Is There Chance for New Faces on TV?

Horace Heidt Talks About His Youth Program on Television

By Arlene Garber

FOUR YEARS ago Horace Heidt started hopscotching around the country developing his "Original Youth Opportunity Program." Today his great aim is to send many more such talented young performers into homes throughout the country via television.

Every night when it's "Family Night With Horace Heidt" on KLAC-TV, at least twenty of those young artists whom Heidt discovered on his cross-country talent search appear in front of the TV cameras. We asked this popular music man, who is world-famous for his work in helping unknown youngsters up the ladder of success, what he thought about TV as a medium for discovering talent.

Tremendous Opportunities

He said, "The opportunity for young people to perform on TV is tremendous. In the old days a beginner had to play the vaudeville circuits for eight or ten years before he was known. Now one TV appearance can do it. You're either in or out after your first video showing. All a beginner has to do today after guesting on a TV show is to go down to the nearest gas station the day after the act was on and ask the gas attendant if he liked it. The public today knows what is good and what is not good."

Heidt was a little hesitant about defining in a few words the word "amateur." He explained it this way: "I never considered anybody on our show an amateur. We had very complicated auditions for young people who wanted to join our group. These kids were not amateurs, they were American youth who were getting their first big opportunity. I guess an amateur is the person who goes on for the first time."

We asked him whether he thought there were still a great number of undiscovered artists in this country.

"Yes, there are a tremendous number of unknowns. Why, if we took a good swing of America tomorrow we could come up with ten stars."

At present Heidt's TV show originates from the KLAC-TV studio, and according to Heidt there is not much chance of the telecast originating from his "Youth Opportunity Ranch" near Hollywood, because of technical problems.

New Faces on TV

He remarked that getting a start in television was "like starting all over again for me. Networks were all looking for comedy routines when I believed in a sincere family show. But that's an old story with me."

Heidt believes that his search for brand-new acts is just the thing television needs and television is just the opportunity the unknowns need.

▲ HORACE HEIDT seldom finds time to relax like this with his young son, Junior, because of demands for television, radio and commercial enterprises.

He said he had told more than one TV executive, "You want new faces on TV? Our show does nothing but introduce talent, new faces."

In the future Heidt will continue to divide his time between television, personal appearances, radio and his "Youth Opportunity Ranch." Television will be his main interest, and he said, "We stick together out here on the ranch and we'll expand this thing into national scope soon."

LYZABETH LYNCH, one of Heidt's discoveries, joins the music man in a musical arrangement on his KLAC telecast. ▶

▲ BOB KELLEY, THE CONTROVERSIAL KID FOR KMPC, is once again calling the play-by-play shots for all the home and away games of the Los Angeles Angels.

▲ ALTHOUGH MARK SCOTT IS A NEWCOMER to the West Coast this year, he's no "rookie" when it comes to handling the mike chores for the Hollywood Stars. (Cleaton and Tiufus photo.)

FOR BUSINESS purposes, sometimes a "war" can be a good thing. It stimulates competition and arouses public interest.

If the radio stations were ever eager for such a battle, certainly KMPC and KFWB of Los Angeles have had that opportunity during the current baseball season.

First of all, the rivalry between the Hollywood and Los Angeles ball clubs has always been a natural.

KMPC, with Bob Kelley calling the shots, has been handling the Angels games exclusively ever since 1948. Well known for his provocative broadcasts, Kelley has never left any doubt in anyone's mind that he is strictly an Angel booster.

This year KFWB also decided to go all-out for baseball by obtaining rights to broadcast all the home and away games of the Hollywood Stars. To handle the play-by-play accounts of the games, the station and the Stars chose a newcomer to the West Coast, Mark Scott.

Battle Begins

At the beginning of the season both stations launched heavy promotion campaigns. They bought billboard displays and heavy advertising in the local papers. Most significant of all, each station had an average of thirty spot announcements every day on the air, stressing baseball coverage.

However, a "radio war," like any other conflict, isn't very effective unless personalities are involved. Certainly here was a chance for Kelley.

Are KFWB and KMPC Engaged in

A "Baseball War" on Radio?

By Ted Hilgenstuhler

who has been known to criticize other announcers and writers, to really let loose with some of his sharp remarks. It was also an opportunity for young Scott to come on the scene with a verbal crash.

The fans waited. But nothing happened. Nothing happened, that is, except some very exciting ball games (including several eighteen-inning marathons) and some excellent play-by-play accounts by both Kelley and Scott.

The name of Bob Kelley is familiar to all Southern California sports fans, especially for his work with the Angels and the Los Angeles Rams, professional football champions.

Mark Scott

Originally from Chicago, where he won seven letters in high school, Mark Scott was also a three-letter man at the University of Illinois. Before getting his "big break" out here he did some sports announcing in Indiana and Virginia, specializing in baseball. Relatively an unknown before hitting the West Coast, he has already received high praise for his style from both laymen and experts.

Since both of these men are usually on the air at the same time, they don't get a chance to hear each other very often. However, what they have heard, they have liked.

"I'm giving it to you straight," Mark commented one night after a ball game at Gilmore Field, "I think Kelley is one of the best in the country."

And Kelley: "I've not only met Mark personally and like him, but I've caught him occasionally on the air, and think he does a swell job."

How are you going to start a "radio war" on baseball when two "opponents" talk like that about each other?

THE CREW OF SIX who weekly erect one of boxing's finest rings look about for the perfect place to start erection of the portable ring. ➡

EVERY WEEK, for viewers only, the top amateur boxing champions of the nation slug it out. By now the eyes of probably every sports promoter in the country are fixed gloomily on Hollywood and this entry into the rich sports-promotion field. With reason.

Not only are the boxers the best of the amateurs, but the studios in which they fight provide the best ring possible. No box-office arena could afford the sort of equipment which is rushed into construction weekly. Showers, locker space and a padded fight ring run into real dough. An ordinary arena, with box-office take, can't afford this sort of thing. But TV can. That's because there isn't a stadium in the country, even filled to capacity, that can play to as many people as exist in the TV audience. And that TV audience pays for the arena, the showers, the lockers and the fight announcers through the powerful figure known today as the sponsor.

TV Will Elect the Next President!

by Douglas Edwards

(CBS-TV correspondent, who is now covering the conventions at Chicago, expresses his opinion in this exclusive story for TV-Radio Life).

I may not be able to predict who will be our next president but I certainly can predict with confidence who will elect that president. It will be you, the television audience. You who own those 17,300,000 television sets now in operation throughout the country and you non-owners who are frequent visitors in the homes of your friends who do.

It is a wonderful thing that you television viewers will play so important a role in the coming election because you are the best-informed people not only in this country but anywhere in the world. It has long been our philosophy that if you give the American people the facts they will make the right decisions. This election should help prove it.

Unprecedented

Never before in American history will a presidential candidate be seen and heard by so many millions of Americans. In the past no matter how widely a presidential candidate traveled he could see and be seen by only the smallest fraction of the people who will see him campaign on television this year. With the advent of radio, a candidate was able to reach with his voice millions of Americans who, for the first time, were able to hear words spoken by a candidate.

In the 1948 presidential campaign, the candidates were seen as well as heard by many people who had been denied this privilege in previous elections—but with only 403,000 television sets in homes—that number was small, indeed, compared to the people who will see and hear the candidates on their television sets this year.

You people with television sets are able to hear answers from the candidates and their spokesmen to the kind of questions you would ask them if you were able to sit in the same room with them and, what is equally important, you are able to watch them as they give those answers. You learn much about the candidate's ability to deal with the people around him, the kind of impression he will make on representatives of business, labor and foreign governments, the very people he will have to deal with if he is elected president. You are able to hear and see him as he expresses his position on the vital issues of the campaign.

Lots of Work

CBS-TV made elaborate plans for the coverage of the conventions themselves. One entire wing of the second floor of that colossal amphitheatre five miles from the Loop in Chicago is being taken over by the radio and television networks.

Although the cameras on the floor of the amphitheatre are pooled, with each network contributing part of the equipment and part of the personnel, CBS-TV is doing a number of special originations in which Edward R. Murrow, Walter Cronkite and I, together with some fourteen other CBS correspondents, are taking part. We cover committee meetings and conferences that go on behind the scenes in hotel rooms where important decisions are being made. We bring before the CBS television cameras for interviews delegates, candidates, and all sorts of interesting personalities at the convention.

The national committee members are evidencing tremendous interest in the television coverage of the convention and are constantly asking us questions about ways to get maximum effect. They are interested in discovering the kind of decorations, the kind of music and the type of lighting which will be most effective on television.

Mr. President—No Stranger

Thirteen weeks prior to election day, Westinghouse will sponsor on CBS-TV a special series of programs aimed at getting out the vote. The series is being planned so that it will be a new kind of Lincoln-Douglas debate. Spokesmen for each candidate will debate on each of thirteen major campaign issues which CBS-TV will select for coverage on this series. The national committees are being asked to select their best-qualified spokesman on each issue so the television audience will have a clear understanding of just where each candidate stands on these vital questions.

When the sound and the fury have subsided and November 4 rolls around, the man who is elected president of the United States will be known by more people than any government official anywhere in the world. They will know better than any people have ever known what their president looks like, what his voice sounds like and for what he stands.

Did You Know?

... That when you see the India jungle adventures in "Smilin' Ed's Gang," the Frank Ferrin-produced film series on CBS-TV on Saturday mornings, you are seeing some of the only authentic backgrounds in TV? It took three months in India, filming jungles, animals and natives, to get it.

Korla Pandit

... That the absence of commercials on Korla Pandit's show is the work of sponsor Manchester Boddy, owner of the Descanso Gardens? A station announcement says it is his "desire to present the best classical music program in Southern California TV" that prompted his generous move. We also bet his desire keeps the Korla Pandit fans from going howling mad at the thought of a commercial "desecrating" something that exquisite and enjoyable.

This Week in TV-Continued

"Bouquet of Roses" composer Eddy Arnold for the summer; that NBC-TV may team Tony Martin and Kay Starr in a TV song series; that Notre Dame is taking up the cudgels against NCAA football regulations, tabbing them "unfair"?

"Let's Go Dancing"

Wednesday, 8:30 p.m.
 KNBH, Channel 4

It's been established pretty well that for the long haul among dancers, ricky-ticky is the ticket. Apparently this holds among listeners, too. Favorable comment from people not even present led us to watch the Palladium's Wednesday night "Let's Go Dancing." Benny Strong, leader of the band that to us still sounds like a blend of Shep Fields and Orrin Tucker, is a welcome new personality.

The band has a great danceableness. Vocalist Lola Ameche, the original "Pretty-Eyed Baby" girl, and Lenny Carson both come over TV very well. But it's Strong's show for us. Years of dancing and emcee work stand the maestro in excellent stead. By the way, if you read this before Wednesday, July 9, note that this is the night Benny Strong is going to dance for the TV camera. (He promised!)

Production is fine on the show, with enough cameras in use and every one of them handled well. It's well worth watching.—J.P.

Gail Davis is whirling around in Westerns. After winding up her stint in the title role of "Annie Oakley" for TV, she went immediately into the role of Gene Autry's leading lady in the movie "Winning of the West." Now she's doing a "Range Rider" series, also for TV.

half hour called "TV Jockey Club" is seen Sunday at 8:00 p.m. of Channel 2. The children, who act as jockeys and weigh in with their own age groups, do their thundering around far turns and heading up the stretch with questions or answers that send their horses ahead on a big board. The weekly prize is, fittingly enough, a Shetland pony.

... To a package of talent as fresh as a bundle of laundry in the person of pert Patsy Prescott Phoenix TV headliner who visited Hollywood and Ina Ray Hutton's KTLA show to warble a Western novelty a Dorothy Shay and cut some record on the Lariat label. Western, to be fun, has to be good, and Patsy is that.

We View With Alarm

The tendery of TV films to follow movie footsteps by dubbing deafening music into the sound track. This must keep the dialogue from being heard—so if it isn't up to snuff, the viewer will remember only the assailing of his eardrums, not that of his mentality. Or possibly the reason lies in just plain careless handling of film production.

The series of thirty-minute commercials run late at night wherein pitchers who don't appeal to us, tout vitamins and sundries. Of course a simple click of the switch remedies the situation and obliterates the antics and stent voices, but we still object to the practice of running a thirty-minute commercial. Under FCC ruling, aren't most commercials limited to five or six minutes per half hour?

One of the few local shows which can stand right up on their hind feet and command praise—and delighted attendance!—from national figures is KNBH's "First-Time Voters."

Senator Estes Kefauver; Averell Harriman, statesman-diplomat who is also a Democratic aspirant; Oscar Ewing, sort of unofficial candidate of California; Nathan Straus, one of the biggest wheels in the East; James Roosevelt; and finally Robert Vogeler, vice-president of International Telephone and Telegraph (formerly imprisoned for "spying" by Hungary and detained for fifteen months before the United States could effect his release) have all visited the show and answered the questions of first-time ballot casters. Kefauver, Vogeler and several others

On the Ball With Ted Hilgenstuhler

WIO'S WHO?

If local TV boxing fans are getting a little annoyed these days trying to figure out "who's who" in the ring, I don't blame them.

Take the Harper-Fuentes fight (?) last week at the Olympic, for example. If you turned to Channel 13 in the middle of the second round, you would have heard announcer Reed Kilpatrick making brief, descriptive comments about "Fuentes doing this," and "Harper doing that." But you wouldn't have known for several rounds which guy he was talking about, because both boys wore the same kind of trunks.

Don't get me wrong; I'm not criticizing Reed. He's been doing a fine job on KLAC's coverage of the Tuesday night brawls. This same problem of distinguishing the boxers has been bothering lots of TV announcers.

I've talked to several of the local lads and they all have the same trouble. They can't keep saying: "Fighter X has got his back to you now," or "Fighter X, who just threw that right, and was on your left, but is now in the middle between the referee and his opponent, looks tired."

The boys move around too fast in the ring for that kind of dialogue, and it would require too many tiresome appositive clauses. TV announcers realize that they should keep the words and comments to a minimum, and let the viewers do their own watching and form their own opinions.

Many times, especially nowadays, one of the boxers is a Negro. As one announcer put it: "Sure, it would be a lot easier for me to say 'the colored boy' and 'the white boy.' But I don't believe in making that distinction amongst boxers."

This is the way it should be.

The boxing ring is one place where the Negro is assured of a fair shake. There's no color line in the squared circle. That's one place where a man has to stand on his own feet (or lie on his back), regardless of race, religion, or nationality.

The solution to this entire problem is fairly simple: make one boxer wear white trunks, the other, black.

For each bout, and especially those to be seen on TV, the State Athletic Commission should make it compulsory to have the boxers wear trunks of contrasting colors.

This rule would not require any added effort or expense. And it would be a big break for the TV announcer's voice and for the viewer's eyes and ears.

Let's face it. TV is not only here to stay, but it is now (and probably will be for some time to come) the number-one medium for selling a sport to the public.

If the State Athletic Commission takes the time to make looking a little more pleasant for the TV fan, the viewer in turn will make life a lot more pleasant for them. How a-boot it, gentlemen?

Television will soon show a movie for people "who get enough of drab reality in their everyday lives, and watch pictures not to be educated or enlightened, but to be entertained." It's a musical, entitled "Dancing Dancers," starring Dan Doohickey and Betty Bungstarter, and herewith is a synopsis: Dan and Betty are a couple in show business . . . he's a comedian, she's a dancer. . . . Opening scene in their dressing room . . . their baby boy, Schmerz, is asleep in a make-up kit . . . tradition. . . . Dan and Betty have just finished a show and are arguing about upstaging. . . . Betty is young, blonde and pretty as a picture. . . . Dan is a tosspot and hits the bottle steadily. . . . Betty cracks wise and Dan hits her instead of the bottle . . . changing the picture, considerably. A big-time agent enters . . . tells them he caught their act . . . has a spot in a show but can use only one of them . . . he wants Dan. Dan starts to pack. . . . Betty begs him not to leave . . . asks him how he can split up the act. . . . "By taking off," Dan answers, and starts to go. . . . "How about Schmerz?" asks Betty. . . . "Yeah, how about that?" says Dan, and leaves. Twenty year later . . . Dan is a smash in New York . . . Betty has been working for twenty years as a garment soaker in a dry cleaning plant to give Schmerz, who has grown up a dull-witted clod, singing and dancing lessons, Betty takes him to see his father. Dan is potted and scheduled to go on in five minutes . . . Schmerz breaks into a buck and wing . . . Dan observes him with cool detachment, advises him to get an honest job like delivering magazines, and staggers onstage. The enraged Betty kicks Schmerz down a light well and then rushes to meet Dan as he comes offstage. . . . Between bows, he asks her gruffly if she ever got a divorce. Tenderly, she says "no." He gives her a couple of hundred and tells her to go to Reno and get it. And, to the tune of "There's No Business Like Show Business," Betty stumbles blindly out of the theater . . . down a mist-shrouded street . . . back to her garment soaking. . . . Fadeout.

Mighty skimpy fare this week, on account of the holiday.

"Two on the Tiles." An entertaining British picture, the title of which means two people on the street with no place to go. All about a blackmailing butler and his gullible employers. With Hugh McDermott and Herbert Lom.

"The Trojan Brothers." A British picture about a couple of S. C. students.

"Little Men." The opposite of "Little Women."

PREVIOUSLY RECOMMENDED . . .

"The Beachcomber." Charles Laugh-ton and Elsa Lanchester in Somerset Maugham's hilarious tale about an island ne'er-do-well.

Lifelines

BY EVELYN BIGSBY

A HALF-JOKING REMARK ABOUT DOING a "Camel News Caravan" from Hollywood was made a few weeks ago by NBC's John Cameron Swayze at a wedding reception, but the person hearing it took the crack seriously and within a few days John Cameron heard his newsroom associates buzzing about the trip "Caravan" (and naturally star Swayze) were to make to California. Last week the junket materialized with three days' origination of the program from Hollywood headquarters and two days' origination from San Francisco's Top O' the Mark.

THE WORD "ORIGINATION" IS USED LOOSELY, for now that the program has celebrated its coast-to-coast spread by doing its first trans-continental telecast from Hollywood, you lookers know that "Caravan" travels, as it should, from pick-up to pick-up wherever there is news in the nation.

NEWS IS PLENTIFUL THIS YEAR and will still maintain high interest into the first of next year, according to Swayze, who thinks that whatever administration comes in will hold keen public interest. He naturally feels that TV is a potent conveyor of news and looks ahead to the day when the medium will be able to deliver all of its news by actual live pick-up on the news-origination spot. In New York, "Caravan" uses daily about thirty workers to put on the telecast, with about 100 persons actually on call.

NOT TOO MANY RADIO NEWS-CASTERS have made a completely successful switch from radio to TV, as Swayze has, so I asked him what he thought was the biggest stumbling block in switching. "Adherence to a script," he promptly answered. TV must be talked, not read, and eyes must be on the camera—"the right camera," he added smilingly as he recalled some of the times he had been caught looking earnestly into the lens of one camera only to discover that it wasn't "hot" at all.

COMING TO HOLLYWOOD WAS NOT a new experience for Swayze, for shortly after World War II he headed NBC's news and special-events department here. In fact, on this trip he spent some of his visiting time looking up former haunts. First day he was here he climbed into the fancy car decked out for promotional purposes with "Camel News Caravan" and John Cameron Swayze emblazoned on the side. Heading from the Beverly Hills Hotel, where he was putting up, to The Valley to take a look at his former home, he was quite amused to see some people eyeing the car and then saying in subdued but perfectly audible tones, "Yes, it IS John Cameron Swayze." He felt flattered and still quite puzzled to know how people here would recognize him so readily. Then the car and its curious passengers drove away and he saw that the license plate was one from New York, where Swayze is a household name.

LAST WEEK WHEN MY LUNCHEON-INTERVIEW with the distinguished Swayze took place, we met at the Beverly Hills Derby, across the street from the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel, and as we stood on the corner after luncheon, John Cameron gestured airily toward the famed hostelry.

IT SEEMS THAT SIX YEARS AGO when he and his family moved to California, the housing shortage was still severe and the only decent place they could get to live in was a motel in Santa Monica. So every day, John Cameron would drive on Wilshire Boulevard from the motel to seek employment in Hollywood (where he soon was engaged at NBC).

MEANWHILE, MRS. SWAYZE HAD HER PROBLEMS trying to round up supplies, and if your short memory needs refreshing, I can remind you that right after the war it was still hard to get face tissues, candy bars and such. Since she was new in the neighborhood, she had no connections for scarce items and one in particular, toilet paper.

"SO EVERY DAY, WHEN I DROVE INTO TOWN," John Cameron related, "I pulled up at the Beverly Wilshire, made a bee-line for the men's room and replenished the Swayze paper supply.

"Since then I've always had a kindly feeling toward that heavenly place," he grinned, "but I've never been a guest there."

JOHN CAMERON HOPES TO COME BACK to California soon. With the "Caravan" now coast-to-coast on fifty-two stations, he will probably find it advantageous, both editorially and promotion-wise, to move about in base originations. In a few short months, he will be as familiar to us as he is to the rest of the country. A prime favorite with lookers and much-admired for his outstanding ability and warm personality, John Cameron has proof of his popularity; he has had a dozen or so babies named after him.

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

Convention Coverage

You have been and will be listening to these men talking about other people for many hours during the two big political conventions at Chicago. Perhaps you would like some background on these famed commentators:

Morgan Beatty is one of America's outstanding disaster reporters and commentator-in-chief on NBC's News of the World. His intimate contacts with White House and Capitol Hill personalities provide exclusive and incisive information for his broadcasts from Chicago.

Morgan Beatty

Henry Cassidy, NBC's director of radio news and special events, is a noted foreign correspondent and radio reporter. He serves the nationwide convention audience in two capacities, as commentator and behind-the-scenes head of NBC's radio coverage at Chicago.

W. W. Chaplin

W. W. (Bill) Chaplin knows America from the White House to whistle stops. He has reported the war, official Washington, the Bikini atom blasts, and a series of important state primaries across the nation this spring in a homespun voice.

Ben Grauer

Ben Grauer has broadcast at least once a day on NBC for the past twenty years. He is one of the network's leading special-events reporters, sports commentators, program moderators and narrators. Grauer reports the 1952 Chicago conventions in the voice called "the most authoritative in the world."

Radio in Review—Continued

Richard Harkness makes political maneuvers and diplomatic developments readily understandable to audiences on NBC radio and television. A member of the network's Washington staff, he emphasizes news behind the news plus the personalities of men and women who make the headlines. Harkness has covered national political conventions for the past twelve years.

Richard Harkness

George Hicks, radio reporter par excellence, covered numerous primary elections this spring after returning from the funeral of King George VI in London. Hicks, a special-events reporter since 1929, voices the running commentary for radio listeners during convention broadcasts.

George Hicks

H. V. Kaltenborn celebrated his thirtieth year on the air this spring. He has been broadcasting reports from national political conventions since 1932. He joined NBC in 1940. Recently Kaltenborn returned from a trip around the world. He is the author of many books, a fine tennis player and a great raconteur.

H. V. Kaltenborn

Leon Pearson, NBC's United Nations correspondent, who doubles as critic-at-large, will be part of the network's staff of able commentators at the political conventions in Chicago. Veteran of Big Four Conferences in Moscow and Paris, Pearson has followed the UN since its birth.

Leon Pearson

Elmo Roper, NBC public-opinion analyst, will interpret the significant trends in thinking and voting at the Chicago political conventions. Roper once thought of becoming a philosopher, instead went into public-opinion sampling and market research. He joined NBC this year to make weekly reports on what people are thinking, over NBC radio and television.

THE BIG "IF"

If you like to speed... if you're careless when driving at night or in traffic... if your brakes are bad or your tires worn... then there's a big "if" in your life. Better get rid of it before you have an accident.

BE CAREFUL... the life
you save may be your own!

Record Notes to You

By ANDY MANSFIELD

THIS WEEK'S NATURAL SEVEN: Fran Warren's "What Is This Thing Called Love?" (MGM), Georgie Auld's "Wonder" (Coral), Janette Davis' "Gonna Get Along Without You Now" (Columbia), Dean Martin's "Oh, Marie" (Capitol), Neal Hefti's "Siboney" (Coral), Billy Daniels's "After You've Gone" (Mercury), and Helen O'Connell's "One for the Wonder" (Capitol).

With the dance bands, Harry James (Columbia) has a great jazz instrumental in the Mary Lou Williams classic, "Roll 'Em!" with The Horn turning in fine solo work to great backing with a strong beat . . . Ziggy Elman (MGM) has another top pair of dance instrumentals in the evergreens "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and "Lovely to Look At," both sparked by Ziggy's trumpet work . . . Ray Anthony (Capitol) has a two-sided concert arrangement of "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" for something away from the beat 'n' track, and for depth of color and tonal contour the band never sounded better. However, whether the record public will accept concert jazz from a solid beater is another story . . . Lawrence Welk (Coral) gets top label credit for "Busybody" and "Watermelon Weather," but it's actually personable Roberta Linn who sells both sides with a pair of vocals that can't miss.

In the jazz field, Good Time Jazz still leads the way with Bob Scobey's Frisco Band in blues tempo for "Do You Know What It Means to Miss New Orleans?" and bright swing beat on "Blues My Naughty Sweetie Gives to Me"—both with vocals as only Clancy Hayes can chant. . . . Kid Ory runs a close second with the traditional "Maryland, My Maryland" and "Oh, Didn't He Ramble" with its mournful GOING TO, and uptempo COMING BACK FROM the funeral parade theme. . . . The Banjo Kings, Roberts and Roundtree, lend a nostalgic touch of minstrel days with "Banjo Bounce" and "Stephen Foster Medley," both to top rhythm backing.

Best vocal platter honors go to Helen O'Connell (Capitol) for the swing novelty "Zing a Little Zong" and the great hit from her Dorsey days, "Body and Soul," done in the gal's usual great style to smooth Harold Mooney backing. . . . Richard Hayes (Mercury), displaying all the power of which his fine voice is capable, could easily have the best record of his career in "The Mask Is Off" and "Never Leave Me." Both have dramatic production backing that is flawless. . . . A.M.

CROSBY WAX BUSINESS

Bing Crosby has now entered the library transcription business. His latest endeavor resolves in a lend-lease procedure to radio stations of special material culled from his past radio shows and augmented with material newly recorded by Bing.

Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen

Barbara Dildine, 2365 Queensberry Rd., Pasadena, Calif.

Thanks a lot for the recent article on lovely Roberta Linn. I enjoy the whole Lawrence Welk orchestra. I hope you will have more articles on the other members in the Lawrence Welk orchestra. I think you have the best TV magazine in Southern California.

A special feature on each and every member of the Lawrence Welk orchestra, plus individual pictures, will appear shortly in our magazine. Watch for it!

Mr. and Mrs. H. Potter, Pasadena, Calif.

We sure enjoy Red Skelton's shows. Eddie Cantor and Bob Hope on "The Comedy Hour" are tops, too.

Mrs. Martha Davis, 1729 Kilbourn St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Why can't we have a nice sewing class program on TV? A program like that is badly needed. Any more ladies agree with me?

Mrs. Robert Hopkins, 4334 60th St., San Diego, Calif.

Is Stewart the name of one of the "Stewart's Roguettes" who sing on the Ina Ray Hutton Show, or is it someone else?

Mrs. Cecil Stewart arranges all the numbers, but does not sing with the girls.

Mrs. L. D. Kelley, 4413 W. Rosecrans Ave., Hawthorne, Calif.

This is my first letter to any TV or radio publication. I do want you to know how much I enjoy the programs on TV, especially the Dude Martin Show. I would like to know if Sue Thompson is married.

Sue Thompson is not married.

Doris Hawley, 3147 Beechwood Ave., Lynwood, Calif.

Can you tell me the future plans of Korla Pandit?

Korla started on KTTV, July 6, 9:30 p.m., with a newly sponsored show.

Dorothy Cole, Box 99, Loma Linda, Calif.

Where can I obtain tickets for TV shows?

Write to the individual stations. The names and addresses of all local TV stations are listed on Page 9.

Barbara Joplin, 14078 Daventy St., Pacoima, Calif.

Please print a story on "Space Patrol."

We have done several features on "Space Patrol." However, we also have another one coming up. Watch for it.

Ann Shelton, 615 East 83rd St., Los Angeles, Calif.

I would like to know if Jack Webb is married?

Jack is married to lovely Julie London, and they have a two-and-a-half-year-old girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Puleo, 16234 Runnymede St., Van Nuys, Calif.

Can you please tell us when Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts" is on the air.

"Talent Scouts" can be heard over KNX, Monday, 8:30 p.m. (Please Turn to Next Page)

Barbara Ann Olive, 7208 Graham Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

I watch the Charley Aldrich Show every day. My favorite is Bob Davis.

We have a special feature coming up on Charley. Don't miss it.

Miss V. E. B., Los Angeles, Calif.

An orchid to Tim McCoy. We think that he is doing a swell job.

Mrs. C. L. Kenney, 1505 Glendora, Puente, Calif.

If every time a person wanted to sit down and write a criticism about a situation irritating to them, instead make themselves write a thank-you note to the Lord thanking Him for TV and radio for all the pleasures they give us, you wouldn't need an Ear and Eye column, would you?

Name withheld by request, La Habra, Calif.

Could you please tell me if Dick Stewart and Sue Thompson on the Dude Martin show are married?

Dick is married; Stu is not.

Miss D. W., North Hollywood, Calif.

I sure have missed Tex Williams's Saturday night show.

Mrs. P. L. Shelley, 2013 E. Orange Grove, Pasadena, Calif.

I would like to know Hank Penny's real name.

According to our information, that is his real name.

Tex Williams

Anne Barnhart, Brea, Calif.

I was glad to see the page you had recently for the "Sunday Religious Listening Program."

Charlotte LaBelle, 725 East Longden Dr., San Gabriel, Calif.

I want everybody to know that I am the president of the Eileen Barton Fan Club.

L. A. Young, 7553 Cuyamoca, Lemon Grove, Calif.

When is Sondra Berkova coming back to the Ina Ray Hutton show?

At present, she is not scheduled to appear at all.

Dixie Cody, 6822 Marcelle St., Paramount, Calif.

I really miss the wonderful radio program "What's the Score?"

A. N. Sprales, Inglewood, Calif.

I also would love to see Ina Ray Hutton with a feather cut.

Margaret Monahan, 5248 Auckland Ave., North Hollywood, Calif.

My sons think Roscoe Ates is wonderful.

Marie Wilson, 435 W. Glenoaks, Glendale, Calif.

We think Jules Strongbow is tops in announcing.

Comment-Narration

4:30—Barbara Wheeler, KFI.

Mrs. Ruth Johnson, 8009 S. Mariposa, Los Angeles, Calif.

We have enjoyed Chet Fisher's grand voice for a long time. I think he's one of the most handsome guys on TV. We enjoy his new solo singing spot on the new Ben Alexander Show, every Wednesday morning.

Dutch Mareno, Rt. 2, Box 1559, Oxnard, Calif.

Would you please tell me where to write to get tickets to see the "Dixie Showboat."

Write to "Dixie Showboat," 3451 Marathon St., Hollywood 38, California.

Miss Kay Daly, 3528 Greenfield Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

Anyone wishing to join the Dinah Shore-George Montgomery Fan Club, please write to me at the above address. I, as a fan-club president, feel that TV-Radio Life ought to have a column for fan clubs. I am sure the fan-club presidents and members in Southern California would be able to keep you informed on their activities.

We do intend to start a special column for Fan Clubs. We would like to hear from other fan clubs, however, before we start.

Dinah Shore

Evelyn E. Whiting, 830 Cypress St., Hermosa Beach, Calif.

Maybe you could do a story sometime on Del Moore, who plays Betty White's husband in "Life With Elizabeth"? We think he is so good.

A special feature on Del is coming up real soon.

Judy Mitchell, 1407 N. Olive, Santa Ana, Calif.

Could you please tell me where I can get pictures of my favorite ABC-TV personalities?

Write your requests to the individual stars at ABC-TV, Prospect and Talmadge Avenues, Hollywood 27, Calif.

Ralph H. Littlefield, Jr., 425 So. El Molino Ave., Pasadena, Calif.

I feel sorry for the poor benighted who hate Red Berry. Baron Leone and others that fall in the "dirty guy" class. They actually are the smartest men in the business.

Mrs. Lillian B. Gaylen, 5425 Harold Way, Hollywood, Calif.

I'm good and sore. Three times now. I have turned on the different stations that were to show "Paisan." Each time I have been disappointed. I'd like to see a worthwhile picture like that rather than the rubbish dished up instead.

Ella Morrow, 7424 La Jolla Blvd., La Jolla, Calif.

"Life With Elizabeth" featuring Betty White and Del Moore is the finest entertainment TV offers. It has more laughs and cleverer dialogue than any other program. It is a joy to invite them into our home every Saturday night.

Rose Jancke, Fullerton, Calif.

We are so very happy that Korla Pandit is back on TV.

Wrestling Is My Business

by Jules StrongBow

I had a letter from Lou Thesz the other day which gave me a lot of news to pass along to you. For one thing, Lou will be out here July 23 and plans to stay through September, except for two weeks when he and his wife will go to Honolulu for a few matches and some rest.

Another item of interest he told about were the results, financially, since he defeated Baron Leone here last May. Everywhere Lou appears now, the houses have doubled and tripled since he copped the undisputed world's heavyweight wrestling championship.

In my predictions before the big event, I said the winner of the match would stand to gain about a half million dollars—Lou is finding that out.

Towns where he never wrestled before draw $5000, $10,000 and $15,000. Small places like Birmingham, which normally take in about $3000, drew $15,000. In Chicago, the record house was $25,000 until Thesz went in to take in $36,000—against an unknown fellow named O'Conner.

Little towns around St. Louis which had been closed, opened to collect $4000 and $5000 on the strength of Lou Thesz's name and reputation. In Montreal he drew $25,000.

Off all these figures, Lou gets at least 15 per cent, plus expenses. Add these thousands up night after night and you can see he is doing very well for himself.

Lou says that he owes this bonanza to the publicity he received on the big match. He has a lot of ability and is well-liked by everyone, but his record has been up and down. He has been defeated, and has been held to a draw by many of the mat crop. In defeating Leone, he proved that he is the best of the current crop. By pinning the Baron for the final three-count, he made himself the biggest drawing card of all times—surpassing even the records of Ed "Strangler" Lewis, his manager, and Jimmy Londos during the gold rush of the roaring twenties.

I am taking off for a short vacation and have written Lou, asking him to do a guest column during my absence. I can't promise it as yet because my letter to him may not catch up with the traveler in time to make the deadline.

However, one sure guest writer will be Wild Red Berry, poet, philosopher, misogynist and matman extraordinary. Red will probably give the editor and printer fits trying to squeeze his awesome vocabulary into the space allotted for wrestling news.

Another bright spot on the wrestling horizon is the arrival on July 23 of

George and Bobby Becker, the personable boys from Brooklyn. Television fans will remember that we formed a trio and made with the singing before they left last fall. Georgie said that they were practicing up and should be in good voice for a concert when they arrive.

Also Gorgeous George is currently campaigning locally after a forced month's lay-off. The Gorgeous was riding at the peak of his career, traveling in the East with fabulous guarantees, when he was flattened, not by a flying tackle or a flying mare, but by the lowly, common mumps. He has spent the last month recovering on his Beaumont turkey ranch.

Robert Vogeler

flew to this Coast especially for the show.

Luck, a slow clock, and fast rehearsal conspired to let us get in a few minutes' questioning with the Taft-supporting Robert Vogeler last week. The handsome, dark-eyed man is now in perfect health; the envied writer of a top seller, "I Was Stalin's Prisoner"; and a busy man lending his assistance in cases such as the Oatis mess.

Vogeler talked about his lovely blonde wife, whom he met years ago in Belgium on a train. She was going skiing. He was going lecturing for IT&T. That was in 1939. This year, 1952, the two Vogeler boys, aged ten and twelve, are visiting grandparents in Europe. "They are perfectly safe, and in good hands on the trip," their father said reassuringly. "I had them carefully watched while they went to school in New York, though, you can bet."

Asked if he thinks he will ever return abroad, the once-burned Vogeler lapses into slang. "Not while I'm in my right mind, I won't. I was warned never to show my face around there again—and I won't!"

Robert Vogeler neither wants, nor does he seek, any political office. He is quite content working toward getting across the point that we must be aware of Russia's real intent toward us and protect ourselves; busy trying to effect the freedom of another who is falsely imprisoned; and busy supporting Robert Taft.

He does it all for free.

Amateur Fights

California Athletic Commission refused the station a license. But no license is necessary to stage an amateur sport on a TV station. The bouts are all conducted in complete compliance with the Amateur Athletic Union regulations, but no admission is charged at the studio. Hence, no license.

No sooner was the announcement made than the smell of pancake make-up, familiar around CBS-TV's studios, gave way to the smell of fresh lumber. By six o'clock of the first evening the popular four-round matches were staged, the ring was up, the cameras and lights were arranged, and Tom Harmon, Sports Director for CBS radio and TV, was casing the ringside for the spot most advantageous for his blow-by-blow account of the bouts.

By eight o'clock the smell of fresh wood had given way to a variety of odors usually found only around gymnasiums.

For all that the ring goes up in only one studio each week, this KNXT stage emerges as the stadium with no capacity. As far as the Channel 2 signal reaches, people can watch the fights. The sponsor pays the way in. And he's been figuring for quite some time that nothing is too good for TV—and the people watching it.

COLOR TV

Since we first started advertising in this magazine, thousands of people have purchased Great Western's TV-Color Filter. Many of those people have re-ordered and sent this filter to friends and relatives. To those of you who have not purchased a filter, this is what it is: Made on Eastman Kodapak film, this 3-color filter is easily attached to your TV set by means of scotch tape, and can be just as easily removed. This TV color filter gives the ILLUSION of color (green, yellow and blue) and is a temporary answer to the Government's ban on the manufacture of TV color sets. Great Western's TV color filter will do this for you: reduce "snow" and "ghosts"; make the picture clearer; improve "fringe area" reception; eliminate glare and eyestrain. Send check or money order for $2.00 in an envelope addressed to: Great Western, Dept. 711, c/o TV-Radio Life, 6361 Selma Ave., Hollywood 28, Calif. We'll put your filter in the mail within 48 hours. Please allow one week for delivery. Specify screen size with order. Send your order today. Sold on money-back guarantee.

The Miracle of Tape

OFTEN NEWSMEN find that miles and hours are insurmountable obstacles in covering a story, but not the editors of "CBS Sunday Desk." To them distance and time are like giants easily slain by a little radio invention called "tape."

It works like this. Barney Miller, night editor of the CBS-KNX newsroom, who is also the editor of "Sunday Desk," assigns CBS reporters from Timbuktu to Hong Kong to cover any "hot" news story that occurs on their beat. During the week these stories come in to Miller at the CBS studio, where he listens carefully to the taped newscast. He clips these to the bone, combining bits of conversation, background noises and information until he has the complete story compiled in about three or four minutes of air time. Each taped portion is then ready to be put on mike along with announcer Dick Joy's commentary.

"Sunday Desk" also includes the latest Hollywood gossip as reported by George Fisher, noted filmland columnist, and the up-to-the-minute sports picture as told by veteran sportsman Tom Harmon. Taped on-the-scene human-interest stories are aired each Sunday as part of the news broadcast.

Special coverage is given to any event which may have particular local interest in the regional Pacific Network area. Often as many as thirty or forty reporters have worked on the complete air show. It is nothing for stories to originate from Washington, Tokyo, New York, London, Paris and Glendale, California, all in the same thirty minutes.

Always a Newsmen

Miller spends ten hours on Sunday and at least that many more hours during the week getting "Sunday Desk" into shape. This is, of course, besides his regular CBS editorial duties. He has been an ambitious writer ever since he started newspaper work during his college days at the University of Oregon. During the war he was in the Navy and traveled around the world twice, visiting many of the places where his top news stories originate today. In 1947 he was Esquire Magazine's "discovery of the month" with his short story "The Unforgettable Casey."

He is married to former stage and radio actress Jessie See, and they have two sons, Michael, fourteen, and Patrick, nine. "Mike" is often busy acting on radio, while "Pat" spends his spare time acting in movies.

Dick Joy is the announcer who does his part of "Sunday Desk" "live," incorporating it with the taped sections from all over the world. Dick has been broadcasting news for fifteen years and plays much the same role on the newscast as an emcee does on a variety-type show.

Bob Hafter is director of the "Sunday Desk." He is the man who sees that the taped news stories and Dick Joy's commentaries get on the air in the proper sequence. His is a demanding job, because this type of broadcast is very tricky to put on the airwaves. When compared to a newspaper office, Bob is like the headman in the press room and Miller is like the editor.

Radio's Future

"Tape," according to Miller, "is more flexible and faster than any other medium." He believes that television will not be able to cover with the same speed, completeness and flexibility any story handled by radio tape.

Radio has a great future when it comes to news coverage, according to Miller. "Radio," he said, "is going to have to get back some of its adventurous, daring spirit. It can afford to try anything. If it doesn't work, it has nothing to lose and everything to gain for the listeners."

Three Fellows Found Their Girl!

Parting Would Be in Sorrow If One of the Mellow-Larks Left. They Know. Three of Them Learned the Hard Way

SOME YEARS ago a little blonde doll named Toni Southern was the tiny half of a sister act. She and Mary Lou sang and danced around Jacksonville, Florida, their home, even before they entered high school. As they grew up, they grew better, and it wasn't long before the duo were headed for New York City and their first professional job. (Toni, however, took the time between school and this performers' mecca to be chosen "Miss Gator Bowl.")

The girls appeared on TV's Ted Steele Show for more than a year—a job that should have lent their particular story a happier ending. But sister Mary Lou lost her voice, and Toni had to start out all over again as a single.

Not Single Long

About the same time, three young men found themselves with a problem. Joe Eich, Tommy Hamm and Bob Smith were the male voices of a quartet. The original girl member had just retired to get married. The remaining trio found lots of good girl singers, but few who could also dance well.

With the help of some disk-jockey friends, they advertised for applicants. Three hundred girls turned up for the audition. The boys sang and danced with every hopeful in turn to make sure they wouldn't miss a prospective "Lark."

When they came to girl number 278, they stopped the audition. They had their "Lark," and it was Toni. You have seen the resultant perfect blend of singing and dancing on CBS's Mel Torme Show and other variety offerings.

The Boys

It was Bob Smith who originally decided to form the Mellow-Larks, when he met Tommy Hamm at the time both were appearing in "Jolson Sings Again." Bob had come here from Des Moines, Iowa. The Navy introduced him to the West Coast, and after seven years of service he came back and trained at the Hayden Drama School.

Tommy, an Arkansas boy, had gone to Oklahoma A & M; started his show-business career as vocalist with the Orrin Tucker orchestra; had done a Coast Guard stint with Rudy Vallee, and had sung about in different vocal groups before the Jolson picture.

Joe Eich came from Iowa, too, and at one time had been a member of Claude Thornhill's Snowflakes.

The group first gained real prominence when Betty Hutton, an old friend, took them from their tours with the famous Beneke band to accompany her to London for her Palladium engagement.

Today the dread of the group's life is that they will once again be separated. They had a taste of what it means to replace one of them.

Stulla With His Slippers On

What Does Bill Do When He's Away From Camera and Mike?

By Mildred Ross

▲ HANDYMAN IN THE Stulla household is none other than Bill, whose workshop gear crowded the family car out of the garage.

▲ THIS ENGLISH DART BOARD takes special skill, which Bill seems to lack; however, he isn't getting down in the mouth about it.

ON OR OFF camera, Bill Stulla is a pleasant, self-effacing, friendly person who, with intended casualness, makes you feel right at home.

For two years viewers have visited Bill via his KNBH "Parlor Party" telecast. Being visual-minded ourselves, and taking advantage of Bill's generosity, we invaded his home with enough flashbulbs to light up a Christmas tree. In order to obtain these exclusive pictures for TV-Radio Life readers, we put the Stulla family through its paces for an entire afternoon.

The distaff side of the family is well represented by a three-year-old darling named "Kathy" and gracious Mrs. Ruth Stulla. One needn't be clairvoyant to know that Bill caters to his two "girl friends" like a gallant knight of old.

He was a staff announcer at KFI

July 11, 1952

▲ PLAYTIME PALS. WHETHER IT BE CLOWNING, CAT-NAPPING, muscle-man routines or a snack from the refrigerator, father and daughter delight in mutual fun. In true feminine fashion three-year-old Kathy loves to pretty up her room with colorful objects like pansies from her own corner of the family garden. On her last birthday Kathy guested on "Parlor Party," showing great promise of emulating Bill's warm personality and infectious smile.

when he met Ruth. "At that time," Bill explains, "Ruth was in charge of the announcers' schedules, and I was always making a pitch for a convenient announcing shift. Logically, I soon switched to making a pitch for her hand instead."

They reside in a modest, tastefully furnished Burbank home, where Ruth is the head gardener and Bill the handyman.

Demonstrated Skill

Bill put his carpentry skill to test and practical use when he converted his patio into a pine-paneled den, following the architect's plans down to the minutest detail. The den is truly a cozy, cheerful room.

Bill's machine tools and workshop gear crowded their first garage to such an extent that either the car or the workshop would have to go. The car went. But fortunately the Stullas were able to build another garage at the rear of their property. They now have a house with two unconnected garages.

Little Kathy is the apple of her father's eye as well as his favorite photographic subject. In the far end of his workshop garage, Bill has set up a darkroom corner. His batch of undeveloped film continues to mount while he unconcernedly and merrily goes ahead snapping pictures. Because there aren't any children Kathy's age in the immediate neighborhood, Ruth transports her to a Beverly Hills nursery school daily. Bill and Ruth take their parenthood seriously and their efforts are reflected in Kathy's mannerisms and personality. She is learning how to win friends and influence people at an early age.

There's an air of soft femininity about Ruth. She's a collector of Dresden figurines and impressionist paintings. Her favorite Renoir adorns the wall above the living-room fireplace. Ruth claims Bill is the most considerate husband in the world and she's glad she persuaded him to try television. Realizing that he wasn't the matinee type, Bill hedged whenever TV was mentioned. But Ruth finally shooed him into TV in 1948. Her friendly admonition to get into television while nobody knew anything about it paid off. Bill knows now that on radio a cheery voice and a sour puss might get by, but when people can see you, you can't fool them—so keep smiling. But since Bill is happy on and off camera, a smile across his rotund face is quite natural.

▼ BILL'S KNACK FOR HANDLING CHILDREN on his KNBH "Parlor Party" program is reflected at home when he romps with Kathy. The popularity of his daytime show is just reward for his sincerity and conscientious hard work. Bill proves that it takes more than glamour to succeed on television. (NBC-Smith photos.)
