TV Headaches?

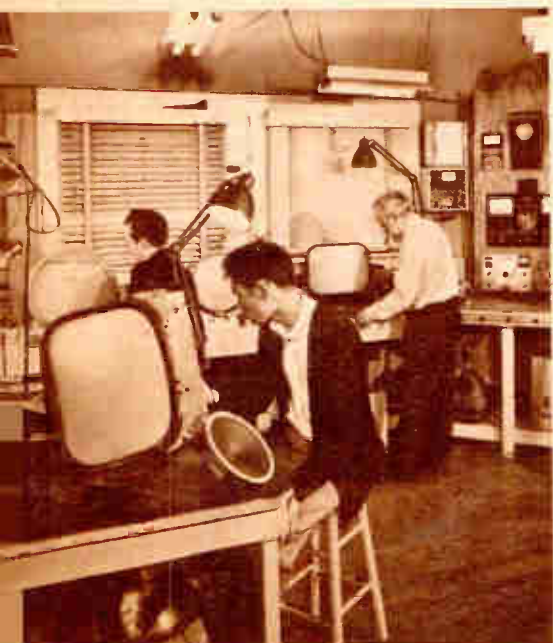

Los Angeles firm prescribes low cost remedy for sick TV sets.

The fabulously rapid growth of the still-young television industry is one of the miracles of this age, an age accustomed to miracles.

Yet the rapidity of growth brought with it many growing pains, among them the problem of set maintenance.

Television sets contain thousands of delicate parts, hundreds of feet of intricate wiring. Topflight technicians require years of training to properly service a television set, must study continuously to keep abreast of constant changes and improvements.

Consumers, delighted with this entertainment at-home-device, have rushed to the set dealers in ever-expanding numbers, with the result that in Los Angeles alone, more than 2 million TV antennas proudly proclaim to the world their attachment to a TV set below the roof they stand upon.

But, accustomed to low cost radio set maintenance, the same consumer rebelled at the higher cost of TV repair services. Following the same pattern as radio, TV parts and tubes cost more in the beginning until mass production methods brought costs down.

The need for a good, honest and reasonable TV service agreement for set owners was recognized in 1949, when Eugene Clinard established TELEVISION INDUSTRIES, INC., to fill that need. Operating on the same principle as an auto club membership in cost and function, with a technical staff to service the warranty holders' sets, the organization has grown steadily since 1949.

Today, more than 12,000 satisfied contract holders, many of them having renewed their previous two year contracts, attest to the reliability and honesty of this firm. TELEVISION INDUSTRIES, INC., is a member of the Los Angeles Better Business Bureau.

The plan under which the company

operates is simple: TELEVISION INDUSTRIES will issue a parts warranty which guarantees any and all parts in your TV set for $15 per year, on a two year basis. This guarantee covers all small parts, all small tubes, transformers, channel selector unit and picture tubes up to and including 21" screens.

Or, they will issue a warranty covering your picture tube only for $10 per year. Defective and worn out parts are replaced with original factory materials.

House calls are charged for at a flat rate of $3.50 per call. TELEVISION INDUSTRIES prefers not to bring the customer's set to the shop, as their fully equipped field men can and do correct over 85% of the set owner's trouble in the home. In those cases where major repair work is necessary, set are checked, repaired and tested at the shop, using the finest and latest available electronic equipment.

TELEVISION INDUSTRIES covers all districts of Los Angeles and Los Angeles County Monday through Saturday, six days a week.

You can have a representative call upon you at your convenience to explain further the working details of this warranty service by writing to TELEVISION INDUSTRIES, INC., located at 4031 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles 5, California.

The Star-Studded Show

There are many TV filmed dramatic shows, but "Ford Theatre" continues to be the top-ranking effort. No wonder the stars prefer this program when they decide on the TV plunge!

By Jon Bruce

A BC's "Ford Theatre" has long been one of the most potent attractions on TV. There has to be a reason for such popularity.

There is little doubt that this Screen Gems show has remained on top because of its emphasis on star names. Almost every important personality who has been available for TV has appeared on the series. Many who had previously vowed they wouldn't be caught dead doing TV of any kind have, one by one, succumbed to the lure of "Ford Theatre."

Stars' Debuts

When Merle Oberon, who had been spending most of her time in Europe, decided to return to Hollywood and to re-establish herself, she did a "Ford Theatre." Since her first telecast she has been cast in such big films as "Deep in My Heart" at MGM and "Desiree" at 20th Century-Fox. Will Rogers, Jr. had made up his mind to retire after having done "The Will Rogers Story," even though it was a notable success. However, he did one "Ford Theatre" show and then another—and has now decided to continue with his career. Irene Dunne, disappointed over the results of her first TV venture as hostess for a series of filmed dramatic shows, had to be persuaded to try the medium again—and she was so satisfied with the outcome of her first "Ford Theatre" venture for Screen Gems that she agreed to do another play. Paul Douglas is another who had assiduously avoided television in any shape, but when he did one for Screen Gems he found the experience so pleasant and such an easy way to make money that he plans to make more. Keefe Braselle just recently did "Shadow of Truth" for "Ford Theatre," which was his first TV venture.

the Stars Made

The reason "Ford Theatre" attracts such big names is not hard to define. The big argument is that these stars know they will be in productions that are handled with all the finesse and know-how of a major motion picture company, since Columbia Pictures Corporation is behind the Screen Gems set-up with all its facilities. In fact, this is the only instance to date where a motion picture studio is directly engaged in TV production.

Movie Know-how

The series is always notable for its excellent production values—its outstanding sets, top direction, the best of camera work, outstanding quality in costuming and in make-up. Burnett Guffey, for instance, who won the award as the best cameraman for "From Here To Eternity," has photographed several "Ford Theatre" productions. Gert Andersen, under contract to Columbia for twenty years as a camera operator, is now getting his chance as cinematographer for this NBC program. Jean Louis, the noted costume designer at Columbia, has on several occasions done the clothes for a Screen Gems production and Helen Hunt, hairdresser par excellence at the studio, has lent her talents. Clay Campbell, head make-up artist at Columbia, has been called in several times to do tricky make-up for the TV series.

With such a set-up, no wonder the stars feel that this show is their best bet.

↓ "SISTER VERONICA" brought Irene Dunne, as a nun, back to the TV screens. Taylor Holmes was featured in the cast. Important stars, such as Miss Dunne, have helped immeasurably to make "Ford Theatre" a hot bet.

▲ WILL ROGERS, JR., WAS READY TO RETIRE until he did "Lucky Tommy Jordan" for Screen Gems. He liked the chore so much he has done others for the same show and is now interested in a TV career. Paula Raymond played opposite him. (Screen Gems photo.)

Then there is the matter of re-runs, which also has its bearing on the future earnings of the stars. "Ford Theatre" has repeats on "Your All Star Theatre," which is now playing in 133 markets, and "Regal Theatre" which is another "Ford" re-run. There are other examples too.

The types of stories filmed for this program are also reasons for its popularity. The series is slanted primarily towards the women since about seventy-five per cent of the stories bought come from the "slick" national magazines. So where does this leave the men? Well, they go along for the ride but every once in a while a story tailored for them is tossed in.

Producing the successful shows are three men who have worked in almost every major motion picture studio—Irving Starr, Michael Kraike, and Irving Briskin. With all their experience, they seem to have found what the public really wants.

To prove that "Ford Theatre" intends to keep up with all new developments, all the shows are now being filmed in color—the first instance where a major dramatic program has gone into color to this extent.

There is still another answer to "Ford Theatre's" success—it knows what the public wants and it is determined to go on giving it to them. Some may call this policy too commercial, but have you heard anyone's arguing recently with the importance of being successful?

Millions of Listeners Have Enjoyed A Quarter Of A Century of Fine Music On:

"Voice of Firestone"

THIS PICTURE REFRESHES your memories by recalling the inaugural broadcast of "Voice of Firestone" on December 3, 1928. Franklin Bauer, tenor, who was the first guest artist on the esteemed program, Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., and the late Harvey S. Firestone.

ELEANOR STEBER, SOPRANO, AND HOWARD BARLOW, music director and conductor of the orchestra, rehearse for a simulcast of ABC's "Voice of Firestone." This program has been the recipient of many awards including TV-Radio Life's Distinguished Achievement Award in 1951 as an outstanding musical program.

THE OLD ADAGE, "quality endures," is amply illustrated by the "Voice of Firestone" which debuted on radio more than twenty-five years ago.

Traditionally fine music has been the keynote of this program since its inception in 1928. The discriminating programming has resulted in everlasting popularity. The program has been honored with many awards.

Among the roster of musical artists who have been starred on "Voice of Firestone" are Eleanor Steber, Lily Pons, Lawrence Tibbett, Nelson Eddy, Dorothy Maynor, Lauritz Melchior, Igor Gorin, Gladys Swarthout, Ezio Pinza and Patrice Munsal.

The most-sung vocal numbers through the years have been "Siboney," Schubert's "Serenade" and the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria." The most played orchestral numbers have been Strauss' "Blue Danube Waltz" and Tchaikovsky's "Waltz of the Flowers."

The theme music of "Voice of Firestone" was composed by the late Mrs. Idabelle Firestone. The opening number is "If I Could Tell You" and the closing theme music is "In My Garden." When Mrs. Firestone died last July a touching memorial broadcast was aired as a tribute to her.

Howard Barlow

Howard Barlow has been conductor of the Firestone Symphony Orchestra for eleven years. Barlow might have spent his life as a singer but for a single conducting lesson when he was a high school student.

Young Barlow was conducting the glee club, of which he was a member, while the class waited for their regular teacher to arrive. The conductor came in, watched the boy unobserved, and offered to give him a lesson in conducting. The teacher was Wilburforce J. Whiteman, Paul Whiteman's father. The names Howard Barlow and "Voice of Firestone" have since become inseparable in the past decade or so.

In 1949 "Voice of Firestone" bowed on television, becoming the first musical simulcast in the field. "Voice" originated its programs from the Center Theatre in New York before it was demolished. The Center Theatre was the world's largest television studio-theatre in 1950.

The program switched to ABC last June, after a twenty-five year association with NBC, because of difficulties which arose over a proposed time shift on NBC. Firestone's television show suffered a drastic loss of audience in its Monday night time slot. Conversely, the Firestone simulcast on radio maintained a steady high rating.

NBC felt that the reason for this inconsistency was due to the fact that Firestone's video show faced strong competition from another network and was also surrounded by programs of a wholly different character. The net proposed shifting the telecast to a more suitable day when programming emphasis was placed on cultural presentations. Firestone did not find any of NBC's proposals acceptable and thus switched to ABC where it will be presented on the same day and time it has had for the past twenty-five years.

Next season, NBC has Leland Hayward's "Spectaculars," Sid Ceasar, and "Medic" lined up to combat that competition from that "other" network on Monday evenings.

The "Voice of Firestone's" temporary problems have been solved and the program will undoubtedly be around to celebrate its golden anniversary. There will always be an audience for fine music.

Honorary Mayor

The Honorary Mayor of Hollywood six weeks' campaign, sponsored by the Hollywood Kiwanis Club on behalf of its fund for underprivileged children, starts on September 6. At least three of the candidates will be in familiar territory when it comes to talking on behalf of kids.

Bill Stulla, KHJ-TV's afternoon personality, KTTV's Sheriff John and KNBH's Pinky Lee all have shows slanted to the small fry and each of them has entered the race for Hollywood's unofficial leadership; each of them has announced plans to campaign heavily among their youthful "constituents," urging them to cast their votes and dimes to help other, not-so-fortunate youngsters.

With a "dollar for ten votes" being the Honorary Mayor of Hollywood theme by the candidates, the money goes to buy such things as hearing aids, medical treatment, school equipment and other vital things for needy children. Every vote must be accompanied by a dime, with the public able to vote as many times as they wish for a candidate.

Other candidates, to date, include Jack Owens, Johnny Carson, Sam Mannis, Bill Leyden, Betty White, Lawrence Welk, Hugh O'Brian, Reed

Browning, Larry Finley, Tennessee Ernie Ford, Jim Backus, Jack McElroy and Tom Frandsen. Nominations closed on September 3.

Editorial Precedent

Last week (26) CBS president Dr. Frank Stanton set a precedent by urging that the broadcasting media be admitted to the forthcoming Senate committee hearings on the conduct of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy. Dr. Stanton set a precedent by airing the network's feelings on the matter.

Judge Harold R. Medina, of the United States Court of Appeals, has agreed to present on the air the case against radio and television coverage of these hearings. Judge Medina's reply to Dr. Stanton's editorial will be heard Thursday, September 2 on KNXT at 5:00 p.m. and on KNX at 9:00 p.m.

Doctor Needs Horse

William Shakespeare, who wrote many of the lines for successful Dr. Frank C. Baxter, included one that well might serve as the professor's cue for winning certain of his small-fry audience: "A horse! A horse! My kingdom for a horse!"

This, at least, is the opinion of seven-year-old Cheryl Ann Finney of Glendale, whose mother, Mrs. H. W. Finney, reported on her daughter's television taste this week.

In a letter to Doctor Baxter, Mrs. Finney said:

"I'm enclosing a rough draft of a letter written by my little seven year old, who doesn't much like you.

"During your wonderful series on Shakespeare she gave up Saturday morning . . . without too much grumbling, but Roy Rogers is different. It has been quite a feud, but last Sunday she sat entranced through your talk on early English folklore. I believe you're winning. . . ."

Cheryl Ann's letter, voicing her frustration at the foibles of parents, said: "Dear Roy Rogers: I like your TV show very much. But I can't see it any more because my mother has to see Doctor Baxter which comes on at the same time your show does. Can you please change your time? I think that your show is the best."

KTLA GARDEN CLUB NEWS

by
Frederick Orme

SEPTEMBER TIPS:

Hot weather will be back with us again in September. The wise gardener makes sure of protection from sudden hot spells by spreading a plentiful amount of mulch around the base of plants and shrubs. Steer manure is not recommended, but peat moss will do the job. Those usually thrown away grass clippings can be used, but better yet, pick up a package or bale of peat moss at one of our nurseries for cool results.

You might resent being told to "go soak your head" but "go soak your lawn" is good advice for any homeowner. It pays to soak at least six inches deep for healthy root growth.

You can have sweet peas gracing your holiday table in December, if you plant them now.

Don and Betty Clarke added an eight-pound four-ounce baby boy to their staff last week. Mother and baby doing fine, with father Don passing out cigars all over North Hollywood.

Interested in romance? Tragedy? Comedy? According to Dazil and Catherine Bolick of the ORANGE BLOSSOM NURSERY and TROPICAL FISH, an aquarium of tropical fish in your living room will reveal all these things.

Watch the daily life of these finny characters and enjoy the thrill of a new hobby that has commanded the attention of hundreds of thousands of people. In California alone last year, more than one-half million new aquariums were sold, with more than half of these going into the homes of people who have never had tropical fish in their homes before. Make it a point to stop in and find out more about this fascinating hobby when you take your garden problems to Bolick's.

Be sure to look for these nurseries that display the KTLA Garden Klub sign—it is your guarantee of exceptional value and professional integrity.

BY EVELYN BIGSBY

"STARTLING" AND "FANTASTIC" are a couple of the adjectives being used to describe the David O. Selznick TV extravaganza to be beamed on all four networks for two hours on October 24.

YOU'D THINK THE H-BOMB WAS going to be screened in person the way they're guarding the names of the big shots being set to appear. I have an inkling of two or three and there'll be more to match. Talent pool is enlarged due to telecasting from both New York and Hollywood. Live, of course.

GALE STORM AND HER FAMILY MAY end up tenting for a few days, all because the Gale Storm-Lee Bonnell house nearing completion in Royal Oaks won't be finished for the scheduled September 7. It's a dream house worth waiting for—radiant heating under all the floors, master bath overlooking a fish pond and aviary, kitchen with two wall-ovens, barbecue, floors of slate and walls of petrified wood.

ARB-TELEQUE RATINGS FOR AUGUST show programs have jumped around like Mexican beans. "Dragnet" and "Groucho" retained win and place positions, but show spot was grabbed by "Justice," which didn't even register in the first twenty-five in July. Lawrence Welk, who breezed up from eleven to six told me, "Now I'm gonna have to worry about staying up there!"

KTLA'S "MARCO" STILL LAGGED NEAR the bottom of the heap with a 5.5 at 10:15 and a 1.9 at midnight. In addition, the show was hit with a half-million-dollar piracy suit last week by a man who claims he submitted a similar idea to the station some time ago.

I'VE ALREADY TAKEN A CRACK AT THE lack of entertainment values in this program, but after witnessing all the backstage work constantly required to keep all the "Marco" cards straight, I'm wondering if the same time and dough wouldn't be put to better advantage on straight entertainment.

KTLA HAS HAD TO CONVERT A BRACE of bungalow-apartments to shelter the forty-seven girls sorting and filing the "Marco" cards. Payroll for this alone runs close to $2500 weekly.

LUCILLE ELINGS, AN ATTRACTIVE GIRL with thespian proclivities, has done an excellent job organizing the girls who organize the cards. Most of her aides are college gals who enjoy personal responsibility.

THEY SHOWED ME EIGHT BOXES WITH NOTHING but Smith cards; seven with Johnson; five with Brown; three and a half with Jones. There are also lots of Walkers, Morrisons, Millers, Kelleys . . . also a William Shakespeare. (They think this might be a gag.)

I DON'T GET ONE THING—why entrants have been allowed to send in three cards apiece and also why they have been allowed to send in fresh batches of cards whenever the whimsy moves. Mercy! What a mess of detail! "Seventy-five is unlucky for me," wrote one lady who wanted to try her luck with a new set of cards. Another woman grew so excited over prospects of winning that she spilled lemonade on her card and smeared it so badly that she had to submit a new set. I even saw cards completely unreadable . . . some with no names . . . some with no numbers! I thought "goof box" was a good name for the carton into which these duds were flipped. Lucille let me test her filing system by clocking her while she located my "Marco" ducat. She was slightly nervous, but managed to produce it in thirty-five seconds.

WON'T IT SEEM FUNNY, BUT NICE, to have "Kukla" on ABC-TV? Contrary to reports, "Medic" won't invariably be serious. Jim Moser has even written a comedy farce for one of the shows . . . Maybe the reason TV set sales here thudded to a scant 15,000 last month was the public's anticipation of color???

THINGS I'VE ENJOYED RECENTLY include the Bowl rebroadcasts on NBC radio Sunday evenings. Eddie Fisher and Tony Martin were standouts . . . "Gildy" writer John Elliott wrote me a friendly note regarding my critical comment on the TV pilot film: "Perhaps you'll be interested to know that the great majority of the criticisms coincided almost exactly with your own." He and co-writer Andy White are striving to correct the deviations.

BRIEF COMMENT ON INFLUENCE of TV; Dan Duryea, taking a break on the "Foxfire" movie set at Universal, was summoned back to his scene with a yell of "Okay, China Smith!"

Yes TV Business IS Better Than Ever

This summer was not only the hottest but also the busiest since we started our service-organization in 1949. We sold more parts-warranties in the last two months than ever before and we had to increase our service force to keep abreast with service requests.

Television has become a necessity over night and people are conscious of the fact that they need a dependable company which specializes in service only, to take care of their sets in case of breakdown.

Now there are basically three possibilities in approaching your service problem. Number one: You can wait until your set breaks down and then call any repairman or company for service. But nobody can possibly know today how much the charges will be tomorrow!

Number two: You can take out full coverage to take care of all parts and all labor which runs to about $65.00 per year, depending upon the size of the picture tube. This, however, seems to be a rather expensive proposition if you consider that an average of two service calls per year are considered normal.

Each service call would thus cost approximately $30.00.

Number three: You can purchase a parts warranty and service agreement with a fixed price policy. This is by far the better plan.

Television Industries will write a parts warranty on your set for only $15.00 for one full year, on a two year basis, covering all parts, tubes, transformers, channel selector unit, speaker, and of course, the large picture tube, up to and including a 21 inch screen.

This warranty also incorporates a service agreement which provides, all labor charges are limited, to a fixed price. All house calls to repair a set charged at a flat rate of $3.50 per call. This is not an hourly rate but a fixed price. Television Industries covers all districts of Los Angeles and Los Angeles county, Monday through Saturday, six days a week.

For further information, simply call PR. 0301 or mail the coupon below to Television Industries, 4031 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles 5, Calif.

Ear, Eye Inspire

W. C., Carlsbad

I am not a writer of fan letters, but show my appreciation by patronizing the sponsor when it is a product I have a need for. At least I will give it a try. But, I have suffered a slow burn since reading the gripes on "Marco."

I personally do not care for the "Marco" show, but I do not care for "Bingo" so that ties together. As for gambling, true it is a curse. Is "Marco" really a gamble? No money is involved, no box tops, no soap wrappers, no personal appearance to compete against, no beans to place on a card. How biased can you get? For the type of show "Marco" is, it is tops, fast moving, and interesting.

We have enjoyed your most complete TV-Radio Life for years; got it along with our first TV. I pick up other TV magazines from time to time; they seem to fall short in most departments. We keep your fine publication on file for reference.

Back to the gripe: What about the beer drinkers who force their way into our living rooms? Unless you have sworn off, you cannot have appreciation of their destructive power,

We all pay in one way or another for our entertainment but I draw the line when they slurp it up in front of me in my own home. Yes, I get up and turn the dial.

Luck to TV Life and to TV. This is a wonderful country we live in where we can gripe about the little things. We have so much, how much do we really appreciate it?

PICK of the PIX

by Aubrey Dahl

Jack Holland, my fellow toiler in these pages, implied in his last column that movies have had their hey-day on TV and that people wanted newer, fresher entertainment. Lands, neither let it be said that I would try to get Holland in dutch, but professional loyalty demands that I rebut his statements with one cold, logical, irrefutable statement . . . you're wrong, Jack.

"Tulsa." (13) Sept. 10, 8:30. Susan Hayward is an ambitious lass who persuades Pedro Armendariz to lease her his farm lands so that she can drill for oil and make a few bucks. Robert Preston, however, is for oil conservation and when she clutters up the landscape with oil rigs, he breaks off their engagement and Pedro sets fire to his wells. This brings everyone to his senses for some reason and at the end everybody is conserving oil like crazy . . . Preston even gets a crew cut so he can cut down on the brilliantine.

"Escape By Night." (2) Sept. 10, 11:30. Remember the fuss Simone Silva created with Mitchum in Cannes? (She two timed him). And the fuss over whether she should be allowed to stay in the U.S. and work? Well, the Bureau of Immigration ruled that she has talent and can stay and here is proof . . . utter, final and lasting . . . that Miss Silva has talent. This is her first picture, made in England about four years ago and featuring the demure Simone as a nightclub singer in love with a racketeer whose rackets are broken up by a newspaperman, to whom she then immediately switches allegiance. A great plot, a great picture, a great actress, and she has a great agent, whose brother is a friend of mine and who will pay plenty for this violation of my integrity.

"The Hunted." (5) Sept. 10, 10:00. Belita is released on parole (sent up on a bum rap) and immediately gets involved in another crime. Preston Foster is a cop who loves her, who sent her up the first time, and who tries to track her down the second time. He finds her, she shoots him, he finds out she isn't guilty, she still loves him, and if I were in love with a lady detective who sent me to jail, I'd be very angry with her.

"Black Book." (13) Sept. 6, 7:00. All about the years after the French revolution, the guillotine, a lost black book with the names of its next victims, the search for the book, the finding of it and the chase that results. With Richard Basehart, Robert Cummings, and Arlene Dahl, who, by the way, is not related to me in any way and I'd like to know who the hell is responsible for that!

HOLLAND'S TUNNEL

DUG BY JACK HOLLAND

From the mail bag came a couple of interesting letters. One was from Mrs. Stanley Adams of NAFBRAT in answer to my criticism of the organization's stand on such children's shows as westerns. In that column it was asked if anyone ever heard of a child's being harmed from watching one of the better westerns. Mrs. Adams enclosed a newspaper clipping about a girl who accidentally hung herself supposedly trying to copy a hanging scene she'd seen on TV. Our answer to this is, considering the number of children watching westerns, this one instance, tragic as it is, does not mean that such shows are harmful to the many, many youngsters who are western fans. It should also be noted that the coroner's jury ruled "she may have been imitating a scene she saw on television." It does not say it was proved TV was the cause of the accident.

True, that's a small point. And true that there are many programs on TV that are bad for a child, but we still say that NAFBRAT's line-up of objectionable shows leaves little that is allegedly good for any youngster to watch. Mrs. Adams then goes on to say: "We are preparing a compilation of opinions and comments of psychiatrists and child psychologists about the current programs aimed at young audiences." This is perhaps a good move, but wouldn't it be a good idea to combine this study with a similar study of the reactions of children and their parents to the shows being watched? It's amazing how lucid and intelligent youngsters can be when it comes to discussing TV. Then NAFBRAT would really get to the core of the matter. And certainly the vast majority of parents could add some interesting facts to the study. Research in the home—not just from psychiatrists—is the more direct route.

One final point—what's wrong with children's developing hero worship for such fine citizens as Bill Williams, Jack Mahoney, Duncan Renaldo, Roy Rogers? Hmmmm?

Radio producers and executives might pay heed to a letter from J. R. Johnston who writes, in part: "The way the radio stations are treating us (Mr. Johnston is referring to older people who have listened to the radio for years and can't afford a TV set) "is just outrageous, bordering on contempt. They don't care if we have something to listen to or not and give us nothing but the same old records of recorded band music . . . on Saturday nights (the day most important to us), there is not a single show or any other real program on the radio except music, music, and again music. CBS has even moved their two measly shows that were before on Saturday nights to Monday because they don't want to bother about a replacement for Lux Radio Theatre. Why shouldn't they spend some money on old faithful listeners? Even in wintertime there are no shows after nine o'clock p.m. and that is the time when most people relax and would be most thankful for a little amusement. . . . We have three radios at home but if nothing is done for us and pretty soon we will sell every one of them and somehow buy a small TV set." Seems Mr. Johnston has several points in his favor. We have long contended that, for the most part, radio is not making enough of an effort to come out with top productions. Isn't it about time for some action?

If the opening night audience had had its way at the Coconut Grove, Harry Belafonte would still be singing. This man, who has been seen on such TV shows as "Toast of the Town," is one of the most sensational entertainers we've ever seen. He has a personality that knocks you for a loop, a style of delivery that is sensational, and a voice that sends you out of this world—literally. The Grove can look forward to packed houses. This is really an act!

Do wish that those in charge of Mutual's "Could This Be You?" a fine documentary program dealing with traffic violators, would somehow do something about the mumbo-jumbo that characterizes the remarks of most of the violators. It is almost impossible at times to hear or understand what these people are saying. The show is aiming for life-like realism, we know, and the interviews are recorded on the spot, but the listeners would like to be able to understand what is being said.

Odds and Ends: Johnny Carson's last-minute substitution for Red Skelton, who suffered a brain concussion in an accident during rehearsal, proved again how very talented this Carson kid is. Why, then, is it so difficult to find the right kind of show for him?

Elizabeth Patterson will play her original role in Lux Video Theatre's "Welcome Stranger" this Thursday. She is the only one from the cast of the picture to repeat the same part. . . . Robert Cummings' new show has been sold. This is not surprising, considering the terrific raves the pilot has been getting. Looks like Bob has a hit. . . . Jack Webb's movie, "Dragonet," is a solid sock in most instances. Only a rather unsatisfactory ending is a let-down.

Even though it will be placed opposite "Lucy," the new NBC-TV show, "Medic" is sure to gather unto itself a lot of fans. It is a brilliant offering—an adult program and a credit to TV. It proves how much television can do when it wants to put on long pants. Don't miss it! . . . TV producers and casting directors should see some good talent Monday and Tuesday nights at the Academy Playhouse on N. New Hampshire when Actors Unlimited presents another program. Dates are August 30 and 31. Go and see this show.

Radio Ramblings

When Edgar Bergen returns to the airplanes September 12, he'll have a new hour-long format. Bergen intends to incorporate a serious note along with his usual comedy bits. . . . Looks like Tennessee Ernie is going to have to find another vocalist when his show expands to a half hour. Lovely Helen O'Connell has other commitments that prevent her from riding along with Ernie. . . . Dennis Day's new radio show will find the singing and smiling lad in a new role. He'll be emceeing a talent show.

Last week, Pat Bishop celebrated twenty years with KFI. . . . "Meet Corliss Archer" starts its twelfth year of broadcasting with Janet Waldo in the starring role. . . . Cameron Mitchell has been signed to play opposite Merle Oberon in "Wuthering Heights" on "Lux's" opening airer for the season—(September 14, 7:00 p.m., NBC).

KABC carries the Western Regional Football games beginning September 18. . . . For the third consecutive year, KLAC presents the Big Five Disc Jockey Charity Show at the Hollywood Bowl, September 10. . . . Jack Bailey emcees the movie premiere, "Endless Days." . . . KFWE carries the night time football games from the Coliseum starting September 17.

Roy Rogers and troupe are appearing at the seventy-sixth annual Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto. . . . Bill Henry starts his thirty-second year as a broadcaster. . . . Jack Carson goes to Pittsburgh for the Dapper Dan Celebrities Golf Tournament. . . . Bill Thompson, who plays the "Old-Timer" and other roles on "Fibber McGee and Molly," receives an award from the Ground Observer Corps on the September 14th broadcast. . . . CBS is planning a teen-age panel show for young Jack Linkletter. M.R.

Unpredictable

Fred Beck, the unpredictable one, has done it again. He was expected to start operating "The Beck Block" last week, but, running true to form, he came up with the unexpected.

At zero hour he asked himself why should he attempt to manage a whole "block," when all he wanted was a "show." So, without further ado, he confined his activities to putting on "The Fred Beck Show," which from here on out is the title of the new KABC-Radio series starring the erst-while Farmers Market wit.

Presented Mondays through Fridays from 6:15 to 7:30 p.m., "The Fred Beck Show" features the well-known humorist in a nightly seventy-five-minute session of popular recorded music introduced and interspersed with comments and observations that only a Beck could imagine.

Reshuffle

Over a period of years, CBS has built up a loyal listening audience in the six o'clock Monday night spot with "Lux Radio Theater." However, this season "Lux" has vacated the Monday night time slot and moves over to NBC to broadcast on Tuesdays. Contrary to expectations, CBS is not logging a dramatic show in the vacated "Lux" spot. Perhaps they think that any other dramatic show in the old "Lux" time might suffer by comparison. In any event, they have scheduled the Perry Como, "Longines Symphonette" and "Amos 'n' Andy Music Hall" in the former "Lux" time period. Time will tell whether or not CBS maintains its Monday night audience.

Listen, Laugh, and Win

For good listening, and also an opportunity to win a subscription to TV-RADIO LIFE, tune to two of KNX's most popular audience-participation shows: Bill Ballance on "Matinee," starting at 3:45 p.m. and "Merry-Go-Round," at 11:15 a.m. Each of these shows is heard Monday through Friday over the CBS outlet. Barry Brussell of Publicity Creations handles prizes for both programs.

Trends

Last season "Fibber McGee and Molly" started a trend by doing a five-a-week night time broadcast. The experiment was so successful that this fall other programs are slated to follow the strip broadcasting. CBS has set "Amos 'n' Andy Music Hall," Tennessee Ernie, Perry Como, "Mr. Keen" and the "Longines Symphonette" as strip shows. "Mr. and Mrs. North" may also go five-a-week.

Programming in this manner has made shows more salable and also proven to be quite a rating booster.

Pomona Fair

Stu Wilson, director of special events for KBIG Catalina, will move bag and baggage to the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona, world's largest, to broadcast hourly shows from the grounds throughout the run of the huge extravaganza September 17 to October 3.

Headquartering at a permanent KBIG booth in the Radio and Communications Building, Wilson will rotate his broadcasts from eighteen different points of interest throughout the fair grounds, starting at 10:55 a.m. and continuing at five minutes before each hour until 5:55 p.m.

Final show each day will be the running of the feature horse race at the Pomona track.

"Matinee" Winner

Thelma Ross, of Los Angeles, listened to KNX Radio's 70-minute "Matinee" show last Friday and learned that she was the lucky winner of a 1954 Buick Special Riviera automobile, the first prize in the program's contest which ended a couple of weeks ago. The entrants were required to complete a sentence which started "I like my car radio because . . ."

Playbacks (Critical Comment)

Point With Pride

. . . to Virginia Payne's performance in "Dr. Six Gun," NBC's adventure series about a frontier's town doctor. Miss Payne played the role of a frightened and extremely apathetic wife who was driven to childish behavior because of a demented husband. Her performance was outstanding.

Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen

Mr. and Mrs. Russell N. Ely, Compton

We always peruse every line of "Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen," one of your many interesting columns. You have had numerous and varied items on Lawrence Welk and his Champagne Music Makers. These, of course, keep a large percentage of your readers happy as Welk has a tremendous following. His three year record at the Aragon substantiates all and anything that can be said. However, a very special and important individual, outstanding in his vocation, has been sadly neglected. This person is Welk's approach to his listening (but unseeing) audience; we refer to Ralph Portner, the radio announcer who certainly deserves some recognition for a job well done.

Commercials and TV and radio announcers have been a national "beef" with the public ever since the magic invention of the radio and TV. Most announcers are considered blubberheads for their voices "go in there and come out here" in a horrible blatant, garish or gushy sing-song utterance. Or many times, indistinct, dull monotones. How refreshing to listen to Ralph Portner's voice issue forth in a suave, easily understood, enthusiastic and perfect reproduction of excellent tonal quality. Carrying power, notable and clear without blasting your ear drums. Portner has a "true" and a natural mike voice with distinguished enunciation.

While engaged in Visual Education work for seven years, it was my experience to have 573 students in dramatic and public speaking classes. Recordings were cut every two weeks to assist the individual. At the end of the classes there was one and only one considered a "natural" for mike work. So, we are indeed fortunate to be listening to Ralph Portner as a regular announcer with the Welk orchestra.

Ralph's "cut-ins" are anticipated and never dreaded, he isn't an announcer of mere distinction but of many distinctions. His announcements catch at your fancy, as they are clever, colorful, alive, different and amusing.

We're hoping the above will be deemed worthy of appearing in the "Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen" column. We have been weekly regulars at the Aragon for three years and have met many others who feel Ralph Portner is past due for some justified credit. He is doing a splendid job, practically incomparable—out where the waves of the "blue Pacific" rest their white caps on the beaches of Ocean Park.

Mr. Portner now refers to the waves of the "blue-green Pacific." He looked at the ocean recently and it appeared more green than blue to him, so he combined the two.

Josephine Westerfield, Santa Monica

Concerning a recent article about KTLA's "Palladium Dance Time":

Several others besides myself resent that article very much, and it should be corrected as Spade Cooley's Band was the first band to be televised from a ballroom on KTLA Channel 5, and someone left him out of the list of bands.

Spade Cooley's band was viewed by more people for the last six years over Channel 5 than any other band here mentioned and I, among others, who view Spade Cooley's Show and hear his band play every week since the first night in the Santa Monica Ballroom, wish to say its the one band with a beat and everyone can enjoy themselves more and feel at home than at any other band here mentioned and I've seen and heard all of them. So whoever was responsible for this article, please give credit where credit is due and thank you very much.

In an article on "Palladium Dance Time," stressing the importance KTLA has always attached to band shows, the name of Spade Cooley's band was omitted in listing the various bands appearing on Channel 5. We can assure you it was an error of omission and not commission. Thank you for drawing it to our attention.

Mrs. Marie M. Dean, North Hollywood

I'd like to put in a "plug" for the Collins Kids. Two of the cutest little entertainers we've ever had the pleasure of enjoying on TV. These terrific show-stoppers are deserving of greater laudatory fanfare via a coast-to-coast spotlight. Tune in "Town Hall Party," any Saturday night, Channel 11, from 10 to 1 p.m. You'll take them to your heart, too!

Lyle's Corner

By Lyle Bond

ANSWERING THE MALES— AND FEMALES . . .

My Neighbor says when he played baseball the batter was allowed to use a bat that was flat on one side. I've been following baseball for twenty years and I never heard of such a thing. —Mrs. Ben Hoover, L.A.

Of course you didn't . . . and your neighbor must be over eighty years old. That rule was in effect only in 1885 and rescinded the following year.

What is the minimum home run distance? —Guy Holt, Studio City.

Since 1940, 250 feet. A ball hit over the fence less than that distance from home plate is a double.

My wife Avis, who has become a rabid baseball fan in the past three years, insists the following lines are from "Casey at the Bat" . . .

"Oh, somewhere in this favored land, the sun is shining bright; The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light . . ."

Natcherly! Those are the first two lines of the last stanza which ends thusly—

"And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout, But there is no joy in Mudville— Mighty Casey has struck out!"

This classic poem was written in 1888 by Ernest L. Thayer and popularized by the recitations of De Wolfe Hopper. And do any of you know the Mudville nine's opponent that fateful day?

What do you predict will be the outcome of the Hollywood-Los Angeles coming up this weekend at Gilmore Field? Come on now, don't hedge! —Brian Van de Grift, L.A.

OK. In the five game series I predict each team will win two and a half games.

A friend of mine in Alhambra recently started sending me copies of TV-Radio Life. I've greatly enjoyed the column written by Bill Brundige, Tom Harmon and you. I knew a Lyle Bond who went to high school in the neighboring town of Clare, Michigan back in the early thirties. Could he have been you? —Allen Henderson, Harrison, Michigan.

Could have been. Fact is, he was. Of course, I was very young for my age.

How many uniforms does each player have? —Marian Desimone, L.A.

Four. Two home (white) and two road uniforms (grey).

KERNELS OF KORN KONKOCTED BY KLIENTS OF THE KORNER

From our son, Allen Bond, age eleven . . .

"Humpty Dumpty sat on the wall All he did was sit and squall The reason for that some guy with a bat Had mistaken him for a ball." Daughter Susan, nearly seven, gets in the act. too . . .

"Little Jack Horner sat in his corner Eating his angel food cake— He stuck in his thumb and pulled out a Hollywood Star Boy, was he surprised!"

Les Mawhinney, chief of the Mutual-Den Lee-KHJ-TV newsroom, is responsible for this one—

"A young Portland pitcher named Waibel Took a vicious swing at a haibel Though he doesn't hit much He came through in the clutch And drove in a run with a flabel."

* * * The name of the Mudville opponent is not given in the fictional opus.

Around the MUTUAL Sports Circle

CHUCK CONNORS added a great deal of interest and entertainment to the KHJ-TV telecasts this season with his interviews on "Baseball Warm-up." Chuck should go a long way in the TV world.

MUTUAL SPORTSCASTER Al Helfer is going to add something new to his football assignments this season. Doris King will assist Al as the first girl "spotter."

▲ PRODUCER BERNARD FOX and Preston aren't going into a second childhood. They're just checking a model of the famous "Cheryl Ann," used in all of the "Waterfront" shows. Fox created the widely-watched program.

▲ LOVELY KATHLEEN CROWLEY is one of the regular members of the cast of this popular KTTV show. Preston as "Cap'n John" has become one of TV's most likable personalities.

▲ MUCH OF THE SUCCESS of "Waterfront" has been due to director Ted Post's intelligent meggling. Kathleen and cameraman Walter Streng, standing in the rear, find even a script conference can be amusing.

MY WIFE, SHEILA, certainly must lead a rugged life being married to me," Preston Foster, star of KTTV's "Waterfront," said with a wide grin. "But after eight and a half years of marriage, maybe she's just numb.

"Now, I like TV but there's no kidding about it being quite a strain," Preston went on. "And living on the lot in a trailer as Sheila and I do doesn't give us much of a chance to 'get away from it all.' Both phones are going all day long, with Sheila on the long end of the calls taking care of my business, so she is actually a secretary. She has all the makings of a TV widow.

Married Life

"As if I didn't load her with enough work she also has me and my mood to combat. I have times when I'm pretty tired and irritable, but Sheila patiently dons the cloak of the understanding wife. She gets up every morning and fixes my breakfast. I come home for lunch since our trailer is right next door to the sound stage, and at the end of the day I am so tired I don't exactly bounce in the front door with the effervescence of a teen-ager.

"I have repeatedly told Sheila that she doesn't have to get my breakfast, but her only comment has been, 'If you can get up to go to work, I don't see why I can't get up and fix your breakfast.' All in all, Sheila is a slightly sensational wife. She never complains about anything—and there are occasions when she could do plenty of complaining.

The Private Life of Preston Foster, also known as "Waterfront's" "Cap'n John," takes a look at himself as he is away from the TV sound stages—and decides his wife is a patient woman.

"In addition to my work in 'Waterfront,' I also have other interests that are time-consuming. For instance, Sheila and I make several personal appearances with our act. This act consists of songs and patter and it has been catching on quite well. It all began six years ago when a friend suggested that I switch from the ukulele, which I was playing, to the guitar. Sheila got me a guitar for Christmas, we started working up an act together with some emphasis on folk music, and then after we found we didn't bore our friends with our entertainment we took it into theatres.

"Often I'll get a sudden change of schedule for our act and will forget to inform Sheila. Then, at the last minute, I'll tell her we have to do a show. With about fifteen minutes to get everything ready, I can understand her occasional comment, 'Can't you some time give me more than fifteen minutes notice?'

"Lately, Stephanie, my sixteen-year-old daughter from a former marriage, has been joining us in the act. She is very serious about her career and has an excellent singing voice. This last summer she spent in summer school to get further ahead on her credits so she could spend more time on her career. I am convinced she has what it takes and am doing all I can to help her. I've felt this way ever since the first time she went on stage with us. She played before 2700 people and had all the showmanship of a veteran.

"She is so excited about her career she doesn't even think about dates. Once, when we were all up north, Lois Moran, who plays my very lovely wife in 'Waterfront,' arranged a party. Her son, Tim, had a date all picked out for Stephanie, but Stephanie simply said to me, 'Don't you think it would do my career more good to work with you and Sheila on the act instead of going out on a date?' I'm not worried, though, because I figure that romance will come into her life in due time all right."

work around six or six-thirty. He goes into his trailer and then friends drop in for a chat. He and Sheila are usually through dinner by eight-thirty and they watch TV until about nine-thirty at which time Preston hits the sack to study his script.

"As a rule, Sheila is tired by then too," Preston commented, "but sometimes she puts on the ear-phone attachment and watches TV without any sound bothering me.

Ranch Life

"When we have time off we like to go to our ranch in Bouquet Canyon. We have about 400 acres and the only other inhabitants are the cattle and a few horses. It's really quiet there and we get away from it all. I used to do a great deal of work on the ranch but I'm too tired now to do anything but occasional road-scraping and lawn work.

"The ranch is our haven, but lately I've been getting the bug to own a boat again. This is probably due to the 'Waterfront' influence. At one time or another, I've had speed boats and cruisers. I do all of my own piloting for the 'Waterfront' shows—something most people can't believe. They ought to come down to San Pedro some time and see for themselves."

Preston is the casual-type of guy. His wardrobe is typical of his informality. He's become so used to wearing his garb as "Cap'n John" that he hardly ever buys any new clothes—except for sport coat and slacks once in the proverbial blue moon.

"What's the use of getting clothes?" Preston smiled. "When I'm working. I wear the same thing, when I go to the ranch I'm in dungarees, and since Sheila and I have little chance to go out, where would I wear anything 'dressy?'"

Business Venture

At the moment, Preston is combining his TV activities with a new business venture—a brake-lining business. The product is called

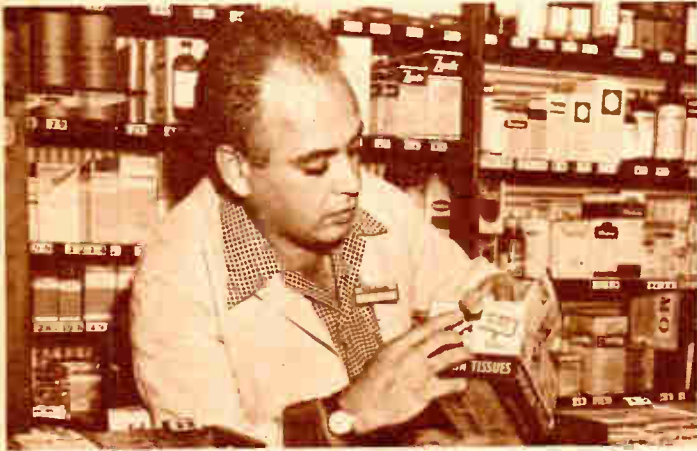

"Lock-On" and is said to revolutionize brake linings.

"It was invented by Ted Bonkowski, a friend of mine who was one of the top oboe players in the country," Preston remarked. "I met Ted through his brother, Lou, who was my arranger for the act. I introduced them to Don Scott, who was formerly head of the hydraulic engineering department for Bendix Brakes. I'm very active in this business. I'm even on the board of directors—as public relations head." The last was added with a laugh.

Such is the private life of Preston Foster—the man who is just idling around looking for something to keep him busy.

HE MAKES PEOPLE DO

THE Darndest Things

THAT'S A MICROPHONE IN A BOX OF TISSUES. Allen Funt, "America's Most Famous Eavesdropper," is hiding one there to catch some unsuspecting person on KHJ-TV's "Candid Camera." (Ronde Studios photo.)

THE FACT THAT most normal human beings get a kick out of eavesdropping whether they are prone to admit it or not, accounts for much of the success for television's most unpredictable program—"Candid Camera."

KHJ-TV's "Candid Camera," is a completely unrehearsed program of secretly-filmed scenes from real life. Allen Funt, the man who has become known as "America's Most Famous Eavesdropper," maneuvers unsuspecting people into all kinds of real life situations. What the people do and say is filmed by hidden cameras, and the edited scenes become part of the unpredictable half hour which makes up the show.

Funt, who developed his candid recording technique for radio some seven years ago, and later adapted it with even greater success to television, believes that people caught in the act of being themselves are better performers than the best actors in the world.

Typical Gags

Typical situations in the "Candid Camera" series found Funt, posing as a tax collector, taking a taxpayer's money and then handing the funds over to an "assistant" with instructions to go and bet it on the races. The spontaneous reaction of everyday people to situations like this, and hundreds of others, make up the human comedies seen on each telecast.

Of the "classics" which have spread Funt's fame by word-of-mouth from one TV viewer to another, these are typical:

One telecast found Funt getting himself arrested in a small town. When questioned by the local policeman he calmly explained that he was a bomb salesman. Funt then talked himself out of a trip to the jug, after the arrival of highway police, by pointing out that he meant that he was an aerosol bomb salesman.

Got Laughs

Millions of viewers rocked with laughter at the reactions of a locksmith called in by Funt to remove the shackle which fastened his secretary to her desk. Funt explained apologetically that he'd lost the key and—less apologetically—that the secretary had been spending entirely too much time away from her desk.

Allen Funt has taken on a thousand part-time jobs to set the scene for these various escapades. He can make believe that he's a bootblack one day or a dentist the next. He's posed as a genius, dolt, or even a madman—and gotten away with it. Still and all, Funt has never been an actor. "I look like Joe Blow," he says, "and I don't have to strain to sound like him, either."

When the forty-year-old star of the secretly filmed "Candid Camera" series was discharged from the Army, he developed an idea he used with great success at Army camps. He had set up a "gripe booth" at Camp Gruber, where soldiers could unburden their gripes into a microphone when no one was around. Their voices were transcribed by a wire recorder and later played back at a camp show. The results were so funny Funt decided to improve on the technique. The result was the famous, "Candid Microphone" radio program and "Candid Camera," when the idea was adapted for television.

How Filmed

The mechanics by which Funt catches the uninhibited "performances" of people off-guard are not complicated, according to him. He simply hides microphones in devices as common as a Kleenex tissue box or a hearing aid, and the camera is often hidden behind a special mirror. The correct spotting of both camera and microphone are, however, works of art. Funt and his staff have often worked all night to install their equipment in a vantage point and then have spent the entire next day waiting for subjects to come into their "set." Many times a set-up in a place of business may have to be changed several times before Funt can come up with high-quality shots and recordings of his subjects.

On-the-street shots may find Funt's cameramen working from a peephole in a parked moving van or the specially constructed back area of his station wagon, while engineers have "planted" microphones and speakers in such anomalous spots as mail boxes, soft drink machines, trash cans and even bird cages. The result: a passerby suddenly finds that a "little man in a mail box" is talking to him and hears every word he says and another "Candid Camera" scene from real life is underway.

"What Do You Have in Common?"

By Mildred Ross

WHEN KNX's personable disc jockey, Ralph Story, made his TV bow last July he went from the frying pan into the fire. Early morning radio listeners were accustomed to Ralph's pleasant, cheery, confident voice but seeing the debonaire performer on TV was an added treat.

After "What Do You Have In Common?" made its debut Ralph was inwardly suffering the tortures that plague emcees. When asked "How do you like the transition from radio to TV?" Ralph candidly remarked that after the second show he thought the program was going down in flames and he with it. Everything that could possibly go wrong did.

Boners

"One contestant goofed and couldn't recall the incident she had in common with her two fellow panelists even though I told her what it was," he winced.

"Then there was the miscue. I was getting ready to introduce the next tipster, a model, and the director started to wave frantically from the sidelines and in stage whispers shouted it was time for an announcement. I never did get back to the model on that particular show. And she was so pretty too.

"On the same show the jackpot question was switched without notifying me and when the question was asked I sneaked out of camera range to find out the correct answer. The director scribbled the answer on a piece of paper. But I couldn't read it because I wasn't wearing my glasses. Finally, after close scrutiny, holding the paper a half inch from my nose, I learned the answer at the very same moment the panel guessed it. I stepped in front of the camera just in time to say 'Ah, yes! you have answered the $1000 jackpot question correctly.' Radio was never like this," Ralph lamented. "If I didn't have so much pride I would have cried right there."

Those who saw the show never surmised that these "little" things were happening to upset Ralph so.

He appeared unruffled throughout the telecast. His frustrated, nervous, punchy feeling after that show was a rugged conditioner.

Security

The security problem on this show is quite a headache. The show is not framed. There is no set-up among the contestants. The various participants, having something in common, do not see each other until they are on stage. Before air time the groups are scrambled up in different dressing rooms and figuratively kept under lock and key. By mixing up the groups the producer throws them off. Invariably they think they are going to appear on camera with the contestants sharing the same dressing room. But nothing could be further from the truth. And all the yaking that goes on in these dressing rooms between unrelated contestants trying to find out what they have in common is for naught.

Things are well under control now on "Common." The kinks have been worked out and Ralph is even getting so he rather enjoys the fire.
