maintain this contract. At risk of engendering a great unrest in the heart of the daily commuter who looks forward to twenty years more on the same 8:05, we outline the reported details of Milton Berle's "life insurance."

First of all, Berle's actual working years are the first twenty of the thirty. (H-m-mmm-m, a sixty-some-year-old Berle keeping up that pace?)

Those twenty years are divided into five-year periods. The first five years, Berle is committed to work thirty-nine weeks. The second five years, only twenty-five weeks. This work is as a performer, in both cases.

During the next five-year period and the next, Berle need never set foot on a stage. (But we bet he will!) His work, under the contract, would be as a producer-writer-director-production consultant. Each five-year period commits him to only a half-year's work out of each year.

Easy Street

The last ten years are "Uncle Miltie's" own. He need not bow, when passing, in the direction of the RCA building, nor even pass through NBC's portals. But he will still collect the somewhere-around-$50,000 yearly the celestial contract calls for.

All this in addition to the money Mr. Texaco gives to Mr. Berle each week, and the take from guest appearances on other shows and at other networks.

Like all true fans, we feel that it couldn't have happened to a better Berle! Milton was first with the most, and rightfully earned his "Mr. Television" moniker.

Carry On

But we can't help wondering what will happen if Mr. Berle wants to go on in the role that won him his "dream deal," as one of the big trade journals called it. At fifty and sixty and seventy, will Milton Berle still be the capering, whooping, whistling singer, comedian and dancer who changed Tuesday night to "Berle night" in millions of American homes?

Our accompanying pictures show what we think could happen if "Uncle Miltie" sticks by the spotlight to the last day of his unheard-of thirty-year contract.

Another improbable occurs. Just "what if" a great game of taxes and wages were to go on in America during the next thirty years. The commuter of the 8:05 is still riding, but making a million dollars a year so he can live after paying taxes. And poor Berle would be stuck with his thirty-year contract! Of course, being Berle, he would make great television jokes about its tenure. Being Berle, he would also moan aloud . . . "I should live so long!"

Tuesday, 8:00 p.m.
NBC-TV, KNBII, Channel 4

UNCLE MILTIE" is one performer who most certainly will avoid the uncertain fate of fading from the limelight to the status of a forgotten pauper for whom fellow actors put on "benefits." (This has happened to some of yesteryear's big-timers.)

For Milton Berle, in March of this year, signed a thirty-year contract with NBC-RCA. Berle, born in 1908, is in his early forties. When his contract, which actually amounts to an "annuity," expires, the bearded Berle will be in his early seventies!

Life Insurance

Nor does it seem that Mr. Television will have to break his back to

"Queen for a Day" Model Grew Up on Television

Thursday, 7 p.m.
KTSL, Channel 2
Monday thru Friday, 11:30 a.m.
KHJ, KGB

JUNE LYDEN, one of the pages who poses, plays and performs before the camera, but never steals the show in video's version of "Queen for a Day," has grown up in the still infant television industry. June was fortunate enough to be born neither too early nor too late, for when she started modeling feminine fashions in Los Angeles department stores, television was just opening its arms to young hopefuls who could face camera and win applause. About two years ago June started modeling nylons for the commercials on "Queen for a Day." As a free-lance performer she also did modeling jobs on other television shows. With her measurements . . . height 5 feet 6 inches, weight 115 pounds, bust 34 inches, waist 24 inches and hips 34 inches . . . this was not difficult for her. June was "born" on television with the birth of the video "Queen for a Day" show. She also appeared as a page in some of the movie scenes of the broadcast and made a public appearance with the airshow at Camp Pendleton. At Camp Pendleton, she felt she came through the acid test, because "soldiers are a difficult audience to work to."

Her Mother Helped

She gives her mother a great deal of the credit for starting her off in the direction of modeling, with speech, posture and poise training. Her mother seemed to remember to give each of June's brothers and sisters a push in the direction of show business. Perhaps it is because her mother, who came from Holland at the age of seventeen to this country, has always harbored ideas about the theater, dancing and being an actress.

When June talks about her own first steps into television she can not help but mention her sisters, Roxane, age three, and Marlene, age eleven, and her brother, Robert, who is eight years old. They're all in the same business and are truly babes in a young industry. She is proud of the radio acting, television film performances and movie roles they have had. There have been times when she has given her young brother and sisters pointers on modeling, but she admits that they have more acting roles to their credit than she does. Because June's career has thus far been centered around doing commercials and modeling, her young brother said in surprise after viewing her first speaking part, "Oh, at last they've given you something to say." Much of the conversation around the Lyden dinner table or family circle is about show business, June admits. It seems her father is the only one who is not in it. No, June has never worked in a show with any of the young members of her family, but she hopes to some day. Whenever June does a stint on the video screen, the little ones of her household come to her

Rumors & Flying

That Congoleum will not, as we suggested weeks ago, be the sponsor for Dave Carro show next fall. Armour is rumored as having show for a continued run on NBC-TV, and on KNBH. The cast will be retained. . . . NB Gildersleeve is prepping for television. . . television networks will be literally crawling with mystery and adventure series, signed as surrogates, while some of the stars take vacations—we get a little weary of famous faces (and long for a meaty plot and some solid action!). . . . That KECA-TV will come up with a band next month—just to bring the nurse when Lorraine Cugat's twenty-piece outfit for sixty minutes a week. That adds up to of girl-musician entertainment every seven days!

That Roy Rogers and Dale Evans are ready to deal that will enable us to watch their screens early next fall. These two should be hotcakes. . . . The pitch is on to obtain Rosilyn rights for 1952, with NBC and CBS both at a Pacific Coast Conference meeting in Los Angeles recently. . . . "The Egg and I," to star Dickie Eddie Albert, is being tele-tested by CBS.

His Eminence, Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Chicago, recently accepted an invitation Radio Corporation to attend a special demonstration this week, during the Eighth Annual Convention of the Catholic Theatre Conference . . . Red-haired glamour girl Rhonda Fleming . . . being eyed by CBS-TV for a summer video layout. She sings even better than she looks. . . . CBS-TV's regular schedule of tinted television shows bows on June 25 at 4:30 p.m. Arthur Godfrey's red hair will be prominent among the hues, as he has been elected to kick off the telecast. But don't get excited—all this goes on in the East, with only the cable-connected cities benefiting. . . . You can't plan what football games you will see next fall until the game is actually under way, apparently. Right now half of Penn's Ivy League pals are refusing to play Penn (it insists on allowing the TV camera into the stadium despite NCAA's edict of "No TV!"); one at least, California, is vacillating, and a couple more will go along with televised games. Our bet is that the state legislature will force the state-supported schools to allow television, Athletic Association or no, so that the folks whose taxes (or a share thereof) go to schools can enjoy the grid tilts at home.

Phil Baker and Jan Murray were named the best-dressed men in television and radio by Barbizon Models, and we couldn't care less. We'd rather watch a favorite perform than count his creases and cravats! . . . KTLA has acquired some heretofore unseen-on-TV movie shows for the followers of movie fare to enjoy. Included (among the many star vehicles) are "Dragnet" with Henry Wilcox, Mary Brian and Virginia Dale; "Highway 13" with Robert Lowery and Pamela Blake, and six almost brand-new Westerns. All the pictures have production dates of 1946, '47, '48 and on up to '50. . . . KTTV recently signed Joe Adams, leading Negro disc jockey in the West, to the staff of the station as announcer-producer. Adams's first show debuted Tuesday, June 19, with him starring as emcee on a production-musical half hour featuring an all-Negro cast. Joe is scheduled to appear in many of the station's on-the-spot telecasts as well as other programs. Joe is a native son, having lived all his life in Watts. He was formerly assistant producer for a leading platter pilot on radio KFWE; signed: with Santa Monica's feedbox of a little enterprise called the American Telephone and Telegraph Company (which just celebrated a steenth successful anniversary and its millionth happy stockholder!) on the celebrated—but incomplete—coaxial cable. Somewhere in the course of the report the subject in question became a coast-to-coast micro-wave relay—but nevertheless, we are happy to quote our friend quoting from AT&T. Now we all know as much as the phone company:

"The transcontinental relay system is being built primarily for telephone service. Initially, the Omaha-San Francisco section will be provided with four channels, two in each direction. One channel in each direction will be used for telephone service. The remaining channel in each direction will be used for protection of telephone service and, subject to this requirement and any requirements brought on by the national emergency, would be available for TV service. . . . The construction of the new system has not advanced sufficiently to enable us to determine with any degree of certainty when it can be placed in service for TV. Until we know more specifically when and to what extent these facilities will be available for TV, and know the over-all requirements for TV service on this route, we shall be unable to act upon requests of network broadcasters. It is expected (and here our friend used capital letters, EXPECTED) that the Omaha-San Francisco section may be available for TV use by late 1951. . . ."

KFI-TV Sold

When KFI-TV, Channel 9, went on the block a week or more ago, to be snatched up by General Tire and Rubber Company, the purchase portended far more than the sale of a television channel and its facilities.

It means for one thing that General Tire, which owns the Yankee Network (radio), which in turn owns a healthy part of the Mutual network, is now in a fine position to establish yet another television network. It could immediately set up a net with outlets in four major markets, and from far smaller acorns than this have mighty oaks grown and grown. Yankee owns WNAC-TV in Boston. Mutual owns WOR-TV, in New York, and WGN, a fellow stockholder in Mutual, owns WGN-TV, in Chicago. Linking these four, the owners could establish that fifth network which would immediately be competition for NBC-TV, CBS-TV, the new United Paramount-ABC, and DuMont. Members of the Gimbel family, of department-store fame, are also Mutual shareholders, and have an application pending for a Philadelphia station. It, too, would probably tie in with the General Tire web.

"Is that bad?" is the logical question. It would prove an aggravation only because the four existent networks are already chopping at one another to get more and more time on the network facilities which exist. Many areas contain but a single station, and the coaxial cable is constructed to carry only so many shows in each direction. With everyone scrambling for time, those station owners could pick and choose and would find themselves far greater bargaining power.

Earle C. Anthony's reasons for getting out of TV, aside from the money consideration (Channel 9 has been said to be in the red to the tune of $40,000 monthly from the station's inception two years ago) have not been given. Rumor has it that Anthony's resentment toward union had something to do with the sale. While Anthony does pay the union scale to his performers, Television Authority was still striking his Channel 9 station so Anthony would sign an AFRA contract.

The television station sold for $2,500,000, and a change of ownership will be effected immediately upon FCC approval. It is also locally hinted that radio outlet KFI may go on the block, with NBC picking up the station which has served as its local outlet for many years.

A week or so ago the Paramount station premiered a governmental-documentary designed to present education

KOWL as its first disc jockey; and served in World War II with the 99th Pursuit Squadron. . . . Ronson is dropping "Twenty Questions" from both television and the air, in favor of greatly expanded television coverage with a big new variety TV show, plus an important radio show. We look forward to the new, but we certainly hope some wise sponsor hops on that "Twenty Questions" routine for our continued enjoyment. . . . It was the camera, not a horse, which set a new speed record at the recent Kentucky Derby. Although the Derby was not televised in action, TV Station WAVE in Cambridge, Massachusetts, broke all records by flashing a picture of "Count Turf" on the screen just fifteen minutes after he galloped across the finish line. A sixty-second Polaroid Land camera and a motorcycle messenger turned the trick, and therein lies a suggestion for our hinterland stations not currently enjoying cable facilities.

in democratic government combined with fine entertainment. Show is a thirty-minute stanza, appearing but once a month. Joe Micciche, radio and TV coordinator for Los Angeles County, emcees. Frank Allen Hubbell, noted composer and conductor, conducts the sixteen-piece Los Angeles County orchestra on the show.

The program is set up to tell viewers about the county in which they live—about its government and problems—including freeway, school, smog and other problems. It will depict 101 years of progress in the county government, utilizing still photos from 1850 through 1951. For the first time in our history, every branch of county government will be brought together to put the program on the air. The County Art Institute will do the art work; props will come from the Mechanical Department; photos and motion-picture films from the Flood Control, and Air Pollution Control departments, writing from the county clerks, etc.

The opening show featured Roger W. Jessup, chairman of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors; John teGroen, president of the Professional Musicians' Association of Los Angeles; soloist Elizabeth Waldo, noted violinist; the Gabriel Ruiz California Dancers—all in native costume. Also on view was a special film on smog, featuring the story of how industry is trying to solve its problem.

All of us in range of KTLA's beam (within reason, of course) should by the mere fact of geography be mighty interested in Los Angeles County and what goes on therein for our good. This monthly hour is as fine a way as we can find to dig into the wheels behind scenes. It literally does combine information with entertainment. Seems we once heard someone drop the remark that this is what television is so ideally designed for: information plus entertainment.

"Range Rider"

Thursday, 7:00 p.m.
KNEB, Channel 4

One of the principal reasons we first watched Jack Mahoney in one of his "Range Rider" series was that we heard he works in moccasins. We kept on watching because both the tall athlete and the stories in which he appears are unlike many of the booted, spurred and cautious crew who have formerly appeared on TV. Jack fights all his own battles on the TV films in which he stars.

The former Marine pilot from World War II had been in Hollywood for a few years, doubling for motion-picture stars in epics calling for plenty of action, leaps, falls and other dangerous moments. Of course when you are six feet, four inches tall, a recognized athlete of long standing and a crack rider, this isn't quite as hazardous work as it might have seemed to some of the stars for whom Jack engaged in fisticuffs and fell off cliffs.

Nor does Mahoney have a special suit of clothes which identifies him whenever the screen lights up. He keeps to plain frontiersman-type shirts and jackets and rides a plain brown horse. In his "Range Rider" adventures he is always accompanied, hampered (many and many a Thursday night we have groaned and wondered just why the scripters find it necessary to make him quite that stupid!) and abetted by "Dick West, All-American Boy," played by Dick Jones, a twenty-three-year-old Hollywood discovery.

In any mention of this exciting film series, we must credit fully directors Armand Schaefer and Lou Grey, and the cameramen who pick up superlative shots of the countryside. The series is made even better by intelligent filming—always a treat.

"Roving Camera"

Tuesday, 7:15 p.m.

For the odd and unusual, twist your dial to "Roving Camera," a featurette newsreel. We enjoyed the items in focus on a recent telecast.

Katherine Jones, a woman game warden, surprised a lawbreaker hunting on a state refuge. Oklahoma's middle-aged crack shot, Mrs. Jones, has the appearance of your next-door neighbor instead of a law enforcer. Perhaps that's the reason that law violators are doubly surprised when she hands them a summons. Her adeptness at ridative and educational. It is high-caliber production evades stuffiness by John ...'s chatty interviews with his guests: A recent telecast, "Memo From Britain—1945," depicted the civilian population during the war and how they were geared for civilian defense. Mr. and Mrs. Galboath, associates of the British Information Service, were guests, and they discussed Britain today and then. They brought the audience up to date on current conditions . . . meat shortages . . . women in industry . . . plans for rebuilding the devastated cities. The Korean situation made Britons take another notch in their austerity belts, as more women returned to industry and men to service. A high point of the discussion was The Festival of Britain. This rededication of England's landmarks and rebirth of her culture holds appeal for American tourists.

Another interesting session was viewed when "Time" probed the fascinating guidance methods at Yale's famed Gesell Institute of Child Development. The scientific study of growing children was explained and colorfully demonstrated by Dr. Arnold Gesell, leading authority on child development.

The film in this series is excellent, which adds another plus to this interesting video fare.

Second Glances (Critical Comment)

We Point With Pride

. . . To the work of TV-RL's "own" Elsie Baker in the new Forest Lawn-sponsored series of Biblical stories appearing on KNBH, Elsie Baker will first be viewed as "Deborah" in the story of "Isaac and Rebecca." She's a fine actress, as you will see. . . The trip by camera through industrial plants seems to be a popular pastime and show idea in TV. The very best we have seen is KNBH's Thursday at 7:45 p.m. "Industry on Parade." The commentary is outstandingly fine, and every industry shown, big or small, from Stuben Glass to new life for old metals; from shellfish catching on a big scale to ceramics; from custard-pie baking to inventing check-cancelling machines, is all made so clear to the layman viewer that this fifteen-minute segment stands head and shoulders above some of the more ambitious brother shows. Some of the bigger ones are bogged down into an uninteresting morass of good camera work by the lack of ability on the part of the annotator.

We View With Alarm

. . . The sighings and puffings that go on during the Saturday afternoon at 5:00 "CBS Editors' Roundup." We wouldn't want to miss this show and we do benefit greatly, news-wise, from the background and analytical findings of the real news experts, but the groans, pauses and wheezings while the boys "think" (as they dissect) is one of the most tiresome sets of sound effects ever encountered. Any group who think that well certainly can think a little faster.

. . . The corn-pone accent employed by the announcer delineating the delights of "Ghost Riders." If the delivery is designed to sound like an old cowpoke's, the man behind the mike had better look into cowpokerly a little more closely!

. . . The apparent inability of the production crew on the CBS-TV Alan Young Show, formerly seen on KTSL, to carry out the spectacular ideas they generate. For instance (and this was, to us, a painfully obvious example), a few weeks ago, during the "man from Mars" routine, absolutely nothing happened. The sequence built and built. Then all of a sudden away went the cast et al, save stooge Alan and the man from Mars. They milled aimlessly around the set, Alan delivered a punch line that was no punch line at all, and the curtain descended. Earlier in the same show Alan scrambled in and out of a huge iron stove with no payoff to the situation. We may be wrong, and unable to dig underplaying, but it seems to us that on more occasions than is necessary the "situation comedy" on the Alan Young show is based on no situation at all! Of course, as fans and ratings prove, Alan's own personality and wonderful, comical impersonations save the day, but can't we enjoy both Alan and the situations into which he is thrown by sharper scripting?

Ina Ray Hutton's penchant for always being out of breath. It results in an ever-present "pretty confusion" as the little maestro attempts to introduce her acts of the evening, and a redundancy that may be mighty cute when you are at a theater watching, but which becomes tiresome on the TV screen every week. Any hostess should be a poised hostess.

The Jerry Colonna Show

Wednesday, 10:00 p.m.
KECA-TV, Channel 7

If Jerry Colonna weren't possessed of a distinctive howl, a pair of rolling eyes and a drooping, luxuriant mustache, all of which in themselves are chuckle-provoking, his initial show, at least, would have come off no better than a trip through an empty airplane hangar. By that we mean there were only occasional glimpses of the interesting, tucked in corners here and there.

The first two shows we have seen began with whimsical make-believes: Colonna as a roving reporter; as the pilot of a to-the-moon rocket; or as a commentator, TV-set repairman or inventor; funny bits we thought should have gone on longer.

Straight portion of the show slowed down, even with Frankie Laine on deck. His songs, as always, were a highly diverting few moments, but when Laine sank into a barber chair and received the inevitable lathering . . . nothing.

The show is bound to be Jerry's from beginning to end, and if ever a talent was capable in a dozen different ways of holding down a TV half hour, it is he.

Jerry's mustache, high notes, perfect timing and skill on a trombone will, we hope, be exploited fully. Few people realize, unless they have attended a local jazz concert and seen Colonna hitting it up with the best of "cats," that long before he was identified as a comedian Jerry played with Benny Goodman, Artie Shaw, Paul Whiteman, Bunny Berigan, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey and Gus Haenschen. His vocal caricatures of "Road to Mandalay," etc., have concealed the fact that he is actually an accomplished singer and a composer.

It was his antics and sense of the ridiculous which drew him from the music world onto the radio shows of Fred Allen, into movies, and finally into partnership with Bob Hope on the latter's radio show.

The actual presentation of Colonna in a TV show was well done. Stuart Phelps directed, Joe Bigelow, who knows comedy backward and forward, produced, and Cookie Fairchild and his boys provided the music. All good ingredients of what must be a fine TV comedy show when the blending is finished and the right proportions reached. Right now we think the batter needs a liberal helping of a fine ingredient called "Colonna." It should stand out, not be subordinated to other "stuff."

NEXT WEEK

Two of our favorite comedians are taking the plunge into TV, except that they aren't. . . . For details see our next week's cover story. A two-word hint: A. and A.

HAUNTED
...by HARD WATER

If you have the hard luck to have to wash clothes in hard water... DON'T resort to soap-substitutes and short-cut washing methods. Continued use of these methods is bound to turn your clothes dull and gray... leave your washing loaded with chemical deposits and accumulated dirt. If you want to banish the hard-water bugaboo... here's the sensible, scientific way to do it. Switch to WHITE KING'S new "1-2." Try it in your automatic or conventional type washing machine. See how WHITE KING WATER SOFTENER softens your wash-water without forming scum. See how little WHITE KING SOAP it takes to make an abundance of rich, active, dirt-getting soapsuds. See how EASY it is to turn out a clean, sweet, color-bright wash... even in the hardest water, when you use the TWO.

Remember...when water is hard- the way to DO is to use the "TWO"!

1 SOFTEN the water with WHITE KING WATER SOFTENER until the water feels slippery to the touch!

2 ADD enough WHITE KING SOAP to make a good 2 inches of standing suds!

NOW wash your clothes. The continuous use of the White King "1-2" washing method helps get rid of the chemicals, spots and stains which soap substitutes leave in your clothes. It helps restore the natural softness and original colors of your washables. It saves much of the soap you have been using.

WARNING! Some clothes are so gray and stained from the use of soap substitutes that they need to be RECONDITIONED, and we recommend a special washing as follows: Put clothes through one wash period, using 1 to 1½ measuring cups of White King Water Softener according to the capacity of your washer... but use no soap! Wring or spin clothes from this water. Then wash again, using both White King Water Softener and White King Soap according to the "1-2" method given above. (CLOTHES NEED TO BE RECONDITIONED ONLY ONCE.)

Radio in Review

For Love o' Mike. (General Comment)

Looks Like

Jack Pearl, alias "Baron Munchausen," is the long-awaited summer replacement for "Fibber McGee and Molly," who'll be back as usual in the fall. . . . Producer Nat Wolff, scripter Don Quinn and actress Edna Best are preparing a legit-theater version of "Halls of Ivy" which John Guedel may produce. . . . NBC will air two additional MGM shows, entitled "At Home With Lionel Barrymore," and John Nesbitt's "Passing Parade." . . . Kitty Kallen will vocalize a fifteen-minute weekly program come fall. . . . Bill Stern's NBC "Sports Newsreel" has been canceled by the sponsor after twelve years on the air. . . . DJ Al Endicott has started a midnight-to-4-a.m. stint for KGIL. . . . "Hollywood Star Playhouse" moves to ABC July 26 as a sustaining ainer after being dropped by sponsor on CBS. Director Jack Johnstone and musical director Jeff Alexander stay with the show.

ABC is taking a new tack to please feminine soap-opera fans. They plan some Western radio serials for women listeners, with rough-riding romancing cowboys in the saddle. . . . Don McNeill's Breakfast Club marks its eighteenth anniversary on ABC June 22. . . . "Songs for Sale" replaces "Sing It Again" on the summer radio schedule. . . . Mario Lanza plans to tape-record seventeen of his summer shows in the next seven weeks. . . . Ben Wright, English radio actor who is featured in one of TV-Radio Life's upcoming stories, has been signed to play "Inspector Peter Black" in the airshow "Pursuit." He will take over July 10. . . . Wright will marry Muriel Hill, Los Angeles social worker, early in September. . . . Mutual's "Family Theater" will continue on the air during the summer, for the fifth consecutive year.

Rumors Are Flying

NBC is planning to revive the soap opera "Thanks for Tomorrow," a serial that was aired a couple of seasons ago, with the starring role set for Charles Boyer. . . . Al Pearce, who has vacated radio for some time, may return soon with his "Elmer Blurt" door-to-door salesman characterization. . . . Sam Hearn has become a favorite with his "Mr. Jacoby" character and may get a network show featuring the role.

Vacation Schedules for CBS Newsmen

CBS's summer vacation schedule has set newsman Edward R. Murrow off from July 2 to August 24, when he will be replaced by Don Hollenbeck; Lowell Thomas, vacationing from July 2 to August 24, with Ron Cochran substituting for him; and Douglas Edwards will take it easy from July 30 to August 17, when his spot will be taken over by "Wendy Warren and the News."

Dwight Cooke

Dwight Cooke will broadcast from Portugal a series of special survey programs covering economic and political conditions in that country. While in Portugal, he will attend the convention of the International Chamber of Commerce. The presence of delegates at this convention from all over the world will enable Mr. Cooke to interview important personalities on conditions in many countries, on a special CBS "You and the World" airshow late this month.

"Non-Traveling Notes"

Al Woodbury, who holds the baton on "Music With the Girls," featured in this issue of TV-Radio Life, has given up travel-type music-making in favor of on-the-spot Hollywood work. Word of Woodbury's resignation from Page Sixteen.

the all-girl group was announced as we went to press this week.

KMPC in Clear

Recommendation by the FCC examiner that the charges against KMPC be dropped and licenses of the late G. A. Richards's stations be renewed was announced last week by KMPC. The moves were based on the theory that Richards's death last May 27 made the charges out of order.

At the same time, a boy baby weighing six pounds, six ounces was announced as born to the former Rozene Richards, now Mrs. Sibley Moore. Rozene, well remembered in Los Angeles, attended Stanford. She married a couple of years ago and now makes her home in Detroit, where her husband is a director and secretary-treasurer of WJR and also serves as a director of WGAR in Cleveland. Mr. Moore is expected to fill a similar position on KMPC's board.

The Mario Lanza Show

Sunday, 5:00 p.m.
CBS-KNX

Delightful listening, summer, winter or any time at all, is the wondrously toned voice of Mario Lanza. In the case of his new series, he's putting a much needed spark in hot-weather radio-ing and also taking the quickest possible road to personal air-type fame.

Only one thing about Lanza's performance leaves us dubious—as golden as his tenor tones seem, can he retain the breathtaking pace with which he takes and sustains the high notes?—even to a relatively untrained ear, he seems to be straining at the bit on some selections, like a few notes in last Sunday's vocalizing of "Granada."

Maybe we're skeptical about a miraculous talent because it's just that—too good to be true—but eighteen or so weeks hence, we'll be more able to tell.

Music encompassed a pleasingly varied range and struck an even balance between classical favorites like Toselli's "Serenade" and Lanza's own current "Be My Love." The latter was definitely smart showcasing for Lanza as both a full ballad and opening show theme, as were introductory commentaries on other songs which pointed up Lanza's current "Caruso" picture. Luckily such commercial sideliights added to rather than detracted from Lanza's billing.

First of Lanza's guests was "Club 15" vocalite Gisele MacKenzie, who sustained the show's "pop" note with sprightly chirped ballads. The whole was excellently backed by Ray Sinatra's orchestra, which also managed a couple of highly effective instrumental numbers.

Diversity, well-paced commercials, good backing and the Lanza voice indeed spell an excellent half hour that we won't miss during our coming summer Sundays.

Gaston Fischer

Saturday, 1:45 p.m.
KNX

When Gaston Fischer talks about the news, he brings into his radio conversations all the rich background which gives listeners an intelligent idea of what happened before an event hit the headlines. As an analyst, he ranks especially high at this time, because much of the significant reporting is being done in the Far East, a territory which is very familiar to Fischer.

In a recent broadcast, Fischer quoted a letter from a friend of his who is at present in the Communistic China area. He is to be commended for this, as it gave the listener first-hand information, as well as opinions, from the scene of action. Fischer explains why certain historic events have occurred, along with interpreting the relative significance to other world and national problems. His analysis is chock-full of opinions, as any authoritative commentary should be, but is not prejudiced nor sensational. Whether one agrees with Fischer or not, his Page Eighteen

Saturday coverage of the week's news is well worth making a regular listening post.

He was born Georges Gaston Fischer on September 21, 1914, in Shanghai, China, of a French mother and an Austrian father, but became an Italian subject shortly after the first World War, when his father, legal advisor to the Italian Consulate in Shanghai, was made an Italian citizen by royal decree.

During his childhood, Fischer traveled extensively in China and Japan with his parents, until 1927 when his mother took him to Europe to continue his studies. They crossed Siberia and Russia by the old Trans-Siberian railway and in fourteen days arrived in Moscow.

Fischer attended school in Paris, then went to Switzerland for four years of study and finally entered Oxford University as a student in law. He graduated in 1935 and was called to the bar at Middle Temple, London, in 1936.

In 1935 he visited the United States for the second time (the first was in 1922 with his mother).

With his father he spent several weeks in Los Angeles, where the American Bar Association was holding its 1935 convention and the elder Fischer had been invited to lecture on Chinese law.

Back in London and admitted to the bar, Fischer had practiced for only a few months when he was called to Italy for military service. He was discharged a second lieutenant in 1938 and returned to Paris, where he entered famed Sorbonne University.

Fischer had planned to join his father's law firm in Shanghai, but his father advised against it, in view of Japanese aggressions.

So he came to the United States, entered the University of Missouri's school of journalism and got a degree.

In the spring of 1940, he joined United Press in New York City, where he served as assistant Latin-American editor on the war desk, handling the China-Burma-India dispatches. He joined CBS in New York in 1944, writing master scripts for the foreign department which short-waved the news to Europe and Latin America in cooperation with the U.S. State Department. In 1945 he became a naturalized American citizen; in 1947 he joined the CBS news staff in Hollywood.

Fischer speaks French, Italian, German and English fluently, has a reading knowledge of Spanish. The Chinese and Japanese he knew as a child, he has forgotten, he says.

Fischer acquired not only another degree at the University of Missouri, but a wife as well. He married Anne Sonin, a Kansas City, Missouri, girl and a fellow student at the University in August, 1939. They have three daughters—Mary, seven, Lucie, four, and Gige, sixteen months old. "Gige," he explains, is a contraction of Georgette, who was named for her father and mother in that order. His three daughters, according to Fischer, would make him a lesser man than his father, in the eyes of the Chinese. He recalls the Chinese used to say of his father: "Dr. Fischer very clever man, has only sons."

Dr. Fischer did have three sons and their present whereabouts and activities are completely in keeping with this cosmopolitan family. Raoul Fischer is an engineer in Shanghai, and the family has managed to keep in touch with him despite the Communist conquest. The other brother, Dr. Edmond Fischer, is associate professor of bacteriology at the University of Geneva.

About the Gaston—as Georges Gaston Fischer he came to Hollywood, but already established here was movie commentator George Fisher. To avoid the confusion, Fischer dropped the Georges and became Gaston.

favorite to other set-siders. This might easily be the case with the musical airshow presented in such a consistently pleasant manner by "The Choraliers" and the Wittnauer "Symphonette."

Host Frank Knight does more than introduce each song by name. He precedes the music with an imaginative, often nostalgic narration . . . part poetry . . . as an invitation to the listener to lend an ear to some choral arrangements. Each selection is a melodious blending of male and female voices, in which many of the vocalists' performances are a notch or two above the average masculine or feminine crooner's. Besides the outstanding vocal treatment, each musical offering of "The Choraliers" shows the touch of a music master who cares about his artistry.

A recent airing of this broadcast included a rendition of "I'm Falling in Love," "Trees" and "Valencia." Music by this well integrated group presents old favorites in a new way, but without resorting to a shocking treatment merely for the sake of being different. Few evenings with this radio show could possibly prove unsatisfying to the listener, as the selections are highly diversified and adequately contrasting to satiate almost any musical appetite. Even the commercials are pleasantly easy to take, and by their dignity, diction and intention hold the listener's attention and linger in his memory almost as long as the popular tunes played.

After a half hour of "The Choraliers" there can be little doubt that it is the sort of program which is true to its touting . . . "one that the whole family will enjoy."

Playbacks (Critical Comment)

We Point With Pride

... To the very noticeable improvement in Phil Regan's delivery. Evidently it took a few weeks of programming to bring him out of the somewhat stilted type of reading he's been giving on his shows.

... To the inimitable Fran Allison, who's just as graciously at home as the "Quiz Kids" answer-lady as she is on other TV and radio assignments. Her warm sincerity is always apparent.

... To the talented combination of Alfred Wallenstein and Patrice Munsel that spelled wonderful music on U. S. Steel's first summer concert.

Off Mike (Personalities)

"Lux" Soundman

If they were handing out awards for radio's noisiest man, Charles Forsyth, exclusive soundman for CBS's "Lux Radio Theatre," would be nosing out many other candidates. He is celebrating his fifteenth anniversary with the show. During the decade and a half that he has held forth in the sound booth high above the Vine Street Playhouse stage, he has created some 75,000 effects for the popular air drama.

When "Lux" goes off for the summer months, Forsyth takes himself on a "busman's holiday." In a sound truck equipped with 300 feet of cable, four microphones, recording apparatus, a camera and a heavy fishing pole which he uses to reel in the mike from the end of the cable, he takes rugged expeditions in search of new and authentic sounds. Among the most exciting noises he can re-create are the rattle of a striking snake and the buzz of attacking bees.

As a child, Forsyth started out with musical aspirations, and at one time formed his own dance orchestra, but loved to tinker with noise-making devices too much to give it up. Today he has a sound-effects library which is valued at an estimated $25,000.

TV-RADIO

Lifelines

BY EVELYN BIGSBY

JOHNNY GRANT, BILL LEYDEN, Bill Baldwin and several more popular disc jockeys showed up for the press preview of Jimmy Dorsey's Palladium stint the night before. J.D. and his ork opened at the Hollywood amusement spot. The preview is something rather new (I think publicist Barney McDevitt dreamed it up) and it combines a 6:30 buffet supper with an 8 o'clock dance concert program. The affairs have grown so popular that, I understand, lots of people try to crash these invitational affairs.

DORSEY AND HIS ORCHESTRA put on a fine program for the enjoyment of most of the guests. Unfortunately, a few of the people attending wouldn't join the others seated in the improvised theater in the center of the huge dance floor, and these folks chattered so noisily they spoiled some of the good music. There was feeling that those unable to show their hosts and entertainers proper courtesy should have gone elsewhere to drink and eat. However, nothing short of deafening thunder could have impaired enjoyment of such numbers as "Muskrat Ramble" and "South Rampart Street Parade" by the "Dorseyland Jazz Band."

MARGARET WHITING WAS lapping it up. Her "little sister," Barbara, was there too, with Dan Dailey, but they left early. Frances Scully attended, despite her concern over one of her dearest friends, gravely ill in the hospital. Frances is now quite settled in the house she bought on North Plymouth after years of renting near U.S.C.

ANOTHER FUN PARTY this past week was given by orchestra leader Frank Worth at his lovely home in The Valley. It was a Sunday afternoon garden affair highlighted by music from Worth's talented musicians, who injected plenty of comedy into playing the "William Tell Overture" and similar favorites. The smallest of Frank's four sons, Chris, tickled everyone by solemnly standing alongside his daddy while Frank batoned the selections. Hedda Hopper, with a hat decorated with lemons, was quite gay and danced with the fiddle player. Everyone was having such a good time and the music sounded so attractive that neighbors' heads popped up over the tops of all the garden walls surrounding the Worth place. They didn't want to miss anything either.

ON THURSDAY FOREST LAWN held a private showing of its new TV program, "The Living Book," and afterward entertained at a small luncheon in the Derby's American Room. I sat next to one of the company's executives, Mr. Llewellyn, who told me that almost 80,000 sightseers had visited Forest Lawn between late March and late May. Many were out-of-state travelers who were eager to see The Last Supper and the recently installed Crucifixion painting. It costs about $30,000 a year to provide such guests with guides and other courtesies, but most people are well mannered and considerate, he said. Main problem right now seems to be women who show up to see The Crucifixion and have neglected to dress properly. Those in shorts and bra tops are turned away.

I ASKED MR. LLEWELLYN what he thought of the various and constant radio jokes about Forest Lawn. He said people at the company always heard them or heard of them and did not like the practice at all. How to stop it is something else again which might serve merely to accentuate the problem. I told him that our readers had always taken violent sides on the "Digger O'Dell" character on "Life of Riley."

THAT SAME EVENING there was a color showing of three "The Living Book" films. They were exceptionally good. Afterward, guests remained for The Crucifixion unveiling and commentary by Wendell Noble. Go see this if you haven't. It's worth the effort.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON I WAS INVITED to take

LUIGI MUST REDUCE

J. Carrol Naish, star of KXX's "Life With Luigi," is being considered for the lead being considered for the leading role of "Gandhi," to be filmed in Bombay, India. There is one hitch, however; Naish must lose a considerable amount of weight before he can hope to portray this important role.

Record Notes to You

By ANDY MANSFIELD

Best-of-the-week discings in vocal, instrumental and classic divisions are those waxed by Peggy Lee (Capitol), Russ Morgan (Decca) and Vienna Opera Company (Capitol-Telefunken). Peg turns in top performances on "Tonight You Belong to Me" and "I Get Ideas," with its melody borrowed from "Adios Muchachos." Full orchestral backing by Billy May excellently showcases the gal's sincere, intimate styling. Music in the Morgan Manner features instrumental versions of "Wang Wang Blues" and "Sophisticated Swing" with the maestro's trombone in prominence for dancing. Soloists and orchestra of the Vienna Opera Company are heard on LP-Microgroove edition of Verdi's ill-fated "Don Carlo." Scenes from Act Three of the opera and its magnificent music are fine examples of Verdi's talent in the pre-"Aida" era. . . . Herb Jeffries (Coral) has a pair of hit potentials in his easy, relaxed waxings of "Wonder Why," and "Dark Is the Night," both moderate-tempo'd ballads. . . . Frankie Laine (Mercury) does a rhythm version of "The Gang That Sang Heart of My Heart" and "You Left Me Out in the Rain" to small orchestra backing by Harry Geller that has plenty of beat; plus humor on the "Rain" side with tenor saxist's sobby, teary solo. . . . Johnny Hodges Orch. (Mercury) includes some ex-Duke men for top jazz etchings of "Castle Rock" and "Jeep's Blues," with some stellar sax work by Al Sears and Hodges. . . . Sarah Vaughn (Columbia) lends her usual individual styling against Paul Weston backing to "My Reverie" and "Van-ity." Both vocals cling to the melody generally, with several distinctive Vaughnisms to stamp them as such. . . . Tennessee Ernie and Kay Starr (Capitol) could have one of the hottest items on shellac in "You're My Sugar" and "Oceans of Tears," both in a tempo that defies daisy-picking for sure. . . . Margaret Whiting (Capitol) plays Lullaby Lady in "This Little Piggie Went to Market" and "Hoppy, Topper and Me," both in melodic vein. Surprise ending to "Hoppy" has the Black-Shirted One himself saying good night. . . . Andrews Sisters (Decca) get the credit, but it's our gal Patty who does the singing for "I'm in Love Again" and "It Never Entered My Mind" with plenty of that smooth Gordon Jenkins backing that does so much to determine a platter's hit possibilities. . . . A. M.

Radio Lifelines

tea with Carolyn Burke, an energetic young lady who has been going places with TV in New York ever since she exited Hollywood a few years ago. Carolyn is applying for a channel in TVless Portland, her home city. She already has adequate financial backing and after a brief vacation in Mexico is returning to New York to pack in more and more TV know-how against the day the FCC will grant the highly anticipated license.

CAROLYN, WHO IS A DOLL—petite, pert and dark—already has definite ideas on programming, and I don't think Portland will have to worry about its video fare if she cooks it: I gather that one of her big aims is to get the Rose Festival on camera, preferably in color.

CBS-KNX IS BUSILY PITCHING summer radio, as you may have noted. We go along with this idea all the way, for it has always seemed ridiculous to drop radio in summer like a hot potato. When people have vacation and time to relax, they'll listen to the radio—if not at home, then in the car and with their portables on the beaches. According to the network's survey, sixty per cent of Southern California families do not leave their homes during the summer and more than one million vacationers visit here and spend more than $146,911,000. If that's a slump, we should have more of it.

Radiomites

By Norma Jean Nilsson

Rosemary and Patty Iannone celebrated their fourth year on KTLA with a beautiful cake on Fantastick Studios Ink last Saturday. The next day, Rosemary and Patty went fishing with little Alice, Jr. and Phyllis Harris at the Sportsman's Lodge.

Nine-year-old Jimmy Hawkins, who plays "Donald" on KECA-TV's "The Ruggles," has equal billing with Lew Ayres in "City of Hope," a special film on the new cancer hospital in Duarte, Calif. I watched a great deal of the TV and radio marathon which this station put on last Saturday and Sunday and it should be very proud of the good it did. So many of my very own friends stayed up all night and worked so hard for this great cause.

Jill Oppenheim has a role in "Chicago Calling" at Motion Picture Center.

Aileen Leslie has signed radiomites Jimmie Sommers and Judson Bess for roles in her TV version of "A Date With Judy." This will come from New York.

Patrick Miller is a real hero with a sore finger. Pat's Lhasa terrier got into a fight with the neighborhood dog bully, and Pat, trying to save his little terrier, was bitten on the hand. Pat didn't like the cauterization but he enjoys being a hero and all the fuss that people are making over him.

And speaking of animals, here's a cute one. When General Douglas MacArthur alighted from his plane at San Francisco, Eileen Janssen and her family were sitting in front of their TV set, like thousands of other families. Just as the General came into view, the family cat let out a meow. Eileen turned, and lo and behold, she had given birth to a tiny kitten. When Eileen discovered it had five rings around its tail, they promptly named it The Five-Star General. . . Eileen will be starting her next starring role at Republic in July.

It will be kids day on "The Blandings" for their final show of the season with Sammy Ogg, Jeanine Roose, Stuffie Singer, Patty King, Jeffrey Silver, and me, all running in and out of the script. Cary Grant and Betsy Drake are so nice to work with and Mr. Grant gets right down with the kids and becomes one of them. Kids always do their best when the stars are so considerate.

I bumped into a lot of radiomites at Eileen Janssen's beautiful birthday party recently. There were Karen Kester, looking so pretty, and Michael Miller, who has just finished an educational short for Republic, and Michael Chapin, who did so many "Family Theaters" before he became Republic's young Western star. His co-star, you know, is Eileen. Donald Rode, who appears often on "Children's Church," is a wonderful dancer, and talented Steve Salinas was there, too. Diane Rode and Gary Thompson, as a dancing couple, won first prize. There were over forty children so I won't have space to mention all their names but I do want to say that Eileen was very sweet and gracious to everyone. My present to her was a year's subscription to (you guessed it) TV-RADIO LIFE and a wish that she lives happily to be 101.

Joel Nestler and Jill Oppenheim modeled at the annual fashion show held recently at the Ambassador Hotel. Jill, by the way, made her "Lux" debut a while back in "Cheaper by the Dozen."

Don't forget the AFRA FIESTA June 28, and remember the date so you won't be late.

Well, so long kids, see you next week, and remember, when there's news in your bean, call Norma Jean.

Ear and Eye Inspire the Pen

Dorothy Gardiner and Dick Gar-ton, "Handy Hints," KTLA, Los Angeles, Calif.

In answer to the letter sent in by Mrs. R. C. Olson, of Alhambra, and to clear up the meaning of "Handy Hints," we would like to say that we never ask people to submit original jokes for the reason that we realize there are "no such." All jokes are but different twists of a half-dozen joke patterns. As for the "Handy Hints," we are sure that everyone is aware that no two persons could read every publication that could possibly carry a suggestion that would be sent in as a "Handy Hint." We have always left this discrimination up to the honesty of our audience. And we always like to believe that they are one-hundred per cent perfect.

Mrs. Mark Harrington, 3712 Gardenia, Long Beach, Calif.

I wish to add my protest to the picture of Faye Emerson on your recent cover.

Enjoy your magazine very much and always buy it, but I hated to have my young son see that picture in our home.

Mrs. C. R. Cruise, 10833 Inez St., Whittier, Calif.

I would certainly like to add my two cents' worth to the two letters I read in the June 1 copy of your beloved magazine, against the Hummert serials. They are terrible and are turned off by my family one by one as they come on. How does the writer get by with such dribble year after year? I particularly object to the habit of "Stella Dallas"—mixing prayers with her murders and horrors.

I like soap operas in general, they lighten my houseworking hours, but I like them well written—some, such as the Hummerts', are an insult to the listeners' intelligence, and it is good that people are beginning to gripe.

Mrs. Aubrey Long, 596 West Grand Avenue, Pomona, Calif.

I would like to know who to write to regarding a program we and our friends enjoyed as about the best on TV that for some reason or other has been discontinued. The "Backstage with NTG" program is the one I am referring to. My complaint might not do any good, but it won't do any harm either, to try to get him back on his interesting and educational program.

You may inquire about the show by writing to KTSL, Columbia Square, Hollywood 28. However, N.T.G. is still emceeing "Hollywood Road to Fame," Friday evenings from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., also on KTSL, Channel 2.

"Topsy Never Grewed Like This!"

In June's home there are no jealousies, "because we each play such different roles, and as for ideas about all of us or any one of us becoming a star . . . that's out, because as far as our careers go, it's just another job with us . . . another bond in the bank . . . and we know stars come and go. . . . None of us are living with the idea that we are going to be a star tomorrow. . . . Co-starring parts are very satisfying . . . and we just like to make a living doing something that's fun."

During her spare time, June does some ceramic work and sews her own clothes, but admits to having "very little time to myself." Although still a youngster, June has already learned that the secret of being successful on stage is "being yourself, because anything phony shows up." For June, who does a great many commercials, part of her talent is in "keeping my mouth shut during a commercial . . . you have to learn when to talk and when not to."

With June and all the little Lydens it's show business, all right, but they realize that "if every job we get is better than the last one, we know we're on our way . . . and we'd rather not jump into a leading role, but work into it gradually."

Handy Hints

By Dorothy Gardiner and Dick Gar-ton, stars of KTLA's "Handy Hints." Monday through Friday, 6:45 p.m.

Each week we pick the best Handy Hint sent directly to TV-Radio Life, 6361 Selma Avenue, Hollywood 28, and use it, with your name and address, in this column as well as on the air over KTLA, Friday evening at 6:45. A lovely gift will be sent to everyone whose hint is used here as KTLA-TV-Radio Life Hint of the week.

Here is this week's winner: Mrs. J. Skaron, 1009 S. Hidalgo Ave., Alhambra, Calif.

The hint is:

The next time your child brings you short-stemmed flowers, place them in a shallow bowl filled with sand that has been thoroughly soaked with water. You'll find the flowers will stand up straight and are easy to arrange.

CAN YOU TELL A HARD-BOILED EGG FROM A FRESH ONE IF THEY SHOULD GET MIXED UP? Here's how. Spin the eggs; the hard-boiled egg will spin fast and long, but the fresh or unboiled egg will not.

A BIRD CAGE (WITH STAND) WILL MAKE A VERY NICE PLANTER. Put a semi-deep tray filled with rich dirt in the cage. Then fill with plants such as you would use in a planter. If you wish, you can enamel the cage and stand.

DON'T THROW AWAY THOSE EMPTY OATMEAL BOXES. Instead they may be used as a hat rack. Just cover them with gay gift-wrapping paper or wallpaper. Just cut the paper to fit the box, glue it on and let dry. Then when dry you have a very nice hat rack for your frilly bonnets.

"Music With the Girls"

Each Member of This Versatile All-Girl
Orchestra and Chorus Doubles in Brass

ON STAGE, THE ALL-GIRL orchestra and chorus present an imposing picture. They are backed up by the capable announcing of Marilyn Wilson (insert) and "coached" by talented musical director Al Woodbury (right), who sometimes has reason to dislike the sound of his own work. (NBC-Smith photos.)

Sunday, 6:30 p.m., NBC-KFI
Saturday, 11:30 a.m., CBS-KNX

THE SIXTY-GIRL Hormel caravan gave Hollywood, a city renowned for its good talent, a glimpse of one of the most unique entertainment units in the business on its recent Southland visit.

It is the only group of its kind in the nation — one which travels from coast to coast, presenting two network radio programs and at least two stage shows a week; and one whose every member is a crack saleswoman!

This artistic and practical-minded venture began in 1947, when Jay C. Hormel organized a drum and bugle corps, composed of twelve ex-service girls, for the "Spam" post of the Austin, Minnesota, American Legion, and as a merchandising unit for Hormel foods. From this nucleus grew today's popular radio and stage unit.

Traveling in a car caravan of thirty-three white autos and five trucks carrying instruments, music and a portable radio control booth with all the equipment necessary to broadcast and stage their shows, the girls lead an action-packed existence. Frequent "breaks," with pay, ally the high-speed working times. Ten days off every two months, with a liberal travel allowance to take them home, keep the girls enthusiastic over their work.

All are over twenty-one . . . spend much of their time sightseeing and are generally camera-"happy." The group's cameras range from brownies to eight- and sixteen-millimeter movie-takers. Many of the lovely girls can sing as well as dance and play instruments. Their versatility is an amazing thing to watch, as show producer Bill Conner, who's been with the troupe for three years, still attests.

"A truck accidentally ran over her cello, so one of the girls left the orchestra for the dance corps," he recalls.

When they are on the road, the girls' schedule is as strenuous as it is varied. In teams of two, they visit stores as public-relations representatives for their sponsor. Returning to headquarters, they prepare the evening's or next day's programs, which are usually staged in American Legion halls, theaters, radio stations, or (increasingly) at service camps.

Personnel manager Nancy Bollinger receives hundreds of request-applications each month from girls who want to join the talented travelers. She schedules on-the-air auditions for promising applicants whenever the troupe visits in or near their home towns. "Marriage causes most of our 'casualties,'" she explains.

EDDIE RODRIGUEZ claims he's the most fortunate man in town, and upon investigation, we learned that he is a most deserving fellow.

Eddie is emcee of KFVD's "Buenos Dias" program, combining disc-jockeying, public-service announcements and commercials. The program is bilingual and appeals to listeners both young and old. Eddie has been nicknamed "The Mexican Arthur Godfrey" by his many fans. His radio delivery is friendly, informal, ad-lib and sincere. In addition to spinning top Mexican tunes, he concentrates on public-service features.

His files are bulging with letters of appreciation and gratitude from various civic groups such as the Red Cross, Community Chest, and X-ray Foundation. Broadcasting to the Latin population (Los Angeles is the second largest Mexican community in the world) has resulted in better understanding and cooperation. In the recent Los Angeles County X-Ray Drive, the response from the Mexican group reached unprecedented numbers. Because of his efforts the Spanish-speaking citizens of Los Angeles have been helped to acquire a feeling of "belonging," and have responded to this cloak of recognition.

Enthusiasm and humility are Eddie Rodriguez' two outstanding characteristics. Despite his busy routine he has a methodical sense of organization with a typical mañana flavor. Eddie left his native Mexico at a pre-school age and settled with his family in "El Pueblo de Nuestra Señora, La Reina de Los Angeles de Porciuncula," otherwise known as Los Angeles.

"There was nothing unusual about my childhood; I just grew like Topsy," volunteered Eddie. "I assimilated American customs and cultures along with my Mexican heritage as I grew. I barely finished high school when old devil finances compelled me to affix a social-security number after my name." Laughingly he recalled, "After several odd and sundry jobs, I found my services engaged for various civic celebrations whenever the knowledge of Spanish and English was required.

"My experience with a microphone and public-address system gradually led to a rounded apprenticeship at KPMP, Pomona. Pomona was excellent training for the early-morning farmer's hour at which my KFVD program is broadcast."

Upon request, Eddie listed Mexico's "pop" favorites. Mexico, with its gay music, has popularity polls comparable to ours. Heading the list are Maria Victoria, blues singer; Pedro Vargas, Mexico's Bing Crosby; Pedro Infante, hillbilly or ranchero singer; Los Panchos Trio (compares to our King Cole Trio); Ruben Reyes, the local Sinatra, and Lalo Guerrero, vocalist of novelty tunes. (His Mexican versions of "The Thing" and "Mule Train" have reached phenomenal sales.)

Supplementing his radio activities, Eddie Rodriguez is a contributing editor to various Spanish-language magazines and newspapers. And whenever there's a huge promotion campaign afoot which is directed to the Mexican group, you'll usually find Eddie right in the midst of all the promoting.

Eddie also provides the bilingual commercials and introduces the films on KFI-TV's "Spanish Film Hour," which screens the best of Mexican films. Spanish commercials run longer than their English counterparts. Just for fun, try saying "blonde oak" in Spanish and discover how many more words are employed.

Señor Rodriguez has little spare time for a hobby or diversion. His family of four occupy whatever free time is available.

SOME MONTHS ago, Bill Gwinn and his partner, Jesse Martin, started a half-hour show on the ABC-TV network. It was then called "It Could Happen to You." The new title is merely The Bill Gwinn Show.

Fate in Song Form

Premise of the show finds a re-activated candid eye catching moments of personal song history. Couples from all parts of the country are invited to visit the program and relive the circumstances surrounding a song which materially changed the course of their lives. Triumph of the moment arrives when the audience chooses a grand-prize winner of the day, awarding that couple everything in a carload of prizes from vacation to luggage.

On one occasion, a hotel room, a violin and the song "I Don't Stand a Ghost of a Chance With You" took the spotlight. "Cotton-Eyed Joe" changed another couple's life radically, but not the way planned. Still another scene was laid in New York's Chinatown in a restaurant, where the song "Together" and good food found themselves mixed.

It has probably never crossed Bill's mind that fate could never have directed his contestants along more divergent paths than those Bill himself has followed.

Music Changed His Life

"The Trolley Song," "Little Red Schoolhouse," "Anchors Aweigh" and "Lohengrin" Are Those Tunes on Which the Major Changes Are Hinged

Jack of All Arts

Singer, student, head of a college-formed band bound on a world cruise, college professor, writer and finally television headliner have been Bill's roles. He is now a member of the Laguna Beach fire department, complete with helmet and red suspenders. Songs played a huge part.

No one song changed Bill's life. It has been almost all song of one sort and another.

His career began to the tune of the cable cars, for Bill was born and raised in San Francisco. (to this day he praises that city to the skies), where he applied his vocal talents early in the role of extra with the San Francisco Opera Company chorus.

Prior to attending Stanford University in Palo Alto, Bill went to a private school, exaggerating the reason with "I went there when I found I couldn't get out of a public school." Fortunately, at this private school, he was encouraged in the dramatic abilities that turned him into what Bill himself self-abnegatingly terms "a real little ham."

As a student at Stanford, Bill stuck his oar into everything musical and dramatic, meanwhile getting his teaching credits. After college he kept to this natural vocation by hiring his college-formed band out for a world cruise, on which he had time to play the saxophone to his heart's content and to develop his singing. Sadly enough, Bill can't today even remember the theme of this happy little aggregation.

The next departure came when Bill spent nine years as head of the drama and speech department at the College of Marin, about 100 miles away from his beloved San Francisco.

Radio's Call

It was the strains of "Anchors Aweigh" that indirectly led Bill into radio. While awaiting a Navy commission, he turned to work on a San Francisco station. He wrote, he sang, he emceed and acted. Later, when an opening occurred in Hollywood, Bill was immediately drafted to lead the fun on a popular show, "What's the Name of That Song?" Most apropos. This half hour turned into a simulcast, and Bill was established for TV.

It was at Stanford, while studying in the English Department, that Gwinn met and won Dortha White. Lohengrin was the music of this joining. Bill Junior, ten, and Michael, eight, with their mother, form the trio who join Bill in his leisure hours of song or sport, at their lovely Emerald Bay beach home.

All the Gwinn family are avid record collectors.

station or network. Another novel feature of this air newspaper program is that all the proceeds from the broadcast are turned over to the Radio News Club. The objective of the Radio News Club itself, which quite naturally lends impetus to the work of the guests, is "to help elevate professional radio news standards in the broadcasting industry." This club is purely a professional group. Among its five presidents have been Chet Huntley, Clete Roberts, James McNamara, Al Gordon and David Anderson.

At the close of each broadcast the last few minutes are devoted to predictions and a backward glance at what the previous week's panel did with its predictions. Also, from time to time key national figures are "grilled" by the newsmen. One Friday night Larry Thor predicted that the Allied troops would once again cross the 38th Parallel in Korea and at another time Spud Corliss, formerly of ABC and now with the Los Angeles Times, went out on a limb to say that crime-curbing legislation would soon follow the Kefauver senatorial crime investigation.

GEORGE LEWIN, KLAC-TV, guesting radio newsmen on "News Is Our Business," has no personal telephone connection with President Truman, and yet he predicted on April 6 that General MacArthur would be relieved within a very short time and that General Matthew Ridgway would replace him as Supreme Allied Commander in Japan and in the Korean War. Lewin not only made his startling and almost clairvoyant prediction, but he argued his point with three other Los Angeles radio newsmen.

Once a week four members of the sixty-five-member Los Angeles Radio News Club gather around the news table to talk over the giant-sized headlines which have spelled out the historic events of the previous week. Al Gordon, KFWB News and Special Events Director, is in charge of the newspaper round-up. Under his guiding hand such men as Bob Garred, ABC newscaster; David Anderson, NBC and KNBH news commentator; Clete Roberts, KFWB and KLAC-TV newsmen; James McNamara, KLAC-TV news director; Chet Huntley, ABC radio newsmen; Larry Thor, free-lance artist and formerly of CBS; and George Martin, Jr., KTTV news commentator, have culled the daily newspaper reports. Each week the guesting key newscasters vary, as do the divergent opinions held by these men.

News Analysis

News director Al Gordon gives the radio men free rein to discuss any subject worthy of news coverage, and appoints a moderator for each mike meeting. The entire format and flavor of the program is pointed toward news analysis, rather than straight reporting. A roster of the radio voices which have appeared on "News Is Our Business" would be proof enough that all the guests are well qualified to digest news in an authoritative manner for a wide listening audience.

"News Is Our Business" offers radio's highest ranking newsmen a chance to take a busman's holiday, and that is exactly what they do when they get together with opposing opinions which are given and taken in a spirited but amiable fashion. It gives club members a chance to toss the news around, and perhaps in some instances fight it out, but in the process they lay the week's news on the table for the benefit of their club as well as radio listeners.

Men of Music -- Rudy Schrager

No. 89 of a Series

By Donna Scott

RUDY SCHRAGER, musical director for "Lux Radio Theater," graciously invited us into his music library for a chat. This man of music, white-haired and smiling, was completely charming and we talked endlessly about his favorite subject—music and more music. Be it jazz, symphonic, musical comedy or opera, he loves them all.

Rudy has been associated with "Lux Theater" for fourteen years, serving until last season as assistant to Lou Silvers. Rudy received Silvers' baton when the latter resigned. The resignation and promotion were an unexpected surprise, but Rudy was well equipped to handle his new chores, for in addition to his radio work he has scored music for many motion pictures. Some of them are Charlie Chaplin's "M. Verdoux," "Sleep My Love," and Disney's "Treasure Island."

Musical scoring for a dramatic show has its own peculiar problems, as you probably realize. Rudy reads the script each week and minutely studies the plot and tempo of the story. For an allotted air sequence of perhaps four or five seconds he must compose appropriate mood music so that the listener can visualize the scene. The music is so well coordinated with the script that many listeners may not realize the importance of the scoring. But the music is an integral part of the script; just try listening to an hour-long dramatization without a musical background! We venture you would find it a long sixty minutes.

Other "Musts"

The direction of the music must be flexible. If an actor reads his part too slowly or too rapidly, Rudy must make the necessary adjustments in the orchestra's timing to avoid any embarrassment or disruption of continuity. His musicians have keen powers of concentration and are capable of split-second change in playing a bar of music or even one note.

Born in New York City on August 28, 1908, Rudy inherited his musical inclinations from his father, who was a singer. Papa Schrager started his offspring on his musical career at an early age. Rudy was proficient at the piano and pipe organ before he completed grammar school. His formal music education included study at New York University, the Juilliard School of Music and the University of Southern California. During vaudeville's heyday he was an organist, later a pianist and finally an orchestra leader for the Loew's and B. F. Keith vaudeville circuits.

He is married and has one daughter,

Susan, who is eight years old. He and his wife, Dorothy, a former floral designer, live in West Los Angeles.

One of the most distressing situations Rudy Schrager has experienced as musical director for "Lux Theater" was a last-minute switch of scripts when music clearance was not granted on a musical-comedy story. At the eleventh hour a new script was substituted and while the cast were feverishly learning their new lines, Rudy, at wits' end, composed a complete new score for the revised program.

"After such rare occasions as this," sighed Rudy, "I take off to some secluded spot for deep-sea fishing, where the only timing I have to contend with is that of pulling in my line when I feel a nibble at the other end."
