October

DATE : October 11th, 1986
TIME : 11:00 ===== NOTE NEW TIME
PLACE : Buena Vista Clubhouse
ADDRESS : 16th & Jackson streets
Oregon City, Oregon

October has possibilities. Don't miss it.

During the business meeting the floor will be open for nominations for society officers. Please note the duties of the officers on page 10. This will begin this month so as not to interfere radically with NEXT MONTH'S SWAP MEET.

Also, final discussion & ratification of a rental agreement will have to come about. There are very few details left to cover.

GET INVOLVED. Make 1987 a "Vintage" year!

After the business will come the 1986 Crystal set competition. Limit yourself to 3 sets entered per member. The judging will be done by all who are present. All radios with Crystal Detectors will be eligible in the competition.

There will be a "display only" table for crystal sets and related gear, for those who do not wish to compete.

NOTE next month's swap meet will begin an hour later due to change in meeting time.

ATMOSPHERICA

By J

Are we Having Fun Yet ?

When the question is asked,
from bottoms or tops,
It's time to look at
where the "buck stops".

If too few people are carrying the weight,
With sagging legs or
unsteady gate;

If "good intentions" are
there alright,
But too few hands
make work "unlight".

If you let "George do it"
when you should instead,
And George doesn't do it-
he too's home in bed.

Volunteer now-
help the going go smooth
Pick your favorite task while you've got time to choose.

Be creative, ingeneuos,
help the "doers" do more,
Think up new ways to lighten each chore.

Without Wilbur and Orville
We'd never have the jet.
Don't make the overworked ask,
ARE WE HAVING FUN YET ???

Thanks for Years of Service

For over eight years we have been using the Buena Vista club house. For the better part of those years, someone has had to unlock the doors, build the fire, start the coffee, not to mention, sweep up, clean up, and lock up.

Our newer members may not recognize that these hours of work and devotion have been contributed by a relative few. Your editor does not wish to omit any of those who have helped through the years, but he does wish to thank a specific few.

Thank you to Hugh and Virginia Ranken who have been faithful workers and have always given of their time. Thank you to Tom and Dorothy James. Prior to Tom's death, he and Dorothy were tireless in their involvement in club activities. And since then Dorothy has continue to help power the power supply.

Most recently, and for as long as this writer can remember, Chuck and Bobbie Kibler have been the keeper of the keys, host and hostess and chief cook & bottle washer and floor sweepers. And they've always done a great job of it. How seldom do we remember that these chores take time and a dedication to be early & stay late every meeting.

It's a shame that we only remember these workers when there is a change in the wind. Chuck and Bobbie have asked to step down and relax in their involvement in the Society. Before we let them do that, however, we want to make sure they know that we as a group and individually appreciate the work that they have done.

Thanks again to Chuck and Bobbie Kibler! We appreciate it.

Remembering

In September we asked about your radio memory. We took three comedy shows which were easy to remember: Fibber McGee and Molly; The Great Gildersleeve; and The Mel Blanc Show. These are the answers to last month's "radio memory" quiz.

Fibber:

Molly McGee's maiden name was Driscoll. In fact, that was Molly's maiden name both on the air & off. Marion Driscoll and Jim Jordan were married in Peoria Illinois in 1918. It wasn't until 1932 that they became Fibber McGee and Molly.

On the show (not in life) Molly's high school sweetheart was Otis Catwalitter. Otis was less of a braggart than Fibber. As the story goes, he became a world famous sportsman and in one show, sent Molly a mounted prize winning salmon from Portland Oregon.

For as long as Fibber was on the air they lived in the little house at 79 wistful vista. The McGees won the house in a contest; lost the key and got arrested trying to break in. The remainder of the story involved broken bones and lost of memory. It must be like so many other things on the show..., you had to be there.

Gildersleeve:

The middle initial in Throckmorton P Gildersleeve stands for Philharmonic. Yes, the rotund player that began as a neighbor to Fibber McGee and Molly admitted in an episode of the McGee show that his father was a musician and that indirectly the result was this unique middle name.

Gildy was the sole proprietor of the Gildersleeve Girdle factory while living in Wistful Vista. He left on a tearful note and moved to Summerfield in 1941. Gildy's maid Birdie was played by Lillian Randolph.

Mel Blanc:

Mel Blanc, who grew up in Portland, had the smell of grease paint in his blood early on. While in High School he did several radio skits with his brother Henry. By age 22 he was the Director of the Orpheum Theater in Portland.

Even by the time Mel became known as the man with a thousand voices his only well known automobile was Jack Benny's Maxwell, which Mel played through the entire Jack Benny run.

If ugga-ugga-boo ugga-boo-boo-ugga rings a familiar cord, it is because it was the password for the Brotherhood of Benevolent Zebras. Mel was always a member in questionable standing.

A Part of Radio Passing Away

Virginia Gregg

On September 15, long-time radio actress Virginia Gregg passed away in California. Miss Gregg's credits include, The Count of Monte Crisco, Dr. Kildare, The Adventures of Phillip Marlowe, Escape, Have Gun Will Travel, Frontier Gentleman, Let George Do, One Man's Family, Richard Diamond, Private Detective, Romance, Yours Truly, Johnny Dollar, Uncle Don.

Miss Gregg's fine acting talents were often listed with those of the late Lurene Tuttle, and Gloria Blondell. As used to happen with versatile female voices, the listener often didn't recognize Virginia's voice until the closing credits. It was no surprise to other radio actors however. Everyone who worked with her praised her talent and ability to take on even the most difficult roles.

Her loss is felt by all old radio buffs.

Gordon B McLendon

On September 14th Gordon McLendon died at his home in Denton, Texas. In 1947 McLendon founded the Liberty Broadcasting Network. Station affiliates were largely in the Southeast and California, with exceptions in Canada, Chicago, and Denver.

McLendon was born in Paris Texas on June 8th, 1921. He was the son of Janett Marie and Barton McLendon. He received several graduate degrees from both Harvard & Yale, was decorated by the U.S. Navy, and was named as outstanding sports broadcaster by SPORTS MAGAZINE in 1951.

Though never a "household word" we should remember him for his contribution to early radio.

Yyyyyeeeeessssss !

Those who are familiar with the Jack Benny show will remember voice of the department store floor walker, the often-heard physician, and the some-times-hotel clerk. The nasal "Yeeeeessssss" was the trademark. The voice was Frank Nelson. No other show gave Mr. Nelson the recognition that he received on the Benny program. The audience never had to guess who it was.

Early on, Nelson played the part of Dagwood Bumstead's neighbor, Herb Woodley, and later could be heard as the announcer on the Jack Paar show, or one of the "all-star cast" on Maisie.

Nothing has endeared Frank Nelson to the collector's of children's programs as much as the hours he spent reminiscing through and identifying the cast of the Cinnamon Bear. Frank played Captain Tin Top on the seasonal children's serial and volunteered hours of his time to identify the other members of the cast when the 1937 series was unearthed on transcription disk in Chicago.

Routinely Mr. Nelson worked side-by-side with with cronies like Sheldon Leonard, Ben Wright, Alvia Allman, Marvin Miller, Hans Conried, Peter Leeds, Hanley Stafford, and Elliot Lewis. Recently Mr. Nelson could be seen doing television commercial for a national fast-food chain.

According to the Radiogram (published by SPERDVAC) Mr. Nelson passed away on September 12th. Not only will we miss him but his death marks another part of radio passing away.
