POLICE RADIO PROVING VALUE

SEVERAL years of operation have demonstrated conclusively the value of police broadcasting services, and many high police officials see in the not distant future the establishment of such services in every large city and the linking of all services within areas covering several hundred square miles into a closely knit network which will make escape after a crime highly difficult.

Broadcasting services now are operated by 56 city and eight state police departments, none of which would be willing to give up the advantage over criminals which has been secured through the prompt reports which can be distributed to officers on the streets and on the state highways.

It is the speed with which policemen can be ordered to a certain point which makes broadcasting valuable, officials declare. Many cities claim with pride that they can get officers to any point within their jurisdiction in less than five minutes and the "log books" of many stations show an average time of two minutes or less, and this ability to move quickly has resulted in the capture of large numbers of criminals before they could make their getaway.

In most cities it is now possible to get police headquarters by telephone simply by asking the operator for "Police." The report of the crime is broadcast to radio-equipped scout cars as soon as received at headquarters, and additional information can be relayed to them as they are running to the scene. Thus, descriptions of bandits or the license number and make of the getaway car can be given, if subsequently obtained, so that the men in the scout car can be on the lookout for a machine or persons described. All other police cars on the streets also receive this information, so that chances of successful escape are materially reduced.

There is, it is declared by police officials, good evidence that knowledge of the speed and effectiveness of the police radio system has been widely distributed among the criminal and would-be criminal classes and, if it has not actually curtailed crime, has tended to retard its increase.

In several instances, hold-up men have been captured while still in the act of searching their victims, through reports to the police from some person who witnessed the affair from a distance. Burglars have been caught at work through telephone calls from persons becoming suspicious of lights in a house whose occupants were known to be away. Public announcement of these facts, it is declared, has kept straight many a young fellow who considered crime as a possible relief from unemployment.

PERSONAL PICKUPS

BY GYPSY

Josephine, Alameda.—Bing Crosby is scheduled for arrival in Los Angeles early in June to make a picture. I believe the title is to be "Wild Waves." His brother Bob is attending college up North. Bob is eighteen years of age, was born in Spokane, Washington, has blue eyes, much turbulent black hair, is 6 feet tall and weighs 175 pounds. While a student in high school he was active in dramatics and athletics, graduated in due time, had a year of university work and then "went" professional. He sang with Anson Weeks' orchestra, and at McElroy's Spanish Ballroom in Seattle, and various other places for a period of eleven or twelve months, but his mother has finally persuaded him to return to his books.

N. S., Sacramento.—Barbara Jo Allen wrote "Love On the Spot," which was recently presented over KGO. Yes, the same Barbara you have been hearing for the past year or so in NBC plays.

Mrs. M. L., Los Angeles.—Bob Bradford (KHJ) celebrates his birthday on February 21. Annette Hastings and Betty Kelly (NBC) are October children. Annette's natal day is the 25th and Betty's is the 28th. Bobby Gross (KHJ) was born on May Day. Billy Jones and Ernie Hare were both born on March 15. The former is forty-two and the latter is forty-eight years of age.

Mrs. J. C., San Francisco.—Madeline De Michel (KFRC) names Nelson, B. C., as her birthplace. She is of French and Italian parentage, twenty-two years old, has brown eyes and hair, is 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs 140 pounds. Her hobbies are horesback riding, swimming and dancing; attends all football games during season, goes in for green and brown color combinations, has been in radio over two years, likes best to play the compositions of Von Suppé and makes occasional phonograph records. No, not married.

G. D., Sacramento.—Chandu originates in Los Angeles on KHJ. The sponsors of the Myrt and Marge broadcasts promise the return of this feature some time in August. Richard Gordon and Otis Skinner are two different individuals.

Dorothy, Reno.—Don Thompson (NBC-KPO) was born in Rangoon, December 31, 1902, where his mother, an American medical missionary, had charge of the British Hospital. His father is a retired English sea Captain and both parents are now living in Eugene, Oregon. Don and his bride make their home in San Francisco.

Mrs. C. C., Los Angeles.—Christine and Pauline Stafford (KFOX) are real sisters. So also are the Boswell Sisters. Hazel Warner (KFRC) made her radio bow in March of 1926. The Bluettes (KPO) were originally known as the Three Coeds and organized their trio six years ago. Russ Columbo is twenty-four years old. The School Days portion of the Spotlight program (NBC) is written by Captain William Royle.

C. T., San Luis Obispo.—Wild West Jack and his Cowboys are reported on tour.

N. F., San Francisco.—The Mexican peasant girl on the Road Show (NBC) of May 9 was Lily Laguna. Lily's real name is Elsbeth Frellesen. She is a writer and is actively engaged in the real estate business, has done newspaper work and began her Mexican impersonations while a student in high school. The Bluettes (NBC-KPO) are Meredith Gregor, Marian Peck and Theresa Aezer. They were originally known as the Three Coeds and have been singing together since 1926.

Mrs. G. M., Sacramento.—John Fogarty was born in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, grew up on a ranch in Montana, played hokey from school whenever the state and county fairs promised an exhibition of horses and went to war when he was sixteen years of age. He was big and strong and looked so honest no one ever doubted his story when he passed himself off as being old enough to vote. And of course he escaped all the ravages of war just as he always escaped unpleasant reckonings back on the farm. If my informant is correct he has even escaped matrimony.

Mrs. T. R. S., Sacramento.—Anthony Smythe (NBC) joined the ranks of the broadcasters less than a year ago. Before that he lived in the theatre. He appeared in practically every important play in every important city in the United States and for a number of years was leading man at the Fulton over in Oakland and the Columbia and Duffy theatres in San Francisco. He does not care for the movies, has seen but three pictures in four years, but radio he loves, although he insists that during the half hour preceding each performance he dies a thousand deaths. He also insists the thrill that follows is worth it.

Lois, Sacramento.—Clarence Tiffingtuffer (Myrt and Marge, CBS) is Ray Hedge. He was born in Indiana, is twenty-three years old, single, of English and German extraction and has been on the air about a year. His eyes are brown, his hair is dark and his features are—but you must have seen his picture in the May 1 to 7 issue of Broadcast Weekly. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighs 145 pounds, has a gorgeous sense of humor and is NOT a costume designer in real life.

Mrs. T. E., Los Angeles.—Bert Fiske is the "Phantom Pianist" on KFVB. Station KFI was inaugurated in 1922 during the month of April. The first program was broadcast on Easter Sunday. Robert Hurd is devoting much time to teaching these days, but still appears on special programs. Welcome Lewis really was christened Welcome, according to all reports. It seems she was the ninth child in the Lewis family and they wanted her to know that she was truly welcome. Ray Perkins' first song success was "Bye-lo," and the copyright date reads 1919.

Mrs. A. G., Oakland.—Yes, William Don (KLX) is married. He is of Australian nativity, is married to an American and has two daughters of school age. John Charles Thomas sang his first solo in his father's church.

MICROPHONE GOSSIP

A cartoon illustration of a man with a large nose, wearing a suit and tie, holding a microphone to his mouth. He is positioned between the words 'MICROPHONE' and 'GOSSIP' in the title.

• • • The Eight O'clock Players, KLX, have been granted the unusual honor of broadcasting a translation of the Italian poet D'Annunzio's "Francesca Da Rimini," the translation having been made by the president of the oldest women's college in the world, Elmira College. This version has never before been heard over the "mike" and was first played ten years ago at this eastern institution. This play, to be broadcast on Sunday, June 5, is the first Italian drama that the Eight O'clock Players have attempted and that Everett Glass has directed.

• • • Van Fleming and Don McNeill, NBC's Two Professors, heralded the coming of spring by taking their wives for a jaunt over hill and dale in the scented woodlands. Next day, both the Flemings and Professor Don had beautiful cases of poison oak. Only Don's bride escaped.

"Shows that three out of four have it," opined Don.

"That's oak with me," replied his better-half, showing what can happen to a nice girl who marries into Coo Coe College.

• • • Day baseball, discarded a year ago for the "moonlight maneuvers," has returned to the Seals Stadium but the broadcasting of the games have been restricted until the series beginning with the week of June 7.

By that time arrangements will have been completed for the broadcast of three, perhaps four games each week until the end of the season.

The next game to be put on the air over KTAB will be played on Wednesday afternoon, June 8.

• • • Another skeleton has been discovered in the family closet of Harry Morton, KFOX staff tenor and member of the Three Vagabonds vocal trio. Just when we thought we had dug up all there was to know about Harry, we learn that he was once a dancing teacher and instructed the feminine students at the ballroom operated by Hal Nichols, his present employer. Previous to that Harry had been a brakeman on the railroad. That proves that it's but a step (two-step) from railroading to radioing.

• • • Toscha Seidel, Columbia's violin virtuoso, was called upon the other day for expert testimony as to the authenticity of a supposed Stradivarius valued at $32,000 by its owner, living in Perth Amboy, N. J. The instrument was labelled and dated 1742.

Seidel didn't even need to play the "Strad" to discover something was wrong. Antonio Stradivari died in 1737.

• • • Nat Shilkret, conductor of "Music That Satisfies," reached home the other night after a particularly busy day, read a few pages of Leon Trotsky's "Revolution," taught his wire-haired terrier a new somersault, played a game or two of ping-pong and then sat down for a minute to write a new melody for a song to be entitled "Moon Nocturne."

It may not seem important but the last time Shilkret devoted a minute or two to compositions he produced "Jeannine," which brought him some $40,000 in royalties. He wrote it as he watched Colleen Moore in a studio preview of "Lilac Time."

• • • Raine Bennett, known for many years as "The Poet of the Air," and creator of a number of interesting and successful programs over KFI-KECA, is now a number of the regular staff at those stations.

Bennett started his career as a newspaper reporter in San Francisco, and is a Stanford alumnus of 1915. He has edited several magazines, written for national publications and has a volume of poetry to his credit.

He was born at the corner of Tenth and Hope Streets, where the present studios and offices of KFI-KECA are located.

• • • The weekly fight broadcast heard from KYA each Wednesday evening, are being announced by Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion of the world. Willie is a friend of Hap Van, another KYA artist. The two met when the Avon Comedy four—of which Hap was a member—and Ritchie—who had just fought his spectacular encounter at the London Coliseum, and his party, joined forces for a fortnight in Paris. Van and Ritchie did not meet again until Ritchie came into the KYA studio to make final arrangements for his broadcasts.

• • • Realism was injected into a Columbia television drama recently when John Hewitt, playing the part of a detective, reached for what he thought was a prop phone and asked for police headquarters.

By mistake he had picked up a bridged phone on the main telephone circuit and was actually connected with headquarters. He hung up in a hurry.

• • • Upon her recent visit to Hanford, California, Ethel Duncan, the "Good Samaritan of the Air," heard regularly over KNX, in Hollywood, was approached by a man who tearfully told her that his wife was a hopeless invalid in the local hospital, and wanted to see Miss Duncan.

Delaying her return to Los Angeles, Miss Duncan visited the woman, examined her, and decided that the woman could easily be cured with the proper treatment. A Los Angeles hospital, eager to co-operate with Miss Duncan in her humanitarian work, offered its facilities, and three prominent surgeons offered their services.

The invalid happens to be an expert seamstress, specializing in fancy quilts. Two large Los Angeles department stores have agreed to furnish the expensive materials required for making a quilt, and then offer it for sale. The proceeds are to cover incidental costs in the treatment of the woman's malady. Through the good offices of Miss Duncan, physicians say the woman will be practically well by next Christmas!

• • • Although their activities have been confined to New York since October, the Boswell Sisters were gratified to find that they had lost none of their popularity with out-of-town vaudeville audiences, when they opened at Baltimore. According to arrangements, they were to harmonize their way through three numbers and one encore. They were received so well that they couldn't leave the stage until they had been heard in ten selections. At the end of their appearances for the day they had presented fifty songs.

• • • Bert Shefter, half of Shapiro and Shefter who accompany Vaughn de Leath's performances, reports his most embarrassing moment. While the piano team was in Washington with Columbia's "original radio girl" recently, they gave a special performance at one of the Capital's leading hotels. Before the program Bert was in need of a shave, and seeing an individual in a dress suit and thinking that he was a waiter, he asked: "Will you direct me to the barber-shop?" The reply was a haughty, "Sir!" A few moments later the pianist discovered he had approached a dignified and well-known United States Senator.

• • • As the result of the appearance of a story to the effect that tiny Welcome Lewis, the blues crooner, always stands on a box when she broadcasts, she received by express the other day a long wooden box. When she opened it, it contained the card of the president of a manufacturing company, and two other objects. The card said the enclosed were sent to make broadcasting easier for her and enclosed were a pair of golden oak stilts!

• • • When he was interviewed by Bob Taplinger in a recent "Meet the Artist" program, Jack Denny revealed that one of the advantages of being an orchestra leader with late hours is that one has an opportunity to become acquainted with his milkman. Jack meets him early every morning. The following conversation ensues:

Denny: "High-ya, pal, is your milk bottled yet?"

Milkman: "High-ya, pal, is your music canned yet?" . . . And this has been going on for years.

• • • Capt. "Art" Smith, KNX, doesn't look a bit like a world-wanderer and adventurer, participant in countless revolutions. He is a boyish looking chap, rosy-cheeked, shy and retiring. His smile, which is slow in maturing, brightens his whole face, and his dark eyes, gayly twinkling one minute can suddenly assume a steely glint. KNX welcomes him to the staff.

• • • Billy Jones and Ernie Hare, NBC jokesters, call the "Wedding March" the "greatest battle song ever written."

• • • Volney James, special announcer "extraordinary," heard frequently over KNX, who has said "my friends" over the air perhaps more than any other living person, tells an amusing story about himself while he was working on another Los Angeles radio station.

Volney declares that the "Boss" held a special meeting of the entire staff, at which time, Mr. James was presented with a beautiful pen and pencil set as a token of appreciation for his splendid work. Then Volney chuckles, the next week, he was fired!

• • • Horace Brown, radio editor of the Ottawa, Can., Citizen, is the latest to come forward with a group of radio similes. Among them:

"As absent as a guest artist not paid in advance."

"As blustering as an announcer plugging a product he has never seen."

"As silent as a station off the air."

"As excited as an executive with something to do."

• • • Georgia Fifield, dramatic director at KNX, in Hollywood, produced another of the radio plays written by Miss Helen Norris, little crippled girl-author of Medford, Oregon.

This presentation, entitled "Her Answer," had as its theme the love of a step-mother for her husband and step-son. George Fifield played the part of the mother, while Carlyle Moore was cast in the role of the son. It was heard over KNX, May 9.

• • • Some former occupations of KFI-KECA staff members: Glenn Dolberg, assistant manager: Commercial photographer, soldier, baritone. Donald Wilson, announcer: Paper salesman, lumber executive. Kenneth Carpenter, announcer: Advertising copy writer. Dick Stephens, announcer: Seaman, radio technician. Carl Haverlin, sales manager: Actor, playwright, dancer.

There are four men on the staff who have conducted symphony orchestras, Charles Shepherd, the musical director; Michel Perriere, concert master; Arthur Brooke, flutist; and Jose Rodriguez.

The list of ex-soldiers is heavy, including practically all the men ranging from the cavalry to the intelligence and navy, and including the British, French, Italian, Russian and American forces.

There are two photographers whose work has attracted international attention: Arthur F. Kales, general manager; and J. Byron Shannon, double-bass player. Kales has invented several processes and ranks high in creative photography.

• • • When Bernice Berwin, NBC actress, read one of her own poems before the microphone in a recent "Close-Up" with Gypsy, she little realized what a wave of business she was starting for the U. S. Post Office. A flood of requests from listeners who wanted copies of the poem came in—accompanied in almost every case, much to Bernice's surprise—by stamped and self-addressed envelopes.

• • • Pride in the state of Maine and resentment of a radio program purporting to depict down-East life, drove Phillips H. Lord to the creation of the role of Seth Parker, now known to millions of NBC listeners.

• • • KTAB's X-Bar-B Boys have the best assortment of "hot" shirts seen in the studio for some time. One day they wear a whole set of red ones, the next a green, then a blue and so on.

• • • Glenhall Taylor, program director of KTAB, is in charge of the studio while Tom Morgan, general manager, is in the east.

• • • "Romance," a new piano composition by Gunnar Johansen, brilliant young Danish pianist who is heard over NBC-KPO network Sunday nights, was written for and dedicated to another NBC pianist, Eva Garcia.

• • • Frank O'Neill, co-author with Leonard Reeg of the ghost stories produced over KTAB, is recovering from a serious illness at St. Mary's Hospital.

• • • The Gay Caballeros, dispensers of Hill-Billy melody at KLX, just recently received a letter from W. R. G. Bain, a member of the New Zealand DX Club at Port Chalmers, New Zealand, quoting in detail the reception of one of their programs. The boys have a novel way of acknowledging these "across the water" letters. Two of them are licensed radio operators of amateur short-wave stations W6ABH and W6KV, so they merely dispatch a message in reply via the short-wave route, thus saving the several weeks time that it takes to effect a mail delivery to far-away places.

• • • Mona Lowe, NBC blues singer, has her own theme song—"Moaning Low." It is usually played by the orchestra preceding her microphone appearances in "Road Show."

• • • Brad Reynolds, top tenor of the Round Towners quartet, was penniless when he arrived in New York several years ago. His father, a doctor, had turned him out when he decided against a medical career. By working at a Y. M. C. A. as a gymnasium instructor, he earned enough to pay his tuition at the Institute of Music whence he graduated to the Columbia staff.

• • • Adele Burian, KYA staff singer, is eagerly awaiting the arrival of a package from Germany. This precious package will contain original manuscripts of compositions by Franz Schubert. A few days ago, Adele's mother received a letter from a cousin, Herr Schubert, now in Germany. This man is a direct descendant of the great composer, and in his letter he offered to send the manuscripts to his cousin's daughter if she showed any musical ability.

• • • Jerry Cady—nee Jerome in Chicago 28 years ago—has been added to the staff of writers at KFI-KECA. Cady's last position was as reporter of the Los Angeles Record, specializing in the coverage of crime stories and trials.

He is the fifth newspaper man to enlist in the KFI-KECA forces. The others are Fred Yeates, Raine Bennett, Fred Shields and Jose Rodriguez.

• • • Vinton La Ferrara, director of the NBC South Americans, heard on NBC-KPO network, from the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, has an odd hobby—raising Pekingese dogs. He and Mrs. La Ferrara have 22 Pekingese puppies at present in the kennels they maintain near their home.

• • • Cline Chittick, versatile young man whose manipulations of the harmonica and guitar for the past five years and more recently some enjoyable singing and snappy bass fiddle slapping, has left the KFOX staff and is now free-lancing.

• • • David Ross, Columbia's senior announcer, read poetry to a European audience when he acted as narrator during the recent exchange broadcast with the British Broadcasting Corporation. A few minutes after the conclusion of the international program, word was received from the BBC offices in London that the intelligibility of the broadcast had been of a high order.

• • • Modern composers' habit of appropriating every-day noises and incorporating them into a musical composition, is making life more difficult for announcers. Sid Goodwin, of the NBC announcing staff in San Francisco, was standing in the studio the other morning, awaiting the moment when he should give the stand-by announcement—"KGO, San Francisco." The familiar sound of the NBC chimes told him the program coming from Chicago was ended, so he pressed buttons on the announcers' box, released all the stations on the KGO network, gave the stand-by—and then glanced at the clock. Then he hastily reached for the buttons again—for the chimes he had heard were part of the jazz composition still pouring out into the ether from Chicago.

• • • Fourteen nuns in a San Francisco convent are regular listeners of Ethel Cotton, NBC's "conversation lady" whose course "Cultural Conversation" is broadcast twice a week through the NBC-KPO network.

"We hear you with great interest," one of them wrote Miss Cotton. "To keep spiritually alive, one must keep mentally alive."

• • • Tribute was paid to Victor Herbert during the most recent Ziegfeld Radio Show. One of the numbers played by Al Goodman's Orchestra was the celebrated composer's last work, being a ballet which he had written for Marilyn Miller. Mr. Ziegfeld described how Herbert had brought the piece to his office just forty-five minutes before his sudden death.

• • • The choir of mocking birds which sings in the Crosscuts program has an army of fans. A Tacoma visitor in the San Francisco studios of NBC explained she wanted to witness the Crosscuts broadcast—"because I promised all my neighbors to see the birds and make sure they are real."

• • • The manner in which juvenile actors and actresses actually live their roles, makes for complications sometimes. Playing Little Orphan Annie six mornings a week, Floy Margaret Hughes, ethereal-looking little NBC star, frequently forgets herself and talks like Annie away from the microphone. The effect of Annie's brisk language, emanating from the delicate countenance of Floy is always good for a surprised expression on a new acquaintance's face.

SILHOUETTES

NOT all those legends about ministers' sons are true, take it from Howard I. Milholland, for the past two years program director of the Pacific Division, National Broadcasting Company, and now manager of KGA, Spokane.

"Wish I could oblige with some reminiscences of a black-sheep, but I never even ran away from home," muses the urbane six-footer whose vibrant personality is known to thousands of radio listeners as "H. M."

Even though he was the offspring of a clergyman, it didn't cause any excitement in H. M.'s family when he decided to become a professional singer.

"Fine," said his liberal, kindly father, so that was that. But first Howard finished his course at the Eastern Illinois State Normal School, and said goodbye to Roodhouse, Ill., his birth-place. Encouraged by his father, he followed Greeley's advice and came West, settling first in Denver and later answering the urge to come to California. He was well-known as a singer in Los Angeles when he moved to San Francisco, where he was engaged by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company as a lecturer.

That was 'way back in 1923. Radio was just beginning to develop into something resembling an industry, and Milholland appeared as a singer on one of the first commercial programs ever sponsored. So many letters followed every broadcast that the radio station made him a handsome offer of $80 a month as a part-time announcer.

All announcers were part-time workers then, but "H. M." felt that radio was coming out of the class of a novel and required full-time attention from its followers. So he refused the job, and later had his judgment proven correct, when KGO asked him to be its studio manager.

HOWARD I. MILHOLLAND

The present key-station of the National Broadcasting Company was housed in a hotel suite in San Francisco, and a little group headed by Milholland pioneered enthusiastically in the art of getting a personality over the microphone. Then, as now, H. M., himself a reader with few equals, stressed the need of a naturalness rather than elocutionary effort in actors, announcers and readers. And now, as he did then, he keeps a close watch on the pulse of the radio public by frequent appearances before the microphone himself.

FROM the tenement district of New York's lower East Side to stardom in musical comedy, vaudeville, talking pictures — and now in radio—is the story of the life of Belle Baker. Not that Miss Baker is new to the microphone, for during the past three years she appeared as guest artist on many of radio's leading programs over both networks, but her weekly Sunday night performances on the Ever-Ready Radio Gaieties, broadcast over WABC and the Columbia network, mark her first series as a regular feature on the air. Radio, incidentally, long has been her hobby; in her New York apartment she has a receiving set in her boudoir, in the living room, and in the dining room. There are four sets in her summer home at Belle Harbor, Long Island, and for the past five years she has insisted on having a set in the dressing room at every theatre she has played. And the first thing Miss Baker does when she steps into her car is to turn on the radio!

The career of the talented comedienne who has thrilled vaudeville, musical comedy, and movie audiences throughout the country is a saga of success. When she was just two years old, the tiny tot used to crawl up on the dining room table and, supported by her father, sing the baby songs—with gestures—which formed her limited repertoire. Ever since those first "performances," the little girl determined to make a place for herself on the stage. She was never able to attend school; the extreme poverty of her family forced her to enter an East Side clothing factory at the age of six, for there were eight small children and a very sick mother to be supported.

But Belle Baker was never meant for factory work. Her continual singing at her work entertained the other girls but distracted them to such an extent that she was quickly discharged as a disturbing element. Thus she drifted from one factory to another until, at the age of nine, she obtained a job in a cheap little music hall on Cannon Street, in the heart of New York's lower East Side. Here she worked for more than a year appearing in three-act sketches, playing kid parts, and singing. When Jacob Adler saw the child perform, he decided to give her a chance in the drama, "The Homeless," in which she played for one year. But when the East Side actors' union refused to allow the child to play grown-up parts, Belle was forced to return to the music halls for a livelihood.

She went to the Waco moving picture house down on Stanton Street, where her little singing act, given twelve times daily, was the only vaudeville in the show. Years passed and the child continued her gruelling work until Willy Hammerstein gave her a chance in a Broadway show. At the age of fifteen, Belle Baker was starring at Hammerstein's. Two years later, after playing the regular Keith circuit and watching her reputation grow to national proportions, she was the headliner at the Palace.

From then on her fame increased speedily. Continued rehearsing and incessant hard work brought her stardom with Al Jolson in "Vera Violetta" and with other outstanding stars in "Betsy," "Artists and Models," and other popular musical comedy productions. With Ralph Graves she was featured in the talking picture, "Song of Love," which proved to be one of the hits of the year; and she has been recording artist for all the larger phonograph companies.

There is hardly any phase of the show business in which Belle Baker has not been starred, and in her long career on the stage she has met and worked with the most famous song writers of America. It was Irving Berlin who, on a rush call for an act at the Palace, closeted himself for five hours, working until four o'clock in the morning to write "Cohen Owes Me $97," "Down on the Farm," and "Come Back, Antonio," songs which made the act a brilliant success. It was Blanche Merrill who wrote "Welcome Stranger" in celebration of the birth of Miss Baker's little son, Herbert John Abrahams, eleven years ago; and it was Joe Young who wrote "Baby's Prayer at Twilight" in honor of the same event. Maury Abrahams, prominent Manhattan composer, who produced "Take Everything But You" and countless other Broadway successes, was Miss Baker's husband.

It was Belle Baker who was the first vaudeville artist to travel by airplane from one city to another on a regular circuit. Several years ago when a railroad strike held up—or rather, threatened to hold up—transportation between Youngstown, Ohio, and Cincinnati, the next point on the circuit, Miss Baker and her manager stole a march on the strikers by engaging an airplane and arriving in Cincinnati well ahead of time.

When the Ever-Ready Radio Gaieties were broadcast from a train speeding at more than a mile a minute between Washington and New York, establishing a new record for radio broadcasting, it was Belle Baker who was the featured soloist on the unique presentation. Never before had a complete program of entertainment been broadcast from a moving train, picked up by short wave receivers and rebroadcast over a nationwide network.

Unemployment in California will vanish only when every inactive dollar in the state gets back to work. . . Changing our mental attitude from one of fear and anxiety to courage and common sense—getting our dollars back into normal action through sensible buying or investing, and banking our surplus—is the only way back to sound prosperity. . . The entire Bank of America organization of 8,000 strong—reinforced by more than 200,000 California stockholders—is engaged in a vigorous statewide "Back-to-good-times" movement. Constructive newspaper, radio, outdoor and street car advertising, combined with intensive personal effort, are the forces energetically working for a statewide return to normal conditions. . . Join this public spirited movement. Put your inactive money to work through banks and legitimate trade channels. Only circulating dollars will create jobs—nothing else can!

Finds Use for Gift

PLEASE accept my thanks for the dandy automobile key holder you sent me. I use it and it is very handy. I am a contestant and won a good many prizes but I lost out on yours—well, we ALL can't be winners—and I enjoyed it very much. Let's have another, say Cross Word Puzzle, made out of the Artists' name—that would be fun. Thanks again, wishing all of you of the Broadcast Weekly lots of luck. I beg to remain

Okers O., Richmond, Calif., May 20

It's All Right Now

JUST as I was going to mail you a letter condemning the style of listing your Programs in the WEEKLY, your last issue arrived, and in looking it over, I saw that it has come back to its former listing which is as it should have been all the time, instead of chopping them down to SIX P. M., as it was for the past few weeks. That late survey that you made was all right as far as the sponsors of the big programs may have been concerned, but to us dialers, it was the bunk, and furthermore, it gave the impression that the WEEKLY was on its last legs, which I hope not, though not able at this time to take advantage of your special low rate in the subscription price, I will do so later on.

I was about to drop out as I could get better listing in our local paper, which in many instances has a more correct listing, even to special programs, which are never listed in the WEEKLY. Of course, I realize that it is impossible to forecast when some special event may occur, but still, any programs that are due within a week or two could be listed and then, if something turns up that it does not happen, then the stations could themselves notify their listeners, but I am glad to see my "old stand by" get back to its former style, and that it continues to do so in the future. Best wishes to all and your special writers, that give us some of the more intimate details of the radio stars now before the mikes.

Martin B., Bremerton, Wash., May 20

Perhaps Some Day

MY appreciation and congratulation for your return to all day listed program, May 22-28th.

Hoping that some day soon you will be in a position to list all coast stations every day.

Very truly,

Colton R., La Jolla, Calif., May 19

We Appreciate This Letter

IT was just a little thing but much appreciated just the same. I am referring to the autokeytainer sent me for the very enjoyable work of filling out the preference ballot.

Now, Mr. Editor, may I offer a word of sincere and friendly criticism? When I sent in my ballot I was really expecting something in return. But that which I was expecting was not something of intrinsic worth, however small, but I was expecting your comment on the results of the contest. I remembered the vote you conducted a year ago, and the comment which you offered as each count was announced. Your story of the vote was interesting, and the comment illuminating. Why did you thus fail us this year? Is it too late, now?

Another bit of criticism, and just as sincere and as friendly.

The thousands who subscribe for BROADCAST WEEKLY do so very largely, I am sure, because of the "personal" note which you have heretofore put into it. Of late it has been an empty nothing, and as such cannot long continue to hold the interest of its readers—we would prefer picking our programs from the daily or Sunday papers. Has the "slump" hit you? If that be the reason, can't you speak right out, take your readers into your confidence, and just ask them to bear with you until we have "put that sun back in the sky?" You would be gratified, I know, with the response you'd meet. And it would warm the cockles of your heart.

So please, Mr. Editor Man, come up close to us, and let us know just what the trouble is. Make BROADCAST WEEKLY once again the "human tone and personal touch" which has built it up the very proud position which I am confident it now enjoys.

With all good wishes,
Al, Sacramento, Calif., May 18

Girls, It's the Bunk, says Gene

WELCOME back to our fold, "Open Circuit," because I was just wondering, due to your absence of last week in BROADCAST WEEKLY, if you had blown a fuse.

I again see the small town people singing the praise of the great Walter and how good the Lucky Strike program is. I quite agree with Barbara M. of Shelton, Washington, when she claims that the Lucky Hour is good, but why did she include Winchell? Possibly she has just been listening to this program since the dear boy ran away from New York for his tired nerves; maybe it was his conscience, and she has been laboring under the impression that the new Lucky announcer was the great Walter toned lower. I do not mind listening to the Lucky program of music since the Racketeer of the air has been missing or put on the spot.

And girls, that bunk about inhaling is nauseating, and if you don't believe that it is harmful, just take a mouthful of Lucky smoke and blow it through a handkerchief. Try it and be your own judge.

In defense of BROADCAST WEEKLY and in answer to Mrs. V. of Bellingham I might say that the reasons for the listing of the programs around San Francisco and Oakland is due to the fact that the best programs on the Coast are broadcast from the above places mentioned, and it is not necessary to repeat the listing of the same program here in the North when readers can consult either KGO, KFRC or KPO and find therein listed the chain programs that connect with our Northern broadcast stations. For the nominal sum of ten cents that is paid for BROADCAST WEEKLY I cannot understand why anyone would squawk just because the town hall meeting was not announced in BROADCAST WEEKLY for some little hick town station.

I do not like to mention this fact, because it sounds like cheap advertising, but put me on record as saying that BROADCAST WEEKLY is the Leading Radio Guide on the Pacific Coast or elsewhere.

You are sadly mistaken, I. A. N. of Vancouver, B. C., when you say that so many readers DO not like John P. Medbury. That might hold true up in Canada, because I have always heard that it takes the English several days to understand a joke, and Medbury's witticism passes right over their heads. I appreciate the fact that you yourself think he is good, but you spoiled it all when you put him in the same class as Walter Winchell, because John P. is a natural born artist and is recognized as such here in the States.

I hope the answers to the above meet with your approval, but if they do not, that is my story and I like it.

Gene W. C., Seattle, Wash., May 22

Dyal's on Vacation

I WONDER what has become of Dyal Turner? His (or her) column was a most readable one, a true guide, and above all, was playing no favorites. Has "depression" made his (or her) repression necessary? Of all the depressed things in this sad, topsy-turvy world, radio in all its ramifications seemed to be exempt.

I really enjoyed D. T.'s column (so did all of my friends), and it was through his (or her) devil-may-care wisecracks that we were attracted to many a worthwhile program, otherwise neglected. To mention only a few, we are indebted to D. T. to have found Cora Scott (KLX), a female crooner who has no nasal tone and seems to be sweetness personified; also William Don (also KLX) who really is a good comedian, as D. T. said. The Campus Comedians (KPO) was another gift from D. T. to our circle, and so was Gustav Severin (KYA), the most fascinating story teller ever heard by us.

Altogether, it is to be regretted that radio has not developed some independent critics and reviewers. Dyal Turner was an attempt at unbiased, critical praise. Too bad you had to suppress his (or her) department. In the vernacular of D. T.: Why did you pickle D. T.?

With kind regards,

Mrs. Ph. M., S. F., May 24

(Editor's Note: Dyal will be with us again this fall.)

... RADIO NEWS ...

AN exchange of frequencies between the United States and Canada, whereby we would grant to Canadian broadcasters the use of the 540-kilocycle frequency, now used for military aviation, and of the channels on 1,050 and 1,100 kilocycles in exchange for exclusive use of the channels on 580, 890, 1,010, 1,200 and 1,210 kilocycles, now shared by the two countries, is under negotiation between the Canadian Minister in Washington and the State Department.

The reallocation of frequencies was suggested by the Canadian Government in order that it may make effective the recommendations of a special committee appointed to investigate the whole question of Canadian broadcasting, calling for the establishment of a chain of high power stations, operating on cleared channels, extending across the entire Dominion, with a number of low-powered stations of limited range to be used for community service.

It is proposed to use 50,000-watt stations in each of the provinces of British Columbia, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec and, eventually, in the Maritime Provinces. Two 5,000-watt stations, synchronized on a common channel, are to be used in each of the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta. Ontario is also to have two 10,000-watt stations, one in the west and the other in the north; 1,000-watt stations are to be used in Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec and the Port Arthur-Fort William area, and a 500-watt station is to be used in Toronto. The Alberta, Saskatchewan and northern and western Ontario stations will be increased to 50,000 watts at some future time, if necessary.

These stations would constitute the backbone of Canadian broadcasting, and would be supplemented, eventually, by 100 or more local stations with a maximum power of 100 watts.

In view of the fact that the new Canadian broadcasting set-up has been so arranged as to eliminate interference with American stations on the channels which are to be shared by the two countries, officials of the Federal Radio Commission have indicated their willingness to make the changes asked by the Canadian authorities. The 1,050 and

1,100 kilocycle frequencies which Canada desires to use are now serving as cleared channels for American stations, but the Canadian stations which are to use those channels are to be located at points so remote from the American broadcasters that no interference is expected to result.

The negotiations for the transfer of frequencies are not to preclude a further allocation between the United States and Canada of any additional broadcasting channels which may be made available as a result of the forthcoming international conference at Madrid, but will not be held in suspension awaiting the outcome of that meeting, since it is indicated the Canadian authorities are anxious to put their new plan into effect as early as possible.

Possibilities of government control of American broadcasting are seen in the Canadian plan for an 11-station chain supplemented by small transmitters, all under government control and operation, with a license fee of $2 per year for receiving sets and advertising announcements limited to five per cent of the time of the sponsored programs, which "will make a most interesting comparison with our own privately owned system in the United States," according to Senator Clarence C. Dill of Washington, one of the leaders in the handling of radio legislation in Congress.

"If the Canadian plan succeeds in satisfying the people of Canada and in meeting popular approval of American listeners along the Canadian border, it may easily lead to a nation-wide demand for government operation of all radio stations in the United States," he warned.

"The existence and development of this government-owned system will be a challenge to American radio station owners," the Senator declared. "They must prove themselves more satisfactory to the people than the Canadian system, or the government system will inevitably be established in the United States.

"The American people will not tolerate private monopoly of radio in this country, such as allowing chain stations to use all cleared channels and thereby control everything but local broadcasting. If all cleared channels are to be used in that way Canada is showing us how to do it.

"Nor will radio listeners endure too much blatant and direct advertising by radio. If the radio commission and station owners do not recognize these facts and act accordingly, Canada's example and experiences will make it easy for Congress to set up a government system of radio that will serve the public interest more satisfactorily."

BROADCASTING is more popular in Denmark than in the United States, if the number of receiving sets per thousand of population is taken as the criterion, it is disclosed by a survey just completed by the Union Internationale de Radio-diffusion at Geneva.

With a population of less than 3,500,000, Denmark at the close of last year had 475,000 sets, an average of 133.9 sets per 1,000 inhabitants, while the United States, with nearly 125,000,000 people, had 16,680,000 sets, or an average of 133.1 per 1,000, it is shown.

Interest in broadcasting has increased tremendously in Denmark in the past five years, it is revealed, it being estimated that in 1926 there were only 35.5 sets per 1,000 of population.

The survey of the Geneva organization is the first attempt to estimate the world distribution of radio receiving sets. A total of 32,000,000 sets was reached, corresponding closely to estimates recently made by our own Department of Commerce, indicating a world radio audience of 128,000,000 persons. It is estimated that the world population is around 2,000,000,000.

The estimates give some interesting figures on the diffusion of sets, showing that cultural and economic levels, density of population and broadcasting control and restrictions by governments all deeply influence set ownership by the people.

Great Britain at the close of 1931 had 4,330,735 sets, or 92.4 per 1,000 inhabitants, compared with 2,178,447 sets, or 50.9 per 1,000, in 1926, the Union reported.

Canada, with 523,100 sets, showed an average of 50 per 1,000, against 134,486 sets, or 15 per 1,000, in 1926.

Japan had 14.13 sets per 1,000 inhabitants last year against 5.34 in 1926; Australia, 51.94 against 28.8; Sweden, 89.5, against 40.1; the Union of South Africa, 21.6 against 7.16.

China, with nearly 500,000,000 inhabitants, last year reported only 1,462 sets, or .003 per 1,000 persons.

BELIEVING that every city in the United States with a population of 100,000 or more should have its own broadcasting facilities, the Federal Radio Commission has pending in the courts a case which may determine its future policy in this connection.

There are, a survey of the country shows, six cities with large populations which are entirely dependent upon outside sources for their radio entertainment. While several of these cities are in close proximity to other communities having radio stations, it is the attitude of the commission that the public interest can best be served by each city having its local broadcasters, closely related to local life and affairs.

No local broadcasting facilities, however, exist in Lynn, Cambridge or Lowell, Mass.; Waterbury, Conn.; Duluth, Minn., or Elizabeth, N. J., the commission's records show. Massachusetts and Connecticut are "under-quota" states, while New Jersey and Minnesota have more than their fair share of facilities.

What is believed generally to be the attitude of the commission was recently expressed by Ellis A. Yost, chief examiner, who declared that no city "with a population of more than 100,000 and an approximate population of 200,000 within a radius of 15 miles of the city should be without an unlimited-time radio broadcasting station with sufficient power to provide for the local and community needs of the city and the territory adjacent thereto."

The commission, of course, has no way of placing stations in cities now without facilities in the absence of applications from potential operators, but that the making of such applications would be encouraged is indicated by the fact that an application was recently granted for a full-time station in Gary, Ind., a city of slightly more than 100,000 population, despite the fact that opposing interests claimed Gary was receiving adequate broadcasting service from Chicago.

The case has been carried to the courts by protestants against the commission's action,

STANDARD Symphony Hour TONIGHT 8:00 P. M.

1. Overture—"The Flying Dutchman".....Wagner

The masterful overture to "The Flying Dutchman," the opera which marked a turning point in the development of Wagner's individual dramatic and musical style, is considered one of the greatest descriptions of a storm at sea in musical literature. The opera is based on an old legend which Wagner heard while on a sea voyage from Riga to London. In the overture Wagner presents a vivid tone picture of the story of the Dutch sea captain who, after trying vainly to round the Cape of Good Hope, swore he would not give up if he had to sail the ocean forever.

2. Three Movements—Concertante.....Haydn

This work will be heard for the first time tonight. The composer, Franz Joseph Haydn, was born in Rohrau, Austria, March 21, 1732, and died in Vienna on May 31, 1809. He is chiefly noted for his instrumental works and is called the "Father of the Symphony," as well as "Father of the Sonata Form." Although he did not originate either of these forms, he did perfect and extend them.

3. The Swan of Tuonela.....Sibelius

This work is the third number of a symphonic tetralogy based on episodes in the Kaleva, the Finnish epic derived by Elias Lonnrot in 1835 from his delvings in the folklore of his people. Tuonela was the name of the Finnish Hades, and the swan floated and sang on the river equivalent to the Styx.

4. Polonaise.....Liszt

The Polonaise, like the waltz, has always tempted composers by reason of the picturesque ideas associated with it. It was originally a court dance used in Poland at the time when the Polish Empire was in the height of its splendor. Liszt was one of many composers who have adapted this dance for concert use, retaining the characteristic rhythm and style, but developing the simple dance with such a wealth of fanciful detail and imagination as to make it a veritable tone picture. As the music progresses, it is easy to visualize a great hall of lords and ladies, dancing in glowing costumes by the light of a thousand candles reflected in countless gilt-framed mirrors.

5. The Blue Danube.....Strauss

"The Blue Danube," by Johann Strauss, Australian "Waltz King," is one of the world's most popular waltzes. It was composed in 1866 and was produced originally by a male chorus. In this arrangement it was a flat failure, but since it was rewritten for the Strauss orchestra it has become a universal favorite.

HERE is the detailed program of the STANDARD SYMPHONY HOUR which will be broadcast tonight over NBC Stations, from 8:15 to 9:15. Read the description of each selection—then listen to the rendition of it by the Standard Symphony Orchestra, directed by Alfred Hertz. Then if you want this detailed program each week, fill in the coupon and mail to us. Don't depend on the other fellow to vote for you. If you want it—send the coupon.

“Here’s Another Station

We’ve Never Heard Before”

NOW—with this amazing new invention, you, too, can bring in hidden stations and hundreds of programs you’ve been missing.

The Marvelous New

RADIO HANDI-LOG

With a single spin of the dial, the HANDI-LOG shows you WHERE and HOW to find distant stations on your radio—then tells you all about them — kilocycles, location, phone number, owner — everything. Simply turn the flashing red arrow to the station desired, and immediately all the information appears in the little windows in the HANDI-LOG. No pages to turn. A child can use it. The HANDI-LOG is designed in three beautiful colors and black, and is about the size of a phonograph record—just a handy size to keep near your radio. Send for your HANDI-LOG today, and see if it isn't the cleverest thing you ever saw!

Buy an extra ticket to millions of dollars worth of extra entertainment for $39⁵⁰

Symphonies, the country's finest dance orchestras, sports events, comedy teams, news of the minute—millions of dollars worth of entertainment are flooding the air lanes.

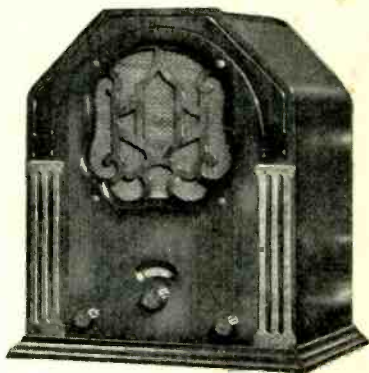

But tastes differ. Father and mother like mysteries. Son and daughter are crazy about Winchell. Satisfy everyone. Buy a Remler "10." It is the family's extra ticket to millions of dollars' worth of extra entertainment.

Remler "10" is a six tube super-heterodyne. It is distinguished for its sharp tuning, its volume and its outstanding tone quality. Complete with tubes . . . $39.50

. . . And remember: Your dealer will give you terms.
