Analysis of Editorial in Spot Radio Rates and Data

SRDS policy requires that all information supplied by the station be clarified and organized in accordance with these numbered title segments. Where the numbered title segment is omitted from the listing, it is to be assumed the station has failed to provide the necessary information in accordance with SRDS prescribed criteria and practice.

Basic editorial service is provided to media who meet SRDS's minimal criteria, free of charge.

Numbered titles for various subjects found within Spot Radio Rates and Data listings have been devised in order that this important data can be located easier.

The uniform listing format is as follows:

INTRODUCTORY MATERIAL

- call letters
- established date
- city of license
- media code (for internal use only)
- Mid code (for internal use only)
- ownership information
- address of station
- telephone number
- TWX number
- other offices and/or studios
- station's programming description

Listings in SRDS' Spot Radio Are Governed by Established Criteria

TO PROTECT YOU, the user, SRDS has established certain criteria which must be met by those who are listed in Spot Radio Rates and Data. The conditions of eligibility which govern editorial treatment are listed below.

SRDS' policy is to list, without charge, commercially-licensed radio stations (AM and FM) according to the city of license as assigned by the Federal Communications Commission. These stations are listed in alphabetical sequence by state, by city, and by call letters.

Because of the continuing evolution of modern marketing concepts as practiced by the SRDS user, there have been certain refinements made in the conventional listing format by FCC city of license. These refinements follow.

(1) Urban Area Designation

Applicable only to licensees in the five (5) urbanized areas of metropolitan New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit. All stations licensed to cities whose center of town is 25 or less miles from the major city's downtown area (e.g. the "loop" in Chicago or "midtown" Manhattan in New York) are eligible for listing under the Urban Area Designation.

The urban area designations immediately follow the final station listing licensed to the major city. The name of the city of license appears directly beneath the station's call letters. A

1. PERSONNEL

- names and titles of those executives (limit of three) who have responsibility and authority relative to national advertising accounts

2. REPRESENTATIVES

- national representatives (name only)
- regional representatives (name only)

3. FACILITIES

- AM Facilities
 - power, frequency
 - operating schedule, time zone
- FM Facilities
 - effective radiated power, frequency
 - operating schedule, time zone
 - antenna height above average terrain/antenna height above sea level.
 - schedule of simulcast hours

4. AGENCY COMMISSION

- statement of agency commission, discount policy and billing arrangements.

5. GENERAL ADVERTISING See coded regulations

- coded regulations
- specialized regulations
- national and/or regional network affiliation
- state network membership
- combination rate opportunities, reflecting combination rate statements for two or more stations, provided a discount is shown.

TIME RATES

- status of rates (combination rates; "National and Local Rates Same")
- card number
- effective date/received date of rates

6. SPOT ANNOUNCEMENTS

- basic rate structure for 1-minute, 30-second, 20-second and 10-second spots.

7. PACKAGE PLANS

- package rates and plans for 1-minute, 30-second, 20-second and 10-second spots. (Description terminology such as "SATURATION PACKAGE," "WEEKLY PACKAGE PLAN," etc. has been retained to insure continuity in actual usage particularly in cases where the name of a specific plan is referred to in existing contracts.)
- for package plans identified with news rates, weather rates, or other specialized programming rates, see 10. SPECIAL FEATURES.

8. PROGRAM TIME RATES

- basic program rate structure

9. PARTICIPATING PROGRAMS

- listing of qualified participating programs by name or title, day(s), time and premium rates.

10. SPECIAL FEATURES

- only special features (news, weather, sports, farm, traffic, etc.) subject to special rates or special charges are identified.

free cross reference is provided under the city of license. A station has the option to have its listing appear under the Urban Area heading or under its city of license.

(2) Combination City Designation

A written request to create a combination city heading must be received from a station licensed to one of the involved cities before the suggested combination will be reviewed.

Two or more cities may be combined into one heading if one of the following two requirements is met: 1) the cities must be contiguous (i.e., the city limits of the cities must be adjacent to one another), or 2) one city must be part of the urbanized area of the other city as determined by the Bureau of Census (SRDS can verify status through government publications maintained internally).

When two or more cities can be combined,

1. ...and the cities are of comparable size, the cities are combined in one hyphenated heading and the city sequence will be alphabetical.
2. ...and the population figures of the cities vary widely and the smallest city's population is less than 1/3 the population of the largest, it will be shown as "_____ (including _____)."

The following paragraph is to be inserted following all combined city headings:

"Stations located within the combined city area are consolidated under multiple city headings. This is not to imply that all of the stations provide equal coverage of the entire area or cities involved. It is part of the time-buying function to determine the extent of individual station coverage, audience delivered etc. within the area."

NOTE: A free reference showing the location of the listings will be used under the respective city of license.

(3) Listing Service

- a) A station, regardless of the size of its city of license, may maintain a full listing in the monthly edition of Spot Radio by making an affirmative decision to purchase either display advertising in the monthly publication, or paid editorial services in its listing in that publication.

Stations licensed to cities over 25,000 population, or who are part of a combined city heading (TULSA, including Broken Arrow, Sand Springs), that do not avail themselves of this opportunity, will have compact listings that serve minimum user requirements.

- b) A station with a city of license under 25,000 that is not part of a combined city, or an urban area, and regardless of whether it has a full listing in the monthly edition, will have a complete listing in the Radio Small Markets Edition published semiannually, April and October.

One line references will be maintained in the monthly edition directing the user to the Small Market Edition for each small market station that does not maintain a full listing in the monthly edition.

(4) Duplicate Listings

- a) Where an AM station is licensed to one city, but places a daytime 10 MV/M signal over 70% of the second city, we would grant a paid duplicate listing under the second city. Engineering contour maps showing the 10 MV/M signal strength must be forwarded for measurement purposes.
- b) The requirement for a paid duplicate listing for an FM Station is a daytime 1 MV/M signal over 70% of the second city. Engineering contour maps showing the 1 MV/M signal strength must be forwarded for measurement purposes.

(5) Cross References

Paid cross references under other than a city of license may be inserted in any nearby market.

The paid cross reference would include the following, according to the method under which the station would qualify:

- a) Call letters, address, and telephone number of office or studio in that city, and a standard reference referring to the basic listing, or
- b) Call letters, national network affiliation, and a standard reference to the basic listing (if it is a designated outlet for a network as shown by a required written statement from the network), or
- c) Call letters and a reference to the location of the basic listing.

SRDS Spot Radio Coded Contract Regulations

Regulations, operating policies and procedures common to the greater number of radio stations have been arranged in code form for efficiency in usage by advertising agency personnel and to extend to every radio station the opportunity of listing all of the standard provisions that apply in the handling of national accounts.

The station rate policies and practices represented by code numbers and letters have been selected based on uniformity and frequency of appearance in station listings. Provisions not readily adaptable to the coding procedure and those not appearing in sufficient frequency to warrant codes are retained in station listings.

The SRDS Radio Coded Contract Regulations guarantee that every standard regulation can be quickly identified by number and letter. Regulations have been grouped insofar as possible under related headings.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The paragraph items shown below are statements which frequently appear in the radio station rate cards under the caption "Contract and Copy Regulations."

They are not and should not be considered as industry standards. Actually, they are conditions imposed by radio stations which SRDS has identified for subscriber use and awareness.

Explanation of Radio Station Programming Statement

CRITERIA GOVERNING ACCEPTANCE

The Station Programming statement must reflect current activity and may be detailed and/or specific, as desired.

Stations are requested to use the standard description terms developed for the Programming Description to assure communication between station and buyer of spot time. See Descriptive Terms/Music and Format page.

Limit 100 words, excluding percentage. Percentages are not counted in total word count. Standard abbreviations are permitted.

Promotional language is prohibited.

Descriptions may discuss programming for typical week, day, week parts and/or day parts.

All percentages reported for target audience, program classifications and/or sub-categories should be against a base of time on the air per typical broadcast week.

Programming description may not contain references to coverage, audience, ratings, power, transmitting equipment, costs, etc.—in fact, any statement which does not actually describe that which is placed on the air for broadcast purposes.

Each primary program classification may be listed, detailed and described as to content. Please do not overlap program description between categories.

For example, music and talk description as sub-categories for Air Personalities should not appear again under the primary classification of Music or Talk. Each primary program classification is expected to report a self-contained description.

GENERAL PROCEDURES

1. Submission of Programming Description by stations is voluntary.
2. SRDS will reserve the right to refuse to print any Programming Description which, in its opinion, does not meet the above criteria.
3. A permanent ADVISORY COMMITTEE, comprised of persons knowledgeable within the broadcast industry, will arbitrate differences between SRDS and stations, when such issues arise. Its primary functions are to make judgments on acceptability of entire Programming Descriptions and/or definitions for new terms and phrases submitted by stations.
4. Stations accept the responsibility for revision of their statements as changes occur, to assure they are accurate and current at all times.
5. A programming statement which no longer reflects accurate description of current station programming will be deleted if not revised by the station. Summary action by SRDS will be taken only if compelled by station's failure to cooperate in the ensuing inquiry. Stations may submit a new statement at any time thereafter.

If a program contains two or more distinct, identifiable program classifications, identify that program classification which the station desires to emphasize and identify others as subordinate sub-categories. Do not include the sub-category analysis in the program classification of similar identity. For example, music and entertainment used as part of the air personalities classification should be reported under Air Personality and not repeated or duplicated under Music or Entertainment.

OUTLINE AND GUIDE FOR DEVELOPING PROGRAMMING STATEMENTS

NOTE: It is anticipated each station will appropriate as much detail as is necessary to permit adequate and proper description of the station's programming emphasis and uniqueness within the 100 word limitation.

Target Audience

The target audience is that primary audience to whom the broadcaster directs his programming and hopes to attract as listeners. This audience may be general in nature or specific in terms of special demographic and/or ethnic groups. For example, statements might read:

- A. General—programmed for general interest; or mass appeal
- B. Demographic—programmed for young, married women; or teens; or adults
- C. Ethnic—programmed for black people; or foreign populations; or Spanish speaking individuals
- D. Subject interest—programmed for farmers

If there are target audiences (2 or more), station is requested to identify each and to report, in percentages, the amount of broadcast time per typical week devoted to each: Possible example:

- A. Spanish. 40%; teens. 40%; general interest. 20%

Primary Program Classifications

In its simplest form, primary programming classifications may be identified, first, by generic name and accompanied by a percentage based on the total number of hours per broadcast week. Possible example:

- A. News, 20%; Air Personalities, 40%; Talk, 40%
- B. Music. 50%; Sports. 40%; News. 10%

Sub-categories

Stations may qualify their primary program classification employing sub-categories to distinguish between various forms of broadcast and to demonstrate programming emphasis—percentages for sub-categories should total to primary percentage total and is also based on total number of hours broadcast for typical broadcast week. Possible examples:

- A. News, 20%—local and regional, 10%; national and international, 10%
- B. Music, 50%—serious, 15%, rhythm and blues, 15%; religious, 20%

Primary program classifications have been identified. Note: If the music glossary fails to provide for a new category of music broadcasting which the stations may wish to report, the station is requested to submit a definition for the term so that it may be evaluated by the Advisory Committee for acceptability.

Description of Type and Kind with Primary Classification and Sub-categories

Stations may further delineate as to type and kind to distinguish further their unique and different programming emphasis. Possible example: continued

Explanation of Radio Station Programming Statement—Continued

- A. News, 20%—community news, 3%; area news, 4%; local weather time, 2%; school, 1%; analysis of national news, 8%; international headlines, 2%

Radio Stations Regularly Scheduling Farm Programs

METHODS AND SOURCES: Employing a rotation system SRDS station questionnaires are being mailed with greater frequency to insure data reported is current and accurate.

Stations with Farm Directors who are voting members of the National Association of Farm Broadcasters are identified by the letters NAFB. Definition as to what constitutes Farm Programming is left to the discretion of the stations.

Each station is advised that failure to return a completed form will mean deletion of the station from this tabulation as information from previous reports is not carried forward.

Stations not maintaining full monthly listings are unreported since it is not possible to maintain current information.

Stations identified with a (D) maintain duplicate listings in these markets. See SRDS listing criteria page for explanation of duplicate listings.

Clearly define radio markets with SRDS maps

At the beginning of each state's section in Spot Radio Rates and Data you'll find a detailed map clearly delineating county and state boundaries. Each month, these maps are included to help you make a thorough analysis of markets when buying spot radio.

All maps contain the county names, and show locations of the cities listed in the Estimates of Consumer Markets section. City population estimates are indicated and distinct symbols show the location of local newspapers, radio and/or television stations.

These maps are designed for use as a starting point in your search for the most effective media for your purpose. They allow you to familiarize yourself with the area. The next step, of course, is to consult the consumer market data in this publication to get complete figures.

Teamed with Estimates of Consumer Markets, these maps form an unbeatable combination for closer market study. It's your responsibility to be absolutely sure that the radio stations you select are going to do the best job possible, so you can't afford to overlook the importance of this additional SRDS feature.

These features are only two of the added services offered to you every month by SRDS. We hope you will benefit from them.

METHODS AND SOURCES: Employing a rotation system SRDS station questionnaires are being mailed with greater frequency to insure data reported is current and accurate.

A Station whose entire schedule is devoted to Black Programming is identified by the word, All, under hours per week.

Definition as to what constitutes Black Programming is left to the discretion of the stations.

Each station is advised that failure to return a completed form will mean deletion of the station from this tabulation as information from previous reports is not carried forward.

Stations not maintaining full monthly listings are unreported since it is not possible to maintain current information.

Stations identified with a (D) maintain duplicate listings in these markets. See SRDS listing criteria page for explanation of duplicate listings.

They add up to better sales, programming and advertising decisions. Because at Arbitron Ratings, we're constantly developing the most advanced methods of putting the ratings to work for your station and your advertisers.

Catch the trends before they catch you by surprise.

ArbitrendsSM delivers a radio market report from our computer to yours. All you do is pick up the phone, turn on your IBM[®] XT and you're ready to keep an eye on audience trends. These computer delivered reports give you an advance picture of your market, allowing you to make timely adjustments in advertising sales or programming. The user selectable report formats let you pick the demographics, dayparts and estimates you need to study. The computer does the work of turning the numbers into useful information.

There's more to an audience than age and sex.

Target AIDSM uses ClusterPlusSM, a powerful marketing segmentation tool, to profile a market or audience by lifestyle characteristics. It can bring a whole new perspective to broadcast advertising. Now you can determine more than just the specific demographics of a broadcast audience; you can see what kind of consumers those numbers represent. You can differentiate stations, programming and formats from others with seemingly identical audience ratings. Target AID is the tool that allows you to pinpoint those audience differences and use them to your advantage.

One number that puts you in touch with your market.

At Arbitron Ratings, we give you more than just numbers. So call us today and see how we can help you identify your advertising targets and reach them more efficiently. Arbitron Ratings—we define broadcast audiences like never before. Contact your Arbitron Ratings Representative.

Explanation of Summary Rankings

I. Areas of Dominant Influence (ADI) II. Designated Market Areas (DMA)

Arbitron and A. C. Nielsen Company, using their respective and current television audience reports (Arbitron and NSI) established Areas of Dominant Influence (ADI) and Designated Market Areas (DMA) which they have assured SRDS will be redefined on a continuing basis. The latest ADI and DMA definitions were made available to SRDS and married to the National Decision Systems estimates of Gross Household Income, Total Retail Sales and other market data lines.

Areas of Dominant Influence and Designated Market Areas are defined in addition to the traditional MSA's, data for which are presented monthly. ADI's and DMA's are ranked in descending order based on total households. Data are also presented and ranked for television households, gross household income, total retail sales, food store sales, drug store sales, general merchandise store sales, automotive store sales, service station sales, and passenger cars.

Adjustments in size and rank order resulting from ADI and DMA definition changes influenced by facility, programming, network affiliation, color, set sales, etc. will be incorporated routinely upon advice from Arbitron and A. C. Nielsen Company. The user is asked to acquaint himself with "Explanations of Consumer Market Data" and "Metropolitan Statistical Area Definitions" appearing in this issue (see contents page for location) for a complete explanation on definitions, estimating procedures, and sources as they apply to Consumer Market estimates.

DEFINITIONS

Areas of Dominant Influence (ADI)

The Area of Dominant Influence (ADI) is a geographic market design which defines each television market exclusive of another based on measureable viewing patterns. The ADI is an area that consists of all counties in which the home market stations receive a preponderance of viewing. Each county in the United States (excluding Hawaii and portions of Alaska) is allocated exclusively to one ADI. There is no overlap. The estimated television households are therefore additive, and the total of all ADI's represents the total number of television households in the United States as surveyed by Arbitron. Where a county is divided by Arbitron into more than one sampling unit, each unit is analyzed as if it were a county for ADI purposes, and is assigned to an ADI on the basis of the rules described below.

All counties in the forty-eight contiguous states within the United States are assigned to ADI's annually. Markets in non-contiguous states, territories, and possessions (e.g., Anchorage, Fairbanks, Honolulu, San Juan, etc.) may be ADI's if there are station subscribers in those markets. Assignments of counties to these ADI's are effective for the entire 1984-1985 Survey Year.

The ground rules for ADI allocations are relatively simple. Once the estimated total viewing hours for a county, and the percentage of such estimated total viewing hours for each station are determined, Arbitron sums the station percentages by market of origin. The market of origin having the largest total percentage is deemed to be the "dominant influence" in the county under consideration, and that county is allocated for ADI purposes to that market of origin. Counties in which the current ADI market receives a lower percentage than a competing market are considered eligible for reassignment.

In those cases where a competing market obtains the highest share but does not obtain a 1.5 share point advantage over the current market or any other market, an additional analysis is performed. The viewing hours in both Early and Late Fringe day-parts are summed for each market and then divided by the total county viewing hours (for all markets in the Early and Late Fringe day-parts) to determine a new share of Early and Late Fringe viewing hours. The market obtaining the highest share in this additional analysis is then deemed to be the dominant influence.

To reassign a county from one ADI market to another, a minimum of 20 in-tab households is required. In those cases where this minimum is not met with the three survey periods being considered, a multiple year estimate based on a minimum of 20 in-tab households is developed. This estimate is an average of the percentage of total viewing hours for the current year and prior one or two years (as needed to meet the 20 in-tab requirement).

There are exceptions to the general rule:

1. If a county's home station averages at least a 20 share, a Home County is not assigned to the ADI of another market unless the average of the percentages of viewing hours of the stations in the other market is at least 5% greater than the sum of the percentages of viewing hours of the stations in Home County under consideration.
A county's home station(s) no longer need(s) to achieve an aggregate 20% share of viewing before the county will be considered for ADI status.
2. In considering the creation of a new ADI market, the criteria for the assignment of counties to an ADI would prevail; in addition, a market must win its Home County, and that Home County must have at least 10,000 television households. In the case of a new ADI which could be created through the application of the 5% rule, the Home Station may waive the application of that rule.
3. Arbitron reserves the right to exercise its judgement in the case of counties with unusual physical features or peculiar marketing considerations.

Designated Market Areas (DMA)

Designated Market Area (DMA) County Assignments are made as follows:

Each spring, using the most recent November, February, May and July measurement intervals, NSI markets are reviewed to determine (a) existing markets that continue to qualify for a DMA, (b) new DMA's, and (c) counties that qualify for reassignment to a different DMA. The requirements and related considerations are:

1. For an NSI market to qualify for a DMA, all counties combined in the Metro/Central Area(s) must meet either of the following conditions:
 - a. the commercial stations assigned to the NSI market must achieve the largest share of the 9 AM to 12 Midnight average quarter-hour household audience in the Metro/Central Area, or —
 - b. one commercial station in the Metro/Central Area must achieve a larger share of the 9 AM to 12 Midnight average quarter-hour household audience than any commercial station outside the market.

In the absence of a Metro/Central Area, the home county(s) of the commercial station(s) in the NSI market will be treated as a Metro/Central Area.

All counties in Metro/Central Area(s) in qualifying NSI markets shall be treated under this paragraph 1, exclusively in combination and not on an individual basis will be assigned to the NSI market's DMA.

If an NSI market with a DMA no longer meets either of the above requirements, it will retain its DMA status if the share difference is not statistically significant.*

2. All other counties (including Metro/Central counties not qualifying under 1 above) will
 - a. remain in the current DMA if the commercial stations in that market achieve the highest average quarter-hour audience share, 9 AM to 12 Midnight, or —
 - b. be reassigned to the market that achieves the highest average quarter-hour audience share provided that the difference from the current market is statistically significant.*
3. Each county (or sub-county) is assigned to one and only one DMA.
4. In determining DMA county assignments:
 - a. viewing to stations in NSI markets that do not qualify for a DMA is excluded.
 - b. viewing to satellite stations is treated as having originated in the market of the parent.
5. Audience share estimates are generally based on the combined four most recent all-DMA market measurements intervals. Counties may be assigned to DMA's based on less than the four most recent all-DMA market measurements if recent major changes have occurred in transmission facilities (including satellites and translators) or Cable TV penetration, which may have a material bearing on audience shares. Counties may be tested for statistical significance using consecutive DMA reviews, in which case the audience share estimate will be based on all intervals analyzed.

Rank order of Designated Market Areas is based solely on the quantitative estimates provided and is not intended to represent the relative "importance" of individual DMA's which may be ascribed through the application of other marketing and media criteria.

*Greater than can be attributed to chance because only a sample of TV households is surveyed.

Where a county has been split into two or more sampling areas (SAs) for topographical or other reasons, these sampling areas may be assigned to different DMAs.

DEFINITIONS, ESTIMATING PROCEDURES AND SOURCES

Population

All population estimates are as of April 1, 1984 and include all population (civilian, institutional, and military) in the United States. This is the definition used in the 1980 Census of Population. Population figures are shown in thousands, with one decimal. In other words, where the population estimate is 60.1, the figure is actually 60,100.

The sources of data used to prepare the population estimates include the 1980 Census of Population plus various reports.

Households

According to the Bureau of the Census, a household is synonymous with an occupied dwelling unit. It consists of one or a number of persons living together under the same roof. However, occupied units with ten or more unrelated individuals are classified as group quarters and not as households.

The April 1, 1984 household estimates were obtained using procedures similar to the population procedures. These figures are expressed in thousands with two decimals. Where the household estimate is 10.33, for example, the figure is actually 10,330.

Gross Household Income

The total or aggregate Gross Household Income for each region, state, metropolitan statistical area, county, and city is income attributed to persons before deduction of personal tax and non-tax payments to the federal and state governments.

The sources of data used to prepare the Gross Household Income estimates include the 1970 Census of Population, the 1980 Census of Population and the current population survey.

Gross Household Income Per Household

This is an arithmetic average obtained by dividing Gross Household Income in the specified unit by the number of Households.

Household Income Distribution

The Household Income Distribution series is an expression of the distribution of households by percentages within each of four income classes. Each household's income is defined as the combined income of all members of the household.

Statistics of Household Income Distribution from the 1970 Census of Population, 1980 Census of Population and various other reports were used as the base for these estimates.

Retail Sales

The definition of the term "retail sales" is the same as that used by the U.S. Department of Commerce. Retail establishments are primarily engaged in selling merchandise for personal, household, or farm consumption.

The U.S. total is gaged against that of the Department of Commerce. The figures published by SRDS are estimates of what the population in a particular area spent in retail sales, regardless of where the dollars were actually spent.

Since military establishments are considered to be group quarters, they are not reflected in the Total Retail Sales figures.

The Department of Commerce monthly estimates of total retail sales, individual state sales-tax data, and population; and the 1977 Census of Retail Trade served as the basic data for computing the retail sales estimates.

Retail Sales Per Household

This is a derived figure; Total Retail Sales were divided by the estimated households for the specified unit. Thus, the figures reflect consumption per household, regardless of where the dollars were spent.

Store Types

The sales of seven major store types are reported for all regions, states, counties, cities and Metropolitan Statistical Areas. It is important to note that both SRDS and the Bureau of the Census report sales by store type, not by commodity type. For example, foodstore sales consist of all sales made in food stores. They include food sales and also the sales of non-food items. Other stores may sell food items, too, but these sales are reported in their store type — General Merchandise, Drug, etc. Estimates are provided for all places for the following store types:

Food Stores: This group includes those retail establishments which are primarily engaged in selling food for home preparation and consumption.

Drug Stores: These stores are classified on the basis of their usual trade designation rather than the merchandise lines carried.

General Merchandise Stores: This group includes department stores, variety stores, and general stores.

Apparel Stores: Included in this group are stores primarily engaged in selling clothing, shoes, hats, underwear, and related articles for personal wear and adornment.

Home Furnishing Stores: This is comparable to the "furniture, furnishing and appliance group" classification of the Census and includes stores selling goods used for furnishing the home.

Automotive Stores: Store types covered are motor vehicle dealers, tire, battery and accessory dealers, motorcycle dealers, aircraft dealers (for private use only), boat dealers, passenger automobile trailer dealers, and related automobile product dealers.

Service Stations: Establishments primarily selling gasoline and other automotive petroleum products.

The sum of the sales of the seven major store groups will not add to the total retail sales for any particular area, because other store classifications are not shown.

Passenger Cars

All passenger car estimates are as of April 1, 1984, and the base data comes from the 1980 Census of Population. 1984 passenger cars are estimated by taking into account changes in population and households from 1980 to 1984.

MARKET AREAS INCLUDED

Cities

All places reported (cities, villages, boroughs) are estimated as of April 1, 1984. Cities which cross county lines are listed in the county that has the larger share of the city's population, and other counties where population is substantial.

Cities which are shown as multiple or combined city markets are listed with the first city in the combination. When these cities are in more than one county the combination is listed in each of the applicable counties.

Counties

Included are all of the 3,139 counties, parishes, and/or their equivalents (independent cities, Census Divisions) as reported by the 1980 Census.

In order that users may compile state summaries by adding all counties within the state, data for independent cities (those which are not included in any county) have been added to their adjoining counties. Baltimore and St. Louis are independent cities and their data are added to their respective counties. The state of Virginia has 41 cities in this category.

Metropolitan Statistical Areas

Due to changes in the 1980 Census, the former "Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area" has been replaced by the terms "Metropolitan Statistical Area" and "Primary Metropolitan Statistical Area."

SRDS reports all Metropolitan Statistical Areas as determined by the Office of Management and Budget. Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSA) are listed in the State-County-City section. Each follows the corporate city data.

The definitions and titles of Metropolitan Statistical Areas are established by the Office of Management and Budget with the advice of the Federal Committee on Metropolitan Statistical Areas. This Committee is composed of representatives of the major statistical agencies of the Federal Government.

CRITERIA FOLLOWED IN ESTABLISHING METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREAS

(Revised December, 1979)

A Metropolitan Statistical Area always includes a city (cities) of specified population which constitutes the central city and the county (counties) in which it is located. A Metropolitan Statistical Area also includes contiguous counties when the economic and social relationships between the central and contiguous counties meet specified criteria of metropolitan character and integration. A Metropolitan Statistical Area may cross State lines. In New England, Metropolitan Statistical Areas are composed of cities and towns instead of counties.

Basic Criteria

1. Each Metropolitan Statistical Area must include at least:
 - (a) One city with 50,000 or more inhabitants, or
 - (b) An urbanized area of at least 50,000 inhabitants and a total metro area population of 100,000.
 2. Every Metropolitan Statistical Area has one or more central counties. These are the counties in which at least half of the population lives in the Census Bureau urbanized area. There are also a few counties classified as central even though less than half their population lives in the urbanized area, because they contain a central city.
 3. Outlying counties will be included in a Metropolitan Statistical Area if there are significant levels of commuting from the outlying county to the central county (ies) and if the county (ies) displays a specified degree of "Metropolitan Character." An outlying county is included if any one of the four following conditions is met:
- (continued on next page)

- (1) Counties with a commuting rate of 50% or more must have a population density of at least 25 persons per square mile.
- (2) Counties with a commuting rate from 40% to 50% must have a population density of at least 35 persons per square mile.
- (3) Counties with a commuting rate from 25% to 40% must have a population density of at least 50 persons per square mile, or at least 35% of their population classified as urban by the Bureau of the Census.
- (4) Counties with a commuting rate from 15% to 25% must have a population density of at least 50 persons per square mile, and meet two of the following requirements:
 - (a) Population density must be at least 60 persons per square mile.
 - (b) At least 35% of the population must be classified as urban.
 - (c) Population growth between 1970 and 1980 must be at least 20%.
 - (d) Either 10% or at least 5,000 persons must live within the urbanized area.

NOTE: The following presents in abbreviated form the remaining qualifying criteria. To obtain the fully outlined criteria, contact: Chief Statistician, Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D. C. 20503.

Area Titles

The title of a metro area always includes the state or states included in the area, the name of the largest city, and may include additional cities, so that there may be up to three city names in a title.

The addition of a city or cities depends on minimum and relative population sizes to the central city or cities.

Special Provisions: New England

In New England, the city and town are administratively more important than the county, and data are compiled locally for such minor civil divisions. Here, towns and cities are the units used in defining Metropolitan Statistical Areas. In New England, because smaller units are used, and more restricted areas result, a population density criterion of at least 100 persons per square mile is used as the measure of "Metropolitan Character".

New England Metros: Official and Whole County

In the regular ranking tables the New England Metropolitan Statistical Areas are ranked on county and on town definitions. In 1976 the Office of Management and Budget recognized the need for New England Metropolitan Areas built along county lines, and defined thirteen New England Metropolitan Areas on a county basis. Currently we have sixteen such areas. They were developed as a convenience to the user but they do not replace the New England MSA's which remain the standard set of areas. Therefore, the New England Metropolitan Areas are reported in the state sections both on the official Office of Management and Budget's definition and the new county concept.

Ranking Tables

The ranking tables enable buyers to measure, compare and/or combine the marketing data of Metropolitan Areas.

To show the relationship of each of these areas, ranking tables have been provided on the following:

1. Population
2. Households
3. Gross Household Income
4. Gross Household Income per Household
5. Total Retail Sales
6. Retail Sales per Household
7. Food Store Sales
8. Drug Store Sales
9. General Merchandise Store Sales
10. Apparel Store Sales
11. Home Furnishing Store Sales
12. Automotive Store Sales
13. Service Station Sales
14. Number of Passenger Cars

Territories

Estimates for population, households, retail sales (including the seven major store types) and passenger cars were based on statistics supplied by the Economic Development Administration, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico as well as various census publications.

STATE MEDIA MAPS

At the beginning of each state section, a state media map shows state, county, and metro area boundaries and daily media cities. The cities have symbols indicating their population estimates as well as indications for daily newspaper, operating commercial radio station and/or TV station.

These maps have been made especially for the SRDS books and are copyrighted by Standard Rate & Data Service, Inc., and Rand McNally & Co. Written permission to reproduce any of the maps must be secured from SRDS.

Most maps have been updated to reflect the latest information available on media locations, metro area identifications, and city population sizes.

U. S. MAPS

A map showing U. S. Census Regions, States, and Key Cities is provided at the beginning of the U. S. Summary section.

Standard Rate & Data Service provides...

time saved because SRDS does a large part of the "legwork" for you by making available complete media information in a single, useable service.

accuracy you can depend on when ever-present time limitations demand specific answers at once. Media listings in SRDS are checked each month, rechecked and checked again to insure the most accurate media information available to the advertising industry.

standardized information on all media in logical sequence. No need to hunt for what is needed in a listing. SRDS prepares all information in standard order— aids quick comparison of listings—ends searching through promotional material for factual buying information.

current information. Media have long recognized SRDS as the prime source used by buyers of media. Each month SRDS receives thousands of changes from all types of media—changes that are sent on to its users in the shortest possible time.

constant improvement because of the dynamic nature of the advertising industry, SRDS has been in a constant state of change for over half a century, constantly improving service—adding features needed by buyers—simplifying and clarifying the data of a complicated industry always "on the move."
