Clara Ontell,
2431 1/2 Pomeroy Ave., Los Angeles

Sirs: Here is a list of my own radio "uns." I wonder how many Radio Lifers agree with me?

- 1) Unnecessary is Portland Hoffa on the Fred Allen show;
- 2) Unbearable, the corn husked on the Saturday Morning Party;
- 3) Under-estimated the Al Pearce show. You can have your Jack Bennys and Bob Hopes, but this show, I think, beats them all;
- 4) Unfunny is Eddie Cantor;
- 5) Unequaled is Tom Breneman, the best emcee in radio;
- 6) Ungrateful those individuals who refuse to bear with BMI and give them a chance;
- 7) Unfit, those "soap-box operas;"
- 8) Unfair those three mental wizards who monopolize the Quiz Kids program week after week, giving no newcomer a chance;
- 9) Unpleasant those snooty movie stars. I prefer real radio stars to reel radio "stars;"
- and 10) Unbeatable the pleasure derived from Radio Life.

Laura Stafford,
121 S. Brighton St., Burbank, Calif.

Sirs: Now that everyone knows who made what popularity poll and why: I'd like to mention three Sunday shows which I think are outstanding.

- 1) Sweet Land of Liberty, KECA, 8:30 a. m., traditional American music with a story background;
- 2) I Disagree, 4:30 p. m., KNX. A grand and friendly debate on subjects close at hand;
- 3) Hollywood Smarty Party, KNX, 8:30 p. m., under the guidance of Art Baker. Questions are asked, "our own" youngsters answer. Worthy of mention is the impromptu speech on the program each week. They may never be among the "Big Ten," but they are something to talk about.

"Benedicta,"
118 N. Benita, Redondo Beach, Calif.

Sirs: "Soup-con for Wiley?" Poor Fletch! Seems more as if it's soup's off for him. Dear, dear Radio Life, you certainly passed on an audible smile in the issue Feb. 9, page 7.

By the way, don't you think it's a good idea to list the after-midnight programs. It's a shame to leave out some of the good classics, such as Rhapsody in Wax, or the Sunday KNX concert which do soothe the nerves after a long day. I should think that many insomniacs, or others too ill to sleep, would appreciate such gentle music, with both lights and radio turned low.

Ed. Note: To indubitably charming "Benedicta", Editorial benedicta for a beneficial suggestion, to be acted upon within a fortnight.

W. W. Zahrant,
Mart Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

Sirs: Tear sheets of Radio Life, containing your fine article "Gospel Curbs on Communism," Dec. 24, 1940, will be given a prominent place in the magazine exhibit which will be prepared for conventions of the Missouri Synod and Lutheran Laymen's League to be held in June at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

John Masterson,
"Breakfast at Sardis," Hollywood

Sirs: Here are a few items of interest in connection with the current morning series "Breakfast at Sardis," KFWB, 10:15 a. m., daily:

On our "wishing ring" portion of the show, one young girl wished for "a little baby boy." One-eye Connelly "crashed" breakfast one morning. (Actually did—He had heard the show on the air and just decided to wander in).

The Los Angeles Breakfast Club has received a great number of letters meant for our show.

We have had two guests 84 years of age.

Most of the winners of the wishing ring, in voicing their wishes, ask for world peace.

Maizie Sharp,
12032 Hoffman Ave., Los Angeles.

Sirs: I think it's obvious the way band leaders and musicians are taking the worst beating. Forced to play non ASCAP music taken from a limited catalog consisting mostly of new and unknown music, it is their sad lot to try and keep the music on a high artistic level.

Betty Stuart,
929 S. Potrero, El Monte, Calif.

Sirs: I liked your article on the deaf this week and it is your article, isn't it? It is exactly your style and I am wondering why you have to hide under the name of Clifton Hicks. Anyway it is a very good article and shows you are not a radio racketeer but a person who wants radio to help all the people.

Ed. Note: Complimented must be Clifton Hicks to be thus bracketed with

NEXT WEEK

WHAT with the entire staff down with varying degrees of flu, and at a crucial time for the Magazine—what with color and art changes and what not appearing this week, it is a marvel that with our quinine-dosed, vertigo-whirled bodies and minds, we did get to press.

Looking back (still quinine-y) we are far from satisfied with what we think is a hollow performance.

However, forgive us, because next week most of the change-over problems will be solved, and, anticipating this, we have arranged for several sparkling articles and stories.

"Point Sublime" is pretty much in the ear now, and so we have arranged for an interview with the star of that show, Cliff Arquette.

There will be a two-page color and picture feature to be called:

"Behind the Scenes with Signal Carnival." The Carnival is one of those air-shows that has become almost institutional. It is, we think, about time its story was told.

And you ladies who have been wondering about those people who call you to your doors, ring your phones, sometimes send you wires, and who are as ubiquitous as Fuller Brush men in asking questions about programs and products, are going to have the lowdown on them.

"The Hooper Survey" will probably be the title of an article dealing with the afore-paragraph-mentioned persons. A Miss Arnold will do the thing, just as a sort of intimate thing between you distaffs.

Coming up later will be a story of dramas behind the Mr. District Attorney series, something about Mirandy of the Garden Patch, and, as we get into our unfluted stride, we will go into some of those interesting programs people listen to without benefit of Big Names or Orchestra. What we are trying to say is: Given a little time and your patience we will, eventually, be really covering western radio for you . . . 5 Grains every four hours.

—THE STAFF.

Radio Life's editor by Reader-Li-tenter Betty Stuart. Clifton Hicks is a research librarian, himself partially deaf, interested, as is Radio Life, in being of service to all people, deaf and otherwise. Grateful is the Editor that his judgment in publishing Mr. Hicks is so candidly, ably supported by Miss Stuart.

Mrs. A. H. Savage,
3177 Poplar Dr., Lynwood, Calif.

Sirs: We have been enjoying Radio Life for months, and it's time I express my appreciation of this fine radio aid! It is a much needed weekly, and we love it. Every department of your weekly is interesting, and I see no reason to object to ads either. You are certainly entitled to their financial help, and we read them, and respond, too, where they interest us.

Did you thank your market manager for making available to you Radio Life at so small a cost? Why not? He'd appreciate it.

Program Changes This Week

Editor's Note: As rapidly as they are furnished by Log Editors of principal broadcasting networks and major western independents, complete program and time changes will be noted, week to week, in this section. Readers are informed, however, that even noted changes may not hold true, because of broadcasting problems, and nearly overwhelming pressure of world affairs, to which the Radio industry, in interests of public service, sacrifices time, money and, in some cases, programs, that ideals of public service shall be maintained. "NP" means New Program. "NT" means "New Time."

JANET JORDAN, song-stylist heard with Glen Hurlburt's Little Brass Band over KFI, and on Music in the Night and The Old and the New, is a Hollywood girl who rose to radio fame in San Francisco. Miss Jordan's "Confidential Contralto" voice has been heard on several coast-to-coast programs, and she has filled engagements in night clubs in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Arizona.

En route down town for the visit, he lost his way and couldn't find the crime detection laboratory.

SHERLOCK AND THE SHERIFF: In gruesome battle of wits last week were Los Angeles county's sheriff, Eugene Biscailuz, and Basil Rathbone, principal of NBC's "Sherlock Holmes" series.

Visiting the sheriff's ultra-modern crime detection laboratory to study scientific methods of crime fighting, Rathbone was confronted with a real case which the sheriff's office solved only the week before.

"A man was found dead in a locked closet with his hands tied behind his back," posed the sheriff. "There were no marks of violence on his body and the coroner said he was strangled to death, yet we proved it was a plain case of suicide. Now, how do you suppose Holmes would have worked that one out?"

"Oh, I don't think it would have stumped Holmes at all, old boy," Rathbone said after some thought. "I should say he would have found the man had locked himself in, concealed the key in the pocket of a coat, hanging from a hook, tied his own hands—it can be done you know—and . . . well . . ."

"Well, what, Mr. Sherlock Holmes, NBC version," egged Biscailuz, "how did we know he killed himself?"

Confessed Rathbone: "I'll admit you've got me stumped. How did you find out?"

"Dry ice," explained the sheriff. "It gives off deadly fumes as it evaporates. The man took a piece of dry ice into the closet with him, locked the door, tied his hands as you said, waited for the gas to take effect and died of self-strangulation."

"Extraordinary," said quick-witted Rathbone. "And now maybe you can solve this one for me and for Holmes. A man is found shot to death, obviously of a bullet wound. But there is no bullet to be found on the body and no trace of it having left the body."

"You mean there is no bullet in the body and no place where it left the body?" asked the sheriff. "Why, that's impossible."

"On the contrary," said Rathbone triumphantly. "It's possible and elementary. The murderer took the lead out of the shell, replaced it with a pellet of dry ice and fired it into the victim. The dry ice dissolved, leaving no trace of the fatal bullet."

"You win," said the sheriff, "let me congratulate you."

One incident marred Rathbone's victory

SEQUEL TO SEXES: Fortnight ago Fletcher Wiley, KNX, undertook a one-man survey of womanhood's pet objections to men. By last week results of the survey (Radio Life, Feb. 9-15) boomed to national proportions, threatened to embroil the sexes in a battle of century. Letters had started coming in, first from Los Angeles and vicinity, later in the week of broadcast, from adjacent states, were, last week, beginning to bear postmarks from the eastern seaboard.

Among objections tabulated by Wiley's office staff was this leader: Lack of consideration for women leads the rest by a margin that indicates this is man's prime fault.

To amazement of the radio philosopher, not one single squawk was received concerning money. A few writers commented sarcastically on a habit of husband who refer to "my car," "my bank account," "my this" and "my that" when marriage is supposed to be a 50-50 partnership.

Some "pet hates" revealed women

Pegging Radio Life

"FIVE CENTS!" guesses Carl Hoff, Mr. Elmer Blurt's orchestra leader on the Al Pearce program, CBS-Friday evenings, 7:30 o'clock, KNX, as he does the Chinese fluger game to out-guess Al Pearce (Mr. Blurt) in the new price of Radio Life. "Wrong," grins Al. "It's worth that, but it will cost but two. And a good magazine for everybody at even your price, I know, I know, I know . . ."

possess an amazing gift of observation, that when a man believes he has a woman fooled—he deludes himself.

Among things women can't stand: 1) men who continually harp on what great housekeepers and fine cooks their mothers were; 2) Men who are the life of the party when visiting—and a dead stick at home; 3) Married men who make "coy passes" while mixing drinks in the kitchen—when the wife is in the front room.

Women object seriously, strenuously and vehemently to the man who buries himself in newspapers at 7:30 p. m., has to be roused from his nap on the couch at 9:30 p. m.; men who must be called four or five times to dinner; men who continually admonish women drivers to be careful—who, after admonitions, out-Barney Barney Oldfield behind the wheel.

Said Wiley: "The man who flips ashes on the rug then covers up with the old bromide, 'It's good for the moths' is not only very unfunny—but he will never have a gold medal pinned on him by any girl.

By last week there was every indication that a large portion of the male population spends its time wandering around in a fog. So whole-hearted was response from feminine listeners, so copious their complaints, that Wiley jested: "A sure-fire cure-all would be to take the men out and throw them away."

NEWS SCOOPMASTER: "Why is it you are not in Europe covering the war?" This is a question most often fired at a bespectacled, greying, incipiently-wattered Wythe Williams, Tuesday and Thursday evening commentator from KHJ.

Star analyst of world affairs is Williams, whose "news-beats" are sourced in countless friends in the Europe he had covered as a reporter and in a book, "Dusk of Empire."

Last week mildly nettled by the recurring question, Williams pursed lips, said:

"When I came back from Europe five years ago, a major war was brewing. I knew that there would be stiffer censorship than ever before. I felt little of importance could get through, and there seemed no point in sending back stories handed out by propaganda bureaus."

Williams frankly admits he pays for his "scoops" through relatives of foreign informants. Information also comes from what he terms, "one-timers," people who just send him a friendly letter. Most informants do not realize they are supplying valuable information for his broadcasts. One line may mean nothing to the ordinary person. Checked by Williams, it is often interpreted into a sizeable "news beat."

Most important Williams scoop last year came to him by cable. It stated: "From Petain to Franco to Hitler." Williams got that one easily. France was suing for peace. Petain had asked Franco to ask Hitler how tough would be peace terms. Not on the air that night and considering the story too hot to hold, Williams turned it over to his friend Lowell Thomas for broadcast. Denials were rife on all the broadcasting stations, including Williams'. Three days later the cable was officially confirmed.

Another tip simply said, "Watch the spot Hitler is not talking about," received last February. Checking maps, Williams found one spot not mentioned in Hitler's tirades, Denmark. Early in April Denmark was first place occupied.

DENOUEMENT TO TRAGEDY: Since 1931 the program "Myrt and Marge" has for millions of listeners, mostly sympathetic distaffers, aired the crucial and minor problems rising out of the lives of mother and daughter.

Last week at the time scheduled for the daily (1:15 to 1:30 p. m., KNX) airing, American women turned the radio dial to "Myrt and Marge" as they had done for nearly a decade theretofore. For the first time the program was not heard. The reason: Death had come to Donna Damerel (Marge) in a New Jersey hospital. Dying Donna Damerel gave up life, an eight pound boy. At her death bed was her mother (Myrt) Mrs. Myrtle Vail, with whom Donna had shared air-adventures, carried on for nearly a decade a program emotionally shading the life of two women, mother and daughter, out of which had come much that was practical in application to mothers and daughters everywhere.

Program will continue with a new actress to be brought into the role of the late "Marge."

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER:

Epitomizing the spiritual symbolisms and character of America is the national ensign, only banner of the world's nations to have been articulated in song. The song: "The Star Spangled Banner;" the writer: Francis Scott Key; the time: a night during the Civil war; the occasion: shelling of Fort Sumter by the British. Writing in the shell-noisy dark, lighted by flamebursts on the fort's ramparts, Francis Scott Key, patriot, wrote America's anthem in stanzaic simplicity and beauty.

More recently one Israel Baline (Irving Berlin) has written "God Bless America," peddled to Americans at varying prices, attesting shrewd merchandising captivity of masses, psychologically scurrying through current storms of war-or-not-to-war controversies.

Fortnight ago "God Bless America" was stripped of its minor importance as a song for Americans to sing. Stripper: Young Senator Rush Holt who, from the rostrum of Los Angeles' Philharmonic auditorium, later from Radio station KMTR Radio News Reel recording of his talk, shouted:

"We need less of this song 'God Bless America' in America, and a great deal more of the Star Spangled Banner."

What only a couple of thousand Americans Philharmonic-packing heard, several hundreds of thousands of west coast Americans heard through facilities of Radio News Reel.

Fortifying what, according to Dr. Gallup's March of Time publicized poll has learned (that 40 per cent of Americans were not "safely" counted as pro-British) Senator Holt in Los Angeles slashed out at Britons for whom memories of Sum-

COMING OUT OF THE ETHER by Bernie Smith

WE attended a party at the house of some friends the other night, and got to talking about radio programs. Arguments were flying thick and fast and for a time we were getting the worst of it. There were six of us present, and there were six individual viewpoints on most programs. One thought Fred Allen was tops, a second held out for Benny, a third plugged Bob Hope, a fourth went for Fibber and Molly, a fifth stuck up for Bergen and McCarthy, and the sixth was convinced that Al Pearce was Number One.

While the arguments waxed furiously most of the night, nothing was decided definitely. We realized later that radio appeals to a wide variety of tastes and personalities and that is the reason there are four successful major networks, all carrying four different programs at the same time.

One program that seemed to strike a popular note with all present was Carlton E. Morse's "I Love a Mystery" drama, heard on Monday nights at 8:30 on KECA. All agreed the show was pure, unsalted corn, but that it answered a need for adventure drama. The cast was voted to be extremely well suited to the show and the production was applauded at great length.

Ode to ASCAP:

"I Get Along without You Very Well,"
You and your "Little White Lies,"
"It All Comes Back to You Now,"
And "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes!"
And we ain't kiddin'
And we ain't foilin'
"Smoke Gets in Your Eyes!"

ter's blasting must have weighed embarrassingly:

"Our job is to protect America here where it works, not where it doesn't."

PAN-AMERICA CALLING: Forefronting the minds of Europe's blood-letting kings and dictators is that group of South American nations, ranging from once revolution-torn Mexico, far south to Tierra del Fuego where through Magellan's Straits winds sweep in from the Antarctic. For, this cluster of nations bids fair to become decisive factor in whatever form a war weary world may elect to design its survival in war's smoking, economically distressed aftermath.

More zealous than rulers of Europe and their industrial and financial advisors are United States officials and agencies who see in the Latin-Americas two closely related significances: 1) That domination by European post-war governments, brought about by constant propaganda pressures, may seriously retard, temporarily stymie giant America's need for commercial growth and rapprochement with geographical blood-neighbors in the south; 2) That dictatorial ambitions may encompass control of southern independent nations, thus close a circle of domination

Personal to the lady who wrote us about "Pipe Smoking Time:" You were right. Even the sponsor seems in accord with your criticism of the two fellows who replaced Howard and Shelton. This week the sponsor replaces "Pipe Smoking Time" with the "Gay Nineties Revue!"

★ KNX, 8:30 p.m. Mon.

Smithereens: When a radio artist gets a cold, the excitement is akin to that surrounding the ordinary person's contracting double pneumonia. . . . What a job that Phil Spitalny must have, keeping 40 attractive girl musicians in perfect harmony. The guy's a genius, that's all there is to it! . . . Maestro Dave Rose, of the Tony Martin stanzas, has written a symphony that is expected to be heard in the Hollywood Bowl this summer. . . . Speaking of symphonies, what is the real story behind the Mickey Rooney symphony? . . . Phil Regan, long absent from the air, is talking deals with a sponsor. . . . Almost a year has passed since we began yelling that the Bergen and McCarthy show needed a permanent feminine fixture. So now Nan Wynn is being considered for the spot. It's about time. . . . Orch. leader Billy Mills enjoys a reputation unique in Hollywood. He hasn't an enemy in the world! . . . Wythe Williams, Mutual commentator, claims he gets inside stories from European friends. If he can get these inside stories with such seeming ease, what's happened to Dr. Goebbels' famous censorship system? And where are the secret police? And what's happened to the British news cutters? And why can't the big press associations get the same inside stuff?

in which America may be too tightly ringed for future comfort.

But, up to last week, few Americans in the west knew much about the life and customs of their southern neighbors. Their opportunity to learn, however, burst dramatically on their air-tuned ears during the week. "Pan America Calling," a series of broadcasts stressing history, customs, commerce, and culture of Pan-American countries, and their dependence upon each other economically and in the defense of the western hemisphere, was announced for airing each Tuesday over station KMPC from 10:15 to 10:30 a. m.

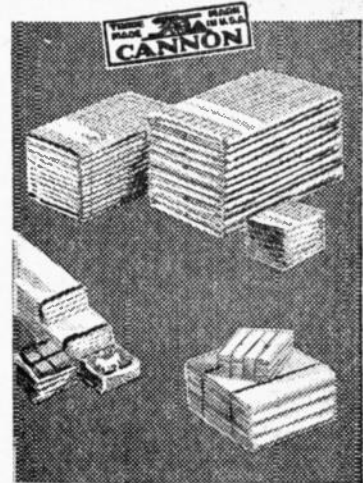

The schedule for weeks coming includes Mexico, Guatemala, British Honduras, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama, the Panama Canal and Canal Zone, Colombia, Ecuador, and other South American countries.

Sponsored by the California State Department of Education, the Los Angeles City schools and the Los Angeles office of the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, this series is designed for classroom reception. All junior and senior high schools in Los Angeles are using the program as part of regular courses on Latin America.

SALE of the hat which kept inclement elements from the head of President Roosevelt during three campaigns will provide shelter for film workers down on their luck. At the inauguration luncheon, Jean Hersholt jokingly asked the President for his campaign hat to be raffled March 17 for the benefit of the Motion Picture Relief Fund, the charity Hersholt heads in Hollywood. To the surprise of both Hersholt and Mrs. Roosevelt, F.D.R. agreed, and Hersholt returned with his prize just in time to rehearse for his CBS broadcast Feb. 12. What makes it news is Mrs. Roosevelt's remark that the President was very superstitious about the hat and she thought he'd never part with it. No fourth term? Well, I don't know.

The "Hit Parade" program is visiting training camps Saturdays, and Cecil B. DeMille is bringing 100 military men to each Monday "Radio Theater" broadcast from Hollywood, but Robert Lee Johnson is meeting emergency even more strenuously. It's a different emergency, to be sure. Yet since the complete revision of the Culbertson system of bridge play was announced, the expert card player broadcasts instructions TWICE daily on TWO Los Angeles stations.

Sparks: Rudy Vallee has quit making pictures—the dime-in-slot kind—to concentrate on radio. . . . Raymond Gram Swing and Wythe Williams have film deals. Swing will narrate a colored animated cartoon explaining recent war developments, and Williams is signed by Columbia Pictures to emcee a series of round-table discussions of war problems by current wisecracks. . . . Kay Kyser has arrived in Hollywood to make his next RKO film, but, until somebody decides what it will be about, Kay plans only to take the College of Musical Knowledge broadcast to San Diego so the Marines there can see the fun. . . . Ezra Stone will summer in Hollywood for the cameras again. . . . Bob Hawk, whether he is taken or left, plans to originate his quiz from the film capital several Sundays this spring. . . . Ona Munson will hop a plane the very Wednesday night of Edward G. Robinson's last CBS broadcast from New York to get back to Hollywood and her role in "The Lady from New Orleans," which is now marking time.

They Knew What They Wanted: Bing Crosby wanted a vacation, so they got three stars to take his place on one show with Bob Burns. . . . Betty Grable wants to compose, so when she broadcasts for "Screen Guild Theater" they're going to let her do her own song to introduce the Sunday program. . . . And Dave Lane dreamed in Charlotte, N. C., of four things he wanted to see in Hollywood. They were the Brown Derby, the oil well in the middle of La Cienega boulevard, Marlene Dietrich, and a bevy of cute car hops at a drive-in cafe. So when Al Pearce invited him there to sing on his Friday comedy show, Dave saw them. He saw three, that is. He's stalking Marlene.

"Waymond Wadcliffe"

Air's Shrinking Violet May Seem Ineffective But He's Paying Out

By DON SABRE

SEATED across from Arthur Q. Bryan over steaming beakers of coffee in Brittingham's Hollywood restaurant, we realized, somewhat sadly, that air impressions of a character cannot be counted upon to even approximate the reality.

For, certainly, here was reality facing us—some 241 pounds of it, a mid-girth that rocked with Falstaffian glee, or, rather, shook with jelly-like abandon above a series of chins, above which a pair of the bluest and most kindly eyes we had seen in a long time, filled with hilarity-prompted moisture.

We had pictured "Waymond W. Wadcliffe" as a meek little fellow with an occasional mouse-in-the-corner desperation that inspired him to take brave stands against the harsh realities and unthinking cruelties of this tough old world. We saw him timidly handing his transfers to hard-boiled street car conductors, hoping they wouldn't make note of the fact that the time punched was five minutes earlier than the time he had boarded the car. He would be too fearful to engage in an argument about it, even though the fact was that he has waited 15 minutes for the car to come. We had pictured him timidly suggesting to his boarding house keeper that the toast, blackened and crisp, was just a bit overdone, of stepping into the gutter when a big-shouldered bruiser swaggered by—pictured him, in short, as the Caspar Milquetoast of radio, given to amazing flights of braggadocio only when there would be none to say him nay too violently.

We had heard him once, quite excitedly, describe his exploits in a prize ring:

"I thwust a wight upper-cwut at him, folved it with a weft hook to the jaw, dwove him into a cwoneh and woked him dwon to his knees." Heard and felt sorry for him, a sterling athlete with a distressing speech impediment to detract from his sheen as a man of might.

Well, here he was, imbibing coffee lustily, a happy-faced gargantuan of a man on whom honor's halo gleamed; an easy mannered Arthur Q. Bryan who of his character had this to say:

"I see him as a mild little fellow who wouldn't hurt anybody, but who feels in him the surge to great and manly things, but who lacks that moral something or another to put into action his dreams of manly competence.

"He realizes his ambitions by pursuing delusions. He knows that prize-fighters, bull fighters, soldiers and men of affairs are fast moving and husky extroverts. By nature he can't be like them so he projects himself to imagined situations, draws on his imagination to dignify his color- and experience-starved life."

Arthur Q. Bryan doesn't think he looks like "Waymond Wadcliffe," a thought with which we agreed. Waymond came into being years ago on an eastern station as an incidental program character, and wasn't considered funny, was forgotten by all but Bryan who believed he had something.

For the past two weeks radio comedian Arthur Q. Bryan's favorite niece had been trying to guess what she would get as a birthday gift from Uncle Arthur. We wouldn't want to be guilty of tipping her off, but here's a picture we took of Uncle Arthur in one of Hollywood's toy departments. The 241-pound member of Al Pearce's gang, known to CBS radio audiences as Waymond W. Wadcliffe, seems thoroughly sold on this big white teddy, built on the same generous proportions as Bryan.

Yet, there was a time when Arthur Q. Bryan, at least physically, must have resembled his shrinking alter ego of the air. When he first went on the air in 1923, after being successfully auditioned for singing by Milton Cross, he weighed 135 pounds.

"Those were young and feverish days," Bryan explained. "I had just broken into radio on W.E.A.F. after a strenuous tenure as an insurance clerk. Excitement kept me thin."

"How do you account for your weight now?" we asked.

"Vittles," he said simply, "just plenty of vittles. I like to eat. It's one of my hobbies."

He has other hobbies, we learned. One is accumulating symphony recordings. He has more than 1000 of these.

He likes to ice skate but reluctantly confessed that he was not latterly indulging himself in this exercise.

"Not," he hastened to interpose, "because I'm barred—" he patted his mountain of a stomach—"but, because I really fall harder than most people." We could understand that.

His principal ambition is to make enough money to retire to a life of music and writing. He refused, with blushing modesty, to admit a romance, did say:

"There is a lady!"

He recalled his first broadcast. It was back in the strident Twenties on the occasion of the first around-the-world airing from the Park Central hotel in New York. Madame Schumann-Heink was the star of the program and he was so flustered by the famed Diva's presence that he forgot to sign the program off, leaving hundreds of thousands throughout the world wondering where all that sound had come from.

He was a lead tenor with the old Sieberling-Singers, knows and has worked with these dignitaries of radio: Graham McNamee, Milton Cross, Basil Rathbone, Norman Brokenshire and others who have marched down through the years with radio.

He is 5 feet, 7 inches tall, is 41 years old and when asked to give a one sentence philosophy of life said:

"If you can live without hurting yourself or your fellow man you'll be doing all right." He thinks Al Pearce, his boss, the best sort of a man with whom to work, thinks that the funniest incident in his life was to be a judge of a Pomona bathing beauty contest, in which the beauties were clad in turkey feathers—thinks this was funny because he is an expert on turkeys but hardly on girls.

He is grateful to "Waymond" because without him he feels it would have been a lot harder to become a success in radio, to realize the ambitions of Arthur Q. Bryan.

"He may be timid," said Arthur Q. Bryan, "but you got to hand it to the little guy. He's building me up. Him—" and he grinned, chins four and eight shaking—"him and vittles."

Russ Music Maker

BEHIND the infectious cultured European voice we heard a familiar Debussy strain and turned up the radio to hear better.

The voice stopped talking and the soft melody of "Homage du Rameau" poured into the room. We listened through, became aware that we were listening to a kind of musicianship that radio could use more of nowadays.

We know very little of Debussy, except that we like his music, and that of some of the things we have heard of his we wish we knew more. While we listened the voice began again.

"Debussy," the pianist said, "is to be considered a modern. He died in 1918 but created a new style in music, perhaps best shown by a comparison of conventional scales and scales as played by him. You will listen, please."

We listened. There followed scale playing, with emphasis on the Debussy differences in playing them. Suddenly we realized that perhaps never again would we have to falter and remain quietly embarrassed when somebody asked in that annoying put-you-on-the-spot intonation: "Isn't that Debussy?" We'd know. We had found out how to know by a two-minute analysis at a keyboard, given by a man in a radio station. We decided to look this chap up, on the theory that if he could, in a few moments, pound musical appreciation into our armored heads, what could he do for others who "just love music, especially the classics." This may not be grammar but you get the idea.

His name, we learned, is Jacques Rachmilovich, horn in Odessa, Russia. He is a graduate of the Russian Imperial Conservatory of Music, has been in the United States less than four months and, somewhat bug-eyed by what he has seen here, has reduced his answer to the question—"What do you think of America, Mr. Rachmilovich?" to—

"America?" You have here what is almost forgotten in Europe, a level of decency and moral standards that has nothing to do with many bathtubs, automobiles or nice clothing—but is something that comes from shared experiences as a people."

He expounded his theories of music and musical training as we sat in the living room of his house in Hollywood foothills. The room was dominated by a great grand piano. He sat at the piano as he talked, sensitive fingers moulding quick tantalizing measures independent of mental processes.

"All individuals want music," he said. "Appreciation of music is not so much to be gained from comparing one kind of music with another, as it is in finding certain ways and means of learning what it was the composers sought to say. We do not read books merely because they have words in them. We read them because they have something that interests us. Thus, by much reading we are able to weigh the ease of one writer as against another by the fluency and logic with which they have developed similar subject material. For instance."

His fingers ranged the keyboard. We heard an everyday garden version of a popular song.

"Listen now." The slender fingers sped on. It was the same melody with a poignant and haunting difference.

"You see," he said, "To appreciate music is to have evoked in you the figures of the composer's dream, the stimulating pageantry of his imagination, to realize that this passage or that is in the piece to make your listening more of an experience of your whole self, than just a matter of hearing with the ears."

We asked about his concept of music training.

"As a pedagogue I cannot be satisfied with merely making music meanings clear to listeners. I should want them to learn to express themselves at the piano. Not being satisfied with mere playing for others, I have developed a system whereby these others may play for themselves. There is no reason to spend years in scale practices and other musical drudgery to learn to play. The average person within six months can learn to play difficult classics. To teach them like this is, to me, to advance music and its appreciation."

Like all Europeans he has an avid curiosity. He knew—when we did not—that 1940 was a record American musical year. He attributes this to radio which has widened the average symphony setting to the size of the land.

He believes the old world is decadent, that civilization and culture repose in America and, as a concert pianist who has appeared with leading symphonies of the world, thinks his immediate American mission will be to acquaint Americans with the best of European compositions, and the meanings of them.

For some time to come he will play and explain the classics from KFWB, Thursday evenings at 9 o'clock. You might listen this week.

Speech Mentor

In its constant effort to assure radio listeners of correct pronunciation, the Columbia Broadcasting system has again called in Dr. W. Cabell Greet, associate professor of English at Barnard college, Columbia university in New York, to act as speech adviser to its announcers.

Dr. Greet acted in the same capacity for Columbia network between 1937 and 1939. Now, with many new announcers on its staff, CBS deemed it advisable to again utilize his services.

STYLE SLANTS

by
MARTIN BERENS

Molly McGee, she of the big heart and the husband who can invent the gold-darndest tall stories, certainly belongs in any style column that deals with radio personalities. Fibber McGee's wife is considered one of the best dressed women in America by the designers and style experts. And as she is also one of America's best loved personalities, she is really a versatile person. How would you like the job of having to cope with some of Fibber's stretches of imagination? Then, and only then would you know how the phrase "T'aint funny, McGee," came to be.

Miss McGee, or Jordan, which is her true name, was attired in a suit that certainly bears describing. A rich sport tweed in a mixture of green with gold flecks, the long torso jacket fit her to perfection. The extremely tailored look was enhanced by the novel addition of two saddle pockets, the type where the bottom half or third of the pocket is not stitched to the jacket, but hangs free. The shoulders were very noticeably rounded, and the jacket closed with four buttons. This gave a very high reveré, and a square-cut front. In other words, the front was not rounded, but closed all the way to the bottom. It was very new and smart.

The skirt was straight with no full flare. Three very high pleats disappeared under the jacket, in front, they were so high and the jacket so long. In the back one deep, high inverted pleat gave room for a sporty stride.

This is the second straight week I am reporting a suit to you, and purposely so. For suits are to be such an important note this spring it will take many a column to give even a faint cross section of what to look for. First, in the skirts, the lines are slimming. Very little flare is being shown. Deep high pleats are the vogue, but side pleats, leaving an unbroken front and back line are high-style.

The jackets must be long, with rounded, soft shoulders. They should have good roomy pockets, although this is only really essential in the sport suit. Aside from that, your own plans as to what use you need the suit for must be the deciding factor. If it is to be an all-occasion suit, give a thought to a flat, mannish fabric in a glen plaid. You'll like it.

Style Slants with Martin Berens is on the air Tuesday and Thursday at 11:30 a. m. over KMPC.

Hard Fighter

WALTER PATERSON, South African-born, English educated and American-trained in radio, draws on his experiences of work and travel on three continents for his portrayal of Reggie York, the hard-fighting Englishman of NBC's I Love a Mystery. Paterson is heard each Monday at 8:30 p. m., in Carlton E. Morse's serial drama of the adventures of Jack Packard, Doc Long and Reggie York, broadcast over KECA.

Latitude Zero

TED SHERDEMAN, author of "Latitude Zero," which made its NBC debut recently in Hollywood, is a radio experimenter as well as an outstanding writer for radio and screen. In "Latitude Zero," the story of an adventuresome quintet aboard a mysterious submarine, Sherdeman will make use of experimental sound effects which were introduced first in the unique "Studio S4-K1" broadcasts from Hollywood Radio City. Sherdeman is author of "Candle Lady" and "Brenthouse," successful NBC serial dramas.

Radio Life Lines

BY "BUCK" HATHAWAY

UNEARTHING RADIO'S SVENGALIS: Pinch any radio star hard enough and you'll hear somebody else shouting "Ouch." Ilka Chase (Luncheon at the Waldorf) has a successful women's program, but it's husband, Bill Murray, who steers her safe and sure through entertainment's pitfalls. . . . A few years ago Betty Winkler was just another eager-eye and Arch Oboler was just making a night with "Lights Out." Oboler featured her on his series. The rest you know. . . . Bonnie King was one of Al Pearce's first discoveries . . . he has made others . . . Fibber and Molly are good, but it was Jack Louis who built them up from an ordinary song and dance team that might have vanished when vaudeville did. . . . Behind Ben Bernie and his ad libbing is an office with brother Herman in it. . . . Harry Von Zell owes his high announcing rating to Fred Allen.

MEMO FROM THE DRUDGE: When are you going to use that story about Joe Leighton of CBS and his lovely wife, Linda Johnson? I think it's tremendous. Those poor kids getting married in Texas and starting back to sunny California and coming to grief the very first night. It seems that Joe and Linda . . . but, of course, you know about how Joe lost the way and they wound up in the middle of a Texas rain-blizzard, skidded into a ditch and spent the first night of the honeymoon huddled together for warmth against the moonless damp. . . . So, I really shouldn't tell it.

THINGS THAT SOUND CONVINCING: That Rudy Vallee's saxophone keeps him young. He bought it while in college believing it would pay for itself in a little while. Right now what it has earned would buy the college a couple of times over. . . . He's had fun with it, as he told us the other evening over fried shrimps at the Tropics . . . keeps him thinking of tomorrow when most men at his age go mentally backsliding to yesterdays. . . . Anyone can see he's the perennial college boy. . . . Eddie Dunstetter's parents kidded him into a music career by telling him that Santa would be listening to his organ practice. . . . The treacherous line worked for years. "By the time I was old enough to know better, there were so many people bearing down on me with prophecies of greatness that I didn't have the heart to quit. I still hate practice."

IN DIFFERENT PLACES AT DIFFERENT TIMES: Dinah Shore at the Brown Derby. The girl is costing me money. I can't afford to eat at the Brown Derby and I'm almost always missing her at rehearsals. . . . Hedda Hopper in for tea at the Hollywood Knickerbocker and exciting a portly industrialist to buttonhole me and proposition: "You know her, don't you? How about presenting me?" I could only say: "I do, but not that well!" . . . Arthur Q. Bryan at Brittinghams being interviewed by the cub magazineer, Maurie Losch and boosting mid-afternoon business with his own imitation of Arthur Q. Bryan imitating Waymond Wadcliffe. . . . Ben Bernie relaxing at Earl Carrolls before going back East, and doing some humorous ad libbing on the Carroll beauty line.

HIGHLIGHTS OF A WEEK: Luncheon at the "It" cafe with Kay Kyser with everybody disappointed because Ginny was not there. Kay is back with the "Musical College," and is planning to make plans for another picture. . . . Jonquillesque Jeanette MacDonald and Raymond Guest will appear Friday night (Feb. 21) on Campbell theater. . . . Benny Goodman being signed for Old Gold for a coast-to-coast airing. . . . Hal Peary (Gildersleeve) may do straight parts with Rudy Vallee.

THE AIR-TIGHTEST AIR SHOW: It's "Grand Ole Opry," and it's virtually impossible for outsiders or professionals to muscle in on the cast. The reason: The actors and musicians on this fifteen-year-old show are actually farmers and backwoodsmen who, when Saturday comes 'round, hang up their working overalls and put on their Sunday ones; put their fiddles, banjos, jugs, washboards and mouth harps under their arms and head to town.

There is Uncle Dave Macon, the acknowledged king bee of the cast. George Hay, the Solemn Ole Judge who was responsible for the origin of the program, Roy Acuff and his Smoky Mountain Boys, and other groups known variously as the Fruit Jar Drinkers, the Possum Hunters and the Gully Jumpers. None of the old group has ever left voluntarily though several have died in the intervening years.

HEART OF THE PEOPLE NOTE: Newsworthy items concerning the CBS "Crime Doctor" program, heard Sundays over CBS, are that it garnered a record number of fan letters, 32,420 last week, that the judges had to grant duplicate prizes because they couldn't agree on winners. Ninety-five per cent of the letter writers favored release from prison of the girl who was the central figure in the Max Marcini story. Top winners each week get $50 for their answers pro and con. However, two writers offered such good reasons for the girl's release that the judges decided to give each $50. They are Elmer N. Powell of Grand Avenue Temple building, Kansas City, Mo., and Frances Belle York of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb. Winner of the $50 for the best reason why the girl should be kept in prison was Helena van Duynhoven, 716 West 171st street, New York City.

ENDING THOUGHT: Often a course of fruit juice can make one feel good, just a course of thinking well about things will perpetuate health.

ONE OF the most popular consequences on Truth or Consequences is the one women guests must pay when they fail to tell the truth—the gal must propose to the man on her knees, in front of the audience. Here's pretty Lillian O'Donnell, proposing to her beau with emcee Ralph Edwards brandishing the mike so her proposal can be heard from coast to coast. Truth or Consequences is on the air Saturdays at 8 p.m. from KFI.

Truth Or Consequences

By WILLIS HOWARD

THE minute we came into the room Ralph Edwards, the great Truth or Consequences man, shoved us into a deep tufted chair and said:

"You might as well get this interview started right. So—now sit still—let me get it going." He pushed us down firmly. "You were going to ask me how this Truth or Consequences goes. Well, all right. Now listen. I ask you a question, do you see? Right away you can elect to tell the truth or take the consequences." His eyes gleamed. "Are you ready?"

"Ready," we said.

"All right, what'll you do—tell the truth or take the consequences?"

Hastily we mentally flew back over our shadowy past. We pondered: How much did this chap know about us? Would he ask us about that tall and slender blonde we squirmed around town for so many days, only to discover she thought we were William Howard, the motion picture director, and when she found out we weren't left us with a wicked laugh that was echoed embarrassingly for us, for weeks after along the Boulevard? Would he know about the time we were imprisoned in the ladies' room in the old Writers' club, before the boys up and went over to the Athletic club? That was terrible, because it was our first visit to the club and one of those dim-witted wags, captivated by our innocence, set the stage for our discomfiture. Fortunately there was a window open and we managed to escape ahead of a chattering group of females, via a porch room. We never did make a rational explanation to the group at whose feet we landed when we jumped off the porch and into the night. Or would he—? ? ? We decided to take the consequences.

"Very well, you'll have a chance to tell the truth anyway."

"Have we ever met before?" we asked lamely.

"Not to my knowledge," he retorted maliciously. "Why? Worried?"

"No, not particularly," we said lamely. "We were just thinking."

"Okay then, here we go. Isn't it true that you think you are the Lord's handsome gift to womanhood, that the years behind you are milestoned by more women than Casanova in his palmiest ever cast an amorous glance toward. Specifically," he drummed on, "Don't you feel a bit shamefaced over the way you treated Esther? Or, perhaps, you want to deny you know Esther?"

"Just a minute," we expostulated. "Just a minute. I have no such ideas at all about being a gift to women. On the contrary most women think I'm a bit impossible."

"All right, prove it."

"Well," we floundered, "how can I

Introducing a Menace to Society—Ralph Edwards and His Way of Making Things Hum prove what I think? You prove that I do think that," we ended with a sense of triumph.

"I don't have to, you do, because I am asking the questions."

He laughed suddenly.

"You see how it goes. That's what makes it fun. When a group of folks get together who know each other well they can make it pretty tough on a friend who has elected to answer questions. Of course," he said with elaborate politeness, "I was just guessing about you. One of the radio boys told me you were popular with women and," he shrugged, "I figured there's always an 'Esther' somewhere in a man's life. Anyway, you've elected to take the consequence, not to answer, so that's all settled. Anything else?"

"Yes." We were wondering now which one of the boys had said that, for we certainly didn't want to let any grass grow under our implied popularity. Maybe, we thought, we have been missing bets, walking right by the CBS script girl battery without stopping for a greeting—or, maybe we had been a bit dumb that evening at Rudy Vallee's party on Santa Monica boulevard when Irene Rich, we thought, looked somewhat contemplatively at us.

"Yes," we said, "how did this Truth and Consequences business get started?"

"It's 'Truth or Consequences,'" he said reprovingly. "Well, I guess it all started with my hitch-hiking to the Big Town—New York. I started out from Oakland and finally got to Hollywood. . . ."

"We're confused. . . ."

"Really?" he smiled indulgently. "I'll put it this way, then. Everybody was talking about getting to Hollywood. I figured the fastest way was through New York. So I just hitched into the Big City."

"There was $90 between me and the street. But for the first few days I couldn't hunt for work. The city got me. I tried to catch its time; its rich slangy conversation."

We learned that he lived on 29 cents a day, eating in hash-house joints, sleeping in a friendly church, that in three weeks he was on a big show and in six weeks was announcing Major Bowes' amateur, and that in eight weeks he was doing 10 shows a week.

"Then I quit. I didn't want to be an announcer. So I hatched the 'Truth or Consequences' idea. It was really simple. Most quizzes were braitwisters or humorless. Keep the brain-twisters, put hilarity into a parlor game and everybody would want to hear it. They did. We get 21,000 letters weekly so we know they did. The kids like it because of the fun. Their parents love it because it keeps the kids home. There it is!"

"Seems simple, doesn't it?"

"Fairly," he replied. "Except for such

Camp Nash

Uncle Sam goes all-out for preparedness in shipyard, mill and factory. Great industrialists desert fancy-salaried posts to work for $1 a year. Labor shelves its grievances to meet 24-hour-a-day production schedules. At home women knit socks and sweaters for absent men.

Prepare—it's the watchword of a whole nation.

And at Columbia network's mythical "Camp Nash" three red blooded Americans—two caught in the draft, a third seasoned by service—are preparing, too. They are "Honier Stubbs," "Red Foster," and "Sergeant Monihan," chief characters in "Dear Mom," the hilarious radio comedy serial heard every Sunday night on Columbia's coast-to-coast network, 3:55 to 4:15 p. m., KNX.

MORE THAN THEIR TITHES

By Carl Hailing

THE amount the two men dangled before the amazed eyes of Shirley Temple's parents was $35,000. The argument they made was equally as amazing.

"Her appearance on the air would be for but half an hour. That's more than a thousand dollars per minute."

Well, the Temples just couldn't see it. And neither could Twentieth Century-Fox.

"No radio," was the flat fiat executives made to the two gentlemen who, for reasons of their own, strictly business, of course, figured that they would be making a reasonable investment if America's Baby Glamor Girl or her guardians could be persuaded to permit her presence on a coast-to-coast hookup.

A week later Shirley Temple did appear on a program and for her coast-to-coast services received exactly $000000, an amount that scarcely begins to compare with the amount she turned down the week before.

Why?

The difference must have been in the gentlemen. And there was a difference. The first brace were commercially-minded chaps who knew their commercials. With Shirley Temple on a program, there would be enough buildup for their products to make a $35,000 investment a very small amount, indeed.

The latter gentlemen were one Jean Hersholt, who appears on KNX's weekly series, "Dr. Christian," and one Ralph Morgan, hardly a mystery figure to the average theatre-goer.

What Hersholt and Morgan were selling was a suit of armor, tailored to fit Shirley and anybody else in motion pictures who might some day find himself in a situation where some sort of armor would be the best protection against Fate, which is not always kind to life's little mortals.

The armor is money with which to do for those who may, in the course of their careers, rocket up to fame and opulence and as dizzily rocket down again to sad impoverishments, to illnesses, to any number of impasses out of which they plead for extrication.

And that is why Shirley Temple for money would not go on a commercial coast-to-coaster, but was quite happy to go on one for nothing.

But, not for nothing really.

And thereon hangs a tale of professional responsibilities well and honestly met; a tale that disproves a cliché that corporations have no heart; a tale, in short, of fine men and women and of a radio program they sustain brilliantly because of love—of less-fortunate fellows.

Let Bette Davis, superlatively fine actress, say for all of the great-hearted actors and actresses who take part in Gulf

Oil Company's "Screen Guild Theatre" (KNX, 9:30 p. m., Sundays.)

"Just for money? No! For humanity, yes!"

It may be an anomaly that radio should be the means through which the indigent of motion pictures find alleviated many of their problems. In the past, stars, producers, directors and other film workers have donated one-half of one per cent from salaries to aid in work of the Motion Picture Relief Fund, benefactee of Gulf Oil Company's $10,000 weekly payment in season to motion picture actors and actresses who take part in the company's radio program. It would seem, offhand, that stars earning annual salaries sometimes many times in excess of even that of the nation's chief executive would be happy to give the Lord's tithe to the cause of those who have come, have seen, have conquered and, adding a phrase to "Veni, vidi, vici"—failed of "ultimate victory." Anomaly or not, the one-half of one per cent was not enough to care for anything save immediate needs of the fund.

Much of the story should deal with kindly Jean Hersholt. Day in and out his great Danish heart expresses concern for the unfortunates of his calling.

"To work for one's own is a good calling for any man," graying Hersholt says simply. He means by that, that each professional group should exercise stewardship over the sorely beset in the group. It is social cooperation to human ends that bespeaks, more stentoriously than trumpet blares, man's will to serve his fellow if given the chance. For Jean Hersholt daily rise prayers from occupants of 10 beds-in-perpetuity at Los Angeles' Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. The beds were made possible by Hersholt's work in having allocated $100,000 from the Will Rogers Memorial Fund.

We called on Wilma Bashor, executive secretary for Motion Picture Relief Fund. Miss Bashor, brown-eyed, plump-ish, attractive, spring-voiced, has been with MPRF since 1931. Graduate of Boston University and University of Southern California, her photographic mind works with the precision of a projection machine in presenting the drama of her work. She skims hastily over figures to detail interesting dramas of degradation and regeneration, of individual triumphs over conditions. She recalls:

... the young man who stood before her desk, his pallid features flushed spotily with constant fever. It is 1932. He has come close to the end of his mortal tether. His lungs sting with the raging burn of tuberculosis. His story is coughed out from pink-stained lips. He has been a type player, a circus contortionist.

"A doctor told me my days are numbered," he says falteringly.

"Our own physicians confirmed what he had been told," Miss Bashor said. "It was a case, then, of making his remaining days as comfortable as possible. But we have always tried to reverse the situation in which the individual finds himself. In his case we decided to do all that could be done to save him."

The story went on . . .

The lad is on the desert, where sunshine, warm and vitalizing, streams down upon his naked body, driving life-giving rays deep into him, slowly forcing dread T.B.'s retreat from painful lungs. Fresh air from the desert, the rich nourishment of goat's milk and proper food, regularity in hours, gradually increased exercises combine to add more numbers to the days that were given him to live before the day he talked with Wilma Bashor. Gradually there came a day when the sly insistence of death that he was marked for its own troubled him no longer. He was well. Today? Well, he is married, is in full health, has a business of supplying cacti to the nation's fanciers and has a future to look into. The cacti business he developed while convalescently roaming desert reaches.

This would be one of thousands of cases. We will come to another shortly. First, some facts and figures concerning Gulf Oil Corporation, "Screen Guild Theatre" and the Fund.

The oil company to date has underwritten approximately 73 Screen Guild programs, has paid out to actors and actresses an estimated $730,000. This amount the actors and actresses have turned over to the Fund, after giving performances that rank with the best in radio. This month the Fund gave full care for 781 troubled families, a total of 1,562 persons; last year maintained 8,095 individuals on budgets that assured full and decent maintenance, re-strengthened hope and increased spirit and vitality with which to cope with the setbacks they had met.

Wilma Bashor considers her work as "socially significant," which is understatement of the most understating kind. She might have said that for once it has been demonstrated how three ordinarily unrelated factors can be related and made to strike a total of human happiness and benefit. These three factors in the case of Screen Guild Theatre have been combined to accomplish what no politically-snarled system of relief-giving could ever do.

First there is a great corporation refusing the oft-heard outcry: Corporations have no heart. Second, there is the disposition of fine men and women to accept their obligation to their craft and fellow-craftsmen.

These two factors have combined to give decent and self-respecting aid to human beings, giving them a chance to salvage from wrecked spirits and economy the precious bits from which they might again build their competences.

Except for summer suspensions, the program has given the relief fund $10,000 weekly since its first CBS broadcast in 1938. This accounts for the $730,000 to date, part of which money will be used for construction of a home for aged and indigent film workers in San Fernando Valley.

RIGHT, before the microphone is Joan Bennett reading her lines in a Screen Guild Theatre offering. Every word is a pearl for the unfortunate members of Joann's craft, because as each is uttered the chances are Gulf Oil Corporation is dropping another $5.00 in Motion Picture Relief Fund.

THE Glittering Galaxy Teas: Here we have, left to right above, Gable, Rita Johnson pouring tea, and Roger Pryor making sure of his vittles, all backstage of Screen Guild. Right next to us are Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Frank Morgan talking over the situation, with "rank apparently stymied by a question which might have been: "Any good numbers lately?"

Since inception of the series, 197 stars and featured players have donated services, some making two and three appearances. Bette Davis alone has contributed services in excess of $15,000, judged in value of her appearances on a commercial broadcast.

In the open market the services of these players and stars would have cost $787,000, but 57 of them could not have been purchased for radio on an open-market basis, because film contracts prohibit even guest appearances on air.

Not only have the stars given freely of their time, but they have often put aside personal plans to help. Twenty-four hours before he was slated to face the microphones with Myrna Loy, William Powell was ordered a-bed by his physicians. Within an hour James Stewart, Jimmy Cagney, Cary Grant, Fred MacMurray and Clark Gable had offered to substitute. Stewart got the role because he was first to volunteer.

"I was never quite so happy as when I saw my handsome check for services turned over to the fund, and the mitigation of sufferings of others," Stewart said.

Some stars refuse substitutes. Ann Sothorn, for instance, was ill in Good Samaritan hospital when rehearsals were called with Robert Young and Melvyn Douglas for "I Met Him in Paris." Ann insisted on hospital rehearsals, later did the broadcast from a chair at Earl Carroll's theatre. Billie Burke went to a broadcast in an ambulance, did her broadcast in a wheel-chair because of a broken leg.

And now . . .
Into a northern city and a fashionable home. The present-day star of a great motion picture company is almost positive that the aging maid in her friend's home is a star of the old silent days. The maid denies it.

In Hollywood the current star communicates with the Fund. An investigation is undertaken. The aging one has fled. The investigation goes on. The woman is found in an office building, on hands and knees, scrubbing interminably long halls in the half-silence of night. She is sick and weak, yet proudly independent, but she does need help. She is one of those numberful hosts of those who have had their day of greatness and wealth, are now half forgotten figures of a nearly forgotten heyday of motion picture struggle and glory. She is brought back to Hollywood, placed in a little bungalow of her choosing, there to spend declining days in comfort through the generosity of a public she served well. For, after all, it is you and I and the multi-millioned others like us, from whom these sweet charities spring. Without us there would be no Screen Guild Theatre, no great corporation, no generous actors and actresses.

They depend on us.

But, it is well to remember that we can depend on them to do well by their human responsibilities.

Military Analyst

Major General Stephen O. Fuqua, U.S.A., retired, military analyst of NBC's Ahead of the Headlines, was chief of staff of the A.E.F.'s famous First Division in the last World war. When the guns stopped firing on the Western Front he became Chief of Infantry. Later he took over the post of Military Attache to the American Embassy in Spain. As such he was the official American military observer during the Spanish Civil war.

The Free Company

THE year is 1776. The young nation is stumbling and bleeding along a torturous way. A ragged Army fights stubbornly to keep alight a spiritual torch of liberty, against which blow the windy ices of an arrogant king.

The men thrust their tired bodies against a thousand ramparts on a thinly extended line of battle. Wives serve at home, by tallow candle and light of pine knot moulding the bullets and rolling paper cartridges.

Fighting, they were perplexed, these stalwarts of America's burning hours, when the red tide of blood ran riot through eastern mountains and valleys. Perplexed, for there were among them those who talked suavely of hopelessness and pleaded in special terms that Liberty's cause be abandoned.

But, more clearly than guileful phrases of Colonial traitors and saboteurs rang the spiritual cry of the greatest number.

"We have come here seeking peace and competence, to build here a sanctuary to Freedom for all men."

Redoubled was the fury of the assaults in mountain and plain, along the red running rivers of the Colonies. Freedom's fight could not be stayed by those who would deny it life. There would come a time when across hill and dale, over river and plain, up mountain and down, from rockbound coast to sun flooded one—words would be abroad in the land. The words were Liberty and Democracy.

It is 1941 now. Again propagandists are in Liberty's land, from England, Germany, France, Japan, Italy, Spain and Russia, pleading their causes. And how shall America answer?

Part of the answer may be given by the men pictured on this page. It is their intention to broadcast weekly dramatizations of highlights in America's continuing struggle for freedom. The first of these dramatizations will be aired Feb. 23 at 11 a. m. from Los Angeles' station KNX.

Last week these men, all top-flight American writers, made radio news by banding together as "The Free Company" by declaring that foreign propaganda can be made as powerless as arrows shot against armored tanks, and this by the simple expedient of bolstering concepts of what American liberty means.

The first drama in the series will be by James Boyd who said:

"Americans don't like to be pushed around, no matter who is trying to do the pushing."

That "no matter who" may make this program as touchy as a bottle of high test nitro. But, stand by! Mayhap, the shades of the Colonists are abroad in the land!

—MARSHALL PETERS.

ACROSS TOP: Orson Welles, Robert Sherwood, Sherwood Anderson and George M. Cohan. DOWN LEFT (below Welles), Ernest Hemingway, Stephen Vincent Benet, Archibald MacLeish.

CENTER BOTTOM: Maxwell Anderson and James Boyd. RIGHT (under Cohan), Marc Connelly, Paul Green and William Saroyan, all out to dramatize American Liberty and to combat foreign propaganda.

Chef Milani's Sunday Dinner

For Eight Persons

Chicken soup a la Reine
Gherkins	Celery	Jumbo Olives
Tender Made ham with sherry wine sauce
Sweet candied potatoes	Jardiniere carrots au beurre
Brussels sprouts	Jellied asparagus salad
Pear pie special	Coffee

Recipe for Tender Made Ham with Sherry Wine Sauce

1 Wilson's Tender Made ham
5 tablespoons dry mustard
5 tablespoons brown sugar
1 package whole cloves
3 cups sherry wine

Unwrap ham and cut diamond shape on top surface, until the knife touches the solid meat. Then mix well mustard, brown sugar and one-half cup of sherry wine and spread on top of the ham. Insert one clove in each diamond and then put ham in a roasting pan and pour on the bottom of the pan the other two and one-half cups of wine. Put to bake in an oven that has been pre-heated to 400 degrees and bake five minutes to the pound, baste twice with wine sauce while baking.

Recipe for Candied Sweet Potatoes

8 medium-sized sweet potatoes
1 pound butter
½ pound brown sugar

Parboil potatoes and then peel them and cut in halves lengthwise. Put butter and brown sugar in a double boiler and let melt on top of fire. Place potatoes in a greased baking sheet pan, and pour the brown sugar and butter mixture over the surface of the potatoes. Half hour before serving dinner, bake potatoes in oven at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until the potatoes form a glaze.

Recipe for Signet Pear Pie

2 jars Signet U. S. grade A glass pears
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cups and 4 tablespoons pastry flour
1 teaspoon salt
2-3 cup shortening or butter
¼ cup cold water

Open jars of Signet pears and drain the syrup, which you can use if you wish to make some gelatine desserts. Cut the pears in slices and sprinkle the lemon juice through the sliced pears. Have the shortening or butter and water very cold, sift and resift the flour and the salt. Mix the flour with shortening or butter in a bowl until the flour looks like small beans, then add the cold water by sprinkling it little by little, tossing with a fork and bringing it up through the mixture. When the mixture forms a ball, divide in two, and place in refrigerator to chill. Roll a sheet of dough, one-eighth of an inch to fit in 9-inch pie tin. Fill with sliced pears, roll the other sheet and make some slits and cover the pie. Bake for 10 minutes at 450 degrees and then reduce heat to 400 and bake for 30 minutes longer.

CHEF MILANI is heard Monday through Friday at 2 p. m. over KMPC in a program entitled A DINNER FOR FOUR FOR A DOLLAR NO MORE, sponsored by WILSON & CO., SIGNET FRUITS IN GLASS, THE LYNDEN BRAND OF CANNED CHICKEN PRODUCTS, SEASONETTES, ELSINORE OLIVES, and SUPERIO MACARONI CO.

Directed by Chef Milani

ORCHIDS TO EARLYBIRDS—And not only orchids, but our sincere gratitude too, to all the Consumers' Club members who have been writing in. Your response is both interesting and encouraging.

But we're greedy people. We want more responses, more letters, more food suggestions, home-making hints, culinary tips and what have you.

Why not get yourself a dime's worth of postcards and drop us an idea every week. If it hasn't appeared in these pages before, we'll do our best to publish it—and we'll try to spell your name right, too.

Come on now, everybody, a penny for your thoughts!

SOUP'S ON—And it's Lynden's Chicken with Noodles, Chicken with Rice or Cream of Chicken! We don't know how you feel about soup, but we do know how you will feel once you've tasted the aforementioned. (That's a big word for Chicken with Noodles, Chicken with Rice and Cream of Chicken, isn't it? However—). To coin a phrase, you'll feel "builided up" when you try these Lynden soups. They are the builder-uppers of builder-uppers and experiments on thousands of palates indicate that they're just the thing when somebody sinks into a chair and sighs, "Ye gods! I'm even too tired to eat tonight." These soups nourish you with next to no effort on your part.

HOW OLD IS A BEAN?—For table purposes it should be about twenty days old when picked; for canning purposes, about fifteen. The reason is somewhat involved and has to do with sugar and nitrogen.

It seems that the sugar content of a bean keeps on rising until about the fifteenth day, but the nitrogen content first takes a drop and then goes on the increase until about the twentieth day.

You figure it out from here on.

ARE YOU SAVING THESE PAGES?—If you are it means you like them—thank you. If you like them it means you want to keep them. If you want to keep them, you certainly can't do it properly sticking them into empty jars, between the pages of books, under the linen in one of the drawers or all folded up in a box. You need something handier, more convenient; something that will permit you to refer to any page at any time.

Okay then, on page 19 you'll find a coupon. Cut it out and mail it in for a binder made especially for these pages. We've arranged with the makers so that you can have it at cost.

AND SPEAKING OF COUPONS—While your scissors are handy cut out the one on page 23 also. It gives you a membership in our Consumers' Club. If you haven't yet joined, you must be wanting to and this should make it easy for you.

As we told you not long ago, when a certain quota is reached we're going to have to limit applications; so get in now while there

Build your own kitchen reference library by clipping and saving these pages each week. If you would also like to receive news of new products, samples, etc., through the mail, join the Club by simply registering your name and address with Radio Life Consumers Club, Chai Milani, Director, 1029 West Washington Blvd., Los Angeles, California.

Radio Life Consumers Club DIRECTED BY CHEF MILANI

This page is a continuation of the preceding page, bringing Radio Life readers menus, recipes, and homemaking suggestions from Chef Milani and Consumers Club members. All Radio Life readers are invited to join the Club and still is time. It costs you nothing and will bring you all the advantages of an organized domestic front.

This Week—You're in a Stew!

STEW AND STEW MAKE STEW—That's culinary arithmetic for you. We're giving you three of them among our recipes this week, so we have a perfect right to repeat the word stew three times. Be that as it may, here are a few things to keep in mind when stewing around:

The meat should be cut in about 2-inch squares. You can saute it first if you like, but at any rate, it should be cooked for quite a while before you put in the vegetables. Then, for the best of flavors, the vegetables should be added according to the time required to cook each one. It doesn't do to have the carrots done to a puree while the potatoes are still hard.

Seasonings, of course, can either spoil or make a stew, so watch your hand with the salt and pepper and don't be afraid of a bay leaf now and then. A clove or two can do nice things for a stew too; and so can a dash of mace, a little paprika or a touch of vinegar.

But that's enough now. We may want to talk about stews again some time. Don't forget, however, that among the vegetables chosen for a stew, a tomato can seldom do any harm.

Chef Milani's 'Stew' Recipes

Recipe for Beef Stew Marseillaise

2 pounds ground beef	1 -prig parsley
½ cup diced flat bacon "Wilson"	Some mixed herbs
4 onions	1 bay leaf
1 calf's foot	4 cloves
2 carrots	1 pint red wine
3 tomatoes	1 cup beef stock
4 cloves garlic	1 tablespoon oil
	1 tablespoon lard

Cut the meat in pieces weighing three ounces each. Put the oil and lard in a saucepan with the bacon, cut in dice, also add sliced vegetables, calves foot, split in half, and the meat. When the meat and vegetables begin to brown, add the wine and stock, the herbs and the seasoning. Bring to a boil, cover the saucepan and let simmer very gently until meat is tender. This dish can be eaten hot or cold. It is delicious when cold, and to serve this way, the stew should be put in a mold, and the liquid drained over it. It will set into a firm jelly if kept in a cool place.

Veal Stew Florentine

2 pounds leg of young veal	2 sprigs rosemary herb
1 cup tomato pulp	4 tablespoons olive oil
6 tablespoons white wine	1 tablespoon Seasonettes
3 cloves garlic

Cut the meat in 2-inch squares, put the oil in a saucepan, and when hot add the sliced garlic. Cook until a light brown and add the meat. Season with Seasonettes. When meat gets slightly brown add the tomato pulp, the wine and the rosemary. Bring to a boil and simmer for one and one-half hours until meat is tender.

Recipe for Meat Stew Hungarian

1 pound beef
1 pound veal
1 pound pork
3 onions
3 potatoes
½ pound bacon, "Wilson Ol' Fashund"
2 teaspoons paprika
1 tablespoon Seasonettes

Slice onions and cook in chopped bacon until onions get to a golden color. Then add the meat cut in 1-inch squares. Season with Seasonettes and paprika. When meat begins to brown, cover with hot water and simmer gently for one and one-half hours. Twenty minutes before serving add the potatoes, cut in small cubes, and serve as soon as they are cooked.

CUT HERE

Chef Milani's Super-Economical "Dinner for Four, A Dollar, No More"

The menus on this page stress simple, wholesome meals for four people, and can each be prepared for a total of $1. The cost of each is checked weekly in Radio Life Markets.

CHEF MILANI'S DOLLAR (FOR 4) DINNER No. 1

Chicken espagnola with rice
Shredded carrot salad with dressing
Bread and butter	Coffee
Gelatine

Recipe for Chicken Espagnola

1 2½-pound chicken	1 tablespoon Seasonettes
2 slices Wilson's Ol' Fashund bacon	1 No. 2½ can tomatoes
2 cloves garlic	½ pound rice
1 onion

Cut chicken in four parts, then wash and dry. Chop two slices bacon, and panfry the chicken in it until chicken is brown, then add two cloves of garlic and one onion minced very fine. When onion and garlic get nice and golden, sprinkle one tablespoon of Seasonettes on it, and add the contents of can of tomatoes. Let tomatoes come to a boil. Cover and simmer until chicken is done. While the chicken is cooking wash one-half pound of rice, and boil in salted water then drain. Then place cooked chicken in a casserole, put rice on top, and pour tomato sauce over the rice. Cover casserole and let bake in oven at 375 degrees for 30 minutes. Then serve.

CHEF MILANI'S DOLLAR (FOR 4) DINNER No. 2

Lynden's Chicken Rice soup
Eggs campagnola
French fried potatoes	Green apple salad
Bread and butter	Coffee
Signet's Bartlett pears

Recipe for Eggs Campagnola

8 eggs	4 slices Wilson's Ol' Fashund bacon
1 onion	1 can solid packed tomatoes
1 clove garlic	1½ teaspoons Seasonettes
	8 slices buttered toast

Chop one onion and one clove of garlic and fry in skillet with four slices of bacon, chopped very fine. When onion and garlic get a golden color pour in contents of one can of tomatoes and let simmer for 30 minutes. Season with Seasonettes. Then drop eggs one by one in the tomato sauce and when the albumen of the eggs turns white, take from fire, and serve two to each person on buttered toast, covered with sauce.

CHEF MILANI'S DOLLAR (FOR 4) DINNER No. 3

Lynden's Chicken and Noodle soup
Beef stew a la provinciale
Plain heart of lettuce
Bread and butter	Coffee
Signet's Peaches

Recipe for Beef Stew a la Provinciale

2 pounds boiling beef	4 carrots
1 tablespoon oil	1 pint red wine
1 tablespoon Laurel leaf lard	2 cups water
4 slices Wilson's Ol' Fashund bacon	2 teaspoons Seasonettes
4 onions	3 ripe tomatoes
3 cloves garlic	A sprig of parsley

Cut the meat in pieces 3 ounces each. Then put one tablespoon of oil, one tablespoon of lard and the four slices of bacon chopped, in a thick saucepan. Slice four onions and three cloves of garlic, and four carrots. Brown with meat, lard and bacon in the oil. Then add one pint of red wine and two cups of water. Season with two teaspoons of Seasonettes, and add three sliced ripe tomatoes and a sprig of parsley. Cover and let simmer until meat is done.

GAGS OF THE WEEK

For the best Gags of the Week heard over Radio and sent Radio Life, tickets will be sent winners for admission to radio broadcasts and tours of NBC and CBS Hollywood studios. Listen to your favorite programs and then send your best Gag to 1029 West Washington Boulevard, Los Angeles.

Richard Schlachta, 743½ West 97th street, Los Angeles.

Sirs: Burns and Allen show.
 Gracie Allen and George Burns were thinking of a name for Gracie's new play when Senor Lee came in.
 Senor Lee: Mister Burns, I have a name for the play.
 George Burns: What is it, Senor Lee?
 Senor Lee: Arsenic and Old Face.
 George Burns: No. It's Arsenic and Old Lace.
 Senor Lee: Not when you are the hero in the play.

Betty Lou Linden, 312 West Opp street, Wilmington, Calif.

Sirs: Heard on the Bob Hope show, Feb. 11.
 Bob Hope: I love vaudeville. I'll have you know I was born on the stage.
 Connie Bennett: That's a good act. What did you do for an encore?
 Bob Hope: Same as I do now; play with dolls.

Betty Blum, 810 North First street, Alhambra, Calif.

Sirs: On the Jack Benny program.
 Benny (to Rochester): Who pays you, Herbert Marshall or me?
 Rochester: I don't know boss, but lately it's been Santa Anita.

Charles Allen, 210 West Laurel street, Glendale, Calif.

Sirs: On the Burns and Allen show.
 Gracie: I just love to walk down Fifth avenue and have all those pretty girls in the windows smile at me.

Artie: Gracie, those aren't girls. They're just dummies.

Gracie: Yeah? Well, they may be dummies, but they're smart enough to get fur coats.

Mrs. C. M. Dye, 1107 South Almansor street, Alhambra, Calif.

Sirs: Heard on Eddie Cantor's program.
 Eddie Cantor: I was a great lover in my time.
 Dinah Shore: Yes, but time marches on.

Margaret Gamble, 2542½ Cudahy street, Huntington Park, Calif.

Sirs: Heard this on Fibber McGee program.
 Gildersleeve to McGee: If you tried to peel a grapefruit you'd get lost among all the other little squirts.

Market managers in the main are public spirited. That's why you have Radio Life cheaply available weekly.

Chef Milani says—

Eureka! At last I have found it! A bacon that has that full, rich smoky flavor

I loved so much as a boy.

Only after trying every other brand did I discover WILSON'S OL' FASHUND BACON, "Sliced on the Rind". It was just what I had been looking for. I tested it with old recipes, I tested it in new dishes and I can recommend it to every homemaker as the answer to her bacon problem.

Write to me— Chef Milani, Radio Station KMPC, Beverly Hills and I will be happy to send you some splendid recipes for this new sensation...

Music In Wax

Ed. Note: The following are paragraphic reviews of late issued recordings, selected as among the best of the week, but critically heard. They may be heard and purchased at Music City, Sunset Boulevard and Vine streets, Hollywood, where one of the world's largest stocks of recordings is available.

Song of the Volga Boatman (Glenn Miller and Orchestra) Bluebird: This old Russian folksong as arranged by Glenn Miller is a hodge-podge that results in the incongruous idea of Harlem being somewhere along the Volga. Near Stalin's Georgia, I presume. There are a few effective passages but they, like the whole, are misleading. Near the last few bars of the Russian equivalent of "Pull Men, Pull," one comes to the solid conclusion that the hysteria of Igor Stravinsky was an instrumental force felt by the arranger. Reverse, Chapel in the Valley (Ray Eberle, vocal): Here is sweet music that can be Glenn Miller, the Glenn Miller one remembers at the Glen Island Casino. . . . One remembers.

I Hear a Rhapsody (Benny Goodman, vocal by Helen Forrest) Columbia: He of the clarinet, Mr. Goodman has recorded herewith a good arrangement by Frago-Baker. In spite of Miss Forrest's vocal rendition, one wishes more of that full orchestra and its effective hesitance. Reverse, I Left My Heart in Your Hand:

This is a swiny tune with a preponderance of sweet saxophones, Miss Forrest being in much more of her element.

Chinese Rhumba (Clyde Lucas and Orchestra; vocal, Lynn Lucas) Columbia: This record is evidently a Chinese rhumba. Just what a Chinese rhumba is, might be imagined but not on these pages. The very idea must be in itself embarrassing to the Chinese and embarrassing to me because it must be embarrassing to everyone. Reverse, She's Way Up There: This record opens with a voice saying, "Come on folks, let's have some fun." Outside of the quartet which one hears only occasionally, it still remains an open invitation.

—W. MAURICE LOSON.

The Editor and the Readers

YOU perhaps have noted the intention of a group of American writers, calling themselves "The Free Company," to combat foreign propaganda by radio dramatizations of the course of liberty in America.

Propaganda, we have often observed as a journalist of years, is rarely truth. It is, more often, an exercise in repudiation of one's opponents, of putting one's own national best foot forward.

It will be interesting to listen to the "Free Company," if only to determine whether what they will dramatize is essentially American, or will take the form of a subtle special pleading for interests that are not American.

★ KNX, 11 a.m. Sun.

WE are planning to have a series of articles by Mr. Albert Hill, of the State Department of Education, dealing with Pan-American countries. The articles, which we have just finished reading, are splendidly written, answer much that is involved in our national defense and economic future. They are so written as to appeal to adults and children alike. We are wondering if you would care to have them. Write us, if you would. And incidentally, KMPC has a program weekly called "Pan-America Calling," 10:15 Tuesdays. —H. H. H.

WORLD ON YOUR DIAL By Earl G. De Haven

TO BE, or not to be—that is the question!" This oft quoted line of a famous bard has a 1941 application to the "World on Your Dial." Shall it continue to be a regular feature of the new, improved Radio Life?

Does this column serve "public convenience or necessity" to a sufficiently large reader-listener audience to merit continuance? If you, and especially YOU feel that it does, then YOU MUST WRITE to Hanson Hathaway, Editor of Radio Life and tell him you want "World on Your Dial" continued. And this must be done IMMEDIATELY, N-O-W, either by letter or penny postal card. There must be a large "YES" vote too, or "World on Your Dial" will suffer an eternal blackout so far as this publication is concerned.

Up to the present time we have endeavored to faithfully report shortwave station news, compile schedules of stations throughout the world and chronicle the advent of new shortwave outlets wherever and whenever they appeared. There is NO PUBLICATION (radio or otherwise) published ANYWHERE today that can supply such information as authentic, accurate, and up-to-the-minute as that which we have been giving you week after week in Radio Life. We issue this challenge fearlessly and without hesitation or fear of contradiction. Last week we advised reader-listeners of a new shortwave reporting service that would augment the information given regularly in this column. Ready for release too are accurate new station logs, 20-hour table of English news on foreign stations, etc. All in keeping with the forward march of Radio Life dictated by YOU, the reader-listeners, and the foresight and vision of Carl M. Bigsby, president of Compton Printing Co.

And now, "World on Your Dial" rests its case of "to be or not to be." Whether for or against its continuance—WRITE, at once. And now for the "radio roundup" of latest news and items of interest for the week.

Outstanding in European reception at the present time is 2RO-18 at Rome, Italy, on a frequency of 9.76 mc. This station carries the "American Hour from Rome" daily, 5:05 to 7:45 p. m. Signals of 2RO-18 are usually R8 to 9 intensity. 73's for now, and good listenin'!

Truth or Consequences

things like that old beezier in Nebraska threatening to sue me."

"For what?"
"For falling off a chair on a kitchen table trying to do a consequence that called for him to imitate Daniel Boone! But, I get around anything like that nowadays. Here!" He handed me a book. "Read the last page." And we read:

"It is understood that the author, compiler and publisher shall in no way be liable or responsible, directly or indirectly, for any injuries, accidents and for damages sustained by any person or persons while performing, or causing to be performed, any of the consequences herein. And I do mean you!

"P.S.—We ain't kidding."

He told us he attended school in Oakland, California, and got into radio in the San Francisco Bay area. We learned, too, that he has been booked into Paramount theater, Los Angeles, for the week of March 6, that the March 8 broadcast will originate from the theater stage, and that he thinks he has gotten together a bunch of twisters that will stump the best of the experts on opening night.

Ralph Edwards is just 21, still has, he avers, radio in his hair, but that if he ever gets it out he'll buy a farm, go into summer stock and produce a play.

"There's the whole story," he said artlessly. "Now let's shag down the street. You got to do your consequence."

We went out and strolled down Vine street. At Al Levy's he stopped.

"This is it," he said.

"What is?" we asked bewilderedly.

"The consequence, old top. A New York cut steak."

★ KFI, 8 p.m. Sat.

Editor's Note: Actually, however, Edwards' program is nothing like this. The truth is that he has streamlined the old parlor game, re-designed it as a fast-moving quiz show, asks nothing more embarrassing than what cities begin with L and are named after Presidents, what is the title of the man who is in charge of a zoo or art gallery, et cetera. The hilarity with which audiences greet the program arises from "consequences," which demand anything happen to an unfor-

Listener's Dividends

Being a regular radio listener sometimes pays dividends in cash. The $25 winner on a recent Columbia Pacific network quiz, "Don't Be Personal," admitted she'd heard every show since the program went on the air and personally had attended 10 or 12 broadcasts. She had practiced the stunt of talking without using the words, I, Me, Myself, Mine, or We, and, when finally selected as a contestant, was practically perfect.

THE DIAL AND THE LISTENER

"NEWS MAGAZINE OF THE AIRLANES"

RADIO LIFE is published weekly by Compton Printing Company, 1029 West Washington Blvd.

SUNDAY, FEB. 23

Need any miracles accomplished? Sponsors of "Your Dream Has Come True" are making miracles every Sunday over KFI at 2:30 p. m. Listeners who dream of jobs, needed funds for the grocery bill, auditions, etc., merely write to the program. If the case is worthy (and a good yarn) sponsors will effect a miracle.

Betty Grable, Bob Hope and Bing Crosby will appear on "Screen Guild Theater." Betty is composing her own song to introduce on the broadcast. KNX, 9:30 to 10 p. m.

MONDAY, FEB. 24

As Radio Life pointed out last week, Ted Cook's new series is a wow. Heard each Monday and Friday at 9 p. m. on KFI, the famous humorist is calling his shots at the European mess in an expert fashion. He'll be a national radio figure before long.

Columbia's "Gay Nineties Revue," sparkling program of humor and song, is to be heard at a new time beginning Monday. The program, featuring 74-year-old Joe Howard and Beatrice Kay, had previously been heard Saturdays over the Columbia network and is now under the sponsorship of the United States Tobacco Co., KNX, 8:30 to 8:55 p. m.

TUESDAY, FEB. 25

People need adventure stories like a baby needs Pabulum these days. They help feed the imagination. One of radio's newest is "Latitude Zero," on KFI each Tuesday at 6 p. m. The Rover Boys have gone to sea in a submarine.

Mary Lee Taylor, cooking expert heard over the Columbia network, will present tempting recipes for her feminine listeners. Miss Taylor is heard each Tuesday and Thursday over CBS. KNX, 10:45 to 11 a. m.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 26

Among the most popular of all dramatic shows on the air is "Cavalcade of America." It is one of the oldest, too. Heard on Wednesdays at 6:30 p. m., KFI, the swell drama portrays an American leader each week.

"Today's Best Buys," heard Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, will once again provide an outlet for sellers and buyers. A battery of telephone operators, using a special series of trunk lines, will provide listeners with facilities for handling bargains of all types. If you have something you wish to dispose of simply dial HYperion 3171, tell the operator what it is you have to sell, and your bargain will be broadcast free of charge. KNX, 5:30 to 5:45 p. m.

THURSDAY, FEB. 27

Story of the Charter Oak will be dramatized as a salute to great men of yesterday on "The American Challenge" at 7:30 p. m., KFI. It is the amazing story of the written constitution of Connecticut, a document that had significance bearing on democracy as a whole.

Major Bowes' "Original Amateur Hour" will salute an honor city during their weekly CBS broadcast. The Major will bring before the microphone another array of amateur talent. KNX 6 to 7 p. m.

FRIDAY, FEB. 28

Low Jenkins and Lou Ambers battle it out for the lightweight championship in Madison Square Garden on the 28th, and Bill Stern and Sam Taub will be on hand to describe the punching bee for KECA listeners, beginning at 7 p. m.

Four members of the studio audience will be selected to participate in the "Talk Your Way Out of This One" program. Each contestant is given a hypothetical situation—and must talk his way out of it in 45 seconds. KNX, 6 to 6:15 p. m.

SATURDAY, MARCH 1

The little town of Holden, Mo., and the good citizens who live there, are the living counterparts of Uncle Ezra's radio "Rosedale." Ezra once lived in Holden and knows everybody in town. His popular program is a KFI Saturday night highlight at 7 o'clock.

"Tune Out Time" has been sailing along every Saturday night on KECA at 8:30 with increasing success. Amateurs from Hollywood, Los Angeles, and all points of Southern California are invited to take part. Talent is nearly of professional degree.

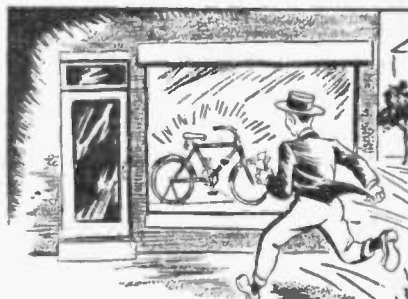

A new program will make its debut over the Columbia network, Saturday, March 1. The program is titled "Duffy's Tavern" and will star Ed "Archie" Gardner. John Kirby's orchestra will provide the musical portions of the program. KNX, 8:30 to 9 p. m.
