The Ear Inspires the Pen

Florence K. Hampton, 1210 Granada Ave., San Marino 9, Calif.

Sirs: How about a story on the "Deacon," KMPC, 6:30 a. m.? He is really good. I am sure lots of others would like his story. Also a story on Jim Wyatt, newscaster on KNX. He is so dramatic and refreshing that his newscast is the best for easy listening.

I am one of your regular readers and very much like your magazine—in fact, can't do without it.

Your requests noted—thank you.

L. Perry, 1516 - 2nd Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I enjoy your magazine very much, but wish that we could have more pictures of the people we hear, like we used to have.

I wish we had more good music like Guy Lombardo and real good stories on Saturday night for, like the song, Saturday night is the loneliest night in the week.

There are five good stories between 9 and 10 o'clock. Why can't they be spread out more? I wish there was some way of putting on commercials other than singing them.

Let those who like jazz have it, but also give us that like sweet music a little more of that, please.

W. H. Little, 4929 West 96th Street, Inglewood, Calif.

Sirs: I noted a request in your magazine as to Eb and Zeb. Eb was played by Al Pearce and Zeb by Bill Wright who used to be on Al's program years ago. Hope this will help your listener.

Thank you.

Miss Joyce Harmon, 5264 Ellenwood Place, Eagle Rock, Calif.

Sirs: Let's have an article and lots of pictures of Jack Smith! His version of "Out of This World" is strictly out of this world! I just finished listening to it, and he's really o.k.! I'm sure that there are others who agree with me. How about a half hour program? Could that be arranged?

Regarding the latter request—we have no power other than voicing in this department the wishes of Jack Smith's listening audience.

Ellnor Goodman, 825 East San Jose, Burbank, Calif.

Sirs: Let's have some more articles on Louise Erickson and Dix Davis. We enjoy their acting very much.

Could we also have a story on "One Man's Family"? I think it gets better every year. Pinky's dogs had me in hysterics. We really enjoy your little magazine and look forward to reading it every week.

You might be interested to know that we took a poll in our room at school to see what was the most popular program. "A Date With Judy" got 20 votes. "People Are Funny" got 4, and Joan Davis and "Lux Radio Theater" each got 2.

We'll continue doing our best to keep the many "Date With Judy" and "One Man's Family" fans happy.

Helen Cannon, 10586, Cheviot Drive, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I wish Radio Life would give some information about those radio folks who are in uniform. Many of them will be coming back soon, and they would be relieved to know that they were remembered while they were gone serving their country. Consider, for instance that grand radio actor, Hans Conried. I, for one, would like to know where he is now, and when he'll be coming back to radio.

I would also like to know what happened to Dave Ellis, the radio actor who was formerly heard on the "Twelve Players" program I had noticed hearing him on many other programs, but recently he has completely disappeared from the airways.

Request noted.

Hans Conried, at this writing, is in Manila, in charge of Radio Station WYPN.

Dave Ellis has gone back to Chicago because of his father's illness.

Ralph Goggin, S. B. General Hospital, Santa Barbara, Calif.

Sirs: First of all, I believe that Radio Life should be a guide to the radio programs on the air. Listeners are primarily interested in programs, time and station, type of show, who is on it, and etc. Why not a symbol after each program in the log, telling if it is classical music, drama recordings, public affairs or what? How can a listener know what type of program is "Alber's Hour," "Al Jarvis," "Ozie Waters," "J. Newton Yates," to name a few? That is the way they are listed, and a listener may pass up just the program he wants to hear.

The Precasts department is good, and should be enlarged. That is just the kind of current information we want about programs. Many people listen to the radio before eight o'clock in the morning.

What happened to the "midnight to dawn" logs? They haven't ap-

Carpenter Comes On!

By Terry Kemble

*Cantor's New Star Is Thelma
Carpenter, Who Sang Her Way
From Brooklyn to Hollywood*

Wednesday, 6 p.m.
NBC-KFI

NY STORY about Thelma Carpenter just can't help being about Eddie Cantor, too.

Everybody knows Eddie is the father of five daughters. And that's how Thelma's story begins, with Eddie's daughter, Marilyn, attending a New York night club called the Ruban Bleu, one evening in time to hear the master of ceremonies announce, "And now, the Ruban Bleu takes great pleasure in presenting its Downbeat Diva, Miss Thelma Carpenter!" The resulting performance of small, ingratiating Miss Carpenter was enough to make Marilyn wildly enthusiastic.

Perhaps being the father of five girls makes a man a little immune, in time, to wild enthusiasm, so Eddie held out against Marilyn's insistence that he must come and hear Thelma. Finally, in Thelma's words, "Marilyn practically dragged him down to the Ruban Bleu!" And Eddie's enthusiasm surpassed Marilyn's to the point of a contract on Eddie's radio show, "Time to Smile."

"He also came to see me in 'Memphis Bound'. You know, that was the 'take-off' on Gilbert and Sullivan's 'Pinafore' that also had Bill Robinson, Avon Long and Ada Brown. I was appearing in it at the same time I had the night club engagement. I played 'Josephine,' Gilbert and Sullivan's 'Pinafore' only had one 'Josephine' — ours had three! I was the little one."

We Hear Her

At the Cantor rehearsal, we had an opportunity to hear Thelma in action, and she sounded like a logical successor to the now eminently successful Cantor proteges whom she follows. As she swung into the final chorus of the song she was rehearsing, Cantor caught up in the infectiousness of the music, leaped to her side and sang along, putting in the hot breaks. Harry von Zell jumped from his table top (Radio Life had refused to give up the von Zell chair) and joined in with a resounding bass. Guest star Dane Clark tapped a rhythmic foot and looked as if he wished he could sing, too. That's just how the Carpenter brand of singing makes you feel! The hilarious trio finished, with Thelma coming in a strong first.

"Isn't she wonderful?" Cantor said to us. "Very few singers know what to do with the words of a song, but Thelma gives them meaning."

From the first moment that she had an ambition, Thelma wanted to sing. She spent all her time at the radio, or playing her record collection. Ethel Waters was, and still is, her favorite. When a Negro paper accused her of imitating Miss Waters, Thelma replied with the words that Ethel Waters had told her: "You sing like I do, with what you've got." And that's a song in her heart.

When Thelma won one of the famous amateur contests at the Apollo Theater in New York, she received her first professional job—a week's engagement on the stage of the theater. Then followed band singing with Teddy Wilson, Coleman Hawkins and Count Basie. In between she played night club dates in Greenwich Village. She first came to California with Count Basie's band in 1943, and played a long engagement at the Aragon Ballroom. "I lived with Lena Horne while I was here, and I used to get so lonely down at the beach that I made Lena come down to the ballroom with me about three times a week. In between, I filled up on ice cream and popcorn (I just about ate up the whole popcorn concession) and went on all the rides," she laughed. She likes California now, but only as long as it isn't foggy or rainy. The damp weather hurts her throat, and she drinks milk and raw eggs to protect her voice.

May Be Prejudiced

Thelma reserves her enthusiasm for her hometown, New York, and Brooklyn, where she went to school. "And there's no place in the world like the Ruban Bleu; but maybe I'm prejudiced because of the wonderful job they did of spotlighting me. And, after all, that's where Mr. Cantor saw me."

Though she has started smoking lately, she doesn't approve of it. "For some strange reason, I started during the shortage, too," she opined. "And I'm going to stop."

Thelma's ambition is the same one

INA AND GENE recently celebrated their eleventh wedding anniversary. They are both even-temperd and share a love for outdoor life.

Gene Autry Comes Home

By Betty Mills

He's in Civvies Again: Happy in Role of Host and Master of "Melody Ranch"

CBS-KNX
Sunday, 2:30 p.m.

ON A RECENT afternoon, Radio Life took to its automobile and called upon the Gene Autrys at their lovely "Melody Ranch." Sunny-smiled, CBS star Gene had just returned from the army and confessed himself to be a stranger in those parts, too. And "it was sure good to be home."

That simple statement tells the whole story as far as life goes at the celebrated Autry "Melody Ranch." It's warm, homey, and revolves around the genial master, his lovely lady, and their thoroughbred horses, three dogs, one cat—and chickens.

It's easy going out in the lovely

San Fernando hills, and the Autrys make you feel that they are enjoying life the way it should be enjoyed. Although the famous cowboy has skyrocketed into a stellar atmosphere, via radio and pictures, he and his charming wife have kept their poise, sense of values and gracious living.

Knowing that many of you would like a peek into one of the most interesting homes in America, we made many a sharp mental note to pass on to you. So come with us to the rambling house about which you've heard so often on your radio, Gene Autry's "Melody Ranch."

Three Hundred Acres

Forty minutes from the heart of Hollywood and encompassing some three hundred acres, the cheery early-American house sits back five miles from the highway. It was built during the first war years and naturally bears the name of the mythical ranch on Gene's airshow. Nestled among orange groves and grazing pastures, it's a lush, sunny spot in the Autry acres.

We were ushered into the pine-panelled living room by Mrs. Autry, who was wearing levis and boots. "It's for pictures," she laughed. "I'll dress up for you later."

Before joining Gene in his training ring, we took a quick glance about us. We soon discovered that the whole house is furnished with an abundance of antiques (tables, lamps, chandeliers) copper, and brass. All of the furniture is built for comfort and is covered in warm, rich colors or in bright chintz. Gracing one end of the living room is a miniature rodeo scene with comic figures of cowboys and their horses, encased in the wall and lighted from within its glass frame.

Beyond the living room is Gene's den, boasting mementoes of his three years in service as a ferry pilot. Upon his desk rests an ash tray made by the Seabees and presented to him as a gift. As neither of the Autry's smoke, the cigarette boxes are filled with Wrigley gum (plug for the sponsor). The western motif is much in evidence in the form of a huge chair, the back and sides of which are formed by cow horns. From here, Gene's personal closet, bearing twenty-five cowboy suits, fifty shirts, twenty coats, fifteen pairs of boots—and his discarded army apparel—can be viewed. Completing the lower floor is a guest room with one bed and two bunks—"Plenty of room for company," explained Mrs. Autry.

you find yourself in a large dining room-living room combined. Facing is an open grill and fire place. This is the favorite Autry repose.

The kitchen is small, but compact, and is a cheery red and white. The master bedroom, also furnished in panelled pine, offers a large bed, dainty dressing table and mirrored closets. The bath, beyond, is mirror lined.

Wondering if our ears deceived us, we peeked out of the window. Below us sat Gene upon his beautiful horse, Champion. "Better come down," he called. "Champion's gotten temperamental while I was away and won't perform without an audience."

Entering the training ring we were amazed to learn that it is adjoined to the rear of the house. A huge room (it gives one the feeling of being under the main top of the circus) the ring constitutes the back end of "Melody Ranch." Here Gene and his trainer, Johnny Agee, put the twenty-some Autry horses through their paces. From the ring one can peer into the clean, white stables.

Gene wasn't alone. Watching him from the veranda (the rear of the ▲ EX-NEWSPAPER MAN DOUGLAS brings the same exuberance to his early morning news broadcasts that he demonstrated as a reporter on the Los Angeles Times. Doug's been with radio since it was a "sprawling pup." Now calls it a "gangling adolescent."

D OUG DOUGLAS may be the guy who gets you early birds up, but did you ever wonder how he gets to work on time? We got to brooding about that the other day, so we called on Doug and asked about it.

"I get up at 4 o'clock in the morning—been doing it for 12 years," smiled Doug. "Luckily I live on a street car line, and at 4:30, the motorman stops right in the middle of the block in front of my door. If I'm not there, and he thinks maybe I've overslept, the conductor clang-clangs the bell until I come out. If I don't catch that street car, I'm sunk," he laughed. Doug laughs a lot. He's big, hearty and handsome, with an eye-catching shock of white wavy hair. He refers to himself as a gray-headed old wreck, because of his many years in radio.

Back in the twenties, Doug was a police reporter and secretary to the managing editor of the Los Angeles Times, and his name was William Byron Douglas. KHJ was located on the top of the Times Building, and according to Doug "was filled with kids, a bunch of screeching sopranos, amateurs of all kinds, and some talented people. Strictly non-commercial!" Radio was still so new that no one quite knew what to do about it.

Uncle John, who conducted a popular and still-remembered radio program for children, was a friend of William. He kept trying to persuade him to climb the stairs up to KHJ and read the news reports. William resisted for quite a while, not wanting to have anything to do with the haphazard, unpredictable gadget known as radio. Finally Uncle John's persuasion wore him down, and William Byron Douglas became a radio commentator by going upstairs. Just before his first broadcast, Uncle John decided that Doug Douglas was a better radio name than William Byron, so Doug was rechristened for good. Some of Doug's co-workers in those days were Ken Niles, Bill Goodwin and Elvia Allman.

"Funny" Assignment

"One day," Doug laughed, "my boss on the Times called me in and told me that from now on I was to read the funny papers. I got the coming Sunday's funnies that Thursday, and proof-read them for mistakes. I took 'em in to my boss, and he said, 'For crying out loud, no! I mean you're going to read them OVER THE RADIO!' Me, a hard-bitten old newspaper man! I said I wouldn't do it, but after all, it was an assignment, so I gave in. Well, I carried those funnies around in my pocket for days, wondering what to do with 'em. Finally at three o'clock one Sunday morning, on my way home from a party, I stopped in front of a street light, and decided to look them over. Some policemen came along and said, 'What do you think you're doing?' 'Reading the funny papers,' I said

They thought that was pretty suspicious, so they took me down to the Times where there was no one around who knew of my assignment on the radio. They kept me there until it was almost broadcast time, when they decided that I might be telling the truth. I dashed up to the station just in time to go on the air. As I stepped up to the microphone I decided to open with a big jolly laugh. I opened my mouth and out came a maniacal sobbing that probably scared the kids out of the house!"

Once some one persuaded Douglas that he should have a bunch of children in the studio as he read the funnies. "About nine thousand kids showed up," said Doug, "or at least, they made enough noise for nine thousand. One little kid grabbed the papers out of my hand and dashed to the other end of the room. The rest of the kids were yelling and jumping around, shooting marbles, and pinching and shoving one another. There I was in the middle of the mob without anything to read. The engineer saved the situation by going off the air."

Doug has five children, Bob, who

Stewart in Civvies

Radio Life couldn't resist having a look-see at rehearsals of "Destry Rides Again" on the CBS Lux Theater, which had Jimmy Stewart making his first microphone appearance since his return from active overseas duty in the Army Air Corps. Tall, thin, bespectacled Stewart, whose hair is noticeably gray, grinned the shy, boyish grin that has made him an idol of moviegoers, hunched his shoulders nervously when the curtain was lowered, squinted his eyes and held his ears against the noise of the sound effects but seemed to enjoy thoroughly having script in hand again.

Keighley Assumes Post

Veteran Hollywood producer-director William S. Keighley has taken over the emceeing post on CBS' "Lux Radio Theater." A former New York stage star, he was selected for this assignment from a field of seventeen guest emcees who have appeared on "Radio Theater" since January 22, 1945.

Keighley recently received an honorable discharge from the United States Army Air Forces after serving three years as chief of the Air Forces Picture Service. Holding the rank of full colonel, Keighley is credited with the designing and building of topographical maps of the Japanese home islands which were sent to Saipan for the use of the B-29 bomber crews.

Keighley has excellent diction, a good radio speaking voice. He also sounds very much like his predecessor at the "Lux" mike, Cecil B. DeMille.

Bergen's Bride

Last week, when Charlie McCarthy learned with the rest of the world, that his NBC chum, Edgar Bergen, was married five months ago to former Power's model, Frances Westerman, his immediate comment was: "Now the old skinflint will have another excuse for cutting my allowance." Then he turned a loving glance on the beautiful bride and added, "But it's worth it!"

Mortimer Snerd was heard to comment (with a noisy gulp): "Oh, rootie toot toot!"

It's Hen-rrrrrry!

"Coming, mother!"

Friday night dialers who take a delight in that familiar call on CBS' "Aldrich Family" are currently rejoicing in the return of the original "Henry", inimitable Ezra Stone. The actor recently received his discharge from the Army after four years in service. In addition to his starring role in the radio series, Stone plans to resume his producing and directing activities on Broadway.

Hail, Conquering Heroine

On last week's CBS "Screen Guild," famed movie play "Hail the Conquering Hero" should have been titled "Hail the Conquering Heroine." For feminine star, Donna Reed, was sent home just prior to air time with a severe case of laryngitis, leaving the cast without a leading lady. But the show did go on—and excellently, too. Air veteran, young Janet Waldo, rushed in at the last moment and capably filled the vacated spot.

Santa Claus Stars

When the Santa Claus Lane Parade of Stars is staged on November 23rd, denoting the opening of the Yuletide season in Hollywood, NBC's Bob Hope and Jerry Colonna, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, Bob Burns, and Dinah Shore will be among those riding on specially-built floats, or in new post-war automobiles and jeeps. Some twenty-five other top ether personalities, whose names are to be announced later, will also parade with St. Nick.

ON THE AIR

Members of the Radio Life family will be interested in the fact that Editor Evelyn may now be heard with an air edition of the magazine. She broadcasts every Sunday night at 9:15-9:30 over the American Network and is heard in the Los Angeles area over station KECA. Evelyn gives the latest radio news, a feature on a star or show, and interviews some well-known radio personality. Confined strictly to radio, her program like the magazine, stresses behind-scenes reporting, appealing to all kilocycle fans. Her guest on November 18 is Joan Davis.

Beauty Queen

Blonde Barbara Schultz of Pasadena emerged the winner in the unique beauty contest recently conducted by George Sanders on KWKW's platter-chatter program, "Club 1430". As "Miss KWKW of 1945," pretty Miss Schultz was presented a gold and bronze trophy by station manager Bill Beaton, and received, in addition, a Victory Bond, a trip through RKO motion picture studios and luncheon on the lot, dinner at Ciro's, appearances at bond rallies, football games and, as queen with her court, at the American Legion Armistice Day Ball in Pasadena.

New Studios

Ground breaking ceremonies for the Don Lee Broadcasting System's new $1,250,000 Hollywood studios to be located on Vine Street between Home-wood and Fountain will be held shortly after the first of the year.

The three-story building will feature a 150-foot tower, equipped with an elevator, which will house antennas for television sight and sound and for FM. 90,000 square feet will house the building itself; the balance to be used for a parking lot at the rear.

Main entrance to the new studios will be centered on Vine Street, with employe and talent entrances in the rear of the building. The ground floor will be devoted to studios, with four theater studios seating 350 persons, four medium sized studios, and three smaller studios.

On the second floor, general offices will be located with executive offices on the top floor. The entire building will be air-conditioned and temperature controlled, with liberal use of modern plastics and glass throughout.

What a Life!

A surprise was in store for Dick Powell and his bride, June Allyson, when they returned from a recent jaunt to Palm Springs. They discovered they had been evicted from their apartment.

"Sammy Kaye's Serenade" starts a new winter series on ABC, Sunday, Nov. 18th, at 10:30 a.m. Back on the air with a brand new sponsor, Rayve Shampoo, after a vacation of several weeks, the tuneful rhythms of Sammy Kaye and his orchestra, will be a pleasant addition to your Sunday morning listening. So be on hand to welcome Sammy and his crew!

Another good musical program for your Sunday morning listening is "Remember Hour," heard on ABC-KECA at 11:30. Featuring old songs from memory's treasure-house, and new songs which will be the memory songs of tomorrow, the program is batoned by Basil (Buzz) Adlam, with Richard Wallace on the vocals. Victor Perrin is narrator.

EVERY DAY . . . ALL DAY . . . KECA

During a recent broadcast of his "This Moving World" program (1:30 p.m., Monday through Friday), ABC's Gil Martyn interviewed Hazel Hurst, head of the famed Hazel Hurst Foundation for the education of the blind. Martyn made an appeal for young home-raised dogs, which make the best "Guide Dogs." Since the broadcast, the Foundation has received many offers from dog owners who are willing to give up their pets to aid in this worthy cause. One San Francisco lady has shipped her beloved fourteen-month-old German Shepherd to the Foundation. Miss Hurst says that the dog will be renamed "Gil," in honor of Martyn.

Proving that blindness is no handicap, Chuck Collins, whose "Collins Calling" is heard over KECA on Saturday mornings at 7:45, is blind, but his listeners would never be able to guess it from the ease with which he puts on his show. Chuck reads his scripts, which he produces on a braille typewriter . . . his top reading speed is 250 words a minute which is much faster than most adults can read regular printing.

It isn't done with mirrors, but the added clarity you've no doubt noticed on "Radio Hall of Fame," is done through the use of large glass screens . . . another idea introduced by Paul Whiteman, who has pioneered many new ideas in show business.

To avoid distortion, the screen is placed around the brass section so that those lusty instruments will not drown out the strings, smaller screens enclose the mikes used by soloist Martha Tilton and guests on the program, and so forth. The net result is a show with new clarity and perfection . . . So dial ABC's "Hall of Fame" any Sunday at 3, and you'll see what we mean.

Miss Parson's filmland commentaries are a regular Sunday evening feature on KECA at 6:15 . . . CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY WITH SPELLBOUND

A dramatization based on the history of Radio Station KGFJ will be presented from that independent beginning at 4:30 Saturday afternoon, November 10th, as a part of the observance of Radio's 25th anniversary.

The first broadcast from the recordings of the sound track to the picture "Spellbound" are scheduled for release on KGFJ on Sunday night, November 11th, at 7:00 P. M.

During the regular Sunday evening feature "Overture to Evening," the theme and mood music of "Spellbound" will be featured with various classical selections also scheduled on that broadcast.

One of the nation's earliest commercial outlets, KGFJ is the first 24-hour station in the country and the first in various technical and public service features.

Radio Life Lines

By EVELYN BIGSBY

SIGHT OF WEEK: Frank Morgan with a bottle of bubble fluid, blowing bubbles all over the studio stage at Kraft Music Hall.

SOME CARD: Catherine Card of the Beulah show saved members of her family from possible injury the other night when fire broke out in their San Fernando home. She put out the flames 'single-handed.

THRILLED: "Suspense" producer, Bill Spier, is excited about going before the cameras this week. He'll play the part of a professor in Orson Welles' new picture, "The Stranger."

DISPROPORTIONATE: At a Texas

Victory Bond rally, some lass paid $60,000 for a Hedda Hopper hat. A man bid $10,000 for Eddie Cantor's coat. First time I've heard of a hat costing more than a coat.

PFFT? Have Connie Haines and her fine beau, Bob De Haven, had a split-up? She was seen at Palm Springs the other day with Dick Grey.

TEAM 'EM: Did you hear Phil Harris guesting on Cass Daley's show? There's a combination! Instead of Phil getting his own show and Cass having different guests every week, why not team these two? They really click.

SANTA CLAUS LANE: For the third time (but the first since Pearl Harbor) NBC in cooperation with Hollywood Merchants, will stage the gala Santa Claus Parade of Stars in the opening of Hollywood boulevard's Santa Claus Lane November 23. Already workmen are busy hanging bells and stars across the street and decorators are spraying the silver trees which will flank the light standards. NBC's Hal Bock has his hands full lining up network talent that will ride in specially-decked cars and floats. Stars will appear in the parade in the order of their airtime, beginning with Sunday. Already consenting to help open Santa Claus Lane are Bob Hope, Dinah Shore, Abbott and Costello, Bob Burns, that funny person Art Linkletter and his "People Are Funny" cast, Jack Haley, Eve Arden, Burns and Allen, "Great Gildersleeve," Jack Benny, Judy Canova, Cass Daley, Edgar Bergen, and Bill Bendix. Here's a wonderful chance to glimpse some favorites in holiday mood. A quarter of a million persons are expected to take advantage of the opportunity. Hal promises a real surprise as to who will be Santa Claus.

"HANK" BACK: Joseph Anthony, who used to be "Hank, the Night-watchman," called the other afternoon to tell us he's back in civvies after many months producing radio shows at Camp Crowder. He wants to get back into radio.

SCRIPT'S THE THING: It's too bad if it's true that "Hollywood Mystery Time" is leaving the air, and if it does depart, we'll feel that it's because the script wasn't the thing. To our knowledge, writing on this show has never been anything but a free-lance proposition; which would indicate that the script budget was low. Young and Gloria Blondell, who were good radio actors, did a real job, but were replaced by "names," Constance Moore and Dennis O'Keefe. We've noth-

One of the really great names in American music, SIGMUND ROMBERG, presents his highly listenable program, "An Evening With Romberg," via KFI every Wednesday at 8:30. We hope his show needs no introduction, but if you're a listener who has strayed elsewhere on the dial at that time, please accept this as a personal invitation to an outstanding half-hour of music and song. Mr. Romberg is on hand each week to conduct the program and Frank Gallop tells you some mighty interesting facts about the compositions played by a 45-piece concert orchestra. Another regular attraction on "An Evening With Romberg" is the lovely soprano, Irene Hill. All in all, here's the show that contains just the right ingredients to satisfy every taste. You'll listen this coming Wednesday, won't you?

ALLEN IS BACK IN PRINT. Don't miss the December issue of the American Magazine which carries a picture story about radio's favorite comedian, FRED ALLEN, entitled, "Want a Job at a Million a Year?" Author of the article, Beverly Smith, records the whys and wherefores behind the current Allen airwaves hilarity heard on KFI Sundays at 5:30 p.m. Fred is now making his first regular network appearance since June, 1944 and take it from us, plenty of radio listeners are awfully happy about his return. Give a big hand to NBC—the network more people listen to most!

That popular radio imp, Leroy, on the "GREAT GILDERSLEEVE" program (KFI Sun. 8:00 p.m.) is portrayed by Walter Tetley. This bright young man who is tops in honors for a brat on the air is, in reality, not a bad sort at all. He is, in fact, a thoroughly nice person and one who numbers among the Nation's best actors. Walter started in show business at the age of five when he appeared in vaudeville with a comedy singing act of his own. Two years later a friend of his mother suggested that Walter audition for radio. This was the turning point in Walter's career which brought him fame and fortune by the time he'd reached the age of ten. Like so many of the radio personalities we've talked about in this column, Walter Tetley is a ranch enthusiast, spends most of his time between broadcasts outdoors with his dogs and horses, and makes his home in San Fernando Valley.

PLEASE, TEACHER
 Because the demand from students in colleges all over the Southwest has been so great, Knox Manning, ace newscaster and commentator, is writing a radio handbook outlining the techniques of narrating.

STAR GAZER
 John Griggs, who plays world traveler Roger Elliott on Mutual's "House of Mystery" is vice-president of the United States Rocket Society, the objective of which is to send a rocket to the moon.

MASTER OF MEMORY
 Helen Reed, who supplies the feminine voices on KFWB's "Three Men on a Mike," has memorized four entire Shakespearan roles even though she has never appeared in a Shakespearan play.

STAR'S START
 Hedda Hopper, who is heard on the American Broadcasting Company's "Hedda Hopper Presents," started in show business as a chorus girl on Broadway.

ready for them until December 1, they have decided to move aboard Dick's yawl, "Santana" at Balboa Beach. Dick will drive into town each week for rehearsals and the broadcast of his mutual show, "Rogue's Gallery."

New Papa

Armed Forces Radio Services is just as proud as proud papa Frank O'Connor is over the arrival of his new baby girl. O'Connor is the producer of the popular "Command Performance."

Mrs. O'Connor is doing fine and at this writing little Miss O'Connor is without a name but is happily receiving callers at the Hollywood Hospital.

Once in a Lifetime

Dennis Greene, co-writer with Anthony Boucher on the "Sherlock Holmes" series, can now add "actor" to his credits. He turned thespian on a recent airing of the show.

Greene was so enchanted by the part of a magician known as "The Great Gandolfo... world-staggering illusionist" which he and Boucher created for the story, that he asked if he couldn't interpret the role himself. He did... and now his fellow cast members are inveigling him to give up writing and turn to acting.

ing against Miss Moore and Mr. O'Keefe, but they must have received more money than Carleton and Gloria without turning in performances remarkably different. The point is, no matter who stars in the show, it all goes back to the lines they have to read. If they're not the best that can be afforded, nothing can help the stars or the show. The script is the thing!

WHY NOT? Agreeing that William Keighley sounded like Cecil B. DeMille on Lux, we wonder why he's ballyhooed as "producer?" When the DeMille affair broke last spring, it all came out in the open that Cecil B. had never really produced the show. Fred McKaye does. So why keep up the illusion for an already disillusioned public?

★ ★ STILL WINNING

Al Jarvis, host on KFWB's "Make Believe Ballroom," got his first radio announcing job by auditioning and winning over two-hundred and ninety-nine (by actual count) other people.

Gags of the Week

Mrs. Louise Fischer, 2204 South Hoover St., Los Angeles 7, Calif.

Heard on "The Johnson Family": Papa Johnson: A girl will walk a long way for her complexion—if there's no drugstore on the way.

Gwen Palmer, 1710 Oak Street, Los Angeles 15, Calif.

Heard on Don Norman's "Walkie-Talkie":

Unmarried Lady: The reason I didn't get married was because I didn't get to church on time. I should have got there before all the hims were given out.

William D. Field, 313 West Mooney Drive, San Gabriel, Calif.

Heard on "Three Men On a Mike": Dave: A Wac who was on an assignment in the African jungle, decided to take a bath. She went down to a nearby lake, and took off her clothes, and went in bathing. She was just drying when she saw the Company officer coming toward her. She was quickly buttoning the last button when the C. O. walked to the edge of the lake and said, "Camouflage Battalion—fort-ward march!" Whereupon all the trees around the lake marched away.

Nancy Timken, 11258 Van Buren Avenue, Los Angeles 44, Calif.

Heard on "Take It or Leave It": Phil Baker: When I wouldn't practice my music when I was a kid, my Mother would spank me with a fiddle. That accounts for my musical background.

Heard on the Billie Burke Show:

John Brown (son-in-law): You can't marry this man. You know nothing about him. You have nothing in common. You aren't even the same nationality.

Billie Burke: We aren't even the same sex.

Buddy Shepherd, 1232 1/2 North Cahuenga Blvd., Hollywood, Calif.

Heard on Breneman's "Breakfast in Hollywood":

Corny: I got a job vulcanizing broken watermelons.

Tom: What do you mean—vulcanizing broken watermelons?

Corny: Well, haven't you ever heard of a watermelon patch?

▲ "CLAUDIA" HAS RETURNED to the fold of NBC's "One Man's Family" (Sunday, KFI, 12:30 p.m.). Charming Barbara Fuller plays the part—and is also Barry Fitzgerald's niece on Monday's NBC airing of "His Honor, The Barber."

▲ "LEE-ROY!" SPOUTS "The Great Gildersleeve"—and it is actor Walter Tetley who answers. The show is a "must" for Sunday dialers. (KFI, 8:00 p.m.)

▲ TEEN-AGE SONGSTRESS ON the Hoagy Carmichael show (NBC, KFI, Monday, 6:00 p.m.) is pretty DeLores Crane, who divides her time between school books and sheet music.

▲ "MAYOR LA TRIVIA" IS BACK to the delight of "Fibber McGee and Molly" fans. Actor Gale Gordon is at the microphone again after three years' service in the Coast Guard. (NBC-KFI, Tuesday, 6:30 p.m.)

SEEN ON THE RADIO SCENE

▲ SUCH PASSIVE PURSUITS as reading and composing are merely the spare-time activities of this twosome, Howard "Professor" McNear and Pat "Bill Lance" McGeehan, who are heard on weekly adventure series over NBC-KFI, Saturday, 9:00 p.m.

▲ CHARLES "ANDY" CORRELL (of "Amos 'n' Andy") jubilantly lays the tile he plucked from Herr Hitler's bathroom during his recent jaunt to Berchtesgaden. Tile is set on the actor's "wishing well" walk in the yard of his Holmby Hills home.

▲ THE LATEST IN CHIC COIFFURES is here sported by Judy Canova, who combines the doughnut and posies with a microphone, just to remind the folks of her weekly air stint—Saturday, 7:00 p.m.

▲ HAVING FIRM FAITH in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, we wait patiently for it to clear. It can't happen here. —Gene Lester Photos

◀ WE START OUT TOGETHER, Mike and I, early in the morning to seek the many pleasures afforded in the little country town we call home. Ooops! Rain!

HOW TO

Entertain Your Child

By Cliff Arquette

(Although Cliff Arquette is more widely known as the star of America's "Glamor Manor," he is also the father of a nine-year-old towheaded replica of himself, Michael. They live, with Cliff's mother, in a small home in Sherman Oaks in the San Fernando Valley near Hollywood).

Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.
ABC-KECA

B BEING a photographer by hobby and believing firmly in the adage that "a picture is worth a thousand words," I shall tell my story of "How To Entertain Your Child" with photographs. However, as bit of a preface may I say I realize my role of a parent is a comparatively easy one because I am an inhabitant of the sunny state of California. The wide open spaces, the constant

◀ TWO HOURS LATER: Having waited on the porch for a short while, we decide to make up the time constructively by reading. I believe in setting an example for your children when it comes to selecting material to read—only the highest type literature enters our home.

▲ FIVE MINUTES LATER: You can't read forever—bad on the eyes! But, to keep Mike's mind on a high plane, I try to interest him in photography. 'Where's Abbott and Costello?' he asks. I couldn't find them either, so . . .

weather, make entertaining children a simple thing indeed . . . you just turn them out to pasture, so to speak. These pictures show how I did it one day.

▼ I TRADE SIDES (note German helmet) and get captured.

▲ WE DECIDE TO PLAY SOLDIERS. Mike is a student at Black-Face Military Institute and is sometimes inclined to think he knows all about military drill. Note the snappy "attention!" I give him.

▲ WE PURSUE THE SCIENCE of war and get several Japs in the next few hours. It was fun until . . .

▼ IN NO TIME AT ALL, it seemed, the rain had stopped. "Well, outside, boy," I said paternally, knowing I had played the role of parent well. But then, a third party entered. "Outside, indeed," said my mother. "It's nine o'clock!" And so—a good wash and then to bed. I followed soon after. A day in the out-of-doors of sunny California is sure exhausting!

HERE ARE as many different ways of marking a script as there are of signing your name, and with this issue, Radio Life sets out to prove it. Here are scripts from a dozen Mutual-Don Lee shows... not including Jimmy Scribner, who doesn't need to mark his "Family" parts because he plays all of them; or Noble and Allen, who alone of the Network's actors use one and the same script on "It's Smile Time" and therefore can't.

(Please Turn to Page 35)

IF ANYONE ever mistakes Ken Niles, suave, well tailored, always perfectly manicured appearance for that of a weakling, what a mistake that will be!

Ken, who, among other things, is the master-of-ceremonies-and-hilarity on ABC's "Darts for Dough", is anything but a mild-mannered milque-toast character. 'Tis true, he gives the impression of a walking collar advertisement, but that is only because he is one of the best-dressed, most consistently well-groomed men in Hollywood.

Of course, Ken is not muscle bound. Fact is, he's rather on the slight side. He's precisely the right build for a double-breasted suit and he has several in which he looks slightly more than terrific. And with his suits, which are always in the best of taste, he wears just the right shirts, ties and shoes.

But, about the deception of his appearance.

He's the last guy you'd expect to hike off to the wilds of Montana or any other isolated section of the country, to do some real honest-to-gosh roughin' of it. This is just what Ken Niles does every chance he gets. He loves to get into rough and rug-mill stuff like deer? Well, yes, but only when he can't go for his favorite which is mountain sheep. Give Ken a good gun, a week away from the microphone, some rough country where mountain sheep are known to frequent, and zip, he's on his way. No terrain is too tough or too difficult for Ken if he knows he has a chance to get a shot at those ever-lovin' mountain sheep.

Ken probably suffered more from gas rationing than anyone else in Hollywood. However, he didn't cut any corners, he didn't travel via any method during those war years, but spent his time charting trips and planning his gear for the moment rationing was lifted.

Consequently, when the restrictions were removed, that streak which left Hollywood and reluctantly returned two weeks later was Ken Niles. And what about the bag?

Limited time prohibited Ken from going after mountain sheep, but he and his party did knock down five antelope, three elk (with paid up dues cards), one deer and a mess of trout, arm size. Ken knocked himself off two of the finest sheep it ever was one's pleasure to see. He had to track and ferret out the antelope for many, many tiring hours. That is, it would have been tiring for anyone but Niles. He loved it!

But He's Unhappy

Now, he's back in those fine suits, those expensive shirts and those highly polished shoes.

But, Ken's not happy. Oh, he'll go along doing his job, making millions of people laugh every Sunday afternoon, but his heart won't be in it.

His thoughts will be drifting back to that wind-swept ledge high up on the side of a Montana mountain where perilously perches a sheep, and to the day when he can shoulder his rifle and offer a serious threat to said sheep's life, limb and property.

house leading into the training ring is finished to lend an appearance of a porch) sat old pal, Smiley Burnette, and two of the most life-like dummies we have ever seen. One was a comic Indian and the other was a replica of Gene. "Hi," smiled comedian-cowboy Burnette, who is soon to join Gene in his airshow. "Just dropped by to see what Gene was up to since he got home."

"I lost twenty-two pounds on my recent trip overseas, Smiley," grinned Gene.

"Yeah, and I got 'em," retorted round Smiley pointing to his two-hundred-odd pounds.

"Come on out in the back, and I'll show you around," invited Autry.

As we followed our host, we heard Smiley mutter, "It's too bad I ain't twins, so's part of me could sit here and enjoy this comfortable chair."

Wants Plane

We learned that Gene's motion picture plans are indefinite at the moment, but his pride and joy, the CBS "Melody Ranch" will continue. And he's looking forward to the day when he can own a plane as he's grown fond of flying. "Goodness, yes," he pointed out, "when I get this little woman of mine in a plane I know she can't eat until we land. Every time we go across country she always wants to stop and eat."

As they smiled fondly at one another, the Autrys looked like a happy couple. In contrast to Gene's fairness, Ina Autry is petite and dark. "Yep," grinned Gene, putting an arm around his wife's shoulder, "Marriage is a contract that never runs out. No options either. Been going for eleven years and I hope it goes on for eleven times that many."

Guy Who Gets The Bugler Up

is a pilot in Germany, Dan, who served in the Atlantic Convoy, Mary Ellen, 17, "Static", 14, and Jimmy, 7. "Static's" real name is Nathaniel, but at the age of three weeks, he was held in front of a microphone to bawl a few words. He made so much noise that he was dubbed "Static" and the name still sticks.

"What do you mean—hobbies?" queried Doug, incredulously, as if it were the first time he'd ever heard the word. "Well, I promised Mary, my wife, to clean up the garage—sometime," he added weakly. "And, if I ever had the time, I'd sleep for about three weeks. That would be my hobby. I guess I get my real relaxation reading the funny papers to the kids on Sunday mornings. I really enjoy that more than anything."

Ends Cheerfully

Doug takes his responsibility to his news listeners very seriously. In fact, during the depression, he got so that he hated to keep on reading nothing but bad news. "I got to thinking," he said pensively, "that maybe some poor guy would be coming home after a hard day of looking for work, or watching his bank close down, and that he'd switch on the radio for a little diversion, and there I'd be, with more bad news. Who knows, I said to myself, I might be the last bad news that would send the poor guy out the nearest high window. So I decided to end each broadcast on a cheerful note—no matter what the rest of the news was. Every day, I comb the news for the wackiest, most improbable story I can find. There's usually one somewhere. Then I end the broadcast with that. Half the folks probably think I make them up, but if I get their minds off their troubles and bad news, that's all I care about."

Doug is one of the rarest of all birds in these parts, a native Californian! He was born in San Francisco, went to high school in Alhambra, and college in Berkeley. "I've only had three jobs in my whole life," he confided, "not counting the army . . . managing a Yosemite mountain camp, on the staff of the Times, and my radio work . . . my next move is Forest Lawn."

she had as a little girl. "To be a great singer." "You know," she said, thoughtfully, "there are no limits a singer can't reach, no limit to the possibilities of achievement in singing. I guess that will always be my ambition."

Her favorite songs are those of Rodgers and Hammerstein, Kern, Cole Porter and Gershwin, not only because of their melodic content, but also because of their meaningful and graceful lyrics. She has just recorded Porter's "Night and Day."

Orson Welles, on one of his broadcasts, mentioned Thelma's auspicious debut on the Cantor show, and praised Cantor's good taste in presenting her in the manner in which he would present any talented young girl, without making a point of her race. Thelma regrets that she didn't hear the broadcast, but smiled warmly and sweetly as she told us about it "Now wasn't that nice?" she said.

peared for a couple of years. The "Alphabetical Program Finder" is another good feature. As soon as government regulations permit, let's have a weekly short-wave log.

Why have such a thing as "Diggin Discs" in a radio magazine? Why waste space on a two-page spread of Durante and Moore in clownish poses? We want to see what the people we hear look like, but that stuff doesn't add to the enjoyment of radio. Neither does two or more pages of the private home-life of a personality. That stuff can be found in any movie "fan magazine." We are interested in radio people in their professional capacities, not what they eat, or how much time they spend in their gardens. Let's have more of a magazine dealing with programs instead of gossip and screwball pictures.
