INSIDE THE BOX

COVER STORY

Travis Tritt: Under The Leather, There's A Satin Lining

In an exclusive interview, Warner Bros. artist Travis Tritt talks with Cash Box's Nashville editor Kimmy Wix about his road to the top, his CMA Horizon Award and his somewhat split image. Is he just a humble "hometown boy who made good" or the "hunk" his female fans perceive him to be?

—see page 7

R&B MUSIC

Roger (Troutman) Interview

R&B hitmaker Roger speaks with Cash Box's associate editor Bryan DeVaney about his latest Reprise album, Bridging The Gap. With this lp, Roger literally bridges the gap between what he calls, "the old music and the new music."

BACK TO BOURBON STREET: NARM's 34th annual convention, dubbed "Go For the Gold," will take place at the New Orleans Marriott, March 13-16. That's right, New Orleans, home of the Neville Brothers, Marie Laveau and the best damned oyster sandwiches on this green earth. NARM almost pulled out of Louisiana, before that fine state defeated its anti-obscenity music lyrics legislation. What, then, if a Ku Klux Klan leader becomes governor? Stay tuned.

YOU HELP WHERE YOU EAT: MCA Music has formed the City of Hope Restaurant Program, with proceeds going toward the establishment of the Alvin N. Teller Research Fellowship of the City of Hope National Medical Center and Beckman Research Institute. The way it works is that a whole bunch of L.A. restaurants agree to donate the proceeds from a single meal to the cause. If you want to get chomping this week, head for dinner at La Loggia on Nov. 4, lunch at Adriano's on Nov. 5 and dinner at the Alley Grill on Nov. 6.

A WONDER-FUL GUY: Stevie Wonder has announced two benefit concerts, the proceeds from which will go towards a $150,000 bone marrow transplant for a 44-year-old L.A. artist, Margaret Darbarpar, who is suffering from cancer. When he learned of her plight on a TV news show, Wonder responded with the offer to donate his time and talents. The concerts will be held at actress Marla Gibbs' Crossroads Theater in L.A. on November 9.

Jose Feliciano (center) displays his pleasure and the Lifetime Achievement Award given to him by Latin Music Expo producers Angelo Roman, Jr. (left) and Dr. George Gamez. More than 200 people attended the day-long event, which was recently held in Los Angeles. Plans for the second Expo are underway.

NEWS FROM JAPAN

Effective Jan. 1, 1992, the Japan Phonograph Record Assn. (JPRO) will have a new name. Because the name JPRO has been deemed by the association as too old fashioned and not suitable as we move closer to the 21st century, it will soon be known as the Recording Industry Assn. of Japan or RIAJ.

Total shipments of audio and video software in Japan for August, 1991 amounted to $294 million, up three percent over the comparable month of the previous year. At the same time, the 24,317,000 units sold was ten percent more than the same month mentioned above. Of the totals mentioned, (compared to last year) video increased by 13 percent while CDs rose only three percent. These results were furnished by the JPRO.

Total royalties distributed to copyright owners by the Japan Association of Rights of Authors, Composers and Publishers (JASRAC) for the first six months of fiscal 1991 (April-Sept.) was reported to be $262 million, up 15.4 percent over the comparable term of the prior year.

The EMI Tokyo Summit '91, the first of its kind for this company, was recently held here in Tokyo. Promoted by Toshiba EMI, this priority product joint presentation for the second half of 1991 included executives and artists from EMI Music International, Capitol, EMI USA, SBK, Impact, EMI UK and Chrysalis. While this function concentrated only on international product, a future meeting is being planned for the purpose of exposing domestic repertoires and video software.

Total revenue of Seikodo Co., Ltd. for its 46th fiscal term (June 1990-1991) was reported at $714 million, up 21 percent over the previous fiscal year, the highest result in the history of the company.

The Yamano Music Instruments Co., Ltd. (one of the major music, instrument and record retailers in Japan), has a new building which was completed at Ginza Street in Tokyo. The building, which is the new headquarters for the Yamano Co., also serves as a monument of tribute to the company, as it marks 100 years in business.

Toshiba-EMI recently presented a special compilation CD entitled Maternity Mozart to Japan's Princess Kiko as a gift to her and her unborn baby. Several medical and musical authorities were consulted and over 600 works of Mozart were examined before final selections were made. The CD features those compositions deemed to be most effective in producing alpha waves in pregnant women and in the womb.

SINGLES

By Randy Clark and Bryan DeVaney

INXS "Shining Star" (Atlantic PRCD 4248-2)

This new single from the Australian crew is from the newly released, live album Live Baby Live and is the only studio track. Something about this cut is strangely similar sounding to John Mellencamp. But it does rock in the same vein as other INXS tunes, just not as well as earlier hits "Suicide Blonde", "The One Thing" or "What You Need" all of which are on the live album recorded at London's Wembley Stadium. Produced by Mark Opitz and INXS.

MARIAH CAREY: "Can't Let Go" (Columbia CSK 74088)

It looks like Mariah along with the rest of the CBS/Sony staff are preparing themselves for another, yes another Mariah Carey hit. This time Carey is slowing down the pace from the first single "Emotions." In our opinion, this should have been the first single taken off the album. Her voice still has that crystal-clear sound that has hypnotized listeners of all sorts. This is another reminder that she will definitely be around collecting awards at the end of the recording year.

ABC: "Say It" (MCA DS-54055)

ABC has been around for over 10 years in the UK and Europe and has been putting out dance songs ever since. The group reached American audiences a few years back with "When Smokey Sings." The band consists of lead singer Martin Fry and instrumentalist Mark White. This is the first single from the new album debut on MCA Abracadabra and has a very chic disco sound, combined with pop lyrics. This promo CD contains five mixes of the tune and is produced by Dave Bascombe along with Mark and Martin.

VOICE IN TIME: "Dangerous Town" (Zero Hour ZH 1005)

Zero Hour may have come and gone for this re-release from Voice In Time. The Dangerous Town album, originally released in June, was given limited distribution and the label encourages potential buyers to call their toll free number to order the 10-cut CD. (800/722-0613...you're welcome) The single was recently remixed for radio by Harvey Goldberg (Til Tuesday, Bow Wow Wow), but the album was originally produced by the band themselves. Blending a bit of old and new sounds, this one might lack the punch for radio programmers.

WILL DOWNING: "Don't Make Me Wait" (Island Records PRCD 6695-2)

A lot of people sell him short, but this man has a voice that many male recording artists are very, very far from even competing with. His previous hit "I Try," which gave this man a number one Cash Box Rhythm & Blues hit, is ready to do it once again. "Don't Make Me Wait" is another slow-jam by this ballad pro that gets respect in this corner and should prove itself worthy of heavy radio rotation. You can also find the single on his album titled A Dream Fulfilled.

JEFF REDD: "You Called & Told Me" (MCA CD45-1597)

Jeff Redd's back with a new single that will be featured on the upcoming movie soundtrack for Strictly Business. This is a middle-tempo dance cut that has a nice R&B sound to it with some dope, drum tracks hanging in the background that should catch the ear of many R&B/Swing listeners. "You Called & Told Me," is produced by the much-respected team of Dave Hall and Eddie F for Untouchables Music.

By Fred L. Goodman

MUSIC PUB

PEN PALS: The unique songwriting partnership of Jimmy Van Heusen and Sammy Cahn will be highlighted on a 22-track CD/cassette collection titled Sinatra Sings the Songs of Van Heusen and Cahn which will be released by Reprise in mid-November.

The package, produced by Joe McEwen and James Isaacs, includes a wealth of Van Heusen compositions (besides those with Cahn, there will also be a number of tunes written with Johnny Burke, as well). Most of the songs were written especially for the Chairman of the Board and include the classics "Come Fly With Me," "Love And Marriage," "My Kind Of Town" and "Come Blow Your Horn." The set also contains one previously unreleased track, "Come Waltz With Me." Pubs represented include Famous, Bourne, Maraville and, of course, Van Heusen Music and Cahn Music.

DOTTED LINES: Recent signings include a couple at PolyGram/Island Music: Seattle rapper Sir Mix-A-Lot and heavy metal band Rights of the Accused. Sir Mix-A-Lot's last two albums, which were released on Nasty Mix, sold in excess of 1.5 million records. His new lp, scheduled for release in early '92, will be on Def America. Rights of the Accused's first major label release, Kick-Happy, Thrill-Hungry, Reckless & Willing (Noise International/BMG), has already garnered terrific reviews... NEM Entertainment, Inc. has signed Interscope recording artists The Hard Corps to an exclusive publishing agreement. The group's debut lp, Def Before Dishonor, was just released. The Hard Corps is a six-man, rock 'n rap band from Nashville that combines the street rap of two vocalists and a DJ with a live guitar, bass and drums.

ALBUMS

ICE CUBE: Death Certificate (Priority Records 4XL 57155)

Well, this long-awaited Ice Cube album will definitely be a good holiday gift idea... Yeah, you read it right, Ice Cube has finally released his Death Certificate album that everyone has been impatiently waiting for. The production is pretty impressive but really can't be compared to the quality of his last album. Lyrically, Cube delivers a wide variety of his views on many subjects such as interracial relationships, the government and even a response to NWA's diss' that they put out on their latest album! Only a couple of the tracks sound like the original Ice Cube.

QUESTIONNAIRES: Anything Can Happen (EMI E2-93457)

This Nashville-based group is a basic three-chord rockin' band that kicks hard with an All-American sound. Anything Can Happen is the second album from the group, and continues in the traditional rock and roll bag. The band is headed up by lead singer/songwriter Tom Littlefield who just so happens to be the grandson of jazz great Woody Herman. But don't look for any of grandpa's influence here, these songs are the simple pop variety, with just a touch of southern flavor. Produced by Rodney Mills (.38 Special).

QUESTIONNAIRES

THE NORTHERN PIKES: Snow In June (Scotti Bros. 72392 75223-2)

Well, apparently this group of diverse musician/songwriters have had considerable notoriety in their hometown of Saskatoon, Ontario and have sold plenty of their previous two LPs on Virgin-Canada. Snow In June contains a wide assortment of sounds and songs from rockers to folk-style harmonies to the avant garde. "She Ain't Pretty" is a fun, tongue-in-cheek little ditty. The band is comfortable with experimentation, no doubt a result of all four of the boys lending a hand to the writing.

CHERRELLE: The Woman I Am (A&M 28965-4005-2)

Everyone knows that Cherrelle is a talented vocalist that has been around for quite awhile, but until now she hasn't had a hit-packed album. Finally Cherrelle has put together a collection of tracks that sound good both vocally and production-wise. For openers, she delivers a very nice and subtle sound on "Never In My Life." Continuing on to track two "7 Days A Week," has even a better sound than the first one! Going through the rest of the album, she displays her ability to speed things up and still have a quality sound. This album is really impressive.

MALTEZE: Count Your Blessings Gold Records GR001MCDA)

What we have here is a transplanted heavy metal group from Rochester, New York with a female lead singer. Barbara Malteze does know how to pump out ripping vocals, but the sound and style is very reminiscent of tri-state area club bands from the early '80s. Malteze releases their first album on indie label, Gold Records. With limited/dated appeal and without major distribution, unless this band hooks up as an opener for a major metal act, there might be a problem getting into the mainstream, although the band has had some metal chart placement. The band is produced and arranged by JP.

DIE WARZAU: Big Electric Metal Bass Face (Atlantic 7 82295-2)

Just by reading the selections on the CD, they indicate that this album is completely set at an "up" tempo. The first selection "Crack Radio," is best described by its amusing name (a crazy, noise-infested song). Other songs included that might interest listeners of new age/alternative music would be "Brand New Convertible Car," "My Pretty Little Girlfriend," "Pig City" and "Dying In Paradise."

THIS PICTURE: A Violent Impression (RCA 3010-2-R)

Although you can tell this band's music is distinctly English, it's difficult to put This Picture into a bag with other British-poppers. There is a darker more ethereal, dreamlike side to the sound from these four guys who live and create together in a small town in the West Country called Bath. Romantic and poetic, the lyrics (by lead singer Symon Bye) tell stories of reality, while the music lends a tormented hand. The rest of the quartet is rounded out with guitar player Robert Forrester, bassist Austen Rowley and drummer Duncan Forrester. The album is produced by Kevin Moloney.

NEW EDITION: Greatest Hits, Volume One (MCA Records MCAD-10434)

It doesn't really seem like they have been around long enough to already release a greatest hits album, but they have. Since their departures, they have all made impressive solo careers for themselves, but everyone is longing for a reunion album. Well for now, this is the closest you will come to that. This all-hit album includes their previous hits like "Count Me Out," "Mr. Telephone Man," "Can You Stand The Rain" and "Popcorn Love." This 11-selection CD is a good bargain.

TWENTY MONDAYS: The Twist Inside (Spindletop SPT137CD)

The first thing noticed about playing this LP are the straight-ahead drums and groove of a new band that is not trying to prove anything other than making good music. The funny thing is that the beat on most of these cuts is provided by guest-star musicians like Chad Smith (Red Hot Chili Peppers) and killer beat-master, Jeff Porcaro. The actual band consists of two sets of Texas-raised brothers, Steve and Jeff Williamson, Jay and Joe Patino, and lead singer/lyricist Ken Shepard. Outstanding musicianship, good grooves, good band. Worth a check-out listen. Produced by Garth Richardson.

URBAN DANCE SQUAD: Life 'N Perspectives Of A Genuine Crossover (Arista 07822 18672-2)

The group that brought us the enormous MTV hit "A Deeper Shade Of Soul," has returned with their latest of releases Life 'N Perspectives Of A Genuine Crossover. Best known for their suburban, rap-ish style, they have mixed a little more '70s-style rock into this album giving it a "crossover" sound, but not for pop radio. "The Gates Of The Big Fruit," "Thru The Eyes Of Jason" and "Grand Black Citizen" are among the album's more quality songs.

PICK OF THE WEEK:

DAN FOGELBERG LIVE: Greetings From The West (Full Moon/Epic E2K 48625 EK 48733)

Dan's music is warm and familiar, and if you don't listen to his records that often, it is a good idea to get acquainted with the way the man was meant to be heard... live. His poignant lyrics and soothing delivery are perfect for an evening with someone you care about, preferably in concert or now with the release of Dan Fogelberg Live, you can get the idea without leaving your own home. This two-CD set contains 22 tracks, the first several cuts rock out, but when he picks up his acoustic guitar, he mellows you right out and sends you to a place that only the likes of artists like himself and James Taylor can take you. The live package takes you through the peaks and valleys of his show, and although it's great to hear all the talking he does between songs, the applause gets a little loud at times, which is all part of the show, but could have been cut down for the album.

DEBUT PICK OF THE WEEK

ORGANIZED KONFUSION: Organized Konfusion (Hollywood Basic HB 61212-2)

The year-end releases seem to keep getting better and better. Organized Konfusion, who you might remember from their debut single "Who Stole My Last Piece Of Chicken?" have finally released their debut album after so many months of waiting. (It's about time guys!) Well to start off, just reading the titles of the album's 16 tracks, you can clearly tell that this is not your ordinary rap group. "Fudge Pudge," which I believe will be the second single, is a mid-tempo, flava' cut that is guaranteed to make you nod ya' head. Other songs that you should check out are "Walk Into The Sun" (this track is prettay' dizznizope)," and "Releasing Hypnotical Gases." This stuff is dope!

Travis Tritt: Under The Leather, There's A Satin Lining

By Kimmy Wix

HE IS PERHAPS ONE OF THE FEW COUNTRY ARTISTS who needs no introduction to anyone out there who values the sound of music of any kind. The mere anticipation of Travis Tritt hitting the stage, being heard on radio or being seen on video, for one reason or another, stirs up an all-new excitement! Regardless of why, those exposed to his rowdy-meets-sensitive style of music, are turning "on" to country music's newest "man in black" in a real, big way.

In addition to his expected shell of black leather, tight jeans, long-dark hair, sometimes scruffy beard and an occasional chain dangling from his boots or jacket; many who have witnessed Tritt in action simply perceive him as this southern-rooted country boy, who has a touch of redneck spirit and an entertaining quality that's flavored with blunt energy, a belting voice and an aim to show audiences a good time. Possibly true, but despite the image Tritt has so quickly developed, one that's also placed him at the top of the country "hunk" list, the person behind the ruggedness proves to be much more than what meets the eye.

"I found out a long time ago that there's an image involved," Tritt contemplates. "And whether you try to build one or not, people are going to tag one on you. People fall in love with the image. But the image is one thing and the person is another."

Whether it's the image or the person, it's no wonder that Tritt has recently become the talk of the town across the entire board of music. His Warner Bros. debut project, Country Club, garnered the gold almost instantly. His follow-up and current album, It's All About To Change, did the same even more quickly. Just as the title suggests, everything did change as soon as the product hit the street. It was only a short time ago that Tritt's Country Club reached platinum status—a major feat for a relative newcomer who was just recently honored with the Country Music Association's Horizon Award.

"I still wake up and pinch myself," Travis admits. "It's unbelievable when you look back on it all, and I try not to very often because I just get real nervous. There has just been so much happening in such a short time that it's scary. But then at the same time it's very fulfilling."

Once a heating and air-conditioning serviceman, the Marietta, Georgia native quit his job in 1983 and began playing every honky-tonk and club that would allow him. After almost eight years, Tritt had tasted his share of the so-called "paid-dues-stew."

"I've put a lot of years into all this," he says. "I feel that I've been very lucky, but at the same time... I don't really think it was all a fluke that we've gotten as far as we have either. There were just a lot of dues paid."

Perhaps the fluke to which Tritt questions is partly due to the impact he has made on his audience. Whether it be the lyrics in his songs or the realistic approach he uses to deliver them, the world who hears Travis Tritt is, in a sense, lured by this most inviting persona.

"I think I'm the guy next door to a lot of people," confidently states Tritt. "I'm the hometown boy that made good. And in that respect, I want to be just that. That's not just an image either. That's me. I'm really grateful for a lot of good breaks and especially to the fans. I see a lot of people who get into this business and for whatever reason, they tend to want to forget what brought them to the dance. My dad had a great quote: 'Dance with the one who brung ya!' And I really think that's important. You can't forget what got you where you are, and it's the fans that did it. I'm very much like them! They're down-to-earth country people and that's exactly what I am. And I want them to continue to feel that."

Despite Tritt's "down-to-earth" personality and approach to the fans, the boy's music by all means, comes at the top of his reasons-for-success list. His blend of southern-rock-n-soul and honky-tonk balladry have ultimately come together as one; and that solid foundation which is at the same time so easily broken down into so many directions continues to reach the people.

"I think it's real honest music more than anything else," explains Tritt. "There are a lot of different styles incorporated into it because of all the different influences I had growing up. There's the Merle Haggard style and George Jones style to Lynyrd Skynyrd and the Allman Brothers. I had somebody tell me the other day, 'The thing we like about your songs is when you write and sing them, it's as if you're talking to people just like you'd talk to them in a conversation.' I write stuff about real things that happen to me. That's really what appeals to people."

Behind Tritt's sultry singing and emotion-tinged songwriting, there is yet another appeal that's taking his fans and soon-to-be fans by storm. Whether he admits it or not, the majority of ladyfolk out there agree that Tritt is absolutely fine.

"That's exactly all it is... hype," says Tritt, with a quite serious tone in his voice. "I never had that much sexual appeal til stardom hit. I know for a fact that people are simply falling in love with the image. If I was still working in the heating and air-conditioning field, I doubt very seriously that I'd be listed as a 'heating & air-conditioning hunk.' I just don't pay much attention to it."

Tritt is, however, paying close attention to his extraordinary, busy schedule these days, and that's no surprise. After launching five #1 singles, a gold and platinum album and playing roughly 300 dates per year, who could imagine this guy having much "lax" time on his hands. "In the past year, I've found myself not turning anything down cause I'm scared it's all going to go away," says Tritt. "It's definitely a fear. Otherwise I wouldn't do all this stuff, but after sitting around in the position I've been in for so long—sitting in Georgia and aching for people to sing to; playing honky tonks and then finally making it, you're so overwhelmed that it happened first of all and then you want to stay around. You start thinking, now if I turn 'em down, they might stop asking. Your schedule is not your own, but I have learned to say 'no' a little bit more."

The CMA Horizon Award winner's latest schedule endeavors include a whole new world of career stunts. Recently, Tritt was fortunate enough to take on perhaps his biggest challenge yet. Who says singing the National Anthem at the World Series would be easy? To say the least, he sang it like nobody else and with an unprecedented drive of emotion and spirit—proving once again that this one-time church soloist as a child reveals much more than the wild-n-wooly image he often portrays. Tritt's newest venture features fellow artist Marty Stuart and himself in a brand new single and video entitled "The Whiskey Ain't Workin'." According to Tritt, he and Stuart consider themselves as the Waylon and Willie of the '90s.

Like a host of other superstars in the making, there is a certain amount of idolism which also comes along. Tritt's presence as an idol possibly comes across in a black leather jacket and an occasional rowdy-edged stagershow, but he'd be the first to admit there is indeed a soft lining hidden under the leather.

"People who are just going to key in on that, have to look at the other side too," he says. "I've been compared to Hank Williams, Jr., but he'd never do songs like 'Help Me Hold On,' 'Drift Off To Dream' or 'Anymore.' There's definitely a softer side to what we do. There's a lot of rebel-outlaw in me, but there's a lot of other things involved too. So basically you get to look at the whole package and enjoy the music for what it is."

INDUSTRY BUZZ

By Lee Jeske

WELCOME BACK, KEEMOSABE: You may not recognize the face, but if you grew up in New York in the '60s and '70s, you know the voice. It's none other than "Dandy" Dan Ingram and he's back where he belongs: on New York radio. He's the weekend noon-3:00 pm man on WCBS-FM.

WHEEL OF FORTUNE: I'm currently in the middle of Wouldn't It Be Nice, the gruesome autobiography of Brian Wilson and I'm thinking, "Yecccch, this again!" Abuse, drugs, mental illness: Hey, it's only rock and roll, but I like it. Sheesh.

But there's another side to the coin and it's been written by Bruce Thomas, the bass player for Elvis Costello and the Attractions for a decade. Thomas has just published a funny, odd, charming little account of life on the road in America, The Big Wheel: Rock & Roll and Roadside Attractions ($10.95, Faber and Faber). Thomas is a good-natured, pun-loving navel contempler and his account of tooling around the gun-grey highways and byways of our fair land is disarming; he's a good observer and what he's usually observing is the insides of buses and the insides of motels and the insides of his head. It's worth reading, because he crawls ever so gently under the skin of what it's really like to lead the rock and roll life. The Big Wheel is a nice antidote to the poison that so many rock and roll autobiographies treat us to.

VINYL FRONTIER: Great new Phil Spector boxed set, but I couldn't help thinking that instead of four CDs, this box should really contain 30 45-rpm singles and one 12-inch album (A Christmas Gift to You, which, in its brilliant entirety, is the fourth CD). Spector's whole "Back to Mono" schtick is genuine: When he was building his Walls of Sound, he was building them knowing that they were going to be listened to by kids with flimsy record players or, more likely, on transistor radios and staticky AM car radios. Phil Spector was the king of the 45, and it's kind of odd to find him all digitally spiffed up on compact discs: like seeing the Mona Lisa in Cinerama, or something like that.

Anyway, one of the things that makes the Spector box stand out from the current glut of boxed sets is that Spector has not abandoned vinyl: the set is available on five LPs, as well as four CDs or cassettes. The question is, "Where can you buy it?" Well, one place is probably 2nd Hand Tunes, a record store in Chicago that claims to be the last store in town (actually, there are two of them) that sells nothing but vinyl. That's right: Hunks of black petroleum in your choice of speeds—33 1/3 revolutions per minute or 45 revolutions per minute. What a concept!

2nd Hand Tunes is currently celebrating its 15th anniversary, and if you happen to be in Chittown, they're at 2604 No. Clark St. (312-929-6325) or 818 Dempster St. in Evanston (708-491-0890). Says owner Jim Mayhercy, "I noticed that many interesting records are not available on compact disc or cassette. Just today I sold The Brady Bunch Album, Bob Dembrowski's Bowling Tips, Lesbian Seagull and other hits by Tom Wilson, Jerry Lewis Sings and How to Talk To Your Plants. Try finding those on CD."

ROLLIN': One of the more entertaining afternoons I spent recently was at a showcase of a projected Broadway show, The High Rollers Social & Pleasure Club. Basically, the show is a cheerful revue of New Orleans rhythm and blues, sort of a Black and Blue for the "Ooh Poo Pah Doo" set, and what gives it its undeniable zest is the onstage presence of one Allen Toussaint, who steers the band and plays the heck out of the piano. Sure, it's Broadway-ish, but the singers and dancers assembled (including the spectacular tapdancer, Savion Glover) did a good job of conveying the spirit of Professor Longhair, the Neville Brothers, Dr. John, Lee Dorsey, Frankie Ford, Jessie Hill and the rest. It plans to be on Broadway in the spring, just as we're all getting ready to head for the real deal at the New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival. Yeah, you right.

EAST COAST

By Randy Clark

THE END OF AN ERA: We at Cash Box and those in the music industry will no doubt feel the loss of legendary rock promoter Bill Graham for years to come.

Those of us who have participated in the festivals and other various contributions the man has made to the world of entertainment, will probably not see the likes of his integrity or vision again. He will be missed. It's sad enough to lose anyone of celebrated accomplishment, as it was with the recent passing of Star Trek creator Gene Roddenberry of a heart attack, but the loss of someone due to an accident only makes it seem worse. The man was not finished contributing and evolving by a long shot. Seeming to never slow down, Graham had just reconstructed the Day On The Green/Bay Area metal-fest and was currently involved in the organization of a benefit concert for the victims of the recent disastrous fire in Oakland. Graham can be seen playing gangster Lucky Luciano in the upcoming Warren Beatty film Bugsy.

HELLO, I MUST BE GOING: Richard Marx (no relation to Groucho) will launch a five-concert/five-city/all-in-one-day tour, promoting the upcoming release of his Rush Street LP. On Friday, November 9, Marx will be performing free of charge starting at the airport in Washington D.C. at 9:00am, again at 12:15pm at JFK in NYC, Hopkins International in Cleveland at 3:30pm, East Lydon High School in Chicago at 6:15pm and Burbank Airport in Los Angeles at 10:30pm. Rush Street is the third album by Marx and follows his two previous platinum releases. The first single, "Keep Coming Back" was released last week and debuted here at Cash Box at number 47. Richard calls the "Rush In, Rush Out Tour" a way of capturing the spirit of the new album and is a "thank-you" to his fans. I just hope his fans back east say "you're welcome" by showing up at 9:00 in the morning...

BLACK OR WHITE?: In his first effort since the negotiation of a billion-dollar deal with Sony earlier this year, Michael Jackson will be airing the first in a series of short films to be released from his new album, Dangerous. With an exclusive deal for network broadcast premieres with Fox-TV, Michael will air Black Or White (an ironic title if you've looked at him lately) on November 14, on Fox, MTV, and BET simultaneously at 8:30pm, right after The Simpsons. Joining the thrilling, off-the-wall, bad one in the film will be Bart Simpson, Macaulay Culkin and George Wendt, the beer guzzler from Cheers. The 11-minute film, by "Thriller" director John Landis, will also be part of a half-hour, prime-time special on Fox November 17, profiling Jackson's career, with concert footage and video clips. You decide...

BULLETIN BORED: Just a little place for quasi-interesting tid-bits and possibly humorous morsels of news, gossip, insidious innuendo, propaganda or whatever: Go-Go, Ga-Ga... Guess what?... Belinda Carlisle is pregnant. Future daddy, of course, is husband/film producer/son of James, Morgan Mason. Congratulations... Hey! I heard that Paula Abdul has a professional calorie-counter following her around, making sure she doesn't blow out the tights she was wearing on the MTV Awards... Ouch!... MTV darlings, Jellyfish are looking for a new invertebrate guitarist after the departure of Jason Falkner. The band is currently writing songs for their next album. Anyone interested should call Charisma Records and swamp their switchboard... Good Luck!... and just remember, when your phone isn't ringing... it's me!...next week...

RICHARD MARX

By Bryan DeVaney

Roger

CASH BOX INTERVIEW—

Whenever most people hear the name Roger Troutman (known professionally as Roger), they automatically think of the man who altered the entire way R&B music was put out. He managed to give R&B something that nobody else could give it—an exciting edge that sounded original. His robot-sounding voice made his songs even more distinctive than his incredible musical production. The multi-faceted performer, producer and songwriter managed to practically dominate the '80s with his solo career, his career with Zapp and producing music for the talented Shirley Murdock. Songs like "Grapevine," "More Bounce To The Ounce," "Dance Floor" and "Computer Love," just to name a few, all made him one of the music industry's most impressive artists. Recently he released his newest album titled Bridging The Gap on Reprise Records, and I was fortunate enough to talk to this musical pioneer about his album.

"Well, on this album," Roger began, "I tried to come up with a method of sampling some of my old material and blending it in with some new original sounds that I wanted to add to give it a whole different feel. It was through EPMD, Sir Jinx, Ice Cube and David Gansen that I was able to come up with the perfect marriage between sampling and also my ability to put some chord changes together. I think what I came up with was magic. Benny and Lenny over here at Warners really believed in me and felt I should work with some other producers. As much as I protested it, they still felt that I should venture into new horizons. Benny also insisted that I work with David. He was such a believer in my old material that when we were in the studio, if the sound wasn't like my old stuff, he didn't like it.

If it wasn't for him, I wouldn't have sounded like the old Roger." (Old Roger or new Roger, the finished product has shocked just about everyone who has heard it.)

Later in the discussion, we talked about the first single that was released, titled "Get Up." "I was told by the record company that it would be a good thing to go in the studio with Jinx to do a track," Roger explained. "I went in and did it, and it was unusual. Sir Jinx and Ice Cube, they're rappers, they don't get involved in music, they don't understand music, they deal with vinyl (sampling). I became very aware with what is going on with music nowadays in terms of sampling and scratching. They insisted that I do things their way no matter what. I thought they really didn't care because they don't understand chord changes or musical harmony parts. Now I'm glad I listened to them because they took me to a different place with the single that I couldn't have gone to alone."

He continued, "If that wasn't enough, as soon as I finished, I took the record to David and he said, 'Now it's time to go back in the studio and sound like Roger.' I felt like a ping-pong ball, but I was loving every minute of it. So I went back into the studio with Jinx's tracks and made it sound more like Roger. If that wasn't enough, out of nowhere Benny Medina told me that he wanted me to get together with Keir Worthy in the rap department. I really didn't have no idea what was going on at the time, and at the last minute they brought in EPMD to make a cameo appearance. It was totally amazing!"

Ending the interview, Roger discussed how he felt about a lot of rappers sampling his music. "Well, to give you my honest feelings about it, you know I feel a lot of ways. I feel flattered, and also I think, 'Damn, I must have done something right to have all of these groups sampling my material.' That really woke me up to knowing how to put together a concept to 'bridge the gap' between old music and new music."

Well so far, "Get Up" has only been on the music charts a few weeks and is already passing just about everything in its path with its funky basslines and hip-hop feel. Bridging the Gap, is getting excellent reviews and should be in stores by the time this article hits the streets. So you can be sure to hear a lot more from Roger, because—tha' man is back! P.S. Good luck on your album, Roger. Peace...

CASH BOX ARTIST PROFILE:

415, which is the area code for the Oakland area, is also the name of Priority Records recording artists 415. Out of West Oakland group members D-Loc, D.J. Daryl and Brotha Broski combine their lyrics and music to create a hard, down-to-reality sound that could be classified in the same category as their labelmates N.W.A. and Ice Cube.

Making their debut in the music business on their 1990 album, 415 Finin', they managed to sell well over 100,000 copies under their own independent record label, Big League Records. The album broke their sound and name into the market. It was an impressive start since they had no radio play and no major distributor.

Now under Priority, their latest release, Nu Niggaz On Tha' Blokkk, promises to deliver their sound all over the nation and hopefully catch on with the buying market.

The album consists of 19 tracks filled to the brim with straight-up, smack-ya-in-tha'-face reality. Production-wise, they use a lot of original sounds (guitars and bass) with some hype-samples floatin' around in the background to give the music a dope sound that a lot of artists are trying to achieve nowadays. Lyrically, the group puts out messages that revolve around living in the ghetto and also livin' life gangsta' style.

Among the albums' strong cuts are "Nu Niggaz On Tha' Blokkk," "Court In Tha' Streets," "Lifestyle As A Gangsta" and "Nuttin' But A Come Up." Watch out for this group in the near future to make some noise in the business that society can't handle.

PRIORITY RECORDS SWEEPS NARM AWARDS:

STREET BEAT

Priority Records was the big winner at the Independent Music Awards Banquet October 5 at the NARM Wholesalers Conference in Newport Beach, California. Besides capturing the "Independent Label of the Year" for the second year in a row, Priority took the awards for "Best Selling Rap Album" and "Best Seller of the Year" for the release of EPILAZAGGIN by N.W.A.

The awards represent recognition of the label's innovative spirit and non-hesitant attitude in the music business. Award selection was made by voting members, comprised of retailers, distributors, rack-jobbers and one-stops. Priority co-owner Mark Cerami accepted the award on behalf of the company. NARM (National Assn. of Record Merchandisers) is the nation's leading organization in the field of music retail.

The six-year-old label, which had initially attained enormous success with special compilation album projects, later pioneered the genre of west coast, hard-core rap, supported by such artists as N.W.A., Ice Cube, W.C. & The MAAD Circle and Eazy-E. In just a few short years the label has garnered several gold and platinum albums; celebrated a #1 Pop Album; signed distribution agreements with two exciting independent labels, Rap-A-Lot Records and Rhythm Safari (which won the 1991 NARM "Best Selling World Music Album"); and became one of the most highly regarded independent labels on the current scene.

Priority president Bryan Turner stated, "It's especially gratifying to earn recognition from the retailers. They're the ones on the front lines of the music business, dealing directly with consumers and getting an immediate feel for trends and directions in music. We're grateful to NARM and its membership for these very meaningful and significant awards."

Priority by far, deserves the awards and respect it has been getting for their tremendous support of rap music and promises to continue the tradition throughout the '90s.

(Next week: Peep out an interview with RAL/Columbia recording artist Smooth B of Nice N' Smooth.)

Country News Box

NASHVILLE CONCERT PRECEDES "RING" OF WEDDING BELLS—The biggest reception was actually before the wedding(s). It marked the last of a spectacular '91 tour, featuring Clint Black, Lorrie Morgan and Merle Haggard. Nashville's Municipal Auditorium quickly became the home of a sold-out audience on a recent Friday evening as the three Country top names delivered a class-A performance, as well as a "Music City Best" in the concert category. Following a Clint Black encore and the welcoming of Jimmy Buffet onto stage for a very surprising Black/Buffet duet, the tour for 1991 was complete, yet the tour of matrimony was soon to begin.

The following Sunday (Oct. 20), Black fulfilled his commitment to marrying actress Lisa Hartman. Without even notifying members of the Black entourage, the two privately tied the knot at the singer/songwriter's ranch in Houston, Texas.

One week later (Oct. 27), Morgan made it official with Black's bus driver Brad Thompson. The two, who had announced their marriage-to-be a few months ago, were married at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Madison, Tennessee. Black served as the groom's best man.

CROWELL AND CASH SING D.I.V.O.R.C.E.—On a much darker note, one of Country Music's most-loved couples, Rodney Crowell and Rosanne Cash, filed for divorce. Married in 1979, the two separated in June of '91 when Rosanne moved to Connecticut. "After much consideration and with mutual love and respect, Rosanne and I have decided to divorce," stated Crowell. "We remain close friends and co-parents of our children." Crowell will continue to live in Nashville. Both are on the roster of Columbia Records.

THE STATLER BROS. SHOW RANKS HIGHEST OF TNN PREMIERES—The debut telecast of The Nashville Network's new weekly variety series became the highest rated series premiere in the network's eight-year history. The one-hour program, telecast on Saturday, October 12, at (9:00 pm (Eastern time), scored a 2.6 rating and reached 1,141,000 households, according to A.C. Nielsen data. The show's repeat telecast at 12:00 midnight achieved a 1.0 rating, reaching 538,000 households.

Stewart Harris Does It His Way

By Kimmy Wix

Stewart Harris

IN A SENSE, HE'S SOMEWHAT OF A "SUPERSTAR."

Using his ability to juggle more than a few roles within the entertainment industry, and has since the mid 70's, singer/songwriter/producer/publisher Stewart Harris is once again up to his old bag of tricks. For South Carolina native Harris, the tricks are mere reflections of an artist's many talents, and the direction in which those talents target are virtually endless.

Having already established himself as an accomplished songwriter, producer and publisher in the country, pop and R&B arenas, Harris has most recently transitioned his craft toward the big screen. Rainbow Dreams, an animated children's musical, for which Harris has completed the musical score, is slated for a 1992 release.

It was in 1977, after being signed with Mercury Records, that Harris released three singles as pop and country records from his Mercury debut project entitled Sing Me A Rainbow. "The songs were written from a James Taylor approach," says Harris, "but they were produced in Nashville so they had a little bit of a country flavor."

The dual flavors, which previously couldn't seem to find a solid format, eventually discovered a stable niche when Harris received a call last March from Papion Productions requesting that four of his songs from the Sing Me A Rainbow album be written into a children's animated movie script—Rainbow Dreams. Harris explains that the combination of timing and the versatility within the songs is partly responsible for this recent venture.

"I just have so many different influences from when I was growing up. There was R&B, folk and a little country," Harris reflects. "I really learned 'country' when I got here (Nashville), working with Jerry Reed. It was a major eye-opener."

Harris describes his introduction to Nashville as being a very fortunate one. At the time, Harry Warner, who currently serves as BMI's assistant vice president, was Reed's manager. Harris credits Warner as being his push into taking his lyrics more seriously.

Since then, Harris has penned or co-written such compositions as Travis Tritt's recent #1 singles "I'm Gonna Be Somebody" and "Drift Off To Dream," Waylon Jennings' "Rose In Paradise" and the theme for one of television's hottest and current prime-timers, America's Funniest Home Videos.

Other artists recording the works of Harris are as diverse as the man himself, and include Reba McEntire, Eddy Raven, Andy Williams, Michael Johnson, Mickey Gilley, Amy Keyes, Anne Murray, Lacy J. Dalton, Levon Helm, Tammy Wynette, Leon Everett, Cynthia Clawson, Loretta Lynn, Conway Twitty and country newcomer Linda Davis.

In addition to penning a cut on B.J. Thomas' forthcoming Warner Bros. project, of which his name will also garner production credit, Harris is perhaps most thrilled with getting a cut on the new Wynonna Judd solo project—one in which Harris feels his niche for R&B becomes even more evident.

"If there is any one unrealized area of me that I think I have the most potential in... it's R&B," exclaims Harris. "I have a catalog of R&B and we've gotten so close before. I'm hoping that in the next year, we're going to land some R&B!"

A former songwriter for CBS Songs in 1981, Harris eventually formed his own publishing company, Edisto Sound International, in 1987, and a year later signed a co-publishing agreement with CBS Publishing/New York.

Although Harris has left his mark on a towering number of projects throughout both the American and European music markets, his roots in Nashville are perhaps receiving more recognition than ever. Much of that recognition is perhaps due to Harris' undying inclination to do it "his" way, and that's obviously more ways than one.

"I love the wide openness of the music because I've always felt that Nashville, more than anywhere else, could have its finger on the pulse of America."

Product Pick

Dawn Sears—What A Woman Wants To Hear—(Warner Bros. 26442)
(The Product Pick is determined each week by Cash Box's retail account panel.)

ALBUM ACTION THIS WEEK—Sales are good for the latest George Jones album entitled, And Along Came Jones according to retailers such as Pacific Coast One Stop in Chatsworth, CA; Abbey Road in Santa Ana, CA; and Tower Records #153 in Nashville, TN. After just two weeks on the Cash Box Top 75 Album chart, Jones is proving to be an all-time favorite.

PRODUCT PICK—Dawn Sears and her debut album entitled What A Woman Wants To Hear prove to be breaking retail ground. The album debuts on the Cash Box Top 75 Album chart at #64 and will continue a steady climb as predicted by retailers such as Tower Records in West Sacramento, CA and Be-Bop Records in Jackson, MS.

NO HOLDS BARRED for Garth Brooks whose second Capitol album, No Fences has now sold in excess of 5 million units, bringing his total sales to in excess of 11 million. "Every product Garth has released has sold at least double platinum," says Capitol Nashville's vice president/sales and marketing Joe Mansfield. "Ropin' The Wind is over three million, and Garth Brooks is over two million."

AT TOWER RECORDS IN BREA, CA., country music buyer, Paul Bailey, has created his own marketing style to expose customers to "some excellent new music that may be unfamiliar to them." On a bright yellow flyer entitled, "Country Done Right," Bailey recommends 20 country albums to the customer with artists ranging from Garth Brooks to Ronna Reeves. He then tags the albums with stickers to grab the customer's attention. For the newcomer to country music or the listening veteran, the idea is to awaken buyers to the best in country music despite the amount of airplay it gets on radio. The idea seems to be working, and Bailey is pleased with customer response.

ALBUM REVIEW

■ Dawn Sears What A Woman Wants To Hear (Warner Bros. 26442)

She is absolutely the hottest female newcomer to have hit the country scene since maybe Reba McEntire. Before Reba it was perhaps Patsy Cline. The Dawn Sears introduction simply unveils the next link of a chain that's rare and precious. Her Warner Bros. debut project, entitled What A Woman Wants To Hear, is without a doubt what listeners will want to hear more of as soon as they become familiar with this flat-out, down-right, sensational singer. This lady's singing talent has been planted, grown and ripened into a fruit that's juicy with heart and emotion; sweet with presence and charm, and full-flavored with a belt of vocal power and endless control. Whether its lyrics penned by such top tunesmiths as Lisa Silver, Mike Reid, Troy Seals, Susan Longacre, Paulette Carlson, Rory Michael Bourke and Harlan Howard, or the almost-chilling spill that Sears pours into each word, this songstress nails all 10 cuts with full swing. Favorites from What A Woman Wants To Hear, produced by Barry Beckett, certainly don't come easy, but picks such as "He's In Dallas," "Till You Come Back To Me," the title cut and her current single sizzler "Good Goodbye" come to mind instantly.

POWERFUL ON THE PLAYLIST—After just two weeks on the Cash Box Top 100 Singles Chart, "Love, Me," newcomer Collin Raye's second single from his Epic debut project, captures a 17-slot conversion due to such positive response by the listeners at stations like KHOZ-FM in Harrison, AR; KWKH in Shreveport, LA; and WOW in Omaha, NE.

From last week's "High Debut" billing to this week's "Most Active" status, Mary-Chapin Carpenter is stepping out with her latest single, "Going Out Tonight," and taking a slew of radio listeners with her. Helping her make that 10-position move this week are reports from stations such as KFGO in Fargo, ND; KICE-FM in Bend, OR; and WAAC-FM in Valdosta, GA.

"Chill Of An Early Fall" keeps the airwaves hot as this latest George Strait single garners a nine-point jump and the attention of stations such as KWZD-FM in Abilene, TX; WIAI in Danville, IL; and WSHP in Shippensburg, PA who report its significant action this week.

JAPAN RADIO STATION TO BROADCAST COUNTRY MUSIC—Beginning January 1, 1992, American-style country music will be broadcast in Japan. KTYO International Radio Inc., through the Nashville, TN office of CM Japan Productions, is beginning this month to conduct negotiations with Nashville-based radio stations to broadcast country music full time in Japan, according to Clark Wayne Bowdoin, director of programming at KTYO. Broadcasting will extend throughout Japan and will alternate between Nashville and Tokyo-based DJ's, with special programs to include live concert performances, music hit countdown segments and artist interviews. The KTYO spokesman said that bringing country music to Japan was once considered "too risky" but he contended that the "rural" image most Japanese have of country music is "grossly out of date."

MANNING FORMS FIVE STAR COMMUNICATIONS; KRUTHAAPT JOINS WSIX—David Manning recently left his post at WSIX of Nashville, TN to form Five Star Communications. Assuming Manning's former position of vice president and general manager will be Diane Kruthaupt. Manning will continue his association with WSIX parent company Capstar Communications under a five-year contract, serving as corporate advisor to WSIX in the areas of programming and promotion.

OUT OF THE BOX

■ LIONEL CARTWRIGHT: "What Kind Of Fool" (MCA 54237)

Producers: Harry Stinson/Ed Seay

Writer: Lionel Cartwright

Cartwright spills out a much deeper tone as he kicks off the latest single from his new Chasin' The Sun disc. "What Kind Of Fool," a low-keyed ballad with Cartwright's soothing vocals out front, flaunts a bed of light instrumentation with heavy lyrics about a thrown-away love.

FEATURE PICKS

Producer: James Stroud

Writers: J.D. Martin/Roger Murrah

Just when we think the water is calm, a mighty wave hits us from behind. The wave, spotted in this report, is from that of Country Music's newest dynamic duo, JJ White. "Heart Break Train," the third release from the debut Janice & Jayne project, truly flaunts this twosome's grinding harmony and rippling emotion, as their performance presents listeners with a ballad-best!

■ TOM WOPAT: "Back To The Well" (Epic 74063)

Producer: Rick Hall

Writers: R. Byrne/R. Bowles

There's quite a bit of excitement in the air regarding this returning artist's forthcoming project. Tom Wopat's second single from his Learning To Love LP shouts "Listen up!" to some relaxing vocals and moving lyrics. The "Back To The Well" single certainly won't take listeners back to a "traditional" country sound by any means, but will give radio a very fresh filling for the playlists.

■ THE STATLER BROTHERS: "Put It On The Card" (Mercury 580)

Producer: Jerry Kennedy

Writers: Tony Haselden/Stan Munsey

These guys just won't give up, and it's a good thing. The Statler Brothers are no doubt loved by a multitude. Once again, these four-part harmonizers shell out another tune the general country audience will cling to. "Put It On The Card" should give radio a bit of expected humor, along with a lot of vocal diversity.

■ EDDIE LONDON: "Uninvited Memory" (RCA 62103)

Producers: Ronnie Rogers/Warren Peterson

Writers: Will Robinson/Larry Boone/John Greenebaum

Eddie London is a true country crooner, and it should only take the length of his second RCA single from his debuting Do It Right disc for the rest of the world to agree. "Uninvited Memory," a haunting yet realistic boost of balladry, opens up wide with gripping lyrics and a hearty-traditional voice that will grip listeners even harder.

Producers: Ray Doggett/Gerry King
Writers: P. Hotchkiss/C. James/M. Terry

Sultry guitar licks and a husky voice that holds nothing back when belting out this snappy ditty about the dangers of love, perhaps best describes the latest single release from Saddlestone recording artist Gerry King. "Heartwreck" pumps out intense energy, as well as an explosion of hard-hittin' instrumentation, and should only prove to be an asset to the playlist.

The Father Of Christian Rap Expands Musical Direction And Ministry

By Tim A. Smith

Stephen Wiley

CHRISTIAN RAP MUSIC'S FOUNDING FATHER, Star Song Records artist, Stephen Wiley, has done a musical "about face" on his latest release entitled Rhapsody.

Gone are the cutesy, bland, MOR-directed sounds. It has been replaced by hip, slick, R&B grooves, a by-product of project producer Michael Brooks, known for his work with Commissioned and Witness, among others.

The new direction has engineered a renewed surge of energy and excitement for Wiley, who has been performing Christian rap since 1982. The marriage between artist Wiley and producer Brooks has been long in the making. "With this album, a lot of times the flavor of the producer influences the product," says Wiley. "I've been a fan of Commissioned for quite awhile. We wanted to get that particular flavor they deliver, only with a rap background. That's when we began looking at working with Michael Brooks. We wanted to get that Detroit type of sound, something the Winans and Commissioned are the frontrunners of. This new project is a little different than the Rhythm And Poetry project. It reflects another side of me. I see my personality. I didn't want to lose any identity with the music or this particular producer. I feel confident that my personality came through as well as the message that I wanted to convey to young people. I feel that each song is like a five-minute message. I want everyone to go away with a clearer message. I'm pleased. This project has more commercial appeal. I feel it will get a lot more airplay than the last album."

To accomplish this new "feel" to his music, Wiley and producer Brooks utilized the vocal talents of members of Fixit Records recording group Witness along with Light Records' Parkes Stewart, a move that yields positive artistic results.

Another positive note is the project's inclusion of the Andrae Crouch classic, "Jesus Is Lord." "That particular song has always been one of my favorites," says Wiley. "Andrae Crouch is such a great songwriter. Many of his songs are gospel classics. In looking for a song that we could utilize, we felt that this particular song had a good groove to it. We took it and updated it, adding a little rap flavor to it. I'm an Andrae Crouch fan and I'm glad that we were able to use it and bring it into the scope of the '90s."

Other than the new album, another turn of events Wiley is overjoyed about is his appointment as youth pastor at Los Angeles, CA-based Crenshaw Christian Center, pastored by the popular Dr. Fredrick Price. The circumstances leading up to the appointment are of a unique nature.

"I was in the process of working with Crenshaw's former youth pastor on Dr. Price's first campmeeting," Wiley recalls. "After his resignation, Dr. Price's office called and asked if I'd do the entire campmeeting myself. In the course of the conversation, they offered me the position. Initially, I promptly told them I'd have to pray about it, while in the same breath deciding not to take the position. I looked at the fact that everything was going great with what we were doing here in Tulsa, OK, with our ministry, the music, the concerts, what have you. I had also just built a house. I didn't want to take on any additional responsibilities, and I didn't want to move to Los Angeles. After about a month and a half of prayerful consideration, meeting with Dr. Price and looking at the overall potential of the ministry, my wife and I decided if we didn't go, we felt as though we'd be missing God."

Missing God's calling is something Stephen Wiley definitely doesn't want to do. The new album and appointment are great. But Wiley's main purpose is reaching the hearts and souls of today's youth. That is his ultimate mission and rap music is the tool he uses to speak their language.

THE GOSPEL BEAT

By Steve Giuffrida, Tim A. Smith & Gregory S. Cooper

GOSPEL SEARCH '91 was hosted recently by the spirit of New York radio station, WWRL in Manhattan. The competition which drew more than 500 participants was hosted by Atlanta International recording artist, Rev. Lawrence Roberts of Nutley, New Jersey. Proceeds from ticket sales went to benefit the Leukemia Society of America, a non-profit organization. Other participating sponsors included: Coca-Cola Bottling; Time Warner and the Terrie Williams Agency, a public relations firm that represents clients Kid 'N Play and Eddie Murphy. Phyllis Mckoy-Joubert, director of WWRL Community Chorale, served as chairperson of the competition.

ED KERR TO "CRUISE" TO NASSAU—Benson recording artist Ed Kerr, along with Michael English and Luke Garrett, have been selected to perform on the MusiCruise '92, a special workshop on the sea for church music ministers across the country. Registrants will not only receive $250 in free music from some of the industry's leading producers of print music, but they will also participate in reading sessions of the new material. The cruise will leave Port Canaveral, Florida, on January 6 and travel to Nassau and Out Island before returning on the 10th. Cruise-goers will be treated to evening concerts and daily praise and worship sessions led by Kerr, along with English and Garrett. MusiCruise '92 is part of an extensive national tour promoting Kerr's current release entitled Unexpected Turns. For more information call 1-800-635-2082.

DEATH DEFINITELY BRINGS LIFE—Singer Beatrice Audrey-Carr, former soloist with the internationally renowned, contemporary Christian, Grammy award-winning group Andrae Crouch and the Disciples, died October 9. Carr, who loved young people can presently be heard ministering in song on Savoy recording artist Donnie McClurkin and his New York Restoration Choir's album, another protege of Carr. During the homegoing celebration of life for "Bea" as she was affectionately called, many whom she influenced accepted the Lord when the invitation was extended. Vocal and verbal tributes were also given by many including singer/songwriter Danniebelle Hall and Grammy award winners Andrae and Sandra Crouch. Carr is survived by her husband Lowell, a daughter Letitia, five foster children and a host of friends and fans worldwide.

The Rickey Grundy Chorale

By Tim A. Smith

NEW ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

THE INNOVATIVE TALENTS OF SPARROW RECORDS ARTIST Rickey Grundy and the Rickey Grundy Chorale has helped to usher in a new sound to the advent of choral music, something Grundy terms as, "traditional urban gospel."

This new sound can be heard through the aggregation's critically acclaimed, self-titled debut album for the label as well as their latest offering, titled Spirit Come Down.

Regarding this new, refreshing sound, Grundy explains, "Traditional urban gospel encompasses contemporary musical elements and rhythm, but with very traditional overtones. It has a conservative lyrical approach so that people can relate directly to what's being said. Yet it's current enough to be able to express praise through the lyrics as well as through the rhythm and melodies."

Music is the Chorale leader's life. In addition to his work with the Chorale, Grundy headed a spin-off group from the Chorale, called Focus, as well as directing a unity choir at Los Angeles's African Methodist Episcopal Church.

Grundy is overly thrilled about the latest release coming from his award-winning group of singers. The music the album encompasses is a true reflection of his varied musical heritage. On that note, Grundy reflects, "I always try to encourage and edify, to make life seem not so hard to deal with through my songs. I think life has its ups and downs, but it is still wonderful. My approach is to take it a day at a time and to live it to its fullest. The songs on Spirit Come Down represent a lot of today."

SONGS OF PRAISE

TOP BLACK GOSPEL ALBUMS

CASH BOX • NOVEMBER 9, 1991

EDWIN HAWKINS: Music & Arts Seminar Mass Choir (Fixit)

This is undoubtedly the best to be released from the series of albums culminating from Hawkins' annual convention. There's a certain feel on this album that wasn't present on his past endeavors. The material, as well as the vocal setting, is of the utmost quality. Of note here is the celebration of the 20th anniversary honoring the song that put Hawkins and contemporary gospel music on the map, "Oh Happy Day." Also included within this musical package, is a medley of Hawkins' classics such as "I Heard the Voice," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "Joy, Joy," which features a scorching lead by Tramaine Hawkins, and "To My Father's House."

Edwin
Hawkins

Pattie
Howard

PATTIE HOWARD: The Vision (Light)

Heavy r&b/funkgrooves dominate this project from one talented vocalist. Howard, known throughout the industry for her work as a session vocalist and songwriter, solicits the talents of, among others, Andrae Crouch, Rose Banks (of Sly and the Family Stone fame), Tata Vega and El DeBarge, on an album guaranteed to set many a soul on fire. Offsetting the strong funk presence are some beautifully arranged ballads, which bring to light Howard's outstanding vocal talents.

COMMISSIONED: Number 7 (Benson)

Is this really Commissioned? The raps have been taken off this talented group, as they deliver a Gospel brand of funk and energy that can only be rivaled by George Clinton and his Parliament/Funkadelic crew. This album is hot with a capital H. The "new" Commissioned sound is more hard-edged musically, without sacrificing their patented smooth vocal blend and spiritual integrity. This project is augmented by strong overall production quality, assisted by Frontline Records artist and former member of the Jamaica Boys, Bernard Wright. Commissioned has engineered a new and innovative style that should open up one of the few remaining avenues gospel music has yet to travel.

Paul
Robeson

PAUL ROBESON: The Power And The Glory (Columbia/Legacy)

The life of Paul Robeson and the story of the development of the spirituals are intertwined. The New York Times, which reviewed the live performances contained herein, dated April of 1945 reported: "Mr. Robeson is a singer of genuine power. His negro spirituals have the ring of a revivalist; they hold in them a world of religious experience; it is this cry from the depths, this universal humanism, that touches the heart. Sung by one man, they voiced the sorrows and hopes of a people."

MICHAEL ENGLISH: Michael English (Warner Alliance)

To hear Michael English is to acknowledge contemporary Christian music as a viable force in the music arena. But to really listen to English is to be moved and entertained simultaneously. While the uptempo blends offer far-ranging vocals and quality mixing, it is the Christian "ballads" that speak to the heart. English exhibits a "Michael Bolton" soulfulness as well as "stand up and shout praises." Listen for the inviting lyrics "soularized" especially in the songs "His Heart Is Big Enough" and "Love Won't Leave You (Out In The Rain)."

7,700 Attend NAMA Show In Chicago

CHICAGO—The recently held annual National Automatic Merchandising Assn. (NAMA) convention (10/2-5) in Chicago was attended by approximately 7,700 members of the vending industry who examined the latest in equipment and participated in a record number of educational forums. Products and services were showcased by 237 exhibiting companies.

Of special significance this year were the increased number of compact machines for making food and refreshment available to smaller offices, and a wider variety of nutritious foods and snacks, juices, weight-control food products, etc. for health-conscious Americans.

Also on display were many new vending machines with sophisticated electronics, for enhancing operation, merchandising and control. Some of the units dispense products that were not previously available from vending machines, such as pre-peeled fruit (dispensed by a machine that controls product freshness); and personalized business cards, designed by the customer on a monitor and printed within minutes.

The NAMA education sessions offered practical information on a wide range of subjects, from technical topics, to financial matters, management issues, diversification, sales and laws affecting the vending industry.

Former president Gerald Ford addressed the annual NAMA banquet, describing himself as "a total optimist about the economy here in the United States." With regard to international issues, he expressed hope for a Mideast peace conference, and for continued steps to reduce the threat of nuclear war.

Coming up next is the NAMA Western Convention and Trade Show, scheduled for March 26-28, 1992 in Reno, Nevada. The 1992 national convention (NAMA's 46th) will take place November 5-7, 1992 in Washington, D.C.

New Officers

R. Clayton (Automatic Food Service, Inc.-Nashville) was elected chairman of the NAMA board of directors during the October convention. He succeeds J. Stephen Stoltz (Polyvend, Inc.-Conway, Arkansas) and will begin his one-year term on Jan. 1, 1992. Other new officers include: Lawrence Levine (Woburn Vending Co.-Woburn, Mass.), senior vice chairman; R. Craig Estey (Automatic Vending Co.-Portland, Oregon), vice chairman; and Jack E. Thomas, Jr. (Coin Acceptors, Inc.-St. Louis), secretary/treasurer.

Audio Tapes Available

Education sessions at this year's convention covered 20 diverse topics of interest to the members of the trade. As noted by David R. Stone, NAMA's director of communications, more sessions were held this year than at any previous NAMA convention.

Audio cassettes of the program are available at a cost of $9.50 each, plus $2.00 handling fee per order. They may be purchased by contacting Nationwide Recording Service, Inc., 15385 S. 169 Highway, Olathe, KS 66062 or phoning 1-800-966-5535. The FAX number is 913-780-5091.

Valley's '92 World Cup Tourney Is Set For London

CHICAGO—Valley Recreation Products, Inc., manufacturer of the Cougar Next Generation electronic dart game, announced that the sixth annual Valley World Cup International Championships will be held in London during the period of June 18-21, 1992. The firm and its European distributor, NSM/Loewen includes world famous player Eric Bristow, who will be appearing at the ATEL show in London next February and will also be seen at the World Cup Championships in June.

The Valley Cup is recognized as the most prestigious electronic dart event in Europe. League play for United Kingdom participants is currently being put into place with the major breweries in the U.K. market, backed up by a concentrated promotion effort.

"We expect several countries from Eastern Europe to be in London for the Valley Cup," stated James Griffiths, who heads up marketing services at Valley, "and they might include Yugoslavia, Hungary and Poland, among others. The Valley Cup has grown both in prestige and player interest throughout Europe and we fully expect it to be the spark that will bring the U.K. into the world of electronic darts," he continued. "The announcement of Eric Bristow signing with NSM/UK is another plus factor that has generated interest."

Griffiths noted that "U.S. operators will soon begin finalizing their tournaments and league finals for the selection process of Team U.S.A. and Dave Kristal, promotions manager for our company, will be releasing full details very shortly."

The Next Generation Valley dart game (especially Royal Darts) was made for the European market and will be introduced at both the ATEL (London) and IMA (Frankfurt) shows in January/February of next year and will be used for the championships.

Pictured in the accompanying photo is the coveted Valley World Cup, which was taken back to their country by the German team who won the 1991 championships that were held in Klagenfurt, Austria.

THEY ALL CAME! With New York's fabulous skyline (across the Hudson River) in the background, these factory suppliers to Betson Enterprises posed for a group photo on the dock by the Arthur's Landing Restaurant where the distributor hosted them the night before its gala September 21 open house.
