HITS OF THE WEEK

SINGLES

THE JACKSON 5, "GET IT TOGETHER" (prod. by Hal Davis) (Jobete, ASCAP). The J-5 will please their many fans with this pulsating rhythm number that features a superb Hal Davis production. Disc should have no trouble getting it together chartwise. Top group just keeps getting better. Motown 1277.

JOHN DENVER, "FAREWELL ANDROMEDA" (prod. by Milton Okun) (Cherry Lane, ASCAP). Sub-titled "Welcome To My Morning," tune is another bright and positive ditty in the same vein as "Rocky Mountain High." Title cut from his latest lp should return singer-writer to the top. Programmers, welcome another giant! RCA APB0-0067.

EAGLES, "OUTLAW MAN" (prod. by Glyn Johns) (Good Friends/Benchmark, ASCAP). Follow-up to "Tequila Sunrise" is also from group's "Desperado" album. Written by David Blue, tune is a natural for both AM and FM airplay. Well produced by Glyn Johns, cut should easily shoot to the top. Asylum 11025.

CLINT HOLMES, "SHIOOLE-EE-DEE" (prod. by Paul Vance and Lee Pockriss) (Van-lee/Emily, ASCAP). Artist's first hit "Playground In My Mind" took almost a year to break, but when it did, it went all the way. Second outing, again produced and written by Paul Vance and Lee Pockriss, is another cutie that kids will love. Hit-le-ee-dee! Epic 5-11033.

SLEEPERS

CHEECH Y CHONG, "BASKETBALL JONES FEATURING TYRONE SHOELACES" (prod. by Lou Adler) (India Music Ink, ASCAP). That daffy duo offers a hilarious single from their new lp. Lampon of tune "Love Jones" should get lotsa airplay and sales. Joining in the fun are George Harrison, Carole King and Billy Preston. Give and go, go! Ode 66038 (A&M).

HAWK FEATURING JOEY DEE, "WASN'T IT A HEAVY SUMMER" (prod. by Steve Metz & Norman Bergen) (Pocket Full of Tunes, BMI). Yes, kiddies it's the same Joey Dee of "Peppermint Twist" fame. He's back with a Levine and Brown opus that's a terrific seasonal record. New label has a chart burster! Sunburst 521.

FIVE MAN ELECTRICAL BAND, "BABY WANNA BOOGIE" (prod. by Dallas Smith) (4 Star/Galeneye, BMI). Culled from their "Sweet Paradise" lp, cut is a shufflin' boogie that is a change of pace for group who hit with "Signs" a few years back. Written by Les Emmerson, song should perk up many Top 40 stations. Lion 160 (MGM).

DICKIE GOODMAN, "PURPLE PEOPLE EATER" (prod. by Dickie Goodman) (Cordial, BMI). It was 1958 when Sheb Wooley smashed with this novelty item. Leave it to Dickie Goodman to bring it back. Hot on the heels of the "Monster Mash's" successful re-release, this silly 45 should literally eat up the charts. Rainy Wednesday 204.

ALBUMS

ROBERTA FLACK, "KILLING ME SOFTLY." The year's biggest song is but one of many dazzling numbers on Ms. Flack's finest recording to date. The Joel Dorn-produced set features lovely orchestrations on songs like "River," "Suzanne" and the haunting "Jesse," as well as the always magnificent Flack voice. A stunning album package rounds out what is sure to be a solid platinum album. Atlantic SD 7271.

CHUCK BERRY, "BIO." Mr. Rock and Roll has made a masterful album of new songs that demonstrate all of the wit, insight and super music for which he is justly famous. Backed beautifully by members of Elephant's Memory, Chuck soars on the torrid title cut, "Rain Eyes," "Aimlessly Driftin'" and "Got It And Gone." Esmond Edwards has produced the best sound of any Chuck Berry album. The Berry best. Chess CH50043.

B. B. KING, "TO KNOW YOU IS TO LOVE YOU." The title cut, penned by Stevie Wonder, is becoming a big hit single for the King of the blues, and this album is filled with fine songs that put some pop into the funk. Dave Crawford has done a fine job on production, arranging and conducting, and B. B. makes Lucille sing out with torchy brilliance. Bullseye for B. B. ABC ABCX-794.

"LYNYRD SKYNYRO." This band plays the best Southern rock and roll since the Allmans, and their gutsy sound is built upon three superb guitars and fine vocals by Ronnie Van Zant. "Tuesday's Gone" is a great rock ballad and "Gimme Three Steps" is a tough chugger. Al Kooper's production is superb and L.S. should explode for his new label. Look out glitter kids, a real rock and roll band just showed up! Sounds Of The South MCA-363.

Capitol Income Soars

■ HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. — Bhaskar Menon, President and Chief Executive Officer of Capitol Industries, Inc., last week reported net income before extraordinary items of $5,232,000, or $1.14 per share, on sales of $142,901,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1973. This compares with net income before extraordinary items of $1,391,000, or $.30 per share, on sales of $129,688,000 in fiscal 1972. There were 4,578,000 average common shares outstanding in fiscal 1973 and 4,580,000 in fiscal 1972.

Commenting on the results for the year, Menon said: "Capitol's results in fiscal 1973 represent encouraging progress, particularly when measured against performance during the previous two years. Although net sales in fiscal 1973 were only 10 percent higher than fiscal 1972, and approximately equal to fiscal 1971, the net income before extraordinary items in fiscal 1973 significantly increased by 276 percent as compared to fiscal 1972; it will be recalled that the

A&M Names Three To Irving/Almo

■ LOS ANGELES — Jerry Moss, President of A&M Records Inc., has announced that effective immediately, Irving/Almo Music, a division of A&M, will be under the direction of Bud Dain as general manager, Lance Freed as professional manager, and Evan Medow as director of Administration and Rondor International.

Dain will be responsible for administering all domestic functions relating to Irving/Almo, as well as working with Freed on the professional level. He had recently joined Irving/Almo in the professional management division and was formerly an administrator for A&M's artist and repertoire department. Before coming to A&M last year, Dain was General Manager in charge of A&R and merchandising for Liberty Records.

As professional manager, Freed will continue to work closely with staff writers and on the placement of their material with various artists. He had formerly worked as an assistant to Moss and as the director of A&M's college department.

Medow will serve as legal counsel for all of Irving/Almo's domestic activities and will administrate the Rondor group, the international publishing wing of Irving/Almo Music.

company reported a substantial net loss in fiscal 1971.

"All the divisions and subsidiaries of Capitol contributed towards this enhanced performance. Notably rewarding sales and chart successes of both established and new artists, as well as exceptional new releases of Beatle product in the fourth quarter, brought considerable strength and momentum to Capitol Records. With excellent increases in sales over the prior fiscal year, both Audio Devices and Capitol Records of Canada substantially improved their operating results. Though sales volume continued to be the prime problem at Merco, more favorable operating results were registered in fiscal 1973. Toshiba-EMI Limited (Japan), in which Capitol has a 25 percent interest, creditably increased its sales and profits despite the severe stresses of the Japanese economy.

"In terms of human resources, it is my belief that Capitol's management team now exhibits the fundamental stability and confidence to meet the increasingly competitive challenges and opportunities ahead. Maintaining habitual attention to cost control, it is our aim to keep the organization energetic, well-tested and professionally competent."

Noting the improvement in the company's results, the board of directors has declared a dividend of $.25 per common share payable September 7, 1973 to shareholders of record August 24, 1973. The company did not declare dividends during the fiscal years 1972 and 1973.

At press time there was no word on the final disposition of the 42nd St. store.

The appearance by the Rolling Stones marks the first time in ten years that the internationally renowned group will be seen in performance on American television.

Chess said that the group will be seen in a segment taped at a recording studio in London. The segment was directed by Michael Lindsey Hogg, who is known for his direction of the Stones' first television performance of "Jumping Jack Flash" for the British variety show "Ready, Steady, Go" several years ago. Chess added that he decided to allow Kirshner the opportunity to premiere the tape on "Don Kirshner's Rock Concert" because of

Elections Highlight NATRA '73

■ NEW ORLEANS—The 18th annual meeting of the National Association of Television and Radio Announcers, NATRA '73, concluded here on Sunday (12) following four productive days of banquets, seminars, meetings, awards and elections. Much of the discussion at the convention revolved around recent allegations of payola in the record industry, and the organization's stand on that issue was put forth in a statement by Curtis Shaw, past president of the organization, who objected to the fact that black broadcasters have been "catching the brunt of the insinuations regarding 'pay for play,'" and expressed NATRA's intention to "continue to take an enthusiastic stand against payola, drugola and any other illegal activities in this industry."

Informed industry observers report that a number of the highest executives of major record companies were conspicuous by their absence from the convention, and some sources expressed surprise that film crews from CBS Television were in attendance at private seminar sessions. Some experts admitted doubt as to whether the material from the seminars would be used to present the industry in a positive light.

Among the convention's highlights were a speech by Stan Scott, Special Assistant to President Nixon, made at the Columbia Records dinner on Thursday evening, in which Scott expressed the need for

Capitol Adopts Price-Coding

By GARY COHEN

■ NEW YORK—The trend toward price-coding albums continues (Record World, Dec. 9, 1972) with Capitol Records the latest addition to the list of labels that prints the list price of the album in code on the album jacket's spine.

Capitol's Don Zimmerman, Vice-President of Sales for the label, told Record World that Capitol began price coding with their July release, and that all Capitol and Capitol-distributed labels will have the list price indicated in the future.

Among the other labels that currently print their list prices on albums are: the Warner-Elektra-Atlantic group, A&M, RCA, Mercury, UA, Buddah group, Chess / Janus, Bell, BASF and Muse.

more black-owned radio stations. Scott made the point that "... broadcasters have the power to change images," and he urged broadcasters to "extend community service, for they (the people) want answers other than just hearing music."

Seminars were attended by many of the more than 500 people at the convention. NATRA Workshops included a discussion of "Programming and Management" chaired by David Samuels, a meeting on the "Future of Gospel Music" headed by "Mother" Myrtle Francis, and a special F.O.R.E. Work-

Knight Sues N.Y. Retailers

By GARY COHEN

■ NEW YORK—Terry Knight has filed suit against five New York area retailers—Korvettes, Sam Goody, King Karol, Colony and Nappy's—charging them with trademark infringement by selling the new Grand Funk Railroad album, Capitol Records has refuted this charge by stating that it does have a license from GFR Enterprises to use the name Grand Funk.

The action by Knight, as filed in Federal Court here (9), alleges that "Korvettes, Colony, King Karol, Nappy's and Sam Goody have promoted and sold to the general public the Capitol Records cassette, 8-track tape, album and 45 RPM single entitled "We're An American Band" in connection with the service mark and trade names "Grand Funk" and "Grand Funk Railroad" (and that) these activities have been carried out without license or consideration to GFR." The suit seeks $3 million in damages.

Capitol Records maintains that it has acquired a license to use the name Grand Funk and, therefore, to issue records by the group. Capitol's legal department released a statement that said, "Capitol Records reiterates that it has a license from GFR Enterprises, Ltd. with respect to the names Grand Funk and Grand Funk Railroad and Capitol stands behind its product. We do not wish to say anything further because Capitol does not believe in trying lawsuits in the press."

The dealers involved commented in varying degrees on the action. A spokesman for Korvette's legal department issued a "sorry, no comment" but denied rumors that the chain had cancelled an advertising campaign for the album. Colony, Nappy's and King Karol reported that Capitol had agreed to stand behind them in

October Gilbert O'Sullivan Month

■ NEW YORK—Herb Goldfarb, London Record's Vice-President of Sales and Marketing, has announced the designation of October as "Gilbert O'Sullivan Month." Goldfarb noted that this announcement coincides with O'Sullivan's first U.S. tour and the scheduled release of the singer/songwriter's third London-distributed MAM album, "I'm A Writer, Not A Fighter."

Sly Greets Mott

RCA Consolidates

■ NEW YORK—It was reported last week that RCA Records is consolidating its warehousing facilities and has closed its shipping depots in Atlanta and Dallas. The sales offices in these two cities will remain open and are not affected by the move. Shipping will be done out of the Indianapolis and Hollywood plants.

Editorial:

Price Coding: A Positive Step

■ Record World endorses the practice adopted by a number of labels (see separate story) of printing an album's list price on its jacket, and urges all other labels—large and small—to adopt the practice. The price should also be printed on all tape configurations.

The indication of list price would benefit all record merchandisers—small and large record stores, one-stops and racks. A survey of dealers revealed almost unanimous support for the price-coding, for the following reasons:

- The proliferation of two and three pocket sets, with a multitude of "specially-priced" and "two for the price of one" albums.
- The ever-growing number of new labels, each with separate prefix and selection numbers.
- The rapid personnel turnover in both chain stores and discount centers.
- A growth in "variable pricing" with single albums selling for $4.98 to $7.98.
- A lack of familiarity with budget and classical albums, leading to wrong prices charged to customers.

Printing the list price on each album would save the undercharges and overcharges, as personnel would have easy access to the list price. It would save numerous calls to one-stops (especially from smaller stores that do not buy direct) inquiring "how much is this?" and "how much is that?" And for stores whose albums go to one location, while the billing goes to another, the expensive and frequent calls would be alleviated.

Perhaps the RIAA could instruct its member companies to adopt the coding practice, as a positive step in aiding the nation's record retailers.

Thank you, NATRA.

Jerry Weintraub on Management Today

By BEVERLY MAGID

■ Multi-faceted Management III is active in management, concert promotion, television production and in the running of Wooden Nickel Records. The peripatetic company lists as clients such artists as John Denver, Mary Travers, Ted Neeley, Geraldo Rivera, Denise Nicholas, Alan Price, the New Birth, the Main Ingredient and Cheryl Dilcher. Management Three also does concert promotion world wide for the Moody Blues. Chairman of the Board Jerry Weintraub, the subject of the following dialogue, gives strong credit to the Management Three "team," Sid Bernstein, President in New York, Sal Bonafede, director of West Coast operations and Steve Borkum, director of national promotion, for making Management Three what it is today.

Jerry Weintraub

■ Record World: Why don't we start with a little background—how you got into management, where you came from, etc.

Jerry Weintraub: I wish I knew how to get into that. I started as a page-boy at NBC with a little blue suit and a yellow rope doing guided tours and I told everybody I was an actor because you didn't need a degree to be an actor. So, people used to say, "What do you do?" and I'd say, "I'm an actor. An out of work actor," and actually, I was really a page-boy.

Then I went to work for MCA as an agent. I found out that there was a job opening there in the television department—commercials—and at that time, there were really no personalities doing commercials. There were "Lucky Strike" ads and "Old Gold" boxes that used to dance across the stage and things like that, and cans that used to dance. MCA was, in my opinion, a really great agency. I was a really lousy agent, but it was a great agency. And I got a tremendous amount of training there and I think, very, very good training. And I eventually led myself down the path of the management field, what I call the latter management field. Management is different today than it was years ago.

RW: In what way?

Weintraub: Well, years ago a personal manager usually had one artist. They traveled with him all the time. They took care of a lot of things for the artist that I don't get into and my office doesn't get into. And I do not have one client, I have many clients. And I believe that the strength of my company, my office is the fact that we are the kind of a business that provides strength for all the artists because we have strength with some and we can break new ones in. See, I don't believe in a one client/one manager relationship because I don't think you have the strength to really get things done.

RW: What do you think the responsibility of the "new manager" is?

Weintraub: The responsibility of the manager is to make sure his artist is presented in the proper way. That he has the right kind of record situation, which is all-important, as far as I'm concerned; that the record company is behind him. And in my particular field with my management company and my philosophy, there's much more of a promotional philosophy than a management philosophy because I believe in promotion, over-promotion. I believe in selling and over-selling my product until it hits and clicks.

Since this interview is timed around one of my artists' appearances, John Denver, his appearance at the Universal Amphitheater, why don't we talk about that appearance and I can kind of give you a breakdown on what we did for that. And then you can see, it's the same for all our artists. We started to plan this engagement, as strange as it seems, 19 months ago before Universal Amphitheater was even built, when it was in its planning stages and all we had seen were sketches. And at that time John was a relatively new star. He had his first hit record which was "Take Me Home, Country Roads." And we started to build towards selling him in the Los Angeles market, which was a very, very difficult thing to accomplish because John is not a Los Angeles kind of an attraction. In the minds of the press out here, even though we had gotten the most glowing reviews you could possibly get from the press, he's not a Los Angeles kind of an attraction and they had to be educated as to who and what a John Denver is and is going to be in the future. The press out here loves theatrical kind of shows. It's a theatrical kind of town and everybody's into the magic and the charisma and the excitement of the opening nights and the excitement of the Tom Joneses and the Bette Midlers and the Neil Diamonds and the Elvis Presleys and that kind of an attraction. Now John Denver's none of those things. The importance of John Denver came out of the Midwest, came out of Iowa, Nebraska, Chicago, it came out of Texas and spread to the coasts.

RW: Was that a deliberate approach?

Weintraub: No, no. They wouldn't buy him here. It was as simple as that. The radio stations here wouldn't buy him and the New York radio stations wouldn't buy him, so we had to take a different approach. Anyway, 19 months ago John played the Troubadour, which was his first exposure in Los Angeles. He had a hit record, the number one record. Now, we never do an important engagement with an artist without a piece of product to support him. Because without a record company behind you, to help you, you're just kidding around. Nothing's going to happen. You need that support, RCA is behind John Denver and has helped me tremendously through the last four years or five years, and John has turned out to be a very important record sale for that reason.

RW: Do you always work with the record company in terms of breaking a record?

Weintraub: Sure. We have our own national promotion man and we also hire independent promotion men and I also work the record myself. I like that. I get a big kick out of it. I find no more joy in this business than a record that breaks in Pittsburgh. When they order 5,000 pieces in Pittsburgh, I'm happy.

"... I don't believe in a one client/one manager relationship because I don't think you have the strength to really get things done."

In the personal appearance end, I get a big kick out of selling tickets. I mean, I probably would be, if I wasn't in the area of business that I'm in and doing what I'm doing now, I would probably enjoy working in a box office selling tickets, because I get no bigger joy than when somebody comes up and puts down $5.00 to see an artist of mine.

So we did the Troubadour with John, and we had a lot of offers here. Then we put out "Rocky Mountain High" and in support of that we went into the Greek Theater for four days. Sold out—tremendous. Then the top of it all was nine months later, the Universal Amphitheater, which is a great facility for an artist. And we did a tremendous promotional campaign with John out here.

RW: Is it unusual to make such far-reaching plans?

Weintraub: Not to me. I mean, I think if a management firm is

■ SUMMER DOLDRUMS SEEN ENDING AS ACTIVITY RESUMES: For one thing, Carly Simon has announced plans to go back into the studio here. The second week in September is the probable time frame; Richard Perry will again produce, and the album, one source says, "should be out around the end of the year, when her baby's due" . . . For another, Black Oak Arkansas have interrupted their tour to lay some tracks here for their fifth lp. Tom

Dowd is again producing; "High on the Hawg" is the working title, and October is the tentative release date . . . Also, the Pointer Sisters spent three days in Colorado recently, doing back-ups at Jim Guercio's Caribou Ranch for some songs on the upcoming Chicago album. Then they departed on their two-week tour with the group. A European tour, says Blue Thumb, is in the works for October, once their own second lp is completed . . . And Bell has signed Rodney Allen Rippe (or, if you prefer, Wodney Allen Wippe), that cute little devil from the Jack in the Box commercials, to reprise his song on disc. Rodney goes into the Larrabee Studio this week for same, with Snuff Garrett producing and, it's reported, Al Kapps doing new lyrics . . . Rumor making the circuit says that when Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young finally do perform together again, it will be at the Roxy (in 1975, perhaps?) . . . And there's apparently some release trouble at Capitol. Seems Yoko Ono has an album scheduled to ship next month, and John Lennon one they're planning for November release. Caught in the middle is Ringo Starr, on whose own album the artwork is still not ready, and who has let it be known—adamantly—that he doesn't want to come out at the same time as any other ex-Beatle's, or Yoko's . . . Stevie Wonder was due here over the weekend to check into UCLA Medical Center, reportedly because he'd rather recuperate there than in North Carolina . . . And Anon asks, with a twinkle in his voice, "Just who is managing Three Dog Night these days?"

AN ANECDOTE: Bob Dylan dropped in at the Troubadour unannounced two weeks back, to catch Tony Joe White and Kinky Friedman and the Texas Jew Boys. An employee gave him a tab made out to Bob Zimmerman. Furious, Dylan tore it in half and insisted on paying for his own drinks. Ah, show business . . . A sighting: Anon says he saw Roman Polanski at Tower Records Sunday last, buying albums "Like they were going out of style," and looking "just like regular people." Anon couldn't tell if there were any Alice Cooper discs in the stack . . . Drummer Bobby Caldwell has rejoined Captain Beyond, and the group's now back to the original four (which means Guille Garcia and Marty Rodriguez are out). They'll play the Whisky soon . . . And Boston's faves, Orphan, will be at the Troubadour next month,

In England, Promoting New Records Is Tough

■ LOS ANGELES—The next time a record promotion man tells you about the problems he's having in getting his records played, have him consider the plight of his English counterpart. As Tony King, promotion and a&r manager for Apple Records in England explained it, for contemporary music the only air play is on Radio I on the BBC. For these shows the music is passed on by a BBC panel which includes 6 producers. Even if it is selected, each show on the air can only play it once during the course of the day. Besides this the BBC is limited by the musicians' union as to how much needle time, which the amount of recorded music may be aired. "Unfortunately," says Tony, "most of the people at the BBC regard contemporary music as the BBC's stepchild. You can't ever imagine any of them playing albums at home for pleasure. This doesn't include the disc jockeys on the air, but it's not always easy for them to slip in music of their own choice on their programs." Aside from Radio I, there is Radio Luxembourg, and the weekend shows on the BBC which have a less restricted playlist policy. "Actually, that's probably the best time to have new product heard, so the young people can hear it. But here in the States you have more repeated plays of product; in England, if something is played once, and someone's left the room for that minute, well, he's missed it for that weekend, altogether.

The other possibilities for promoting records are jukeboxes, and discotheques, of which there are many all over the country. "Of course you keep calling the producers and disc jockeys all the time, but with their hands tied, it makes it all very frustrating. Also it affects the recording of records, because artists become so conscious of what they think will get airplay when they're in the studios." Of course, Tony has less problems than most because with Beatle product, he doesn't have to worry quite as much as someone with unknown product. Tony, who has been in the record industry since he was 16, working with George Martin and Air London, Andrew Oldham and the Rolling Stones, can't imagine being in any other line of work, no matter how frustrating or exasperating his day may be. "Hopefully, when the commercial stations start operating, it may open things a bit, depending on what regulations the unions put upon them. Also having the opportunity for English artists to perform and sell in the States is extremely good for business and helps to rejuvenate both countries." So, Mr. Promotion Man, when you get bummed out at your local tight-list-top 40-radio station, just remember it could be worse.

involved in evaluating new material in addition to artist signings. His duties also will include the maintaining of close liaisons with marketing heads in planning release of recordings by Columbia artists.

Charles Koppelman

Koppelman brings to the post a wealth of experience in the music industry, most recently as Vice President of April/Blackwood, the publishing wing of CBS Records. While at April/Blackwood he was responsible for that company's emergence as one of the major publishing operations in the industry. Under his direction, publishing agreements were reached with many top writers, including Kenny Gamble and Leon Huff, Thom Bell, Albert Hammond, Barrett Strong and Melanie. Since the first of the year, April/Blackwood tunes have accounted for more than 35 chart hits.

Before joining April/Blackwood, Koppelman ran the record production and music publication company, Koppelman-Rubin Music.

Federal Judge Denies Make-A-Tape Suit

■ DETROIT—A Federal District Court judge has denied a motion by Make-A-Tape, Inc., here, seeking to enjoin a number of record companies from suing or threatening to sue the company or its customers for copyright infringement. Make-A-Tape had alleged a loss in business as well as the threat of being required to defend a multiplicity of law suits since, in many cases, it had contractually undertaken to defend the users of its product.

The company manufactures two types of high-speed sound duplicators — the "Make-A-Tape" machine, which allows the user to copy a pre-recorded tape onto a blank tape, and the "Record - A - Tape" machine which allows the user to copy a pre-recorded tape onto a blank tape, and the "Record-A-Tape" machine which allows the user to duplicate a record on a blank tape cartridge.

In a suit brought in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, Southern Division, against eight record companies, Make-A-Tape sought a declaration by the Court that the use of the machines did not violate the infringement provisions of the Copyright Law. Plaintiff cited actions brought against its customers in New York, where a Federal District Court issued a preliminary injunction, and in Columbus, Ohio, where, the Court noted, the action is currently on appeal.

In his decision, Chief U.S. District Court Judge Fred W. Kaess denied Make-A-Tape's motion to enjoin the record companies from instituting infringement actions against the plaintiff or its customers. The Court also rejected Make-A-Tape's charge that it was being harassed by record companies who had been sending letters to its customers raising the possibility that infringement suits might be initiated against them. He analogized this case by citing a previous Supreme Court ruling which stated, "Patents would be of little value if infringers of them could not be notified of the consequences of infringement."

The Court further granted the record companies' motions to stay the proceedings in the Michigan Court on the ground that the issues involved are the same as those in litigation in Ohio and New York.

Portland Pirate Put Down

■ PORTLAND, ORE.—A temporary restraining order issued in April, 1972, barring J. W. Elliott from engaging in the unauthorized duplication of sound recordings was made permanent by Judge Richard J. Burke of the Oregon State Circuit Court for the County of Multnomah.

Elliott, who had been doing business as North American Tape Products, was sued in a class action by Warner Bros. Records.

Michael Brown To Phonogram A&R

■ NEW YORK — Michael Brown, founding member of the Left Banke and Stories, has taken a position with Phonogram's East Coast A&R department, it was announced by Phonogram Vice President/A&R Charles Fach.

Michael Brown

Fach, who headed the Smash label of Mercury during the heyday of Smash's Left Banke, has kept in touch with Brown through the years; the two decided shortly after Michael left Stories (who now have their first gold single, "Brother Louie," and chart album, "About Us") that a spot with Mercury A&R would be a good outlet for Michael's talents. Brown will work at finding new talent, producing, and writing original material.

Classical Power in Portland

By SPEIGHT JENKINS

■ NEW YORK—Alan Rich, music critic of "New York" magazine, wrote an interesting column on record merchandising in the August 13 issue of "New York." Tough his argument for the type of record salesman in classical music who knows his business and is ready, willing and eager to help a potential customer is an important and needed one, Rich begins his piece with an implication that should be corrected. He started asking friends in the record business he says, "as to why classical sales have slumped so disastrously in the past few years." The facts are rather different; though classical records are not eating up the market, they have in the last two years moved up from 2 percent to 5 percent of sales. This is a substantial increase, and in large cities all over the country the reports of sales in classical music seem even better than that percentage shows.

A strong argument for the strength of the classical business can be found not in New York or San Francisco, where one might expect it, but in Portland, Oregon. The state's largest city, Portland has a symphony, which plays eleven pairs of concerts each year, an up-and-coming opera company led by a young and exciting maestro named Stefan Minde and a non-exceptional number of community concerts — civic music type concerts. But it also has Music on Records, a record store run by Art Gunther, which sells only classical music. Intrigued that a completely classical music store could exist away from one of the U.S. music centers, RW contacted Gunther and discovered that his large store not only exists but prospers in downtown Portland (at Tenth and Morrison) and has recently enlarged by buying out a competitor.

Music on Records has an inventory of 60-75,000 records and tries to keep everything from the most outré European labels, to everything current from the big companies distributing in the U.S. He keeps all available records in instrumental, opera and ballet categories and moves close to pop only in a small section of film scores and, oddly enough, a section devoted to the "big bands."

Sales are helped in Portland by the things that help sales in New York: a good Metropolitan Opera broadcast, a fine concert, or a local opera scheduled ("We couldn't keep in 'Tristan' around the time the opera did it last May; they bought out every copy and every label."). One additional filip because Portland is on the West Coast: the San Francisco Opera. Whenever that company does something unusual, such as this season's "Favorita," sales pick up quickly.

The store, founded nearly thirty years ago, was already strictly classical, but Gunther has widened its scope and sales. He also takes an active part in the musical life of Portland: he has served as judge in the regional San Francisco Opera auditions and given pre-opera lectures for the local opera company. Coming up: a talk on "Les Contes d'Hoffmann" before the performance this fall.

The subject of how he makes his sales brings us back to Alan Rich's argument about the value of a knowledgeable, interested salesman. "Well, you see," he said, his soft-spoken tones conveying a high level of persuasion, "I just tell my customers what they have to buy. When something good comes in like Marilyn Horne singing Rosini on London, I don't let my good customers leave without it." Fortunately for the health of the business, Gunther describes his customers as all ages — "some who have come here for as long as there has been a store and a lot of young people who are just discovering Bach, Mozart and now, particularly Joplin."

And his customers do buy. On his advice and interest Music On Records has sold fifteen copies each of such unusual opera recordings as Philips' "Attila" and Angel's "Village Romeo and Juliet." And the new London "Bohème" sold the whole first shipment—five copies—the first day. Ten have now been ordered with orders pouring in from customers eager to hear the combination of Luciano Pavarotti and Herbert von Karajan.

Nisbet Brings Sovereign Stateside

By CRAIG FISHER

■ LOS ANGELES — One of the thorniest questions confronting the industry today, it seems, is how an act can be immensely successful in England and yet not achieve equal success in this country. How can a group like T-Rex, for example, or Slade, sell millions of records overseas without finding as responsive an audience here?

It is a question that London-based Sovereign Records, however, intends not to have to face. Instead, the label, distributed in the U.S. and Canada by Capitol, is attempting to launch its new acts here simultaneously with their re-

NARM Maps Plans For 16th Convention

■ BALA CYNWYD, PA.—The 1974 NARM Convention Committee will meet on September 29-30 at La Costa, California, to discuss and set forth the plans for the 16th Annual NARM Convention, which will be held March 24-28 at the Diplomat Hotel in Hollywood, Florida.

The Chairman of the Convention Committee is David Press (D & H Distributing Corp., Harrisburg, Penna.), and members of the committee are: Louis Kwiker (Transcontinental Music Corp., Gardena, Calif.); Don Weiss (All Label Record Service, Cleveland, Ohio); Leonard Singer (Associated Distributors, Phoenix, Ariz.); David Lieberman (Lieberman Enterprises, Minneapolis, Minn.); Jay Jacobs (Knox Record Rack Service, Knoxville, Tenn.); Howard Ring (Music Merchants of New England, Woburn, Mass.); Paul lease in Great Britain. At Capitol, August has been declared "Sovereign month," and an extensive merchandising campaign, dubbed "Music from the Mother Country," is currently underway to promote Sovereign's four new releases—by Flash, Peter Banks, Public Foot the Roman and Renaissance.

Ben Nisbet, President of the 20-month-old company, is here as well, and on a recent morning he spoke with Record World about the philosophy behind the current push.

"I don't honestly think England is a big enough country to break four albums at once," Nisbet said. "We start commercial radio next month—which may change things—and of course it's much cheaper to make records in London than here. But I really believe that if you're going to break your back to get a record going, you might as well do it here. I don't think it's any harder here to get lucky than it is in England, and the rewards are so tremendous—it's a fantasy world. Also, it's much more highly organized here; you feel as if you're part of an industry. And if you're breaking an album in this country, it gives great excitement to your acts—especially if, like Flash, they're touring as well. When a group

Charge N.Y. Station With Corruption

■ NEW YORK—Charges leveled by the president of a small, independent black-owned record company against a local radio station here allege that the station refused to play the label's records because the company did not buy advertising time, and have led to accusations by Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) National Director Roy Innis that the Federal Trade and Communications Commissions are "fostering monopolistic practices."

Ernest Tucker, President of Grassroots Records Inc., claims that when one of his promotion men, Robert Washington, attempted to get a record aired at WXLO-FM, music director Jeff Mazzei asked, "Why should we play a Grassroots record when we have major advertising companies that buy thousands and thousands of dollars of advertising spots, plus they take care of everybody?"

MONEY MUSIC

By KAL RUDMAN

■ Smash of the summer: Allman Bros. "Ramblin' Man." There were many delays in the release of the album and single, and the demand built up like a wall of water held up by a dam . . . and now the dam has burst. Product cannot be pressed fast enough to meet the demand.

It exploded 35-2 WBBQ, 18-12 WQXI.

It is on: WCFL, WFOM, KILT, WRKO, KJR, WHHY, WFIL, WAPE, WAYS, WSAI, WMAK, WIBG, WJDX, KELP, KLIF, KOL, KDWB, WAKY and many other stations. This band is the pride of the South.

Strong crossover action as indicated here since release: Isley Bros. "That Lady." It moved well, 22-17 at CKLW and 29-21 at KHJ and even in vanilla Seattle 37-27 at KOL who report "excellent sales and phones." Pop sales action is confirmed at WXLW Indianapolis and WAPE Jacksonville. This was the week that powerhouse stations became believers: WFIL, WMAK, WCAO, WHBQ, KXOK, WTIK, WCOL.

Looking Glass "Jimmy Loves Mary Anne." Many pop records have been taking longer and longer to break through, but they inch up week after week until the public gets used to them. WFIL Philadelphia was just about the first major station to go all out on this record. George Michael has consistently received excellent phone requests and it jumped 16-13. KGW Portland moved it 17-14 and they say "hit." It moved 18-12 at KJR and 18-16 at KOL in Seattle. It is charted at: WBBQ, WCOL, KILT and WJDX. New believers: KHJ, WSAI, KYA, WQXI, WFOM and KNOW.

Soda pop commercial becomes a smash record: "That's Why You Remember" Kenny Karen on Big Tree. It all began at WIXY Cleveland after a newspaper offer to send the music for the commercial to listeners who sent in 25 cents and a bottle cap of Faygo soda. At that time, 12,000 requests were received. The record jumped 40-20 at WIXY and there are big back orders. WTAE Pittsburgh reports "strong phones." This week it went on: KJR, KLIF, WIFE, WAKY, WFOM and it should spread next week . . . The version on Beverly Hills which has the title "Remember When You Were A Kid" has picked up a number of secondary stations, and there is some split play. We understand that Columbia now has a version out.

Immediate smash: Stevie Wonder "Higher Ground." It is already charted at: KHJ, KILT, KTLK, KNOW, WFIL, WIBG, KDWB, KJR, KOL, WAKY, WCFL, KYA, KELP. It is on: WHBQ, WBBQ, WHHY, WAPE, WLS, WIIN, WAYS. Reaction to the album has been sensational.

Mike Curb Congregation "Small Small World." This song is played at the Disneyland Parks, but was never available for sale to the public. WIP Philadelphia reported "good phone response." It has since gone on WFIL, WIBG and WPGC and has a wide demographic appeal.

Nader Sets Fall Rock Revival Tour

■ NEW YORK—Richard Nader has announced the fall schedule for the Rock and Roll Revival which in various cities includes the performances of Chuck Berry, Jerry Lee Lewis, Fats Domino, Chubby Checker, Bo Diddley, the Flamingos, Danny & The Juniors, Gary U.S. Bonds, Buck Rams's Platters, Shirley & Lee, The Del Vikings, the Belmonts, Freddy Cannon, the Moonglows and Roy Orbison.

According to Nader: "The success of our movie, "Let The Good Times Roll" will attract new audiences who have not responded to concert promotions in the past. This, coupled with an increase in the number of radio stations who are now programming more oldies than ever before, should make for an even more successful tour than in the past."

Nader has a talent budget for the tour to exceed $350,000 and he anticipates a gross in excess of $1.1 million. Production and tour manager will be Ray Renner, who directed Nader's other national productions.

Advance promotion for the 23-concert Rock and Roll Revival Fall tour will include one hour "specials" produced by Norm N. Nite of WCBS-FM. These customized specials include interviews with and the music of the stars who are slated to appear in each market.

peared with almost every major artist from Little Richard to the Beatles, and is now ready to embark on a major European tour with the Rolling Stones.

As the first black American to work and receive label credit with the Beatles and the first artist to be produced by an individual Beatle (George Harrison), Billy Preston has made a unique and important contribution to the music industry. His recording credits include work with Sly Stone, George Harrison, Ringo Starr, Barbra Streisand and Carole King, to name but a few.

At present, Preston has just completed his third A&M album, from which a single, "Space Race," has been taken. The new album features Preston's band, The God Squad, and is scheduled for a September release.

London Releasing 'Monster' Album

■ NEW YORK — Because of requests by both buyers and distributors, London Records' Vice President of sales and marketing, Herb Goldfarb, recently announced that London will rush-release Bobby "Boris" Pickett's original "Monster Mash" album. Goldfarb stated that "with the single riding high on all the national charts as it rapidly approaches second gold record status, the initial distributor's orders for the album are overwhelming and ties in with the nostalgia and monster trends."

Lillian Roxon: In Memoriam

■ The passing of Lillian Roxon is a tremendous loss not only to her friends and associates but to the music business as a whole. Her talents encompassed more than her abilities as a writer and critic, for she was unique in her ability to bridge generation and social gaps in explaining today's music.

Lillian understood the feelings and perceptions of the teenagers she counseled in Mademoiselle, the musical neophytes who learned from her "Encyclopedia of Rock" and the artists she wrote about in the New York Daily News. She was always willing to meet and listen to a new group or artist, to go out on a limb for those she believed in and to lend her talents to publicizing and promoting those individuals.

Lillian's wit, intelligence and sharp repartee made her a favorite at parties and publicity functions. She was more widely known than any other writer in the rock field, and the "Encyclopedia of Rock," an indispensable tool to many in our field, is her legacy.

It is hard to realize that Lillian Roxon's ubiquitous voice is stilled. We will miss her.

Atlantic Sets Quad Release

■ NEW YORK—Atlantic Records has announced that its first CD-4 discrete quad release will include the following six albums: "Hold On I'm Comin'" —Herbie Mann, "The Divine Miss M"—Bette Midler, "Spinners"—Spinners, "Raunch 'N' Roll" — Black Oak Arkansas, Donny Hathaway — "Extension of a Man" and "The Best of Aretha Franklin."

Nesuhi Ertegun, Executive Vice President of Atlantic, feels that these albums are strongly representative of Atlantic's new product, and engineer/producer Tom Dowd, who spent a great deal of time working to perfect the final masters, feels that the sound quality of the new CD-4 is the finest on the market.

Gerrity to WB Artist Relations

■ BURBANK, CALIF. — Bob Regehr, director of artist relations and development for Warner Bros. Records, has announced the appointment of George Gerrity to the post of eastern artist relations special projects director.

Gerrity, who will be based in Boston, has been with Warner Bros. for two years, during which time he did radio promotion for the label in Cleveland. In his new post, he will be working with Alan Rosenberg in coordinating artists' promotional activities and appearances in the northeast region, and will report directly to Regehr in Burbank.

ord of the year by five times. "We moved 2400 pieces the first week at full price. With the album on sale this week, we'll probably triple that figure in this week's sales. One store did 37 tapes in 2 days. I haven't seen an album like this since the Beatles 'Abbey Road.'" He added that sales of this one album in the chain are now at 5000, and that "people were waiting for this album, and it's bringing them out into the stores."

Other reports of strong sales: Waxie-Maxie went through 800 in three days, Alexander's in New York reported the album at Number One after only one week. Record Factory reported their San Diego store went through 250 copies in a day and a half, while Sam Goody's in New York reported "excellent sales and reorders."

Ed Rosenblatt, director of sales for Warner Bros., reported more calls on this album than on "any other album released in over two years, and we've released some pretty big albums in that period." Rosenblatt predicts sales of two million in the next eight weeks, and that "Brothers and Sisters" could be "the biggest album of the fall."

L.A. NARAS Panel Talk

■ LOS ANGELES—Continuing its series of panel discussions for interested members of the Academy and the music industry at large, the Los Angeles Chapter of NARAS has set the theme and title of their next open gathering: "Has Honest Music Disappeared Because Of Technological Tampering Or Is Creative Engineering A Contribution To The Development Of Music?". The event will take place in Hollywood at RCA's Studio A on August 23, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Chapter President Jay Cooper announced that the discussion will be the first in a series on engineering and production, and will feature a diversified panel of Academy/industry members including Bones Howe (producer), Lincoln Mayorga (musician/composer), William Malloch (musicologist/radio personality), Earl Palmer (musician) and Sy Mitcnell (engineer).

Listener-sponsored radio station KPFK-FM will tape the proceedings for eventual broadcast in Los Angeles as well as offering the program to affiliated non-commercial stations throughout the United States.

CBS/Holzer Pact

■ NEW YORK — Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc. and Howard Holzer of Holzer Audio Engineering Corporation (Van Nuys, California) have signed a cross licensing agreement covering Holzer's U.S. Patent No. 3,646,574 and CBS' Patent No. 3,564,162.

These patents embrace techniques for simpler and faster studio conversion of stereo recording mixes into monaural recordings, the latter being needed for servicing of radio stations.

The patents were issued to Benjamin Bauer, a Vice-President of CBS Laboratories and Holzer.

The CBS system is called the "Quadrature Networks Matrix" and uses the compatibility feature established by the Holzer patent. The Holzer technique is called the "CSG Matrix."

Under the agreement, Columbia Record Productions will offer its recording studio customers the option of leasing either CSG or Quadrature equipment. Also, Holzer can offer his recording industry customers the same option.

Jim Weatherly: Music from the Heart

By BEVERLY MAGID

■ LOS ANGELES — Pontotoc, Mississippi may not have been declared a landmark area yet, but one of its native sons, Jim Weatherly, is helping to put it on the map. Although many of the songs on his two RCA albums have a gentle country flavor, "Neither One Of Us," as soul-rendered by Gladys Knight and the Pips, became a number one smash, much to Jim's pleasant surprise. "I never expected to make such a dent in the r&b markets, although I was very happy that it happened," he explained to Record World. "I don't like to categorize my music, because labels are just things for other people to grab onto." Though he starts off writing primarily with himself in mind, he enjoys hearing other artists' versions of his songs. "Generally I'm concerned with songs that have a basic honesty about them. I'm interested in human relationships, which is something that all people can identify with. Honest emotional music from the heart is the kind of music I prefer."

The music that Jim prefers seems to be the kind of music that many others are also choosing, since all the songs on both RCA lp's have been covered, some by several different artists, with forty new covers now in the process of being recorded. Some of the artists who have recorded Weatherly songs are Dionne Warwick, Wayne Newton, Lynn Anderson, Ray Price, Vikki Carr, Climax, Johnny Mathis, Diahanne Carrol, Danny Thomas, Bob Lumin and of course, Gladys Knight, whose new single is Jim's "Once In A Lifetime Thing."

No Live Gigs

Although he is recording his third album, Jim has no plans to do any live performing. "I want to concentrate on song writing right now, and touring is too hard on the writing." He started writing at the age of 14, but didn't seriously approach it until the group he was performing with split up. Some songs like "Neither One of Us" almost jumped out onto the page, while others like "Once in a Lifetime Thing" took almost 1½ years to write. "I set my standards very high, sometimes I don't reach them easily, and it requires my total concentration to achieve what I want." What Jim Weatherly wants seems to coincide with the record buying public's wishes, and he hopes "that it never ends."

Wisner Whizzes In

Jimmy Wisner, President of Wisdom Records and a well known composer, arranger and jazz pianist, paid a recent visit to Record World to discuss current happenings for himself and his label. Wisdom Records recently signed Tommy Tune, signing and dancing star of Broadway's "Seesaw," as well as songstress Kelly Garrett. Wisner has also taken new offices at Penthouse 38 D, 159 W. 53rd St., N.Y., 586-0305.

Van Ronk Flows To Chess/Janus

■ NEW YORK—A production agreement has been signed between Chess/Janus Records and Free Flow Productions Ltd. for an album by Dave Van Ronk. Titled "Songs For Aging Children" and scheduled for release in September, the lp represents the distillation of Van Ronk's twenty-year career as a singer/guitarist in blues, folk and country music.

Material on the album will include selections by Joni Mitchell, Fred Neil, Hank Ballard, Bertold Brecht and Kurt Weill, Randy Newman and Van Ronk.

West Coast Prints Rip/Keca Catalogue

■ LOS ANGELES—Larry Gordon, head of Rip/Keca Music, Inc., and John L. Haag, President of West Coast Publications, Inc., have entered into a long term exclusive print pact. Included in the agreement are the new compositions of Jim Weatherly, composer of the hits "Neither One Of Us," and "Where Peaceful Waters Flow." Other writers include Lee Dresser, Gary Usher, Steve Hoffman and Dick Campbell.

West Coast Publications is immediately rushing out sheet music and choral arrangements for the new Weatherly composition, "You're The Best Thing That Ever Happened To Me" which is Ray Price's new release.

CLUB REVIEW

White, Kinky At Troubadour

■ LOS ANGELES — Tony Joe White (WB), at the Troubadour recently, is of the mold of country artist that could help to bring back musical western movies. He's tall, languorous, deep-voiced with a sense of humor, especially in songs like "Three Hundred Pounds of Honey" by Donny Fritz or "Lustful Earl and the Married Woman," but he never gets his musical motor going except when he's playing the electric guitar. Then the rhythms flow and the moods are three-dimensional; otherwise, there is a slow-paced sameness which occurs in many of the other numbers.

A true disappointment was the opening act, Kinky Friedman and the Texas Jewboys (Vanguard). The group has garnered a flurry of publicity, so expectations of good country-flavored satire did not seem unreasonable. But alas, songs about mass murderer Charles Whitman, or belabored put-downs of women's lib ("Put Your Biscuits in the Oven and Your Buns in the Bed") do not necessarily qualify as satirical material.

right, if they're doing their job, that's what they do. See, I think that's what it's all about, the direction of the career. A manager who can't do those things and can't look eight months in the future is not really a manager, in my sense of the word.

RW: Do you, as an overall strategy, have certain principles that you follow, with your artists? Same way that you feel the record album is most what about, for instance, appearances vs. television?

Weintraub: Well, I don't believe in a lot of television for a recording artist, because I think it eats most of them up. I also believe that artists like, for instance, the Moody Blues should not appear on television a lot because they can't get the proper sound on television and they are primarily into sound. Of course, they have done some wonderful things in the last few years with the simultaneous telecast and the radio broadcast. That's very good.

But, Denver, for instance, is in a different category, because John has a great sense of comedy and therefore, is a television artist. He does not have to sing on television. You see, television is a medium of comedy for variety artists. If you look through the years at the singers that made it on television, they were the singers who could do comedy. You can't just get up there every week and sing "Rocky Mountain High" cause people are going to get tired of it, you know. And that medium eats you up alive and if you do enough "Tonight Shows" and enough "Merv Griffin Shows," which every recording artist wants to do. I don't think it means that much. I don't think the record-buying public watches television that much. Those are the people that go to concerts.

RW: When you get together with a client, what is your basis for deciding on handling him?

Weintraub: I work with people that I feel are talented. You can only have so many. There's only going to be a hand-full of star-stars. I don't use the word super-star because of "Jesus Christ Superstar."

RW: Who was your first client?

Weintraub: This is really going to date me, I'm not that old. My first client was a singer who I had a lot of belief in by the name of Teddy King, who you may never have heard of. Teddy King was a girl from Boston who was a jazz singer and I was, at that time, in business with a fellow who represented Teddy King and I went to work with him and she was the first one I really worked on as a personal manager when I was a young boy. A very young boy. Really didn't deserve to call myself a manager, I was still learning.

RW: Have you always been involved with just musical talent?

Weintraub: No, but basically that's my field. We're involved with comedy too, but basically I'm in the music field. That's what I enjoy. I like the action.

RW: Now that artists in music are getting into so many other areas, do you see, perhaps, your management company branching out into other areas?

Weintraub: Oh, yeah. We're doing that. We're producing. We produced a special recently in New York with a guy by the name of Geraldo Rivera, who is a client of ours too. Then we're doing three 90-minute television specials based on George Washington for the Bicentennial. It's called a "Mini Series" on George Washington's life with the first 90 minutes showing George Washington as a young man, the second 90 minutes, George Washington as a general and the third 90 minutes, George Washington as President.

RW: You're also involved with Wooden Nickel Records.

Weintraub: Yes. We own that label and RCA distributes. It's a label we created because we were looking for a place for new artists and we didn't want to have to go to a record company every time we had a new artist and start auditioning them and selling them. RCA informed us of the opportunity in that situation of taking six new artists and recording them and they're trying to break that label and I think they will. It's doing quite well now with a couple of things and it's a really good label.

RW: You don't really think the manager has to be a gadfly.

Weintraub: Well, I've been called every name in the book. A

CONCERT REVIEW

Leon Electrifies Coliseum

■ NEW YORK — The Nassau Coliseum, the area's best known paranoia pit (only a dozen or so arrests this time around), was packed to the rafters with over 15,000 local screamers for a fine evening of getting' it on with Leon.

The Leon Russell Show is one of those delightfully rare events in which the audience gets to spend more than 45 minutes with the evening's main man. Russell was preceded only briefly by Mary McCreary (Shelter on MCA) and her group, who, complete with wa-wa violin put down a surprisingly excellent half hour of soulful up-tempo sounds. Mary has to squeeze as many tunes as possible into her short set, leaving little time for crowd response between numbers. Even so, it was more than obvious that the crowd was well pleased with the relatively unknown pianist/singer and her band, who really unfortunately, got cooking just when it was time to split.

Leon (Shelter), accompanied by the Ebony All Stars, took over from there, and it was boogie-time from the first tune till the final encore of "Whole Lotta Shakin' Goin' On." Russell and the All-Stars, led by Reverend Patrick Henderson, seemed to delve deeply into gospel-oriented presentations, but the format seemed to make little difference to the enraptured audience. Indeed, Leon seems to possess an almost demagogue-like ability to move crowds. When Russell raises his arms, so does the crowd. When he clenches his fist, the audience, as one, does the same. Maybe Leon is the answer to the crowd-control problems the police have been looking for for decades.

BIG, BAD & BEAUTIFUL
ROY BURNS WITH THE DICK GROVE BIG BAND—FPM 1001

Drummer Burns is showcased in this driving set of big band stompers designed for an educational market, with all kinds of technical information about the arrangements included. Paperwork aside, the music's all there as the band, propelled by Burns, rips through "The Call," a blues called "Dead Ringer" and "Trilogy for Roy," on which Burns proves that he's a drummin' fool.

THE NEW DAVE PIKE SET—MPS/BASF MB 21541

The vibist's new group gets together with a Brazilian group, Grupo Baiafro in Bahia, for a semi-improvised set built on long spontaneous Afro-Cuban jams—and what comes up is an inventive and tasteful album filled with great playing. The titled tune jogs along like a surefooted mule in a mountain pass—which is to say it's good, and the rest of the album recalls hot nights and exotic young ladies.

Taylor's Tops At Half Note

■ NEW YORK—Appearing at the comfortable and excellently sound-systemed Half Note here last week, the Billy Taylor Trio proved to be a swinging and adventurous aggregation. Taylor, longtime musical director for Merv Griffin, had heretofore been typed as a kind of innocuous cocktail pianist. All such ideas went out the window, however, during his Half Note gig—the audience was left awe struck at the man's eclecticism, his rocking power and, a rare thing these days, his incredible musicianship.

Taylor's set was highlighted by a bossa nova-tinged "You Are the Sunshine of My Life," a loping blues called "Bye, Y'All" and a marvelous pianistic tour de force on "There Will Never Be Another You."

The Art Farmer Quartet played opposite Taylor's group, and swung mightily on "Ugetsu," written by Farmer's pianist Cedar Walton, and "A Sleepin' Bee," which featured a lovely solo from Farmer on flugelhorn and Walton's best solo of the night.

Cook's Cookin'

■ LOS ANGELES — Although his main interest at the moment is working with the English group Blue Mink (MCA), Roger Cook is also well known as part of the song-writing team Cook/Greenaway who gave us "You've Got Your Troubles, I've Got Mine," "I Want To Teach The World To Sing" (which started out as a tv commercial), "Whispering Softly," "Rainy Day Feeling" and others Cook records solo for Buddah. But now he's concerned with making Blue Mink as much of a household word in the States as in England, where they've had several hit singles.

"If Groucho Marx had been a group, I'd like that group to have been Blue Mink," is the way Roger to describe them. For their performance here in LA at the Troubadour, they calmed the act down a bit, and Roger wasn't sure whether that was the right choice. "We're more capable of doing wilder things. We like to laugh at ourselves; we're not really serious people. Why must everything be heavy and meaningful? We just dig being together and playing together."

However, he admits to being a little more "meaningful and introverted" when working on his own material. "At this point I don't dig working solo as much as working with the group. But someday when I get off of the success machine, I'd like to be able to just write songs that would win the respect of those whose work I admire, like Paul Simon or Randy Newman. I'd like them to say, 'Wow, that's great, I wish I'd written that'"

Dialogue

lot of people hate me. A lot people like me. There's this whole legend built up about me about how tough I am and how difficult I am and all this. Well, maybe I am tough and difficult—I know that I have probably the worst phone personality of anybody in the world and I do more phone calls a day than anybody in the world. I like to get to the point.—"How many records did we sell? Where did we sell them? Where do we need help? How do we get the help?" A lot of people probably find that tough, you know, or hard to work with. Well, maybe it is. I don't know, but I'm here during the day to work and get the records sold and get the business taken care of and make sure the dates are sold out and make sure that everything's together.

I don't personally think I am that tough. I think I am a pussy-cat, you know. That's my opinion! I'm sure a lot of people can tell you how rough I am. A lot of people say how nice I am. You know, it all depends on how much success they have with you and how much they don't. We're in very high powered business. It's a very competitive business and you've got to get out there and do the best for your artists and protect them. They have to be protected because there's a lot of people out there that will take advantage of them if they can.

Nash a Smash

Pop star Johnny Nash is presented with a plaque from ASCAP by representative Ted Williams for the international success of his recent hit singles "Stir It Up" and "I Can See Clearly Now." The award was presented at the Bitter End where Nash has just completed a sell-out week as a special guest star.

CONCERT REVIEW

Reddy, Klein, Linhart Please Schaefer Crowd

■ NEW YORK — One of the biggest crowds of the summer was on hand at Central Park last week (8) for a solid bill of Helen Reddy (Capitol), Robert Klein (Brut) and Buzzy Linhart (Atlantic).

Ms. Reddy, now the star of a TVer as Flip Wilson's replacement, continued to walk the fine line that has enabled her to attract audiences of both rock and MOR persuasions. Attired in a hot pink pants outfit and backed by a four-piece group that had more of a raunchy rock look, she sailed through a set of excellent songs by some fine contemporary composers like Leon is going to places they've only read about before—places like Detroit and Chicago and San Francisco — they're far less likely to be squabbling among themselves or to be thinking about breaking up."

Aware though he has always been of the importance of the American market, the Scottish-born Nisbet remembers a time when the music industry here was far less receptive to English product. His first job, after he was discharged from the British Army in 1946 after six years, was with a small London publishing firm, Box and Cox. ("I'd been in a bank in Edinburgh before the war," he said, "which I hated. I really wanted to be a songwriter.") In those days, he recalled, English music publishing "was really a cottage industry," with songs that were usually referred to as "the lugubrious lamentations of a disappointed lover," and "Most Americans had this sort of image of Englishmen as people with slightly bucked teeth who all wore bowler hats."

Believing in the business, however, Nisbet stuck it out, and in 1957 he was named managing director of the prestigious publishing firm, B. Feldman. Over the next decade, he watched Feldman's profits increase two thousand per cent, as the company acquired rights to the songs of Herman's Hermits, Freddie and the Dreamers and Wayne Fontana, as well as Bob Dylan and the Band.

Now, besides Sovereign (a deal which he negotiated with Artie Mogull in the beginning of 1971), Nisbet is also involved with his own publishing company, Big Ben Music (he took Dylan's publishing with him from Feldman), and also in Two Worlds Management, a firm which also includes as directors manager John Sherry, the well-known barrister Lord Goodman, property tycoon Sir Max Reyne and movie men John and Roy Boulting.

"I would say quite honestly that I'm not one of the best judges of contemporary music," Nisbet added. "But because of my relationship with John Sherry, we get working acts on Sovereign. There are six of them now, and I think that's as many as we can handle at the moment. Eventually I'd like to be able to spend six months in England and six months here, because being here, I think, is indispensable. It really is taking two bites of the cherry instead of one."

Fantasy 702

WILSON PICKETT—RCA APBO-0049

TAKE A CLOSER LOOK AT THE WOMAN YOU'RE WITH (prod. by Shapiro & Pickett) (Erva, BMI)

The Wicked Mr. Pickett returned to chart heights first time out on new label affiliation with "Mr. Magic Man." This chunk o' funk should jump right onto pop and r&b playlists.

DR. JOHN—Atco 6937

SUCH A NIGHT (prod. by Allen Toussaint) (Walden/Oyster/Cauldron, ASCAP)

Follow-up to his fantastic "Right Place, Wrong Time" is a self-penned number that shuffles right along. Produced, arranged and conducted by genius Allen Toussaint, disc fills hit prescription.

TOWER OF POWER—Warner Bros. 7733

THIS TIME IT'S REAL (prod. by Tower of Power) (Kuptillo, ASCAP)

San Francisco group is enjoying their hottest period ever with two labels re-releasing their product. "So Very Hard To Go" established them as potent singles sellers: ditto this cut.

MARIE OSMOND—MGM 14609

PAPER ROSES (prod. by Sonny James) (Lewis, ASCAP)

First distaff Osmond to come on the scene does a fine country-styled record that was a hit for Anita Bryant in 1960. Produced by Sonny James, cut should bloom into a winner.

SONG OF THE WEEK

REMEMBER WHEN YOU WERE A KID (Bunko, BMI)

CANDY APPLE (prod. by Candy Apple Prod.)—Beverly Hills 9399

SILVERBIRD (prod. by the Tokens)—Columbia 4-45924

The tune that is used as a commercial for soda pop in the Midwest is covered here by two artists. The original is by Kenny Karen on Big Tree, but these two versions are very strong also. The Candy Apple rendition is highly commercial and was first on the street. The Silverbird version features more harmonies and has a brighter sound. It's still anybody's game.

MARTIN MULL—Capricorn 0024 (WB)

IN THE EYES OF MY DOG (prod. by Mull & Regehr) (Castle Hill, ASCAP)

From his new album "Martin Mull and His Fabulous Furniture" comes a clever ditty about a man and his best friend. Jukebox operators should make this number K-9 on their machines. A bow wow!

THIRD CREATION—Motown 1250

ROLLING DOWN A MOUNTAIN (prod. by Mark Davis) (Better Half, ASCAP)

Isaac Hayes did a good job on this Ware-Hilliard tune a while back, but this new contingent should outdo his chart action. Produced by Mark Davis, disc should roll to the top.

EDDIE KENDRICKS—Tamla 54238 (Motown)
KEEP ON TRUCKIN' (prod. by Wilson & Caston) (Stone Diamond, BMI)

Former lead tenor for the Temps offers his strongest solo effort to date. Culled from his lp, tune is a dynamic rhythm track featuring a solid arrangement and unique production. Truck on!

DANNY O'KEEFE—Atlantic 2978

ANGEL SPREAD YOUR WINGS (prod. by Arif Mardin) (Cotillion/Road Canon, BMI)

"Goodtime Charlie's Got The Blues" established this talented singer-writer chartwise, and this lilting tune from his "Breezy Stories" lp should spread like wildfire.

DENISE LA SALLE—Westbound 219

(Chess/Janus)

YOUR MAN AND YOUR BEST FRIEND (prod. by Crajon Ent.) (Ordena/Bridgeport, BMI)

Culled from her lp "On The Loose," selection is a chuggin' item written by soulstress. Tight rhythm track provides strong support, and disc should take radio by storm. Westbound's hit-bound again!

ANNETTE SNELL—Dial 1023 (Mercury)

YOU OUGHTA BE HERE WITH ME (prod. by Killen & Kelly) (Tree, BMI)

New singer debuts with a soul swinger that was written by Paul Kelly. Programmers should put this 45 on their spot of the dial immediately. Annette nets a biggie!

SEPTEMBER, 1973. THE MONTH

COMES OF AGE.

WHEN HE FOUND OUT HE DIDN'T NEED FOUR EARS, BARNEY CHOSE QUADRADISC.

The waiting is over. Barney just bought his first Quadradisc. It took him awhile to get over his suspicion that four-channel was some expensive hoax, thought up by greedy audio equipment makers.

What settled Barney's paranoia were a few facts:

1. He found out that to enjoy quadrasonic he won't have to grow four ears. Like everyone else's, Barney's two ears hear in a complete circle, with him in the center. He heard Quadradiscs, and now stereo seems almost like mono: squeezed-together sound.

2. Quadrasonic standardization looks like it's here. The discrete disc system (which is synonymous with Quadradiscs) is now widely accepted. (Matrix seems to have fallen into the same "nice try" category as "wire recorders.") So that battle's over with.

3. Quadradiscs work sensationally on Barney's stereo system. So he can buy Quadradiscs from now on, knowing the albums he's buying this year won't be sonically obsolete next year.

In other words, Barney has no reason left to stall. Nor do you.

To obtain more information concerning Quadradisc and Quadrasonic sound in general, write to Quadradisc, Box 6868, Burbank, California 91505. Know this: The wait is over.

Now your ears can join Barney's in the best of circles.

Quadrasonic sound has arrived fully with the Quadradisc.

WHAT IS QUADRADISC?

Quadradisc is the name of a very new kind of record which offers you better listening in mono, stereo and, most particularly, quadrasonic.

Quadradisc was developed to meet the demands of recording and reproducing discrete quadrasonic sound on a disc, something previously possible only on tape.

Discrete means separate and distinct. Discrete quadrasonic means four separate channels of sound. All other quadrasonic disc methods—the matrix systems—are plagued by "ghosts" and smearing of the four channels with certain sound combinations. Not Quadradisc.

Additionally, Quadradisc is fully mono and stereo compatible, unlike matrix-encoded recordings. There is no "drop out" of musical information when a Quadradisc is played on a mono or stereo system.

This means you can begin your quadrasonic library even before investing in a quadrasonic music system.

Quadradisc is made of a specially-developed material designed to capture ultrasonic high frequencies, an achievement which not too long ago was considered impossible within the Long Playing record format. This special formulation gives the Quadradisc superior wear qualities and better high frequency reproduction.

THE QUADRADISC CAME OF AGE.

MUDDY WATERS—Chess CH 50023

Spencer's best album since Winwood days features solid vocals, good songs by group members Ray Fenwick and Eddie Hardin and a flair for bright and breezy rock and roll. The album package is unusually riotous and good tunes include "Feeling Rude" and "Tumble Down Tenement Row."

BONGO ROCK

MICHAEL VINIER'S INCREDIBLE BONGO BAND—Pride PRD-0028 (MGM)
Some of the year's best rhythm sounds are on this fine album. The title cut is a big single hit, and most of the numbers display imagination and drive. Good cuts include "In-A-Gadda-Da-Vida," "Apache" and "Last Bongo In Belgium."

IT'S TIME FOR THE SWISS MOVEMENT

RCA APL1-0212
An intensely rhythmic record serves as an exciting introduction to this fine vocal quartet. David Van De Pitte's arranging and conducting adds a fine touch to well-sung tunes like "Keep On Loving You," "The Moment" and "Bring Back Your Love."

M. FROG

Bearsville BR 2140 (Warner Bros.)
Jean Yves Labat is M. Frog, the young French synthesizer genius who has advanced his instrument enormously with this album. M. Frog has created incredibly diverse sounds that are as accessible and enjoyable as they are strange and unique. Oddly funny lyrics and melodies round out the fine sounds and the results are both daring and delightful.

MINSTREL IN FLIGHT

ROGER COOK—Kama Sutra KSBS 2069 (Buddah)
Cook is one of the most successful pop songwriters in the business and this album is filled with fine examples of his art. Vocals have a Nilsson sound on fine tunes like "She," "Grey Highlands Of Dawn" and the powerful "Mr. Magic Man."

NOTHING FREE

NIKI AUKEMA—Paramount PAS 6055 (Famous)
Niki is a rarity among female vocalists in that she can sing with power and emotion while remaining feminine and melodious. Fine, mostly self-penned songs help make this a solid album, and tunes like "Son Of A Rotten Gambler," and the title cut are top-flight fare.

POWER

BARRABAS—RCA SPL1-2000
"Boogie Rock" is one ferocious single and it may be the vehicle for this fine group to make a big move to the top. Latin rock is broadening its appeal and this set, produced and arranged by Fernando Arbex, should grab a big chunk of Santana's audience with songs like "Keep On Moving" and "You Know."

BEDLAM

Chrysalis—CHR 1048 (Warner Bros.)
Dave Ball from Procol Harum and Cozy Powell from Jeff Beck's group are the guts of this rip roaring powerhouse of a band. The sound is a successful attempt to "put the meat back into the music" and some of the best cuts are "I Believe In You," "Sarah" and "Whiskey And Wine."

HEAVY TRAFFIC

Original Soundtrack—Fantasy 9436
Ralph Bakshi's new animated X-rated feature film has received rave reviews and seems headed for great success. This soundtracker contains classic songs by Chuck Berry, the Isley Brothers, Dave Brubeck Quartet, Sergio Mendes and Brazil '66 as well as some fine new pieces by Merl Saunders.

SPIRITUAL CONCEPT

Philadelphia Int. KZ 32404 (Columbia)
An ethereal new sound from Philly, this fine group summons up tremendous energy with tight rhythms and soaring guitar parts. The vocals are explosive and urgent on songs like "Get It On," "Spiritual Sky" and "Remedy."

CONCERT REVIEW

Walsh Barnstorms Into Schaefer

■ NEW YORK—On a steamy Saturday night when all of New York felt like a turkish bath, Joe Walsh and Barnstorm kicked out a rocking country blues that awakened a benumbed, lethargic crowd. Walsh's stinging guitar changed pace interestingly as he led the band from heavy, driving rock and roll to pulsating blues to country grooves. He seems most comfortable with a slightly raunchy country sound as his rural, twangy, almost strident voice rose above the bass, piano, organ and drums. He can, however, perform with equal virtuosity in different forms as displayed by the medley of melodies from classics such as "Scheherazade" and "Cast Your Fate to the Wind."

Former member of The James Gang, Walsh performed the near to impossible at The Schaefer Music Festival at Wollman's Skating Rink—he excited a hang-dog, bummed out New York City-in-the-summer crowd—and made 'em dance. Walli Nicita Dropping by Record World recently was Dunhill recording artist Joe Walsh. The former leader of the James Gang discussed his second solo lp "The Smoker You Drink, the Player You Get" and his new single "Rocky Mountain Way." He is currently on tour with stops at Schaefer Festival in NY, Suffolk Downs in Boston and TV stints on "Midnight Special" (17) and "In Concert" (taping Sept. 13). Seen with Walsh (right) is RW Music Editor Fred Goodman.

CONCERT REVIEW

Tower, Willie Rock WNEW Freebie

■ STATEN ISLAND, N.Y.—WNEW-FM's latest in a series of free concerts was held at Silver Lake Park here recently, featuring an appearance by Warner Brothers group Tower of Power, and Capricorn's Wet Willie. The concert, the 25th free concert that WNEW has sponsored during the past four years, drew some 5,000 people.

According to Scott Muni, Program Director for WNEW-FM, this concert will probably be the station's last for a while, after the series has wound its way through parks in Brooklyn, Queens, the Bronx, Manhattan, and Staten Island. Future concerts, he noted, will probably be held indoors in places like Carnegie Hall or Philharmonic Hall.

Tower of Power was first on the bill, and they presented their fine brand of jazz/soul/rock. Not only are the group's vocal pieces and arrangements good, but their instrumental jazz/type pieces really cook. They performed material from their new Warner Bros. album, and received an outstanding response for their hit single "So Very Hard To Go." The encore was expected, and was well received.

Wet Willie is a good band, but they're not outstanding. Consensus is that a while longer playing together will help them to become tighter.

CLUB REVIEW

Lee Impresses At Whisky

■ LOS ANGELES—What was most apparent during soul singer Tommy Lee's set at the Whisky a Go Go here recently was that Tommy Lee hadn't yet developed Tommy Lee—a performer in his own right. Though gifted with a strong and expressive voice, Lee seemed more interested in imitating other singers than in developing his own show. He was energetic, and his rhythms were good, but his talents were not equal to his choice of material.

Beginning with an agile "Taking Care of Business," Lee showed that he does have a crowd-rousing ability. He ran through a few Al Green numbers and Billy Preston's "Will It Go Round In Circles" and then finally hit on a tune that taxed his voice and demonstrated he has an impressive range—a melancholy "Ain't No Sunshine When She's Gone." Lee did his best, however, when he sang the one song of the evening that was his, "That's the Way I Want to Live My Life, Baby." Teya Ryan

Corruption Charges

CORE Director Innis, in a statement issued Wednesday (15), called for a "Watergate-type investigation" of the FCC and FTC, charging the organizations with criminal negligence and discrimination against the "small black businessman and the black community at large in the record industry." Innis went on to cite a "monopoly of twelve major record companies" as unfairly dominating the industry and stated that CORE plans to enter some phases of the record industry "to more effectively combat discrimination, unfair competition, and illegal business practices . . ."

Tucker is filing a complaint with the United States Attorney in Newark, who has been investigating payola and drugola charges since they re-emerged on the national scene earlier this year.

Arthur Adler, vice president and general manager of WXLO-FM, stated that the station "categorically denies any action which constitutes a violation of the law. While we have not yet examined the full statements made by CORE or Mr. Tucker, the ones we are aware of have been referred to our attorneys for appropriate legal action."

BOOK REVIEW

'Superstar' Phenomenon Traced

■ "Rock Opera," a new book by Ellis Nassour and Richard Broderick (published by Hawthorne Books), is a behind-the-scenes study of "Jesus Christ Superstar" and covers everything from the authors' backgrounds to the hotel accommodations for the film troupe in Israel. Everything that has anything to do with the opera is examined, even the illegal productions which had become such hits as they travelled across the country.

Beginning with the reactions of Decca executives to the original single, Nassour and Broderick trace "Superstar" through the production of the album, the play, the film and all of the controversy which surrounded the whole idea from

Mother Music Mgmt. Formed

■ LOS ANGELES — Janna Feliciano, who for the past 18 months has been actively managing the career of her husband, RCA artist Jose Feliciano, has formed Mother Music Management. In addition to continuing to guide Feliciano's career, Mother Music will manage established acts as well as a small number of new talents.

Mother Music Management will headquarter in the Feliciano Enterprises complex, 415 North Tustin Avenue, Orange, California (714) 639-6420.

the beginning. One is left, finally, with the feeling of having read a detailed report and for those that are in any way interested in how a single release developed into a Broadway musical, a film and a cultural phenomenon of major proportions, this publication is ideal.

Bobby Goldsboro "Summer (First Time)." This is the #1 MOR station record of the nation, and is just now getting good top 40 play. WIIN Atlanta reports "#1 phones." It is charted at: KILT, WCOL, WMAK, WJDX. It is now on: KLIF, WBBQ, WFOM and should pick up more play in the coming weeks.

Bobby Womack "Nobody Wants You When You're Down And Out." Seattle has done a good job of keeping this strong record alive. It jumped 22-18 at WAYS Charlotte who report "it is big." It came right on the chart at CKLW Detroit at #26, WTIX New Orleans at #30 and KXOK St. Louis at #25. Obviously a lot of people relate to the lyric of this great old standard and Bobby gives it a tremendous reading.

Doobie Brothers "China Grove." This group is sensational and they can't do anything wrong as they have hit single after hit single. KOL Seattle reports "top five phones." It is charted at: WFIL, KLIF, WXLW, WBBQ, WSGN, HELP, WIIN, KILT. It is now on: WCFL, WIXY, KDWB, KXOK, WCAO, WLS, WMAK, WHHY, KGW, KROQ.

Ike & Tina Turner "Nutbush City Limits." It is good to see this dynamite visual act come back with a strong record. They get a lot of television exposure. Both WBBQ and WXLW report "immediate phones and sales." New believers: KILT, KYA, WCOL.

Mystery Man To Metromedia

The mystery guest in President Jack Wiedenmann's office is the new Metromedia Records recording artist, Scuffy Shew. Scuffy's first release for the label is "Reason To Feel." His identity seems a mystery to Wiedenmann but Julio Aiello, director of west coast operations, is anticipating the potential sales of the record.

Divine Sounds

■ HEMPSTEAD, L.I. — Blue Aquarius, a 46 man group associated with Maharaj Ji's Divine Light Mission, recorded a live concert in London recently which was mixed by Jeff Kracke of Long Island's Ultra-Sonic Recording Studios. The concert was held at the Hammersmith Odean and was recorded by the Rolling Stones' 16 track mobile unit. Headed by Shri Bhole Ji, brother of the 15 year old Guru, the group consists of international musicians and artists from the Mission.

Blue Thumb Pacts Pace

■ LOS ANGELES—Evan Pace has signed with Blue Thumb Records, according to label President Bob Krasnow. The twenty-three-year-old New York singer/songwriter has just completed his debut solo album, "Face To Face." Barry White, who discovered Pace, produced and arranged the album. "The Bicycle Song," a single from the album, is tentatively scheduled for release in early September.

western Broadcasting Co. Inc., applicant for assignment of the license of FM station WXEZ and the Citizens Committee to Keep Progressive Rock has been disapproved by the FCC. The Commission said that the agreement, which settled a dispute over Midwestern's proposed change in programming from progressive rock to MOR, improperly requires Midwestern to give up some of its control of programming.

The requirement for AM and FM stations to be equipped with continuously operating type-accepted frequency monitors has been deleted by the FCC. It also eliminated requirements for logging frequency monitor readings every three hours and making daily frequency checks for FM Subsidiary Communications Authorizations subcarrier frequencies, stereo pilot subcarrier frequencies and television station carrier frequencies. Under revised rules, carrier and subcarrier frequencies must actually be measured at least once a month.

CONCERT REVIEW

Feliciano Fiery

■ NEW YORK—Jose Feliciano (RCA) recently delighted a soaked, but intrepid Central Park audience with a well-diversified set of music that ran the gamut from the tenderest of ballads to fiery Latin-edged rock and roll. Feliciano ignored the rain and the cancellation of the show's opening act and thrilled the audience with fine guitar work and singing that was both soulful and plaintive. "Yes We Can Can," Jose's latest single, was a first rate chugger, and the crowd reacted enthusiastically to several tunes from his latest album "Compartments."

The high quality of his new material notwithstanding, the people weathered the storm to get a taste of Jose's magic hits like "California Dreaming" and the incredible "Light My Fire." Feliciano lit it, the audience shook themselves dry and everybody warmed up to the red hot sounds.

UK Releases Singles, Albums

■ NEW YORK—Don Wardell, UK Records' general manager, has announced the label's largest album/single release to date. The package includes the recent "Tina Harvey" album, "Simon Turner," the first album by the 18 year old, and an album of original material by UK President Jonathan King entitled "Pandora's Box."

Cohen to DJM

■ NEW YORK—As part of the recent expansion program of Dick James Music, Inc., Joe Cohen has been appointed coordinator of talent development, according to an announcement by Louis Ragusa, general manager of the company.

RECORD WORLD SOUL TRUTH

By DEDE DABNEY

■ NEW ORLEANS: NATRA's convention held here at the Marriott Hotel had an attendance of over 500 interested individuals. One of the highlights of the convention is always the awards dinner, this year titled "The Golden Mike Awards." A surprise to many was the dramatic introduction to the awards of scholarships for the first time in four years. Last year we felt quite negative about the convention but this year as a general consensus it was much more positive. Response to the seminars, through attendance and participation, was much greater.

Elections were held, and the new President is Cecil Hale of Radio Station WVON in Chicago. Endorsing him was Rev. Jesse Jackson.

Oh, thought you would enjoy hearing about the award that, in my estimation, was without a doubt showing respect and admiration for a man who gave blacks their greatest opportunity. Record Executive of the Year—Clive Davis.

From the nation's capitol comes news from Radio Station WOL—Bobby Bennett has handed in his resignation as music director. Replacing him is Bill Haywood. Music days are Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Tony Harris is no longer with WOOK in Washington. He is now at WTLC in Indianapolis.

Replacing Charm-Warren at WJMO in Cleveland is Earnest James, coming from WABQ.

It is safe to say that the rumor of Chris Jonz going to Motown Records is true. Chris will be moving to the west coast as national promotion director.

Forbes Joins ABC/Dunhill

■ LOS ANGELES—Red Forbes has been named assistant national r&b promotional director at ABC/Dunhill Records. Forbes, who will report to ABC national promo head Arlene Schesel, was previously with All Platinum as national promotional director for three and a half years.

Brown to UA Promo Post

■ LOS ANGELES — The appointment of Charlie Brown as East Coast r&b promotion director for United Artists Records has been announced by Jack Hakim, national promotion director for the label. In addition to New York, Brown will cover the areas of Boston, Baltimore and Washington, as well as the state of Virginia.

Polydor Hosts 'Rip-Off' Screening

Polydor President Jerry Schoenbaum (right) and Buzz Willis, newly appointed Vice President, r&b operations and special markets, check out James Brown's chart-climbing soundtrack album for "Slaughter's Big Rip-Off" at the label's recent party for some 200 media and record industry people. Party followed a special screening of the American International film which stars former football great, Jim Brown, and features Ed McMahon (of the "Tonight" show), Gloria Hendry, Don Stroud and Brock Peters.

shop on "Leisure Industries Opportunities For Blacks" conducted by John Smith of Stax Records and Buzz Willis of Polydor. An especially active workshop dealt with "Surveys and How Important Are Numbers" and was conducted by Chuck Scruggs, Vice Chairman of the Board of NATRA.

An important part of NATRA '73 was the election of officers, conducted by George Woods, NATRA's Chairman of the Board and President Curtis Shaw. In the election, Cecil Hale, of WVON in Chicago was elected President for this year. A restructuring of the organization also took place, with a realignment of representatives along regional lines to create better demographic balance within NATRA.

The major event of the convention was the 18th Annual NATRA Awards Banquet, presided over by Past NATRA President E. Rodney Jones, and featuring entertainment by War (UA) as well as the award presentations (see separate story).

CONCERT REVIEW

Knight, Pips Please Schaefer

■ NEW YORK — The Schaefer Festival stands were packed Monday (13) as Gladys Knight & The Pips (Buddah) brought their own incredibly tight brand of soul music to Central Park. The audience was up for the concert, giving tumultuous applause to every song that Gladys sang. Both the group and the orchestra performed brilliantly, really shining through on "Daddy Could Swear, I Declare" and "Where Peaceful Waters Flow," the quartet's current single. After the final number, Frankie Crocker, MC for the night, presented Gladys Knight and the Pips with the NATRA award for best mixed group.

Also on the bill was Blue Hare, a Long Island group who played a cross section of old and new popular tunes. They performed competently but didn't really warm up until their last number.

bined label called Elektra/Asylum artists will continue to be on Asylum, with the promotion and marketing of their product handled by Elektra.

Asylum Records, which Gef-fen had headed since he began the label in 1971, had previously been distributed by At-include the Eagles, Jackson

Gunne, the Byrds and Linda

Geffen began his management career at the William Morris Agency in 1964, became an executive at the Ashley Famous Agency in 1967, and in 1969 was named Executive Vice-Presi-

Associates. A year later, he started the Geffen-Roberts

Mel Posner, newly named President, joined Elektra in 1958 and has held a series of successive management posts, most recently the position of Executive Vice-President and general manager of Elektra.

Ahmet Ertegun, President of Atlantic Records, who attended the press reception, spoke highly of Geffen's achieve-

David Geffen go on to greater heights. He will be a great, dy-that both Asylum and Elektra have similar images of quality record companies. "I am sure

David will follow in Jac's tradi-

Elektra will maintain both east and west coast offices, with Geffen working out of the west coast and Posner out of the east.

CLUB REVIEW

Droukas, Buckley Maul Max's

■ NEW YORK — Max's held a sizable crowd Friday (10), and no one was disappointed
as Joe Droukas and the Crazy Man Band opened with a set that left the audience screaming for more. Joe, who hails from New Hampshire, sang of buses and cities in a style that's somewhere between country, rock and downright earthiness. The high points of the set were "Thyroid Eyes" and "The Indian Song" with the Crazy Man Band performing admirably despite the cramped quarters.

Headlining the bill was Tim Buckley, who left no doubt as to his ability as a vocal gymnast as he sang around melodies and transversed octaves with incomparable ease. The music was flowing and bluesy in a way which appealed to all who were there to hear it. An inspired "Get On Top of Me Woman" really shook the place as Tim let go with everything he had, and one of his better known songs, "Blue Melody" was performed perfectly.

Record World en Puerto Rico

By FRANKIE BIBILONI

■ Después de su éxito logrado con "Amor Por Tí," que aún está en el gusto del público, Pellín Rodríguez introduce en el ambiente musical otro número que posee las mismas cualidades. Se trata de "Entre Espumas," que está muy bien colocada en las radioemisoras de todo el país... "Rompamos el contrato," es la nueva creación de Teddy Trinidad. Empieza a escalar los primeros lugares de popularidad, mientras en Santo Domingo es uno de los temas de mayor impacto... Es una pena que la extraordinaria cantante puertorriqueña Manoella Torres no haya sido promovida por su compañía disquera en este mercado... Se ubica en muy buena posición de hit, "Por La Macefa," interpretado por Luis Kalaff con su conjunto, para el sello All Art... Tiene grandes posibilidades de convertirse en gran éxito, "Te Quiero Y No me Importa" en la voz de Ednita Nazario. La calidad de la melodía, el acompañamiento y la interpretación de la juvenil cantante así lo hacen suponer... El Segundo Festival Internacional de la canción y de la voz de Puerto Rico que se celebrará los días 21, 22, 23 y 24 de septiembre será co-auspiciado este año oficialmente por la compañía de Fomento de Turismo. Los organizadores del Festival esperan tener la participación de un mínimo de 25 países, 12 directores musicales y 10 artistas invitados de nombre internacional. El Festival se celebrará en el moderno "Teatro Cinema 4." En la noche final, 24 de septiembre, el Festival será transmitido en vivo vía satélite a través de varios países de America La-

DESDE NUESTRO RINCON INTERNACIONAL

By TOMAS FUNDORA

(This column appears first in Spanish and then in English.)

■ Las llamadas y cartas comenzaron a llegar aisladamente. Al principio comencé a hacer las naturales indagaciones para precisar si se trataba de casos esporádicos o si en realidad estaba escaseando el PBC, elemento vital en la fabricación del "vinyl," ya sea engranulos o virgen. Hoy, toco el asunto sin la menor idea de alarmar a nadie, pero si tratando de llamar la atención a un punto que puede significar crisis absoluta en la industria del disco en toda Latinoamérica. Es indiscutible que la situación se presenta con características mundiales y si bien es cierto que en todo ello puede haber los naturales juegos de bolsa y mercado, también es cierto que también en Estados Unidos, la falta del material comienza a hacerse notar. Los precios se han ido ya por arriba de 3 o 4 veces su precio normal en el mercado. Y todo ello se debe al pánico cundido. A la situación desesperada de aprovisionarse. A la demanda creciente a medida que la industria ve acercarse una posibilidad de paralización e sus fábricas por falta del material. Este es el momento en que las asociaciones de fabricantes en cada uno de nuestros países o de que cualquiera de las que agrupan los fabricantes de modo internacional, comiencen a funcionar. Aconsejo cordura y agruparse para lograr existencias y no entrar en el re juego de precios extremadamente adulterados. La crisis no existe actualmente pero la demanda acrecentará de tal manera el asunto que se presentará una escasez inmediata. Se espera que dentro de los tres o cuatro meses verdaderos todo haya pasado. Mientras tanto... cordura en las compras con propósitos de almacenaje. De todas maneras, con toda seguridad que habrán unos cuantos que harán camiones de dólares con esta situación, que es a mi entender, producto de cerebros satánicos.

Existe gran expectativa por la celebración del Concierto de Música Latina que habrá de celebrar Jerry Massucci en el Yankee Stadium de Nueva York. Los Fania All-Stars harán su espectáculo gigantesco que será grabado y "filmado." Estaré presente el Viernes 24 de Agosto a las 8 de la noche cuando se esté produciendo este evento que será decididamente inolvidable. Entre la larga lista de grandes estrellas se contarán también Mongo Santamaría y Manu Dibango y su Orquesta interpretando su arrasador éxito "Soul Makossa" . . . Y hablando de Fania, me anuncian el lanzamiento esta semana de la grabación de Willie Colon titulada "Lo Mato," con un sugestivo enteparentesis en el título que lee: "Si no Compra este elepé." ¡Genial idea publicitaria! En Agosto 4, la presentación de los Fania All Stars rompió el anterior record de asistencia en el International Amphitheatre de Chicago, establecido la semana anterior por los Jackson 5 . . . Lanzó Orfeón en Estados Unidos un sencillo de René y René interpretando "Pasan los Días" y "Se está Haciendo Tarde." La promoción planeada a esta nueva grabación asegura grandes probabilidades de éxito.

■ The calls started coming in slowly. At the beginning, I began to make the normal investigations to find out if there really was a shortage of PBC material, a basic element in the manufacturing of "vinyl," or if people were just exaggerating. It is true. The situation is a worldwide one, and while it is true that this could be the results of the normal stock games, it is also true that in the United States, the shortage is starting to be a noticeable one. The prices have gone up 3 to 4 times the regular price, and a panic has been created, because of companies trying to keep as much of the material as they can in their stock, because enterprises are afraid of having to stop all their manufacturing of records due to such a shortage. This is the moment for all associations of manufacturers in each of our countries to start working. My advice is to get together in order not to get into extremely high prices. There is actually no crisis at the moment, but the demand for the product will in turn cause the crisis. It is expected that in the next three to four months everything will be forgotten and past.

There are great expectations for the celebration of the Fania all-star concert that will be presented by Jerry Massucci at Yankee Stadium in New York. The Fania All-Stars will have a gigantic event that will be recorded and "filmed." I myself will be present on Friday, August 24 at 8 pm. Among the long list of stars that will be present are Mongo Santamaria and Manu Dibango with his orchestra playing his latest hit "Soul Makossa" . . . And talking about Fania, I have been advised that they are releasing this week Willie Colon's "Lo Mato" ("I'll Kill You") with a suggestive parenthesis underneath the title that reads: "If You Do Not Buy This Record." A great publicity stunt! . . . On August 4, the presentation of the Fania All-Stars broke the record established by the Jackson 5 the week before at the International Amphitheatre in Chicago . . . Orfeon just released a single in the United States by Rene y Rene, with the themes "Pasan los Dias" and "Se Esta Haciendo Tarde."

In Venezuela, Fonodiscos released a single by Ines Sancho, "Mediterraneo" and "Las Cosas Cotidianas." Very Good! . . . Discomoda, also in Venezuela, released a single by Roberto Luti, with the themes "Solos" and "Tu en mi Vida," Domenika is also featured. The arrangements are by Sergio Elguin . . . Original Sound has in Zapata, interpreting "Viva la Raza" and "Una Vez Mas," a great candidate for a hit. Samples should be sent for at 7120 Sunset Blvd., Hollywood 46, California . . . In Mexico, Peerless has just released a single by Erick "Todo ha Cambiado" (Lopez Gali-Ortega) and "Muchachita" (Mario Ruiz Armengol) . . . Arcano released for promotion in Northamerica the new single by Juan Marcelo with his hit in Argentina, "Si Por Esas Cosas Que Tiene La Vida" (Juan Marcelo) and "Hacia El Amor Estoy Viajando" (Juan Marcelo). In the first one, Juan Marcelo is accompanied by Oscar Cardoso Ocampo and his orchestra . . . Palito Ortega is having an international hit with his song "Prometimos no Llorar," independently produced by Chango in Buenos Aires . . . Mericana Records released for promotion "El Caminante" and "Pan de Piquito," sung by Roberto Torres.

Marsal Productions released, under their Sonido Internacional label, the themes that won the Festival Internacional de la Cancion Hispanoamericana that took place recently in California, with "Canto a Dios" (First place) by Aurora Conde, a new star in that same label . . . Angelica Maria is a smash in Miami at the moment with her song "A Donde Va Nuestro Amor," which is the theme of the T.U. soap opera in which she stars . . . In Colombia, Fuentes has just released new recordings by Rodolfo including the themes "Charly," "Pequeño y Gran Amor," "Voy a Hablarte Francamente" and "Has Regresado Viejo Amigo." Rodolfo was a hit of great proportions in the United States with "Sufrir" a few months back. This new lp is being simultaneously released in Venezuela, Ecuador, Peru, Panama, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras and the states . . . And now . . . bye!

Bill Withers:

A Time for Everything

By BEVERLY MAGID

■ LOS ANGELES—He doesn't consider himself a star, but he gets a big charge out of strangers who come to him and reveal how one of his songs have touched them. "People in airports walk up to me and just say 'Hi Bill,' and keep going, they're not likely to grab me," Bill Withers (Sussex) told Record World. Still he feels that after one has attained any amount of success, the public will still "blow you out of proportion. They look at you as being a little bigger than you are, a little smarter than you are, a little more talented than you are, a little better looking, a little more of everything, than you really are."

Success has meant for Bill the possibilities of doing what he wants in his career when he wants to rather than depending on economic considerations. His songs are now being covered by a multitude of people, his own records sell and his infrequent appearances draw fans; so when he began to feel pressured, he decided to lay back and appraise the situation for awhile rather than being pushed into recordings or performances he didn't feel ready for. "I just stopped for awhile, which I think is healthy, according to your own needs. Naturally there was fear from some circles that you gotta keep going, because you gotta compete. But I never really felt desperate. The only desperation that I felt was when I was trying to be in more places than I could be in one time."

Writing is the most difficult and challenging part of Bill's career, but unlike the old cliché of needing to suffer in order to create, Bill says "I can't write a sad song when I'm sad, in fact I can't do anything when I'm sad. I think that you have to be affected by things but not necessarily affected at that particular time. I hope that I never have to participate in everything in order to be sensitive to it. I don't think that I could survive that much pleasure and I know that I couldn't survive that much anxiety. The hardest thing to learn is to keep your emotions at some stable point where when you need something to function with, to write with, you can reach out and grab it and deal with it in your imagination."

Although he's never studied music, Withers found himself drawn to it by his interest in what he calls structured noises. "I just happened to hit a phase in my life where all of a sudden I started paying attention to the sound of noises, and from that, I started paying attention to how you can accentuate words, draw attention to them. People of course react more emotionally if something is sung rather than said, and I got involved in music through that involvement." This involvement of course led to the writing of such songs as "Ain't No Sunshine," "Lean On Me," "Grandma's Hands" and "Saturday Night In Harlem." This continual involvement may also lead to a television pilot in which Bill Withers will not be musical at all. But it all comes back to the Withers philosophy of doing what you want at the proper time. There's a time for writing, a time for recording, a time for singing and perhaps a time for acting.

Robert Stolz: 93 Years of Music

By PAUL SIEGEL

■ VIENNA, AUSTRIA — On August 25th, world famous composer Robert Stolz will hear the whole world of music wish him a Happy Birthday. Stolz, known for his Grand Prix du Disque BASF album "Two Hearts in 3/4 Time" and the composer of many stage shows, movie scores, classical orchestral pieces, an opera ("Madonna With the Roses") and over 2,000 songs, spoke with Record World about his long career.

When asked what kind of music he liked best, Stolz replied that he "liked all kinds of good music" and went on to say that he is optimistic about the future of music, stating that "In the year 2000 there will certainly be great works of musical literature, for music lives forever. Music containing melody combined with rhythm will be presented in the future just as it is being presented today."

Stolz has worked with many great international stars in his long career, among them Richard Tauber, Marlene Dietrich, Nicolai Gedda, Maurice Chevalier and Edith Piaf.

When asked whether he had ever had any bad experiences in music, Stolz mentioned that he had never had any. "Every experience I have had in music was beneficial, for I always learned, and it was therefore good for me."

Stolz is a great believer in song festivals, a staple of the European music scene, because "they stimulate new composers and new works of music." He also heartily approves of MIDEM, the yearly musical meeting in Cannes and strongly believes that it would be a good idea to have a meeting like MIDEM in Vienna.

Are there going to be upcoming biographies of Stolz? Said the longtime musician, "Biographies about me have been written time and again. There are currently two out. 'Im 3/4 Takt durch die Welt (In 3/4 Time Throughout the World)" by Gustav Holm and "Melody Of My Lifetime" by Wol:-Dietrich Brummel and Friedrich Van Booth.

Ever the optimist, Stolz doesn't believe that there are good and bad people in the world. "I only believe," he says, "that there are happy and unhappy men and women. A happy person is good and wants the whole world to live in peace and happiness. An unhappy person can often not afford the luxury of such a wish."

COUNTRY PICKS OF THE WEEK

SINGLE

BOBBY HAROEN, "MRS. WILLINGHAM" (King Coal, ASCAP). Bobby has a unique self-penned item that shows just how far neighborly love can go. Somewhat in the same vein as "The Lord Knows I'm Drinkin'," but still very distinctive. Definitely a big jukebox disk as the feel and the story line fits the clientele. Will make interesting airplay and pull the phones furiously! Metromedia Country BMB 00068.

SLEEPER

VIRGIL WARNER, "I'M NOT GOING HUNGRY" (Blue Book, BMI). Virgil isn't going hungry on this one, as this Freddie Hart song should eat 'em up. Medium tempo and solid lyric makes for smooth airing and huge sales for the rackers. A fine Joe Allison production and Virgil does a clean and mellow delivery. No famine with this delicious platter! Capitol P3685.

ALBUM

SONNY JAMES, "IF SHE JUST HELPS ME GET OVER YOU." The Southern Gentleman supplies a tasty dish of goodies led by the title cut, and "I Love You More and More Everyday," another recent Sonny James hit. Golden great "A Satisfied Mind" and also "Satin Pillows," plus several other cuts gives a generous serving of the super entertainer's talents. Certainly a big selling disk. Columbia KC 32291.
