Cantor and Jessel on Coffee Program

Kreisler, Jeritza and Rachmaninoff Sign up with NBC

Three Famous Musical "Names" to Be Booked by Network

Three of the most distinguished figures of the operatic and concert fields, Jeritza, member of the Metropolitan Opera Company; Kreisler, eminent violinist; and Rachmaninoff, composer and concert pianist; have completed negotiations transferring their entire professional management to the National Broadcasting Company's Artists Service. Beginning next season NBC Artists Service will have complete management of their concert tours.

Kreisler and Rachmaninoff thus far have never been heard on the radio. Altho this new arrangement does not necessarily mean that the two will broadcast now, if they should decide to do so in the future, it will be thru the National Broadcasting System. Jeritza already is known to radio audiences.

Radio Show Opens Monday at Coliseum

The big show is on! And the big show of the year for those interested in radio and things electrical is the 10th annual Chicago Radio-Electrical show, which is being held all this week at the Coliseum. Many treats are promised for those attending, including the personal appearance of Jane Carpenter, winner of the radio personality contest held last week; an address by Carveth Wells, famous African explorer and author, a giant television projection by the youthful Chicago wizard, Ulysses A. Sanabria, and many other thrills.

The show will be held from Monday to Saturday inclusive. Doors will open at 2 p. m. and the exhibit will continue until 11 every night.

Gaining Popularity

Katherine and Ruth Glenn, sweet singers of soft harmonies, are slated for national popularity as an NBC "build-up." The Glenn Sisters were formerly featured on WLW, Cincinnati, and with Roxy's orchestra. The National Broadcasting Company expects to do big things with these charming misses.

OUT OF THE AISLES

Jack Roseleigh, who plays heavy parts in many Columbia dramatic programs, started his long theatrical career as an usher in a Nashville stock company house. One day, the director needed an extra, and usher Roseleigh was drafted. He has never returned to the aisles.

"HACK" TO "WARD"

"Hack" Wilson, NBC's man of a thousand voices, has become "Ward" Wilson on the air. He dropped the nickname "Hack" because so many kids confused him with the baseball player and wrote in for autographs, baseballs and advice on how to boost the batting average.

Cantor Leaves the Air after This Broadcast

Will Be Replaced by George Jessel on Chase and Sanborn Hour

When Eddie Cantor leaves the Chase and Sanborn Hour for a recess from broadcasting, his friend George Jessel will take his place and the program will continue the same happy mingling of humor and melody with Dave Rubinoff in charge of the musical features. This program is an NBC broadcast, heard at 7:00 p. m. each Sunday

Cantor is now on his way to the west coast to perform in a few movies, and is making the trip profitable by appearing in theatres along the way. Jessel is accompanying him on this trip, and both comedians will appear on the Chase and Sanborn program this Sunday from Chicago, where they are making a personal appearance at the Chicago theatre this week.

In vaudeville Cantor and Jessel have proved the most successful comedy team in theatrical history. They have literally shared laughs and honors, and broken house records. Their friendship is of more than 20 years standing, since they were youngsters in vaudeville. Back in 1909 Cantor and Jessel were on the same bill in a neighborhood house in New York—Eddie at $15 and George at $4.

Northwestern-Ohio State Basketball Game Will Be Broadcast Saturday

Joe Gries, continuing his series of broadcasts describing the Northwestern University home basketball games at Patten Gymnasium, will give his own fast and graphic account of the Northwestern-Ohio State contest to be held this Saturday at 8:00 p. m. The sports broadcast will come over WIBO.

FIRE PREVENTION IS SUBJECT OF DRAMATIZATION

Adventures of the forest ranger and his "cub" assistant, dramatically portraying the necessity for forest fire prevention, is one of the weekly features on the National Farm and Home Hour which will be heard from NBC at 11 30 p. m. this Thursday.

Prepared by the United States Forest Service, these dramatic episodes stress the best uses that can be made of the 160 millions of acres of national forests in the United States.

Harvey Hays, who is well known to radio listeners for his interpretations of outdoor roles, will play the part of the forest ranger. Wise in the ways of forestry and forest protection, the character will often find himself in amusing situations with his "cub" assistant whose eagerness sometimes overwhelms his better judgment and knowledge.

"Songs of Home" New Commercial on WLS

"Songs of Home Sweet Home" titles the new Sunday afternoon program, heard at 3:00 p. m. over WLS, sponsored by Alka-Seltzer. Songs of yesterday, interwoven with homely poetry and philosophy, are heard with an unusual line-up of brilliant entertainment. William Vickland is heard as the narrator, and the Three Contraltos; the Maple City Four and string ensemble with vibra-harp make up the musical portion.

Whiteman Explains Project

Above, Paul Whiteman, Dean of Modern Music, explains his plan to discover new radio talent among the youth of America to three youthful NBC hostesses from the Chicago Studios.

Jarrett Slated for Columbia Buildup

Art Jarrett, the song stylist, has been signed as an exclusive artist with the Columbia Broadcasting System. He is heard on five weekly evening broadcasts, each Monday and Wednesday at 5:45, on Tuesday at 5:00, Friday at 2:30 and every Saturday at 8:45.

Jarrett will be accompanied in these broadcasts by Freddie Rich's orchestra. Rich has directed the musical activities of Morton Downey, Kate Smith, the Boswell Sisters and Bing Crosby when these artists first appeared over the Columbia chain. He predicts a great future for Jarrett as a lyric tenor. Local outlet WBBM.

EX-RED

Basil Fomeen, accordion player for NBC, was once in the red army of Russia.

SINGING LADY IN NEW NBC SERIES

Another WGN feature has gone NBC! With the NBC debut of The Singing Lady, late of WGN, another local Chicago feature has been placed within reach of a coast-to-coast audience.

Eight months ago the Singing Lady, sponsored by the Kellogg Company, started her broadcasts over WGN with no other assistance than a piano, which she plays herself. The reception accorded her by juveniles, parents and child authorities determined the sponsors to strike out for more extensive audiences. She is now heard twice daily except Saturday and Sunday over the NBC network. On WMAQ at 5:15 p. m. and at 6:00 p. m. on WGN.

BEEFSTEAK PREFERRED

John S. Young, NBC anonuncer, prefers beefsteak to all other foods.

WHITEMAN SEEKS RADIO TALENT IN PONTIAC SERIES

For twenty-five weeks, at the invitation of the manufacturers of the Pontiac automobile Mr. Whiteman will conduct personally a "talent expedition" throught the United States.

"New talent is the life blood of any enterprise," the band leader said in explaining the procedure to be followed for the new talent search.

"In each city that I play on my, present vaudeville tour, a talent audition will be held after an announcement by the mayor of the city," he said. "Applications for the auditions will be limited to those who have never done any broadcasting. After the preliminary auditions are held I shall listen to the finalists and select the voice that, in my estimation, is the best for broadcasting.

"The individual will then be given an opportunity to sing over a nationwide NBC network the following week, and his or her expenses will be paid for a trip to the next city where I am appearing with my orchestra. For example, the winner of the audition in St. Louis will be heard next Friday, night from Cincinnati, thru the courtesy of my sponsors," Mr. Whiteman said.

As musical supervisor of the Chicago division of NBC, Whiteman has many radio "finds" to his credit, including Mildred Bailey and Jack Fulton, Jr. In addition to the weekly, "Youth of America" audition, as the program will be known, Whiteman and his band will be heard each week in a program of modern music.

MRS. BIGSBY'S BOARDING HOUSE HEARD ON WLS

"Mrs. Bigby's Boarding House," a comedy skit on WLS will feature the boarding house ladies who will dish out the same brand of humor as was heard last year, when the skit was a regular feature. The girls will serve their laugh tid bits on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week at 1:45 p. m. The many humorous characters found in boarding houses is the theme of the strip.

STUDIO MIKE

Realism, and How!

"Whitey" Berquist, NBC's platinum pianist, says he started playing piano in rompers and joined his first band not long afterwards. He has played with such famous orchestras as Isham Jones', Arnold Johnson's, and Benny Meroff's, as well as touring with Irene Castle as her accompanist. Now he is heard on the Farm and Home Hour daily as "Homesteader Whitey" and plays those hot piano shots on "Simonize," and plays piano solos from the National Broadcasting Company's studios in Chicago.

MEET the ARTIST

The Three Doctors

The other radio entertainers, not to mention the listeners, wonder how they do it, how the Three Doctors continue ad libbing their programs with the same nonchalance as tho they were amusing some friends at a house party. The Doctors in turn wonder how the other entertainers go through the monotony of rehearsing programs. Personally, they think rehearsing a broadcast makes it sound stiff and formal, and formality is the last thing they want in one of their periods.

Russell Pratt, Ransom Sherman, and Joe Rudolph are the names, if you insist on a formal introduction. But the Three Doctors wouldn't. Pratt and Sherman grew up together in Appleton, Wisconsin, and continued to be closely associated when they went into business in Chicago. Pratt is tied up with the Credit Men's Association. Sherman is an insurance agent. They maintain an active interest in their businesses despite their success as chain broadcasters, and, of course have more time for their affairs than most radio artists would, because they never prepare more than a line or two of their programs in advance, and they never rehearse.

His business interests unceremoniously dumped Pratt into radio work. The concern which paid him his salary decided to publicize, so he organized a quartet and sang in it himself. Music had been his hobby since boyhood, but this didn't seem to help the quartet, which soon went off the air. Pratt didn't, for he took over the childrens' program on WMAQ. He is the father of five of his most enthusiastic listeners.

Sherman was by this time a seasoned broadcaster, though strictly incognito. In the days when KYW was the only station in Chicago, he used to take off three hours for lunch in order to drop in on their Afternoon Frolic program. Those were the days, too, when anybody who went into the studios and said he could sing was at once led to the microphone, without benefit of audition. Sherman says the latter circumstance probably explains why he got on the air. But the explanation of why he was announced with an unpronounceable Russian name was slightly different; his boss knew nothing of his radio activities during the three-hour lunch period. When he got tired of being Russian he changed his nationality. But he still sang and pattered ad lib with the feeling of a schoolboy playing hookey.

The Two Doctors decided they needed some music in their programs, and Sherman recalled that during his college days he had played the saxophone in Joe Rudolph's orchestra. Joe played the piano like nobody's business, and he was willing to join the "Docs," so the trio was complete. At first he was rated only as an interne, but finally he blossomed forth as a full fledged member of the medical trio.

The Three Doctors enjoyed their broadcasting. It was great fun. They could work off all the gags that had been stewing in their minds, and shoot at one another. The audience liked it because it seemed spontaneous, and it was. Pratt's chief amusement is trying to get Sherman so tied up he won't be able to make a comeback. So far he has not succeeded. Radio is still a game with them. Though they have been on the air nearly five years, the novelty has not worn off, and as long as they can make their programs in their own way they are perfectly happy. They Mel Stitzel is known officially as staff pianist of KYW, which means that several times a day his piano solos are broadcast from that studio. He uses his own arrangements of popular tunes and acts as accompanist and arranger for the Chicagoans Quartete. Mel, who has a reputation for being one of the best arrangers in town, also writes songs in his spare time.

Studio Gossip

Connie, Martha and Vet Boswell created something of a sensation when they appeared for the new Make-Up Box program clad in bright silk pajamas. It was soon discovered that the three harmonizing sls-ters were not trying to set a new vogue in broadcasters' attire, but that they were merely dressed for their vaudeville performance at the Paramount Theatre which followed shortly after the program.

THE WLS SNOOPER REPORTS

That Hal O'Halloran is one announcer who eats the breakfast cereal he ballyhoos over the "mike" every morning . . . Lonnie Glasson, who rode the rails from Arkansas to WLS to seek a place on the National Farm Barn Dance, is said to produce the best "Fox Chase" a la harmonica on the air, and he actually learned it while following the hounds after the elusive foxes in his home state . . . Bill Cline, announcer, was finally lured away from his philosophy book one night just before Christmas to play "train wreck" with Jack Holden, another miked man; the train set was originally purchased for Jack's little son, but "boys will be boys" and so the two announcers soon found themselves on the floor racing the little red engines for all they were worth . . . if Martha Crane, director of women's programs, is seen scissoring old dresses, it's not because she's disgusted with the styles, Adele Brandt, the deepest indigo of the Three Contraltos was featured in Publix stage shows before radio day.

Phil Dewey, baritone member of The Revelers quartet heard in many NBC broadcasts, once sold bibles for a living.

"Hello, Evening Star," which Barbara Maurel will use as the theme of the new Bath Club program, was especially written by Emil Scidel, Singin' Sam's pianist. Emil also wrote the chorus which closes the new program. A quartet sings it to the accompaniment of Frank Ventree's orchestra and the effect produced is similar to that at the end of a musical comedy when the entire cast assembles on the stage just before the final curtain drops.

Harry Salter, musical director of the Broadcast Rehearsals, a program devoted to what's behind the scenes in a radio station, asserts that the most difficult problem in putting on the broadcast is making trained musicians play carelessly. One of the things "Broadcast Rehearsals" attempts to bring out is the difference in various interpretations of popular music. A number first is played as if no particular thought were spent on it. Then follows a special arrangement.

Yeah, no kiddin', this is Mrs. Wenchell's bad boy, Walter.

George Martin, who as the "old reporter" relates his experiences each Sunday over an NBC network during the Musical Showmen program, has been in newspaper and magazine work twenty-five years. Before that, and also before he was twenty, he drove a mule team in a coal mine, ran a general store and post office in Colorado, was barker for a side show, sang in a medicine show quartet, and also worked as hotel night clerk, bus boy and waiter.

Alfred Corn, the "Sammy" of the Goldbergs sketches, was sixteen years old January 5. His program associates celebrated the occasion with a surprise party in the NBC studios.

Jack Smart, who has portrayed Japanese officers fighting on the frozen soil of Manchuria during the March of Time news reenactments, spent the holidays finding out what it really is like to live where the thermometer registers 10 below zero. He went on a camping trip in the Adirondacks.

H. V. Kaltenborn returned after his illness with none of his old vigor lacking. Kaltenborn's chief activities, while recuperating from the operation which confined him to bed, were reading and speaking. His doctors encouraged the latter practice not only because they were interested in his interpretation of affairs but also because the mental calisthenics attached to the informal talks helped their patient in his convalescence.

Arthur Allen is very famous as "Esley Stebbins" of the "Stebbins Boys," but his mother and Aunt Harmony think he would have done a lot better if he had stuck to his job in a certain Buffalo, New York, furniture store.

George Earle directed his orchestra recently in an interpretation of the old-time tune, "Gee, I Wish I Had a Girl." It has always been one of his favorites since it was through his first playing of it that he met the young woman who is now Mrs. Earle. The tune was at the height of its popularity when George first came to New York, and he was practicing it one day in his room. A girl across the way heard him and sent a note asking him to repeat it. A meeting followed and the wish expressed in the song came true.

Researcher Willy Nilly of the Ray Perkins Laboratories, recently engaged in the development of square moth-balls, is now working on an invention which he hopes will provide bananas with zipper attachments, says Perkins, NBC crooner-comedian.

George Hicks, NBC special events announcer, says he has been showered with more ticker tape than Lindbergh. In the last two years Hicks has participated in nearly every NBC broadcast of New York City's receptions to distinguished guests.

Irene Taylor Stars with Charlie Agnew

Irene Taylor has been signed as the featured vocal soloist with Charlie Agnew's orchestra now playing at the Edgewater Beach hotel and broadcasting over NBC. Miss Taylor is not only one of the few girls able to interpret "hot" and "sweet" tunes with equal effect, but is adjudged one of the Windy City's most beautiful stars.

Music in the Air

By CARLETON SMITH

Bruno Walter at the Helm
Bruno Walter, the distinguished Prussian conductor, lifted his baton over the new York Philharmonic-Symphony for the first time this past week, and on Sunday conducts his first radio performance in America. When he appeared last in New York during the season 1924-25 as guest conductor, Walter Damrosch was then directing the New York Symphony, which had not at that time merged with the Philharmonic to form the present organization. Mr. Walter, whose real name is Schlesinger, made his first appearance in this country in 1923 as guest conductor of the New York Symphony and since then has conducted for brief periods in San Francisco and Cleveland. It is understood that the Metropolitan has negotiated with him unsuccessfully from time to time to have him join its staff to conduct the German classics, particularly Mozart, Strauss, and Wagner. His activities abroad have included appearances as conductor of opera and symphony orchestra in practically every music centre in the world. Lately he has directed the German repertoire of the Covent Garden season in the Spring, and he is, of course, director of the famous Gewandhaus Orchestra in Leipzig.

CARLETON SMITH

Ranked As One of the World's Outstanding Interpreters

The 55-year old German conductor follows on the radio series the highly interesting and contrasting programs of the three conductors, Golschmann, Lange, and Gabrilowitsch, who substituted for Toscanini, and I dare say interested radio listeners by the variety and opportunity for contrasts that they offered. Mr. Walter will conduct seven broadcasts and is expected to give those who are vitally interested in the Symphonic program material and are as yet unaware of his intention, plenty of chance for speculation. At the end of the seven weeks; that is, on the first Sunday in March, it is hoped that the incomparable Maestro—that first genius of the baton—Arturo Toscanini, will be sufficiently recovered to complete the remaining eight broadcasts of the current Philharmonic season.

Return Engagement

The first great artist ever to sing over the radio in this country is promised for a return engagement before the end of the season. Could you guess the artist's name? Few there are who heard her, yet most of us were active at that time, for it was only ten years ago. It was December in 1920, at the beginning of radio broadcasting, when KDKA had been on the air only a month that Luisa Tetrazzini decided to try out the ether just once before she retired to the country estate she was acquiring in Italy. One cannot forget the queer sensation when her staccato tones came vaguely through a maze of static. She was then, we thought, at the end of her career, during which she had made the art of the coloratura glow in a manner such as it has never glowed since. Physical illusion was never in her line, for she weighed well over two hundred and fifty pounds. But she was a perfect embodiment of the ideals of the preceding generation which demanded perfect singing and little else in opera. And now it seems inconceivable that this girl who began her career on the streets of San Francisco, and who has been in retirement ten years, should still retain her voice. Preserving a coloratura is certainly a more difficult task than keeping, for instance, a contralto voice. She says that she has been rehearsing with her early records and that she can duplicate them today. Ten years are a long time in the life of a coloratura, especially at Tetrazzini's age. In New York she vocalizes each day and soon will start on her "farewell" concert tour. There are many who recall the joyous certainty with which she swooped into all the cascades and fireworks of the coloratura and who are anxiously awaiting her radio appearance.

Richard Crooks on G. E.

One of the finest of American-born tenors is Richard Crooks, whom the General Electric hour brings to American homes this Sunday. Trenton, New Jersey, was boasting of their boy soprano when Crooks was only nine, and persistent study has brought him a complete mastery and control over that voice. He has done much to popularize good contemporary songs, and they, in turn, have made him one of the most popular recitalists. Since Crooks is a finished oratorio tenor, musicians undoubtedly hope that the General Electric program builders will feel that some of the finer oratorio arias are known in the American home and thus can be included on his program.

Civic Concert

The Civic Concert program next Saturday night brings a brilliant and fiery pianist, Jose Echaniz. If his name is not familiar to you, you may place him as the accompanist for Tito Schipa. Though I am sure that no member of the feminine sex who has seen him will ever have difficulty in placing him. When he left Mr. Schipa two seasons ago to start on a concert career of his own, it was rumored that the tenor had said, "Two shows on one stage at the same time are too many."

Speaking of Schipa, his radio admirers will have their chance to hear him next month.

Godfather Bonelli

Richard Bonelli, who has a broadcast recital in February, told me the other night that after his last broadcast, a woman in northern Canada wrote him saying that she had had difficulty in deciding upon a name for her three day old baby boy. After hearing Bonelli sing "Tommy Lad," the baby became "Tommy Lad," and "Tommy Lad" he remains. And the radio is still naming babies.

Civic Opera

Conchita Supervia occupied loge seven at the Chicago Civic Opera the other evening and created a sensation befitting one of her natural beauty. The Spanish mezzo, after dashing back and forth between Chicago and Washington, will make her debut with the Civic Opera this next week, and radio listeners will hear her in her only role of this season, "Carmen." Mme. Supervia is billed as one of the most sensational and colorful Carmens extant. My only regret is that the radio audience will not be able to see her. However, the broadcast will probably last long enough to contain her singing of the Habanera. "Carmen," I think, is an excellent choice for broadcast. It is one of the few operas that wins universal approval. The man in the street whistles and loves its melodies, the opera star is enthusiastic over its possibilities for singing and acting, the dramatic critic commends its carefully delineated characterizations, the musician admires its well conceived and masterfully handled emotions and its excellently wrought orchestration.

It is certainly regrettable that more than a half hour of the opera cannot be given, so that John Charles Thomas could be heard as the Toreador and Rene Maison and Leola Turner as the unfortunate lovers. It was rumored that some change would be made in the broadcasts of the Chicago Company, but since there is only one more Saturday night left in the season, the half-hour period will be maintained. Next season the Chicago Opera expects to be heard for a longer period, possibly on Monday evenings, which would be an advantage to all concerned. It is not fair to the opera performance nor the listener to have the music fade out in the middle of an important phase.

"Met" Broadcasts

The broadcasts from the "Met" are being conducted with a great deal more consideration for the listener. Perhaps you noticed how the intermission was shortened between the acts of "La Boheme." Stage hands were

Tin-Pan ALBUM

by Dorothy Deere

Dusting off the Album, we turn its pages till we find a picture of Ted Fiorito, orchestra leader and prolific writer of melodies. It's not a very good picture—rather shadowy, and the edges are blurred—well, that's because it's so very difficult to get a clear imprint of Fiorito's life or personality. Here is Genius as you'd expect it to be—moody, silent and brooding. Tunes like "No, No, Nora," "Sometime," "Laugh Clown, Laugh" and "Poor Marionette" have made his name known to everyone—but few people ever really get to know him. As far as we can determine, Fiorito has always lived for his music. At school, he fore-swore the pigskin for the piano. Shortly after being awarded his sheepskin, he landed a job playing in a "dive," proving that if a man makes a better piano player, the world will beat a path to his door, or words to that effect, because Danny Russo discovered him there and brought him to Chicago. His first song, "Charlie My Boy" was written while acting as co-conductor, with Russo, of the famous Orioles. His current tunes are "Now that You've Gone" and a new one soon to be released, "Where the Lilies of the Valley Grow."

I cannot tell a lie, I did it with my little Remington . . . made that mistake in last week's column, I mean . . . Being just a trusting believe-what-I'm-tolder, I trusted the brute who told me that melody-writer Matt Malneck was also the senior member of Whiteman's organization. Never thinking to make him sign anything, I went right back and told you about it (but you'd forgive me if you knew what I've suffered). All I got for my pains was a great big luscious berry of the species vulgarly known as Razz . . . with no cream or sugar on it. Matt Malneck isn't any such thing . . . Mike Pingitore is the oldest member of the band . . . in fact, he's been in it forty minutes longer than Whiteman has . . . he was the first one to show up for the first rehearsal. To make a short story long, Mike is the banjo player . . . and you have it from no less an authority than Ferde Grofe, that he's one of the best in the country. He can drown out a whole orchestra if he wants to . . . and stop any show. In his spare time, he writes hot banjo solos.

"Fud" Livingston, who wrote a new tune for the old song-and-dance, "I'm Through with Love," also has a complex for composing sax solos that will replace any old-fashioned heating system . . . try one on your music room the next time the thermostat lays out. "Feelin' No Pain," "Imagination," "Krazy Kat" . . . ask for them by name at your nearest sax-solo store . . . they'll wrap one up in asbestos and send it right over the counter.

Credit Jack Perry, western representative of Phil Kornheiser, for lots of information this week . . . He tells me that the song-pluggers have promoted themselves to "song-delineators" . . . sorry about that, because I can't be grubbing a Webster every time I want to write song-plugger.

Jack is delineating a new number right now that seems to be causing a regular Tin-Panic, no less . . . "Kiss by Kiss." On a recent trip to N'Yawk, Whiteman listened to a thousand tunes and brought back just one lead-sheet with him . . . you've guessed it, that's the one! The melody-makers are writing up their orchestrations, can't wait for the printed ones . . . crooners and shouters are wishing laryngitis on each other, so they can introduce it first . . . and the Old Maestro says he KNOWS you'll like it.

Walter Hirsch, Ben Bernie and Phil Baker have something up their sleeve which in the opinion of those Who are Who, will introduce a new era in popular songs. The melody has been giving headaches to some of the country's most expert lyric writers for the past year, but Walter finally tamed it. "Strange Interlude" is the title . . . and as there's not much that hasn't been done

Remember When

By Ruth Randall

JERRY SULLIVAN

Jerry Sullivan remembers his first broadcast on KYW back in March, 1922. Jerry is a singer, announcer, and general manager of station WSBC. You'll know him by his trade mark, "Chi-CAW-go." He was working on the Board of Trade when curiosity overcame him and he went up to KYW, where he was allowed to sing. When WDAP came on the air, Jerry and the rest of the gang on KYW went up to the new station to do their stuff. The gang included little Joe Warner, Eddie and Fannie Cavanaugh, Grace Wilson, Everett Mitchell, Wendell Hall. When fan mail started coming in, Jerry decided to make radio work his vocation. Then came WTAS in Elgin, and on Monday nights, which was silent night, the gang travelled to Elgin to assist Charlie Erbstein. One cold silent night, in 1924, the elements raged and a big snow storm kept the stars from going out to Elgin. All but Jerry and Charlie Erbstein. And did they give up the ship? Not on your life. They resisted, sang, adlibbed, and wisecracked until after midnight. Jerry says he sang everything he ever knew and forgot.

When he was offered the chance of announcing and singing on the new Rainbow Garden and Calumet Baking Powder Company station, WQJ, Jerry grabbed it and made good use of his trademark, "Chi-Caw-go." Well, there was a lot of discussion about that, some saying that he was distorting the name of our fair city. However, a letter from a listener settled that problem for good. This man had taken his radio set and a guide out to an Indian reservation and tuned in on Jerry Sullivan. Every time the Indians heard "Chi-CAW-go" they let out a war whoop. The guide informed this man that the word in Indian language meant odor of wild onions. And since the Indians named our city because of the growth of wild onions, and that's the way they pronounce the name, Jerry must be right and about 3 million people wrong. All right, then, he'll show you the letter to prove it.

The fan mail at that time was something to get excited about. Letters came in from Fiji Islands, England, Honolulu, Paris, Alaska, Haiti, and anywhere else you can think of. No wonder the artists were willing to work for nothing. Remember the midnight frolics over KYW, and all the fun the stars seemed to have. Well, they did have fun. They got a midnight supper, and that's something to look forward to.

Ho-Hum, those were good old days.

Do you remember when—Radio was new?

We will publish all interesting letters pertaining to radios early days, in this column.

Come on in, folks, let's all have some laughs.

Send your letters to Ruth Randall, Radio Guide.

ORCHESTRAL DOINGS

Ben Bernie

Ben Bernie . . . CBS maestro . . . says that five generations of his family were blacksmiths, but the sixth (little Ben) became a joke-smith . . . was born and raised in his father's blacksmith shop, which was directly under the Brooklyn Bridge . . . attended the Columbia School of Mines and Engineering . . . but shortly after went into vaudeville . . . how? . . . it was this way . . . Bernie was happily engaged sawing out melodies on a bargain violin (price, $4.98) in a New York department store . . . used to explain to his customers that his playing couldn't annoy them half as much as it annoyed himself . . . and that he didn't like violins anyway . . . if they did tho, here was a bargain fiddle . . . his novel sales talk attracted a theatrical booking agent and a contract followed . . . Now at College Inn in Chicago, Bernie's observations on life, love, farm relief, and the price of cigars are as fresh and spontaneous as ever . . .

Louis Relleux, known in Chicago as "Lix" Riley, has created a sensation with his dance orchestra, at the Brown Palace Hotel in Denver, Colorado.

In the December 31 issue of the Denver Post, Relleux's picture was among many that were headed "Builders of Greater Denver."

He now broadcasts over Station KOA and wants to be remembered to all his Chicago friends.

Gus Arnheim and his famous Coconut Grove orchestra, who have been playing an engagement at the Club Forest in New Orleans, come to Chicago for an engagement at the Winter Garden Cafe starting January 22. The famous California maestro and his popular orchestra will be heard nightly over WBBM, Chicago. Irving Aaronson and his Commanders, who are finishing a long stay at the Winter Garden, follow Arnheim into the Club Forest at New Orleans.

Versatile Benny Meroff, who for five years acted as master of ceremonies in Chicago movie theatres, is scheduled to do an RKO tour with his famous orchestra. Benny and his band just closed a long engagement with Eddie Cantor and George Jessel at the Palace Theatre in New York. His orchestra has been heard many times over the CBS.

A new radio program featuring Clarence Wheeler, chief arranger and musical director for Public theatres in Chicago, and a 20-piece orchestra, goes on the air over the NBC Blue network as the "Maytag Orchestra" on Monday night. The new musical feature, produced by the Radio Department of Music Corporation of America, will include a vocal quartet and promises to be something new in popular entertainment.

Theme Songs

Romantic tunes, most of them old and a few new, comprise the majority of the theme songs of America's most popular radio dance orchestras.

Paul Whiteman has long been identified with "Rhapsody in Blue" as the theme song of his orchestra in their radio broadcasts. Whiteman's identity with "Rhapsody in Blue" dates back to the day when George Gershwin, the composer, completed the number and Whiteman's orchestra was chosen to introduce it at a concert program in New York.

While Rudy Vallee is best known over the air for his theme song, "My Time Is Your Time," he has also featured "Good-night Sweetheart" as a signature song during some of his broadcasts. Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians likewise have several radio theme songs. Guy's numbers, designed to fit the occasion, are: "It's the Darndest Thing," "Comin' Through the Rye" and "Auld Lange Syne." Of the three numbers, "It's the Darndest Thing" has been used by the Lombardo band the most and dates back to the days of their first radio triumphs over WBBM in Chicago.

"Violets," the theme song of his college fraternity, is used by Herbie Kay, the young collegiate orchestra leader who is heard over the NBC chain and broadcasts nightly from WGN, Chicago. Herbie, a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, played the number while in school and received permission from his fraternity to use it later when he became a professional musician.

Harry Sosnik, Chicago arranger and composer, wrote the theme song used by Ted Weems and his famous orchestra. Ted wanted something original to identify his band on the air, and Harry furnished him with "Out of the Night." Incidentally, the Hotel Lowry in St. Paul adopted "Out of the Night" as their theme song during the Hotel's commercial broadcasts. They are said to be the first hotel to adopt a theme melody for broadcasting purposes.

Two famous orchestra leaders show preference for "Hour of Parting." They are Leo Reisman and his Park Central orchestra, heard frequently from New York, and Earl Burnett and his Californians. Earl's orchestra used the number during their broadcasts over WBBM, WGN and WCCO during the past summer and is now using it during their broadcasts over the Don Lee chain from the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.

"My Paradise," a romantic theme melody written by Carleton Coon and Joe Sanders, identifies the famous Nighthawk orchestra in their broadcasts over the NBC chain from the Hotel New Yorker, New York City. The theme song has become very popular in Gotham, and Irving Berlin, music publisher, has obtained the publication rights on the Coon-Sanders theme song.

An original number, "The Waltz You Saved for Me," is heard every time Wayne King, the famous waltz maestro, comes on the air. It was written by Wayne and selected as the theme melody because it identifies the orchestra as radio's famous waltz band. Recently Wayne sought a new theme tune and asked his radio audiences for suggestions. The majority of fans, in response to his plea, suggested that he retain "The Waltz You Saved for Me."

Ben Bernie, "the ole maestro," musically tells the radio listeners that his band is on the air by playing either "Lonesome Old Town," "One of Us Was Wrong" or "Pleasant Dreams." The signature song, "Pleasant Dreams," is Ben's favorite and gives "the ole maestro" an opportunity to vocalize a farewell to his radio listeners before signing off.

Vincent Lopez uses "La Paloma" as a theme melody, while Cab Calloway, of Cotton Club fame, gives his interpretation of his own composition, "Minnie the Moocher." Henry Thies likes the tune, "Sometimes I'm Happy," from the show, "Hit the Deck," as a peppy theme song, and Darr Russo uses an unpublished German waltz. Don Pedro romances during his theme song, "Singin' to Hide the Tears."

MARCH OF THE HOURS

Satisfactory Chesterfieldian disport necessarily implies dignity, and a proper swoop to Lady Etiquette who is thus solicited to beam with indulgent accord. Otherwise, the name, the letters, the reputation would be all for naught. At least that seems to be the advertising attitude of those who plot great things for the nicotine members of the Great Family. Newspaper lineage has been utilized in conformance with these well-established standards. And now the ether has been enlisted for the benefit of Those Who Enjoy Better Things.

Those who are sponsoring this program have built a radio feature that has a great deal of merit. The vocal abilities of Alexander Gray (now publicized as Alex) need little comment. He is admittedly a voice of excellent repute, and his radio work maintains his high standing. Singing in a lusty, virile manner, Gray very probably personifies the type of performer that the Chesterfield lords believe will be in vogue. Thus we might say that classification would "pigeon hole" the show as an "anticipatory program." Nathaniel Shilkret, as always, is superb, and his music deserves ranking with the finest on the air. It's well spotted and certainly worth a dial twist.

"Music That Satisfies" presented by Chesterfield Cigarettes. Alexander Gray and Nathaniel Shilkret's Orchestra. CBS through WBBM every night except Sunday at 9:30.

The story of radio can never be told accurately without a prominent inclusion of the activities of the Two Sons of the Air. For six years these two purveyors of fine-spun philosophy and humor have been burnt-corking the vocal chords to the applause of millions of devoted American listeners. And now there are rumors. From many corners one hears faint rumblings, imagined omens of their declining popularity. Particularly is there such a suspicion in Chicago, the birth-place of Amos 'n' Andy. It is my belief that although there might be a diminution in interest among certain groups of Chicagoans, there most certainly is no such feeling through the countryside. These tooth-paste vendors are a religion to the country-folk, and wisely accepted. If anything, A & A have improved with the years. If you haven't listened lately, try them. You'll still get a laugh.

Amos 'n' Andy presented by the Pepsodent Company every night except Sunday at 10:00. NBC through WMAQ-WENR.

For Your Information . . .

Some of the script writers are being ether bi-lined. Great stuff . . . Understand that Tris Speaker won't be microphoning the baseball games for NBC next year . . . The announcer ought to have a bell of a time, now that the chimes are taking it for the count . . . Rather amused at that throat-clear advertisement bearing the picture and testimonial of one of our songstresses. Amusing, because since seeing the ad, I've heard her coughing on two different occasions while broadcasting . . . Some station is going to grab at that new program that's being offered. The idea is sensational . . . Who do you think plays the part of the Shadow . . . Bernie Cummins is coming back to the local ether . . . Those punch broadcasts that Johnny O'Hara is spotting in the raincoat discs are very clever. He's recounting famous sporting events that have taken place in the rain. Reed Myers is the gent behind those WGN Sunday night theatricals.

AROUND THE TOWN

Theatres

Grand Hotel—The exotic Leontovich, Sam Jaffee, and Siegfried Rumann, weave a vivid panel into the tapestry of Life . . . intense, sensational, this is one of the most talked-of dramas of this year, or any other. (Grand Opera House 7th week).

Marching By—Romance in merry, musical mood . . . Natalie Hall and Guy Robertson are romance personified . . . Ethel Norris and Solly Ward supply the merriment. (Great Northern; 7th week).

Rhapsody In Black—Rhythm in all shades of black and blue . . . Symphonic jazz and jazzed symphony, blended by Lew Leslie, of "Blackbird" fame. The golden-voiced and golden-skinned Ethel Waters leads the cast through three hours of excellent entertainment. (Garlick; 4th week).

The House Beautiful—Charming. Pollock scores again with this cleverly written and ingeniously staged saga of the Davis family . . . the Davises are even as you and I, just humans . . . their story carries a powerful kick. (Harris; 4th week).

The Wonderbar—Al Jolson's got education and "Mammy" has become "Ma Mere" but he's still Mrs. Jolson's big boy Al . . . and one of the most versatile of performers, in any language. (Apollo; 5th week).

Three's A Crowd—Clifton Webb, Fred Allen and Libby Holman . . . these three crowd tunes, tersipchore and tom-foolery into an evening of satisfaction for those seeking diversion that's snappy and sophisticated. (Erlanger; 5th week).

Sanson and Delilah—Jacob Ben-Ami, who has won distinction in art theatre circles, in a revival of his first English speaking venture . . . Should be interesting as Ben-Ami is noted for vivid portrayals. (Adelphi; 1st week).

Follies—The annual extravaganza, with Ziegfeld doing his bit to make the tired business man less tired . . . He places the glorified American femme on a pedestal and surrounds her with songs and scenery. This year's cast includes Gladys Glad and Harry Richman. (Illinois; 1st week).

As Husbands Go—John Golden presents Rachel Crother's glamorous comedy, as the second play of the Theater Guild series (Blackstone; 1st week).

Movies

Chicago Theatre—Eddie Cantor and George Jessel on the stage. What more can one ask for? These two famous comedians are here together after a record breaking run at the Palace Theatre in New York, and will be clowning, joking and singing as only they can. Frankie Masters and his Band assisting them on the stage. On the screen, you will find an actionful, romantic drama of modern life in New York City, with an all-star cast including Phillip, Marlam Hopkins and Irving Pichel.

Oriental Theatre—Walter O'Keefe held over for a third week with new songs and chatter. "Fine Feathers," the stage show starring the Novello Brothers, Edna Covey, Emilie and Romaine, and others, is another of B. & K.'s gigantic productions. On the screen is James Dunn and Sally Eilers in "Dance Team," a picture about the life, love and temptations of two dancers.

Roosevelt Theatre—"Forbidden" moved over to this playhouse after its run at the Chicago Theatre. Barbara Stanwyck, one of the finest emotional actresses on the screen, ably assisted by Adolphe Menjou and Ralph Bellamy.

McVickers Theatre—Marie Dressler, sensational star of comedy dramas, returns to the McVickers' screen in "Emma." In this picture Miss Dressler deplets and portrays the life of a household drudge whose presence means little or nothing to society.

United Artists Theatre—The Most unusual picture of the year, brings the most spectacular cast of featured players to appear in one production. Greta Garbo, Ramon Novarro, Lionel Barrymore, and Lewis Stone are all featured in "Mati Harl."

Palace Theatre—A triple headline bill of RKO vaudeville acts featuring Dorothy Stone, Fred's famous daughter; Pat Rooney with his son, Pat, 3rd., and Harry Rose, Broadway's Jester. The screen will feature six Hollywood headliners—Marilyn Miller, Ben Lyon, W. C. Fields, Leon Errol, Ford Sterling, and Chester Conklin, in "Her Majesty's Love," a comedy-romance.

State-Lake Theatre—Seth Parker and his Jonesport Neighbors are featured in "Way Back When." Here is your chance to see this famous radio act. Phillips Lord, Seth Parker to you radio listeners, is featuring his entire company in this film. Judging from the State-Lake crowds, this picture will be a box-office success.

Orpheum Theatre—"Frankenstein" and "Blond Crazy" with Joan Blondell and James Cagney.

Castle Theatre—Jack Holt, Richard Cromwell, and Joan Marsh in a great football story of a boy who couldn't take punishment, "Maker of Men." Also "The Sea Ghost" with Laura LaPlante and Alan Hale.

Woods Theatre—"The Powder Puff Revue," a new and appealing burlesque with new faces. I. B. Hamp, a very well known comedian, has been brought from Boston to assist Harry Clexx and Charles Hendricks. The screen presentation will be "Three Wise Girls" with Jean Harlow, Mae Clarke and Marie Provost.

Loop-End Theatre—Opens this week with a new type of burlesque. The first show will be "Beauty, Youth, and Folly," with a cast of 40 people. Aaron Jones, Jr. says, "mostly girls." On the screen will be Laurel and Hardy in "Beau Hunks."

Cinema Theatre—German talking picture "The Cycle of Life."

Tivoli Theatre—Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell together again in "Delleous." On the stage is "Parasols" with Capt. Willie Mauss, formerly with Von Richtofen's Flying Circus.

Avalon Theatre—Douglas Fairbanks in "Around the World in Eighty Minutes." Also Lew Ayres in "Heaven on Earth."

Captial Theatre—"Frankenstein" and "Nlee Women" with Sidney Fox.

Southtown Theatre—"Around the World in Eighty Minutes" with Douglas Fairbanks and Talullah Bankhead in "The Cheat."

Paradise Theatre—George Gershwin's famous musical revue "Girl Crazy" with Frances Upton, Vivian Janis and Bert Gordon. On the screen is "Ladies of the Big House" with Sylvia Sidney and Gene Raymond.

Marbro Theatre—"Around the World in Eighty Minutes" with Douglas Fraibanks and Talullah Bankhead in "The Cheat."

Uptown Theatre—Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, Hollywood's most fascinating pair, in "Delleous" is the screen feature. "Stage Door," a glimpse of the back of the theatre, with Webster and Marine, Constance Evans, and Zina Zolle as the stars can be seen on the stage.

Granada Theatre—Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in "The Guardsman," and Douglas Fairbanks in "Around the World in Eighty Minutes."

Bright Spots

College Inn, Hotel Sherman—Check and double check. Sho and double sho. Blanche and Elliott dance. Charlotte Arren imitates a long-nosed Egyptian. Abbotter Stampeters Stamp. Everything moves in Bernie tempo, which means . . . smooth. Braun does the seating.

Grand Terrace Cafe—When the night's still young, and you're pleasure parading, this is the place. Those Earl Hines' break-me-down tuncs are breatheatehing. And the all-colored revue with Billy Mitchell is worth more than passing interest.

Club Rubalyat—You might bump into anyone at this stay-up-and-out-late spot. They're presenting the new rage, Eddie South, aptly dubbed "The Dark Angel of the Violin." You'll be thrilled by his renditions of everything from "The Rhapsody in Blue" to "Tiger Rag."

Edgewater Beach Hotel—Where you'll find atmosphere-plus. Charlie Agnew is musically captivating. There's a bit of college in the air out here, but it's not nowdy-dow. N. U.'s Jane Vancs is a charming applause-getter.

Cafe Winter Garden—Irving Aaronson's Commanders will be missed, but Gus Arnheim will also be welcomed with open arms. No grapefruits . . . only the sugariest of orange-blossom greeting to the Host from the Coast.

Trionon and Aragon—Chicago's temples to terpsichore that are entirely different. A real thought for those who enjoy dancing. The floors are triple-smooth. And the orchestras need no introduction. Wayne King at Aragon. Ted Weems at Trionon.

Blackhawk Cafe—Merry musical moments with one of Chicago's up and coming orchestrateers, Herbie Kay. There's a pleasant note in the air, too, when Doris Robbins does some of her electrifying warble-belling.

Walnut Room-Bismarek Hotel—No need to build any "castles in the air." Art Kassel gives them to you at his Bismarck Hotel domain where joy must reign unconfined. Ask for his "St. Louis Blues." It's better than any world cruise.

Lantern Room, Drake Hotel—It's almost a matter of Carl Moore and Moore, if you get what I mean. You'll find people of the best sort sitting at the next table, and the floor . . . "it's the marble."

Terrace Garden, Morrison Hotel—Don Pedro, billed as the "prince of personality" beams pleasantly. Don't let the advertised sombrero scare you away. The spot is cheerful, and convenient-plus.

Balloon Room, Congress Hotel—Does a noble job of upholding the traditional gaiety and spirit. Paul Specht is the baton wielder. Can dress on Saturdays. You'll be in style.

Frolics Cafe—Chicago wouldn't be Chicago without the Frolics. You'll have a frolicking good time with Jack Waldron as chief laugh-provoker. Believe it or not, one of the featured stars is "Miss Jerusalem of 1932."

Vanity Fair—Speed with exhilaration and acceleration. The m. e. (they have a good one) is Jack Edwards. The orchestra is directed by Leo Wolf, and the floor show is an eyeful.

Blue Grotto—One of the newer of the night spots, but obviously, among the peppiest. Correy Lynn plays to good advantage. His orchestra has that California rhythm, and don't get me wrong.

Casa De Alex—Clark and Randolph has never been noted for its Spanish ellentele, but it is, nevertheless. Senora Milla Dominguez is headlined for a bit of operatics, if you're so inclined.

Opera

Monday (8:00 p. m.) "Carmen" (In French)—Opera in four acts by Georges Bizet. With Conchita Supervia (guest), Leola Turner, Rene Maison, John Charles Thomas and others. Ballet. Conductor, Emil Cooper.

Tuesday (8:00 p. m.) "Mignon" (In French)—Opera in three acts by Ambroise Thomas. With Margherita Salvi, Coe Glade, Charles Hackett, Vanni-Marcoux and others. Ballet. Conductor, Emil Cooper.

Wednesday (8:00 p. m.) "Madame Butterfly" (In Italian)—A Japanese tragedy, founded on the book by John Luther Long and the drama by David Belasco. Music by Puccini. With Rosetta Pampanini, Helen Ornstein, Charles Hackett, Vletor Damlani and others. Conductor, Roberto Moranzoni.

Thursday (8:00 p. m.) "Lohengrin" (In German)—Opera in three acts by Richard Wagner. With Lotte Lehmann, Maria Olszewska, Rene Maison, Hans Hermann Nissen, Eduard Habich and Alexander Kipnis. Conductor, Egnon Pollak.

Saturday (2:00 p. m.) "Carmen" (In French)—Opera in four acts by Georges Bizet. With Conchita Supervia (guest), Leola Turner, Rene Maison, John Charles Thomas and others. Ballet. Conductor, Emil Cooper.

Saturday (8:00 p. m.) "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci" (In Italian)—Opera in one act by Pietro Mascagni and drama in two acts by Ruggero Leoncavallo. With Claudia Muzio, Rosetta Pampanini, Louise Bernhardt, Maria Claessens, Antonio Cortis, Charles Marshall and others. Conductors, Isaac Van Grove and Frank St. Leger.

"TRAILER" FEATURE

"Music That Satisfies" introduced the "trailer" idea into broadcasting. Movie-goers are accustomed to watch bits of future films flashed on the screen to give the audience a taste of what is to come. Along the same line Nat Shilkret's orchestra played a few bars of the numbers to be featured on the following broadcast and Alex Gray sang the opening line of next night's vocal specialty.

WEEKLY RADIO SERVICE TALKS

Efficient radio repair service is of vital importance to all radio owners. Examine your tubes, is our first suggestion when your radio goes out of order, or reception becomes weak. Take them to your radio dealer and have him test them. This service is free. In many instances, the trouble you complain of is caused by defective tubes, and the replacement of the new one eliminates the difficulty. If, however, the same trouble exists after putting in the new tube, don't fuss with your radio . . . send for the nearest Radio Service man . . . among the advertisements on this page. Unless you are familiar with radio and radio engineering, you will find this is always the most economical step to take, it will save you time, trouble, and in a great many instances, money.

From the DX-ers

On His Local Switch

DX Editor:

Am writing you of stations I have already listened to. You can get the following stations: CNCD, Havana, Cuba, at about 900 kilocycles; KLCX, Wolf Point, Montana 1310 kilocycles; WLOE, Boston, Mass., 1500 kilocycles; WDAG, Amarillo, Texas, 1410 kilocycles; KLRA, Little Rock Ark., 1390 kilocycles; WAPI, Birmingham, Ala., 1440 kilocycle; WTM, Los Angeles, Calif., 780 kilocycles; KFI, Los Angeles, Calif., 640 kilocycles; WMMN, Fairmont, Va., 890 kilocycles; KOAC, Covallis, Ore., 550 kilocycles. And the Mexican stations XED at Ragnson on 965 kye. ER, Villa Auina on 665 kye, also KDA here in Chicago that I get on my 10 tube set, you are not supposed to get in, as it is an airport station, 1050 kyc.

All the stations I am proud to say I get on my local switch.

The DX stations above are not big compared to the rest I have, there are too many to mention. Later on I will hope to send in new special DX programs ahead of time.

Good luck to you and may this new idea be a great success, I am a great DXer.

John M. Gaydos

A Few DX Tips

After one year of DXing I have logged a total of 291 stations, of which I have 141 verified. I pulled in 11 from Canada, 6 from Mexico and 16 coast stations and the remainder of the 291 stations are from other sections of the U. S. I have verifications from CJRM, CHWE, CKMO, WAWZ, KGO, KPO, KFI, KTS, CJGC, XEQ, XER, XEW, CKOC, XED, WGCM, WIOC, WJAX, KFWI, KTAB and many others. The above are some of my good catches and here are a few DX tips for you DXers. KGEK, Yuma, Colo., is on every Friday at 11:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m. (M.S.T.) and IOBP of Wingham, Ontario, Canada, on with a special DX on Jan. 10 and 25. On Feb. 10 and 25, 1932, at 1:00 a. m. to 2:30 a. m. (C.S.T.).

Little Known Locals

DX Editor:

In last week's issue a Chicago subscriber suggests a DX page and I second the motion. It would be a good thing for DX fans and I'm sure a fine thing for the Guide, probably many new subscribers. Many folks think it foolish to fool around half the night trying to get certain stations. Maybe it is, but I certainly get a kick out of it. One gets a thrill when, they hear WKAQ for the first time but it's not always the distant stations that are hard to get, it takes a great deal of patience many times to pick up stations nearby. If the fans really want a page or column of this sort

I'm sure for it, and will do what I can to co-operate with you and the fans to make it a real feature of this splendid publication.

Here's a suggestion, good or bad, take it for what's its worth.

There are many stations one could add to his or her list if they knew when these stations are on the air. Now here's what I would suggest; ask all the fans to try and find out what time their home or near-by stations are on the air each day of the week and if they are putting on any DX programs in the near future and mail this information to you, then insert this information in the Guide. This will have a tendency to attract more attention to this feature and keep the DX fans interested. I doubt if very few Chicago fans have ever heard WFAM or WBBT here in S. Bend or WJAK in Elkhart. Well let's go.

MIKRITIC

Radio Guide will pay one dollar for any Mikritic accepted and printed in this column. Mikritics are remarks of any kind made on the air which will interest other people. They may be amusing, inspiring, funny, pathetic, or queer.

Here are the rules: The quotation should not exceed fifty words. It must be accompanied by the name of the person who made it, the exact time it was heard, and the station from which it was heard. The name and address of the sender must be attached. Any number of Mikritics may be sent by one person. In case two or more persons submit the same Mikritic, the first entry received will be printed. Address your letters to Mikritic, care of Radio Guide.

This week's winners:

Civic Opera Stars on the Air Saturday

Claudia Muzio and Antonio Corlis, the featured artists in the opera broadcast over the National Broadcasting Company network at 8:00 p. m. on Saturday. They will take the leading roles in the opera "Cavalleria Rusticana." Local outlet WLS.

Impressions of a Great Artist

Tall, with magnificent shoulders, and an air of gracious self-sufficiency, a singer saunters to the microphone. His tie is undone—his dinner coat thrown open—and his eyes are mischievous as he takes his place before the dreaded "mike." One might almost say he was unconcerned. Yet the singer is making his debut on one of the largest programs of the air. At least one million people are listening to his every note and intonation as he swings into his first song amid the nervous excitement of engineers, production men, and his visible auditors.

Thru it all the star remains poised and perfectly at ease. He smiles, rolls his eyes, and makes jokes between numbers. Gradually the personality of the singer begins to dominate his small audience, and forgetting that this is a debut performance, they listen, absorbed, to the gorgeous voice of the artist. It's almost over now . . . just one more number . . . and the announcer steps to the microphone . . .

"Ladies and gentlemen, you have just heard Lawrence Tibbett, Metropolitan star and late of the concert stage, in his debut appearance on "The Voice of the Firestone" program. Mr. Tibbett will visit your homes again next Monday night. This is the National Broadcasting Company."

KYW REPORTER

Bernard McCarville ("Barney" to his friends) is the young gentleman who delivers the afternoon Teaberry sports reports over KYW during the musical matinee bill. McCarville, who spent the last years with sports celebrities, is blue eyed, blonde, Irish, and his favorite color is green, so we are told.

Helen Lochrie

Helen Lochrie, who came to Chicago last spring as Eva in "Adam and Eva Mereman" on NBC, is now producer of The Radio Night Court, and the player of the feminine roles in the show. The Night Court is heard on WCFL daily except Saturday and Sunday at 8:15 p. m.

MEET THE ARTIST

have turned down contracts because they did not wish to take part in cut and dried programs, timed to a split second.

The dread moment that every artist has at sometime in his life came when the Three Doctors' program was to go over a network for the first time.

"Over a nationwide network of 68 stations," said the announcer, and three hearts sank a little. All those people ready to pick on them for the slightest slip! But there was no slip.

"When we rehearse a program and know in advance just what we are going to say, it loses its spontaneity and the fun goes out of it for us, say the Three Doctors.

TIN PAN ALBUM

with popular songs 'cept playing them backwards, I'm going to be listening for it.

—:-

Years 'n' years ago, the little town of Newark, New Jersey, boasted a high school orchestra with such bright young fellows as Charlie Agnew, Ted Florito, Nick Lucas and Bennie Krueger. That is, Newark may not have boasted so loudly then, but they do now. Charlie is still a right smart young feller, who's taking his big break (Edgewater Beach Hotel) rather sanely. He says he has just one superstition, "Never Brag" . . . he just waits to see what happens and while waiting, knocks on wood. He writes songs with a black-eyed young lady who turns up smiling when you call for "Audree Collins." "Slow But Sure" was theirs . . . and "Fools in Love," to be released soon. There ought to be a story behind those numbers, but darned if I can dig it out!

—:-

DONE IN WAN

"Yaaka Hula Hlekey Dula" and "Haunting Blues" . . . Red Nichols

A couple of old ones sleeping these many months past, wake up feeling mean and low-down . . . the piano gets in pa-lenty of dirty work while the brass and drums are fightin' it out. Recommended for this chilly weather because it's the warmest recording of the month. (Brunswick)

"Nothing's Sweeter Than You" and "I Thank You Mister Moon" . . . Biswell Sisters

Nothing could be much sweeter than the top side of this disk, unless it's sugar . . . the other side is a fair sample of that husky harmony that makes the Boswells the best of the feminine trios. Their accompanists, the Dorsey Brothers, do a swellish job of it. (Brunswick)

"Gettin' Sentimental" and "My Goodbye to You" . . . Paul Whiteman

A liting fox-trot and a lingering one . . . dansapation pure and simple, without the usual orgy of symphonic orchestration that the Dean of Modern Music is wont to indulge in. You'll like it because you'll like it, that's why! (Victor)

"I Wonder Who's under the Moon with You Tonight" and "Pagan Moon" . . .

.....Abe Lyman

Two lovely moonlight melodies . . . despite modern instrumentation, they both have that old-fashioned romantic appeal peculiar to waltz rhythms. Chicagoans will no doubt recognize the pleasing voice of Frankie Sylvano in the vocal choruses. (Brunswick)

"I Wonder Who's under the Moon with You Tonight" and "Save the Last Dance for Me" . . . The Cavaliers

It's going to be hard to choose between this platter and the one described above . . . The Cavaliers are famous as waltz artists and their unnamed vocalist puts lots of emotion into his vocalizing. You'll have to make it a toss-up between "Pagan Moon" and "Save the Last Dance for Me." (Columbia)

"Chinatown, My Chinatown" and "Stardust" . . . Louis Armstrong

Old Egg Foo Young wouldn't recognize his home town . . . seems like the boys are holding a kind of melodie marathon and there's some man that keeps talking to beat the band. "Stardust" gets a dose of black magic also, and goes a bit voo-doo. (Columbia)

"When the Blue of the Night Meets the Gold of the Day" and "You Were My Salvation" . . . The Kniekerbockers

They've taken the "Blng" out of this first one and left a smooth dance rhythm . . . Both sides are nice arrangements, with nothing outstanding to take your mind off dancing. (Columbia)

"Lazy River" and "Seven Pounds of Heaven" . . . Wayne King and Paul Whiteman

Step this way, ladies and gentlemen . . . three big names for the price of one—Wayne King and Paul Whiteman each take a side and call it even . . . altho Mildred Bailey adds extra weight to the Whiteman offering (and that's not meant to be funny, either). A sure-nuff bargain! (Victor)

ANN DE HAAN

We're certainly starting the new year with a bang as far as radio is concerned. Monday and Tuesday evenings saw the inauguration of at least eight (count 'em) new programs. Here they are:

The Contented Half Hour, WLS, 7 p. m. You've seen the picture of the nice contented cow who makes milk in cans. She's now on the air in the Carnation Contented program, altho we don't hear the cow. Why couldn't they have used her "Moo-moo" as a theme song? Here's something I never knew till now and I'll bet you didn't either. An ordinary Holstein cow produces seven quarts of milk a day; but one unusual cow produces 48 quarts a day. No wonder she's contented. Nice bossy.

For those who are interested in contests, the Carnation sponsors are having one to select the best slogan for their milk. Put on your thinking cap and you may win a Hudson automobile or a cash prize. This program includes the Fireside Singers quartet and a large orchestra.

Music That Satisfies (WBBM, 9:30 p. m.) Another cigarette takes the air, Chesterfield this time. Alexander Gray, stage and screen star, sings for us on this program.

The Bath Club (WGN, 7 p. m.) There's singin' in the bath club, and interviews with famous women. No, you don't have to take a bath to join the club. It's sponsored by Lint for your bath, hence the name.

Voice of Firestone (WMAQ, 7:30 p. m.) contains the golden-voiced Lawrence Tibbett of the opera and screen.

Broadcast Rehearsals (WGN 8:15 p. m.) A musical program with an unusual twist. The musicians are only rehearsing when they broadcast, and we hear their leader correcting them.

McKesson's Musical Magazine was published and distributed Tuesday night. (WENR, 7:45). The name is descriptive of the program.

Phillips Dental Magnesia program (Tuesday, WGN, 7:15) another musical program.

Just as we were beginning to recognize the theme songs of our favorite programs, along comes a string of new ones. Wonder how they choose their theme songs, anyway. But thereby hangs another column.

Caballeros

Salvadore Castenares and Alfonso Mendoza, known as "The Gay Caballeros" lend the color of Latin countries to WIBO's broadcasts. They are heard from the top o' the dial each Sunday at 12:30 and again at 8:00 on Thursday nights.

OUT OF THE EVERYWHERE

to Margot Dee

A column dedicated to RADIO GUIDE readers. You and your friends are invited to write in for information concerning radio, radio stars, and your own favorite broadcasts. If the information is forthcoming, we will get it for you. If you desire a personal answer, a self-addressed, stamped envelope will bring it to you.

Mrs. H. Longer of Danville, Ill. writes us to ask what has become of Ralph Waide Emerson formerly heard from WLS.

Mr. Emerson has temporarily left WLS for an extended personal tour in which he will play organ recitals throuout the mid-western states. He will return to WLS in the near future.

Betty, Ruth, and June write us from Chicago for a life sketch of Joe Sanders of the famous Coon-Sanders orchestra.

Sanders was born in Kansas on a ranch. His first professional job was as a blues singer in a Kansas City cafe, but he soon deserted that profession to study grand opera and became a member of the Kansas City Opera Company and Oratorio Society sometime later. He met Carleton Coon while on leave during the World War and the two decided to form an orchestra. Their first professional engagement was the Muehlebach Hotel, Kansas City. Now they are delighting New Yorkers with their unique brand of rhythm and popular arrangements.

"Where, Oh where are the Cuckoos?" asks Cora Englert of Chicago, "and what has become of Phil Cook?"

The Cuckoos can be heard each Saturday at 4:30 p. m. over WMAQ. Cora, and Phil Cook is broadcasting over NBC networks every day except Sunday at 8:15 a. m.

George Deverall writes asking for the "Three Doctors" schedule, and adds, "Those three guys are the best on the air today, if you think fast enough to 'get' them."

A nice send-off for Pratt, Sherman, and Rudolph, and they certainly deserve it. They can be heard, Mr. Deverall, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays, at 10:30 p. m. over WMAQ. Their "Musical Potpourri" is broadcast on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 2:00 p. m. over the same station.

"What has become of Tom and Jerry of WCHI," writes Benetta Struggess of Chicago.

WCHI informs us that the two former members of their staff, have broken up and are no longer broadcasting. Perhaps, in time, they may return to the ether.

From Chel Gailor of Sterling, Ill. comes a so-nice letter full of many compliments and a few questions. One of the questions concern Vinton Haworth; formerly personal announcer for the Three Doctors from WMAQ. Chel asks what has become of him. "Would also appreciate some information about 'Irene' of the 'Painted Dreams' skit from WGN," she continues.

Vin Haworth has severed connections with WMAQ to join the cast of "Myrt and Marge" sketches broadcast every night except Sunday at 9:45 p. m. over WBBM. He is also heard on the "Mystic Cathedral" program heard from the same station each Sunday at 8:45 p. m. "Irene" of the "Painted Dreams" sketches is taken by a young lady named Irene Wicker. She is about 22 years old, has brown hair and blue eyes and is as pretty as she is talented. Yes, she is also known as the "Singing Lady" and as "Giggles" in the Harold Teen broadcasts.

"And that's all there is—there isn't any more!"

RADIO ARTISTS IN BROADWAY SHOW

Radio is going Broadway! This Monday a distinguished group of "Radio Personalities" will face all the gruelling torments of an opening night when they grace the boards of Broadway's Hollywood Theater "for an indefinite run."

"Radio Personalities," written by Phil Cook and Tom Johnstone, and produced by Arthur Klein will include the following cast: H. Warden (Hack) Wilson, NBC impersonator; Lowell Thomas; Landt Trio and White; Bonnie Laddies; Colonel Stoopnagle and Budd; Funnyboners; Singin' Sam; Teddy Black's Orchestra; William Frawley, Dorothy Fitzgibbons; and Walter Fenner.

Featured songs will be "My Own Tuxedo;" "That Guy Cupid;" "Love is My Theme Song;" "It's the Same Old Moon;" and "A Hundred Years from Today." The production has been described as "a variety show with a thread of a plot to hang it together."

CIVIL WAR VET

Freeman (Amos 'n' Andy) Gosden's father was among a group of men who refused to surrender to the Federal government at the close of the Civil War.

hurried in order to give all the music and fit the two acts into the time allotted. And the public has shown its appreciation in letters. When television is perfected and available to the public, then opera will be long in truth to the public. Time will come when America will know and love operatic music and will create its own operas in its own language.

VOICE OF THE LISTENER

Certainly!

Kalamazoo, Mich.

Gentlemen:

You have kept one Guide reader and no doubt have gained many more by adding WMBI schedules to your daily lists.

This is fair play and honors the request of many who listen eagerly for the fine music and messages that emanate from this Christian Station.

Many thanks to you and best wishes for the future success of the Guide.

Could we expect some WMBI pictures?

O. H. Gerstenkorn

Still on WGN

Manlius, Illinois

Gentlemen:

I have just recently received my first number to my subscription for the Radio Guide and I can't refrain from writing you. I wish every radio fan could wake up and know how much he is cheating himself by not having the Radio Guide, which to me is like a key to a gold mine. I have made some wonderful discoveries in the way of talent that I have so longed for and the pleasure of these is more than words can tell. I wanted to have a few lines in the Margot Dee column and like the lovely Dixie girl with her colored lady I simply was busting to tell you of my joy.

We used to enjoy a number very much from the WGN program. It was known as Louie's hungry five. The last we heard from them was when they started for South America. We will be delighted to hear through your columns where Louie and the Weesel are.

That laugh the Weesel has is sure a winner and I want to know where we can find it if it is on the air.

It is very pleasing to see the pictures of the people we like so much to hear and I am tempted to make the trip to Chicago Friday for the big round-up of all the talent and to see them would be well worth the trip if they didn't do a thing but be introduced and just say a word.

Thanking you for your time and wonderful Guide

A. M. Thompson

Orchestra All-American

Urbana, Ill.

Dear Miss Dee:

If Grantland Rice and all the others can pick various mythical All-Americans, why can't we have our choice of an Orchestral-American? Our selection for a starter is:

L. E.—Vincent Lopez, L. T.—Duke Ellington, L. G.—Earl Burtnett, C.—Bernie Cummins, R. G.—Ted Weems, R. T. Guy Lombardo, R. E.—Gus Arnheim, Q. B.—Wayne King, L. H.—Ben Bernie, R. H.—Cab Calloway, and F. B.—Paul Whiteman (e.).

P. S.—After all, don't you think Paul Whiteman would make a good fullback?

A Couple Illinois

Jean Paul King

Clinton, Iowa

Gentlemen:

Have been reading the Radio Guide for the past month and cannot tell you how much I enjoy it. It is the one and only paper for radio.

I enjoy the photographs and the news on all of my favorites I have on the radio. May I add my suggestion for some photo's of favorites. Would like to see Harold Teen and his gang, the Goldbergs and the announcer from KMOX at St. Louis. He is on the Phillips 66 Program. I can't think of his name, but he has more pep. And also another announcer from KYW. He used to be with Wayne King's Lady Esther program on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. I can't think of their names to save my life but maybe you can get the low down on who I mean.

Will close and hope I see some of my favorites on the radio soon in the Radio Guide.

Barney Tolson

"Old Maestro"

Springfield, Ill.

Gentlemen:

For the first time I bought a Radio Guide and believe all the family likes it so well, we won't go one week without it. Boy, I'd sure like to see a picture of the "Old Maestro," Ben Bernie in the Radio Guide one of these days. Well, I sure wish the Radio Guide lot of Good Luck.

Gus Kopatz

Another Suggestion

Peoria, Illinois

Dear Voice:

My first copy was the week of Jan. 4-9, 1932—My last copy will be Jan. 1982, I hope.

I like your "Meet the Artist," your pictures, programs, "Orchestral Doings," "Tin Pan Album," "Mikritic," and "Studio Gossip."

Seeing that this is a radio paper, and orchestra music and song hits consist of most of the programs on the air. I have a suggestion. That you print the words of some new song hit each week. A New York paper used this idea and it was a favorite of many readers.

Wishing the "Radio Guide" continued success for the New Year.

Joe B. O'Donnell

All Are Gone

Kalamazoo, Mich.

Gentlemen:

We too, enjoy the radio news and pictures as well as the programs right at hand.

We liked the pictures of the announcers, but would like some more; as so many of them seem like old friends. And why not Bob Elson? He is one of the very best. Whether it's baseball or announcing a celebrity.

We don't blame the boys for liking Pierre Andre, either.

We should also like to know what has become of some WGN people. Larry Larson, Waller Pontius and Geo. Piddol—and Reginald Martin? Perhaps he is there but, I haven't heard him for some time.

Please give us more news and more pictures.

E. and G.

Where Are You, Larry?

Oak Lawn, Ill.

Dear Editor:

We think your Radio Guide is just the berries! We have never missed an issue of it. What has become of Larry Larson, organist? Isn't he on the air anymore? We surely miss him. Why not print a photo of him? We surely would enjoy seeing one, and also know when and where he is on the air.

Here's wishing you oodles of best wishes for your continued success.

Miss Dorothy Marilyn Barnes
Miss Louise G. Ford

"Hot" Music

Naperville, Ill.

Dear Sirs:

If I was a millionaire, I'd bet you ten cents that there's not a hotter orchestra in the United States or Africa (oh boy) as "Cab Calloway's." Then how about "Frankie 'Half Pint' Jaxon." Are they both negro leaders? Can those boys sing! I don't know; but the "Mills Bros." can. Anyway, here's my sympathy for the announcer who must sit with them. Still I would not mind it a bit, Mr. Announcer; will you let me take your place?

As for their pictures, let's see them in the "Radio Guide" soon. I'm all for those kind of orchestras and that sort of crooning (or bellowing). Pardon—that is set aside from "Ben Bernie," "Don Pedro" and "Husk O'Hare."

Miss Genevieve Weigand

P. S.—I make a move for more piano solos on orchestras during their dance hour. Who'll second the motion?

Orchestra Leaders

Galesburg, Illinois

Dear Editor:

We buy the Radio Guide every week now and enjoy it very much. Really don't know what we'd do with out it. It costs little, but you get a lot out of it. I would like to see the pictures of some of my favorite orchestras. They are: Ted Weems, Wayne King, Ben Bernie, Herbie Kay, and Don Pedro. Wishing the Radio Guide a Happy New Year and hoping to see the orchestras in a future issue.

Hortense Nelson

A Wrathful Reader

Harvey, Illinois

Dear Sir:

We just got another copy of your Radio Guide. We could not get along without one now. I see another complaint in this week's guide about the children's programs. I certainly do feel sorry for these poor boobies who have their dinner spoiled by them. Why not tune in on other stations that have dinner programs on. Why spoil the kid's fun. Some people are so selfish and would not have a child in the house and it burns them up to think of children in other homes enjoying the programs over WGN. Let the kids enjoy something in these hard times. I feel for those persons but I can not reach them. If I could g-r-r.

Mrs. Herman Graff

Children's Hour

Kalamazoo, Mich.

Dear Manager:

I am wondering if the protestors against children's programs, which occur between the hours of 5 and 7 p. m., have studied the matter more deeply than I have.

To me the situation looks thus: That out of 19 1-2 hours of programs, two hours are devoted to the interests of children at the only time suitable to the average child. That some of these features are among the best on the air, especially those conducted by Uncle Quin and Peter Donald, Jr. That our radio entertainment is financed by the advertisers and the station owners; a fact which is a challenge to one's tolerance. Every station I listen to invites the suggestions of the public. Why use the Radio Guide as a "go between." I believe the "Guide" can serve its subscribers if relieved of this type of discussion. I am for the Guide. I like it very much.

Mary C. Trafford

We Will, Soon

Chicago, Ill.

I forgot in that letter I wrote to you to ask you why you don't list the programs of WEDC in your guide. It is on the same wave length as WCRW and WSBC. The three stations use the frequency. You list the programs of WSBC and WCRW alright but you don't mention WEDC. Surely they must have some programs as well as the other two stations.

CAN YOU IMAGINE THE SPINE

having any direct connection with the voice? It has been proven that a misplaced small bone pressing against a nerve will cause any of a variety of ailments in the throat. By PAINLESS adjustments, given according to the reading of the sensitive NEUROCALOMETER results are obtained that are truly remarkable. There is nothing mysterious about most human ailments.

No Guesswork

Mrs. B. Maehcke of 3131 Mansfield Ave., wrote the following testimony: "I had been troubled with a severe hacking cough, lasting about 16 minutes, every morning for the past 5 years. After trying various treatments for relief, I finally called on Dr. Norton, chiropractor. After the sixth adjustment, my throat showed a decided improvement. If sick people would try chiropractic first, they would save money, time and discomfort."
