RURAL AREA MAGIC

Hundreds of communities throughout the country are blind spots, incapable of receiving a viewable signal from the nearest transmitter. To the potential customers in these areas television is still something to wish and wait for. But they need not wait any longer! YOU can bring it within the range of whole towns to your lasting credit and prestige! Philco's MULTIPLE TELEVISION ANTENNA SYSTEM is the medium through which grateful customers will establish a repeat sale business with you that will be the key to many years of profitable operation.

MORE SURE-FIRE PROSPECTS

The wave of building activity that has swept the country in recent years has provided Philco Dealers and Servicemen with still another profit-gaining potential. Hundreds of apartment houses, containing thousands of prospective customers, are without multiple antenna systems to provide perfect television reception from only one roof antenna. Individual antennas set up in these buildings are not only an eyesore, but provide barely suitable reception because they are so close together and create hazards and interference. Apartment house owners in many locations will not even permit individual outdoor antennas to be erected on their roofs. This means that many potential customers are without television due to a situation which can be corrected. Not only apartment houses, but hospitals, hotels, schools, and office buildings need the efficient, one antenna reception provided by Philco's MULTIPLE TELEVISION ANTENNA SYSTEM. You can offer crystal clear reception on these structures—convenient for the tenants—profitable for you!

USE IT YOURSELF!

In your own store you can demonstrate as many sets as needed, continuously, all with the same peak performance you've got to have to sell television receivers. And your prospective building customers will be practically sold on the spot when they see twenty-five or fifty receivers producing the reception they should be getting in any public or private building.

For Philco Servicemen, installing and servicing Philco MULTIPLE TELEVISION ANTENNA SYSTEMS is big business! Dealers and Servicemen alike, you are in an ideal position to enlarge your operations to cover the diversified opportunities presented by this significant development—another great Accessory Division product to boost your sales!

The whole Philco organization is at your service to help you plan your Philco Multiple Antenna installations. Start right now selling this sensational system. Place your order today for immediate shipment of your multiple television requirements. Remember, the television situation is definitely favorable to the rapid acceptance of an efficient, reliable multiple antenna system—and don't pass it up!

And watch the MERCHANDISER in the months to come for interesting and profitable tips on making Philco's MULTIPLE TELEVISION ANTENNA SYSTEM your sales leader!
