Cover Story

HIStory And The Merchant

Summer is approaching like Stephen King's Langoliers, voracious for fresh sounds to consume like the razor-toothed creatures in King's story that ate the past. Epic is banking heavily on a consumer hunger for HIStory: Past, Present And Future—Book One, the 30 song greatest hits and new material package from King of Pop Michael Jackson due out June 20. The alternative/college audience could represent a banquet of riches for Natalie Merchant, whose Elektra Entertainment solo debut album is due out the same day. Both albums might attract music buyers to stores where they explore the eclectic cornucopia of other albums due out over the summer. Steve Baltin, Dick Ishbun and Dr. Bayyan supply the research and insights.

MTV POLLS GEN X 16-29 YEAR OLDERS: MTV: Music Television has announced the results of the latest MTV Poll, a national survey of 16-29 year-olds, conducted bi-monthly by MTV and Peter D. Hart Research Associates. The nationally representative telephone survey of 804 young adults was conducted from April 11-13, 1995 and focuses on young people's attitudes about their generation, violence, politics, health care, and more. The survey has a margin of error of 3.5% plus or minus and indicates that:

A majority of young people (58%) consider themselves to be part of a distinct generation in this country citing primary factor characteristics which set their generation apart as drugs, more crime, gangs and violence as well as their mastery of technology and increased tolerance.

From a provided list they chose high tech (56%), open-minded (50%), angry (45%) as the characteristics that best describe their generation. The characteristics they feel least describe them are lucky (31%), spiritual (28%), and slackers (23%). Half of them feel their elders have an unfavorable impression of them. Almost half (49%) believe the news media is "unfair and inaccurate" in its reporting about their generation.

Eighty percent claim to be personally happy, but there is a growing unhappiness with the way things are going in the country. Fifty-nine percent say they are "unhappy with the way things are going in the country" up from 50% as measured by the February 1994 poll.

Forty-nine percent chose the 1990s as the worst time to be a young person, in comparison to the 1950s, 60s, 70s and 80s; Current singers or musical groups most likely to symbolize the '90s generation are Nirvana and Pearl Jam; Funding for education is number one on the list of priorities they want Congress to address while they feel that neither political party's policies will have much effect on their lives.

Sixty-nine percent of them feel that "young people should be willing to pay the same as older people for insurance today, so they won't have to pay more in the future when they're older and their health care needs increase."

ASCAP Pop Award Winners Diverse Group This Year

by Karen Sidlow

The group All-4-One (above) and country artist John Michael Montgomery both performed the Baker/Myer ASCAP Song of the Year, "I Swear."

GARY BAKER AND FRANK J. MYERS got Song of the Year, John "Mutt" Lange was named Songwriter of the Year and Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. took away Publisher of the Year honors during the ASCAP (American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers) 12th Annual Pop Music Awards, held May 15 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, CA.

Several hundred leading songwriters, publishers, recording artists and other influential members of the music industry, gathered to celebrate their creative accomplishments. Some of those who attended the 7,000-member association's soiree included Jimmy Jam (half of the dynamic producing duo of Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis), Peter Frampton and country crooners Little Texas.

Frampton opened the show with a solo acoustic performance of his song "Baby, I Love Your Way," which was one of the titles honored as one of the most played songs of the year. The track was recently featured on the movie soundtrack for Reality Bites and covered by artists Big Mountain.

A new honor was bowed in this year's show: the ASCAP/Sammy Cahn Award that went to Felicia Needleman and Laurence Holzman. Cahn, who passed away recently, wrote lyrics that were sung by such greats as Frank Sinatra and Marilyn Monroe. His career accomplishments were highlighted with a video montage of his work prior to the award being given out. Needleman and Holzman won for their song "I Married A Witch."

A diverse offering of songs such as Soul Asylum's "Runaway Train," Phil Collin's "Everyday," "American Honky Tonk Bar Association" by Bryan Kennedy and Jim Rushing, "I Can See Clearly Now" by Johnny Nash, "The Most Beautiful Girl In The World" by the Artist Formerly Known as Prince, "Streets of Philadelphia" by Bruce Springsteen "Unchained Melody" by Alex North and Hy Zaret and Billy Joel's "River of Dreams," were a few select titles who were honored as the most performed songs last year.

Baker and Myer won Song of the Year for writing "I Swear," which was recorded by All-4-One and John Michael Montgomery. Coincidentally, Baker and Myers won the Grammy for Best Country Song for Montgomery's performance of the tune. And All-4-One brought home the Best Pop Performance By A Duo or Group Grammy for their version of "I Swear." In addition, Montgomery took home awards for Song of the Year and Single of the Year at the recent 30th Annual Academy of Country Music Awards. The ACM Song of the Year award went to Baker and Myers, as well.

Lange was honored as Songwriter of the Year for his work that included the co-writing of Michael Bolton's hit, "Said I Loved You But I Lied," and Bryan Adams' "Please Forgive Me."

Warner/Chappell Music earned the Publisher of the Year honor under the guidance of company chairman/CEO Les Bider. The Soul Asylum, Grammy award winning, song "Runaway Train," the energetic John Mellencamp and Me'Shell Ndegocello duet, "Wild Night," and several Mariah Carey tunes, such as "Hero" and "Dreamlover" were all associated with Warner/Chappell.

Babyface & Warner-Tamerlane Lead BMI Award Winners

By John Goff

Kenneth "Babyface" Edmonds gets BMI Song and Songwriter of the Year honors.

KENNETH "BABYFACE" EDMONDS, his ballad "Breathe Again," and publishing company Warner-Tamerlane Publishing Corp. and Associated Companies took the highest honors at BMI's 43rd annual Pop Awards.

President/CEO Frances W. Preston and v.p. Rick Riccobono presented Citations of Achievement to the writers and publishers of the past year's most performed songs, culminating in the announcement of Song, Songwriter and Publisher of the Year winners in the Grand Ballroom of the Regent Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Beverly Hills, CA, May 17.

Edmonds took both Song and Songwriter award categories. His "Breathe Again," published by ECAF Music and Sony Songs Inc. and recorded by LaFace/Arista's Toni Braxton, was named Most Performed Song of the Year and has already attained BMI Million-Air status. Babyface also outnumbered all writers with seven award-winning songs to take Songwriter of the Year crown for the fourth time. His hits, in addition to "Breathe Again," include "And Our Feelings" and "Never Keeping Secrets" from his Tender Lover album; "Can We Talk" and "I'm Ready," recorded by Tevin Campbell, and two more Braxton hits, "Another Sad Love Song" and "You Mean The World To Me." This year's wins bring Edmonds' total BMI awards to 30.

With 13 Citations, Warner-Tamerlane Publishing Corp., and Associated Companies, which includes Pronto Music and Unichappell Music Inc., earned Publisher of the Year accolades for the third in a row. The award is given to the publishing concern which has the highest percentage of copyright ownership in award-winning songs.

"All Apologies," written by the late Kurt Cobain and recorded by Nirvana, was named BMI College Song of the Year for receiving the greatest number of American college radio performances during the eligibility period. Awards were also presented to EMI-Virgin Songs and The End of Music.

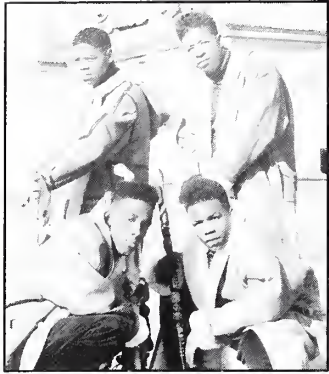

"You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'," written by Barry Mann, Phil Spector and Cynthia Weil and published by ABKCO Music Inc., Mother Bertha Music Inc. and Screen Gems-EMI Music Inc., was honored twice, earning its ninth BMI Pop Award and being recognized for reaching the six million performance plateau. It is now the third song behind "Yesterday" and "Never My Love" in BMI's repertoire of more than three million songs and compositions to reach that level, equal to approximately 33.5 years of continuous airplay.

Other songwriters who received multiple awards were Janet Jackson and Daryl Simmons, each with four songs, and Mariah Carey with three. Double winners were Joshua Kadison, Curtis Mayfield, Miguel A. Morejon, Van Morrison, Sting, and Ace of Base members Jenny Berggren, Jonas Berggren, Malin Berggren and Ulf Ekberg.

REVIEWS By Steve Baltin

■ DAG: "Lovely Jane" (Columbia 7105)

Sounding a bit like a younger Stevie Wonder, Dag have an infectious funk sound that will get toes tapping, butts shaking and heads bobbing all over America. Taken from their CD, Righteous, "Lovely Jane" should get airplay across the board in a just world. Though in a just world this album, which was released months ago, would already be a monster. However it's never too late, and the potential for mass appeal on this song is humongous.

■ FACE TO FACE: "A-Ok" (Victory 9318-2)

The follow-up single to "Disconnected," which received strong Modern Rock support, is a frenetically paced punk song pumped up on speed that rocks with enough vicious energy to physically bring listeners down at its conclusion. Another winner from the Orange County band's debut effort, Big Choice. "A-Ok" also features some surprisingly strong lyrics beneath the frenzied musical backdrop. Face To Face is an act bristling with something special—fire and talent.

■ RAPHAEL SAADIQ: "Ask Of You" (550 Music/Epic 7082)

Saadq, of Tony! Toni! Tone!, goes it solo for this track from the soundtrack to the John Singleton film Higher Learning. Saadiq's high octave vocals remind slightly of early Michael Jackson, though similar success seems improbable. Still, the combination of the names of Tony! Toni! Tone! and Singleton should give this a push in the right direction.

■ THE TRAGICALLY HIP: "So Hard Done By" (Atlantic 6184)

This Canadian act, who is huge in its native country, have been receiving layers upon layers of praise for its recent Day For Night album. As such, this new single is an unlikely release, as it doesn't readily fit into any format. A little too moody in its melody for Modern Rock, too gritty for AOR and too aggressive for AAA it's another strong song, just an unusual single choice for a band seemingly on the verge of breaking down the doors to something bigger.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ CHRIS ISAAK: "Somebody's Crying" (Reprise 17872)

The first single from Isaak's forthcoming Forever Blue shows why Isaak is the coolest troubadour in popular music. Blending the passion of a broken heart with the suave style fans have come to expect from the singer-songwriter, "Somebody's Crying" is but a sampling of the brilliance that is Isaak's new album. A guaranteed smash at AAA, if Isaak can get support from Adult Contemporary and Top 40 this could be the single that breaks him up to the next level.

REVIEWS by Steve Baltin

(Eds. Note: The Tricky review that ran in last issue, and appeared only with the initials K.A., was written by Karen Allen)

■ FILTER: Short Bus (Reprise 45864-2)

The initial single from this Ohio duo's debut album has already started receiving airplay on modern rock stations, though their success there follows along the lines of Candlebox and Collective Soul, the only difference being Filter is a talented duo. "Hey Man, Nice Shot" captures the intense anger expressed throughout this 11-song record. Richard Patrick and Brian Liesegang do an admirable job of cathartically carrying forth the anger of a generation in their aggressive vocals and scorching musical accompaniment. While this is not typical Modern Rock music, it is nonetheless the type of sound that kids everywhere eat up. With that in mind, and the way Modern Rock has broken similar bands at a phenomenal rate, look for Filter to be exploding near the top of the charts before long.

■ THE DWELLERS: Whatever Makes You Happy (EMI Records 31860-2)

The voice behind this band, Johnny Andriani, is an unabashed supporter of the grandeur of rock 'n' roll. As such, the quartet's EMI debut was produced by Tony Visconti, the mastermind of such classic glam records as David Bowie's The Man Who Sold The World and T. Rex's The Slider. Unfortunately their sound is lacking both the theatrics and the passion of those records, creating a sense of unfulfillment when listening to such toothless pop tunes as "I Used To Love You" and "Rocket Ride." A harmless record at its best and worst, Whatever Makes You Happy merely exists.

■ PELL MELL: Interstate (DGC 24807)

The self-produced new album by this quartet was recorded at the famed Fort Apache studios in Boston. While Interstate continues the tradition of subversive daring that has made the studio famous, the band takes those qualities to new extremes with this 12-song all-instrumental CD. Pell Mell's move is daring, and DGC must be commended for having the guts to release this record. It pays off in a bizarre way, as one might think an all-instrumental CD would have to be loaded with virtuoso playing to succeed, but this one is far from technically perfect. However, the band's weird sound—which incorporates layers of rock, alternative and even surf music—quickly grows on listeners.

■ EDNASWAP: ednaswap (East West Records 61750-2)

A product of the L.A. club scene, the quintet, fronted by New Yorker Annie Preven, have an engaging sound that blends some of the best acts of the last decade of L.A. music. The opening, "This Is A Song," conjures up the auditory image of Mary's Danish's biggest hit, "Don't Crash The Car Tonight," while "Clown Show" evokes memories of Johnette Napolitano's impassioned singing with Concrete Blonde. Another standout is the bluesy "Ted And Joe," a moving track about a gay wedding. The mix of so many influences provides ednaswap with a distinct style that works because it's based on energy. A name heard often around L.A., ednaswap's debut not only makes the attention justified, but makes one hope they'll be hearing a lot more from this promising act.

■ BAD BRAINS: God Of Love (Maverick/Warner Bros. 45882-2)

If ever there was a band who seemed to have the stars in perfect alignment for a run at major league success Bad Brains is the group. And their time is now. The Washington D.C. quartet has labored in cult obscurity for over a decade, albeit in the upper stratosphere of cultdom. However, with the shifting tides in music, namely the success of young punk acts that has carried over to older groups like Sonic Youth and Flaming Lips, Bad Brains could've capitalized on that atmosphere. If only they would've made a Bad Brains album. This Ric Ocasek produced CD finds them toning down their reggae attitude on "Overs The Water" and softening up their punk hooks on "Rights Of A Child." Bad Brains have to be admired for continuing to grow, even if it does cost them their best chance at stardom.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ WARREN ZEVO: Mutneer (Giant 24618-A)

During his over two-decade long career, Zevon has written countless hits, including "Lawyers, Guns & Money" and "Excitable Boy," as well as some of the most beautiful love songs recorded during that time, among them "Hasten Down The Wind" and "?." It's the slight novelty/pop hit, "Werewolves Of London," that Zevon will always be linked with though. It's unfortunate in some respects, as his new album once again proves, Zevon is a talent that goes far beyond one novelty tune. Mutneer continues the Zevon tradition of blending personal songs, such as the biting but sad "Poisonous Lookalike" or the melancholy "The Indifference Of Heaven" with sharp political observations, in this case, "Seminoles Bingo." Another noteworthy track is the bittersweet "Something Bad Happened To A Clown." With the advent of AAA radio there is a finally an outlet for artists like Zevon, who has long deserved radio support, but transcends the cozy confines of what popular radio wants.

SONS OF SOUL: Sons of Soul (Raging Bull 2001-2) Producers: Various

The release of this Los Angeles-based vocal quintet's debut recording on the independent Raging Bull label has occurred at just the right time. This disc is perfect for summer airplay...

HAMI: Funky Descendant (Underworld/Capitol 30155) Producer: Hami.

This debut is the second to come from the Hughes Brothers' Underworld label and it showcases the many eclectic talents of this young hip/hopster who plays among other instruments: violin, saxophone and bass.

THE RHYTHM

By Gil L. Robertson IV

Entertainment industry mogul Quincy Jones and partner David Salzman went interactive recently when they unveiled the first CD-Rom title for the company QD7, a joint venture with multi-media firm 7th Level. The unveiling of the CD-Rom line came during the Electronic Expo in Los Angeles and during a special party at the Mayan Club there. Pictured are (l-r): 7th Level partners Scott Page and Bob Ezrin with Jones and Salzman. (see story below.)

MULTIMEDIA TECHNOLOGIES are making a big impact in American Industry, and the music business is no different. With an endless array of possibilities now available through this exciting new technology everybody from record labels, individual business people, and artists are in a hurry to get in this mix which is certain to yield a financial bonanza for its participants. Last week 7th Level and The House of Blues introduced product that represent their entry into the marketplace. Wednesday, House of Blues New Media Vice President Marc Schiller, together with Mercury recording artist Herbie Hancock unveiled a new CD ROM that will accompany Hancock's latest release Dis Is Da Drum. Also announced was a series of upcoming interactive projects that House of Blues New Media will use to increase its visibility in this market. On Thursday 7th level mega producer Quincy Jones and David Salzman introduced their new interactive venture called Q's Jook Joint, which will serve as a resource guide and entertainment forum that chronicles the history of American music. Set in Louisiana, Jook Joint mixes animation, historical footage, interviews, vintage photography and legendary musical performances. It's due for commercial release in 1996. 7th level also announced two other interactive titles, Battle Beast and Arcade America, that will both be released in the near future.

40 Acres/MCA Records recently celebrated the release of the film soundtrack to the upcoming Savoy Pictures release, Tales From The Hood. Produced by Rusty Cundieff, the film is an urban anthological thriller and stars: Joe Torry, Rosalind Cash, Corbin Bernsen, David Allen Grier and Clarence Williams III. The soundtrack, which features music from Domino, Wu-Tang Clan, Spice 1, Dirty Bastard, Havoc and Prodigy, has enjoyed strong sales out the box, largely due to the success of the Domino recorded title track, which is receiving wide airplay and heavy video rotation. According to Kathy Nelson, head of MCA Soundtracks, the label has a long range commitment to the project and has mounted an intensive marketing campaign that includes the retail, video and media market, as well as merchandising tie-ins with the film which opens May 24. Several single releases are planned, with the next by Havoc and Prodigy entitled "The Hood's Got Me Feeling The Pain."

DISN'DAT: Biv 10 Records is entering the pop market with its new signee Hayden, a young 23-year old vocalist who was last heard from when he lent vocals to Motown's East Coast Family release back in 1992. His first single is due for release in mid June, with a complete album to follow. Super songwriter/producer Carl Martin is busy. His group, Shai will soon drop Black Face, the follow up to their 1992 multi-platinum release If I Ever Fall In Love. Carl is also overseeing production on the three acts who are signed to his own C.M.E. Records. Ragging Bull recording artists The Sons Of Soul will host this weeks Friday Night Videos. Their single, "Rainy Day," is doing quite well on urban radio, with more than 60 adds and the accompanying video is going strong with more than 50 video channels across the country. As the record continues to heat up expect to see more of this hot vocal quintet...Brownstone going strong overseas: It looks as if the domestic success for hot MJJ recording group Brownstone is being duplicated overseas. Currently touring Japan, they have been asked back to tour Europe after only a two month absence. Expect a major summer tour through the U.S. in support of their next single "I Can't Tell You Why" (a remake of the Eagles classic original).

LAFACE RECORDING ARTIST, USHER launches a national campaign to battle teen violence. Sixteen year old R&B hip-hop sensation Usher will launch a National Party in Peace campaign on May 27th, in Atlanta, GA. The object of the campaign is for peers to appeal to one another, and pledge to make their schools, communities and events non-violent. Rap Single Reviews

By Gil Robertson IV

■ SKEE-LOO: "I Wish" (Scotti Bros. 78032)

Scotti Brothers has got a huge hit on its hands with this good-natured, whimsical track from this Southern California rapper. This track moves throughout with an intoxicating bass beat and smooth driving California flavor adds to its mix. Having already received a ton of urban radio adds and with a video that's just been added to the rotation on MTV, this single shows strong potential to succeed on the R&B and Pop charts as well.

■ D'ANGELO: "Brown Sugar" (EMI 58630)

This title track from D'Angelo's debut disc should succeed strongly on several formats. It blends the right mix of down-home slow groove funk with a caressing jazz texture that's bound to get folks out on the dance floor. Produced by ALI from A Tribe Called Quest, this track is loaded with a classic old school feel and provides a great introduction for this promising young talent.

■ FLORIDA BOYZ: "Backyard Party" (Bellmark 72041)

This single is a great example for why Florida "booty music" is gaining increasing popularity across the nation. A strong party track complete with high energy, bass, horns and a catchy sing-along chorus. Get out the Bar B Que and let's jam.

Spotlight

NAIRD '95

By Gary Younger

AND THEY'RE OFF. This year's NAIRD (National Association of Independent Record Distributors & Manufacturers) convention, which took place May 10-14 resembled a horse race at times, as label representatives scrambled to meet with distributors about upcoming projects during the hubub of activity characterized by 1-on-1 meetings. Among the distributors that were taking meetings were the Laurie Group/3 C Sales, Ron Bollon, President, Encore's Mark Noone, City Hall's Walter Zelnick, Director of Promotions, Malverne and Big State (both of which are a part of INDI Distribution), represented by Frank Mendez, director of purchasing and Gary Barnard, buyer, respectively, Alliance's Lou Miranda, director of marketing and Mill City, John Kolstad, President.

Those who weren't able to secure meeting times during the large board room, which looked like a game of musical chairs when the bell sounded, signaling the five minute meetings were over, found they were often able to find their desired parties at the bar area of The Hyatt Regency Embarcadero Center. The bar served as an extension of the board room, with indie heavies like CRD's Ted Higashioka strolling the area.

The other hot spot was the Trade Show Floor, where labels set up booths to answer questions. Even labels and distributors that weren't formally accounted for could be found on the floor, where Rykodisc's Bob Carlton was making the rounds among others. Label booths on the floor included Canyon Records' Keith Burke and Marty Butler; Alligator Records' Bruce Iglauer; Caprice International Records' President Joey Welz; and Arhoolie's Tom Diamant.

The number of industry big wigs present made this NAIRD's most successful conference to date, as attendance this year was up 50% from last year's gathering. Given the priority Independent labels are taking on the charts, that everyone from Rolling Stone to The Gavin Report would want to be in on the action is not surprising.

REVIEWS By Steve Baltin & M.R. Martinez

■ LOREZ ALEXANDRIA: Talk About Cozy (Hindsight Jazz HCD 605)

With a voice that was honed in a milieu of great jazz stylists, Alexandria's considerable skills have often been underappreciated save those buffs and fanatic collectors. But her unique interpretations of familiar and lesser known tunes set her part and make her treat for people who like traditional jazz singing. On this collection of previously unreleased material recorded in 1968 for Armed Services Radio, the Chicago-native's incredible skill of playing with rhythm (often lagging a step behind the musicians) is evident on her cover of The Beatle, "Something" and also on the standard "I'll Remember April." Other highlights are the title track penned by accompanist Ronnell Bright and her classic "Didn't We." A must-have. M.R.M.

■ BERES HAMMOND & DERRICK LARA: Expression (Heartbeat 7666-2)

This reggae subsidiary of Rounder Records has established themselves with Dennis Brown among their recent releases. Furthering their already mighty reputation, the label now issues this sparkling introduction to a pair of Jamaica's most beloved reggae singers. The liner notes claim this is sweet reggae at its absolute best. Sweet is an appropriate word for this delightful collection. (S.B.)

■ VARIOUS ARTISTS: Swimming With Sharks: Original Soundtrack (Countdown Records 77723-2)

Yet another soundtrack featuring alternative/college acts, this one benefits from being associated with an independent film. As a result the bands represented here include Swervedriver, Gigolo Aunts, Love Spit Love and Box The Walls, rather than bigger name artists. In fact, the biggest name here is Sarah McLachlan, who provides her hit single "Good Enough." Gigolo Aunts have two songs on the soundtrack, while the standouts include Vibes Alive's funky jazz flavored "Spoken Word," Swervedriver's "Last Train To Satansville" and "See You Around" from Black Watch. (S.B.)

■ QUIET RIOT: Down To The Bone (Kamikaze Records 1029-2)

"Cum on girls and boys, feel the noise, get wild, wild, wild." Yep, Quiet Riot is back. If timing is indeed everything, and anyone who's ever been involved in a relationship knows that that is the case, then Quiet Riot must have just awakened from a coma to release a new album in 1995. The Kevin DuBrow produced CD is "highlighted" by a cover of the Kinks' "All Day And All Of The Night." It's too early for Ray Davies to be rolling over in his grave, but give him time. (S.B.)

PICK OF THE WEEK

VIGILANTES OF LOVE: Blister Soul (Capricorn 42042-2)

This Athens, GA act has garnered a reputation under the moniker of Vigilantes of Love, but much like The The, who are masterminded by Matt Johnson, V.O.L. is a rotating line-up anchored by lead vocalist Bill Mallonee. Regardless of the names involved, it's clearly Mallonee's baby, and he's taking it to the top. The follow-up to their breakout, Welcome To Struggleville, finds Mallonee expanding on his visions of acoustic Americana with equally strong results. Whether it be on the rocking title track, which opens the CD, or the lovely "Skin," Mallonee shows himself to be a gifted songwriter along the lines of a Martin Zellar. An act that continues to impress more and more each time. (S.B.)

20th & Cinerigi's Die Hard With A Vengeance, A Summer Big One!

By John Goff

Samuel L. Jackson and Bruce Willis just before a marathon race across NYC, in rush hour yet!

IT'S NEW YORK AND IT'S HOT. Well, it's "Summer In The City" according to The Lovin' Spoonful, who sing the film's opening, so why wouldn't it be hot in NYC? And then Bonwit's BLOWS UP! Yeah. Literally and digitally—you know what I mean; a spinal up-and-down RoCKEr—and it gets hotter because there are more of those things around.

The first inclination is, "Lemme outta here! Enough mad bombers on the news!"—Yes, there is an initial tense reaction to the reality of our world nastily intruding on over-the-top entertainment, but director John McTiernan gets it out of the way absolutely up front, then takes you on a roller coaster ride with some hairy gags for the rest of the day.

Uh-huh, that's the time line, something akin to eight hours, imposed by writer Jonathan Hensleigh who, in the parlance of some of the greats just "keeps it simple." Like: Bomber Jeremy Irons (brother of Alan Rickman, who Willis tossed off the building in Die Hard 1) blows up Bonwit's, calls police station, wants a hung-over Bruce Willis to run around the city defusing potential lethal situations—which presents opportunities for lots of action—until the end of the movie for, we assume, revenge. Of course, Willis is just an excuse for Irons' real plan. But, with the simplicity of that single plot point Hensleigh has created, he justifies the movie and the day of speedily paced carnage which follows—a careening cab ride through the streets and Central Park; a subway train blast and wreck near comparable to the train derailment in The Fugitive; an auto chase-gun show; terrific gag of water flooding tunnel and heroic escape; truck dragged off a bridge by a boat supplemented by high falls by Willis and Samuel L. Jackson (alright, their stunt doubles); boat explosion; helicopter power line explosion!

Director McTiernan moves the action and pace relentlessly. So relentlessly you almost forget there is a story behind all this. Personal lives have to come out between the two characters while on the run. That's alright. The audience who'll make this latest in the franchise a huge moneymaker don't care. If there's any reality to their lives beyond cheering the audacity and hugeness of the digitally enhanced gags on screen it bears little resemblance to reality.

The real star outside of the ever enlarging stunts is film editor John Wright who has strung this so tight Itzak Perlman could put a bow to it. A terrific job.

Willis has his John McClane character down pat (for $15 million, he'd better). Samuel L. Jackson is added as a sort of Lethal Weapon-type adjunct but with an edge. He and Willis "buddy" up, but not really by choice, and Jackson's character is the bigger bigot here. (You don't ask yourself "what would have happened if Jackson would have let his homies pound Willis into the pavement" with the initial "meeting" gag in the hood until you're out of the theatre it all goes down so fast.) Jackson has fun, yet gets points across without brow-knitting, consuming anger, employing instead, humor and understatement. Irons is a worthy villain. Slick. Cool. Evil. He didn't even like his brother. Other actors are little more than scene changes. No one goes to a Die Hard movie to be bothered with anything like "characterization," "subtext" or even "will he get laid?" (not enough time for that anyway). They go for Crash! Bang! Boom! Burn! And Die Hard With A Vengeance delivers in digitals.

Executive producers were Andrew G. Vajna, Buzz Feitshans and Robert Lawrence; producers McTiernan and Michael Tadross.

PÉREZ FAMILY MOVIE SOUND-

TRACK RELEASED BY RCA. The Pérez Family soundtrack is certain to delight Cuban music collectors. Produced by Jellybean Benítez with Domingo Echevarria as Special Project Consultant and Brian Malouf as A&R Director, the album contains seven original recordings by Beny Moré, Conjunto Casino, La Lupe, Enrique Jorrin, Pérez Prado, and Tito Puente. In addition, Latin jazz artist and recent Grammy Award winner, Arturo Sandoval, is featured on the recording of the album and on the instrumental "El Tamarero." A new rendition of "Yo Soy El Punto Cubano" is offered by Angela Lanza as well as Rosco Martinez's explosive interpretation of the classic "Mata Siguaraya." The movie, The Pérez Family, features Marisa Tomei, Alfred Molina, Chaz Palminteri, and Anjelica Huston.

NEW SINGLE FROM MARC ANTHONY. The rising star of the new Salsa X Generation is indubitably Marc Anthony. The former pop singer came on the tropical music scene a few years ago. Marc Anthony's passionate interpretation of the Juan Gabriel composition "Hasta que te conocí" on his first album (Otra Nota) certainly did not go unnoticed by long-time fans nor by new-found admirers. The talented vocalist has since launched a promising singing career in Salsa as well as made inroads toward the silver screen. His latest single release "Te Conozco Bien" was composed by Omar Alfanno and arranged by Sergio George. The new album Todo a Su Tiempo (#81582) is due out by the end of May on the RMM/SoHo Latino/Sony label. Marc Anthony recently renewed his contract with Ralph Mercado, President of RMM/SoHo Latino Records.

LUIS MIGUEL WINS WORLD MUSIC AWARDS. Mexican singing pop idol Luis Miguel was one of the recipients of the prestigious World Music Awards held in Monte Carlo on May 3rd. This is his second award in the category of World's Best Selling Latin Artist. Miguel performed "El Dia Que Me Quieras" from his Grammy-winning, multi-platinum WEA album Segundo Romance. The twenty-five year old artist has sold over 18 million units in his twelve year career. Miguel's next album will be a "live" recording.

PEOPLE ON THE MOVE. EMI Latin recently announced the designation of Anna Lorena Ramirez as National Assistant in the Department of Promotions. Based in L.A., Ramirez will be reporting to Jorge Luis Borrego, national manager of promotions. Another executive move in Chicago, Illinois, was the EMI assignment of promotion chief Rigoberto Arias. In Miami, a similar move was made by Jorge A. Mañach.

EMI Latin priorities for the first part of this month included pop artists like the Barrio Boyzz' "Una Vez Mas," Selena's "Fotos y Recuerdos," Alvaro Torres' "Reencuentro," Paulina Rubio's "Nada de Ti," Ednita Nazario's "No Puedo Olvidarte," Ricardo Montaner's "Yo Soy El Recuerdo," and Millie with "Estamos Juntos."

LATIN

REVIEWS By Hector Resendez

ORIENTE DE CUBA: THE SON: The Valera Miranda Family (NIMBUS RECORDS, 5421) Producers: Robin Broadbank and Bart Gruson. TROPICAL.

The first in a series of three albums, the Valera Miranda Family recording was recorded live at the Sala Delores in Santiago, Cuba, in April of 1994. The recording was intended to capture one of the most original musical groups from the Cuban province known as Oriente. The album contains extensive liner notes from one of its producers, Bart Gruson, of the Dept. of World Music at the Rotterdam Conservatory of Music in the Netherlands. Kudos to Ira "Dr. Salsa" Goldwasser and Harriet Broekman of the Stichting Foundation of Cuban Culture in Amsterdam for spreading the word.

JOSEPH PORTES: Calidad Bailable (Mangu, 8003) Producer: Joseph Portes. TROPICAL.

He's called the "Cat of the Merengue." Joseph Portes actually offers more than just merengue rhythms. His album, Calidad Bailable, contains the merengue version of the popular hit, "Solo Para Ti." Portes' romantic interpretation of the classic international ballad, "Si Dios Me Quita La Vida," is beautifully done. The only Salsa number is the upbeat "El Extranjero" which has been receiving heavy air-play.

GEMA 4: Grandes Boleros a Capella (Magic Music, C-0010-3) Producers: Gema 4 and Paco Benages. CONTEMPORARY.

Gema 4 consists of four incredible female voices hailing from Barcelona, Spain. This album features fourteen ballads by such great Latin American composers like Agustín Lara, Alvaro Carrillo, and Alberto Dominguez. The a capella format works very well here. The harmonies are enchanting as well as enticing to listen to. This album should do well in the tropical and world music bins.

PICK OF THE WEEK

VOCAL SAMPLING: Una Forma Mas (Sire Records, 61792) Producers: Rachel Faro and Sammy Figueroa. TROPICAL.

Consisting of a group of six Cuban-born artists, Vocal Sampling virtually creates every musical sound heard on this extraordinary album. Every chord, beat, and orchestra hit is vocally simulated. On the first single, "Montuno Sampling," the group's members are introduced and each tells a story about himself. The album features classic Cuban numbers as well as original compositions by founder/leader Renc Baños and Carlo Diaz. Cuban music connoisseurs and Salsa fans will find this rare musical treat quite stimulating.

The Releases of Summer

Research By Dr. Bayyan & Steve Baltin, Editorial By S. Baltin & Dick Ishbun

Although the major, international promotion and marketing push behind King of Pop Michael Jackson's double disc music odyssey in to past, present and future, HIStory on Epic Records, will undoubtedly make some much needed noise in the marketplace, another real winner in the crazy quilt of album releases this summer could be Elektra Entertainment recording artist Natalie Merchant's solo album debut. There's also an eclectic staple of product coming from people like Chris Isaak, Keith Sweat, Blind Melon, Funkdoobiest, Warren Zevon and Shabba Ranks, the eclectic offerings could be come a tubular wave for consumers (and consequently retailers) or it could make it the cool summer that never quite makes a splash.

But if the respective promotion and marketing campaigns behind the Jackson and Merchant releases are effective, then consumers will have a reason to flock to stores and discover the treasure trove of music that could make the summer pure auditory release.

THIS SUMMER WILL SEE a lack of superstar releases on the pop, rock and alternative side, leaving room for a new candidate to emerge as the summer's big seller. Elektra recording artist

Natalie Merchant appears to have everything in line to be the pace setter for the summer of '95. Coming from the successful 10,000 Maniacs, who were enjoying their most fruitful run at stardom at the time Merchant left the group, the willowy vocalist is attacking the market with huge name recognition and massive curiosity.

According to Lisa Frank, Merchant's marketing manager at Elektra Entertainment in New York, "Our marketing plan is intended to establish Natalie as a star for her music and as an artist on her own. And clearly her potential appeal in many areas is extremely broad. So, it'll be a two-stage campaign. First, we're gonna re-establish and consolidate her natural base at alternative by working the first single, 'Carnival,' at alternative, AOR, college and AAA. The next phase will involve breaking her into the mainstream, working the single at Top 40 and at A/C." Frank went on to add, "And at retail we will aim for major visibility across the board with in-store play, consumer and retail advertising and merchandising. We also expect tremendous visibility on the project with press, TV and video.

"The second phase will have her beginning her tour, which will be in late-August, early-September. This will basically boost phase two of the project."

The label's long-term devotion to the album, which is akin to a network ordering 22 episodes of a new series instead of the initial 13, emphasizes Frank's point that the record is a major priority for the label. In addition, Merchant is basically guaranteed heavy support from both MTV and VH-1 from the outset, furthering the mass market accessibility of the project.

It's not unprecedented for an act to jump out on their own while the iron's hot. In fact, Annie Lennox made a similar move from the Eurythmics and was a striking success.

The record's phenomenal artistic quality, coupled with Merchant's reputation, indicate Merchant will follow a similar path, with equally strong results.

As for other rock and alternative summer albums of the summer of '95, Chris Isaak's Forever Blue could finally establish him as a superstar, while Blind Melon and Primus try and move up to the next level. The first smash is Soul Asylum's June release on Columbia, which radio is already fawning over. Potential breakouts and darkhorses include veteran acts The Ramones and Warren Zevon, as well as new groups Luna and Letters To Cleo. Debut records likely to make the biggest splash are Gwen Mars and Gren, two L.A. acts with big buzzes surrounding their premiere efforts. Steve Baltin

CLEARLY MICHAEL JACKSON has given retailers and radio programmers a reason to eagerly anticipate release of his HIStory: Past, Present And Future—Book One, package containing 15 of Jackson's greatest hits and 15 new tracks. The package will contain 150 minutes of music, and each configuration in which it is released will also contain a 52-page color booklet depicting Jackson's musical triumphs.

Because it is his first album since the multi-platinum hit Dangerous (and since his well-publicized trials and tribulations) Epic plans an 18-month global campaign, making the record the cornerstone of the company's prerecorded music sales strategy through two Christmas seasons. The initial element of the campaign is release of the first single "Scream," a hard-edged duet with sister Janet, which backed with "Childhood," a dramatic orchestral ballad. Epic's plan is to appeal to nearly every radio format with the double-punch single.

Simultaneous with release of the album on June 20 will be the video, Michael Jackson: Video Greatest Hits HIStory, a 10-video package of classic clips. A second video package may be released for Christmas 1995.

Epic plans promotion and marketing sorties on a litany of fronts throughout the year. One such mission that will surely generate press and steep consumer interest will be Jackson and wife Lisa-Marie Presley's scheduled interview with Diane Sawyer next month on ABC-TV's PrimeTime Live. The interview might not make history, but it might help make HIStory. Dick Ishbun

Artists Do Oklahoma City Benefit

By Wendy Newcomer

SOME OF COUNTRY AND ROOTS music's top singer-songwriters are coming together to raise money for the Oklahoma City Mayor's Disaster Relief Fund in the wake of last month's tragic bombing. The theme of the concert is "Songs for the Heartland" and will be held May 28 at the Oklahoma City Civic Center Music Hall. Among the artists scheduled to appear are Kevin Welch, Mary Chapin Carpenter, Lucinda Williams, Alejandro Escovedo and The Red Dirt Rangers.

The event will be hosted by Welch, an Oklahoman and nationally recognized songwriter. There will also be several surprise guests. The benefit is sponsored by The Blue Door Music Foundation, a non-profit organization devoted to songwriting. All proceeds will benefit the victims of the tragedy.

Summer Lights In Music City

THE GREATER NASHVILLE ARTS FOUNDATION, producer of the 14th annual Summer Lights In Music City, announced its entertainment lineup totaling nearly 300 acts over the four day weekend celebration, June 1-4. The festival will take place in a five-block area in the heart of downtown Nashville and will showcase the city's best in arts, music, dance and theater.

Musical styles will range from country, cajun/zydeco and rock to blues, jazz, bluegrass and those who can only be classified as "eclectic." This year's festival will also present an all-star lineup of country and Christian artists joining the Nashville Symphony for a night of Beatles music. The following singers contributed to Come Together: America Salutes the Beatles, and will appear at Summer Lights together to perform a selection of Fab Four favorites: Billy Dean, Little Texas, John Berry, Steve Wariner, Suzy Bogguss, Chet Atkins, Gary Chapman and Phil Keaggy.

ROB ALAN—"I Don't Have To Cry Anymore"

Single Review

■ ROB ALAN: "I Don't Have To Cry Anymore" (Rickwood Records)

Rob Alan lends his powerful vocals to this Vern Gosdin-penned song. "I Don't Have To Cry Anymore" is a traditional country ballad, complete with steel guitar licks and Floyd Cramer-esque piano. Alan's vocal range is a strong compliment to the song's emotional message.

Indie Spotlight

Chris Wright: Making Memories & Country Music

Chris Wright

THE COMBINATION OF YOUTH and superb vocal quality makes Chris Wright one of the industry's extraordinary new talents. Wright has been blessed with all the right tools to capture the hearts of audiences. Whether in print, on tape or on stage, few people communicate with as much versatility and wit as Chris Wright. Holding the attention of the audience, this Mississippi singer gets everyone involved in his performance.

Wright's Mississippi roots have provided him with a musical menu that draws on a wide variety of genres, ranging from Delta Blues to Bluegrass and from Southern Rock to Southern Gospel. His lifetime love affair with the guitar and music as a whole has created a diverse musical style. With his upbeat, entertaining music, Wright bridges the gap between traditional and contemporary country music in a wonderfully unique fashion.

Born in Hattisburg, Mississippi and raised in Bogue Chitto, music was the mainstay of Wright's memories. So bitten by the musical bug, he began singing for his family soon after speaking. He performed his first solo, "My Country Tis Of Thee," at his kindergarten graduation and from there continued to hone his musical skills by playing in various bands while in school. After high school graduation, Wright received a music scholarship to a community college. He also entered an artist development agreement with Ancy Music while still performing with a local band.

Wright's musical influences draw from a wide gamut, from Chet Atkins, Hank Williams, Sr. and George Strait to Robert Johnson and Stevie Ray Vaughn. Setting his goals to make his mark in country music, he is taking one step at a time on the climb to the top. In the meantime, he is also busy making memories for himself by doing what he enjoys most—singing country music and entertaining people.

In addition, Sparrow recording artist Susan Ashton will be featured on the recording. Ashton will perform a duet of "In The Garden" with Billy Dean.

"We at Sparrow are extremely excited about this project," said Bill Hearn, president, Sparrow Communications Group. "Amazing Grace should provide an effective opportunity for Christian retailers to expose country music listeners to the music and the message found on this great recording and others carried in their stores."

"It's exciting to see an idea become reality as it has on Amazing Grace," said Bruce Koblisch, president, the Gospel Music Association. Bally's Theatre Of Magic CHICAGO—It's magic! The new Bally pinball machine Theatre Of Magic presents a mystery-packed theme which allows players to experience the wonders of a shadowy old theatre filled with illusion and intrigue.

The machine abounds in industry firsts. The Spirit Ring, a suspended magnetic diverter, levitates pinballs and alters their course from one ramp to another. Players will be spellbound by the dramatic Magician's Trunk. This rotating toy grabs pinballs, lifts them from the field and changes their direction. It also captures balls for multi-ball and feeds them directly to the haunted basement.

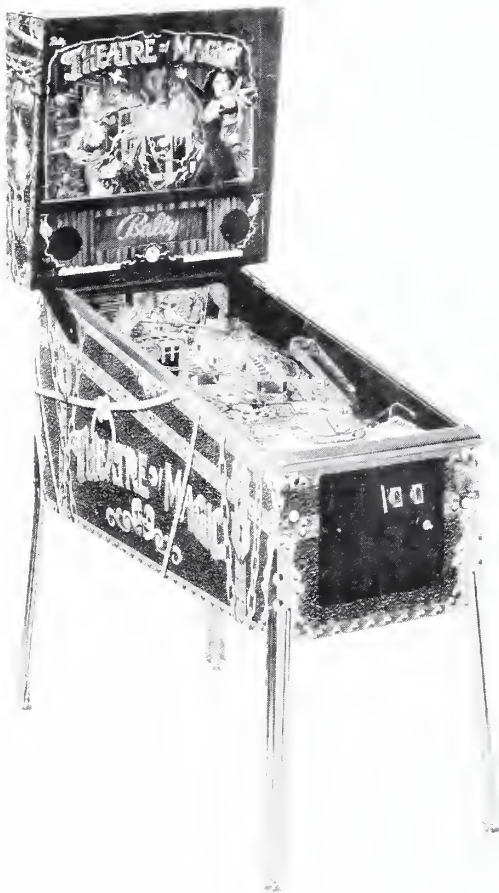

Accessed through a mysterious trap door, the haunted basement is a disappearing ball popper, loaded from the front or the back. During multi-ball, pinballs magically rise from the basement. Players can also shoot into the trap door for special awards.

Included in the awards is DigiPin, the industry's first all dot-matrix pinball sequence. Theatre Of Magic also features a master magician who morphs into various animals, a mysterious mirror that seems to extend the playfield, and Hocus-Pocus, a version of Magna-Save.

"I created this game to appeal to both the novice and the experienced player," commented game designer John Popadiuk. "The game's classic layout, wide ramps and collection of intriguing toys and powers will capture and hold the interest of young and old players alike."

Theatre Of Magic features eight mesmerizing illusions. Players progress through modes such as the Tiger Saw, Spirit Cards and Hat Magic on their way up through four magicianship skill levels before encountering the amazing Grand Finale. Along the way, they are accompanied by the patented DCS Sound System.

Further information about this exciting new pin may be obtained through factory distributors or by contacting Bally/Midway at 3401 N. California Ave., Chicago, IL 60618.
