Media Giants Tighten Grip On Swedish Radio

SWEDEN
by Miranda Watson

The big names in Swedish radio expanded their interests further in the latest radio auction in the north and central area of Sweden, with media giants Bonnier and Kinnevik sweeping up the majority of frequencies in this area.

Media concentration in Swedish radio is very much on the rise. National radio network SRU/Rix, partly owned by Bonnier-group newspaper Expressen, scooped up nine frequencies, while Bonnier-owned ACE-formatted Radio Megapol built on its network with four frequencies. ACE-formatted Radio Z, owned by Kinnevik, and Radio City sales house SRAB gained four frequencies.

Bidders say prices were again driven high by the auction, although the majority of the 26 licences went for under Skr1 million (app. US$123.900); eight licences topped the one million mark, with the highest price of Skr1.9 million paid for the FM 104.7 frequency in Örebro by Radio Megapol.

Comments SRU/Rix MD Birgitta Rosen, "We were hoping to win around seven frequencies and we've ended up with 10 in nine cities [including the frequency won in last week's Stockholm auction], so I'm very pleased. We are planning to take more in south and west Sweden when the next auction takes place. SRU/Rix is now set to become the most powerful radio network in Sweden." Radio Rix will run a Gold-based format

Pow Wow Wows French Radio

FRANCE
by Emmanuel Legrand

Every artist has experienced the hard task of composing and recording a second album. Things get tougher when the first album is successful as there is a lot to lose.

In the case of Pow Wow, the four-member a cappella French band, the stakes were very high. Not only had their 1992 debut album Regagner Les Plaines

Pow Wow

(Remark/PolyGram) landed three Top 10 singles, including the number 1 hit Le Chat, but it

Bertelsmann Sales Increase 7%, While Profits Jump 20%

INTERNATIONAL

Multi-national media conglomerate Bertelsmann AG reported a 6.5% increase in sales to DM16.99 billion (app. US$10.6 billion) and a 20% jump in operating profits to DM1.43 billion for the fiscal year ended June 30. Net income rose 16% to DM660 billion. Adjusted for currency fluctuations affecting the strong deutschmark, sales would have been 10%.

Bertelsmann Music Group, the company's music operations which reported a 20% increase in sales to US$3 billion, now accounts for around 28% of total company turnover. Geographically, Germany represents 39% of sales (DM6.6 billion), while the rest of Europe accounts for 33% (DM5.7 billion).

President/CEO Dr. Mark Wössner says business last year in Germany was "good" and that the core operations in other European markets were "even better." Wössner adds that the company adjusted to the recession well ahead of time in major markets and to changes in the business climate in the new federal states of Germany.

Wössner warns, however, that the new fiscal year will not compare favourably to fiscal '92/'93. "The current business year will be difficult," he says in a written statement. "In spite of the economic malaise, however, we are again expecting a result on the level of the previous year." SW

Chrysalis Rereleases 2 Tone Material

UNITED KINGDOM

by David Stansfield

At a time when racism is rampant in Germany, France and Italy and has reared its ugly head yet again in the UK, Chrysalis has moved to celebrate its very anti-racist 2 Tone years.

Acts including The Specials [initially known as The Special AKA], Madness, The Beat and The Selecter helped the 2 Tone label, set up 14 years ago, to notch up worldwide sales of three million albums and six million singles. Chrysalis has now released a 2 Tone EP featuring the debut single by the aforementioned acts. This will be followed by a 16-track Best Of 2 Tone album and the four CD package The Compact 2 Tone Story, which will include all the 2 Tone A side/B side single hits and misses plus a number of rarities. The package will also include the book "The 2 Tone Story."

FNAC Music's MD Treille Dies

FRANCE

by Emmanuel Legrand

Laurent Treille, the 41-year-old MD of FNAC Music/WMD—the label and distribution company set up by retail giant FNAC in July 1990—died in Paris on September 26, reportedly of a heart failure.

In a September 27 memo to the staff, Joel Mornet, associate

MD of FNAC, said Treille was "appreciated by his collaborators, his partners and the artists he contributed to promote. FNAC loses a man of great skills, both human and professional."

Treille had been under a lot of strain since the recent sale of FNAC by its parent company GMF to a group of financial institutions and banks. When it became obvious that the new owners of FNAC were willing to sell their music production and distribution affiliate FNAC Music, Treille began looking for new alternatives.

Treille, a dynamic and soft-spoken man, was the founder in the early '80s of Niort-based distribution company WMD which was later acquired by FNAC. His ambition was to create with FNAC Music "the French major." The label continues to operate under the aegis of Georges Hubert, president of the FNAC Music, and Yves Bigot, joint managing director/A&R and marketing.

Treille was due to be buried on October 1 in the city of Niort.

UNCROWNED CLUB KING SIGNS UP WITH EMI HOLLAND — After a long boycott against recording on CD, the uncrowned king of the club circuit Hans Dulfer suddenly gave in with the launch of EMI's new "Monsters Of Jazz" label. His first album on CD will be released in February next year, with appearances by daughter Candy and produced by John Helder and Paul Keuzenkamp. Pictured (l-r) are: EMI Holland business affairs manager Mark Bremer, EMI Holland national product manager Bert 't Hoen, Dulfer, EMI Holland MD Hennie van Kuijeren and A&R manager Michael Peterson.

EUROPE AT A GLANCE

UNITED KINGDOM: Authority Invites Offers For Channel Radio

The UK Radio Authority has advertised a special radio licence to provide an FM radio service to motorists on the M20 motorway running from the London orbital M25 to the channel port of Folkestone and on the A20 from Folkestone to Dover. With the imminent opening of the Channel Tunnel link, travellers will have more choice of routes across the channel and travel information for motorists will be of increasing importance. The technical challenge for any potential applicant will be to restrict the signal to the carriage way but still ensure adequate strength for reception over the full length of the motorway. Systems such as this are already in use in France and Italy and will serve as models for the M20 service.

Regional Nets Join Forces To Buy EHR Network Radio Service

FRANCE
by Emmanuel Legrand

Three regional networks have joined to buy and operate Marseille-based EHR regional network Radio Service, following the acquisition of its parent company press group Spir Communication by the daily Ouest France, which has decided to divest its radio holdings. Involved in the venture are Auvergne-based EHR Scoop, Orleans-based EHR/dance

Vibration, and EHR-formatted Star from Mulhouse.

The three stations have submitted a proposal which has been accepted by Spir and is now awaiting the go-ahead from broadcasting authority CSA. The stations will own equal shares.

With an average of over 120,000 daily listeners, Radio Service is a key member of Les Indépendants, a group of the leading independents stations created to sell advertising to national advertisers. Says Vibration president Jean-Eric Valli, "We didn't want to see it disappear or be acquired by a national network."

There are as yet no plans to change the format or the existing operating team. Valli is optimistic about receiving approval from the CSA. He adds, "This will strengthen the status of independent stations. [The three stations] share the same philosophy of work. It is a good way to learn how to work together, share our experience. It is also a way to show that if we have been successful in our town or region, this can be repeated elsewhere. It is a matter of balance of power: the stronger we are, the more we have chances to win."

Bee Gees, Stevie Wonder In PolyGram Autumn Line-Up

GERMANY
by Miranda Watson

PolyGram Germany will be stepping up activities in the areas of merchandising and special marketing as part of the company's transformation from "a pure music company to a powerful global entertainment concern." That is according to president Wolf Gramatke's speech to the 230 delegates present at the company's annual sales conference in Hannover.

Gramatke said the moves reflect the radical changes that will affect the media and consumer market in the near future, with consumers able to buy just about everything from home and shopping becoming an event rather than a necessity.

Presentations by the three PolyGram labels—Polydor, Phonogram and Metronome—followed. Polydor's piece included performances by Hot Chocolate and German hip hop group Reimbanditen, while Udo Lindenberg performed his new single. Highlights of the next few months include releases from Thomas Anders, Rolf Zuckowski, Bee Gees, Incognito, Tony Toni Toné, Lionel Richie and Stevie Wonder.

Metronome MD Albert

Selnderbroek reported a record year for the company, with turnover doubling from last year and national share tripling, mainly due to the success of Ace Of Base and breaking of new national artists Terry Hoax, The Land and Scäm Luiz. Metronome is now pinning its hopes on Die Arzte, a new signing to the label. New albums are also due out from national artists Hanne Haller and

Uwe Ochsenknecht.

Louis Spillmann, who will step down from his post as Phonogram MD later this year, gave a sentimental presentation, with special appearances by the label's top sellers Bon Jovi and The Scorpions. Priorities for the next season include a new album from Nina Hagen, newcomer Maxim Rad and Valerie's Garten and Swiss artist Stephan Eicher.

AFI Threatens To Pursue Non-Paying Private Stations

ITALY
by Mark Dezzani

Italy's record industry trade association AFI is threatening legal action against private radios who fail to pay producer rights on the music they play.

According to AFI press spokesman Franco Crepax, "Although most of the national networks pay us royalties, there are thousands of radios who live off of our music but fail to pay. The producers must recuperate neighbouring rights. So far only 100 radio stations are paying up."

Earlier this year author's rights body SIAE announced that all national networks had negotiated rights payments with the exception of Milan-based EHR net 101 Network and that they would take legal action against non-paying regional stations. Eugenio Porta, president of private radio association ANTI—of which 101 Network is a member, contests, however, that, "Radio's are only obliged to pay producer's rights and are not legally obliged to pay the SIAE."

IFPI-recognised trade association FIMI director general Ernesto Magnani ruled out any cooperation with AFI on the collection of producers rights and said that FIMI was concentrating on prosecuting retail outlets who rent CDs.

BRTN Celebrates 10 Years Of Regional Programming

BELGIUM
by Marc Maes

Belgian pubcaster BRTN celebrated the 10th-year anniversary of its regional programming on October 1 with a 12-hour special for the service.

BRTN Radio 2's regional programmes, better known as "De Ontkoppeling," started in 1983 with the pubcaster's five regional production centres in Brussels, Antwerp, Ghent, Kortrijk and Hasselt each broadcasting one hour of information, culture and sports in addition to Radio 2's nationally broadcasted regional productions.

This was extended by an extra hour of regional programming in 1990; and in 1992 it was lengthened to four hours per day. BRTN Radio PD Chris Cleeren comments, "BRTN Radio 2 is really something unique in Europe, perhaps in the whole world, as we offer a combination of national EHR/ACE programming and decentralised information programmes. Today, some regional centres have more regional than national airtime and spend the bulk of their means to the regional hours."

Cleeren says the additional focus on regional programming has not affected the quality of Radio 2's national programmes and that further establishing the net's profile and horizontal programming remains one of priorities. "We want to expand the regional programming by a few hours in the weekend, but the complete decentralisation on October 1 is a one-off and is not meant to lead to split stations," he adds.

Like Cleeren, Radio 2/Antwerp's head of production Paul de Meulder thinks that the future of regional programming lies in offering more than information alone. "I think regional programmes could become more of a community stimulus. We could ignite ideas for concerts, symposia or cultural events and play an intermediary role when it comes to raising the necessary funds."

Radio Holding Names Key Posts

DENMARK
by Kai Roger Ottesen

The Voice co-owner and MD Otto Reedtz-Thott will add the additional duties as president and CEO of Radio Holding, the joint venture between Kinnevik and Egmont announced last month.

The final touches were added to the executives and sales staff line-up at the end of September, with the appointment of attorney Sören Grunnet Lövenlund as MD, starting October 1. Radio

Uptown/Copenhagen MD Glenn Lau Rentius has been named director of product development and former The Voice sales manager Eric Hansen will be director of sales. Reedtz-Thott and Lau Rentius will retain their positions at The Voice and Uptown.

Radio Holding is also contemplating applying for the proposed new fourth national station P4, according to a statement by Reedtz-Thott issued to the organisation for commercial radio stations KOMM.

The two competitors agreed to join forces late in August to create a common platform to raise standards in Danish radio. The Danish media company Egmont contributed its Hot ACE station Radio Uptown/Copenhagen, while Swedish-owned Kinnevik contributed its EHR stations The Voice in Copenhagen and Odense. Also included in the deal were the radio ad sales firms Radio Booking and Skandinavisk Radioreklame.

NRK To Renegotiate Deal With GRAMO

NORWAY
by Kai Roger Ottesen

Norwegian pubcaster NRK has terminated its contract with broadcasting rights society GRAMO due to areas of disagreement which have arisen since the launch of private ACE net P4 and the imminent launch of the pubcaster's third station, EHR outlet P3 in October.

The rights contract was signed between the parties last January. However, according to NRK head of legal affairs Tove Krogdahl, "The agreement is being terminated because there are certain elements we're not satisfied with, including rate levels."

NRK currently pays Nkr86 per minute (app. US$12). A proposal has been made by GRAMO that P4 pay Nkr28.86 per minute during the first year, after which time all national stations will be equally treated. In an interview with morning newspaper Aftenposten, GRAMO chairman Sæmund Fiskvik says, "If you don't have money, you don't go to the restaurant. If P4's music airplay amounts to 60%, it's natural that the music expenses amount to 60% of the budget."

GRAMO spokesperson Ingunn Langleite has a less dramatic view on the discussions. "The negotiating phase is an open dialogue and nothing is fixed yet." None of the parties wished to comment on how the rates should be set.

Local privates are not affected in the rights renegotiations as yet, according to the local radio association Norsk Naeradioforbund (NNF) MD Lars Bruusgaard.

"It's too early to say, as we're in the beginning of the process," says Bruusgaard. "The NNF has been lobbying for several years to improve the deal for its member stations."

What local private stations pay is based on the population in the licence area, total airplay time and turnover. GRAMO's intention, according to Bruusgaard, is to design a model based on a price-per-airplay minute. He adds, "It's also natural to look at how many people are listening to the music different stations play."

CPG Starts "Platen 10-Daagse," Aangenaam Barok Campaigns

HOLLAND
by Miranda Watson

Classic and pop music are in for their yearly promo boost in Holland with two campaigns launched by Dutch record industry body CPG. The projects, announced by CPG MD Jan Gaasterland at the joint NVPI/AVRO/CPG presentation held late September, are part of a 12-year tradition of collective campaigns and promotions for the whole Dutch record industry.

The two main collective actions this year are aimed at strengthening the profile of the Dutch record industry: "Platen 10-Daagse" ("Ten Days Of Records"), which runs September 29-October 9 and a classical campaign running September 29-December 31, this year entitled "Aangenaam Barok Plus." During the "Platen 10-Daagse", every consumer who spends Dfl 49.50 (app. US$26) in a record shop will receive the free CD Het Nationale Muziekkado ("The National Music Present") with 17 tracks by artists including De Jazzpolitie, De Kast, The Radios, John Hiatt, Billy Joel, Stephan Eicher, Tim Finn and Beverly Craven. As part of the 10-day campaign, Dutch broadcaster AVRO will televise its annual Grand Gala Du Disc in the evening on September 28 and on October 1 featuring Sting, Paul Young, Oleta Adams, Crowded House and Mariah Carey. TV and radio commercials will further support the campaign, with ads also in local and regional papers.

The "Aangenaam Barok Plus" follows a similar campaign last year, which was so successful that CPG decided to repeat the theme this year. Consumers who purchase the special promotional CD Aangenaam Barok Plus for Dfl 9.95 will also receive 25 discount vouchers for classical CDs worth Dfl 500. The Grand Gala Du Disc AVRO TV programmes will also cover the Baroque artists featured on the CD. The campaign will be supported by TV and radio commercials.

See also special on "Platen 10-Daagse" on page 12.

East West Launches Mo Beee Campaign

NORWAY

East West Germany has launched a new campaign under the banner "Mo Beee" to promote the release of the third Mo Beats Hip Hop compilation featuring leading East West Hip Hop artists such as Snow, Naughty By Nature, Dr. Dre, 2 Pac and House Of Pain.

The sampler was produced in co-operation with specialist Hip Hop magazine Spex. Using the cartoon figure "Mobe" as its logo, the campaign for the sampler is being run in conjunction with McDonald's, which has included an eight-page insert in its McDonald's Kino News magazine with information and features on the Hip Hop artists included on the Mo Beats 3 sampler. A list of the 150 retailers stocking the Mo Beats sampler is also included. All 453 outlets of the McDonald's chain are involved in the promotion, distributing some 1.45 million magazines with the inserts.

A Mo Beats competition is also running in conjunction with Mo Beat's retailers with giveaways of key rings featuring the logo. Point of sale for the promotion includes "Mo Beee" stands and displays for the sampler. MW

RTL 5 TV Could Boost Private Radio, Says Sky's Lathouwers

HOLLAND
by Marlene Edmunds

The head of Dutch cable/satellite ACE station Sky Radio says that the start-up of Holland's second commercial TV station could be good news for private radio in Holland. The highly touted CLT-backed RTL 5 was scheduled to start on October 2, and has already racked up more than Dfl 11 million (app. US$6 million) in ad revenue commitments.

Comments Sky Radio director Ton Lathouwers, "Historically, the better TV is doing the better radio does. When RTL 4 came onto the market in 1989, it gave a real boost to the income of Sky Radio and Radio 10 because advertisers became more interested in broadcasting as a whole. The same thing could happen when RTL starts up."

Radio's share of total advertising in Holland has been traditionally very low, hovering between 2% and 3%, but media analysts predict this could change dramatically in the future.

The government is expected to make a decision on which radio stations will be given regional terrestrial frequencies by the end of the year. If the government awards the licences to financially sound cable stations, those stations could easily double their market share, says Lathouwers, making them much more attractive to advertisers.

Dutch Minister of Culture Hedy D'Ancona has said she would like to see the frequencies awarded to formats other than what is currently available on the market, a move private stations have said would be the equivalent of commercial suicide.

Sky Radio has also just celebrated its fifth birthday. It was started up in September 1988 and, says Lathouwers, "We were the first really formatted station in Holland, and the only one to have kept our format throughout."

Wearing Both Hats: DJ & Programmer

by Steve Wonsiewicz

Nearly all PDs moved up from the ranks of presenters where they cut their teeth learning about radio. Many have continued to keep one foot in the studio, presenting shows in a variety of dayparts. There are obvious advantages to wearing both hats, but striking a balance between the two different roles is a must in creating a consistent sound and image for the station and keeping the other presenters happy.

Niels Pedersen, programme director at Radio Uptown/Copenhagen, cautions programmers about the benefits of holding both positions. He recently was the AM drive-time presenter at the station for the past six years, and during the last three-and-a-half years he was also PD.

"The most important thing you have to realise is that by having those two positions you are already in a somewhat compromising position," says Pedersen, whose station broadcasts an EHR/ACE mix targeting a 15-34 slightly male demo. "On one hand you're part of the on-air crew and on the other you're part of management as the programmer. You have to be very careful about balancing your duties and loyalties to each group. If you get too much of a DJ attitude, you're not perceived as a management guy, and vice versa."

Critiquing other presenters is also difficult in a dual role. "One of the things you also have to be aware of is how you critique the other presenters," says Pedersen. "I had to make sure that I was following my own rules and guidelines. You can really get in trouble if you think you can break the rules just because you're PD. You also have to have someone critique you as a presenter, someone who will come in and tell you once or twice a week about what you are doing right and wrong."

Promotional Space Available

Here's your chance to get your station's name and staffers published, and impress your friends (and boyfriends, girlfriends and parents). Photos of charity events, artist visits and station promotions are all welcome. The more creative the better.

PD/DJ Checklist

- ① Don't Get Emotional About The Music
- ② Follow Your Own Rules
- ③ Make Sure You're Being Critiqued As A DJ
- ④ Balance Your Duties As PD & DJ

Pedersen is also wary about thinking you'll be in a better position to analyse the station's sound if you hold the two jobs. "If you're also on air, you get caught up thinking of radio in the short term because you tend to focus more on the music, the bands and the songs you really want to play," he says. "There's the possibility of being caught up in the music flow and tiring songs out more quickly. As a presenter you sometimes get excited about records and feel you just have to play them, and because you're the PD you put in on into a rotation; but you might have just thrown away a better record or dropped a song that still had a lot more life in it because the listeners weren't yet tired of hearing it.

"If you're only the PD, you can take a step back and listen to the station, you can be more objective about the total sound and image of the station."

Holding both positions did help Pedersen learn the more subtle details in his role as PD. "I think you have to have been a presenter to become PD so you can learn the small but important things about the job. You learn about music flow and what works and what doesn't work."

Non-music related aspects of the job that Pedersen learned more about as presenter came mostly from the promotional side. "Sometimes you'll have a promo that you and the promotion director think is just great and then you go on air with it and it just doesn't work," he says. "When you're a presenter you learn more about the total flow of the station, including the promos, ads and music. You can hear and feel what's going to work, so you're in a better position to say no to promos you don't think will work."

Pedersen's last piece of advice: delegate. "It's very, very important that you delegate work and try not to do everything," he says. "Being PD takes up an enormous part of your day. You really have to work hard at balancing your workload correctly. If you spend too much time as a PD, then your on-air shift will suffer, and if you spend too much time on your own programmes, the overall music policy will suffer."

Adds Egil Houeland, programme director/head of music, Radio 102/Haugesund, who presents both a morning and afternoon show on alternating days, "The freedom that I enjoy in playing music is something I want other presenters to enjoy, but within reason; and having both jobs gives me a better insight into that.

"There's a danger, however, of being emotional when you're on the air when picking records, which can affect the sound and image of the station. As PD or head of music you have to be a little less emotionally involved when you're presenting your programme. You also have to follow the rules you make up as PD when you're presenting."

Radio 102 airs a broad, speech-based

EHR/ACE mix which targets a 15-60 demo, and Houeland has been head of music and presenter for the station since it launched in early 1985. "Since we don't have strong local competition, I can programme a broad-based format and be more flexible in choosing songs," he says. "We don't use Selector, so our playlist is more flexible, which means I don't have to be as strict with the DJs about following the playlist."

Physically playing the records helps keep Houeland's perspective on the station fresh. "You know what it sounds like from the presenter booth because you're actually playing the records," he says. "You get a better understanding of how your decisions affect other presenters because you're in the same position. So you know when you make the rules and you can go back and listen to it afterwards and can critique it."

Sound Tools II Manipulates Stereo Material To Perfection

by Andy Bantock

Digidesign released the original version of Sound Tools in 1989 as a hard-disk based digital editing and mastering system. It recently launched an upgrade—Sound Tools II and is hoping for increasing sales into the broadcast market.

Sound Tools II is based round a Macin- slowly down while pitch shifting to trim a track to exact length without affecting the audio.

Digidesign has also released Sound Tools Promaster 20. Similar in most operation respects to the Sound Tools II unit, Promaster 20 features an enhanced 20-bit A/D interface with full 24-bit data transfer. Also available for Promaster 20 is a "plug

MUSIC TO YOUR EARS: Digidesign's Sound Tools II

tosh computer with an added input/output card and digital signal processor. The Sound Accelerator II DSP card plugs in to the Mac. The interface is contained within a 1U rack mounted case, providing four balanced inputs and outputs along with stereo AES/EBU and S/PDIF digital inputs and outputs.

The Sound Tools II screen looks just like a tape machine's controls and allows you to record, edit and manipulate stereo material easily. The tracks are graphically displayed on the screen and editing is possible to single waveform resolution. There are two types of editing available to the Sound Tools II operator non-destructive and permanent allowing test editing of a track before committing to an edit. One can create a playlist of sections from a track then re-arrange them, copy sections and mix to suit your requirements.

Digital Signal Processing Tools are included in Sound Tools II with effects such as a Parametric/Graphic EQ, Compressor/Limiter and Expander with all controls available on the screen. Other expansion options for Sound Tools II include DECK which doubles the number of tracks available to four an allows unlimited track bouncing as well as other multitrack features all within the same screen-based format. Sound Tools II is fully MIDI compatible and, though this, can be interfaced to SMPTE tracks for accurate audio to video and linked audio applications.

A feature that will find a home in the commercial production studio is the ability to time align tracks by simultaneously speeding up or in" software noise reduction system called DINR (Digidesign Intelligent Noise Reduction). DINR achieves dramatic reduction of tape hiss, mains hum, rumble and other unwanted noises. With 20-bit resolution Promaster 20 offers a usable dynamic range of over 100dB and a signal to noise ratio of 96dB which is vastly better than any analogue machine and is equal to the theoretical S/N ratio of 16-bit digital.

Digidesign also offers a 16-channel record/edit hard disk system called Pro Tools. This has been available for some time and is about to be upgraded to version 2.0 which will additionally allow operators to run Pro Edit and Pro Deck (other Digidesign systems) from the one programme. Improved EQ and graphics will also be a feature of Pro Tools 2.0.

In Holland, Media Tools B.V. uses Pro Tools for de-noising and levelling. This is a process in which a radio station can order Media Tools to adjust the sound of titles used in their playlist to be fine-tuned to the specific needs of the station's listeners. In this way a positive and clearly recognisable sound can be created for the specific radio station and "tune out" factors in which sound is involved can be limited.

Another advantage is that sound processing at the stations will work much better. Media Toola B.V. can be reached at Boomborglaan 7, 1217 Hilversum, tel: (+31) 35.280.466.

ANDY BANTOCK started in radio with the BBC in 1980 as technical operator. He has worked as a presenter, manager, engineer, operator and designer. More recently, Bantock set up his own broadcast consultancy, handling both engineering and programming. He can be reached at tel: (+44) 797 225169.

Technology Update

by Andy Bantock

Polish Radio Goes Sony

Following its purchase of Sony CDP-2700 CD players, CDK-3600 Auto Disc Loader/Players, PCM-2700A Broadcast DAT Recorders, DAR-4000 A/D D/A converters and PFA-D100 Digital Audio Distribution Amps, Polish Radio has placed an order for two DMX-B4000 digital Radio On Air Consoles. This will be the world's first installation of this console and will be at the studio complex of regional station Radio Opole at the former Palace of Culture. The purchase of the console is the latest step in Polish Radio's route to an all-digital future which will include another studio complex in Warsaw.

"Informercials" Hit American Homes

In an interesting tie between radio and TV, California-based IDB Communications has launched the Inforadio Network to tackle the home shopping market. This comprises affiliate stations who are offered direct response radio programmes in five and 30-minute lengths which feature products, services and personalities seen on successful TV "informercials." Viewers can then call a toll free number at the station to purchase the goods and the station is credited for every sale generated in this way. With radio "informercials" on the increase in the US and the general growth of home shopping throughout Europe it cannot be long before a similar system is running over here.

Otari's Remote Control For ProDisk Workstation

Otari has launched the CB-158 Remote Control designed to work with their ProDisk PD-464 digital audio multi-track workstation. The remote control features an easy-to-use editing screen called the GUIDE. The system saves the operator valuable time by placing all the important recording and editing functions on dedicated keys. The CB-158 can also control up to four external video or audio machines.

Frekvence 1 Gets Ranson Digital Audio Storage System

Europe Developpement/Paris has installed Ranson Audio's Cartouche Digital Audio Storage System for its new national station in the Czech Republic, Frekvence 1. The Cartouche system is controlled in all three studios by Cartkey DJ consoles and all studios have the ability to record and playback from the central 6 Gigabyte mirrored hard disks on a Novell network. Ranson's "Masterlog" live assist automation system is also installed to handle programming when the station is unattended and music scheduling is handled by Ranson's "Masterplay" system.

Studer Closes UK Operations

In a move that has shocked the industry, Studer Revox has effectively closed down its UK operations, merging it with the Studer division and making all but three of the staff redundant. The remaining workers were moved from their Thatcham base to the Studer HQ in Borehamwood. Rumours have been rife regarding poor performance by the Studer division of the UK operation and the change is seen by some in the industry as a cynical move to boost sales by taking over Revox UK's recently more successful operation.

Swedish Licences Leave Little Hope For Dance

SWEDEN

by John Wollin

What the recent licences awarded for greater Stockholm and other areas of Sweden this past week (see page 1) will bring to the development of dance music is still too early to determine. Not one of the 10 frequencies awarded in Stockholm were presented to a dance-oriented station, that we know, but the question becomes, will dance's limited strength in this market force those stations who did play an occasional "unknown" new dance release to stop entirely?

Dance music still has a rather small market in Sweden and in the end it will have to be the listener who choose the music. After all, no listeners, no advertisers. This means that today's listener will be of more interest than ever.

A lot of the stations which bought a frequency for £160,000 must sell ads for approximately £1,200,000 to break even. This means that stations will have to flirt a lot with the listener, who will in the end decide what these stations will play for music. This could very well force several of these stations to change the name of the station, the DJs, and, most likely, the type of music they play.

As frequencies were awarded to the highest bidder, several smaller stations were left out of the bidding, including dance-formatted MRS Radio, known as the "Black & Dance" station. MRS Radio sends on 150W in a suburb of Stockholm, not to be compared to the new frequencies that had 1kW and, the strongest, 3kW.

MRS Radio producer Magnus Nordin says that the prices for the frequencies were out of the question for his station. With prices going as high as $3 million (app. US$300,000), only radio stations with strong owners had the chance to survive while other stations' fate is already determined.

MRS concentrates on soul music but also offers special programmes such as house and hip hop shows. This is something they will develop more in the future. The latest listeners figures show that MRS has 14% of the listeners in the 9-29 age group in the suburbs of Stockholm. MRS is now hoping that they can send 24 hours using Radio City's frequency when they leave their old frequency for the new 105.9.

New Grooves

CJ BOLLAND

Camarque - R&S

PRODUCER: CJ Bolland/Cisco Ferreira

A driving trancey track. The speedy hi-hat, pulsating bass and steady beat create the force while the spaciousness is competently achieved with long-held, sometimes warped synth notes. #### AMADIN

Alrabaiye (Take Me Up) - Logic

PRODUCER: not listed

Reggae influenced and thoroughly danceable track from Sweden. Three sets of vocals make the record a rare treat: deep male reggae lines setting a mood, a powerful female vocalist pounding out the hook and a borderline tribal chant of the title Alrabaiye. Easily programmable with the Extended Mix. Fax: (+49) 69.8200 0888 (for Germany), (+44) 71.287 2988 (for the UK).

ULTRACYNIC

Got To Have It - Planet 4

Basically an accessible house track. With necessary elements of beat, piano and space-expanding samples, Ultracynic have released a commercially viable track. The Original Mix is the option for radio. Some heavier, punchier remixes would also be warmly welcomed. Fax: (+44) 61.443 2075.

JUDY CHEEKS

So In Love (The Real Deal) - Positiva/EMI

TRANSFORMER 2 AND ADAMSKI

Sleeping With An Angel - Save The Vinyl

PRODUCER: Adamski/Jeff Hypp

Sleeping With An Angel is one in the new "Save The Vinyl" series, a limited edition, vinyl only pressing (sure to become collector's items). Fax: (+49) 69.8200 0888.

PRESSURE DTROP

SINGLES

BELINDA CARLISLE

Big Scary Animal - Offside EHR
 PRODUCER: Ralph Schuckett
 Who's afraid of a beast called love? Most "frightening" is the rhythm to this rock hard pop song—like a helicopter circling around pretty Belinda's head—balanced by an acoustic guitar. EHR Radio Lodz/Poland producer/DJ Adam Kolacinski is a fervent supporter. "She's a regular on our charts and this sounds like a hit to me again. I particularly like that touch of 'Indian summer' to it."

EN VOGUE

Runaway Love - East West D/EHR/ACE
 PRODUCER: Thomas McElroy/Denzil Foster
 If you don't dig what they're saying, get the funk out! With one foot in history and the other one in the swingbeat era, these girls are moving closer to becoming the Pointer Sisters of our time.

GODDESS

Get Loud (Rascism Beat It) - B&B EHR/D
 PRODUCER: Bolland & Bolland
 The crucial words to the Dutch official theme song of the national anti-racism campaign are repeated so many times and on such a demanding rhythm that you can't miss the message.

M PEOPLE

Moving On Up - Deconstruction D/EHR
 PRODUCER: M People
 The '90s will be type-cast as the age of retro, both in rock and in dance. These people restore Funky Town as the capital of good old disco. A floor filler annex airplay hit is born!

NEW ORDER

World (The Price Of Love) - London D/A/EHR
 PRODUCER: Stephen Hague/New Order
 How alternative is this bunch, never failing to come up with radio worthy melodies. A smile may ruin their post modern image but would make them really big.

POSITIVE WAY

I'm Free - Virgin D/EHR
 PRODUCER: Alan Verdier/Renoar Hadri
 Free your mind like the lady jumping on the safe trampoline construction of this pop/dance song based on sequencers like bed springs and a solid rock guitar.

SHANICE

It's For You - Motown D/EHR
 PRODUCER: Micheal Angelo Saulsberry/
 Eric Kirkland

Taken from the soundtrack to Meteorman, this powerful soft soul gem—sorry for the contradiction in terminis—has the impact of Haley's Comet.

SLAMM

Virginia Plain - PWL D/EHR
 PRODUCER: Stock/Waterman
 Now that Bryan Ferry himself only concentrates on covers, this pop/dance quintet is entitled to rework Roxy Music's first hit of 20 years ago.

SMASHING PUMKINS

Today - Virgin/Hut A/R/EHR
 PRODUCER: Butch Vig/Billy Corgan
 Nirvanaddicts there's more to be found under the Seattle clouds. Call it grunge, call it what you will, but it's a manic pop thrill under a multitude of layers of concrete.

SOUL ASYLUM

Without A Trace - Columbia R/A/EHR
 PRODUCER: Michael Beinhorn
 Ain't it funny how a former semi-hardcore band now finally scores on radio with country rock-tinged songs like Runaway Train and this one. High time for a Green On Red revival?

LISA STANSFIELD

So Natural - Arista ACE/EHR/D
 PRODUCER: Ian Devaney
 What Marvin requested, Lisa delivers. She seduces the lyrics in an almost underplayed way, only to see the slow rhythm teasingly broken by a vintage Barry White bridge. EHR The Voice Odense/Denmark head of music Anders Hansen put the single in powerplay rotation rightaway. "It's a bit soft, and it shouldn't get any softer than this for us. But for Lisa there's always space with us."

ALBUMS

BLANCHART

Blow - EMI R/A/EHR
 PRODUCER: Dirk Blanchart
 Whereas fellow Belgian Arno has dropped his surname Hintjes, Blanchart abandoned his first name Dirk. "Less is more" one should think. Blanchart has simplified his songs with a more flagrant R&B factor, and now the road is open for a wider audience. Highly rhythmical pop songs like Money & Applause and L'Amour Ça Va can lift him from the alternative to the EHR side. With the magnificent neo-traditional hobo song Vertigo Blues he has got himself a green card for the US.

ALEX CHILTON

Clichés - New Rose ACE/A
 PRODUCER: Alex Chilton
 Even the best-concealed purple prose and platitudes are exposed mercilessly by this master of cynicism, whose fantastic butter-wouldn't-melt voice passes over words of tears and passion as if they were articles in an Argos catalogue. In an "Unplugged" fashion he tackles undisputed pop classics in a way some might remember from his brilliantly absent-minded rendition of Volare on the High Priest album from 1987. This time he outsings all nightclub crooners with Nina Simone's My Baby Just Cares For Me.

CHOCOLATE OVERDOSE

Sugar Baby - WEA A/D/EHR
 PRODUCER: Michael Ilbert
 The medics are astonished. You can take as much as you like from this alternative Norwegian band, but belly aches are out of the question. Old fashioned pop fanatics and more trendy dance addicts will go hand in hand past the chocolate detox clinic. Special guest, rapper Papa Dee gives Sugar Baby the candy coating daytime radio needs.

SHERYL CROW

Tuesday Night Music Club - A&M A/ACE/EHR
 PRODUCER: Bill Bottrell
 Here's is another artist on the A&M singer/songwriter roster, promoted via the Beyond Words campaign and CD sampler. As the crow flies she's on the same quality level as her label mate Suzanne Vega. A modern production sounds more natural to her, however. With that talking style The Nana Song is the Subterranean Homesick Blues for the '90s. The arrangement and the instrumentation included, All I Wanna Do is the unforeseen twin sister of Stealers Wheel's Stuck In The Middle With You. For album rockers an absolute no risk disc.

DE LA SOUL

Buhloone Mindstate - Tommy Boy D/A/EHR
 PRODUCER: De La Soul/Prince Paul
 Don't believe the "it might go up, but it won't go pop" message in the rapped introduction to the album. The hip(py) hoppers inflate a Zeppelin-size balloon, most likely to explode on the dance format. For EHR purposes there are the bassline-driven track En Focus and the PM Dawn-like single Breakadawn. One remark though, DLS has supplied less "alternative jingles" than usual.

NEIL DIAMOND

Up On The Roof - Columbia ACE/EHR
 PRODUCER: Peter Asher
 Subtitled Songs From The Brill Building, Diamond presents new recordings of 16 classic songs composed in the New York hit factory in the golden age of pop music. The self-written liner notes are very instructive for those unfamiliar with the great history of the songs and their writers and publishers. ACE stations can pick out any track they like. Looking for the originals might be a good idea.

MEATLOAF

Bat Out Of Hell II: Back Into Hell - Virgin R/EHR/ACE
 PRODUCER: Jim Steinman/Meatloaf
 Cut in 11 fat slices, the rock fraternity's appetite for a really good Meatloaf album is finally satisfied. Volume II of the 1977 hit album is as over the top and theatrical as it should be. Nearly each track is of epic proportions and together they make an impressive rock opera. Without using your scissors I'd Do Anything For Love (But I Won't Do That) is 12 minutes long! The vandal's speech before Wasted Youth stands diametral to John Hiatt's accusation of rock stars smashing a perfectly good guitar...

Carnivore - Minty Fresh (US)
 PRODUCER: Marshall Dawson/Jim Powers
 Pressed on blood red vinyl and recorded in two versions, Phair leaves the choice to you: the eat side or the meat side, both very Pixies/Breeders-moulded piranha rock. Floss your ears afterwards. Contact tel/fax: (+1) 312.665 0289.

THE PRODIGAL SONGS

Wine Of Life - Munich (CD) (Holland)
 PRODUCER: DiMaestro
 Not every 20 year old lacks guts and tenderness. Erwin Nijhoff is an exceptional talent, who cries his heart out on the country rocker You Still Think and the "Moody Blue" track Dark Days. # Rick Astley Astonishes With "Body & Soul" Album

Stardom at a young age can be a dangerous thing. Duran Duran and Depeche Mode belong to the happy few who have survived. Others are still struggling to live up to their old successes. Rick Astley, once a vital part of the Stock/Aitken & Waterman jukebox, now has a hard time of standing on his own feet. Over the past weeks "The Ones You Love" has been a fair sub-topper in M&M's EHR Top 40 and set the taste for his new RCA album "Body & Soul."

UNITED KINGDOM

by Robert Tilli

Mr. Astley sounds far more confident on the Gary Stevenson-co-produced album than on the rather forced 1991 predecessor Free, the title of which referred to his PWL past. This made him grow his hair, and as a result nobody recognised him anymore. From press darling in the UK teen mags he dropped to unmeasurable depths. BMG international marketing manager Chrissie Harwood challenges this slightly overcharged vision. "Well, with 1.5 million copies sold worldwide, it was far from a flop. Nonetheless, on the continent he has always fared much better than in the UK, where there has always been this cynicism in the media about him being PWL's puppet on a string. The international media are far more willing to listen to something new—a change in his music. They don't care who sings it; the song comes first."

With a razor sharp new haircut, looking like the "young Cliff," Astley now thumbs his nose at all detractors with quite an astonishing album, which has brought him together with some big names, such as the triumvirate Lisa Stansfield and her producers Ian

Devaney and Andy Morris. Of the two songs the four wrote together—Enough Love and Nature's Gift—the latter seems to be a not-to-be-missed future single candidate.

Harwood rebounds the understandable remark about the absence of the obvious duet with the queen of sensual soft soul. "Among the material written in collaboration, there wasn't a duet; it was as simple as that. For marketing purposes such songs can make a whole lot of a difference, but a duet should be a true duet and not a song turned into one just for the sake of it."

Rob Fisher assisted on a couple of tracks, like the current US and planned second pan-European single, the ballad Hopelessly. For the first single The Ones You Love Dave West is credited as co-writer. Having worked with all these hot shots in the business, the most surprising fact is that the two tracks Astley wrote on his own are by far the finest.

The soulful title track and the gospel-esque When You Love Someone are simply the best vehicles for his gritty voice.

That voice is Harwood's main marketing instrument. "In a set-up with a four-piece gospel choir and a keyboard player, we're sending him on the European road. Where he can, he does special live versions on radio or TV. In Italy a live recording at Rete 105/Milan was filmed by Video Music, which created its historic first own 'Unplugged.'

For the Italian market and maybe everywhere, we'll manufacture a single of that performance, which we'll shrink-wrap as a freebie with the album."

PIAS Aims For Conceptual Continuity Behind The Scabs

BELGIUM

by Robert Tilli

Only bands with strength to endure can become true rock institutions. The Scabs from Belgium and particularly their eloquent frontman Guy Swinnen have become media personalities, constantly appearing in a variety of magazines and TV shows. Their persistent touring makes them hard to forget between albums. Through the years the guitar-driven pop band has reached a status which renders campaigning almost unnecessary. Every album shoots to the top anyway. Despite competition from Nirvana and the red and blue albums by the Beatles, the new album Dog Days Are Over is solidly positioned at the number 1 slot.

For Play It Again Sam marketing coordinator Joe Robeyns it is a "Coca Cola"-like case of a product whose popularity speaks for itself. "Conceptual continuity is what matters here. What can you do after everything you have done for the last album? We couldn't repeat the album launch by train like last time. It's such an inflatory business."

For Robeyns the solution came rather out of the blue, with the Inbetweenies EP in the spring of this year. "We had four new tracks which were too hot for us to wait with. We rush released the EP in a limited 'fans only' edition of 5,000 copies, and it was sold out in no time. Winners of the competition linked with the release were invited for a day in the recording studio with the Scabs where they could get a preview of the album. We knew the band's greatest asset is its live act, and a private concert is something the fans would really go for. By the 900 replies on the bounce back cards we could measure the interest."

For the first time international potential is concrete too. British veteran producer Mike Vernon, with an impressive track record consisting of Fleetwood Mac, Roachford and Dr. Feelgood among others, is increasingly in demand this side of the North Sea. After Dutch band Bad To The Bone and Danish rocker Henning Stærk, the Scabs are the third continental act in a reasonably short time produced by him. Swinnen and co. sound more groovy than ever in their 15-year existence, but have left all their pop hooks intact (She's A Shark!).

Stylistically the country tune Four Aces is the only "dissonant" on a through and through strong set. Their swampy single She's Jiving made the Dutch tipparade. "It's not a hit, but those 1500 singles are not bad for a start," concludes Robeyns.

De Gregori Bridges The Gap

ITALY

by Robert Tilli

The hats, the beard, the acoustic guitar, the songs, the well-read impression; everything about Italian Francesco de Gregori points into the direction of the singer/songwriter genre. The maestro fits the profile like all those lonesome hobos in American history who followed Woody Guthrie on the train to nowhere, armed with only a guitar and a social message or just a simple love song. In a way they are not very different from the medieval troubadours who went from castle to castle, entertaining the people by singing their comments on society.

Apart from the title track, De Gregori's new album Il Bandito E Il Campione is a live recording, made on his last big concert tour through Italy. He has so much "MacDougal Street" credibility, that one would think he has hung out with the folkies in the fertile New York coffee house scene in the '60s. Other than many of his kind today, he has reached the teenagers like his predecessors in the golden age of folk. Admits Sony Music Italy international development manager Selma Howell, "That's indeed the main difference with other singer/songwriters. Whereas they only reach the 25+ demo, de Gregori also reaches the 15 year olds. His current number 1 record in the album chart is proof of that broad appeal. The fact that that can happen with a live album [over 200,000 copies sold so far] is even more astonishing."

A radio advertising spot ties in with the singer's across-the-board appeal. The commercial begins with the sound of squealing car tyres. In the car an adult and an adolescent start talking about the new album with great enthusiasm, while you can hear the music in the background. TV channel Video Music, popular among the juvenile age group, made the video to the "Il Bandito" single the video of the week. In-mid September Canale 5 broadcast a de Gregori concert, with a set list very similar to the album.

Like certain books can attract all ages, de Gregori's poetical, socially engaged lyrics bridge all generation gaps. Viva L'Italia and La Storia are his most political songs, but without the need to be very explicit, more of the "in between the lines" type. The sole studio track, the country-tinged title song, however, is written by de Gregori's older brother Luigi Grechi. It's a song about the friendship between two cyclists, a novelty in a country with a history of rivalling "campionissimi" like Coppi and Bartali in the '40s. Two more covers are included on the album,

Vasco Rossi's Vita Sperimentata and Enzo Jannacci's Sforisci Bel Fiori.

- Signed to/published by Serraglio.
- Management: Filippo Bruni.
- New album: Il Bandito E Il Campione released on August 31 in Italy and Switzerland. It is at number 1 in the Rai chart.

SHORT TAKES

- Iron Maiden manager Rod Smallwood is reported to have his eyes set on Wolfsbane's singer Blaze Bailey as the ideal replacement for Bruce Dickinson.
- This week's most original concept for an album is the OST Judgment Night. Rock bands and rap outfits share the mike in the same vein as the legendary Aerosmith/Run DMC single Walk This Way. Imagine combinations like Teenage Fanclub with De La Soul or Sonic Youth and Pearl Jam, both linked up with Cypress Hill?
- With his The Hits 1, 2 and The B-Sides compilation CDs, Prince is the first artist in the history of the Top 100 European Albums to have enjoyed three new entries in the same week.
- EMI has postponed the release of Kate Bush's The Red Shoes CD to November 1.

Dutch Collectiveness Creates Unique Marketplace

by Joost Driessen

With an increase in turnover from Dfl 475 million (app. US$245 million) in 1983 to around Dfl 1.2 billion in 1991, the Dutch market managed to almost triple its turnover in eight years. By the second half of '91 the first signs of stagnation set in and at the end of '92, both turnover and unit sales went down by 10%. This marked the first standstill to a spectacular growth of a market that secured itself a unique international position, both by virtue of a new soundcarrier (the CD), and, some say of equal importance, through a collective marketing approach.

The major exponent of this collectiveness is the annual "Platen 10 Daagse" event (10 Days Of Records), this year taking place from September 29-October 9.

The event was conceived 12 years ago in a period marked by a serious recession in the global marketplace. Inspired by the success of national collective promotion scheme the "Boekenweek" (Book Week), executives from the Dutch record and retail industries set together to come up with initiatives to halt the downward trend. From these meetings, the "Platen 10 Daagse" was born, an annual event sporting intensive advertising campaigns, emphasising the intrinsic value of soundcarriers.

Since 1982, the organisation of the Platen 10 Daagse was relegated to a separate foundation, the Stichting "Platen 10 Daagse". Headed by ex-EMI (Bovema) deputy MD Jan Gaasterland, the organisation was supported by the Dutch retail body NVGD, national IFPI group NVPI and copyright organisation BUMA/STEMRA.

A year later, the CD was introduced on the national market. The synergy between the resounding success of the CD and the efforts of the new foundation to mobilise music consumers led to an unprecedented growth of the Dutch soundcarrier market.

The unique approach by the Dutch industry has not gone unnoticed, considering the vivid interest from Finnish and Danish organisations of which representatives have already met with Gaasterland.

Through the years, the goals and tasks of the foundation were gradually enlarged, making a name change inevitable: CPG (Collectieve Promotie Geluidsdragers; the Collective Promotion of Soundcarriers). The primary goal of the foundation is to boost shop traffic. In addition, the foundation aims to regain the distinctive characteristics of the national retail infrastructure (one CD-shop on 11,000 inhabitants). The main activities to realise such goals are the collective marketing campaigns. Apart from the "Platen 10 Daagse", the biggest collective campaign, there is also the premium CD, a free compilation featuring the best new product from national/international artists, and available for anyone spending Dfl 49.50 on CDs. In 1992, an impressive 530,000 CDs were sold and the foundation expects to sell even more this year.

Realising the growing crossover potential of classical music, the CPG has implemented a separate campaign for the genre, the last two years concentrating on baroque music. A special sampler has been created, available for Dfl 10 and containing several vouchers.

Apart from these two main activities, the CPG has organised, for the first time, a spring campaign while the value of music is further accentuated on special "action moments" (see other article on this page), supported by a wide array of TV, radio and print advertising and point-of-sale material.

Positioning The CD As A Gift Article

by Machgiel Bakker

The Dutch record market takes a unique place in the world in the way it markets its soundcarriers. Since the beginning of the '80s, the record and retail industries combined a separate, non-profit organisation, the CPG, and central to all its activities is the theme of collectiveness.

A man who has advised the CPG for years is Ruud Lampers, director of The Lab, a Dutch marketing consultancy firm housed in the Amsterdam-based Marketing Performance Centre which accommodates many different marketing disciplines.

Although the CPG is not using Lampers' marketing expertise for the latest edition of the "Platen 10 Daagse", over the years, he has played an important role in positioning the CD.

According to Lampers, the marketing of music is in principle not different to that of other consumer goods. "It all comes down to influencing the behaviour of the consumer," he says. "You need to establish a change in the attitude of the consumer and then make sure what's on offer in the record shop matches that change."

These two steps, attitude change and increases accessibility of product, have formed the backbone of Lampers' long-time activities for the CPG.

To achieve all this, collectiveness is essential, believes Lampers. "In most other countries, record companies behave as competitors. However, the consumer does not perceive this; a label or a record company brand name is not relevant to him. And this was [traditionally] a frustration for [Dutch] record company marketers that they were not able to promote their identity. Once you realise that you should not act as competitors, you have to sit down together and create collective campaigns."

And this is precisely what took place since the mid '80s, when the Dutch record and retail industries managed to pull their resources together and created many innovative campaigns, financed by 1% of the combined annual turnover of the record and retail industries and by a yearly contribution of national copyright body BUMA/STEMRA.

The "Platen 10 Daagse" was created in 1981, at the height of the recession in the global record market, with the aim to boost the image of the soundcarrier and to differentiate it from other leisure products. Since 1989, Lampers got involved in the activities of the CPG and created the concept of "Het Nationale Muziek Kado" (the national music gift), a CD sampler obtained free when spending Dfl 49,50 on soundcarriers.

It positioned the CD as an enduring object and spurred the consumer to go beyond the more traditional gift articles. "The gift market is worth billions of dollars, and [initially] the CD only played a marginal role. To boost the share of the CD in that market, we created special "action moments": the CD as a gift for Christmas, Valentines Day, but also for passing exams, the birth of a baby, and so forth."

To further underline the gift qualities of the CD, special commercials were created using slogans like "De Mooiste Kado's Vind Je In De Platenzaak" (You'll Find The Best Gifts In The Record Shop).

All these collective activities—the "Platen 10 Daagse", the TV commercials, the free CD, the plethora of other media activities—all point to the one inescapable message, a CD is a life-lasting object: music is the best gift.

And all the efforts have not been fruitless: nowhere in the world are so many music carriers consumed as in Holland (Dfl 80 per person) and CDs account for 95% of total unit sales; also, following Japan, CD player penetration is the second highest in the world.

"The CD is now at the top of the wish list of the consumer," says Lampers. "However, now that the market is saturated and we have become a CD-driven market, we have to make sure buying behaviour will increase. How can we ensure constant shop traffic?"

Lampers feels the retailing outlet should now be profiled as "The Record Shop Ltd", as an all-entertainment shop, showing the depth and variety of product. "More than 20% of the record business is now handled by mail-order firms. That's a dangerous development, especially when they start opening up their own shops, competing directly with regular retail outlets."

Lampers sees the need for retail shops to get involved in direct marketing activities, but again collectiveness is the key word here. "An individual retailer can't afford direct marketing, but it is possible on a collective basis. Present a block of advertising, say every Friday evening, showing the latest new products. Every record company can present its own campaign with product that lacks the power to get advertised on TV. This will further boost the image of the record shop. In the spots you can refer to a special telephone number, a voice-response computer for customers wanting to find out more about specific product or which nearest retailer has the record in store."

"Everything comes down to collectiveness," concludes Lampers, "and the awareness that acting as colleagues instead of competitors can bring rewards for all parties concerned."

The CPG Organisation

The board of the CPG consists of three representatives of the retail industry, three from the record industry and one of BUMA/STEMRA, appointed by the NVGD and the NVPI. The CPG also has a steering committee consisting of four executives from the retail industry, four from the record industry, one from BUMA/STEMRA and CPG MD Jan Gaasterland. The financial policies of the CPG are evaluated by an independent commission, appointed by NVGD and NVPI. The director and driving force of the CPG bureau is Gaasterland (51) who's has been active in the Dutch record industry since 1968. Following a stint as assistant sales director at Polydor, he moved to EMI, becoming sales director, and later, deputy MD. In '82 he was asked to head the newly founded "Platen 10 Daagse" foundation, in '88 changed to CPG.

MARIAH AND TOMMY CELEBRATE IN AMSTERDAM

Sony Music Holland is the first branch in the world to have scored gold status (50,000 copies sold) with Mariah Carey's Music Box, quite an achievement for an album that's only been released on the national market for four weeks. To celebrate, the company threw a special party in Amsterdam attended by various national media and retail representatives. Apart from Carey, her manager Randy Hofman and several Sony Music executives, the gathering was also attended by Tommy Mottola, who has just been appointed president/COO of Sony Music Entertainment.

NRJ IN MUNICH?

M&M has heard whispers that French net NRJ is planning to buy into Munich rock station Radio Xanadu. The rumour is denied by NRJ MD Alain Weill, however, who says, "There are no definite negotiations taking place at the moment, though we are keen to step up our activities in Germany, as well as other European markets, and the Munich market interests us. For the moment we will continue to develop our stations in Berlin and Saxony."

LEAKED REPORT SUGGEST PRIVATISING BBC RADIO 1

What's a quick way of devastating the UK's commercial radio sector? Information leaked from research to be published by the Radio Authority later this year indicates that the answer might be to privatise state music station BBC Radio 1 FM. Selling ads on the station would have a catastrophic impact on the rest of the independent radio sector it suggests.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF CROWDED HOUSE

New Zealand/Aussie act Crowded House charmed and thrilled a small industry audience in Utrecht in the last week of September with a set of songs from new album Together Alone and hits from Woodface. Despite a long flight from Australia singer Neil Finn kicked on to his brother Tim's solo gig at Utrecht's Tivoli. He surprised Tim and the audience with back-up vocals on three numbers. Next night Crowded House performed at the Dutch music awards—Grand Gala du Disc—but created more controversy by being cut short by the show's irate and offended TV producer.

Chart Shares

Adding 5.6 points to its previous quarter ranking has earned the company a 25.7% album chart share, a 5.7% lead over EMI's 20% second-place ranking.

Sony follows in third place (16.7%), taking over from BMG, whose two strongest albums—Eros Ramazzotti's Tutte Storie (DDD) and U2's Zooropa (Island)—couldn't compensate for the eventual sales fall-off of the Bodyguard soundtrack, still the company's third best album.

PolyGram also maintains its top slot in the European Hot 100 Singles chart share survey with 20.3%, followed by EMI (19.1%) and BMG (16.3%).

Strongest performing (album) labels for PolyGram include Vertigo with Bon Jovi's Keep The Faith and Dire Straits' On The Night followed by Mega's Ace Of Base (Happy Nation).

U2's new album Zooropa (Island)—although entering the albums chart a month into the third quarter still performed strong enough to rank as PolyGram's fourth best album. Further cementing the company's success were continued steady chart performances by Sting's Ten Summoner's Tales (A&M), Jean Michel Jarre's Chronologie (Dreyfus/Polydor) and Tears For Fears' Elemental (Mercury).

EMI declined 1.5 points, but still performed strongly with Virgin, this quarter's second-best album label (6.1%), providing 30.5% of the company's chart share. Contributing albums were Janet Jackson's If, Die Toten Hosen's Kauf Mich!, Lenny Kravitz's Are You Gonna Go My Way and UB40's Promises And Lies on Virgin imprint DEP International (adding an extra 18.5%).

Parlophone added 20.5% of EMI's chart share with the Tina Turner soundtrack What's Love Got To Do With It and the George Michael/Queen EP.

Sony Music climbed from fifth ranking to third, riding on the success of US act Spin Doctors (Epic Associated) with Pocket Full Of Kryptonite and this quarter's strongest label Columbia (6.5%) with artists like Patricia Kaas, Billy Joel, Soul Asylum and the Last Action Hero soundtrack.

became one of the phenomenons of the year, selling over 1.2 million units in France (the album was still in the French album charts when they stopped being published in early September).

In addition, the band earned two Victoires de la Musique in February this year for best band and best song. These awards confirmed Polydor MD and Remark founder Marc Lumbroso as one of the sharpest and most successful talent spotters in France. Lumbroso had managed to sign the band—which was discovered busking in a subway—before any other record company could.

"Needless to say we were with a strong news content on all stations in the network.

The issue has been somewhat obscured, however, by official restrictions on ownership which stipulate that no company or person can own more than one station, although it may be a part-owner of several stations. The fact that companies can only officially bid for one frequency has opened up the race to a host of unknown names, whose connections with the larger concerns and networks are still unclear at presstime, only days after the auction. Networks like SRU and Radio Z have sidestepped the law by using names of company members or associated companies to bid for more frequencies.

National broadcast association RU MD Anders Leirup says there are no set percentages on media ownership; it varies according to how much a company owns in the first station.

The frequencies in the Bonnier and Kinnevik networks technically belong to the individual companies who placed the bids, and not to the networks themselves, he says, so they are operating legally.

Radio Z MD Johanna Ung-hanse, however, denies the company has bought four frequencies outside Stockholm. She claims, "Those are frequencies which were bought up by small companies. It is not Z Radio who has these frequencies, it's a different project, which we may decide to help later."

The haziness of Swedish law in this area means that even the national broadcasting association is unclear about who is behind all the different frequencies. At presstime the NU had no information to confirm that Radio Z had bought up several frequencies.

BBC Radio 1

During his presentation speech on September 27, Bannister underlined the increased focus on dance, soul, world music and rock, and the first daytime slot in 20 years for veteran tastemaker DJ John Peel. He dismissed all notions of a major internal shake-up, and denied the station's strategy will be to target young listeners only.

He described the station's new schedule, launched on October 25, as "evolutionary and not revolutionary." "On average, Radio 1 plays 1,200 tracks per week compared to the 500 a week played by an average commercial station. We will continue to offer the broadest range of music at a time when other stations are increasingly narrowing their range."

Bannister acknowledged that awaiting this album with some excitement," says full-service station RTL head of musical programming Monique Le Marcis, who had been one of the first to support the band by playing Le Chat. "It is not easy to follow up such a massive success. There are very few examples of bands who reach the diamond sales with their first album [over one million units]."

"The band recorded the album in the wake of their last tour, without a break," reports Sophie Bramly, head of international at Remark. "They recorded their album with the same team, the same producer, Steve Prestage, and in the same studio."

For Le Marcis, the band has perfectly passed the test with "a

Radio 1 FM cannot stay the same forever, commenting, "Tastes in music are changing, new competitors are coming on air, and the station must position itself to deal with these challenges. In shaping the new schedule we have faced some difficult decisions, which have not been taken lightly and considerations of age have not entered into them."

Radio 1 FM has a current weekly audience of 19 million, but faces growing competition from the commercial radio sector. There will be 150 independent stations operating by 1995.

The music industry appears to be adopting a "wait and see" approach before commenting on Bannister's new moves. But it may take some comfort in his commitment to the declining single format. "We're looking at exposing album tracks more often, but I also want to hear singles. I don't think the single is by any means dead yet," said Bannister.

He was also quick to dispel rumours that the station intends to increase its speech content at the expense of music. "There'll be no overall change in the balance of speech and music on Radio 1," he confirmed. "Steve Wright, who stays in his successful afternoon slot, has proved that talk on Radio 1 can be challenging, relevant and entertaining, and this is the kind of speech we'll aim to develop."

Paul Kavanagh, programme director at EHR long-waver Atlantic 252, applauds Radio 1's increased commitment to dance, soul and world music. "I think Radio 1 is making the right moves. It's extending choice, which is what Radio 1 is all about. There's no point in it doing the same thing as commercial radio operators, because this would not expand the market."

strong and homogenous album." Their new record, entitled Comme Un Gueuteur was released on September 11 in France and is following in the footsteps of the previous album. Initial shipment was 130,000 units and by the end of September, sales exceeded 150,000 units, according to Bramly.

The band made an in-store appearance at the Virgin Megastore in Paris and promotion includes prime-time TV shows such as "Taratata" or "Star 90," and radio programmes like RTL's "Studio 22" or France Inter's "Rien à Cirer."

Le Roi Des Escrocs, the first single, got a warm reception on full-service stations, climbing to number 5 in the Media Control listing, but was a little slower to catch up with FM stations. It has been added to EHR M40's playlist with a rotation of three times a day. Comments Christian Lefèvre, head of musical programming, "We have been very supportive since the beginning. Le Chat was played 600 times on M40, Le Lion Est Mort Ce Soir 700 and Cheyenne a little less with 100. Pow Wow is part of our musical colour and we intend to remain faithful to our original commitment."

Le Marcis agrees and believes that the public reacted directly to the freshness of Pow Wow's music. "When I first heard them, it was different, fresh, original, and the performance was outstanding. In this difficult period we are going through, I think that's what the people need to hear."

Mr. Big's 24-Carat Wild World

With once again 24 new adds for Wild World, Mr. Big not only enjoys the most new entries for the second week in a row, but also looks set to emulate the success of the 1992 smash To Be With You. Following impressive first showings in Scandinavia and promising rumblings in Italy and the GSA territories, the Benelux and the British Isles have now also joined in, leading to a rock-solid entry at 27 in this weeks chart.

With her entry at 20, Belinda Carlisle enjoys her first presence in the chart for nearly two years, following the 1991 hit single Do You Feel Like I Feel. So far, she appears to do best in Denmark, Sweden, the Czech Republic and the UK where she can boast a penetration of 75% or more.

Other new entries include Def Leppard, who's contribution to the Last Action Hero soundtrack Two Steps Behind enters at 29, and M People's follow-up to One Night In Heaven, a stylish '70s disco pastiche called Moving On Up which debuts at 30 thanks to loyal support in the UK and numerous adds (particularly in Sweden). Other new adds, Crowded House's Distant Sun and Window Of Hope by Oleta Adams, finally took off after a rather cautious start and entered at 34 and 37 respectively.

Just like the last couple of weeks, action is slow on top, with the exception of Go West by Pet Shop Boys, which moves up to number 6 with an impressive 20 new adds spread fairly evenly. That is likely to change rather dramatically, however, as there is an abundance of new records straining to get in. Close to the top 10 Paul Young and Soul Asylum are heavily battering its gates, while somewhat further down U2 with their single Lemon and Kate Bush's Rubberband Girl shouldn't be counted out either.

The chartbound section is also really loaded with potentially strong performers such as Depeche Mode, Chaka Demus & Pliers, Al Green, the eagerly awaited comeback singles by Meat Loaf and Beverly Craven and a host of follow-up singles by artists such as A-Ha, Gabrielle, Björk, Kenny Thomas, Rod Stewart, Paul McCartney, OMD, Culture Beat, Tears For Fears, Take That, Taylor Dayne and Go West.

On the alternative side, rockers like Nirvana and Red Hot Chili Peppers are posting healthy gains and could make the top 40 within a couple of weeks.

Another record worth watching is Boom! Shake The Room by US rap duo Jazzy Jeff & Fresh Prince which tops the British singles chart this week and received some encouraging support elsewhere.

The EHR Top 40 chart is based on a weighted-scoring system. Songs score points by achieving airplay at M&M's EHR reporting stations, that target 12-34 year-old listeners with contemporary music fulltime or during specific dayparts. Songs in "A" rotation airplay receive more points than those in "B" rotation or more limited airplay exposure. Stations are weighted by market size and by the number of hours per week committed to the format.

The EHR "chartbound" chart lists the total number of EHR reporting stations playing newer songs that do not yet have enough airplay points to rank among the EHR Top 40. The second number represents how many stations reported it to M&M for the first time. Songs which have received no new airplay for two consecutive weeks will be deleted from this chart, but may reappear with new airplay. In the case of a tie, songs are listed by new adds. Asterisks indicate new entries in Chartbound.
