RICARDO ALVAREZ DEL CASTILLO VISITS WITH PRESIDENT BUSH

On Wednesday, February 27, 1991, just hours before he declared the cease fire in the Persian Gulf war, President George Bush joined a group of key Spanish-language media executives for a luncheon meeting at The White House. The meeting was to discuss those issues most important to the U.S. Hispanic community.

One of the major concerns to the President was how he could more effectively communicate The White House's efforts on behalf of Hispanics through Spanish-language radio. Representing Tichenor Media System, Ricardo Alvarez del Castillo offered the cooperation of Tichenor Spanish Radio and suggested that the President might attend more of its Hispanic heritage events. The President expressed great interest in this idea.

According to Mr. Castillo, The White House meeting was very beneficial. "It was indeed a great honor for me, as representative of Tichenor Media System, to be invited to share insights and knowledge of the Hispanic community with the President. I am confident of the President's commitment to our community, which, I believe he has shown once again by hosting this meeting."

KGBT in Harlingen has begun rebuilding portions of its tower. Director of Engineering Marvin Fiedler and KGBT Chief Engineer Sergio Pizzano have made extensive measurements in all directions from the six-tower and antenna system. The present arrangement of the bottom section of each tower made it susceptible to rust. A tower crew will replace the bottom part of each of the towers making the towers as "good as new."

KBNA AM & FM, El Paso, received their license renewal, as did other Texas stations. There was a delay in the renewals due to the FCC's Radio Frequency Radiation standards. These standards require fencing around the bottom of the tower to protect the public, engineers and tower crews from exposure to excessive radiation.

KLAT, Houston, had a surprise visit from a FCC field inspector and received a clean bill of health. The station has planned to paint its towers to improve their visibility, but in all other ways, was in compliance with regulations. The inspectors have also been in the Corpus Christi area recently and have stated that they intend to inspect all AM stations with directional antennas and any stations that have not been inspected in the last few years.

KGBT en Harlingen ha comenzado a reconstruir segmentos de su torre. Marvin Fiedler, Director de Ingeniería de la Corporación y Sergio Pizzano, Ingeniero de KGBT, midieron extensamente desde todas las direcciones del sistema de antenas de seis torres. El diseño actual de la sección de la base de cada torre, la hace vulnerable a la oxidación. Un equipo de especialistas reemplazará la parte inferior de cada torre dejándolas "como nuevas".

KBNA AM & FM de El Paso, así como otras emisoras de Texas, recibieron la renovación de sus licencias. Hubo un retraso en las renovaciones, debido a los estándares de la FCC para Radiación de Frecuencia de Radio. Estos estándares requieren una barda alrededor de la base de la torre para proteger al público, ingenieros y técnicos de las torres contra la excesiva radiación

KLAT Houston, tuvo una visita de sorpresa de un inspector del FCC y obtuvo aprobación. La estación tenía planeado pintar sus torres para mejorar su visibilidad, pero en todas las otras áreas, estuvo de acuerdo con los reglamentos. Los inspectores han visitado recientemente también el área de Corpus Christi y mencionaron que van a inspeccionar todas las estaciones AM con antenas direccionales y cualquier emisora que no haya sido inspeccionada en los últimos años.
