

the GAVIN REPORT

The Gavin Interview:

ROBBIE
ROBERTSON:
THE WEIGHT IS OVER

somewhere between dreams and circumstances lies the border.

M R M I S T E R

*experience "the border." 5325-7-1
the essence of mr. mister charged with the power and emotion that catapulted "broken wings" and "kyrie" to #1. an important song from the great new album, "go on."*

(page, george, lang)
we
we must go on now
wherever people go who go on together and now
try to hold on now too many of us have run
run out of the circle are you listening
are you breathing
i need you near me
no i'm not leaving
i'm in no hurry to do this alone
i am standing here
with my arms open wide i am waiting here heart in my hand on the border dreams dreams may seduce you but sooner or later they're gone and you're back where you started look look at these scars now
how many wounds does it take before we are healing can we go on now
from what we have done now
yes we must go on. our questions unanswered i know what we're after is right here in our hands
i am standing here
with my arms open wide i keep waiting here heart in my hand
on the border
every step we take gives us the strength to go on and all the love we make gets us closer to home
i can see it all so clearly now i can hear your voice in a song and it burns down inside my soul it takes me down this winding road we can find our way back home
we
we must go on now
wherever people go who go on together

INSIDE TOP 40

by Dave Sholin

Once again we turn back the hands on time and get rewarded with shorter days and longer nights. To many this time honored tradition truly signifies the start of a new season. Besides causing the overnight air talent to put in an extra hour of playin' the hits, the time change has a definite effect on our moods. It's always nice when music complements those changing moods, dictated in part by the environment. Check out some select gold titles that were giant hits during this time of year. Some new songs just seem right for this season. While great music is always great music any time of year, it never hurts to be sensitive to the changes Mother Nature brings and the resulting changes in the way we feel.

It was a fairly quick trip back into the top ten for those East End guys THE PET SHOP BOYS. Guy Brouillard charts 'em 8-5 at CKOI Montreal, with other top five numbers at Y95 Dallas, FM104 Modesto/Stockton, WXXQ Freeport, WRCK Utica, WIFC Wausau, KCPX Salt Lake City, Z95 Chicago, Y106 Orlando, KFMV Provo/Salt Lake City, KXFM Santa Maria, etc.

Several markets are reporting excellent chart moves on YES. That growth is confirmed by a HIT FACTOR percentage that more than doubles from 12% to 29%. Thane Phelan at KZHR Yakima says most of the records that generate response at his station lean urban. But in this case YES is getting tremendous sales and phone activity. Big gains at K104 25-13, WROQ 18-11, WZZR 22-16, KKRQ 29-22 WQUT 31-25, KQEN 28-22, etc.

Even the onslaught of product by established acts can't stop R.E.M. More positives every week from all regions on this extraordinary track that broke on Alternative stations. Moves into the Top Twenty for Dave Bavidio WDEK/FM De Kalb 21-15, Bob Case Z93 Atlanta 24-16, Scott Burton and Rick Andrews WNYZ Utica 25-19, Gary Cummings KZFN Moscow 21-16, J.D.Chandler KGOT Anchorage 22-17, etc.

Strong surge in airplay for MICHAEL BOLTON combines with some hot chart moves to guarantee him continued growth. KMEL San Francisco takes it Top Ten going 11-9, confirmed by KWSS San Jose listing it at #10. Also doing well at KDWB 13-11, B94 30-25, Y104 28-22, etc. New on B104, KQCR, KSND, KIIS, Q96/76, KITY, WLKI, KZ103, WTIC, WAVA, KFIV, etc.

BOURGEOIS TAGG closes in on 200 reports and, more important a 10% HIT FACTOR after their second week on the Top 40. Gains at KAKS Amarillo 27-18, KKCK Marshall 29-19, WLXR La Crosse 31-24, KATD San Jose/Los Gatos 27-23, WHSB Alpena 19-12, etc. Debuts inside the Top Thirty at WATT, FM102, KXGO, KZLS, WKRM, KBAU, KUUB, etc.

Miami was the first market to shout about TAYLOR DAYNE. 32 adds take him over 100 total reports with a solid chart picture developing. Bill Tanner at POWER 96 Miami moves it closer to the top spot with a 3-2 gain, while crosstown Jeff Tyson and Cedric Hollywood jump it 26-15 at HOT 105. Also looking good at KKOS 34-26, KRQK 28-20, KMEL 20-16, and WHYT debut #25. New on 93Q, Y108, KWNZ, WBNQ, WABB, WILI, KZZK, KIQY, KRQ, WIZM, KZOU, KWIN, etc.

Some very strong debuts are coming in on the KANE GANG. Tim Fox and Denise Lauren take it from an add to #24 at WKTU Milwaukee, Richard Sands and Steve Masters debut it at #25 on LIVE 105 San Francisco, and Buzz Bennett and Chuck Beck chart it #27 for the first week at Y95 Dallas. 27 adds including WJZQ, WZKX 100KHI, KHYT, KS104, KISN, KITI, KCIL, WCLG, WDBR, WPHR, HOT I-94, WNKS, etc.

Each week there seems to be another success story for LAURA BRANIGAN. This time around it's Mark Shands at WHKW who moves it 22-18 and says it's his number one requested record. Mark mentions that it's "one of the few tunes we're getting consistent adult phones on...sales pattern is developing this week." It's also pulling teen phones for him. Heads upward at 92X Columbus 33-27, WXKS Boston 19-16, KLAZ Hot Springs 29-21, with adds at POWER 104, KBBZ, Z95.5, WHYT, KQID, WSTW, KDWB, KSWB, KGRO, WQLK, etc.

A HIT FACTOR of 8% for MEN WITHOUT HATS with strong phone activity reported. Jim Atkinson at KWK St.Louis says it "won the battle of the new tunes for three nights in a row. After only a few weeks it's in the Top 8 in requests." Debuts #30 for Lou Simon and Evan Lake at KCPX Salt Lake City and gains 15-11 at LIVE 105. New on KYNO and WCIL.

ELTON JOHN moves into the top three on the A/C chart and is beginning to crossover Top 40. Randy Kabrich and Bobby Rich debut it #30 at Q105 Tampa, with other gains at KHYT 27-15, KJEZ 17-12, KYMO 35-30, WSPK debut #30, KQHT debut #19, etc. Even though it was never a single, this live version of the song from the "Yellow Brick Road" album has built-in familiarity with the 25+ audience. HIT FACTOR's at 12%.

Peter Standish has been touting NEW ORDER from Day One and now it looks like these superstars of Alternative Radio are making inroads onto Top 40. Huge in San Francisco at LIVE 105 3-2 and KMEL 18-11. Also big in Miami at POWER 96 4-3. Gains 30-20 at WWHB with debuts at KZZU #31, KCPX #32, and adds at KSTN, WXKS, KDWB, KATD, and KPSI.

52-HOUR DRAMA SPARKS WORLDWIDE INTEREST

TOT IN WELL PUTS STATION IN SPOTLIGHT

"It was something people here will never forget," says KCRS-Midland, TX, MD Pat Garcia of the 58-hour Jessica McClure drama. With a five-person news staff, the Country outlet is the radio news leader for Midland-Odessa, and that meant dropping format to go live during the rescue operations. "We also simulcast the report on our (Beautiful Music) FM," Garcia says, adding that the station was also kept busy fielding long-distance queries. "We had radio stations calling from all over the nation—even from Australia and Armed Forces Radio offering aid to Jessica's family. I'd just like to thank all those who called."

SCALES WAY TO TOP

ISQUITH TOP OF EPIC POP PROMOTION

The man responsible for plastic fish in the mailboxes of Album/Alternative programmers around the country is moving into a bigger pond. Epic Records Album Promo guy Jack Isquith has been elevated to National Director of Pop Promotion. He'll report to E/P/A VP/Promotion Dan DeNigris, who held the job until his promotion last August.

Isquith says partial credit for the infamous Radiators fish promo should go to Epic National VP/Album Promotion Harvey Leeds. "Harvey is the most creative person I've ever worked with," says Jack. "Hopefully, I can use those lessons in my work with Dan. I'm thrilled at the opportunity and looking forward to breaking new bands."

"IT'S IMPORTANT TO BE STRONG"

UNITED STATIONS BUYS INTO TRANSTAR, WILL PRESENT UNITED SALES EFFORT

Making a bid to become one of the survivors in the cut-throat network business, the owners of United Stations have purchased a 20 percent chunk of Transtar Radio Network. Although management will remain separate, United Stations will take responsibility for selling spots for Transtar's 24-hour programming and specials through its offices in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Dallas.

Says Transtar President Terry Robinson: "This is an extremely beneficial arrangement. Not only are we able to consolidate the sales function in all the key marketplaces, but we are able to do so with one of the most successful sales teams is network radio—who now have a vested interest in Transtar's continued success."

"It was and is important for the United Stations to be on equal footing with ABC and the Westwood One/Mutual/NBC conglomerate," says United Stations Executive VP/Programming Ed Salomon, noting that the deal gives United Stations a total inventory of about 2,000 30-second avails weekly. "There's no question now who the big three are," he asserts.

Uncertainty on Wall Street and rising interest rates may be the only barriers to United Stations increasing its position in Transtar. Says Salomon: "It's a really good marriage. We do not have 24-hour satellite-delivered programming, and Transtar has outstanding RADAR ratings with quality clearances that match the quality clearances we have."

The same financial realities may mute the response from Westwood One, but the trend is evident: grow or die. "The network radio business has changed to a point where it's important to be strong," says Salomon. "It's going to be more and more difficult for smaller companies to get attention in the marketplace."

WILL RECEIVE AMC HUMANITARIAN AWARD

BRUCE LUNDVALL TO BE FETED

Bruce Lundvall, President of EMI-Manhattan Records, will be honored for his fundraising efforts by the AMC Cancer Research Center. Lundvall will receive the organization's Humanitarian Award at a dinner in New York Dec. 4th. Pictured left to right are 1984 honoree Robert Pittman, Lundvall, AMC President Dr. Marvin Rich and 1986 honoree Elliot Goldman.

WAJY TO BECOME FULL SERVICE

FERRARA BACK TO N'ORLEANS

Nick Ferrara, beached by KSDO-San Diego's switch to The Wave, is returning to his native New Orleans as Program Director for A/C WAJY, which also adds consultant Mike McVay. "It's a perfect opportunity for a full-service station," he says. "The AM (news/talk WWL) is tops on the AM band, and the only clear channel that can be heard in all 50 states. And WWL-TV is the number-one TV station." As Nick Bazoo, Ferrara served as PD of WEZB/B97, before leaving the Crescent City for KMEL-San Francisco and WBZZ in Pittsburgh.

"This is a unique city," he says. "I know everyone says that about their own city, but New Orleans could really be its own little country. Outsiders either love it or hate it--there's no in between. And the same goes for radio. People here are not into real slick stuff. To another radio person, New Orleans radio might sound awful—but usually the more awful it sounds, the better you do do in the ratings!"

Ferrara begins November 1st.

CRESTING IN CHICAGO

THE WAVE'S RIPPLE EFFECT

America's Second City has become the nation's first market with TWO full-time New Age stations. At 11:30 p.m., Oct. 16th, Chicago's WZRC shifted its dish from Satellite Music Net's Z-Rock channel to SMN's The Wave and adopted new call letters WTWV. "We did get some complaints from disenfranchised listeners," says GM Craig Wilbraham. "But the response from advertisers has been incredible—they've called us." Wilbraham believes the market has room for both his station and Pyramid Broadcasting's outlet, WNUA. "There are more than subtle differences between us," he says. "They have disc jockeys. We don't. They are 50 percent jazz, while we have more vocals, and I think we sound more up." He hopes to attract his audience not only from WNUA, but A/C stations like WCLR, WLAK and WFYR, as well as Top 40 B100 and rocker WXRT. "I think esoteric rock stations in all markets are going to feel the influence of new age," he says.

HOW TO LOSE FRIENDS AND ALIENATE PEOPLE

Last week I experienced something truly extraordinary: I witnessed a major corporation completely alienate three customers within ten minutes. I think that's a noteworthy achievement, and I'd like to tell you about it because I think there's a lesson in it for all of us.

At Logan Airport in Boston, there is an hourly air shuttle to New York City. People who take this shuttle are usually in a hurry. They often catch it on the run, same as a bus. The airlines are aware of this, or should be, anyway. On the evening in question, I hurried to the gate with my ticket and stood in line behind three people. Time: 6:10 p.m. The flight left at 6:30. Plenty of time, I thought. Then I noticed a woman frantically running around our queue, saying, with a foreign accent, "My daughter just flew in from overseas. (The airline in question is an overseas carrier.) Please, how can I find out where she is?"

The ticket agent coolly told her to go to the end of the line and wait. "But all I want to know is what gate her flight came in on," she wailed. The agent continued to ignore her. Finally, the somewhat frantic woman got the information by literally barging into another group of airline employees who were doing some paperwork behind the counter. Once she had the information, she stomped off cursing the airline and the ticket agent. Time: 6:15.

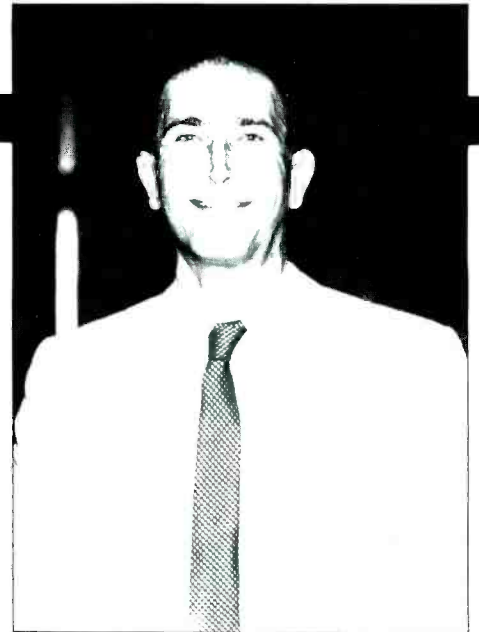

At this point, there were only two people in front of me. A man, clearly from Great Britain, wanted to write a check for his $70 fare. He was told the airline would not accept a check without a major credit card, which he did not have. A loud and abrasive argument began, with the man hollering that he'd been told earlier on the phone that the airline would take a personal check, while two ticketing agents (a second one had joined in) insisted that regardless of what he was told on the telephone, "policy" would not allow them to accept a check without a credit card. The man was furious, saying he had to catch an international flight in New York City and did not have enough cash. Finally, he scraped together the money from his own pocket and that of a friend, paid the bill, and strode off roundly swearing never to fly the airline again. Time: 6:20 p.m.

During the above melodrama, the woman standing in front of me was becoming increasingly agitated because two agents were involved in a seemingly endless argument with the English gentleman while we stood around fidgeting helplessly. Her palpable disgust at the airline was not alleviated by our ultimate mad rush to catch the plane.

Ten minutes. Three angry alienated customers. Is that some sort of record? "So what?" you may say. "It couldn't be helped." Well, I think it could. I've just finished reading a marvelous book called "Moments of Truth." In this slim volume, Jan Carlzon, president of Scandinavian Air Systems, tell us how he transformed SAS from a money loser to a money maker within one year, despite a European economic recession that cost other airlines billions of dollars in revenues. How did he do it? By creating an environment where business travelers flocked to SAS because the airline was so incredibly responsive to their needs for quick service, courtesy, comfort and punctuality. Carlzon created this environment by urging all SAS personnel to manage the dickens out of what he calls "moments of truth."

Carlzon's philosophy is that such "moments of truth" occur every time an employee interacts with a customer. If that moment is positive for the customer, then the customer will be happy and continue doing business with SAS. If it is a negative, the customer will be inclined to take his business elsewhere. Carlzon's management philosophy is twofold: First, cut costs everywhere—except when it comes to those moments of truth. In fact, invest more in those. Thus, if SAS had been running that Boston-New York shuttle, you can bet that additional employees would have been available to answer questions quickly and courteously and to expedite the transactions with impatient customers waiting in line.

The second part of Carlzon's magic is that employees are given a great deal of for positive moments of truth. Thus, if SAS had run that shuttle, you can bet that the ticketing agent would have had the authority to issue the English gentleman a ticket if she had found him trustworthy. At the very least, the agent or another alert employee would have quietly and Carlzon's philosophy is that "moments of truth" occur every time an employee interacts with a customer. If that moment is positive for the customer, then the customer will be happy. If it is negative, the customer will be inclined to take his business elsewhere.

courteously taken the man to another spot to wrap up the discussion, so as not to spoil the moment of truth for the rest of us.

At SAS, no manager has the power to interrupt an employee's handling of a moment of truth. If an employee makes an inappropriate decision, then the manager talks to him about it later. In fact, SAS employees are so well-trained and versed in the company's philosophy of providing the best service possible to the frequent business traveler that employee errors and misjudgments are rare.

You still may be saying: "So three passengers got upset and angry. What's the big deal, anyway?" It is a very big deal. The fact is that alienated customers cost firms a tremendous amount of money. In my next column, I hope to demonstrate to you that the airline, by alienating those three customers, actually stands to lose over $100,000. Not bad for ten minutes! ●

'JUST SAY YES'

SIRE RELEASES 24-CARROT CD

Warner Brothers cartoon star Bugs Bunny is lending his ears to a new Sire Records Alternative compilation CD, Just Say Yes. The disc includes rare-ish tracks from established bands like Echo & the Bunnymen, Depeche Mode and The Smiths, plus some lesser-known groups. Sire squire Howie Klein says, "The idea is to turn Echo fans on to bands like the Mighty Lemon Drops and Wild Swans, to get Depeche fans into Erasme--that sort of thing. It's kind of an end-run around mass radio."

MICHAELS BEEFS UP 'BMX STAFF

JONES VS. JOYNER IN CHICAGO

Morning man Lawrence Gregory "Doc" Jones is leaving Milwaukee's WLUM to join Lee Michaels' staff at WBMX-Chicago. "Absolutely fan-TAAAS-tic," says Jones, who faces the daunting task of going up against WGCI's Tom Joyner in afternoon drive. Jones arrived in Milwaukee last June from KMJM-St. Louis. He's no stranger to Chicago, having worked with Michaels at 'GCI under Barry Mayo in the early '80s.

INSIDE A/C

Clearly the top eight define the format this week. As Kenny G and Cutting Crew hold statistically static in rotation profiles and Fleetwood Mac heads south, the future belongs to two legends.

Elton John moves to number three with a 94% HIT FACTOR and a 58-station increase in HEAVY rotations, while cousin Bruce adds 60 HEAVY rotations and a five-week HIT FACTOR of 94%.

Elton and Bruce are coming on soooo strong that Al Jarreau and Swing Out Sister get out-ranked and out-flanked before their time. Neither Al or Swing Out Sister show any fatigue, but what's a chart to do? We've underlined the victims despite the ranking disorder.

Neil Diamond has cleared half the chart in the past two weeks. His new single, "I Dreamed A Dream," has been among the top four MOST ADDED each week since its release. Two-thirds of our A/C's are already playing it and 57% have it in HIT FACTOR rotations.

The Little Record That Could, "Another Day Gone" by Brydge, is now big time. Charted 33 to 22, and now HIT FACTORED at 66% of its players. New this week for WMT/FM, KYLT, WQHQ/FM, KCRG, WGAD, KFMB, KWLO and 12 others.

Another unknown slowly but surely becoming a household name is Michael Tomlinson, who debuts at 32 and now counts among his believers WSNI, KLSS and KATW. His five-week HIT FACTOR of 54% is impressive.

Laura Branigan

Laura Branigan debuts with "The Power Of Love" at 36. Of her 78 stations 31 come up this week as adds, including KQIP, KHYL/FM, KKPL, KATW, and KBRC.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, "Motortown" by The Kane Gang, adds 12 to their total of riders. This week's newcomers were KKOB/FM, WMXX, WKCX, WMTR, WILI/AM, KVRH, KMCQ, KLOG, KUBC, KOJM, KASY and WKTJ.

Our new RECORD TO WATCH, Siedah Garrett's "Everchanging Times," could actually debut next week without dallying in CHARTBOUND for a week. Her list of impressive calls includes KWAV, WALG, WIBA, KKHT, WJXL, WDEL and WALG.

REVIEWS

by Ron Fell & Diane Rufer

MARTHA DAVIS

Don't Tell Me The Time (Capitol)

Martha, the first in and the last to check out of The Motels, is sure to book plenty of airplay in A/C radio with this one. It's a song about time and temperature where the moment has passed and there's a chill in the air.

DANNY WILSON

A Girl I Used To Know (Virgin)

On the wings of their first U.S. single success, "Mary's Prayer," the Danny Wilson group brings us this light-hearted beat and story line which can attract many A/C ears with their first listen.

SUPERTRAMP

I'm Begging You (A&M)

Begging won't be necessary to get it on the air. This is one of those rare Supertramp songs which can pick up our tempo without driving listeners away.

THE WHISPERS

It Just Gets Better With Time (Solar)

Wouldn't it be great if these guys scored big in A/C after all these years? Don't know whether this would qualify as beach music, but the vocals are clean and strong. The song already came and went at Urban Radio (top 20), but the A/C potential is still there.

MR. MISTER

The Border (RCA)

A song about the healing of broken hearts and wings within an existing relationship. The first-person plea is a challenge to ignore flights of fantasy and together fly south for the winter.

THE BEACH BOYS and LITTLE RICHARD

Happy Endings (Critique / Atco)

An improbable collaboration of legends actually defies any assumed contradictions as Little Richard's soulful testimony is wonderfully complemented by the Beach Boys' rich harmonies.

GEORGE MICHAEL

Faith (Columbia)

From "I Want Your Sex" to I need my "Faith," George's wish list is getting longer and longer. Maybe he should leave some milk and cookies for Santa this year.

ROBBIE

R E L E A S E S

by keith and kent zimmerman

To borrow a phrase from "Somewhere Down The Crazy River," take a picture of this: In 1962, when discos were discotheques, a mad "band" of blues-hungry Canadian and Southern musicians is fired from New York's Peppermint Lounge. The band goes on to back up Bob Dylan, later evolving into The Band--spearheaded by guitarist/songwriter Jaime Robbie Robertson.

Born in Toronto of Jewish and American Indian parents, Robertson's unique songwriting with the Band made him one of the few articulate spokesmen for rock n roll Americana. After the Band properly dis-Banded in 1976, Robertson deliberately walked away from music.

In the eleven years between The Last Waltz and this, his first solo music project, he remained active in films, producing and acting in the critically acclaimed "Carney" and scoring and selecting soundtrack music for movies by his "best buddy in the world," director Martin Scorsese--unofficially, for "Raging Bull" and officially for "The King Of Comedy." In between his own album's sessions, he collaborated on the incidental score music for "The Color Of Money" with the blues master Willie Dixon and legendary jazz arranger Gil Evans.

We visited Robertson at his cozy two-room "workshop" tucked upstairs at a Santa Monica recording studio. Speaking with a hint of a Canadian accent, Robertson graciously elaborated on the birth and content of his nine-song masterwork LP which utilizes the talents of U2, Peter Gabriel, the BoDeans and other hand-picked contributors.

The walls of his small control room are ornamented with guitars, amps and a mini-gallery of contemporary Native American art. At the center of the control room is a chair and a small table on which sits an antique lamp and a microphone windscreen. It was at this table that Robertson sat and sang the lion's share of the haunting vocals for his new album, simply titled Robbie Robertson.

KZ: We understand this record was a year in the making.

RR: I started a year ago last June and mixed it last July. During that year, I did the score for "The Color Of Money." I'd never scored a movie before in my life. Originally, it was going to take three or four weeks, but it ended up taking three months.

KZ: How did you wind up getting involved in the "The Color Of Money" score

RR: Martin Scorsese is my best buddy in the world. I came up with this idea and told him, "If I were going to do this, which I can't, I would get somebody to write all the themes and melodies based on Chicago. Make it blues oriented, sleazy blues, poolhall music. Get someone to write the themes and get them to work with Willie Dixon, just for the authenticity of it. Then get Gil Evans to write the charts on it." Scorsese said, "Wow! That's a great idea. You have to do this thing." I said, "No, no. I'm making this album, Marty. I'm in the midst of it. I can't stop." He said, "What am I supposed to do? Look in the Yellow Pages?" I said, "I'd love to do it. To work with those guys would be an experience of a lifetime. But I have to do this album." He just ignored everything I said. He started talking about particular pieces. I would say, "Yeah Marty, but..." The next thing I knew, I was doing it.

KZ: What was it like working with those legends?

RR: I went to New York and worked with Gil Evans. Then I'd work with Willie and we'd write a thing together. I'd play him some things and say, "Listen to this piece, Willie. Tell me how this feels." What you do with Willie Dixon is bring him in and whenever you're not sure about something, you just look over at him. If he gives you the nod, then you know you're right.

Explaining this to the movie company was a little bizarre. They didn't understand this technique too much. It was fantastic. When I was in New York, I got together with Gil and I played him this album. He sat and listened. There were those chill bump moments. Every time he looked up, he'd give me one of those stares. He'd sit there like he was sleeping. Then some music would come up and he would react. He got it completely.

KZ: How did you feel about music when you started making the new album after eleven years?

RR: I think we're all in agreement that there was a bit of a drought in music. Every once in a while there was good stuff going on, but there wasn't a feeling in the air. A little excitement here and there, not so much over artists, but for particular things artists did. I liked some things the Sex Pistols did. I liked some things Elvis Costello and the Clash did. But what I was finding was that a lot of people who were making music in this generation were not overly exciting to me. It made me think, "I don't want to do that. I don't want to just chum it out like 'This is your duty--do a record and go do a tour.'" That was the reason I did The Last Waltz. It was a relief. I liked the idea of stepping away and disappearing, changing colors for a while. I didn't know whether I'd ever feel like doing this again. Then I got some ideas. I heard some sounds in my head. I thought, "Maybe there's something coming. I don't know for sure." Then time went on and it got closer and closer. Then I got this workshop set up here. I could come and think about ideas and songs. Then all of a sudden I started to think, "I'm in a mood. I'm gonna stir up some dust. It's going to be a wholehearted effort and I've got something in mind." As I wrote the songs, I got more and more excited. Then I started feeling the right feelings--anger, helplessness, all those things that make you do good work. But mainly that fire. All right, all right. Now we're talking. Now we're ready to step up to the plate.

KZ: Didn't you have that feeling when you were working on "Raging Bull" and "King Of Comedy"?

RR: No. Marty asked me to work on source music in "Raging Bull." "King Of Comedy" was an experiment we had in mind. It didn't call upon me to bring thunder out of my soul. It was just doing some good work. I'm a movie bug, but complementing movies is not what I want to dedicate my life to.

KZ: You were also contemplating acting?

RR: I did "Carney" as an experiment. After that I worked with several other film projects, but I started bowing out of them one by one. I was just not passionate about it. You get this call and someone says, "We want to hire you to wear these clothes, say these lines and stand over there." I understand the art and some of these roles were okay, but I would end up saying, "I don't know if this means that much to me. Maybe this is somebody else's story."

KZ: What brought you to the level of your new album? How did the new album get so advanced as opposed to a bluesy, Band-like album?

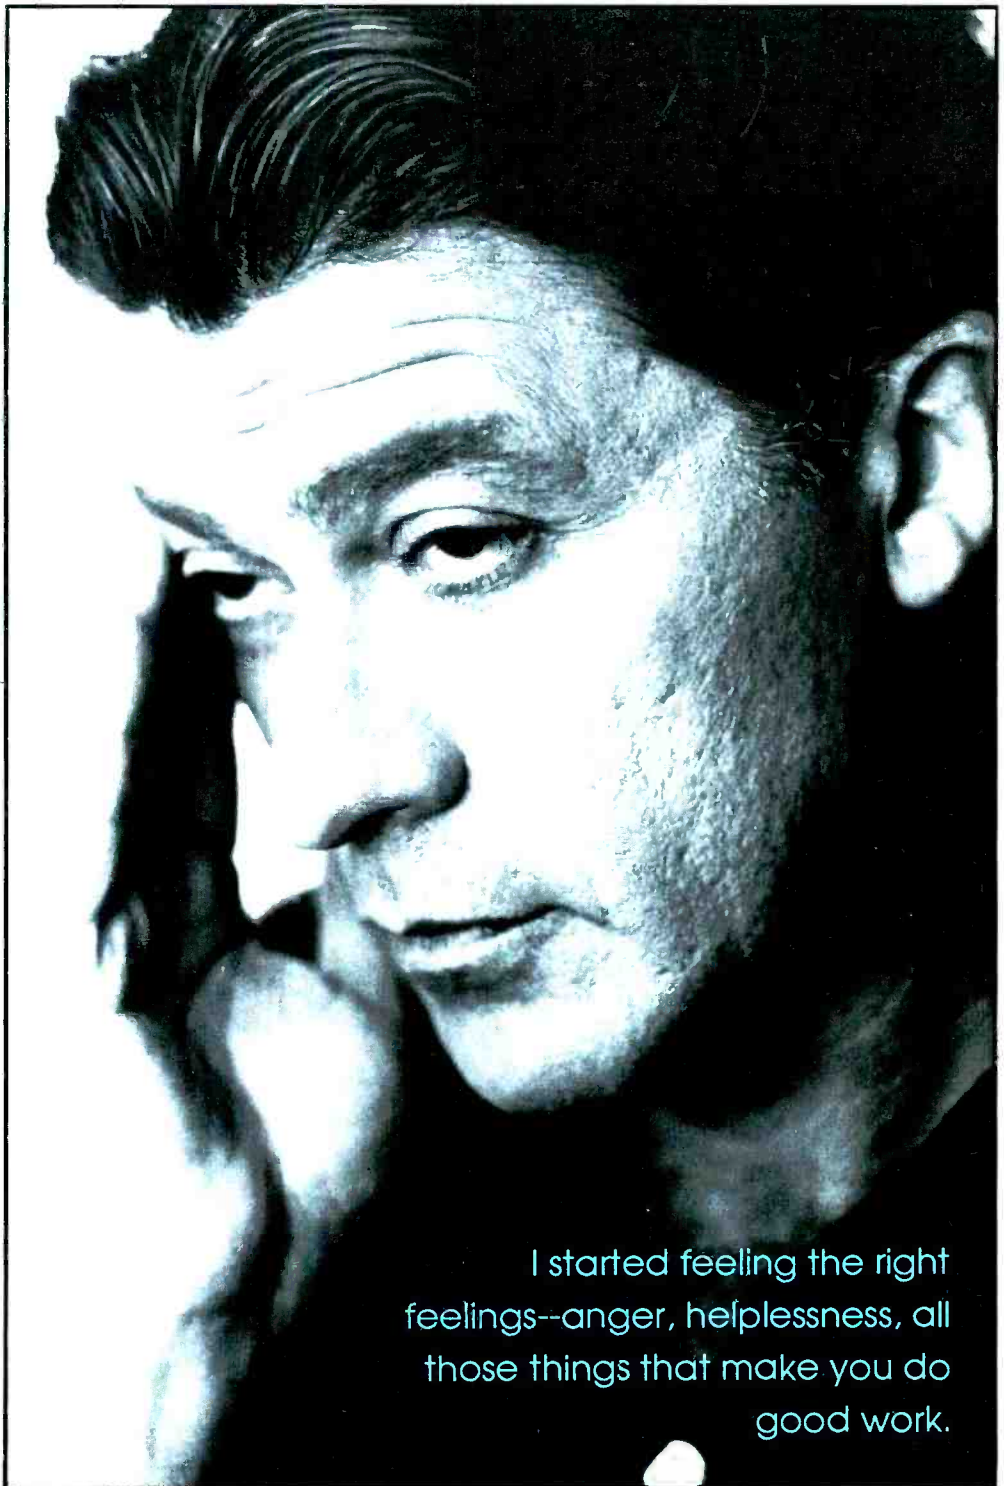

RR: This is what I feel like now. I wanted to write these things. I wanted to declare these points of view. I wanted these sounds. I wanted that timeless quality. I didn't buy into any of the obvious techno-things, yet the record sounds modern. It makes me feel good. I know in my heart it's all very real. I didn't change that much. I feel like I'm just continuing to write this American mythology thing I've always been obsessed with. It's just a continuation of that. I just don't have that "Band" to play with now. I'm just using my imagination to do what I think works for my music now. It was not a great conscious effort to figure out how to bring this up to date.

KZ: How is it different being on your own rather than being a bandleader?

RR: It's a different position. Now instead of writing on behalf of a band or something, I don't have to take that into consideration anymore. Is this too indulgent for me to be writing this for these people to present? Now I'm on my own and confronting different emotions.

KZ: It's eerie. I can hear Rick Manuel and Rick Danko's voices on this record.

RR: It has a lot to do with the Band while writing the songs. When you write the songs, it's not just the chords and the melody and the words...it's the attitude and the sound, too. When I would express it to the other guys, I would tell them how to get the right feelings from those lines. A lot of times they would do their version of what you're doing. The Band would interpret it. That's why you still hear those traces. On one song, "Sonny Got Caught In The Moonlight," Rick Danko does sing harmony with me. It was a last-minute thing. I did it while we were mixing in Bearsville. I was going to do it myself. Then I thought, "I've done this on the record. I did it on 'Broken Arrow' and 'Somewhere Down The Crazy River.'" I wanted another sound. I called Rick and asked him to do it. It made me feel good just to hear that sound of the voices together.

I started feeling the right feelings--anger, helplessness, all those things that make you do good work.

KZ: "Sweet Fire Of Love" has that Band vocal arrangement style. There's that relay of vocal parts...

RR: ...where some voices go to the note right away and others trail behind. Instead of everybody singing like Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young, it's like "You go to it, then you follow, and you're like an echo or a shadow. Don't try to sing it tight. Try to get a little behind it all the time." It's sadder. Sometimes it was just heart-breaking to hear it done like that. When it was done real tight, it made me uneasy. It sounded manufactured--like we didn't do it with our heart and soul.

KZ: Was that a concept you started?

RR: It's stuff we took from timeless old Americana, like shapenoting and old harp singing. Oh my God, I can see the ghosts. I can feel these tremors around these people when they sing. There's a light shining. When I would hear the other things that were real slick, I didn't get any of that feeling from it. We would draw upon everything that had been handed down to us. It was like a gift. That's what the Band did.

KZ: Does "Somewhere Down The Crazy River" carry on your fascination with American mythology?

RR: Absolutely. We're talking about a place we all know is out there somewhere in the country. Somewhere in this country is a town just like this. It's hot and it's thick. There are sounds in the night you don't understand. But you deal with them. I just drew from the experiences when I first went down South. When I first went to West Helena, Arkansas, from Canada, there was a place everybody went to late at night after everything else was closed. It was called Nick's Cafe, and that's where I got this idea. It was too hot, so people would go down and sit by the levee. You'd hear them singing. Down the river, you could hear this sound--a harmonica or the sound of the river, or somebody crying. You didn't know what it was. But it influenced me in the way I perceived music. It hit me at such a young age. I was in New Orleans a couple of years ago and it helped build this overall picture to me. "Somewhere Down The Crazy River" has to do with just talking about this place. Maybe we've never been there ourselves, but we know it's out there. It does exist. All these places are somewhere out in the shadowland of America. I took the part of being the storyteller of the shadowland. As I would go around, I would pull these stories out of the earth from these different locales. This was one of the things I had in mind when I started to make this record. American mythology does exist. Somebody needs to start writing it. It isn't all just make believe. It's very real.

KZ: And that was the same impulse which led you to "Carney"?

RR: It was a piece of Americana. Someone's got to tell this story. When I was a kid, I worked in a carnival a little bit. It affected me so much. I was fascinated and scared to death. "What do these people do back there? You don't talk to this one. This guy seems like a nice guy, but don't trust him." There was this whole game going on with these people. "Hey kid, come here. Let me see that watch. I got a watch just like that...Can I see that watch for a minute?" I've always talked about carnivals in songs and I just wanted to tell the story.

KZ: "Acadia Driftwood" is one of my favorite Band songs.

RR: I felt a parallel to the story in that song. It's a story of people who lived in Canada. They got lost somewhere and I felt very touched by this whole thing. A war happens, then it's not your home anymore. A lot of these French people drifted down the Mississippi River and became this Cajun population. It's beautiful and very mysterious. I wanted to tell the story in a little epic song. It was an experiment. But over the years, a lot of people have said that to me. The last people in the world I would think would like it--very happening English record producers.

KZ: "It Makes No Difference" is another favorite Band song.

RR: It's one of my favorites too.

KZ: How could you step back and let somebody else sing a song like that?

RR: But that's what made it the Band! If I had written, sung, and played the guitar solos, it would have been Robbie and the Band. That's not how we started out. It was a workshop concept. You make this, I make that. You fix this, we do that. We'd put it all together and it works out. Everybody does their thing. Everybody feels just as strong as the next guy. I was into this thing of writing the songs and saying, "Okay, here's what's going to happen. You come in singing here. Then when it gets to this line, you come in singing here. Then you come in with him. Then you drop off and the high voice will come over here." I was into directing these ideas. I was in a director mode.

KZ: When was "Fallen Angel" recorded for the new album?

RR: It was the first song I recorded. I got this mood of American mythology does exist. Somebody needs to start writing it.

It isn't all just make believe. It's very real.

the song and I started writing ideas to it. They were very mythical ideas. As I started writing the song, I didn't understand what things were working for me. As it went along, I realized I was writing about Richard Manuel (the late piano player for the Band). When it hit me, it knocked me over. I could feel what I was writing about. It was the kind of song you put off until you have to face it. It was very hard to work on too. One day I'd be fine, then the next day I was just hopeless.

KZ: "Broken Arrow" is my favorite track.

RR: I did that with Peter Gabriel after he did the background vocals on "Fallen Angel." We were inspired and we cut that track. I played guitar and sang and he programmed this little high hat and tambourine part and played these keyboards. It was a very emotional track. Then I came back and put on the bass and the drums.

KZ: It's hard to describe the sound of your album. Daniel Lanois produced it, but it doesn't sound like a U2 or Peter Gabriel album.

RR: I talked to a lot of producers. As I spoke to people, I thought, "Am I going to listen to this person? Am I going to care what this guy has to say?" I cared what Daniel had to say. He's extremely emotional. He's from Hamilton, Ontario. He wasn't one of those guys in the control saying, "It's comin' along guys. A couple more times, I think we'll have it." He was out there sweating. He wasn't ordering coffee. Not having a band, I wanted to have the privilege of taking things too far.

KZ: How spontaneous was your "Sweet Fire Of Love" session with U2?

RR: It was pretty spontaneous. I had a few ideas on this little cassette of a guitar thing I played with a tom-tom. That was it. But there was something to it. We played it for the guys, and they said, "Let's go."

KZ: Did you expect that to happen?

RR: I didn't expect anything. These guys were still finishing up The Joshua Tree. They couldn't have been more righteous about it. We started from scratch and we built and built. I had scraps of paper with some ideas. As I'd be going along, Bono would be looking at my pad with stuff written on it. He'd say, "This is a fantastic thing, and you have to get this in there somewhere." We cut the song over a period of a few hours and it was twenty-two minutes long when we recorded it. We were trying different ideas and structure. We were mixing worlds together. They're into the whole thing of roots. They wanted to do something in that kind of vein. They thought it would be a worthwhile experiment. Would it crash or would it fly? It was melting together nicely. We got brave, starting with nothing and building, coming back down then kicking into guitars talking back and forth. It had a futuristic blues element with this Irish world and this Americana world. We tried to make them fit together.

KZ: Whose idea was it to use U2?

RR: When they were playing on the Amnesty tour, I met them with Daniel Lanois. We were just talking about musical ideas. Then Daniel said, "I think we should pursue this. We should try this experiment." When he went back to work with U2 and I went to do the Color Of Money, he called me and said he discussed it with the guys and they wanted to do it. We cut these two things together and it was a great musical experience.

KZ: It's amazing when creatively artistic bands like U2 become mass appeal successes.

RR: What are we doing in this business? What do we thrive on? What makes us get up in the morning and say, "This is worthwhile." It's like the difference between those movies you go to and you get a couple of laughs out of them. Then you go see "Raging Bull" and you never get over it as long as you live. That's the difference in our lives. Something has to matter. That's what Gil Evans said. Here's this orchestra and we're working and writing. Finally one of the musicians says, "Hey! What do you call this stuff?" Gil looks up and says, "What's the matter with you? It's spiritual!" Then he goes back to writing. We were talking about a change. He said, "We have to know, does it matter? Does it make any difference?" It's such a little thing but it's very large too. People work on minute things. Then they say, "Oh, we got it now." But it doesn't matter at all. What goes on inside us matters and makes a difference.

KZ: Didn't you produce an album one time for Neil Diamond?

RR: He talked to me about producing, and I said I didn't know where to start. They kept thinking I was holding out for money or something. Finally I got this connection--a crossroads in our past. We both went to Tin Pan Alley, to the Brill Building when we were kids. I went when I was fifteen. I met Leiber and Stoller, Pomus and Shuman, Otis Blackwell and all these people. Neil wanted to be one of those writers. So we built the ideas on the death of Tin Pan Alley around Beautiful Noise. I thought it was the last thing people would expect me to do. It appealed to me for that reason. It gave me an opportunity to experiment with a lot of things I didn't do with the Band.

KZ: Will you ever put a band together again?

RR: The idea of playing certain select things which would feel special would make me rise to the occasion. I don't know exactly what I'll do.

KZ: Bob Clearmountain said your record was the best he'd ever worked on.

RR: We had been mixing songs and he said, "Boy, they just keep getting better." Finally one day, he came bursting out of the studio and said "This is the best album I've ever worked on in my life." There was this guy from Rolling Stone and he said, "Excuse me, can we talk about this for a minute? What about Bruce Springsteen and all these other people you've worked with?" He said, "I like what they're doing, too." Then the guy from Rolling Stone asked, "But you're going to lose work talking like this." He said, "No. They hire me for what I do, not for what I say." I was glad he enjoyed it and got into it. It wasn't easy catching up on all of this stuff. Once he caught up, he was excited and worked real hard. There was a lot of experimenting done during the mixing. It wasn't just a matter of having a few tracks, putting up the faders, putting on a little echo and we got it. Not at all. It was painting pictures. You see washes of things that come and disappear. I had this whole idea of things coming at you and then going by you...movement and moving pictures.

KZ: Take a picture of this.

RR: Yeah. (laughs) ●

LIP SERVICE

Telling your audience what you're playing has a subliminal effect of telling the audience that the music matters to your station. If you play music without comment, it sounds like you don't care about it--you're only doing it to get listeners.

I have known my fellow columnist Tony Richland for a long time. Since his sense of humor has always taken precedence over his record promotion, I have often wondered how he makes a living. However, in response to my August 7th column on music research, Tony sent me a serious comment. Not only that, it's on a subject the late Bill Gavin felt strongly about, and one I'm also in complete agreement with. Ever wary of the lurking bon mot, I reprint his note:

"As a record junkie, I'm familiar with thousands of records from eras past. Why is it then that I find myself regularly frustrated at trying to figure out what the hell I'm listening to these days? The reason is the lack of back-announcing, and when I look at some of the high chart items in Gavin, I find myself wondering, 'What is this?' If it bugs me, in the business, it's got to be frustrating to layman. I'm trying to stay up with music, and radio won't let me. Just a thought--and one shared by a lot of people in and out of the business with whom I speak."

Thank you, Tony. You're right--it isn't fashionable in radio these days to reveal what the records are. This strikes me as truly insane. Why do you think listeners listen to music stations? Dare I say it? The music! If the music matters enough to them to tune in your station, doesn't it make sense that they would like to know what music you are playing--particularly the things they haven't heard before? For most listeners in all formats, the names of songs and artists are largely unknown, no matter how familiar or old they are. Most people are not music junkies, so telling them what you're playing when it's not new makes sense, too.

Supposedly rational programmers have told me it's a drag for listeners to hear titles of records they already know. This is absurd. The same reasoning would indicate it's a drag for listeners to hear lyrics they already know--or DJ names, call letters, or the correct time. And for those stations that self-righteously respond, "Well, we tell them the artists," it's time for you to do a little research to discover how many real people recognize an artist by sound alone--and how many will put up with a dull record by a familiar artist in preference to an interesting record by an unknown.

One point I've attempted to make before is that telling your audience what you're playing also has a subliminal effect of telling the audience that the music matters to your station. If you play music without comment, it sounds like you don't care about it--you're only doing it to get listeners. By announcing the records, you give your station a positive music position.

Certainly, if only one announcement is used, the back-announce is more important, but a brand-new, unfamiliar record needs a pre-announce for maximum listener impact. I have yet to encounter a listener in 26 years of radio who objects to hearing what a song is, fore and aft. On stations for which I have responsibility, that is always the standing policy.

For those too timid to counter the current programming trends, consider this: Do you believe a live air staff has an edge over an automated station? With continuous carts and network inserts, automated stations can give the current time, news and weather. They can rotate their music with mindless precision and inject eternal enthusiasm into tired liners. What they seldom do is announce the music. If you have an air staff, use it to your advantage!

From the record companies' standpoint, not announcing the records makes it very hard to break new records. Radio folks are prone to say, "It's not my job to sell records," and often give only lip service to the hard fact that unhealthy record companies can't release the records that radio needs to delight its audience. But for the reasons listed above--and maybe some others I haven't thought to include--it's in radio's own self interest to announce the damn tunes!

Some of radio's highest ratings go to Casey Kasem and his colleagues as they count 'em down. These programs are based entirely on the principle that the music matters...that people want to know what the songs are, how they came to be, who does them and why and how popular they are. Think about it.

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Richland

They're telling us the football "strike" is over and the "real" players will now begin to play. That's a giant laugh for us. We defy the most ardent football nut to honestly say they can tell the difference between one retarded looking lummoX, performing the same idiotic and boring rituals, falling in heaps all over each other, patting each other on the behind and giving the same post-game interviews.

This would seem to be as good a time as any to vent our spleen about football: We hate it! We loathe it! We despise and detest it, and, aside from that, we don't like it one damn bit. We respect your right to disagree...the only problem, is, if you do disagree, you're dead wrong and we're right.

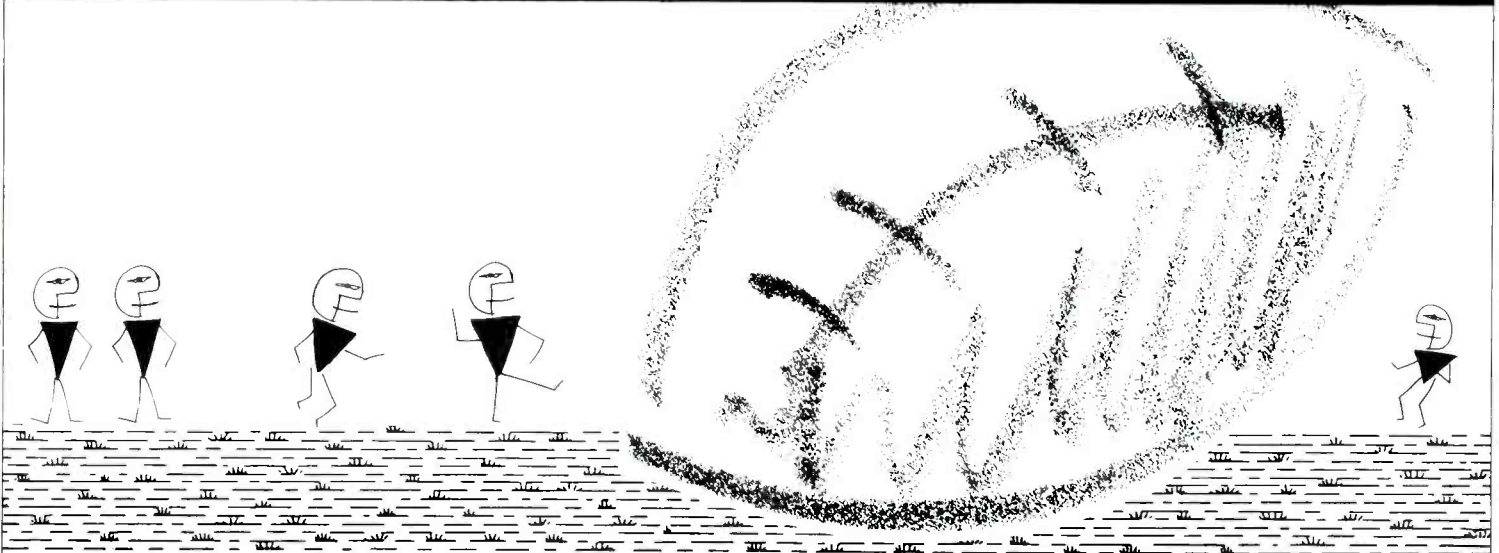

Football is a dumb, silly excuse for a sport. Think of it. A bunch of overgrown, steroided oafs throw themselves on top of each other, exhibiting no athletic ability whatsoever, unless big people mugging slightly less big people is an ability. The alleged "action" totals about two minutes of the sixty, the uniforms are stupid and all the players look alike. In fact, our old friend Johnny Magnus has a theory that the 28 teams don't really fly around the country each week. They simply stay in town and change uniforms every Sunday.

playing for a team named after the city where the team is located, although none of the players are from that city, and jump from franchise to franchise at the drop of a shifty lawyer's negotiations. Therefore, when William "The Washing Machine" Foonman performs his Neanderthal activities while employed by Chicago, the Chicagoans who've doled out 40 bucks for this charade roar at his every sickening act, but were he to be traded (i.e. slip out of his valid contract) and play against Chicago, the same "fans" would boo him as the thug that he is.

Back to the game itself: The ball is a dumb shape, which is why so few of the "athletes" can catch it. Balls are round. Basketballs, baseballs, volleyballs and tennis balls are round. That's why they're called balls. Ball MEANS round. We figure the jerk who invented "football" made the things the shape they are so the brain-dead mentalists who "play" the "game" could spike the thing into the Astro-turf after scoring their touchtones or whatever.

And how 'bout the absolutely straight demeanor of Brent Fussburger and the rest when they label the clods as "graduates" of this or that university. Yeah, sure. The post-mayhem interviews really indicate the graduate status of these clowns. The interviews

We find this difficult to dispute. Let's face it, unlike baseball and basketball, football guys are so covered up and so far away that NO one would know the difference. Unlike baseball and basketball, the overpaid jaborbies aren't even talented enough to play both offense and defense, and are constantly running on and off the field after every score and used up downs or whatever they call them.

The players make more dinero than rocket scientists and still whine about the contracts that they never honor anyway if they've had "a good year" breaking knees and rendering their cohorts senseless. Furthermore, football uses up too much TV time on peaceful Sunday afternoons... and Monday nights...and for God's sake, even Thursday nights, when we'd like to have more options for relaxed viewing time. Before the supposed "scab" players took over (although we know for a fact they were the usual participants), one network even re-played last year's Super Bowl—and Dave Sholin watched the whole thing, psyching himself up to pretend he didn't know how it came out!

One thing about football makes us wonder about the sanity of ALL sports fans. The locals cheer the "home" team instead of just enjoying the action of a good contest. They identify with players we're heard must be in Esperanto or Arabic, 'cause they ain't in no kind of, er, uh, you know, like, uh, English.

POSTSCRIPT: When we tell you what you missed on the Sunday that dumb-ball was off the tube, it won't surprise us if you think about consulting your TV Guide before the next time you plan to pop a Bud and stare at the above-noted mutants. Here's what replaced the oafs on L.A. TV:

- 4 Dennis the Menace (1987--made for TV) The six-year-old rascal returns in mammoth style discovering dinosaur bones in his yard. Mr. Wilson: William Windom.
- 2 Tin Pan Alley (1940) A nostalgic collection of old-time song hits tied to an entertaining and sprightly show biz plot. Alice Faye and Betty Grable and Katie and Lily.
- 7 Health Century (documentary) Examination of the battles against infectious diseases like influenza, polio, syphilis, whooping cough and salmonella.

Come on, Sholin and the rest of you burned-out gridiron gonifs. A nice, peaceful syphilis special has a lot more going for it than yet another Sunday of Marcus Allen Thighs.

BIO FEEDBACK

by RON FELL

TAWATHA

Besides working with Mtume, Tawatha also sang backup for Roxy Music on a four-song EP.

EARTH, WIND & FIRE

"System Of Survival," their new single, was written by someone named Skylark, who got the band's attention by sticking a cassette demo of his song to the door of Maurice White's car.

BELINDA CARLISLE

The video for "Heaven Is A Place On Earth" was directed by Diane Keaton.

DONNA FARGO

In 1973, "Happiest Girl In The USA" and "Funny Face" made her the first female Country artist to have back-to-back million-selling singles.

SHANICE WILSON

At 16, she appeared in a Kentucky Fried Chicken commercial with Ella Fitzgerald scat singing.

KIM WILDE

Her father, Marty Wilde, was a popular singer in England between 1953 and 1962, and had 13 hits during that time. In 1969, he had modest success in the States with a song called "Abergavenny," recorded under the name Shannon.

GEORGE HARRISON

When recording for other artists, George employs pseudonyms like Harry Georgesong, Jai Raj Harisen and George O'Hara Smith.

DOUBLE

Felix Haug and Kurt Maloo were formerly in a jazz trio called Ping Pong, and had an album in the works with Roxy Music's Phil Manzanera when the band broke up.

DUNCAN FAURE

In the '70s, he was a keyboard player and vocalist in a band called Rabbitt on Capricorn Records. The band also included Trevor Rabin of Yes.

JOHNNY CASH

On his recent European tour, he set attendance records at the Copenhagen Tivoli Gardens Festival (21,000+) and became the first Western performer to be invited to the Sopot Festival in Warsaw, Poland.

STEVIE WONDER

Among the contributing musicians to "Characters," Stevie's new double album, are Michael Jackson and B.B. King.

STING

For the recording of "...Nothing Like The Sun," Sting used only two musicians who participated in his first solo album, "The Dream Of The Blue Turtles." The musicians are Branford Marsalis and Kenny Kirkland.

LYNYRD SKYNYRD

Prior to release of the "Legends" album, no less than eight Lynyrd Skynyrd albums had been certified platinum.

PETER GABRIEL

When his single "Biko" is released, it will have as its B-side "No More Apartheid" from Little Steven's Sun City project. Artist royalties from its sale will benefit charities such as The Africa Fund.

THE BEACH BOYS

Brian Wilson has signed a solo contract with Sire Records.

JOE COCKER

Five years ago this week, Joe Cocker and Jennifer Warnes topped the Gavin Top 40 chart with their song, "Up Where We Belong."

SIEDAH GARRETT

She co-wrote "Man In The Mirror" from Michael Jackson's "Bad" album.

U2

Plans are under way to document their current tour with a performance video and double live album, but don't expect anything until well into 1988.

DIONNE WARWICK

She holds a master's degree in music from the University of Hartford.

CORRECTION: Contrary to what this section claimed last month, Barry White did not write the song "Harlem Shuffle."

LOVE & ROCKETS

ROBBIE ROBERTSON (Geffen) Today it's a rare bird that transcends all the format pigeonholing and airplay expectations to which we subject music. Rather than listening, sometimes we do tend to treat music like abalone, pounding it into small bite-sized chewy bits. Musicians then receive that message, in turn feeding the monster what they hope it expects. Robbie Robertson's new album is this year's grand exception. After eleven years on the sidelines (busying himself mostly with film work), he brought forth an album that gives even your most jaded warrior a brand new perspective from which to judge music of the eighties. Songs like "Fallen Angel" are like paintings, presenting colors and emotions in an almost abstract structure. In this case, a sound or a state of mind is as important as a lyric line or a guitar lick. The depth of emotions explored on this LP is exemplified by "Sweet Fire Of Love," part of a 22-minute composition cut in Dublin with U2. Though recorded and mixed in expansive detail, bare bones and frayed nerve endings are left intact, inciting (or even daring) the rest of rock n roll to re-enter a spirit of improvisation. By far my favorite track is "Broken Arrow," a song that whispers a quiet tonal simplicity. Here is an album that celebrates modernity while respecting the truths uttered to us by the hallowed masters. You pick your own masters.

"BIRTH SCHOOL WORK DEATH" GODFATHERS (EPIC-UK) Not that crash boom bang doesn't have a place in this office. Is this the title of the week or what? Godfathers sing about the cruel cycle that many call life. The song is caustic and abrupt. You can't get much more to the point than this.

NEW
Releases

"I WANNA BE A FLINTSTONE"-THE SCREAMING BLUE MESSIAHS (ELEKTRA) Yabba-dabba-do time. Here's a song probably born out of babysitting the brats...er, I mean, the children. It's indeed novel as in novelty. Try the B-side for the five minute extended treatment featuring more dialogue lifted from television.

"DEEP AND WIDE AND TALL"-AZTEC CAMERA (SIRE) Finally--the return of Aztec Camera and songwriter/ guitarist Roddy Frame, who regroups with a fresh-sounding ring of positivity. The essence of the song lies in the guitar solo, a beautiful acoustic swan dive surrounded by aggressive, modern production.

KICK-INXS (ATLANTIC) Kick is one of this year's strangest sequences by a major band you'll hear all year. Finding all the best trax will require tracking the whole mutha as the gems pop up in some rather unusual places. For instance, "Tiny Daggers," the final track, is a real closer. Unlike its name, Kick tends to swell and throb, climaxing during the album's final three songs. Elsewhere, you'll find a couple more audio avalanches. "Devil Inside," "Kick" and "Calling All Nations" boast unique song construction. There's something tribal about how the songs present themselves. Kick is INXS's intense flirtation with rhythm.

The Dream Academy

REMEMBRANCE DAYS-DREAM ACADEMY (REPRISE) Ever hear a record and your first response is, "Thanks, I needed that"? If you find a need to get completely lost in the thickets, here's your ticket. Remembrance Day was recorded and mixed by a collection of talented musicians and technicians who take a different approach to music. There is tranquility, though not in the tranquilin tradition of new age muzak. There are moments of high decibel thunderation. Trax like "Lesson Of Love," "In The Hands Of Love," "Humdrum" and "Lesson Of Love" are thick with ideas, textures and subtleties. Alongside Robbie Robertson, another intelligent alternative to crash boom bang.

POLICY-MARTHA DAVIS (CAPITOL) A strong out-of-the-box week for Martha Davis sans her Motel chain. Sorely lacking this week on the Gavin Album charts is more female representation. Policy is certainly no quota concession. It's a fullblown assault with Miss Davis putting her best foot forward. Producer Richie Zito repeats the magic he worked on Eddie Money's comeback. The instrumental beds seem more evolved, sophisticated and multi-format adaptable. Prime focus is on Martha Davis as a singer. Her voice certainly rises to the challenge of solo scrutiny. Trax: "Tell It To The Moon," "Just Like You" (with Clarence Clemmons on sax) and "What Money Might Buy."

"HAZY SHADE OF WINTER"-THE BANGLES (COLUMBIA) "Time, time, time, see what's become of me." Here's a brisk interpretation of a personal fave. Paul Simon's "Hazy Shade" survives a thrashing by the vocalizing Bangles produced by Rick Rubin. This sure sounds like an across-the-dial smash to these war-torn ears, clocking in at 2:46.

EYE OF THE HURRICANE-THE ALARM (IRS/MCA) This week's Certified, The Alarm build momentum by combining passion and melody. As strong as "Rain In The Summertime," is, it's nearly upstaged by songs like "One Step Closer To Home," "Shelter" and "Rescue Me." In the past, The Alarm has been more than able to capture their fury as a live band adequately on vinyl. However, Hurricane is their most balanced release yet. While the songwriting gets more skillful, the performances aren't diluted. Like their neighbors U2, The Alarm has found a means of expression that's compatible with American airwaves. No one can ever accuse this band of not meaning business. They use peaks and valleys to wield a serious edge. I don't know if it's the water or the beer, but Aire has a knack for turning out quality hands. Our reporters are treating this album's release like a major event--and well they should. Don't forget "Jericho" and the "Working Class Hero"-ish "Hallowed Ground." KZ

INSIDE ALBUM

by Kent Zimmerman

"I slept like a baby last night. I woke up every hour and cried." a San Diego financial services manager

THE BULL LIVES. To those of you still riding the Dow Jones Wall Street wave, we salute you. Lin Brehmer at WXRT dusted off 10cc's "Wall Street Shuffle" in observance of Black Monday. Perhaps a segue into "Cry" by the same Godley and Creme would have been equally apropos.

AROUND THE HORN. While most were enjoying (or grasping their Maalox bottles) during the Dow's roller coaster ride, some folks could still keep their minds on music. (Have we evolved into capitalist pigs, or what?)...Ty Banks at KQWB was still reeling after watching the Rainmakers perform their entire album. While rockin' and rollin', Ty tied one on...Incidentally, when I first joined Gavin, I remember KQWB as one of the few Top Forties playing 10cc's "Wall Street Shuffle"...To those looking for a softer alternative on the BoDeans LP, Jeffrey Damon of WMVY-Martha's Vineyard suggests a track called "Pick Up The Pieces"...Peyton Mays of KEZX-Seattle checked in, noting that Sting and Basia are doing quite well on adult-oriented KEZX. Who is Basia? They are remnants of Matt Bianco playing jazz-flavored pop...Two people (!) told us they heard the "best songs of their lives." One was KILO's Alan White raving about the Alarm. The other, the aforementioned Lin Brehmer of WXRT regarding The Godfathers' "Birth School Work Death." You don't suppose these two were exaggerating, do you? I listened to both The Alarm album and The Godfathers single and they do cook.

GAVIN STOCK TIP. Not that we believe people that call us from car phones in New Jersey, but Island's Bob Catania has a point. Those hot on entering the stock market for the first time should remember that all the bargain stock prices may have attracted a lot of buyers in for the quick buck. Look for quick-profit takers to have an effect on the market in the near future. Allen Greenspan, Charles Schwab, Bob Catania.

OZ AND ENDS. Oz at 91X says that Cabaret Voltaire, It's Immaterial, Don Dixon and the Godfathers are doing well. Dixon and Godfathers were just added. The People's Choice of the Week was Cucumbers which Oz describes as a "mix between B-52s and Tom Tom Club"...Keith James of KGKG/FM-Brookings feels it's his duty to alert us to Beaucoup's "Sweet Rachel" on the Amherst label...Number one requests on WNEW/FM was George Harrison, followed by Sting's single, Jethro Tull, R.E.M. and Bruce's "Tunnel Of Love"... Triple congrats to David Sadof aka Ikky Bop on being appointed MD at KLOL-Houston. Score one for the guys in the white hats....Dale Miller at KATP-Amarillo played host to Jeff Paris and Myles Hunter of Refugee. Both acts are touring together under the banner of "Double Thunder"... Patty Martin at KSJO reports that listeners are "clamoring for the new Dokken. MSG is also a Top Five KSJO request item"...Some hip adds at KNX/FM-L.A. include Sting, Bryan Ferry, Paul Carrack and dem Radiators. Who says adults ain't hip... Though they are a local band, Flying Colors are getting a lot of national raves, notably from Larry The Duck at WLIR. Flying Colors and Big Dipper are two of the more distinguished independent releases on the WLIR playlist.

HUMM BABY. Heartfelt thanks to all of you for sending your condolences on the collapse of the San Francisco Giants. We spent the better part of the week commiserating with Detroit Tiger fans. May the best team already have won. Stay well.

Yer pal, KZ.

INSIDE ALTERNATIVE RADIO

by Peter Standish

R.E.M. rocks steady (with a 25% point lead) as the Smiths step into the ring to take their licks at the champ. Guadalcanal Diary improves their points by 10% and makes an aggressive charge. Love & Rockets should make a serious run at #1 once their full album kicks in this week. Depeche Mode is a certain top ten album ("fighting it out for #1 at our station" - Mike Summers, KRPN-Salt Lake City) and Sting has a tremendous base in commercial radio. Big Black is the inverse of Sting, with their strength coming from college programmers like Faith Henschel, KCMU-Seattle, Josh Goldfein, WPRB-Princeton, and Eric Janssen, KDVS-Davis ("It's almost overplayed"). The Red Hot Chili Peppers' patience is rewarded with a spicy leap of 28 positions! Bryan Ferry and the Sisters Of Mercy are our CERTIFIED debuts (two highest).

The Sisters Of Mercy are getting great reaction from George Spillman, KUCI-Irvine ("lots of requests"), Hugh Foley, WNYU-New York, Helen Urriola, WFIT-Melbourne, and Phillip Griffin, WRUV-Burlington. Our other debuts, The Alarm, Robbie Robertson and the Dogs In Space Soundtrack, beat out some stiff competition, including out four MOST ADDED records; The Screaming Blue Messiahs (doing very well for Steve Masters, Live 105-San Francisco, Kandy Wilkins, WXCI-Danbury and Mike Marrone, WHTG-Asbury Park), The Connells, Flesh For Lulu and Aztec Camera. Our RECORD TO WATCH is Terence Trent D'Arby with three times as many stations playing the album. Some serious programmers believe in TTD including, Carter

Alan, WBCN-Boston ("No hype, this guy is good...the cut we're into is 'Wishing Well'"), Josh Rosenthal, WCDB-Albany ("brilliant"), Bill McLaughlin, KUSF-San Francisco, and Ginger Jones, KBSU-Boise ("We love the whole album"). The Connells should debut on the chart soon with John Koski, WRVU-Nashville, Susan Kennedy WWVU-Morgantown, and Steve Balcom, WXYC-Chapel Hill ("should be #1"), all reporting great response. The Volcano Suns, in the IMPORT/INDIE section, are doing exceptionally well for Lisa Securo, WUNH-Durham, Doris Duwe, WTSR-Trenton, and Michelle Haunold, KBVR-Corvallis, and should make inroads on the chart next week. Two bands to keep an eye on that just missed chartbound are the Balancing Act and the Dream Academy. IMPORT RECORD WATCH: Mike Summers, KRPN-Salt Lake City, likes "Absolutely Immune II" by The Act. Steve Masters, Live 105-San Francisco was praising new singles from Eurythmics "Beethoven," Lloyd Cole's "My Bag" and Balaam & The Angel's "I Love The Things You Do To Me." James Lien, WTUL-New Orleans, raised an astute point this week. He had two new potential college radio operators from Austin and Birmingham, visit the station and, said James, "Showing them what we do at 'TUL gave me the objectivity to realize what we could do better.'" LATE NEWS!! PolyGram Records has named KUSF-San Francisco Program Coordinator Tim Hyde to the position of Alternative/College Promotion Director. Tim will replace Chris Lopes who moves to local rep in Charlotte, NC, as Joe "Billy Martin" Riccitelli shifts to Dallas. Tim will work out of PolyGram's San Francisco office until January when he'll move to their New York headquarters and finish his degree at Fordham. No replacement has been named at KUSF. Former WRAS MD Jennifer Grossberndt has been named Director of EMI- Manhattan's Alternative/College Promotion, beginning next month. Congratulations to both rising stars!!!

SPOTLIGHT LP

This Is The Story-THE PROCLAIMERS (Chrysalis)

Rally 'round the urban campfire as identical twins Craig & Charlie Reid spread their contemporary brand of Scottish folk music to the world on their debut album of acoustic guitars and heavy accented overlapping vocals. The prime songs include the bittersweet "Over And Done With," "Throw The 'R' Away," "Letter From America," "The First Attack," "Beautiful Truth" and "It Broke My Heart."

"Preacher Man"-FIELDS OF NEPHILIM (Beggars Banquet/RCA-12")

Like the futuristic western film Westworld, the Fields of Nephtilim project a Wild West imagery in a modern setting. The Fields lasso the death-rock sound (a la Mission UK/Sisters Of Mercy) with their acidic maze of reverberating guitars and gloomy vocals (sounding almost like Captain Beefheart at 16 rpm) on "The Preacher." Perfect for Halloween.

INSIDE COUNTRY

K.T.Oslin has her first top ten single, as "Do Ya'" moves from 15-9. It's pulling in mega-requests for Paul Fredricks at KMPS-Seattle and Ray Romero at WFPR-Hammond. Chalk up another big week for Highway 101 - it jumps 18-11 and already boasts an 88% Hit Factor. Don Roberts at KFGO -Fargo reports it's one of his hottest records. Hank Williams Jr. moves up six slots and shows a 75% Hit Factor. Kerry Wolfe at WBIG-Greensboro notes that people who normally hate Hank really love this song. Kathy Mattea debuts at 35, and Dan Nelson at WLLH -Lowell reports Kathy is becoming a real favorite with his listeners. The O'Kanes are doing O'Great, with a seven point move and "most requested" reports coming in from Greg Harris at WCMR-Elkhart, among others.

Last week's Record To Watch, Billy Joe Royal, leaps into Chartbound with 89 total reports and 28 more adds. Anthony Keith at KROF-Abbeville and Billy Pilgrim at KEED-Eugene both report their listeners are going wild over this one. This week's Record To Watch is The Desert Rose Band, which had 57 reports and 32 adds including KASE/FM, WGKX/FM, KROW, WRAJ, WCUB, KCRS, KXEL, KLIK, KRLC, KIKM, etc.

Rosanne Cash has a strong debut into Up & Coming with 47 adds and 50 reports. Jonathon Stevens at KROW-Reno says he started receiving lots of requests for Rosanne after only one play. Next week's Gavin interview is with Foster & Lloyd, and they had a great week, debuting with 42 adds. Joe Langdon at KYXE-Selah says "Foster & Lloyd are at it again - after only one week of play it's already the most requested." Scott Winston at KVOX-Fargo predicts "This one will be huge - F&L sound a lot like the Everlys on this cut." Vern Gosdin's "Do You Believe Me Now" debuts with 30 reports, and Big John at KGRT-Las Cruces tells programmers, "Don't overlook this one! It tests well with upper demos." Don McLean debuts with 29 reports, and Bill Lecato at WKRE-Exmore reports great resonance.

It was sure a busy week for Pat Garcia and all the folks at KCRS-Midland. Read all about their involvement in the drama of little Jessica McClure in this week's Chinwag on page 13.

Talk to you all next week. The Gavin Country Crew

REVIEWS

Dwight Yoakam - "Please, Please Baby" (Reprise)

Dwight's been a busy guy the last couple of weeks. He was an award presenter during the CMA awards, made TV appearances on David Letterman and the Today Show, and tops it off with the release of this new single. "Please, Please Baby" is the third single from Hillbilly Deluxe, and features Brantley Kearns playing a mean fiddle and singing back-up vocals. It'll add a kick to any Country playlist.

Alabama - Just Us (RCA)

It appears that this LP will have no trouble keeping Alabama's string of hits alive. It's a well paced album that showcases the vocal talents of Jeff Cook "If I Could See You Now" and Teddy Gentry "Old Man". K.T. Oslin adds a nice feminine touch to "Face To Face", a duet with Randy Owen. Randy comes up with another of his beautiful ballads with "You're My Explanation For Living", and our reporters have already pegged "(I Wish It Could Always Be) '55" as a strong favorite. A sign on the album cover asks the question "How Am I Driving?" The answer is obviously "Straight to the top."

INSIDE URBAN RADIO

Guess I don't need to point out this week's four most added (WHITNEY HOUSTON, MELI'SA MORGAN, MIKI HOWARD, LISA LISA) are all ladies. We're hearing complaints again on the phone about so many female vocalists. Two strong contenders in the most added, FORCE M.D.'S and DAVID RUFFIN/EDDIE KENDRICKS, came in behind the ladies and are looking good. ANGELA WINBUSH takes the number one position away from MJ but will probably be watching over her shoulder as STEVIE WONDER heads for the top. These old favorites, MARLON JACKSON and THE TEMPTATIONS, are the hottest movers in the top ten after Angela and Stevie. Looming on the horizon is another familiar name, EARTH, WIND AND FIRE, taking a ten-point jump 23-13.

FULL FORCE had a great time on the phones this week. Mickey Arnold, WRDW-Augusta, remarks that it's getting all demos, kids as well as adults. Bill Price, WLOU-Louisville, reports teens calling for it, and Dorian Cox, KADO-Texarkana, lists it in his most requested. Next comes the other force, FORCE M.D.'S. Stan Tompkins, WTOY-Roanoke, says that's his record to watch. Clint Works, WDKX-Rochester, says the hot club groove of the week is MICO WAVE, and a hot dance mix is the TOUCH's "Love Fixation."

Former Record To Watch, GEORGE MICHAEL, debuts at 40 and Greg Beasley, KMJM-St.Louis, says it's doing well there. Last week's RTW, MICHAEL COOPER, has had another good week: added this week at WQIM, WBLX, WYNN, WOWI, WBLQ, KATZ/FM, WFKX, WRAG/AM, and WDUR. This week's RTW, CHARLIE SINGLETON and MODERN MAN, seems to be creeping up on those lists: added at WDUR, WQIM, WLOU, WTMP, KDAY, WRAG, WQMG, V103, KRIZ, WZFX, WZAK, KATZ/FM and WOWI.

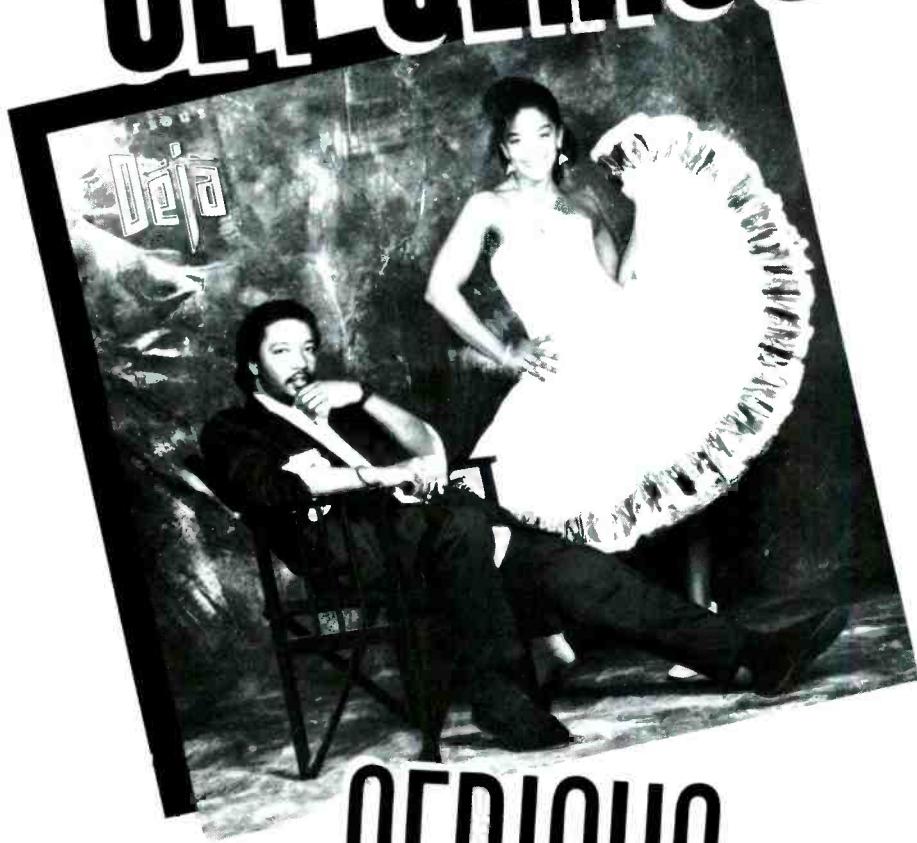

Looking at newer product, check out the GERALD ALBRIGHT: Bobby Rush, WZAK-Cleveland, did and is getting good response. Melvin Jones, KRNB-Memphis, says the L.L. MONDAY answer record is getting good response. Jimmy Smith, KKDA-Dallas, makes his first Dallas record to watch the MADHOUSE --he says, "Be on the lookout for that one."

Take care,
Betty

REVIEWS

By Betty Hollars and John Martinucci

SHERRICK - Baby I'm For Real

(Warner Bros.) If the word "soulful" doesn't come to mind when you hear this, we don't know what will. Even the saxophone movement has a soul of its own, not hanging with Sherrick, who does a great job with his delivery.

MELISA MORGAN - If You Can Do It

I Can Do It (Capitol) She does it well and does it in her own unusual style and tempo. Radio agrees - many adds this week.

L.L. COOL J - Go Cut Creator Go (Def Jam/Columbia) If you caught The Late Show on the Fox network you'll know the reference to "cut creator" is one of Cool J's DJ's in the band - and you hear him scratchin' in this "cut." Chuck Berry riffs, Bill Haley/Comets intro - they all contribute to this mass appeal rap.

GENERAL KANE - House Party (Motown) Calling your attention to Cameo, The Time, James Brown and various hot acts can't hurt the General's chances for a happenin' house party. Party hardy!

DAVID RUFFIN & EDDIE

KENDRICKS - I Couldn't Believe It (RCA) These gentlemen still seem to have the sound that launched them into stardom during the motor city days - uptempo - young and older appeal.

IMAGINATION - The Last Time (RCA) A nice ballad from a new group on the block. Be sure to check out the one shown as the "Cool Sax Mix." It features Kenny G, lending his lungs.

LEARNING TO SKATE IN EIGHT EASY SITTINGS

Two old friends found themselves working as morning men in the same market. These two guys were always putting each other on and even called each other on the air and disguised their voices. One Saturday, one visited the other when he was doing a remote, and said, "I see you slipped a little in the monthlies, my man."

"You know my audience doesn't get the diaries when they used to," replied the guy who was working. "Since that new lady took over the postal route, the mail doesn't get there 'til way after lunch. By that time, they're off to the beach. By the way, what made you come see me on your day off?"

"Well," said his buddy, "I have a cold and the doctor told me to avoid crowds!"

Morning talents have become radio's star quarterbacks. Those who can throw the long "bombs" can practically name their price. What makes a great morning show? The talent has to be there, and so do the basics, like time checks, traffic, weather, etc. Good morning talents usually take a lot of phone calls, play some parody songs or bits and have good interaction with the other regulars on the show. Most great morning shows do a super job of relating to the town they're playing to. They know the market and can touch the people. They tend to carry on all morning and get into topical discussions about things their audience is into.

Making this come off well every day requires a great deal of planning and pre-produced bits. Yet show prep is often last minute--as it should be. If something happens overnight, you've got to be right on it. This may mean staying up late at night and working with little sleep.

The planning process can really be aided by a producer or assistant. One big problem, in even many large urban markets, is that budgets simply do not allow for a producer. I recently spoke to a winning morning man who confessed, "I've been paying my producer out of my own pocket so I can have a better show." As a result, his ratings have gone up, and he's about to go into a bigger market. He's taking his producer with him--and this time the station pays.

A common complaint by morning people is that they feel restricted. One told me, "I'm pulling double digits now, but if they (the PD and consultant) would just turn me loose, I could really soar." I have had the duty of policing some strong morning shows in the past, and I can tell you it's not easy. But there has to be some structure or things will get completely out of hand.

The 7:00-8:00 hour has to be the strongest. That's the peak listening time, and the morning audience tends to tune in for shorter time spans, so you may have to repeat some material. Some songs, information and topical stuff can be re-run with some new twists.

A lot of morning jocks tend to wing it a little too much. As a result, they are not consistent and tend to repeat bits, and that can affect ratings. Now that doesn't mean you have to script every show, or that you should never repeat yourself, but by the time you wing it through all your "A" material, the "B" stuff just doesn't fly.

That doesn't mean you should be afraid to experiment. Just be sure to talk over your new ideas with your superiors. It's a lot easier defending something that may not work, or takes time to develop, if they know about it in advance.

Hopefully, the further along your career gets, the fewer mistakes you will make. But there will always be a few things that could go better. It's only logical for someone who is trying hard to make some errors. Many set a feverish pace, moving through a tremendous amount of material in a short time. That's where a strong programmer can help. A regular critique or talent-development session is vital. If you have a drive to succeed, insist on some one-on-ones with your program director or operations manager. You both could learn from it. Don't measure yourself by what you have accomplished, but what you should have accomplished with your talent and ability. And remember too that it's difficult to inspire others to accomplish who you haven't been willing to try. ●

Most great morning shows do a super job of relating to the town they're playing to. They know the market and can touch the people.

PROMOTIONS

by Lisa Smith & Betty Hollars

SPOTLIGHT PROMOTION OF THE WEEK

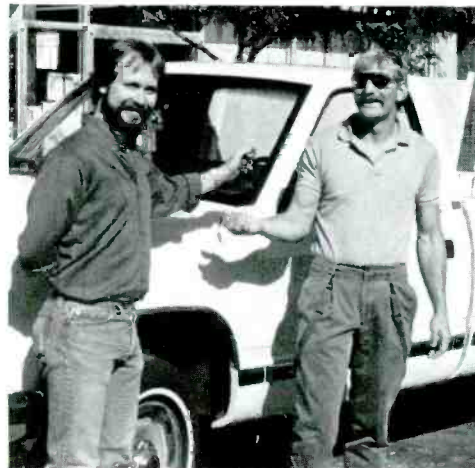

WROK CHILI SHOOT-OUT

The WROK-Rockford staff jumped on stage and performed four songs for 6,000 delighted spectators at their annual Chili Shoot-Out. A new event at this year's event was "The WROK Diamond In A Haystack," whereby the station hid a $1,400 diamond ring in a stack of hay and allowed three listeners at a time to find the ring within 30 seconds. Money raised by the event went to a local charity. Staffers serenading their public on stage are (left to right) Jesse Garcia, Dan Willis, Joe Lason, Riley O'Neil and Doug McDuff.

▼ GOTTA HAND IT TO HIM

KOLL-Gillette, WY, PD Dennis Switzer (left) hands the keys to this 1988 Chevy Silverado pickup to their latest contest winner, Rick Fruits. Rick stood with one hand on the truck for 81 hours, 20 minutes and 22 seconds--almost 3 1/2 days--leaving his hand is permanently stuck in the spare-change position. Rick outlasted 48 other contestants over Labor Day weekend to win the truck and wrap up the "KOLL 97 Days Of Summer."

▲ A BAD CELEBRATION

No, it's not Michael himself, but Curtis Chatman performed a great Michael Jackson impersonation at WJLB-Detroit's world premier party for the Bad album and video. Over 1,100 people showed up at a local nightclub for the event, which raised over $4,500 for the March of Dimes. WJLB air personalities Mason & Co. hosted the party and gave away Michael LPs and CDs and a six-foot poster of the "Bad" man himself.

MOBILE MONDAYS

KPSI-Palm Springs' latest promotion is designed to draw attention to all the communities in California's Coachella Valley. Every Monday morning, air personality Chuck Richards travels to a different valley location in their Power 101 Boom Box. He broadcasts his show live from the "pick city" and highlights the area's history and people.

DAVE SHOLIN'S PERSONAL PICKS — SINGLES

LISA LISA and CULT JAM (featuring FULL FORCE) - Someone To Love Me For Me (Columbia)

As if her dazzling vocal range weren't enough, Lisa is also credited as co-writer of this beauty (along with her buddies, Full Force). There are many sides to her musical make-up, and this super-smooth ballad seems just right for her about now. From sweet beginning to clever finish, it'll be weeks of heavy play before this one's forced off the air.

HEART - There's The Girl (Capitol)

Their hot streak has been amazing. You can't count too many weeks during '86 and '87 when Ann and Nancy haven't been in the top ten. Producer Ron Nevison knows exactly how to enhance their material, doing just that on this remixed single that makes it a custom package for Top 40 radio.

THE BANGLES - Hazy Shade Of Winter (Columbia)

The last thing I expected to hear was this band re-cut one from the Simon & Garfunkel songbook. But this rockin' version of Paul and Art's golden oldie from the winter of 1966 injects plenty of its own originality. It's included on the soundtrack of the new film, "Less Than Zero."

LITTLE RICHARD & THE BEACH BOYS - Happy Endings (Critique)

Can the man who's been rippin' it up for more than three decades belt out a soul-stirring ballad? You bet! The line, "Bring back happy endings where good guys always win," is one of the best this year. Veteran writers Bruce Johnston and Terry Melcher are responsible for this gem, which is featured in the upcoming Whoopi Goldberg picture, "The Telephone." Beach Boys harmonies and Little Richard's vocal calisthenics are spine-chilling.

SMOKEY ROBINSON - What's Too Much (Motown)

Impossible to get too much of Smokey, and 1987's been the year that sent him blazing up the Top 40, Urban and A/C charts. That same pattern is already in place for this silky smooth, seductive third single from the One Heartbeat LP.

RON FELL'S PERSONAL PICKS — ALBUMS

THE JETS - "Magic" (MCA)

The Twin City siblings strike again with a mixed bag of ballads and driving dance tracks. The opener, I DO YOU, sets a hot pace, and side one closes down with their most progressive track to date, ROCKET 2U, produced by Bobby Nunn. Side two's opener, SENDING ALL MY LOVE, has hit single written all over it, and the album winds up with their recent hit, CROSS MY BROKEN HEART. Sounds to me like they've covered all the bases.

MEN WITHOUT HATS - "Pop Goes The World" (Mercury/PolyGram)

Ya think the single, POP GOES THE WORLD, is out there--wait 'til you hear the album. These pop technocrats are in a musical orbit unto themselves as they mix the quirky aggressive/progressive with occasional nursery rhyme innocence. Three tracks stand out above the rest: POP GOES THE WORLD, WALK ON WATER and MOONBEAM.
