When a minor statement becomes a major issue.

A slip of the tongue can be more costly to your media client than a slip and fall. Even when the statement is true. Retractions and corrections can help, but not always. In the suit-happy '90s, more and more people in the news want their day in court. When that happens, juries agree with them 80% of the time.

If that statistic worries you, look to us for specialized coverage. Media/Professional Insurance together with A.M. Best-rated A+ XV carriers offer a unique approach to media insurance. Our experienced underwriters and in-house claims counsel work together to ensure consistency and flexibility...so answers are there when you need them.

Media/Professional is America's largest underwriter of libel and related media coverages. For a lot of very sound reasons.

So before someone takes issue with you, have your insurance agent or broker call us at (816) 471-6118 extension 281. An insured word may mean the last word.

(The hottest address for TV advertising
since Peyton Place.)

Every day more and more buyers and sellers of broadcast media are making the move to AdValue, the first system ever to connect agencies, reps and stations in an interactive online environment that tracks every action and transaction—even better than a busybody gossip in TV soaps.

The lack of disputes and discrepancies that results may not be the stuff that prime time drama is made of, but it's the most dramatic improvement in media management since the buying of time began. To find out why, write us at our e-mail address above or call us at (212) 726-5300.

Television Assignments by State

The following table of assignments contains the channels designated for the listed communities in the United States, its territories, and possessions. Channels designated with an asterisk (*) are assigned for use by noncommercial educational broadcast stations only. A station on a channel identified by a plus (+) or minus (-) mark is required to operate with its carrier frequencies offset 10 kHz above or below, respectively, the normal carrier frequencies.

Footnotes: 1) Following the decision in Docket No. 18261, channels so indicated will not be available for television use until further action by the Commission. 2) Operation on this channel is subject to the conditions, terms and requirements set out in the report and order in Docket No. 19075, RM-1645, adopted Jan. 5, 1972, released Jan. 7, 1972, FCC 72-19 (Added 72-19, 1/7/72). 3) This channel is not available for use as Elgin unless and until it is determined by the Commission that it is not needed for use at Joliet, Ill. 4) Stations using these allotments shall limit radiation toward stations on the same channel in Puerto Rico, to no more than the effective radiated power which would be radiated by an omnidirectional radio station using maximum permissible effective radiated power for antenna height above average terrain, at the minimum distances from such stations specified in § 73.61(b). The FCC shall consider the status of the negotiations with the appropriate British authorities concerning these allotments when the applications for construction permits come before the FCC.

Nielsen DMA Market Atlas

The Designated Market Area (DMA) is a geographic market design that defines each television market exclusive of others, based on measured viewing patterns. Each market's DMA consists of all the counties in which the home market stations receive a preponderance of viewing, and every county is allocated exclusively to one DMA—there is no overlap. The total of all DMAs represents the total television households in the U.S.

The DMA is a standard market definition. As a television buying tool, it is a geographical and demographic means for maximum efficiency. As a station tool, it has applications for sales, programming and promotion planning.

Following, in alphabetical order, are Nielsen's 211 DMA markets for 1997 with coverage maps (1996) for each, with county by county breakdowns of TV households. Other data includes the markets' stations, their cities of license, channel numbers and network affiliations.

Coverage maps show total survey areas in light shading, the DMAs themselves in dark shading and white, with Nielsen Metro rating areas in white. The survey areas consist of all counties in which the home market stations are viewed to a significant extent, including via cable. The Metro Areas usually conform to U.S. Census Standard Metropolitan statistical areas.

Non-DMA markets do not meet Nielsen's criteria for having a DMA of their own. They are listed with the DMA of which they are a part.

A cross-reference list of cities in multi-city DMAs appears on C-228.

TV Markets by Nielsen Marketing Research Territory

Nielsen Marketing Research territory groups are another standard way of reporting sales data. The following table ranks TV markets, known as Designated Market Areas (DMAs), within each Nielsen territory. This provides a yardstick for determining the number of spot markets needed to achieve a given coverage of territory. For example, if the national media are not delivering sufficient advertising weight in New England, the planner will find that three TV markets (Boston, Hartford and Providence) contain over 75% of New England territory households. The planner can also use the table to get a better idea of what TV markets are needed to cover all of New England. Data is from the Nielsen Station Index with tabulations based on a January 1997 estimate. Copyright 1997 Nielsen Media Research.
