The Meaning Of The Lord's Prayer

This is an excerpt from the famous CBS "Amos 'n' Andy Christmas Program," in which Amos explains the meaning of The Lord's Prayer to his young daughter. During the interpretation a special chorus sings Mallott's "The Lord's Prayer" in the background. The program, which has won high praise from all religious groups, is repeated each year over CBS Radio and Television networks.

"Our Father which art in Heaven"—dat means Father of all dat is good—where no wrong kin dwell.

"Hallow'd be Thy Name"—dat means, darlin', dat we should love an' respect all dat is good.

"Thy Kingdom come, Thy Will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven"—dat means, darlin'—as we clean our hearts of all hate an' selfishness, an' fill our hearts with love, de good, de true, an' de beautiful—den earth will be like Heaven.

"Give us this day, our daily bread"—'n' dat means to feed our hearts an' minds, wid kindness, love an' courage, which will make us strong for our daily task.

"An' forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors"—you remember de Golden Rule, don't you, honey? Well, dat means we must keep de Golden Rule, an' do unto others as we would want dem to do unto us.

And now it says, "Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil"—dat means, my darlin', dat jes' means to ast God to help us DO, an' see, and think right, so dat we will neither be led or tempted by anything dat is bad.

"For Thine is the Kingdom, and the Power, and the Glory Forever"—Amen. Dat means, darlin', dat all de world, and ev'ything dat's in it, belongs to God's Kingdom—everything—your mommie, your daddy, your little brother, your gram'ma—you, and ev'ybody — an' as we KNOW dat, an' as we ACT as if we know it, dat, my little girl, is de real Spirit of Christmas.

LUCY AND DESI: "Our most memorable Christmas will be the one this year. For years, we used to sit around on Christmas and sort of stare at each other. Each of us hoped for a real family holiday—with our own family. Now that little Lucie is almost three and able to understand what Christmas is all about, and with little Desi too, we finally have that family feeling. And we're going to enjoy every minute of it! God has certainly been good to us."

Gale Storm, NBC-TV: "Our most memorable Christmas happened about seven years ago. It was then that we began a tradition—if such a thing is possible."

"Lee and I started making a photographic record of the family's doings at Christmas. We started by setting up the camera so we could get the kids' expressions and reactions as they came, sleepy-eyed, to the tree and saw all their presents. Then we followed them all through the day."

"We have quite a wonderful memory album already. Also, there are five couples, close friends of ours, who always have Christmas with us. With their children and ours it's quite a madhouse. One of our favorite pastimes is to re-enact some cute incident that took place on a previous Christmas. Fortunately our friends appreciate the sometimes ridiculous humor of the situation as much as we do."

Peter Potter, KNXT and KLAC: "Christmas of 1950 is one that will always live in my memory, for that was the first year I was a father."

"Beryl; that's my permanent boss, and I had discussed what Christmas means to a five-months-old boy. Above all, we wanted to make this day the best of all. We had quite a time planning what to get him for the event. I thought of a bicycle, but Beryl insisted Bill was too young, so we got him a baseball bat, a football helmet, and a small pair of skates which we put under an enormous tree together with some other toys a twelve year old boy would have difficulty in assembling."

"By the time our son Billy was awake everything was ready, and I couldn't wait to bring him into the living room for the big treat. After some fifteen minutes the Christmas tree was dismantled. Tinsel hung from Billy's blond curly hair, and a plastic candle hung out of his mouth like a cigarette. He had a bulb in each hand while another at his feet was being crushed. This was a Christmas neither Beryl or I will ever forget—our son, a crawling Christmas tree."

Charles Arlington, KHJ:

"Christmas has been something special to me ever since I was old enough to realize what great significance it held. In the past years, even when the going got a little tough, Christmas always remained that 'special occasion' which made me feel once again that it's a good old world."

"However this Christmas will be different from all the others I've ever seen. I may have thought at one time or another that I'd seen the best Christmas ever, but I was wrong. This Christmas is going to be the most glittering, wonderful and terrific one I have ever enjoyed."

"I got my present early—July 10th to be exact—the day Elizabeth Root became Mrs. Arlington. So you see, this Christmas is bound to be my most memorable. It will be the first Christmas I've spent with that wonderful gal who always makes me feel like a 24 carat king—my wife, Elizabeth."

Their Most

Norma Gilchrist, KTTV:

"My most memorable Christmas was occasioned by being broke! I was working in New York and living on a tight budget. With Christmas approaching and no money to buy Christmas gifts, it was downright depressing."

"Suddenly, while going through my sewing supplies, I found enough odds and ends and materials on hand to make all my Christmas presents. Out of some huge cashmere yarn I knitted my dad an all-over cable-stitch golf sweater. Mother received a crocheted raffia drawstring handbag in Kelly green and purple, lined with plaid taffeta in the same colors. My two sisters got light blue house slippers crocheted from scraps of wool yarn and sewn on lambs-wool-lined leather soles. Multi-colored sequins and yarn tassels were used for a decorative trim. For my brothers-in-law, I managed to find enough yarn for argyle socks. I made several aunts and girl friends matched sets of hangers and closet sachets by covering wooden hangers with bits of quilted fabric, velvet, satin ribbon and crocheted covers. I was so concerned about not having a Christmas gift budget it never occurred to me that my family and friends would appreciate and cherish these gifts far more than those I would like to have bought."

"That Christmas was happy and memorable for me largely, I think, because I gave more of myself; put more into all my gifts even though they cost nothing that year."

David Street, KLAC-TV:

"Twas the night before Christmas on 'Broadway Open House' in New York, and I had just finished shopping for presents for the cast. The packages were so numerous and bulky, believe it or not, the buses and trolleys would not let me on. I hailed a cab—in fact, three or four—but they were all busy. So there was nothing to do but trudge the ten blocks to the studio in the slush and ice the White Christmas had become on the streets.

"We started rehearsal at 7:00 and rolled right along. Show time came at 11:00 and we were on, set to make this a real production. My choice for a closing song was the Bach-Gounod 'Ave Maria,' my favorite song, and I'd been rehearsing it for days. Everything went fine until about half-way through the program, when my voice became a little scratchy. I rushed for a box of troches, but to no avail. It continued to get worse, and by closing, I couldn't speak at all. The cast, always ready to help a friend in need, volunteered to do the closing number, to which I could mouth the words. They all insisted it would be the most appropriate song. So we finished the show with 'Silent Night'."

Ralph Story, KNX:

"I would have said that Christmas three years ago was the most memorable—it fell on Sunday, and was my first Christmas off since the war—until two years ago. Being on the air from 5:25 to 8:15 in the morning presented a unique problem: when to let my little boy open the gifts Santa left in his stocking. If we were to open them before I left for work, he'd have to get up in the middle of the night—and it was practically impossible to keep him in irons until I could return home at 9:00. Then the idea occurred—have him open the stocking gifts on the program. Would it invade the privacy of others; was this in bad taste? I risked it on the chance that very few people would be listening. But I was wrong. A great many people were listening. Many of them alone, missing their families at Christmas, many of them elderly parents whose children were grown up and gone away. They listened and wrote to me. My little boy's Christmas became their little boy's Christmas. So warm was the response that now we do it every year. My son looks forward to it months ahead and also works on it because he selects all the music to be played Christmas morning on the program. So a problem turned into a blessing . . . making every Christmas memorable now."

December 25, 1953

Cleve Hermann, KNBH:

"My most memorable Christmas will be, I believe, December 25, 1953. It seems that every year, as long as I can remember, I have never been able to give as many Christmas presents to my family and friends as I would like.

"This year, thanks to KNBH television and its schedule of football and baseball games, I have seven programs a week and can, at last, afford to indulge myself."

Bing Crosby has reiterated his views on personalities overdoing TV. Crosby claims that more than six or seven TV appearances a year is detrimental to a performer's box office. Der Bingle's premiere teleshow bows January 3. . . . Eddie Cantor exits the "Colgate Comedy Hour" in favor of lensing a half-hour show.

Don DeFore and Danny Thomas are campaigning hot and heavy for the presidency of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. Elena Verdugo and Gale Storm are vying for recording secretary, while Shirley Thomas and Barbara Britton have their pretty eyes focused on the Academy's secretaryship.

Lucy and Desi have mapped their shooting schedule through the Spring of 1955. Their plans include time out for a European vacation. The couple head to New York in February where they will attend the premiere of their picture, "Long, Long Trailer." . . . Joan Davis combines business with pleasure on a trip to Honolulu, where she shoots some background shots for an upcoming "I Married Joan" stanza. . . . Don Porter has given up trying to learn how to ice skate from Jeri Boone. He found it too difficult to remain in an upright position.

Five stations are carrying the Rose Parade this year. Dick Lane and Stan Chambers cover for Channel 5; Caroline Leonetti and Hank Weaver cover for Channel 7; Jack McElroy for Channel 4; Jack Bailey and Ted Meyers cover for Channel 9; Bill Welsh and Roy Maypole for Channel 11. KTTV will be on the air all night December 31 showing viewers last-minute preparations for the parade. Channel 2 is also slated to cover the parade, however as we went to press their special events reporter had not been announced. In any case, there'll be plenty of Rose Parade coverage.

Barbara Ruick has been signed to appear in the Dennis Day stanza. . . . KECA-TV has twenty-six Italian pix for Angelenos starting the first of January. . . . RCA's "compatible" color television has finally been given the green light by the FCC. The new system goes into effect by early February. However, the FCC has granted ballet of Longines-Wittnauer Co., will range from Grieg's Piano Concerto through Tschaikowsky's Waltz of the Flowers, Christmas carols and Gilbert and Sullivan.

Friday, December 25—CHRISTMAS WITH THE STARS, (4), 7 p.m. From New York, Hollywood and Boston an all-star cast will get together to celebrate Christmas with the nation. Tyrone Power, Eddie Fisher, Audrey Hepburn, Rosemary Clooney, Victor Borge, Eddie (Rochester) Anderson and the Boston Pops Orchestra, conducted by Arthur Fiedler, will appear.

special permission for NBC to telecast the Christmas "Dragnet" show, the Rose Bowl Parade and Hallmark's presentation of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" in color. After prolonged deliberation on color systems, the FCC has come up with a wonderful Christmas present to the TV industry by granting its approval of tinted television.

We Point With Pride

. . . to Jackie Cooper's portrayal of jazzman Milt Mezzrow in Robert Montgomery's presentation of "Really The Blues." Mr. Cooper came through his highly emotional role creditably. A less talented performer would have hammed it up all over the TV stage. . . . to Spring Byington's pixilated role on the "Danny Thomas Show." It was her stanza. She stole the spotlight from Thomas with her whimsical sweetness. What ever happened to the proposed televersion of "December Bride" starring Spring?

. . . to Arch Presby for showing portions of Disney's nature story, "The Living Desert" on his KNBH "Pet Showcase" ailer. Frankly, we wouldn't care to have any of those desert animals as pets but the film made extremely interesting viewing.

Wm. C. Crump, Pasadena

Having seen about the best in entertainment here and in New York during the past fifty years, the writer wishes to express the thanks of his family and friends for the sterling entertainment TV is now affording us. The plays we now see are the TOPS in every particular, settings, actors, acting, etc.

We wonder if the public realizes what fine entertainment of varied sorts it is now receiving "for free," or if it is taken as a matter of course, as is so much these scientific days, when all we have to do is to turn a knob or two and be entertained for hours each day and night.

Truly, we have much to thank the TV companies for, and especially for the "escape value" of the entertainment. Our hats are off to the excellent TV programs, the sponsors, and the stations.

Mrs. Mary Bennett, Los Angeles

I cannot help but reply to a letter I read in your magazine. After raving about "Beany," "Sheriff John," etc., and their effect on her two children (age 4 1/2 and 2 1/2), the writer then goes on to say, "Please don't take away the monkey on "Western Varieties." It give the kids (not only mine) such a kick."

Good heavens, what in the world is she thinking of to allow her little children to stay up to see an hour-long show that starts at 9 o'clock! Or maybe I'm just old fashioned. My children, age 7 and 4, go to bed every night at 7:30. On special occasions they are allowed to stay up until 8:00. I feel they get more than enough TV by 7:30.

Jess L. Hoaglin, San Gabriel

KTTV, Channel 11, "that good-looking one," certainly is fast becoming the most popular TV station in the San Gabriel Valley. And the program that is tops on the list of our hit parade is "The Dude Martin Show." That fella' Dude is a great performer and must be a very wonderful man to work with. He seems to get the most from his crew.

Take for instance Jim Brown. There is a real artist, and from personal observation I definitely know that Jim is quite sincere in becoming a good singer. His rendition of "From Rags to Riches" and "Ebb Tide," two very difficult numbers, was actually the best I have heard from any singer, and that includes the top names of the recording field. Just take my advice and watch that boy! He's going places, and it couldn't happen to a nicer person, believe me.

George Putnam must be another wonderful fellow. His delivery of the news certainly strikes home, and why he hasn't been used in motion pictures is a puzzle to me, or has he?

Last but not least, there are a million TV magazines on the market today, but none can compare to TV-RADIO LIFE, and that is sincerely from my heart.

YOU MAY VOTE! TOP TEN BALLOT

In the ballot below, please vote for your preferences. All ballots must be postmarked before midnight, December 31, 1953.

The personalities receiving the most votes will be chosen for the Top Ten Awards. Mail all ballots to TV-Radio Life, Top Ten Awards, 6361 Selma Avenue, Hollywood 28.

Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen

Mrs. Anna A. Hill, Santa Ana

We get your magazine from our favorite food market, the ALPHA BETA Market near our home. We have no TV and depend on radio for our news, information of various kinds and entertainment.

There are a number of radio programs to which we enjoy listening because they picture normal home life and are free from scenes of drinking, smoking and other vulgar acts. Among these programs "ONE MAN'S FAMILY," "DR. CHRISTIAN," "MR. PRESIDENT," "CAVALCADE OF AMERICA," panel discussions, orchestras and some religious programs. We especially like the STANDARD HOUR, FIRESTONE, TELEPHONE HOUR and THE GREAT-EST STORY EVER TOLD. A favorite musical program is "HAWAII CALLS."

But too often between the good programs there is a beer or cigarette commercial which is very disgusting and like a slap in the face. If we are within reach of the radio we turn it off until we think it is over.

Janie Bolin, Los Angeles

At this time every year "The Dawn Society"—"That the Blind May See"—sends out its appeal for funds to help those among us to regain their sight by a cornea transplant operation. Let's all help support this most worthy cause by pledging our corneas to transplant into sightless eyes, which has been very successful so far. "Dawn Society" is sponsored by International Order of Good Templars; Los Angeles representative is Miss Fanny Schulein, P. O. Box 3415, Los Angeles, California. She gives almost every moment of her spare time from an arduous job that she holds to this work and accepts no compensation except the happiness she derives from helping the blind—even uses some of her own salary to help mail out the seals.

I have just received the first copy of TV-RADIO LIFE that I have had in quite some time, being unable to go shopping. It was like meeting an old friend. Such a big girl the magazine has grown to be—more and more interesting. I wish it perpetual growth in circulation and all possible success.

And our very best wishes for health and happiness to you too, Janie.

Mrs. G. R. Dale, Los Angeles

I would like to put in a good word for the "Ethel and Albert" program. Their shows are entirely different every time, no impossible situations, and lots of real laughs.

Mrs. H. P. B., Covina

Please, please can't something be done by CBS about the showing of the Arthur Godfrey show? On Wednesday we heard the Thursday show and today (Thursday) we saw the Wednesday show. Some days we get the same artist on both fifteen minute programs. This seems to be just a lack of proper handling.

Mrs. William L. Kester, South Gate

... We think Dr. Roy K. Marshall gives the most interesting, intelligent, educational and easiest to watch advertisement of anyone on either radio or television during the intermission of Ford Theater. We all look forward to his presentation each week as much as we do the superb play Ford invariably presents.

Mary Padgett, West Los Angeles

Thank you for such a wonderful magazine at a price even the smallest salary can afford.

We will try to print as much material as possible.)

Sharon Holmes, 614 Bungalow Dr., El Segundo, Calif., has a fan club for Ginny Jackson.

Anyone wishing to join a Martin and Lewis fan club can write to Philip Silberman, 3779 Beethoven Street, Venice, Calif. This should also answer Barbara Rose Johnson's inquiry about such a club.

Dave Levin, the rassing announcer, who still dons the trunks occasionally, has a club started for him by Kathryn Shannon, 100823 Penrose, Sun Valley, Calif. Jennie Noriega, 2811 Vallejo Street, L.A., 31, Calif. is the prexy.

The Betty White fan club, Bets Pets, is going as strong as ever, writes Thelma Gross.

Joanie Rolens, 1407 Marengo, South Pasadena, Calif., is a roller derby fan and would like to know if any clubs have been started for that exciting sport. Her favorites are Punkie Gardner, Art Hickle, Red Smartt, and Mary Youpelle.

Shannon Murray, of Alhambra, writes: "Your suggestion about having more fan clubs for the "Hometown Jamboree" gang is certainly a good one but when you mention names please do not put Gene O'Quin in the "etc class." Sorry, not intentional.

San Diego DIAL DATA

SAN DIEGO . . . (Special) . . . The Orange Bowl Game will again be carried on Chanel 8 New Year's Day. Starting at 10:45 PST the game will continue to approximately 2:00 P.M. Red Barber will again handle the play-by-play announcing assignment. The Miami classic, twentieth in the Orange Bowl series, will pit the nation's number-one football power, Maryland, against fourth-ranking Oklahoma. The "Terps" went thru the 1953 season undefeated and untied in ten games, to gain the Atlantic Coast Conference championship. In winning the Big Seven Conference title, Oklahoma's "Sooners" lost but one game, that to Notre Dame. . . . Prior to the Orange Bowl game Channel 8's viewers can watch the Rose Parade with Caroline Leonetti and Hank Weaver handling the color commentary and narration. The Parade will begin at 8:45 in the morning and will continue for approximately two hours.

Channel 8 has applied to the FCC to increase its transmitting power to the maximum permitted under FCC regulations of 316,000 watts visual. The station will spend a total of $300,000 to improve the facilities. Channel 8 now operates with an effective radiated power of 28,000 watts. If granted permission by the FCC, the station will start installation of a new RCA transmitter early next year. The new RCA transmitter will be of the latest design and is being manufactured in such a way that with minor changes it can be converted to telecast color. This will not only provide coverage in the San Diego County areas and adjacent county areas that are not now reached, but will improve the picture in Class A service field.

PICK of the PIX

by Aubrey Dahl

Inasmuch as this is the season when peace and good will should reign everywhere, I hope you won't think me too maudlin if I take this occasion to wish each and every one of you a very Merry Groundhog Day and a Happy Fourth of July.

"Stolen Face." (5) Jan. 1, 10:00. Paul Henreid is a famous plastic surgeon who falls in love with Lizabeth Scott, a concert pianist. They have a short romantic idyll and then Lizabeth goes back to her career, leaving Paul to brood over the vagaries of woman. He decides not to be lonely, however, and alters the face of a congenital criminal so that she looks exactly like his love. (From this, I'm sure that all of you can see that Miss Scott plays a dual role. At least, I think she did . . . there just couldn't be two Lizabeth Scotts). He then marries his creation, who gives him a deuce of a time by continuing to behave like a congenital criminal . . . she likes booze and jazz and what does that make the rest of us? Shall I tell you that true love finally wins out?

"Man of Conquest." (13) Dec. 31, 9:30 is the story of Sam Houston, that great figure of the Old West, whose career carried him to the governor's mansion of two states, Louisiana and Texas. The film shows him to be a man of honor and courage, and although I'm sure that historical liberties have been taken . . . as usually happens in film biographies . . . I enjoyed the proceedings.

"The Long Night." (5) Dec. 26, 6:30. Henry Fonda is the Common Man, returned from the war and looking for the bright new world that was promised him. He finds, instead, the same greed and suspicion that has dogged him all his life, and thus seizes even more eagerly on the love he feels for Barbara Bel Geddes, a girl as simple and as honest as he. Vincent Price, as the epitome of evil, palms himself off to Fonda first as the girl's lover and then as her father, and Fonda, his love and faith destroyed, kills him. It is then, in a highly unlikely, but nevertheless buoying ending that he discovers that there is trust and fellowship in the world. Altogether, a fine film, first released in 1947.

"Man In A Dinghy." (13) Dec. 28, 11:00. Here is what is known as a sprightly comedy. It's about a fellow, Michael Wilding, who hides out on a yacht to escape the police, falls in love with a beautiful French girl who happens to be conveniently on board, frightens everyone into thinking he is a dangerous fugitive and then straightens everything out by simply being innocent all along. Laugh, I thought I'd cry!

Christmas Radio Precasts

The following is a list of special Christmas programs which were scheduled by the stations too late for our December 19-25 issue. We include them now for your Christmas listening.

THERE WERE TWO PARTIES BACK to back last week—one for NBC-TV's "Mr. Peepers" (Wally Cox) and his cast making a one-time telecast from Hollywood, and the other a Peter Potter affair following his ABC-TV fiftieth anniversary salute to Hollywood.

FROM WHAT I GATHERED, "Peepers" was "submitting" to the hullabaloo, though he didn't display the slightest annoyance. A couple hundred people crushed around him at the party held backstage at the NBC Burbank studios where he was courteous and Peepish to everyone. When I asked him whether he was impressed with the spacious set-up and tremendous facilities here, he said they were fine, but back home in New York was fine, too, and he wouldn't dream of moving here because "my roots are all in the East." Attractive Pat Benoit, who plays "Nancy" so appealingly on the show, was also in a hurry to get back home. Reason: husband.

WHO'S GUESTING

Monday, December 28—VOICE OF FIRESTONE, KFI, 5:30 p.m. Nadine Conner and George London are guests with Harold Barlow and the Firestone Orchestra and Chorus.

Monday, December 28—TELEPHONE HOUR, KFI, 9:00 p.m. Lily Pons, coloratura soprano, is guest with Donald Voorhees and the Bell Telephone Orchestra.

WHAT'S SPECIAL

Saturday, December 26—BLUE-GRAY GAME, KHJ, 11:45 a.m. The All-Stars of the North meet the All-Stars of the South in annual game at Cramton Bowl, Montgomery.

Tuesday, December 29 — BASKETBALL, KFVB, 8:30 p.m. The game between Loyola and Los Angeles State is heard in its entirety.

Wednesday, December 30 — BASKETBALL, KFVB, 7:30 p.m. UCLA vs. Iowa is heard at 7:30 p.m. USC-Michigan State game is heard at 9:30 p.m.

Thursday, December 31 — BASKETBALL, KFVB, 7:30 p.m. USC-Iowa game is heard at 7:30 p.m. UCLA-Michigan State game is heard at 9:30 p.m.

Friday, January 1—ROSE BOWL FOOTBALL GAME, KFI, 10:45 a.m. The famous football classic is heard exclusively today on KFI. The game is between UCLA and Michigan State.

Friday, January 1—ORANGE BOWL FOOTBALL GAME, KNX, 10:45 a.m. The annual New Year's football classic from Miami is heard. The University of Maryland meets the University of Oklahoma.

Sunday, December 27—NBC SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, KFI, 3:30 p.m. Guido Cantelli conducts music of Handel and Schubert on his second appearance of the season.

Saturday, December 26 — METROPOLITAN OPERA, KECA, 11:00 a.m. Eric Kunz, Irmgard Seefried and Frank Guarrera sing leading roles in Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro."

WHAT'S PLAYING

Sunday, December 27—CHICAGO THEATER OF THE AIR, KHJ, 9:30 p.m. A musical version of "The Wizard of Oz" is heard tonight.

Sunday, December 27 — HOLLYWOOD STORY, KFI, 6:30 p.m. Lucille Ball stars in the role of Carole Lombard in a salute to one of the screen's best-loved comedienne who died in an airplane crash on a bond selling tour during the war.

that Marion Lorne, who does the role of "Mrs. Guerney" to a turn, didn't want to fly out.

AT THE ABC AFFAIR I MET Clara Kimball Young, whose blue-grey hair matched her dress. Had quite a chat with Rudy Vallee, still unhappy over the fact that eight years ago Victor Borge, in an interview with TV-Radio Life, didn't give Rudy full credit for discovering him.

RALPH EDWARDS'S TERRIFIC production man, Al Paschall, was on tap to give a hand to another Hazel Bishop-sponsored teleshow. I've never seen him so beat. He'd just breezed in from "This Is Your Life's" three-week stand in New York. Al was bemoaning the fact that the subject originally selected for their first N.Y. telecast was tipped off and had to be cancelled. Martha Raye was honored instead, but it was to have been Tallulah Bankhead. This is the third time a switch has been necessary — others were Ann Sheridan and Quentin Reynolds, who got wise too soon.

LITTLE LINES: NICE TO HAVE ART BAKER and His Notebook back on the air (KFI, . . . There's been some excellent Christmas music floating out over the ether. Especially enjoyable was the University of Redlands choral group and Concordia's a capella choir . . . "Cavalcade of America's" telecast on the Pony Express was exceptionally good, I thought . . . It's unpretentious listening, but real human interest on Sunday morning's "Fifty Years Ago" and "Home Town Happenings," both KFI. Later is a pleasant little resume of items in Southern California community newspapers with emphasis, as stated, on human interest . . . So Bergen is off for his third successive year of spreading cheer in some fifteen hospitals! Something like his Operation Santa Claus deserves more than a passing mention.

HAD A SHORT LETTER FROM BILL HENRY in Washington telling me he enjoyed our feature carried recently on him and his wife. "The pictures of the pool, the oranges and Duke make me very homesick at this time of year," he said, "but Corinne and I will probably be back at the ranch by spring."

JIM AND MARIAN JORDAN ("Fiber McGee & Molly") are celebrating the holidays at their Encino home with son Jim (TV director of Bob Hope's and Donald O'Connor's shows), daughter Kathryn and five grandchildren to add to the festivities. Plus newly-successful launching of their Things have really been popping over KLAC-TV way. With new owners taking over and stalwarts like Betty White disappearing, what's the place coming to? Frankly, this is probably the best break Betty has ever had. While she will be sorely missed by her many fans, she will now have a chance to hit the big-time with no holds barred. She has always had the talent to do bigger and better things but her hands were tied. Now she is free to spread her wings a bit. And you wanna bet she'll do some tall spreading? With her "Life with Elizabeth" already being seen nationally, Betty White's career may soon take on an entirely new aura. Keep your eye on this girl, kiddies.

Hear tell that Chet Huntley has a suit against a woman who belonged to one of those dear little pressure groups. Seems she went just a little too far in her activities to get him off the air because she didn't agree with his views. When men with the integrity and honesty of Chet Huntley take action like this, it's a mighty good thing. Other commentators should do the same. This country was never built on the premise that a certain few individuals should channel the thinking of the rest of us.

Have you heard the emcee on "Jack's Place" on KECA radio? Maybe I'm hearing things, but he certainly sounds like Arthur Godfrey—even to the laugh. Seems that he'd try to change this style a little, especially in the light of recent developments. But if you want to get a start, tune this fellow in some time.

Paul Heard is about to produce more of the Dr. Norman Vincent Peale TV shows. These programs, which were so inspirational and helpful, had a run last year but haven't been brought back again. With the success of Peale's new book, "The Power of Positive Thinking," it would appear to be a smart deal to re-run these films. They would at least bridge the gap until new shows were ready. How about it, Mr. Heard?

Universal-International displayed its new and young talent at the studio a couple of weeks ago in a series of plays and skits. The purpose of this was to let other studios and producers as well as the executives on their own lot know what these young people could do. It occurred to me that this same system of show-casing new talent might be good for TV. If such a program featuring TV's up and comers could be shown on a special television program, it is quite possible some bright new stars might be revealed. Viewers could designate their favorites, and producers, directors, and casting agents would find the new talent they need so much. The day must come when TV stops relying on the same tried and true names and starts branching out to introduce its own new personalities. This is one way to start the new campaign.

Speaking of new personalities, George Gobel, who was such a hit on "Saturday Night Revue," opens at the Statler Hotel. What's happening to his TV show at NBC? Anyway, catch him in his current act. He's good.

And a Merry Christmas to you all! May the blessings of this Christmas season fill you and yours with love, charity, and peace.

MULTI-TALENTED MARIA PALMER

Maria Palmer, beautiful lady of the silver screen, has written a song entitled "Kneel Down My Heart," that has been accepted by a major publishing firm.

DOT THAT "I"

KTLA's "Frosty Frolics" has two skating stars with the same name—but the similarity ends there. JERI Boone spells her name JERI as any girl should. Her male counterpart (name-wise) spells his name in the conventional manner—JERRY—and answers to Jerry Rehfield.

Radio in Review

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

Radio Ramblings

Stan Freberg has been climbing the ladder of success quite rapidly. He was given a further boost by CBS radio when the net set him on his own starrer, "That's Rich," a situation comedy airer due to bow January 14 . . . Bill Gordon, writer-director of Mutual's "Count of Monte Cristo," types his scripts directly on a stencil. The only revision necessary on his "first-write" scripts is run over material. Try writing a script without any revision and see what happens.

"Ma Perkins" enters its twenty-first year of broadcasting for the same sponsor and with the same actors who originated the three leading characters still playing those roles. This sets a record of some kind. . . . KNX has named Harry Koplan as its "Official Hollywood Greeter." He performs his official chores on his "Meet the Music" show. . . . We are not quite sure what kind of programming they have in the land of Sultans but Turkey is inviting American contractors to submit bids for the construction of four new radio broadcast transmitter stations, and for the expansion of existing facilities at Radio Ankara.

KBIG's Stu Wilson tested public reaction to the proposal whether or not children should be told the truth about Santa Claus. The square-dancing radioite concluded, after many interviews with adults, that Santa is here to stay. Gosh, Stu, we could have told you that. Merry Christmas! M.R.

Off Mike (Personalities)

Radio Happy-Hughes

Gordon T. Hughes is sold on radio. The talented writer-director-producer-actor celebrates his tenth year with CBS radio and he figures he's been around the industry long enough to know something about it. Hughes didn't fall into the TV-happy category. At a time when radio was supposedly dying, he accepted a challenge to build a new show.

Gordon T. Hughes

The show was "My Little Margie," which started out in life as a weak little summer replacement on television for "I Love Lucy." The stanza surprised everyone by gaining strength and weight to the point where it earned the right to its own identity. CBS called Hughes in and handed him the job of writing, producing and directing a radio version of the show.

In less than a year, "Margie" entered the ranks of the ten top radio shows in nationwide popularity. Hughes isn't taking all the credit for this achievement. He believes Gale Storm and Charles Farrell are exceptionally convincing in their radio interpretation of "My Little Margie."

Gordon isn't exactly partial to radio but here's how he feels about TV: "There's no fun doing television . . . it produces ulcers, neurotics and old men . . . it gives you that frantic look. Sure I'll listen to TV offers but reserve the right to pick the one with the least potential for a nervous breakdown. In the meantime I'll stay with radio just as long as possible."

Miller Records Bible

The indefatigable Marvin Miller has embarked on the most monumental chore in the history of phonograph recording, putting the entire Old Testament on super-long-playing (16rpm) discs.

Earlier this year he completed recording the New Testament for Audio Books. It won high praise from both laymen and the clergy for its quality, taste and straightforwardness. This album, which includes all the books of the New Testament without a single word change, has a playing time of twenty-three and a half hours.

The Old Testament will make the first effort look like a rehearsal. It will have a playing time of approximately ninety-six hours or four full days and nights.

More than five months were spent in recording the New Testament, but the Old Testament is expected to take more than twice that long, despite the fact that most of the technical problems have been licked.

Marvin records (on tape) in sessions of from two to four hours at a crack, reading from twelve to twenty-four chapters, depending on the length of each. In addition he spends many days in research before each session, checking on pronunciation, the history of each book and the characters contained in them.

"Parole File 732"

Documentaries have always had a special niche in radio. The current CBS Public Affairs program, "Feature Projects," has added scope and importance to this niche. "Parole File 732," the seventh in a series of feature projects, was a searching penetration into the mind of a man who discovers freedom after serving twenty-two years behind prison bars.

The hour-long program held listeners' attention throughout the broadcast. In addition to telling the story of a parolee, the program enlightened the public on the parole system and how it is administered.

The unidentified prisoner, whose story was reviewed on the program, was sentenced to death in 1931 on a murder charge and spent fourteen months in the death cell. On the basis of a second trial, his sentence was commuted to sixty-five-years-to-life. After serving twenty-two years of his sentence he was released by the Parole Board.

The straightforward report, which was narrated by Eric Sevareid, was not a sentimental eulogizing of a criminal. Rather a documentation of cause and effect and the perspective of the criminal's new life . . . a parolee with a job. (The Parole Board secured a position for the prisoner before he was released.)

"Parole" was produced by Al Morgan, who produced two previous "Feature Projects," "38th Parallel—USA" and "This Game of Baseball" (which starred Bing Crosby). The on-the-spot recording came from the Colorado State Penitentiary. Stuart Novins, Director of Public Affairs, screened thirty-eight prisoners before he found a prison parolee suitable for the documentation.

"Feature Projects" are public service programs well worth listeners' time.—M.R.

On the Ball

With Ted Hilgenstuhler

Everyone likes to play Santa Claus. Sports announcers are no exception.

Each of the local lungmen was asked: "If you could be Santa Claus and give a Christmas gift which would benefit sports events in Southern California, what would it be?"

Here is a list of the replies:

Sam Balter, KLAC: "I'd like to give candy whistles to all the basketball referees, so that with each toot part of it would disappear. Also, because none of the local sports editors know anything about basketball, they give hardly any local coverage to the sport. I would like to see basketball get the publicity it deserves in this town."

Tom Harmon, KNX: "Without costing the taxpayers a single cent, I would build an adequate indoor stadium in Los Angeles so that the citizens of the third largest city in the United States could have the best in basketball, boxing and other indoor attractions which they certainly deserve."

Dick Lane, KTLA: "Permission for lady wrestlers to appear in Southern California!"

Bill Brundige, KHJ-TV: "A PCL pennant for the Los Angeles Angels in 1954!"

Mark Scott, KFWE: "We can never have major league baseball in this city until we have a suitable major league baseball park. That's what I would like to give for Christmas. I don't care who builds it, or where it is, just as long as we get it."

Bill Welsh, KTTV: "I've already had my Christmas wish come true. I sent Wild Red Berry out of town for the holidays."

Lyle Bond, KHJ-TV: "Ten basketball players as big and as good as Bevo Francis. Five for USC; five for UCLA, and may the best team win."

Fred Hessler, KMPC: "A crew haircut for Gorgeous George."

Jackson Wheeler, KTTV: "On the serious side, I'd have a large sale of good seats for the general public for the Rose Bowl and lower cost per ticket for regular college games at the Coliseum. Then I'd like a sports show of my own—without commercials."

Hank Weaver, KECA-TV: "I wish the fight fans of Southern California could have as good and as dramatic a fight each Saturday night as the recent Vaughan-Green battle."

Erik Paige, KFWE: "May Christmas bring Bob Cobb an answer to all his baseball problems. He is too great a guy and too wise a baseball man to Page Thirty-eight

Wrestling Is My Business

By Jules Strongbow

Christmas is everywhere. Hearts are lighter and gayer; folks display the warmth and kindness to others which they should feel year-round; ladies with visions of full coats and diamond watches are sweeter and prettier to their husbands; the children are putting in their wishes to Santa Claus.

Wrestling fans have been making their Holiday wishes known, too. My desk is full of messages from the fans letting me know in no uncertain terms what they would like in the way of wrestling fare for Christmas and the New Year.

Most expressive are the followers of the South of the Border matmen. Fans never get to see enough of the likable Guadalajara Flash, Rito Romero. Right now, I have no information as to when he will campaign here again but efforts are being made to cut the red tape and bring him back to Southern California. Close at Romero's heels in popularity are the Torres brothers, Enrique and Ramon; and the Guzman boys, Blackie and Carlos. Ramon plans to enter the local wars here the first of the year.

Wild Red Barry, the little Kansas sunflower, is spending the holidays at home in Pittsburg with his wife, Lillian, and son, Jimmy.

Judging from the letters, there are as many fans who wish Red would make being away a permanent situation as there are who want to see more of him.

"What happened to the grand old Continental Nobleman, Baron Michele Leone?" is asked by his staunch supporters. The Baron has been working in the Middle West but should be back any day now to his Santa Monica home. I do not know whether he will wrestle here or just spend the holidays and take off on another tour.

One lone fan wrote to ask for Karl "Stinky" Davis's return. "Stinky" came home from the South this week to be with his mother for Christmas.

It seems that everyone wants to see more and more of the year's outstanding newcomer, Wilbur Snyder. The way it looks now, that wish will be granted as Wilbur plans to stay here and take on all the tough guys to get in shape for another titular shot. He has come a long way in a short time.

There were lots and lots of requests about the Oriental boogie man, Mr.

be pushed from the Los Angeles baseball scene."

As for me: "I pray that 'Merry Christmas' becomes not just a saying but a reality for all of you and your loved ones."

Moto, but they were all of a negative nature. Of all the wrestlers, Mr. Moto leads by a country mile in being the most unpopular. The fan's hopes that he would stay away forever were dashed as he came back this week to open up a new set of ulcers for the spectators. He was not without welcome entirely, however, as the petite and charming Mrs. Moto and their five honorable sons bid him a fond and loving welcome home.

It is not only during the Christmas season but all during the year that I feel a deep, sincere gratitude to you very kind folks for your interest and good wishes. Your letters and cards mean a great deal to us at Hacienda de Felicidad and I trust that the coming year will bring you bigger and better wrestling matches and great personal enjoyment.

I wish that it were possible to contact each and every one of you who have made this such a happy year for us. Ramona, Gary, Stephen and I wish all of you a very Merry Christmas and may all your fondest hopes come true.

NBC Monday-Friday show, reason in itself to be merry. But the Jordans still look back to Christmas 1922 as their most treasured because it was the first time in their married life that their careers were on the up grade and they felt they were getting someplace. Such grateful people!

QUOTE OF THE WEEK (Terry Moore on Shirley Thomas's NBC ailer): "We're going to have to start dressing our stars again—including me!"

DEAR SANTA: I'M ASKING FOR only a couple of things this year.

PLEASE, A DUMP TRUCK BIG enough to cart away all the TV film with obnoxious canned laugh tracks.

AND PLEASE, A BAT TO CLOBBER the sponsors who are making the stars of their shows do the commercial pitches. Dangerous implications here, not only to stars but to sponsors.

THAT'S ALL, ST. NICK. AFTER you've rested up a little, maybe you'd like to start on next year's Christmas: color TV for around $500.

IF SUCCESS IN TV and radio has made anyone happy, and yet humble and grateful, it would certainly be Miss Roberta Linn, singing star of KTLA's "Cafe Continental." Roberta explains what Christmas means to her in this exclusive TV-RADIO LIFE feature. (Photo and cover by Bud Fraker of Paramount Studios.)

A Christmas Message:

Be Happy and Be Humble

By Ted Hilgenstuhler

CHRISTMAS is a joyous holiday. It is the time for singing and laughter and spontaneous exultation.

Christmas is also a very sacred and solemn occasion. It is the time for human compassion, for humble gratefulness, and for the glorification of the birth of Our Lord Jesus Christ.

For our Christmas cover this year, TV-RADIO LIFE selected Roberta Linn, singing star of KTLA's "Cafe Continental," and "Frosty Frolics," and KNX's "Ralph Story's Backyard." She was not picked at random. There were several valid reasons for it.

First of all, the dark-haired songstress from Huntington Park happens to be a very popular gal with the TV-radio fans of Southern California. Ever since her TV debut with Lawrence Welk's orchestra three years ago, the public has never tired of seeing her—either on TV, in person, or in print.

Glad Tidings!

More important than this, Roberta Linn, both in her work and her private life, exemplifies the Christmas spirit.

She giggles (and how). She smiles. She sings. She is cute and talented. She's a "pro" in show business, even though she's only twenty-five years old. In brief, she brings joy and pleasure into millions of homes. This is a part of the Yuletide message.

Christmas week finds Roberta especially busy doing the one thing she enjoys most—entertaining people. In addition to her regular chores and guest appearances, she and other members of KTLA, for the third straight year, will do a special TV performance from the General Hospital on Christmas Eve. This time Roberta will have a surprise for the kids. A group of working girls have made fifty beautiful dolls for this occasion and have given them to Roberta. She, in turn, will present them to the children Christmas Eve.

As far as her singing is concerned, Roberta's biggest Christmas thrill came last year when she sang hymns with the Mitchell Boys Choir on CBS.

Serious Tidings

Now for the more sombre side of our singing star. We told Roberta we were doing a Christmas story on her. Did she have any serious comments to make on the meaning of Christmas?

She thought awhile, and then spoke. This is what she said:

"Perhaps I can best explain what Christmas means to me by telling you a few things that happened to me this week.

"Yesterday I had the good fortune to sing a new song called, 'Count Your Blessings.' All the things in which I've always believed are summed up in the lyrics and melody of this number. Unfortunately, it's only human nature for us to complain occasionally. Nevertheless there are times when we meet people who make us realize how grateful and humble we should be for the blessings we have.

"A short time ago a beautiful twenty-one-year-old girl by the name of Boni Buehler had the whole world in front of her. Then, in a boat accident on Lake Arrowhead, she lost her left arm and leg.

"I just met this courageous girl. She is planning a wonderful future with a big smile on her pretty face. To talk with her you would never know anything had happened to her, except for the fact that she wears a sweater over her left shoulder and sits in a wheel chair.

"Her plans, her dreams, and her ambitions for the future are greater than any other girl's I know. One has only to know a girl like this for a few moments to realize how blessed most of us are. Christmas is the right and wonderful time to 'count our blessings' over and over. Among those who will really be counting their blessings will be this one little girl, Boni Buehler."

A Christmas Wish

Roberta hesitated for a moment. "I guess a lot of people may think I'm awfully corny, but I try to make every day throughout the year like Christmas. I don't know how good a job I do, but I try. Wouldn't it be wonderful if every day could be like Christmas?"

"I know very little about politics or world organizations, such as the United Nations. But I have a feeling that if all these nations could somehow have a Christmas motif every day of the year, we might get a little closer to world peace and the ideals of a brotherhood of men."

You see what we mean about Roberta Linn and the spirit of Christmas?

Merry Christmas, Roberta! And our best wishes, and our readers' best wishes, for a Happy New Year.

JACKIE GLEASON GOES IN HEAVILY FOR BIG PRODUCTION NUMBERS in his show, and particularly stresses the June Taylor dancers. He costumes them with as much elegance and little regard for expense as would be the case if these chorines were in big Broadway musicals. Jackie does not believe in giving the public anything but the best—which probably explains why he's become so popular.

Backstage With Jackie

JACKIE NEVER OVERLOOKS a chance for a gag. Both on stage and off, his ready wit is the delight of everyone on the show. Here he has a little fun with a shapely member of his cast.

W
ATCHING a Jackie Gleason Show rehearsal is, in many ways, as much fun as seeing the finished show on CBS-TV Saturday night. No matter how hard Jackie is working — and few performers put so much of themselves into their shows as does Jackie—he always manages to find something to joke about.

"The Jackie Gleason Show" is in preparation all week and a good part of the work is done in Jackie's New York penthouse. Here the seven writers gather on Monday morning and kick around ideas for that Saturday's show. By Tuesday or Wednesday, they have many of their ideas for the sketches down on paper. Jackie, himself, of course, is constantly suggesting ideas for "The Poor Soul," "Reggie Van Gleason III," "Joe the Bartender," or "The Loud Mouth"—situations he remembers the prototypes of these characters getting into. All the Jackie Gleason characters are based on people Jackie has known; most of them, of course, composites of a number of people. But each of the characters is very real to Jackie and to the other members of his cast.

Doing three new sketches every week would be impossible if Jackie didn't have such an expert cast working with him, and Jackie is the first to praise the talents of Art Carney, Audrey Meadows and Joyce Randolph, who never let him down. Jackie doesn't believe in rehearsing a comedy sketch too much for fear of the actors growing stale, so there is seldom a real dress rehearsal of a "Jackie Gleason Show." The cast is given their scripts on Thursday, and on Friday they run through their lines with Jackie in his apartment. Not until Saturday afternoon do they have a regular run-through and, frequently, just an hour before the show Jackie may decide to alter a sketch. With many actors this would be disastrous but not for Jackie's group. They improvise right along with him.

Jackie Gleason has done more than any other entertainer to glorify the chorus girl on television. He knows that pretty girls add a great deal to any Broadway production and he rightly assumed the television audience would like them too. Consequently he opened his show last season with an unheard-of chorus of sixteen dancers, all beautifully trained by June Taylor. And this year, in addition to his sixteen dancers, he added sixteen show girls and seven Portrettes—each more beautiful than the last.

While Jackie and his writers are worrying and working over the sketches, June Taylor is working out new routines for the dancers. At weekly production meetings, Gleason goes over the dance theme suggested by June Taylor. Once the idea is agreed on, June selects the music and works out the dance routines. Rehearsals for the dancers begin on Tuesday and last until the following Saturday. They rehearse in the Chester Hale Studios—a large rehearsal hall with mirrors on two sides. Wednesday they have a costume fitting, and the costumes are more lavish than those on any other television show. Jackie insists on this and wants the girls on his show to be costumed as distinctively as the girls in a top Broadway musical revue.

Saturday at noon, the entire cast—actors, dancers, show girls and Jackie, his co-producers Jack Philbin and Jack Hurdle, his director, Frank Satenstein, his choreographer, June Taylor, the musicians under Ray Bloch's direction, thirty or more technicians, stage hands, property men, lighting men, et al, all merge on CBS-TV's Studio No. 50 and put the finishing touches on the week's show. "The Jackie Gleason Show" on Saturday looks like a huge Broadway production in rehearsal; the only difference being that the Broadway revue will have months to rehearse, then several weeks on the road before it opens in New York, while the "Jackie Gleason Show" rehearsing on Saturday afternoon will be on the air and seen by millions at eight o'clock that same night. Broadway showmen say it's impossible and there are times when Jackie Gleason is inclined to agree with them—that is: until the curtain goes up, the June Taylor girls have completed their first number, and Jackie walks out to thunderous applause. Then Jackie knows the job he has set for himself may be mighty, mighty tough, but it's worth all those hours of toil that have gone into it.

↑ JACKIE'S VARIED and hilarious characterizations have made him one of the greatest stars on TV. He had a long fight reaching the top, but once he got there he proved to one and all he was no fluke.

If you'd like to know how a big-time TV variety show is put on, here's some inside information on what work is necessary to produce Jackie Gleason's show. One thing you can be sure of—the job is anything but a cinch.

Gleason

↓ THE JUNE TAYLOR DANCERS are real Gleason fans. He gives them prominent spots on his shows and sees that their delectable curves are displayed to the fullest advantage. Few dance groups have risen to such an important place on a TV show as have these dancers—thanks to Mr. Gleason.

↓ READY FOR REHEARSAL. As a gag, Jackie checks off the girls as they march to rehearsal at CBS Studio 50 in New York. You can safely assume the bathing suit attire on the girls is strictly for publicity purposes. They really come to work dressed in orthodox fashion. But who objects to a picture like this?

Edgar Bergen: Real Gone Father

By Evelyn Bigsby

AH, THE little rascals! They win your heart!" sighed famous Edgar Bergen when asked about children in general, and his own seven-year-old Candy in particular. "Little girls are so lovable," he continued. "Do I wish she had been a boy? I'm certain not. A seven-year-old boy would be too much for me," he said with a facetious twinkle.

Bergen, often not too talkative, throws inhibitions to the winds when his daughter is mentioned. She's his pal, his plane-mate, fishing partner, riding companion, and, adds Bergen, "she's such a hokey comedienne."

At the age of two, Candy was the object of her father's banter. Asked her name, she would solemnly state it in full. Then her dad would counter with some remark like "Isn't that odd? My last name is Bergen, too," and proceed with a gay make-believe. By the time Candy was three and asked her name, she would come up with some imaginative answer like "I'm Joan Crawford. I'm a dancer."

Start the Day

Breakfast, above all other times, is when Bergen and Candy get together. Mother usually sleeps in, so father and daughter have exclusive opportunity to discuss problems, exchange small and funny talk, and feed Candy's collie, fox terrier, cat and other pets.

A seven-year-old's problems are deep: "what is death? where is heaven?" One morning Bergen coped with the question: "Daddy, if no one has ever seen God or come back from heaven, how come there are so many pictures of Jesus?"

Bergen considers it a rare opportunity to see a child develop. "Children's joy in living and their enthusiasm is so contagious," he observes. "They just won't let you think about your work and your office."

Both Mrs. Bergen and Edgar dislike spoiled children. Frances Bergen was an only child and is especially determined that Candy does not grow up an unlikable and unmanageable youngster. Their discipline is seldom physical, although this is not beyond the realm of possibility. However, Candy is alert and sensitive enough to respond to mental chastisement. One of the most effective means is deprivation of a favorite pastime.

When she was three-and-a-half, Candy made an eight-mile horseback ride with her dad. Even Bergen admits to having been exhausted, and says they both had to have naps afterward. Candy and Edgar often fly together to Palm Springs in Bergen's private plane. She has already learned something about flying and no longer rocks the plane when she tries her hand at it. Usually, however, she curls up on the back seat to snooze, or stretches out to read a comic book. This past summer the two of them ventured their farthest; they made a trip to Yellowstone.

Her Activities

One of Candy's pet projects is to call her father at his office and assume some kind of dialect. She has several "disguises" and also enjoys "throwing her voice." First time Candy was heard to carry on a dual conversation was en route to the airport when she had the back seat of the car to herself. The Bergens suddenly heard a two-way conversation progressing between a passenger in the car and a hitchhiker who wanted to be picked up and carried to the airport. Despite such interesting developments on his daughter's part, Bergen insists she is not unusually talented. She has taken dance lessons—"she enjoyed them," claims Edgar, "but was rather clumsy." She is now studying piano.

Candy has made two appearances on her father's CBS radio show. One was last Christmas, and the more recent was at start of the fall season. The first time she went on, Bergen was careful not to rehearse her to the point where she would sound unnatural. "Just read your lines like you mean it," he instructed, "then wait for your laughs." Candy came through like a swell trouper, but after the show she exclaimed, "Gee! I had to wait the longest time for my laughs!"

When asked if she would like to appear on her father's seasonal premiere, Candy was told all she would have was just one line.

"Why?" she shot back in such an inborn "hammy" but natural way that the query was not in the least impertinent.

"Candy had her one line," Bergen reports, "but she blew it because she couldn't find the mike. She's been disgusted with herself ever since."

Seen On The Christmas Scene

▲ EVE ARDEN takes time out from "Our Miss Brooks" to put the finishing touches to her Christmas tree—one of the most beautifully decorated in Hollywood.

▼ THE SUIT FITS, so "Andy" has decided to play Santa Claus for the Mystic Knights of the Sea's Christmas Party. Pal "Amos" helps him pack the presents.

▼ NBC's DINAH SHORE hangs stockings by the fireplace in anticipation of Santa's arrival. Needless to say, husband George Montgomery and daughter Melissa are represented too.

▼ DON McNEIL is busy with mental gymnastics as he tries to help his young son Bobbie with an erector set. Maybe next year Santa will leave a simple toy.

"Success Story"

A trophy case full of awards for excellence! "Preferred viewing," says the National Association for Better Radio and Television... "Recommended," says the California Parent-Teacher Association... A must, each Friday, in a hundred thousand Southern California homes.
