New Telecom Act Allows Up to Five FMs in a Market to be Owned By One Company

The trend, mentioned in the last edition "FM Atlas," toward duopolies in station ownerships continues. A duopoly occurs when two or more FM stations in one city have the same ownership. The new Telecommunications Act was passed in 1996, which has encouraged former competitors to get together with one buying the other out, or large group owners swapping stations so that "super duopolies" of four or five FM stations in a large market can have the same ownership. One of the largest radio mergers involved CBS and Infinity Broadcasting merging with Westinghouse/Group W. The $3.9 billion merger brought 83 stations (FM and AM) under one roof, based in New York city. This brings morning shock jocks Don Imus and Howard Stern to the network that has Dan Rather. Stern had cost his employer, Infinity Broadcasting, $1.7 million in fines to settle five indecency charges at the FCC.

Almost all proposed sales and mergers have been routinely approved by the U.S. Federal Communications Commission—even those where petitions to deny the sales have been filed. Virtually the only agency telling the industry to slow down its rate of mergings is the U. S. Department of Justice. Justice stepped in and blocked part of a sale in Rochester NY, which would have seen stations owned by American Radio Systems, Inc. controlling 60 percent of the radio ad revenue. ARS then agreed not to buy WHAM 1180 AM and WNVE "The Nerve" 95.1. It also agreed to seek independent buyers for WVOR 100.5 and WCMF 990 AM. The remaining ARStations would then wind up with about 40 percent of Rochester's radio revenue—a figure the Justice Department said it is more comfortable with. ARS' remaining stations there would be WCMF-FM 96.5, WRMM 101.3 and WHTK 1280 AM. It also put WAQB 94.1 Brighton-Rochester NY on the air. Little WIRQ *94.3 Rochester NY will have to find a new frequency, if it is to return to the air.

Almost all major markets in the U.S. have duopoly situations, resulting in economies of scale for the stations, but almost always in reduced employment opportunities for managers, announcers, news people and sales reps. Most months my FMedia! newsletter has mentions of stations entering duopolies, "superduopolies" and LMAs (local marketing agreements).

Some independent stations are concerned about all the duopolies springing up around them. WDKX 103.9 Rochester NY and WNUC 107.7 Wethersfield-Buffalo NY are owned by individuals or families. Both are concerned that large local group owners will seize their formats or reduce advertising rates to force them out of business.

As reported last edition, it is easier for FM stations to obtain financing now. The Small Business Administration changed its rule which forbade loan guarantees to radio stations and newspapers. This rule change allows banks and other lenders to make SBA-backed loans to media outlets.

Lack of diversity in media ownership can manifest itself in sameness of formats from one station to another. It is not just commercial radio where common ownerships can be found. Public and religious FM also share the benefits and problems of duopolies. On public FM you might hear "All Things Considered" or "Morning Edition" on two commonly-owned stations in the same city. This can be on a time-shft basis, or, less logically, at the same time on both stations.

The noncommercial ownership of WKBZ-FM 95.3-AM Whitehall-Muskegon MI, mentioned last edition, didn't work out. Grand Valley State University, licensee of WGUV *88.5 Allendale-Grand Rapids MI and an AM, had owned the stations. Officials of the school had hoped to either convert the stations to public radio outlets or use their revenue to help support the WGUV stations. However, the new telecommunications act and policy changes at the Corporation for Public Broadcasting persuaded the school to sell the stations. WKBZ-FM (along with WKBZ 850 and WQQW 1520 AM) was sold to Bishop Nathaniel W. Wells, Jr., of Holy Trinity Church, and two other principals. The new format on 95.3 is similar to what "Magic 108" featured before it changed to WSHZ.

The Tyranny of Talk Radio

With mounting interest in FM, both by broadcasters and listeners, it is natural that talk radio finds its way onto the static-less FM band. Talk has been a mainstay of public radio, with some of the earliest stations being for in-school instruction or for use by homebound students. Thus, *91.5 stations WNYE New York and WBEZ Chicago, owned by their respective school boards, have been around for decades. One long-time monophonic school board station on *91.5 was sold and became stereo. KSLH St. Louis became KSIV-FM. While stereo for music, much of its programming is actually monophonic religious talk and teaching.

Religious stations have had talk and teaching programs for decades, exemplified by "Back to the Bible Broadcast" and "Voice of Prophecy." Lately, call-in talk programs have come to Christian FM, including Vic Eliason's from the VCY America network based in Milwaukee, and Harold Camping's nightly "Open Forum" on Family Stations.

Several commercial FM stations have embraced talk radio, either fulltime or parttime. KPIX-FM 95.7 San Francisco is now all talk or news, except for some weekend music programs, as is the pioneer in FM talk radio, WWDB 96.5 Philadelphia. WWDB removes its [tereo] carrier when broadcasting talk, reserving stereo for weekend big-bands music. WLUP 97.9, "Chicago's Loop," ended its morning talk format, becoming all music. Similarly, WLS-FM 94.7 Chicago dumped talk for country music in stereo.

All stations, when not broadcasting music or drama that calls for stereo should remove their stereo generator and broadcast monophonically, thereby ensuring a better signal in fringe areas and a more honest presentation to the listener.

As many FM stations seem to dump talk as embrace it. Thus, there is no clear trend in FM toward talk, as I reported in the last edition. As interesting as talk may be at times, it is disturbing when talk displaces music, forcing stations that offered all that FM could, in terms of audio bandwidth and the technical benefits of stereo separation (left and right), to become monophonically restrained. It is good that broadcasters recognize FM as important enough that they want their talk fare to be on the medium where most listening now is, but much of FM radio's appeal is diminished as a result. A compromise is what KPIX-FM and WWDB are doing, and that is to make use of their transmitters for stereo music at least part of the week. A better arrangement would be for the public to have FM-SCSubcarrier radios in large numbers, and then a popular music station could have its talk programming on an SCS. In that way, all the major broadcasters in a given area would be offering a variety of music or dramatic programs in true stereo virtually all the time.

FM Listening Remains At 80 Percent: RADAR Report

RADAR (Radio's All Dimension Audience Research) figures for fall 1996 show FM continuing to reach 80 percent of the radio audience (ages 12 and over). This is the same as in late 1994, but up from 77 percent in late 1993. As such, it represents an upward trend in FM audience since this publication began in 1971. FM's reach varies by age. Eighty-four percent of teens listen solely to FM, as contrasted to 32 percent of men 55+. AM-only usage varies from one percent for teens to 24 percent of people 55+. It will be interesting to see if FM levels off at 80 percent listening over the long term.

WFUV *90.7 New York Still Stuck with Unbuilt Tower

Speculation reported from late 1994 that WNYC-FM *93.9 New York would be sold by its owner, the City of New York, and go commercial, was only that—speculation. WNYC-TV (channel 31) was sold to ITT/Dow Jones Corp. for $207 million, but the radio station (including WNYC 820 AM), remains solidly noncommercial. It has, however, become untethered from the City of New York. It is now owned by the WNYC Foundation, which is paying the city $20 million total, or $3.3 million in each of the next six years. The city thus saves its $1 million subsidy to the radio stations, which was one-third of WNYC-AM-FM's $3 million budget.

WFUV *90.7 New York has a construction permit to increase to 150 m, 50000 watts horizontal and vertical, for full Class B coverage. Consequently, it started building a massive, self-supporting tower on a corner of the Fordham University campus in Bronx, which would be the height of a 45-story building. Problem is their neighbor across the street, the New York Botanical Garden, won't go away.

The New York State Supreme Court ruled that WFUV has a right to construct its 146 m tower on the Rose Hill campus in Bronx. The Botanical Garden has appealed. It suggested that WFUV build to less than half the height proposed, and disguise the tower as a flagpole. Fordham argues that will not do, and accuses Garden officials of trying to influence the FCC not to allow for completion of the tower. The garden has questioned the real reason for the tower, claiming its great height would allow for leasing to other broadcasters, making for financial gain.

Toni Butt/New York Botanical Garden

The unfinished tower has risen to 66 meters, at a cost to date of $1.5 million. Both sides have resorted to photography to make their points. The view from Fordham, toward the Garden, showed a barely-visible tower to the right of a picture, with the tower hidden among trees. The view from the conservatory toward the tower shows an ominous, looming structure (pictured here). "This part of the Bronx is one of the most beautiful areas," said Karl F. Lauby, a spokesperson for the Garden. "The tower has a jarring impact visually. It mars the garden and really looms over the conservatory. The tower is a slap in the face to the Bronx. This tower would not be tolerated in Central Park or Prospect Park. It does not improve this part of the Bronx. It denigrates it and devastates it."

Fordham had agreed to study other sites, but decided, in the end, the best spot is where they started building the tower.

Digital Audio Broadcasting Moves Forward in Canada

Eight of Toronto's broadcasters announced plans to transmit digital audio broadcasting starting in 1997. Once on the air, "EKA-147" will signify the commercial launch of DAB in North America. Rogers Broadcasting, CHFI 98.1 and CHUM 104.5, are among the 18 CN Tower users who'll be participating. Initial coverage will be a 40 km radius. Carol and I enjoyed riding the CBC/CAB digital audio van in Winnipeg in 1994.

Digital audio broadcasting in the United States has been dealt a major setback. At least two manufacturers have called it quits. Lucent Technologies and Amati Communications pulled out of tests because no major station would volunteer for their experiments. Gary Shapiro, president of the Consumer Electronics Manufacturers Association, questions the future of the U.S.-led in-band, on-channel DAB. Others have pointed out the poor promise of digital riding along with the analog signal, and the lack of robustness of ancillary data being sent out. Such a datastream would have meant money-making potential to a broadcaster.

The difference between AM stereo and DAB was most impressive, when riding the van in Winnipeg. Less noticeable was the comparison of CBW-FM *98.3 and its DAB counterpart, except on Portage Avenue, where multipath has been a problem. Since locating its tower west of town, CBW-FM has had problems with its signal received direct as well as reflected from tall downtown buildings to the east.

Canada's CBC Backs Away From "Power Grab"

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has long looked at vacant 99.1 Toronto as a place for CBL 740 AM to migrate to. Metro Toronto has grown, and so has the electrical interference that plagues CBL. The CBC was accused of a "power grab" in wanting 99.1, after some 20 applicants had invested millions to create a new commercial channel, only to have their applications dismissed.

However, Canada's regulatory body for radio-TV, Industry Canada, told the CBC not to proceed with the 99.1 application. Its recommendation is to reopen the frequency to commercial station applicants.

Harold Redekopp, vp-English radio, CBC, said it "can't adequately serve its audience (which has been declining in number) with its current radio signal. We are on the AM band that is declining. Among the AM players, we have demonstrably one of the poorest signals. We ought to be audible and we ought to be accessible."

Critic Terrence Corcoran, in the "Globe and Mail" newspaper, wrote that rather than blaming a poor signal, "the real reason for [the CBC's] failure to attract listeners is unpopular programming. Toronto audiences want something other than hours of tiresome whining about social issues and the personal lives of on-air personalities." He pointed out, in the classical sphere, CFMX 103.1-96.1 within 10 years has passed the audience of CBL-FM *94.1, which is "decades old."

In a brochure, "You Deserve to Hear CBC Radio!" it mentions that 50 percent of Toronto area residents listen only to FM, with only one-third of listening to AM, "the lowest in the country." Earlier moves by CBC Radio from AM to FM in Halifax and Ottawa "have resulted in top ratings and audience satisfaction with similar programming. . . With its noncommercial format, CBC Radio's move to FM CBC  Radio 740 presents a revenue-neutral approach to Toronto's competitive radio environment. . . FM is the only solution to CBC Radio's Toronto-area reception problems."

"Microbroadcasters" Come and Go—Some Challenging the FCC

FM's growth over AM has advanced to the point where numerous broadcast "wannabies" are out there. Some have operated pirate stations, such as 91.9 "WJQR," "Nasty Radio" in Queens, and Stephen Dunifer's "Radio Free Berkeley," 104.1, on 24 hours a day, which convinced a federal judge to allow the station to continue on the air. Indeed, that case has been a rallying point behind the growing "microbroadcasters'" movement.

Alan Freed's "The Beat" 97.7 Minneapolis had broadcast urban music in glorious mono, and believed to have had a large audience, despite its limited signal to the west of the Loop and around Loring Park to Lake Calhoun.

He tried to join the Minnesota Broadcasters Association, but was told the bylaws only allowed for licensed stations to join. The group never supplied a copy of the bylaws showing that only licensed stations can join. One broadcaster who wanted to be anonymous even threatened to supply thugs to shut down Mr. Freed. "If the Fed's weren't going to do it, I was going to hire someone who would. When you operate without a license you're stealing the public's air-waves!" The Feds did it, removing what appeared to be all of Mr. Freed's gear from his apartment. In going after only the equipment, the government refused to act on "The Beat's" so-called right to be on the air.

An unauthorized relay of WYGG *88.1 Asbury Park is in Brooklyn NY, but off the air weekdays when FCC direction-finding vans are more likely to be on the prowl. "On weekends they're full strength all the time."

"FM Atlas" Continues to Chart FM Radio's Growth

Since publishing the last FM Atlas, almost 500 new FM stations have been granted construction permits, while 86 were deleted, making for a gain of about 400. Compare that figure to 125 new stations before the last edition, and you get some idea how FM has grown. FM translators and boosters increased by 378.

An FM translator is a device which can rebroadcast a primary station into areas where terrain or distance make direct reception difficult. Usually a translator uses a frequency different from the originating station. The great growth in FM translators in the U.S. is among religious broadcasters, many of them "satellators" in the educational (88-92 mhz) band. A distant station, such as KAWZ *89.9 Twin Falls ID, or Family Radio's KEAR *106.9 San Francisco CA, is received with a satellite dish and signal converted to a local FM frequency for rebroadcasting. Many of these stations are using up to 250 watts of power; translators with 100 watts or more power are shown in large print on the FMaps. A few stations employ on-channel FM "boosters" to relay their signal to nearby areas. Boosters can have up to one-fifth the radiated power of the main station. An example of a strong booster is WWRR-1 100.7, an 8000-watter in Jacksonville FL, relaying the primary station which is in Brunswick GA, known as "Arrow 100 FM."

Again, this book is virtually alone in its field in showing FM translators and boosters. The maps present main stations and translators together, while translators are shown in reduced type following each state in the Station Directory, Part I.

I was an FM station applicant in 1995—for Hermantown MN 92.1A. Also applying for the channel was Harbor Broadcasting of Minneapolis MN. We then agreed to a settlement, which the FCC approved. It called for my application expenses to be reimbursed, plus being a paid consultant to Harbor Broadcasting for three years and receiving two cars, one new and one used. About 20 other settlement agreements were approved for FM stations across the country at about the same time. The station is now on the air as WWAX 92.1 Hermantown-Duluth-Superior (WI). It is operated with WRSR 104.3 Two Harbors-Duluth-Superior.

New Maps Added to Help Reduce "FM Atlas" Clutter

Three maps were redrawn. The North Dakota-South Dakota map was upgraded to cover more of the page area. Oregon was given a new map, but much cluttering remains around Grants Pass. Mexico was remapped, expanding from a two-page spread to a third page. Adding the extra page starts the book's "Station Directory" on a more appealing right-hand sheet.

To all the readers who have written, FAXed or called with FM station information, my thanks. Without this input from people telling about local stations changing format or enclosing newspaper clippings, this book would not be as complete or accurate as it is. Also, thanks to readers who have traveled or used their FM DXing skills to sleuth out station information, particularly information as to whether or not a station in question broadcasts in stereo.

FMedia! Newsletter: A Great Aid in Updating this "FM Atlas"

FMedia! is a newsletter of fact and opinion on FM radio—and covering such emerging technologies as DAB. It helps update this "FM Atlas" with call letters' and format changes, stations embracing stereo, news of FM subcarriers, at 57, 67 or 92 kHz—plus much more! It covers pirate activity on FM, historical items, duopolies and other industry news, with space for comments by readers. Includes "Selected AM Happenings," translators coming on the air, and DX items. Contact us about subscribing, or use the coupon on the back page.

The logo for FMedia! features the word "FMedia!" in a bold, italicized, sans-serif font. The letters are white with a thick black outline, set against a solid black rectangular background.

KEY TO SYMBOLS

- d A station with a directional antenna, listed after height, by-frequency section
- h A station transmitting with a horizontal-only signal
- t An FM translator or on-channel FM booster
- v A station transmitting with a vertical-only signal (receiving antenna should be mounted vertically). Stations without a "v" or "h" in the by-frequency part of the book have both polarizations, or circular polarization.
- * A noncommercial station, usually educational, "public," or religious
- $ A station broadcasting all or part of its weekly schedule in multiplex stereo
- † A station with a Subsidiary Communications Service (SCS, SCA, or in Canada SCMO). If †(), it's at 57 kHz, if by itself [†], 67 kHz; if following a comma: [†,] 92 kHz.
- S A station sharing time with a nearby station on the same channel; shown on maps
- A station with its antenna below the average surrounding terrain

Program [music] codes (given in Part I of the Station Directory after city): b beautiful/easy listening (but not jazz or big bands), c classical/"Fine Arts," e ethnic, f folk music, g gospel and religious, j jazz, k country (all types; including stations playing polka music), l Latin/Spanish, m middle of the road (including big bands, nostalgia, standards), n news, o rock oldies (including '70s hits, but not so-called classic rock), p progressive rock (including adult alternative, modern rock, Z-Rock), r rock (CHR, rock hits, top 40 or hybrid formats), s soul ("urban"/rhythm and blues), t talk. Up to two letters are used to indicate stations having two distinct types of music, or intermixing records of two main types (such as "op" for classic rock, "rm" for many so-called adult contemporary stations). Language codes (given just to the left of the program codes in Part I of the Station Directory): E English (for stations in Quebec and Latin America), F French, P Portuguese, S Spanish.

Maps of the United States are arranged in a geographical progression from east to west, and Canada from west to east. Selected stations in bordering states or countries are shown on individual maps. Stations sharing time with another station, or those scheduled to change frequency are shown on the maps with both the new and old frequencies given. Minor, 10-watt educational FM stations and FM translators with less than 100 watts are shown in reduced size.

For technical, stereo, SCS and programming data on the various stations, consult the Station Directories, immediately following the FMaps. "NonID" and station multiple-city identifications are listed in the Station Directory by frequency, starting on p. 163.

FM Translators—now listed following each state

Translators operate on a different frequency from the primary station, helping give FM service where distance or terrain make direct reception difficult. Translators are limited to 250 watts or less; those east of the Mississippi can serve up to an 8 km radius (at 32 m maximum), while those west of that river can serve 13 km (at 107 m). Some translators have as little as one or 10 watts, however. FM boosters operate on the same frequency as the primary station, with up to 20 percent of the power of the primary station. In the smaller print lists which follow, city, frequency and call number of the translator are followed by call letters and frequency of the primary. Boosters are identified by call letters of the primary followed by a numeral (such as CA's KTND-1) and their radiated power if known.

CANADA

Canada Coverage Note: Coverages are indicated only for stations where we know the effective antenna height above average terrain. Many stations come on the air or move their towers without an announcement of their antenna heights. You can check the powers of virtually all Canada stations in Part II of the Station Directory. Rebroadcasters are listed with their correct call numbers (such as VF2177) in the Directories, but the maps show the station relayed, if the station relayed is known. Note that the call sign VF2184 is used both at Cadotte Lake and Kinuso AB!

Mexico Coverage Note: Coverages in kilometers are calculated for stations where antenna heights above average terrain are known; otherwise, only the effective radiated powers in watts are given. $ is stereo; H=horizontal effective radiated power in watts; V=vertical effective radiated power in watts; heights given are in meters above average terrain; (da) means a station transmits with a directional antenna. SC Services (T) follow the stations' music formats.

STATION DIRECTORY

Part II: FM Stations Listed by Frequency, United States and Canada (excluding U. S. territories). Stations identifying with more than one city are listed, as are those using a short phrase ("nonID") in lieu of call letters during much of a typical hour's programming. Selected station logos ("FM Miscellany") are included on a space available basis. See Key to Symbols on Page 2.

Notes: 1) KCNR-FM early '80s, and KKLI 1985 to early 1988; 2) KPOJ-FM changed to 98.5 by 1964; had a construction permit in 1947 as KALE-FM; 3) KYTE-FM, "The FM Kite," 1977-79; KYTE-FM again 1985-88, as classical, 1985-88. KRCK were calls from 1983-85, "K-Rock." 4) KMJK-FM mid-80s—licensed Lake Oswego OR; 5) Beaverton OR; 6) Gresham OR; 7) Vancouver WA (construction permit); 8) Salem OR (during its first life as KSLM-FM, KORI and as KSKD it was a lower power station serving Salem and not Portland); 9) Camas WA (in part of early 1995 it was KMUZ-FM, and in 1990 as a construction permit with the KWOM call letters); 10) Banks OR. 11) Low-power KRRC Portland started life on "89.3, but moved from that frequency to 107.5, apparently in anticipation of KMHD '89.1 and KBPS-FM *89.9 coming on the air. More recently, KRRC was bumped to 104.1 when KDBX Banks came on the air.

Phantom stations and translators: A 1944 construction permit was for W7XTE, "Experimental Temple Ehmsen." Holding the permit for a developmental FM station was Temple V. Ehmsen, a radio engineer. A frequency was never assigned and the permit expired in 1945. KMCP 102.7 Portland, a construction permit in 1961, stood for Market-Casters, Inc., which owned KMCS 98.9 Seattle, but the station was never built. Translators in the area are K242AF *96.3 Portland, for KSKD 107.1 Sweet Home OR; K251AD 98.1 Beaverton, for KUPL-FM 98.5 Portland; K273AB *102.5 Gresham, for KSKD.

Ownership: FM-FM duopolies in the Portland market: KGOV 92.3 and KNRK 94.7 are owned by ECI License Co.; KUPL-FM 98.5, KUFO 101.1 and KJZ 106.7 and KBBT 107.5, all owned by American Radio Systems. KKRZ 100.3 and KKCW 103.3 are owned by Citicasters, while Heritage Media has KKS-FM 97.1 and KKRH 105.1.

Format/slogan/call letter significance synopsis: KBVM *88.3, Blessed Virgin Mary, is the "first independent lay-sponsored Catholic FM station in the nation." KMHD *89.1 Mount Hood Community College, "Your Jazz Station." KBPS-FM *89.9 signed on Aug. 1, 1989, "Classical 89.9 FM"; calls stand for Benson Polytechnic School. KBOO *90.7 community radio, "K-Boo," supposedly first discussed on Halloween; originally a very low power station. KOPB-FM's *91.5 calls are for Oregon Public Broadcasting. Earlier, it was KOAP-FM, adapted from KOAP-TV Channel 10, with the P being for Portland.

KGOV 92.3, "Portland's Classic Rock," call letters were from its former sister station. As KLIO-FM, 1967-73, it was a telephone talk station, "The Talk of the Town," "Click Radio." After threats were received to the talk show hosts and to the station, the format changed. It played Christmas music long-term—from September '73 to Feb. '74. Then it became mono country until KYXI AM took it over Feb. 1, 1974, naming it KGON. "As far as I know, KLIO was the first talk station in Portland, the first FM talk station that I know of, and the first FM station in Portland to have a country/western format," writes one of the researchers of this report. The frequency was educational 1962-63 as KOAP-FM, which moved to 91.5 in 1963. Westinghouse Broadcasting had the channel from 1948-61 as KEX-FM, then donated the equipment to Oregon Educational Broadcasting, KOAP-TV, in 1962.

KPOQ-FM 93.7, the "good news" station, has always been Christian/inspirational. KNRK, "94.7 NRK," "was briefly New Rock 94.7." It was KMUZ-FM/KMUZ, "K Music, Just Refreshing Music," 1992 to early 1995; KXL-FM 95.5 is an oldies station having evolved from easy listening. In 1984 it switched to Bonneville's easy listening format as "Lite 95.5." Another format change was in 1990 when it went to soft adult contemporary as "K-95.5." In 1993 it became "Star 95.5" with "hot adult contemporary." As KGMG, 1960-65, it was the Heritage classical music station for Portland; syndicated from International Good Music, Inc. of Bellingham WA, and a sister station to KGMI 92.9 Bellingham WA (now KISM).

KWJW-FM was on 95.5 1949-50, then left the air and returned on 95.5, following the deletion of KFMC 99.5 in 1962. KPRA stood for Pacific Radio Advertising Service, its original owner. It started on 95.7 in fall '47 and moved to 95.5 in 1948.

KKSN-FM, "97.1 Kissin' FM," was "Classic Oldies 97.1 'KISN'," using fake call letters (except for a legal ID on or near the top of the hour) reminiscent of a popular AM station, 910 kHz, 1959-74. As KKLI, "K-Lite," it played the hits of the '60s, '70s and '80s. It was on the "Center" of the dial as KCNR, and as KPAM-FM it was "K-97," "K-Pam 97-FM. . . Taking the Town by Stereo." KPFM and KPAM (AM) were a classical simulcast operation. KPFM stood for Portland Frequency Modulation, 1947-70, and became Oregon's first stereo station in 1961. It signed on fall 1946 on 94.9 and moved to 97.1 in mid-1947, and is now Oregon's oldest continuously operated FM.

KUPL 98.5, "Today's Best Country," had been KUPL-FM with country and earlier as: "Couple. Easy Listening All Day, All Night, All Nice. Just Beautiful Music." It switched from beautiful music in January, 1984, even though the ratings had them as No. 1. As KPOK-FM it was "Stereo 98," with calls adapted from the old KPOJ-FM, which stood for former owner, Portland Oregon Journal. KPOJ-FM was on 98.7 1948-64. KFMC 99.5 was a construction permit held by Plains Radio Broadcasting Co.; their other FM CPs were KRKY 102.1 Denver, KFMV 100.3 Minneapolis, WFFM 101.1 Cincinnati, KPRN 99.9 Boise—none of which came on the air. KWJW-FM, "Better Country," 99.5 is a station whose call letters hearken to the founder of KWJW AM, Wilbur J. Jerman. As KJIB with beautiful music it was "FM-99," "K-Jib." Call letters said to be adapted from the former WJIB 96.9 Boston MA. It switched to country when KLLB 101.1 dumped that format. It held the call letters KRZI as a 1966 construction permit, but came on as KJIB Sept. 16, 1968.

KKRZ 100.3, "Z-100," was earlier called "The Rose." As KOFM, it was "Solid Gold FM-100," and "Q-100." In the late '60s and early '70s it was an instrumental-only beautiful music station, "No Bach, No Rock," before Golden West Broadcasters bought it and changed to rock as "Q-100." Earlier, as KGW-FM on "100.3 Megacycles," it was said to be the first commercial FM west of the Mississippi, having come on the air on 95.3 in mid-1946, moved to 100.3 in July '47, but was shut down Jan. 31, 1950 by owner The Oregonian Publishing Co. After ownership of KGW (AM) was changed to Pioneer Broadcasters, Inc. in 1951, Pioneer reactivated KGW-FM Feb. 1, 1952. KGW-FM was later sold to its manager, Quentin H. Cox, for $3,750, and became KQFM Mar. 26, 1955.

KUFO 101.1 speaks of "From Classic Rock To The Cutting Edge, 101 KUFO." KKCY was "The City," 1988-89; KYTE-FM was "Classical 101," 1985-88; "The FM Kite," 1977-79, with country starting January, 1979. By April of that year it became KLLB, "Country Club," before shunting country to the AM side—KYTE 970. It then became "hot hits and cool oldies" as "KB-101 Rock Deluxe." In January, 1983 it became hard rock as "Rock 101," KRCK, which lasted to 1985. Earlier, as KOIN-FM Stereo, it was known as "Coin FM," "The Best Sounds in Music, 101.1 Megacycles."

KINK 101.9, "Kink FM 102," has also been known as "Stereo 102," and "Kink, the Underground Link." KINK, a product of the King Broadcasting Company of Seattle, came on Christmas Day 1968, "and was supposed to be a failure and tax write-off for KING-[FM 98.1] . . . The station came on the air with a top-40/album format and took the ratings by storm." With developing FM competition in the rock format, KINK went to a more progressive format with rock, folk, blues and jazz. KINK "still has this basic format today, except that it backed away from any 'hard' rock when KQIV and KGON took that market in the early '70s." [There was a construction permit in the '60s, before KINK came on the air, to use the calls KGW-FM.]

KKCW 103.3, "K 103 FM," with soft rock, stood for "Columbia-Willamette Broadcasting Company." The original format was to be country, with the calls for "Kickin' Country/Western." Prior to coming on the air Feb. 24, 1984, it was a 1982 construction permit as KTJA.

KRRR *104.1 is a low powered outlet that has bounced around the dial—Portland's only FM station lacking stereo. The calls stood for Radio Reed College, its founding institution.

KKRH 105.1, "New Earth 105," had been KXYQ-FM with the same nonID. During most of its history as KXYQ-FM, however, it was known as "Q-105," with "hot AC." Before switching formats in June, 1995, it played eight hours of the sounds of whales under water! KXYQ-FM moved its studios to Portland in 1987, and began a joint station identification with Portland; which was stopped in June, 1995. As KSKD, it proclaimed "Full Dolby Stereo. We're Cascade 105, KSKD Salem Over Portland." KORI's calls were for licensee Oregon Radio, Inc., while KSLM-FM stood for its city of license, Salem.

KKJZ, "Smooth Jazz 106.7," was classical as KKBK, "K-Bach," 1993-94. It was KMXI, adult contemporary ["Mix 106"] and oldies ["Oldies 106.7"], 1991-92. Earlier, as KMJK, it was "Classic Hits 106.7," easy listening 1979-82, then CHR, "Flame Throwin' Hit Radio," emphasizing new music as well as current hits. It operated translator station K296BE 107.1 in Beaverton, 1985-87. It was a progressive rocker as KQIV, "Rockin' in Quad" (1973-77), but ran into financial difficulties, after which it was leased out as a "soul" station, "Soul 107." However, some $265,000 was owed from when the station was progressive. The owner demanded the current lessee pay the money. It was silent until a new owner established KMJK with Top 40.

KBBT "The Beat" 107.5 is a rock station licensed Banks OR, having started as KDBX, "Spirit FM," Portland's 24 hour Christian Music Station; it was also heard on translator K242AF 96.3 Portland. [Some of this information is from Craig W. Pattillo, PO Box 25296, Portland OR 97225, from his copyrighted "Portland Area Radio Slogans With Call Letter Meanings and Frequencies, 1922 to Present." Other dial histories have been done for several major markets. However, none has been updated like this Portland history. Most of the following haven't been updated since 1988. If you'd like to research any market listed here, you can use FMedial back issues, past editions of the FM Atlas, Broadcasting Yearbook, M Street Radio Directory, or other references. Markets with FM histories researched up to about 1988 are Washington-Baltimore, Seattle-Vancouver, Chicago, Los Angeles, New York city and "Old New York." Also: Minneapolis, San Francisco-San Jose, Rochester NY.

Other Selected Radio Station References

"FM Atlas" readers occasionally ask who publishes an AM Atlas, a TV list or other specialized information. Here's a selected bibliography.

Broadcasting and Cable Yearbook, the "bible" of the industry, with its programming, technical and personnel data for AM-FM-TV stations. Lists consultants, engineers, attorneys, FCC rules, about 1000 pages. Now lists station geographic coordinates. Call (800) 521-8110, then "1" to order. The 1997 edition is scheduled for release in May at $159.95 plus 7% for shipping.

M Street Radio Directory, 1997 edition, over 900 pages of FM-AM information, listing selected station personnel, facilities of broadcasting, plus an AM-FM call letters' directory, $55.95 postpaid from M Street Corporation, PO Box 1479, Madison TN 37116-1479, (800) 248-4242 or (615) 865-1525. They also publish the weekly "M Street Journal." Robert Unmacht was kind enough to FAX the latest format changes for the week the "FM Atlas" went to press.

NRC AM Radio Log, Oct., 1996 17th edition showing daytime/nighttime powers and if a station has a directional antenna, $22.95 postpaid in the U.S. Also published is an AM station map book listing stations by frequency, 3rd ed., 1996, $15.95; and a Night Pattern Book for AM, 4th ed. 7-96, $22.95. Order from the National Radio Club, P. O. Box 164, Mannsville NY 13661-0164.

National Technical Information Service, U.S. Department of Commerce, Springfield VA 22161; (800) 336-4700, PR-718-1CAU (FCC lists on microfiche).

Cards are available listing stations and translators by geography or by frequency and costing around $25 for a set. Write or call for latest price information. Includes FM station applications and geographic coordinates.

To the best of my knowledge the following are no longer being published: Mike Knitter's The FM Journal, which had both print and computer disc editions. "People made copies of the computer disc and then distributed it free on the Internet," he said. "It's hard to make money that way." The Great Arizona Radio & Travel Guide, although former publisher Mike Femyer remains interested in FM radio.

Henry Studebaker has moved from Port Huneme CA to be closer to his daughter in MI. "I haven't had a chance to work on my country music radio atlas for over two years. My work schedule was overwhelming. Maybe when we get settled down a little and my out of town travel calms down, I'll get a chance to get a new edition out."

Finally, a tribute to my wife of 26 years, Carol Elving, who helps in many ways—keeping the business records, maintaining the mailing list, and as fulfillment director.
