Rob Goldklang WB National Director/Alternative Promotion Muncy And Polenzani Also Promoted

Rob Goldklang

As first reported in fmqb (1/15), Warner Bros. National Manager/Alternative Promotion Rob Goldklang has been promoted to National Director of Alternative Promotion. In addition, WB National Manager/College Promotion Julie Muncy has assumed Goldklang's former position of National Manager/Alternative Promotion, and Jenifer Polenzani has been tapped as National Manager AAA/College Promotion.

"It's a definite understatement to say that Rob Goldklang has an unmatched passion for music and radio," Warner Bros. Sr. VP/Head of Promotion Tom Biery commented. "You can see that in his remarkable rise through this company in a very short time. With Rob, as well as Julie and Jenifer, we're continuing to build the most dedicated and experienced promotion team in the business and I join with the rest of the company in congratulating them all."

Goldklang began his career at

Modern Rock KROQ/Los Angeles. He joined Warner Bros in 1995 as National Manager/College Promotion and was named National Manager of Alternative Promotion in 1997. Muncy came to Warner Bros. in 1995 from WEA/Chicago, where she was Assistant to the Branch Manager. Muncy was Assistant to Tom Biery, prior to being named to her most recent position of National Manager/College Promotion in 1997. Polenzani joined Warner Bros. in 1992, working as an assistant to various executives — most recently VP/Special Projects Nancy Stein.

Mason & Sheehan Sue Clear Channel

Longtime Albany morning men Mason & Sheehan have filed a $50 million lawsuit against Clear Channel, claiming that the company conspired to hire them away from crosstown WPYX for WXCR, only to fire them a year later.

The suit, filed in Albany Supreme Court, claims that Clear Channel-backed Radio Enterprises hired the duo for mornings on Classic Rock WXCR with promises of syndication and a "hands-off" content policy. After inking a five-year deal with WXCR in September of '97, Mason & Sheehan were fired by the station in August of '98. Their attorney says WXCR's promises went unfulfilled and that no reason was given for their dismissal.

The suit also alleges that Clear Channel hired and fired Mason & Sheehan to get the team off of WPYX to ease the competition for Howard Stern, whose syndicated morning show airs on Clear Channel's WQBK/WQBJ (The Edge) simulcast in Albany.

"It would appear, based on my investigation, that the defendants engaged in a conspiracy to remove Mason & Sheehan from competition to Howard Stern," attorney Stephen Pechenik told the Capital Business Review (3/22). "They did so by entering into this contract, offering all kinds of inducements — and then at the first opportunity, attempted to terminate the contract."

Other allegations in the suit: Mason & Sheehan were discriminated against due to their age. And, due to Clear Channel's extensive Albany holdings, the duo is unable to find work.

Clear Channel owns WXCR, The Edge, WTTM-AM, WXXA-TV and a Fox affiliate.

MP3: NET GAIN, NET LOSS

MP3, short for MPEG-1 Layer 3, is a type of compression that squeezes audio files at a ratio of nearly 11:1, with no noticeable dilution of sound quality. Soon after its inception in 1991, Web sites started sprouting up all over the Internet with illegally copied MP3 versions of songs. MP3 itself is not illegal, but putting an MP3 file of a copyrighted song on the 'Net and making it available for free is.

But what happens when artists themselves start to make their own music available via MP3 over the Web? In the case of Chuck D, he was recently forced by PolyGram to pull tracks from an unreleased album of Public Enemy material off www.public-enemy.com. His contention for posting the songs was that PolyGram was moving too slow in releasing Bring The Noise 2000, which was originally slated for a March '98 release.

"The lawyers came running and told my manager to take it down," Chuck D said in a recent Wired interview. "We didn't sell the tracks, so to us, it was the same as just making more promotional copies. It's great for the musician. Instead of just depending on a song and a video, the 'Net will bring back live performances. Artists will be able to release a song every two

BUBBA THE LOVE SPONGE

Bubba The Love Sponge logged time in Terre Haute, Grand Rapids, San Antonio, Chicago, Philadelphia (73 days), Orlando, and Milwaukee before landing in Tampa. The reason Bubba left most of those cities? He was "too controversial." But controversy has paid off for WXTB's morning behemoth in the form of robust ratings, a chain of Tampa-area Planet

Bubba nightclubs, even talk of running for Mayor. fmqb's Mike Boyle recently spoke with the FCC's latest indecency poster child.

How has your show evolved of late?

When we took the show over it was in sixteenth place, 25-54. Now we're second, only a few tenths out of first. We have grown a lot and gotten away from sex and become more issue-oriented. Two years ago, we were not a proven commodity, we were still an experiment. We don't have the experiment moniker any longer, but we're also not yet proven or a commodity. We are more established though.

What kinds of topics are you covering these days?

Well, obviously President Clinton has given us a whirl-wind of shit to talk about. Anything that's in the news is fair game. David Wells [former New Yankees Pitcher, recently traded to Toronto] frequents the show a lot, and sports in general is always a topic. Today we talked about spanking kids in school. That lit the phones up. By the same token, the other day we had a porn star on who vowed to sleep with 2,000 people by the year 2000. We still do some sex stuff, but not as much.

Where does the syndication for your show stand right now?

I'm very eager and ready for it. I don't know if Jacor thinks I'm ready for it. They [Jacor] own syndication rights and I'm just probably waiting on Jacor to decide who we're going to continue to merge with. There's some natural applications here in Florida for my syndication: Jacksonville, Orlando, etc. I'm not doing my nighttime syndication any longer for those few Jacor stations. I was doing well with it and making some money, but in this day and age of Jacor's Prophet System, it's a lot easier for them to import talent without having to pay me the kind of money they were paying me. It allows me to focus on my morning show more. [Jacor Director of Programming] Gene Romano and [Jacor Sr. VP. Programming] Tom Owens have promised me they'll give me a long, hard look at national syndication in the next year or two. With promises from those two gentlemen, I'm ready. We're the best-kept morning secret in America right now.

How do you feel about being the current FCC poster boy for fines?

That's a double-edge sword. Obviously it may scare a lot of people from touching me, but I think I had some huge name recognition

Jacor Takes Hard Classic Stance In Baltimore, Salt Lake City and Charlotte

Jacor Classic Rock stations in Baltimore, Salt Lake City and Charlotte are now chanting the on 30-40 year-old males.

KURR has some company in the fine-tuning department: Crosstown KUMT

"Classic Rock That Really Rocks" mantra, following evolutions in harder-edged directions over the past week.

WOCT dropped its long-standing "The Colt" moniker back in December, choosing "Baltimore's Classic Rock" as its primary slogan. On Friday (3/19), the station moved even further from Elton John-Doobie Brothers territory, refocusing the library around a core of AC/DC, Van Halen, Ozzy, Rush, and Pink Floyd. Jacor's Gene Romano says this represents a "significant change" at the former Classic Hits outlet.

In Salt Lake City, mid-ground Classic Rocker KURR has taken a similar hard Classic stance that will hyper-target "Utah's Classic Rock" has dropped its Soft Rock/Progressive format in favor of Classic Hits, and most of the airstaff has exited.

"We're changing the whole personality of the radio station and we weren't sure they would fit the new image," GM Pat Reedy told the Salt Lake Tribune (3/20). Also out with the flip are the station's "Mountain"-like call letters. Consistent with its new '70s-based position, the station is resurrecting the KCPX calls that were synonymous with AM Top 40 during that decade.

WRFQ/Charlotte has also injected more musical testosterone, while simultaneously jettisoning Pop-friendly classic fare.

Karmazin Now Bullish On The Web

"We are totally committed to being one of the largest players in the Internet business." That's Mel Karmazin talking about his intention of turning CBS into an online heavy-weight. Karmazin envisions a separate publicly-traded enterprise called CBS.com, encompassing news, sports, financial information, e-mail, and chat. That portal would also house Infinity.com, offering streaming audio of Infinity radio stations, something Karmazin previously opposed. Speaking March 24 at the Variety/Schroders media conference, Karmazin also repeated his desire to buy rival TV network NBC, "if, in fact, we were allowed."

- Former KALC/Denver PD Greg Cassidy has been tapped to program Classic Rocker WOCT/Baltimore, effective April 5. Like OCT, Jacor Classic sisters KURR/Salt Lake City, and now WRFQ/Charlotte, have injected more musical testosterone while simultaneously jettisoning Pop-friendly Classic fare (see separate story, above)...
- WONE/Akron Creative Services Director T.K. O'Grady has been appointed Interim PD in the wake of J.D. Kunes' forthcoming exit (fmqb 3/19).

weeks, instead of waiting six, seven months for a label to put it out. A band can become like a broadcaster."

"The 'Net allows me to satisfy a creative urge by releasing songs and live stuff more often," Elvis Costello stated recently in Entertainment Weekly. "It connects me with my fans. I wish I could tour by sending a hologram. Either that or send a good-looking, young look-alike."

Tom Petty recently released (for a limited time) his new single, "Free Girl Now," via MP3.com to his fans for free, before it was available in stores. It will be the only way fans can get the song until his album, Echo, is released.

"Tom Petty is embracing the Internet to reach his fans and we are absolutely thrilled to have him aboard," stated MP3.com founder and CEO Michael Robertson. "He is the highest caliber of talent and we are proud to help him not only reach his existing fan base, but expose his music to the many hundreds of thousands of daily visitors to our site."

Many MP3 advocates maintain that musicians will be better off by maintaining control of their music and getting it directly to listeners who want to buy it. Artists who sell their music over the Web will maintain greater control over royalties than they would using a traditional record company where they have to feed enormous marketing budgets. While that sounds great, initially, the downside is an artist will have to contend with the loss of promotional power and recording advances.

"How is an artist supposed to make money to pay for a record," asked Jonathan Taplin, a former tour manager for Bob Dylan and founder of on-demand video provider, Intertainer, at a panel discussion during the Silicon Alley 99 conference. "Artists will always need money to record and promote themselves. I'm worried about a generation of kids who think music gets created for nothing, which it doesn't."

MP3 has quickly become an industry buzz, but at this point it's still an alternate delivery method for music, not an answer for replacing record labels. But, don't blink.

BUBBA THE LOVE SPONGE

before becoming the poster boy for the FCC. The one thing I don't understand about the FCC is, what is fineable and what is not. Our Commander-In-Chief can go get a head-job in The White House, but I write a song about it and I get fined for it. That's what I think is bullshit. I'm not going to continue to sit here and rip the governing body that regulates my profession, but it's very unfair. Hell, Ally McBeal recently said, "Eat me" on her show. Every medium, including radio is getting more provocative. Radio is a pay-per-view situation, you're not forced upon it. I personally think they should open the gates up even more and just let you do anything you want. In that case, watch out! I'm not honored by being the FCC's new poster boy, and it concerns the Jacor brass, and I'm trying to work with the Jacor brass to continue to refine it. These $23,000 fines are not going to stop me from doing what I do, and that's 32 year-old male mentality say-it-like-it-is stuff.

We hardly ever hear about the good things you're doing for people...

We raised 17,000 pounds of toys for the Woman's Abuse Shelter.

Of course it's a provocative way we do it: "Toys For Tits." We do it at a strip club the week of Christmas. If my listeners bring a toy, they get a free lap dance. We also got 5,000 pounds of food for that same organization for Thanksgiving. I am also spearheading the effort to erect a $110,000 Florida Highway Patrol memorial. A lot of local agencies have memorials for fallen officers, but the FHP didn't have one for their 38 fallen officers. The press never touches on these things.

Tell us about your running for Sheriff of Pinellas County, Florida in 2000...

I live in Pinellas County and I have a lot of friends who work in the Sheriff's Department who are totally pissed at the current regime. So, one day about three months ago I half-assed threw-out the possibility of me running for Sheriff and the response was just unbelievable. We've made 35,000 bumper stickers and they were gone in two weeks. In one week we registered 2,400 new voters. If anything, we've raised awareness about voting. If I win, my $110,000 salary will be donated to a charity or to the general payroll fund so that each officer can get a raise. I've already established that I can't serve until 10:30 a.m. each morning so I can continue to do my show, but after that I'd be able to serve the public.

"The Talent Puddle"

Is there a shortage of quality air talent? Can we do a better job of developing tomorrow's star personalities?

JIM RICHARDS
JACOR DIRECTOR OF SAN FRANCISCO-SAN JOSE PROGRAMMING & OPERATIONS

I've typically had struggles finding air talent who I was very comfortable with. I ended up finding them, but it wasn't an easy, quick situation. I normally didn't find those people through cassettes that they sent in through an ad or a blind box. I found them by talking/networking with other people. Some of the best hires that I've had took me much longer than I had anticipated. In the eight years that I've been a PD, I've always had trouble finding people. The people just haven't been coming from the tapes in Fed Ex packages. I've had to keep digging. A process that maybe took two-to-four weeks in the past can now stretch into three-to-four months. I can't speak for PDs who have people that don't have the potential, or for PDs who, worse yet, have the potential, but don't know how to channel that and help the talent realize their potential. The cream of the crop will continue to rise. There are very talented people out there. Another thing to consider is, as companies get better and competition gets more intense, the good talented people are going to be compensated in such a fashion that it's not in their interest to just pack-up and take any opportunity without a lot of serious thought.

JOHN COOPER, PD
WPYX/ALBANY

It may be an issue with people as to whether radio's a profession that they really have any interest in anymore. A lot of our up and coming talent has come through our local radio school, The New School Of Contemporary Radio. They'll send people over as interns and we can find candidates among these interns who might be a good fit with the radio station and bring them along. In terms of getting tapes and resumes from all over like we used to, that's slowed down to a snail's pace. One reason the part-time talent pool might be shrinking is that many stations are now voice-tracking on the weekends and they're using their full-timers to do it, therefore, we're not cultivating any future talent.

GARRY WALL
OM, WNEW-FM/NEW YORK

It's been getting harder. Our goal is to be in a position to be homegrown, but when you are in a start-up mode or turn-around mode you have to hire a lot of talent all at once. You don't have the luxury of having that system intact. That's what I've used overnights and part-time for, to groom people. To have people that develop to a point that they force you to either find a place for them in a better shift or help them to find a better job. Don't try to hire an overnight person just to fill that slot. Try to hire someone that's better than overnights but they need a shot. There's three ways to find talent: One is tapes that arrive unsolicited or those that respond to ads. Another is friends and acquaintances in the business, that's a fertile way of finding leads — asking people who they heard recently that's interesting. Constantly staying on top of those leads, not just looking for talent when you need it. And third, dumb luck. You run into somebody, or somebody falls into your lap. You meet someone on the street and you're intrigued. But rarely does that work out. We have somebody on our morning show, Sue Kolinsky, who was a stand-up comedian all her life, that's been her career for years and years, and now she's doing her first radio thing and she sounds awesome.

Developing talent has to be looked at realistically, otherwise, we'll just have 15 or 20 jocks around the country doing shifts for everybody. If a personality is going to be put on Prophet and do four shifts a day, then you are basically saying you don't care about a farm team of talent. In the long run, it is going to catch up with us. One way to build talent is to hire interns for every daypart. Give them production jobs, make them producers, and slowly let them on the air on a response level. Encourage your jock to talk to the intern and have the intern talk back. Put the intern around the jock so that they will learn how to run an airshift. When they are ready, give them an overnight or weekend job. A real key is to work with talent and try to coach them on how to be more entertaining. Ask them questions about what they are trying to accomplish and where the humor is.

Smaller markets shouldn't be so hasty to use automation. Give someone that has prospective talent a shot at overnights or on the weekend. This way, if you lose someone, there is a replacement in the wings. That is what it comes down to. You have to build from the inside or there won't be anything there for you in the future.

It's never easy finding truly great talent. There's a shortage of human beings in any line of work who possess the innate, unique ability to communicate in an expressive and colorful manner. Passion for one-on-one communication in general has decreased, making it harder to find the next generation of stellar broadcasters. Future broadcasters watch the movie Private Parts and dream of becoming the next Howard Stern. But they want to do it their way - like Howard did.

They don't want to have rules, or be monitored. Only someone with the true skills like Howard has can re-write the playbook for success as a communicator.

Consolidation certainly plays a large role in nurturing talent to a further level. Large broadcast groups offer the opportunity to develop your own sort of "farm system." Jocks can start in smaller markets and work their way through the chain to the majors. I'd rather advance someone within our company whenever the opportunity comes up. And this kind of system has worked well for us so far.

Country format. Live delivery of the show to any time zone is now available via the Audio Wizard for Windows system. Look for The Big Show to announce their first Country affiliate within the next two weeks... The debut of Mancow TV has been delayed until April 13. It was originally scheduled to begin airing on Chicago's WCIU-TV on March 30... Look for Classic Rock KUFJ/San Jose morning man/musician/writer Greg Kihn to host a daily Classic Rock program syndicated through MSS Inc... WMAD/Madison ups evening host/Imaging Director Zak Rogers to morning co-host, opposite Wendy Allen. The station also elevates part-timer Josh Quinn to evenings. Amabile, who is also named MD, has logged time at WHTG/Asbury Park and WYSP/Philadelphia. Mooney, a holdover from the station's old morning show, is a former Miss New Jersey runner-up. The station changes positioning statements from "Music For The New Millenium" to "The Rock Alternative. You can listen to WJSE online via Real Audio at wjse.com... Industry vet Jerry Rubino joins CD Radio as programmer for their Rock division. Rubino has been an air personality and specialty show host at WLIR/Long Island and Z100/New York.

Management:

- CBS has decided to discontinue offering its employees a pension plan and will instead offer annual stock options... Westwood One VP/Programming 24-Hour Formats Charlie Cook adds GM duties at the company's Valencia office... XM Satellite Radio has promoted Kelly Baker from Director to Vice President of Corporate Finance & Business Analysis.

Technology:

- Lucent Digital Radio has announced an agreement to test its In-Band On-Channel Digital Audio Broadcast (IBOC-DAB) system with New Jersey-based Nassau Broadcasting Partners. These are the first commercial radio tests to allow Lucent to evaluate its multi-streaming technology.

- Emmis Modern Rock WKQK (Q101)/Chicago says that they welcome an investigation from the FCC regarding allegations of payola. "We are confident about the legality of our [sales] program," Q101 VP/GM Chuck Hillier told the Chicago Sun Times (3/19). "If it takes an investigation by Congress or by the FCC to demonstrate that Q101 has done nothing wrong, I would welcome it." Q101's comments are in response to a series of Los Angeles Times articles suggesting that Emmis and other companies may have skirted payola laws (fmqb 3/19).

- Responding to petitions filed by Lucent Digital Radio and the NAB, the FCC has extended the deadline for comments on Low Power FM (LPFM) to June 1. The reply comment deadline has also been pushed back — it's now July 1. Both new deadlines fall short of longer extensions Lucent and the NAB had hoped for. But in its push to clear the LPFM bill, the FCC feels the time allotted to run tests is ample enough to determine the impact the controversial new service would have on existing stations.

- The New York Daily News (3/23) is rumoring that 30+ year Heritage Rocker WNEW may go Talk. Station officials are not commenting on the rumor... Adult Contemporary KQST/Flagstaff has evolved to Modern AC, using the moniker "Today's Music — The All New Q 102.9"... KDRE/Little Rock discontinues their simulcast of Modern Rock KHUG for Adult Standards... WVMJ/Blacksburg has dropped Oldies in favor of Classic Rock. The station is now known as "105.3 The Bear."

• The Revolution is over for Gary Poole. He plans to exit his national Rock promotion post at the label on May 1. Former A&M VP/Rock Promotion Mark Tindle is finalizing a deal to join Revolution in a senior promotion capacity.

Mark Tindle

• Mid-week, strong rumors persisted about MCA Records Sr. VP Nancy Levin's resignation from the label. Apparently the label informed their personnel that despite the rumors, Nancy remains a valued member the MCA Records staff. Stay tuned... Former Priority Records/Interscope/Columbia executive Marc Benesch has been tapped as Sr. VP at TVT Records... Congrats to the engaging and very successful Head honcho of Reprise Records, Howie Klein, who re-ups with the HOT label for four more years... Derek Shulman and Roadrunner Records has found their Head Of Promotion. Said party is presently in the process of getting out of his current deal, which should cause movement inside his New York based label... It looks like the pending blending of Sire Records and Roger Ames' London Records (fmqb, 3/12), is going to take place soon. The merger should occur with no staff reductions. Could London's Bill Carroll play a large role in the new structure's promo department?... It looks like the Gary Gersh/John Silva/Michael Ovitz deal is done. Lots of interest on the distribution front. Could Phil Costello be far behind?... Capitol's Burt Baumgartner is inching closer to announcing his new Head of Alternative & Rock Promotion... Island President of Black Music Hiram Hicks exits the label. Look for new Island/Mercury/Def Jam co-President Lyor Cohen to assume this role within the new label structure... Expect a big announcement soon regarding future plans from Peter Napoliello... Warner Bros. President Phil Quartararo will be this year's Spirit Of Life award honoree given by the music and entertainment fund-raising group City Of Hope... Sony will begin distributing music through Japanese direct-to-home satellite broadcasting company SkyPerfectTV next month. Subscribers to the satellite service will be able to purchase songs through their set-top boxes, costing less than purchasing the same music on disc... EMI Music Distribution (EMD) has begun to completely integrate its manufacturing and distribution operations. The newly renamed division will be called: Customer Fulfillment Operations.

What Has Your Web Page Done For Me Today?

Radio's On-Line Opportunity

Recently Arbitron and Edison released Internet Study II - 1999: Radio and E-commerce. The key findings are quite a wake-up call for radio stations and how they use the Web.

With one-half of Americans online, the opportunity to expand a station's base is only getting bigger. With the amazing leap in online listening, there are a myriad of opportunities for radio, from At-Work listening to whole new online ventures.

As little as a year ago, the Internet was, for most stations, just a way to increase "hip factor" and possibly generate additional revenue. With online usage doubling at an amazing rate, personal computers dropping below $500, cable modems, and publicity generated by amazing stock prices, the Internet has worked its way into the mainstream. The sales figures for online retail during the last holiday season are impressive, and now that online advertising has passed the $1 billion mark (and is expected to double this year), it's clear that the Web is a force to be reckoned with.

Get On Board Or Miss Out

It's a unique time when you can literally watch the growth of a new medium weekly. While no lines have been drawn in the sand, it's safe to say the Internet is exploding - with or without you. It's time to come up with a solid strategy for your station, cluster, and company as a whole for how you want to approach this opportunity.

To that end, here are a number of points from the Arbitron-Edison study that need to be dealt with quickly, and some thoughts we've developed over the last few years watching, and working, with the Web:

- Most online Americans are aware that radio stations have Web sites, so better content and increased promotion should drive-up Web site visits.

- Music eCommerce represents a huge opportunity for radio.

- The proportion of those online that have listened to radio stations over the Internet has jumped from 18 percent to 27 percent.

- Most station Web sites do not provide the type of information desired by listeners. Information drives Internet usage.

- Many consumers do not yet perceive radio station Web sites as credible places to make purchases.

At this point, not having a strong Internet presence is a liability. If you don't have a good Web site for your station at this point, people are noticing - and not in a good way!

Internet Strategies

The most common strategies in Web site development for radio have been:

- 1) Augmenting the station's programming product off-air.
- 2) Built-in advertising/marketing tool.
- 3) A source of non-traditional revenue.

These seem to be solid goals, but how successful are most stations at reaching them? Most importantly, how do they meet the users' expectations for your station's Web site?

The Arbitron-Edison study revealed a serious shortcoming on radio's part to successfully target and keep its users visiting their Web page.

Information Is Critical

A good test is to look at your Web site and see which elements are most prominent - and which are missing. Does your front page have little, if any, information on the music being played - yet a big, bold link on e-mailing the jocks? Do you have a picture of your newscaster, but no information on what times movies are showing or where/how to buy the CD playing on the air right now?

Consider this in terms of an image pyramid - where you identify the most crucial elements and make certain they are the foundation, then let the other "flavor" elements take up a smaller and smaller percentage of the station - creating the point of the pyramid.

This same approach can be applied to your Web site - how much of the base of your pyramid are you filling with what users want - Information? Information must be the base, or you will not develop and keep an audience.

Let Your Imagination Guide You

When it comes to the Web, if you can think of it, someone can make it happen.

Who that someone is varies, but don't let technical inability hold you back. You don't have to know how it works - just that it can be done and does work. Be sure you have a resource to let you know how realistic your goals are - and how much it might cost to implement them. If you're using a computer in the basement with an intern who scans pictures of jocks and responds to E-mail, you have a long way to go.

Almost every market has a good Web-hosting company that you can work with. Choose carefully and evaluate what they have to offer - they may not even be local. Just because they will "build and host your page on trade" doesn't make them right for you. These people are part of your team and should be selected as carefully as you would any employee, not just because they are "free." Web sites on trade with the lowest bidder can be a huge mistake in your long-term strategy.

A lack of staff with the skills and ability to develop and maintain a Web site is perhaps the biggest general issue facing radio's entry into the online arena.

ENTERTAIN!

The creation of portals that not only inform but also entertain and touch the lifestyle of your listeners is what you have to create in order to:

- a) Get visits/interest in your site
- b) Get repeat visits
- c) Get longer visits to your site.

This equation is very reminiscent of radio's Cume and TSL. An understanding of the Cume/TSL relationship is yet another strength radio has over other online outlets.

Think of your Web page as a portal to entertainment locally: clubs, concerts, record stores (or your own online record store!), movie times, places to eat (with reviews from your own staff or a local paper), video rentals (what's in stock, what's out this week), etc.

It's not only about what's on, but what's going on.

More Than A Brand Extension - A New Brand!

Your Web site should be far more than a brand extension of your station. It has its own value that should not be sold short. The people visiting your Web site have value - they are not "freebies." Revenue opportunities abound, as do ways to grow your market share and brand image.

The key to the whole equation: He who controls the ears, controls the eyes; and he who controls the eyes controls the Internet. You have a built in cume - use it! It's an advantage that exclusively online outlets do not have.

This study should be viewed as a wake-up call for radio. There is still time to dive in and embrace the Internet and make your mark.

It can either be a competitor or a collaborator - it's your choice.

AUSTIN CITY LIMITS: It was a meeting of the facial hair club for men as Universal's Howard Leon (L) and fmqb's Mike Boyle (R) chatted up KLBJ/Austin OM Jeff Carrol (center) on his home turf while at last week's SXSW and KLBJ's Schmoozefest.

R.E.M. And a Rotating Cast of Openers Get Set For North American Tour

R.E.M.

The August 9 kick-off date of R.E.M.'s North American tour may seem like a world away, but tickets go on sale for eight shows this weekend. The band has also announced opening acts for the tour, along with ticket sale dates for the remaining shows. Mercury Rev open from August 8-17, with Wilco joining for the 17th show and remaining through the 27th. For their three-night stand in Atlanta, R.E.M. will use a different opening act each night. Elf Power do the honors on the 29th, and psychedelic Popsters Olivia Tremor Control get the gig on the 31st (both bands are part of the Elephant 6 collective of musicians in R.E.M.'s hometown of Athens). Wilco return for the 30th show. Spacehog open the tour's final five shows, September 4-11. No opening act has been set for the band's appearance at Seattle's Bumbershoot Festival on September 2. The band just wrapped-up a three-week promotional jaunt in Europe, which consisted primarily of television appearances. Here's a re-cap of the North American tour dates, with sale dates for each: 8/9-10, Los Angeles - on sale 3/28; 8/11, Irvine - on sale 3/28; 8/13, Denver - on sale 3/27; 8/17, San Antonio - on sale 4/10; 8/19, St. Louis - on sale 4/9; 8/20, Chicago - on sale now; 8/23, Detroit - on sale 4/3; 8/24, Toronto - on sale 3/27; 8/25, Cleveland - on sale 4/10; 8/27, Raleigh - on sale 3/26; 8/29-31, Atlanta - on sale 3/27; 9/2, Seattle - on sale 4/9; 9/4, Wantagh - on sale 4/10; 9/5, Camden - on sale 4/10; 9/6, Holmdel - on sale 4/10; 9/10, Columbia - on sale 3/27; 9/11, Boston - on sale 4/3.

STP Return To The Stage In L.A.

In front of a jam-packed, star-studded crowd at L.A.'s Viper Room last Tuesday (16) night, Stone Temple Pilots performed their first show in over two years. Rather than premier the new material they've been working on, they loaded their 80-minute set with hits and album cuts like "Crackerman," "Interstate Love Song," "Big Bang Baby," "Unglued," and "Plush." One new track, "Down," did crop up mid-set. Troubled lead singer Scott Weiland was reportedly very animated and jovial, and showed a sense of humor by donning an NYPD knit hat. By the time you read this, STP should already be in an L.A. studio with producer Brendan O'Brien recording their fourth album. The band are eyeing a late-July, early-August release date. It's worth noting that the album's release date would coincide with the kick-off date of Lollapalooza (should their be one this summer), a tour STP's name has been linked with. We'll keep you posted.

Stone Temple Pilots

Springsteen Says Greetings To Asbury Park

For two nights last week (18 & 19), the reunited Bruce Springsteen & The E Street Band went back in time at Asbury Park's Convention Hall. The two benefit shows (dubbed "rehearsal shows"), sold out in a matter of minutes, and clocked in at about two-and-a-half hours each. Bruce and company tore through a healthy dose of their back catalogue, serving up vintage tracks like "Prove It All Night," "Badlands," "The River," "She's The One," "The Promised Land," "Thunder Road," and "Born To Run." The encore on both nights included the brand new track, "Land Of Hopes And Dreams," and on the second night, Bruce performed a solo acoustic version

The Hole Is Filled

Marilyn Manson wasted no time adding a third band to the bill following the departure of Hole. Manson cronies Jack Off Jill join the tour for four dates, with sleaze rockers Nashville Pussy taking over for the remainder of the tour on April 2. The last time Manson and JOJ toured together in 1994, Manson got arrested for breaking the adult entertainment code and JOJ singer Jessicka was locked up for prostitution. The pair spent more than 24 hours in a Jacksonville, Florida jail. We'll see what happens this time out. JOJ's dates are: 3/25, New Orleans; 3/27, Tampa; 3/29, Orlando; 3/30, Ft. Lauderdale. As for Nashville Pussy, they plan on entering a Seattle studio once the tour wraps-up to work on the follow-up to their major-label debut, Let Them Eat Pussy. Concert-goers don't seem to be lamenting the departure of Courtney Love and company too much. Refunds are being offered to ticket holders but very few were requested for shows in Houston and San Antonio. None were requested for a show in Dallas.

of "The Promise," a bootleggers fave. Word is that the U.S. leg of the band's world tour will kick-off on the east coast in mid-July. Nothing is confirmed yet, but rumor has it multiple nights are already booked in Philadelphia and East Rutherford, where New Year's Eve is also reportedly set aside for The Boss.

Rumor has it that Metallica are penning two new tracks specifically for their upcoming collaboration with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, April 21 and 22 at the Berkeley Community Theater. The band are also slated to play both the European (July 16-18) and American (July 23-25) versions of Woodstock '99, though nothing is written in stone. Check out Daily Insider for more on the band's Y2K show with Ted Nugent.

Nine Inch Nails braintrust Trent Reznor must've been hard up for some Chronic. Why else would he have been hangin' with Dr. Dre in L.A. last week? Maybe the two were working on a project together? We'll keep you posted.

The Dave Matthews Band has added a week of shows in June, and a second stadium show in Philadelphia, to their upcoming tour. The band added a show at Philly's Vet Stadium on May 21, after the May 20 date sold-out last weekend. Santana and The Roots will open the shows. The shows for June are all shed dates: 6/3-4, Pittsburgh; 6/5, Virginia Beach; 6/8, Antioch; 6/11, St. Louis; 6/12, Bonner Springs.

Megadeth are speeding right along with work on their next LP, which should hit stores sometime this summer. The band entered a Nashville studio three days after their New Year's Eve gig with Black Sabbath, and have 13 tracks ready to go. They have been working with producer Dan Huff, who worked with them on their last album, Cryptic Writings. The album's first single could appear as early as June, and a tour is possible for August.

That little 'ol band from Texas, ZZ Top, are holed up in a studio in their hometown of Houston, recording their 13th album. Look for the new album before year's end, and expect a tour to follow.

A piece of Rock memorabilia with a hefty price tag just went on the market: Kurt Cobain's childhood home. For the first time since the Cobain family owned it, the house on 406 West Scott St. in Aberdeen, Washington is for sale for $82,500. The house is currently owned by Karen Powers, who has remodeled it. If you're looking to move to Aberdeen, or have $82,500 burning a hole in your pocket, contact Michael Svardh with Windermere Real Estate at: (360) 598-5260, or e-mail him at advisor@windermere.com.

U2 and Bruce Springsteen have both pulled out of the April 6 Johnny Cash tribute at New York's Hammerstein Ballroom due to scheduling conflicts. Both are expected to send videotaped tributes. Sheryl Crow has been added to the line-up which also includes Chris Isaak, Willie Nelson, Wyclef Jean, June Carter Cash, and Dave Matthews. The Mavericks will serve as the house band for most of the evening. The show will be filmed, airing on TNT April 18.

Due to former Grateful Dead bassist Phil Lesh's ailing health (he underwent liver surgery three months ago), the Further Festival will be taking the summer off. Lesh is currently recovering, and will play in the Phil And Friends show in San Francisco in mid-April. A host of Dead cronies will be on hand for the show, with Phish rumored to be turning up as well. The Further Festival has been a staple on the summer tour circuit for the past three years, and has featured post-Dead acts like The Other Ones, Mickey Hart's Planet Drum, and Bob Weir's Ratdog. Weir is still writing songs for Ratdog's debut LP.

FROM l o n d o n

The latest names to be added to the Big Day Out at Milton Keynes Bowl on July 10 are Ben Harper and the Innocent Criminals, Sepultura, Creed and Symposium. One more name will be added to the bill, which will be topped by Metallica.

The track chosen to follow Blondie's spectacular U.K. #1 comeback single "Maria" is "Nothing Is Real But The Girl." It's out on May 17 from their gold-selling No Exit album. Meanwhile, not content with their recently-announced British arena dates for June, the band have confirmed their second set of arena shows for November. The seven new shows are at Wembley (7), Cardiff (9), Bournemouth (10), London Arena (13), Brighton (14), Newcastle (16), and Sheffield (25). Worldwide sales of No Exit are put at one million copies by their U.K. label, RCA.

Elvis Costello has announced a small run of U.K. dates, his first solo outings since his project with Burt Bacharach. The shows start at Liverpool Royal Court Theatre on April 14, with a Royal Albert Hall date on the 15th and shows in Birmingham, Manchester and Glasgow. "Toledo," from the Costello/Bacharach album Painted From Memory, will be out as a single to coincide; "I Still Have That Other Girl" from the album recently won a Grammy for Best Pop Collaboration with Vocals.

The camaraderie between Echo And The Bunnymen and Fun Lovin' Criminals is reaching new levels. It started with a "Huey and Mac" duet cover of Frank Sinatra's "Summer Wind" for BBC2's Later, blossomed into two tracks on the Bunnymen's upcoming album What Are You Going To Do With Your Life, and now we hear the two bands will set off later in the year on a doubtless very well-behaved trip to either Cuba or Acapulco to record an entire album together.

XTC are continuing plans for a swift follow-up to Apple Venus Vol.1, released to great critical acclaim last month. The album is said to be written and demo'd already, with such titles as You And The Clouds Will Still Be Beautiful, The Wheel And The Maypole and "Stupidly Happy" up for inclusion.

Chef, aka Isaac Hayes, will follow his U.K. chart-topper "Chocolate Salty Balls" on May 10 with "Simultaneous." Previously unreleased South Park material will be included on the single.

Ocean Colour Scene will have their new album out in July. Still untitled, it's being produced by Brendan Lynch and Max Hayes and features at least a couple of guest appearances. Paul Weller features on "No One At All" and Brian Travers of UB40 plays sax on two songs. Steve Cradock of OCS is also involved on the long-projected tribute album to The Jam, playing on a version of "Carnation" with vocals by Liam Gallagher of Oasis.

Marc Almond, now departed from the Echo label and signed to his own Blue Star label, releases the album, Open All Night, on March 29, with the limited edition single "Tragedy (Take A Look And See)" a week earlier. Siouxsie sings on "Threat Of Love" and Kelly Ally, formerly with Sneaker Pimps, on "Almost Diamonds." An anthology of Almond's poems, A Beautiful Twisted Night, is published by Ellipsis next month, and his autobiography, Tainted Life, in the autumn by MacMillans. Marc's voice has been heard on TV recently, narrating the BBC music series about hit acts of the '80s, Young Guns.

Fish, now signed to Roadrunner, releases the single "Incomplete" on April 5, co-written with Elizabeth Antwi who also sings on it. His album, Rain Gods With Zippo, follows on April 19.

Swedish band the Wannadies, best known for their 1996 Top 20 hit "You And Me Song," return on May 10 with the album Catalogue. They're currently working on it at Electric Lady Studios in New York with former Cars frontman Ric Ocasek. Their fellow countrymen, Kent, will have their "If You Were Here" single reissued on May 17, and also returning on RCA in May are Olive, of "You're Not Alone" fame. Their single, "Love Affair," is scheduled for May 24.

'60s survivors the Pretty Things, now alive and kicking again in their 1966 line-up and revitalised by last year's live at Abbey Road performance of "S.F.Sorrow," have their first studio album in 20 years released on March 29. Rage...Before Beauty is on Snapper Music and features guest appearances by Dave Gilmour of Pink Floyd, Ronnie Spector and the Bach Chorale.

B*Witched carved a particular place in chart history this week, becoming the first act ever to debut at #1 with their first four singles. "Blame It On The Weatherman" did the trick, replacing Boyzone at the top, with Robbie Williams' "Strong" next to arrive at four. Kele Le Roc's "My Love" came in at eight, and there was an unlikely reappearance in the Top 10 for Andy Williams, whose "Music To Watch Girls By," currently featured in a TV ad campaign for Fiat cars, appeared at nine. Williams, now 70, has not been in the U.K. charts at all since March 1976, when "The Other Side Of Me" got to #42, and his last Top 10 hit was "Solitaire" in 1973. "Music To Watch Girls By" only reached #33 here in 1967. Also new on this week's chart were Underworld's "Push Upstairs" at 12, "Killin' Time" by Tina Cousins at 15, "See The Star" by Delirious? at 16 and Spacedust's "Let's Get Down," the follow-up to their chart-topping "Gym and Tonic," at 20. Blur's 13 debuted at #1 on the album chart.

Here, There And Everywhere - A Concert For Linda is the name of a tribute performance dedicated to the late Linda McCartney to be held on April 10 at London's Royal Albert Hall. The shows are being put together by long-time family friend and animal rights activist Chrissie Hynde. Portions of the proceeds from the show will be channeled to a number of Linda McCartney's favorite animal rights charities. All 4,000 tickets for the show sold-out within one hour of going on sale last week.

Armed with an acoustic guitar and a voice of an angel, Heart's Nancy Wilson descended upon Philadelphia's TLA Theater for a magical solo performance on Saturday, March 20. Touring in support of her sublime Live At McCabe's Guitar Shop debut solo CD, Nancy proved her salt as an engaging performer and magnificent guitarist. Alongside sparkling covers of Joni Mitchell's "Case Of You," "Kathy's Song" by Paul Simon, a revelatory reading of Peter Gabriel's "In Your Eyes," and "Seasons" by Elton John, came a flurry of deeply moving and reflective new material including several tracks not represented on her new CD, the elegiac ballad "Blue Northern Night" and "For Us." Introducing another affecting new song written about a downtrodden friend, "The Dragon," with the joke, "I came to Seattle for some drugs and all I got was a f#*king record deal," Wilson enraptured the SRO crowd with a dark portrait of a life in despair. Wilson also performed several Heart songs, the number one hit "These Dreams," a bluesy rendition of "Even It Up," and "Angels," a song written about the death of John Lennon. Wilson also electrified the audience with her acoustic guitar

Metallica & Nuge Team Up For Y2K

Metallica and Ted Nugent confirmed details of their New Year's Eve concert in Detroit during a press conference last week. Tickets won't go on sale until October 23. Jason Newsted and Nugent are both from Michigan. Newsted said the show has a lot of sentimental value for him. "I'm very proud to be playing the biggest place in my home state on the biggest day of the century," he said. A surprise opening act or acts will be announced soon.

Everclear, Club, Ball Players To Pay Injured Fan

Everclear has agreed to pay $125,000 to a Boston woman who was injured in a melee at one of their concerts. Twenty-four-year-old Tameeka Messier was at Boston's Paradise for a 1997 Everclear show when Drew Bledsoe and Max Lane of the New England Patriots took a dive from the club's stage and landed on her. Messier said Everclear's Art Alexakis invited the men onstage and then urged them to jump into the crowd.

Messier had to have surgery on her neck and additional operations to fuse her spinal column, using pieces of her hip bone. She settled for $1.25 million.

According to the Boston Globe, in addition to Everclear's $125,000, the club is putting up $125,000 and each of the players will pay $500,000.

Sex Site Now Offering Limp Keith Richards

Considering the life he has led, it's not surprising that Keith Richards might have difficulty getting an erection sometimes. Now clublove.com, which posted pictures of Pamela Anderson Lee and Dr. Laura Schlessinger in the nude, has put up pictures of the Rolling Stones guitarist at the beach — and offered him a lifetime supply of Viagra. Headlined The Rock Star Prick That Won't Work, the story boasts "Rock star legend caught in embarrassing jack-off pics." The copy begins, "The Rolling Stones cover of Blues Classic 'Little Red Rooster' was one of their earliest hits in the U.S., but Clublove's exclusive Keith Richards nude beach pics might be more aptly titled 'Little Dead Rooster.'" It goes on to say,

"Richards' stoned gaze as he contemplates the lifeless manhood pinched between his fingers might serve as the ideal photo for a public service announcement titled 'Your Penis On Drugs.'" It's not known when Richards posed for the photos.

Petty Ends Fillmore Run; Tapes PBS Special

Tom Petty And The Heartbreakers finished their shows at the Fillmore in San Francisco on March 16. Petty told the final audience, "It's amazing to be the house band at the Fillmore for seven shows." The last show was taped for a PBS Special and featured opening act Bo Diddley on two songs including his "Mona." Diddley also joined the Heartbreakers at the previous show he opened. Petty's two-and-a-half-to-three-hour shows each night featured a variety of covers including "The Letter," "Telstar," and "Gloria" as well as his own material, of course. Rick Rubin, Brian May, Steve Miller, Tom Waits, Bonnie Raitt, and Courtney Love all saw the show.

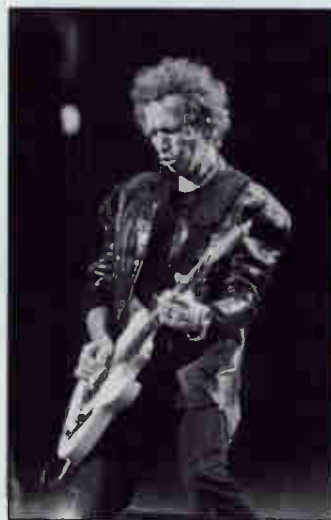

Eagles Might Fly Again To Ring in 2000

Those who suffered sticker shock on The Eagles' Hell Freezes Over tour should probably stay away from Los Angeles' new 20,000 capacity Staples Center on New Year's Eve. According to Daily Variety, talks are underway for The Eagles to cap-off the Center's three-month grand opening celebration with a concert where top ticket prices would be $1,500. That would amount to a $10 million payday for The Eagles. On the Hell Freezes Over tour, some radio stations tried to launch boycotts of the shows or stage counter events because of The Eagles' high ticket prices, but they all failed.

showcase, "Silver Wheels," an instrument that precedes the band's hit "Crazy For You." She got so carried away in the moment that upon the song's conclusion, she unleashed a thrilling shoulder high kick, a trademark of Heart's live show. Wilson also revealed she will be embarking on a tour this summer with her sister Ann. Not a Heart show, the performance will include only Ann and Nancy and will showcase new renditions of Heart classics and album tracks and a healthy dose of intriguing cover songs.

During his duration as drummer with KISS (1980-1991), drummer Eric Carr electrified audiences with his thunderous, John Bonham-styled drumming. Carr sadly passed away in November 1991, yet a project he was working on is finally being released. An accomplished singer, songwriter and multi-instrumentalist, throughout the '80s Carr was finalizing plans for an animated series, The Rockheads, based on four cartoon Rock musicians: Punky, Slider, Scruffy and Clive. Just issued via Rockhard Records is The Rockheads soundtrack EP, a limited edition of 5,000 copies worldwide. Comprising four tracks — "Too Cool For School" (Carr sounds like a younger Gene Simmons), the beautiful ballad "Tiara," "Can You Feel It?" and "Nasty Boys" — Carr co-wrote the songs with fellow KISS guitarist Bruce Kulick and songwriter Adam Mitchell. Sounding similar to KISS' music in the '80s, these tracks are blessed with poppier, more accessible melodies. The CD can be ordered for $14.49 (shipping included) payable to Streetgang Production, Box 56643, Sherman Oaks, CA, 91413. A portion of the proceeds will be earmarked to charity... In other KISS developments, the soundtrack album for the band's forthcoming film, Detroit Rock City, is set for release on August 13. It will include a new studio track, "Nothing Can Keep Me From You," written by Paul Stanley and Diane Warren, a newly-recorded live rendition of the title track, plus old faves "Calling Dr. Love" and "Should It Out Loud." Additionally, music by other '70s acts will be represented.

Double Beck Leads To Guitarist's Album Title

Two famous musicians with the same name can lead to some confusion and that confusion, says Jeff Beck, is what inspired him to call his latest album Who Else. "Whenever I thought of Beck, I always thought the name was synonymous with me and the guitar," he explains. "I was unable to use that for my album title, which is what it was going to be called. I said, 'Who the F else do you think it is when you listen?,' and that's how I got the title, but we left the middle bit out." Beck U.K. did buy an album by Beck L.A. "I realized it had nothing to do with me at all," admits Jeff. "I had people ringing me up saying, 'I don't think much of your new album. You can't sing. I thought you were never going to sing again.'" Beck U.K. says he replied, "Pal, I hate to tell you, but you're listening to someone else." Beck doesn't list Beck among his current favorites. Instead, he says the Prodigy, Roni Size and the Chemical Brothers inspired the electronica parts of Who Else. "I think," explained Beck, "that given the current safety of Pop filled with all these middle-of-the-road lady songstylists, we need some danger." Who Else is only Beck's third album of the decade. The others were a movie soundtrack and a tribute to Gene Vincent. Beck developed a ringing in his ears in 1991, but he says therapy has helped the problem.

H Stands For Hassle When Local H Plays Vermont

Local H faced a fate worse than arrest and paying a fine the week-end of March 13 when the promoter of a concert at a ski resort in Vermont told them he stopped payment on their check and refused to honor their free ski passes which had been part of the deal. It all happened because of Local H's song "High Fiving MF" from their As Good As Dead album. The song uses not the initials MF but the full unmentionable at least 10 times and Vermont has a law against using profanity during outdoor concerts or sporting activities. The promoter from Rutland, Vermont phoned officials at the next tour stop to warn them but they didn't stop there. They told Local H they wouldn't be paid and that police would call all future stops to alert authorities about what had happened in Rutland. Local H knew nothing of the ordinance. Scott Lucas of Local H said he thinks people are worried about the wrong things. "If the kids are having a good time, why not just let them alone?" he said. "Whenever there's tight-ass adults around, there seem to be problems."

No Concert But Guns N' Roses Fan Does $5,000 Damage

It's always comforting for artists to know they've still got at least one fan. Police in Concord, California arrested a 23-year-old man recently after he did $5,000 in damage to the Concord Pavilion trying to get in to play with Guns N' Roses. Security guards said when the man arrived around 9:00 p.m., he told them he wanted to jam with the band. When they told him the Pavilion was closed and Guns N' Roses weren't playing, he rammed the gate with his car and drove to the backstage area where he was arrested. The man was ready to jam. He had an electric bass and a pair of drumsticks with him.

4 Fleadhs Set For June

The Guinness Fleadh will expand to four cities in the U.S. this summer. Festival marketing and the Mean Fiddler Organization made the timely announcement on the eve of St. Patrick's Day. Now in its third year, the festival will play Boston in addition to returning to New York, Chicago, and San Francisco where it played last year. All the dates will be in June. The festival features a mix of Celtic and mainstream artists on three main music stages as well as performances of Irish poetry, theater, traditional music and dance on the intimate Irish Village stage.

QUIE A STUNT, INDEED: On the strength of singles like "One Week," "It's All Been Done" and their latest, "Alcohol," those zany Canucks in Barenaked Ladies have sold three million copies of their Stunt LP. The Ladies recently hooked-up with some Reprise staffers at the Burbank headquarters to take this picture. (L-R): BNL's Ed Robertson and Kevin Hearn; Warner Bros. Board Chairman and CEO, Russ Thyret; BNL's Jim Creggan; Reprise President, Howie Klein; Warner Bros. President, Phil Quartararo; Reprise Marketing Manager, Eric Fritschi; BNL's Steven Page and Tyler Stewart.

Dates, venues and an initial list of performers for the 1999 Fleadh will be announced shortly.

Skunk Anansie Pre-Orgasmic Chill

Britain's Skunk Anansie will do a brief U.S. tour with Rammstein in June before releasing their latest album, Post Orgasmic Chill, in August. The album was produced by Andy Wallace, known for his work with Nirvana and Jeff Buckley.

The Kinks Re-Issues Continue

Five more expanded classic albums by The Kinks will be released April 27. The albums are from The Kinks prolific and successful 1979 to 1984 period when they recorded for Arista Records. The albums are Low Budget, One For The Road, Give The People What They Want, State Of Confusion, and Word Of Mouth.

The Go-Go's Go Home

The reunited Go-Go's will play a hometown show July 8 at the Greek Theater in Los Angeles.

Charles Manson Loses Guitar In Prison Attack

Bad news for music lovers everywhere including Axl Rose, who once claimed to have recorded his music for a Guns N' Roses album. Charles Manson's guitar was smashed to smithereens recently during an attack at Corcoran State Prison in California. Manson and prison officials have clashed over the acoustic guitar in the past. Guards have confiscated it because Manson used it to record music that was then smuggled outside and sold. Manson had only had the guitar back for a few weeks when inmates from the prison's security housing unit got out of their exercise yard through an unlocked door and invaded the yard belonging to the most protected inmates who include Manson because of his notoriety. In his haste to get away from the attackers, Manson left behind his guitar.

Macca's Back On Top

Paul McCartney's 25th anniversary edition of Band On The Run has entered the Billboard Album Catalogue Chart at No. 1.

N'degeocello On Tap For Cuba

Me'shell N'degeocello was a late addition to the Music Bridges Around The World songwriters conference in Cuba this week. She has titled her new album Bitter. It will be released this summer by Maverick Records.

letters to the editor

Your in-depth report on the impending impact of satellite and Internet audio is excellent. If it doesn't wake up the non-believers, I don't know what will.

Interestingly, McVay Media has addressed many of these issues over the last several months, urging our clients to take steps now to reduce the impact and take advantage of the Web technology.

I read your article on male under-sampling in this week's fmqb. In the fall, DC Arbitron, 18-24 males indexed at only 72. Add to that the ethnic index was over 100.

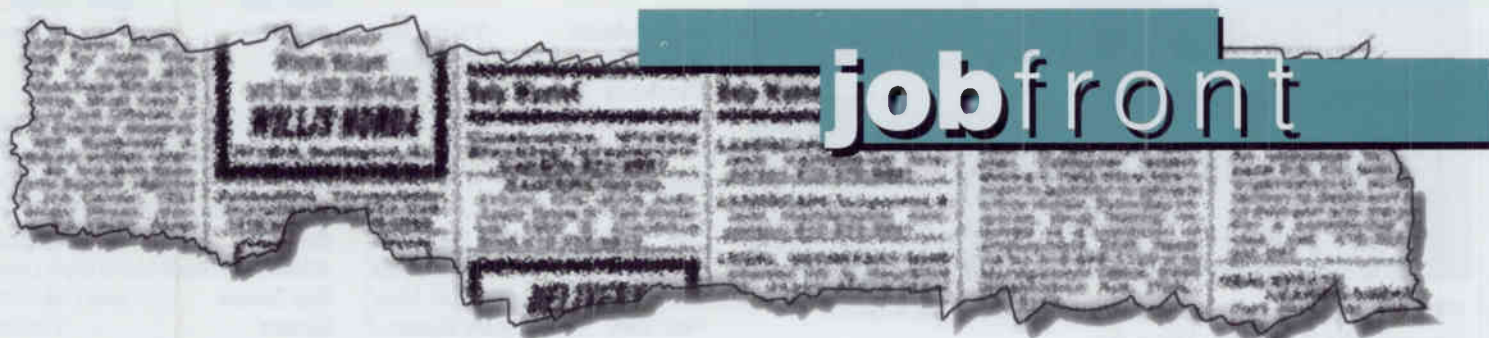

Get the picture?...Arbitron continues to do nothing to fix this. They seem to have been able to fix the ethnic undersampling with added incentives and flashy-looking diaries. I guess this is too much to ask of them for the hundreds of millions of dollars radio pours into their operation. We continue to get substandard service and are rated using methodology that is to say the least, antediluvian.

WRIF PD Doug Podell, Metallica's Jason Newsted and Ted Nugent Announce The Show Of The Millennium.

The Doc of Rock, Doug Podell, hosted the press conference on Friday (3/19) which featured Terrible Ted and Metallica's Jason Newsted. "It's an honor for WRIF to present what will be the biggest Rock show to ring in the next century," Podell commented. "This show has a lot of sentimental value to me. I'm very proud to be playing the biggest place in my home state on the biggest day of the century," Newsted said. "It's an honor to be on the same stage as Ted Nugent, who was one of my heroes growing up as a musician in the '70s." The Nuge added, "For those who believe that the year 2000 is the beginning of an era, not the end of the world, what better way to celebrate than with Metallica, the 'Defiant One' and his buffalo!"... Before Metallica plays the big year end show they've got a couple of dates with the San Francisco Orchestra. WCKW/New Orleans has listeners playing Metallica Symphonica. Grand prize hopefuls call in to play at the designated times where the jock don't get it the same song clip is played the next hour, giving another listener a chance at winning. Meanwhile, WXTM/St. Louis is promising to expose their listeners to the finer things in life such as a trip to San Francisco to see the SF Symphony. They're taking qualifiers and giving them Classical CDs and talking about Beethoven and the like. Little do they know that it's actually a trip to see Metallica play with the Symphony. 'XTM will let the cat out of the bag on April Fools Day... WJRR/Orlando has announced details for Earthday Birthday 6, to be held Saturday, April 17 outside in downtown Orlando. Bands scheduled to perform include: Godsmack, Second Coming, Pushmonkey, Sprung Monkey, Virgos Merlot, Loudmouth, Oleander, and MK Ultra. Singles/EPs

CREE SUMMER, "REVELATION SUNSHINE" (WORK)

Produced by Lenny Kravitz, there's already a big buzz about Cree Summer's forthcoming solo debut (she was a member of the band Subject To Change), Street Faërie. If the lead single, "Revelation Sunshine," is any indication of what to expect from this former Different World-starring actress, then she's likely to be one of the year's Best New Artists.

ROBBIE WILLIAMS, "MILLENNIUM" (CAPITOL)

The buzz about this artist appears very well-deserved from the sound of the first single, "Millennium," from the upcoming album, The Ego Has Landed. This track is hooky from the get-go. It doesn't hurt that the subject matter of the song is a topic that's front-of-mind for us all. WRLT didn't wait to add it and neither should you.

DAVID SYLVIAN, SONGS FROM DEAD BEES ON A CAKE (VIRGIN)

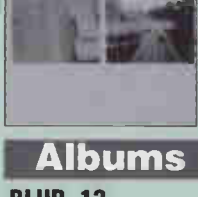

From his years as the lyricist, composer and vocalist with the British band Japan, to his solo works and collaborations with Robert Fripp, David Sylvian has established himself as a true artist whose unique disregard for standard musical formulas has won him many fans. This EP highlights songs from his forthcoming album, Dead Bees On A Cake.

TEXAS, "IN OUR LIFETIME" (UNIVERSAL/UMG)

Longtime critical faves Texas return with the loop-driven and pleasantly funky "In Our Lifetime." Albums like White On Blonde have made Texas a household name in the U.K. If there's any justice in the world, "In Our Lifetime" is sure to duplicate that success on our shores.

MERCURY REV, "GODDESS ON A HIWAY" (V2)

What's it going to take for people to realize the power of Mercury Rev? This track has been around since last September, waiting to become a smash. At the intersection of Pink Floyd and The Flaming Lips, you'll find Mercury Rev and this haunting little ditty.

Albums

BLUR, 13 (VIRGIN)

Blur's 13 shows just why the band are head and shoulders above their Brit-Pop brethren. Rather than rely on past formulas for inspiration, the band cooks up a whole new batch of ideas on 13, thus disrupting the curve for everybody else. It makes for a thrilling listen. The understated majesty of the first single, "Tender," has been drawing comparisons to Rock classics like "Give Peace A Chance" and "You Can't Always Get What You Want." Not bad company. Other tracks to watch: "Coffee & TV," "Mellow Song" and "Trailer Park."

UB40, LABOR OF LOVE III (VIRGIN)

For the third installment of their Labor Of Love series, UB40 keeps with tradition offering fifteen covers of classic Reggae/soul songs. Highlights include the first single, a rendition of the Fabulous Flames/Neil Diamond track "Holly Holy" (UB40's #1 version of Diamond's "Red Red Wine" was on 1984's Labor Of Love), as well as reinterpretations of The Melodians' "It's My Delight," Bob Marley's "Soul Rebel," a new version of "Come Back Darling," and Delano Stewart's "Stay A Little..." among others.

JAKE ANDREWS, TIME TO BURN (SIRE/JERICHO)

Produced by Grammy-Award winner John Porter, 18 year-old Jake Andrews' (son of Mother Earth guitarist John "Toad" Andrews) debut album, Time To Burn, is packed with some damn good Texas Blues in the style of Stevie Ray Vaughan and Johnny Winter. A fixture in the Austin music scene, Andrews' songwriting is first rate and should effortlessly make him a favorite of the format. "Time To Burn," "The Hard Way," "Just You...," "I Don't...," "Cry Baby," and "It All Passed..." are our picks.

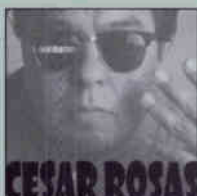

Emphasis Tracks

BECK, "NOBODY'S FAULT BUT MY OWN" (BONG LOAD/DGC)

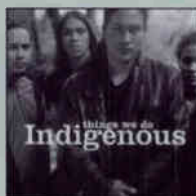

This is the most mature song that Beck has ever crafted. Don't be misled by its subtleties, everyone should play this!

CESAR ROSAS, "LITTLE HEAVEN" (RYKODISC)

Most of the format has already discovered this track from Rosas solo debut, Soul Disguise. Your turn has come.

INDIGENOUS, "THINGS WE DO" (PACHYDERM)

"Things We Do" follows "Now That You're Gone" as the second single from Indigenous' promising debut.

JEFF BLACK, "A LONG WAY TO GO" (ARISTA)

Black's Birmingham Road has made believers of critics and other artists. His just-rugged-enough delivery on this song shows why.

progressive PROFORMER

Wilco, "Can't Stand It" (Reprise)

"Can't Stand It," the lead track from Wilco's monumental new album summerteeth, boosts the band from 10 to 7• this week on the Top 50 chart, with over 670 total spins. Already transmitting from 59 Progressive stations, including KGSR, WRNX, WXRV, WRNR, KTHX, WXRT, KFOG, KTCZ, WMMM, WRLT, KFXJ, CIDR, WXPB, and KINK, among many others, the single hoists the band to #2 Most Increased (+108) as they dart from 10 to 3• on the Public Breakout chart. In addition, WMKY, WEHM and Music Choice add Wilco this week, while WXRT spins a depth track, "I'm Always In Love," seven times. In our not-so-humble opinion, this is a breakthrough album for the band.

Stevie Ray Remastered

Some remasters are blatantly created to move old product; when an artist's catalog sales decrease labels are quick to add an extra photos and one bonus track in the hopes that die-hard fans will re-purchase the album again just to hear the "rare" song. Sadly, many of these reworked albums fall short of fan expectations — like the old saying says, you can't shine shit — but this is not the case with Epic/Legacy's recent remastering of four Stevie Ray Vaughan albums. As we approach the ninth anniversary of his tragic death on August 27, 1999, the label has released expanded versions of Texas Flood, Couldn't Stand The Weather, Soul To Soul, and In Step, as well as a second greatest hits compilation, titled The Real Deal. The albums have not only been given beautiful audio makeovers, they also offer re-designed artwork, new liner notes, extra photos and most importantly, up to five previously unreleased bonus tracks per disc! Among the many unshelved treasures are live versions of "Texas Flood," "Testify," "The House Is Rockin'," as well as unissued studio recordings of "Give Me Back My Wig," "Little Wing/Third Stone From The Sun," and "Come On (Pt. III)," among many others. And — how cool is this — included on each disc is a spoken word track by Vaughan in which he speaks about a topic related to the bonus cuts! The Real Deal: Greatest Hits 2 offers sixteen fan favorites and rarities, including the hard-to-find "Pipeline" with Dick Dale (from the Back To The Beach soundtrack) and a live version of "Leave My Girl Alone" from an Epic promo-only disc. It goes without saying that rarities like these are a must for even casual fans, and his work has never sounded better thanks to the digital remastering. In short, this is how to remaster a catalog and Vaughan's, not including videos, sells 10,000 to 12,000 units over the counter every week.

WBOS' EarthFest

file of being involved environmentally through various public service campaigns.

place on April 10 at London's Royal Albert Hall. Organized by Chrissie Hynde, the show, dubbed Here, There And Everywhere - A Concert For Linda, marks the one-year anniversary of her death from breast cancer. Among those slated to appear are George Michael, Tom Jones, Sinead O' Connor, and Des'ree. Linda's husband, Paul McCartney said he may not be able to take part in the show for emotional reasons. Elvis Costello, Neil Finn, Ladysmith Black Mambazo, and Johnny Marr are also expected to perform.

Recording On The Internet

Speaking of Sinead O' Connor, she was part of a group of musicians to take part in the recording of the first live single over the Internet on St. Patty's Day (3/17). Joining O' Connor (who was at the BBC Television Center in London) were: Thomas Dolby from San Francisco, Lucky Dube in Johannesburg, Jay Griggs in New Orleans, Mike Wilcox in Australia, and Rodney Orpheus in Hamburg. The group teamed for a cover of Bob Marley's "Them Belly Full (But We Hungry)." Coldcut's Matt Black and Jonathan More recorded and mixed the track. The cyber-session was broadcast live on the BBC special Megalab 99. The single benefits the War Child charity.

Awards Down Under

Neil Finn nabbed Top Male Vocalist honors for "She Will Have Her Way" from his Try Whistling This album at Coca-Cola's New Zealand Music Awards (3/13). His nine-year-old son, Elroy, won Best Cover Design for the album.

More Spiritualizing

Alanis Morissette will be among those vocalizing on The Prayer Circle, an album featuring both Rock and World Music artists singing prayers over choral and symphonic backing. Joining Morissette for the album is Perry Farrell, James Taylor, Malian vocalist Salif Keita, Israeli vocalist Ofra Haza, and the late Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan. The album was spearheaded by film music composer Jonathan Elias, who began working on the music for the album three years ago. Music from The Prayer Circle will be used in the ABC television special, The Century, which is hosted by Peter Jennings and airs March 29, and April 1, 3, 5, 8, and 10.

Good Cause, Great Disc!

Warner Bros. will be releasing Sing America, an album celebrating American music and artists on May 18. All profits from the album benefit Save America's Treasures at The National Trust for Historic Preservation. Subsequently, all artists have waived their royalties. Artists and tracks include: Paul Simon's "Graceland," Louis Armstrong and Ella Fitzgerald on "Summertime," Stevie Wonder's "Sir Duke," John Fogerty's "Centerfield," and Judy Collins' "Amazing Grace."

Ziggy Zags

An update on Ziggy Marley and the Melody Makers: The band has just inked a new management contract with Gold Mountain Entertainment. They are currently working on their third album for Elektra with producer Don Was, which they hope to have out by June or July.

Much Ado About Nothing

Leave it to a 2000 year-old man to beat Jerry Seinfeld. Rhino's album, The 2000 Year Old Man In The Year 2000: The Album beat out Seinfeld for Best Spoken Comedy Album at the Grammy Awards.

MUSIC MAILBAG:

When you think of Rastafarians many things come to mind.

Dreadlocks, Reggae, Jamaica, Skatalites, Bad Brains, Bob Marley, and of course, marijuana. Well how about Blues? That's right baby, Corey Harris has the Rasta groove. An elemental part of Blues music that many new artists are sorely lacking. Harris doesn't see himself as a Bluesman, but a songwriter with the Blues in him. On Greens From The Garden (Alligator) Harris serves up a mix of Blues and French Cajun in his musical dish. These greens don't need any vinegar. Listen for yourself: "Honeysuckle," "Eh La Bas," "Sweet Black Angel," "Lynch Blues," "Diddy Wah Diddy," "Just A Closer Walk With Thee," and "Teabag Blues" which resulted from the Mermaid Avenue sessions with Billy Bragg and Wilco.

Celebration of Irish customs and music isn't reserved only for St. Patrick's

Day. The unique mixture of Irish music with American Folk by emigrants is shared on Bringing It All Back Home - The Influence of Irish Music (Valley Ent.). In the first of a series of three albums, traditional Irish song as well as Irish-influenced music of the past and present are represented. The popular characteristics of the songs on this album have mass appeal for many discriminating listeners. Our favorites are: The Everly Brothers' rendition of "Rose Connolly," "Sonny" by Emmylou Harris, Dolores Keane, and Mary

Black, "When First Into This Country," by The Lee Valley String Band, "Lakes Of Ponchartrain," by Hothouse Flowers, "The Shoals Of Herring" by the famous Clancy Brothers, Liam, Bobby, Paddy, and Tom, and the a cappella "The Parting Glass" by The Voice Squad.

Another compilation of Celtic music was lurking in the mail-bag this week as well. Celtic Woman (Valley Ent.) is a compilation of traditional style Celtic songs by Irish and Irish-descended women. The beauty of the words and music are second only to the angelic voices of the women that sing them. We liked: all eight minutes and twenty-three seconds of "Annachie Gordon" by Loreena Mc Kennitt, "Is Fada Liom Uaim Í" by Maighred Ní Dhomhnaill, "Ripples In The Rockpools" by Rita Connolly, and "You're A Heathen Of Love" by Marian Bradfield.

If you have it, you watch it all the time. The Independent Film Channel, showcases films that are made outside of Hollywood and the mainstream.

Many of these filmmakers face the problem of little or no budget, which makes the choice of music limited to unknown recordings by famous artists or unknown recordings from as yet unknown artists. If it wasn't for director Jim Jarmusch (Down By Law, Night On Earth) would Tom Waits have as broad an audience? Every track is cool, but we especially liked: "Welcome To The Dollhouse" by Jill Wisoff and The Con Artists with Daniel Rey, "Sheila" by Morphine, "Manny & Lo (End Titles)" by John Lurie, Marc Ribot, Matt Zimbelmann, Bill Ware, Chris Wood, Billy Martin, and John Medeski, "Good Old World" by Tom Waits, "The Old Main Drag" by the Pogues and "In Your Wildest Dreams" by Rev. Horton Heat.

What's going to be the next big thing in Swing? While the squares say "Who cares?" let us proceed. The righteous Heidi Richman prepares to whip some knowledge on us all with House of Blues Swings! (HOB). It features groups that are all the rage in their hometowns while the rest of the nation doesn't even know they're around. So take me back to school with all that's cool, this ain't jive - the music is alive! If you crack the whip this album will make the trip: "Planet Jive" The Jive Aces, "Blue Skies"

Lavay Smith & Her Red Hot Skillet Lickers, "Chicken Wing" Blues Jumpers, "Feelin' Kinda Lucky" Big Sandy & The Fly Rite Boys, The Louis Prima classic "5 Months, 2 Weeks, 2 Days" The Savoir-Faire Pistol Pocket Dance Band, and "Love" The Cameros.

The new double live offering from Gov't Mule was recorded on New Year's Eve at the Roxy in Atlanta. Featuring the talents of the band as well as guests Live - With A Little Help From Our Friends (Capricorn) is the ultimate Gov't Mule live experience. Mixing Rock with Blues and the extended jamming that the group is famous for, this double live set is rockin'. Check out: "Dolphineus," "30 Days In The Hole" with Marc Ford, "War Pigs," "Look On Yonder Wall" with Chuck Leavell, "Devil Likes It Slow" with Bernie Worrell and Jimmy Herring, and Neil Young's "Cortez The Killer" with Marc Ford and Bernie Worrell.

Beth Nielsen Chapman's Greatest Hits (Reprise) is just that, a greatest hits package from a versatile and unique musician and singer. Every song on the album has a brief history of the writing and recording in the liner notes. While listening to this album you'll probably discover that you know quite a few of her songs by heart. High points are: "Beyond The Blue," "Walk My Way," "All I Have," "Emily," "When I Feel This Way," "Sand And Water" and "Say Goodnight."

Take three modern Blues legends and put them together to make an album. What do you get? One big old party! Debbie Davies, Kenny Neal and Tab Benoit make some real Blues music on Homesick For The Road (Telarc Blues). The highlight of the album is certainly "Luberta" penned by Kenny's dad, Rafal Neal, and it also features his harmonica talents. Try these: "Down In The Swamp," "Bop 'Til I Drop," Screamin' Jay's "I Put A Spell On You," "I Can't Afford Myself," and "Homesick For The Road."

Fish Tree Water Blues (Bullseye) is a benefit CD for the Earthjustice Legal Defense Fund's campaign to save wild salmon, ancient forests and freeflowing waterways. When

Lee Nestor call it what it is Impacting At Progressive Radio Now!

It's A KNOCK Out!

"Lee Nestor's new album is a hallmark of the return to Rock-based female singers. Insightful lyrics with a Pop/Rock groove." -fmqb-Rock

"Lee Nestor's debut effort will have you under its spell after a few listens. She sounds as good as she looks." -John Shoenberger, Totally Adult reason and persuasion fail to protect the environment, the Legal Defense Fund provides free legal support to community groups fighting for the preservation of public lands, forests, species and clean water. Many artists came together for this worthwhile cause, crossing genres and generations. Much of the music on this album has been previously unavailable or was recorded specifically for this album. We liked: "Highway 13" by John Lee Hooker & John Hammond, "Victims Of Comfort" from Keb' Mo', "The Road You Choose" from Branford Marsalis & Joe Louis Walker, "Fuel" by Ani DiFranco, "Blue Blue World" from Roomful of Blues, "I'll Fly Away" by Mavis Staples, "Take Me To The River" from Charlie Musselwhite & RatDog, and "Take It To The Limit" by Etta James.

Imagine the Woody Allen of the What's Up Tiger Lily? era saying "It is very fun and it is very great." That is the perfect description of Fresh Out The Past the new album from The New Orleans Klezmer Allstars. Blending a Rock & Roll feel with their unique Klezmer music, the Allstars have come up with a formula for a really exceptional party album. Themes ranging from the serious (death of a parent) to the goofy (taste of chopped chicken liver) are included on this album. Check out: "Dr. Lizard," "Struttin' With Some Doner Kabob," "Moroccan Roller," "Aging Raver's Personal Hell," "MyLK," and "Hartman Pick Up Your Accordion and Play."

Molly," "Life Is A Carnival," "All On A Mardi Gras Day," "Shanda Handa," "Blackhawk," "Battlefield," and "Hang Tough."

The eclectic Folk-Rock group Just Desserts' new album, Give Up The Ghost

(Earhorn Disks), is full of songs that express real emotions, both the good and the bad. The simplicity of the music is what makes it so enjoyable. No pretentious elitism or "artiste" airs, this band is down home and in your backyard. Check out: "Last Rock N' Roll Band," "Maybe I'm The One," "Save You From Yourself," "Beautiful Life," "Alcohol," "Road To Ruin," and "Mystery."

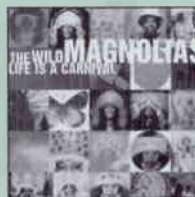

There's a shortage of modern Soul singers that know how to put some real, low-down Soul in their tunes. Preston Shannon has put out All In Time (Bullseye) to rescue Soul music from the "blahs." In a style similar to Otis Redding, Preston makes every song his own. It's some real booty music. Soul is one of the roots of Rock and Preston proves that it's about time we went back to roots a little bit and showed all these kids what it's all about. Listen to: "Just Between Me And My Woman," "Tired Of The Ghetto Bringing Me Down," "Jail Of Love," "That's The Way I Feel About Cha," "Welfare Woman," "Be With Me Tonight," Prince's "Purple Rain," and "Cold Beer Good Time."

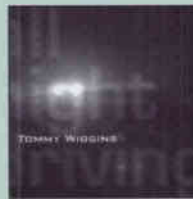

Gary Primich is no new-comer to the Blues scene. He got his start playing on Chicago's South Side on Maxwell Street beside John Henry Davis and Johnny Littlejohn. Blending elements of Jazz, Texas Swing, and Louisiana R&B into his traditional Blues sound, Gary keeps the sound of old-timey blues harmonica alive while injecting his own distinctive style into the music. We liked: "Save It Up," "She's A Good 'Un," "Mr. Itch," "Dollar, Dollar," "Rootin' And Tootin'," and "Daybreak."

The Wild Magnolias are not a typical New Orleans band. They are actually one of many Mardi Gras Indian tribes. As famous for their music as their elaborate costumes, the tribes roam the streets of the city in search of other tribes. The Indians even have their own "language." It's a mixture of broken-English and French that takes a little practice to really understand. Dr. John, Bruce Hornsby, Robbie Robertson and Marva Wright all guest on Life Is A Carnival (Metro Blue). Check out: "Coochie

The music that Tommy Wiggins makes is described as "rhythm music for grownups." Mixing Jazz and Pop together to get an almost smooth Rock sound. If you're looking for something different, check out All Night Driving (Chilidog). Notable tracks: "All Night Driving," "Baby Put A Hole In My Heart," "Somebody," "The Artist Is The Picture," and "Sweet Little Gal."

Ronnie Dawson has the Rockabilly sound down, and baby he's scorchin'! More Bad Habits (Yep Roc) is the real thing, Rock & Roll the way it was meant to be. This gets my favorite album of the week award, it's that good. Believe our hype and listen to this gem for yourself. Hot mama! "Good At Being Bad," "Toe Up From The Floor," "Waxahachie Drag Race," "Chili Pepper Mama," "Rockin' Calaveras," "Rippin' And A Roarin'," and the Nat King Cole Trio classic "The Frim Fram Sauce." Rock & Roll is in his soul.

Mary Lee Kortez and WRNX's Dave Witthaus.

stuff you should know...

NEUROSIS "TIMES OF GRACE"/"THE LAST YOU'LL KNOW," RELAPSE

Although Oakland's NEUROSIS have been around for the past thirteen years, most people didn't know who they were until their brilliant 1996 album, Through Silver In Blood. That album led to tours on the Ozzfest and with PANTERA and put them on the Metal map. The first taste of their new album, Times Of Grace, shows the band has made no concessions to their increased profile. Produced by Steve Albini, these two tracks from the album (and a B-side) are, simply put, terrifying. All three tracks are experimental, sludgy and tribal, and should prime you for the release of the full album late next month.

DIMMU BORGIR SPIRITUAL BLACK DIMENSIONS, NUCLEAR BLAST

Granted, DIMMU BORGIR aren't for everyone. In fact, a co-worker called it "the sound equivalent of 100 dalmatian puppies getting run over by a steamroller." However, the new album from one of the world's premiere Black Metal bands is their most ambitious record to date. Haunting orchestral work, Shagrath's piercing vocals and powerful grooves add up to an incredible listening experience. If you stray to the dark side, this could be the record of the year for you. Listen to "Reptile," "Behind The Curtains" and "Dreamside Dominion."

SPOCK'S BEARD DAY FOR NIGHT, METAL BLADE

SPOCK'S BEARD? We thought we were listening to GENESIS or YES! The band wears its influences on their Progressive Metal sleeves, sounding unlike anything else on Metal radio these days. If your station has had success with FATES WARNING or DREAM THEATER, you'll wanna throw this on the air the second you get it. While most Progressive giants of the '70s sold-out in the corporate Rock '80s, Spock's Beard updates the incredible musicianship and technicality of '70s Progressives with '90s technology. True fans of the genre will play the whole album, but you can't go wrong with "Can't Get It Wrong," "Gibberish" and "Lay It Down."

VARIOUS ARTISTS THE RAGE: CARRIE 2 OST, EDEL AMERICA

We haven't seen The Rage: Carrie 2 yet, but the first one scared the shit out of us when we were growing up. In the sequel, Carrie has changed from a shy wallflower to a Goth chick, which is a cool update. The soundtrack echoes the change, with a mixed bag of Goth-Metal and dark Alternative bands. "Year Of Summer," an unreleased track from PARADISE LOST, should get your attention. Previously released (but cool) tracks from FEAR FACTORY, TYPE O NEGATIVE and 16 VOLT are also Metal-worthy. As far as new bands, check-out RA's "Crazy Little Voices."

* One of Us got a chance to catch the Rock Is Dead tour, featuring VIDEO-DRONE, Rob Zombie and KoRn, when it rolled into Philly this week. Not only was Rock not dead, it was thriving, as evidenced by the near-capacity First Union Center. While we missed Videodrone, we hear that they're going over very well as the opening act. Zombie ripped through a set comprised mainly of tunes from Hellbilly Deluxe, introducing "Thunder Kiss '65" as "a tune your parents used to rock out to." As usual, Zombie's stage set was over the top, featuring fire, video monitors, dancing girls, a robot, a dancing monster, and more fire. KoRn's stage setup was more elaborate than the Family Values tour, but kept the two-level cage for contest winners, adding a video monitor and barbed wire-topped fences on either side of the stage. For the encore, the band switched instruments, with bassist Fieldy handling the vocals for "Earache My Eye." We also got a chance to hear a few songs from the upcoming LIMP BIZKIT album, which was blasting back-stage. The three songs we heard are a definite improvement over the first album, and show more depth than anything on Three Dollar Bill, Y'all$. Fieldy reports that both him and Jonathan will be working on solo albums after the Rock Is Dead tour wraps-up. Fieldy also reported that even though he did a great job producing Videodrone's self-titled album, he doesn't have any plans to do any more production anytime soon.

* JACK OFF JILL has filled in the hole left by HOLE's departure from the MARYLYN MANSON tour. The band is in the middle of four dates opening for Manson and MONSTER MAGNET. In addition to the Thursday (3/25) show in New Orleans, the band will also be playing 3/27 in Tampa, 3/29 in Orlando and 3/30 in Ft. Lauderdale. Manson and Jack Off Jill last played on New Year's Eve 1994 in Fort Lauderdale. Manson and JOJ lead singer Jessicka spent the night in jail together after getting arrested in Jacksonville on that infamous tour. In other band news, original guitarist Michelle Inhell has rejoined the band. Jack Off Jill's new album is tentatively titled This Human Heart.

* Word is that the new TESTAMENT album, due out on Spitfire records in June, will feature GRIP INC.'s Dave Lombardo on drums.

* Here's the track listing for the upcoming W.A.S.P. album, Helldorado: "Drive By," "Helldorado," "Cocaine Cowboys," "Damnation Angels," "Dirty Balls," "High On Flames," "Don't Cry (Just Suck)," "Saturday Night Cockfight," "Can't Die Tonight," "Hot Rods To Hell (Helldorado Reprise)" and "Baby Jane." Koob reports that it sounds like vintage "Blind In Texas"-era W.A.S.P.!

* Adding to the rash of equipment theft that struck FEAR FACTORY and the DEFTONES, THE CLAY PEOPLE recently had their van stolen. Fortunately, most of their gear was inside the Detroit club they were playing, and their personal possessions were at the hotel they were staying at, so while the robbers got some equipment, the main thing they wound up with was the van, which still hasn't been found.

* Festival update: The Mid-Atlantic College Radio Conference (MACROCK) will be taking place on April 9 and 10 in Harrisonburg, VA at James Madison University. Tickets are $20 until April 8 and $30 at the conference itself. The show lineup is as follows: Friday is DARKEST HOUR, TORN APART, SHED, NOTHINGFACE and ALL OUT WAR. Saturday, DRIPPING GOSS, THE STEP KINGS, INDECISION, DESTROYED BY ANGER and SHADOWS FALL. For full details, go to <http://www.jmu.edu/wxjm...> The New England Metal and Hardcore Festival will happen at the Palladium in Worcester MA from April 30-May 2. The lineup is as follows: CRYPTOPSY, MESHUGGAH, EARTH CRISIS, DEICIDE, LIVING SACRIFICE, MORBID ANGEL, SHADOWS FALL, CRISIS. CAVE-IN, TREE, ISIS, SAM BLACK CHURCH, SKINLAB, HONKEYBALL, CANDIRIA, TODAY IS THE DAY, HATEBREED, DILLINGER ESCAPE PLAN, DROWNING MAN, DIECAST, MISFITS, NON COMPOS MENTIS, SCISSORFIGHT, DYING FETUS, TESTAMENT, PIECEMEAL, REVELLE, SHUTDOWN, SHED, PUYA, IMMOLATION, NAPALM DEATH, BURIED ALIVE, GWAR and more. A three-day pass is $55, and single day tickets are $22 each. You can pick up tickets at Strawberries or by calling Pro Tix at (800) 477-6849... And just in case that's not enough festival/conference Metal madness for you, March Metal Meltdown promoter Jack Koshick has already announced the dates for next year's MMM, March 24 and 25, 2000!

#1 modern

Sugar Ray, "Every Morning" (Atlantic/AG) The streak extends to nine weeks at #1, but it looks like the end will come next week as Fatboy Slim (347 spins behind, +289 this week) and Collective Soul (381 spins behind, +125 this week) are closing in.

The Cranberries, "Promises" (Island) Okay, we said it would come down to this. Muira and Langton have all but a handful of stations on this track that moves into the Top 15 this week (20*-14*). So, without further adieu, here are the absentees: CKEY, KKNB, KNSX, KORB, KPNT, KTCL, KTEG, KTOZ, KXPK, KXTE, KZZO, WAVF, WGMR, WKDF, WKRO, WLRS, WNVE, WOXY, WPLT, WRAX, WWCD, WXZZ, and 91X. What are you waiting for?

Silverchair, "Anthem For The Year 2000" (Epic) Spins increase (+124, 1135 total) as "2000" slides into the Top 20 (21*-20*) and keeps its upward movement on the chart. Three new adds (WKRO, WJBX, WMAD) mean over two-thirds of the panel is now playing this track. The tour rolls on and continues to get great reviews everywhere.

Kid Rock, "Bawitdaba" (Atlantic/AG) Spivack's golden touch continues as Kid Rock grabs five more adds this week and makes a chart debut (49*). Spins show a healthy increase (+139, 446 total) even though most stations have relegated this to a night track. If you doubt this track, call WXDG's Amy Doyle or Spike for testimonials.

Everlast, "Ends" (Tommy Boy) The dam burst open this week with eleven new stations (for a cume of 52) converting from "What It's Like" to "Ends." A large chart jump (49*-34*) and spin increase (+202, 638 total) give good signs that Tommy Boy's Cheryl Valentine has another monster track on her hands.

Blur, "Tender" (Virgin) WNNX becomes the latest major market station to be convinced of this track's worth. We reiterate our comments from two weeks ago: This song is going to stretch the boundaries of your radio station, but many of you said the exact same thing about "Song 2" and look how that turned out! This song deserves a shot, don't discount it as "Tender" is infectious and leaves a lasting impression.

My Friend Steve, "Charmed" (Mammoth) WXXM, KZLN, KNRQ, KCXX, and WPGU all come aboard this week as Sean Maxson continues to develop this track. For those who were there, a great showcase performance was seen at SXSW. If this has slid into that "B" stack on your desk, it's time to pull it out and give another listen.

Lo-Fidelity Allstars, "Battleflag" (Columbia/CRG) Slipping in at 50*, "Battleflag" debuts on the chart and gets a great add week from a good crop of medium market stations - KRZQ, WHTG, KNRK, WEQX, WXEG, WHMP, and WLRS. KROQ, KITS, WBCN, WFNX, Q101, and KTEG are already spinning this.

Beth Orton, "Stolen Car" (Arista) This is the darling project for Rosenblum and Gates. Fourteen adds put Ms. Orton's first single from her brilliant release, Central Reservation, into the #2 Most Added slot. A strong picture is developing with this single as 26 stations are already on "Stolen Car," including KROQ, WBCN, KNDD, WHFS, KITS, and WLIR.

Fountains Of Wayne, "Denise" (Atlantic/AG) Boston likes FOW, as WBCN and WFNX give "Denise" an add this week, along with seven other stations, bringing the two-week cume to 30 stations. Bubbling under at 80*, don't expect Spivack and Metzdorf to let this stay off the chart for too long.

Marilyn Manson, "Rock Is Dead" (Maverick/nothing/Interscope) Many night slots are getting eaten up by "Rock Is Dead," as the Maverick/Interscope promotional double team pulled in a dozen adds for Manson's latest single, bringing the cume to 29. Breaking out of the night slot with good spins at KROX (25x), WLRS (25x) and KXTE (23x).

Papa Vegas, "Bombshell" (RCA/Sid Flips) Poore and DiMaio strike Most Added gold as 22 stations (26 cume) are set to drop "Bombshell" on their listeners. Look for a plethora of adds again next week as more stations take notice of this standout track.

Dawn Hood insists that this band are stars in the making and we tend to agree. They have a solid live performance, distinct sound and one hit song under their belts. The second single is a great follow-up for those of you that had success with "Pure Morning." For those of you that didn't spin the first track, don't be afraid to use this one as an introduction for your listeners.

Executive Producer is Modell's son John Modell. During the construction of the stadium, John hired Marcia Kapustin, one of the video directors for U2's 1997 PopMart tour, to run the video show at the Ravens' new stadium. HFStival will be the first music concert at PSINet Stadium. As with past shows, WHFS will put together line-ups for a main stage inside the stadium and for a second stage outside the venue.

As mentioned by the Post, one drawback to the move is the lack of convenient public transportation to the venue, specifically D.C.'s Metro, which allowed WHFS listeners from Northern Virginia and suburban Maryland to be dropped off right at RFK Stadium. Those listeners will now have to drive to Baltimore for the event or find alternate means of transportation between D.C. and Baltimore.

HFStival Heads North

WHFS, with its booming stick that covers both Washington, D.C. and Baltimore, is moving the long-running and highly successful HFStival from D.C.'s RFK Stadium to PSINet Stadium in Baltimore. By making the move, the seating capacity for the festival increases from 65,000 to 75,000. The station considered moving the festival to Jack Kent Cooke Stadium in Lanham, MD but opted for PSINet Stadium, which offers a better sound system and jumbo video screens. This was a bonus for WHFS General Manager, Phil Zachary, who told the Washington Post the relocation is "not a move away from Washington," as much as it was now being able to have a venue that could offer a high-tech show.

Built by the NFL Baltimore Ravens owner, Art Modell, PSINet Stadium's entertainment operations is run by Raven Image, whose

TALK of the revolution

Due to the wealth of quality new releases cluttering up our offices, we're doing some spring cleaning this week; highlighting a bunch of new music you should be playing (if you aren't already). Think of it as "New Music Show Spring Training." Let's hope all these records make the final cutdowns:

Cornelius spent a good deal of 1998 packing his multi-media, turntable-driven, Rock extravaganza in to U.S. clubs. He promptly won over fans and fellow artists alike with his stadium-sized sensory overload. On the first of two new CD's, FM: Fantasma reMixes (Matador), Cornelius gets the payback from artists he has been remixing over the past year: They remix him. Among those giving Cornelius a sonic shake-up are Blur's Damon Albarn, who gives "Star Fruits Surf Rider" a snaky feel; Money Mark, who does his frantic thing on "Mic Check"; and Buffalo Daughter on "New Music Machine." CD number two is CM: Cornelius reMixes, which highlights the remix work Cornelius has done for some of the aforementioned, as well as High Llamas, The Pastels and U.N.K.L.E. Contact: Donovan Finn - (212) 995-5882.

Disappointment Incorporated go for the jugular on their new Time Bomb effort, F=O. Aided by the master-production touch of Dave Jerden (you name 'em, he's worked with 'em), the band don't shy away from their mainstream Modern Rock leanings. Imagine a hybrid of Sponge, Our Lady Peace and the politically-charged Warrior Soul (remember them?), and you've got a good idea as to what the band are about. The lead track, "Don't Think The Sun," is already making noise in NMS land (KTEG, WXSZ and WENZ are already on it), with its funky groove and catchy refrain. "Forget," "Hurts To Laugh" and "Anna" are all excellent choices to follow with. Contact: Lynn McDonnell - (949) 499-8338.

Don't let the cry-in-your-beer warble of the opening track, "Ohio," fool you. Damien Jurado's new LP, Rehearsals For Departure (Sub Pop), isn't all minor-key misery. Jurado doesn't necessarily paint a rosy picture on Rehearsals, but there's a certain pleasure to be derived from his cozy rasp and twangy bleakness. "Tragedy" skips along like Keith Richards fronting Wilco, and producer Ken Stringfellow (ex-Posies) makes his presence felt on the buoyant shuffle, "Honey Baby," an excellent track to start with. Contact: Jenny Hayo - (206) 441-8441, x-3086.

While we're in a Sub Pop frame of mind, Belle & Sebastian bassist Stuart David's Looper project is a dizzying 360 from the ethereal and spooky melodocisms of his day gig. On Up A Tree, David toys with loops (hence the Looper tag), rusty harmonica, other-worldly keyboard sponks and squeals, and spoken-word vocal passages where his Scottish brogue is in full-effect. "Impossible Things #2" is expertly arranged, giving the listener an accurate overview of the album. The pastoral "Quiet And Small" is as close as Looper comes to mining the territory of B&S, but by that point, David has more than established his own identity.

Jeff Raspe at WHTG has been spinning Mark Geary's "America" for several weeks now, prompting us to finally get around to listening to Geary's self-titled debut (Paradigm). An Irish expatriate now living in NYC, Geary is cut from a similar cloth as some of the better latter-day singer/songwriters (Freddy Johnston and Jeff Buckley come to mind instantly). But Geary avoids any and all "sensitive guy with an acoustic guitar and a sad story to tell" trappings, with hints of trip-hop and a nice overall sheen (courtesy of NYC studio vet Matt Stein). The lead track, "America" (which goes for NMS adds next week) sums up Geary's perspectives in a smooth Pop song. The same holds true for tracks like "It Beats Me," "Watertight" and "By The Time." A singer/songwriter to watch in '99. Contact: Adam (212) 387-8900, x-248.

Why evolve from Rock to this?

Silver: I believe that this format is a viable player in any given market. In Los Angeles, where the Rock market is over-saturated, you already have KLOS, "Arrow," KROQ, etc. They're all banging records, sometimes the same ones, and the differences between the stations become shades of gray. When you do properly programmed FM Talk, you are very unique. It's very black and white. It stands out, and it's equally very profitable. It's also really fun; beats the living shit out of programming a Rock station.

Sinicropi: No one else in the market has this position. You have to look for a way to stand out from the crowd. It's a unique position. Why fight with three or four other stations for records and promotions with labels? They play a Led Zeppelin song, we play one. They play Smashing Pumpkins, we play it. You can't own a record anymore. We're not in that position anymore. We were looking for a position that was unique, and this is unique in Detroit. It gives us a good position as a unique station, and it helps our cluster of stations with the over-all position that we have in the market.

Reid Reker: There wasn't ever a clear intent to change the format of the station. The station hired Howard, and then had the opportunity to put Steve Dahl on in the afternoon. The opportunity was then obvious. The station was relatively successful as a Classic Rock station, but once you see what Howard and Steve are capable of producing in terms of ratings, a light goes on. Let's start developing a Talk show for the middays, and let's start doing something at night. It was an evolution, as opposed to somebody sitting around at a meeting saying, "We're going to become an FM Talk station." Now if I were to sit in a meeting and try to decide whether or not I should take a Classic Rock station and make an FM Talk, I would look at how burned-out music is these days. When it comes to music we're all reading each other's mail. I got into radio because I like what's between the records. I'm not a music person, so it's great for me because I get to put talent on the radio and see how that works versus hoping that the new Metallica record is actually a hit.

How do you build the Talk brand in people's minds when you were a Rock station?

Silver: I don't care what you were before you were FM Talk or youthful Talk, you've got to start over. It doesn't matter what you were.

Reker: We haven't tried to build a Talk brand. The personalities have done that on their own. It hasn't been a traumatic overhaul of the perception of the radio station. More people have heard of this radio station as a Talk station with personalities like Steve Dahl, Jonathon Brandmeier, and Howard Stern than they ever did as a Classic Rock station.

Ken Stevens: The format speaks for itself. It's so clearly different from everything else on the dial that there's instant brand awareness.

Sinicropi: It's by putting on the kind of program that they're going to be attracted to. Stern hasn't gotten a lot of outside advertising in the market, but he has attracted a very large audience. And, using him as the engine for the other shows, we're stacking the deck in our favor. By taking top-rated shows in other Midwest markets like Chicago, we've got proven winners. We've got an all-star line-up. We're not starting out with "Who's that?," and "Gee, I hope this works."

How do you find talent to follow Howard Stern?

Silver: It's very simple. You hire radio professionals. Period. What you don't hire is stand-up comedians, out-of-work actors, former Brady Bunch members or famous house guests. Find the talent at radio conventions from coast-to-coast. There are so many morning shows around the country that could make the transition to FM Talk that it's frightening. What we did in Los Angeles was eliminate all the aforementioned and hired Jonathon Brandmeier for middays. His morning show has always been personality-driven. I can think of ten morning shows in America that can transition to FM Talk if you want to pay them. People who have done morning shows for years-and-years could transition easily. Management would just have to pay a morning show price for an afternoon show. Radio stations are built from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m., and if you handle those three dayparts properly, then you can think out-of-the-box after that. But, don't put the local mayor, who sounds funny at a press conference, on the air for four-hours-a-day. It's very, very tough to do a Talk show like this.

Sinicropi: It is difficult. You have to turn over rocks to find the shows. And, then you have to market them like you would a Rock station; with great promotions, street presence, traditional marketing and guerilla marketing. But you maintain the types of promotions and visibility that you normally would have with a Rock station. You're at concerts, you're on the street, you're at clubs, you're doing events. It doesn't have a Talk show mentality, it's got a music station mentality; from the imaging, the positioners, and the promos, all the way to the street presence.

Reker: For so many years all of our young talent has been brought up with Program Directors that sit behind computers and worry about music rotations, and they don't really concern themselves with developing and growing talent. When I look at bringing on new talent, I look at morning shows in smaller markets around America. But finding somebody that is on par with Howard Stern is a very, very difficult task. You start with the concept and then develop the talent. We've developed a different concept for nights, following Steve Dahl. "Radio For Men," sponsored by Playboy magazine, created a lot of buzz, and we do a lot of different and unique things with it. Had I just brought on an air talent, I'm not sure that it would have had the same strength that the overall concept has.

105.9 FM WCKG
"The Package!"

Stevens: We went through a lot of experimentation. We tried some nationally known comedians on the theory that it would be easier to teach a comedian radio, than to teach a radio guy to be funny. They all failed. They had their twenty to ninety minutes worth of material, and after that, the best that any of them could do was...go to the phones. We looked for people who were successful in a competitive situation in morning drive, doing the kind of show that we knew relied on their talent and personality. Not music or phone calls, or longevity in the market. To do this successfully requires real honest-to-God talent. You can't fool this audience. There are only a handful of people in the country who can do it. Maybe the best morning show in your market has a place in this format. But the guys that do this the best are the guys you've heard of: Howard Stern, Don & Mike, Steve Dahl, Brandmeier, G. Gordon Liddy. They're all different, but they have in common that ability to do a four-hour show; without playing any records, without taking any phone calls, and still having some listeners left at the end of four hours.

Jeremy Coleman: [WJFK's PD] G. Gordon Liddy was on the speaker circuit, and we created him from scratch as a radio talent, even though he had all of the right elements. We found our evening show, "The Sports Junkies," on cable access. It's a question of knowing what to look for and being willing to look for it in weird places.

How long did it take you to realize what would be most compatible with Howard?

Stevens: It took over a year to realize what we could do. Howard was so successful in the morning that we could actually do a morning show in every daypart. The first people recruited were our biggest competitors, Don & Mike, who were competing with Howard across town. But we couldn't deal with them until their contract was up, so it took some time to put the format together. When I first proposed doing this format to my boss, Mel Karmazin, he said, "Ken, that idea's only as good as the talent you can get to do it," and he was absolutely right. That's the story of the format to date. The stations, and the people doing this format, are only as good as the talent they can get.

Explain the "frame" of the station: production, attitude, and other elements.

Silver: The frame of the station is as creative as the talent. The two major selling points that are included in all the promos are: "97.1 The FM Talk station," and "The Future Of Talk Radio." We don't refer to the call letters. Most of the production includes audio drops from the shows, with the exception of Howard. We're unable to use any of his audio. It's all creative and tongue-in-cheek. The production's really slick and tight, like a good Top 40 station or a good Alternative Rock station. The promos and the creative production are as funny and as unique as the various shows, and that's the key. It's a Rock station that doesn't play any records. We share most of our audience with Rock stations, and most of the personalities are in the Rock generation demo. Many of our shows, Jonathon Brandmeier in Los Angeles, or Don & Mike in D.C., feature musical celebrities. We've had Van Halen and KISS on our midday show, and I daresay that neither of the Rock stations in Los Angeles even wanted to get involved with those bands. In the same breath, we had Coolio on and it was an awesome, insightful, compelling interview. For a radio station to put musical genre barriers on itself is/was the worst part about doing music radio. The best part about doing FM Talk is that if you're interested in Coolio and the story that he can tell, then you book him as a guest. In the same breath, you can book Hillary Clinton or cover the topic, "Is Your Girlfriend A Lesbian If She Tastes Her Own Juices?" To people who ask why we'd waste an FM signal on a Talk format I respond that it's better than being the third-rated AC, Classic Rock, or Active Rock station. As a pure marketing plan, once you're an FM Talk station, you're the first and you're the only. Those are two excellent marketing niches to have; first, only.

Reker: The station has a high level of personality that occasionally uses music to accent the personality. If we were a Rock station, you'd probably call us Mainstream Rock, as opposed to Alternative. It's a very in-your-face radio station. The station provokes emotion in the audience. From the time Howard goes on until the time "Radio For Men" is over at night, we explore the emotions of our audience. We can make 'em angry, make 'em laugh, make 'em happy, make 'em sad. There's no way to listen to this station and sit on the fence. You'll love it or hate it.

Sinicropi: The production elements have a lot of attitude. The promos are hard-hitting, and they sell the shows, the lifestyle, and the attitude of the Extreme Radio listener. "97.1 Extreme Radio, Detroit's FM Talk Station." These are not sleepy promos. It's a Rock attitude all the way. You would never confuse this with an AM radio station. If you were listening to the production on the best Rock station in any given market, that's what you're going to hear on this radio station. It's going to have the same feel, sound and attitude. We're just dripping testosterone. This is a destination station for men.

Coleman: Everything that you would find on a top-rated Rock station, you'd find on this station. The attitude of the production elements, the positioning of the station are very similar to Rock. Basically, the talent is Rock morning shows all day. And, our audience are the same people that listen to, or actually, don't listen to, Rock stations but would if we weren't around. They do listen to Rock stations. So in order to communicate with them, we do the same thing.

What specific slogans do you use?

Sinicropi: "97.1 Extreme Radio, Detroit's FM Talk Station." We'll package up little imaging pieces from each of the shows to promote the individual shows. It's like a television station would promote a line-up. Contesting also helps: Dahl is doing a fly-away with a plane-load of people to Maui in March. It's a listen-to-win contest within the show. It's the same sort of imaging, prizes, that tap into that lifestyle. It gives you tremendous latitude. As an advertiser, who wouldn't want to reach that Male 25-44 target? It's hard to reach them on television or any other medium.

Reker: "The Package." It was actually Steve Dahl's idea. Steve has a character called "Anthony," and he's a Southside Italian guy. It's very Chicago. It allows us to do whatever we want. We haven't necessarily labeled the station, so we're allowed to do a "Rock Of The Eighties" show at night because it's all part of the package.

Coleman: We position the station with the names of the talent. That is our product. Just like saying you're the Classic Rock station, we're a Howard Stern station, and the Don & Mike station, and "The Sports Junkies" station, and the G. Gordon Liddy station. The only positioning that we use are the names of our shows.

Do you think that FM Talk is the best way to maximize Howard's cume?

Silver: You have to give Howard all the credit. Howard's the reason that these stations exist, but maximizing Howard's cume is not my job. My job is to build a radio station after Howard Stern that is as compelling as his morning show. Howard's cume is Howard's cume, then you've got to do something after he gets off the air. Is it better to play Queen "Bohemian Rhapsody" after Howard or is it better to go to Jonathon Brandmeier? I'll take Johnny B. any day. Those tired, stale, Classic Rock records are useless. In Los Angeles, where the number of English-speaking males is decreasing, it's not a viable choice for us any more. I would rather hang my hat on the talents of Howard, Johnny B, Tom Leykis, and the rest of these guys, than the resurgence of The Black Crowes.

Jack Silver: "...lay off the famous house guests and take it easy on Pop icons from the seventies. Only rely on radio people, because this is the hardest format there is."

Sinicropi: People that listen to Howard aren't listening for music. He doesn't play music. It is Talk programming. It's a difficult challenge to have a powerful, compelling morning show like Stern and then go into music afterwards and expect it to have success at the same level. Some stations have been able to do it, but it is tough. It shows that guys are going to tune in to a program that doesn't have music if they find the content compelling. And, that's definitely the case with Stern. It's also the case with Mancow, with Dahl, and with Leykis. These are all very successful programs that don't play records and they're leaders in their respective markets. We don't have to worry about whether there's good product coming out, or whether we can get an exclusive, or who's going to get the signage at a concert. We can also promote any concert. We've got more concert business now than when we were playing records. Before it was, "Well, you know, you don't really play The Rolling Stones, so we won't buy you for that." Now I don't play anybody, so they've been buying me for everything.

Coleman: History would say that the best way to keep Howard's cume around the rest of the day is FM Talk shows that are good. The problem is that there's no such thing as FM Talk, there's just a few good shows. We happen to have put together a bunch that work.

Do you think the format would work in other markets?

Sinicropi: If it can work on the east coast, west coast, and in the Midwest, I'd challenge you to find an area of the country where it would not work.

Silver: When we're having this discussion in 2009 there will be an FM Talk station in many, many, many markets. And, the reason it will work in those markets are all the same. If you have a strong line-up of radio professionals doing Talk radio on FM, it will succeed. Again, my only caution is...lay off the famous house guests and take it easy on Pop icons from the seventies. Only rely on radio people, because this is the hardest format there is.

Stevens: It will be in every market. The format is only as good as the talent you can get. And, there's only one Howard Stern, one Steve Dahl, one Don & Mike, one G. Gordon Liddy, one Jonathon Brandmeier. There are not enough to go around. You might find a morning show in your market that can fill one day-part in this format, but after that you're going to have to look elsewhere for more. And, you're going to have to look to the networks. G. Gordon Liddy and Don & Mike are syndicated.

They're available through the networks. Howard Stern, Don Imus, Dahl and Brandmeier will be available. The talent will soon be available to everyone.

Why aren't more people doing this?

Stevens: The talent is hard to come by and there are a lot of people who don't get it. There are people in Washington, D.C., in radio, who don't know that WJFK is the #1 billing station in town, and would be surprised to hear it. I always did Rock, and when I started working with Howard Stern I realized that this formula works, which means good revenue. Because of the structure you can add more inventory which equals great revenue. You combine the kind of inventory you can run in Talk radio with the kind of demographics that you deliver in Rock radio, and you become the #1 biller.

Sinicropi: Let's face it, any time you change a format on a radio station it's a big decision, and companies have made big investments so they think these things out very carefully. Every station wants to have a unique position in the market, and in Detroit, this is a unique position. Instead of being one of three to five Rock stations in a market you could have this unique position. I would much rather be doing what we're doing than be battling it out with four other Rock stations. Saying, "No, no, we play half as much Led Zeppelin and twice as much Pumpkins."

Silver: It's on the front side of the success cycle, so the tendency is for people to want to see how long, where and well it will work. The only reason it hasn't jumped on more stations is because people are just waiting and seeing. The reality of radio, as you know, is there are so many followers. Everyone's still catching up on last year's bandwagon. Everyone's still trying to play yesterday's Classics and R&B Soul. Look at your radio station and your billing. Do you have a sick soldier on your hands? If you've got a sick soldier, pull the trigger. If you're making your ratings and revenue numbers, we're not having this discussion. In every single radio station in every city in America, from WNEW, to Alice in San Francisco, to Eagle in Dallas, those folks should take a good, solid look at what they're really doing and see if they could increase their ratings and revenue by being a unique and very powerful Talk station that just happens to be on FM.

Reker: There are just so many ways that we can recycle the same old records. When you find an adult that has been burned out on Classic Rock and isn't particularly fond of the new music that's being produced, they're looking for something. If you can Rock 'em with Talk, you can get 'em.

Imagine that your station has no direct format competition in the market. Now, imagine your target audience is young adult males. Imagine record labels happily setting you up with on-air interviews of top-tier artists whose music you're not even playing.

Too good to be true? Not if you're one of the farsighted programmers bringing along one of the newer FM Talkers. These stations have, for the most part, built programming around the remarkable draw of Howard Stern in the morning, and added other Talk hosts after Howard, not even attempting to go back to a music format for the other dayparts. Is it working? According to the Fall '98 Arbitron, like gangbusters.

WJFK/Washington, D.C. — the grand-daddy of Infinity's FM Talkers — has a 7.6 in Men 25-49 (number one in the market) and a 7.5 in Men 18-34 (tied for third). More important, it had $19.5 million in revenues in '97, according to "Duncan's Radio Market Guide," making it the market's second highest biller. That's especially noteworthy in light of 'JFK's spotty signal.

Sister station WCKG/Chicago scored a 6.3 in Men 25-49 (number one) and a 6.0 Men 18-34 (fourth). KLSX/Los Angeles notched a 5.0 in Men 25-49 (tied for third) and a 4.6 in Men 18-34 (seventh). Last fall, WKRK/Detroit became the fourth Infinity FM to go FM Talk. At presstime, the New York rumor mill was in overdrive about a possible flip to FM Talk at 31-year-old rocker WNEW-FM, another Infinity property.

Though no one's been more bullish on the format than Infinity, FM Talk's biggest ratings success story belongs to Clear Channel's WTKS/Orlando. The station is number one in every male demo, second in 25-54 adults, and fifth in market revenues.

Testosterone-fueled ratings aren't the only benefit that programming an FM Talker will bring a company. Traditionally, Talk stations can run a significantly higher spotload, because the commercials aren't perceived as an interruption in the programming flow. These stations have other unique benefits and challenges that we explored with KLSX PD Jack Silver, WCKG PD Reid Reker, WJFK GM Ken Stevens and PD Jeremy Coleman, and WKRK VP/GM Steve Sinicropi.

Talk With A Rock Attitude: Infinity's FM

What makes FM Talk different from AM Talk?

Jack Silver: The major difference is "it's on FM," and that's not as funny as it sounds. It's much more viable and attractive for younger demos because that's where the foot traffic is. In most major markets, and even in smaller markets, 75 to 80% of the foot traffic is on FM, so the primary difference and the reason it's so powerful is because that's where everybody already is. You don't have to drag them over to AM to get them to listen to the station.

Steve Sinicropi: Being on FM is an important distinction. AM, traditionally, has been a band that has catered to an older audience and it has a traditional type of Talk radio. Typically, when you look at established AM Talkers that reach an older crowd — they do great with the 55+ crowd, or a 45+ crowd — they were built on sports franchises and others things that a traditional AM Full Service or Talk station does. People aren't going to come to us for the school lunches and the lost dog. That's not what this is all about. This is a Rock station without the records. It's got the same attitude as a Rock station, but it's for the guy who's tired of hearing Led Zeppelin for the fifteen hundredth time. It's based on compelling and entertaining personalities and programs that are targeted to 25-44 Males. It's got an attitude that you're not finding on AM. When you lead off with Howard Stern it sets the tone for the radio station. We have the biggest, best morning show in the world as a foundation to build on. If you're so successful in morning drive with a show that is personality driven, why not take that concept and put a morning show in every daypart? That's really what we've done.
