MCA DOES TEXAS: MCA Records announces the release of the premiere issue of Texas City Music, a 28-page mail order catalog spotlighting the rich and diverse musical traditions of the great state of Texas—from rock 'n' roll to honky tonk, country to conjunto, jump blues to poetic folk, Western swing to mutant jazz and countless shades and permutations thereof. The Texas City Music catalog is the first of its kind—a mail order catalog devoted exclusively to the music of the Lone Star State.

The Texas City Music catalog celebrates the state's storied musical history by chronicling the careers of such legendary Texans as Bob Wills, Buddy Holly, Bobby "Blue" Bland, Doug Sahm, Lyle Lovett, Nanci Griffith and many others. The catalog lists treasures from the vaults of MCA, Decca, Dot and ABC Records (as well as several independent Texas labels and features gems like the recently reissued Duke/Peacock Records roster, and such long unavailable albums as Doug Sahm's Texas Rock for Country Rollers and Delbert McClinton's Victim of Life's Circumstances and Genuine Cowhide.

To receive a free copy of the Texas City Music catalog, or to order the Texas City Music sampler CD, call the toll free number 1-800-4-TX-TUNE (1-800-489-8863). To order the sampler by mail, send $9.98 (plus $4 shipping and handling) to Texas City Music, 507 Maple Leaf Drive, Nashville, TN 37210.

ASIAN ROYALTIES RECOVERED: In the settlement of a dispute announced, publisher Jaspark Music received a "five-figure settlement" from Viva Records, the largest Filipino recording company. Earlier this year, Viva recorded and released in the Philippines "Why Do I Still Think Of You?", a pop ballad written by the New York songwriting team of Kevin Jasper and Alastair King. This highly unusual victory may signal the turning of the tide for copyright owners in Asia.

"Even though Viva gave us credit on the album by the singer Toni Daya, they had never gotten our permission to use the song," said Jasper, the owner of Jaspark Music. Jasper, who worked for years with the producer Deodato, spent at least six months trying to discover just which recording company in the Philippines wanted the songwriting duo's song. King, who is also a vocal coach for major label acts, asked Filipino friends to help. Jasper and King's detective work eventually uncovered that Viva had actually released the song, and that the album had already gone gold.

The settlement between Jaspark and Viva agreed to a reasonable price for the song, without admitting liability or fault and Jaspark agreed to let them distribute in the U.S. "I think they acted fairly, once they understood our position that they had violated copyright law."

HOLIDAY FOR ETTA: The seminal rhythm 'n' blues vocalist, Etta James, has signed with Private Music to record an album of Billie Holiday songs, set for release early next year.

Etta James explains that "this idea has been in my mind for a long time. It is certainly one of the most important works of my career, for many reasons, both professional and personal. It makes me happy, too, that my new friends at Private Music are so enthusiastic."

The album was recorded in Los Angeles, produced by John Snyder, with a stellar line-up of musicians, selected by Ms. James, including pianist Cedar Walton. Touring plans are also underway, to begin early next year.

BYOB—BRING YOUR OWN BABY: A boy, Derrian Lane was born to Lorraine Rebidas-Duryea and Richard Duryea October 20 at Santa Monica Hospital. Mother is vice president and general manager of Private Music Publishing Companies and the father is a personal manager. And like labelmate Etta James, Lorraine admits that this is one of the most important works of her career.

INDUSTRY BUZZ

Cash Box EAST COAST

CHAMELEON: Herbie Hancock

took over the Blue Note last week for a back-to-basics stand with his rhythm section, consisting of Dave Holland (on bass) and Gene Jackson (on drums). Hancock's long and winding road of a career, of course, has put him in the public eye in a host of incarnations; as straight-ahead pianist par excellence with Miles in the early '60s, as fusion/funk pioneer in the '70s with "Watermelon Man" and "Chameleon" (our high school jazz band's only crowd-pleaser), and as breakdance bonedaddy in the '80s with his smash "Rockit." And for now, while the smoke clears, he's back behind the acoustic piano, doing film soundtracks and cameos, lurking in the background ominously in Indecent Proposal (he had a real part in 'Round Midnight with Dexter Gordon).

His third set Saturday began with a ballad (he can do what he wants), J.J. Johnson's "Lament," which ended in an extended, solo portion with just Hancock at the piano. All of his arrangements this evening were of the shape-shifting variety; the rendition of his "One Finger Snap" (way back from Em-pyrean Isles, Blue Note) appeared out of the mist of another piece, and their version of George Shearing's standard "Conception" turned into a new 3/4 vamp that became the heart of the tune. Holland's soloing was as vibrant as ever, and the harmonic ideas the group melted over the songs were of the ultra-hip, eyebrow-raising variety indeed. Where Herbie's next stop will be since his Maiden Voyage remains untold, and surprisingly, since he hasn't released a record under his own name for a good couple years, it's hard to be certain as to the permanence of his present m.o.

ON MONDAY, I HEADED BACK to the Blue Note to find that the club was as crowded as it ever thought of being (if I wasn't as rude as I've conveniently learned to be, I wouldn't have even gotten through the door). Akiko Yano, "Japanese Song Stylist" was leading a four-piece ensemble through a set of her pieces, most of them from her just-released Love Life Elektra/Nonesuch. The majority of the songs were in Japanese (although they're titled in English), with one notable exception being her time-spanning cover of Stephen Foster's "Hard Times, Come Again No More." The band included renowned Brazilian guitarist and songwriter Tonino Hota and a special appearance by Letterman long-hauler Will Lee (on bass), who actually brought the music up a couple notches. Yano also accompanies herself with substantial facility on the piano, and her singing voice, unusually high and focused as it is, offers a mix of distinctive tones. I'm certain the club will be having her back in a big hurry!

TIME TO DECK THE HALLS AGAIN! Supposing I don't want to go the '90s route with almost-as-shiny used CDs and I wanna do it right—what tender holiday tidings should I bestow upon my most dear of special loved ones?

Right Stuff/Capitol has already thought about your needs with Sedated In The '80s, featuring Wall of Voodoo's "Mexican Radio," ABC's "Poison Arrow" and that Ramones song. New Xmas product this year 'round includes Harry Connick Jr.'s When My Heart Finds Christmas (Columbia) featuring "I Pray On Christmas" ("prey"?), Boyz II Men's Christmas Interpretations (Motown) and Fats Domino's Christmas Is A Special Day (Right Stuff/Capitol), all of which seem to have "Silent Night." My choice is James Brown's Santa's Got A Brand New Bag (Rhino) featuring "Santa Claus, Go Straight To The Ghetto"!

San Francisco's Primus exposed themselves to an eager Hollywood.

SCALPERS WERE FETCHING AS MUCH as $65 for a single ticket to the recent sold-out Primus shows at Hollywood's Palladium. And chances are, even people who paid that much felt they got their money's worth. Tracks from both of the Bay area trio's two Interscope albums, as well as tunes from their Caroline days, were performed, and most were greeted with near hysterical glee from the packed house. Hindsight being 20/20, Primus would probably have passed on headlining last year's Lollapalooza festival, given that by the time they closed the long show, few people were still awake enough to care. Nice to see the crazed lads back playing venues better suited to the band's wild style. Longtime punk faves, The Melvins, which recently released its first record for Atlantic, were also well received and the subject of much of the between-bands conversation by the gathered industry types in the balcony. Look for more choice opening-slot gigs for these road veterans.

THE ONLY PIECE OF ART created collaboratively by all four members of The Beatles will be reproduced next year, with the monies raised from the sale of 1,000 copies earmarked for donation to a group of human rights and environmental organizations. The piece, referred to by some as the "Dead Sea Scrolls of Rock & Roll," is a felt marker, colored pencil and ink drawing that the band made for the advertising program at 1967's Monterey International Pop Festival, an event at which the concert-retired Beatles declined to play. The original of the piece, long held by the Festival's art director, Tom Wilkes, will be on display at a press conference in New York on December 14, and here in Los Angeles on the 16th.

PUBLICIST JEFF ALBRIGHT, FORMERLY of Levine/Schneider and Hanson & Schwam, has announced that he's opened his own p.r. firm, known as The Albright Entertainment Group. Initial clients include Damn Yankees, Stray Cats, Ric Ocasek, Vince Neil and Rob Halford's new band, Fight. Reach him at (818) 508-6874.

TALENT REVIEWS

De La Soul/A Tribe Called Quest

By Troy J. Augusto

A Tribe Called Quest

PALACE, HOLLYWOOD, CA—It was a case of East meets West as New York-based hip-hop innovators De La Soul and A Tribe Called Quest brought their inventive, decidedly East Coast-flavored stylings to Hollywood's sold-out Palace, supported by young Bay-area crew Souls Of Mischief.

Headliners De La Soul, featuring rappers Trugoy The Dove and Posdnuos, performed a solid, if unspectacular, 50-minute set of music from its three Tommy Boy albums, including cuts from the new Buhloone Mindstate.

While the group has long been acknowledged as the originator of so-called alternative rap, an exploratory and progressive style that mixes steady funk and jazz grooves and beats with social and political commentary, it's still music from 1989's Three Feet And Rising that gets the most live respect. "Potholes In My Lawn," first hit "Me, Myself & I" and bouncing "I'll Get Back To You," all from that debut, were highlights.

On the current album, the group relies less on lyrical flow than musical, and it's in that creative decision that De La Soul loses its edge. After all, it's in thoughtful expressionism, much more evident on the first two releases, that the band truly separates itself from the rap flotsam. At this show, unfortunately, De La Soul, like its new record, was more ordinary than extraordinary.

Second-billed A Tribe Called Quest are in a similar situation as De La Soul. Also promoting its third album, the recently released Jive set Midnight Marauders, Tribe are still trying to prove that they can hold their fans' attention beyond their earliest material.

But in that respect, this trio succeeded where De La Soul failed. New cuts like hit single "Award Tour" and "Sucka Nigga" held up nicely next to older songs like crowd fave "Benita Applebum" and "The Infamous Date Rape." In spite of numerous technical difficulties, A Tribe Called Quest performed an electrifying concert flow that nicely balanced substantial themes and, courtesy of DJ. Ali, free-moving instrumental flow.

Young Jive act Souls Of Mischief opened the evening with a refreshing half-hour set of music from its exciting new 93 'Til Infinity collection. All four rappers in the group sport unique and original deliveries (much like early N.W.A. did) that, combined with the group's youthful 'tude and style, make breakthrough success a likelihood.

Firesign Theatre

By Barry Pearl and Steve Shaw

WILTERN THEATRE, LOS ANGELES, CA—They're baaack... "from the shadows again." Yes, "Dear Friends," Nick still spells his name "Danger," they continue to wait for the electrician or someone like him; and all of us in attendance for the Firesign Theatre's 25th Anniversary Reunion Tour at the Wiltern Theatre on Sunday, November 21 were still Bozos on this bus. But the avant-garde, cutting-edge, brainy humor of the group was exceedingly enhanced by our being able to finally see the four zany guys in action, as opposed to just hearing them.

A cross between The Marx Brothers and Salvador Dali, the astrological fire signs Phillip Austin, Peter Bergman, David Ossman and Phil Proctor first aligned on Bergman's Radio Free Oz program on KPFK in Los Angeles on November 17, 1966. Their radio show led to a deal with Columbia Records, with many LPs following. They included such classics as Don't Crush That Dwarf, Hand Me The Pliers and I Think We're All Bozos On This Bus.

The evening's fare included staged versions of sketches from five of the foursome's many albums. Act 1 included a bit from Waiting For The Electrician Or Someone Like Him, in which the group takes us on a surreal elevator ride; an updated version of a radio drama entitled "The Further Adventures Of Nick Danger," with the gumshoe still preferring a pizza with no anchovies; and a time trip involving Ralph Spoilsport (a Ralph Williams/Cal Worthington-esque send up) in which Ralph is still trying to sell us a vehicle with "a purely edible steering column and four doors to match."

Act 2 took us to the "Future Fair" ("a fair for all and no fare to anybody") with our hero, "uh...Clem," (from I Think We're All Bozos On This Bus), taking us on a tour inside the mainframe of one of the fair's major attractions. The final piece, from Don't Crush That Dwarf... featured Ossman as "George Tirebiter" watching TV, tuning in to old movies in which he appeared. Thus, we could see the various stages of his life and career.

The sketches translated extremely well to the stage. Although the show was visually stimulating and colorful, thanks to Melinda Peterson's special costumes, Fred Jones' sound design, and Jeff Payne's creative lighting, much was still left to the imagination, as it was when their records were the only medium available.

The audience was intimately familiar with the material, and on many occasions would finish some of the more popular catch phrases. They loved the performance and showed their appreciation with thunderous applause and rubber-nose squeaking (made possible by purchasing said item in the lobby).

L.A. was the last stop on their tour, but we hope to see and hear more of them soon, as Mobile Fidelity will be releasing several of their classics. At present Columbia Legacy has released an album, Best of the Firesign Theatre. The show was "tons of fun." So how about it, "boyos?" More sugar!

UK

Guns N' Roses: Future Meat-beaters?

RIGHTS SOCIETIES MERGE... Britain's two main rights societies, the performing and mechanical rights representatives, have taken steps towards a much closer union following the announcement that they are to administer royalties jointly.

PRS and MCPS have issued a statement declaring their intention to create two shared databases for works and agreements plus products and recordings. This will not take effect immediately and a five-year plan was outlined but there was immediate pressure in some quarters for moves to be much faster.

Although there are no final details as to how the new company will actually function, both sides agree that there are considerable savings to be made for both parties by sharing resources and a combined society should be more effective at protecting Anglo-American repertoire abroad.

BOOTLEGGERS... The BPI's Anti-Piracy Unit is claiming that it smashed a ring of importers and distributors of bootleg CDs that were manufactured in Italy and Germany.

This follows joint police and APU raids on various homes in Britain when more than 7,500 CDs and hundreds of cassettes were reported as being confiscated. These featured live recordings of top artists and the CDs retailed at around $20 in Britain.

This is the second success that the APU has had recently. A couple of weeks earlier they took part in a raid in Ireland's Belfast when more than 8,000 video and audio tapes were seized with a street value of more than $100,000. It is believed that the counterfeiters were channeling the income into terrorist paramilitary groups.

DCC STOCK TO BE RETURNED? There seems to have been some retailer reaction against the DCC software stocks with claims that some are considering exchanging their DCC stock for other established formats. One store was reported as saying that they stocked all 400 DCC titles but have only sold about 12 in the whole of 1993 but, of course, these are still early days in the battle between DCC and MiniDisc.

ALBUM SALES... There has been some good news regarding album sales with claims that they have reached a three-year high despite the fact that the recession is still hanging on.

The total number of albums shipped in the year to the end of September reached 148.7 million which is 9.6% up on the previous year and the highest total since 1990.

If you just take the last quarter then it looks even healthier with a 26.3% increase over the previous year and even single shipments were up 4.3% year-on-year.

However, it is the CD aspect that is really lifting the market with that format due to become the biggest selling aspect. CD deliveries totalled 58.5 million units during the first nine months of the year and Christmas was expected to shift getting on for another 40 million! This could mean that the year's total will reach as high as 96 million. The highest vinyl ever reached was 91.6 million units in 1975.

There are probably two reasons for this growth in CD sales—the number of non-traditional outlets selling them and mail order.

TAKING STOCK... It seems only a few weeks ago that I reported the split between Mike Stock and Pete Waterman and now there comes a rumor that Stock may be reuniting with the member of our most successful Stock, Aitken and Waterman team and work with Matt Aitken again in 1994. Between them the trio were responsible for more than 90 Top 40 hits in the past decade.

HORROR STORY... One of Britain's most horrific trials has just finished with two 11-year olds being found guilty of abducting and murdering three-year old James Bulger. After passing sentence the judge questioned the effect of horror video Child's Play which apparently at least one of the 11-year olds had seen and called for clamp downs on such releases. Two major stores, Our Price and W.H. Smith, have responded by clearing their shelves of the release.

FAT IS BEAUTIFUL... Highest new entry into our singles charts this week is "Mr. Blobby"...and it could be the Christmas No. 1. The novelty single came about because of the popularity of a costume character like a huge round brightly colored fat man on a peak Saturday evening TV program.

Toys are flooding the stores but major radio stations would not playlist the release but they may have to change their minds because it sold out its initial run of 30,000 instantly and have re-orders of 135,000 copies—including 65,000 from Woolworth's alone. It made its debut at #3 but do not be surprised if it takes the top slot next week.

CHARTS... Still riding the top spots in both the singles and album charts is Meat Loaf. His "I'd Do Anything For Love (But I Won't Do That)" rules the roost for the seventh straight week in the singles section and the album it is taken from, Bat Out Of Hell II—Back Into Hell, has been at the summit for one week more!

What do Elton John and Frank Sinatra have in common—no, I don't mean hair transplants! They both have very long and successful chart careers in our country and they both formed their own record labels (Rocket and Reprise respectively) and now they are both in our Top 20 with albums of the same name—Duets. Elton is a new entry at #5 and Frank has spent four weeks in the charts and dropped to #17 this week. With those titles it is not surprising that both combine with various superstars on the current releases, but no one appears on both albums.

Despite its high debut, Elton is not the highest newcomer. That honor goes to Guns N' Roses whose The Spaghetti Incident went straight in at #2. These are the only new entries in our Top 20. Highest climber is Michael Crawford and A Touch Of Music In The Night at #15.

Ol' Blue Eyes even makes a showing in the singles charts with the second-highest debut "Stay (Faraway, So Close!): I've Got" with a little help from U2 and Bono. Only other Top Ten debut is "Don't Look Any Further" from M People and although they're now well past the age when they qualify for the "YMCA," Village People are at #12 with the re-mix. Altogether just over a quarter of the Top 75 are new entries.

NEWS FROM JAPAN

THE TOTAL REVENUES of Sony Music Entertainment for the first six months of fiscal 1993 (April 1, 1993 to September 30, 1993) dropped 1.7% from the comparable months of 1992 of $476 million. A net income after taxes showed a sharp 21.8% drop of $94 million. "A main reason of decreases both in total revenue and net income from the comparable months of the prior year," said a company spokesman, "was in an over concentration of smash hits in the comparable months of the prior year. Beside this, a business depression in this country extending over a long period of time was another cause for a poor business performance of the company in this period." Dividing the revenues into sections: International music was $75 million, 15.8% of the total and 31.5% up over the comparable months of the prior year. On the other hand, domestic repertoires were $286 million, 60% of the total but a 12.2% drop from the comparable '92 period. Video software was up 27.5% with $41 million sales. Total sales for the 12 months of fiscal '93 (April 1, 1993 to May, 30, 1994), is anticipated to reach $900 million with a net income of $103 million, down 9.6% from the comparable prior fiscal year.

A SPECIAL DISCOUNT SALES markets of abolished disks and tapes were held in three cities in this country, Tokyo, Sapporo and Nagoya in October, sponsored by RIAJ (Record Industries Association of Japan). The total records sold in these markets were, according to RIAJ, 89,931 copies for $0.7 million.

JVC Catches The Spirit

Spirit Traveler All-Stars

A QUARTET OF TOP FLIGHT GUITARISTS has been assembled for a stellar tribute to some of Motown Records' best talent and hit singles. Dubbed Playing The Hits From The Motor City, by Spirit Traveler, the project has been released by JVC Music. The company has developed an urban radio and retail-intensive campaign for the project that includes special merchandising and pricing. In addition to tracks like "Signed, Sealed Delivered I'm Yours," "Ain't That Peculiar," "Tracks of My Tears" and eight other Motown classics, the all-star band has recorded a holiday bonus track, "Merry Christmas, Baby."

Equally impressive is the band that serves up this music. Among the guitarists are David T. Walker (who's played with Wilson Pickett, The Pointer Sisters, B.B. King, Little Richard), Wah, Wah Watson (Marvin Gaye, The Four Tops, Herbie Hancock), Eric Gale (Paul Simon, Al Jarreau, Grover Washington, Jr.) and Phil Upchurch (Curtis Mayfield, George Benson, Aretha Franklin). Bassist James Jamerson, Jr. and drummer James Gadsen back the quartet of skilled pickers. Vocals on several of the tunes are supplied by The Temptations singer Ali Woodson. In fact, the only original track included in the collection is "I Love You," written by Woodson.

Because of the vast array of interpretive skills offered by the line-up, JVC anticipates a broad, multi-format appeal for the package, including strong interest from the urban adult contemporary and contemporary jazz markets. The initial campaign, which kicked off with strong press and was geared toward urban retail, included gift-wrapped "teaser" CDs to retail, radio and nationwide media. A special campaign was aimed at urban one stops and ma and pa dealers as well as discount chains such as the Price Club and CostCo. All the retail outlets and radio were serviced with the collection's first single, "Tracks Of My Tears." Radio promotion was also aimed at secondary and tertiary markets.

JVC has already scored this year with the Paul Hardcastle/Jazzmasters contempo jazz album and believes that the Spirit Traveler release will solidify its presence in the NAC market. According to JVC label manager Denny Stilwell, "After two years of making an NAC impact with artists such as Special EFX and Paul Hardcastle, our upcoming releases are furthering our momentum in other directions, other markets. Considering our core artists and new signings, we are are right on track with our venture into new territory."

JVC and Cash Box salute the coin machine operators, and JVC has shipped the classic rhythm & blues CD, "Merry Christmas, Baby," free to operators.

TV TALK

By John Goff

DANGEROUS PRECEDENT: "...A move designed to encourage and cultivate a new generation of multicultural comic writers and performing talent," was announced by Michael Fuchs, Home Box Office chairman/CEO in speaking of the launching of The HBO New Writers Project. Naturally you notice this is coming out of non-network TV where, more and more, entertainment groundbreaking is coming from. Fuchs also noted the project will be headed by Steve Kaplan, former artistic director of New York's Manhattan Punch Line Theatre, and will be conducted in conjunction with Kaplan's Wavy Line Productions, Inc. The project will reach out nationally through universities, theater groups and writers programs.

"HBO is always looking for new talent," said Fuchs. "With this project, we hope to discover the next generation of comic voices who will reflect the multicultural world in which we live."

"We're looking for writers with unique, humorous, humane and daring points of view," added Kaplan. (And if they hold true to that concept, that will be unique, humane and daring and three out of four ain't bad in this business, said a rather jaded writer.)

The HBO-sponsored Project will get underway with the selection of 25 one-act comedy scripts with the intention they will be nurtured for possible stage, TV or film development.

Hopefully this is just a beginning and the Project will expand to include, not just comedy but all arenas of writing talent. There's a lot of talent and quality writing walking the streets right now without an avenue of interest because of lack of power contacts and agency-studio-production company closed-door policies (latest prevalent creative no-look ploy is: "We only look at material recommended by a working client.")—Just think hard about that one for a bit.)

Deadline for submission of one-act plays to The HBO New Writers Project is February 1, 1994. Guidelines for submission may be obtained by sending a SASE to: Steve Kaplan, The HBO New Writers Project, 2049 Century Park East, Suite 4200, Los Angeles, CA 90067.

PBS' DECEMBER PLEDGE DRIVE will be the spot for the latest American Masters premiere, Benny Goodman: Adventures in the Kingdom of Swing. Assembled by producer/director Oren Jacoby and executive producer Susan Lacy for Thirteen/WNET, the special will trace Goodman's rise out of Chicago's Jewish ghetto as a child musical prodigy during the early part of this century through the exciting jazz-driven world of the '20s and '30s with memories of Goodman's musicians and family and through his journey to become one of the great musical leaders of his or any other generation.

Goodman's obsession with the search for perfection has provided the show with a wonderful sales item/hook: He would test then discard reeds for his clarinet; use them, discard and then recycle in hopes they might have improved with age. After his death, his daughters, Rachel Goodman Edelson and Benjie Goodman Lasseau, discovered almost 3,000 reeds awaiting use or re-use. Rachel and Benjie designed a booklet containing personal anecdotes and private photos for a private memorial party they put together after Goodman's death. Each booklet contains one of these reeds as a bookmark, attached by a gold cord. 2,000 reeds were useable, and they are a special Benny Goodman collectors item which will be made available to viewers during the airing of the show. Got a feeling this is one to watch for.

MADONNA! How's that for an attention grabber? (Good word, long as we're on the Big M subject, huh? Apt anyway.) The ratings November 20 looked to her like that spot just below the navel so she grabbed 'em with Madonna—Live Down Under: "The Girlie Show": 17.0 rating and 27 share overall, according to Nielsen Media Research household ratings. That beat the three network offerings in HBO homes from 10:15 to 11 p.m. (ET). That translates into 18.7 rating/27 share to ABC's 9.4/14, CBS' 9.3/14 and NBC's 10.3/15. It also translated as the highest-rated HBO original program of the year. But that's excluding sports. Guess that sports' spot's just too big to grab... FROM THERE TO THE SUB-LIME—Cinemax spotlights Clint Eastwood and his favorite films beginning December 5 (with additional dates 16, 22, 27 and 30) on the popularity gaining Favorite Films Of... series. What movie lover can resist Eastwood talking about the films (Treasure Of The Sierra Madre, The Searchers) and filmmakers (Huston, Ford, Kurosawa, Leone) that have influenced his career? Certainly not this one...AND BACK TO

THE...Mental "metal-head" party animals Wayne and Garth (Mike Myers and Dana Carvey) set to host their second one-hour special on MTV Dec. 3 and repeating on 4, 5, 6. It's A Wayne's World After All. Say, isn't there a Wayne's World II, sequel coming out soon? Sequel on, dude!

TV REVIEW

Gypsy

By Fred L. Goodman

Everything's coming up Midler

THE 1940S AND '50S are generally regarded as "The Golden Age of Broadway." Most of the classic musicals that are performed worldwide year in and year out come from that era. Right at the tail-end of that wonderful time (1959, to be exact) came Gypsy, the splashy, tuneful salute to vaudeville and burlesque that was loosely based on the memoirs of Gypsy

Rose Lee, the most renowned stripper of all time.

Even though Gypsy is the title character, the role of Mama Rose, the ultimate stage mother, is the star vehicle, and has always been portrayed by an actress with formidable stage presence. Of course, the originator of the part was the redoubtable Ethel Merman, whose performance has been the yardstick by which all others have been measured. Angela Lansbury, Rosalind Russell and Tyne Daly have been some of the pretenders to the throne, but none have been able to unseat the Great Merman.

Now along comes Bette Midler, in the role she seems to have been born to play. On December 12, CBS-TV will air the latest version of this theater evergreen, and Bette will no doubt have viewers and critics alike crying, "Ethel who?" From the moment she comes on the screen, with a whirlwind of wisecracks and piles of personality, Midler commands attention. And when she sings those glorious songs—well, we're talking a whole other dimension. Bette's got Ethel's power and chutzpah, but The Divine One also adds a layer of poignancy that Merman never brought to the role. Mama Rose becomes human and not just a caricature of pushy stage mothers.

In addition to Midler's stunning performance, the supporting cast also fares pretty well. Peter Riegert as Herbie, Cynthia Gibb as Louise/Gypsy and Jennifer Beck as June do terrific turns that compare favorably to those who previously essayed the roles. There are also some memorable cameos by Edward Asner as Pop, Andrea Martin as Miss Cratchitt, Michael Jeter as Mr. Goldstone, and particularly Christine Ebersole, Linda Hart and Anna McNeely as the three strippers who teach Louise "You Gotta Have A Gimnick."

The score by Jule Styne and Stephen Sondheim is one of the best ever written for the stage. Such standards as "Everything's Coming Up Roses," "Small World," "Let Me Entertain You" and "Together Wherever We Go" are all infused with such energy and style that they sound practically new. For good measure, the soundtrack has been released by Atlantic Records and will no doubt be a huge smash, stuffing lots of stockings during the upcoming holidays.

The new production is ably directed by Emile Ardolino, with the witty book by Arthur Laurents and the spectacular choreography by Jerome Robbins remaining intact. Other kudos go to Jackson Degovia's production design and Bob Mackie's fabulous costumes. These two, along with Midler, should be holding statues come Emmy time.

One only hopes the CBS broadcast is viewed by many, especially young people who have never seen Gypsy. It's rare when TV presents a full-length musical in prime time, especially one that's nearly 35 years old. But if all the adults who have enjoyed Gypsy down through the years get their offspring to watch it, a whole new generation would get a glimpse of what quality family entertainment is all about.

VIDEO REVIEWS

Dave

By Fred L. Goodman

POLITICAL SATIRE FILMS are usually so dark they are frightening. Our paranoia usually wins out, taking away some of our enjoyment. Not so with Ivan Reitman's Dave, which had the good fortune to be released during the first months of the gentler, baby-boomer administration and rake in $65 mil. Kevin Kline plays Dave Kovic, a regular Joe who gets to stand in for the ailing, Bush-like conservative President and turn the Oval Office topsy-turvy with his more humanitarian and liberal agenda. Sigourney Weaver as the First Lady and Frank Langella as the evil Chief of Staff are standouts in a cast that includes dozens of cameos from real-life politicians and members of the Fourth Estate. Warner Home Video.

Equinox

By John Goff

WHAT COULD HAVE BEEN a fascinating study, or at least an interesting twist on the old Cain and Abel hook which has obsessed writers since the first reading in Genesis, is given a muddled go 'round by writer/director Alan Rudolph here. It does, however, contain some terrific performance values from stars Matthew Modine (in the dual role of good/evil twin brothers), Lara Flynn Boyle and Marisa Tomei. But if Rudolph had a point to his story it got lost somewhere along the way. He's great with mood and actors, but what good are they without a framework? Columbia TriStar Home Video.

The Paint Job

By J.G.

ANOTHER AUTEUR GONE AWRY is Michael Taav with this moody murder and disenfranchised-human tale. It spins out like a student film; Taav stumbling his way toward a light at the end of the tunnel. It shows promise with feel for immediate mood and sense of place but his senses of story, character and comedy/drama mixing are still in the grope/development stage. Bebe Neuwirth (Cheers) and Robert Pastorelli (Murphy Brown), make a concerted effort to break away from their TV images, except Pastorelli is still dealing in paint. Columbia TriStar Home Video.

ELTON JOHN'S VIDEO of "The Last Song," the touching portrait of a young man dying of AIDS being comforted by his father, who's at last coming to terms with his son's sexual orientation, was honored recently with the The Nancy Susan Reynolds Music Video Award, sponsored by the Center for Population Options, a national education and advocacy group dedicated to improving the quality of life for youth by preventing risk-taking behaviors and too-early pregnancy. MCA exec Darren Higman accepted the award presented by actor Diedrich

Bader. Higman commented, "We are very proud of this music video which helps us look deep inside ourselves and enables us to find the courage to fight bigotry in its many forms." The gala awards presentation at Loews Santa Monica Beach Hotel brought stars Tom Skeritt, Elizabeth Perkins, Chad Lowe and Polly Bergen among others out as presenters and acceptors in other categories and raised $46,000... Speaking of awards, hear tell a movement is spreading out of San Quentin to other institutions of higher learning to set up a special interest awards ceremony honoring the videos that best promote understanding and acceptance of their alternative lifestyle. Eazy E's "Real Muthaphuckkin G's" and Dr. Dre with Snoop Doggy Dogg doing "Dre Day" were cited as illustrative and daring due to their envelope-pushing depiction and use of firearms in their ground- and head-breaking vids. Sir Charles Manson (knighted for his long and distinguished service) is expected to be named head of the organization. Sir Charles is currently in the market with a tune penned for Guns N' Roses' new album. TV networks are reportedly scrambling for airing rights and a site for the first show is being considered. We'll keep you posted.

REVIEWS By Troy J. Augusto

■ MARY J. BLIGE: "You Don't Have To Worry" (MCA 2760)

Heavy New Orleans-flavored musical groove drives this deliberate, steady tune, lifted from the Who's The Man soundtrack album. Not as immediate as many of Blige's previous singles, but a strong candidate nonetheless for heavy evening airplay on most urban and many hit outlets. Simply arranged song is offered in five different versions including a couple featuring smooth rapper Craig Mack. Tune borrows from James Brown's "Papa Don't Take No Mess."

■ INXS: "Time" (Atlantic 5367)

Single release number two from the Aussie hitmakers latest Full Moon, Dirty Hearts collection is this jumping slab of rock energy, the follow-up to the more creatively challenging though less accessible "The Gift." Band recaptures its trademark sound here, missing of late, as it's been toying with different arranging and songwriting styles. Relatively short cut should find a happy home at album, top-40 and even a few alternative stations.

■ PM DAWN: "You Got Me Floatin'" (Gee Street 6809)

Track is lifted from Reprise Records' new Jimi Hendrix tribute album, Stone Free, and is the first good chance for this hippy hip-hop group to achieve some solid album-rock radio action. Trippy band's usual dreamy flow makes a cool contrast to the classic song's hard-edged style and sharp guitar, a requisite, of course, for any respectable Hendrix cover. Band's hip reputation and track record, combined with current "Hendrix Fever," should produce a hit.

■ HEART: "Will You Be There" (Capitol 79293)

One of the better moments from Heart's fine new comeback collection, Desire Walks On, is this soon-to-be chart-topping ballad sung by guitarist Nancy Wilson and written by consistent hitmaker Robert "Mutt" Lange. Cool harmonies from sister Ann Wilson, slick guitar fills from Howard Leese and full, radio-friendly keyboards all point toward a return to chart heaven for the veteran Seattle outfit. Heart is currently on a short U.S. theater tour.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ DEF LEPPARD: "Miss You In A Heartbeat" (Mercury 858080)

Believe it or not, there was actually a time when this British superstar group was at the forefront of a musical movement called the New Wave Of British Heavy Metal. But that was many years (and many platinum records) ago. Ever since the band, led by pin-up dude Joe Elliott, hit paydirt with "Love Bites," a most syrupy ballad, it's been next to impossible to get the band to release anything but ballads. Of course, with a string of hits like the one the Lepps have amassed of late, who's to blame 'em? Romantic song is included on Retro Active, the quintet's new odds and ends collection, and is hitbound.

REVIEWS by Troy J. Augusto

■ BEAVIS AND BUTT-HEAD: The Beavis And Butt-head Experience (Geffen 24613)

How to go from cheaply made cartoon to a cottage industry, by Mike Judge. His purposely moronic 'toon Beavis And Butt-head not only claims MTV's highest ratings, it's credited with inspiring a pre-schooler to torch his house and for inspiring the Smart folks at Geffen to gather up a host of unreleased metal and rap tunes (including four by Geffen acts) under the B and B banner. Fun moments from Primus, Anthrax and Cher (dueting with our heros) don't suck.

■ ROCKET FROM THE CRYPT: All Systems Go (Cargo 023)

At the forefront of the current crazed San Diego music scene is this ear-splitting combo who set themselves out from the rest o' the pack by way of Apollo 9, a man who seems to confuse his saxophone for a freight train (at least that's the way the records sound). This set collects most of the band's early '77 material, including smokin' new versions of "Bad Sonic Ninja" and "Killy Kill." Group releases its Interscope debut early '94. Play loudly.

■ CHAPTERHOUSE: Blood Music (Dedicated/Arista 18742)

The second full album from Reading, England's Chapterhouse is Blood Music (the title comes from a passage in a Greg Bear sci-fi opus), a swirling collection that's part house-music, part Brit guitar pop and part ambient mood vision. The pure pop pleasure of "We Are The Beautiful" (which features another sample of Led Zep's "When The Levee Breaks"), the untamed spirit of "Confusion Trip" and the tasty "Deli" are alb's best.

■ PISS FACTORY: Piss Factory (Relativity 1191)

Gal-fronted, New York-based punk group takes its name (and much musical inspiration) from Patti Smith's 1976 tale of mind over angst. Vocalist/bassist Lizzie Avondet probably wouldn't appreciate the comparison, but she often comes across like a bitter Joan Jett. Band's music takes the Music Comp 101 route throughout, but it's Lizzie's naughty chants and howls that command the spotlight anyway. Listen for Stooges lift in "Waiting," alb's best tune.

■ WILLIAM ORBIT: Strange Cargo III (IRS 27703)

The king of progressive techno-dance is British studio wizard William Orbit, a man who always seems to be just one step ahead of experimental musical technology. Album is third in a series of ambient mood projects crafted in Orbit's London Guerilla Studios, following his 1987 self-titled debut. His seemingly effortless swirling of the human voice and synthesized keys on "Into The Paradise" is album's, and possibly the artist's, best moment.

■ EN ESCH: Cheesy (TVT 3710)

En Esch is a founding member of industrial champions KMFDM and Pigface and if you're at all familiar with either of those two group's psycho-techno rantings you've got an idea what to expect from his solo debut. Thankfully, though, Mr. Esch does stretch out from the confines of his other projects, injecting Cheesy with a variety of dance rhythms, hip-hop beats, slashing guitar snippets and experimental world noises. The grand "Daktari" is genius.

■ KAREN FARR: Sistine (November 1104)

Multi-talented Philadelphia native draws upon a host of folk, rock and acoustic artists, including Joni Mitchell, Elton John/Bernie Taupin, James Taylor and Traffic, mixing in her own imaginative, often contradictory, musings. Themes run the gamut, from overseas war to domestic disasters, from childhood tragedies to affairs of the adult heart, all blessed by Farr's smooth, instinctive delivery. Award-winning songwriter's debut is a winner.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ COWBOY JUNKIES: Pale Sun, Crescent Moon (RCA 66344) Producer: Michael Timmins

Fifth album from Toronto's Cowboy Junkies is a gracefully beautiful collection that finally delivers on the awesome promises of the band's 1986 debut and breathtaking follow-up, 1988's The Trinity Sessions. Singer Margo Timmins has never sounded more honest, with painfully exposed tales of hope, devotion, betrayal, unashamed love and infatuation leaving the listener under the smoky vocalist's hypnotic spell. The music of Pale Sun, Crescent Moon is equally inspired, drawing on traditional, emotive styles, like the slow blues of the haunting "Ring On The Sill." Album-of-the-year nominee.

REVIEWS by M.R. Martinez

■ SPIRIT TRAVELER: Playing The Hits From Motor City (JVC Music JVC-2029-2). Producers: Akira Taguchi & Masako Gale.

It's an unbeatable combination for the urban adult contemporary and jazz contemporary marketplaces. You've got top flight guitarists Eric Gale, David T. Walker, Wah Wah Watson and Phil Upchurch picking away at Motown classics like "Signed, Sealed, Delivered I'm Yours," "Tracks of My Tears," "Ain't Nothing Like The Real Thing" and "Ain't No Mountain High Enough." Soulful, jazzy, bluesy and funky, the quartet is joined by vocalist Ali Woodson on some tracks and is backed by bassist James Jamerson, Jr. and drummer James Gadsen.

■ FUNKY POETS: True Life (550 Music/Epic BK 57104). Producer: David Darlington.

These young men, at the very least, should be lauded for not trying to come off like Boyz II Men. They do, however, bring a great deal of engaging harmonies to nearly every track on this 11-song package. They are funky and New Jack ("Born In The Ghetto," "1975" and "It Doesn't Have To Be This Way"), but they also remind the listener of early Earth, Wind & Fire vocal arrangements (especially on "Lesson's Learned"). The serious hip-hop jumps off on "Set It Off."

Ronny Jordan serves up his prodigious jazz chops with hip-hop spice. It's hard to tell where Jordan's improvisational compositions end and the hip-hop sensibilities begin. Jordan does collaborate with the most visible maven of the jazz/rap fusion—Gang Starr's Guru—on "Season For Change." But he also employs the groove on tracks like "The Jackal," which boosts an ambiance akin to both Rudy Ray Moore and Digital Underground. Jordan also has something for the more adult contemporary audience in tracks like "Come With Me" and "In Full Swing."

■ EIGHTBALL & MJG: Comin' Out Hard (Suave SR-0001). Producer: Eightball & MJG.

Solid production and a gritty sense of humor distinguish this album from the Houston-based duo that could easily become the Texas hardcore version of Digital Underground. The samples are so raw you can hear the pops and crackles of the vinyl they're drawn from. The subject is so trite, but laughingly handled that you'll ignore such drawbacks. There's no innovative mic flow, unless you consider an imitative Too Short innovative. But this mack daddy/gangsta album could make some underground DJs very happy.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ US 3: Hand On The Torch (Blue Note CDP 0777 7 80883 2 5). Producer: Mel Simpson & Geoff Wilkinson.

This is a unique approach to the fusion of hip-hop and jazz. The samples on this Blue Note album are culled from actual tracks produced by late label founder Alfred Lions. Many of the samples are music recorded by legends like Herbie Hancock, Art Blakey, Horace Silver and Bobby Hutcherson, to name a few. Live horn work is deftly mixed with the samples and groovy mic muscle by artists like Rashann. Tracks like "Cantaloup (Flip Fantasia)," "Different Rhythms, Different People," "It's Like That," "Just Another Brother" and "Lazy Day" are among the list of solid selections from the Blue Note vault broken out for young hip-hop. Producers Mel Simpson and Geoff Wilkinson kick it.

URBAN

By M.R. Martinez

THE RHYTHM

Mercury recording artist Oleta Adams (l) was recently joined by actress/choreographer Rosie Perez as the former prepared to go on tour in support of her current album release Evolution, the follow-up to her multi-platinum debut album Circle of One.

A FROSTY LEGEND MOVES ON: Modern bluesman Albert Collins, the man who put a hot frostbite into early urban music, died Nov. 24, 1993 at his Las Vegas home after a lengthy bout with lung cancer. He was 61. He is survived by his wife of 23 years, Gwendolyn. Having started his career more than 30 years ago, Collins had forged an indelible individual character and had enhanced the work of a diverse set of popular musicians with his trademark guitar licks and galvanizing showmanship.

The Leona, TX native, who received five Grammy nominations (he won a Grammy in 1986 with Robert Cray and Johnny Copeland on the Alligator Records Showdown album), was lauded for his ability to find a niche for his style while playing with nearly anyone. Ike and Tina Turner, David Bowie, Joe Walsh, John Lee Hooker, B.B. King and Branford Marsalis are among the artists with whom Collins collaborated on vinyl or in live settings. Although he wandered into other genres of music, Collins was respected by his blues peers, having won numerous W.C. Handy Awards.

His star rose swiftly aboard the success of the 1962 single "Frosty" b/w "Tremble" for TCF Hall Records. Collins eventually recorded for a number of labels, but eventually settled in at Alligator, which released seven albums of his work. In between a pair of reissues of his music, Collins recorded a pair of albums for Pointblank/Charisma Records, 1991's Iceman (nominated for a Grammy) and the recent Collins Mix.

If there's one thing to remember, it's Collins signature electric guitar chord which stretched from the stage to the front marquee of many clubs. He literally took his music to the streets and brought people the joy of his playing.

Cleveland-based crew Y.T. Style recently joined Los Angeles-based radio station KJLH for a breakfast repast at Dulan's Restaurant where they broadcast a live version of their debut single "You'll Never Find Another," from their debut Third Stone Records album The Concept. Pictured after the meal are (l-r): Jabali Hicks, Third Stone creative director; Jeffrey Russell, Antoine Foote and Terry McCann; KJLH air personality Cliff Winston; and (up front) Toney Fields of the group.

"Getto Jam" by Long Beach, CA-based rapper Domino is already attracting radio attention as the first single released under a long-term agreement between the RAL/Chaos/Columbia collective and Outburst Records. Pictured standing at the signing are (l-r): Steve Shapiro, vp of business affairs, RAL/Def Jam; Tony Anderson, senior vp of black music, Columbia; David Harleston, president, RAL/Def Jam; "Greedy" Greg Jesse, Outburst; Lyor Cohen, COO, RAL/Def Jam; Anthony "Anti" Lewis and "Big Bass" Brian Walker, Outburst; Fut, Impact West; and Paul Stewart, vp/A&R director of DJ West. Pictured seated are (l-r): Don Ienner, president of Columbia; Domino and Russell Simmons.

STREET VIRGIN: Virgin Records became the latest major label to acknowledge the power of street-oriented music when it hired industry veteran Eric L. Brooks to head a yet-to-be-named label imprint company that will be operated from Virgin's Los Angeles headquarters. Brooks was also named vp of A&R for Virgin. The new label will develop a roster of hip-hop and street-driven music, according to Virgin, which added that Brooks will be fielding a team of five staffers who will concentrate on finding and developing artists for the venture. Ken Berry, chairman/CEO of the Virgin Music Group Worldwide, commenting on Brooks appointment and the new label, says; "I'm very excited that we are making this commitment to rap and hip-hop, and I think it's a very positive move to be bringing Eric into Virgin."

Brooks, who comes to his jobs from an executive director of promotion and marketing post at Priority Records, says of the new label, "It's the ultimate—a very street-driven label merged with Virgin's resources. It's a great opportunity to learn from each other and grow together."

in addition to its dope rhymes and rhythms, Cypress Hill is known for its fondness of the chronic, reefer, the Big Blunt. The group, which is heating up the cash register with their Chaos/Columbia album Black Sunday, was recently the first rap group featured on the cover of High Times magazine. The Cypress trio recently donated $5,000 to NORML (National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws) after performing for a sold-out audience at the Roseland Ballroom in New York. The group is being joined on the tour by members of NORML, and in New York they were visited by High Times editor Steven Bloom (far left).

RAP SINGLE REVIEWS

By Dr. Bayyan

■ YG'Z: "Do Or Die" (Reprise PRO-CD 6540).

From the opening groove all the way through the opening mic mack, this record leaves the listener rockin' and swayin'. This clean version of the album track will make radio more than happy. But, it's still some hardcore gangsta groove in the mic flow. There's even an Xmas-like percussive groove in the background.

■ THA HITMEN: "Sho Gettin' Ruff" (Psychotic KMFA 1202-2).

Heavily produced and sampled (Roger and Zapp will be gettin' some royalties), this record has a groove that will not let up on the ruff tip. This track smokes like a phat blunt, especially on the radio mix. The track is b/w "J.O.E." which sounds more like the Compton hardcore gangsta production than the featured jam.

■ ACE DOG: Knock It Off (Trumpet/Tree Top TTCD-125).

He's not talkin' about knockin' off the noise, because Ace Dog brings some of that on this back-beatin', hoe-killin', back-alley rap. Ace has no respect for gangster poseurs. There's rarely a lyrical line that doesn't have to be blipped for radio, but that doesn't distract from the track's appeal.

■ JACKIE MCLEAN: The Jackie Mac Attack-Live (Verve 314 519 270-2). Producer: Jean-Francois Deiber.

This was not even supposed to be a record. But after producer Jean-Francois Deiber heard these Belgian radio DAT recordings of McLean's live performance in Belgium, he was convinced that the music outweighed the technical flaws. He was right. This is some of the most invigorating, even, not groundbreaking progression in McLean's lengthy and prestigious career.

The opening track, "Cyclical," quickly draws in the listener and gives one a glimpse of the great playing supporting the alto saxophonist. Hotep Idris Galeta (piano) bassist Nat Reeves and drummer Carl Allen also show up tasty on Monk's "Round Midnight."

■ THE MENDOZA/MARDIN PROJECT: Jazzpana (Atlantic Jazz ACT 82539-2). Producers: Siegfried Loch & Wolfgang Hirschmann.

An excellent cast of musicians make this dramatic, often introspective music excel. The musicians nor arrangers, Mendoza and Mardin, take liberties with the integrity of the flamenco or big band sounds, yet bring a fresh excitement to each track. This could be Spain in your living room. Artists like Al

Di Meola, Steve Khan, Michael Brecker, Peter Erskine, Freddie Santiago and Dieter Ilg are joined by the Los Jovenes Flamencos and the WDR Big Band to create multiple settings that make the Old World meeting the New World a palpable experience. Several tracks are outstanding, but "Tango," "Soy Gitano," and "Buleria" merit early listening.

■ BOBBY CALDWELL: Where Is Love (Sin-Drome SD 8900). Producer: B. Caldwell.

Lush arrangements and production by Caldwell and his increasingly ripe and mature voice make for a homogenous effect throughout this 11-song package. Caldwell's vocals are controlled, savvy and soulful. He travels between contemporary treatments ("Where Is Love?" "Once Upon A Time") to more traditional, big band treatments ("Don't Worry 'Bout Me" and "I Get A Kick Out Of You") to even more adventurous terrain ("Carrie Anne [You'll Never Know]").

Caldwell's vocal interpretive skill is the one constant throughout this album. This is a multi-format album that programmers should ignore during the holiday season.

■ DEE DEE BRIDGEWATER: Keeping Tradition (Verve 314 519 607-2). Producer: Dee Dee Bridgewater.

Although Bridgewater made her name using her fabulous God-given instrument on adult pop songs, she has settled into jazz as a means of expressing herself the last decade. Her woodshedding and patience in development of style and selection of material is evident throughout this album. Songs by Cole Porter, Horace Silver, Ira Gershwin and Marilyn and Alan Bergman are given insightful treatment by Bridgewater. She's delicate, yet playful on Gershwin's "Fascinating Rhythm"; she caresses lyrics on the Bergman's "The Island"; and on Silver's "Sister Sadie" she flat out has fun.

NASHVILLE—In an unprecedented venture, TNN: The Nashville Network will join forces with the Country Music Association and the South Padre Island Convention and Visitors Bureau to televise live concert coverage and other events in March from the popular Texas beach resort South Padre Island during Spring Break 1994's Texas Week. TNN will present 24 hours of original programming over three consecutive days featuring many of today's hottest young country stars including Billy Ray Cyrus and Travis Tritt. TNN Spring Break 1994 will be telecast live from the beach and the convention center Wednesday, March 16, through Friday, March 18, from 3:00-6:00 p.m., 6:00-8:00 p.m., and 8:00-11:00 p.m. (all times Eastern).

Highlighting the extravaganza are three primetime specials starring Billy Ray Cyrus, Travis Tritt and a third performer to be announced shortly. Additionally, TNN will be on-location during the day for the beach concerts and popular college activities such as jet-skiing and celebrity volleyball. Artists selected to appear include Marty Stuart, Aaron Tippin, Diamond Rio, Lari White, Confederate Railroad, Gibson Miller Band and Radney Foster.

South Padre Island, which bills itself as "the ultimate spring break adventure," is on the tropical tip of Texas, 25 minutes from Mexico, and has become a popular locale for college students over the past few years. Last year, more than 100,000 students traveled to the 34-mile-long beach for their spring vacation.

The Foundation's Country On CD

NASHVILLE—The Country Music Foundation has compiled a first-of-its-kind reference to country compact discs: Country On Compact Disc: The Essential Guide To The Music. Edited by Paul Kingsbury, this is the first book to cover the entire spectrum of country music available on compact disc—from the classic recordings of pioneers like Hank Williams, Kitty Wells and Bill Monroe to the latest hits from hot newcomers like Clint Black, Mary-Chapin Carpenter and Vince Gill. In totally frank, witty, incisive reviews, Country On Compact Disc sifts the indispensable from the intolerable, pointing fans to the treasures and steering them clear of the fool's gold. Country On Compact Disc is available nationally at better bookstores or may be ordered from the Country Music Foundation by phoning (800) 255-2357. All major credit cards accepted.

Excitement abounds when Billy Bob Loves Charlene! Joe Diffie's latest Epic single, "John Deere Green" is off and running strong. The honky tonk hero was recently on hand to help hang a banner across the front of label offices on Music Row as employees and fans cheered from the street and rooftop.

CMT: Country Music Television and Congressman Bob Clement of Tennessee recently co-hosted a country line dance exhibition at the foot of the Capitol. Clement recently pushed a bill through recognizing October as Country Music month and, in honor of the occasion, members of the Senate and Congress were invited to learn the "CMT Dance Ranch Romp" during a lunchtime break. Leading the Capitol's own Dance Ranch Rompers was Jo Thompson, a former Miss Texas and creator of the "CMT Dance Ranch Romp" (front, center). Also present was Francie Leader, manager, Eastern Division, affiliate relations, Group W Satellite Communications (GWSC) (second from right).

REVIEWS by Brad Hogue

■ BROOKS & DUNN "Rock My World (Little Country Girl)" (Arista ASCD-2636)

This is the fourth single from Hard Workin' Man, and while the lead guitar riff sounds like a clone of Sawyer Brown's "Thank God For You," it's still a honky-tonk-line-dance kicker from the hottest duo in country. It'll do well on the charts and should sell some more albums. After all, what real cowboy wouldn't want a partner who "acts like Madonna but listens to Merle..." Bill LaBounty & Steve O'Brien wrote it; Don Cook & Scott Hendricks produced.

■ REBA MCENTIRE "They Asked About You" (MCA MCASP-54769)

The second single release from Reba's Greatest Hits Volume Two CD, "They Asked About You" was written by Kim Nash, Bill Nash & Freddy Weller. It's another sad, tear-jerking ballad done in classic McEntire style with little extraordinary to offer, Reba's vocals notwithstanding, and the continuous repetition of the title is tiresome, tiresome, tiresome. Tony Brown & Reba produced.

■ JOHN ANDERSON "I've Got It Made" (BNA 66232-2/4)

The third single from Solid Ground, "I've Got It Made" was written by top Nashville tunesmith Max D. Barnes. It showcases Anderson's extraordinary ability to take a simple-themed tune and elevate it to new heights. This mid-tempo strums through an assortment of happy things and ends with the comforting revelation that everything is just fine—money or no money. James Stroud & Anderson produced.

■ CHARLIE FLOYD "Good Girls Go To Heaven" (Liberty 80475)

While this guy saw little action with his previous single, "Good Girls Go To Heaven" may just be an audience-winner for Charlie Floyd. A semi-rowdy stomp written by Richard Fagan & Kim Williams, the ditty attempts to build a pleasing picture of "bad girls going everywhere..." See if you like it, radio. Jimmy Bowen & Clyde Brooks produced.

■ MARY-CHAPIN CARPENTER "He Thinks He'll Keep Her" (Columbia CSK 77316)

"My wife, I think I'll keep her..." If you watched the CMA Awards, then you're already familiar with this one. If not, get ready. Radio's gonna love it. Written by Carpenter with Don Schlitz, "He Thinks He'll Keep Her" comes from the platinum-selling Come On Come On CD. It's actually Carpenter's response to the old television commercial where a husband addresses his wife as a possession he's quite fond of—kind of like an old baseball trophy or something. Go figure, ladies! John Jennings & MCC produced.

CHRISTMAS COUNTRY

Seasonal Releases

NASHVILLE—It's common knowledge that country artists are red-hot properties these days. Christmas time is certainly no exception. There are more country Christmas albums being released this year than ever before. Instead of offering a collage of useless reviews—Here's a brief look at what's out there: . . .

For radio only: CDX has released CDXMAS Volumes 3 & 4, with singles available to radio from Alabama, Clinton Gregory, Floyd Cramer, Jerry Reed, Alan Jackson, Wynonna, Kathy Mattea, The Statler Brothers, Reba McEntire, Garth Brooks, Randy Travis, Doug Wayne, Travis Tritt, Vince Gill, Ricky Van Shelton, The Geezinslaws, Lorrie Morgan, Doug Stone, George Strait & Kenny Rogers, among others. Although CDXMAS is unavailable to the consumer, it should at least make that Christmas morning drive to Grandma's house a little more memorable. Be sure to tune in to country radio in December.

Already popular on the charts: Vince Gill's Let There Be Peace On Earth recently shipped Gold and is currently riding high on the Cash Box Top 75 Country Albums chart at a bulleted #30 position.

Alan Jackson's Honky Tonk Christmas is also doing well at #40.

Garth Brooks' Beyond The Season is sure to be a hot seller again this year. It's already Double-Platinum from 1992's sales.

Travis Tritt's A Travis Tritt Christmas: Loving Time Of The Year should also do well.

Lorrie Morgan's Merry Christmas From London has been hailed as an outstanding seasonal project incorporating a full orchestra. Check it out!

Kathy Mattea has just released Goods News, a critical success as well.

And no longer a stranger to country radio, Aaron Neville's Christmas project is simply titled, Aaron Neville's Soulful Christmas. Totally angelic!

From the BNA Entertainment label comes Sounds Of The Season, which includes songs from John Anderson, Dale Daniel, The Remingtons, Lisa Stewart, The Oak Ridge Boys, Doug Supernaw, Tim Ryan, Eddie Rabbitt & Lorrie Morgan, among others.

Last but not least, don't forget Charlie Chase's My Wife...My Life. It too serves as a seasonal release.

These and other Country Christmas releases are sure to brighten table-talk, stuff the stockings and provide hours of joy for avid country fans. Don't miss out. Get to the record stores fast!

Vince Gill is pictured here with an entourage of well-wishers as he accepts a Double-Platinum award for I Still Believe In You, and a Gold album award for Let There Be Peace On Earth. Go Vince!

COVER STORY

Music City Tonight & Charlie Chase: TNN's Flagships

By Brad Hogue

CHARLIE CHASE IS A BUSY MAN THESE DAYS. That's nothing unusual, though, Chase was also a busy boy. His first brush with professional broadcasting originated in his hometown of Rogersville, Tennessee, when Chase was only 13. "I got up every morning at 5:00 a.m. and rode my bicycle two miles to the station and signed on the air," he recalls. The station's secretary carted him to and from school and young Chase usually stayed on the air until sign-off time. Even then Charlie's innocent interest in mass communication was much more than a job; it was a love that persists to date.

Now a high-profile celebrity host, Chase's easygoing, highly approachable interviewing style comes across as unassuming and noncontrolling—even when roles are reversed and Chase is the interviewee. In a recent talk with Cash Box, Chase commented on his new show, Music City Tonight, his new Epic Records project, My Wife...My Life, and a bit of his life on and off the air.

"I've been doing a lot of traveling these days," Chase tells Cash Box. "This past Saturday I went to Orlando, then to Atlanta, then back to Nashville—all in one day. The week prior to that I went to Dallas, to Houston, then back to Nashville, and this Saturday I'm going to Jacksonville, then to Tampa, then back to Nashville again. The reason is that I need time with my troops."

On a typical weekday, Chase arrives at the offices of Music City Tonight at two in the afternoon, prepares for the show, readies those troops, co-hosts the show with partner Lorianne Crook, then arrives back at his home at 10:30 p.m. The traveling he speaks of serves as a promotional vehicle for My Wife...My Life, as Chase makes in-store appearances at select Wal-Mart stores.

"By the time I get home my kids are asleep, so I'll wind down and get to bed myself around 1 a.m.—then I'm up again at six the next morning because that's my only time with them. If I need it I'll go back to bed for a couple hours. If I don't, I'll get up and start the day. That's pretty much it."

Prior to the launch of Music City Tonight, TNN's flagship program, Chase worked at radio stations in Kingsport and Knoxville in east Tennessee. He came to Nashville and a position with pop music station WMAK, which was followed by nine years of work with WSM, the 50,000-watt, clear-channel home of the Grand Ole Opry. During his tenure there, Chase became one of the most notable radio personalities in country music, for which he was twice a finalist for the Country Music Association's Disc Jockey of the Year Award. When WSM's television station began producing a live daytime entertainment program in 1982, Channel 4 Magazine, Charlie was asked to host and became a two-media man; working radio in the morning and television in the evening. In 1983, producer Jim Owens teamed Chase with Lorianne Crook for a new syndicated series, This Week In Country Music, which quickly evolved into the Crook & Chase nightly entertainment news series on TNN, beginning in 1986. A year later, This Week In Country moved out of syndication to TNN, where it was a popular weekend series until 1990. Since 1988, he and Crook have also hosted The Nashville Record Review, a four-hour radio program heard on more than 300 U.S. stations, and in Japan and the U.K.

"And I still have to do Christmas shopping!" Chase jokes. "Seriously, there's always a way of adapting, I guess. Actually, the pressure is not as great as you might think because we've been on prime time for the last seven years of the show."

With research completed, Music City Tonight scored an impressive 2.3 rating (1,357,000 households) in its premiere telecast on Monday, October 18. Not since the Nashville Now 10th anniversary special on March 8, 1993 garnered a 3.0 rating has TNN scored such a record high rating for a regularly scheduled program in this time period. Television's only 90-minute live nightly entertainment series, Music City Tonight highlights country music acts ranging from newcomers to superstars, and it's being hailed as the most ambitious project conceived and developed by TNN since the network launched 10 years ago. Consequentially, this TNN flagship flies high for not only country music, but also for the city of Nashville, which is quite metropolitan.

"That's certainly one of our responsibilities here," says Chase. "People who have this preconceived notion of what Nashville and the people who work in this industry are all about often ask us, 'Why don't you come out wearing boots and cowboy hats?' I think some people look at us and think, 'You guys really like country music—nah!' But the industry people have often told us we bring a lot of class to country music. So it just goes to show that no matter how you dress, you can like country music. The diversity is there. Country music is like a town crier for Nashville, and Nashville is a very top-notch cultural and business center, as well as a major entertainment center."

Hooked into that center, Charlie Chase is also a family man. He has been married to his high school sweetheart, Karen, for 21 years and they have two children. His new album is dedicated to Karen.

"I'm really thrilled with how these projects have turned out," says Chase. "And I did not get into this business to be a celebrity. I don't think I've changed any over the years. I just do what I do in front of a television camera. Celebrity is something that comes with it. The album release I think is just a softened way of letting people know where I'm coming from."

(As we go to print, country sensation Billy Ray Cyrus headlines Music City Tonight on Tuesday, November 30 and performs his new single to be released in January, "Words By Heart.")

Countdown At The Neon Armadillo

ANOTHER FLAGSHIP PROGRAM FOR TODAY'S COUNTRY MUSIC is Countdown At The Neon Armadillo, the new weekly series from Buena Vista Television which premiered Friday, September 17. The weekly, hour-long series showcases the songs, dances and entertainers that are redefining country music in the '90s. Syndicated to independent stations and network affiliates nationwide, Countdown at the Neon Armadillo has been sold in 175 markets covering 98% of the United States, making it the most widely accepted program at premiere among one-hour, non-dramas in syndicated television history.

The series spins out of last December's successful prime time television special, Best of Country '92: Countdown at the Neon Armadillo, produced by Buena Vista Entertainment for ABC, and ranked #1 in its time period. In fact, the two-hour special increased the network's previous four-week household rating by 60% and attracted the highest adult viewership (18-49) in that time period for the '92-'93 season. Carrie Folks, who co-hosts Countdown... with partner John Burke, is elated.

"It's great to see our kind of music finally getting to the people," Folks told Cash Box. "What I think is great about the show is that it can expose the new country artists to fans in a way radio doesn't do. I think fans finish the show with a better understanding of the artists with whom they're not yet familiar."

Featuring 15 of the hottest songs that reached #1 on the charts, Countdown... presents these artists in a lively hour of musical performances, music video clips and occasional line dances surfacing in dance clubs across the nation. Forty-six hour-long episodes of Countdown at the Neon Armadillo will be produced; 10 will be one-hour themed specials (check local listings). Executive producing the series is Don Weiner. Countdown... is produced by BIP Productions, Ltd. for distribution by Buena Vista Television. BVT is a subsidiary of the Walt Disney Company.

"If you're interested in what's going on in country," Folks reiterates. "We've got it, every week!"

Arista's New Christian Country Label?

DuBois

NASHVILLE—Contrary to the word on the street and in the press, Arista Records/Nashville will not be starting a Christian Country label in 1994 according to a label representative. . . .

Confusion no doubt is based on Arista Records/Nashville president, Tim DuBois's announcement early this year of his intentions to form a contemporary Christian label based in Nashville. And although Arista makes it clear that the new label will be "open-ended" stylistically to include possible

Christian Country artists, it will be defined primarily as a contemporary Christian label.

Pick of the Week

MICHAEL JAMES "It Wasn't His Child" (Reunion)

The first single from James' second album for Reunion Records, Closer To The Fire, is a Christmas single radio-ready for the holidays. With words and music by Skip Ewing (who recorded the song on his own album), the single is about an illegitimate child and father who loves the boy. The song focuses on the birth of Jesus Christ from Joseph's perspective and is filled with sweet, human references to the Christ child. There's three versions to choose from here; album, radio edit and early fade. Treat your listeners this Christmas season with the album version and the interview with James at the end of the CD and his recollections of this single

LIVE FROM TBN—The Days were featured on the Trinity Broadcast Network's Live From Nashville, along with Marty Raybon of Shenandoah. The trio performed songs from its debut Cheyenne album New Step. NCRS Sets 1994 Agenda

Jack M. Rattigan

Stan Forrer

Don Osgood

THE STEERING COMMITTEE of the National Radio Seminar Of The Gospel Music Association has announced the final agenda for the 1994 convention which will be held during GMA Week, April 24-28 at the Stouffer Convention Center, Nashville, Tennessee.

The 1994 NCRS will feature seminars and workshops for owners and managers, on-air personnel and program directors, an expanded sales track entitled The Sales Leadership Conference, and an increased presence for non-commercial stations.

For the fourth consecutive year, NCRS will again feature The Christian Radio Sales Boot Camp which will be held Saturday, April 23 at the Stouffer Hotel from 8:30 am-5pm. Greg Lhamon, general manager of WCBW/St. Louis is the 1994 chairman of Sales Bootcamp. Notes Lhamon, "Whether you're a veteran or a new recruit, from a small market or a major market, you will benefit by coming to Bootcamp."

The 1994 NCRS will bring together an impressive array of speakers and workshops leaders for each track. Owners and managers will have an opportunity to hear from Don Osgood, president of the Career Performance Group, radio management specialist Jack Rattigan, and Tim Kimmel, motiva-tional speaker and counselor.

The Sales Leadership conference for sales people and sales managers will feature Stan Forrer of Greenwood Performance Systems, Charlie Moon of the I.Q.O Training Group, and Charles Mefford of the Mid-West Family Broadcast Group.

Programmers will be treated to an all-day seminar on formatics, air staff training, positioning and air check critiques with top programming consultants: Dan O'Day; Dwight Douglas of Burkhart Douglas & Associates on research; and Eric Rhodes, publisher of Radio Ink magazine, on trends. The non-commercial track will host an all-day session, featuring financial consultant and author Ron Blue.

Keynote speakers will feature Jimmy Bowen, president of Liberty Records/co-chairman of Sparrow Records and Eric Rhodes.

The three-and-one-half days of the industry's leading convention is filled with seminars and seminars, evening concerts, and the ever-popular Artist/DJ reception which will be moved from the usual Sunday slot to Wednesday afternoon to enable more artists to attend. The week culminates in the nationally televised Dove Awards Show Thursday evening, April 28 at the Grand Ole Opry House.

"Who is this Clay Crosse guy?" seems to be the question that everyone is asking of Reunion Records' latest signing. Crosse's February release My Place With You is said to feature "straight-ahead, adult contemporary pop with lots of blue-eyed soul" and was produced by Peter Bunetta and Rick Chudacoff known for their work with Michael Bolton, Peabo Bryson, Kenny G and Smokey Robinson. The album even includes a duet with labelmate Kathy Troccoli, "One Heart." The folks at the label are real excited. If all this wasn't enough, Crosse is scheduled to open for Twila Paris during her spring tour to over 40 U.S. cities between March 3 and May 14. Now if we could only get a pre-release...

Jennifer Holliday joins the Intersound Entertainment roster with a black gospel project to be released in March. The album will be a cooperative with Intersound and Sunday Entertainment, Holliday's new label. There are also whispers that Intersound is about to sign a heavy hitter in the Christian music biz with an-announcement due soon.

Pam Thum just completed her first concert tour of South Africa. Apparently she was a big hit with the locals. Sarepta Music Company, the South African distributor for Benson Music Group, reported that Thum's release was the fastest-selling debut album by any artist in the nine-year history of the company.

NOT ASHAMED—On location in New Orleans Newsboys' lead singer John James (l) prepares to shoot a segment from the band's new video "Dear Shame" from its Not Ashamed album as director Jeff Phillips (r) checks for lighting.

Christmas Releases

ERIC DARKEN A Drummer's Boy Christmas (Warner Alliance)

If this project looks and sounds familiar to you there's nothing wrong with your stereo or your memory. Originally released quietly through Star Song in 1991, this jazz-laden instrumental release is sure to be a favorite in living rooms and store stereos alike with classic-yet-pop-inflected interpretations of your favorites. There's even a few new tunes to make this album worth a second look.

KURT KAISER Christmas Favorites (Sparrow)

Kaiser's gentle piano accompanied by light instrumentation works its way through various medleys of carols, making for pleasant, serene listening. Not an album that will grab attention, but quite enjoyable nonetheless.

LINDA MCKECHNIE WITH THE DON MARSH ORCHESTRA A Hymnworks Christmas (Brentwood)

McKechnie's piano sets the stage for an interwoven tapestry of carols and Christmas-associated classical themes which works due to the skills of the players (the piano playing in particular is excellent) and the equally skillful arrangements which highlight the beauty of both carol and classical melodies with equal grace.

RICHARD SOUTHER Carols, Rhythms, and Grooves (Norther-South Music)

For all you lovers of Christmas music out there, this project could be the "find" you've been waiting for. From Souther's indie label comes this instrumental delight. From Celtic to European to African, Souther covers a lot of musical geography in this tasty private studio project. Unfortunately, the album is only available from NortherSouth Music directly. The price is $10, and the address is NortherSouth Music, 17939 Chatsworth, Ste.515, Granada Hills, CA 91344. By the way, 10 percent of the earnings will go to ALS research (Lou Gehrig's disease).

VARIOUS Smoky Mountain Christmas Memories (Brentwood)

Smoky Mountain Hymns go Christmas... This is an album that does just what it suggests; interpret carols in a pure American traditional folk fashion. Not scratchy enough to be wholly authentic, but still a performance from the heart and close enough to the real thing to warrant a listen.
