Comment

As expected, the last chart of the year reflects a very stable top five. But a long list of active records should get 1983 off to a superstart. Underlines have been given to those entries that stand the greatest chance of continuing upward in January, although several may run into dead ends during the Christmas/New Year break. Seger joins a very select group as one of 1982's strongest debuts. Culture Club had an incredible week, picking up 48 adds, including KIMN, KRTH, KRQ, WAXY, Z-104, WPRO/FM, WBEN/FM, etc. Stations choosing not to air the full version should be aware that a new edited single has been released. Though not all of the original intro has been chopped, most of it is gone, making for a much cleaner production. One of the surprise stories of the week is the Rabbitt/Gayle duet, which has been number one Country and is still climbing the A/C chart. Though it's been hanging around Correspondents' Consensus Picks for several months, it's now being added at WROR, KYNO/FM, WBLI, WAXY, WPRO/FM, etc. Strong chart gains move it into this week's Top 40, so it's definitely one to keep an eye on. Barry Manilow's slow airplay and chart growth moves him back to Correspondents' Picks, with a bigger increase needed to keep him as a Top Contender. I'd like to thank all of you for your support the past year and I hope, in some small way, our information has helped you. The office re-opens Monday, January 3rd, which is when I look forward to speaking with you again.

Comment (continued from page 1)

Hope you and your families have a wonderful holiday season and that 1983 is a "smash" for all of us.

Memo

As part of this last issue of 1982, we've included our Top 100's for 1982. How are they compiled, you may be asking?

To qualify for consideration, a record must have been in the top half of the chart for at least one week during 1982. More than 100 records reach that first qualifying requirement. An inverted point scale is assigned to each record in the top group each week (example: 20 points for number 1, 19 points for #2, etc.)

The cutoff date for the Top 100's was December 10th, 1982, although a realistic projection of the December 17th chart is made by each format editor and is included in the final tabulation.

The only other factor which may affect the final chart is a tie-breaking formula employed by each editor, which takes into consideration each records position within a particular weekly chart, indicating either an extremely competitive week or a relatively impotent chart.

Please note that The Gavin Report does include the months of November and December in our year-end compilations. We feel (unlike some of the other trade publications) that the inclusion of this additional research is of equal importance as that of the rest of the year to those who seek an accurate overview of musical trends during 1982.

Records which straddled the holidays last year - enjoying significant success in 1981 and 1982 - are designated by an asterisk (*). Records which were still climbing at the end of 1982 are indicated by an underline.

The Gavin Report will be closed from December 18th until January 3rd. We ask our reporting stations to hold onto their playlists during that period. When reporting for the first issue of 1983, please include all records you have added since Wednesday, December 15th.

Thank You and Happy Holidays!

IN RETROSPECT

Unemployment nearing 12%. Young people unemployed at a rate at least twice that amount. A flat depressed economy, despite a reduced inflation rate (somewhere between five and seven percent). Millions of those unable to find a decent job would gladly trade higher inflation for a job. A new budgetary consciousness on the part of local, state and federal government chips away at the cornerstones of social reform established in more generous times. Our dependence on foreign oil and our obsession with foreign goods, in deference to those domestically produced, have caused a steady deterioration of American productivity.

Yet we've taken for granted the amazing accomplishments of NASA and the Space Shuttle program. The linkage between American ingenuity, government execution and private enterprise have combined to provide a truly unique venture which will, someday, have benefitted us all. Current and future orbiting hardware will be available to expand even further the wonderful world of communication. As recently as the sixties it would have been sheer fantasy to have hypothesized the potential existent today in orbiting satellites. Today, nearly every radio station in America benefits from the foresight employed in the last decade.

Instant news, live feeds, mass distribution of special programs and, in a growing number of cases, entire format services have impacted American radio. This dramatic acceleration of communication creates a higher standard of living and puts us all in the fast lane. Through this increase in efficiency, it is thought that time is being freed from routine. This, in turn, should result in more qualitative thought and action. Coupled with the meteoric growth in computer program technology, the space age has allowed us the opportunity to work on formerly incalculable human problems.

Technology, uncontrolled, can create nuclear terror, but technology that is thoughtfully employed has tremendous potential to improve the quality of life for every human being on this planet. Let us pray that the latter can happen before the former prevents it.

Ron Fell

Analysis

Just ahead of the Holiday freeze, Michael & Paul are home safe. The Patti Austin record, now ten months old shows, no signs of letting up and could be among the top five next year. Excellent growth on Kenny Loggins, Fleetwood Mac and Juice Newton leads me to believe that they won't be far behind. Of the four debuts, only Poco came from the usual launching pad - Action Sides. Culture Club came from Airplay, while the Seger and Dolly/Willie came straight from Correspondent Preferred Picks. On the Glenn Frey story, both sides are now getting pretty equal quality rotations. If, as expected, everyone drops the Firefall Christmas single after December 25th, we can expect the generic title ALWAYS to run for numbered status.

Have a great and safe Holiday season and we'll talk again beginning January 3rd.

Dropped: CSN, Joe Jackson, Elvis, Bill Conti, Stray Cats.

The Gavin Report is closed for the Holidays. We re-open Monday, January 3rd. Stations, please report Monday thru Wednesday of that week. Happy Holidays!!!

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

In response to a letter reprinted in last week's Gavin on page 13, we received the following:
 "I want to publicly apologize for the misunderstanding caused by your publication of a note I wrote about Ron Davis. I have discovered that Ron did indeed tender his resignation at KLDN, Eldon, MO. The note that I wrote on his behalf was based entirely on my personal friendship with Ron. My sincere apologies to Ray Speckman, GM at KLDN for any grief I may have caused him."

DIGGING FOR GOLD

Although musical piracy, in the form of unauthorized record sales, may have faded from the headlines, it hasn't gone away. Officers from the vice-squad of the Hollywood division of the Los Angeles police department arrested 12 people and seized 1,160 "alleged bootleg albums" at a flea market in Hollywood, on December 4th.

After making several "buys" from various vendors at the flea market, plainclothes officers called in the troops and sealed off the area. Customers and legit dealers were allowed to leave while the L.A.P.D. removed the suspects and the questionable records. Among the albums taken as evidence were "live" recordings of: Elvis Presley, Rolling Stones, Elvis Costello, Linda Ronstadt, the Beatles, Neil Young, Genesis, and (can you believe it?) the Monkees.

It's eleven o'clock. Where are your records?

Editor's Note

During the next few weeks, pages of words will appear and mountains of pictures will be seen, all attempting to capsulize the year gone by. But in order to grasp a full understanding of how past events shape the future, a time capsulization of some duration (preferably longer than 12 months) must take place so that we stand back far enough to gain perspective. Nevertheless, several programming trends and technological advances stand out in my mind as the most noteworthy of 1982.

Overshadowing all else is the awesome growth of our communication capability. Just as the Emancipation Proclamation of 1865 freed our Black citizens from slavery, today's audience is beginning to break free from the limited listening and viewing choices they've been bound to for the last fifty years. Home computers, expanding cable/satellite delivery, home recording equipment and host of a new innovations entering our lives on what seems like a weekly basis, are the superstars of the year. Looking back at the primitive fears radio broadcasters fostered during the early days of television, it's comical when compared to the communications revolution of this decade. Experts debate about which future advances will take hold, but one thing is certain, this is only the beginning, and as Al Jolson said so aptly, "You ain't seen nothin' yet folks."

Statistics just released show network television viewing is down substantially. Faced with their cable competitors, HBO, SHOWTIME, CNN, MTV, numerous video games and other diversions, the Big 3's attempt to maintain domination of the airwaves seems futile. The scenario is much like the AM/FM radio battle of the late 60's and 70's. Programming executives at NBC, CBS, & ABC know their best chance at garnering large audience shares is in their ability to provide entertainment and information that is unavailable anywhere else. (60 Minutes, 20/20, major sports events, and epic specials like the upcoming "Winds of War" etc.) But TV had never been a highly successful music medium until 1982, when the impact of MTV began being felt by not only the networks, but by radio also. For the first time programmers felt retail record sales being noticeably influenced by something other than concentrated radio play. The evergrowing audience of MTV has to be considered one of the major developments of the year. Though P.D.'s may argue about the positives or negatives MTV presents for radio, it's here to stay, with more alternative music channels on the way.

When the year began, there were those who counted old, basic Top 40 radio out of the fight or, at best, on the ropes. It took gutsy managers and programmers to understand that the cause of Top 40's troubles was not the format itself, but the watering down and sterilization of the format, that were to blame. Under a banner of labels such as Hot Hits, Urban Contemporary or just plain Top 40, we witnessed a long list of stations who only months before looked to other formats (mostly A/C and Country), returning to the Top 40 fold and their audiences returning as well. Then, in the summer, Rick Carroll's KROQ/FM became the success story in the highly competitive L.A. market, with a signal that many wrote off as too weak to ever be a factor and a small budget for promotion. Modern music sparked the imagination of a young audience looking for a station and a sound to call their own. And yes, once more the formatics of Top 40 were set to a new beat, and won.

Those are the industry highlights I'll remember when I think back to 1982. And though the economy didn't make the comeback we all would have liked, too much has been made of our economic woes. Being an eternal optimist, I look for a much brighter future. Too often we talk of the 12% unemployed rather than the 88% employed, or the high cost of living, rather than the fact that inflation is at its lowest level in recent years. And most of all, that the standard of living most of us enjoy, is still one of the highest in the world. The majority of the inhabitants of this planet would gladly change places with us. The importance of the communications medium grows stronger each year and I know we can all work together to help make the world healthier, safer and happier in 1983.

Looking Back

I was looking through some old programming sheets the other day and found several interesting items that I had forgotten. My recollection had been that the early days of rock 'n' roll had swept the smoother ballads off the Top 40 playlists. Almost overnight. My lists show that it was a much more gradual takeover. In 1957 and 1958, three years after Bill Haley's "Rock Around The Clock", we were still programming hits by the likes of Johnnie Mathis, Doris Day, Frank Sinatra and Pat Boone - even "Liechtensteiner Polka, by Will Glahe. One of the biggest hits of that era was "Volare", sung in Italian by Domenico Mondugno. There were also the zany Chipmunks and the big Christmas hit, "Little Drummer Boy" by The Harry Simone Chorale.

In the early 50's, the Top 40 concept swept through the radio spectrum like a hurricane - scattering the non-believers in all directions. Contrary to popular belief, it was not rock 'n' roll that was responsible for the storm - rock 'n' roll hadn't been discovered in 1950. It was an idea - the idea that the best way to find out what people most wanted to hear was to find out which records they paid money for in the stores. The parallel demise of the big radio network shows placed the burden of programming choice on the local radio people, who responded by going to the stores and asking, "What are the people buying?"

There's no point in going on and on about the changes in radio programming. The point is that these changes have continued to reflect changes in popular preference. Radio, even more than other entertainment media, listens to people. Radio is - and has to be - eternally sensitive to the responses and feelings of the public. Todd Storz once referred to radio as the "constant companion". It gives me a warm satisfaction to have been a part - a very small part - of this exciting business for over fifty years, and to have been able to talk about it for the last twenty-five years, through The Gavin Report, with an ever widening circle of readers. Ma Bell tells us to "Reach out and touch someone". That's what radio does, in a sensitive and responsive way. And that's what we at The Gavin Report hope to do - to touch you, our readers, and, indirectly through you, our listeners.

As we draw nearer to the magic of Christmas, with its affirmation of humanity and peace, our thoughts turn more warmly to family and friends. Perhaps we learn again every year, like Dickens' Scrooge, that money and success can never bring the personal satisfaction that's to be found in helping somebody else - somebody who needs you.

And so, to our family of radio correspondents, and to all our friends who make the music, we thank you for your confidence and support in the past, just as we hope to merit them in the future. May you all enjoy the warmth of Christmas sharing in your family circle. And may we all find a quiet spot in our hearts to say a prayer for peace.

Album Picks

1982 probably won't go into the books as pop music's greatest year, but looking back on that past 50 weeks, there were some wonderful moments. Listed below are this reviewer's favorites.

Ron Fell

- "American Fool"-John Cougar (Riva/PolyGram) (April 16) Saw him headline for thirty people a few years back and glad he stuck with it.
- "Original Musiquarium I"-Stevie Wonder (Tamla) (April 30) Some pretty tasty day-old donuts and four fresh and hot ones.
- "Donna Summer"-Donna Summer (Geffen) (July 16th) The most underplayed single of 1982 was STATE OF INDEPENDENCE.
- "It's Hard"-The Who (Warner Bros.) (September 3) So, I was wrong!
- "Signals"-Rush (Mercury/PolyGram) (September 17) Future shock waves in Album Radio.
- "Love Over Gold"-Dire Straits (Warner Bros.) (September 24) The most overlooked album of any year.
- "H₂O"-Hall & Oates (RCA) (October 18) Amazing chemistry.
- "Thriller"-Michael Jackson (Epic) (December 3) Will live up to its title and our expectations.

Where Have You Been Joe DiMaggio (COMEBACKS)

- "Concert In Central Park"-Simon & Garfunkel (Warner Bros.) (March 5) Hopefully a studio reunion in the future.
- "IV"-Toto (Columbia) (March 26th) I was wondering if they'd have enough studio time for their own band after appearing on literally scores of other artists' projects.
- "16"-Chicago (Full Moon/Warner Bros.) (June 11) They were gone but not forgotten until "sweet sixteen."
- "Daylight Again"-Crosby, Stills & Nash (Atlantic) (June 25) Just another song before they go.
- "Midnight Love"-Marvin Gaye (Columbia) (November 12) He was beginning to wonder who the hell greased the Grapevine.

O Solo Mios (MY FAVORITE SOLOS)

- "Tug of War"-Paul McCartney (Columbia) (April 23) He just did what we had come to expect and hadn't been getting.
- "No Fun Aloud"-Glenn Frey (Asylum) (June 4) & "I Can't Stand Still"-Don Henley (Asylum) (August 20) Take these two Eagles off the endangered species list.
- "Pictures At Eleven"-Robert Plant (Swan Song) (June 25) The super structure of the Zeppelin remains whole.
- "If That's What It Takes"-Michael McDonald (Warner Bros.) (August 13) As fulfilling as any of his projects with the Doobies.
- "Nebraska"-Bruce Springsteen (Columbia) (September 17) Wheatfield soul and plainspeak.
- "Lionel Richie"-Lionel Richie (Motown) (October 1) He drops the junior and the Commodores.
- "The Nightfly"-Donald Fagen (Warner Bros.) (October 15) So cool, it's hot.

Recommended Listening

"Even Now"/"Makin' Thunderbirds"/"Boomtown Blues"/"Roll Me Away"-BOB SEGER & THE SILVER BULLET BAND Bob Seger and his band rose above the rock 'n' roll ranks not by being flashy, sexy, or provocative, but by being great and consistent when it counted. Even after years of rocking on the road (though not so much these days), Seger hung tough when it was probably nearly impossible to do so. Once the gold and silver comes reeling in, acts the stature of Bob Seger have the even tougher task of staying interesting. So while the sameness of THE DISTANCE eats into the dramatic appeal of his new material, Seger sullenly sings "all of a sudden now, you feel so old."

1982 SLEEPERS

Don't know about you, but I heard lots of good music this year. After sifting through a year's worth of Gavin Reports, I came up with what I thought were the twelve coolest, most original, generally overlooked singles and LP's of 1982.

Albums

JOE JACKSON took a huge creative gamble (and won) with "Night and Day," showing the world that stubborn individuality can pay. Newcomer PAUL BRADY released one of 1982's most vociferous and angriest LP's entitled "Hard Station." SQUEEZE's "Sweets From A Stranger" may have been sheer quality, but it wasn't enough to keep the gang together. Ditto JAPAN, an English techno-band who dissolved after the brilliant "Tin Drum." ABC may have lacked finesse on some of their live shows, but their debut LP was a successful and lavish homage to American soul. DAVID LINDLEY AND EL RAYO-X maintained their status as musician's musicians with "Win This Record." THE TIME's "What Time Is It" was a cool blend of rap, funk, and rock. XTC's "English Settlement" was released as an extravagant double LP in England. Music lovers should look forward to the George Martin production of the new ULTRAVOX LP entitled "Quartet" due out once their label finalizes new distribution plans. ABBA finally saw fit to release all of their "Singles" onto one LP. To listen through is like chronicling the history of the synthesizer in pop music. Producer and performer PHIL COLLINS outdid himself and Genesis with countless projects and a hot solo LP, "Hello, I Must Be Going." Lastly, RICHARD AND LINDA THOMPSON's "Shoot Out The Lights" was augmented by a rare tour, then a divorce.

Singles/12 Inches

It was a better year for singles than albums. If 1982 was anything, it was also the year of the 12-inch. Here lies a list of twelve songs that elevated the single from raw vinyl into a true artform.

- "Maneater"-HALL & OATES (RCA)
 "Back On The Chain Gang"-THE PRETENDERS (Sire)
 "Don't You Want Me"-HUMAN LEAGUE (A&M)
 "Body Slam"-BOOTSIE COLLINS (Warner Bros.)
 "Sexual Healing"-MARVIN GAYE (Columbia)
 "Souvenir"-ORCHESTRAL MANOEUVERS IN THE DARK (Virgin/Epic)
 "Only You"-YAZOO (Sire)
 "White Wedding"-BILLY IDOL (Chrysalis)
 "The Message"-GRANDMASTER FLASH & FURIOUS FIVE (Sugar Hill)
 "I Melt With You"-MODERN ENGLISH (Sire)
 "Shock The Monkey"-PETER GABRIEL (Geffen)
 "Do You Really Want To Hurt Me"-CULTURE CLUB (Virgin/Epic)

WAITING FOR THE REVOLUTION

- In a key scene during the movie REDS, Jack Reed (played, of course, by Warren Beatty) turns to a disillusioned Emma Goldman and sternly asks her just why she expected the Russian Revolution to be a completely smooth and orderly transition. Of all the radio formats covered by the Gavin Report, Album Radio is in the most need of, is closest to, and will probably be the next format to undergo the closest thing to, a revolution. It's happening NOW. Expect the change to be steady, but certainly not smooth or immediate.
- If Elvis and The Beatles can be used as symbols of rock 'n' roll's transition points during the fifties and the sixties, then the Sex Pistols could be labeled as the band that turned the tables for the late seventies/early eighties. The only difference being that while Elvis and The Fab Four transformed their audiences overnight, it took today's kids six long years to finally claim their own music in the possessive, fanatical, and youthful way that signals a changing-of-the-guards to the powers-that-be ... you!
- So, 1982 finally brought about the big change. New music, new wave; call it what you want, but be practical. These days, changes and attitudes must go through a period where new ideas must be researched, packaged, and presented to your listening audience, a little like baby food, before they are believed. For economic reasons, radio has learned that it is necessary to present music in terms of a tangible format--something easily identifiable, categorizeable, and most important, saleable, both on the streets and nationally.
- We at the Gavin Report are proud that inside the 1983 Album Radio section, one full page a week will be devoted to new releases and Alternative Action. In a strict sense, that page will be designed to contribute fresh food for thought for the programmers who sort through and decide what product to broadcast over the people's airwaves. While we don't expect you to immediately add "Buffalo Gals" or the new imported Human League single, it is our hope that you will be kept up to date with the trends and new directions being blazed by both new and established artists. All that's required is an open mind.
- Talk to you next year. I hope to see you in the trenches.

Programming Guidelines

(Reprinted by permission of Burns Media Consultants, Inc.

It seems a shame to end the year on a less than cheery note. Still, the thing we learned this year is that radio is finally being affected by the economy. Radio has been thought to be recession-proof in some quarters. Perhaps it is during short periods of stagnation. The current slump now seems more lengthy than has been the case in the recent past. With the experts predicting only a moderate recovery and perhaps a short one at that, operators of radio stations are beginning to talk less about the upswing around the corner and more about budgeting for a longer situation...maybe even much longer. All of these economic pressures come at a crucial time. The industry is facing incredible technological change. The biggest problem is that there are too many radio stations for the way the industry sells itself to advertisers. Combine the new technology (and the spectre of new kinds of competition) with the competition already existing, and you are facing a situation where fewer and fewer stations will be big winners and many more will lose in large proportions.

In such times, businesses must change some of their fundamental operational philosophy. During the next year, we in radio will be rethinking job descriptions, staff sizes, organizational priorities and other areas that haven't been addressed in decades. The very nature of what radio does is coming under scrutiny. It seems clear a few stations can continue as before. It is also obvious that the growing number of outlets unable to score leadership positions in the ratings may have to define business in a new way to even stay in business.

During the last ten years, programmers have developed (and had developed for them) a startling array of services. These include research services, advertising and promotional resources, technical aids and other luxuries. In hard times there may not be so much fat for these items. It will behoove many programmers to develop their own skills in this area and learn ways of accomplishing many things in a more economical way.

1982 seems to be a year in which the chickens came home to roost. 1983 will be a time of "shaking out." Those who will profit in 1983 will be the ones who can contribute to the more efficient running of their departments.

BURNZOID'S JAM SESSION

It's been stated so often that it's becoming a truism. We, who are in the communications business, have an awfully difficult time communicating with each other. Why? And, if we can get a handle on communicating within our organizations, how do we truly communicate with the people who matter the most - listeners? Why do they (or don't they) choose one "style" of specific media over another?

There are no simple answers, but there are answers. Burns Media Consultants, a highly dedicated and innovative group of media explorers, is now accepting registrations for its 11th Radio Studies Seminar, to be held January 10-12, 1983 at the Marina International Hotel in Marina Del Rey, CA. Readers of our "Programming Guidelines" feature know that Burns Media Consultants present a thoughtful, cohesive overview of where we are and what we can do.

If the foregoing sounds like an endorsement, it is. As an alumnus of three previous seminars, I can state with confidence that attendees will come away from this gathering with increased knowledge, insight and optimism, as well as a practical guide to establish, and accomplish, individual goals.

For registration information, contact Burns Media Consultants at 3054 Dona Marta Drive, Studio City, CA 91604, or call 213-985-8522. See you there.

- Very few years in broadcasting are boring, and 1982 was one of the least boring in memory! It has been a volatile year, and it seems that few issues important to broadcasting have not seen significant evolution in these twelve months.
- Most AM broadcasters were relieved this year that the 9 kHz spacing issue -- suggested by the U.S. originally -- was finally done away with. The proposal would have allowed some new stations, but would have degraded the fidelity and signal-to-noise ratio for all AM stations. However, the AM stations were in for a shock when the FCC decided to leave the technical standards for AM stereo, after years of testing and debate, up to the "marketplace" to decide. Of the five noncompatible systems, one became inactive -- Belar -- and two more worked behind the scenes to obtain manufacturer acceptance rather than initial acceptance by broadcasters. That left Harris and Kahn-Hazeltine slugging it out in the broadcast arena, each with major stations, although at year-end Harris had a pronounced edge in cash-deposit orders. Each system succeeded in finding a manufacturer interested in making receivers; for Kahn, it was the Mura Corporation of Westbury, New York, with receivers promised early in 1983. Harris system receivers became available in October, manufactured by Crutchfield Co. of Charlottesville, Virginia.
- General Motors' Delco division tested the Harris, Magnavox and Motorola systems, and, on December 7th, announced that it would build the Motorola system into future GM cars. Kahn and Belar declined to participate.
- For AM, other important issues of the year included increasing interference in the Southeast from Cuban stations; the opening of the clear channels to new stations at great distances from the Class I-A primaries; the beginning of FCC work on the future use of the AM band extensions--adding 530 kHz and 1610-1700 kHz: the apparent FCC willingness to grant "post-sunset" authority and perhaps other relief to daytimers; and the increasing likelihood that Class IV stations (1230, 1240, 1340, 1400, 1450, 1490 kHz) will be granted the right to operate at 1 kw day and night. (By the way, this may not be the boon it seems; although signal strength for each station will increase 6 db at night, the simultaneous nighttime power increase from 250 watts to 1,000 watts for all such stations will increase nighttime interference by 6 db too! However, it will help Class IV's overcome increasing urban electrical static and interference.)
- For FM's, the year ends with news that the band's steady ratings growth in recent years slowed almost to a halt in the final published ratings of the year. FM, however, enjoys a significant advantage over AM at that level. FM's also were concerned that the FCC might loosen FM technical standards to allow more stations -- by short-spacing stations, allowing class A stations (maximum, 3,000 watts) on class B-C channels (maximum, 50 kw to 100 kw). The FCC this year spoke about ending the informal restriction that kept high power channels out of small towns, and the Commission began looking aggressively for new uses for SCA services on FM carriers (and FM operators were eyeing the new uses with interest, since they would mean new revenue without disrupting the regular program service).
- Other highlights of the past year include the continuing gains of the Birch Report against Arbitron, following its purchase of its rival Mediastat. Birch at the moment seems to be making the best run at that big subsidiary of Control Data of any ratings company in the past fifteen years.
- While elements of the FCC deregulatory policies have given both cheer and headaches to radio managements, the bottom line for the year was the very poor bottom line enjoyed by many stations in the recession. Many stations were hurting badly, but business seemed to be turning up by late October. Many experts were predicting that a strong broadcast recovery would not come till as late as April, however.
- For programmers, the year provided new tools: Positioning, left/right brain theory, new demographic strategies. However it appeared that "positioning" was not well understood by many, and few seemed able to apply brain theory to programming tactics (but those who did were quite successful as a rule). And the success of Al Ham's strategic "Music Of Your Life" format resulted in many imitators in "the big banding of America"; and although the original format remained healthy, there seemed to be more failures than success stories for the imitators.
- Computers became an omnipresent part of daily life -- in videogames (the entertainment success story of the year), the growth of personal and business computerization, and the everpresent digital consumer product (and broadcast equipment).

Dave Sholin's Personal Picks

2ND ANNUAL TOP FORTY FAVES OF THE EDITOR

Repeating my practice of last year, I once again take my only shot all year to blow off all objectivity and list my personal choices for the Top 40 of the year. Absolutely nothing factual here, just callin' 'em as I like 'em. If you ever have this gig you can get off on putting one of these together too.

Album of the Week Reviewed by Ron Fell

"The Distance"-Bob Seger (Capitol) Despite the cover art, the sun is not setting on Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band. Rumbling rhythms and furious energy provide all the horsepower any rock 'n' roll album could want. And even when the crank down to ballad form, there's a special urgency and passion that can drain or siphon off any remaining fuel. Lyrically, the set deals with broken relationships and unfulfilled dreams, (similar to Springsteen's "Nebraska", but not nearly as stark.) Seger has a peculiar way of mixing driving beats with intoxicating lyric. On Interstate Five that's what we call a 502. On vinyl its multiplatinum. EVEN NOW, MAKIN' THUNDERBIRDS, BOOMTOWN BLUES, SHAME ON THE MOON, ROLL ME ALONG, HOUSE BEHIND A HOUSE.
