THE CROSLEY ROAMIO AUTOMOBILE RADIO

Think of the untold hours of pleasure, diversion, entertainment and amusement you derive from a radio receiving set in your home. Imagine how lost you would feel without it! Every time you fail to hear one of your favorite radio features you feel a sense of having lost something. Oftentimes this loss is due to some necessary trip in your automobile which keeps you away from home at a particular hour. Now radio has been put on wheels—you can take your favorite radio entertainment with you wherever and whenever you drive your car. No longer need you remain at home to hear a particular program if your car is equipped with a CROSLEY ROAMIO Automobile Radio receiving set. Men who drive to their homes after a busy day in office, factory or store find diversion and relief from business cares and arrive home in a pleasant and happy frame of mind. Women who drive children to and from school find amusement and entertainment for both themselves and children. Salesmen who travel by automobile find a friendly relief from the monotony of driving. No matter where you are—driving in the city, touring in the country, parked awaiting family or friends—the CROSLEY ROAMIO will bring you your choice of radio broadcasts the same as would a Crosley receiving set in your home were you comfortably seated there. The CROSLEY ROAMIO is extremely selective and sensitive and has extraordinary distance-getting ability. The automatic volume control maintains a practically uniform volume even on distant stations. It also maintains the volume in shielded areas, and eliminates the necessity of constantly changing the volume. The special lock in the control panel makes it impossible to operate the set when it has been locked by the owner. Uses five tubes, two of which are Screen Grid. The CROSLEY ROAMIO is easily and quickly installed in practically any automobile. It fits snugly and conveniently under the dash, entirely out of the way yet in a position to render full volume for the entertainment of all in the car. The control panel is attached to the dash handy to the finger tips. The set is moisture and dustproof. The installation of a CROSLEY ROAMIO in your car can be made quickly and conveniently, whether or not the car has an in-built antenna. The cost of the CROSLEY ROAMIO is little when compared with the cost of your car. The pleasure and delight to be obtained from it are great. See it—hear it—drive with it!

CANADA is wrestling with the broadcast problem in earnest now. No one knows whether or not Canada is to proceed with its broadcasting under the private ownership system, operative in the United States, or under public ownership as comprehended in a bill now before the Canadian Parliament. Canada has some of the British virus in its makeup and the British are all for government control. But many of the progressive Canadians favor private development. There are 120 applications for new stations on file by firms and individuals who wish to broadcast for advertising purposes as it is done in this country, and broadcasters are in a dilemma. It will be safe to say that advertising will win.

THE National Advisory Committee on Education by Radio, a Hoover creation, is planning to test the educative value of radio by putting 100 receiving sets in homes where no member of the family can read or write. We presume that every month or so an agent of the committee will ring the doorbell and inquire politely, "Can you read now? Can you write your name?" Those who fail to pass the test will probably lose their sets, or the government will take away their B batteries. We shall await the net results of Uncle Sam's experiments with the new "culture box" with considerable interest.

NORWAY has just announced that its whaling fleet now has radio sets aboard and gentlemen of the harpoon and oil no longer need miss the good things of life just because they are out perforating a sperm oozer. We can imagine a dramatic moment aboard such a boat with the cry of the lookout: "Thar she blows!" echoing on the air, when the captain walks out of his cabin and says: "Let 'er blow and be blowed to her; all hands on deck for Amos 'n' Andy!"

OUT of Washington this week comes the news that KGO will have to seek a new wave length, on which it has operated since the beginning, or go off the air. This, in effect, is the finding of the United States Supreme Court which has turned down an appeal of the Federal Radio Commission and decided that the Court of Appeals is a sort of super-commission. The decision was in the WGY case. WGY was given a limited time schedule and forced to share KGO's wave. It appealed. The Court of Appeals reversed the commission. The commission appealed and the Supreme Court sustained the lower court. WGY now gets full time and KGO will have to shift, simultaneous broadcasting on the same wave, even though the stations are 3000 miles apart, being a failure. This change of KGO will shift one of the oldtimers, but may help reception in the Sacramento valley, where, in a number of spots, KGO is poorly received.

THE nation's capital will have a police radio system for dispatching orders to police cars and outlying stations from a central broadcasting station, if Congress accepts the Bureau Budget's estimate of $18,500 for that purpose. President Hoover has endorsed the project.

The RADIO TATTLER

By EARLE ENNIS

IT DIDN'T seem possible that anybody could think up a new one, but somebody has. It is the "midget" radio—a tiny device that has all the main things found in the big ones, and yet is so small a burglar will break in to get one. Screen grid tubes, dynamic speaker, static, funny shape—everything.

* * *

We discovered one the other day. A fussy old gentleman on a corner was feeling through his pockets.

"Match?" we inquired.

"No, thanks," said he. "I've lost my radio set."

We helped him hunt. Finally he found it wrapped up with his meat. He had set it down on a counter for a minute and the butcher had wrapped it in with the chops. A midget radio!

* * *

The old gentleman demonstrated it right there. Said he's rather have it than a wife.

"I can shut it off when I want," he explained.

"What do you do for batteries?" we asked.

"Don't use 'em," said the f. o. g. "It plugs in."

He led us up to a cigar stand.

"Can I borrow your extension cord?" he said.

The clerk passed over a socket. The old gent plugged in his set, turned the dial, and hooked some stock reports.

"Shake you twenty-six," he said to the clerk.

The clerk's face brightened and he brought out the dice. We left them rolling the bones with wheat crackles at .02½ bid.

The thing about the midget is its complete portability. You grab it by the handle, like a suitcase, and take it anywhere. Every socket is your meat. The line wire of the juice system is your antenna, and the juice runs it. You can carry it into a bathroom and have music while you shower, or into the garage while you change a tire. No need to miss any radio feature now.

* * *

In large auditoriums the midget is a boon. If you sit too far back to hear the speeches, you can reach down, plug the midget into a floor socket, and pick up the speech from some distant radio station. It beats the talking movies all hollow because there is no loss of synchrony. You can even take one to church during baseball season and derive a double benefit.

* * *

The funny thing about a midget is that it looks exactly like anything but what it is. One midget resembles a small church. Another might be a mechanic's lunch box. Still another simulates a hot water bag, only it leaks music instead of water. Old folks don't like them because of this fact. For instance, the old lady who got all comfortable with one for the night, and then found she had a jazz orchestra in bed with her.

* * *

But folks will have to get used to them. We saw a man set his watch by the dial on a midget the other day, under the impression that it was one of these electrical skip-stop, merry go-'round clocks that keep step with the power house. He'll know better the next time. Also the girl who spent five minutes trying to get gum out of one of them. Radio is getting smaller and smaller and we've got to be alert and not mistake them for other things.

* * *

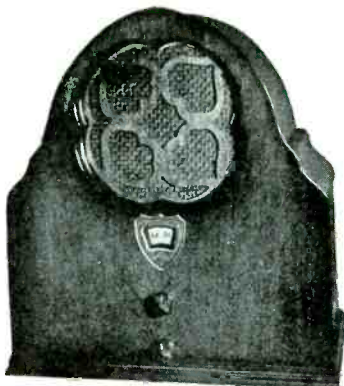

The very nicest thing about midget receivers is that a family can have a half dozen of them. Grandma can sit over in the corner and tune in all the salacious jokes they wouldn't let her hear when she was a girl. Mother can get comfortable in the rocker with her favorite tenor on the table beside her. The old man can hit the Morris chair with his midget and a play, and sis can sprawl on the couch with her midget and a crooner. If it is a bit noisy to talk, one to the other, the family can install an exchange board and plug each other in for conversation.

* * *

Thus does the little midget promise home peace and settle the nightly battle at the dial. More power to it. No—that's wrong. Less power to it, but more midget—and a telephone booth for each one so we can lock ourselves in and hear what we want without being made to hear what we don't want.

MICROPHONE GOSSIP

Realizing that first-hand information is necessary to the accurate understanding of a player's capabilities, Don Thompson, KPO's popular sports announcer, who broadcasts the events of the sport world for the Associated Oil Company, and who was himself one of the best of a wonderful crop of football players during his college days, dons his football togs during the spring training season, and on every Monday, when baseball is off the air, invades the different training grounds of the colleges to scout and play opposite the men whose merits he will later tell of to a listening microphonic world during the approaching season.

A combination of talents makes Don an outstanding figure in his field. Besides being a brilliant player himself Don has the background of a thorough newspaper training, knows news and knows how to tell it, and his voice has that pleasing quality which holds the attention of dial twisters.

Radio artists and those in the production departments who are seldom mentioned in the personal "shorts" released by the KFRC publicity department claim they are too busy working to have much interesting happen to them. However, with the old nose always on the grindstone they have a steady stream of programs to show for their pains. Some of these include Merle Matthews, KFRC production manager; Meredith Willson, musical director, and Mahlon Merrick, director of the dance band and modern melodists. Mahlon, however, has promised us a story soon on a musical play he is writing in collaboration with Jack Hasty, well-known radio writer.

Ken Stuart, premier sports announcer in the Pacific Northwest, believing his greatest asset is his voice, has announced that he has insured his voice for $25,000. A policy for this amount taken out with the Northern Life Insurance Company, Seattle, protects him against loss of his voice.

Through his coverage of baseball and football games, boxing matches, wrestling bouts, crew regattas, and other sports, Stuart's voice has become familiar to listeners throughout the Pacific Northwest, Western Canada and Alaska.

In addition to covering sports events, Stuart has developed one of the most popular programs in the Pacific Northwest. It is the Thirty Minutes of Sunshine program which is broadcast over KJR and stations affiliated with the Northwest Broadcasting System every evening, except Sunday and Monday, from 10 to 10:30 o'clock.

The stock phrase, "Let George do it," has a variant in the studios of KYA. When the unusual is to be done, the order goes out, "Let Helen do it." The Helen in question is Helen Stone, crooner of deep-voiced ballads, arranger of trio parts, cellist, and in a pinch manipulator of the thunder machine when "Barnacle Bill" is being sung. But these are only a few of Helen's activities in the studio. Away from the world of radio she is a crack tennis player; one of the first women aviation pilots on the west coast, and for several seasons doubled in Hollywood for famous movie queens. She has the face of a Grecian goddess and is built gracefully on the lines of Charlotte Greenwood.

South Africa is a long way from San Francisco, but that doesn't keep C. R. Slingsby Clarendon, South Africa, and other residents of the diamond country from tuning to the NBC station KGO for Saturday night entertainment.

It's Sunday morning when the folk in South Africa hear NBC's Saturday night show, but that doesn't destroy interest. In a letter received at the San Francisco studios May 21, Slingsby says:

"Allow me to congratulate you on your third anniversary, which I heard broadcast. . . . It really is wonderful how your station comes over. I can always get you at full loudspeaker strength right up to 10 o'clock Sunday morning—your midnight Saturday."

The writer commented especially on the success of "Cotton Blossom Minstrels" and "Memory Lane."

Betty Hampton, on whose shoulders rest the secretarial duties of KPO, has shown a marked ability as a realtor. Betty recently purchased a home at San Carlos, but not content has invaded the Burlingame section, where she holds several pieces of choice property. Her hobby is dogs, and her beautiful black and white blue ribbon collie Laddie, is the talk of her neighborhood. But the talk is favorable.

WABC page boys who patrol the studios, corridors and reception rooms of the Columbia System building are put through a daily military drill on the roof to keep them fit.

So many thrill-seekers were racing to fires that were announced over KJBS that Fire Chief Brennan had to issue instructions that no more box locations would be given out. Instead, the station shrieks a blast on the siren and gives the box number. And that, radio fans, will simply have to do, unless you happen to be fortunate enough to carry one of those box location booklets.

Zeph Fitzgerald is announcing the fights each Wednesday at 9:30 p. m. for an hour from the Wilmington Bowl and over KGER, Long Beach. Fitzgerald announced the Dempsey-Tunney encounter over radio stations in the Midwest and later was called east by the New York State Boxing Commission to give his version of the much discussed seventh round. He also announces the Tuesday night 9:30 o'clock fights from the Olympic in Los Angeles over KFWB and KGER.

San Francisco and KPO, the Hale-Chronicle station, will be advertised in a novel way in Buddy Rogers' new talking picture, "Safety in Numbers," recently released by Paramount. In one of the scenes of the picture where a radio receiving set is tuned in to supply the dance music the call letters "KPO San Francisco" have been used.

Buddy, it is rumored, is responsible, because he asked that the station over which his pal and friend, Jesse Stafford, director of the Palace Hotel Dance Orchestra, plays, be named in the picture.

Thus movie patrons throughout the country who see and hear "Safety in Numbers" will hear the announcement. Who says friendship doesn't pay?

Professor Succatash of the Columbia Nit Wits is Minnie Blauman, who for eight years was one of Irving Berlin's music arrangers and is now arranging vocal scores for "Mardi Gras" and other features. She is also director of the Columbia Grenadiers, a male quartet, and the Columbia Girl's Trio.

KGER's Sunday night frolic has been relegated to the ash heap, or wherever it is that discarded radio programs go. In its stead you will find Ole and his Gang. This is a band of trusty performers muzzled and led before the microphone blindfolded by Jerry Purcell, station announcer, who takes the part of Ole.

Too much realism in Vanita d'Voir's screams during a recent rehearsal of "The Cross-Eyed Parrot" at NBC's San Francisco studios was responsible for no small amount of excitement.

Ted Maxwell, author of the play on which Carlton E. Morse is basing his radio dramatizations, was in charge of the rehearsal. He placed Miss d'Voir outside of the studio with instructions to scream lustily. When she did, more than a score of frightened staff members rushed to the scene. A man who was delivering a jar of distilled water almost dropped it. Miss d'Voir's shrieks during the Friday night broadcasts of "The Cross-Eyed Parrot," a serial mystery play, have sent shivers up and down the spines of more than one listener, letters indicate.

Dwight Prickett, baritone, hailing from Stockton, California, is the latest lad from the hinterland to make good in the big city. He has just been signed up by KFRC, the Don Lee station, and will be heard regularly on the air in the future, both in solos and ensemble. Prickett attracted considerable attention through his showing in the Atwater Kent contest of last year. He sang over the local Stockton station and was prominent musically in a number of organizations in his home town.

Harry Wickersham, the Night Owl at KJBS, has succeeded in capturing a baby owl, with which he initiates new members into the Owl Club. The mystery of how Harry managed to train the owl to squawk at the right time is still a mystery.

* * *

Kevin Ahearn, the young Irish tenor who used to be heard regularly over KPO's early morning broadcasts, has forsaken the "mike" for a time. Kevin has gone back to his first love—selling office furniture. And a fine salesman he is after being!

Dance music, popular songs, old-time songs, jazz, variety programs, musical novelties, semi-classical music and comedy skits are popular in the order given with radio listeners, according to answers to a questionnaire which the Columbia Broadcasting System sent to seventy-three station managers in the United States and Canada.

Personal Pickups

By GYPSY

A. M. F., Oakland, Cal.—Herb Scharlin (KFI) is 26 years old and single. He is 5 feet 6 inches tall, 150 pounds in weight, has blue eyes, black hair (beautifully marcelled by nature) and is an amiable, adaptable sort. He was born in San Francisco, graduated from a military academy, and attended U. C. Goes in for swimming, horseback riding, and is very fond of pets (the four-footed kind, he insists). But the thing that causes his heart to do real flip-flops is fancy automobiles. Can't you just hear him Oh-boying! over some high-powered menace?

* * *

L. A. M., Portland, Ore.—Bernice Berwin (NBC) graduated from the University of California in 1923. The "Dainty Misses" (KFRC) say they have not made talkies.

* * *

V. W., San Jose, Cal.—Mabelle Spencer (KQW) is of Scandinavian origin and was born in Oakland, Cal., in 1906. She is a divorcee, the mother of a nine-year-old child, and works, in addition to her broadcasting, as waitress. Characteristically good-natured and generous, always going out of her way to do a kindness, managing somehow, time in between duties to cheer the ex-service men at the hospitals with her songs and uke. She is 4 feet 11 inches tall, weighs 130 pounds, has blue eyes and blonde hair.

* * *

A. W., Seattle, Wash.—Johnny O'Brien (NBC) looks just like his name—boyish, Irish, genuine. His home town is San Francisco. His parents both hail from Ireland. Johnny never dreamed of taking the harmonica seriously. It was rather fun and whiled away the time during intermissions at his father's grocery store. But that's the way it goes. Now the chores have to be done by someone else. Incidentally, the harmonica he uses is as innocent of furbelows and deceits as Johnny himself. No frivolous chromatics or effective gadgets.

Mrs. U. L., Placerville, Cal.—"Mac" (KFRC) is probably the most picturesque figure in all radioland. Big and hearty, with gray eyes that miss nothing, a shock of silver hair and a truly Bohemian air. He reads much, has an amazing fund of knowledge on every conceivable subject concealed under a rakish hat that is invariably cocked at a dangerous angle, wears a Windsor tie and has a penchant for colorful shirts. He is altogether lovable. A former railroader. An exceptional artist. You should see his paintings. "Mac" has studied at the finest art institutes for many years and among his friends and acquaintances are some of the world's greatest celebrities.

W. C. J., Los Angeles, Cal.—Pearl King Tanner (NBC) is like her daring, pioneering father. Unafraid, challenging, willing to risk security for adventure. Pearl believed in radio when it was young and scathingly criticized or scornfully ignored by other legitimate actors. They thought her unutterably foolish and quite mad when she announced her intention to forsake the stage. But forsake it she did, eight years ago, and fell so deeply in love with radio that she has never been tempted to leave it. In broadcasting she finds adventure, that thrilling something that is ever new, and its opportunities offer so many interesting possibilities for that chameleon voice of hers 'twould be a pity were she to fall out of love.

* * *

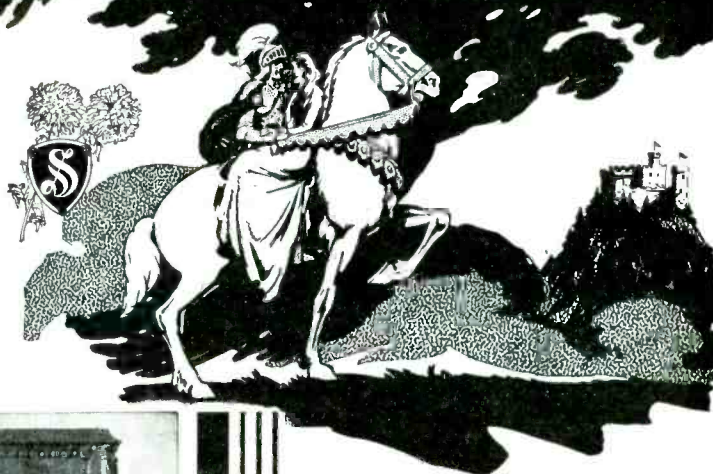

W. E. D., Sacramento, Cal.—No, I can't say that Cyrus Trobbe (KPO) is exactly serious-minded. Of course he has his moments, but—Cy will never, never grow up. Honestly I believe he lies awake thinking up pranks. One of his keenest joys is pantomiming while some unfortunate singer is pouring out his soul in a touching ballad before the microphone. (You'll be punished some time, Cy. Some dark and stormy night when you've forgotten your key and the door is locked and you try and try to whistle and can't make a sound—wait an' see.)

* * *

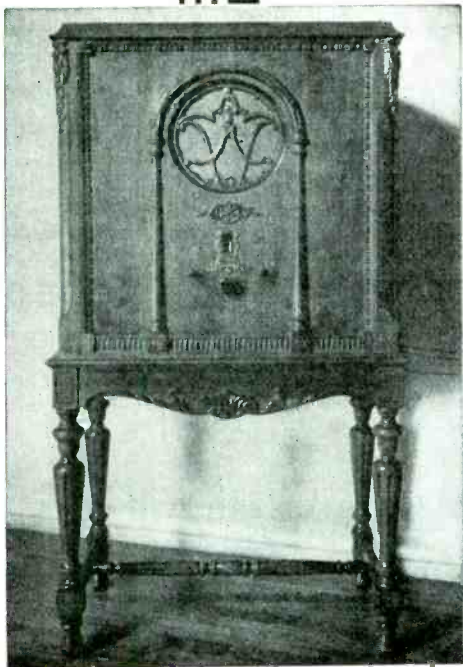

Mrs. M. G., Merced, Cal.—No, indeed! Marta and I have not given up broadcasting. Like the bad penny, we'll be back. Just giving the listeners a little rest. You will find those records listed in the Columbia catalogue. Thanks a million for your generous letter.

Radio Siren Is Nemesis of Crook World

“WAH-OO . . . Holdup—Pine and California streets. . . .” The announcer at KJBS, breaks into the musical program, with the wail of a siren, snaps out the above information, and cuts back the music. It is just a second’s interruption, and the program goes on again. Listeners wonder what it is all about.

Let’s look for a minute: a police car is cruising along Van Ness Avenue—a dark, unimpressive machine, housing a heavily armed squad of cops. Nothing about it to indicate that it is a police car, save perhaps its license plate. Beside the driver’s ear hangs a tiny loudspeaker. At his feet, a small radio receiver, tuned to KJBS’ wave length.

There is a faint sound of music as the car slides along through traffic, and then—out of the loudspeaker comes the moan of a siren. The four men in the police car come to sudden, alert attention.

“ . . . holdup—Pine and California streets. . . . ”

The car pivots about at right angles, and its own siren cuts a hole through traffic. The driver steps on the gas, and the car streaks through the night, responsive to the faint call of the radio. One, two, minutes. A man running down the street, a payroll under his arm, is picked up by the speeding police machine. A gun cracks—the man slithers to the sidewalk. Voices, the rattle of handcuffs . . .

That’s what this all-day-and-night service of KJBS is doing for the San Francisco police department and the general public in the safeguarding of property and life. It is a free experimental service, testing out the value of radio for police and fire department use, with the public sitting on the sidelines listening. Is it a success? Is it proving of value? Is it worth the interruption of the programs, hour after hour?

Read here the record of what has already been accomplished by this little public service move by one broadcasting station as taken from the police and fire department check-up of the radio service for one short month. It has a thrill in every line:

1. A test was made before a group of Supervisors and city officials gathered on the corner of Fifteenth and Guerrero streets, San Francisco. At agreed time, call was sent to KJBS, telling cars two and three to report to that corner for emergency. Time was carefully noted. Four minutes later, car number two arrived at scene. It had been cruising a beat at the county line approximately three miles away when call came in. Six minutes elapsed and car number three whizzed to a stop with a scream of its brakes. It had been cruising on the Embarcadero when the call came in, and had to traverse the downtown traffic nearly all the way to the scene— This test was a decided success.

2. A hurry call was given to KJBS, ordering cars two and five to report in immediately to police headquarters. The sergeant in the office of the Chief of Police vouches for the fact that the two cars had called in and all business cleared in the record time of one and one-half minutes!

3. Detectives Vincent Morris and Robert Garrick were cruising a beat early one morning when they received a report of a fire alarm on a corner near them. Hurrying to the scene, they discovered no fire, but did see a figure hurrying away. Giving chase, they overtook the man, and upon questioning he confessed turning in the alarm “Just to see the engines whiz by.” The man, Albert Sheehan, was given ninety days in jail by Police Judge O’Brien.

4. A report was broadcast regarding a stolen car. One car on patrol had just passed the car in the case. Returning, they waited until the driver came out and started the car. He drove away—to jail.

KJBS is linked to police headquarters and the fire central bureau by direct wires, operating telephone, tapper and tape machines. Official announcements take precedence over all other broadcasts, day or night, the air being split for the announcement. In addition to the police cars already equipped with radio, the fire chief has an installation in his car and plans are under way for similar installations in battalion cars.

Stolen car numbers are broadcast immediately, enabling patrol cars to keep their lists up to the minute. Hit-runners are now under immediate danger of capture with every police car in the city on the lookout for them. In addition, garages and restaurants with thousands of patrons and motor-

Trailing Antenna Taboo For Motor Radio

THE Detroit man who put a radio set in his automobile and trailed his antenna behind, as does an airplane, caused a lot of excitement when he wrapped the wire around a fire plug as he turned a corner. Even then, things might not have been so bad had there not been a policeman leaning against the plug. The static from that point on was terrible.

Installing a radio set in a machine is easy—if the installer knows how. He must find out first what not to do, and after that, what he ought to do. In general, any shielded set can be put in a car and will work well. An unshielded set picks up too much extraneous noise to make the plan practical.

The first problem is that of the antenna. Chicken netting, made of copper, is a good antenna, within certain limits. At no time is any car antenna as good as an overhead wire such as is used in permanent installations, so that the car set user must realize that right from the start, unless he has a specially built motor set, antenna conditions are against him.

In some cars, four screw eyes are placed in the corners of the top, a tag, such as hangs on hotel keys, hooked over each one and an antenna wound around the inside through holes bored in the tags. The tags are of bakelite. When the thing is done, and the wire pulled tight, it is self-supporting. In this way from 60 to 100 feet can be used for an antenna with excellent results.

The car battery can be used to run the set, but the connections to it, as well as the B and C batteries, must be in shielded cable to keep the wires from picking up noise from the car's ignition system. The electrical circuits of the car itself are the most difficult of elimination. One is to put an eliminator unit on the starter and on the generator—a filter which takes out the noise. The starting switch, windshield wiper, horn—all must be equipped. Interference from spark plugs and distributor leads can be killed by "suppressors" at the plugs and in the distributor head.

If one is content to carry along a radio and enjoy it only while parked in some convenient spot, all of this trouble can be avoided. No shielding is necessary either in set or machine. An antenna may be thrown on the ground and a lead to the metal framework of the car or the engine provides the "ground" connection. By this system the family set, if it be of the battery type, can be tucked in a trunk and taken along with no unnecessary formalities.

Many manufacturers are seeing to it that the new models of cars are so wired that a radio set can be installed with a minimum of trouble and expense and this will undoubtedly be an element in the cars of the future. It seems probable that a great majority of pleasure cars in the near future will be directly equipped with radio, making installation troubles nil.

Radio Siren Is Nemesis

ists are given license information which makes hit-running an unprofitable amusement.

The fire chief is constantly in touch with headquarters through radio. Heretofore it was necessary for the chief to drive to a box and have his operator "tap in" to headquarters and inquire for alarms. Now, driving along the street, he is able to get a fire box instantly and in many cases arrive at a distant point at the same time as the apparatus.

San Francisco is working up to the point where, one of these days, the supervisors are to be asked for an appropriation for a radio police and fire organization. The work that KJBS is doing free of charge now will some day be a municipal duty—when the municipality awakes to its value. Then only will KJBS receive adequate public recognition for its pioneer service in the interests of public safety and law enforcement.

"Wah-oo . . . Pine and California streets. . . ."

No, Gertie, you are not expected to hop in the flivver and go see the fun. Stay home, keep out of the way, mind your own business. That siren is just a cross-cut of official business which makes it possible for you to go into a bank, or to the corner store, or sleep in your bed o' nights with a degree of safety and security. It is KJBS broadcasting—on gratuitous official duty eighteen hours a day!

British Dirigible Flight to be Broadcast

RADIO fans who like to hear about dirigible doings, as portable announcers in elevated locations broadcast the arrival details of the air cows, will get a new thrill shortly when Great Britain's huge cloud liner R-100 starts out from Cardington, Bedfordshire, on a transatlantic trip to Montreal, Canada.

The most elaborate possible radio plans have been prepared in connection with the projected flight, including everything from shore wave beam transmission to radio facsimile reproductions. Britain is linking its vast system of world communication in preparation for the event so that even the Australian shepherd may "witness," via his hillside radio, the epochal flight of the great gas bag.

The western terminal of the flight will be at St. Hubert's airfield, Montreal, where a huge steel mooring mast has been erected for the event. There will be the headquarters of all the vast radio arrangements which will cover the globe. From the moment the dirigible leaves its hangar until it returns it will be in constant and unceasing touch with the British "home office."

While projected as a merely peace cruise the transatlantic flight has an immense war significance, as it will demonstrate the feasibility of the British communication network for direct control of aircraft in distant parts of the world from a central control bureau. The Graf Zeppelin was able to work with German stations entirely around the world, and if the British R-100 can do the same thing to a more systematic degree, British morale will be correspondingly enhanced, it is felt.

The dirigible is to carry 100 passengers and a crew of from 40 to 50 men. Radio will not only keep the passengers in touch with the shore, but will play a part in the navigation of the great airship. In addition to the regular code telegraph and radiophone apparatus the dirigible will carry automatic weather map reproduction equipment.

By means of this apparatus, weather map information, plotted on land, will be transmitted to the dirigible, received by a moving stylus which travels over a rotating cylinder. In the radio cabin of the dirigible, as it travels its course, will appear weather maps, actually drawn by the ground stations through radio impulses. These maps will form important navigation charts for the guidance of the craft.

Linked to the comprehensive radio equipment of the dirigible by the invisible waves of the radio will be the land-line networks, the "beam" systems of the British postoffice, and all the vast broadcasting chain, enabling listeners in every country on the globe to follow the progress of the British dirigible with its load of human freight, and its landing in Canada.

The Canadian Marconi Company is co-operating with the British Broadcasting Company and the British Air Ministry eastward, and the National Broadcasting Company westward, to make this dramatic event possible of adequate reproduction for the millions of listeners in the three major countries. In addition, short wave channels will be called into play to bring to travelers in far places, remote from cities and towns, the same service to be enjoyed by the listeners of the larger cities.

In its scope it will be the greatest interlinking of radio and network facilities ever attempted.

Germany Reorganizing Radio

Germany has evolved a plan whereby a number of powerful broadcasting stations, strategically located throughout the country to insure full coverage, will replace the many smaller stations now dotting the map of the republic. Many experts have predicted a similar development in the United States, maintaining that the local, low-powered broadcasters will ultimately die out because of the economic strain.

Curb Radio Soliciting

Nebraska proposes to curb the practice of soliciting insurance business via radio, while Kansas is considering measures to end the sale of patent medicine through broadcasting.

A Page from the NBC Woman's Magazine of the Air

By MADONNA M. TODD

TURNING the imaginary pages of the "Woman's Magazine of the Air," the eye falls today upon the names of fourteen fascinating folk whose talents are known well by the audience of stations affiliated with the National Broadcasting Company.

First of all, we see the dark-complexioned, genial Edward J. Fitzpatrick whose baton guides the Magazine Melodists. Then there is Charles McAllister, an actor of the first water and "acting editor" while Bennie Walker is vacationing. The others are Eva Gruninger Atkinson, Lucile Kirtley, Betty Kelly, Peggy Chapman, Annabelle Jones Rose, Irving Kennedy, George Eldredge, Harold Dana, Gwynfi Jones, Harry Stanton, Easton Kent, and William Powers.

Fitzpatrick made his bow to the Magazine audience last week, when he stepped onto the conductor's stand which so long has been Joseph Hornik's. Eddie—we think of him only that way at the studios—really is just "coming home." He was an NBC artist many months until last year, when he began giving all his time to the St. Francis Hotel Salon Orchestra.

The magic of Eddie's violin weaves a spell that delights. As a conductor, he is too well known to need introduction along the Pacific Coast.

Unbelievably unlike the accepted mental picture of a musician, Fitzpatrick is more than six feet tall, weighs about two hundred and looks the athlete. One wonders at the delicacy of tone he conjures from his violin.

There is the stamp, too, of a business man. It is there naturally, Eddie's friends reveal. The artist is a business man. Studying business grafts, stock market reports and bond prices is fun for him, and he's interested keenly in political economy.

Incidentally, Fitzpatrick was born in Newport, Kentucky, and grew up in Salt Lake City. Intent upon mastering the violin, Eddie entered music school, only to learn that piano was required. Undaunted, he studied piano and plays that instrument with the same sympathy and effect as he does the violin. The string instrument he loves best, however, and at the age when most children are learning the rudiments of music, Eddie was playing professionally. When he was but 18, Fitzpatrick was conductor of the Salt Lake City Orpheum Theatre orchestra, and already had been graduated from the Cincinnati College of Music. Perhaps the most cherished memento of seven years with the Orpheum theatres, Fitzpatrick finds in a letter from Sarah Bernhardt. She wrote it in appreciation of his work, after Eddie played for her.

Of Irish stock, Fitzpatrick long was the "one and only" Irish concert master on the stage.

But, the other interesting artists of The Magazine!

Charles McAllister spent years in stock, road companies, had his turn on Broadway, New York, and in vaudeville. He is one of the "old timers" who brings with him always the atmosphere of grease paint, and a thought of frock coats and crepe whiskers. Not that Charley is old. He went on the stage young. You who hear him, never forget his contagious laugh.

McAllister's talents are varied. He plays dozens of rôles in hundreds of microphone performances.

Charley won't talk about himself. An interview always develops into a glorious hour of reminiscing—the stage, newspapers.

Of the other dozen folk, we can't say much in the limited space.

We can say, however, that Eva Gruninger Atkinson will sing again this year with the San Francisco and Los Angeles Opera Companies, that Betty Kelly is a great favorite of the patients at Livermore and Letterman hospitals, that Harold Dana studied voice because an opera singer urged him to, after hearing him singing while he picked oranges in his father's grove near Redlands, Calif., and that George Eldredge once sang before crowned heads of Europe.

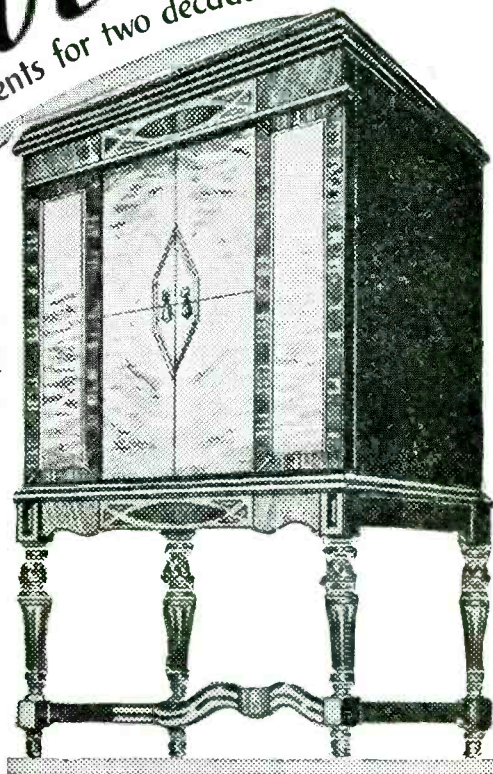

Next week—"Other NBC Artists."

California Hits Back

FOR too many years has California and the West meekly turned the other ear to a deluge of chain programs coming out of the East and zooming down upon our defenseless cities of the Pacific Coast. "Listen and like it!" commands the East. And sometimes we do. Now California retaliates. The worm is taking the turns at full speed. Every Wednesday night, 7:30 to 8 o'clock, Pacific Standard Time (nature is bountiful in the West and we don't have to save daylight), KHJ, the Don Lee station in Los Angeles, will send over KHJ, KFRC and the entire Columbia Broadcasting System the "California Melodies." The title tells the story.

Each week the studios will give celebrities, new tunes, special arrangements of older California hits to "California Melodies." The program will be in the nature of a preview of music the world will hear later in the big feature talkie productions.

KHJ's 35-piece orchestra, directed by Raymond Paige, the KHJ chorus and vocalists—undoubtedly the finest and most complete assemblage of staff talent in the West—will pour the music into the microphone. All the music will be California born. Often the composers will be at the piano when their beautiful brain babies get the air. Every broadcast will feature a comedian who has been known to make the home folk laugh. If they don't make good, the West promises to torture them scientifically if the East will promise to do as much or more for its radio laugh extractors.

The Radio Doctor Is Here

THE man with the little grip—the little case of instruments, and surgical tools, by which radio sets are tested, measured, calibrated—has arrived, bringing longevity and healthy reception to thousands of sets. But like any mechanic if he has the wrong tools, he is helpless.

Testing and calibration work, location of radio worries, "trouble shooting" it is called, calls for the finest instruments obtainable. In these days of a.c. tubes, power amplification, super-speakers and hair-line selectivity. To meet this need, the demand of the Radio Doctor, who comes to all of us in time of need, the Supreme Instruments Corporation has put out a special line of products that determine what is wrong and why.

James P. Hermans Company, manufacturer's representatives, of 585 Mission Street, have just been appointed state representative for the Supreme Instruments Corporation. Through their hands will pass the distribution of the delicate "diagnometers" which sound the internal troubles of the radio, and diagnose its ailments; the various synchronizing devices by which a set is tuned so that stations appear sharply and without blur upon the "retina" of the loudspeaker; and the oscillators by which frequency tests may be made.

Instruments of this nature call for superior workmanship, exact mathematics, and rare adjustment, and the universality of the use to which Supreme Instruments have been put, indicates the accuracy of their performance. For the service man, the "diagnometer" is as necessary as a stethoscope to the family doctor, for by it is found an answer to most of the troubles to which radio sets fall heir, and from Canada to Hawaii it stands alone in the diagnostical field.

A Radio In Every Cell

PRISON wardens are fast adopting the idea of "a radio in every cell." Joliet Penitentiary of Illinois, latest to install a central radio system for the entertainment of its inmates, followed the examples of Eastern State Penitentiary at Philadelphia, Ohio State Penitentiary at Columbus and Iowa State Penitentiary at Fort Madison.

It is too early, judging from the comments of various wardens, to determine just what effect radio will have on prison discipline. There were 1000 earphone sets in use in the Ohio penitentiary where prisoners were allowed to tune in any programs they chose and where loudspeakers have even been installed in the workshops during big sports broadcasts like football and baseball games.

The Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth and the state prisons of Massachusetts and Colorado have been considering the installation of radio sets. Many of the reformatories throughout the country have radios for their inmates either in their cells or in assembly rooms. In many cases the prisoners are allowed to purchase their radio sets from their earnings in the prison shops.

MORE THAN a million letters!

Hugh Barrett (Dobbsie) Dobbs of Shell Happytime has received 1,076,400 letters from listeners to his morning programs since he started Shell Happytime two and one-half years ago.

These letters have come from every part of the West; from athletes and invalids, from children and parents and grandparents; doctors, laborers, business men, teachers, convicts and policemen!

What is it that this inspiring man does to win and hold the affection of so many people? Have you heard him recently? Tune him in at 8 A. M. (Pacific Time) some weekday morning. He broadcasts six days per week over KPO, KFI, KOMO, KGW, KHQ and KSL (9 A. M. Mountain Time). When you've heard Captain Dobbsie you'll more than likely want to write to him yourself!

REAR-ADMIRAL BYRD

in person, in a special, transcontinental broadcast—
5 to 6 p. m.

Veedol Motor Oil makes possible one of the “high-spot” transcontinentals of the year.

Over the Columbia national network—Don Lee
Pacific Coast network—the intrepid Admiral Byrd relates his experiences in his epochal South Pole explorations.

“I send you my sincerest gratitude for your part in the success of our undertaking”—was the tribute this world-famous figure paid to Veedol Motor Oil. Here, as in the world flight of the Graf Zeppelin, and scores of other spectacular triumphs, Veedol Motor Oils proved its right to prominence among all the motor oils of the world.

Drive in where you see the orange and black Veedol sign and take advantage of Veedol lubrication.

Grebe radio

NEWER THAN SCREEN GRID

this principle of the future brings you new radio enjoyment NOW

LIFELIKE tone—music so vivid that you can actually IDENTIFY every instrument, every voice—is brought into your home by the new Grebe. And the secret of this tonal realism is an exclusive Grebe development, the equalized band pass filter, which CONTROLS the power of the screen grid tubes without subduing it.

This most modern principle prevents overlapping of stations—eliminates outside interference. The broadcast you want is filtered out of the tangle of other frequencies on the air and comes to you in all of its original clarity, without distortion, through the new Grebe.

At least one full year ahead of the field, this set is not an overnight sensation; it has a background of twenty years of scientific research. For Grebe is a pioneer in the industry—is still pioneering—is introducing NOW this important principle of the FUTURE.

Just as the new Grebe satisfies your ear with its lifelike tone, so it satisfies your eye, for every one of the four models is an artistically-distinguished piece of furniture. Choose the one you like best; then see and hear it in your home where a forty-eight hour demonstration will gladly be given by your dealer. Arrange for it now.
