DISPLAY AND BUSINESS CARD ADS - DETAILS AND RATES

The deadline is the first of the month for display and business card ad artwork, payment and repeat requests.

Advertising is accepted only for early items related to radio, communication, etc. All items must be described fairly; reproductions, reprints and not-original items must be so identified. Advertisers agree to respond promptly to inquiries and orders, to resolve problems promptly if the buyer is not satisfied, and to comply with a buyer refund request on unaltered returned items.

Advertising must be prepaid, except as noted below; see "Payment" paragraph above for details. Late ads will be run only if space and time permit. Since artwork is reduced to 63% in the printing process, originals must be the artwork size listed below. Do not send in artwork on art board or send negatives. Ads should be typeset or typed neatly with a carbon ribbon, black printing on white. No reverse type if A.R.C. is to make up the ad. If you want us to prepare your ad, include the one-time cost below for A.R.C. to make up the ad.

Photos should be at an 85-line screen; otherwise, add $10.00 per photo for screening. Do not cut or trim photos or glue photos to artwork; submit separately.

EDITOR'S COMMENTS

Meets and auctions make fall an exciting season for radio collectors. Our feature for November is the report on the 1993 Antique Wireless Association (AWA) Annual Radio Conference. This largest of all U.S. radio collector events consisted of four days of flea market activity, five auctions totaling $63,000 in sales, eleven seminars/programs, two banquets, an old equipment contest featuring Westinghouse equipment, visits to the AWA museum and simple kibitzing. All were enjoyed by 1,000-plus collectors. Our report includes an extensive listing of auction items, along with photos from the auction, the old equipment contest, and the flea market. A Fada bullet Catalin radio brought the top auction bid of $2,400.

Also reported this month are the Colorado Radio Collectors' annual fall auction and the auction of the Cunningham collection by Estes Auctions in Ohio.

Although auction listings take more than their usual space this month, collectors of foreign sets, battery sets, and AC sets will all find articles in their areas of interest. Ian Sanders writes about the British Fellows Magneto Company, the maker of the Fellowcryst crystal sets; Richard Arnold presents an interesting article on the forerunner of the Radiola III — the 2-tube RCA Radiola RS regenerative receiver; and Doug Houston describes the Courier Model 653, a radio with a built-in Kyletron electrostatic loudspeaker — the topic of Daniel Schoo's article in the July 1993 issue of A.R.C.

New this month is In the Marketplace, where new products are presented. Suppliers are invited to send in their product announcements and catalogs for inclusion here. Our regular Radio Miscellanea and Photo Review with contributions from our readers, as well as a Ron Boucher cartoon, also appear this month. And collectors in the Ohio area should especially read our Club Spotlight on SPARK, the Society for Preservation of Antique Radio Knowledge, a new, rapidly growing Dayton club.

Renew Now and Save! Another reminder that our subscription rates must be increased about 6% on January 1, 1994. Rate increases are always announced in advance so that subscribers will not be surprised when they renew their subscriptions. Call or write now to renew/extend your subscription for up to 5 years at the current rates to avoid the increase; remember that all early renewals receive 13 months for each annual extension. Also, all advertising rates will be increased in order to divide A.R.C. production costs more fairly between readers and advertisers.

Statement of Ownership. Below is the Statement of Ownership, Management and Circulation required by the U.S. Postal Service showing our September 1993 and 12-month average circulation. Even in this difficult economic year, we are pleased to have increased by 324 subscribers.

Club Events. Although club event activities moderate during the winter months, look over the Coming Radio Events pages for something near you. Attendance at a meet is still the best way to learn firsthand about radio collecting and to meet others who share your enthusiasm for old radios.

Happy collecting.

The Fellows Magneto Company Crystal Sets — 1922-1925

BY IAN L. SANDERS

In addition to a range of battery valve receivers, the Fellows Magneto Company Limited of Park Royal, London, produced four crystal set models between 1922 and 1925 — the Fellocryst, the Fellocryst Junior, and two versions (differing in cabinet style only) of the Fellocryst Super. The products were advertised proudly as "British Made Throughout," under the slogan "For they are jolly good Fellows." Of the three sets, the Fellocryst Super is the most commonly found in collections today and was undoubtedly produced in the greatest numbers.

THE FELLOCRYST

The Fellocryst was a mid-price ranged crystal set with slide-coil tuning and a vertical cat's whisker/silicon detector mounted on an oak baseboard. Introduced in 1922, before the post office registration period, these receivers have no registration number.

The early sets featured an unusual vertical, rotary-style slider arrangement, but by 1923 a more conventional horizontal linear slider was adopted, as shown in Figure 1. The wavelength coverage was 300 to 1,500 meters, and the advertised range was 15 to 20 miles from the local broadcast station.

The price of the Fellocryst in September 1922 was three pounds, fifteen shillings, six pence (£3.775), including aerial wire and accessories and a pair of 4,000-ohm headphones.

THE FELLOCRYST SUPER

The most expensive model in the Fellows range was the Fellocryst Super, shown in Figure 2. This set was first made available late in 1922. The set carries the post office Registration Number 177 and the BBC approval stamp, and is housed in an oak cabinet with lid measuring 9 x 6 1/2 x 5 3/4 inches. All of the fittings are brass and are mounted on an ebonite control panel.

Tuning over the range of 300 to 500 meters is by means of an unusual copper-foil and mica compression type of variable condenser, connected in parallel with a tapped inductor. The condenser construction can be seen in the interior view shown in Figure 3. A 0-180 degree ivory tuning scale is mounted around the condenser knob as a guide to tuning. For long-wavelength reception of Paris time signals, a loading coil, which replaces the polished ebonite shorting-plug, is available.

In most contemporary illustrations of the Fellocryst Super, a detector of the open cat's whisker type is found, as shown in Figure 1. Tony Constable in Early Wireless, however, shows an example of a set with a glass-enclosed detector; it is not clear if this was an original option.

The range was 15 to 20 miles, and advertisements promoted the fact that three pairs of headphones could be operated simultaneously. The price in 1922, complete with one pair of 4,000-ohm headphones and aerial equipment was four pounds, fifteen shillings, six pence (£4.775). The loading coil was an additional six shillings (£0.30).

A "new type" of Fellocryst Super was offered in 1925. It is actually the identical set, but with the panel installed vertically in a leatherette-covered cabinet. A matching black leatherette-covered, one-valve amplifier was available in 1925 and priced at three pounds, twelve shillings, six pence (£3.625), less valve.

By 1925, the price of the Fellocryst Super had dropped substantially to one pound, nine shillings, six pence (£1.475), less phones. The set appears to have been popular and continued to be sold at least as late as 1926.

THE FELLOCRYST JUNIOR

The Fellocryst Junior was a very inexpensive crystal set kit aimed at the "...enthusiastic youngster for use in the schoolroom, scoutroom or home..." Offered in 1923, at twelve shillings, six pence (£0.625) complete with a single headphone, coils and wiring diagram, it was certainly one of the cheaper commercial sets available at the time; see Figure 4.

The receiver consists of a small baseboard upon which is mounted an open cat's whisker/galena type detector and a pair of coaxially mounted flat coils. The coils can be rotated relative to each other (variometer style) for tuning. The advertised range was a modest 12 to 15 miles.

The Fellocryst Junior seems to be a relatively little known model and, to the best of my knowledge, it is not described in any of the standard reference books published to-date.

The Radiola RS A Regenerative Receiver and Amplifier

BY RICHARD ARNOLD

"This world is just one-tenth of a second wide. Wireless has done it. Man has touched the ether waves with the perturbations of his restless spirit, and within the winking of an eye, by man-made receptive nerves at the antipodes, his brother hears his speech." These words by French Strother in a 1922 edition of World's Work magazine express the sense of wonder about wireless in those times.

In 1922, the demand for wireless had swamped the manufacturers of electrical supplies. One of the largest companies of the time, Westinghouse (RCA) had fifteen million dollars in unfilled orders and refused to accept any more until it had caught up. The art of wireless on the technical side was advancing so rapidly that even the experts found it hard to keep up with the daily advances. The dreams of twenty years had been realized overnight, and the impossibilities of yesterday were accomplished a half hour ago.

One of these new marvels was the 2-tube 1923 Radiola RS, as shown in Figure 1. Introduced in May of 1923 by Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. for RCA, the RS was essentially an Aeriola Senior with one stage of amplification squeezed into a single cabinet. This condensed chassis is shown in Figures 2 and 3. The radio is described in the RS owner's manual as follows: "The Radiola RS is a complete radio receiver consisting of a continuously variable inductance with tickler regeneration, a capacity variable in two steps, a vacuum tube detector, and one stage of audio frequency amplification. It has been designed to give strong, clear reproduction of voice and music without distortion, and to be sensitive, compact and easily operated."

One of the principal features of this receiver is the use of a low current vacuum tube, the WD-11. The filament of the WD-11 can be operated satisfactorily by an ordinary dry cell, thus eliminating the need of a storage battery and the consequent necessity of charging periodically.

The RS was the forerunner of the now very popular Radiola III. Factory records indicate that only 4,613 RS sets were made. This seems strange at first since the radio was designed for those who felt that the cost of a receiver embodying two stages of amplification was beyond their means. Still, they wished to hear their local stations on a loud-speaker. However, in 1924, RCA came out with the Radiola III, which limited the production of the RS. The RS with two WD-11 tubes and headphones sold for $85, while the new Radiola III with the same equipment sold for only $35.

Courier Model 653 With Kylectron Speaker

BY DOUG HOUSTON

"It isn't Radio..... It's the Human voice!"

EQUIPPED WITH Kylectron

I read the Kylectron speaker article (A.R.C., July 1993) with above average interest. The reason is that my adventures with such a speaker go back to my earliest days, in the early 1930s.

Within a year of my birth, my father replaced the family's Neutrowound radio receiver with a Courier Model 653 console. This was the model with the Kylectron speaker. It was also my first impression of listening to a radio and operating the controls. Since United Reproducers was on the skids at that time, Father probably got a deal on the set that he couldn't refuse.

With an outdoor antenna, the old clunker performed reasonably well. But one little wrinkle in its performance scared me, for if the volume was turned up a good bit, sparks were visible through the speaker grille cloth. You simply didn't turn up the set "too far" for that reason. This situation persisted for a few years, probably into 1934 or so.

Around that time, I vaguely recall that Father expressed displeasure with the set, but it made no sense to replace a radio that was but 4 years old only because the speaker had become temperamental...just as Daniel Schoo said in his article. Also, the depressed economy dictated that the radio be maintained, rather than replaced. I vividly recall that Father removed the Kylectron, and replaced it with one of the wood-cased coiled-up horns, with a Baldwin unit driving it. I also recall that the Courier didn't sound as good as it had sounded previously.

The Kylectron was given to me to play with (I was five in 1934). Among other ingenious applications of the ill-fated Kylectron, it was used as a cage for our little cat, until Mother caught her perverse little reprobate (me) in the cage as well! Sadly, the Kylectron found its way into the trash.

A couple of years later, in late 1936, the radio developed a bad power transformer, so Father was told. I clearly remember the bright red plates on the Type 80 rectifier tube. That would now tell me — filter condensers. In any event, just before Christmas, Ned's Firestone stores delivered a beautiful carton with the Philco name and wreaths all over it. Inside was the 37-650 Philco for which I was to become the service technician throughout the days that we owned it. The Courier chassis also became a toy for me, before it became part of some landfill — somewhere.

The second Courier that I had ever beheld — Model 652, shown in Figure 1 — appeared in a swap meet a few years ago. It now resides in my collection. Unfortunately, it has the dynamic speaker, but that is surely the reason that the set survived. Oh yes, it's one of my toys, and this time, it will be made functional; I should be able to handle the challenge now!

KYLECTRON SPEAKER AND COURIER RADIOS

The following description of the Kylelectron speaker and Courier radios is taken from a brochure published in 1929 by the United Reproducers Corporation of Springfield, Ohio, producers of the Courier radios.

"Kylelectron represents the highest development of radio. Kylelectron brings you every note of the musical scale, every shade and inflection of the human voice. It gives you radio without 'hum,' without distortion, without mechanical sound of any kind. It does this because it embodies an entirely new principle of sound reproduction — a principle so important that it is revolutionizing radio.

"When you first hear this amazing radio, you will be thrilled with the deep resonance and fidelity with which it actually reproduces every tone of music, every inflection of the human voice. You will hear, possibly for the first time, the beating of low-pitched kettledrums and the sweeping pulsations of bass viols. And you will marvel at the clear, bell-like quality of the high notes, whether sung by one of the world's great sopranos or sounded by the violin or piccolo.

"The Courier radio embodies the very best in modern radio engineering. Screen grid, certainly, and three screen grid tubes at that — and this is the secret by which Courier Radio gets maximum selectivity without forcing the tubes. The radio frequency transformers are of an entirely new design, built to produce uniform reception over the entire broadcast range without any sacrifice of tone quality or sensitivity.

"Power detection is used also — and power detection is another one of the new things in radio. It gives greater volume without distortion.

"The audio system is right, too. It is the kind of an audio that lets every tone come through clear and strong — and that means the low notes that give real background to music, as well as the high ones.

"In other words, everything you've dreamed of is now offered to you at low cost in the Courier."

EVERYTHING YOU'VE DREAMED OF IN RADIO

"For a long while you've dreamed of a radio like the new Courier. A radio that would give you everything you wanted — distance, selectivity, light-socket operation, single dial control, perfect tone reproduction, everything in one cabinet. The Courier is a radio made for you.

"First the cabinet. A thing of beauty! The kind of beauty that results when real designers are permitted to work with the finest materials. The designs of Courier cabinets are simple — yet it is the kind of 'simplicity' that spells quality. Wood of real beauty is used — wood that does not require a lot of superficial decoration to make it look like quality.

"When you tum the dial of a Courier, you know you have something that is a radio. As the dial goes 'round, the stations roll in and fade out one after another over the entire broadcast range.

"And then the tone quality made possible by Kylelectron. Rich, resonant, full-throated harmonies that fill the air with joyous sound. Music that for the first time is really an exact rendition of that which is broadcast from concert hall or studio. All this is yours today in the Courier."

HEAR IT, COMPARE IT...PUT IT TO ANY TEST IN YOUR OWN HOME

"No matter what we tell you about the Courier, after all, no one can describe tone quality — you must hear it. You must actually turn the dial yourself to realize the simplicity of Courier control. You must get the distant stations yourself before you can really understand its sensitivity.

Just get in touch with your Courier dealer, and he will arrange everything so that you can hear this marvelous radio in your home. Of course, these radios can be purchased on easy monthly terms. You can begin to enjoy yours today."

COURIER MODEL 653

"This console is 46 inches high. Its front and doors are of matched burl walnut overlaid with burl maple. Other parts of the cabinet are of American walnut and gumwood. The design is in keeping with the most modern trends, and the console will harmonize with any scheme of interior decoration. Equipped with Kylelectron. Price without tubes, $165."

SCREEN GRID — POWER DETECTION, CERTAINLY!

"The radio 'set' used in all Courier radios is an 8-tube receiver operated directly from the electric light socket. Three screen grid tubes are used. By using three screen grid tubes instead of two, we are able to get maximum selectivity with perfect stability — without forcing the tubes. The screen grid tubes are used in conjunction with recently invented, low-loss, uniform gain, radio frequency amplification, so designed as to give maximum selectivity without any sacrifice of tone quality. This means uniform reception over the entire broadcast range.

"The receiver utilizes power detection and a combination resistance and transformer coupled audio system, the latter being used in the second stage.

"The set is fully shielded and is tuned by a true single dial operating 4-gang, ball-bearing condensers. The tuning dial is illuminated and marked in kilocycles. The set is of die-cast construction and is, therefore, unusually strong and sturdy. The Courier Radio uses the following tubes: three 224's (screen grid), two 227's, two 245's and one 280."

Nocturne Redeaux Manufactured By the Buckeye Group of Ohio

The Buckeye Group of Ohio was formed in the fall of 1992 for the purpose of producing a radio similar to the original Nocturne radio, one of the radios most sought after by collectors. It was designed by Walter Darwin Teague and produced in a very limited quantity by the Sparton Manufacturing Company. From the best information available, we surmise that total production was around 850 units. These units sold for about $350. Approximately 24 known units still exist. Prices for originals are being quoted today from $20,000 to $30,000, and very few are available for purchase. Several are in various museums.

Because of the rarity and price of original Nocturnes, the Buckeye Group decided to create a very limited number of similar radios — "Nocturne Redeaux." (This radio is not to be confused with the unit manufactured in France.) Great pains were taken to make this reproduction equal in quality to the original radio. We were greatly assisted by Doug Heimstead who made detailed drawings of the original. The drawings were sent to a machine shop where the parts were hand-machined. The glass is modern blue glass, since the original cobalt blue glass is no longer manufactured.

The chassis are built in Cleveland, Ohio, and the electronics are identical to those of the 1936 era (this is not a transistor set). The tuning eye lights up and works as the stations are tuned in. The dial has a 5-color channel selector with one shortwave channel.

Nocturne Redeaux was shown at Radiofest in Elgin, Illinois, and was very well received. However, the limited availability of parts restricts us to the manufacture of only 10 units, four of which have already been sold.

The Buckeye Group of Cleveland, Ohio, consists of Alex Kertesz, president; Robert Dobush, in charge of electronics; and Richard Zelman, in charge of production. For information call Alex Kertesz at (216) 831-9110.

WD-11 Replacements

The question posed in A.R.C.'s "Radio Miscellanea," September 1993, p. 11, concerning a source of transistorized WD-11s or 201-As drew many responses, including solutions using adapted modern vacuum tubes.

From Jim Fred. I've been making plug-in vacuum tube replacements for the WD-11 since 1978. I manufacture WD-11-type bases, and up to the present time, I have made between 3,000 and 4,000 bases.

I sell the bases alone, as an adapter for many triode tubes to a WD-11 socket, and as a plug-in replacement vacuum tube. I use a VT24/864 tube or a 1G4GT tube with the newly made base. Both these tubes were developed for the Signal Corp. and are still available on the surplus market.

As customers, I have the three largest distributors of antique radio parts and also list them in my own catalog.

I have also made plug-in replacements for the 201-A, the UX199, and the 120.

P.S. I personally would never defile an old battery set by putting any transistor device into it.

(James A. Fred, Antique Radio Laboratories, R1, Box 41, Cutler, Indiana 46920. 317-268-2214)

From Joseph Anthes. I have been making a transistorized equivalent of a WD-11 or a 201-A for satisfied customers for a year now. We restore burned out antique tubes into full working condition. You can plug it into an otherwise working radio and see for yourself that it works like a brand new tube.

Our price is $5 per tube, for all except the UV-199s and WD-11s, which are $6.50. You supply the duds.

We have a special "one shot" trial offer just to let you find out how our "restored" tubes work. If you send us two duds plus $2.00, we will restore one of them and mail it to you.

This is a sample offer. It cannot be repeated. On regular orders, please add $3 for return shipment.

(Josep Anthes, Antique Radio Tube Company, Box 52, Lutz Rd., Glidden, WI 54527. 715-264-5004)

From Tom Burgess. I have developed a transistorized tube module which is extremely easy to install. It is a thin wafer which slips onto the pins of a dud tube. It does not detract from the aesthetics of the radio, operates at any desired B+ voltage from about 9v to 180v, and can be used in a radio with a mixture of good tubes and transistorized tubes.

The module will be available in four versions: 01-A, UV199, UX199, WD-11 and WD-12.

Evaluation units for the first module will be available in about six weeks at $10 each. The first module will repair 01-A and WD-12 tubes.

Interested parties may contact me during business hours at (501) 568-1995, or write: Tom Burgess, PTI, Box 191117, Little Rock, AR 72219.

From David Smith. People like my WD-11 units because they are not transistorized. They actually work on the original vacuum tube "filament-grid-and-plate" principle, and their tastefully crude look adds to the effect of an old radio. Also, the 1T4 tube used with them is in plentiful supply and very inexpensive. The filament life allows you to play your radio for hours on end. I will gladly supply a data sheet free for a long SASE. The units are ready to plug in anywhere there was an original WD-11. I also custom-make sub units for the 4-pin 01-A.

August Photo Review Mystery Radio

Dear Editor:

I did receive some additional information on my "Mystery Radio" shown in the August 1993 Photo Review. There is a picture of one on page 140 of Evolution of the Radio, Vol. 1. It is identified as General Radio Telexa #5. It is different from my set in that it has a tag saying "General Radio" in the lower center of the front panel, the escutcheon for the tuning eye is missing, and there is a different style tuning knob. It is dated circa the 1930s.

As to the suggestion in the letter you forwarded to me from Ron Boucher, the patent information on the chassis carries the standard licensing information — our old friend "Pat Pending." Mr. Boucher's surmise that the radio at the American Advertising Museum is mine is correct.

James Mason, Beaverton, OR

Save Suspect Parts

Dear Editor:

Don't blindly remove suspect old condensers. About 80% are good for an indefinite time. With the use of Ray Bintliff's voltage lowering transformer (A.R.C. August 1993 and September 1993,) you may find a lot of these condensers are still good.

If you must change a part, you could use a small piece ($\frac{1}{2}$ " x $\frac{1}{2}$ " or smaller) of double sided printed circuit board to hold the new part in a safe place. Remove the wiring to the bad part, solder one side of the printed circuit board to the terminal of the bad part, and solder the new part and the connecting wiring to the other side.

Joe Lysett, Fremont, CA

Thanks For A.R.C. Club Support

Dear Editor:

I want to let you know that the Mid-America Antique Radio Club's summer swap meet held July 25, 1993, was a huge success, thanks to your support in publicizing this meet on a national level. We had at least 100 antique radio collectors participate, some of them traveling from as far as Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Fort Worth, Texas. Even though many areas of Kansas City were either flooded or expecting to flood, our luck held, as our meet location was spared by the water.

Thanks again for all you and your employees do in helping to support antique radio clubs around the country.

The Weekend Refinisher

The Ethics of "Bidding Wars"

Dear Editor:

Over the past year I have noticed a new trend in radio collecting which is very disturbing. The new trend is to run a "For Sale" ad without a price, and when you contact the seller for more info, he states that he has been offered an outrageous sum of money from another collector. The idea is that the seller will start a bidding war, trying to see how much someone is willing to pay, similar to an auction. Other collectors I have spoken to have also experienced the same trend.

It is disheartening to believe that the radio collecting hobby has been reduced to the phrase "The one with the most money wins!" I would like all advertisers to price their items. This way collectors will not waste their time calling if the price is unrealistic.

If you do not know the value of an item, contact other collectors, join a club, or buy the book The Collectors Guide to Antique Radios — most of the prices are fairly accurate and are not overstated.

In my eleven years of collecting, I have generally been pleased with my dealings with other collectors, and I hope this will continue.

Andrew Mooradian, Winchester, MA

A New Collector at Elgin

Dear Editor:

I'm a new collector looking for different transistor sets. I decided to make the trip to Radiofest in Elgin, Ill., to check out my new interest. I had the idea it would be hectic and fast, and I would be lost in the crowd.

There wasn't a familiar face, but that didn't bother me because I was enjoying the scenery. I went to the auction hoping I might win a bid on one nice set. I did. Since my next lot wasn't for another 100 lots, I decided to go back to my motel. On my way, I ran into Bill Wade and introduced myself. We had a nice chat and he told me he would try to bid for me on the next radio I wanted.

The next morning Bill told me I didn't get the radio, but he had a line on some others. He walked the grounds with me and introduced me to people he knew who would help me.

To make a long story short, here was a guy who didn't know me from Adam but showed me the ropes. I met and enjoyed the company of others, and Elgin will be circled on my calendar for next year. Thanks, Bill Wade, for all your help.

Opinion on Guitar Amps.

Dear Editor:

Your magazine keeps getting better, but guitar amps are not antique radios.

MEET AND AUCTION REPORT

Antique Wireless Association 1993 Conference & Auction Report

COMPILED FROM REPORTS BY LARRY BABCOCK, RAY CHASE, TIMOTHY MARTIN, LUDWELL SIBLEY AND JOHN TERREY

The Antique Wireless Association (AWA) held its thirty-second Annual Conference in Rochester, New York, September 22-25, 1993. Over 1,000 persons attended. The conference was held at the Thruway Marriott Hotel south of Rochester and featured over 200 active flea market spaces, 5 auctions, an old equipment contest, numerous seminars, and trips to the AWA Museum. Although it rained on Thursday, the second flea market day, beautiful weather graced the opening day and the rest of the week. Hundreds of attendees were attracted inside to hear the numerous seminars, including one on collecting books and magazines conducted by your A.R.C. editor.

This year, the AWA fine-tuned its flea market management scheme. More of the hotel parking lot was set aside for the preassigned flea market spaces. And, most importantly, the AWA did not allow selling before the official opening day. Last year, the peak of flea market activity was on Tuesday; this year NO sellers sold on Tuesday. This year's Wednesday, the opening day, was a terrific day. This flea market scheme follows the trend used by other clubs in attempting to curb the earlier and earlier selling activity; the result is a fairer chance for all to purchase items for their collections.

A.R.C. reports each year at length on this conference and its auctions for those who could not attend, as well as for those who were there but also want a record of the event. We include a listing of most of the auction items, plus photos from the auction, the Old Equipment Contest and the flea market. Additional information on conference activities appears in the November 1993 issue of the Antique Wireless Association's The Old Timer's Bulletin.

This year, in addition to the usual four separate auctions — Vacuum Tube, Books/Magazines/Advertising, Radio/Miscellaneous Equipment and Communications Equipment — there was an additional auction of 152 communications equipment items from a single estate. Also distributed among the usual auctions were 119 other estate items. In the following report, communications equipment from all auctions is combined in a single listing; the other auctions are reported separately as usual.

Again this year, there were no originals spherical Audions (an item whose price has been approaching $1,000); however, an audion with no vacuum and an open filament brought $300. A Marconi-Osram ERECT diode from the collection of Gerald Tyne (author of Saga of the Vacuum Tube) brought the top bid in the tube auction — $550. Type 01-As are bringing about $12 each, and if they are of the earlier type, with a brass base and a vacuum tip, they bring about $26 each.

Highlights in the Radio/Miscellaneous Equipment auction included a Fada 1000 bullet Catalin radio for $2,400, a very nice brass Ericsson telegraph register for $2,300, an IP-501A for $1,500, and a Canadian Independent Telephone Co. (DeForest's Canadian company) 3-tube set for $1,800.

In spite of the unusually large number of communications sets, their prices in the auctions did not sag. A new high of $400 was reached for a very nice National SW-3 receiver, complete with coils, power supply and instruction book.

This report represents a selection of the auction items. Deleted are items with inadequate descriptions, some items in poor condition, and some with low selling prices. In each category, items have been placed in alphanumeric order. The report is our best attempt to combine all information available to A.R.C.; however, no guarantee can be made for accuracy. Many thanks to those providing information for this auction report. (Editor.)

Colorado Radio Collectors Antique Radio Auction

Denver, Colorado — September 12, 1993

CONTRIBUTED BY LARRY WEIDE

On September 12, 1993, the Colorado Radio Collectors (CRC) held its annual fall auction in the back parking lot of the Southwest Bank Building, 1380 South Federal, Denver, Colorado. The auction immediately followed the club's monthly meeting; however, participants in the auction were not required to be members of CRC. The minimum bid was $5.

Among the highlights of the auction were a Scott Imperial that sold for $600, a Radiola III for $160, and an RCA 103 tapestry speaker for $110. CRC received a 10% commission on items sold, and a 5% commission on buybacks. The following is a selected list of items sold in the auction. No conditions were recorded. The symbol "†" indicates buybacks.

Cunningham Vintage Radio Auction

Medina, Ohio — August 14, 1993

CONTRIBUTED BY RICHARD ESTES

The Cunningham Vintage Radio Auction was held on August 14, 1993, at the Seville Auction Barn, Medina, Ohio. This private sale of the collection of Harold Cunningham was conducted by auctioneer Richard Estes, formerly of the Ruder Auction Service. Due to the death of Larry Ruder in September, the Ruder Company is reorganizing under the name of Estes Auctions. A.R.C. will continue to publish the results of these auctions. The next Estes auction will be on November 13.

Over 100 registered bidders from as far away as Canada, Arizona, New Jersey and New York participated in this brisk sale. In addition to the items listed below, over 200 more radios, tubes, test equipment, and books were sold. Among the highlights were an Atwater Kent Model 10 breadboard selling at $950, a Radiola Model IV in excellent condition at $600, a Westinghouse RA-DA unit (RC) at $350, and a Majestic Model 15 grandfather clock at $350.

Alderfer Auction Follow-up

CONTRIBUTED BY RAY CHASE

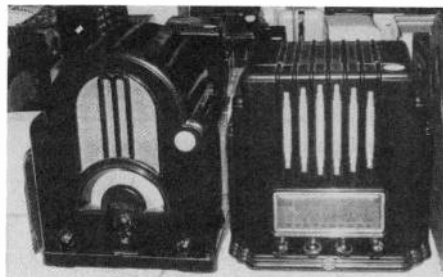

Unfortunately, Ray Chase's report and photographs arrived too late for the report on the Alderfer auction included in the October issue of A.R.C. Ray reports that the auction pace was hectic, and that the 288 lots were moved in 2 hours and 40 minutes by auctioneers Brent Souder and Harold Alderfer. The gross proceeds were just over $12,000. The pictures below show some of the interesting sets that caught Ray's eye.

CLUB SPOTLIGHT

Society for Preservation of Antique Radio Knowledge, Inc. SPARK

An antique radio club was formed June 2, 1992, in the Dayton, Ohio, area. At the June 23, 1992, meeting the club chose the name Society for Preservation of Antique Radio Knowledge (SPARK). Also approved was the club's purpose "to encourage the fellowship and camaraderie between collectors and historians, and to promote the preservation and the historical knowledge of electrical, wireless, radio, electronic and related areas." SPARK now has 70 members, mainly near Dayton, Ohio, with a few members scattered across the country.

SPARK puts out two publications — SPARK Notes, a 2-page monthly meeting notice, and The Electronic Collector, a 6-page quarterly newsletter with articles and free classified ads.

The monthly club meetings feature speakers who are experts in some aspect of collecting — such as refinishing cabinets, repairing radios, and collecting specialties. At each meeting members bring in items from their collections to share for "Showtime." The club meetings are held on the fourth Tuesday of each month at 7:30 P.M. at the ITT Technical Institute, 3325 Stop 8 Road, Dayton, Ohio.

In addition to the monthly club meetings, SPARK holds four swap meets per year; the swap meets are strictly swap meets with no contests or auctions. The club cosponsors an annual swap meet with the Mid-South Antique Radio Collectors (of Kentucky) — the Midwest RadioRama, initiated in June 1993 in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Services offered include a lending library for videos and books on collecting. Also, the club organizes field trips to places of interest to collectors — museums and collectors' homes; a picnic or pizza party is held at some of the locations.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING POLICY

ONE FREE 20-WORD AD for subscribers in each issue; additional words are 17¢ each. See details below. Classified ads must be received (not just postmarked!) by Noon Eastern Time on the ad deadline. Late ads are held for the following issue. Please enclose correct payment with all ads. Stamps or cash are OK for small amounts. (Canadian and other foreign advertisers, please see "Payment" on page 2 for methods.) "Free words" cannot be accumulated from month to month; free words must be requested when ad is submitted.

Please write each ad on a separate sheet of paper, especially when included with other A.R.C. correspondence. Include SUB# with ad. Ads may be sent in advance; but, write each ad on a separate piece of paper and indicate the month (or successive two months) you want the ad to run.

Please write legibly and use both capital and small letters. Do not use dashes between words. Some numbers and letters can look alike, for example 1, l and I (the number one, the capital i and the small L.) Write the following characters clearly (especially in model numbers): 1, l and I; 0, O, o, Q and D; r and n; 6, b and G; V, U, u, v and Y; A and R; 5, S and s; 2, Z and z. We try to correct spelling errors, so when using an uncommon word or manufacturer which looks similar to a common word or manufacturer, note it so that we do not "correct" it. Editor's comments are in [brackets].

Advertising is accepted only for early items related to radio, communication, etc. All items must be described fairly; reproductions, reprints and not-original items must be so identified. Advertisers agree to respond promptly to inquiries and orders, to resolve problems promptly if the buyer is not satisfied, and to comply with a buyer's refund request on unaltered returned items.

Publisher reserves the right to edit ads without notification to the advertiser and to reject ads for any reason. Publisher is not responsible for errors due to illegibly written ads or for any other reason. Since club activities receive free advertising on the Coming Radio Events page, the free 20 words may not be used for club activity ads. See inside front cover for additional information.

CLASSIFIED AD DETAILS

Deadline: NOON ET— 10th of the month!

Classified ads must have a standard heading such as WANTED, FOR SALE, FOR TRADE, FOR SALE/TRADE, SERVICES, MESSAGE, HELP, AUCTION, MEET, etc. This heading is the only bold or all-capitalized words allowed in the ad. Capitalize only manufacturer names, model names, etc. Wanted and For Sale ads are mixed together to encourage the reading of all ads, including the Wanted ads. This standard ad format makes scanning the ads easier.

Before writing your ad, please look over the ads in a recent issue of A.R.C., and try to write your ad in the same style. Full name (or company name) and address is required in all classified ads; we will add it if you forget.

To encourage varied content of the ads, the same classified ad may be run only once per issue and for only two consecutive months. (To run an ad longer, use a boxed classified or display ad.)
