Kelo-Land TV Puts Midwestern Muscle Behind Your Message!

We're more than a group of TV stations. We're a tradition in a busy, prosperous midwest market 100 counties strong. People not only look at us — they look up to us. Because of superior programming and community service.

Result: Greater advertising impact and selling power. No wonder so many national advertisers add midwestern muscle with Kelo-Land TV. Consistently.

TV & Cable Factbook No. 53

GLOBAL BAL

A picture is worth a thousand words, but sometimes a group of words can create a remarkable picture . . . a moment in time that has been accurately captured. So it is with the new Special Report from the International arm of Television Digest, Inc. . . .

FRENZY:

International Telecommunications in Transition

GLOBAL FRENZY is a concise (150 pages) report that serves as a snapshot of an industry that is undergoing dramatic growth and change. It is not intended to be an exhaustive study of international telecommunications policy, technology and economics, but rather a quick and easy-to-read overview of where that industry seems to be at this moment in history and where it is headed.

GLOBAL FRENZY is an introduction to what is happening in telecommunications around the world. Also an historical document, it chronicles developments while analyzing them in introductions by Jonathan Miller, whose reputation as a journalist and lecturer in the fields of space and telecommunications is worldwide, and by Mary E. Crowley, the nation's premier journalist in the field of communications legislation and an acknowledged expert on international communications policy.

GLOBAL FRENZY is a guide to the issues, a tour of the horizon, and a resource to help policymakers and business planners more fully define international telecommunications problems and find paths toward their solutions.

ORGANIZATION OF THE BOOK

The book is divided into three parts. Section I reports on and analyzes the Telecom 83 International Exposition in Geneva. Section II provides an overview of trends and changes in international telecommunications. This section is called "Primer" and its opening line illustrates its direction: "International telecommunications policy is undergoing so many often contradictory changes that 'global frenzy' is an apt descriptor." Section III is an archive of news reports compiled from the pages of COMMUNICATIONS DAILY. They focus on such international items as the cabling of the United Kingdom, videotext development in France and the privatization of Japanese telecommunications.

IT'S EASY TO ORDER

You may either fill out, clip and mail the coupon below to order your copy of GLOBAL FRENZY or you may call our Book Order Desk at (202) 872-9200 to get even faster service. Whichever way you decide to order, please do it today while you're thinking about it.

The important new publication from the publishers of COMMUNICATIONS DAILY and TELEVISION DIGEST . . .

. . . the TELECOM FACTBOOK

Now off press

* Your reference/phone book for the telecommunications industry. ****

Your guidebook to lead you through the maze caused by the telecommunications revolution.

Now you can find answers to all of your telecommunications questions! The 1985 TELECOM FACTBOOK—a master directory of common carriers, independents, satellites, data communications organizations, regulators, international telecommunications entities, and a whole lot more—is now off press!

Whether you need to find out who's doing what at AT&T . . . or the individual responsible for buying equipment at Ameritech . . . or the correct contact for the German PTT . . . or what satellite is scheduled to go up next . . . or the name of the Chairman of the Florida PSC . . . or information about the major (and minor) competitors in the long distance business . . . or the latest scoop on which executives pull the strings at America's independent telephone groups . . . or simply the names of board members of MCI . . . you'll have answers as close as your fingertips with the new TELECOM FACTBOOK.

A Result of Our Own Confusion

Frankly, the TELECOM FACTBOOK is a direct result of the need of our own editors in Washington, New York and London for immediate access to the right people at the right communications organizations. We had no other choice but to put a team of researchers to work to find everything we needed to know. The TELECOM FACTBOOK is the product of that demanding effort. Now you can share the benefits with us.

Copies Are Going Quickly

The TELECOM FACTBOOK is selling faster than we had anticipated. We urge you to order quickly before our inventory is exhausted. Considering all the information it contains, the TELECOM FACTBOOK is a real bargain at only $59 each.

Free Gift

To make ordering even more irresistible for you, we'll send you a very handy FREE gift along with your TELECOM FACTBOOK. It's a copy of Television Digest's Editor's Guide to Telecommunications Buzzwords, Terminology, Acronyms and Abbreviations. In an industry where a whole new language is evolving, this book is "a must" for you.

Easy to Order

All you have to do is fill out, clip and mail the coupon below. And please include your check or send us your credit card instructions. Whichever way you choose, be sure to do it right away.

Television Translator Stations

As of August 15, 1984

VHF and UHF Channels

Dagger (†) preceding a listing indicates station(s) are licensed. Asterisk (*) preceding a listing indicates construction permit(s). Absence of symbols indicates application only. When a community has a translator licensed and another with a construction permit only, these symbols precede call letters.

Transmitter power output (TPO) is given at end of each listing; all translators are one watt (1-W), unless otherwise indicated.

Channel numbers are contained in call letters: For example, Ch. 3 is indicated for Clearwater, Alaska by K03AB. Call letters and location of station repeated are in parentheses.

This listing includes all existing & proposed translator stations, including those which are owned & operated by television stations.
