morris sells some cigarettes, believe you me). It's an impressive three-band line-up. Band one: James Moody, Curtis Fuller, Diane Schuur, Hank Jones, Billy Higgins, Dave Holland. Band two: Johnny Griffin, Bobby Hutcherson, Kirk Lightsey, George Mraz, Kenny Washington. Band three: the Ahmad Jamal Quartet. Sounds good, no? The New York quickie is a benefit for WBCO-FM.

JAZZ FEATURE PICKS

BIRD: ORIGINAL MOTION PICTURE SOUNDTRACK - Columbia SC 44299 - Producer: Lennie Niehaus
Charlie Parker's solos pulled out of their original 78 Era settings and plunked down in the digitally recorded company of 1988 beboppers. Good for the movie, weird as an album, although it should get Bird on '88 radio.

DON'T TRY THIS AT HOME - Michael Brecker - MCA Impulse! 42229 - Producer: Don Grolnick
Gritty tenor man (and slurpy EWI player) in a gritty part-fusion, part-hard bop date with numerous heavyweight guests (Hancock, DeJohnette, Haden, etc.).

THE ETERNAL TRIANGLE - Freddie Hubbard/Woody Shaw - Blue Note 48017 - Producers: Michael Cuscuna, Don Sickler
The two hard-bop trumpet virtuosos once again mano a mano. They don't attempt to chop each other up, but the hard bop fur does get a bit ruffled.

FIELDS - John Carter - Gramavision 18-8809 - Producer: Jonathan F.P. Rose Clarinetist Carter has quietly been turning out a brilliant and challenging series of dense and dramatic suites for octet. This is the fourth in the "Roots and Folklore: Episodes in the Development of American Folk Music" series; it quite beautifully explores country life with a citified eye.

A NEW BEGINNING - John Blake - Gramavision 18-8808 - Producer: Jonathan F.P. Rose Fiddler straddles fusion and Coltraneisms with one fat foot in funk.

DIAMOND INSIDE OF YOU - Rodney Franklin - Novus 3038 - Producer: Rodney Franklin
Contemporary jazz radio'll find some stuff to play here, but this is mostly an R&B date from the popular keyboardist, his first for RCA.

MIDNIGHT SUN - Flora Purim - Venture 90995
Lowkeyed, light as a feather neo-bossa nova from the hit-proven vocalist, who covers one of her biggest hits (yes, "Light as a Feather").

PARADISO - Skywalk - Zebra 42204 - Producer: Graeme Coleman
Radio should jump on this easy, lightly rhythmic acoustic and electric fusion date from this tuneful sextet.

AROUND THE ROUTE

Following groundbreaking about a month ago, with construction in progress, American Vending Sales (Wood Dale, IL) should be moving into its new facilities in Elk Grove Village, IL around the first of December. Meanwhile, veepee Frank Gumma Jr. tells us "business is off to a flying start" for the fall season!

Relocating. Tom Campbell, who recently departed his post at Yellow Pearl (formerly Memetron), is looking forward to returning to his favorite area, San Francisco, where he'll be joining the sales staff of the C.A. Robinson & Co. branch out there. Much good luck to you, Tom!

Cookin' on all burners! Needless to say, Konami's "Main Event" is still in production, and will continue as such until the demand ceases - and there doesn't seem to be a let-up in sight! This has been, and continues to be a terrific seller for Konami. However, they do have a new dedicated video game, "Devastators," which is in production and ready to go! Besides which, by late September, they'll be shipping their latest kit, "88 Games," which, appropriately enough, is based on the Summer Olympics!

Atari Corp. into Chicago. With the recent appointment of Larry Siegel as vice president of software development, Atari Corporation has set up shop in suburban Lombard, Illinois, their two-prong purpose being to enhance consumer products (which has been their main focus) and ultimately diversify into coin-op equipment. Siegel is currently in the process of self-liquidating his Yellow Pearl firm, in Lombard. He told Cash Box, "the first thing we have to do here is address the consumer business and then, we will move into games." Atari Corporation's software business alone last year was more than $100 million, by the way! "We think of coin-op as the 'king of the hill' of the games business," he added, and while this facet is still down the road a few months, Larry has already started hiring staff. The first two members of the team are Frank Cosentino, formerly of Atari Games, who will serve as a full producer; and Steve Harris, who's become well known in coin-op circles via his U.S. Video Game Team and his Sorjana Publications, and will serve as an associate producer. Next step will be to hire a development staff and round out the sales force.

New driving game from Sega. At their recently held distribs meeting (9/9), in San Francisco's Fairmont, Sega premiered an exciting, new driving game called "Power Drift." It offers realism personified, with outstanding graphics, a choice of 12 drivers and five courses (5 stages in each course), a cockpit that leans 360 degrees either way, to name just a few of the game's many outstanding features. Factory reports that the deluxe sit-down model should go into shipment around mid-September with the upright version following about mid-October. Watch for it!...Welcome aboard to Carl Davidson, formerly of Atari who recently joined Sega in the position of customer service manager.

Dateline Bay City, Michigan where we spoke with Valley Recreation prexy Chuck Milhem, who's getting ready to depart for Japan with the Valley Team USA for a series of exhibition matches (Cash Box, 9/10/88). "We've just come off the best pool table year we've had since the mid-70's," he told us. "There's been a tremendous pick up of sales in just about every region of the United States. And, surprisingly, many operators in the plain states, where the drought has hit the hardest, have reported increased activity not only in pool tables, but in darts as well," he added. With respect to the Valley dart games, he told us there's been exceptional penetration this year in the West German market. Valley's plans for AMOA Expo '88 include showing some new adaptations to their dart games, along with accessory items and other exciting products from their lineup. Everyone's invited to stop by their exhibit, of course!

As we were starting to gather news for this week's column, Rowe distribs were starting to gather in Naples, Florida for the factory's annual conference and new product presentation. Hear tell that their new dedicated C.D. jukebox is a knockout! Keep tuned for further details.

Arachnid's 'BullShooter IV' Tour Is Underway!

CHICAGO - Arachnid, Inc.'s $125,000 BullShooter IV World Challenge of Champions dart championship tour got underway with the first Qualifying Regional held in Springfield, Illinois on August 27-28. This 8-event Regional was staged in the Coliseum Room of the Hilton Hotel in Springfield, using 40 new Super 6 Plus English Mark Darts games, and was co-sponsored by American Vending Sales and World Wide Distributors.

Dan Saros of Mishawaka, Indiana became the Midwestern Pro Singles Champion after winning the 301 Double In/Double Out event on Sunday. The Women's Singles championship title went to Carol Wilke of Hebron, Illinois; who later paired with Karen Karpavicius from McHenry, Illinois to win in Women's Doubles. Bill Cantrell of Cary, Illinois and Joe Beecroft of Algonquin took the Open Double Championship from Lloyd Higgins and Dave Hunt, who currently rank third in the world. Lloyd finished out the weekend by taking first in Crickets Singles. Todd McKenzie won the 501 Open Singles event. LeAnn Durbin of East Peoria, Illinois teamed up with Peoria's Chip Caudell for the victory in Mixed Doubles; while Rick and Cathy Perot dominated in Mixed Cricket.

The top three places in each of the eight events were awarded Qualifying Certificates, allowing them entry to the BullShooter IV finals to be held in Chicago on Memorial Day Weekend, 1989, in addition to handsome plaques and prize money.

Fifteen more $5,000 Qualifying Regionals are planned for the BullShooter IV tour, including scheduled stops in Flint, Michigan in September; Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and Tacoma, Washington in October; Atlanta, Georgia in November; and Portland, Oregon in December. Other cities slated for Regionals include Los Angeles, Nashville, Denver, Fort Worth, Lincoln, Nebraska and San Francisco.

Further information about the tour may be obtained by contacting Arachnid, Inc. of Rockford, Illinois at their toll free number which is 800-435-8310. In Illinois call 815-624-0212.

ENM's Open Barrel Counters

CHICAGO - ENM Company of Chicago is currently marketing the Series M20 small non-reset open barrel counters. These two to seven digit counters offer four different drives: revolution, direct drive, rotary ratchet and ratchet with stops. Ratchet counters employ the non-overthrow mechanism to eliminate the possibility of double counting.

The counters are supplied with or without superfinished SS shaft, choice of left or right hand drive or both, top going or top coming. The Series M20 offers optional wheel and figure colors plus an optional large wheel four figure model.

Compactly designed for OEM use, these counters are precision engineered for high accuracy and reliability.

Further information may be obtained by contacting ENM Company at 5617 Northwest Highway, Chicago, IL 60646-6150.

AMOT Show Is A Big Hit!

CHICAGO - The Vanderbilt Plaza Hotel in Nashville was the scene of this year's Amusement/Music Operators of Tennessee state convention and trade show (Aug. 26-28), which attracted an outstanding turnout of operators, guests and exhibitors. There were 245 people registered for the show and a lineup of 67 booths displaying a full assortment of current and new equipment and related supplies. In addition, the pool tournament saw 52 participants and the annual banquet drew 160 attendees. Latter event was an early sell-out where almost 100 had to be turned away.

Things got started early Friday morning with the annual golf tournament. By tradition, the previous year's low gross winner returns, with the "traveling golf trophy," in the hope of regaining it for another year. Bill Dotson (Memphis) did just that, and he even arrived a day early to get in some practice rounds, only to be defeated by Lonnie Galaher of middle Tennessee, who won by four strokes. On Friday evening, golfers and non-golfers alike attended a party that was hosted by Jan and Royce Green (Green Games), with entertainment by Eddie Cash. More than 200 people enjoyed the delicious food and camaraderie.

While there is always a good deal of emphasis on social and recreational activities at this popular weekend show, there is also a full agenda of business meetings and seminars which annually attract heavy traffic, and this year was no exception. The legislative meeting featured chairman Bill Stone and Tom Jackson discussing proposed legislation on the local level, with J. B. Reaves of North Carolina along with AMOA president Wally Bohrer and Gene Urso from Wisconsin providing information on recent legislation in their states. Ted Furkin and Len Smikum (Silent Partner) conducted a management seminar on computer software, which was followed by a technical seminar featuring Tom Cahill of Williams Electronics.

The concluding session was a general membership meeting and brunch on Sunday, when AMOT president Gordon Archibald, AMOA president Wally Bohrer, AMOT's Tom Jackson and Bill Stone each addressed the assemblage, following which the election of officers was held.

Bill Allain, immediate past governor of Mississippi, added a great deal of spark to the Saturday night banquet with his humorous delivery and his words of praise for the members of the amusement industry. And, as the frosting on the cake, noted recording star Carl Perkins, headlined the entertainment. Following the customary presentation of awards for the golf and pool tournaments, the noted AMOT auction of games, kits and parts donated by various manufacturers and distributors, took place. This function brought in more than twenty thousand dollars for the association.

As further evidence of the success of this year's AMOT state convention, exhibitors reported excellent sales at the show.

The 1989 AMOT convention is slated for August 18, 19 and 20 in Nashville.

Mississippi governor Bill Allain, who captivated the AMOT banquet audience with his words of humor and wisdom, is surrounded by a trio of lovelies including Jan Green, a friend, and Joan Bell, wife of the Mississippi state association prexy.
