1941-1947

SIX YEARS with "SERVICE UNLIMITED"

Six years ago, on February 14, 1941, the Tri-County Broadcasting Company, better known today as Radio Station WCED, opened its doors for the first time. For six years the station has provided DuBois and area with the best in radio programs.

When Radio Station WCED first went on the air, it featured programs of local talent and those made up from the transcription library. Today, it is still broadcasting local shows and those which are transcribed. But during the course of the six years, it has added for listeners' and sponsors' pleasure, the Pittsburgh Pirate Baseball games at home and abroad; an Ascapi music license which permits the playing of all types of music for both sustaining and commercial programs; a BMI license; the broadcasting of both college and high school football games at home and by remote control; and last, but not least, the addition of the world's number one Network, the Columbia Broadcasting System.

All possible improvements are continually being added to DuBois' Radio City. While the war has restricted to some degree additional repairs, modern improvements in both the building and equipment are gradually being effected, as government restrictions are lifted.

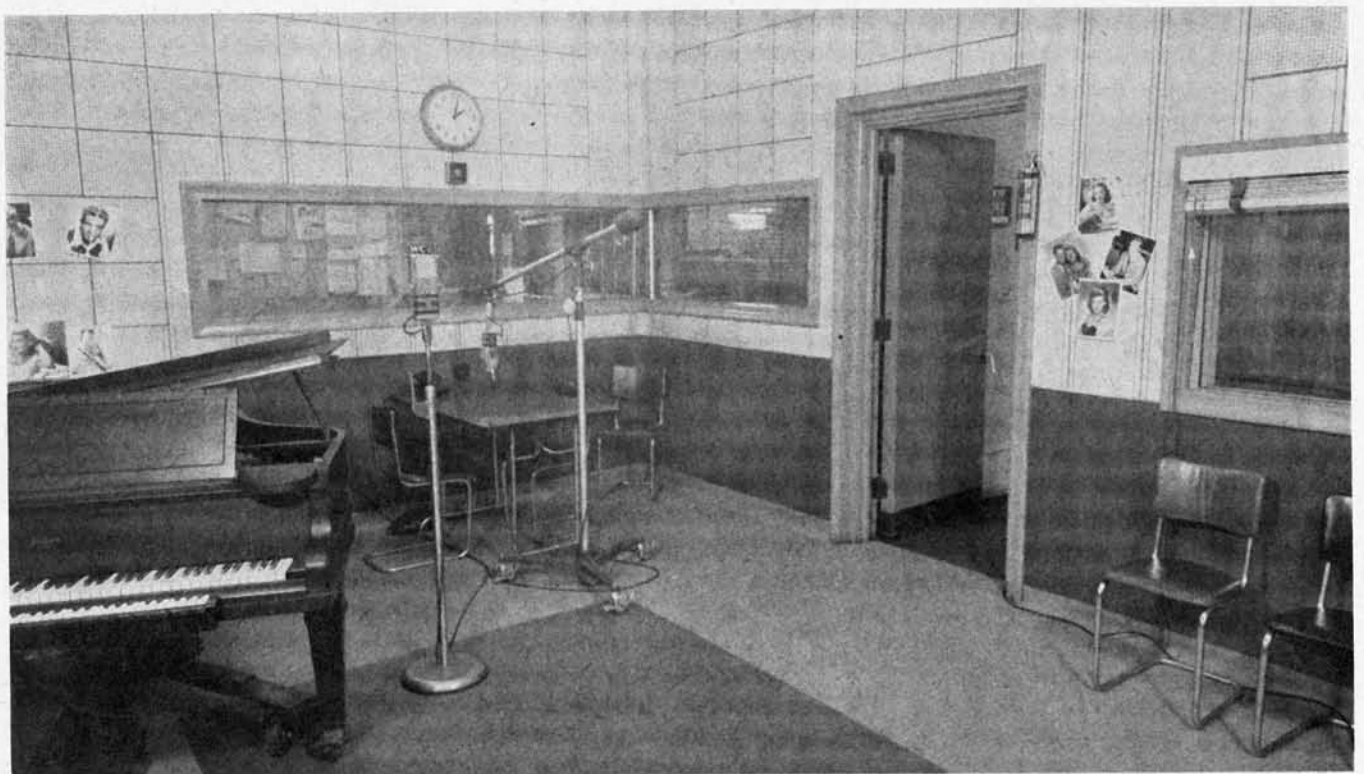

WCED, in keeping pace with the 1500 other radio stations in America, has applied for and received its Frequency Modulation construction permit. This will mean additional service to both listeners and sponsors. Frequency Modulation means static free programs, and coverage as good at night as enjoyed during the day. These improvements, and many more to come, are for you, the listeners and sponsors.

In order that you may become better acquainted with those who serve you at all times, the following pages contain pictures of our staff and a typical weekly program schedule . . . . .
