Pink Floyd, "Keep Talking," Columbia Best-selling author and Star Trek — The Next Generation guest star Stephen Hawking's computerized voice is sampled in parts of "Keep Talking," the first track from The Division Bell, Pink Floyd's first album in seven years. If you bought Hawking's book A Brief History Of Time and didn't understand it, maybe you needed David Gilmour, Nick Mason and Richard Wright to explain it to you. They'll be touring for four months, beginning at the end of this month, on their first North American stadium tour since 1987's Momentary Lapse Of Reason tour. Their new stage production reportedly will use lasers banned in parts of the world because of their purported atom-splitting strength.

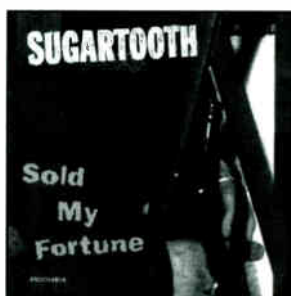

HARD ACTS TO FOLLOW

13 Engines, "Smoke & Ashes," Atlantic Canada isn't just a land of baritoned philosophers and captivating songstresses. It's also the home of low cigarette taxes, separatist politicians and dynamic rock bands like 13 Engines. Not a new band, this Toronto quartet has kept a consistent line-up over a four-album, six-year career. Check out lead vocalist John Critchley's droll delivery on this brilliant track.

Jimmy Vaughan, "Boom-Bapa-Boom," Epic That's Boom-Boom-Bapa-Boom, if you want to be precise. Here's that familiar Vaughan blues-based rock guitar sound with just a bit of danceable boogie-woogie. Produced by Nile Rodgers and from the upcoming album Strange Pleasure, this is Vaughan's first solo record since leaving the Fabulous Thunderbirds.

SUGARTOOTH, "Sold My Fortune," DGC "The song's about getting rid of the easy thing to do the right thing," says singer and guitarist Marc Hutner. This Los Angeles-based band co-produced its debut album in less than three weeks. Also getting an early start on metal radio, great phones on KNAC and garnering airplay at KIOZ, KILQ, WJRR and Z-Rock. The band's been touring for 2 1/2 years, building a fan base. Right now they're playing dates throughout the South.

PRIMAL SCREAM, "Rocks," Sire/WB Movin' On Up was a big alternative record in 1992 for this Scottish band, a track from the Screamadelica album produced by Rolling Stones producer Jimmy Miller. Now the band worked with Tom Dowd for the upcoming LP, Give Out But Don't Give Up. The band plans to tour in support of the record, opening for Depeche Mode. Early feedback is good to this track, reminiscent of the Stones, and remixed by Black Crowes producer George Drakoulias.

COURSE OF EMPIRE, "Infested," Zoo The second album from this Dallas, Texas, quintet shows their growth as a band over the past year. The track is currently at 24 on the Hard Hitters chart. Hot spots for Course Of Empire have been Phoenix, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver, Boston and Providence. Vocalist Vaughn Stevenson chats with Charles Darwin on this song about population control. "It's not so much that the planet's infested as are the people who are on it," says Chad Lovell, one of the band's two drummers. The band is touring with Machines Of Loving Grace during the last half of this month, before going on tour with Prong in April and May.

"Woke Up With A Monster"

The new track from their debut album on Warner Bros. Records

Heart, "Back To Avalon," Capitol The top ten track "Black On Black" reintroduced Heart to the rock world, but this is the song radio has been clamoring for. "We wanted to play it from the get-go," Mike O'Hara of WKIT said on St. Patrick's Day. "The company said to wait...but this was a natural for us, no doubt." "Avalon" debuts at 53* on the Hard Hundred. There are twenty new adds this week, including KATP, KMJX, KSQY, WAPL, WCCC, WDHA, WGIR, WKIT and WZZQ. Chris Kellogg at KFMZ loves that "beautiful voice." "It's an identifying song," says Mike Luoma of WIZN.

Cheap Trick, "Woke Up With A Monster," WB Wake up with these numbers — 22-16* on the Hard Hundred, 31-23* COR, number six on the increase index with 17 conversions including KDJK, KRRK, KSJO, WNEW, WRIF and WTUE. Those "Monster" increases in airplay add to a good week for new airplay — fourth most-added with 29 new stations. "A huge hit," says Lyn Casye at WIOT. "Immediate reaction to it, it's so wonderful." "Woke Up" is most-requested at KJKJ, KUPD, WKIT and WXRK. WKIT's Mike O'Hara says "Top 5 phones. It's a real reaction record. Easily identifiable." "Already getting good phone response" at WIBA, reports Brad Hanson. Cheap Trick tours this summer and appears on David Letterman on April 4.

Smashing Pumpkins, "Disarm," Virgin It's not every week you hear Carl Craft say something like "I am convinced this is where rock radio is." But it's not every week a record goes 35-24* on the Hard Hundred, with an equally solid 25-16* COR move. Sixteen adds this week, including KQRC, KRXQ, WIXV, WONE and WTPA. The Pumpkins are smashing the request lines at KMJX, KRNA and WXTB. "This could be the song," says David A. Ross of KMJX. The Pumpkins are far from being canned — in fact, the airplay has increased at nine stations this week, places like KIOZ, KISS, WHCN and WMMS.

Possum Dixon "Watch The Girl Destroy Me," Interscope Maybe they should have gone after the band instead of the criminal named Possum Dixon on "America's Most Wanted." We hear members of this Los Angeles band swiped postage and copy paper to promote the group, and even duplicated a key and broke a security code to secretly practice in a warehouse. What was that 800-number to call to turn them in? The chart moves have been faster than any fugitive — 48-36* on the Hard Hundred this week. Eleven adds, including WGIR, WYYY, WKLC and WTKX, and increased airplay at five stations including KQWB, WMMS and WRUF. "Today's lunch is tomorrow's garbage," this quartet says. "You have to slay true to yourself."

Eleven, "Reach Out," Hollywood An eleven-point move on the Hard Hundred — 93-82*. Seven adds, including KEGL, WAXQ, WIOT and Z-Rock. The good luck's even extended to WRZK, where Eleven's rotation goes up this week. "Reach Out" is another thought-provoking song written by Alain Johannes and Natasha Schneider. A "good record," says Vinny Marino at WAXQ. An 11-point move, the group's called Eleven, 10 songs on an album recorded in seven weeks, with seven adds. Got it?

Melissa Etheridge, "All American Girl," Island/PLG The most added track of the week, with 38 stations bringing the total to 46, and a debut at 37* on the Hard Hundred. "Another solid hit on her hands," says Eric Anderson at WBFL. Tony Clayton of KSFX calls it "an All-American track." The adds include WHCN, WIOT, WKLL, WPDH, WPLR, WPYX, WRUF, WSHE, WTPA, KDJK, KEZE, KLBK, KUPD and KXRK. "She always does great here," says David Rossi at WAVF. "We love her," says WOUR's Alison Ryan.

Blind Melon, "Change," Capitol The fifth most added track of the week, picking up 22 stations, including KBAT, KLBK, KSFX, WCCC, WJRR, WKIT, WPLR and WRUF. Top 10 at ten on CILQ, Danny Kingsbury tabulates. Heavy airplay at WHCN, WXTB and WXZL. "I think it'll be huge," says Tony Clayton at KSFX. "Instant phones," agrees Chuck Robson of KSPQ. And Jay Sisson of WIXY says it "should have been the follow-up to 'No Rain.'"

The Poor, "More Wine Waiter Please," 550 Music The waiter serves up a 44-33* move on the COR and a 66-50* leap on the Hard Hundred. "Awesome," says Corey Draper at KBER. "Our intention is to beat the shit out of it until there is nothing more left in our colon." Waiter, please...or maybe doctor? "It went from an add to number 11," says Vinny Marino at WAXQ. Sixteen adds were served this week including KSFX, KSHE, WRUF, WTPA, WXTB and WZZQ.

W.A.S.P. "Hold On To My Heart," Capitol Hold on to these comments... "This has brought WASP a whole new fan base," says Dale Miller at KATP. "Not only the WASP fans like it, but the people who were never into WASP like it." "Unbelievable female phones during the days," says Chris Kellogg at KFMZ. "Number one 15-25-year-old male phones at night. It's a perfect record! It works around the clock and moved to heavy after four weeks." "Huge mondo phones — all demos," says KEZE's Belinda. "Even 29-year-old men who generally hate ballads want to hear it." Overall, "Hold On" goes 73-55* on the Hard Hundred with nine adds including KEZO, WCIZ, WKQZ, WRXK and WTUE. Conversions at KFMZ and KISS. What's the repeating pattern in places like Boise or Omaha? One station in the market bangs it and then the other one has to add, then it spreads to surrounding areas.

Beautiful People, "If 60's Was 90's," Continuum We've all known for a while that Seattle was the latest epicenter for music, but it would have taken a voodoo child to anticipate this. "It's as if Jimi Hendrix is back from the dead with Enigma as his back-up band," WBFL's Eric Anderson says of this British sextet. "I really enjoy their new take on it." "Immediate reactive calls," says Lenny Bloch at WDHA. "An immediate reaction record," even in the mornings, he says. The chart move is 90-86* on the Hard Hundred, the track's most-requested at KFOG, KMMS, KMTT, WHPT and WKOC. When KJKJ played it, their local store sold out after just two days' play.

Billy Pilgrim, "Get Me Out of Here," Atlantic Pilgrim's progress? 7-6* at AAA and 86-73* on the Hard Hundred. The Mayflower never moved that quickly. Adds this week include KSEZ, KSQY, KZRR and WXZL, with increased rotations at KMMS, KRVM, WMYV, WRLT and WWCD. This Atlanta duo is among the most-requested at KTCZ and is doing well at WKIT. "Fits the bill for us," WKIT's Mike O'Hara says. "AOR is still good music and Billy Pilgrim is perfect."

Phish, "Down With Disease," Elektra No frozen phish here, a debut at 29* on the AAA chart for this wryly eccentric quartet which mixes bluegrass and funk on its new album "Hoist." The second-most added catch, er, track of the week with 37 adds. Phish are most-requested at WIZN, WHDQ and WNCS, there's increased airplay at KFMG, WBFL and WNCS. No need to fish for compliments, either. "The phones we've been seeing on this first track are amazing," says Mike Luoma of WIZN. Proof the song is real and he's not a fishhead spouting out. "Immediate calls, built-in fan base, sold-out show," says Guy Dark at WHDQ. WIZN's Mike Luoma sees the "strongest studio material they've come up with."

Crash Test Dummies, "Mmm Mmm Mmm," Arista The Dummies strap in for a 45-33* move on the Hard Hundred this week. "Their performance on 'Saturday Night Live' is what pushed us over the top," says Tom Guild at WRDU. "Everybody was talking about it." "Mmmm mmmm good, mmmm mmmm good," says KEZE's Belinda, in her deepest voice. "Crash Test Dummies are mmmm mmmm good." Twenty adds this week, including WCMF, WDIZ, WFYV, WHCN, WMMR and WRDU. Mmmmost-requested at ten stations including WCIZ, WKIT, WNEW and WVBR — the most-requested at WHDQ with top five local sales. "Selling like a moth-erfucker," is the delicate assessment of WBAB's Ralph Tortora. "Since we added three weeks ago, it's number six retail. The best is yet to come." There are conversions at ten stations including WNEW, WZZO, KKDJ and KXRK. WCIZ's Carl Craft is no dummy, either. "We had real big phones out of the box," Craft says. "A real good song. Stands out. Don't be afraid of it."

Collective Soul, "Shine," Atlantic "The number one most-requested song. It's unbelievable," says KATP's Dale Miller. "This has surpassed any number one phones we've had. Retail is calling." "Number-two- or number-three-most-requested so far, says Chuck Robson of KSPQ. "One of those catchy little things that people are starting to get hooked on." The collective judgement is equally strong — 33-22* on the Hard Hundred and 45-32* COR. Fifteen shining adds include KJKJ, KSJO, WIOT, WMMR, WRIF and WXTB and increased airplay at 11 reporters including KEZE, KQRS, WCMF, WMMS and WTPA. "I'm crazy about this record," declares Lyn Casye of WIOT. "Great lyric. Nice message," says KUFO's Dave Numme. "Shine" is most-requested at seven stations including KSHE, WDIZ, WRXK and WTPA.

Bonnie Raitt "Love Sneakin' Up On You," Capitol Raitt sneaks from number two to a bulleted number one on the AAA chart, with a 21-17* gain on the Hard Hundred. "She's done it again," says WBAB's Ralph Tortora. "Great pop sensibility, but she's still hanging on to the blues roots." Nine adds this week include WAQX, WROQ, WROV and WZNF, and "Love" is most-requested at four stations including KMJX and WRDU. Eleven stations have upped rotation, such as WEGR, WKLS, WPLR and WWDC. WKIT's Mike O'Hara says the track's "a natural. Gotta look at psychographics. It appeals to those who have money — the upper crust." "Tremendous appeal," says David Ross of KMJX. "Kills upper demos," says KSFX's Tony Clayton.

LEVINE TURNS OVER 'PYX REIGNS TO FRED HORTON

Not that it wasn't totally expected, but mini-mogul Ed Levine has announced that he'll be leaving WPYX to devote full attention to his Utica and Syracuse properties. Comments Ed, "The reality is that launching one new FM station is always a challenge and always exciting, but launching two in the same market in the same week is unprecedented. The workload, as you might imagine, has just been enormous. What I wanted to avoid was a situation where I was not devoting enough time to my company, and at the same time not being fair to the people at WPYX who had been so good to me for eight years. I decided about six weeks ago that I had to find a graceful way out of the Albany situation. The person I wanted to oversee it, Fred Horton, was at WYNF, and I had to pry him loose from there. Fred's not a New York City fan, and his wife likes it even less, so he was really open to the opportunity. Plus, Fred ran our oldies station, WTRY, very successfully here in the late '80s, so the comfort zone is there instantly. We've known each other since the mid '70s, and we talk two or three times a week. Why, next to Bill Hard, Fred's one of my very closest friends."

JOHN SIGLER'S GIANT EXIT

John Sigler has exited Giant Records after three years. John was one of the first label execs to recognize the power of the AAA format, and his accomplishments at the label include a stellar job on Big Head Todd And The Monsters, as well as airplay and sales successes with Thomas Dolby and Diesel (Both AAA #1's) and the New York Rock And Soul Review. John, who spent eight years at RCA prior to the move to L.A., can be reached at (818) 995-4993.

LAUFER & ERG PART COMPANY

Expect the official press release sometime next week that SBK/EMI/ERG Senior Director, National Album Promotion Jeff Laufer has left the label after a three-year run. Laufer, who was based in Los Angeles, joined ERG from RCA.

ATLANTIC RESTRUCTURES ROCK PROMO DEPARTMENT

Lea Pisacane

Mark Fischer

Bonnie Sliifkin

Jon Nardachone

Atlantic has reorganized the Rock division of its National Promotion department, which now comprises the following NY-based staff members: Lea Pisacane, Director of National Album Promotion; Mark Fischer, Associate Director of National Album Promotion; Bonnie Sliifkin, National Manager of Progressive/Rock Promotion; and Jon Nardachone, National Manager of Hard Rock Promotion. VP/Promotion Danny Buch commented on the appointments: "Atlantic's incredible musical variety, combined with the increasingly fragmented state of rock radio, has made this restructuring vital. However, our biggest challenge remains getting all four of these sociopathic individuals extolled within the parameters of the standard industry press release. Pisacane is a photon of unique energetic credibility; she epitomizes the morning zoo of promotion. The son of a minister, Mark Fischer's gentle persuasion technique was honed via Atlantic's southern field experience. Sliifkin's biting sarcasm, cutting edge intelligence, and general depravity make her a joy for all who come in contact with her. Nardachone's brilliance and metallurgic skill round out the department with his sense of style and daily fashion statements." Pisacane joined the label in 1988, and has been Director of National Album Promotion since 1992. Fischer joined Atlantic in 1991 as the label's local promotion rep in Dallas. Immediately prior to her new appointment, Sliifkin was Atlantic's National Album Promotion Coordinator, a position she had held since 1992. She joined the label in 1989 as Executive Secretary to Danny Buch. Nardachone joined Atlantic in 1991 as Metal Radio Coordinator. He was named National Metal Manager the following year.

SONY ACQUIRES R.E.D.

Sony Music and Relativity founder Barry Kobrin announced Sony's acquisition of Kobrin's 50% interest in Relativity Entertainment Distribution and the Relativity recording label. Sony previously held a 50% interest in R.E.D., which is now wholly owned by Sony. Commenting on the acquisition, SME President and COO Thomas D. Mottola remarked, "Barry Kobrin founded and built Relativity Entertainment Distribution and the Relativity label into a powerhouse independent record label and the most respected and successful independent distribution network in the music business today. We look forward to building on both companies' achievements." Kobrin, who will exit the company, stated, "I am very satisfied with what I've built, and have enjoyed building over the years. The Relativity and R.E.D. staffs are simply the best, and I've thoroughly enjoyed my relationships with our employees and artists. Sony Music is a large, successful company and through our working relationship, we shared a vision of success for the '90s. We have shared in building a powerful independent distribution company and a strong label presence in the leading areas of popular music: rock, alternative and hip-hop. Although I'll miss the R.E.D. family I've been a part of for the past decade, I wish Sony Music continued success."

"Unbelievable female phones during the day, #1 15-25 year-old male phones at night. W.A.S.P.'s 'Hold On To My Heart' is a perfect record! It works around the clock and moved to heavy after four weeks."

CAPITOL ELEVATES TASHA MACK

Tasha Mack

Tasha Mack has been promoted to National Director of Rock Promotion at Capitol Records. Based in the label's Hollywood headquarters, Mack reports directly to John Fagot, Sr. VP/Promotion, who commented, "Tasha is a great example of a person that has used all of her intelligence, work ethic, attitude and personality to rise from within the ranks. It is a pleasure to have people of Tasha's caliber on our team." Mack joined Capitol since 1985 as Coordinator in Artist Relations, and was most recently a Local Promotion Manager in Dallas.

BILL GRAHAM MANAGEMENT ANNOUNCES EXPANSION

Bill Graham Management has opened its first Los Angeles office, located at the historic Wiltern Theatre, and being overseen by personal manager Kathy Cook. The expansion, according to longtime personal manager Mick Brigden, comes on the heels of the company's vast current success, including platinum albums by such clients as the Gin Blossoms and Aaron Neville. The management company is also spearheading a new custom label at A&M Records, announced personal manager Morty Wiggins. The as-yet-unnamed label will issue two to three albums per year. The first release is due out this summer by the Songcatchers, a Pacific Northwest group of American Indians. "We're looking for great music that's definitely a little left of center," says Wiggins. "We're interested in finding independent releases and then marketing them. The plan is to build up a boutique label, and if we score a home run, great. We wouldn't do this with any other label but A&M. They've show us that they're committed and passionate."

The State of Tennessee has proclaimed March 3, 1994 as "Rhythm, Country & Blues Day," in celebration of the recently-released MCA Records album, Rhythm, Country & Blues. THE HARD REPORT

Herb

ESSENCE

Herb Ivy was born in England, and before moving to Maine some eight years ago, had lived in New Jersey, Delaware and Texas. After graduating from the University of Virginia ("The Yale of the south") in Charlottesville in '85, he followed his girlfriend (now wife) Robin Mathieu north to Portland. They'd both worked at WUVA, the school's full time student owned and operated commercial radio station, where Herb was PD and Promotions Director. Robin had snagged a full time slot at WBLM, while Herb had to settle for part time air work and full time table waiting. PD Jose Diaz recognized Herb's talent early on, moving him into all nights in '86, then to evenings for a year, and onto the morning show in '88. When Fuller-Jeffrey moved Jose to their Santa Rosa facility in 1992, Herb was named Program Director. WBLM got into the duopoly game this past January, and Herb's duties were expanded to include programming the market's second Triple A, WSTG, re-christened "FM94". Between doing mornings and programming two radio stations, Herb's gotta be one of the busiest guys in the biz. Somehow, hard work just seemed to be the logical place to start our discussion....

Has John Wayne Bobbitt done your morning show?

Herb: No, not yet.

Would you have him on?

Herb: Absolutely.

So, if as passed on by one PD recently, Bobbitt says that he's 75% functional at this point do you think that means he can get it up 75% of the time or do you think that means that the top 25% doesn't work?

Herb: I would say that he's good 3 out of 4.

I had an interesting conversation recently with Mimi Griswold, who brought him in the day that Loreena was released. She was a regular laff riot regarding the amount of care and handling that JW required. I suggest you give her a call if you're thinking about bringing him in.

Herb: I just hope they sewed it on right side up. That was our big concern.

I lie awake nights worrying about that myself. Do you get many nationally prominent guests passing through?

Herb: They're more regional guys. We had Emo Phillips on, and Bobcat Goldthwaite was supposed to come on recently. If someone breaks like that who's coming through town, we'll try to get them. It's hard to get national people in Portland.

I wouldn't think that, though, given the amount of tourist traffic.

Herb: Well, Stephen King is due in a couple of weeks because he lives up here and WBLM has been in a couple of his books.

Who was your best recent guest?

Herb: Emo Phillips was wonderful. We really had fun. It was one of those things where he was supposed to stay for one break and he stayed for two hours, and he didn't want to leave. The other one was George Mitchell, the Senate Majority Leader. It was over Christmas, and we did a thing about the Hubbel telescope. They had just gotten the Hubbel fixed and George was on with us talking about how the telescope was really designed to help track Santa Claus and to spy on the Soviets. He played it absolutely straight.

What's the Portland palate like for left of center stuff? How blue can you get and how blue do you get?

Herb: You can't get away with quite as much as I think you can in other areas. A lot of stuff that Jimus is doing — that he's been doing for years — is dropping jaws in Portland. Our morning show has pushed the envelope, but it's nothing compared to what you hear in other places, nor do we want it to be. If we want talk about John Bobbitt, or if we want to be dirty, or if we want to be blue, it's got to be clever. I think it should be anyway.

I think that's the first rule of thumb.

Herb: And the humor has to be based in something. I think that's what gives you longevity and that's what keeps a morning host like Mark Persky successful for 16 years. He's a huge fan of the Laurel and Hardys and the Chaplins of the world and that depth comes through on the air.

Let me guess — he's also a really good stand up comedian?

Herb: No, he isn't. He probably could do it, but he doesn't.

What's the first thing to come to mind when I say the following: 'Range Rover.'

Herb: My second car.

'Farmers and disillusioned yuppies.'

Herb: Core BLM listeners.

There are a lot of farmers?

Herb: Oh, yes, it's very rural. I don't know if they're actually farmers, but once you get outside of Portland, and outside of Cumberland County, this is a very rural state.

And do you get to both of those lifestyle groups?

Herb: I think we must. Portland is a test market for many products. Many products come to Portland because it is a microcosm of America, with just the right amount of blue collar, white collar, and professional types. It's a real efficient way to do market studies.

Isn't there practically a total absence of ethnicity?

Herb: It is white. It was different for me, coming from the University of Virginia, I thought it was great to have a lot of diversity, and then to come up here and it was very white.

How about 'L.L. Bean'?

Herb: Whenever anyone comes to Portland I take them there. I've had people up there at 3 o'clock in the morning.

Rock and roll bands like to do that, don't they?

Herb: After the show, they're there.

The only thing better than that are those boot stores in Texas that serve you beer while you're waiting. — Next would be 'Jose Diaz.'

Herb: I think Jose Diaz is Mr. Consistency. He and I learned a lot together, and he made 'BLM what it is. He was there from the very beginning.

'Jose Canseco?'

Herb: Again, a great influence on WBLM. He really helped make the station what it is.

Is the seasonal population shift significant enough to effect your programming?

Herb: No, it's not. Tourist don't get diaries. It's great, though. There's a lot more activity in the summer months, but it doesn't effect programming at all.

Speaking of generalizations, when the Gorton's fisherman sees you in the town square and asks you specifically what your day is like, what do you tell him?

Herb: Let's see. There's 10 hours at the station and a couple more at home.

What? You can't find time for a little heavy lifting somewhere in your schedule?

Herb: No, they don't have me cleaning the van, yet. The morning show is four hours out of my day, but it's not work.

You walk in the door at 5:00?

Herb: And I leave a little before 3 to pick up the children from school. Then, I go home and work maybe two more hours, mostly phone stuff.

Like this interview, for instance?

Herb: Actually, I just picked my kids up a few minutes ago. I'm shocked that my four-year-old just beat me at Nintendo for the very first time.

It'll get worse. Wait until they want to arm wrestle you to use the car. I'm practically to that stage, what with a fifteen year old in the house.

Herb: That's what I have to look forward to. I'll bet a kid that age is a handful.

Part of that depends on what kind of town they grow up in, and especially the character of kids in the schools. What kind of city is Portland in that sense?

Herb: The great thing about Maine is that, in terms of raising a family, you don't have to worry that much. Portland is a pretty cool town. There's crime and there are homeless people, but things are just a notch slower than in Boston. The city seems to be kind of flexing its cosmopolitan muscle a little, as well. And Portland has really become kind of a magnet for people like Bob Ludwig, who set up shop here for Gateway Studios. He was in New York City for years until he said, 'Forget it. I can do this anywhere I want,' and he came here for quality of life. The artists likes it better coming up here, besides. Bob built a multi-million dollar studio that's ten minutes from the beach.

What would you pay for a three bedroom house there?

Herb: You're going to pay about $120,000 and rent for around $800 a month.

So, you've got clean air, affordable housing, and lobsters two bucks a pound. You're also competing in one of the most crowded radio markets in the country.

Herb: Yeah. Honolulu is number one last I checked, and we were number two. I'm shocked that so many stations can keep their lights on. And now, with duopoly, it's buy or be bought. I think between the economic shakedown that we had in New England and the changes in ownership, you're going to see a lot of stations up here getting gobbled up.

Your region was well into the recession before duopoly really got into full swing. Were those difficult times for WBLM?

Herb: We were really lucky to be so dominant going in. You have to have double digits to survive. You have to have a 25-30 share 18-34 to really do it, and fortunately, we did. When people who were still doing advertising could only buy one or two radio stations, instead of four or five, we were it. So, we got through it alright. Now that the economy has improved, it's like, 'No, you don't need to buy five radio stations. We're doing the job for you just fine!' Plus, we've always run operationally very lean and mean. When a lot of radio stations in the '80s were hiring all kinds of assistants to assistants and really fattening up, we did the opposite. We didn't have a lot of attrition, in terms of having to cut back staff, etc.

How does the market shake out formatically? Who owns what?

Herb: There's a heritage country station, WPOR, who we consistently battle for #1. Then, there's WMGX, the classic hits station, and they've always been a player in the 6 to 8 range. And the talk station, WGAN, also does well. Between the war, the election and now this winter, they float in the 8-9 share area.

I'm curious about Fuller and Jeffrey. Of course, J.J. Jeffrey made his mark as a big time jock. Is Fuller more the money guy?

Herb: Actually, J.J. had some of the capital, too. I consider Bob more of a radio guy than a business guy. In day-to-day operations, Bob is the guy making the deals, with the great visions of buying and selling. J.J. is more the spiritual guru of the company. Both are amazingly accessible and both were jocks in Portland. J.J. went off to Chicago and Philly to make his fortune, and together they came back to Maine and bought 'BLM, which was in a trailer in Litchfield, Maine at the time. And then we were in Auburn, Maine until about 5 years ago.

They've certainly been good about promoting from within. I remember when Jose Diaz was Music Director, and now he's programming grand Poo-bah.

Herb: Jose brought me along really well, knowing that he would eventually move along.

Considering he took you from overnights to PD of two stations, I'd say he did a fine job. What was it about your performance or attitude that made Jose, Bob and J.J. think you could handle the gig?

Herb: Bob Fuller always says that above everything else, he wants the PD to love the radio station. I think he knew that I did. They wanted to be sure I had the talent and the people and management skills, of course, but in the end, I believe my love for the radio station is what did it.

As a Delaware native, you grew up listening to WMMR, WYSP and WIDQ. How did that listening experience contribute to your vision of what 'BLM should be all about?

Herb: I was very, very lucky to be able to listen to those radio stations at such a special time — from the mid '70s on. I think my vision of what's right and what feels right stems from that. If I can match that excitement level of what was going on in Philly radio at that time, then I feel I'm doing the job.

How do you think the market sounds these days?

Herb: It's very different. I was merely a fan during those formative years, and now my point of reference has changed. But I still get the buzz, especially when I'm out driving those same country roads that I did when I was seventeen-years-old on a Saturday night. I listened to those stations from the time I was 13, til I was 20, and then it was college radio and then WBLM.

Given that you program a double decade heritage station yourself, were you alarmed when WYSP managed to get around WMMR, whose call letters are practically synonymous with the city?

Herb: It scared me because when you're number one year in and year out, you're constantly playing defense and that's really hard. There's no one beating you, so you have to beat yourself. It's very easy to go in every day and say, 'We're okay. We're fine. Our ratings are great.' and then put the cruise control on. But there's always someone out there who wants you, and someone who wants you bad. So, when you see it happen to a great station like WMMR, you know it can happen to anyone. They were so huge, and it was like 'send more oxygen!' time. Yes, seeing that happen concerned me a lot.

Other than you and MD Brian James, is anyone involved in the WBLM music decision process?

Herb: No, it's just the two of us. I spend a lot of time doing mornings and programming both radio stations, so I don't have a lot of time to speak with record people. That is the one thing I'm trying to work on because getting beat up on records is one of the most fun parts of the job, as far as I'm concerned. Brian is the guy who really gets it all from record people. I think it's important for me to come to a music meeting and sit down ready to listen with a clear head, and since Brian handles almost all of the promotional input, I can do that.

What was it like to go from all nights to morning co-host, especially when teamed up with a 16-year market vet?

Herb: It was very intimidating. I didn't know if I could do it.

Did he ask you to get coffee and stuff like that?

Herb: No. He's a nut. He's great. He wasn't like that at all. But, yeah, it certainly was intimidating having never done mornings before. I was 24 and had been at 'BLM for three years and — whammo! What saved us was that we just had the chemistry, and it clicked. But despite that, it was absolutely nerve racking.

How much of your role is entertainer and how much is traffic cop?

Herb: It's 50/50. Just because I'm pushing the buttons on the board doesn't make me the full time traffic cop, though. The tie comes off during the morning show. One of the crucial things was when I did become Program Director was to say, 'Look, don't treat me like the PD. I'm the morning guy.' That was one of my concerns, that Mark might pull back because the PD was always listening, but luckily that hasn't happened. That's probably because the show has always had very much of a 'go for it' attitude. The show has always been really independent and autonomous because they trusted us. It was never like, 'Can I get it over the program director?'

What's the wake up scenario like around the dial in the market? Is there any high personality stuff coming at you?

Herb: Imus is in the market now. He's really funny.

How's that been so far?

Herb: We heard our share of 'You guys are in trouble' comments, but it hasn't been a problem because we are playing 8 or 9 songs an hour. People are coming to us because they want to hear music and they want to have some fun. And I think Imus is mostly taking from the people who want to hear talk radio.

When did you acquire the second signal and how long have you had the Triple A format in place on WSTG?

Herb: We picked up the signal in early '93, and went Triple A January 4, 1994.

You've mentioned FM94 is using a lot of cutting edge technology. Like what?

Herb: Mainly in terms of being digitally controlled. This allows the jock to go in and cut their 6 hour show in an hour-and-a-half. It's been a great tool. You don't want to sound automated or like a satellite feed, especially if you're doing Triple A. But if the passion for the music and the format is in your jocks, this works amazingly well. It allows a radio station like FM94, which has no numbers, and doesn't have a ton of money to spend on personnel, to allow somebody to do a show in a hour-and-a-half and then go do other things. You still have to pay people for a full week, but they're able to do the show in half the time.

Is there any appreciable overhead savings for the organization by doing that?

Herb: Yes, in terms of people hours.

Are they half jock, half sales people?

Herb: No, they won't sell but they can go out on the street, and they can do creative services. We really try to get our people out to introduce the radio station. It is guerilla marketing, literally, where we have had people dress up in gorilla suits on street corners with poster boards saying, 'Listen to this radio station.'

Given the fact that Portland is the first market with two full service commercial Triple As, did Fuller-Jeffrey feel that there were needs that WCLZ was not addressing?

Herb: Definitely. WCLZ is a good radio station, but every Triple A is different, and ours certainly is. We feel FM94 is the right way for Triple A to go. I think the format will be successful if it's accessible. I believe people who listen to Triple A stations want to be challenged musically. When I go to a party, I like it when I know some people and I get to meet some new people. I don't like to go to parties where I know everybody, and I don't want to go to parties where I don't know anybody. So, it's a matter of finding where we are going, how many new people we want to meet, and how many familiar people do we want to meet at this party.' In this case, I think that Triple A people want to be challenged, but they still want to be able to feel like there is some kind of consistency to the radio station. I think that when Triple A becomes a little more accessible, it's going to flourish, it's going to be for real, and that's what we've tried to do.

Was there a round table with the principals of the corporation when you discussed format options?

Herb: Yes, there was.

Where you the chief salesmen in that regard?

Herb: Fuller-Jeffrey wanted to own the rock franchise in this market. There may have been holes for other formats, but this was the right thing to do for us. The other thing that was really important to us is that we wanted to do a format that people have passion for. So far, I've found amazing passion for AAA on the street since starting this thing up. It's the way FM radio used to be, and there are people that are 40-years old who haven't heard radio like this for 20 years.

Do you feel that WSTG is taking audience away from WBLM?

Herb: No, I don't think so. People may come WSTG who listen to WBLM, but when you get out of work after a crummy day and want to hear Aerosmith, there will be one radio station that you turn to. When you want the windows down, and you want the volume on ten, it's not going to be FM94, it's going to be 'BLM.

Have you managed to skew a little younger on 'BLM now that you have the AAA covered?

Herb: No.

That would be the conventional logic, wouldn't it?

Herb: Yeah, but you've got to have the 25-44 demo, and we're #1 there with WBLM currently. Someday we may have to make that choice, but it would be silly for us to make that choice now, a station with a 17 share to make that strategic choice when FM94 has done nothing yet.

What are you looking for your Triple A to deliver? What's your objective?

Herb: We very consciously said that we don't want X number of shares. We want to garner audience on our own terms. Triple A is a little different in the way you sell it to advertisers. It's almost like dealing with active classical listeners. I don't know if Triple As are ever going to become a #1 radio station. Would we like to be #1 or #2? Of course we would. But I don't know if this radio station ever will. WBLM is built to be a huge mainstream cuming monster with a hundred thousand watt signal that will deliver that kind of double digit audience every single book.

Do you have firm projections on how long it should take to reach your goal?

Herb: It's going to take a while. We're going to let this thing evolve. We started rough on purpose. I see this format as kind of a throwback to the way FM radio was in Philadelphia in the '70s and '80s. There's a very conscious effort on our part to let it evolve, to let it happen and to keep our ear on the street and just tweak it as we go along. It's not like we came out of the box on day one and said, 'Here it is!' Bob Fuller is a big believer in putting it on and letting it develop some soul. I think that's what we're doing right now.

Compare and contrast the 'BLM vs. FM94 jock delivery.

Herb: For the BLM jocks it's adult, but not too adult. I don't know, it's Budweiser. I want 'BLM jocks to be Budweiser.

It is 5:00, now that you mention it.

Herb: If I have to use the beer analogy, dammit, I will. I want 'BLM to be Budweiser.

And what do you want the STG jocks to be? Amstel Light?

Herb: I want them to be a fine, local, upscale Maine brew. I want them to be Geary's Pale Ale.

As long as you're plugging the local micro-brewery, are there any bed and breakfasts you'd like to mention while we're at it?

Herb: Go to the Inn By The Sea in Cape Elizabeth. That's where the Grateful Dead stay. They take it over. Either that or my place. I've got a pool, and anyone is welcome.

How important is news to this station?

Herb: Being topical is very important to both stations.

Can you think of any new programming ideas that are working well for you?

Herb: Getting the morning show on the weekend has been really cool, in terms of 'The Captain and Mark weekends,' that kind of thing.

You're obviously The Captain?

Herb: Yeah. 'Herb' is not a great radio name, so I go with The Captain. Plus, every Blimp needs a captain.

It's really poor form to ask, but is Herb Ivy your real name?

Herb: Yes.

What's the live scene like there? How often do nationally prominent bands pass through?

Herb: It's hot and cold. Portland is really interesting because we get people who would otherwise never come up here because of, again, lifestyle. Billy Joel wants to rehearse before he starts the tour, before he goes to Boston and New York and Philadelphia, so he books four days to rehearse at the Civic Center and eat Lobster. He comes here, and we get the first show. Elton John will come here, ZZ will kick off the tour here, Van Halen will practice for three or four days, and Meat Loaf was most recently up here practicing. So, Portland seems to have gotten the reputation as a place where you can come up and hang out and get your act together to go on tour. We just recently opened a venue in the one-thousand seat capacity area, so we're getting Robert Cray and Richard Thompson in, some great acts that we haven't had come up lately. Things are picking up really nicely.

Do you get sick of having Boston waved in your face, as far as getting worked on records and stuff? Is that the closest area of dominant influence for you guys?

Herb: No, I don't pay much attention to it.

What do you think of Boston radio?

Herb: I think it's pretty good. I was down there this weekend, and 'BCN is great. 'FNX is always fun, since we have no new rock station here.

Why's that?

Herb: Because this is a bread and butter, meat and potatoes town.

You think that is still a little bit wavy for them, a little fringy?

Herb: Yeah, this is George Thorogood territory. I was shocked to come up here, especially after growing up in Delaware — George Thorogood used to buy me beer at 7-11 — to come here and see this. But you have guys working at the paper mill and guys working down at the docks. They don't care if you are early on Smashing Pumpkins. We'll play that stuff when it makes sense to do so, but there is not that sense of being ahead of the wave. I don't think New Rock would do real well.

How do you think a low end station would do, something like Q104.3?

Herb: Can it make money in market 155? This is Portland, Maine. Again, you have to dominate. You have to be a mass appeal mainstream machine. That's the way you have to approach it to survive.

How stable has your staff been?

Herb: Very stable. Mark Persky has been here sixteen years, Tommy C. on middays for six years, Celeste has done afternoons for three years, and Brian James has been with WBLM for close to six. That's the core. I would put the 'BLM staff against anybody. You can't compare us to anything else in the market because no one here is beating us. So, we set our sights along the lines of, 'I want to be as good as 'MMR. I want to be as good as 'BCN.' That's the level that you want to achieve. I think that if you shoot for that, if you say that you want to be as good as those two radio stations, and if you achieve that, then you will continue to dominate.

Obviously, between doing mornings and programming two radio stations, you have a really full plate. At times I would assume that you feel a little overburdened.

Herb: Yeah, sometimes. I think that at every job you get to that point when you're pretty maxed out. I'm real lucky because for one, I still have a lot of fun with the morning show on 'BLM. I can still be wild and crazy. Programming a successful 100,000 watt radio station like 'BLM is a rush, as is putting on a brand new Triple A with this new technology at a time when Triple A is becoming legitimate. I want to be part of all of these things. Bring it on!!

With all that going on, what do you do as a husband and father to make sure that you stay grounded on the family side, too? Don't tell me that you coach Little League, too?

Herb: No, I don't. I have to walk out of the station at quarter of three. You could stay in there for fifteen hours a day with what I am doing right now, but I have things that I have to do at home. I have to pick up the children at school, and that's good for me to have to walk out of there. It's great to come home.

Alison Moyet, "Essex," Columbia A month later, and people are still talking about her performance at the Gavin Convention. Moyet's throaty vocals are instantly recognizable by the scores of fans she has accumulated during her thirteen year career, and her live performance is equally unforgettable. "Whispering Your Name," the first track from her soon-to-be-released album, is already drawing rave reviews: Jim Olsen WRSI, "Alison's first release in four or five years is her most diverse release and most fitting for Triple A. Her music ranges from soft acoustic to produced dance songs with great production from Ian Brody from the Lightening Seeds." Greg Roberts KKR, "This is smooth and beautiful, with great vocals." Bruce Ranes WXP, "With a voice like that, you can't go wrong, especially with great songs to perform with. It's a pleasure to see Alison's former Zoo partner, Vince Clark, collaborating with some of the music on this album. Great justice to Jules Shear on the song, 'Whispering Your Name'." Bill Evans KFOG, "It's been a long time, but obviously it's worth the wait." Dirk Thompson, WWCD, "Come on, you saw her in San Francisco...Yazoo! By the way, it's the album version that gets the phones."

THE HOT CORNER

Syn, "Matter Of Time," Clear View Soulful, edgy, brooding, powerful — that's just a little of what you'll find in Syn's debut album. It's almost as if frontman Ray Lane is channeling Van Morrison's darker side and adding in his own provocative edge to the mix. Whatever the formula, it works for Triple A, especially standout tracks, "Love On My Side," "Suicide," "Hey John," and "Emily." Ian Taylor WKVT, "The initial impact of vocals was a combination between old vintage Leon Russell and old Greg Allman blended together and instantly hooked." Jeff Hansen WERU, "We're playing two tracks from this album, 'Emily' and 'Please Be There.' They fit our mix well. We will probably get to 'Live The Life' and 'Suicide' — great percussion at the opening on 'Suicide.'" Bruce Stebbins WRNX, "Surprisingly good — not that I expected it not to be. We were singularly impressed. This one has the potential to go all the way." Jason Parker KRVM, "Great album! Such a soulful vocal style. We'll go deep on this one. It mixes extremely well." Bill Evans KFOG, "Delightful lyrics with great arrangements — makes a tempting combo for radio. Nothing Syn-thetic here!"

Texas, "Rick's Road," Vertigo Triple A was waiting for this one: Ginger Havlat KBCO, "Texas, the band, has a big following in Colorado, so we've been anxiously awaiting this album. This is the first advance cassette in a long time that I had to force out of my tape cassette player — and it's not because the tape broke. This album is chock full of goodies. Our favorite track is 'So Called Friend,' but we also added 'Fade Away' for nighttime." Jim Olsen WRSI, "The Texas record is great! Any fan of the Pretenders will enjoy this release. Soulful vocals and very memorable songs." Jason Parker KRVM, "We had great success with Mother's Heaven. This new record should be a candidate for Album of the Year. It's classic Sharleen Spiteri vocals, what more could you ask for?" Richard Murphy KSKE, "The Duke would be proud. Shot right into medium." Steve Cole KSPN, "Great to see Texas return after an extended absence. 'Fade Away' finds the band sounding fresh as ever. It's a terrific song."

The two-time Grammy Award winner comes on strong with his debut release on MCA/GRP Records.

Going for adds 3/22.

Yes, "Talk," Victory/PLG The latest from these rock veterans sequesters smoothly into Triple A: Colter Langan KMMS, "It sounds like Yes is maturing for the '90s. They are starting to look inward and some great music is coming out that is accessible for Triple A radio. We added 'The Calling' the second week right into medium. It's attracting an older demo who grew up with Yes." Bob Cummings WHPT, "Yes! The perfect blend of classic and the new Yes; perfect mix of Fragile and the song they had on 90125. It's just amazing stuff." Richard Murphy KSKE, "Yes! Yes! Yes! Three tracks deep." Greg Roberts

KKRV, "We played 'The Calling' right out of the CD Pro. We've been on it for three weeks now, and it literally burns up the phones. We'll go much deeper on this album." Ian Taylor WKVT, "We're back! Very nice recording."

PFR, "Goldie's Last Day," Vireo This album kind of came as a surprise to some stations, but evidently, it was a pleasant surprise: Jeff Hansen WERU, "I really like this album! We are playing 'By Myself,' 'Satisfied' and 'Goldie's Last Day.' It has a very fresh, original kind of sound. It's derivative, but they mix it up enough so it sounds fresh." Steve Cole KSPN, "PFR is an album full of prime Triple A material. Start with 'Goldie's Last Day,' which is a kind of Queen meets Beatles meets Jellyfish approach, but very tasty. And then proceed to the rest of the album, which is full of great tunes in a variety of styles. Took it home for the weekend and spent a nice sunny afternoon with it. It passed the sunny afternoon test. Do give it a spin, you will be glad you did." Ian Taylor WKVT, "I really like what the band is doing. The CD is great, I want to get to know who they are more. We are going to stick with it and make people listen."

Bonnie Raitt, "Longing In Their Hearts," Capitol Bonnie's loyal Triple A following enthusiastically greeted this album by making the first single, "Love Sneakin' Up On You" the #1 track. No doubt, the album will follow that pattern. Jody Denberg KGSR, "Look's like Bonnie has done it again. For depth, we are starting with the title track featuring Levon Helm and the final song 'Shadow of Doubt,' which brings Bonnie back to her blues roots with Charlie Musselwhite." Bob Cummings WHPT, "We feature Bonnie Raitt on the morning show. This is another home-run hit for Bonnie. Several strong tracks. You could go three or four deep on this album." Jeff Luchsinger KERA, "Immediate audience response! We put it on the air, and the phones started lighting up. I know this is going to be heard every where else but we are glad that they will hear it here first." Steve Cole KSPN, "It's great to see Bonnie Raitt enjoying her long-coming and richly deserved success with the formula that has served her well for 25 years, i.e., great songs, great playing, and great singing is obviously still on the fast track to chart success."

Howard's Brush With Greatness...

This week's brush takes Arista's Triple A savant Howard Leon to Little Italy in NYC. Howard had taken his favorite blue suit to Tony the Tailor to have it taken out (just a little), but when he went to pick it up, the suit was two sizes too small! Well, it just so happened that guitar czar Les Paul had dropped off the identical suit to Tony to have the hem shortened, and Tony (who speaks very little English) had mistakenly given him Howard's suit. Luckily, Howard spotted Les going into Carmine's Tavern down the street. Needless to say, the two had a good laugh, exchanged suits, and Les even bought Howard a nice glass of Chianti for his troubles. Now, that's a star.

Re: Bill Miller on tour with Tori Amos

HOT NEWS! Tori Amos has personally asked Native American artist Bill Miller to open for her upcoming U.S. tour! You will recall that Bill's critically-acclaimed Warner Bros. album, The Red Road, was released last fall and many AAA, college and folk stations fell in love with his unique blend of ethnic and contemporary music. In other related news; Bill has just finished filming a video of the song, "Trail of Freedom," on location throughout the Chicago area. Bill Miller will also be one of the featured performers at the upcoming Public Radio Conference in San Antonio on April 10th as part of Warner Bros & Philo/Rounder's co-presentation of a live taping of World Cafe!

Expect a strong response at radio and retail as more people have a chance to see Bill Miller's charismatic live performance during this tour!

Suggested tracks from The Red Road are: "Reservation Road," "Trail Of Freedom," "Faith Of A Child," and the atmospheric instrumental, "Dreams Of Wounded Knee." (Contact me for more info, press-kits and re-service copies of the The Red Road.)

Sugartooth, "Sold My Fortune" (DGC)
 With all of the new bands that are coming out nowadays, it can be difficult to keep them straight or even be able to decipher one song from the other if you don't have the CD case in front of you. Occasionally one will come out that separates themselves the pack, and Sugartooth is that kind of band. This band looks at songwriting from a different perspective, finding inspirations in everyday situations and emotions rather than in frivolous concepts and overblown egos. This band has a unique style highlighted by thick grooves - but not grunge - bluesy licks, and the unique, soothing voice of singer/lyricist/guitarist Marc Hunter. The first track for radio to sample of this great new band is "Sold My Fortune", described by the band as being about "getting rid of the easy thing to do the right thing". Paced by a strong, steady drum beat and bass groove, the infectious part of this song is the chorus, which will be floating around in your head for hours. Many of you have already hopped on this early including KIOZ, KNAC, KISW, KZRX and new adds at KRRK, WBTZ, WRZK, WXQR, and Z-Rock, with many more to follow we suspect. Despite what your mom told you, not all sugar will send you to the dentist.

Eleven, "Reach Out" (Hollywood)
 If you could put together a formula for the ideal scenario to break a new band what would it be? Maybe have a member formerly from an established band like, say, the Chili Peppers. Or have touring stints with exploding bands like Pearl Jam and Candlebox. Even rave reviews from other COR programmers. Maybe a fan club consisting of members of Soundgarden, Pearl Jam, Candlebox, Frank Zappa, Stone Temple Pilots and Steve Vai. Sounds perfect, and of course you would play this band. Well, this band exists - it's Eleven. This talented three piece consists of Jack Irons, ex-Chili Pepper on drums (he was actually the party responsible for hooking up Eddie Vedder and the rest of Pearl Jam), Natasha Shneider on organ/bass guitar and vocals, also a classically trained pianist who lent her talents to a track on the new Soundgarden LP, and Alain Johannes on vocals and guitar. The band features a progressive sound that cracked the Top 20 on the metal charts, but is actually much better suited for COR airplay with its thick "techno-riff" sound and smooth melodies. Many of you agree, including KAZY, KNCN, KRXQ, WBTZ, WBZX, WRZK, Z-Rock and Cathy Faulkner of KISW exclaims, "I was convinced by just listening to the CD but live...Eleven have a perfect performance". They should, they have had plenty of practice with the U.S. and European tours previously mentioned. So what are you waiting for? All the elements are in front of you, reach out and give this great, unique track a try.

Crowbar, "No Quarter" (Pavement)
 It helps to have friends in high places. This New Orleans quartet has a chum in fellow New Orleans alum Phil Anselmo of Pantera, and along with a successful run at metal radio peaking in the Top 10, the band is happy about preparing to accompany Pantera on their spring tour that is sure to explode into your town soon. You will be hearing about this band quite often the next few months, and they're not easy to ignore, so take a minute to stretch your limits and check out the track "No Quarter". This uncompromising, doomy track features the emotive, gravelly voice of Kirk Windstein and a slow, sludge-like melody that hangs in the air seconds after the song has ended. This is a good track to try out at night for variety and to add a different atmosphere. Try it out to tap into the power of this killer no-holds-barred tour as they come through town.

Candlebox, "Far Behind" (Maverick/WB)
 Now that "You" has become an absolutely huge hit, it shouldn't take too much convincing for you early birds who are looking to check out another track. This track starts out with a soft melody that frames Kevin Martin's powerful voice. Soon the song picks up and kicks in with stronger drums and guitars to build up the intensity. Few bands can emit such emotional strength as Candlebox, and their music pulls the listener almost into a trance. This band's energy is so natural that their 8 song demo, which got them signed, was recorded in a mere 48 hours. This track is already showing up on the COR chart with "You" still in the Top 10, and some of the "early birds" are KILO, KIBZ, KIOZ, KRRK, KZRX, KUPO, WAAF, and WVCR. "Far Behind" shows the signs of being another huge track, so don't be left behind and add Candlebox.

Metal Pick

Sugartooth, "Sold My Fortune", (DGC)
 This spirited band from Southern California (Marc Hutner - vocals; Timothy Gruse - guitar; Josh Blum - bass; Joey Castillo - drums) adhere very strongly to their own ideals, canning the original producer of their new release for trying to make them too synthetic. They took responsibility for their own abilities and booked their own tour, opening for acts as diverse as Stone Temple Pilots, Soundgarden, Slayer (the toughest band in the world to open for), and Testament. Spending over 2 years on the road helped them solidify their smooth-groove style and cohesiveness as a unit. The first track off their self-titled debut for you to check out is "Sold My Fortune", a catchy tune with a strong guitar rhythm and thundering drum beat.

Hutner's charismatic voice is neither deep nor high, but has a subdued style that cuts through and is immediately noticeable, although not easily comparable. That is the beauty of Sugartooth, they are in some ways a bit of everything, but can't quite fit into any categorization. They have a thick rhythmic groove (but it's not grunge); they are heavy, guitar based, and they rock (but it's not really metal, definitely not alternative); the lyrics are dark and real (but it's not gloomy). They don't fit any mold - but you will like it. Even with heavy numbers being absorbed by the major releases last week, a few stations got into Sugartooth early including WSOU, KSHE, KZRQ, WMHB, WCWP, and WLFZ. After spending a lot of time frustrated with the plastic Los Angeles glam scene, they seem anxious to expose their brand of heavy rock to as many people as possible. As Castillo puts it "we're loud and we mean business". That should be enough evidence for any metal radio programmer looking for some heavy attitude. Fortunately, just because they have a specific idea of what they want musically, doesn't mean that they take themselves too seriously. Hey, pretty soon a sugar fix will take on a whole new connotation - for Sugartooth.

Rust, "Ask The Judge" (Atlantic) This is a sampling of the upcoming self-titled EP from Rust, and this four-piece band (John Hogan - vocals; Patrick Hogan - Drums; Tim Blankenship - Bass; Michael Suzick - guitar) from San Diego has quite a story, including a lead singer who once worked for skateboard companies setting up promotions and perfecting the product. The band is a fusion of different personalities and different influences that works because it is fresh, and they are apparently still growing and developing as a band. The first track on this CD single is "Ask the Judge", a track with a simple melody to focus the attention on the lyrics during most of the song, but shifts at times to an angry chorus that shoots out like a bullet from a gun. "Frustration", which also comes from the EP, features more of a guitar rhythm similar in style to Clutch, and the final track is a non-LP bonus track, "Peace With A Little On The Side", with a long guitar riff intro that eventually leads to the grinding groove of the song. With the EP arriving shortly (they want to follow in the footsteps of Tool) to prime you up for a full record later on, take step one and check out "Ask The Judge".

The Poor, Who Cares (550/Epic) It seems as though a lot of you have had your little hearts warmed by the straight ahead no-frills rock-n-roll of The Poor. Off the strength of "More Wine Waiter Please" these boys from Down Under have already debuted on the Hard Hitters chart, and the full length pulled in 16 early adds including KMSA, KZRQ, WZRQ, and WLRA. Who Cares gives you many good choices for additional tracks to check out including the opening track, "Poison", a full-steam ahead sleazy riff-rocker. If you like a hook reminiscent of early AC/DC, "Dirty Money" is the track for you with its blues hook and steady groove. The rebellion of "Ain't On The Chain" (along with steady drums and choppy breaks) may be the track for you, or maybe its the non-stop frenzy of "Ride". Whatever you're looking for, a full record of good time beer drinking hard rockin' tunes is in store, so tell the trauma driven world "who cares" and crank up The Poor.

My Dying Bride, Turn Loose the Swans (Peaceville/Futurist) This is one of the most unique records you will ever see cross your desk. We have never heard anything with keyboards and violins that is this heavy. Doom is the first thing that comes to mind, but Turn Loose The Swans is more than that. It's Gothic, every track is an epic, constantly changing personality with Aaron's deep vocals that are reminiscent of Pete Steele's and Type O Negative at one moment and spewing forth an evil growl the next. There were times where we felt as though we had been transported to a haunted cathedral in Europe surrounded by fog - only to be jolted back by bludgeoning guitar riffs. It becomes difficult to describe each track individually: the best way to appreciate the various twists and turns this record takes is to listen to the whole thing at once. Unfortunately you can't do that at radio so you may want to check out the little track for a mammoth death and doom example, or "The Snow In My Hand" for an equally dark, but more melodic adventure. And what an adventure it is, you will be intrigued by this release and chances are, so will your listeners. Journey through this musical maze and when you make it through to the other side, add it.

Quick Pick

Sun, Jam House Wah, (Lonely Planet/GUN)
If quizzed to guess where this band is from, I don't think that Germany would be high on your list, but this Deutsche foursome (Ralph Aussem - guitar; Holger Seeling - bass; Bogdan Skowronek - drums; Jorg Schroder - vocals) has done some homework on classic American and British rock. This record has a blues rock feel to it, but then it also sounds very fast, aggressive and raw. Some options to check out include "Water", the first full track, which has an infectious grinding rhythm, and "Honky Tonk Man" (the title is misleading) with its fast, frenzied groove used to close the song. "Jam House Wah" has drums all over and wicked, Luzzing guitar licks. "Rain" is a standout tune though it has a more gentle feel, but compensates in emotional power what it may lack in the attack. Also be sure to check out the covers of Bob Dylan's "Like A Rolling Stone" and Jimi Hendrix's "Spanish Castle Magic". With the different tempos and personalities available on this release, if you're looking to turn your station into a jammin' place to be, try out some Jam House Wah.

A point of interest is that to coincide with record release Mr. Cooper got together with Marvel Comics' genius Neil Gaimen (creator of The Sandman) and put together a series of three comics that feature Alice. And, every song on the record relates to the storyline of the first book. And, there will be special shrink-wrap packaging of the CD and cassette along with a real Gaimen/Cooper comic. Along with new singer Marty Fredrickson (who coincidentally was co-producer and co-writer of the self-titled Brother Cane album), the band also have a new album, Peace 4 Me, heading your way soon. The first cut off the Ron St. Germain produced record is "Rumor", which will arrive two weeks before the album's May 24th street date... Zakk Wyld's band, Pride & Glory (Geffen), hand out a metal-only EP for April 26th adds. PROGRESSIVE

Madder Rose, "Panic On," Atlantic/Seed No one can ever question the fertility of talent that's emanated from the Lower East Side over the years. That still holds true today, perhaps more so than ever, as bands like this take center stage. 1993's brilliant Bring It Down opened many doors for Madder Rose, as critics and fans took notice

— their Atlantic debut will undoubtedly put them over the top. Mary Lorson's sweetly ironic vocals are the band's focal point, while the guitar work adapts to take on sometimes sharply different moods with agility and class. Says mega-fan Buzz Fitzgerald: "Madder Rose has no thorns. Its bouquet is lush and brilliant. Panic On is a long-player through and through. The music has credibility and they've had immense success in the area, with over 350 albums sold in Lafayette alone, and a huge, sold out show last May. This band is the future, and at the Wizard, the future is now."

Primal Scream, "Rocks," Sire/Warner Brothers Where 1992's Screamadelica forayed into an experimental world of post-modern sound, Primal Scream's new record, Give Out But Don't Give Up explores the roots of rock and roll, bending and twisting them into a shape uniquely original, decidedly Primal. All signs point to huge. The album's been in the works for the past 18 months as the band, along with master soul producer Tom Dowd, got down to business and delivered the goods. George Clinton produced and remixed "Funky Jam" (did you catch the killer performance on 120 Minutes a few weeks back?). The lead track is infused with gritty soul and a sense of raw potency. It's already been raging hard at KROQ and KNDD, and added this week at WFNX, LIVE 105, WHTG, WKQX, WRLG, and KBBT.

Hole, "Miss World," OGC What do you call a band who's already been confirmed to do Saturday Night Live (May 7th), and their first major-label release hasn't even hit the stores yet (at retail April 12th)? A band whose much-publicized frontperson as developed a name for herself way beyond the scope of her recorded material? Well, if you're Gefen, you call it yours. Hole's DGC debut is easily one of the most anticipated records of the year and, in all likelihood, will cash in big. The first single, with its acoustic undertones and wild-eyed overall rage will serve as the perfect introduction to the eager masses, most of whom have no idea about the band's 1991 Caroline record. Produced by Paul Q. Kolderie and Sean Slade (who've worked with Buffalo Tom, Dinosaur Jr., Belly and Radiohead), Live Through This is destined to be one of 1994's biggies.

Vanilla Trainwreck, "Sister," Mammoth Through their past two full-length efforts and a steady stream of 7" on Mammoth, this band has established itself as a college radio favorite. With Mordecai, an extremely cohesive record with songs rooted in twisted melodies and thick, powerful hooks, we're sure that they're time to be noticed bigtime is now. Gregory Elkins, with his burly, heated vocals and the contained guitar dissonance form the core of the band's sound.

The lead track is forceful and direct as it churns about, with heated flair and intensity. The question is now posed — Which commercial station will step up to the forefront and take charge with this band?

Milla, "Gentlemen Who Fell" SBK/ERG Here's the story: 18 years old with a resume including acting and modeling, Ukrainian-born Milla set out to capture her essence on record. With fiercely intelligent lyrics and a keen musical awareness (incorporating mandolin, key fiddle, acoustic guitar and eastern folk rhythms), Milla's debut record thoroughly impresses. Her highly emotive voice wafts through the intricate melodies with ease, and the music possesses refreshing amounts of depth and color. Sure to do well in those upper demos, we're pretty sure that her overall presence in the format will be strong.

William Orbit "Water From A Vine Leaf" IRS This British mega-talent is internationally known for his adroitness in the studio and in crafting stimulating and emotive dance/ambient tracks. His resume of remixing credits include the likes of the Cure, Depeche Mode, Peter Gabriel, Sting, Prince and Madonna, among others, and he's also had dance hit success with his band, Torch Song, and his pseudonym Bass-O-Matic. This track, off the third installment to his "Strange Cargo" series, purports an aura of weaving musical complexity and mystical proportions. Ann Delisi at WDET opines, "In the vast land of remixes, William Orbit manages to make his tunes even better than themselves. This is one of those cases." And WXPN's Kim Alexander says simply, "It's guaranteed to perk up your ears."

GOODS IMPORTED

By Sat Bisla

Whale, "Hobo Humpln Sloba Babe", (Sweden) Don't let the name fool you or the door smack you in buttocks when you leave your radio station tonight. This record is happenin' shit!!! Cool, melodic (Bjork) like vocals with the injections of street hip-hop grooves (Beastie Boys) makes this record as unique, yet mass appeal sounding and Hit, Hit, Hit oriented as any record can come. No doubt everyone is going to be adding this record when it hits the domestic shores via East/West records and Joel Klaimann... in the very near future. KROQ could not wait and decided to add this record this week 3/15/94. Open your mail and put this record on the air before your competition does!!!

Sultans Of Ping, "Wake Up And Scratch Me", (Sony, U.K.) Well, this import CD5 will certainly wake up the neighbors!!! The Sultans include a tremendous amount of energy with this sort punk-rock grunge track that encompasses a cool sort of groove. Definitely a must play for the cutting-edge radio programmer who likes to balls out (no insinuation to Lorena Bobbit) on raw alternative rock. Also, check out "Everything You Do You Do For You" another cool sort of track.

Frances Ruffelle, "Love Parade", (Virgin, U.K.) Yet, another cool female import cd from across the Atlantic. How can I describe this? Well, imagine vocals that sound like a cross between Kate Bush and Tori Amos with haunting, yet melodic music bed of Enigma One Dove and Mae Moore. This is a strong contender for being a big female record on multi-formats all across the board. P.S. The title "Love Parade" is no relation to the 1984 hit by the Dream Academy (a bitta info to avoid confusion).

Honky, "The Whistler", (ZTT, U.K.) Originally released in 1993 this track certainly does not belong on the shelf collecting dust. Definitely a street orientated record with a captivating whistling melody, funky groove and US3 vocals... means this is another multi-format track. If you're looking for something that has a good rhythm, up-tempo and could get your local CHR scratching their heads (wondering where the heck you got this cool record from) this is a track you should definitely look into!

COLUMBIA

It seems to me that this record represents a new chapter for the band. Do you agree?

Brett: Yes, well, it seems that this one might have a bit of a shot of getting to more people than some of the others that we put out. Plus, it's a great record, and we're really happy with it.

This record is actually not brand new, right?

Brett: No, it's recently new. It was released in Australia about June, July, something like that. We've had lags before of a year or two years.

What label is it on in Australia?

Brett: We're actually on Columbia worldwide.

So you originally recorded it for Columbia?

Brett: Yeah, what happened was we were on Beggars Banquet and a label called Citadel in Australia, and both of those deals sort of folded, and basically we left both labels, and then we signed up to Sony worldwide after that. So they were involved from the start.

Did you guys do anything differently for this record?

Brett: Not really, because we did a whole lot of demos and had a lot of songs, and we really liked the last album that we made, Doughboy Hollow and it was the first time that we worked with the producer Hugh Jones.

Oh yeah, he's done everybody.

Brett: Yeah, he's been around, and we really liked working with him, so we decided to work with him again and we recorded in Sydney, then we mixed in London and so I don't think that we did it any differently I think that we did it just a little bit better.

What, in your view, makes the role of a producer? You've had a few different ones over the years.

Brett: We've had two others besides him. We had a guy named Jeff Eyrich who lives in Malibu, and we recorded "Every Brilliant Eye" in LA and then we had Rob Younger. Rob was a singer of the band Radio Birdman, and he produced our first two albums plus all the singles and EP's that were before that. He was a good friend of the band, showing us the ropes in the studio. That was a real pleasant experience, and he was real easy to work with. We sort of got to the point where we were really interested to see what would happen with someone else, and it got a bit too comfortable sometimes. Also, we were looking for something a bit extra, so we decided that when we got the opportunity to do something else, which is when we joined Beggars, we would try using someone we liked for a producer, who didn't come from a band background, a different level of producer. I don't know how to quickly phrase it, but you know what I'm talking about.

Yes, a career producer.

Brett: Yeah. For better or for worse, we choose Jeff Eyrich. We liked the work that he had done with a band called The Plimsouls and lots of bands that we really liked. It was really interesting, it was definitely an experience. If we were looking for something different, we got it. It was like a total opposite of how Rob works, and the classic case of superimposing a lot of his ideas of what the music should be, and the music was really cleaned up and structured and a lot more straightforward. The thing about us though, is that we've always been totally influenced by American music, and I guess that we didn't realize that what probably made us what we are is that we have this really wide skewed version of American music by being so isolated in Australia, and then when we actually came to LA and made a record with an American producer, it was like that suddenly all the weed stuff got taken away and we just sounded like every other American rock band. A lot of what made us different, we lost.

On record, at least.

Brett: On record at least, yes. So, that's when we decided that we definitely didn't want that. We thought that the next album we'll try something different again. We were taken with the idea of using an English guy and recording in Australia again. We thought that was cool.

Was Hugh Jones a fan?

Brett: I wouldn't say that he was a fan, since I don't think that he knew us that well. The reason that he got involved was because he heard a lot of the demos and he just loved them and really wanted to do them, so he just rang and said 'Get me on board'. We had looked at what he had done, and we said, great, let's go. He's done Simple Minds, Echo And The Bunnymen, Teardrop Explodes. He did a lot of those sort of bands from the early 80's. He did the Pale Saints, a couple of American girls in London who have had some hits. He did a band called The Saints, an Australian band from a couple of years ago, it was one of their later records. It was just popular in Australia, I don't think that it did anything here. That was a really good record for them. He does a lot of 4AD stuff, he did Heidi Berry. It really varies, it's all over the place. Anyway, it was great working with him, it was a real pleasure, and he put a totally different sensibility on the whole thing.

Is he a real hands-on producer, or does he just let you guys go?

Brett: He's a hands-on producer, but it's not dictatorial in any sense. It's like 'This is what I think would be a good idea', and then we talk about it. If it's good, we use it, and if it's not, then we don't. It's not like "This is how it must be". It was good, I enjoyed working with him.

What exactly happened with Beggars Banquet?

Brett: If you asked them, I'm sure that they would tell you that we didn't sell enough records so they dropped us.

That's actually weird, because Beggars Banquet isn't really a heavy sales-driven label.

Brett: I understand that, and they were pretty good with us. We were there for three records. I don't know but, by the end, they didn't seem to be particularly interested and that sort of made us not interested in it. Over here the records didn't get released for a couple of weeks, and then it just sort of disappeared. To be completely honest, it was probably the best thing for all concerned. They weren't happy with us and we weren't that happy working with them, so it was really good to start working with someone else who is genuinely enthused about the whole.

What's the plan for the next couple of months?

Brett: Well, the plan is, we have to go back to Australia for a little while and tie up business there, then the record is coming out in America in about a week or two. While it's coming out, we are going to Europe for a month tour, we are going to do England and Europe for a month and then it will take us back to the start of April, and we'll be coming back here for about six weeks touring around here.

What kind of venues will you be playing?

Brett: I really don't know at this stage. We'll do one of two things, we'll either do our own shows, or we'll do a support. If we do our own shows they're going to be clubs. If we support, it ultimately depends on the people we play with, but that still hasn't been decided yet. I suspect that they'll be our own shows. We'll see.

It's actually been a while since you've played here in the States, hasn't it?

Brett: The last time we played a gig here was in 1990, almost four years ago. It's really weird, because it doesn't seem that long. We came here quite a lot in the 80's. I think we did like three or four tours, up until 1990. That was about the time when we went back and did "Doughboy Hollow" and then the Beggars deal fell through right after that, and then we just stayed at home for a little while. It's taken us a while to get all our shit together again.

What was the period right after "Doughboy Hollow" like?

Brett: It was great, to be completely honest. We had the biggest hits we've ever had in Australia — it didn't do as well over here. It was like in the Top 20 mainstream charts. There were a lot of people who had never heard of the band suddenly were coming to see concerts. It was really good. We actually spent a lot of time touring Australia, which we had never done before, we had always done really quick tours, and then spent most of the time in Europe.

Small towns as well?

Brett: Yeah, we were doing smaller towns and out of the way places and places that we would have never gone to before. That was sort of fun, and we were more popular there, and it's nice to have that success at home. Mom saw my picture in the paper, and she liked that. Then she saw ads on TV and said "Oh, okay, you are really doing something".

How is the Australian music scene evolved over the past two or three years?

Brett: It's pretty dead to be honest. It's sort of in a state of flux. It's pretty frag-

Brett: We're pretty lucky that we have a pretty loyal crowd, we get people. But it's really dead compared to four-five years ago, just your average band could do really well, and now nobody goes out. It's really hard to get gigs, there are no venues, it's dead.

How does it feel being on Sony?

Brett: It's okay so far, I have no complaints. It's been good. It feels a bit more coordinated, things are getting done. I know it's like a big corporate faceless identity. I guess we weren't going to be an independent band anymore, so Brett: Oh no, we didn't think about that at all. To tell you the truth, we wrote almost all the songs before we signed the deal. When we signed the deal, we just said that these were the songs that we were recording, even though we had already done them, and they were great, they didn't interfere at all. There was no pressure from the company to do anything in particular. If they hadn't liked it, maybe they would've come down there with some heavy artillery. We did what we wanted to, we recorded it, and we did it just like we had always done a record, and everyone was happy, including us.

emotionally that aren't necessarily up to rock music, but I think it's the theme of Mick sometimes. It has a lot to do with Ron (S. Peno) also, because he's a person like no other.

How so?

Brett: Well, he's a bit of a paradox. You're never quite sure exactly where he stands. There is always something that completely confounds you, in a delightful way, not in a horrible way. He's a good person to work with, he keeps me on my toes.

The beauty of the band's music is that it works on two different sense of optimism, but never loses touch of reality.

Brett: That's a good way to put it too. Our manager put this really crappy press release out when we put out our first single, and he described the music as "strangely uplifting" (laughs).

You should know, Brett, people writing press love to work those adjectives.

Brett: (Laughs) I bet they do.

You've been in the States now for some time now. Have you gotten the chance to listen to any radio here?

Brett: Yes, I have.

What do you think?

Brett: Well, I'll tell you what I think, but you have to understand the reason I'm saying this is because radio in Australia is so terrible, that the radio here sounds great to me. The radio in Australia is ten times as bad as it is here. At least you have a bit of choice. There's not an incredible amount here, but in Sydney there's 3 commercial FM stations. There's about another half dozen non-commercial stations. Two of them are Top 40 radio and the other is an oldies station. That's it. Then we have a couple of government stations, like the college radio stations as well, and they do a great job, but it's just like, at least you have a black station here, which is great, at least you can tune in to hear some R&B and Rap. At least you have stations like KROQ which, for better or worse, it's something. I know what you mean about the radio here, it's a bit restrictive, you have to fit into the format or they don't want to know about you. That seems to be the biggest problem here.

It's all about maximizing those profits.

Brett: And that's where it begins and ends, doesn't it?

mented too. There's not any particular style or anything that is predominate at the moment. You know, you'll have these Alternative bands, like a band called The Clouds, and then you have the young, sort of loud trash bands, and then there's a lot of rock-funk bands.

Mushroom is still pretty healthy, right?

Brett: Mushroom is pretty good, they have a lot of people interested in them. There are a lot of dance stuff happening too, a lot more clubs and less rock music.

How is the live scene? Are people supportive of you?

that if we were going to do it, we might as well go for it and shoot the works.

It's not as if you haven't done it for years.

Brett: Well, we've been around for ten years and we've been on a lot of indie labels. There just came a time, and we decided this way if we are going to 'go for it' let's go for it properly and we'll go for the biggest more corporate place that we can find (laughs).

And you sure found it. Did you think about the massive structure of the label at all when you were recording?

How long did it take you to record?

Brett: We were in the studio for about six weeks, four or five weeks. It was a reasonable amount of time, it wasn't a quickie. It was no Pink Floyd album, but it wasn't a quickie either.

I think what really grabs your fans is the fact that your music is at once upbeat, yet real ironic with real dark undertones.

Brett: I think that's a real good way to describe it. There is a lot of layers happening there. There is a lot of depth there if you want to look for it, there is a lot of different things happening levels. The 13 year-old consumer, not really looking for depth, will be able to listen to the record and take something from it, while the intelligent fan or listener is able to get a much greater, actual picture of what the band's music signifies.

Brett: Yes, you're right. I really like the approach, because it means that if you don't want to get involved with the rest of it, you can just do whatever. Or, if you want to get really serious with it, there's lots there.

I think that a lot of the material has a real week. Can you believe what happened at KBAC? Why is it that it's the good ones that always go dark? Or, even worse, satellite (static is often more creative). KBAC is now officially part of the Mountain Network, which operates stations mostly throughout Colorado. Not only will the station get PUMMELLED on all levels by Marrone's KIOT, the owners have managed to kill one of the few truly creative outlets in the format. Damn shame. So Armida, Yon and the rest of the staff are out of work — let's hope they resurface soon in positions where they're creativity will still be exercised... Sigler's out at Giant, where he's had successes with Big Head Todd, Thomas Dolby and Diesel. Definitely give a listen, as there's some real cool shit on the record... What's the deal with this "Come To Me Ecstasy" single on Continuum?... Spin Magazine is running a story about "A Day In The Life Of WOXY." Dayton resident Jim Greer wanted to visit a commercial alter-

They're also in need of some service for "Dreadloxx" their world/reggae show that airs on Sundays from noon-1 (hosted by Alli) and Phil Manning's own "Gridloxx" show, featuring underground stuff on Sundays from 11P-1A. The Cure's Robert Smith is being made to wait to find out whether a court action against him by Cure co-founder Lol Tolhurst has succeeded or not. Tolhurst, former drummer and keyboards player, is suing Smith and Cure manager Chris Perry over deals signed in December 1986 which Tolhurst says gave them the major slice of the recording profits and left him with only the crumbs. Smith and Perry argue that Tolhurst contributed very little to the writing and recording and turned into a "court's jester" character. After two weeks of evidence and legal arguments, a judge has not said when he will give his ruling, but it's hoped that it will be before Easter.

Music video director Kevin Kerslake has filed a copyright infringement lawsuit against Nirvana in federal court in Los Angeles, claiming the band stole his idea for last year's video for "Heart-Shaped Box." Kerslake, who has directed four other clips for the band, is seeking unspecified damages from the group. He says he provided five proposals to Kurt Cobain for the song but at the last minute he was told the project had been given to someone else. Kerslake says the video that was made was based on his concepts. The lawsuit claims his treatments included "a young girl born into a Ku Klux Klan family, a flower-filled room, fields of poppies, a forest of gnarled trees, (and) a scarecrow-like character and an old man on a cross." Kerslake's has also directed videos for R.E.M., Iggy Pop and Depeche Mode.

The Aphex Twin, basically Richard James, is just releasing a new album in Britain called "Selected Ambient Works Vol. 2," which is expected to be a top ten record. James is a leading figure on the current British underground electronic, experimental music scene. He's become more popular in Britain even though the Aphex Twin gets no radio airplay and the all-instrumental tracks on the new album have no titles. "When people tell me that they listen to my music, or any other instrumental music, sometimes it does a complete different thing for them than it does to me, which I find really interesting," James says. James grew up in Cornwall, England, but recently moved to London.

Richie Havens has an exhibition of drawings and sculptures this month at the Abington Friends School in Jenkintown, Pennsylvania. One of the works is entitled "Capitol Hill." "Basically, it's talking about the problems of dualism we have," Havens says. "There are double standards, right and left, and Capitol Hill is divided. The road to get there really is a trench, and to get anything done, you have to walk in the trenches. You have to recognize you are dealing with two separate sides of America."

Eddie Van Halen made good on a promise made by a con man who told a group of quadriplegics that he'd bring Van Halen to see them. The man stole a car from a nurse working at the New Start Homes in the Los Angeles suburb of Chatsworth. After Van Halen heard about the incident, he decided to make a quiet visit to the home. "Eddie spent an hour and a half talking to each patient, signing autographs and answered any questions they had," says Carol Balla, whose car was stolen by the man. "You should have seen the smiles on their faces as we wheeled them back to their rooms. They felt like someone cared about them enough to make this visit happen."

Dave Alvin has just finished work on an acoustic album that will include new versions of his "4th Of July" and "Every Night About This Time." Alvin's still playing a lot of Blasters material live. "My attitude is, if I wrote it, I'll do it," he says. "I mean, those were some really good songs. We spent seven years beating our heads against the wall, and I'm proud of the band and the songs we did. It's all connected to the songs that I write now."

The Soup Dragons are finishing work on a new album for release late in the spring or this summer. "Hydrophonic" is the name of the LP, which will feature Bootsy Collins on the track "MotherFunker" and Lynval Golding and Neville Staples of the Specials on "Rest In Peace."

An upcoming boxed set of Allen Ginsberg material will include previously unreleased tracks recorded with the Clash and Bob Dylan.

The company has filed a federal district court lawsuit in Wilmington, Delaware, against Time Warner Inc., Bertelsmann Inc., Thorn EMI North America Holdings Inc., Quixote Corp. and Nippon Columbia Ltd. and their subsidiaries. The company says the defendants "refused to respect" the U.S. patents. Thomson says Columbia Records did obtain a U.S. license. Material Issue are about to release a new album called "Freak City Soundtrack," produced by Mike Chapman, who approached the band about working with them. The band had been working with Jeff Murphy of the Shoes. "We spent a lot of time trying to make things perfect, and we didn't need to," says bass player Ted Ansani. The band recorded virtually everything on "Freak City" live in the studio, only doing two or three takes on each song. "The attitude and energy level they projected on stage was totally different from what was on those first two records," Chapman says. "It seemed to me they missed the point of what the band was about." The album includes the track "Kim The Waitress," a cover of an obscure single by Seattle band the Pajamas.

Jourgensen also has been working on Heat's new album "Liquor In The Front, Poker In The Rear."

The report that Aerosmith guitarist Joe Perry had purchased the Harvard Lampoon was a hoax, apparently started by the Lampoon which will honor Perry during its annual April Fools' Day banquet. Perry now jokes that he's buying "Time Inc., the Boston Celtics and the rights to create 'Tonya Harding — The Musical.'"

Basia is working on a new album for release in early May.

"Possession," on Sarah McLachlan's new album "Fumbling Towards Ecstasy," was prompted by some of the fans the singer attracts. "I had a number of letters from different people which became increasingly bizarre," she says. "Fantasy worlds they created and put me into with them, and demanded 'that' was reality. It inspired me to get inside their heads and ask, 'What is wrong? What drives them?' I think we've all had desires and asked, 'How far can I take this?' Sort of a story came out of that. I talked about how I would feel if I were totally obsessed with someone." McLachlan says she hopes that she can remain "rather anonymous." "I don't think my music is mainstream enough to become highly successful," she says. "That's certainly not what I'm looking for."

MUSIC NOW!

Jane Siberry has been on a solo tour, playing new songs and showing videos for some others. "Because (the record label) didn't want any videos, I wasn't limited to just making them for singles," Siberry says. "So I did one for 'An Angel Stepped Down,' and I did two trailers — two-minute versions of the whole record — just for my entertainment, which actually ended up quite funny." Siberry says her "It Ain't A Tour" tour was intended to emphasize her songwriting. "This way people realize that these are very simple songs, really," she says. "The essence is pushed out, the melody and the voice. That's always been my approach, even with the band — to push forth the essence as opposed to intimidating with lushness." Siberry has been nominated for a Juno Award for best producer.

The Supremes have been given a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Mary Wilson was the only member of the group present for the ceremony, as Diana Ross was in Europe and Florence Ballard died in 1976. "The Supremes in 1964 showed the world not only that black is beautiful, but that black women were gorgeous and talented," Wilson said. "We were the American dream."

Joel says the two are "talking about July and August, somewhere in the neighborhood of 19, 20, 21 concerts."

The music division of the National Library of Canada in Ottawa is cataloguing 30 years of rock memorabilia collected by Randy Bachman, formerly of Bachman-Turner Overdrive. Librarian Richard Greene says Bachman's collection of paraphernalia, including photos, news clippings and concert posters, may be the first of its kind. "While doing research for the Randy Bachman collection, I contacted a number of institutions in Canada and the United States to find out if any of them had a collection of material of similar nature, i.e. from a prominent rock & roll musician," Greene says. "What I discovered was that nobody did have a comparable collection — a collection that would let you get into the nitty-gritty of the music business. It could be used by people who want to research him specifically, or the music industry in Canada, or the music industry throughout the world." There's so much material, Greene says, it may take up to a year to catalogue all the items.

It's the first time in 15 years that Allison has recorded an album in the U.S. for a U.S. record label. Allison moved to Paris ten years ago but says he wants to become reacquainted with American audiences. "I want people to know I'm the same Luther Allison that I was when I left for Paris — only better," he says. "When you see me and my band perform, it's real blues plus a touch of rock and soul."

"I'm interested in knowing more about it, and everybody else in the band is too," says lead vocalist Shannon Hood. "People need to leave the concerts with a message as well as the music."

John Corabi, the new vocalist for Motley Crue, says he's quickly become an equal member of the band. "We sit down and discuss the songs: all four of us musically has our say," Corabi says. "Then we do lyrics. Nikki (Sixx) and I write everything, it's a 50-50 thing, we bounce all the ideas lyrically off one another. And it goes on and on, even as far as the album cover." Motley Crue has just released a new self-titled album. "If you listen to it loud, you get the (impact)," Corabi says. "If you listen to it a little lower, a lot of these other things start coming out at you. It's a strange record." There's a pro-drugs song on the album called "Smoke The Sky."

Steve Wynn of Gutterball and formerly of the Dream Syndicate releases a solo album called "Fluorescent" later this month (on Mute Records).

A group of Atlanta-based musicians plans a new recording of the rock opera "Jesus Christ Superstar." Amy Ray and Emily Saliers of the Indigo Girls will play the roles of Jesus and Mary Magdalene, respectively. The album will be released on Ray's record label (Daemon Records) as a gun control benefit LP. Michael Lorant, drummer for Atlanta band Big Fish Ensemble, came up with the idea. Lorant was shot during a robbery attempt in Atlanta two years ago. He says when he mentioned the idea to other local musicians, he found out that many of them still liked "Jesus Christ Superstar," released as an album 24 years ago. "We're hopefully putting the grunge back into this," Lorant says. "Imagine Emily singing with the Opal Foxx Quartet."

Enuff Z'Nuff have recorded a new album called "Tweaked," even though they're without a major record label. "I love this next Enuff Z'Nuff record," bass player Chip Z'Nuff says. "There's a lot of grooves. It's no different than what we've been in the past. It's very Beatlesque. The songs are real organic. They're all recorded real minimally. It sounds great." Z'Nuff and lead vocalist Donnie Vie have also recorded an album on their own. "Donnie and I made a record and we feel real strong about it," Z'Nuff says. "There's some great players on the record." Ozzy Osbourne is looking for a new band so that he can go on tour following release of his "X-Ray" album at the end of this year. Osbourne's been working on the album with guitarist Steve Vai. While the album features guitarist Zakk Wylde, drummer Randy Castillo and bass player Michael Inez, all of them made other plans when Osbourne announced he was retiring from live performances. So Osbourne is now looking for a guitarist, bassist and drummer. (Demos and photos should be sent to Ozzy Osbourne, 9044 Melrose Av 3rd Floor, Los Angeles CA 90069. The deadline for submissions is April 30.)

Curtis Mayfield says the current album of covers of his tunes allowed him to keep his pride intact, as he didn't want to accept charity because he's paralyzed. "If there is any money to be earned, it will happen through the normal facilities of my music and my writing," Mayfield says. "I feel great about that." "It pleases me so much," Mayfield says of the album. "You can just feel with every artist their own personal love and respect toward that piece of my work and my writing. I'm just forever grateful to these ladies and gentlemen. I've written over 300 songs in my music time. Most of them are quite inspirational, food for thought, good love songs. This is just a chance to sort of broaden that scope and let more of the world, especially in the United States, know about a writer who has been writing really nice songs."

A judge in London has ruled that Michael Jackson must submit to a medical examination if he wants to pursue a libel lawsuit against the Daily Mirror tabloid newspaper. Judge Brian Neill says a doctor working for the newspaper should be allowed to examine Jackson under "proper lighting conditions." The newspaper should also be given access to Jackson's plastic surgery records, the judge ruled. Jackson's lawsuit stems from stories published in the summer of 1992 which claimed Jackson's features had become "hideously distorted" by plastic surgery which had left his face "hideously disfigured."

Toni Braxton won in two categories at the 8th annual Soul Train Music Awards given out in Los Angeles. Braxton won for best R&B single ("Breathe Again") and best album by a woman artist.

T-Bone, a member of Da Lench Mob and a backing singer for Ice Cube, has pleaded innocent to one count of murder and one count of attempted murder in connection with a shooting at a Los Angeles bowling alley last month. T-Bone, whose real name is Terry Gray, is free on $1.5 million bond.

Rapper 2Pac has been sentenced to 15 days in the Los Angeles County Jail for assault and battery of a music video director on the set a year ago. Tupac Shakur was also fined $5,400 and ordered to perform 45 days of community service, including 15 days with a California Department of Transportation work crew. Shakur was convicted by a jury last month of beating the 21-year-old, who had previously employed Shakur but fired him because of his violent behavior. 2Pac stars in the new movie "Above The Rim" and has a song on the soundtrack LP.

Nirvana's Kurt Cobain has flown back to the USA, leaving the band's European tour plans in confusion. The singer checked himself out of the American Hospital in Rome on March 8. Although Nirvana's remaining continental dates have definitely been cancelled, the band's proposed April tour of the UK may yet go ahead. At present, Nirvana's representatives are making no comment on the matter or on reports European promoters may sue. Elsewhere, Helen Gwyddanes of the Rape Crisis Federated Representatives Group has explained to the New Musical Express why the organization turned down the offer of a donation from Nirvana. The offer came after controversy surrounding the single "Rape Me". Gwyddanes says she accepts the song was anti-rape, but also commented: "As a group of women actively campaigning against sexual violence, there was no question of accepting that money. If, at a future date, Nirvana want to pay us royalties from another single then we might be prepared to look at that money. But we don't want to be seen to be associated with anything that would denigrate the principles we work for which are very strongly against sexual violence." One person who thinks RCFRG (who seek to promote closer links between individual rape crisis centers) were wrong in their stance is Tori Amos. Amos says: "Rape Crisis should accept the money for the sake of the victims of rape. When I heard the title the hairs on the back of my head stood up. But then I listened to it. It's about rage, defiance. It's saying, 'Go on then, you'll never break me.'"

The Beatles may be about to re-form. Of course, everyone has heard the rumors over the years, but many within the UK industry are now beginning to seriously consider the possibility that Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr may work together again. With the three recording incidental music for a forthcoming documentary series, reports suggest they might now be looking for a singer to work with. This week, for instance, the New Musical Express quotes Mick Houghton, an independent PR who works with such artists as The Jesus And Mary Chain, House Of Love and Julian Cope, on the chances of another of his artists, former Echo & The Bunnymen singer Ian McCulloch, working with McCartney, Harrison and Starr: "Ian McCulloch is a friend of Mike McGear, Paul McCartney's brother. He met McCartney at Christmas and there is a short list of 150 people, of which he is one. He fits the bill on several counts: The wit, the looks, rhythm guitar, he's scouse. All he needs is the song-writing ability and a Japanese wife." While it may be easy to take these remarks as tongue in cheek, organizers of this summer's Isle of Wight Festival - a revival of the hippy era event which featured such artists as Jimi Hendrix and The Who - have made a bid for the surviving Beatles to play at this event. It is reported to be as high as $3.5 million and festival director Ray Foulk says: "We are not looking for a revival concert from The Beatles, but innovative work, consistent with their reputation. It's not meant to be a trip down penny lane." Finally, reports suggest former Beatles producer George Martin is going through a massive backlog of previously unreleased Beatles material as he seeks to find tracks for a forthcoming six-cd set. The earliest track is believed to date from 1958 with the quarry men acetate "In Spite Of All The Danger".

U2's Bono has been speaking to the newspaper The Guardian about former Pogues singer Shane MacGowan (who recently returned to live work with his new band The Popes). Speaking of MacGowan's fearsome reputation for drug and alcohol intake, Bono comments: "I think a lot of it is a mask. It's a way of ignoring people who he just doesn't want to deal with. Shane is more together than people imagine." MacGowan himself, though, admits in the same feature: "The last few years of The Pogues are a complete blur. I was out of my brain all the time." A revitalized MacGowan is planning to co-produce the Pope's debut album.

Cocteau Twins' singer Lis Frazer and dance act The Future Sound Of London have been forced to cancel plans for a collaboration. The two were set to release a joint single "Life Forms" via Virgin on March 21, but the Cocteau's record company Phonogram have blocked the release by refusing to sanction the use of Frazer's vocal track. Phonogram were planning to release a new Cocteau Twins' single around the same period. However, although these plans have been cancelled as the band are in the USA and would not have been able to promote it, the two companies were still unable to sort out their differences. Virgin hope the single may appear at a later date.

James have hit out at British audiences. Speaking to Melody Maker, singer Tim Booth commented: "If James had our own way, we wouldn't release another single in Britain. We've made a video for 'Say Something' (the band's new single) that we're really pleased with. But that video means piss-all in England because the only show that could show it would be 'The Chart Show' (broadcast by the ITV network) and they'll probably ban it, so it's fairly irrelevant. There's stuff to do with insanity and electrodes and I'm naked in it, things like that. I'm sure they'd accept some of it and we've done a version of it for kids' TV so maybe that'll get shown. But 'Laid' is the best LP we've ever done and it didn't do as well as the last two. And when it came to the end of year round-ups, apart from a few individual critics, 'Laid' featured nowhere. We just feel as though we should leave Britain alone for awhile. But we've got an 'alternative' record coming out in a few months and maybe that'll stir things up again." James' new single "Jam-J" c/w "Say Something" is released by Fontana on March 21. "Jam-J" will feature on the forthcoming 'alternative' album referred to by Booth and was recorded during the 'Laid' sessions (produced by Brian Eno). Booth says that the songs on the project will range in length from 30 seconds to 17 minutes long. "Jam-J" will be available as a 33 minute Andy Weatherall remix. Booth says he has admired Weatherall's work for several years.

Nick Cave And The Bad Seed's recent performance at London's Piccadilly Circus Towers Records store was a chaotic occasion as fans attempted to get a glimpse of the band in crowded and cramped surroundings. The show was to promote the April 18 release of a new album "Let Love In" (Mute). Elsewhere, Cave's latest video, recorded in Sao Paolo, features the singer dressed as a Brazilian drag queen.

The BBC are to shut down the Radio 5 network this week. The move has caused considerable controversy. Although the wavelength will be used for a new service, many have complained about the corporation's plans. Radio 5's output has been a mix dominated by sport and youth-oriented magazine programming. Last week, "Eurobeat" presenter Lee Hirst probably spoke for many when he told listeners: "The BBC bosses who did this are a bunch of fucking cunts!" S*M*A*S*H, a band associated with the so-called New Wave Of New Wave, will be the last group heard on the station. "Bang Bang Bang", a track which deals with censorship will close the music show "Vibe".

Quirky, a London dance club, has become involved in a sex scandal surrounding a London church. The allegations were due to a hot one-off night at St George's Church, New Oxford Street, but the plugs were pulled by the Bishop Of London. His action came after the tabloid newspaper The News Of The World alleged the local vicar had allowed the church to be used for sex and drug orgies. The vicar has been suspended, but this comes as little comfort to Quirky. The organization had already paid for flyers and promotional material to be printed, as well as agreeing fees with live acts and DJs.

Led Zeppelin and Cream may both play at London Wembley Arena on June 26 according to rumors currently circulating within the UK music industry. The bands are both said to have lined up for a special show to celebrate Gibson guitars' centenary. Money from the event will go to Prince Charles's Prince's Trust charity. A number of smaller shows from bands associated with Gibson guitars will precede the Wembley spectacular.

Daisy Chainsaw release a new single via One Little Indian this week. "Love Me Forever", which will be released on vinyl in a limited edition of 1,500, is the first single from the band to feature singer Belinda Leith. Leith replaced Katie Jane Garside. Daisy Chainsaw have also lined up a short UK tour for late this month.

Compulsion, yet another band associated with the New Wave Of New Wave, have their debut album "Comforter" released by One Little Indian on March 28. Currently touring the UK, the band have been receiving rave reviews for their punky guitar music. Already, many are expecting them to be one of the bands who stays the distance when the current NWONW fuss dies down.

Jazzin' It Up In The Caribbean

By Jesse Nash and Jacqui Brown

It's a rare occasion that anyone "Sings the blues" in the Caribbean, unless of course it's part of the Jazz and Blues Festivals staged throughout these beautiful islands. In addition to enjoying the splendor of luxury resorts, sightseeing and water-sports, you can also see and hear great jazz and blues from some of the most prestigious names in the music business.

Herbie Hancock is a favorite visitor to the St. Lucia Jazz Festival, where under glorious evening skies, he performs his own brand of music at the famed Sandals Resort. With toes in the sand, sipping on a cool tropical cocktail, the sounds of Herbie's piano tinkle across the waves lapping gently to the shore.

Terence Blanchard also played sold-out evening shows. This talented young trumpeter who recently wrote and recorded the soundtrack for Wesley Snipes' new movie "Sugar Hill", left audiences clamoring for more. Arguably the most breathtaking venue in the region, Pigeon Island, set the stage for trombonist Delfayo Marsalis and song-bird Nancy Wilson. Perched on a cliff high above white sandy beaches and cool blue ocean, the old and new came together for a remarkable afternoon, playing to thousands of picnic-makers stretched out on the grass in front.

Jazz is very much alive in the Caribbean, on street corners, in bars and in parks; it is a constantly stimulating world for those in appreciation. Legendary vocalist Ruth Brown and Lou Rawls recently flew down to Paradise Island, the scuba-diving haven of the Bahamas, playing to packed houses at the Crystal Palace. After a powerful evening's performance from saxophonist Najee, we each had an early night in preparation for the following day's activities. Fishing, sailing, snorkeling, parasailing, waterskiing, and swimming are only some of more than 32 sports available throughout the 700 sun-kissed, emerald islands forming the Bahamian archipelago. Casinos, and great music make this granddaddy of all major Caribbean Jazz Festivals a major event.

Talking of reefs, Cancun, Mexico plays host to an impressive array of jazz stars during its festival in May. The shallow patch reefs around Cancun mark the beginning of the Coral Coast on the famed Yucatan Peninsula, where some of the most exquisite and untouched reefs are at the disposal of snorkel and scuba diving enthusiasts.

Even the US Virgin Islands have gotten into the swing of things with the fledgling St. Croix Jazz Festival. English pop-reggae star Maxi Priest headlined the event with an explosive stage performance at the open-air arena. An audience, including some of Maxi's own family, danced and sang along with the band until an exhausted Priest finally exited the stage.

Curacao by day is a little Amsterdam complete with canals, small winding shopping areas and a magnificent outdoor market. By night, however, the likes of George Benson and Spyro-Gyra perform in outdoor arenas under velvet skies during the music festival. Sightseeing on this Dutch Antilles island features stalls laden with authentic blue Delft porcelain, hand made wooden clogs, and surprisingly, the oldest synagogue in the Western Hemisphere.

Luxury seems to be what the Caribbean does best. Whether it's a five star hotel, a couples only resort or a grassy shack on the beach, accommodation is a cinch. Deciding what to do with our days is the hard part. Pristine beaches, and exquisite coral wonderland or searching for that very special marling can be attained any day of the week. By night? Well, that's easy. Choosing a show by some of the world's most renown performers, or checking out a lesser known act makes for a very exciting evening.

The look and feel of the Caribbean is casual and carefree, the people are warm and friendly, while the temperature outside ranges from comfortable to perfect. It's easy to see why so many holiday makers from around the world time their vacations in accordance with a jazz and blues festival. Certainly, throughout the Caribbean every style of music can be heard, from Dixieland and bebop to screaming saxes, and various forms of fusion will be played creatively and will offer listeners a wide choice of true "alternative" music. For music lovers these festivals provide not only great jazz and blues, but offer it in an environment of pure pleasure where relaxation is key. After all, where else can you open your hotel window and hear the sounds of Herbie Hancock or BB King live, wafting to you on a warm tropical breeze?

Her hands are now at rest. Once they were bound. Both by her convictions, and by the strong arm of her government. Fatima Ibrahim. A writer. A speaker. A union leader for Sudanese women's rights. Her husband won an International Peace Medal. At the same moment he was executed, she was imprisoned. Denied food and medicine, Fatima fell into a coma. Yet few details of her ordeal are forgotten. Today, because of Amnesty International, and people like you, Fatima is considered lucky. She is alive. Today, she is president of the Women's International Democratic Federation.

It's been a busy week in the hard rock/metal world, with the long awaited new releases from Pantera, Soundgarden, and Motley Crue. All three seem to be off to a good start, and I'm already several tracks deep into each. All three are also among my top five most requested, along with Blue Murder and King's X. I can't say enough about how ass kickin' the Blue Murder CD is. I'm playing about five different cuts, and the record is reacting, and selling where it's being heard. It seems as if I'm not the only one who was starved for some quality hard rock again! My thanks to recent guests: John Skyes of Blue Murder, and Ronnie James Dio. I've been playing the track "Pissin' Down" from the new Sass Jordan on "The Hard Show" and the listeners really love it. It seems Sass has helped fill the void for female fronted hard rock with this great new release. In an unrelated note, I'd like to thank A&M for the tickets to check out one of my all time favorites at Madison Square Garden a couple of weeks ago. Bryan Adams was his usual brilliant self, proving that well written pop/rock never dies. I've never seen MSG so packed with a wide cross section of fans (I even saw some other folks from the hard community in attendance). Not only was the show great, but Bryan has got to be the coolest and most honest performer in the business. Think about it, this guys always worn T-shirts and jeans on stage, and always had short hair! Finally, please don't forget, music calls Wednesdays only from 12 - 2 P.M. Eastern at 201-334-3465. Thanks!

Peg Pollard, KIOZ, San Diego

The Scorps rule! "Face The Heat" may not have sold well but the Scorps are still hot. They put on a great show and are always a pleasure to work with; Thanks to them and Don Maggi for a great pre-show party & a killer concert. King's X did an excellent opening set but, no Doug, you weren't in San Antonio. Oops! Tee hee. The new Crue CD is very cool. Back in 'The Scream' days, John Corabi would have been the first to tell you he has a Steven Tyler fixation (watch him move live) and the influence comes across very well on tracks like "Misunderstood" & "Love Shine". I like "Til Death Do Us Part", "Smoke The Sky", & "Welcome To The Numb" too. Is that edit-able? Look for the Stone Temple Pilots "Big Empty" this week on "Yer Crow Sountrack." It's another amazing song from them. Who killed Sarsippius and why?

Jay Sisson, WIXV

Why is that the lazy, over-the-hill, too-senile-to-remember-how-to-promote record reps work for the big companies with the great records, while the young, hungry, motivated ass-busters work for companies whose songs are so lame that you wouldn't even want your competition to play them?!

Carter Alan, WBCN, Boston

I'd like to thank Rush and Atlantic Records for being there during the band's two packed shows at the Centrum. Alex Lifeson and Geddy Lee were very accommodating to our contest winners and we certainly appreciate it. This tour demonstrates that the Canadian trio has made a full comeback in appeal since 1987 when, on "Hold Your Fire" tour, Rush barely sold out two-thirds of the seats for just one Centrum appearance. It's more than just recovering economy and a return to the popularity of seventies-style sounds - Rush is simply making better albums. Counterparts and Roll The Bones have sparked reaction with stronger songs, incisive rhythms and a guitar bite that was underplayed on their late-eighties albums. "Cold Fire" did well, "Nobody's Hero" is following suit. The Bono/Gavin Friday collaborations on the soundtrack to In The Name Of The Father are brilliant. Not only do the pair turn in a very airplayable title track, but their songwriting expertise also provides a strong vehicle for a stunning Sinead

O'Connor performance on "You Made Me A Thief Of Your Heart". Sinead's been slagged off so much, it's easy to forget how amazing a singer she can be. Oedipus is having great success with this track on his "Nocturnal Emmissions" New Music Show. Meanwhile, the Bono/Gavin Friday title track is making inroads on the air seven days a week.

J.D., WONE, Akron

The pick-hit-to-click-of-the-week....The Brian Setzer Orchestra "Route 66".

TJ Bryan, WDHA, 201-538-1250

I'm in Florida watching the Royals. Wheeeeeeee!

Cathy Faulkner, KISW, 206-282-7081

I am very impressed that WXRT did a special on Seattle...beyond just the grunge scene. I was flattered to be called by them to provide information and input as a local native and local music fan. Thanks for the opportunity. Oh, if and when Pearl Jam hits your neck of the wood...please do me a favor (if you go backstage or talk to the crew)? Ask Ken Deranleau (Pearl Jam Production Manager) and tell him "Katie says Hi". Thanks. Jim McKeon is a very safe driver and I failed to thank him for the ride to the Eleven show so...Jim, thank you for the ride to the show.

Mike Luoma, WIZN, Burlington

If you browse these back pages often enough, you know I'm an unabashed fan of our local heroes, Phish! From their bar band days into their current major-label cult-Gods status, it's been a rush to watch these guys win over more and more fans and become better and more accomplished musicians in the process. Colonel Bruce Hampton and the Aquarium Rescue Unit were in town last Friday, and Jon, Mike, Page and Trey all were up jamming with them. I got in in time to catch the encores after work and was just blown away! Just amazing! What I also admire about Phish is their level-headed acceptance of their success. They've remained down-to-earth and haven't forgotten the people and places who have helped along the way. The first show on their upcoming tour is a benefit for the Flynn Theater here in Burlington, a beautiful old house where Phish used to play. It only holds 1400 or so, and these guys could easily fill a larger venue, but they want to give back to the community. We're all getting pumped for the show, especially in light of the strength of their new album, Hoist. You've probably gotten the first track, "Down With Disease". As soon as we got the pro-CD we got it on the air, and it quickly began generating massive phones! I might be biased in Phish's favor, but the phones support my contention that "Down With Disease" is gonna be big. We haven't seen rabid phones like this in a long time! We add the song in heavy impact. Hoist is undoubtedly the band's most radio-friendly release to date, with a depth which is going to surprise those who have been inclined to dismiss them in the past as the just of those hippie bands. I don't want to rave subjectively; with the reaction "Down The Disease" has gotten, I guess I don't have to. Granted Burlington is their hometown, but the response goes beyond that. Phish is rockin' and people want to hear them bad!

Jamie Markley, WWCT, Peoria

I could never say thanks enough to Shelly Mori and Laura Curtin from Epic for their fine hospitality in the Windy City this past weekend. A lot of friends had told me how great Pearl Jam was live....words can't prepare you for this experience. I apologize if I have hyped this show too much. It's just that I was that blown away. Don't miss 'em. It doesn't take a genius or even a good set of ears to tell you that Superunknown from Soundgarden is going to be one of this years biggest albums. "Black Hole Sun" has to be huge. Also, if you ever have the chance to see Buffalo Tom, go for it. I've never seem them, but I know it's a tough ticket. They've been scheduled to play Peoria twice, but had to cancel less than a week away...both times. I guess more important things came down the path. See ya!

Michael Young, WRXZ

By popular demand we here at WRXZ have installed a brand spankin' new add line! We really had cut it out of the budget but Tim Hurst of Reprise thought it better if we wouldn't, so we didn't. So, without further adieu, here is the number: 317-475-7405. Adds will be done Tuesday at 3PM, generally, give an hour or two. A quick thank you to Don Davis at WIOT for driving through Indy and checking out our station. Hopefully, you'll be able to visit, or should I say listen, again real real soon! Tell Donnie Jr. I'll see him at his graduation if it's alright with his father. God bless everyone. Peace, love, and have a good week.

Michael Cross, KJKJ, Grand Forks

Whew! It's been over a month since we list the infamous R&R status, and...we're still on the air! I know - you might have thought otherwise, but we're still pumping out 100,000 watts of rock & roll to the mere 103,000 residents that live around here. We're sure glad they care. To those who have phoned with support and kind words - thanks. To those who read only one chart and ceased calling...well, c-ya! On to better business...The new Yes is amazing! Yes, they sound like the old Yes. Yes, there records sound alike, and Yes, that's what we wanted to hear from Yes! Can't wait to hear Talk. I cannot get Alice In Chains off my CD player. It is my favorite album of 1994...so far. From "Nutshell" and "I Stay Away" to the lead track "Rotten Apple", it's a solid release and very different from Alice's usual stuff...And even though some say it all sounds the same, Antenna from ZZ Top is a killer album. It's their finest outing since 79's EL Loco. Rock 108 is very excited about the weekend of March 25th. Cry Of Love arrives on that Friday night to jam and I cannot wait to see them. Not only was Cry Of Love the most played new band at this radio station in the past 12 months, but sales tell us our listeners love em' too. We sold out the Cry Of Love show within 4 days of announcing the show. Plus, on that Sunday night at UND's Chester Fritz Auditorium, Jethro Tull plays Grand Forks! As John Madden would say, "Amazing!"

Bobbi Jones, WRXR, 404-722-9696

Last week Augusta was full of great rock and roll energy! 96RXR held a special showcase for the Augusta band "People Who Must" and invited Atlanta Promotions folks to come check out this band that our station believes in..Many thanks to those who made the trip. Scott Davenport, Geffen-Marnie Smith, Capitol-Jeff Davis, MCA-Harry Schwartz, East/West-Fred McPharlin, Imago-Myra Simpson, Atlantic-Al Moss, Indy-Slan Gleason, Relativity-Peggy Miles, EMI-Michell Block, Chaos! The Wednesday night showcase was a blast and it was great to help out a band that we feel has what it takes to gain national attention. Keep an eye out for "People Who Must" playing in you city soon! Saturday night the Mr. Big/Open Skyz concert was a sell-out! Thanks again to Myra Simpson for all the support! And then Sunday we wrapped up the week with Gregg Allman Band down at the 3500 seat Riverwalk Ampitheater! What a way to start off the outdoor concert season in Augusta!

Larry Mac, KZRX, Phoenix

This week I'd like to introduce our new host of the fastest show on earth "The Thrash Bash" which runs every Sunday night at 10:00. His name is Eric Braverman, we call him E.B. Some of you may know him already as the other Flotsam. He is a co-writer of many Flotsam and Jetsam songs. With Eric's connections in the metal community, we are sure he will bring the Thrash Bash to the next level. Rancid Randy is still with us, and will still be heard on the air. On the music front now...Pantera is "not" getting more commercial...they are in your face with their most brutal CD to date. "Far Beyond Driven" pushes their limits to even further unexplored territory. Check out "Strength Beyond Strength", "Five Minutes Alone", "I'm Broken" and "Throes Of Rejection". Can you say angry...Pantera can!

David Hall, WRLT, Nashville

Wow! Hard to believe, but true: today marks 15 years since the day I first keyed open a mike on Nashville Rock Radio. That's almost as long as Bill Hard's been in New Jersey! Some of us ya just can't get rid of, right Bill? Thank god for Triple A and WRLT, which allow me to have as much fun now as way back then. The advance cassette from Mercury for Texas' Rick's Road knocked me out on a recent road trip. Far and away the best out of a pile of new releases I brought along. "Fade Away" is fine, but I've been telling anybody who'll listen that the track on the CD is "You Owe It All To Me". For any AAA station that finds the single too rocky, skip to track 4. I think you'll agree that it's format perfect! I'm surprised more stations haven't added Kennedy Rose. It's loaded with perfect AAA songs. My fave is "She Walks The Line", but "Island Home" is our lead track right now and "Safe In The Arms Of Love" is good, too. Give this I.R.S. project another listen. Everybody here at radio lightning was knocked out by a visit last week from Steve Winwood and Jim Capaldi. They just stopped in to shake hands and tell us to get ready for the Traffic CD and tour. As if we had to be told! I tried to pry away an advance cassette Virgin's Gary Grater was waving around a couple of weeks ago, but he wouldn't give. Even more amazing than the fact that Winwood and Capaldi dropped in was the fact that they actually found a parking space on Second Avenue.

Dom Casual/John Lenac, KTOZ, Springfield

Greetings and salutations from your friends in Springfield. We hope all is well at home. Things are fantastic here! Thanks to A&M, Interscope and Warner Brothers for their help on our huge win-it-before-you-can-buy-it weekend featuring Soundgarden, Nine Inch Nails and Elvis Costello. Thanks also to Da Boyz at Epic for the Pearl Jam show packages, even jocks from other stations in town were trying to win. We'd also like to express our appreciation to those helping to make our April 16th AIDS benefit a sure success. Have a happy GreenDay Thursday, and a merry Friday. C U Bye-Bye.

Phil and the Julies, WOXY

Just wait you've been waiting for. Another piece of trash for you to recycle. This week we plan to blow the roof off the dump with visits, and in-studios galore. As I type, we are all waiting for the arrival of Jim Greer of Spin Magazine. As you may or may not know, he is doing a year long report on "A Year In The Life Of Rock and Roll" (hence the long time span). He will be profiling 97X in an upcoming issue. He wants to know what makes us tick. So we're going to show him, and hopefully get our big mugs into a national publication. We even cleaned the bathroom for this visit. Next on our agenda is a visit by The Afghan Whigs Thursday. Riding their coat-tails will be MTV News. The news guys apparently following the Whigs around for a few days and will follow them all the way to Oxford and our "lately very popular" studios. We may not clean the bathrooms again, but the "no big dumps" rule remains in effect through the end of the week. (This will be more difficult on some of us than others). Friday is beat the box office day the Breeders/Afghan Whigs show in Dayton. As the crowd lines up for this great show, they will have a chance to win beat the box office tickets to see Smashing Pumpkins in April. To do this, they must plunge their hands into a trick-or-treat pumpkin filled with pumpkin pie filling and poker chips bearing prizes. The prizes include: Breeders/Afghan Whigs t-shirts, tickets, limited edition vinyl, CD singles and other great stuff. Sunday will be a Morrissey win before you buy day at the station. The more we ignore him, he will not go away (just a joke Sire/Reprise), and we will feature album trax, and give away copies before it hits the streets. Finally, we are shopping for bands for participating in the annual Day in Eden festival in Cincinnati June 25. The budget is small, but the audience will number about 3000. If you are interested and want more information, please call Julie Maxwell or Phil. And finally (for real this time) way to go Geffen for being the first to sign up for the modern rock 500 t-shirts. I'd like to say space is going fast, but it's not...yet. Get on the ground floor of this great promotion while you can. It's cheap, it's no work for you, and you get a free t-shirt out of the deal. Call Julie Maxwell for more information or to sign up. See ya next week!

Rob Nicholson, Channel Z, Augusta

Greetings and Salutations from Channel Z, where we truly care about bathroom safety. I'm Rob Nicholson and Boy! Have we been busy! Thanks to Michelle (Husky-Voice-Tampon-User) Block, Peggy Miles, Jeffy Davis, Fred McFarlin and Scott Davenport for stopping in to the studios last week. Looks like our Spring Fest '94 Memorial Weekend Concert is coming together quick. If your band is going to be in our area let us know. Some slots are still available at this writing. You will notice we've gone to a light category in our playlist. This is a "testing only" category and does not carry our regular 8 week commitment. It does mean that we are playing the record. Thanks to Graham and Sean at Arista for the Sarah McLachlan concert connection bus express to Atlanta. It made for a great weekend promo. Until we meet again.

Doug, WRFC, Athens

This was a rough new moon. Let's not mention the words "mood swing", all right? Dizzy should also be stricken from the english language, along with the unused letter "X". Interviewed Mike from Cowboy Junkies. He's a really great guy, and we spent 15 minutes talking about Vic Chesnutt and listening to some stuff I have from around '86. I just love the lines "I was thinking of songs about truck drivin' women, and how I could write some." I've gotten conflicting reports on the Lemonheads show. The campus paper slagged the performance, but they always slag everyone. They're critics after all. They can't actually like anything. Other people say it was great. No one from the station can comment because the 40 watt "couldn't find their names on the list". I don't think I can add up all of the times I've had to find my own name there...Oh well, I'll go away now.

Dave Lombardi, WB Records, Primal Scream "Rocks". Totally.

David Fleishman, MCA, 818-777-4000

Hopefully, if you're still a music lover, you've treated yourself to the Sass Jordan album in its entirety. This record rocks. "Pissin' Down" is my favorite along with "Ugly", "Damaged", "Sun's Gonna Rise" and "Save". What are yours? Meanwhile, "High Road Easy" continues to be the first of many big tracks off this album. Look for Sass to be on the road soon. Make sure you see her live show. She's funkier than two week old train smoke, more soulful than a sardine syrup sandwich, and will rock you like there's no tomorrow. We've been working the dig project for 14 weeks and it's still going strong. Record don't stick around this long unless they're real. Don't fight it...feel it! Don't fight it...dig it! Don't fight it... "Believe" in it. Don't fight it...play it! There's tremendous excitement in the house as we prepare for Live's second album. The hardest part is waiting. Only a few more weeks and we're "officially" underway. "Selling The Drama" is the first track. Throwing Cooper is the album. Yes, there will be a new Boston record. As of this writing, look for the track on your desk towards the end of April and the album the first part of May.

Pam Edwards, Columbia, 310-449-2901

Pink Floyd mania begins! "Keep Talking" kicks off what will be the most important album release of the year. Get ready to ring The Division Bell! (Wasn't it nice that we coordinated the album release with the Spring Arbitron?!) Thanks for giving Alice In Chains their first #1 song ever at BDS! We've got a combined total of over 2800 spins which is just about as high as it gets! In the next month or so, we'll launch the second track from Jar Of Flies, which is "I Stay Away". Cry Of Love just locked up a month on the road with ZZ Top and should be hitting most of the country between now and summertime. "Too Cold In The Winter" is hot as a pistol with close to 900 spins. Up next to enhance your music list: Died Pretty "Harness Up" and Stabbing Westward "Nothing" (already getting pummelled at Q104 in New York).

Lea Pisacane, Atlantic Records, 212-275-2215

I don't really have time for this now, so uncontrollably am I jamming but I gotta further spin the Collective Soul yarn, just for a minute, OK? Even under pain of torture in retribution for being a prosaic, pedestrian, run-of-the-mill, mundane hype android. WCMF adds "Shine" 2 weeks ago, phones within 4 days, WUFX - stellar early callout research. KATP #1 phones. Number Fucking One!! Looka these slamming-music stations that are on this record (for those of you that think a song needs to get angry to be on a rock station)- WXTB, WBZX, KQRC, WUFX, WKLL, WARQ, KRRX, and more, more, more. 9 stations pulling top 5 phones but only 5 heavies. Waitzatz mean? It means it's a hit!!! Plus the song sounds like a Merchant-Ivory sex scene (which you of course know if you're a dedicated follower of Lea Comments) and everybody doesn't like something but nobody doesn't like sex. P.S. - I kissed a boy in a dark, smoky, noisy club last night. It was fun.

Scott Douglas, Virgin, 212-714-4509

Call-out research. Good tool. I believe in it, even when it doesn't go my way. But, guess what? It IS going my way on Brother Cane, "Hard Act To Follow". Check the healthy moves and play count increases in all the trades. This record is working in research, requests are building nicely and that stations playing it are really rotating Brother Cane. There aren't many lights to speak of. Play the record. Smashing Pumpkins "Disarm" is a phenomenon. Alternative stations who were done with the record ages ago are bringing it back. Top 40 radio could be beating your to the punch. Don't lose this opportunity...the Pumpkins are the real deal. Watch for their Rolling Stone cover next month! Thanks, that's the Scott Douglas show.

Hilare Brosio,

Arista Records, 213-966-3926

I think David Letterman summed it up best when he said, "With a name like Crash Test Dummies you'd think that they'd be scary, but they're not. I like'em!" And what's not to like! "MMM MMM MMM MMM" has been one of the most talked about tracks of 1994 at both Alternative and AAA radio, and now it's making leaps and bounds at AOR. Over 70 stations are in so far. With stations like KLOS, WIYY, WNEW and WMMR coming in you have to take notice of this track. Cue up "MMM MMM..." and put it on the air and you'll see what I mean! Already WTPA, WCCC, WXLP, KXRX and WIYY are pulling big phones. The sucker reacts. The Dummie's album God Shuffled His Feet is already Gold and on it's way to Platinum! MTV has had the track in Buzz Bin for 7 weeks so there's no escaping it. Look for the band's forthcoming tour dates as they hit the road with Elvis Costello & The Attractions. Sarah McLachlan is making some big moves at Alternative radio with "Possession". The track just got added to MTV this week, so you'll be able to see Sarah in all her splendor. Sarah's current tour will be taking her through Washington DC, Hartford and New York City in the next couple of weeks, so take the opportunity and see her live. The next Stick track is "Grind". Stick is currently on tour with Type O Negative. Muzza Chunka rocked Phoenix last Friday. Just ask the folks at KZRX where they've been spinning "Float" for the last 4 months. This is an LA band that is to be reckoned with!

Roger Mayer, Capricorn, 818-990-8903

Greetings from the road with the Freddy Jones Band. Our tour with Big Head Todd has put the FJB in front of exactly the audiences that should be seeing the show and the band has let no one down. The dates have all been hands-down sell-outs. Thanks to Giant and Todd for letting us tag along. If you're an Adult rocker check out "One World". Wherever you position yourself there's a Freddy Jones track for you. We are set to ship Ian Moore's "Harlem" on April 5. This is a powerful package with an AOR tested artist and a dynamite Ice Cube directed video. We're prepared to break Ian Moore wide open with your help and continued support. We are also ready to bring you the Vigilantes Of Love "Welcome To Strugglesville", so keep an eye out. With 311, the Dixie Dregs and Widespread Panic all in the studio, this is going to be a great year for Capricorn Records. Peace.

Mark Fischer, Atlantic Records, 212-275-2085

Week #6 in the continuing saga of Tori Amos. Guess what? KLOS in Los Angeles becomes the 7th major market to add "God". This week we also saw the additions of KSEZ, KTAL, WJRR and WXZL to the cause. Sales? Another 36,011 up from last week. Get the picture? It's growing. And growing is exactly what Collective Soul has done the last few weeks. The album will be in stores this Tuesday (March 22nd). The band is playing in Florida this week for WRXK and WDRK and yours truly will be in attendance. With 80+ stations in on the record, requests are developing at a feverish level. Finally, be on the look out for Pavement. Something we have a lot of in New York. That's all folks! I promise to be more prolific next week.

Cheryl Valentine, Epic Records, 212-833-5987

I reek of newness, okay?! While I am currently unable to tell you what color socks Tommy Victor is wearing today, I am more than able to ramble at length about how awesome Cleansing is. This Prong record is the shit! God bless you for continuing to support them in a #1 fashion in your hearts and hopefully on your playlists to boot. Please keep in mind that the stars of tomorrow must be your emphasis today (Prong!)...By now your hands have touched upon our latest release by The Poor...Please listen to "Who Cares" right away as adds were last week...Sepultura are the quintessential Metal band and I certainly hope that you're treating them as such! They'll be touring until they drop dead in order to support your efforts. If you have not seen Sepultura, I highly suggest doing it now. They'll make your head pop off of your neck in no time flat!...Fight's "Immortal Sin" is kickin'! I've been hearing it everywhere I go and it sounds amazing on the air. Rob Halford is the KING!...Just remember - my bands rule!

Jessica Harley,

Elektra Entertainment, 212-275-4106

Blake Wilcox,

Continuum Records, 908-709-0011

What's the reaction record of '94? Well, "If 60's Was 90's" Adam West would still be your hero. Beautiful People is winning folks over everywhere. Throw this on the air ONCE and your audience will make you a believer. It reacts, just ask Stephen Page in San Jose, Lenny Bloch in New Jersey, Dale Miller in Amarillo, Tim Maranville in Phoenix, Bob Fonda in Tallahassee, Ken Carson in Greenville, and all of our friends at Adult Rock radio, where it's been a Top 10 track and #1 Most Requested, ahead of Counting Crows and Elvis Costello. Liner-of-the-week: "If we don't play it, it blows...107.9 WPWR" (Mt. Pocono, PA).

Steve McClure,

Leviathan Records, 404-463-1009

Another reminder that we have relocated to the Atlanta, Georgia area and the new fax # is 404-463-8646. We are getting very excited about the upcoming release of The Netherlands' Imperium and their debut release Too Short A Season. Imagine putting Megadeth and Fates Warning in the same room and telling them to put out an album together! Imperium definitely seems to have both bands as influences and their CD is an incredible mix of power and dynamics. Coming April 12th. If you still haven't received the new Hard Fusion/Progressive Rock release from David T. Chastain titled Next Planet Please, give us a call. Some very original music. The instrumental highlight of 94.

Jessica Harley,

Elektra Entertainment, 212-275-4106

The Afghan Whigs debut on the R&R chart this week, "Gentlemen" is a Buzz Clip video on MTV, the album sold more than 5000 pieces in the last 10 days, sales this week up 200 records! The band will be hitting the road on March 18th kicking things off in Dayton, OH. On March 26th you'll be able to check out The Afghan Whigs on The Tonight Show with Jay Leno. This record is happening, we've got AMAZING stations like KEGL, WKLL, KIOZ, KBPI, KICT as well as KXRX, WIZN, WAVF & WTUE playing "Gentlemen". What is keeping you? Add this record! Motley Crue is in the stores, moving up the chart, getting ready to hit the road this summer, "Hooligan's Holiday" is in Stress rotation on MTV and getting tons of Top 5 phones at radio! Phish "Down With Disease" if this is not one of the best rock songs you've ever heard then you haven't listened!

Tom Gates, Roadrunner, 212-219-0077

Hi! Skip the chatter, onto the music. Die Monster Die will be hitting the road next week. You'll be hearing about the dates and we can set up tickets, interviews, etc. It's all just a phone call away. "Toad" and "Swallowed" are the current faves in radio land and audience response is kicking in strong for this great band. Love Die Monster Die! Illinois' The Moon Seven Times have delivered a beautiful sophomore release. Z=49 is familiar without sounding like every other female vocal/mellow/ethereal-type release that's flooded your station over the past few months. Check out "Knock", "Desert Vineyards" or "John", you won't be disappointed. Nailbomb=angst. Black Train Jack is coming!

Tommy Kealty,

ERG metal, 1-800-551-0406

Hey!! This is the no frills, no bullshit, factrama update. Mutha's Day Out is growing! This baby has got more arms and legs than a freak at the sideshow. Listen carefully, this Mutha has been Top 5 rawk, Top 10 metal, on Headbanger's Ball for the past four weeks (including a lengthy walk on), and will be on tour with King's X in April running up the East Coast (you lucky bastards get them again), sales exploding in New York, Detroit, SF/Bay area, Phoenix, Seattle, Little Rock, Texas, Upstate New York, and Boston. All the stations that are supporting this band know who they are and the sales are proving that persistence pays off. We will be going for adds at metal radio April 4th with "We All Bleed Red". This track really shows the essence of this amazing band. A huge welcome to Mike Schnapp! God is in the house! Talk to you on the telephone buddies.

Greg Derbas,

Pavement Music, 708-916-1155

E.J. Johantgen,

Columbia, 212-833-4989

Yeah I know all the powerhouses are being released but that's no excuse to quit playing Carcass and Entombed. There's no way in hell you cats have given full on rotation to every single track. Besides the tours have just begun. Support the future of metal! The Carcass tour is now in progress, call me for whatever you need. And the same goes for the Entombed/The Obsessed tour. The Obsessed wrote the book on what it means to be a real honest heavy rock and roll band. The Obsessed is about no bullshit. On deck for the next two months - Godflesh, Napalm Death, Stomp Box and Cathedral.

Dyana Kass,

To quote a fabulously respected programmer from the Northwest in regards to Eleven, "I was convinced by just listening to the cd but live? Holy shit! Their story has only just begun". Yes folks, Cathy Faulkner from KISW is raving as well as the whole station starting from my Metal partner in crime up there Rob Oxford, spreading to the Alternative show with Damon Stewart all the way into heavy rotation! This band deserves to be played at any format. (Just wait for the urban remixes...just kidding) If you care to partake in the live show experience while they are out with Candlebox, give us a call and we will hook you up strong with tickets and interviews. "Let Down" is the metal track and "Reach Out" is the AOR tune so get with one of these now before you feel "Left Out" and "Laughed At". I would also like to introduce a new cohort in crime in the hard music department named Bruce Tousinau who now sits in the Kevin Estrada seat of Promotion. Return his calls at 818-560-4346.

In a world which is full of Panteras, Soundgardens, King's Xs and Sepulturas we must never forget our goal as musical leaders in our respective communities. I know the Pantera record is so brutal that it cuts your hands whenever you touch it and I know the Soundgarden record shines with the brilliance of God, etc., etc., etc...The fact is, there is fresh material being released hourly and it is our deal to weed out the good fresh and the bad fresh if you know what I mean. In my opinion, Rust is a band worth checking out for the following reasons...They combine raw punk influences with modern hard rock feeling! Rust is leading a new charge of attitude out of San Diego and its got hard rock radio written all over it! "Ask The Judge" because "God Is War"...It's just a good tune!

Bob Ardey,

Continuum Records, 908-709-0011

Beautiful People "If 60s Was 90s" is just beginning to build it's steam - we're still rakin' em in at alternative radio - WCHZ, WBER and KACV this week...hey, you don't have to get it, your audience does. And it's already selling bigtime in YOUR market. Also in your possession is a mysterious CD pro with the words "Come To Me Ecstasy" written all over it. Satisfy your curiosity. Succumb to the feeling that is Ecstasy. Listen, and you will solve the mystery.

Matt Young, Earache Records,

Pitch Shifter interviews went really well. Thanks to Larry, Leigh, Paul, Wayne, Kelly and every one else who did one. I just saw the video for "Triad". Holy bejezus, this thing rocks! A radio edit single w/rare tracks will be in your hands soon. Violence follows this band everywhere (like they're not pessimistic enough??!) During a Napalm Death show in England the bands manager was knocked over in the pit and kicked in the face. The broken nose he suffered kept him from making the trip over here. Then just before leaving England the drummer D and his girl were walking home from a celebrating the start of Pitch Shifter's first American tour when they were jumped and battered with hammers after announcing they had no money. D's head is a mess but he will tour. His girl friend had to get stitches but is ok. Wow. Sleep will be on the road demands more than one liners. Scorn forces you into another mind state. Lawnmower Deth is the perfect traffic driving music. Disgust us coming! God Bless Earache! 212-343-9090.

Varga's video for "Greed" will debut on Headbanger's Ball on March 26th. Tunie in the tube. Tour with Greta and Shootyz Groove begins April 8th in Burlington and continues through the east and Midwest. I think you should check them out so call me for tix. Course Of Empire continues touring with Machines Of Loving Grace until the end of March. Look for them with Prong in April. "Breed" is the next emphasis track and will be on your desk in a couple of weeks. Add date is April 11th. Put it in your calendar...And Jody, Chrisby...02BNOC with E.

Therese Mahler, Assistant,

Earache Records, 212-343-9090

Once upon a time there was a little girl named Therese who was asked to write retail dialogues for Earache Records. Now, since Therese had lived a sheltered life in rural New Jersey, she lacked the skills necessary to complete such a task. So she enlisted the help of her fairy godfather, Dan Mitchell, who told her wondrous tales of Pitchshifter's tour with Carcass (despite the evil efforts of US customs) and of their tremendous video for "Triad". He went on to tell her that Sleep will be touring with Entombed in April. And that new releases from Digust and A.C., as well as reissues from Napalm Death, Morbid Angel, Entombed and Godflesh, were in her future. Fairy godfather Dan then instructed her to share this wisdom with the rest of the music world, waved his hand, and disappeared. And they all lived happily ever after.

Chuck P & John Perrone,

Ohhhhh, Kaboom! The big slam dunk in yo face has begun! The first new releases of the year from Caroline are in your paws now...Hex is the US debut for a graceful and melodic band from England, Bark Psychosis. Take a listen to "A Street Scene" and "Eyes & Smiles"...Also, Astralwerks comes out of the gate with their first of the year with Barramundi - An Introduction To A Cooler World. For your information a Barramundi is an Australian fresh water fish, just so you know. New tracks from Jaydee and Transformer 2 on this one...Coming off the bench: the benefit record X Marks The Spot featuring Geoffrey Dryema, Peter Gabriel and UB40. Peach Siesta featuring Rick Roberts, formerly of the Polses and produced Polses member John Hour...from the UK Seefeel, with their US debut Quique...the Lone Rhino himself, Adrian Belew, with his best solo effort to date Here, last but not least, one of the best live bands around, Fudge with their sophomore release, Southside Speedway...Finally, you will be receiving the Caroline newsletter soon, check it out. As we have told you, we want YOU to be apart of it, so read the Station Of The Month section and send your comments to us at Caroline Records, 114 W. 26th Street, New York, NY 10001...A message from Chuck, "Mind The Gap!"

Dennis Constantine,

Broadcast Consultant, 303-440-5470

My CD player has been busy this week...John Trudell's new album, Johnny Damas And Me (Ryko), has some very hooky songs that reflect John's native American roots. For starters, try "That Love" featuring Jackson Browne! Some stations played "Rant And Roll" from the Born To Choose disc of late last year, but this version is completely different. I love this album...If Loreena McKennitt's show ever comes to your town, don't miss the opportunity to see her. It will be one of the most incredible concert experiences of your life. Her new album is worth of airplay on the radio. There's a nice 5 minute edit of "The Bonny Swans". On her new album, The Mask And The Mirror (Warner Brothers), I also like "The Mystic's Dream". The new Texas album Ricks Road (Mercury) is here! This Scottish duo has a contemporary adult sound that gets immediate reaction. Check out the gorgeous "Listen To Me", the soulful "You've Got To Live A Little" the bluesy "I Want To Go To Heaven", and another remake of Al Green's "Tired Of Being Alone". Speaking of Scottish music, lead singer Angela McCluskey of the Wild Colonials will captivate you with her style on their debut album, Fruit Of Life (DGC). You wanna hear a great song? Listen to "Spark". Full 'o hooks! The newest in the series of live Mountain Stage recordings arrived this week, The Best Of Mountain Stage, Volume 6. An immediate add is "World Leader Pretend" by R.E.M. This version is magnificent.

Others to get on: Bruce Hornsby "Girl From North Country", and Cracker "Mister Wrong" Wow! If you've shied away from playing "God", here is your chance to get Tori Amos on your airwaves. It's a smash song! There's a new e-mix that's taken out those loud, dissient guitars at the beginning of the song. It's a wonderful remix, perfect for all AAA stations. It's no wonder Bewitched (Elektra) by Luna has that "Velvet Underground" sound, Velvet Underground guitarist Sterling Morrison performs on several songs. Try "California (All The Way)", "Tiger Lily", and "This Time Around". Duane Jarvis is not just another one of the millions of Singer/Songwriters out there trying to muscle his way on the radio. There's something in Duane's songwriting on D.J.'s Front Porch that allows him to stand just a little above the rest. Try: "Full Moon Man", "Little Bit Of Hurt" and "I Can Hardly Wait" (Restless).

James: Laid (Mercury) is a disc straight from the land of the limey - some of the best Brit Pop I've heard in ages. Try "Say Something". For the World Beat, the title track from Yothu Yindi's new release Freedom (Hollywood) deserves your attention. And the remake of "Sleeping Satellite" on Tasmin Archer's new Shipbuilding disc is a gem. Well, it's back to the CD player for another stack of CDs that just arrived...

Looking at what's going on at radio, I think we have the cure. Well Sabbath is off in Europe on tour. But they will be back in the states soon. The new single for metal radio is "I Witness". We're trying to bring you all the import with an un-released track, keep your fingers crossed. Dio will start his US tour the beginning of April. The next single is "Jesus Mary And The Holy Ghost". Don't add it yet, we have a few weeks so just listen to it. Pantera jams at radio this week. It's relentless if ya know what I'm sayin. All the in-stores are cuming your way, 3/21 Dallas, 3/22 LA and San Fran, 3/23 Chicago, 3/24 Detroit and Cleveland, 3/25 NYC, 3/26 Philly and Baltimore, 3/27 Tampa. Muzza Chunka's tour is bringing in sales for the band. Thanks to all of radio for the support, you rule. Motorhead will be doing some dates on their own. We don't have them yet, but, we'll let ya know. The Airheads soundtrack is due out in June, "Born To Raise Hell" will be on it. For Love Not Lisa's tour is rockin, don't miss them live. "Rocket Ride" is the track to gig on. Tad is still doing well chart wise. We know the record's old but Tad is a household name to radio and to the fans. Well dat's it for me this week, don't recover too long from SXSW. We'll talk to ya this week. CCCCCCYa.
