THE RED LOTUS

There are many theories about the Rising of 1857. Was it our First War of Independence or only a Mutiny of Sepoys? Was it a revolt or a revolution? Was it a co-ordinated conspiracy or a 'spontaneous expression of disaffection', as Maulana Azad has said? Was the chapati really an insurgent symbol or the fancy of panicky English minds? These and other questions have been asked. The answer is that while comments about the Insurrection are free, the facts are sacred. Whatever the causes of the rebels' failure, 1857 remains the greatest Indian event of the 19th century. It will live in the national consciousness as the red lotus which proclaims affinity with the sun of freedom.

As the largest cultural agency in the country, AIR deems it its duty to celebrate all important memorial days and festivals connected with our history and culture. The Rising of 1857 was not a matter of a day. Therefore, celebrations of the Centenary of the struggle will continue through the year. May 10, however, was a milestone, for on that day a hundred years ago the sepoys at Meerut asserted their right to freedom.

AIR had many special programmes for the occasion. The News Division presented a news-reel covering the celebrations at Delhi, Meerut, Kanpur, Jhanst, Gwalior, Lucknow, and other centres connected with the Rising. Delhi station broadcast two plays describing the beginning of the struggle at Meerut. and the liberation of Delhi and installation of Bahadur Shah again as the Emperor. All AIR stations vied with each other to broadcast features which would enable the nation to take stock of its history.

THE WEEK'S LISTENING

NORTH REGIONAL SERVICE

DELHI

AUTHORS TO READ THEIR ESSAYS

AIR Delhi has been broadcasting a series of programmes in Hindi entitled Rochak Nibandh.

In this series, eminent writers broadcast short personal essays, written in a lighter vein, on a variety of topics.

The next broadcast in this series will be given by Prabhakar Machwe, Assistant Secretary, Sahitya Academy. His essay can be heard at 2000 hours on June 17.

ASPECTS OF SANSKRIT DRAMA

Kalidasa excelled in depicting the emotions of love from the first suggestion in an innocent mind to the culmination after trial. The richness of his imagination and his skill in the expression win for him a high place among the dramatists of the world.

Apart from the works of Kalidasa, plays have been written in India for nearly two thousand years.

The salient features of Sanskrit drama will form the subject matter of a talk entitled Some Aspects of Sanskrit Drama by Viswanatha Satyanarayana. It will be broadcast at 2115 hours on June 17.

MARRIAGE REFORM

Social reform has been attempted through legislation but it has been realised that the law alone cannot change people's customs. Extensive education and a humanitarian approach can achieve what compulsion cannot.

Smt. Muktabai Dixit a noted Marathi playwright, has tackled the problem of social reform with special reference to marriage in her well-known play Jua. A radio adaptation of this play will be broadcast from AIR Delhi at 2130 hours on June 17. The adaptation has been done by Onkar Nath Srivastava.

GIRL GROWS UP

No christening was needed to call her Nat Khat. That naughty girl could not be called otherwise. But she really demonstrated her 'qualities' when she attained the marriageable age and to the utter amazement of everybody managed to find a husband of her choice.

The musical story of Nat Khat devised by Chiranjit, will be broadcast from Delhi on June, 16 at 1215 hours.

LUCKNOW-ALLAHABAD

BENEFITS OF AMBAR CHARKHA

We are now trying to place our cottage industries on a sound footing and the Government's decision to introduce the Ambar Charkha is a step in this direction. The decision was preceded by a lot of controversy on the utility of the Ambar Charkha and its place in the nation's economy. The Ambar Charkha is named after its maker, Shri Ekambarnath of Tamilnad. AIR Lucknow-Allahabad will broadcast a discussion in Hindi on Ambar Charkha Se Labh at 1940 hours on June 16.

PREM CHAND'S PLAY

In Go-dan, Munshi Prem Chand has portrayed the urban and rural life of his day. Malti is a well-educated and talented lady doctor just returned from England. She is a woman with a high sense of duty and sacrifice. Even Mehta, the philosopher forms an incorrect opinion of her in the beginning. There was a time when Malti wanted to become the life-partner of Mehta but the tables are turned in the end. A radio adaptation of Go-dan spotlighting the character of Malti, written and produced by G. M. Shah will be broadcast by AIR Lucknow-Allahabad at 2130 hours on June 18.

PATNA

EDUCATED UNEMPLOYED

The concluding talk in the series on unemployment that AIR Patna has been broadcasting is entitled The Educated Unemployed and it goes on the air on June 20 at 2115 hours. The speaker will be Dr. D. N. Lal, Senior Deputy Director, Central Bureau of Economics and Statistics, Bihar, and formerly Head of the Department of Statistics, Patna University.

CHITRALEKHA

Mahaprabhu Ratnambar had two disciples, Vishaldeo and Swetank. One day Swetank told his guru that he had learnt everything about 'righteousness' but he had not been told about 'sin'. The guru replied that to know about sin he should go out into the world. Vishaldev made efforts in that direction and his soul remained tormented.

How it happened is the story of Chitrlekha, the famous novel by Bhagavati Charan Verma. Adapted for broadcasting by Radha Krishna the play goes on the air from AIR Patna on June 20 at 2130 hours.

INDORE

AUTHOR OF 'PADMAVAT'

The common endeavour of Hindus and Muslims has lent to the growth and development of Hindi literature a breadth of vision and a functional import. In this connection, the name of Malik Mohammad Jayasi, whose Padmavat is a mansion of manifold meanings, is ever remembered with reverence.

A talk in Hindi on Malik Mohammad Jayasi and his work can be heard from AIR Indore-Bhopal at 1930 hours on Monday.

WEST REGIONAL SERVICE

BOMBAY

KADAMBINI

Yaksha in exile, pining away for his beloved wife, is the central character of Kalidasa's immortal Meghdoot. The poet's description of the scenic beauty of the hills and the landscape from where Yaksha beckons the cloud to act as a messenger to his wife, will live for all time in the field of creative art.

Kadambini, an opera in Marathi scheduled for broadcast by AIR Bombay, goes a step further than Kalidasa's Meghdoot in that the clouds actually deliver the message of the love-lorn Yaksha to his wife. The opera by Raja Badhe can be heard on June 17 at 2130 hours on Bombay B wavelengths. Participants in the programme include: Surochana Chavan, R. R. Paradkar, Kanchanmala Badhe and Wamanrao Sadolikar.

KALAVATI AND JILLA GARA

V. G. Jog, the violinist, also a composer of orchestral melodies. Bombay Radio Vadya Vrinda will present two of his compositions, Kalavati and Jilla Gara raags on June 20. Raag Kalavati has its derivation from Khamaj that of Hindustani music akin to the Valaji raag of Karnataka music. Jilla Gara is a combination of Jhinjoti, Khamaj and Pilu. This programme conducted by Jog will be on the air on Bombay B at 2145 hours.

DHARWAR

SANCHI HONNAMMA

The two foremost women writers of Karnataka, Akkamahadevi and Honnamma, were staunch patriots and social reformers. Akkamahadevi carried from abode to abode the torch of 'brahmagnana' lit by Basaveshwara, and became a 'viragini', whereas Honnamma preached that each home must become a centre of peace and happiness. A magazine programme in Kannada on Sanchi Honnamma is scheduled for broadcast from AIR Dharwar in the women's hour on Saturday at 0830 hours.

POONA

SAWAN GHAN AYE

After the hot months comes welcome Shravana, bringing rain and reviving the tree of life. Inky clouds, flashes of lightning, peals of thunder and the swinging of the girls under the green trees have been woven into delicate poetry by Hindi poets. The advent of the Shravana will be welcomed in the feature Sawan Ghan Aye to be broadcast by AIR Poona on Wednesday at 2115 hours. The script is by Sarveshwar Dayal and music by Ram Kadam.

AGARKAR'S LIFE

During the first decade of this century, Maharashtra became the scene of the most spirited controversies over the various aspects of social reform. The chief exponents were Tilak and Agarkar. Gopal Ganesh Agarkar and Tilak collaborated in the founding of the 'Kesari'. Later on Agarkar started his own weekly 'Sudharak' which stood up fearlessly for progressivism. Agarkar became a champion of difficult causes.

To her I was an angel...

There she sat—Laxmibai and her three children. Around her unseeded cotton littered the floor. The squalor in that stuffy little room was hard to bear.)

I had come all the way from Rajkot to meet this widowed lady. There were a few questions which had to be cleared regarding her husband's Insurance policy. When I told her who I was and what I had come about, Laxmibai's thin, tired features lit up. She gazed at me as though I was an angel of mercy.

In halting words she explained that her husband had taken a policy for Rs. 3,000/-, hoping when it matured to build a little home of their own. But his long and tragic illness had taken every pie of their savings. Now to make ends meet, she was reduced to removing seeds from cotton for just 5 annas a day! I assured her that she would get the insurance money just as soon as she had cleared a few routine points.)

An insurance man makes a lot of friends. But the gratitude and simple warmth of this widow and her children made me glad to be working in Life Insurance.)

To protect the sentiments of the persons involved, the names in this episode are fictitious. But the story is a true one.

SOUTH REGIONAL SERVICE

MADRAS

MUSICAL LITERATURE

Though frequent mention is made of the musical heritage of the South, many do not know much about the most important works in Tamil that deal with the South Indian music and tradition. In a series of talks in Tamil entitled Isai Nakkiam, introducing such works to our listeners, Prof. M. Arokyaswami, of Madras University, will speak on Charitra Kurippukal (Inscriptions and historical records) which will throw light on the authentic record: in temples and important inscriptions, like the one in Kudumia Malai.

The talk can be heard at 1930 hours on Thursday on Madras A.

KANNIMAR PUJA

Of all the folk forms of worship, Kannimar Puja is most picturesque. The devotees march along the beach to the rhythm of Pambai and Udukkai, traditional folk percussion instruments. The skilful pujaris sing the praise of Sapt Kannimar, the Seven Divine Mothers or personified energies of the principal deities, namely, Pramani, Narayani, Maheswari, Kumari Varaki, Rudrani and Indrani and invoke their blessings on the diseased and grief-stricken. On the beach, a temporary shed is erected with sugar-canes as pillars and wreaths of flowers as ceilings. The folk songs which describe the worship are rich in music.

SOAR INTO THE AIR IN A GLIDER

With the spread of air-mindedness in our country, gliding is becoming increasingly popular as a hobby and sport. AIR Poona recently interviewed Shri K. BALARAMAN, Chief Instructor at the Gliding Centre, Poona. Here are his answers to questions on the 'what and how' of gliding.

Question: How is gliding different from flying, and how does a glider differ from an aeroplane?

Answer: Gliding is flying, with this difference: the glider is an aircraft without power. In other respects it is similar to the aeroplane. Natural forces maintain the glider in the air. These natural forces usually consist of vertical currents of air that are caused by certain meteorological conditions.

Q. Tell me, how many persons can a glider take at a time?

A. One or many. During the last War troop-carrying gliders were used, each of which carried many armed soldiers.

Q. Is the take-off and landing of a glider similar to that of an aeroplane?

A. In landing a glider the pilot employs more or less the same methods as the pilot of an aeroplane would. Details may differ but the technique of approach, levelling off and touch-down are essentially the same. The take-off, however, is a little different from that of an aeroplane. The method most generally adopted is the winch launch, that is, a powerful engine stationed on the ground and connected to the glider by a long steel cable. This engine causes the cable to be wound rapidly on a revolving drum and this in turn causes the glider to be launched into the air. This is the same principle adopted when launching kites into the wind.

Q: Is a glider similar to a balloon or to a Zeppelin like the R 100 and R 101?

A: A balloon is an aircraft lighter than air because it consists of a bag enclosing a gas which is lighter than air. Its horizontal motion cannot be controlled and it drifts with the wind. A Zeppelin is a dirigible, also enclosing several gas bags lighter than air within its rigid framework. This enables it to rise in the air, but, unlike the balloon, it is propelled and manouevred in any required direction by several engines. But the glider, like an aeroplane, is an aircraft that is heavier than air and it becomes airborne, manoeuvrable and capable of maintaining flight by the lifting surfaces of its wings.

Q: Is gliding safer than power flying?

A: If one were to go by the number of accidents occurring in gliding, as compared with other forms of flying, gliding is safer. But we should not forget that there is an element of danger in all sports and in all human activities. People have hurt themselves sleeping in their beds, walking on roads, travelling on trains or in steamships, or in playing harmless games. There is a high safety factor in gliding if it is done in the proper way.

Q: Is the machinery in a glider similar to that in an aeroplane?

A: The controls used by the pilot to fly a glider are identical with those of an aeroplane, because the glider flies on the same aero-dynamic principles as an aeroplane except for the absence of an engine and its controlling instruments.

Q: If one can glide can one also fly an aeroplane?

A: The glider pilot generally takes much less time to learn to fly an aeroplane than would a person who has never flown before. It may be found that the glider pilot takes only a few hours to familiarise himself with an aeroplane, whereas the uninitiated person needs from 10 to 20 hours on the average.

EXHILARATING

Q: Is it more delightful to fly in a glider than to fly in an aeroplane?

A: To those persons who like to fly in the air gliding would perhaps offer more enjoyment. It is a purer form of flying, more akin to that of the birds. The noise and vibrations of an engine are missing in a glider, and, if the glider pilot has been able to achieve considerable height, he soars in silent, exhilarating flight many thousands of feet above the earth, as do the birds. He uses to his advantage the currents of the air and this intimacy with nature can give to the glider pilot a sense of achievement and great enjoyment.

Q: What is the reach of a glider, that is, how far can a glider glide?

A: The distance depends on the height a glider can achieve or maintain.

GLIDING IN INDIA

Q: Can you give a history of gliding particularly in India, giving also the names of gliding centres in this country?

A: Gliding in India originated with the forming of the Indian Gliding Association Ltd., The association came into being in 1930 and the centre was situated in the state of Aundh, near Poona. Later it was shifted to the Chattursinghi hill. Today the centre is located near Hadapsar. The Association itself was wound up a few years ago. The flying activities, however, were taken over by the Government and the gliding centre is at present under the control of the Director-General of Civil Aviation.

New gliding centres have been opened recently at various other places in this country. The gliding centre at Delhi is already several years old and other centres at Allahabad, Bangalore and a few other places have recently been opened.

As mechanized farming brings more land under crops . . . as powerful bulldozers and other equipment labour day and night to build dams to water the thirsting earth . . . as roads and rails reach farther to bring food to the market place . . . so the need for oil—fuels and lubricants—grows. Caltex is irrevocably linked with the plans contributing to the well-being of India's millions. At Visakhapatnam the new Caltex Refinery is nearing completion—a tribute to free enterprise.
