The Marketing Machine

Uncle Walt's company has come a long way, and on that path to its current success, The Walt Disney Company has managed to inculcate the same creative energies that have churned out some 34 full-length animated features into the company's juggernaut marketing machine. The notion that each new film will turn into a merchandising, advertising tie-in franchise is almost a forgone conclusion. The latest entry is The Hunchback of Notre Dame, which marches to the beat of its company's driving high-tech beat. Cash Box film editor John Goff takes a look at the Disney way.

Lead Story

RIAA Boots Pirates, Counterfeiters

A SERIES OF LAWSUITS AND CONVICTIONS have recently paced efforts by the Recording Assn. of America (RIAA)'s efforts to quell activities by alleged bootleggers, pirates and counterfeiters. Working in concert with a variety of law enforcement agencies and judicial jurisdictions, the RIAA reports that legal action has been sought against a pair of manufacturers alleged to have committed copyright infringement, have assisted in the seizure of alleged bootleg CDs, vinyl albums and related material and the conviction of one first time counterfeiter.

The fraud division of the U.S. Customs Service and the Nassau County Police Dept.'s asset forfeiture bureau recently seized 425,000 alleged bootleg CDs, 25,000 alleged vinyl albums and alleged 2.3 million bootleg insert cards.

The seizures led to the arrest of Charles LaRocco on June 24, which was precipitated by several alleged infringing shipments of CDs coming through U.S. Customs enroute to LaRocco. The RIAA says the seizure was the largest in RIAA history. The first search warrant was executed at the arrestee's warehouse in Long Island, NY and uncovered about 25,000 alleged bootleg CDs and 25,000 alleged bootleg vinyl albums.

After his arrest, the second search warrant for his residence in valley Stream, NY resulted in confiscation of about $370,000. Th third searsh warrant for another warehouse revealed an additional 400,000 alleged compact discs, including titles by Hootie and The Blowfish, The Dave Matthews Band, Phish, Bob Dylan, The Beatles and others.

Twenty RIAA member companies have filed a copyright infringement suit the U.S. District Court in Los Angeles against Canoga Park, CA-based ASR Recording Services of California seeking injunctive relief and monetary damages allegedly caused by the manufacture and distribution of several hundreds thousands of unauthorized CD top-hit compilations. In addition to ASR, named in the suit are Allen Schor, Jeff Schor, the SandRacor Companies and its principal, Richard Weber, and DeLuna Digital and its principal Frank DeLuna.

Nearly every major record label and many of their associated labels are plaintiffs in the suit.

The RIAA itself has filed a federal trademark infringement action in the U.S. District Court in New Jersey against Creative Classics, Inc., a former RIAA-licensed framer, and its former COO, Michael Morrow, alleging that the defendants benefited from the unauthorized sale of award plaques bearing the RIAA trademark insignia without the required clearnace from the organization. The RIAA contends in the suit that the defendants continued to manufacture the counterfeit plaques after termination of their license in 1994, following a 10- year relationship with the company. The RIAA presents gold, platinum and multi-platinum awards—signifying sales plateaus—to companies artists and other individuals involved with awarded single, album, and video titles.

And Jorge Alonso Lara a.k.a. Bernardo Segura, a first time offender, was sentenced to three years in a Texas state penitentiary and fined $50,000 for manufacturing and distributing counterfeit cassettes. Lara was sentenced in the 177th District Court in Houston, TX by District Judge Carol Davies. Based on a lead by Fonovisa Records to the RIAA, Houston Police and the RIAA seized more than 14,000 counterfeit cassettes, approximately 288 master tapes, over a million counterfeit labels and assorted equipment and raw material needed to manufacture the bogus product. The cassettes primarily featured Latin music. Arrested in Junc, 1995, Lara pled guilty to violating Texas's True Name and Address statute on April 19, 1996.

News In Brief

WESTWOOD ONE RADIO NETWORKS (WORN) has expanded its partnership with CNN for the exclusive radio rights to CNNRadio and CNN Headline News in the U.S. in a new multi-year agreement, announced Jeff Lawenda, WORN president, and Jon Petrovich, CNN executive vp.

The new deal calls for enhanced CNNRadio news programming in several areas including: upgraded overnight and weekend newscasts; increased special reports and a breaking news alert system; additional reports from highly recognizable CNN TV correspondents such as Senior White House Correspondent Wolf Blitzer, Washington Correspondent John Holliman and Military Affairs Correspondent Jamie McIntyre; an expanded feature programs package; and new CNNRadio music beds, themes and sounders written by the composer of CNN's TV theme.

In addition, CNNRadio has developed two new services: NewsSource, for coverage of breaking news stories around the world from CNNRadio correspondents who will also provide custom reports for key affiliates; and GuestSource, providing live custom radio interviews with newsmakers, experts and correspondents. Furthermore, Westwood One and CNN will explore additional radio news opportunities.

■ Debi Young has joined PolyGram Merchandising, Inc. as vp of licensing. In the newly-created post, Young will oversee sales, marketing and promotional activities for the company's licensing division, in addition to developing and spearheading campaigns for the company's properties in the areas of music, feature films, Broadway productions and television. Young comes to her new job from Saban Ent. where she was vp of licensing and merchandising, and prior to that spent 14 years at Mattel, Inc., first joining the company in 1975. ■ Michael Horton has been named sr. director of black music promotion for Universal Records. Horton will be responsible for developing promotion strategies for Universal, Keder Entertainment and By Storm Entertainment. In addition to overseeing black music promotion/marketing staff for Universal, he also will work clesly with the Uptown Records promotion staff and Pallas Records in promoting their rap act Crucial Conflict. Horton previously was the natl. dir. of promotion for Interscope Records. ■ Perspective Records has named three to manager posts. Joey Connors has been named manager of business and legal affairs and will be responsible for sample and artist clearances, synchronization agreements, trademark registration as well as artwork clearances. The new manager of product development and communication is Naim Ali, who comes to the company from Dallas Austin's Rowdy Records where he was marketing and publicity coordinator. And Carey Martin has been appointed Southwest regional promotions manager, whose territorial responsibilities include Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi. He comes to the label from Priority Records. ■ Susie Steiner has been named director of tour marketing for Virgin Records, where she will be responsible for a wide range of tour-related duties, including ticket buys, budgeting and daily coordination of press, promotion and retail activities. Steiner recently spent a two-year tenure as Virgin's natl. promotion and artist relations manager., and was previously natl. coordinator and assistant in the label's promotion department. She started at Virgin in 1991. ■ RCA Records has named Taryn Brown and James Boyce co-national promotion directors for black music. The pair will share responsibilities for the label's national promotion efforts, with Boyce overseeing regions East of the Mississippi (East Coast, Mid-Atlantic, southeast, Ohio Valley and Detroit), and the Dallas, TX-based Brown points West (West Coast, Southwest, Midwest and the Carolinas). Brown was most recently dir. of promotion for black music, and Boyce joined RCA in November as Northeast promotion dir. for black music, having come to the company from EMI Records. ■ Warner Bros. Records has appointed a pair of new staffers. Ken Phillips has been named West Coast publicity manager. He began his career as manager of songwriter Diane Warren's Realsongs publishing company before joining Warner Bros. in 1992 as an assistant in the publicity department. And David May has been named director of audio/visual technical production for the label. May began his music industry career as a staff engineer at Pasha Records and subsequently working as songwriter/musician and as an independent producer. He began freelancing the label's video department in 1987 and a year later joined Warner Bros. as manager of audio/visual technical production.

RAY MANZAREK, keyboardist of The Doors, will appear July 10-11 at the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum in Cleveland. Manzarek will be the seventh inductee to appear as part of "The Hall of Fame Series," program at the museum.

July 10 Manzarek will be joined by beat poet Michael McClure for "An Evening of Music and Poetry," exploring the poetry of the 60s Los Angeles music scene.

July 11 is titled "The Doors: From Venice Beach to the Haight Ashbury." This event will consist of a lecture from two perspectives, again featuring both Manzarek and McClure.

Tickets for the events are available via Ticketmaster at 1-800-493-7655 or at the museum ticket office. For further information contact: Tim Moore, Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum, 216-515-1212.

EAST COAST

During ceremonies inducting Joan Jett (right) into the Philadelphia Hall of Fame, the rocker got cosy with femme vocalist Patty Smyth and tennis star John McEnroe. As part of the revelry, Smyth sang a tribute to Jett, backed by erstwhile rocker McEnroe on guitar.

RARE ENCHANTED SHOWCASE: Philadelphia's Siltbreeze may be considered on the obscure side, but since a number of the bands that have recorded for the company have since popped up on major labels, one should be careful how one classifies the label. Siltbreeze put together a mini-tour for three of its bands which found its way to The Mercury Lounge last Friday. Opening up this night was the English The Shadow Ring which as a three-piece with two acoustic guitars, a mini-Casio keyboard and a baby monitor, brought music back to a lo-fi primitivism located near The Fall. The set was as mesmerizing as it was deceptively simple. The group's next CD will be Wax-Work Echoes on Corpus Hermeticum. The Charlambeides come from Houston, but its music has an other-worldliness to it that feels as though you are truly peering into someone's emotions. Christina Carter's vocals go beyond just the singing of words and into an entirely different realm. Astabula, out of Philly, were the most straight forward of the groups with a catchy organ-driven sound reminiscent of a number of '60s groups. Harry Pussy was as straight forward as a Sherman Tank. The Miami-based trio plays each number as though it was defending its life. There was an outpouring of energy and noise that had the packed house on edge, quite like its controversial artwork from its latest album, Ride A Dove. It was a night when most came out exhausted and didn't regret a bit.

SPLENDOR IN THE PARK: For all the inflated prices you have to deal with in New York, occasionally you get a bargain, and such is the case with the Central Park Summer Stage. Coming up for free in July: on the 6th - Yoko Ono w/Ima, Cibo Matto and John Zorn's Masada; on the 7th Marley Magic w/Rita, Julian, Damian a.k.a. Junior Gong, Ziggy and The Melody Makers; on the 10th New York Grand Opera presents Verdi's Alzira; on the 13th Bill Laswell w/Jah Wobble, The Last Poets, Bernie Worell, Anton Fier and many more; on the 14th Johnny Clegg featuring Juluk, Mahlathini and the Mahotella Queens; New York Grand Opera presents Verdi's Attila; Dance by Neil Greenberg, Sarah East Johnson w/Babe The Blue Ox; on the 20th Throwing Muses, Luna and Cornershop; on the 21st Burning Spear w/Papa Jube; on the 31st Koko Taylor, Son Seals and Carey Bell, on the 28th Timbalada w/Kali; on the 31st New York Grand Opera presents Verdi's Macbeth. All of this can be enjoyed by simply walking into the park and taking in the summer air.

PLUGGING THAT GAP: It didn't take long after the collapse of the New Music Seminar for another event to take its place in the Big Apple. The Macintosh Music Festival is very ably filling that hole. With its emphasis on music and new technology this affair is, at its core, just a great way to see as many bands as one can. After a sparse field of performers last year the current group is certainly a bumper crop, from July 14th to the 20th there will be more than 450 bands playing at a dozen clubs. Think of it as the New York marathon of gigs. Can you survive the wall?

WEST COAST

It was Pat Boone Day recently at the Hard Rock Cafe at Universal CityWalk, where the '50s idol donated a pair of his famous white bucks and other memorabilia in celebration of his 40th anniversary in show business. Boone is currently recording a heavy metal album tentatively titled In A Metal Mood. (No, that is not a joke. I think...)

THE NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SONGWRITERS saluted their stars at the Hollywood Palace with a concert June 26th, featuring songwriters Martin Page, Brian McNight, Bob Crewe, Jill Colucci and Jon Vezner. Diane Warren was presented with the first-ever NAS "Songwriter of the Year" award and honored with tribute performances of her songs. The reception in the Palace's outdoor patio also honored rock photographer Henry Diltz, whose work was displayed.

MISCELLANEOUS SIGNS OF MUSICAL LIFE: Atlantic up-and-comer Jewel, whose Pieces of You debut just went gold, has been tapped for an upcoming series of North American tour dates opening for Neil Young. Critically-acclaimed Arista neo-country guys BR5-49 were a hit at the Blockbuster Pavilion San Bernardino gig with The Black Crowes, Son Volt, Seven Mary Three and Three Pound Thrill. The Sex Pistols tour, which is selling out its American dates in rapid fashion, has added Stabbing Westward to its opening line-up. The Chicago-based band recently had a breakthrough hit with its MTV Buzz Clip, airplay-all-over-the-place single, "What Do I Have To Do"...Poor John Travolta. After the actor's spectacular comeback with Pulp Fiction, Get Shorty and Broken Arrow, K-Tel is unearthing his '70s music career, for lack of a better word, with The Best Of John Travolta: Let Her In. Could be a fun thang...

MUSIC INDUSTRY LEADERS recently got together at the Santa Monica offices of NARAS to address the future of MusiCares' substance abuse intervention and network referral programs. The MusiCares Foundation is providing the Musicians Assistance Program with a substantial grant to cover the costs of treatment facility placement, with more contributions to be made later through fundraising events. Label heads participating in the organization include Jay Boberg, president of MCA Records; Gary Gersh, president of Capitol Records, Phil Quartararo, president of Virgin Records America and Irving Azoff, Chairman of Revolution Records, along with executives from management, promotion, media and entertainment law.

Disney Sells Hunchback And Dreams

By John Goff

Quasimodo sings the sweet song of success.

THE HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME is Walt Disney Pictures' 34th full-length animated feature in the company's history. Quite a trip from the early days when most of Hollywood laughed up their sleeves at Uncle Walt and his folly of feature length animated films. Anybody laughing now?

Well, no. Actually everybody's watching, and following along. So, maybe Hunchback didn't debut Number One at the boxoffice, coming in 2nd behind Eraser, ask yourself this: Which one will be around and remembered in 10 years?—You bet. There's more music in Notre Dame Cathedral than black powder blasting caps. Let's check the grosses at that time.

The journey Disney has trod from laughter to respect within the entertainment industry has left the organization as the longest, most successful single studio entity in Hollywood, in the world. Disney not only is into feature films but boasts a record company, Walt Disney Records for marketing soundtracks;

The Disney Channel takes care of television; Buena Vista Home Video arm; and let's not forget Disneyland and world. Now, a web site on the Internet has been launched which spotlights Hunchback, another move into the future.

While creative teams push the company into broader areas of entertainment, Disney marketing teams always seem to make sure no motion is lost in selling the product, especially the annual animated centerpiece-gem, none of which has ever lost money for the company. In actuality, the Disney animated feature sells itself, probably is pre-sold before they even pick a subject, but it's the marketing which pushes them into blockbuster, and ultimately classic status.

Hunchback Of Notre Dame kicked off with a world premiere party in New Orleans. Not simply at the theatre there where it will hard-ticket but with a 65,000 attended, six-screen premiere in the Louisiana Superdome with the entire proceeding making every television newscast around the country in addition to TV coverage on Disney's own cable channel: E! Entertainment channel, and every tabloid and entertainment-themed show on air (ET, EXTRA, etc.). The celebration was officiated by Disney Co.'s chairman/CEO Michael Eisner; vice chairman, Roy Disney; and New Orleans Mayor Marc Morial, a parade led by Mickey Mouse and the Disney Brass Band. Live performances included superstar artists who originally brought tunes off the screen: Peabo Bryson and Regina Bell singing "A Whole New World" from Aladdin; Jodi Benson, "Part Of Your World," from The Little Mermaid; Lebo M and Carmen Twillie, "Circle Of Life" from The Lion King and All 4 One doing "Someday," a projected hit from the Hunchback soundtrack CD.

In cities like L.A. and New York, there are live shows preceding the reserved-seat screening of the feature; all colorfully spotlighting past Disney hits, heroes and heroines—Snow White, Cinderella, The Little Mermaid, Pocahontas, Beauty And The Beast, Aladdin—and in each instance the audience is prepared to enjoy—well, barring the boycotting Baptists anyway.

At any rate, Disney brings with it a history of quality entertainment, certainly the tops in animation and marketing.

More and more, especially with the strides being made in computer generated animation, other studios and entertainment companies are taking aim at the top of the hill with attempts projecting into the future to unseat Disney. Steven Spiel-berg's Amblimation animated arm, founded before his partnering with David Geffen and Jeffrey Katzenberg, has been in operation several years now but, while successful on its own level, has not had the success that could approach the point of toppling Disney from the throne. If any company were to come close in both quality via story and execution, this one would be it. Disney company continues to pioneer animation with computers and 3-D animation, utilized wonderfully in The Lion King, Pocahontas and now Hunchback. They remain not just on the cutting edge but somehow slightly ahead of it.

A recent program sees Disney reaching into high schools in the L.A. area, tapping youths there for animation training. Ostensibly operating on the well-used and well-placed adage that 'you have to put something in to get something out,' Disney is setting up programs in several high schools for selected students to learn the art of computer animation, and beyond. This is invaluable training, bringing the young minds along, stimulating them at the age just before their most creative growth and, while some may jump ship for other companies, the majority will undoubtedly be absorbed into the Disney organization not only to continue the tradition, but to further advance it. This is marketing at its most advanced.

Whatever anyone wants to say about Disney—tight purse strings in respect to studio working personnel and live action performers being the most common rumblings that come out of Burbank—no one can fault their marketing strategies or their ability to not only look into, but practically foretell, the future, especially the future of animation.

So here comes the Internet. And here too, comes Disney with their implementation and execution of the Hunchback web site which, launched in May, not only promotes the film but also attempts to educate, interest and inform visitors on the art of animation via Hunchback. The site boasted over 125 downloadable pages of graphics, interviews, soundbites, music, film clips, background information, coloring books, games and contests. Here you can find information about directors, producers, artists and technicians connected with the film. There is also information on original author Victor Hugo, listings of his works and background on how this particular novel came into being. Notre Dame Cathedral's architecture and history and footage of the cathedral shot on location is also there, along with the writers and executives who carried the idea from conception to finished product. Viewers also are introduced to storyboards illustrating the tale and can go on a visit to the Production Design Art Studio to see the original drawings upon which the color scheme and characters of the film are based. The film's characters and behind-the-scenes views of the voice talents are here as well as a team of animators and a look at CGI (computer generated imagery) in various stages of production. Music is covered with appearances by composer Alan Menken and lyricist Stephen Schwartz.

By the time you come away from the web site you're geared up for a fairly informed viewing of the film itself. Certainly the appetite is whetted and, in the case of some of the younger members of the family, perhaps a dream has begun also.

But that's only the beginning. Out there in the real marketplace, where the bucks are spent is where Disney excels with co-op tie-ins via Burger King, McDonalds, Hunchback-related dolls selling soft drinks, candy bars, drinking glasses, shirts, records and videos.

One of Disney's most successful support ventures for the film comes from Walt Disney Records and is its line of storyteller products for children. This includes Sing-Along, Read-Along, My First Read-Along and Play-Along avenues of product. These have also accompanied previous films and are not only entertaining for youngsters but are informative and educationally inspiring for them as well.

Each CD or cassette contains art to go along with the vocal narration and/or books. Original songs from the film includes a fully-illustrated lyric book. A Bilingual Read-Along in Spanish and English is also being released. All these, as would be imagined, began their market dates coinciding with the release of the film.

And at the end of it all: another successful film—The Hunchback Of Notre Dame—which, in many aspects, moves out of even animated status with the strides made in CGI. Often, in viewing the film, you're not aware that this is animation and become caught up in the piece as a movie, as a story, as an experience. And when you leave the theatre, if you've followed all the studio's marketing lead-in, you know much more about what you've just experienced—and you're also much more willing, the nagging kids aside, to stop and purchase an ancillary item, because they're more than friends now.

From Walt Disney Records

Coming at you, Sing Along.

SINGLES REVIEWS By Daina Darzin

MELVINS: "The Bit" (Atlantic/Mammoth PRCD 6774-2)

The Band That Could Not Be More Heavy, long-time cult favorites the Melvins continue their quest for more mainstream success with their second major label disc, Stag. The first single, "The Bit" is a huge, hulking, doomy monster of a tune, as weirdly reverberating, psychedelic guitar hits a wall of sound and fury. This should be a popular add on heavy music stations. The CD-single release includes the b-side, "Tipping The Lion," as well as a non-LP bonus track, a cement-truck-on-a-rampage cover of Pink Floyd's "Interstellar Overdrive."

THIRD DAY: "Forever" (Reunion/Arista 02341 62032)

Following in the footsteps of such secular-crossover artists as Amy Grant, DC Talk, and Jars of Clay, Christian rockers Third Day are seeing CHR and Adult Contemporary action on "Forever," the current single off the band's self-titled disc. And with good reason: "Forever" offers a more high-powered version of Hootie and the Blowfish's catchy rockers, and couldn't be more radio-friendly.

SELF: "So Low" (Zoo ZP 17193-2)

Critically well-regarded Tennessee-based outfit, Self, earns a spot among this year's crop of up-and-comers with its debut disc, Subliminal Plastic Motives, and this catchy single, with its Broadway-ish piano break, jaunty huge, anthemic, thickly layered chorus and '90s-ironic lyrics ("So low, I wish I was dead..."). Self is currently touring, and also will be the only band to perform at the Jose Cuervo volleyball championship July 20th; the event is presented by KROQ and Sony Play Station, among others. In the meantime, "So Low" has been added to MTV's "120 Minutes" and has garnered heavy phones at stations in Austin, Nashville, Portland, Houston, and many other cities.

I MOTHER EARTH: "One More Astronaut" (Capitol 32919)

Canadians I Mother Earth had a gold hit in their native land with the 1993 debut, Dig, and won a Juno Award for Best Hard Rock Album. They're giving the U.S. market another shot with the new Scenery and Fish disc, with its fine choice of a first single. "One More Astronaut" is a percolating, psychedelic/funky pleasure that's already been added at 35 stations including WZDR in Detroit, KISW in Seattle, WRCX in Chicago. Scenery and Fish is an enhanced CD which includes bio information, footage of the band in the studio and various cool graphics.

PICK OF THE WEEK

BECK: "Where It's At" (DGC PRO-CD-4887)

Beck's 1994 release, Mellow Gold, charmed viewers with its skewed, innovative metamorphoses of traditional musical styles, as well as its anthem for the dork-and-proud slacker generation, "Loser," to the tune of platinum and Top 10. Fans should be equally happy with this, the first single off his new Odelay disc. Jazzy, loopy keyboards, hip hop rhythms, psychedelic swirls of sixties-ish sound, and a happy, party-hearted groove make this a possible add for urban as well as modern rock stations.

ALBUM REVIEWS by Daina Darzin

■ BIOHAZARD: Mata Leao (Warner Bros. 9 46208-2)

Along with Pantera, Metallica, Slayer and very few other '80s metal bands, Biohazard survived to rock another decade with its heavily hardcore, assaultive style. Mata Leao begins in typical aggressive fashion with a chant of "fuck the rules" and doesn't let up throughout this more headbang-for-your-buck disc. The gloomy pulse and rap vocals of "Waiting To Die," along with the more industrial, complex sound of "These Eyes (Have Seen)" mark a musical advancement on this, Biohazard's second Warner Bros. release; "Competition" harkens back to a pummeling, about-to-derail-Amtrak train velocity. A powerful live act with genuine street credibility, Biohazard has a dedicated and substantial fan base that will be buying this disc the day it comes out.

■ TONIC: Lemon Parade (Polydor 314531042)

Audiences who prefer their alterna-rock with the emphasis on the rock will find much to like in this debut disc, a dark, emotional collection of guitar-driven material. An apt producer choice, Jack Joseph Puig (Black Crowes, Belly, Jellyfish) brings a huge, powerful sound that was born to be on the radio. (The fact that Tonic bassist Dan Rothchild himself produced Better Than Ezra's platinum Deluxe probably didn't hurt either.) A very accessible and hit-oriented record that has the potential to be huge, garnering a lot of activity straight out of the box. The first single, "Open Up Your Eyes" is a gorgeously heavy and anthemic arena-rock-style track that was recently #1 most added at Active Rock stations, including Q104 and Z Rock Network in New York, San Francisco's Live 105, and close to 100 others.

■ FIRESIDE: Do Not Tailgate (American 2-43084-A)

So, if you took Silverchair and transported that band to Sweden, you might have Fireside. Barely out of their teens, the members of this spirited, heavy-alternarock outfit have already received that country's equivalent of a Grammy for best hard rock band, sporting an inventive and polished sound that's particularly impressive for such a young band. Fireside traverses easily from more metallic-edged cuts like "Smokerboy," to the wall-of-sound, jangly/syncopated "Kilotin," which recalls Rage Against the Machine. But the group's forte is a big, muscle-bound rock sound that will translate just fine for American heavy-music fans.

■ KMFDM: XTORT (Wax Trax/TVT TVT7242-2)

A major league indie success story, KMFDM was one of the pioneers of the industrial-rock wave (Nine Inch Nails, Ministry) and has gathered its friends together for their new disc. Guest stars on XTORT include Chris Connelly, Bill Reiflin of Ministry and Revolting Cocks and F.M. Einheit of Einsturzende Neubauten, as well as spoken word artist Nicole Blackman. The first single, "Power," is a blippy, turbo-propelled track that was born to be a dance hit, with guest vocals by Cheryl Wilson. More upbeat and catchy than the band's very dark previous releases, XTORT and the band's recent track on the platinum Mortal Kombat soundtrack should take KMFDM to the next level.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ VERNON REID: Mistaken Identity (550 Music/Epic BK 67896)

Pioneering, Grammy-winning outfit Living Colour made a smashing debut in 1988 with the platinum Vivid, its classic single, "Cult of Personality," and a gig opening for the Rolling Stones. Unfortunately, that turned out to be the band's zenith. But guitarist/songwriter Vernon Reid has a long-term career in front of him if this stunning solo debut is any indication. Mistaken Identity is an unconventional, wildly adventurous and atmospheric disc. "Uptown Drifter" is a fluid, jazzy dream; "You Can Say He's Just A Psychic Friend" (featuring Chubb Rock) stays close to Living Colour's smart, ironic, guitar-driven sound and subject matter, while the title track weaves '80s influences—old-style hip hop sounds and metallic guitars—into a hypnotic, hazy, mostly instrumental adventure. "St. Cobain" is noisy, and atonally grungy, while the deadpan Indian music track, "Important Safety Instructions," featuring Laurence Fishburne's narration on the care and feeding of one's karma, makes for a hilarious change of pace. Gorgeously produced by Prince Paul (De La Soul), Teo Macero (Miles Davis, Charles Mingus) and Reid, Mistaken Identity contains an enhanced CD-ROM.

ALBUM REVIEWS By Peter Miro

■ HORACE BROWN: Horace Brown (Motown 314530625-2) Producers: Andre Harrell, Lewis Tillman, Edward (Eddie F.) Ferrell

Horace Brown's vocal approach falls into the range of modulation practiced by Brian McKnight and R. Kelly, landing him in the camp of subtle, nuanced balladeers focused on love's agonies and rewards, the kind of singer likely to be showered with tossed panties and roses from admiring ladies the way Teddy Pendergrass used to be. "Things We Do for Love," is a bouncy, midtempo canvas of J.B.'s-era rhythms daubed with Brown's vocal brushstrokes, following the nodding groove of "One For The Money." Cementing the erotic bonds are, "Taste Your Love," "I Like," "Just Let Me Know," "Gotta Find A Way," "How Can We Stop, (w/Faith Evans)" and "You Need A Man." Not only is artist's delivery befittingly lean and muscular, but the LP's production cross-fertilizes urban hip with deliberate smoothness as needed.

■ HEATHER B: Takin' Mlne (EMI 7243-8-38383-2-5) Producers: Kenny Parker, Da Beatminerz

Heather B. likes to rap on top of "straight up raw tracks" and strike an incendiary blow for female practitioners of the art in the process. East Coast underground hit "All Glucks Down," included here, helped make her fiery b-girl reputation as "the bullet-proof lyricist." Not surprising, as it's one of the hardest bombs to drop onto the hip hop landscape in recent memory given it's rhythmic spin on The Stylistics' "People Make The World Go Round." "If Headz Only Knew..." is another cutting edge jam of the Ghostface Killer persuasion, lean beat matched with verbal heat. "Real N*ggaz Up" and "What Goes On" are further examples of her New Jersey b-girl attitude.

■ VARIOUS ARTISTS: Black Music Month Sampler "Where We've Been, Where We're At" (MCA MCA3P-3729) Producers: Hank Shocklee, Alicia N. Pitts, Fred Wreck

Significant work from a gamut of producers is reflected on the 17 original tracks reflecting MCA's Black Music legacy in the '80s and '90s. This CD sampler will accompany sales of the Soul Train 25th Anniversary Box Set, and be handed out to college radio stations and through record pools in key markets. Old meets new as "Roni" (Bobby Brown), "Real Love" (Mary J. Blige), "Forever My Lady" (Jodeci), "Rump Shaker" (Wreckx-N-Effect), "Poison" (BBD) to name a few, join recent material by Jesse Powell ("Gloria"), Tasha ("So Real, So Right"), Ruffa ("Don't You Worry"), Immature ("Just A Little Bit") and more. Special pricing and positioning of MCA artists and product at indie retail stores and selected retail chains nationwide the latter half of June and in July is expected to stimulate traffic in new LPs by Shai, Al Green, Immature, Jodeci, and II D Extreme.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ TONI BRAXTON: Secrets (La Face 73008-2620-2) Producers: Antonio M. Reid, Kenneth B. Edmonds, Toni Braxton, Tony Rich, R. Kelly, Keith Crouch, Bryce Wilson, David Foster, Soulshock & Karlin, Tim Thomas, Ted Bishop, David Morales.

Ms. Braxton is attended royally by the coterie of producers helping her shape the sound of her new LP, designed to further her award-winning success. Background vocals by Chanté Moore, Babyface, R. Kelly and Shanice Wilson reflect the high-powered, collaborative approach to Secrets, the La Face equivalent of the Manhattan Project. "Let It Flow" and the deceptively candid "You're Makin Me High," are already performing well on radio, but Ms. Braxton's cold fusion effect continues on "Find Me A Man," "I Don't Want To," "There's No Me Without You" (not to be confused with The Manhattans classic), "In The Late Of Night," "Un-break My Heart," "Talking In His Sleep" and the Kenny G-accompanied "I'llow Could An Angel Break My Heart." Her throaty alto ranges from languid whispers to impassioned cries, ideal for furthering a reflective, or romantic agenda. Programmers will relish the understated magic achieved here, which can be savored firsthand on the upcoming Toni Braxton/Kenny G tour.

THE RHYTHM

By Peter Miro

Jimmy Jam & Terry Lewis, who have together written and produced material for more than 40 singles and albums that have been certified gold or platinum, have composed music for a major segment of the Opening Ceremony of the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta.

"ATLANTA'S WELCOME TO THE WORLD" is the title of the "feel good" musical presentation award-winning songwriters/producers Jimmy Jam & Terry Lewis are preparing for the Opening Ceremony of the 1996 Olympic Games. Don Mischer, Executive Producer/Director for the Centennial event, says, "Atlanta is a young city with an incredible enthusiasm for the Games. We want to reflect the youthful spirit and energy of this city when we welcome the world. (Jam & Lewis) have helped us create a contemporary, dynamic track which is distinctly American and features some of the finest young people, not only of Atlanta, but of the nation as well." Entertainment for the production will range from steppers to hip hop to cheerleaders to contemporary movement. Atlanta holds an important role in the lives of the pair, who were fired from (The Artist Formerly Known As) Prince's band The Time for missing a show while grounded there during a rare snowstorm in February, 1983. "If it had not been for that storm in Atlanta," says Jam, "we would probably still be in that band. Now we have the opportunity to give something back to a great city that really changed our lives."

CHILDREN'S CAMP FUNDRAISER: LOUD Records, Heavy D and other young industry executives gathered at the Friars Club in New York City June 26, for a fundraiser to benefit Camp Viva, a week-long summer camp for children and families affected/infected by HIV/AIDS. Camp Viva is the end result of the joint efforts of LOUD president, Steve Rifkind along with his partners Jon Rifkind and Rich Isaacson, Vibe Magazine CEO Keith Clinkscales, supermodel Veronica Webb, Uptown president/recording artist Heavy D, Jon Leshay of Columbia Records, Kidada Jones (Quincy's daughter), of Tommy Jeans/Pepe Jeans and Andy Hifilger of Tommy Hifilger. Proceeds will be donated to Camp Viva.

MO' OLD SCHOOL: If the recent show at L.A.'s Greek Theatre featuring The Dramatics, The Stylistics and the Chi Lites wasn't enough to whet the appetite for classic soul presentations, then the Thump Records Inc. (specializing in "old school" CD compilations) upcoming August 3 concert at the same venue should dust off further memories. Headlining the bill will be Heatwave ("The Groove Line," "Always & Forever," "Boogie Nights"), plus Brenda's Tabulations ("The Touch Of You," "Right On The Tip Of My Tongue," "Dry Your Eyes," "Stay Together Young Lovers"), Aalon ("Rock n' Roll Gangster," "Magic Night"), The Intruders ("Cowboys To Girls," "Together," "I'll Always Love My Mama"), Bobby Taylor & The Vancouverians ("Does Your Mama Know About Me"), Major Harris ("Love Won't Let Me Wait"—one of the first R&B tracks with a moaning female) and Friends Of Distinction ("Going In Circles," "Grazing In The Grass"—Hugh Masekela's most requested song—and "Love Or Let Me Be Lonely"). The show promises to be a treat for fans of the above tunes. In the Hospitality Lounge after his stage set, Dramatics lead singer Ron Banks waxed with effusive thanks for the group's recent Cash Box column.

ADDRHYTHM: Jive Records artist JOE recently exceeded gold status with sales of over 600,000 copies of his "All The Things" single from the Don't Be A Menace... soundtrack on Island Records.

THE RHYME

By Peter Miro

Tracy Danielle Robinson is founder and president of Look Hear Sound and Vision, a burgeoning, black-owned company which has been the production house of choice for several recent rap music videos, as well as commercials, films, infomercials, television credits and other events. Within the past year, Ms. Robinson has carved out an enviable niche for herself and her talented roster of directors and production crew, as new horizons beckon.

HOT SPRINGS, SHIATSU MASSAGES-may relax her during off hours, but when the clapboard snaps during a video shoot, producer Tracy Danielle Robinson is all business. The mainstay of her 12 month-old production company, Look Hear, Sound And Vision has been rap music videos, with budgets ranging from $30,000 to over $200,000. Recording artists who have lensed their work with her include 2Pac, Vesta, Patra, Queen Latifah, R. Kelly, Ron Isley, Kausion, Mac 10, and the last eight productions of rapper/director Ice Cube. Robinson's years interning as a production assistant, performing craft services, casting, scouting locations and working for Fragile Films, Propaganda, Two Headed Monster and Squeak Pictures has finally reaped dividends for the self-taught filmmaker. Her initial film education consisted of courses at UCLA, Central State University and American Film Institute. Now she represents twelve multi-cultural directors, and can configure crew and services for a growing array of projects.

"Heading my own production company is not as glamorous as it may sound," she says. "In fact, I still find myself doing many of the same jobs I did for years, especially for smaller budget projects. I haven't actually had to perform craft services, but scouting locations, casting, etc., I still do it all."

Rap videos have provided a broad base of opportunity for production companies the size of hers, she elaborates. Her challenges have reflected the demands of the marketplace when she lensed alternative versions of "How Do You Want It" for 2Pac, a "clean edit" and a Playboy Channel version, with "lots of interesting shots" co-lensed by crossover director Ron Hightower, recruited for the shoot, now transmuting his adult film experience into mainstream projects. His rapid-fire, guerilla-style camera set ups convey the freaky nature of the subject through a variety of motifs, and provided him much-needed leverage to negotiate for future work. LHS&V director Gobi Nejad has also lensed 2Pac ("Two Of America's Most Wanted"), with Snoop Doggy Dog, and cut his rap video teeth on "Budda Lovaz" for multi-platinum selling rappers Bone Thugs-N-Harmony. Completing a diverse pool of directors are Edward Charles White, K.C. Amos, Jason A. Harmon, Poppy Hanks, Marlene Rhein, Jon Alloway, Heather Plamer, Tim Alexander, Delven Rutledge, Urs Bauer and Ted Woerner. Robinson, ever willing to delegate, comes across many talented males and females with film aspirations. Whether video themes are jazz, rap, pop or alternative, her company provides a complete approach to production from the beginning concept to the final edit. "I feel like the sky's the limit. You can do so much," she continues. "I'm going through growing pains being blessed with this success. But I want to give opportunities to black people and women first. I want to help people go where they want to go, fly where they want to fly in this business."

Theo, KKBT radio personality, also featured in the video.

Look Hear Sound & Vision recently wrapped production for 2Pac's video "It's All About You" from his multi-platinum selling album all eyes on me on the New and "Untouchable" Death Row Records. The production, filmed in Los Angeles, featured elaborate set designs, including a fashion runway constructed entirely on the set. Marlene Rhein directed, Tracy Robinson produced. Pictured are (l-r): Pierre, comedian featured in the video; Robinson; Rhein;

Urban Singles Reviews

By Peter Miro

■ CHARISSE ARRINGTON: "Down With This" (MCA MCA5P-3589) Producers: Todd Cheek, Foster Bradley, Charisse Arrington, Hank Shocklee, David Harleston, Gary "Silky" Davis,

Daddy-O MCA offers a strong urban market entry with Ms. Arrington's multi-track EP, bristling with funky, hip hop vitality on the "Young Wu Mix" guest-rapped by GP ("The Grain"), and the mainstream radio edit bearing a danceable, hip swaying party groove. Her vocals are competently layered on the midtempo "Harlem Nu World Mix," restyled courtesy of Assim. The radio edit will appear on her forthcoming album, which should shine given the cohesive teamwork displayed so far.

■ HASAN: "All About The Money" (Epic Street ESK 7740) Producers: Jose Sanchez, Frank Rodriguez, Junior Guillermo Edgehill, Hasan.

No, it's not the Loose Ends rhythm track that's reincarnated here, in yet another body, but "No One's Gonna Love You," once done by the S.O.S. Band, which resonates along a similar lower register bass vibe. On top of which rapper Hasan pontificates in a scattergun stream of rhymes about hustling for cash, or risk being forsaken by the material girl who opens the narrative. Has a catchy flow to it, with Shanrae Price's vocals woven in for effect.

■ DEBORAH COX: "Where Do We Go From Here" (Arista ASCD-3010) Producers: Vincent Herbert, Clive Davis

Ms. Cox submits a cleanly mastered, radio-friendly ballad, with old school, gospel-tinged flavor. The buildup to this tune is reminiscent of the classic crescendos in "Remember What I Told You To Forget" by Tavares, but straddles a pop/soul borderline. From her self-titled debut LP.

Playboy Jazz Fest: A Success Beyond The Stage?

By M.R. Martinez

Lalo Schifrin and his sterling sideman and mini-big band provided some sterling highlights during the 18th Annual Playboy Jazz Festival, which sold out two days at the Hollywood Bowl. Schifrin and company performed the suite "Gillespiana"—a tribute to his late mentor Dizzy Gillespie—and (of course) a jazzy version of his ubiquitous TV theme hit "Mission: Impossible."

DURING THE SIX WEEKS of Playboy Jazz Festival sponsored or related events, the city of Los Angeles' retail stores had a prime opportunity to capitalize on all the promotion and attention surrounding the event. While many stores did not notice a spike in sales due to the plethora of community events that generated press, advertising and other promotions, some stores did note increased inquiries about the music. A sampling of retailers contacted by Cash Box revealed that the most successful jazz sales were powered by label campaigns.

At least one outlet benefitted from the staging of a Playboy Jazz Fest-related event. Sam Goody's Pasadena Plaza store, which served as an official sponsor of the three-day "Old Pasadena Summer Fest" which offered Playboy Jazz Fest-promoted music during each day of the Memorial Day holiday affair. According to store manager Del Byrd, jazz registered in the top 20 spots at his store during that weekend, explaining that the final tally came to between 5,000 and 6,000 pieces. Among the top selling jazz titles were artist Paul Taylor's On The Horn album released on tiny Unity Records, and Doc Powell, Discovery Records release Laid Back.

"During that same week, my top selling title was 2Pac Shakur's record, but on that weekend, Paul Taylor logged in at about 375 pieces," Byrd says. Taylor performed during the Pasadena event, and was well-received by the holiday revelers, which may have accounted for his healthy tally. The Goody's store manager said that he had received product like Taylor's on consignment as many of the artists on smaller labels hadn't been stocked in his store.

Powell's release, on the other hand, was included in a package of jazz titles the store promoted as part of a program sponsored by WEA, which distributes Discovery product and also sponsored Goody's booth at the Pasadena event. He said that WEA had underwritten store promotions, including flyers, posters, advertising in local newspapers and some air time. Byrd says that the WEA titles were also stocked heavily on a consignment basis as part of the promotion.

The Goody's had about 15 listening posts at the Pasadena fest, which Byrd says held about 20 titles each, and helped to spark sales. Byrd says that perhaps the single biggest boost to sales was an artist signing booth adjacent to the Sam Goody's booth, and that consumers bought product for artists to sign. Other artists with current product in the marketplace benefitted from that connection, including The Charlie Hunter Quartet and Freddie Ravel.

The Sam Goody's booth had stock positioned on a table near the cash register and a pair of store fixtures for overstock. "I still had to take orders on some things," Byrd says.

The store manager says that the Pasadena festival was so successful for them, Sam Goody's will return to Old Town Pasadena July 15-16 for the "Jazz In The Park" series and expects that event to boost sales of jazz titles.

Although he wouldn't strictly attribute what he called "gangbuster business" that was "out of control" to the staging of Playboy Jazz Fest-related events, Jeff Stoltz, jazz buyer for the Wherehouse chain says June's jazz business was up. "I think that the Playboy events did provide a much bigger consumers awareness of the music, and we did do an image ad in the Playboy program, but I think that the best thing for us during June was that we ran a major sales program with Verve (Records, distributed by PolyGram)," Stoltz says. "We did particularly well with Verve midline titles," he continued, noting that such product was priced at $8.99 or three titles for $24.97.

Stoltz, says that the 281-store chain's outlets in Southern California also benefitted from having a booth at the KIFM Anniversary Party held over the Memorial Day weekend in San Diego, where Verve artists Jeff Lorber and Freddie Ravel appeared. He said that the Verve campaign was backed by point-of-purchase material, ads in local newspapers and time buys on radio, including non-jazz outlets like AAA and urban.

"We had some co-op funds from Verve, but I have to stress that we spent a lot ourselves in order to make this campaign a success," Stoltz says.

Me'Shell Ndegéocello: In Way of Passion

By Peter Miro

THE WHISKEY, WEST HOLLYWOOD, CA—People packed this Sunset Strip club to see Me'Shell Ndegéocello, June 18, lining the diminutive venue like the stones of Macchu Picchu in Peru. In that ancient structure, stones are aligned so precisely that a playing card could barely fit between them. Instead of stones, think bodies of the Sunset Blvd. variety, then the standing-room-only gaggle becomes apparent. Inside, the throng of well-wishers included Jasmine Guy, Cree Summer and Madonna, thoroughly modern women who came to hear the latest musical musings of a one-of-a-kind artist. By 10:15 p.m. showtime, forget about getting in, except for personal friends of the flippant, beefy bouncer corps. The exit of a few smartly dressed, tattooed, pierced minions made a scant outflow in the ballast of patrons. So the next best seat in the house was the locked sidewalk stage door where the limo drivers nodded to some masterful bass blasting. Long, drawn out, bass notes that stretched and hummed, a banana clip of clean, bouncy, time-dilated riffs playing the spinal cords of all present. For at least two numbers, Wendy Melvoin, half of Wendy & Lisa, sat in, contributing to the fray on bass. When not fronting her show behind her pair of backup singers, Me'Shell marginally tinkled at the keyboards herself. But mostly, she let her lyrics and arrangements do the talking for the duration of her 90-minute set. Her cover of "Who Is He, And What Is He To You," by Bill Withers is a cut from her new LP, Peace Beyond Passion. On stage, it was a prime example of a song reshaped, transcending the original. Outdoors, the key image of the event was the sight of a "AA" battery rolling under the old stage door onto the curb, then a frantic dark-skinned hand poking through the crack in search of it, painted fingernails madly scratched the sidewalk for the elusive bunny power source until a bystander took pity and shoved it back under the door. "Someone is in there taping the show," said a dark-suited chauffeur. Yes, a true fan of Me'Shell's music probably dropped her tape machine in the dark, and wondered how she got her battery back.

by most standards, LaBelle, who admitted that she was fighting a summer cold that had forced her to cancel the previous night's show in Las Vegas, was unable to get her groove on because of the distractions. She kept assuring the audience that she was going to "take her time" and "not rush it," although some hoped that meant that she would be more expansive musically.

The selection of material performed was expansive, drawing from the singer's vast songbook and other material with which she has been associated. During the early part of her nearly two-hour set, songs like "On My Own," "Never Walk Alone," "New Attitude" and "Somebody Loves You" were delivered by LaBelle with the dramatic and musical flourishes that have been a benchmark of her live shows since early in her career.

It was during "Somebody Loves You" that LaBelle invited a pair of young men on after they brought her various gifts. She asked one of the young men to dance with her and then to sing for her. While the young man showed a decent voice and some heartfelt soul. It wasn't Patti. The next young man's vocals were, well, a joke. And while LaBelle often interjects humour into her show (she was good enough at it to rate a short-lived NBC sitcom), this was not Patti.

While she should be lauded for honoring her fans, getting them to participate in the delivery of her show prevents true appreciation of her craftsmanship. Even her well-oiled 10-member crew of musicians and backing singers could have been given more time to display their obvious talents.

LaBelle's pure, emotionally acute presentation of a song and honest rapport with the audience often made the digressions tolerable. Because of her distinct voice and affable personality you could almost tolerate fans wanting to turn her stage into a department store.

Pink Noise Test

By Daina Darzin

MOGUL'S, HOLLYWOOD, CA—This has been the site of many a cool, scuzzy-subterranean kinda event (most notably, the Film Threat Oscar party that featured a—EEEEUWW!!!!—whole roast pig with an accompanying sign, "Sorry, Babe") So exceedingly groovy up-and-comers

Pink Noise Test fit right in among the venue's clever assortment of tables and movie theater seats; the whole place has a punk-rock-used-furniture-store air. (That's a compliment.) Anyway, you've probably never heard of Pink Noise Test, but the band could have a terrific career in front of it. The L.A.-based band accurately dubs itself "candy noise;" its sound centers around the wild, aggressive whoosh of feedback and samples that made early Jesus and Mary Chain and My Bloody Valentine so compelling and weirdly evocative. Like J&M Chain, Pink Noise Test infuses its garage-and-proud grind with emotion, verve and a way with a melody, in love with both its pop sensibility and metal-machine-music buzz.

Pink Noise Test has only been together for a couple of years, but has already snagged opening slots with Oasis, Machines of Loving Grace and Course of Empire, and recently signed to Interscope. Fans who just can't wait for the band's major label debut can go out immediately and snap its recently-released The Electric Train E.P. on Boys Life Records. The single, "All The Same To Me," has an urgent, skewed Brit-pop hook, which, live, disintegrated while Kirk Hellie's guitar warp-speeded through a deimented wall of skreeks and skronks. Similarly, "Lead" cheerfully abandoned its melodic ambitions for shards of loud, slashing feedback; "Where It's At" started off with a gleefully repetitive, stuck-record noise loop and weirdly disembodied guitar flourishing in some aural universe all its own. Pink Noise Test finished off its short set in fine style with a new song, "Spitting Rain." It was (guess what), heavy on the feedback...

LaBelle Long on Show

By M.R. Martinez

UNIVERSAL AMPHITHEATRE, UNIVERSAL CITY, CA—The vocal prowess and engaging showmanship of Patti LaBelle was almost sabotaged on this night by the very people who have made her a star—the fans. A steady procession of the adoring horde filed up to a corner of the stage where they showered her with flowers, jewelry, notes presumably professing love and even clothing! A couple of men from the audience even joined her on stage for some mildly humorous interplay.

While an entertaining show

Castle Rock's Striptease Looks Great

By John Goff

Demi gives great poster art.

CASTLE ROCK ENTERTAINMENT'S Striptease has several things going for it: the insider buzz of star Demi Moore breaking through that "glass ceiling" pay-wise (which means little outside the biz); a comeback bid performance by Burt Reynolds; and a super driving score with multi-tuned soundtrack and steamy art to accompany it.

Releasing company, Columbia Pictures, has a terrific trailer out and running all over TV which heats up the blood with sensual Demi sound-skin-bites compelling enough to rouse interest in the completed piece. Considering the initial ad campaign push, Moore's ability to open a piece, the music and Reynolds' career altering performance, look for a strong opening weekend and a steady, though not blockbuster type, following flow. Striptease is likely to find its larger audience after the blockbusters and will certainly be a hot video draw. No worry about making salaries back, however.

Andrew Bergman scripted from Carl Hiaasen's book and directed. Hiaasen's page-turner is a wickedly funny work which juggles six to seven people's lives in a fragmented, fast-paced style with the characters often touching on the absurd. Each new personage that enters has his or her own particular quirks (to put it mildly) and, translated from page to mind's eye it becomes a rich, often howlingly funny quilt sewn together with the thick black thread of truth which covers and hides society's real looks of greed, political corruption, deceit and hypocrisy. Castle Rock has allowed Bergman to make an attempt at bringing this to the screen as Hiaasen brought it to the page instead of taking a more linear, and undoubtedly more commercial, approach. It was a fairly bold and risky move and is applauded, though the trade offs can be seen. Certainly he has included a commercial element, easy enough because the skin was written into the book and the title. Actually he has eliminated some skin and moves his camera away from the more physically brutal elements. The mental brutality remains, though somewhat shrouded. Bergman seems to lose control of it, however, about three-quarters in, cutting fast, as Hiaasen does on the page, but without the proper cinematic tags attached to scenes delineating the jumps, and the ending itself has been considerably softened, detrimentally so. Still, Bergman has fashioned a solid piece of mainstream entertainment with an attempt at bridging the edgy elements with the commercial. Outside the theatre you wonder what would have happened with Striptease had the Coen Brothers taken it on.

Domestic box-office, which includes USA and Canada for the weekend of June 21-23, totaled $93,229,405, breaking down to a $3,998 per-screen average off a total of 23,317 screens, giving a combined total of $828,419,966. (Courtesy Entertainment Data, Inc.)

There's no doubt that the big draw here is Demi Moore and she delivers. She's worked her body into a great looking machine for her strip routines and she touches with the care and concern shown for the daughter she's so desperately trying to get back from her druggie hubby. Real daughter Rumer Willis makes her debut as reel daughter and seems at home in front of the camera. Armand Assante works at a disadvantage since his detective character's back story has been lost, but his presence carries him through nicely. Ving Rhames' bouncer-bodyguard looking for a retirement fund character is a solid transference and the actor does it justice with a fully rounded portrayal. Burt Reynolds squeezes his kinky, female flesh-worshipping U.S. Congressman character for all the sugar inside the cane stalk; he's on the take, on the prowl, on the money, and funny. Robert Patrick is the doped up husband, good-ol-boy, remembered in the courts as a super high school tailback. Paul Guilfoyle as Reynolds' political guide at the end of his rope and Robert Stanton as the politico's guide dog-keeper offer up a couple strong belly laughs with solid support. Jerry Grayson nails the gold chain-wearing Florida strip club owner solidly.

Stripping has changed from the old evening gown-to-pasties 'n G-strings to the more theme-oriented and it's reflected on stage here. Music also has moved from the classic bump-n-grinding "Night Train" to the more hard-rocking contemporary beats. Music was a large part of Hiaasen's book too and the score here reflects the changes while illuminating the interior of the characters it's associated with. It's going to make a fine soundtrack CD with the ranges running from Dean Martin's "Return To Me" and "Memories Are Made Of This" to Color Me Badd's "Sexual Capacity," Prince's "If I Was Your Girlfriend" and The Eurythmics' "Sweet Dreams" all mixing with a traditional "Hava Nagila."

MGM's Oz Last Release

MGM/UA HOME ENTERTAINMENT has revealed that The Wizard Of Oz is being prepared for its final release of this century.

The popular film will be available in September for the first time in clamshell packaging and will feature THX digital remastering which has restored the film almost to its original state. MGM/UA Home Entertainment is backing the final Oz release with a $9 million advertising and marketing campaign which will include extensive TV advertising, a national radio promotion and cross-promotions with Discover Card and Greyhound Bus Lines. Additionally, the studio will support the film with cross-trailer, point-of-purchase materials and special merchandising units.

The Discover Card tie-in will feature a special $5.00 mail-in rebate to consumers who purchase the film with their card. Discover will support the promotion with a mailing to more than 18 million households and a $1.5 million television ad campaign.

Greyhound's involvement will be a team-up with MGM/UAHE with a "There's No Place Like Home" cross-promotion and will distribute a special ticket stuffer touting the product. During October and November, consumers who purchase the vid will receive an in-pack certificate redeemable for a free companion ticket when they purchase one ticket at regular price.

The release will also be supported by the studio with a $5 million national TV, print ad and billboards campaign. National radio promotion will support via a 100-market promotion tagging local retailers that will reach more than 24 million consumers.

20th Fox Home Entertainment Promos

TWENTIETH CENTURY FOX HOME ENTERTAINMENT has announced promotions of Hosea Belcher, Johna Madigan and John Begly within the company.

Home Entertainment president Bob DeLellis revealed Belcher was named director of marketing for the company with Begly being upped to exec. director of production, creative services. Begly will be responsible for the production of all print and audio/visual materials for both trade and consumer advertising for the studio's division and Belcher will be responsible for developing and implementing strategic marketing plans for the home video release of the company's properties.

Belcher moves up from marketing manager where he headed campaigns for the popular Goosebumps series, X-Files collection and Waiting To Exhale release.

Ben Means, sr. vp, physical distribution for the company revealed Madigan's promotion. Madigan has been serving as director of customer service and will now be responsible for providing customer and sales support for both direct-to-retail and distribution for home video and interactive products.

TOP UK SINGLES: Hanging in at number one is the Fugees' "Killing Me Softly" and growling their way to number two are Baddiel/Skinner/The Lightning Seeds' "Three Lions," pushing Peter Andre/Bubbler Ranx's "Mysterious Girl" to three. Mariah Carey's "Always Be My Baby" moves down to four and they are still loving Celine Dion's "Because You Love Me" on five. Black Grape/Strummer/Allen's "England's Irie" joins the charts at six while Livin' Joy's "Don't Stop Movin'" has moved down to seven. Everything But The Girl's "Wrong" got it right coming in at eight and Queen's "Let Me Live" is another newcomer at nine. And Ocean Colouring Scene's "The Day We Caught The Train" picked up the last coach on the chart.

The UK's top album is Alanis Morissette's Jagged Little Pill and top music video is Bill Whelan's Riverdance—The Show. Kidnapping first place on the video sales chart is X-Files: File 3—Abduction while the rentals are led by Assassins. The games rentals are pretty much as they have been all month with Mega Drive reporting Toy Story leading and Super Nintendo has Donkey Kong Country 2 still on top. And for the second week in a row, top boxoffice film in the UK is Up Close And Personal.

Still topping Europe's single list is Los Del Rio's "Macarena" which leads in Switzerland, Croatia and Denmark and is in second place in most other European markets. The Fugees' "Killing Me Softly" is alive in Norway and Ireland and Alanis Morissette's "Ironic" are top choices in Israel, Yugoslavia and Latvia. No other single heads the list in more than one European country.

Europe reports Metallica's album Load loading up the money in Sweden, Denmark and Germany and Alanis Morissette's Jagged Little Pill is still pulling them in in Ireland and France. Other albums are split between the various markets.

Music books just published in the UK include I Was A Teenage Sex Pistol by Glen Matlock with Peter Silverton, published by Virgin. Also by Virgin is Daniel Wolf's You Send Me: The Life And Times Of Sam Cooke. Victoria Kingston comes up with Simon and Garfunkel: The Definitive Biography with Sidgwick & Jackson publishing and Quartet Publishers are bringing out Patti Jones' One Man's Blues: The Life and Music of Mose Allison. And Omnibus is publishing Mick St. Michael's Blur: In Their Own Words.

Best seller in fiction hardback is John Grisham's The Runaway Jury (Cen-tury) while Joseph O'Connor's Sweet Liberty (MacMillan) is the non-fiction hardback best seller. Deidre Purcell's Sky (Town House) is paperback fiction leader and paperback non-fiction is Tony Humphries' Power of Negative Thinking comes via G&M.

THE DOWNS AND THE UPS: Thorn EMI at £18.32 is down 0.2%. Rank Organization's £5.19 is up 3.5% while PolyGram at NLF 101 (£38.53) is up 0.9%.

THE BRITS ARE COMIN': At least that's the talk in the UK regarding a renaissance of new British music in the U.S. market. Since the beginning of the year, five UK groups have been in the U.S. Top 10 album charts, compared to only four in the entire 1995 run. And of this year's top five, two were by young, relatively new groups, namely Oasis and Bush. Since 1993, only 25 Brit albums and 16 singles have hit the Top 10 U.S. charts.

SEE D PRICE: And that's what the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission is looking at. What they see is that the price of a CD in Australia, costing up to U.S. $24, is some 40% higher than in the U.S. Four years ago the previous government changed the copyright laws to allow competition from parallel imports, in hopes of cutting the cost of CDs. However, last year, under the new center-right government, the policy was changed to permit the major companies to maintain exclusive copyrights for new imported music releases. However, at the same time, it made the majors subject to price reviews. The revised plan also called for the majors to invest AUS $270 million in a three-year period to develop Australian manufacturing facilities and artists. The major international companies in Australia are Warner, Sony, PolyGram, EMI, BMG and Festival.

BE MY GUEST and it'll only cost you $1,650 a night for the penthouse at U2 Bono's Clarence Hotel in Dublin. The $7.5 million renovation job has just been finished after being delayed for almost a year by first a fire, then the financial difficulties of one of the backers. The fifth floor suite has two bedrooms, jacuzzi, piano bar, dining and living room together with an outdoor rooftop patio that overlooks the Dublin skyline and is right next door to Temple Bar, the hot district of the city. It's expected to be "the home" for visiting film and music stars as well as a billionaire or two.

TURNER OVER THE FIRST KEY to the Clarence penthouse to Tina Turner, who'll be staying there while she does a couple of concerts in Ireland.

CASH IN THE MUSIC which is what Chris Wright of Chrysalis, the music media group, did when he sold off some $6.3 million worth of shares in the company to raise money for buying a soccer team and a rugby club. Wright's stake in Chrysalis, with the sale of the 1.2 million shares, has gone down from 47% to 43%.

I'M FREE OH LORD, FREE AT LAST is what Robbie Williams, formerly with Take That will be singing this week when he will be released from his contract with RCA. He reached an out-of-court settlement with the company last February when he agreed to drop his suit against RCA, with whom Take That was signed, and was to pay RCA's legal costs. No mention was made, at the time, of RCA releasing him from his contract, but it was "understood" that he would continue to record for the company until July 1st, when he would be given his "freedom."

DON'T BET YOUR MONEY IN IRELAND as the Department of Finance has turned down another request to open a casino in the country. Ireland is the only country in Europe that does not have some sort of casino in operation. However, the government said it was setting up a task force to examine the whole casino question and no further action would be taken until the report is received. An unofficial report that U.S. companies interested in setting up Irish casinos might study the 1920s gambling ships that used to operate outside the 3-mile limit in the U.S.

THE NAME'S WAYNE, JEFF: And his company, Jeff Wayne Music will be floated on the UK's Alternative Investment Market in July. The float is for £4 million, which would value JWM at £12 million. Wayne, composer of the musical version of War Of The Worlds is seeking additional funds for expanding into Europe and the U.S. JWM, which has been successfully producing advertising music since the mid-60s, has a 35,000 song and tune database in their music research and copyright licensing division. The company has also produced film scores as well as theme music for media companies. JWM has the rights to some 8,000 original recordings.

RUNNER - UP: First we had the soccer and football songs—now it's time for racing songs and Ireland is first with a CD, Sonia's Song, celebrating Sonia O'Sullivan, Ireland's racing star and tipped to be a Gold Medal winner at the Atlanta Olympics. The CD is sub-titled The Lean Green Olympic Queen and has music and songs by Patsy Watchorn and Spot The Paddy.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE, at least for the newspapers in Europe, which are taking in more than 40% of all advertising revenues, followed by television which earns about 30%. Magazines pocket 20% and outdoor posters and signboards bring in more money than either radio or movie houses. At the same time, 75% of European sponsorship goes to sports with 16% for arts and culture (meaning concerts) and less than 9% to the media.

IT'S GAS-TRO-CINEMA: Virgin is coming up with a new way to see - and eat your way through the movies. Next month, Virgin Cinema is opening a restaurant in a cinema as a trial run. Patrons will be able to order and be served by waiters "real" food and wine instead of the usual soft drinks and popcorn. Now, how all this will go over with the non-eaters has yet to be worked out. Virgin is also planning to switch over to serving its own brand, Virgin Cola as well as opening miniature Virgin Megastores in theater lobbies.

WHAT'S THE PROGNOSIS FOR PSYGNOSIS? Well, it looks like Psygnosis, one of the UK's leading electronic game publishers, is being sent out into the world by its parent company, Sony. The company's current top seller is Adidas Power Soccer and later this year it expects good business from Formula One, a driving game. Psygnosis is valued at £250 million which will be a windfall for Sony, since it bought the company in 1993 for £15 million.

TALKING ABOUT PENETRATION: The Independent Television Commission reports that while cable companies have only achieved about 25% penetration of homes passed by cable, the figure is slowly growing, going up to some 30% in homes with cable offered on telephone services.

VE VILL VITH V2: So says Richard Branson who, with the working title V2 Records, plans to go back into the music field. Branson, under the terms of his sales of Virgin Records to Thorn EMI was prohibited from starting a new label for three years, which are now up. A&R man Rommie Guer joins from Columbia Records and Jeremy Pearce leaves his job as managing director of Sony Music's licensed repertory division, to go with the new label.

VAT'S THAT: French culture minister, Philippe Douste-Blazy is leading an EU campaign to reduce and/or eliminate VAT taxes on recorded music. Douste-Blazy says that recorded music is as creative as a book and books in many countries, including the UK, do not have VAT taxes added. The International Federation of the Phonographic Industry in Brussels is asking that recorded music be included on the EU list of products and services, which currently include films, books and circuses, for which member status may reduce or eliminate VAT rates. The feeling in the music industry is that sales would jump if the VAT, which in France is 20.6%, the UK at 17.5% and Ireland at 21%, were dropped or eliminated.

COME TO THE FAIR: Galway, Ireland's West Coast is Ireland's "west coast" as far as the movie industry is concerned. Roger Corman is building his new studio there, and he's already shot two films, with a third, starring Mia Farrow, due to start soon. From July 11-16, Galway will host an international music and film festival. The 8th Galway Film Festival expects actors Helen Mirren and John Lynch together with producer Jim Sheridan to show up for the screening of their Space Mother's Son. Grunge music will be represented by Antonia Bird's Mad Love which stars Drew Barrymore. Bird will head a sidebar on Women In Film. Also premiering will be six new Irish films, together with award winning European and international films as well as the Fleadh Film School and musical activities in most of the pubs and hotels in the area.

Cash Box publisher George Albert welcomes Outburst Records singing group Code 3 during their recent West Coast press tour. The trio gave Mr. Albert an impromptu sample of their a capella skills, and in turn received some personal marketing guidance from the veteran executive. "Humpin Bumpin" is their debut single.

GRAPHIX ZONE GETS AGGRESSIVE: Interactive developer and publisher Graphix Zone has entered into a joint venture that will expand its ability to deliver information over the Internet via its Music Zone. GZ has entered a partnership with Internet exploration company Lycos, Inc., whereby GZ will license for use of Lycos' "Entertainment and Leisure" vertical directory for the company's a2z Directory, an index and search engine, and "Point Review," which gives critical assessments and ratings of the top five percent of web sites. The agreement permits GZ to integrate the indexes, search engines and reviews from Lycos properties into the Music Zone websites so users don't have to leave for additional information.

GZ also has cut a deal with Internet yellow pages directory Big Book. GZ will provide live club and concert reviews, schedules and concert tour information from its recently acquired music site WILMA, while BigBook provides street level maps and related points of interest concerning various venues.

The new content and utilities are expected to attract advertisers wishing to target demographic segments interested in specific topics, and GZ plans to model Lycos success at selling keyword searches to advertisers.

"The addition of Lycos' a2z Directory, Point Reviews and BigBook Yellow pages furthers Graphix Zone's mission of becoming the first-stop, one-stop music site on the Internet," commented Norm Block, COO of the Irvine, CA-based company.

GZ plans to promote its upcoming CD-ROM titles Willie Nelson, Herbie Hancock: The Big Beat and The Crow through links to an associated Music Zone site to provide original editorial, music, timely tour information, exclusive merchandise and active chats. Also being added to the 60 interactive, multimedia titles developed and published are titles featuring stories behind the making of classic albums by artists such as The Doors, Eagles and Crosby, Stills & Nash. The company recently released Bob Marley: The Formative Years.

"Graphix Zone's strong music industry ties and interactive entertainment expertise coupled with their definitive vision for music on the Internet will bring a ground-breaking experience to music lovers and musicians alike," says Ben Bassi, vp of business development for Lyco.

BigBook president/CEO Kris Hagerman comments: "This unique partnership adds value to the WILMA users' experience by providing easy, timely access to our search and locate capabilities."

QUICK HIT: The Great Kat Website (<http://www.greatkat.com>) has been launched by, who else?, The Great Kat, who has gained kudos for her CD-ROM Digital Beethoven on Cyberspeed, released through New Jersey-based Bureau of Electronic Publishing. The Great Kat's music combines metal guitar and violin riffs on Beethoven, Wagner, Bach and Paganini orchestral recordings, which are also included on the website. But this is much, much more. There's "Kat Body Parts," a "macabre" look a various Kat body parts; "Kat Paparazzi," "scintillating" photos including "Kat in Pink Lingerie" and "Red-Hot She-Devil with a Whip;" "Kat Screams & Hidden Rooms," "Wake up!" calls, secret rooms, and more music; and "Kat Store," where you can shop online for Kat's audio CDs, Cyberspeed guitar sheet music, A Kat line of wardrobe, posters and other Kat-like merchandise." Go figure. Or just pull it up and see for yourself.

MCA Music Publishing announced they have signed writer Marc Nelson to a worldwide publishing deal. Nelson has collaborated with Tony Rich on "Come Over Here," is in the studio with Paula Abdul singing and producing three songs for her new album, and is a member of the group Az Yet, signed to LaFace Records with an album set to release at the end of summer. Pictured at the signing are (l-r): Carol Ware, MCA creative services v.p.; John Alexander, MCA creative services exec v.p.; Sherry Orson, creative services director; Marc Nelson; Donna Caseine, MCA creative services manager; and David Renzer, MCA worldwide president.

Sparrow In Race With Dole

THE UNITED STATES OF POETRY star Sparrow, formally announced his bid for the Republican presidential nomination June 27 at a press conference in New York at the base of the statue of his spiritual hero, Atlas, in front of the International Building. The candidate's announcement, cast into verse and available as audio, is scheduled to appear in three parts for three consecutive weeks on the Internet at <http://www.mercuryrecords.com/poets>.

Sparrow said he had decided to run out of his abiding affection for Abraham Lincoln, the GOP's most illustrious member and noted, "Lincoln was a Republican who loved the working man."

Sizing up the competition, Sparrow noted, "Who is the more Lincolnesque, Bob Dole or I? Who is lanky, bearded, eccentric, humorous, wise, Biblical, literary, radical and self-taught, and who is a vicious impostor from Kansas?" He is demanding equal time on TV with the other candidates and intends to set forth his ideas to plank verse. Sparrow also denied this act was a bid for publicity for the soundtrack of the PBS TV series Testimonial, being released on Mercury Records' spoken word imprint Mouth Almighty.

It was rumored Sparrow had challenged the other candidates to a debate at the base of the Lincoln Memorial after all had rejected the Washington ("I Cannot Tell A Lie") Monument as an appropriate site. Lincoln bloodliners protested that idea as being politically incorrect, and at press time a West Coast site was being considered, that of the patio of the Television Academy in North Hollywood, CA at the base of the bust of Rod (Twilight Zone) Serling.

Playboy, Inc.'s director of corporate communication Bill Farley notes that the company's effort to reach out to the community through retail was restricted to a promotion with three area Virgin Megastores.

Julie Remick, who does jazz buying for Virgin Megastore's West Hollywood franchise, says that the Playboy Jazz Festival tie-ins this year did not compare to previous efforts, noting that Virgin Megastores last year had product on sale for each artist that appeared on the Playboy Jazz Festival Hollywood Bowl stage—whether from a major or small company—and that end-caps, and other merchandising material, advertising and other marketing campaign strategies were all tied into the sale.

"Because we were going through a personnel transition this year," Remick explains, "we only had a Playboy-related sale on four titles."

She adds that only WEA and EMI Music Distribution participated. Fourplay's Elixir album (on Warner Bros. Records-WEA, sale priced at $12.49) was the top seller in the program, followed by Dianne Reeves' album Quiet Before The Storm on Blue Note Records (EMD, $11.99). The Yellow Jackets's Dreamland (Warner Bros./WEA, $11.99) and Joe Lovano's double album Live At The Village Vanguard (Blue Note/EMD, $19.99) were about equal in sales.

"The sale did help create consumer traffic and jazz titles did sell better," Remick says.

REVIEWS By Héctor Reséndez

■ TITO PUENTE & INDIA: *Jazzin' (RMM-Tropi-Jazz, 82032) Producer: Tito Puente JAZZ

The King of Latin Jazz, Tito Puente, unites with sensual vocalist India, and the Count Basie Orchestra in a unique collaboration for jazz aficionados everywhere. With top arrangers like Hilton Ruiz, Marty Sheller, and Puente himself, standards like "Love for Sale," "What A Difference A Day Makes," and "Going Out Of My Head," are simply overwhelming. Original compositions like Puente's "Take Or Leave It" or Ruiz' "Tito" and "India Bop" simply leave no room for doubt. India renders one of her best heartfelt performances.

■ MANFREDO FEST: *Fascinating Rhythm (Concorde Picante, 4711) Producer: Nick Phillips JAZZ

The life of Manfredo Fest is equally as interesting as his music. A perennial favorite of Brazilian and jazz fans, Fest's latest Concorde Picante release, "Fascinating Rhythm," easily matches its humble description. All twelve selections fluidly capture and epitomize the expertise of this master pianist. From jazz standards to original works (one Fest's and the other his son's), to vintage Brazilian gems, it's as if Fest's piano can reel in the musical magic of all of the Americas.

■ AMBRA: *Te Pertenezco (BMG U.S. Latin, 30065) Producer: Stefano Magnanensi POP

As you listen to the sultry and seductive number "Imagarme Quiero," it resonates with a wistful melancholic sentiment. Italian singer Ambra, at eighteen years of age, debuts with this one very cool album. How cool is it? The Italian version sold over 600,000 units. Any other questions? The Spanish version has sold more than 50,000 units. With a film ("Favola") already in the can, the versatile Ambra has some great career prospects, internationally as well as in Rome.

PICK OF THE WEEK

■ EROS RAMAZZOTTI: *Donde Hay Musica (BMG, U.S. Latin, 39592) Producer: Eros Ramazzotti POP

For the past ten years, European megastar Eros Ramazzotti has established himself as that continent's second best-selling vocalist, breaking international sales records and performing to sold-out stadiums around the world. Ramazzotti's latest album, Dove C'è Musica is available both in Italian and Spanish (Donde Hay Música) and marks his debut as a writer/producer. His internationally popular albums, with nearly 15 million units sold worldwide, clearly continue to sell as Latin pop's leading edge music. Call him the European Latin version of Phil Collins. Watch for more excitement from this incredible and innovative talent.

THE LATIN LOWDOWN

News From U.S. & Latin America

By Hector Resendez

WORKING WONDERS AT WEA LATINA: There's been much activity this last quarter within the Latin music industry. A fact many record industry insiders would readily agree with. One hive of busy bees can certainly be found at WEA Latina offices in Miami. Here's a few good reasons why.

Days after the release of the highly-anticipated album Nuevos Senderos by singer Olga Tañón, sales leapt to Double Platinum levels. Not much surprise that her first single "¡Basta Ya!" then leapt to the forefront of domestic charts. In Mexico, where an album's pulse is measure by the "Nielsen" barometer, Tañón came in at number eight. Not shabby for an artist who gave birth to baby Gabriela almost two months ago. Daughter and pop singer are doing just fine.

Tañón, more popularly known as the "Queen of the Merengue," has received numerous accolades for her collaboration with composer-artist-producer Marco Antonio Solís. The latter is the heart and soul of the extremely popular group Los Bukis. It seems Tañón's dramatic turn to pop and ballads was not as uncharacteristic as her admiring public would think. The Puerto Rican artist initially sang pop ballads before gravitating to the Dominican rhythm of merengue. All aside, you have to admire her gutsy move and self-confidence to lay her professional reputation out on the line like Tañón did. Perhaps now more artists will be inclined to venture into other formats without fearing loss of credibility or revenue.

WHO'S MINDING THE RANCH?: While Tañón might be having a grand old time down at the Rio Grande, what's her band up to in Puerto Rico? Playing music and recording their own album, that's what! La Tañón Band, under the watchful eye of their boss Olga and musician Israel Nieves, have put out their own musical effort called Herencia (Heritage). With four young dynamic voices: Carlos, Ricky, Willie and Gary, the sometimes steamy merengue mix by Olga's band is one very hearty effort. Meanwhile, Tañón's legions of fans await the eventual return of their tropical queen.

YOLANDITA TAKES A BREAK: Actress-vocalist, Yolandita recently took a break from her acting role in the soap, La Viuda de Blanco (Widow in White) in Colombia. She made a concert appearance in her native Puerto Rico at the Centro de Bellas Artes. The long-time popular singer has a third single, "Cuando Miro Tu Foto" (When I Look At Your Picture), beautifully written by the duo of Rudy Pérez and Adrián Possé. The single features an excellent orchestral arrangement by Paul Hoyle with accompaniment by the Miami String Symphony. The self-titled album captures Monge's uniquely romanticized style that has made her an international pop legend.

How popular is Yolandita Monge? She is one of very few artists who have had a day named after themselves. As an act of homage, the Puerto Rican Senate named April 12th as "El Día de Yolandita Monge."

PLUG FOR THE ZAPATISTAS: Mexican actress-singer Ofelia Mendoza recently commended the contributions of the political group, the Zapatista movement in Mexico. If it were not for them, Mendoza stated, more than 10 million Indian lives would have been lost. Mendoza appeared in Santiago, Chile, to complete filming a television soap there.

The self-declared political activist has just released a project for WEA Latina called Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz.

TONO ROSARIO RELEASES NEW VIDEO: Merengue star, Toño Rosario, recently released his third single, "Estupida," from his debut album for WEA Latina called Quiero Volver a Empezar (I Want to Start Over). The accompanying video, produced by Moon Cricket Productions, was filmed in various locations of Miami's Coconut Grove.

"From the moment I finished recording 'Estupida,' I was very satisfied," commented Rosario. "The lyrics are strong and the melody is right on. It's one of the best numbers on the album."

MORE SALSA BY ALEXA: From New York, comes news that Salsa singer Alexa has returned to the recording studio to begin work on her second album for WEA Latina. Her debut project fared well with critics and fans alike. The petite Alexa has a commanding vocal style and her second album will be well worth the wait.

And speaking about Salsa, label-mate singer Wichy Camacho has completed the finishing touches for his latest yet untitled album. The popular vet Salsero from Puerto Rico will feature a sizzling duet with Olga Tañón.

Planet Hollywood Invades Nashville

By Wendy Newcomer

Clint Black and wife Lisa Hartman-Black wave to a frenzied crowd.

COUNTRY MET THE CITY on Saturday, June 23 at the opening of Nashville's Planet Hollywood. Located in the heart of downtown on lower Broadway, the restaurant chain's 32nd location opened its doors to admit movie stars, models and country music entertainers.

Stargazers caught a glimpse of such notables as Wesley Snipes, Cindy Crawford, Ashley Judd, Michael McDonald and Luke Perry at the event. Country music was well-represented, as Clint Black, Naomi Judd, Linda Davis, Billy Dean, Kathy Mattea and Alabama were among the artists who attended. Planet Hollywood shareholders Bruce Willis, Sylvester Stallone and Arnold Schwarzenegger were on hand to host the gala.

Willis and his band The Accelerators performed a free concert for Nashville fans on an open-air stage outside the restaurant. Other artists who joined in the fun included Black, who added his trademark harmonica to the R&B group's sound, and Amy Grant, who after performing "Proud Mary," sang backup for Willis.

As is with all Planet Hollywood restaurants, the Nashville location will house an impressive memorabilia collection. Items to be displayed include the baseball bat used to kill Joe Pesci's character in Casino, a buffalo head from Dances With Wolves, and Jim Carrey's stuffed alligator from Ace Ventura: When Nature Calls.

Arnold Schwarzenegger and Vanessa Williams dazzle potential Eraser ticket holders.

ASSOCIATED TALENT ANNOUNCED THE SIGNINGS of country legends George Jones and Janie Fricke to its roster for booking. Jones is currently touring in support of his book I Lived To Tell The Story, and Fricke is performing at the Charley Pride Theatre in Branson, MO.

GEORGE "GOOBER" LINDSEY was inducted into the Music Valley Wax Museum's Sidewalk of the Stars on June 6. Lindsey, who now joins more than 250 of his fellow stars, is best known for his work on the Andy Griffith Show.

WARNER BROS. RECORDING ARTIST CHRIS CUMMINGS signed an exclusive representation contract with Buddy Lee Attractions, Inc. Cummings' debut album, Somewhere Inside, is scheduled for a late summer or early fall release.

MARK WHEELER WAS HIRED as director of sales and marketing at Rounder Records. Wheeler comes from CEMA Distribution, where he was district manager in Dallas, TX.

RAINSONG GRAPHITE GUITARS ANNOUNCED that Vanguard Records artist John McEuen was chosen to "test fly" a new line of acoustic guitars made of 100 percent graphite. The instruments are impervious to heat, cold or moisture, thus eliminating tuning problems, and won't nick, dent or scratch.

DAN GILLIS JOINED 422 MANAGEMENT and announced the signing of Knoxville's roots/pop rockers The V-Roys. The quartet's debut album, Just Add Ice, will be released August 6 on E-Squared Records (the label co-owned by Steve Earle and Ray Kennedy).

RECORDING ARTIST MICHAEL W. SMITH announced the launch of a new record label, Rocketown Records, to be based in Franklin, TN. Smith will act as chairman of Rocketown Records and will be involved in the creative aspects of the company. The label is currently in negotiations for distribution and artist signings, and hopes to have a full release in the first quarter of 1997.

JUSTICE RECORDS ANNOUNCED that Billy Joe Shaver has signed a multi-album deal. His first album under the deal, Highway Of Life, is slated for release August 6.

LYLE LOVETT AND DAVID BALL PAID TRIBUTE to the late Walter Hyatt at a June 23 concert at the Ryman Auditorium. Hyatt, a Nashville-based songwriter, died in the May 11 ValuJet crash in Florida. Other artists who performed Hyatt's music during the concert included Shelby Lynne, Hal Ketchum, Champ Hood and Townes Van Zandt.

In Other News...

WILLIS JONES WAS HIRED AS song plugger for Copperfield Music Group. Jones was most recently employed at Harlan Howard Songs.

CHUCK JONES RENEWED HIS EXCLUSIVE contract with Hamstein Cumberland Music Group. Jones' songs have been cut by artists including Billy Dean, Patty Loveless, The Fabulous Thunderbirds and Michael English.

GARTH BROOKS BREAKS RECORDS in concert attendance, album sales, and now signatures. Brooks spent a record 23 hours (without a break) signing autographs for fans, some of whom waited in line for over 12 hours.

BRYAN WHITE, WADE HAYES & KENNY CHESNEY will join Ricky Skaggs on July 1 for the TNN special CMT Presents Monday Night Concerts. TNN also premieres Ralph Emery On The Record With Randy Travis July 2.

CHRIS ALLEN, PRES & CEO of Zataway Music, Inc. announced the signing of the company's first Nashville writer, Anthony Little. Little's songs have most recently been recorded by Reba McEntire and Englebert Humperdinck.

Album Reviews By Wendy Newcomer

DAVID BALL: Starlite Lounge (Warner Bros. 9-46244-2)

Hallelujah for David Ball! Just when country was getting seeped in trumped-up radio mixes with enough drum machines to cause a sonic boom, this staunch traditionalist came out with Thinkin' Problem, a project that gave radio a dose of the old-time stuff. Ball's sophomore Warner Bros. album, Starlite Lounge, captures even more of Ball's dyed-in-the-wool country. The first single, "Circle Of Friends," is in the company of new country classics such as "Bad Day For The Blues," "The Bottle That Pours The Wine," and "If You'd Like Some Lovin'." If you'd like some beautiful music with your beer, visit the Starlite Lounge.

ROGER BROWN: Roger Brown & Swing City (Decca DRNDM-55203)

Occasionally some artist decides to do a western swing cover tune as a nod to the country and western music of the past. In this case, the artist's whole repertoire consists of entirely new western swing. Brown's music continues the fine traditions set by Bob Wills, Tommy Dorsey and the Sons of the Pioneers. The gentle ballad "Adobe Walls" is in perfect harmony with future dance hall staples such as "Western Women" and "Boogie Till The Cows Come Home." Roger Brown & Swing City is a long time coming, but there's only one drawback—five songs just aren't enough to quench the thirsts of all those who are dying for some really good swing music. More more MORE!

MARTY STUART: Honky Tonkin's What I Do Best (MCA D-11429)

With each new album, Marty Stuart comes closer and closer to filling the shoes of the legends with which he once toured. At long last, he's starting to bring those years on the road with bluegrass and country legends (Flatt & Scruggs, Johnny Cash, for example) into the layers of his soulful readings. When he sings "Shelter From The Storm," one could swear hearing wedding bells pealing in the distance. Stuart's new album contains everything from the strange ("The Mississippi Mudcat and Sister Sheryl Crow") to the sublime ("Sweet Love," "So Many People"). It's an accurate representation of an often underrated entertainer.

PICK OF THE WEEK

JUNIOR BROWN: Semi Crazy (MCG/Curb D2-77843)

Unless you've been living in a cave, the name Junior Brown should ring a bell. He's the guy who's been entertaining fans of the Butthole Surfers and Buck Owens alike in dive bars down in Austin, TX for years. He's the guy who invented an instrument (the guit-steel) with which to capture his unique sound. Mainstream country fans are just beginning to catch on to the genius that is Junior Brown. Semi Crazy contains something for everyone; it's Hendrix-meets-Haggard. Delicacies for the ear include the opening track, "Gotta Get Up Every Morning," "I Hung It Up," and the fire-hazard tribute to beach boogies, "Surf Medley." Junior Brown's album title is a bit misleading—he may be crazy, but he's crazy like a fox.

New Records Set At 16th Annual VNEA Championships!

CHICAGO—The 16th annual Valley National Eight Ball League Association (VNEA) international tournament took place May 24-June 1 at the Riviera Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas. A record-breaking 842 teams and 3,256 singles entrants shot it out for a piece of the more than $360,000 prize purse and the "champion" title in 16 divisions.

Photo 1: The 8-ball Women's Team Masters Champions were Timi Bloomberg, Cheryl Hannah, Jackie Schwartz and Laurie Hawkins, representing Rushmore Amusement in Rapid City, South Dakota.

Photo 3: A highlight on this championship event was the "Suds & Chips Mixer," on opening night, which featured the high energy entertainment and big sounds of the 60s Motown Revue Big Bang Beat.

Sandra Larson Joins NAMA Staff

CHICAGO—Sandra T. Larson of Sunland, California has joined the staff of the National Automatic Merchandising Association, as western manager and counsel. She will be based in the association's western office in Encino, California.

Larson replaces Joan Bentler who left NAMA to attend graduate school full-time at a local university with the goal of pursuing a career in education.

A native of Glendale, CA, Larson attended school in Burbank, CA, is a graduate of the University of California in Los Angeles and received a law degree from Southwestern University School of Law in Los Angeles.

Before joining NAMA, Larson was deputy trial counsel for the State Bar of California in Los Angeles. Previously she was an attorney with the law firm of Clark, White, Hutton Holmes & Simpson in Glendale and did fundraising activities for the Boy's Club of Pasadena, CA and United Way of Los Angeles County.

She is married to John B. Larson, an attorney in private practice. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Twiss of Sunland, CA, owners of the Twiss Heat Treating Company in Burbank.

Mariah Vision 3 Entertainment Introduces NHL Full Impact Hockey

CHICAGO—Hockey fans the world over will most certainly flock to this exciting new game and enjoy the thrills of their favorite sport, both in season and afterwards!

Mariah Vision 3 Entertainment of Toronto, Canada, recently introduced NHL Full Impact Hockey, an interactive hockey simulation game that allows players the opportunity to test their skill against NHL superstars Wayne Gretzky and Mark Messier. This product is NHL licensed.

As goalie, the game player crouches in front of an official sized 6-foot by 4-foot goal net, facing a 9-foot by 12-foot screen on which an actual hockey game unfolds. As Gretzky or Messier take a shot, an actual soft puck shoots out toward the net at speeds up to 80 mph. The goalie attempts to block the shot, and then steer the rebound to a defenseman for a variety of points.

Participants will see various combinations of shots from infinite angles. The game lasts four minutes. Upon completion, players will view a display which reveals their statistics.

NHL Full Impact Hockey features various levels of play including Rookie, Professional and All-Star. Mariah Vision 3 Entertainment intends to make the game accessible to everyone and will market it to entertainment centers, sports stadium complexes, sports theme attractions, skating arenas and shopping malls.

The game, which will become a permanent exhibit in the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto, was unveiled and previewed by the mass media on June 19, following the official presentation of the Lester B. Pearson Award.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Mariah Vision 3 Entertainment, c/o Brotman Communications, Suite 920, 1120 Connecticut Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. Phone number is 202-296-7200; FAX number is 202-296-6341.
