Dear SBE Member,

Through this 2011-2012 Membership Directory and Buyers' Guide you have a means to connect with members and chapters throughout the US and overseas and tap into the enormous collective talent that is the SBE. Do not bury the guide on your bookshelf. Keep it as a ready reference to use throughout the year.

As you review this publication, pay particular attention to the three major resource sections. The first section provides historical information about the SBE, its elected leadership, SBE By-Laws, SBE Canons of Ethics, and programs & services offered by the society. The directory also provides information about our national office staff by providing whom to contact at the national office to answer your questions and take care of your needs.

Sustaining members and membership constitute the largest segment in the second section of the directory. The sustaining members provide valuable support to the SBE all year. Be sure to thank them for helping to maintain the one organization created to educate, certify and support you; the broadcast engineer. With their support along with all of our collective efforts, we can continue and improve our profession and gather even greater satisfaction and recognition. Membership is listed in two ways so you find individuals alphabetically or geographically making it easy to find someone or a chapter of interest.

Looking for equipment? The third section, The SBE Buyers' Guide, is a comprehensive source of information from manufacturers and equipment suppliers. By using the topical listings, you can quickly find information for your project.

Take advantage of the resources in this guide. The information published in the annual directory is for you, the member. Have a new or unusual problem to solve or just want some advice? Contact a fellow chapter member. Raise the question at your next chapter meeting. Post the question to the SBE Roundtable. However you do it, take advantage of the more than 5,500 member resources listed in The Society of Broadcast Engineers 2011-2012 Membership Directory and Buyers' Guide.

Sincerely,

Ralph Hogan, CPBE, DRB, CBNT
 SBE National President

A BRIEF HISTORY OF SBE

IN 2012, THE SOCIETY OF BROADCAST ENGINEERS CELEBRATES 48 YEARS OF SERVICE. SBE'S HISTORY IS FILLED WITH IMPORTANT MILESTONES AS A RESULT OF THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF MANY MEMBERS.

The society's roots can be traced back to 1961 when the Institute of Radio Engineers (IRE) and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers (AIEE) passed a joint resolution calling for a "merger or consolidation... into one organization." The two groups did finally join forces in 1963, forming what is known today as the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers (IEEE). However, the new organization was perceived by some as not addressing the needs of broadcast engineers.

John H. Battison, P.E., CPBE, editor of Broadcast Engineering magazine at the time, was one of those people. He wrote an editorial that appeared in his magazine in 1961, which suggested the idea of a new organization just for broadcast engineers. Battison's continued efforts sparked interest across the country. He published a membership application in the April 1963 issue of Broadcast Engineering and the response was encouraging. With help from family members, Battison mailed membership invitations to almost 5,000 radio and TV engineers in the United States and Canada.

Finally, on April 5, 1964, an organizational meeting was held during the National Association of Broadcasters convention at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago. Approximately 100 interested broadcast engineers attended. The group formed an organization devoted to the needs and interests of broadcast engineers. This new organization was originally called the Institute of Broadcast Engineers (IBE). However, because some members feared there might be confusion in the similarity between the names of the IBE and the IBEW (International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers), the name was changed to Society of Broadcast Engineers (SBE) at that very first meeting. SBE now has approximately 5,500 members that can be found in all 50 states, four U.S. territories and in 25 other countries.

With 114 chapters located throughout the United States and Hong Kong, the SBE now commands a leadership position in the broadcast industry. Local SBE chapters provide services to members through meetings, technical seminars, certification examinations and fellowship. The SBE's first chapter was organized in Binghamton, N.Y., and it is still active today. Its newest chapter is the Magic Valley Chapter in Twin Falls, ID, having been organized by local broadcast engineers in 2009.

The SBE Program of Certification, begun in 1977, helps individuals improve their skills and gain recognition for their knowledge and experience through a national testing program. As the industry's most recognized evaluation service for broadcast engineers, SBE Certification provides important benefits to both members and employers. Those who have earned SBE Certification are proud of their accomplishment, and rightly so.

The SBE is also known for its involvement in developing a nationwide network of volunteer frequency coordinators. Through these volunteers, the SBE provides a vital service to stations, networks and other users of broadcast spectrum who need information about auxiliary broadcast frequencies. Through the efforts of SBE members, this important spectrum is used efficiently, and interference is minimized.

The society continually monitors regulatory issues and frequently files comments with the FCC and other federal and state agencies. In many cases, the SBE is the only organization representing the technical interests of broadcast engineers on regulatory issues.

A number of SBE chapters host regional conferences each year. Most of the events combine technical seminars and an equipment exhibition. At these seminars, expert instructors provide training on a wide variety of technical and managerial topics. The conferences provide attendees with the opportunity to improve their skills and examine the latest in technology. SBE educational programs include the SBE University of on-line, on-demand technical courses, the Ennes Workshops and live and recorded webinars. The SBE also offers a three-day intensive seminar on management and leadership training for broadcast engineers.

The SBE has published a number of popular handbooks for broadcast engineers. The SBE website, www.sbe.org, is visited by thousands of people every month. One of the busiest areas of the website is the SBE JobsOnline, where dozens of broadcast technical jobs are advertised.

The national office of the Society of Broadcast Engineers is located in Indianapolis, Indiana, U.S.A. There, a small full-time staff provides membership, chapter, certification, education and frequency coordination services and support. Additional information on membership in the society is available on pages 6-7 of this publication, at www.sbe.org or by writing, e-mailing or calling the SBE National Office.

Throughout its history, the SBE has strived to advance the field of broadcast engineering and the professional development of the broadcast engineer by being in the forefront as changes in technology have taken place. The society will continue to help its members stay on the leading edge of the broadcast industry by providing leadership, information, education and opportunities for recognition. There have been many members who have played important roles in the 48 years of the society's growth – too many to name here. However, many of their names appear throughout the pages of this directory. We know you will recognize many of them as you use this publication.

PROGRAMS & SERVICES

AWARDS PROGRAM The Annual Awards Program recognizes those who have contributed to SBE, the industry or their chapters in a number of categories. Winners are presented their awards at the National Awards Dinner at the annual SBE National Meeting.

BOOKSTORE SBE members can buy broadcast engineering-related books at discounts of 15% or more off the retail price. The publications are authored by outstanding experts in the industry. Order online at sbe.org.

CANONS OF ETHICS Developed by SBE, the Canons defines the standard for the industry of how all broadcast engineers should practice their profession.

CERTIFICATION SBE maintains a comprehensive Certification Program with six classes of engineering certifications, two operator certifications, one broadcast networking certification and three specialist certifications. SBE Certification has become recognized in the industry as the primary method of verifying the attainment of educational standards. For more information about certification and how to apply to take an exam, please contact the Certification Department at the SBE National Office or your local certification chairman. More than 5,000 individuals are currently SBE certified.

CHAPTERS There are more than 100 chapters of SBE throughout the United States and in Hong Kong. Chapters meet on a regular basis, giving members the opportunity to network with peers, learn about new and existing technologies and share their knowledge. To organize a chapter contact the National Office.

CONTRACT & CONSULTING ENGINEER SERVICES SBE provides two services designed to aid members involved in contract and/or consulting engineering work. A sample contract, written by legal counsel with input from contract engineers, is available at no charge to members electronically and covers most of the issues that concern contract engineers. Contract and consulting engineers can also be listed, for a small fee, in the Membership Directory & Buyers' Guide and on the SBE website.

CREDIT CARD PROGRAM SBE offers the official SBE MasterCard and American Express card through Bank of America. They are available by calling Bank of America at (800) 523-7666.

EDUCATION SBE offers a growing number of continuing educational programs designed for broadcast engineers, operators and technicians. These include the SBE University collection of on-line, on-demand technical courses, live and recorded webinars, the popular Ennes Workshops and the three-day SBE Leadership Development Course. All of these programs are created with the goal of providing practical knowledge for professional or personal development and to increase the participant's value to employers and clients.

EMERGENCY ALERT SYSTEM (EAS) SBE has been involved from the beginning with the EAS. Through its EAS Committee, the Society is a valued technical resource to the FCC and manufacturers as they develop, implement and troubleshoot the next generation of EAS.

FREQUENCY COORDINATION Volunteers from across the country maintain local BAS databases and provide coordination to Part 74 frequency users. Coordination can be accomplished at sbe.org or by contacting the coordinator. Locate local coordinators on the SBE website.

GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATION The Society represents broadcast engineers and their interests to legislators and government agencies through the Government Relations Committee and SBE's General Counsel with direct contact and technical filings.

HAMNET SBE's "Chapter of the Air" provides up-to-date SBE information and a forum for members who are HAM radio operators, especially those not in close proximity to a local SBE chapter. HAMnet, hosted by Hal Hostetter, CPBE, WA7BGX, takes place on the second Sunday of every month at 0000 GMT. The published frequency is 14.205 MHz. The Internet Repeater Linking Project, or IRLP, is based in Denver using the WA2YZT UHF/VHF repeater system, IRLP node #3286, each month, on the first Saturday at 11 a.m. and the third Tuesday at 7 p.m., U.S. Mountain Time, hosted by Jack Roland.

INSURANCE Various insurance programs are available to SBE members at group rates. Life, home, auto, disability, business and professional liability plans are available. For life and disability insurance, contact Marsh/Seabury & Smith at (800) 424-9883. For business and professional liability insurance, contact PROinsure at (866) 577-0355. For home or auto insurance, contact Liberty Mutual at (800) 524-9400.

JOBSONLINE SBE JobsOnline lists broadcast engineering positions across the United States. JobsOnline is available to members only, is updated weekly and can be accessed on the Society's website at www.sbe.org. The Job database is searchable and members can subscribe to be notified when a job is posted that meets their criteria.

MEMBERSHIP SBE offers several levels of membership to meet the diverse needs of individuals involved with or interested in broadcast engineering. From high school youth to the seasoned professional to the broadcast manufacturer, SBE has something for everyone. For a description of these levels, read Article II, Section 2 of the SBE By-Laws, printed on page 17 of this publication.

The SBE Membership Directory & Buyers' Guide is published annually to provide a quick reference to all members and Sustaining Members' services. Short Circuits is updated regularly on the SBE website and provides information on SBE activities. SBE-news is an e-newsletter sent twice-monthly to members. The monthly SBE Career Advancement e-newsletter informs members about educational and certification programs available to them.

REGIONAL CONVENTIONS A number of SBE Chapters host regional conferences each year. Most of these events include engineering seminars and trade shows for members to get the latest information, comparison shop and view current technology.

YOUTH PROGRAM The SBE youth program seeks to encourage high school students with an interest in the technical side of broadcasting to consider the field as a career. Youth members and adult instructors at high schools with radio or television stations receive an e-newsletter three times per year called, The Connector, and local chapters are encouraged to hold Youth Nights in order to help students network and foster mentoring relationships.

WEBINARS BY SBE Webinars by SBE consists of online seminars on subjects of interest to broadcast engineers. You can view the webinar live, or choose to view it from the archives on the SBE website. Visit www.sbe.org/sections/WebinarsbySBE.php to view upcoming webinars and access archived webinars.
