Jennifer Trynin, "Better Than Nothing," Warner Bros.

With a vocal reminiscent of Joni Mitchell and a music track that leans more toward the Alternative pop sounds that come from Gen-X bands, Jennifer Trynin manages to create a complete package that is unrivaled at rock radio this week. There's a unique style to this artist. As far as "Better Than Nothing" goes, the hook is catchy, the melody memorable, and the delivery snappy enough to put it into that rare class of songs that can live within any formatic consideration. The record from which it comes, Cockamamie, is full of intriguing combinations of singer/songwriter phrasing and pop/alternative musicianship that sound on-par with the lead-off hitter, and suggest a depth to Ms. Trynin's artistic flair that ensures a long run with this effort. According to WAVF's Dave Rossi, there are two reasons for impending success: "Number 1, I think people want to hear females singing on rock radio. Number 2, she's not at all poppy. She's got attitude, she's not afraid to cuss, and the lyrics are damn good. Plus, any woman who sings about having a conversation in the shower is fine by me." X107's Steve Blatter has similar yet more succinct thoughts. "It's the record Liz Phair should have made."

COR

Ugly Kid Joe, "Tomorrow's World" Mercury

There are a few sure signs of a good summer: hot weather, plenty of beer, and new tunes from music's favorite beach bums, Ugly Kid Joe. Their history has been well documented, achieving platinum status on both their debut EP, As Ugly As We Wanna Be which spawned the breakthrough track "Everything About You", and on their full release, America's Least Wanted, which saw airplay on the jovial "Neighbor" and a surprisingly successful "Cats in the Cradle" update. The appeal of the Ugly Kids is their ability to combine tongue in cheek attitude with riffs crunchy enough for the rockers and hooky enough for the passives. This time around on the initial track, "Tomorrow's World", they slow down the pace to a flowing groove that slides further into your brain with each listen. Two new adds this week at KILO and KISW join the early play at KBER, KZAK, WVCR, WXTB, and KEZE, where Darren Johnson says, "I like the sound of it. I think it's a good start for them." Another interested party is Michael Lee of WAVF who told us, "I like it a lot. It's good to hear the Ugly Kids back!"

Chris Whitley, "O God My Heart Is Ready," Work

Much has been said about the change of direction found within the grooves of Chris Whitley's latest record Din of Ecstasy, and there is truly something different about the sound in relation to previous releases. That being truth, the real proof is in the reaction it is receiving around the music industry. For as many people who react with surprise, they are also reacting positively. Whitley's critical acclaim comes in the form of tons of recent press with just about every media tastemaker, and good initial reaction at rock radio. This is Whitley's sound. And it picks up 8 outta the box, including DMX, KJKJ, WRDK, WKZQ and WNEW.

Souls at Zero, "Inside A Scream" (Energy)

It's commonly said that hard work pays off, and if you doubt that, just anyone who works here! Get it, Hard work? Thus, the members of Souls at Zero are going to find their pot of gold any day now. Maybe that day is sooner than they think with the melodic, haunting, and powerful song "Inside A Scream" heading out to radio.

They have long been a favorite in the hard rock underground (currently they are in the Hard Hitters Top Ten) and are now set to infiltrate the mainstream with a song that highlights the enthralling vocals of Brad Divens without taking away any impact of the musicianship. Souls At Zero have always been road warriors, earning their keep with a combustible live show, and they are now able to show off those talents on a summer tour opening for Skid Row. So, for a fresh song that will please the harder rocking segment of your audience, without having to day-part or scare away any light-hearted fans, make a journey "Inside A Scream" with Souls At Zero.

Warrant, "Followed" (CMC International)

Rock N' Roll will never die. That's because it believes in recycling, people!! While many trends have come and gone, once a factor always a threat, as they say. And there is no denying that this particular band has written some enduring tunes, whether a tear jerking ballad like "I Saw Red" or a rambunctious rocker like "Uncle Tom's Cabin". The first cut from their latest album,

"Family Picnic", saw plenty of quality airplay across the country and now the newest song, "Followed", is primed to improve on that healthy start. Tempo and melody are Warrant hallmarks, and you'll only need half a listen to be still more convinced that this formerly platinum act deserves a serious look.

Hum, "Stars" (RCA)

You would be hard pressed to find a better combination of atmosphere and intensity. The Champaign, Illinois based band has sonic elements similar to Smashing Pumpkins and Dinosaur Jr., while still retaining an enigmatic, flowing quality. Let's just say it's the musical equivalent of riding a bike while spinning a plate on a stick. Dr something like that. Early airplay includes KNRX,

WAAF, Q104, and X107 whose Steve Blatter relays that there is "a good little buzz at the station. It's still early to gauge listener response, but the song is unique enough to work."*

Mother May I, "Meet You There" (Columbia)

In a world where the main musical food group is new rock, there are obvious textures that are more prevalent than others at this time. There are plenty of records that lean Alternative, there are plenty that lean heavy, and there are a few that head toward AAA. There aren't many straight ahead rock records available. Here's one that blends melodic characteristics of pop with a guitar-based track. And in advance buzzwork on the part of the label, Mother May I perked some ears at some big stations. Q104 is already on, giving them one giant step forward. The projections are strong for this Northeastern rock group to capitalize on this early attention with more giant steps forthcoming.

GREAT ARTISTS MAKE GREAT MUSIC PERIOD.

MOTHER MAY I

Meet You There

3 Out Of 4 Critics Agree On Mother May I

"Mother May I's debut is a study in writing pop songs with hooks that grab the listener."
- Alternative Press

"Mother May I has an ear for power-pop hooks... the trio's careening, infectious melodies are powered by the Mascis/Neil Young guitar style of Damon Hennessy."
- Guitar

"The jumpy and harmonic power-pop tunes are anchored by a bottom heavy bass but it's Damon Hennessy's seductive plaintive guitar that give Mother May I its subtle kick."
- Entertainment Weekly

"These songs are trite and there are no hooks."
- Ft. Collins Coloradoan

Rock Alternative

Catherine Wheel, "Waydown," Mercury

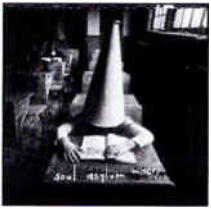

Another solid week for this monster as more quality adds — WKLL, ZROC, 91X, WRZX, etc. bring on a 42* Rock Alternative debut this week. With more powerful instrumental presence and a beefy mix, this record breaks more crossover ground for the Wheel than they've ever enjoyed before. It's a great rock record anyway you slice it, and sounds great on the radio. #2 Most Added at Alternative with 14 more adds including WHFS, KKNB, KACV, WMAD and KRRK, and Top 5 Most Added at Heritage and COR cement the reality: Catherine Wheel will work for just about every conceivable rocker spinning the new sounds.

Jill Sobule, "I Kissed A Girl," Atlantic/Lava

This Buzz Bin clip has been catching streams of followers at Alternative with this novelty that may or may not be a literal reflection of audience behavior. Although, we'd still like to watch. Nevertheless, Jill is catching on at Rock Alternative as she has been at Alternative, and merits some examination. Jill jumps 70-49* on the Rock Alternative chart, and makes a leap 34-30* on Alternative, including jacking up a #1 Most Requested score. Big phones will follow this one around wherever she locks those lips.

Soul Asylum, "Misery," Columbia

The sound of this song deserves airplay on just about every conceivable format panel under the sun, and at Rock Alternative, Soul Asylum breaks through with a 58-12* vault. It's no surprise that the spin count rose with such a clatter, given the amount of adds last week that hadn't had a chance to spin the record. This song is charging for the number one position on this panel just as hard and fast as it is at COR, Heritage and Alternative. About the only thing that will apparently stop its growth is the sheer limit of the number of panelists.

Sugar Ray, "Mean Machine," Atlantic

Making the climb on the bottom half of the chart we keep hidden behind curtain #3, is this Formula One super-charger, complete with growling guitars and a hammering rhythm. There are Hot Rod Lincoln samples tossed into the swirl that make for timely spins at WRZX/Indianapolis this week, and on the Rock Alternative side this one is also a lock at WMMS and KBBT. Building a story at Alternative as well, "Mean Machine" keeps the pace at the front of the pack in terms of buzz considerations for rock stations leaning into the guitar-driven wall of Alternative sound.

Oasis, "Rock 'N' Roll Star," Epic

The follow-up to "Live Forever" is showing up on the bottom half, too, as it makes the climb with the hooky rock track that grabbed 9 adds at Alternative, including 91X, KEDJ and KMYZ this week. WMMS (18-23), WBCN (8-9), and WDRE (31) are already aboard, as well. The opening line is fairly reminiscent of Foghat's "Fool For the City," and the track kinda plays out as a mockery of the whole star thing (and presumably the earlier-mentioned band and song). The glam-rock feel of the song will play in the same league as Ziggy, and the tempo is lively. The memorability is very strong here, and the song sounds good to us when we hear it on the air.

EVERY BAND HAS REASONS WHY THEY LOVE DOING WHAT THEY DO. THIS IS ONE OF THEIRS.

Hootie & the Blowfish, "Only Wanna Be With You," Atlantic

With the album passing triple platinum in sales, and currently resting on the #2 spot on the nation's pop charts, you'd be a blowfish not to recognize the importance of playing along with the plan and adding this rascal. Not to mention the impressive touring schedule slated for the summer (The Jones Beach date sold out in less than an hour!), the massive press appeal, and the one-day retail order of 200,000 units which came recently. And the track is a hitbound follow-up. A melodic guitar line, the distinctive vocal with an unforgettable melody, the love-song story... It falls right in line with the Hootie saga we've already witnessed at every format except 24-hour polka. We hear they're testing it there, too.

Soul Asylum, "Misery," Columbia

With the spins tallied from last week's monstrous add barrage, movement upward was only a question of "How high?" Add to that the #2 Most Added slot for this week, the #1 Most Added slot at COR, and the #3 Most Added slot at Alternative, and you've got a complete runaway on the tracks with "Misery." Soul Asylum jumps 41-14* on the Heritage chart this week, with very few hold-outs detected in the ranks of Heritage and COR. 147 stations on, 42 total adds, and dumptruck loads of increases make this one far and away destined for a chart-capper.

Bad Company, "Down and Dirty," EastWest/EEG

"Down and Dirty" cleans up at Heritage. #1 Most Added this week, Bad Company returns to the airwaves with thunderous impact as they debut at #27 on the Heritage panel. Given the library-based sound that the Heritage panel employs, an add for this band with at least two recognizable names from the past seems like a realistic projection. Better than one-third of the panel added "Down and Dirty" this week, including KOMP, WAOR, WFBQ, WGIR, WPLR, WRCN and WXKE. Our coverboy at KLS cranked out a 4-24 increase. He was followed by plenty of double-digit debuts.

Dokken, "Too High To Fly," Columbia

Dokken has been one of the lone survivors of the hairband rebellion, thanks to legions of loyal fans who never really lumped their heroes in with the others, anyway. Consequently, the return to the radio for Dokken has been successful. Five new adds this week, and increases by 36 others give Dokken a debut at 43* on the Heritage chart. KRZZ's Michael Lee remarks, "We're getting a lot of curiosity calls. I think it sounds great on the air." WCCC's Todd Heft sees it with "Number 2 phones, right behind White Zombie. From the moment we put it on the air we got a lot of curiosity calls, and a lot of calls from older guys." WRIF's Doug Podell says, "Big phones here. In my opinion they have to be hotter than they've ever been."

Live, "All Over You," Radioactive

This band has been living in the treetops of charts for a long time, and "Lightning Crashes" is bound to be getting a little crispy. Showcase some more of this band's awesome live energy by playing "All Over You," and capture more of the essence that is the most intriguing new band of the past few years. Face it — most new bands come and go. Live is one of those bands that won't be disappearing. There's too much going on here. "All Over You" debuts at 50*, while "Lightning..." remains at #1. With this band, multiple tracks in rotation poses no threat to familiarity.

Wanderlust, "I Walked," RCA

This song is sounding great on a variety of formats, as it moves 46-42* on the Heritage panel, picking up WYYY, WCCC, KKEG, KRNA, WROV and others. Heritage heroes like WEBN, WFBQ, WSHE, and WMMR are already in, and plenty of secondaries have picked up on this band in its early stages, too. There is a texture of guitar pop that seems to have grabbed the ears of the general public over the past couple of years, and Wanderlust fall in line with that development. Chances are you can find it segue-friendly with most '90s stuff. It's new without sounding like it belongs to the flannel crowd.

LEACH PROMOTED TO MERCURY EXEC. VP

David Leach

Mercury has named David Leach Executive VP of the label. In addition to his current promotion duties, Leach will now oversee the marketing, publicity, sales and video departments. In making the announcement, Mercury President Ed Eckstine commented, "It would be an understatement to say this was a well-deserved promotion. David has been the heart and soul of Mercury Records for a long time. The leadership that he has provided to our promotion department has earned him the respect of all that have come in contact with him during the course of his eighteen years here at the company. This is a great day for all of us here at Mercury." Leach joined PolyGram in October 1977, and was promoted to his current position as Mercury Sr. VP/Pop Promotion in '88. Prior to joining Mercury, he was Sr. VP/Pop Promotion and National Director/Pop Promotion for PolyGram. "I would like to thank Ed Eckstine for his support and for giving me this opportunity," commented Leach. "It is a real thrill to be named Executive Vice President of Mercury Records in its 50th year of existence. I look forward to helping Mercury become one of the top record companies of the next 50 years."

UNOFFICIALLY OFFICIAL

Diane Gentile

From the no official press release but pretty much a done deal department:

Look for Arista National Director of Rock Promotion Diane Gentile to move to EMI, filling the National AOR promotion position left vacant when Neil Lasher departed the company last week.

Noise has confirmed that Alternative indie Mike Jacobs has entered into a joint venture label agreement with MCA and its associated labels. The deal involves all aspects of alternative music for the company. Jacobs & Naylor

Promotions will close its doors at the end of the month, and Wendy Naylor is scheduled to join partner Jacobs in L.A., with MCA VP stripes awaiting her arrival.

EPIC ELEVATES RON CERRITO

Ron Cerrito

Epic National Director/Rock Promotion Ron Cerrito has been promoted to VP/Artist Development for the label. Sr. VP/Marketing Dan Beck stated, "Ron's new role will provide us the opportunity to benefit from his creative ability, his promotion experience and his tremendous energy to maximize the effectiveness of the Epic label in developing artists." Cerrito began his career at Billboard in 1986, as Director of Research/Chart Manager. After three years, he moved to Enigma as National Director/Rock Promotion. In 1990, he was named VP/Promotion & Marketing for Metal Blade.

This is one of those hip and cool industry parties that you'll never be invited to. The Conde Nast/Gee Street/Island Records launch party for Malcolm McLaren's new album, Paris, drew everyone from people with one name to supermodels to NYC's trendiest downtown scene-makers. Pictured (l-r): French-Tunisian singer/actress Amina; PolyGram President/CEO Alain Levy; Malcolm McLaren; Island President John Barbis; Gee Street President Jon Baker; Gee Street Creative Director Ziggi Golding.

MCA MOVES MILLER TO EXEC. VP/GM

Randy Miller

Randy Miller has been promoted to Executive VP/GM for MCA Label President Richard Palmese commented on the appointment, "Watching Randy work over the past few years, I have developed an enormous amount of respect for him as an executive and as a colleague. His creativity and dedication have been key factors in the ongoing presence of MCA artists across all formats, and his efforts have greatly enhanced the label's position in the rock and alternative music arenas. In addition, he has played a decisive role in the current success of MCA's expanding family of associate labels. I am extremely pleased to congratulate Randy on this very important promotion." Miller joined MCA in 1991, after seven years with

RCA. He was most recently Executive VP/Marketing. "MCA Records and its associated labels has a fantastic roster of artists," said Miller. "I believe that we have an amazing team of the industry's best executives. I look forward to working with them in this new leadership role and taking the company into the future and to new heights. I would especially like to thank Al Teller and Richard Palmese for the opportunity and expression of confidence."

GILLISPIE RESIGNS B/D & A

Greg Gillispie

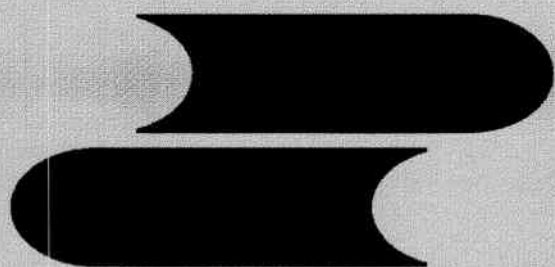

Burkhardt/Douglas & Associates announced the resignation of VP/Product Development Greg Gillispie from the Atlanta-based media consulting firm. B/D & A President Dwight Douglas commented, "Greg Gillispie has been a friend and a business associate for over 15 years. He is a truly unique individual and outstanding professional. In the eight years he has worked in our firm as a consultant, he has grown personally and professionally. His contributions to this company have been great. His efforts were always filled with determination and passion. His successes are well documented. It was with regret that Greg tendered his resignation, but also with a warm feeling that he is going to go after something new and exciting. I'm looking forward to finding out what company will land this winner." Gillispie added, "Radio is too exciting not to be in a position to see more direct results from my efforts. I have thoroughly enjoyed the challenges of consulting and meeting and working with some very talented people. It is my goal to put my talents and energies to work for a team committed to achieving success through creating great and innovative radio. Parting ways with B/D & A gives me time to completely focus my energies on achieving my goals." Greg can be reached at (404) 499-8428.

Michael Hughes

by Bill Hard

It's not easy programming Citicasters #1 revenue producer in their largest market. But it's not as if Michael Hughes has ever blinked when a high stakes opportunity has looked him in the eye. Though his first call letters, WIOT, boasts alumnae such as Jon Sinton, Greg Gillispie, Keith Masters, and Dave Loncao, imagine going from Toledo to NBC's NYC-based Source Network after only three years? In that time, starting in 1981, WIOT moved Michael from part time to overnights to PD, and he arrived in New York as the Manager of Program Administration, NBC Radio Entertainment and the Source. We're talking a title so long you had to flip his business card over, folks. But Michael missed local radio, and in 1986 returned to programming at WRDU/Raleigh. In 1988, Great American (later to become Citicasters), hired Michael away to program top-rated WFBO/Indianapolis. In October 1990, shortly before Frank Wood bought the Indy property, Michael segged south to WKLS, where he's now in his fifth year as PD of one of the country's most respected — and market dominant — heritage rock radio stations.

Okay, Michael, let's start with the obligatory copro question. Given 99X's position in their arena, have you experienced the same kind of favoritism that Steve and Carey talked about?

Michael: It's the same thing ten years ago, when AOR was bitching about CHR. As soon as AOR would break an act, CHR would pick it up, it would become a hit record, and the CHR would get the presents on a show. I don't spend a lot of time worrying about things like that. If there are shows the radio station wants to be aligned with, there are ways of getting that accomplished. It's funny how many conversations and how many national people get involved in discussions about who's name gets to go in the ad in the paper prior to the on-sale, of which listeners don't give a damn. What matters is supporting the show in ways your listeners want. They want free tickets. They want to see their favorite radio station down there. They want to hear a concert replay on their way home after the show. There are so many other levels of associating yourself with a concert, besides getting into huge arguments with record companies.

At the very least, those situations give the programming department something to get fired up about.

Michael: I think if it's purely for motivation, that's fine. We all use whatever we need to motivate our troops. I tend to think our energy is best spent identifying those things which we directly control. In the time it takes me during an afternoon to track down two national guys, my local and the band's manager, I could be making music and morning drive tomorrow a little bit better. That's what we choose to focus on.

When you've gone out early on a band and given it solid support, what do you expect from the label?

Michael: The best and easiest case scenario is for the label or promoter to simply hand you the show. I don't want to completely discount that. That's the fair and honest way to go. It's not necessarily the end all, though. I expect support in terms of when we play the song, it's great to be able to give away a copy or two. It's great to have advertising support. When we're playing a record 30 times a week and they've bought 12 spots over a week, or 24 over two weeks, that will help the project on the sales front. Even playing a 45 second snippet of the hook of the lead track helps me in building familiarity with in a commercial. Those logical things come into play.

If you had to single out one label for their expertise and commitment in supporting airplay, who would that be?

Michael: Capricorn.

Because WKLS is so important to Citicasters' bottom line, do your programming decisions come under a whole lot more corporate scrutiny than at most stations?

Michael: That's realistic with any station in a market this size. We are the biggest market in the Citicasters' group. 'More scrutiny' is not necessarily the case. We have a lot of resources in our group, and a tremendous collection of very smart Program Directors who I call somewhat frequently, always asking for opinions. We work closely with Ted Bolton and research the market extensively. 96 Rock has a very desirable position in a large market that is taking the lion's share of the dollars.

You've made a number of changes in the station over the past year, and based on the latest Arbitron, those changes have paid dividends.

THE Hard INTERVIEW

Michael: Yes, they did. We are dominant with men, which is certainly our target. In any breakout to age 44, we are right in line with our targets and with advertisers' needs. We're always updating the radio station in this market. We're constantly being influenced by people moving here and the population growth increasing at the rate it is. We have to stay on top of it. I would hesitate to call recent changes 'significant updates,' but we're always freshening. We're always analyzing our approach and implementing appropriate tactics.

How much has the competitive atmosphere changed over the past year? Any new players shaking things up?

Michael: 99X has certainly matured. That format hole was here before they appeared, and they've done well filling it.

WKLS has never really had any direct sustained AOR competition.

Michael: No. There have been various facets of it for a time. Power 99 went Rock 40 at us. Z93 has had their flirt with currents. They've pretty much thrown everything they can at us, all to no avail. For a station to sign on and call themselves AOR, no. We have an Infinity classic rock station on the upper end, and then 99X brings the teens and the young end.

Z had a terrible book. Classic rock has never done really well in that market, though, has it?

Michael: You can break out the rock share however you like, and come up with your own little formula. Classic rock as a whole has never been a huge success here. It's divided up the rock pie a little bit, but to stand alone, I would not call the format a success here in Atlanta.

Is that because you've done an effective job of bridging the classic to current gap?

Michael: We've implemented a programming strategy that has kept them at bay.

I know they're running Greaseman in the morning over there. Are you surprised that Infinity has stuck with that show? How does he do down there?

Michael: It depends on your definition of success. The show is definitely under-performing. I give Infinity credit for sticking with it, but God help him.

How do mornings shake out in that market?

Michael: With the rock audience it's us. In general, KHX Country has the #1 morning show. The perennial #1 station is Urban V103, which will probably be #1 in the spring.

Urban in Atlanta behaves more like country it seems. The shares just keep getting bigger and bigger.

Michael: V completely owns that hill. There is an Urban-A/C that is giving them some trouble, but V is really entrenched in the community and in the minds of the urban audience. Consistently they do very well. The Cap Cities group, in buying the New City country, have quite a duopoly with their KHX mainstream country, if you want to call it that. They've got Young Country on the lower end. You could probably multiply the country phenomenon times two in a city like Atlanta. I know it's hot all around the country.

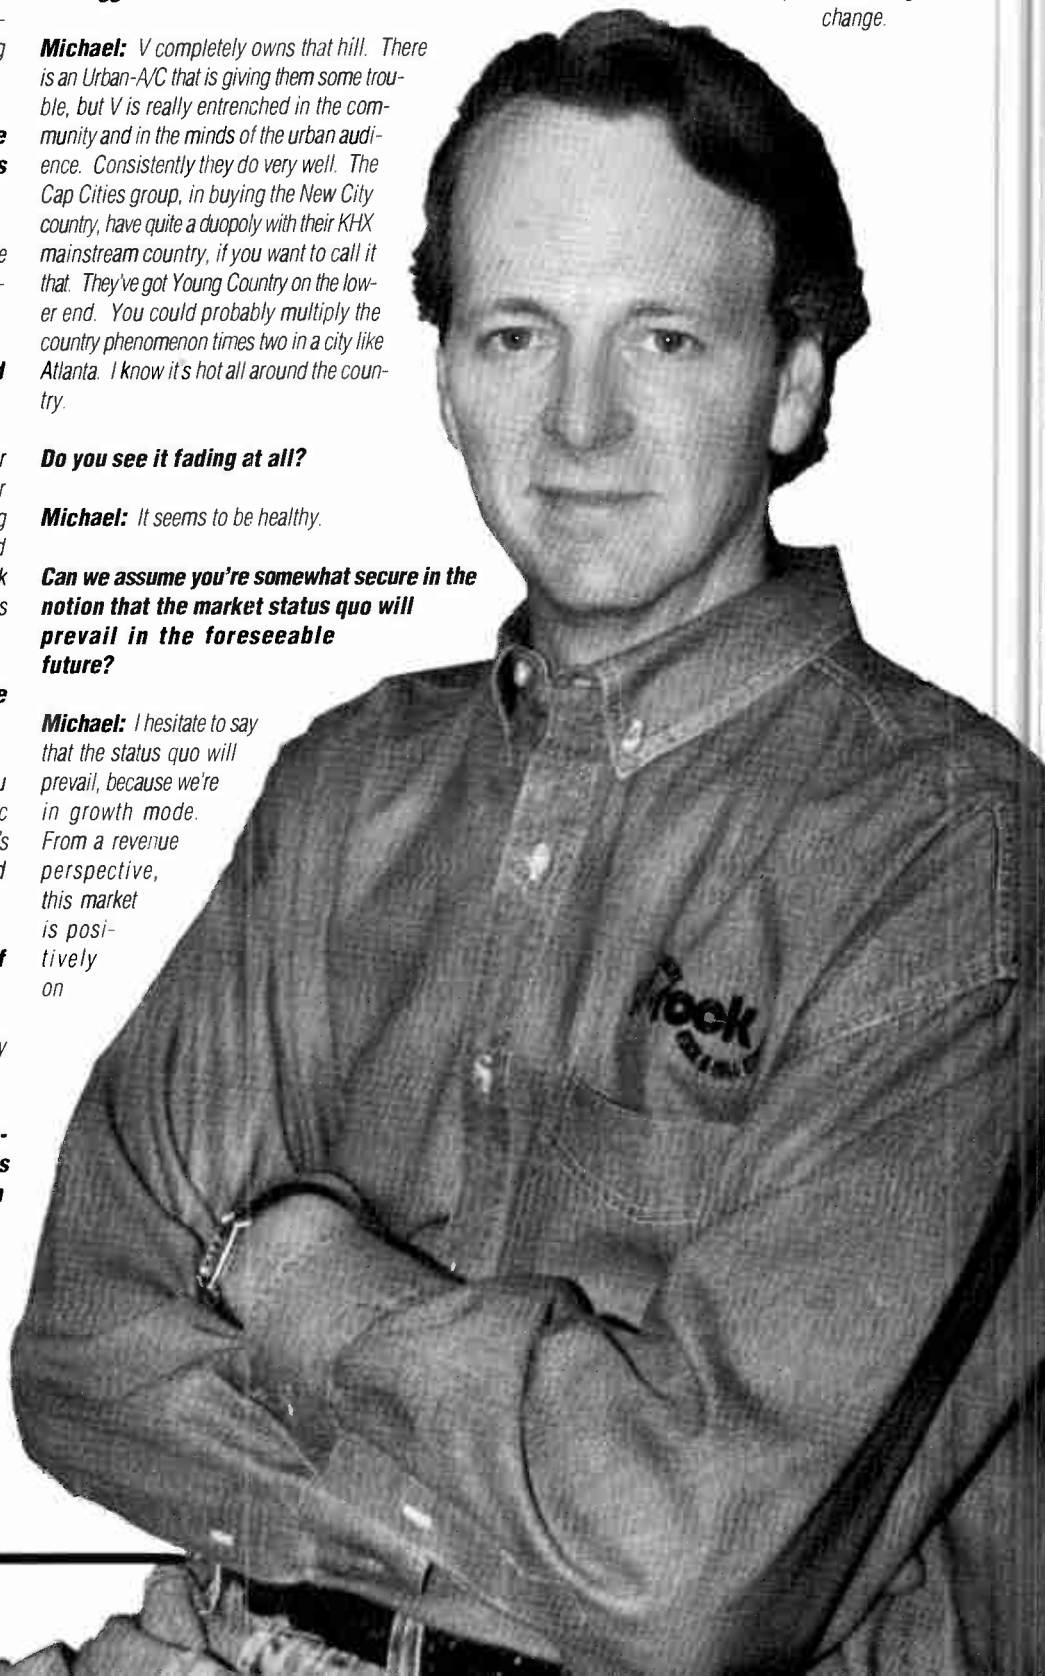

Do you see it fading at all?

Michael: It seems to be healthy.

Can we assume you're somewhat secure in the notion that the market status quo will prevail in the foreseeable future?

Michael: I hesitate to say that the status quo will prevail, because we're in growth mode. From a revenue perspective, this market is positively on fire. The Olympics are coming here in the summer of 1996. Advertisers are already poising themselves for a presence. The demand for advertising in this market is red hot. If you're on the air and pulling a decent share, you're going to make some money here. Most of our closest competitors are doing okay. I would not predict a significant change.

How much money will the Olympics parachute into the marketplace?

Michael: In the billions.

Wow. For any radio station in Atlanta there are some heavy skull sessions as to how to get the largest chunk of that change.

Michael: In addition to working out some promotional opportunities with some of the larger sponsors, a la Coca-Cola or Budweiser, yes, there are intense meetings. Most definitely.

Do you envision duopoly plans for yourself in the market?

Michael: Our company is aggressively pursuing duopoly opportunities in all our markets. We just tripled up in Portland. Tampa just debuted the classic rock station down there.

Are you operating at a disadvantage at WKLS given that you're not doubled up?

Michael: No, not necessarily. It's more of a sales issue coupled with what our people on the street are encountering. A lot of the duopolies in this market can essentially meet whatever cost per point a buyer wants to give them by getting the big rate on the big dog and filling up the points on one of the other stations — whether it's their AM or their under-performing FM. On the streets, on a cost per point issue, probably a lot more so than from a programming standpoint. If we had another rock station in our fold, it would have strategic implications, no question. We would take advantage of that. I don't see that we're at a disadvantage from a programming standpoint. We have the most desirable rock position in the market.

Congrats for luring Curtiss Johnson away from KUPD. Citicasters' corporate charisma prevails once again.

Michael: It's a good group of people who are committed to doing great radio. For instance, our president, Dave Crowl has always been in the trenches — from sales at WL VQ in Columbus and running Lazer in Milwaukee for a while to our Portland CHR KKRZ. They know what it's like. It's easy to have relatable discussions about reality with those in our head office. Dave and Nick Miller are not only students of radio, but fans of radio. It's just as likely for Dave to call up and talk about time spent listening, as it is for him to call and talk about how great new the Blues Traveler song is. When you're able to sit down with a group of people that includes the likes of Greg Mull and Jeff McMurray, on a yearly or twice-a-year basis, it's great. Our CHR and A/C guys are the best at what they do. That's one thing that we as a group have gotten better at — sharing information and opinions. They provide good resources for us. They are very goal-oriented and accountability-oriented. They give us the tools we need and let us do our jobs.

The pressure to perform is in keeping with any major broadcast group?

Michael: There is high pressure to perform. But it's not unrealistic. It goes with the territory. If you're a program director in the 1990's, it's not like it was ten years ago. You're as responsible to the bottom line and revenue performance of the radio station as the sales manager. Perhaps your direct responsibility may be to the ratings, but you need to understand what's going on out on the street. If you're in a duopoly situation, the impact of being able to play the cost per point game when necessary or being able to go on a call and recognize that these are strong clients to the station and worthy of working out a solution with, is a whole different game now that requires savvy in a number of arenas.

Does your station's huge billing create more than the usual share of sales/programming conflicts?

Michael: No, and that's a credit to our President/GM Tom Connolly. We all support one grand theme. That's all of us at 96 Rock making the radio station better and increasing our revenue performance. We're all united under that goal and go into each of our positions with that understanding. Yeah, some of it is more of a bitch than others. But it's all part of it, and you have to do it all well.

You've worked with tons of high-priced talent, and you're an expert at talent management. How was working with Bob and Tom at WFBQ?

Michael: It was a terrific learning experience for me. In particular, Tom is an individual who is driven to be perfect. While at times his energy and talents were directed in strange ways, that was always his goal. I admired his commitment to that. It was a treat to share in that process. I still talk to Tom often and draw on his endless energy. I'll never forget when I first accepted the job at 'FBQ, people said, 'You are nuts going in there. God, that's a torture zone. They hate you, you're life's miserable.'

They've made mincemeat out of more than one PD.

Michael: It's been well documented. But, I was coming from some experience at NBC at the Source, working with the likes of David Sanborn and Paul Shaeffer and numerous recording artists who did shows for us. So working with personalities on a high level didn't threaten me. First and foremost, you have to be able to make a connection. I didn't go in to Indy and call Bob and Tom in and say, 'Let's listen to a tape.' I had to first earn their trust. We immediately began working on what was an identified focal point for the station — afternoon drive at a very personality-driven radio station. We developed the afternoon host, Mad Dog Matis, to exceptional levels we had never seen in afternoon drive.

Did they help you do that?

Michael: They were watching and seeing that the afternoon numbers were getting higher and higher and knew I wasn't all hot air. They realized I might be able to contribute something. I would not be running in the studio with a bit for Bob and Tom, but we would be talking about an extension to a successful bit, or promotions, or things like that. Since then we've had a terrific relationship.

What would you say the Indy experience taught you?

Michael: It taught me that even when you have a successful property, you can still make it better. At the root of that is attitude and commitment. The staff there genuinely wanted to improve.

Classic rock came on when you were in that marketplace. Was that a shake-up of sorts?

Michael: Sure, to some extent.

They came in strong as I recall.

Michael: They came in noisy. It never really got strong.

Yes, but it had to be a stress when they debuted in the 5's.

Michael: It was. We were dealing with something that hadn't happened before. People inherently are afraid of new and different things. We shored up the areas we knew were the strongest attributes to the radio station and protected and defended our turf and remained in an offensive posture. We didn't back down or make huge adjustments to Q95. We just gave them the best Q95 we could give them.

What was the last change in the on-air line-up at 'KLS?

Michael: The last change was bringing in my night guy who has been here for two years. His name is Alan Ayo.

What is the average age and tenure of your jocks?

THE Hard INTERVIEW

Michael: My midday guy Willard has been here almost since sign-on, back in 1974. Kaedy Kiely has been doing afternoons here for twelve years. Christopher Rude is in his fifth year as host of the morning show. They are all terrific personalities that contribute to the radio station beyond just on the air.

Everybody knows Beth Kepple is really the boss.

Michael: That's right, by God. Beth's addition to the morning show about a year and a half ago was certainly a bright spot.

You and Beth appear to work well together.

Michael: It's classic yin and yang. We come from two completely different spectrums and converge it in music meetings and discussions. Almost always with a good result.

She definitely puts in the hours — the morning show, public affairs, music. A lot of work.

Michael: She works hard. We've created an environment that allows her to focus on the morning show, and have taken some of the day-to-day music responsibilities and shared them. She's enjoying it.

What's working with Tom Barnes like? Can you contrast him with previous consultants you've worked with?

Michael: He's one of those people who gets me thinking differently. We'll have discussions starting on one subject, and end up somewhere else. But we'll be able to apply it to whatever we do, either in a systems, execution or promotion form. He brings a different perspective to us, and challenges me in some different ways. The universal consensus is that it's always good.

Tom is a very progressive fellow, looking at his work at the Pirate and his 'AAF/KISW involvement. Given WKLS' relatively conservative course, one might think Tom to be kind of a strange fit for you.

Michael: That could be the result of a limited perception of Tom. Yes, his biggest successes have probably been to the left. But I don't use Tom in the context of doing a music call every Monday. It's a little more philosophical, strategic and positioning-oriented.

Of course, Dwight Douglas has advised the station since day one.

Michael: And still makes ongoing, positive contributions to this radio station. I call on Dwight often for many different elements.

Are you as musically involved as you ever were?

Michael: Yes. Especially with Beth moving into the morning show.

How do you two divvy up the incoming record company stuff? Does Music Coordinator Lisa Sturgis handle most of that?

Michael: Incoming stuff, yeah. Obviously we check it out through the course of the week. Every Tuesday morning, being in a market with locals, we see them between 8 and 12 noon.

And you sit with a high percentage of those folks?

Michael: I sit with every one that shows up.

Really? Do you give them each three minutes like in the old days?

Michael: We keep it moving. But when they see a lobby full of their brethren on a Tuesday morning, and know they have better things to be doing, they tend to be respectful of the timetable. They won't play me four or five different things. They'll hit the highlights.

I wonder how many PDs in your position still take the time to do that. It obviously keeps you plugged into the music.

Michael: It's important that there always be an open line of communication. 'Plugged into the music' — you can define that however you want. We like to think we're aware of the music our audience wants to hear. We gather as much information as we can about the artists we play, and keep an ear out for what's coming up. If we have the opportunity to sit with people from the music community and get an edge, I'm going to do it. It's important that they have a communications link to the station, beyond the receptionist and the music assistant. If they're here, I see them.

In terms of changes you've made over the past year, how has the role of current product changed for you, in terms of what you're emphasizing and how much it's being exposed?

Michael: I think those changes are synonymous with what our audience wants. We give them the big songs from the big artists that they've loved for a long time. Whether it's the new Van Halen record, or the new Aerosmith or Stones. We are aggressive with titles that are compatible with that. I wouldn't say we're bold on new music, but we're there with the right songs that matter to our listeners. We tend not to wade through the discovery process. When we're on it, we're on it, and we're playing it.

Has the role of Gold changed much of late with you?

Michael: Burn is always a concern, especially with two stations playing a similar but different music mix. Strong-testing classics are going to test for me as they are anybody else in the market who may be testing them. Maintenance is probably the key with library.

Is Gold burn approaching a crisis situation in your eyes?

Michael: No. People love the songs they love. Even if they've heard it 100 times, if it's a sunny day and their favorite song comes on the radio, they're loving life.

You're playing more current product than you have in a while. Are the labels responding? Are they happier with your direction, and does that matter to you?

Michael: I've always tried to be honest with the presentation of the station and realistic about the expectations of the record community. I tell them where we stand — 'This is our presentation.' I don't bullshit them about the possibilities of certain songs being played and others not being played. For the most part, I have a real healthy relationship with all of the labels. They are aware of what 96 Rock is doing. I would think that on the surface more new music would probably please them a little more, but it's not really a concern. As long as we're truthful about what is going on and the expectations on both sides are realistic.

A number of programmers have voiced their concern that listeners are increasingly disenchanting with grunge in general and the lyrical negativity in particular. Are you picking up anything like that?

Michael: No, absolutely not. MCA didn't expect what's happening with 'Lightning Crashes,' because the lyrical content is somewhat of a downer. But it's a great record.

That's a hit for the ages. It'll be around as long as there's music radio.

Michael: When you're buying an album, decisions like that might come into play. But when you turn on the radio and want to hear a great rock and roll song, there's a significant difference — free choice vs. cash outlay. Whether grunge may grow over time — 'Hey this stuff is all negative' — I don't see sales slowing down.

At one point, Southeastern rock stations had the reputation for being much more musically adventurous than they are now. Would you agree with that generalization?

Michael: No. The region may have been viewed as a musical hotbed when southern rock was peaking with the likes of Skynyrd and Allman Brothers, 38 Special, Wet Willy and the Marshall Tucker Band and Mother's Finest. But it's been significantly replaced by new up-and-comers. Everybody from the Black Crowes to Indigo Girls to Jupiter Coyote, and Collective Soul. It's not one singular genre, like perhaps it was in the mid-'70s. Now you're getting a whole variety of different kinds of musical styles coming out of here.

With all of that happening, it's interesting that there's no Triple A station in Atlanta. The club scene and independent labels actively support those artists, after all.

Michael: Fortunately, in a market with limited signals like Atlanta, stations can be a little more broad-based and don't need to fall into as many niches, as it were. A lot of the current titles we play, come from what is known as the Triple A charts.

Do you make a conscious effort to include a representative example from those charts, or is that how the chips fall?

Michael: There's not a quotient in my library that is Triple A. We look for songs that fit the presentation of our radio station. A lot of times, a Jayhawks record, or a Pete Dinklage record fits perfectly with how we sound. Whether it comes off the Triple A chart, or any other chart, that's not as much the issue as how the song fits with our presentation. A lot of times, those songs are most closely associated with Triple A, by the nature of the sound of the songs.

Atlanta is a huge A/C market. What is about that area that makes it such? The legacy of WSB and the super power A/Cs of old?

Michael: That's certainly a factor. WSB has been huge in this marketplace for several years. They do a very good job at what they do. WPCH, the Jacor property, is certainly giving them a run. They've actually expanded to some extent the A/C market share. A/C is at a bit of a crossroads right now. You're starting to see some divisions take place. It's expanding the definition of A/C. Whether it's the pop side, or the current-pop-A/C style or the more laid back, office, older-focused.

How would you describe 99X's air sound in terms of their strengths and weaknesses?

Michael: It depends on when you tune in. Sometimes it's two different radio stations. I don't want to take shots at them. They're doing a fairly good job at filling a hole. Obviously, you or me or Tom Barnes, would all do things a little differently. I'm certainly not going to share that.

THE Hard INTERVIEW

Would you call them aggressive competitors?

Michael: I would call them fairly aggressive. They spend more effort trying to get the presents than making their presence felt at the show.

Given your formatic similarity to sister stations WLVQ and KYYS, are you concerned that a Hal Fish or Doug Sorenson could come into the market and give you a hard time 18-34?

Michael: We try and protect those hills that we own, but we've got a full plate as it is. This is a very successful mainstream station that has not allowed for a lot of holes. We're pleased that we have a very desired market position, both perceptually and from a ratings perspective. We intend on continuing to maximize that.

Is there anything about Atlanta that makes it unattractive to lower-end market broadcasters? In almost every major market, somebody is hammering away with a more current-intensive, rock-edged approach. Not Atlanta.

Michael: There are two primary concerns. The available audience on an adult level is high. The advertising demand to reach those adults is extremely high. There is less of a demand for a younger-end audience, combined with the fact that Arbitron has proven themselves completely incapable of delivering a realistic young end sample. In any major market, where a share point can mean a million dollars, that's a tough rack to hang your hat on when you're focused on singular young-end target demographics. Arbitron consistently indexes way below average in delivering that demo here, with such ridiculous fluctuations.

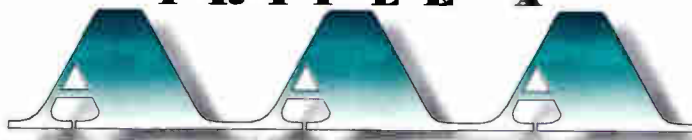

Have you had a basically fair shake as far as sampling goes?

Michael: Absolutely not. In the four and a half years I've been here, Arbitron has always had to weight up both the male 18-24 and the male 25-34 sample. However, when you look at the Urban population, Arbitron continually makes overtures to assure a representative sample ethnically, and does specific things like pay more money to those respondents. There has only been one case in my recollection where they had to weight up the ethnic population. They always oversample ethnic in this market. They always undersample young men.

If you could own a station anywhere, how would you format it, and where would it be?

Michael: I would probably do all reggae, all the time in the Caribbean.

TRIPLE ACE

Beggars, Beggars, Island The project is the brainchild of Michael Been, and the imprint of his musical heritage is evident throughout. Melodic and memorable, Beggars is swarming with edgy, pop sensibilities and subtle harmonies. The first single, "Falling Down," has already picked up impressive Triple A adds (in spite of the deluge of big name releases over the past couple of weeks), and like KMMS' Colter Langan, we quickly discovered that the full album holds plenty of possibilities for the format: "I love this band, they're like nothing else! These guys sound like America's answer to The Stone Roses, but twice as good. This is the best return of a psychedelia band in the '90s. The entire record is great. I listened to it over the weekend and I didn't hear a bad thing on it." Zeb Norris WXLE, "The shiver in my spine can be translated as my body screams, 'This could be the next BIG THING!' If you're concerned about crossover, start with 'Falling Down,' otherwise proceed to the irresistible hook of 'Don't.'" Greg Roberts KFMU, "This is great! We were on this one early, and we're adding it next week with spins. It's just a sweet sounding record. It reminded me of Toad The Wet Sprocket. Michael Been did a great job producing. I see a big future for these guys." Bryan Tarbox WCYY, "I really like this record. It holds definite possibilities. After listening to the overall sound — I thoroughly enjoyed it." Ken Allen KTHX, "We added this immediately, and I definitely want to do more with the album. This is a great sounding quasi-pop record that's pretty damn good. It's one of the better things that I've listened to last week."

THE HOT CORNER

Warren Zevon, Mutineer, Giant By the time you read these words of wisdom, you should have the full Zevon album in your hands, which means now is the time to give "Mutineer" some serious spins. With early adds including WRLT, KMMS, KSPN, WMMM, WVAY, KTAO, WIVI, WRNR, KRCC, WUVR, KCSU, KFMU, KFMG, WKVT, WKVT, WEBK & KRVM, we expect to see Mr. Zevon crack a smile any day now.

Bryan Tarbox WCYY, "I love Warren Zevon. I may be biased, but the guy could fart in a microphone and it would sound great." Tim Tobin, Upper Valley Radio Network, "We've added 'Poisonous Lookalike' and 'Mutineer' off the sampler, and they're both working great here. Can't wait to hear the full album." Jeff Bieri KRCC, "Thanks, Matthew, for the advance full length copy. We've been playing it for weeks. You can't go wrong with Warren Zevon!" Shawn Taylor WVAY, "We're playing 'Poisonous Lookalike' and it's working very well here. It's perfect Warren Zevon. I really like it." Ian Taylor WKVT, "All I have is the sampler. The title track, 'Mutineer,' as well as 'Rottweiler Blues' are classic Warren Zevon and I love them. I can't wait to hear the album. This is just wonderful stuff." Don Ferrell KRVM, "I love it, love it, love it! This man is incredible. Warren Zevon is living royalty in the Triple A format."

The Roches, Move, Rykodisc Can We Go Home Now, the forthcoming new releases from the group, opens with the lilting angelic voices of sisters Maggie, Terre and Suzy Roche, and for a moment, it's 1975, and you're hearing those heavenly harmonies for the first time on their debut, Seductive Reasoning. But you quickly realize that it is 20 years later, and you're listening to what is arguably the strongest album the trio has recorded. Suzy takes lead vocals on the first single, "Move," an animated tune replete with poetic lyrics that take a sardonic turn, that is going for adds this week.

BULLETINBULLETINBULLETIN

Our impeccable Atlantic Records sources tell us that the lead single from the Batman Forever soundtrack is a brand new U2 tune, "Hold Me, Thrill Me, Kiss Me, Kill Me" and it will be at every station on Wednesday (5/24). The full soundtrack is scheduled to hit stores June 6th.

SINGLE SPOTLIGHT

The Innocence Mission "Bright As Yellow," A&M

Jody Denberg KGSR, "We've been itching to play this record since we got it last December on the A&M sampler. With the rise of the Triple A format and success of bands like Mazzy Star, hopefully '95 will be a breakthrough year for this great Pennsylvania band." Jon Peterson WCBE, "Trippy, melodic, sophisticated. I've gotten great phones every time I've played 'Bright As Yellow.'" Dave Leonard WKZE, "Their previous work had a very moody sound which I liked, and this new stuff follows in that direction." Shawn Taylor WVAY, "I can't wait to hear this album. I love the Innocence Mission, so I'm sitting on the edge of my chair for this one."

Rod Stewart "Leave Virginia Alone," Warner Bros.

Jody Denberg KGSR, "It's not as A/C sounding as his recent material. The acoustic base of the song and the fact that it's written by Tom Petty makes us want to give this a shot." Don Ferrell KRVM, "I like this single a lot better than some of the stuff he's been putting out lately — it's not so A/C sounding. I like its appeal. We're already receiving a positive response here at KRVM. Between his soccer, his wife and his hair, I'm glad to see that Rod can still find time to put out music, and I'm thankful he did, he's given us a great song. I'm happy and our listeners are happy — we're just giddy for Rod." Ron Sorenson KFMG, "'Leave Virginia Alone' is a pretty tasty single that is working fine on the mighty FMG."

TRIPLE CROWN

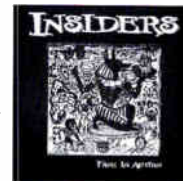

Jennifer Trynin, "Cockamamie," Squint/Warner Bros.

Preaching from the street with a welcomed hard edge is the lyrically crafty Jennifer Trynin. Aggressive delivery and a precise sense of melody make Ms. Trynin much "Better Than Nothing." Speaking of that, did you hear the single at the end of the last sentence? If you did, then you know we speak the truth. Jen's heavy guitars on "Happier" and "All This Could Be Yours" will rock the shit out of any pair of speakers. Also check out her softer side on "Do It Alone." So what are you waiting for? Play this Cockamamie record, already! Jeff Hansen KPFT, "The single 'Better Than Nothing' is. It's got a fresh, alternative sound that will work for us here. Jennifer Trynin adds a nice depth to the mix. I'm looking forward to hearing the entire album."

Insiders, "Fate In Action," Monster Disc

Maybe it's Fate In Action that the Insiders would return to the scene once again with such a strong record. After legal problems in the early '90s, this successful '80s band has released albums in '92, '94 and now again in '95. Dynamic songwriting is the main element of this band's effective chemistry. "Taste Of Glory," "Midnight Moon," "Another Little Freedom" and "Fate In Action" all get an A+ for AAA this semester. So don't stand in the way of fate. Play this.

Timbuk 3

High St. has serviced us with a new EP from the new Timbuk 3 album A Hundred Lovers. They are working two tracks from the album, "Legalize Our Love" and "Inside Out" — either of which would make a nice follow-up to "Sunshine Is Dangerous" and the title track, which have gotten the most play. The best thing about the EP is the version of "Bankrobber" that was recorded in KBCO's Studio C. This is a song that should have appeared on the album, but was left off for some reason. Pat MacDonald's guitar work is tremendous, and the song has a killer groove!

Stephen Bruton

Producer and songwriter extraordinaire Stephen Bruton's latest is called Right On Time (Dos). Here's a guy that is one of the most respected figures in the Nashville/Austin scene, but who somehow has not been exposed to the public at large. We now have the chance to do just that with songs like the title track, "Day Drinking" (with Delbert McClinton), "Help Yourself" (with Delbert and Bonnie Raitt), and a wonderful cover of "Please Send Me Someone To Love." Stephen will soon be on the road and coming to your town, so act now!

Chris Isaak

With Forever Blue (Reprise), Chris Isaak has given us his best album to date. From the first track, a boogie called "Baby Did A Bad Thing," this album had me tapping my toes and drumming on my desk. In addition to "Baby..." and the single "Somebody's Crying," check out "Go Walking Down There," which has an instantly familiar sound, "Things Go Wrong," which if it was released in 1957, would have had little girls all over the world screaming and crying, and "Goin' Nowhere." This is a great sounding album, and besides, Chris is soooooo cool!

Ron Sexsmith

Ron Sexsmith is another new face that has been generating much talk. His self-titled debut on Interscope has been turning heads all over the industry with its juxtaposition of dark melodies and uplifting lyrics. While the songs are mostly pretty mellow, they pack a serious punch. Try "Words We Never Use," "Summer Blown Town," and "There's a Rhythm" for starters.

Jennifer Trynin

You probably heard much about Jennifer Trynin long before hearing even one note from her debut album Cockamamie (Squint/Warner Bros.) Originally released on the indie label Squint Records, Jennifer generated such a buzz that Warner Bros. picked up the album and are working a single called "Better Than Nothing." The track is a great power-pop song with some serious crunch. If it doesn't scare you off, you'll love it. The rest of the album is similar, in that there are some good songs that may be a bit heavy for you. When you get the full album, listen to "Everything Is Different Now," "Snow," and "Beg."

Vigilantes Of Love

Following closely on the heels of a 4 track CDPro is the full Blister Soul (Capricorn) from Vigilantes of Love. We mentioned three tracks last week, so this week we'll point you to some others, including the title track which is signature VOL, "Offer," which is highlighted by some nice Hammond organ lines, the rocker "Bethlehem Steel," and "Parting Shot," a Dylanesque tune with the best lyrics on the album.

Loaded Vol. 1

EMI has released a compilation called Loaded Vol. 1, which includes some never before released material. The highlight is a brand new song by Jeffrey Gaines called "In Your Town," which is one of the best things Gaines has ever given us. The song comes from a session he did between the recording of his two albums. Other interesting tracks are acoustic versions of Tasmin Archer's "Sleeping Satellite," and Milla's "Gentleman Who Fell" and Sinead O'Conner's "I Believe In You," which were all available only on promotional singles until now, and a track from former Massive Attack singer Shara Nelson called "What Silence Knows."

Pete Anderson

You may know Pete Anderson's name from his production and guitar credits, which include Michelle Shocked, Steve Forbert and Blue Rodeo, among others. His self-titled album on his own Little Dog Records made some serious inroads at Americana, and is starting to get some play at Progressive as well. Accented by Pete's stinging guitar work and soulful vocals, tracks like "Blue Hour" and "Working Class" sound like winners to us. Also on the album is a very interesting cover of Hendrix's "Fire."

Jack McKeever

TEN SAINTS OF OPTIMISM

BY LISA RIEGEL

New York City based Jack McKeever is standing at the doorway of a Triple A breakthrough. His recently self-released EP, Ten Saints Of Optimism, is just a taste of what this eclectic artist has in store for the format. The stark production and penetrating lyrics of the CD have caught the attention of several labels and AAA stations, and the buzz on Jack continues to grow. When talking to him, you're immediately struck by what a refreshingly honest, easy-going guy he is. Jack is intensely passionate about his music, but he doesn't bang you over the head with it. But then again, he doesn't have to. It speaks for itself...

The last time we talked, you were heading out to L.A.? What was going on out there?

Jack: I was meeting with the video people.

Which song are you doing the video for?

Jack: The first song, 'Nothing Rather.' Black Dog Films is doing it, and Spencer Leigh is directing.

Is it going to be a performance video or a conceptual one?

Jack: It's going to be half and half. Spencer Leigh is really into conceptual videos. He did a beautiful video for Live.

For 'Lightning Crashes'?

Jack: Yeah, the new one.

That's a great video.

Jack: Isn't it beautiful? They probably spent ten times more on that video than we will be able to, though. I don't know if we'll end up with something that looks like that or not. They do great work, and they are so kind and supportive.

What brought your music to Spencer's attention?

Jack: I knew Spencer's wife years ago when I was living in Europe. I ran into her in Los Angeles when I was out there this winter. I gave her a copy of the record, not even knowing what her husband did. He called me up three days later and said that the whole office had been listening to the record. They've been great. They took a whole lot of CDs and their office promoted it and sent it out to people.

What made you go for a five-song EP (Ten Saints Of Optimism) rather than a full album? Did you have the material for a full album?

Jack: Yes, we have a lot of stuff we're working on. Some of it was the time thing. Suddenly this fall, I wanted to put something out, and it seemed feasible and quick to put out an EP. I could get the musicians to commit for a certain amount of time. We did everything in six days — rehearsals, recording and mixing. An EP seemed like a good introduction for us. People might be more likely to pick up an EP of someone they have never heard of, rather than an LP. I also liked the idea of the simplicity of five songs, and trying to make all five as strong as they could be. We ended up recording almost an album's worth of material, then we selected five tracks.

Ten Saints Of Optimism is a really impressive, stripped-down debut. There's a full sound, even though it's just the three of you. How long have you, Dom Richards and Hearn Gadbois been playing together?

Jack: We have been playing together as a trio a little over a year. The first time we got together was January of 1994, and we started getting together on a regular basis in May of last year. We've done lots of shows and played pretty regularly — not as regularly as I would like, but as regularly as we can at this juncture. I love this band, and I'm sure the full-length record we'll make at the end of the year will be with those two guys. We may have a couple of other guys as well, but the core will remain the same. It's a solo thing in that I write the songs and come up with the ideas initially. But they help me a lot, especially Dom, in terms of arranging and putting things together. I love my band. They are some of the best players in town.

I know you've been doing a lot of the promotion for the record yourself. What kind of response have you been getting?

Jack: It's been great. We have maybe 10-15 stations sitting on the verge of giving us proper adds. And we have about 25-28 stations playing it in light rotation. So many people told me when they first heard it that it would only do well in England and Europe. They said it wouldn't do as well here. I am pleasantly surprised at how things have gone in the last six weeks. It's amazing how many people have come out of the woodwork all over the country. They have been so supportive and kind. So many people told me, 'It's a horrible business. Do you really want to be in it?' But I feel so optimistic at this point, especially after the past few months. I'm most excited about having the luxury of spending six weeks making the next record. For me, if I could have my musicians for two months, and making a record was all we had to do, it would be bliss. I'm very inspired by what we can come up with in a short amount of time. If we had more time, it would be really good.

Has the EP been released in Europe?

Jack: Not yet. We're just beginning to try and make some of those contacts. It's a challenging process because it's just me doing everything. There are a few people from different fields who have started approaching me who want to get involved. We've spoken with a lot of major labels. We're just seeing what happens I guess. People have said to me, 'This label is good,' or 'That label is good,' but I'm realizing that it comes down to 'This guy Joe is a great guy.' It's individuals. If you can have a good relationship with the people involved, then that can turn into something.

How did you get started in your music career?

Jack: I've been playing guitar since I was nine. I had a guitar teacher since grade school. I always fiddled with it, although, I took a temporary hiatus from music when I wanted to be an actor in high school. I wanted to be a writer at one point, and I was spending more time writing than playing music. I went to Europe for a couple of years, and I spent a lot of time playing in the subways and streets. I had a great time doing that. Then, I came to New York and started working. I studied with some more people, and I jammed with a lot of bands. I had a real desire to try and find myself musically, and not just jump into something that was more derivative. I played with some jazz people here in New York, and studied a lot of jazz. That wasn't really what I wanted to do, but I learned a lot from that. You can learn a lot from jazz.

What other musical influences, besides jazz, have you had?

Jack: I would say one of my biggest influences is Joni Mitchell. I adore her and her work.

Do you like her latest album?

Jack: I do. I like it a lot. I don't think she's ever made a bad album. It's hard to see her perform, though. I don't think she's played in New York since '83, unless she's done private clubs. I would love to see her. I heard some people saying she might play at Carnegie Hall this spring. I have such an eclectic collection of who I listen to. I go from listening to Barry White to Royal Trux. I like John Martin and Joe Henry, too. I love that record Shuffle Town. It just got re-issued, which I was really glad about. A&M dropped him and took it out of print. That always seemed tragic to me, since they were such good records.

Are you going to sign with a label before you do the next one, or will you release it independently?

Jack: I have a hunch that someone will step in and do the next one. I want to figure out how to do it and make it work. There are a lot of publications that say once we play those towns they'll review the record and the show. That's one of the next steps, seeing how we can get a van and set up some shows outside of New York.

Dave Thompson

Little Dave And Big Love

Fat Possum/Capricorn

by Kai Turner, KCSU, Fort Collins, CO

With a salient unfurling of juke joint influences, Dave Thompson's debut release with Fat Possum/Capricorn records entitled Little Dave And Big Love is one not to be ignored. The album's title is derived from two sources: Big Love, after a tattoo on Thompson's arm, and Little Dave, because at age 24, some might consider Thompson a mere pup. But this pup plays the blues with the bite of a junkyard hound. Thompson's vocals, a voluptuous howl on songs like "Hey Momma" and "Ain't It A Shame", and his likewise passionate guitar work expose a depth of feeling that will reel you in. His youth in no way inhibits his ability to play genuine blues, or to write genuine blues tunes, such as "Standing Up On My Own" and "Mississippi Boy." Throughout the album, Dave displays a nimble and soulful domination of his instrument. It is people like Dave Thompson who will perpetually motivate your appetite for the blues.

Johnny Dyer/Rick

Holstrom

Shake It

Black Top

by Bruce Bjorkman, host of "1490 Bluez Blvd.

KBZY, Salem OR

There are a lot of things to like about Johnny Dyer's second Black Top release, Shake It. The musicianship is tight, in-the-groove, confident and well-balanced. Dyer's guitarist, Rick "LA" Holstrom, mastered this recording and he's done a wonderful job making sure that each musician's playing is balanced. Dyer's playing style is a low down, Chicago-influenced jump/swing; it's hot 'n' greasy, just like blues harp playing ought to be. Holstrom is right in there with him, playing off Dyer's harp riffs and shining the spotlight on some of his own instrumental compositions. Musically, Dyer and Holstrom together make a very formidable team, complimenting each other's playing, without stepping on one another. Tom Mahon's honky-tonk piano work and Tyler Peterson's acoustic bass playing help give the overall sound of this piece a full, rich tone reminiscent of 1950's jump/swing combos. Low points: out of the 15 tunes on this release (12 are Dyer/Holstrom collaborations), most of the lyrics are shallow, without compelling story lines and somewhat forgettable. This is a shame, for Dyer has a rich blues heritage, having played with such legends as Jimmy Rogers, JB Hutto and George "Harmonica" Smith. I also find Dyer's vocals sometimes as flat as his lyrics. With a little coaching, Dyer's baritone could easily convey a wide range of emotions.

Coco Montoya
Gotta Mind To Travel
 Blind Pig
 by Randi Anglin, host of "Crossroads"
 WVBR, Ithaca NY

Coco Montoya and his first album Gotta Mind To Travel demonstrate that sometimes the old ways are the best ways. In this case the aforementioned way is that of the apprenticeship system. Coco has the distinction of having learned under not one, but two of the best in the school of blues music. Montoya started playing drums and learned under the tutelage of Telecaster master Albert Collins for around five years. While with Collins, Coco began to play guitar. Montoya says that Collins went out of his way to teach the ins and outs of guitar. Collins taught him well, well enough that John Mayall heard Montoya playing guitar in a club and offered the rookie guitarist a job in the new Bluesbreakers. Montoya said playing in the shadows of Eric Clapton, Peter Green and Mick Taylor caused his playing to advance. The proof in that advance playing is in Gotta Mind To Travel. This is one of the best blues albums this year and sets the stakes incredibly high for any other releases the rest of the year. Montoya's passionate vocals and expressive guitar are the foundation for what will surely be an album that stands well in the test of time. For those of you (like me) who have the jones for Albert Collins, check out "Talkin' Woman Blues" featuring Albert on his trademark ice-making Telecaster. Blind Pig alumni, Debbie Davies sings harmony with Coco, making the song one of the high points of the album. Another high point is John Mayall's vocals, piano and harp on Montoya's "Top of the Hill." Al Kooper and Little Feat's Ritchie Hayward make guest appearances to add frosting to this very fattening dessert.

HARD Hitters

METAL Pick

Fear Factory, Demanufacture, (Roadrunner)

One of the few truly innovative bands to come from the realm of extreme metal, the members of Fear Factory combine their pummeling assault of riffs and snarling vocals with the frigid harshness of electronic music, and now, have added atmospheric and almost orchestral interludes on top of that.

They made plenty of fans with their debut release, Souls of a New Machine, but now that the release date of their conceptual creation Demanufacture is nearing, the anticipation from industry insiders is at a feverish pitch. Eric Pain of KMSA calls the release, "Nothing short of brilliant.", while Frank Webb of WTFX tells us, "I listen to it very, very loud and I like it very, very much! I will make a major commitment to this record." For a more to-the-point response look to Mike DePippa of WSOU who exclaimed that the record is "F*cking brilliant!". Demanufacture opens up with a roar, battering the listener with thick angry riffs (a la Pantera meets old Metallica) and then switches to ethereal, layered breaks as Burton Bell's vocals go from a snarl to a soul shaking baritone in a Type O Negative style delivery. One thing is sure, don't expect to hear the same thing for too long, because each song is a progressive journey that explores a different musical neighborhood at each turn. The initial focus track and video is "Replica", a song that marches right into your head from the get-go with a choppy percussion-heavy cadence that is even more built up with guitars, that will rise up and take on their own life from time to time giving the song a majestic feel. According to the bio, this album is focused around the Orwellian type struggle of an individual trying to live in a time when "the sense of individually is unacceptable...even taboo." You will feel the electric eye watching you as you explore Demanufacture. So, with Fear Factory putting together some high profile touring plans for this summer, and the positive early feedback from radio, there is plenty of reason to be afraid, Fear Factory will be setting up a long term production facility on the metal scene this year.

TOP Movers

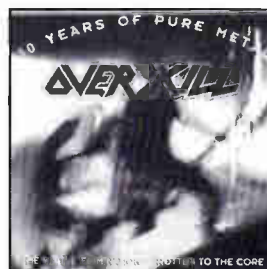

Ugly Kid Joe, "Tomorrow's World" (Mercury)

While it has been awhile since we last heard new tunes from the Ugly Kids, the band has actually been quite busy, touring overseas before they started working on their second full length release - Menace to Sobriety. Most recently, the band has added former Souls at Zero drummer Shannon Larkin and his immeasurable talents to the band and set out on a two week "Excuse to Go Snowboarding Tour". The tour was sponsored by LifeBEAT/Board Aid, and all of the proceeds went to the charity. The first track to hit radio from the upcoming release is the slow, methodical groove of "Tomorrow's World", which is already seeing some air-play at WHJY, WKNC, KMSA, KUNV, KWVA, WKLQ, WVXU, and WWSP. For the rest of you however, there is no time like the present to get this on the air. Up front and center is Whitfield Crane's smooth and resonant vocals, accompanied by the gliding guitars of Klaus Eichstadt and Dave Fortman. With the full offering around the corner, and more touring as well (here's hoping that they can all stay out of trouble and can play every show!), this summer is turning out to be an ugly one with "Tomorrow's World" from Ugly Kid Joe.

Overkill, 10 Years of Pure Metal (CMC International)

It's hard to believe that it has been ten years since Overkill joined many of those early metal bands who had an impact on the scene as it was unfolding all of those years ago. All these years later, the band is still devoted to bringing their punishing brand of metal to their loyal fanbase. The band's first live offering, a double CD entitled Wrecking Your Neck, is heading out and commemorates the band's decade in the music industry. The three song sampler in your hands now offers a preview of some of tracks included in this package, and span the entire career of the band. It starts off with "The Wait", all drums and riffs blazing off of their most recent offering W.F.O., which was a highly praised album for Hard Hitters stations. They move onto "Elimination" - the studio version is found on the 1989 release Years of Decay - which is characterized by its churning guitars and furious pace controlled by the bass work of D.D. Verni. Finally, Overkill goes back to their debut Feel the Fire for the final cut, "Rotten to the Core", a short but sweet onslaught with Blitz's vocals soaring to its characteristic highs. The band is currently in the studio working on a new release, in the meantime offer this special package to the Overkill fans in your audience.

Bob Evans, "Jersey City Spring Water" (EastWest/EEG)

No Vern, we aren't down at the farm despite connotations that a name like Bob Evans might give you. Actually this is an edgy rock trio that has earned their stripes the hard way: by touring coast to coast in their trusty van. Now ready to release their major label debut, The Bradley Suite (they also have an indie released album), the first cut for radio to focus on is the full tilt vitality of "Jersey City Spring Water". With an element of the sharp guitar punk oriented sound along with plenty of churning dissonance and spirited energy, this band can be comfortable at some of the harder rocking stations and at some of the more commercial. If you enjoyed the honed riff attack of Kerbdog and other fiery tempo bands, then the prospects of Bob Evans - the band - will appeal to you much more than any sausage that Bob Evans farms will send your way.

Season To Risk, In A Perfect World (Columbia/Red Decibel)

The four members of Season To Risk (Steve Tulipana - vocals; Duane Trower - guitar; Paul Malinowski - bass; and David Smyth - drums) have long been known for their use of feedback and distortion, and with this release, the two musical elements once again work for them helping the band churn out an intense, very bold album. An album that has depth, volume and aggression — staples of the perfect metal radio record. Tension and desperation are tethered to each song, giving the stark, irreverent guitar tones, anguished vocals and battering percussive structure an even more explosive sound. This moody, dark album has moments that elude to a melody, but the sturdy grooves, entangled with lines of distortion, dominate. Sonic guitars collide head on with aggression on tracks like "Remembered" and "Sleepwalker", while heightened turbulence is the foundation for "Vertical Drive" and the foreboding "Timebomb". Attach yourself to this record, then give your listeners an earful. Season To Risk is an exceptional band on all levels, and this album, coupled with this summer's tour with Corrosion Of Conformity and Monster Magnet, only proves that to be true.

Hum, "Stars" (RCA)

In the last 6 years, since their formation in 1989, Hum have created quite a buzz for themselves — independently releasing a variety of 7" singles and full length collections to go along with their massive touring. Now, the four man band (Jeff Dimpsey - bass; Tim Lash - guitars; Bryan St. Pere - drums; and Matt Talbott - vocals) have teamed up with RCA to release You'd Prefer An Astronaut, from which you should lend an ear to track number three, "Stars", serviced on a CD-pro with a radio edit to go along with the album version. When cued up, wispy, transcendental guitar tones and raspy vocals emanate from the speakers, but before long the song is off and running, exploring the depths of whirling guitar riffs, buoyant bass lines and intoxicating vocals. The band's individual musical tastes are evident on "Stars", as the tune is a wildly atmospheric one, where musical tangents abound and thick and wavy guitar grooves prevail. Which, of course, leads us to believe it could, and should, work on any harder edged playlists.

Tuff, Religious Fix (Mausoleum)

This Los Angeles based band blossomed out of the decadent late '80s scene, and with their melodic and flashy approach to straight ahead rock n' roll, they soon found themselves pulling in plenty of airplay and selling some records, partially due to their hit ballad "I Hate Kissing You Goodbye". Now they have returned with a new deal, and surprised some people as the focus of a mystery band competition and the songs on that three song EP have garnered enough airplay to pull up to the #41 spot on the Hard Hitters chart already. Now the full offering, Religious Fix, is hoping to pick up where the EP left off, and radio should take a peek at songs like "Daddy's Money" (written by Stuttering John), with it's meaty buzzing riffage, the attitude laden "Follow The Loser", or if a melodic rocker is to your liking try out "I Like What I See", with it's Saturday Night out on the town party mentality. The band's influences are Aerosmith, Cheap Trick, Van Halen, and Motley Crue, and you can hear bits and pieces of those artists in their songs, but with their own recognizable stamp. So, for those of you looking for your fix of Tuff, just satisfy that craving with Religious Fix.

World Bang, Pedofiend (Radikal/Critique)

The New York hard-core scene has spawned many metal radio favorites over the past few years, now with the release of Pedofiend from World Bang, the metal ranks have yet another collection of songs to add to their list of faves. Formed in 1989, this four piece (Ken Kushner - vocals/guitar; Paulo Amaral - guitar; Tom Paetzel - bass; and John Barros - drums) originally played the alterna-leaning industrial clubs, now they have turned to the hard core circuit and have put together a five track disc full of caustic highs and lows. Built on extremely heavy guitar grooves and angry - but likeable - vocals, the music moves with a fervent energy creating songs that are powerful, maybe even a little bit dangerous. Melodic hooks and industrial tinges can be heard in the mix, lending a bit of subtlety to the harder elements, giving "Domino", "Skin" and "Elias" a unique enough musical blend to make them stand out on your show. 20 adds came in last week, with spins reported at KEYJ, KISW, KZRK, WDBM, WKTA, WTFX, and WWSP making for impressive first week impact.

Crawl, Earth (Pavement)

The brutally heavy sounds of Crawl came slithering out to radio this week, and one thing is dramatically clear: this trio (Jason - guitar/programming; Tom - vocals/bass; and Tim - guitar/programming) spew forth enough fury to match any four or five piece out there. Similar to the progressive nature of Fear Factory, the band uses programming samples and electronic music to aid and supplement their fearsome onslaught. The initial focus track is the opening "Skinned", a patchwork of broken choppy sounds that can be likened to a soundtrack for the apocalypse, and has already pulled in adds at WAIF, WDBM, WVUD and WWSP. Formerly known as Bleed, this band has already seen some response from their self-released EP and from various shows - apparently an elaborate event - with bands like the Cro-Mags, Biohazard, and Entombed. While the band may hope to "crawl" their way onto your airwaves, we think that the music of Crawl is more likely to blast through your walls instead.

How much of an introduction does White Zombie really need? We know them, we love them, they have kicked our ass live (if you couldn't make it to one show out of the two and half years they were touring, then turn the page) and they are back for more. When La Sexorcisto first hit back in April of 1992, the response from hard rockers was immediate and potent, with the band scaling the charts and hitting the road for their marathon tour. While we all expected great things from the Zombies, it seemed impossible to top songs like "Thunder Kiss '65" and "Black Sunshine". Well, they have managed to achieve the incredible feat of not only equalling, but surpassing their major label debut with the thundering grooves of Astro Creep 2000. Just as the album was coming out, Sean Yseult, the talented bassist for the Zombies, gave us a call to chat about the release, the tour, and to give us a peek into the world from the unique vantage point of the eyes of White Zombie.

By Holly McCormack

What have you guys been doing promotion-wise?

Sean: We just had a huge in-store at the Tower Records on Sunset Boulevard. Kids were lined up for four and a half hours. We didn't get out of there until 5 am. That was our big event for the record coming out here. There were almost 1000 kids. It was pretty out of control.

I'll bet the local cops weren't too happy.

Sean: I don't think they caused too much destruction. It was fun.

Do you anticipate being on the road for this album as much as you were for the last one?

Sean: I think this year we'll be out for a good year, as opposed to two and a half years.

You guys were on the road forever. How long did it take you to write and record this album?

Sean:

We were on tour the whole time. Our last tour was in Japan at the end of May, and in the beginning of June we got back and started writing immediately. We were in the rehearsal space writing for three months and then we went into the studio and recorded it during the fall. We had it done by Christmas. It would have taken longer if we needed it to, but it all fell into place pretty quickly. We were jonesing to do some new stuff.

I guess after all that time you're sick of playing the old stuff.

Sean: We actually went through some of the old stuff during rehearsal the other day, and it's pretty fun to play. I always think, 'I don't feel like hearing that song again.' And then I start playing it, and it's still fun. I haven't heard the stuff for six months, so it's okay.

How different was the atmosphere in the studio this time for the writing and recording as compared to when you began work on La Sexorcisto?

Sean: Completely different. It went so smooth and quick. Not that we were rushing, but everything fell into place. John's drumming was phenomenal. He never missed a beat. Usually the drum tracks take a while. I think he nailed the whole record down in three days with a few lunch breaks in between. Totally incredible. So that gave the rest of the band a lot of freedom in the studio and extra days to mess around with tracks and sound. It was a lot of fun. Working with Terry Date was a lot of fun, too.

He's a great producer, too. What kind of production differences do you see between the two records?

Sean: Terry did this record, and there is a certain sound he achieves. I don't know how he does it, but he does. Everything he touches, from Soundgarden to Pantera, sounds great. I've always wanted to work with him. Andy Wallace is great, too, but he has a different thing going on. Also, we were pretty rushed with Andy Wallace. We didn't have a lot of time or money to make that record. With this record it wasn't the 'sky is the limit,' but we could do what we wanted with time.

How many label people stopped by during the making of this one?

Sean: No one, ever. Not even our manager, really. No one intervened, so it was pretty cool. The label waited until we were done.

A lot of people like to say that Beavis and Butt-head broke White Zombie, even though you had plenty of sales before that kicked in. How much impact did the cartoon actually have on your success, and how does that make you feel as a band?

Sean: Whatever. It helped, so we're not complaining. We know what went on and how we broke, and our fans who were there the whole time know what happened—how long we were on the road and how many records we had sold. It wasn't like we were undiscovered before that point. We had sold 300,000 records, and were happy at that point. Having your video shown on a cool, prime-time show doesn't hurt. Like I said, we're not complaining.

Why do you think it took MTV so long to realize that was a viable video?

Sean: I don't know if they ever did. Mike Judge is responsible for everything that goes on Beavis and Butt-head. He puts on the Cramps, the Ramones, Ministry and other cool stuff. I give him more credit than MTV. They are responsible for some bands. Some bands they shove down your throat for months and months, and it's on every five minutes. Even when we were a Buzz Clip, it wasn't like that for us. I was on the road so I didn't watch much TV in general, but they didn't show it that much.

Was there a lot of tension on the road, considering the drummer situation wasn't ideal for you?

Sean: The shit kind of hit the fan with the last show with him to be honest. There wasn't a lot of tension as far as that goes. Touring was fine, it just fell apart toward the end. It wasn't so bad.

Did John Tempesta do any songwriting or did he contribute solely on the drums?

Sean: Mostly the drums, but I consider that part of the writing. Any time a drummer comes up with a cool rhythm, or a certain way to interpret a song, that's pitching in their share. When I come up with a bass line for one of J's riffs, that's part of the song. Some things started as riffs. Some things start from something J has written. All the songs start from something, but everyone puts in their share.

Is songwriting collaborative?

Sean: 100%.

In some bands there are one or two main song writers and the others just do their contributions.

Sean: We can't work that way.

Are there difficulties being a woman on the road, being with such a large group of men?

Sean: I've pretty much always been friends with more guys than girls. It's not a hard thing for me to hang out with guys and be part of the boys' club. It's never been an issue in my book, being a girl or not.

At one show I saw a fan trying to take a picture of you when you were getting off the bus, and you seemed startled that he wanted to take a picture just then.

Sean: I probably just woke up. Usually when you catch us off the bus, we've crawled out of the coffin, and it's kind of rough when they grab you right then. It's not a choice time to answer questions or take photos. I'm always confused for about the first hour after I wake up. I'm in a dream state. It takes me a while to deal with people. Especially when your sleeping schedule is all screwy. You sleep whenever you can.

In the new release I noticed a lot of different influences. Did you take a different approach?

Sean: I've had a few people ask me about influences. It's one of those things. No one makes a conscious effort. Anything we've seen and done in the past three years has had an influence on us in some way. I can't attribute it to any one thing. Two things making it different from the last one is that we haven't been on the road for a long time. We're thinking in terms of songs we would have fun playing live. The second thing is the way we use samples on this record. We've always used samples on records, but this time we wanted to incorporate more into the music. We have entire tracks that are just rhythms and songs and stuff. We filter in and out of songs. There aren't any real direct influences from any one thing in particular.

Where do you find your samples?

Sean: These were all created. Some of them came from an idea of something. Last time there were a lot of legal hang-ups with the rights to samples. This time we have a lot of samples that are just sound effects and rhythms, so we don't have to sit in a court room for a year. We wanted to use them in a different way, too.

Did you guys grow up reading comics? How does Rob come up with those lyrics?

Sean: Lots of movies and TV. It's all inside his head. He and J are both comic book fans. I'm more into horror movies and Scooby Doo and cartoons. I get the Cartoon Network and they're on all the time.

On the album, there are a lot of lyrical themes that run through the entire release. Was there an intention to have a concept record without the restraints of a definite story line?

Sean: Things piled on here and there and make sense to Rob. Some of it makes sense to us, and I'm not sure if any of it makes sense to anyone else. It's up to everyone to figure it out for themselves.

What are the next steps for the band?

Sean: We have a video for 'More Human Than Human.' That's just being released now. It's just been played once on Superrock on MTV. They might feature it this week. Rob might be on doing an interview. After that we'll see. Probably more videos. I'm not sure what songs we'll put on video. We're getting ready for the live tour now.

Do you get to put together your tour, as far as picking your openers?

Sean: Yeah. We've got the Melvins and Reverend Horton Heat. It's going to be great.

We'll be there!

God Lives Underwater, "No More Love," American

This track is buzzing hard this week, as more and more programmers are discovering this young band of musicians with a flair for producing records as well as writing them. You can find it on the "Johnny Mnemonic" soundtrack, as well. There's plenty of energy on this standout cut that demands attention from the rockin' stations as well as those dance oriented stations that are looking for some edge. "No More Love" covers both of those bases. The driving rhythms are broken up by tempo breaks of pulsing synth as if it were a 12" remix. This Pennsylvania band scores big for creating such a large sound from a home recording, and bonus points for doing so on a debut EP. They'll be on tour all summer, sharing dates with Maids of Gravity, KoRn and 311. This one will play fine after noon, especially on beach radios.

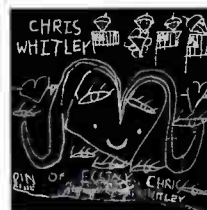

Big Audio Dynamite, "I Turned Out a Punk," Radioactive

The Clash reunion rumors were fun while they lasted, but what do you do now? Should you lock yourself in the studio and replay London Calling for 18 hours in protest? Maybe better for your job security would be some spins of this jam from Mick Jones and company in a new label debut. It's a feisty song that is destined for the big board. Required reading is the June cover story in Musician Magazine, and the Mick Jones oral history of punk. Here's one of the elder statesmen slapping down his hand again in the midst of the punk resurgence. And it's a classic-sounding royal flush.

Jennifer Trynin, "Better Than Nothing," Warner Bros.

With a voice that begs for comparison to Joni Mitchell, and a track that grits teeth like a garage jam, "Better Than Nothing" is the first single from the most talked-about new artist at the Bunny. It is a catchy pop record that will hold up over many spins. And it opens up the floodgates for this artist whose record, Cockamamie, contains enough strong material to secure radio air for the rest of the year. There's a significant hook on this song, and the whole atmosphere breathes of fun and frivolity, a timely tendency indeed.

Chris Whitley, "O God My Heart Is Ready," Work

Ahh. New Chris Whitley. With a voice unique in the rock and roll idiom, Chris Whitley resounds with authority — no matter what the texture he chooses to create. And with his latest release, the essence of raw rock and squawl power is barely recognizable in terms of his previous releases. Suffice it to say that this is Whitley doing what Whitley feels called to do. With compelling and furtive glances at the red glow of mania found throughout Din of Ecstasy, Whitley nearly sings eyebrows on "O God My Heart Is Ready." It's the sound of dobros being smashed. And of an artist following his instincts.

Dave Matthews Band, "Ants Marching," RCA

The follow-up to "What Would You Say" is here. Thank God. We do indeed love the first single, it's just that this band has more to offer than what is captured in that tune, and it's time for more. "Ants Marching," is infinitely more musical, and certainly as provocative. If you played "What," you saw positive results. Dave Matthews made the hole; then he filled it. If they liked "What," they'll flip over "Ants Marching." KRRK, KKNB, KXPX, WKRO and WRXQ did this week. It's also getting the before-the-box air on WEQX, WVBR, WWCD, KLZR, 91X, and others.

Dag, "Lovely Jane," Columbia

We know that the funk hasn't quite caught up with the rest of the format's other favorite food groups. With more and more great records coming down the pike that pay homage to the form, it's about time we take the hint. At least give it a try. This North Carolina band has studied the gospel of Parliament. They worship at the church of Isaac. And they'll be touring their asses off. They transform the classic '70s style into a retro characteristic of a '90s band, borrowing certain earmarks while inflicting their own sound. It is this resulting musicality that is required listening this week.

The Blue Up?, "Breathe You Out," Columbia

Even Tori Amos sounds kinda normal compared to this band at times, although the essences and colors involved within the grooves of this record are strikingly beautiful and alluring on their own merits. The vocals reach for rollercoaster highs and lows, the arrangements seem boundless and entirely creative. The album's both hypnotic and lunatic, like great sex. "Breathe You Out" is comparatively well-grounded and no less compelling. And it's already on at REV 105 (16). It is a standout track amidst the echoes of familiar faces and sounds you have in store for this week's music meeting display.

Lisa Cerbone, "Blue Frog," Ichiban

This artist makes sweet music with her latest release Close Your Eyes. There's a singer/songwriter mentality to most of the disc, and some lighter AAA tunes that are sincere and alluring. "Blue Frog" alternates between folky acoustic-sounding electric guitar and uptempo driving rock, and definitely merits air at Alternative. Her wistful voice rings with high-frequency edge, a Kate Bush-influenced delivery and a smooth, satisfying command over every intangible.

Primus, "Wynona's Big Brown Beaver," Interscope/AG

If you hated Primus before, you still will. The rest of you will find this animal ready for action. Big college airplay was an automatic assumption, as this band stands in its own league. Big commercial calls are already spinning, too: WHFS, WBCN, KROQ, Q101, KNDD, WDRE, KWOD, and others. This little pet keeps on going (the Energizer Beaver?), extracting itself from mere buzz status into a full-blown feeding frenzy. The dam song picks up WOXY, WRAS, KOME, LIVE 105, KUKQ, KXRX, KBBT and others.

Ivy, "Get Enough," Seed

This catchy number is catchin' on, picking up WOXY in addition to the air at WMRQ, KACV, KJEE, WEQX, WHTG, WPFM, LIVE 105, REV 105, WDST, WRXS, WWDX and others.

Beowulf, "2 Cents," Restless

Punk AC/DC. And it's not shutting up. On at LIVE 105, WBCN, REV105, WXWX, KKNB, KLZR, KJEE, KZRQ, ZROC and others.

Wilco, "Box Full of Letters," Sire/Reprise

This rootsy climber is full of call letters. CIMX, KROQ, WBCN, KRQT, KTCL, KITS, KXRX, KOME...and spots up at 50* this week.

Sugar Ray, "Mean Machine," Atlantic

The Hot Rod Lincoln From Hell rides high with some INDY 500 action at WRZX, and other adds at WMMS, KXRX and WRXS. Already on at KUKQ (27), REV 105 (13), KBBT (10) and others.

Surfing Brides, "Everything's Fine," IRS

This song sounded great on WDST over the weekend. KJEE, WVVE, WXWX and others surf in this week, and WEQX increases 13-15.

NOFX, "Leave It Alone," Epitaph

With NO B.S. support from KBBT (11-19), KEDG (22-25), KOME, 10-13), WXRX (10-13), WENZ (13-15), WFNX (13-15), WRXS (10-15), CIMX (27), KJEE (20), KRQT (11), KRZQ (10), KTCL (26), KROQ (11), KPOI (19), Q101 (14), WWDX (25) and others, you can't leave it alone any longer. Debuts at 45* this week.

KMFDM, "Juke Joint Jezebel," TVT/WaxTrax

CIMX, WAQZ and WBCN come in this week, KUKQ moves 29-38, the record scans 5K/week, and the joint is rockin' up the flagpole. Moves 50-46.

Baby Chaos, "Buzz," Elektra/EEG

Buzz is right. On at KROQ (10), KEDJ (22), Q101 (13), KPNT (16), KOME (24), WBCN (7) and others.

After a lunch of lemonade and brownies at Atlantic Records' New York headquarters, members of the band Sugar Ray model their new warm-up suits. They're definitely not nearly as hideous as Loverboy's red leather jumpsuits. And much easier to launder. (upper row, from left) Manager Chip Quigley; Murphy Karges of Sugar Ray; Vice President of Sales Pete Anderson; Mark McGrath of Sugar Ray; Manager Lee Heiman; Senior Vice President Andrea Ganis; A&R rep Nick Casinelli; Product Manager John Raso; (lower row, kneeling) Rodney Sheppard and Stan Frazier of Sugar Ray.

No winner in this smiling contest, as Grace Slick stopped by for a meeting with The Murmurs. The new CD-5 sports a cover of "White Rabbit," and Slick is the director of the upcoming video for the song. (l-r) Murmurs' Heather Grody, Slick, and Murmurs' Leisha Hailey.

At a party hosted by restaurateur Pino Loungo, The Red Hot Organization announced more than one million dollars in new grants for AIDS relief. The party was highlighted by Arista President Clive Davis's presentation of a check for one million dollars from the proceeds of the No Alternative album. (l-r) Paul Heck, Director of A&R-Red Hot Organization; Davis; Dr. Mathilde Krim, AMFAR Co-Founder; John Carlin, Executive Director/Founder - Red Hot Organization; and Roy Lott, Executive Vice-President/General Manager of Arista Records.

Terence Trent D'Arby gets close with Modern Rock Live's Executive in Charge of Production's Karen Glauber.

Thanks to Gary Schoenwetter, John Allers, Brooks Brown and everyone at WEQX for the good time at the Caulfields/Belly show they promoted at the Tulip Festival. They had a record attendance for the day, and both bands put on rowdy shows. The rain held off, despite reports from T and other Belly-ers that almost every outdoor festival they've played this year was marred by an electrical storm or two. The Caulfields rocked. They've got a strong selection of tunes, and are tight as a fist. No wonder people pay attention to what WEQX is doing — they're up against mainstream rock, Classic, Rock Alternative, AAA and another Alternative, plus college signals and other dial competition. It's a bitch of a radio market - there are plenty of good stations. WEQX is very competitive, and they get the job done without hemorrhaging big bucks for advertising... Talk about getting pumped up for a show. Bad Brains were scheduled to open for the Beastie Boys on a show in Montreal the other night, and lead singer HR blew a fuse just before showtime. Minutes before the start of the gig, HR refused to go onstage. Anthony Countey, Bad Brains' manager, tried to retrieve HR from the dressing room. HR then flew into a rage, breaking Countey's nose and seriously injuring other parts of his body during the tirade. HR also hit his brother, drummer Earl Hudson. HR was led off in handcuffs, and released later that night. Only to be popped for marijuana possession at the border. At press time, there is no word on whether or not the Bad Brains plan to rejoin the Beastie Boys tour. The three remaining members are on their way back to their hometown of Woodstock, NY. The band and all parties involved are reportedly stunned and extremely concerned about HR's emotional state. And the Spurs thought they had problems with Dennis Rodman... FX is joining with Fort Apache Studios for a series of live lunchtime concert broadcasts from Fort Apache's newly opened second studio in Cambridge. Thursdays will be the day for these concerts through June. Throwing Muses is May 1, The Muffs on June 1, Belly on June 15, Morphine June 22, and Billy Bragg June 29th... The HFS festival is sold out. WHFS listeners snapped 55,000 tickets in just under two hours the other weekend. They'll be giving away tickets up to the show. The second stage lineup features Archers of Loaf, Um, Scarce, Tripping Daisy, Candy Machine, Another May I and Suddenly Tammy. The main stage will feature Soul Asylum, The Ramones, Mike Watt, Better Than Ezra, Bush, General Public, Limbus, Juliana Hatfield and Shudder to Think... BCN presents the first River Rave '95, a free concert on Thursday June 1, from 5-9 p.m. at the Metropolitan District Commission's Hatch Memorial Shell in Boston. The lineup includes General Public, Better Than Ezra, Sleeper, and Letters to Cleo. Proceeds will benefit the "Friends of Shannon" fund, a non-profit charitable organization that was set up in memory of one of the women killed during the Brookline Clinic shootings. Promotions Guru Cha-Chi Loprete expects 60,000 or better... KROQ's 3rd Annual Weenie Roast & Sing-A-Long takes place June 17th at the Irvine Meadows Amphitheater in Irvine. The quaint, intimate gathering will feature Better Than Ezra, Bush, Elastica, Rage Against The Machine, Matthew Sweet, Rancid, Soul Asylum and Throwing Muses. Proceeds go to Heal The Bay, and APLA (AIDS Project Los Angeles)... Relativity Records just signed Washington DC band Edsel. The new record is scheduled for a Fall release... Dick Clark has just started his own label, Click, distributed by Columbia... Relativity recently signed Gov't Mule, a trio with guitarist Warren Haynes. Their debut album comes out June 27th, and all I've heard is how cool it is... Terence Trent D'Arby. "Vibrator" matches his usual beatific melodrama with the sharpest music the man has ever made." - Details (June)... WMRQ/Hartford is hosting a bash in New Britain on Friday, 6/2, featuring Bush, Letters to Cleo, Catherine Wheel, Eve's Plum, Wax, Jill Sobule and Jewel. Then, Promotions Director Jason Steinberg is taking a busload to the HFS-tival. All this after doing the White Zombie show in NYC the night before. Better go for the family size bottle... Surfing Brides... Shanachie Entertainment has expanded to NYC, while retaining their Newton, New Jersey address. Cindy Byram is now National Director, Media Relations, and Juli Kryslur is Marketing Manager. Shanachie's NY address is 13 Laight St., 6th Floor, NY NY 10013. Phone 212-334-0284, and fax 212-334-5207... There's a band on a small label called Another Planet Records called American Standard that, judging from this record Piss and Vinegar seems destined for some spotlight. They're being worked at college now... Imago Recording Company is currently concluding a new distribution deal, and their first release under the new agreement will be a new Aimee Mann record. It was formerly scheduled for a July release, but is now pushed back a bit... Alternative Distribution Alliance will be increasing by more than half the number of independent record stores equipped with ADA's CD listening stations. ADA provides national distribution and service to independent retailers, primarily of independent rock from small labels. Contact Lydia Sherwood at 602-579-8064 for more information... MOVES: KOME/San Jose has named Program Director Ron Nenni as Operations Manager, and Assistant Program Director/Music Director Jay Taylor as Program Director... WKLS/Atlanta part-timer Delia Rae segues to MD/nights at 93 KRO-FM/Daytona Beach. KEDG/Las Vegas morning man Alan Roberts and midday host Dusty Street both exit. Call them at 717-757-9402... Nicholas Hill has been named Manager/A&R at Koch Records. He is currently host of "The Music Faucet" on WFMU/New York, and served as co-owner of SOL (Singles Only Label) with Bob Mould... Seattle radio veteran Programmer/Consultant Ron Harris has been named PD at KDJK/Modesto. Ron's most recent position was at "The End" in Seattle...

How many people can fit in one trade shot? There's still some space in the upper-left. The Mighty Mighty Bosstones hang out backstage with WBRU MD Steph Hindley (left front) and WBRU PD Alexa Tobin (next to Steph, under armpit), among a few now-close friends.

A hotel in Tasmania has filed a lawsuit against Midnight Oil claiming the Australian band backed out of a contract to play a show in February. The hotel bar claims it lost $100,000 in ticket, liquor and food sales because the band booked the date and then pulled out three months later. Midnight Oil says the band never agreed to a written or verbal contract for the show. It also says the Rocky Cape Tavern was almost destroyed by fire in January and the concert could not have taken place.

Guitarist Noel Hogan of the Cranberries is hoping someone will return a rare light-brown Taylor model acoustic guitar that disappeared when the band played a free concert on the Mall in Washington, D.C. When 15,000 people showed up for the show, police stopped it a few minutes later. A group rushed the stage after the Cranberries went off, leading to a minor disturbance that ended up backstage. It was during the melee that Hogan's guitar disappeared.

REM resumed their world tour at the Shoreline Amphitheatre in Mountain View, California, with a two-hour show. "We finally named the tour," Michael Stipe told the crowd. "We'd like to welcome you to the first show of Aneurysm '95." Stipe kept checking on Bill Berry, who underwent surgery in March for a ruptured aneurysm. "Give Bill a big hand," Stipe told the crowd four songs into the set. Stipe also dedicated a couple of songs to his grandmother, Ruth Hatch, who died earlier this month. The band also played an unreleased song called "Revolution."

Oasis may be working with producer George Martin. The former Beatles producer approached the British band about working with them after Noel Gallagher dedicated a song to Martin at a recent British awards show.

Bass player D'Arcy says demo CDs of unreleased songs by the Smashing Pumpkins were stolen from his vacation home in Michigan City, Indiana, over a period of several months. Five of the ten CDs were found in a store in South Bend, Indiana, and a relative of a band member who lived in the house for a while has been identified as a suspect.

An man in India plans to sell a handwritten letter from John Lennon for $3,000, twice his annual salary. S.D. Bhalla of Chandigar, in northern India, was inspired by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi and wrote Lennon in 1969 asking for money to travel around the world. Lennon wrote him back promising to meditate on his request.

Bernard Sumner of New Order says Prozac helped cure a writer's block he'd been suffering for 15 months. He's now completed the lyrics for an album by Electronic, the project he formed with former Smiths guitarist Johnny Marr. Sumner was one of several artists who took the drug as part of a BBC-TV program about its effects on creativity. Sumner says the Prozac made his writing more extroverted. "What I tend to write about now is how the world looks to me, rather than how I look to me," he says.

Stone Temple Pilots lead singer Scott Weiland has been arrested in California on cocaine and other drug charges. The Sheriff's Department in Pasadena said Weiland was stopped by deputies after they saw him drive into a motel parking lot and buy drugs from his car. "When deputies approached Weiland in his car, he attempted to crush a glass pipe, the kind commonly used for smoking rock cocaine," says Deputy Gabe Ramirez. He said two more pieces of rock cocaine were found in the car, and "what appear to be tar heroin" was in Weiland's wallet when he was being booked. Weiland was charged with suspicion of possession of heroin, cocaine, and narcotic paraphernalia, being under the influence of a controlled substance, and driving under the influence. Weiland was jailed on $10,000 bail.

Variety reports that Oliver Stone's production company is working on a low-budget biographical film about the Neville Brothers called "Amazing Grace."

James Brown's wife, Adrienne, was admitted to a hospital in Aiken, South Carolina, after reportedly overdosing on prescription drugs. Mrs. Brown was in critical condition when admitted to Aiken Regional Medical Centers. Her husband has been with her most of the time since she was admitted.

Eddie Money says he went back to his blues-rock roots for his 11th album, "Love And Money" (on Wolfgang Records), which comes out at the end of this month. He spent two years recording the album in his small home studio. "This is what I love to do," he says. "Now I have the time to do stuff that also sounds good live." Money says his four kids were "very impressed when Homer Simpson sang 'Two Tickets To Paradise'" on a recent episode of "The Simpsons." Money and his wife are expecting a fifth child in September.

Fats Domino was briefly hospitalized after playing a show with Chuck Berry and Little Richard in Sheffield, England. It was the first time the three performers had been on the same bill. Domino, whose sister died two days before the gig, was advised by doctors not to perform until he got some rest and his condition approved. The 67-year-old Domino was found to have a "serious infection," according to the concert promoter. "He had problems because he has just recovered from pneumonia," a spokesman for Domino said. "He was rushed to hospital and told to rest at his hotel before going for a further check-up."

Italian tenor Luciano Pavarotti recruited Bryan Adams and Andreas Vollenweider to appear on a new live album, which he just recorded in his hometown of Modena, Italy. Adams and Pavarotti performed "All For Love" together.

Bruce Willis will sing and play harmonica with the blues band the Accelerators at a concert for U.S. troops along the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea later this month. Wilson had promised a concert last year when he broke ground for one of his Planet Hollywood restaurants.

Webb Wilder is veering into country territory with his latest album, which includes tunes by Waylon Jennings, Roger Miller and Rodney Crowell. Of course, it also includes Wilder singing the theme to the James Bond film "Goldfinger." "We have always been the people who have not lied about being from Nashville. If you're a rock & roll band, people say 'Don't tell people you're from Nashville, they'll think you're country,'" Wilder says. "We're also the band that never tried to get a country deal, but called our first album 'It Came From Nashville' in spite of that." The new album, "Town And Country" (on Watermelon Records), also features Wilder's version of Mott The Hoople's "The Original Mixed Up Kid," a 1970s stab at country music with lyrics that quote Lord Byron. "They (Mott) did 'It'll Be Me' by Jerry Lee Lewis and they took it somewhere," Wilder says. "It wasn't hokey or nostalgia or anything." And I think my favorite bands and artists...have a roots influence that they spiritually took to heart but really went somewhere with it to the point that you didn't have to know and wouldn't necessarily know what their influences were. They just came up with great music."

Steve Earle, who was released from jail last year after serving a month in prison for heroin possession has been charged with crack possession for the same incident. Earle's attorney says he was surprised the charges were filed and thinks it's an error.

Sonny Bono has undergone surgery to remove bone spurs from his spin. He's expected to recover fully in about two or three weeks. Bono, formerly of Sonny & Cher and now a Republican Congressman from California, has been undergoing physical therapy since the surgery at Bethesda Naval Hospital in Maryland.

Idaho band Shoveljerk, described as a cross between Pearl Jam and Soundgarden, will have an album out in July (on Capricorn Records).

Norway won this year's Eurovision Song Contest with "Nocturne," performed by a group called Secret Garden. The track features Irish violinist Fionnula Sherry. Spain's entry, Anabel Conde's "Come Back To Me," placed second, while Sweden won third-place.

Todd Rundgren says he's shifting to only CD-ROM releases because he wants to emphasize music for his fans. "Most artists will put biographical content on a CD-plus, which is a vain attempt to barrage us with information we didn't want in the first place," Rundgren says. "We would rather give people the additional experience of the art, not my personality. No one wants to see my baby pictures." Rundgren is still planning to go out on the road and will begin a concert tour in San Francisco in June.

Joey Ramone has joined the staff of Addicted To Noise, an electronically-published rock music magazine. Ramone's been posting reports from the what he says may be the last Ramones tour.

Blues man Charles Brown will be opening for Bonnie Raitt on her summer tour. Raitt will record some of the sessions from the tour for her upcoming live album.

Carl Albert, lead singer for San Francisco heavy metal band Vicious Rumors, has died in an auto accident in California. Albert, who had recorded six albums with the band, died after leaving a band rehearsal in Alameda.

After he finishes his tour with Pearl Jam's Eddie Vedder and Nirvana's Dave Grohl later this month, Mike Watt says he'll put together "a regular band with Nels Cline on guitar, Michael Preussner on drums and Vince Meghrouni on vocals and sax. They all played on the album, too. While we were in New York, I brought those guys in to do an MTV concert. Dave and Eddie wouldn't do MTV, and I don't blame them."

REM's Peter Dinklage had the chance to spend time at home in Seattle as he waited for the band's tour to resume. Singer Michael Stipe also lives in Seattle, though bass player Mike Mills and drummer Bill Berry still live in Athens. "I still have a lot of friends in Athens, but I get treated so much more nicely in Seattle than I ever did in Athens. Athens is full of, on the one hand, right-wing Baptists damning us to hell for contributing money to a women's health center, and on the other, ...punk rockers who think we sold out," Buck says. Buck adds that the night Berry became ill onstage in Switzerland was terrifying. "The worst thing was, it was in front of 20,000 people who didn't speak our language," he says. "I had all these visions of Altamont-type things that happen when a show gets stopped 40 minutes into it; like, what if some kid gets hurt because someone throws a chair or something? We just had to finish up as honorably as possible. We did three or four songs acoustic, without bass or drums, with Mike on keyboards, and it was kind of hollow and weird, and then Bill sent (drummer) Joey Peters up onstage to finish."

Melissa Etheridge has chosen singer-songwriter Joan Osborne, from Anchorage, Kentucky, to tour with her on her 38-city spring and summer tour. "I heard her song, 'St. Teresa,' and flipped," Etheridge says. "So I called her management and told them she had to open for me." Tickets to the tour were made available by VH1 in conjunction with Ticketmaster. "They've been real good to me," she says. "When they decided to change their format, they really pulled me in. It made a huge difference in the sales of my album. And so, of course, I've been willing to work with them."

The Rolling Stones will reportedly record acoustic versions of some of their biggest tunes this fall while they tour Europe. Don Was is expected to produce the tracks.

Ministry should have a new album out in August.

The Breeders have stopped working on a third album partway through recording it. Singer and bass player Kim Deal plans to re-record some of the songs for a solo LP coming out this fall. The Breeders will start anew on an album about the same time.

Eddie Van Halen reportedly may have to have hip replacement surgery because of the effects of years of alcohol abuse. Van Halen has apparently found that his hip hurts when he stands up to play in concert.

Boyz II Men canceled a European tour because singer Michael McCary became ill. Dates that scheduled in France this month have been postponed until September.

Mekons singer Sally Timms is going on a brief solo tour with two other members of the band, in support of her new album "To The Land Of Milk And Honey." It's quite a lot of songs people wrote for me," Timms says. "No, that's not truee — but some of them were written for me. And Jon (Langford of the Mekons) and I wrote some... It's a classic sound — it's not like 'rock.' The album is quite melancholy. It's a song album that kind of showcases me. I think it's recognizable to Mekons fans, but it doesn't sound as much like the Mekons musically in the sense that I can't say more mainstream, but the musicianship is different." Langford and Steve Goulding will back Timm up on the tour along with two other musicians.

Sheryl Crow, Joe Cocker, Terence Trent D'Arby, Crystal Waters and the Captain Hollywood Project will perform at the fourth annual White Nights International Cultural Festival in St. Petersburg, Russia, June 14-18.

Samples singer Sean Kelly has released a debut solo album called "Light House Rocket."

Drivin-N-Cryin' will release an album in September (on Geffen Records) called "Wrapped In The Sky," over a year and a half after the LP was originally scheduled to come out.

The Whitney Houston Foundation has given $125,000 to Hale House in Harlem to establish a "Time Out For Moms" program to provide a refuge for mothers living in drug- and crime-plagued neighborhoods. Release of Houston's greatest hits album, which is to include several new songs, has been delayed until at least late fall.

Latoya Jackson says she's planning to start a family with husband and manager Jack Gordon. "I want more than anything in the world to have a child," she warns us. "You can't be too busy to have a child. You have to put your life on hold." Jackson and Gordon were considering a divorce last year.

Rapper 2 Pac Shakur married his longtime girlfriend Keitha Morris at the Clinton Correctional Facility in New York on April 29. The two were engaged before Shaku's sexual assault conviction for attacking a female fan in his hotel room. Shakur didn't want to delay the wedding because he doesn't know when he'll be released from prison. The Manhattan District Attorney's office has won a stay of a judge's decision that would have allowed Shakur to be released on $1.4 million bond pending an appeal of his conviction. The prosecutors are seeking a hearing before an appeals court on the proposed bail.

A woman has filed a $10 million palimony lawsuit against Dr. Dre in Los Angeles. Vivian Leone Morgan says she lived with the rapper, whose real name is Andrew Young, from February 1993 through March 1995 and that he promised her that she would be "financially compensated and secured for the rest of her life" even if they broke up.

Rod Stewart has been having hits around the world since 1971. His new single is the first from the new album "Shock To The System." Despite his 25-year career, Stewart has only had five number one singles in Britain. He's about to embark on a massive greatest hits tour with a full orchestra... Bob Marley's "Keep On Moving" was written by Curtis Mayfield and originally recorded in 1977. DEAN CARLSON, KMTT/SEATTLE

Hello again from Caffeine Central. Big fat thank you to Julie Ray at Island from all the help at the Melissa Etheridge show last week. We hosted a mountain sound check party for a group of listeners including one lucky winner that not only got to meet Melissa backstage but asked for an autograph on her ass. We added some great music this week...starting with the new Soul Asylum track. Can't kiss with this one. We went with "As The Years Go By" by the Jeff Healey Band. And I have to say thanks to Arista for giving us a 4 track EP over a 1 track single. "Leave Virginia Alone" is a nice surprise from Rod the Bod. We also made room for Suzanne Vega and John Cale with "The Long Voyage." Very atmospheric and unique. And Seattle band Satchel gets the green light here at KMTT with "Suffering." It's powerful, organic and melancholy. With a blinding light at the end of the tunnel. Would you believe our Top 5 Phones lead with Buckshot Lefonque. Followed by Sonia Dada, Dave Matthews Band, Renegade Saints and John Prine.

CARTER ALAN, WBCN/BOSTON

WBCN would like to thank Grant Lee Buffalo and the Cruel Sea for the shows last week. During Mother's Day weekend we sponsored both concerts, gave away the tickets and broadcast the events live. In the former's case, we've been waiting patiently in Boston while Grant Lee Buffalo's local date with the Cranberries, rescheduled since November, finally got here. So by the time the group hit town, it was surfing in after two solid tracks from the latest album had blanketed the airwaves. Needless to say, the demand for tickets were high and the fans that got in proved to be nothing less than rabid (for the band, that is). The Cruel Sea was on its first jaunt to the US, so it used the Boston date as an opportunity to introduce itself to WBCN listeners. We were nightly-impressed by the band's performance and the versatility of its songs. Obviously, the honeymoon is not over. Thank you to Reprise and A + M for these two WBCN events. The WBCN Rock and Roll Rumble, our annual local "Battle of the Bands" has been raging on through six nights of preliminaries at the Middle East in Cambridge. By the time you read this, we will have completed the semi-finals, standing on the verge of the big, final night on Thursday May 25th. The event, now in its 17th(!) year, has recognized such local luminaries as Til Tuesday and Aimee Mann, Morphine, the Del Fuegos and just about anyone who's made it onto a major label from Boston. To all those label heroes who flew in to be part of the judging panel or to do some A&R'ing, thanks for dropping by. Hope you like the sound of the radio station too! Finally, coming up on June 1st, WBCN presents its "River Rave '95" on the banks of the Charles River in downtown Boston. The free concert will be held in the Hatch Memorial Shell, where the Boston Pops perform its famous 4th of July concert every year. Performing will be the splendidly-reviewed General Public, Better Than Ezra, Letters To Cleo, and fiery newcomer Sleeper. Although anyone can wander in free of charge, we'll be selling event T-shirts to raise money for "Friends Of Shannon," a charity formed in response to the terrible deaths at the Brookline Women's Health clinics earlier this year. The money is earmarked to help those and other Women's Health organizations purchase security equipment and provide better services. Thank you to the bands as well as Epic, Elektra-East West, Giant and Arista for the great lineup. Now we just have to pray for a sunny day.

RECKLESS ERIC & JULIE HOYT CHANNEL Z/AUGUSTA

Hello from the exceptionally warm breezes of Augusta, Georgia. Hope things are going as good for you as they are for us at Channel Z! Jeez, we've had some amazing bands come through lately! Thursday brought Compulsion, Latimer and Low Pop Suicide. Friday, Kevin Kinney came in for a show that was beautiful, and we can't wait to hear what that new "Drivin' & Cryin'" sounds like! Saturday, Del Amitri came to Augusta and, like usual, put on a fabulous show! Thanks to Gina Suarez for coming in for that! Dur Lady Peace played on Sunday, with the Johnny Hyde Quartet. If you have not seen this band yet, go see them!!! Can not emphasize enough how fantastic they are and what a gorgeous show they put on. Thanks to Stan Gleason for coming in for that. Toad the Wet Sprocket and Rusted Root are coming in this Sunday for a show, so we gave away Toad tickets and Cds all weekend. Thanks to John Cohen at Columbia for those. That is going to be a huge show! We've also got the Phunk Junkeez and A Flock Of Seagulls coming in this week, so we'll update everyone on that next time. Before we go, we wanted to send out special thanks to Interscope for those wonderful Big Brown Beavers!!! They have brought us massive joy. And just think, in radio stations all across the country today, the most commonly heard greeting was, "Hey! Nice Beaver!"

CATHY FAULKNER, KISW/SEATTLE

Shows Shows Shows. Mike Watt, Foo Fighters and Hovercraft played to a sold out King Theater crowd on Thursday (5/11). Scalpers were asking for as much as $150-200 for the $10 tickets. Strong shows throughout the event...lots of "star" sightings. Foo Fighters material is breathtaking. Just wait 'til Dave Grohl and company get their "stage legs" and really kick into gear live...they'll knock you down flat. The next night (Friday 5/12) the place to be was the Moore Theater. Heart performed two live shows in one night. They were filming a video to coincide with the release of their album The Road Home (August release). The show was outstanding...especially with the string section from The Seattle Symphony. The Wilson sisters never cease to amaze me.

JULIE MAXWELL, WOXY CINCINNATI & DAYTON

Let's dispense with the regular introductions and get right to the meat of the matter. We are well into the 11th annual 97Xposure local band competition. The deadline for entries is Friday, May 26 at 5:00. The top 20 countdown will happen live on the air Friday, June 2, from 8:00-10:00 pm. If there are any Cincinnati locals who would like to participate in this countdown and paring down of the list to the top 8, please call Dave Tellmann. From there we go to two semi final playoffs: Friday, June 9, at Sudy's in Cincinnati and Saturday June 10 at McGuffy's in Dayton. The final four play-off will be Saturday June 24 at Bogart's in Cincinnati. If you are a local, regional or national PoMo weasel with a sideline interest in A&R and would like to judge any of these events, please contact Julie Maxwell or Dave Tellmann and get your dibs in. Having some label bigwigs in the crowd would lend an air of class and big time showbusiness to the soiree. Thanks to: Atlantic, Reprise, Radioactive, Warner Brothers, Mercury, RCA and Capricorn records for participating in the 3rd annual Modern Rock 500 Shirts. Cool cars, cool bands and a nice addition to the annual Modern Rock 500 Countdown Memorial Day Weekend. Each local and national of the aforementioned labels will be getting a shirt free of charge (actually, they paid $200.00 for it). The rest of you will be feeling bad when they show up on the runways of Paris and Milan and you poor saps are sitting pasty white on the beach with no cool cover up. And for some of you, that's no laughing matter. We have a date for Lollapalooza: Tuesday, July 18, at Riverbend music center in Cincinnati. Once again we are the exclusive host radio station and once again we will be hitting up labels with acts on the main and second stages for summer themes promo items to give away at our hospitality booth. Stuff like WATER BOTTLES, SUNGLASSES, BANDANAS, BEACH BALLS, CUPS, and other assorted goodies needed to make this rock and roll road show a promotional success. The venerable and freebie minded Julie Maxwell will be getting in touch with you soon. You can run, but you can't hide. Time is running out for booking a band for the SATURDAY, AUGUST 26 show at Sawyer Point Park in Cincinnati. It's a 97X event sponsored by Procter and Gamble and by the Cincinnati Recreation Commission. We are looking for a medium to medium-large act to headline the event and a smaller baby "low dough show" type band to open the event. If you have someone routed through or near Cincinnati in late August, please call Julie Maxwell or Dave Tellmann and we will put you in touch with our promoter and get rolling with the promotion for the event.

AL SCOTT, KUFO/KBBT/PORTLAND

Hey everybody!! A big, hairy greeting to you and yours from Portland. Had a great week for cool music on KUFO. Filter made it on the add list this week with that goofy "Hey Man, Nice Shot". Dave and I added the new Soul Asylum single, "Misery", as well. Larry Reymann from Columbia actually played a bunch of the new Soul Asylum for me...and then he took off with it. I hate it when that happens! Had a blast at the Mike Watt/Foo Fighter/Hovercraft gig. That new Foo Fighters stuff impressed the hell out of me! On KBBT (The Beat), Numme and I added that new Primus thing. Greatest title for a song I ever heard. "Wynona's Big Brown Beaver"... Beautiful, Man! Pavement smacks down on The Beat playlist this week. Everybody loves this "Rattled by the Rush" tune. Well, it's been a hoot, Slim!!! Hurry up and leave me alone.

GUY DARK, WHDQ/CLAREMONT

We've followed the lead of Chris James of WTPA and a handful of other stations that aren't afraid to play releases on independent labels..."Angeline Is Coming Home" by the Badlees was spun 18 times last week on Q106. Any station that has had success with Counting Crows, Blues Traveler, or Hootie And The Blowfish can play this tune. Besides, if they get snatched up by a major, you can claim some of the credit! Thanks to my old college buddy, Paul Langton from Island for getting me Cranberries tickets at the eleventh hour so I could take a cute teacher to the show. I've been sweet on her for months!

KFMG/DES MOINES

You'll notice that KFMG's playlist will reflect all current music being played. We so a substantial amount of modern rock programming, mostly late night and overnights and in the interest of full disclosure we feel this should be reflected in our playlist. As the lines between AOR, Modern Rock and Adult Progressive become increasingly blurred, we felt it important that all of the music responsible for the success of KFMG be acknowledged. In a related development, we bid a fond farewell to modern rock music director, Rob Mikels. For now, modern rock calls and promotion should be directed to program director Mark Vos. Mark will take calls Mon-Fri. from 11a-3p central time. Mark is on-air from 3p-6p.

STEPHEN WOODWARD KWWA METAL GOD/EUGENE

Lack of sleep has made me nuts! As most of you know, I have been in the middle of a job search and interviews. This process is still ongoing and interferes with my office hours. Please be patient and understanding. I know some of you had to go through this stress, too. My hours are still 10 to noon on Tuesdays, however, I just might miss a couple between now and June 11. I would like to send my best wishes to Shawn Casey who has parted company with KZZK. Who know, if I have I have to leave town, I might be able to get him to take my job here. Speaking of the job, it looks like I may start reporting to Hits as early as this week. (yeah, I get Hits reporting just as I am about to leave.) Lots of great shows coming into the area! I am really looking forward to Skid Row / Souls At Zero because it is the day before my birthday!!! In fact, it is the day I actually get to celebrate my birthday, because on June 7th (the day after my BD) I have 3, yes 3, finals in Political Science. Psychotic isn't it? In the meantime, I am going to enjoy what little time I have left by seeing tons of shows: Sweaty Nipples/Floater, Warrant, Queensryche/Type-O-Negative, Skids & Souls, Korn, and the wonderful White Zombie/Babes In Toyland/Melvins show. Can't complain! See ya.

RON MICHELS, WXZR/EAST LYME

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Brian McEvoy (Mercury), Russ Miller (Rockworld), the always lovely Beth Krakower (Mausoleum), Munsey Ricci (Skateboard Marketing) and Jason Leopold (Milan Entertainment) for taking time out of their busy schedule to join us at our Birthday Bash on April 28th. Thank you. Now, music. Kevin Salem "Will". Add + Spins = Reaction. Oh! and what's up with radio not adding the Skids. Here's a band that has sold lots of product and a guaranteed gold record on Sub Human Race. Have I missed something? Or is it that following everyone else's lead is the new thing to do. Be an individual, be different do something your competitor isn't. Add Skid Row's "Into Another" and you won't be sorry.

DUG BROWN, WPUP/ATHENS

I hate this computer. The "Sorry, Ma, Forgot To Let Out The Cat" cd finally is out. 17 local bands covering the replacements. It's a tribute cd for the Athens Area Humane Society, and it is good. It's also available on vinyl for cool people, and I can tell you how to get one if you call me. 706-549-6222. Other cool local news: The Rokoko Music Festival, with 8 local bands (all fantastic) and 2 national acts for only $10. The nationals, by the way, are Sons Of Elvis and Magnapop. But then again, Magnapop's home is Watkinville, so I say that they are local, too. That's coming up on the 28th. Can't wait. Karen and I are getting along great, which has me confused. After all, she's not addicted to anything. I've no experience in relationships like this... Give me something sick and twisted that I can understand. Oh sorry, didn't mean to be bitchy, but it was Mother's Day this weekend. I'm going to go away now.

DAVE LOMBARDI

WARNER BROS., 818-953-3726

It's only Tuesday as I write this and it's already been a great week. Last night, I had the privilege of experiencing the first American R.E.M. tour date, and they were amazing. The set was heavy on material from the last two albums, and was filled out with perfect choices from the rest of the band's history. You'll be happy to know this is a Rock show, heavy on the guitars, bass and drums (Amazingly, Bill Berry looks fine!), and Stipe seems to really dig fronting the proceedings. He provided some baffling intros by describing "Losing My Religion" as a song the band wrote last Thursday, and then intro'd a brand new song (I think it's called "Punk Song" or something like that) by saying "You probably know this one from hearing it on the radio", but was basically just in great spirits all night. I don't care whether or not you play R.E.M., just don't miss the show. We serviced Jennifer Trynin's Better Than Nothing this week (by now I'm sure you know all about it), and were greeted with more fantastic early adds: WSHE, KTYD, KQXR, KWBR and WFRD. Come on, Rock radio! Let's lead the way! Special mention goes to Cathy Faulkner this week, as KISW joins WUFX as early supporters on our follow-up Goo Goo Dolls track, "Flat Top". Meanwhile, we're in the twelfth week with "Only One", which continues to close out beautifully (22-21 in the Monitor). These guys are touring in Europe with Teenage Fanclub but they'll be back in June to make a video and hit the U.S. circuit again. Go see 'em... I know I will. I'm out.

SCOTT "LO/JACK" DOUGLAS

VIRGIN, 212-332-0418

Got a few minutes on the way home to hound and pound about a couple of records. First, it may sound cheesy but I really got into seeing this fine land from across Niagara Falls. Something about the mist and the rainbow was really cool, juxtaposed with all the tourist traps. Toronto is a nice city and Kerry Gray is a freak... Copeland, you were right as usual... don't tell me you went to the money machine! What a great trip! Records: Simple Minds "And The Band Played On" keeps playing like the Energizer Bunny in turbo. Maybe you should think about it, too. Maid's Of Gravity are a really cool addition to the modern rock side of balance sheet.

THE HARD REPORT

If you're not sampling "Only Dreaming" at least in your new rock show, check it out. Gee, maybe could make the plunge into full-time rotation... what a concept. I am stoked about seeing Brother Cane in Wichita next week!! If you've seen their warm-up dates recently, you know why, too! And "Fools Shine On" is the cut and it's coming 6/12. In the meantime, you can also start bugging your local Virgin for King Crimson tickets and start buggin' 'em early. The shows are selling out like a suck-ah, and you know what that means. "People" is the cut we're chasing beginning 5/29. And, for the adult lean, Danny Tate "Dreamin'" just can't beat. Adds 6/5. Thank you for joining us for another edition of the Lo/Jack show. We're in touch so you be in touch, goodnight and have a pleasant tomorrow... Lo/Jacks to: Zachary Kane (nobody makes a better black pepper, bread, butter, and ravioli shake), Nards (you make mush money? I get-shu drink?), Sneed (always calls back), and Laura Bartlett, Bill Banham, Russ. Al, Nancy (and the whole Virgin Canada Hee-Haw gang... fuckin' aye, bay!).

PAM EDWARDS

THE WORK GROUP, 310-449-2203

First of all, congratulations to KRXQ for nabbing the programming talents of Curtis Johnson! With Pat Martin as his partner, the station will most definitely be highly listenable and highly rated. Secondly, thanks to everyone for making Chris Whitley one of the most added songs this week! After a couple of listens, programmers are recognizing what an absolute gem "O God My Heart I Ready" really is. Many thanks to WNEW, WZAT, WPLR, KEZE, KRZZ, KXFX, WDRK, KRAD, WCIZ, WZNF and the many others who are true believers and stepped out the first week! Don't you all need a good guitar-based song about right now??? Look for Whitley 3-night residencies to begin in Boston, Cleveland, DC, Philly and Miami this June. Sponge is just about gold off of "Plowed" airplay and "Molly" will take them to platinum status! Majors this week include WRXC, KQRC, WAVF, KLPX, WXRA, WXRC and many more. We rocket 90-55" in BDS after just 2 weeks of airplay. Just play this top 5-to-be record now before I have to invest in Gretian Formula! Thanks to all for our best airplay week ever at The Work Group! Now, it's back to WORK!

COLUMBIA PROMOTIONS

The times when this job is most gratifying is when you have to dig in a little and go for the long haul. The progress is steady and you make headway every week and the payoff is breaking an artist. The sums up our commitment as a company and a format to Jeff Buckley. We had the biggest sales week of the project last week and this week is even better. "Musicland" alone accounted for 9% of the country. On the Billboard chart the album moves from 174 to 168* up to almost 7000 units this week. The stories continue with Larry Miles from KLPX stating "This is a WINNER". Good upper demo response and not out of bounds for the core rockers. MTV is committed with buzz bin and two spins a day. The tour continues with rave reviews and sell-outs everywhere. The alternative picture is also growing: 99X is showing 40% familiar, KROQ upped the spins this week, and CD101 is getting #1 phones. Ask Oedipus why he thought this record was perfect for his station and he will tell you that it fights great between Led Zepplin and Stone Temple Pilots. Our spins increase every week and we move from 105 to 92 on the BDS chart. WE ARE IN THIS FOR AS LONG AS IT TAKES DO THOSE OF YOU NOT PLAYING THIS TAKE HEED! Next week is our "official" add week for Mother May I "Meet You There". There are a lot of fans out there and we have early airplay at Q104, WAAF, WAVF, KCLB and you will be able to see the band on tour with Soul Asylum (t.b.a.) This is a straight ahead rock record with a hook a mile long! Dokken just keeps on rolling nearly doubling the requests coming in with 14 in the third week of airplay! #3 most requested at KISW and Top 5 at KHOP, KXFX, KIBZ, KBER, WHTF, WBUZ, KTUX, WKLL, WRKL, WROC, KEYJ, KOZE, KDUX. Album was officially in stores May 16. BDS is outstanding with an increase of 150 to 460 spins. From 76 to 49* on the chart. THIS RECORD IS FOR REAL! I'm tellin' ya, elevate your mind! C.O.C. - up next with "Seven Days" and we grad the early add at KISW and KILO last week. Anyone coming off "Clean My Wounds" should take a listen to this track and get ready to rock this summer on tour with Monster Magnet. Pink Floyd "What Do You Want From Me" will be in your hands May 26 with "official" adds May 30. This is from the double live CD Pulse coming June 6. I'm out- GO SUNS!!!!

CHUCKIE GRAVITY

VIRGIN, 212-332-0421

Massive Attack has set out to re-define Modern Rock radio with it's musical genius. MASSIVE ATTACK! "PROTECTION" KROQ, LIVE 105, KDGE, 91X, KNDD, KNNC, KXRX, KXPX, KTCL, KBBT, WBFR, REV 105, KGSR, KCRW, KSCA, KTCZ, WYEP, WXEP, WXLE, WKOC, WXPN, CIDR, WBOS, WOXY, WBRU, MTV ALTERNATIVE NATION and more committed for next week. Spin. Answer the phones. See sales. Add the record. Easy. 8 months of work, and the buzz is foaming. Join the MASSIVE party before the next book. MAID'S OF GRAVITY: WCHZ, WOXY, WBFR, WDOX, WCBR, REV 105, WHTG, and lots of tests. "Only Dreaming" is the track. Modern Rock stations are the target. The band hits the road with God Lives Under Water. See them. Feel them. Love them. THE VERVE: Feedback so far from old and new fans: AMAZING. The track? "On Your Own." A song that we can all relate to. Ships Friday 5/19. This will give you time to listen, test & ADD on June 5th. Easy. You will be happy. Coming soon: WHALE, GERALDINE FIBBERS, LENNY KRAVITZ, SMASHING PUMPKINS. King Crimson tour starts soon. All dates are SOLD OUT. Hum? Sounds like you might want to get involved. ROYAL TRUX are off to Europe to tour with Teenage Fanclub. Thanks to WFNX, WCBR, WRAS, WDRF Underground Network, KLZR for hearing the diamond in the rough: "You're Gonna Lose."... We have "RAY-O-VAC" being built with a KILLER re-mix by the Butcher Brothers (Urge Overkill). The song is a classic modern rock teen angst anthem about Generation X and how it all began with a battery. We have all used a "RAY-O-VAC". Your listeners use "RAY-O-VACS" too. ADD MASSIVE ATTACK. We have the national story, airplay, sales, phones. You know what to do. Add the record. Look out for THE VERVE single. THE VERVE are the future of Modern Rock & Roll.

ROADRUNNER ALTERNALAND

What some folks on America Online are saying about Kevin after seeing him live with Wilco: "I love Kevin Salem. Soma City is a wonderful album. By the way - he does Chris Bell's "I Am the Cosmos" live and it's insane!" "The man can play some mean guitar solos. "Will" was the highlight of the show." "If you want to hear a great album, pick up Kevin Salem's Soma City. The songs go from good to great, not one weak one in the bunch." "Kevin Salem ripped it up good... I simply must plug Kevin's Soma City for those of you who haven't checked it out yet." Modern Rockers who have been "on the fence"; wake up! "Will" is the ultimate springtime song that plenty have told me drags in calls from the ladies (don't you care about the demo? Or is it still all about acne-laden 15 year old boys). And speaking of reaction, what do you think "Will" being KNNC's #3 call-out research track of 35 records? See through the glut and find out why this song has worked for stations like WBCN, WFNX, X96, WRLG, KJEE, KLZR, WHTG, WXWX, REV105, WDST and more. AAA lovers have another taste of Salem with "Amnesia," complete with two great unreleased tracks. This song is one of the strongest cuts from the full record, with some stations having played it all Winter long (KTCZ, for example). It's never too late to begin supporting this great "new" artist! Type O Negative's "Summer Breeze" is on the way as Seals and Croft are rolling over in their grave...er...oh yeah...they're not dead yet.

MICHELLE KRUPKIN

VANGUARD RECORDS, 310-451-5727

I feel that my dialogues this week will only be lessened if I did not thank the folks at the Hard Report for running the soon-to-be-infamous pictures of OJ's favorite house guest and me (You'll be seeing the pic soon in other trades — "Lookout!") It's only a matter of time before rumors of Kato and me enjoying wedded bliss start circulating in the Enquirer. Pleez! But you can't fault me for knowing a good promo op when I see one. And I would be remiss not to mention the big buzz on Peter Case's "Torn Again" Yes, yes, yes, you're getting this album now. If you don't have one by time you read this — call me. Many trade editors who have this release in advance are ga-ga over it and soon you will be. Going for adds May 30th on ye ole Triple A. Ta ta til next time...

TIM KOLLETH

ALLIGATOR RECORDS, 312-973-7736

C.J. Chenier's new record, Too Much Fun, is proving that it is the AAA/PAR recording we thought it would be by picking up great adds from WXRT, WDET, KTAO, WRSI, WRRX, WFUV, KCMU, KPIG, KDIR, KOZT, KVNK, KSPN, WKNU, WVAV, WRZE, KXGO, WFPL, WCBF, WNCW, KRQC, Upper Valley Network, KRQC, KSUT and others. It's getting some feature play on KGSR and KTCZ as well. Give a listen and keep an eye out for this one. The adds are still coming in, supporting my belief that this release is the most accessible zydeco disc out there. The lead single, "Man Smart, Woman Smarter," is fitting in nicely with stations that believe in spicing up their sound with great tunes regardless of musical genre. The rollicking sounds that pump out of Too Much Fun are perfect for the season. What better music to hear while stoking up the grill? For those who haven't joined the party yet, a Memorial Day add would be a most excellent way to get the summer rolling. Laissez Les Bon Temps Roule! The hard hitting single by harmonica monster Sugar Blue is out. The explosive songs entitled "She" and "Gucci Gucci Man" from the forthcoming CD, In Your Eyes, are getting rave reviews from programmers and listeners alike. Instant approval toward a major breakthrough for Sugar Blue. If you think Sugar Blue is just a blues guy, you better listen again. This purely rocks!

Season to Risk's full opus In A Perfect World is ready to go. For all you new comers to the world of STR, intensity is their middle name. Picture Johnny Lyndon of the Sex Pistols meets David Yow of the Jesus Lizard meets a banshee. Yup, that paints the live picture of singer Steve Tulipana ripping it up on stage. See STR when they open for COC this summer. Is Dokken killin' or what? Trivia question: The song "Take It Outside Godboy" from Foetus' Gash album is taken from what hit television show? Thirwell and Co. are starting to request so don't quit just yet kidders. Be sure to catch the voice of Jim Foetus Thirwell on the latest F-CD and on those wacky Squirt soft drink commercials.

The bad news is that the release date for the new Forbidden album entitled Distortion is being pushed back to June 13th - the good news is that it's definitely worth the wait! Killer tracks and awesome production should pay off down the stretch. Also back by popular demand on June 13th are The Spudmonsters, with their follow-up to "Stop The Madness" entitled "No Guarantees" (the only guarantee here is the heaviness!). New releases from Experiment Fear and Dead Orchestra round off this stupendous month of metal from Massacre. Want your copies? Then check your mail or call me at 818-763-8397. The Knicks are off tonight so I'll settle for Chicago/Orlando - the giant screen and pretzels are beckoning...I'm outta here!

Full Circle's Negative seems to be showing up on all the charts with a bullet! Thanks to everyone who is giving the band the time. Everyone seems to love the first two tracks "Way Of Life" and "Negative" but on this cd every track is a killer. The band should be hitting the road over the summer and we will keep you updated on the dates. Munsey still is lining up interviews so if we missed you let us know. The new Chastain Sick Society has been completed and will be released in the fall. New lead vocalist Kate French will be the female voice of the 90's. You have been warned!

Next on the menu, we have Meshuggah's self-titled EP, sure to knock your teeth right down your fucking throat!!!! The full-length is coming! I think I've said all that needs to be said there. The rest of these were only on a partial servicing basis, sorry. Therion's Lepacca Kliffoth: gothic, doomy, avant-garde, progressive metal! Very cool. Very unique. Play this!
