RADIO GUIDE

Please note that from now on we have added another country to our weekly listings of the European Top 100 Singles. Cyprus is now the 17th country that contributes its Top 50 listings to the Top 100 and the chart is compiled by the Cyprus Broadcasting Corporation (C.B.C.). Although general sales in Cyprus are very limited (and therefore hit positions in Cyprus don't really make any change in our Top 100) we would like to give a total European picture.

Surprise record of the week is Jimmy Ruffin's There Will Never Be Another You. We were very struck by the inventive melody line coupled with his emotional vocal craft. Some of you may remember him from the early Motown days (What Becomes Of The Broken-Hearted) and for this record he cooperates with Greg Walsh of the B.E.F. production team.

It's a long time ago that Julien Clerc had a hit outside of France. His new single I Don't Ever Want To Go Away, has a very good chance to make up for all those years of silence. It's catchy, easy to sing-a-long with and has a reggae type of production.

Other new entries in our Euro-Crossover lists are Mai Tai, Dirk Blanchart, Andreas Vollenweider and Roberto Jaccetti & The Scooters. Dutch girlgroup Mai Tai (originally from Surinam) deliver a sound which without exaggeration comes very close to that of the Pointer Sisters. Dirk Blanchart is also new in our Crossover list, he's from Belgium, but signed to the English record company Statik. His single Cockpit deserves to be heard on the progressive European radio stations. The multi-instrumentalist Vollenweider is a logical choice as well. Lastly, Dutch popular band Roberto Jaccetti & The Scooters give us a sunny tune again with Preaching (do you note the close resemblance of this song to an earlier recording of John Cougar called Born Reckless?).

THE MILITANT LES ENFANTS

Mystery project The Honeydrippers come up with a great new single called Rockin' At Midnight, a swinging piece of action in the best big band tradition. We enjoyed listening to the new Chicago single, You're The Inspiration, it shows them in their most romantic mood. Celtic band The Armoury Show have released a second single following their earlier debut Castles In Spain. Their new one is called We Can Be Brave Again and is yet another example of their very powerful and solid way of songwriting.

You should all listen to the debut single from Dublin band Les Enfants. The single is called Slipaway and has a very militant and robust sound, make it your record of the week! Some more products we liked this week were The Pale Fountains with their Jean's Not Happening, a good and full 6 T's production; Johnny Gill, who unfortunately never scored with the duet together with Stacy Lattisaw (Block Party) now comes up with a complete other style, a sultry band called Half Craffity (on Cotillion), perhaps a bit too sweet for the European Market. A track that could do great in the clubs is Floy Joy's Operator, a Don Was production. Some dance products: Jenny Burton with Bad Habits (Atlantic) (some may remember her from her contribution to the Beat Street Soundtrack) and for those of you who like a hard funky production, we recommend you to check out King's He Say, She Say (American band on Atlantic Records, not the UK based band with their current hitsingle Love And Pride).

AN UNBEATABLE NIGHT

Not so much albums this week, apart from the new Alan Parson's, David Sanborn (live), and Australian band Eurogliders with their first European release This Island (produced by ex-Police producer Nigel Gray) and containing a sound reminiscent of Fleetwood Mac. On all fronts One Night In Bangkok is unbeatable. The single is at the moment no. 11 in the European Top 100, it is Euro-Airplay Smash and it is also the most programmed video in Europe this week. Further to that, the album moves up to no. 12 (from 17). Two covers have in the meantime already been made, one Dutch translation of the song and one American cover (by Robey). In the coming weeks, Murray Head can only be beaten in the Airplay Charts by Phil Collins' Sussudio. The single is at the moment no. 2 in the Airplay and is this week the second best entry in the Top 100 Singles. Collins' other project with Philip Bailey is this weeks highest entry at no. 60. Hot on the heels of Caribbean/European Queen, Billy Ocean's Lover Boy makes the biggest jump in the Singles chart this week, currently charted in the UK, Belgium, Germany and Holland.
