TV Assignments

Note—UHF and VHF TV assignments have been made by the FCC to the following cities. A plus or minus after a channel indicates that a station occupying the channel must operate with its carrier frequencies offset 10 kilohertz above or below, respectively, the normal carrier frequencies.

Asterisks (*) indicate channels reserved for non-commercial use. Footnotes: 1) Following the decision in Docket 18261 (amendment of rules regarding geographic reallocation of channels 1-20 to land mobile radio in the 25 largest urbanized areas of the U.S.) channels so indicated will not be available for use until further action by the FCC. 2) This channel is not available for Elgin, Ill., unless FCC determines it is not needed at Joliet, Ill. 3) This channel is not available for Asbury Park, N.J., unless FCC determines it is not needed at New Brunswick, N.J. 4) Channel 15 will not be available for television use until further action by the FCC. 5) Stations using these assignments shall limit radiation toward stations on the same channel in Puerto Rico. 6) Operation on this channel is subject to the conditions, terms, and requirements set out in the report and order in docket 19075, RM-1645, adopted Jan. 5, 1972, reissued Jan. 76, 1972. FCC-72-19. (As of August, 1983).

Television Marketplace

The ADI Market Atlas

The Area of Dominant Influence is a geographic market design that defines each television market exclusive of the others, based on measurable viewing patterns. Each market's ADI consists of all counties in which the home market stations receive a preponderance of viewing, and every county in the U.S. (excluding Hawaii and Alaska) is allocated exclusively to only one ADI—there is no overlap. The total of all ADI's represents the total television households in the U.S.

The ADI is a standard market definition. As a television buying tool it is a geographic and demographic means for maximum efficiency. As a station tool it has applications for sales, programing and promotion planning.

Following, in alphabetical order, are Arbitron Television's 211 ADI markets for 1984-85, with coverage maps for each, and county-by-county breakouts of TV households. Other data include the market's stations, and their cities of license, channel numbers and network affiliations.

Coverage maps show total survey areas in white, the ADI's themselves in light crosshatching, and Arbitron Metro Rating Areas in heavier crosshatching. The survey areas consist of all counties in which the home market stations are viewed to any significant extent, including via cable. The Metro Areas, usually conform to the U.S. Census Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.

Supplementary markets do not meet Arbitron's criteria for having an ADI of their own; they are listed in this atlas next to the ADI of which they are a part.

A complete list of the supplementary markets appears on page C-142 and a cross-reference list for cities in a multi-city ADI on C-206.

Supplementary markets

The following supplementary markets have no ADI. Reports for these non-ADI markets may be produced in the November, February and/or May surveys. Data on each market is listed in the surrounding atlas adjacent to the ADI in which it falls. TV household estimates for supplementary markets are nonadditive, since these markets are composed of counties which are a part of other markets' ADI's.

TV Markets by Nielsen Marketing Research Territory

Nielsen Marketing Research territory groupings are another standard way of reporting sales data. The following table ranks TV markets within each Nielsen Territory. This provides a yardstick for determining the number of spot markets needed to achieve a given coverage of a territory. For example, if the national media are not delivering sufficient advertising weight in

New England, the planner will find that three TV markets (Boston, Hartford and Providence) contain almost 80% of the New England territory households. Or, he can use the table to get a better idea of how and what TV markets are needed to cover all of New England. Data is from special Nielsen Station Index tabulation based on a January 1985 estimate.

How Network Delivery Varies by Market

National advertisers use spot television to increase network advertising weight in specific markets to achieve a predetermined level. These market goals are derived from the advertising budget and the market's share of the brand's projected sales. Thus, a spot schedule is usually indicated where a market has an unusually high brand-sales potential, or where the network weight delivered for the brand is below the national average used in planning, or both.

The first factor, market brand potential, varies by product and is difficult to generalize. The second factor, local-market network audiences, must be generalized because planning is based upon next season's anticipated network performance. The prevalence of network "package" buys, which tend to deliver average audience levels, supports the use of average data.

The following tabulation, chosen especially for the BROADCASTING/CABLECASTING YEARBOOK, shows Arbitron Television's Areas of Dominant Influence (ADI) in terms of percent of the total number of U.S. TV households. Also given, in like percentage terms, are the network audiences in each ADI market during prime-time hours. It is this market audience figure, when compared to the market's share of the population, that indicate whether the network commitment will perform above or below the national plan average in that market.

The figures are based on Arbitron Television's May 1984 Network Program Group Analysis.
