NRJ looks for stake in U.K. radio

by Rémi Bouton

PARIS — Despite three failed attempts to scoop a radio licence in the U.K., French radio group NRJ is not considering giving up.

NRJ president Jean-Paul Baudecroux has revealed that he is, "In discussions with different British radio groups or radio stations to take a stake in their operations."

Baudecroux, speaking to Music & Media at the group's annual share-holders meeting, declined to be more specific in naming the groups he was in discussion with. No-one from EMAP Radio, GWR, Capital or CLT

U.K. would comment on any possible dealings at time of going to press.

Baudecroux says that his interest in becoming involved in the U.K. market has not been diminished by the station's failed bid to win the London licence last January. "The Brits are a bit protectionist, and they don't want foreign groups to make inroads into their market," comments Baudecroux.

"However," he adds, "the U.K. market remains one of our main goals. Even if they throw us out the door, we'll sneak in through the window!"

Establishing a U.K. base is seen as part of NRJ's European expansion plans, Baudecroux confirms. He notes that, although the group's operations in Sweden and Germany resulted in losses of FFr 60 million

($10.5 million) over the 1995/96 fiscal year, NRJ has no intention of altering continued on page 20

Avram charged with tax evasion

by Wolfgang Spahr

MUNICH — Germany's main concert promoter Marcel Avram, owner of Mama Concerts & Rau, was arrested on April 2 and detained, charged with suspected tax evasion, following three years of investigation by the country's tax authorities.

The news was confirmed at time of going to press by members of the Mama Concerts & Rau staff in Munich. According to the company, the charges primarily relate to business relations between Mama Concerts & Rau and foreign companies and artists.

In a press release, Mama Concerts & Rau comments, "Marcel Avram will continue to devote all that is in his power to proving that the charges are wrong and maintaining Mama Concerts & Rau as his life-long work."

The statement adds that Mama Concerts & Rau's business operations "will continue as usual, with all concerts to take place as scheduled." Mama is currently promoting Michael Jackson's German tour, due to start on May 31.

PolyGram jazzes up its Verve and Philips brands

by Emmanuel Legrand

London — PolyGram is continuing its reorganisation with the further consolidation of its jazz and classical activities.

The changes are part of a move designed to, "React to the changes in the market," according to PolyGram Classics & Jazz president Chris Roberts.

PolyGram will concentrate its worldwide jazz A&R and marketing activities into a single New York-based repertoire centre, Verve Records, which will be headed by Chuck Mitchell, senior vicepresident/general manager of Verve Records USA since 1994. Mitchell will assume world-wide A&R and responsibilities for PolyGram's jazz imprints Verve, Antilles and Verve Forecast.

A few months after restructuring its flagship Deutsche Grammophon operation in Germany and London/Decca in the U.K., PolyGram is continuing to redesign its classical operations.

Jive opens new German office

by Christian Lorenz

COLOGNE - Jive/Zomba Records opened a second German office in Cologne on April 1.

The move follows Jive's split with former distribution partner BMG Ariola in October 1996, when it switched to Rough Trade. Rough Trade Germany, which became an affiliate of Jive/Zomba with the acquisition of its U.K. parent company Pinnacle last year, will continue to be the base for Jive/Zomba's German operations.

"The Rough Trade Germany team does a tremendous job," says Jive/Zomba Europe general manager A&R Martin Dodd. "But we felt we wanted to add a very aggressive singles promotion side to it.

Jive/Zomba's Cologne office will initially handle radio and TV promotion as well as marketing, in co-operation with Rough Trade. The Cologne office is headed by Konrad von Löhneysen, who previously held the position of managing director at dance label Logic Records and at Eye Of The Storm, the production company of successful dance songwriters and producers Anzilotti and Münzing. Löhneysen reports to Rough Trade MD Kurt Thielen, who in turn reports directly to Jive/Zomba's European headquarters in the Netherlands.

The label, which has topped the album charts in 14 European countries with the Backstreet Boys' self-titled debut, plans to step up its local A&R activities over the next few months. "We will gradually develop our European offices into A&R centres," Dodd explains.

"In the case of Germany," he continues, "this will mean that both Rough Trade and Jive/Zomba Cologne can sign and develop artists independently." Jive is testing the waters with local signing Austrian dance act Punk Anderson, named after a character in eighties U.S. soap, Dallas. The act's first single,

Shave That Pussy, is scheduled for release on April 23. At present, Löhneysen leads a team of five, consisting of product manager Kerstin Zimmermann. A&R manager Philipp Jung, TV/radio promoter Sabine Jordan-Wills, [office manager Vicky Dellis] and Mirko Casper, who is responsible for compilations and special marketing.

Löhneysen comments in a statement that he aims, "to be amongst the Top Five labels in the Media Control singles chart analysis at the end of the year.'

Sharing a joke over a beer, veteran bass player Mo Foster (right) and legendary guitarist Jeff Beck got together at the Nomis Studio in Londonfor the launch of Foster's book Seventeen Watts. The book, published by London-based Sanctuary, chronicles the first 20 years of British rock guitar, with contributions from Hank Marvin, Eric Clapton, Mark Knopfler, Roger Glover, and Beck, among others.

Trade union protests at Decca cuts

A trade union is protesting to Decca over a loss of jobs at the label's London headquarters. Entertainment industry union BECTU says 29 posts were cut on March 8 and argues that staff have not received the notice to which they are entitled under U.K. employment law. Decca president Roger Lewis counters that only 16 people have been made redundant, with others being relocated within parent company PolyGram or taking early retirement. Lewis says the 16 redundancies will be implemented between now and the end of the year. The BECTU official responsible for the Decca staff, Sue Harris, says the union is eager to reach a settlement with the company but notes staff are prepared to begin formal action if necessary to obtain considerations they say they are due. Lewis states that Decca is implementing the job losses with sensitivity and has more than met its responsibilities under the current law.

IFPI reports growth in unit sales

During a press conference on March 28, IFPI Belgium director Marcel Heymans revealed that the industry improved unit sales last year but suf-fered a drop in revenues. Compared to 1995, IFPI members improved unit sales by 5.4 percent to a total of 26.5 million CDs, singles and music cassettes in 1996. Over the same period, the total value of shipments fell by 1.4 percent to Bfr 6.5 billion ($188 million).

New satellite dance station ready

Germany's youngest nationwide radio station is scheduled to go on air on April 30. Cologne-based Evosonic will initially broadcast via satellite Astra 1A. The station plans to go on cable during the course of the year. Evosonic starts with a 24 hour service featuring 90 percent music. The format is set to span the current spectrum of dance music from drum 'n' bass, techno and dub to house.

Veronica DJ joins TV station

Former Hitradio Veronica DJ Gijs Staverman is leaving the cable radio station to join music TV channel The Music Factory (TMF) as a presenter. The move was announced only days after the Dutch parliament decided to postpone the FM frequency action and indirectly relegated Veronica to cable slots until at least 1999. Staverman will take up his new job "within a few weeks," according to a TMF statement. At the same time, TMF presenter Erik de Zwart is suspending his TV career to focus on his day job as managing director of TMF's sister radio station, CHR formatted Radio 538.

IFPI looks to tackle new piracy threat

by Geoff Burpee & Jeff Clark-Meads

Hong Kong/London — The international record industry will begin to tackle a new and potentially huge piracy threat when its leaders meet later this month.

Top of the agenda at the bi-annual board meeting of the International Federation of the Phonographic Industry (IFPI) in Rome April 14-16 will be, according to its director general Nic Garnett, the excessive growth of new CD plants. The problem has become manifest in Southeast Asia where the IFPI says it has identified "a substantial increase" in pirate plants.

Garnett comments. "When you look at the growth in CD-manufacturing capacity, you see a disturbing gap emerging between total manufacturing capacity and the legitimate demand in any given area, even allowing for a certain margin caused by seasonal fluctuations."

IFPI Southeast Asia regional director J.C. Giouw states, "We have discovered that there is a substantial increase in pirate CD plants in Asia." He attributes this to China strengthening border controls against the smuggling of equipment into the country, therby obliging pirates to look for lines of lesser resistance.

One result is that Hong Kong has become an increasingly attractive place to set up production. "In Hong Kong, we have seen an increase from six to eleven CD plants in just a matter of a few months." Garnett adds, "It is well established in our experience that over-capacity in CD production provides scope for that excess capacity to be misused. Such over-supply in the market is always a cause for concern."

While Giouw says that IFPI has no evidence of the plants making pirated audio product, he shares Garnett's view that the proliferation of CD plants in such a small territory is worrying in itself.

"It's a big increase for the number of plants required here; these plants will probably claim that are there is an outburst of VCD demand, whether this is true or not, the capacity here is now huge.'

Lachie Rutherford, president of EMI Asia, says that the production capacity of Hong Kong is now, "equivalent to that of the U.K., in a city with a population of six million."

The problem is being seen not just in Hong Kong but also in nearby, Poradministered, tugese Macau. "We now believe there are six CD plants in Macau," says Giouw. "We noticed the first one in early December last year; we also noticed five plants being set up this month. In Malaysia there is also a big increase in the number of plants."

The recent explosion of CD production capacity in South East Asia sets a new tenor for IFPI's crusade against music piracy. "There's little point in pursuing retailers across the world when you can be much more effective for much less cost by targeting manufactures," argues Garnett.

A Materials Suppliers Agreement proposed by IFPI—whereby member labels would take into consideration whether a polymer company had been found to be supplying pirate operations when deciding if to trade with it—is awaiting approval by European Union and U.S. trade authorities. V2 looking for Victory on two fronts

U.K. singles-only label ready; domestic talent a Swedish priority

by Christian Lorenz

London — Victory V, the singles label of V2 U.K., will launch at the beginning of May with releases by U.K. rock four piece Velveteen and Swedish alternative pop act Eggstone.

The second wave of releases, scheduled for this summer, includes titles by psychedelic rockers Kennedy in July, the Happy Mondays-influenced Lounge (August) and the new ambassadors of electro-funk, A1-People, in September.

All Victory V releases are initially available on vinyl only; 7-inch with picture sleeves for rock oriented acts and 12-inch for dance projects. Each release is limited to an edition of 1,000 copies. "If the feedback from the marketplace suggests we could sell more of a certain title, we will consider re-issuing it as a CD single," says V2 A&R man Nick Siddall.

The label serves as a testing ground for new talent, according to Siddall. He explains that, "There are too many interesting projects for us at V2 to handle at the moment. Instead of turning them away empty-handed, Victory V gives us the opportunity to offer one-off single deals to acts we feel we should watch for a while to assess their full potential, without binding the artists or the label to any long-term commitments."

Through the vinyl format, the label, "Targets the tastemakers in the market," according to Siddall. "The vinyl single is still one of the best tools to create a buzz among the trend retailers, the media and the diehard music fans."

Once the buzz is loud enough, artists are likely to be asked to join Victory V's mother label, V2. However, all Victory-signed acts are free to shop around for an outside contract, as long as Victory has the first option.

by Keith Foster

STOCKHOLM — At the beginning of the year, Swedish music business magazine Topp 40 conducted its annual poll of the most important and interesting people and companies in the business.

V2 and the company's managing director Helen McLaughlin came sixth. That was before the company actually had a telephone line, let alone released any product.

MD McLaughlin, 26 years old and with experience from working for Sony Music in Sweden and the U.K., says the poll result came as something of a shock, but was also exciting.

Expectations in Sweden are running high, particularly as V2 has managed to assemble a team including a number of well-respected names like head of A&R Patrik Sventelius, who is credited with discovering top names such as Nordman, Atomic Swing and Sophie Zelmani for Sony Music Sweden.

V2 plans to develop a strong domestic roster in Sweden. First out is an act called Black Moses, described by McLaughlin as, "Real hip-hop." A rock signing will follow soon, according to V2 management.

Although Swedish music sales have made a small recovery from their 25 percent fall in 1996, gloom still pervades the industry. McLaughlin is nevertheless confident that V2 can carve out a niche for itself.

Whether the success of commercial radio in Sweden helps to whet the appetite of the country's consumers for new releases is, however, debatable, according to McLaughlin. She is, "Concerned about the radio situation. There are too many [chart oriented] hit format stations."

King of Castle flies back with help from BMG

LONDON — Castle Communications founder Terry Shand is returning to the music industry with a new, BMG-backed company, Eagle Rock Entertainment, writes Jeff Clark-Meads.

Shand left Castle at the end of last year over reported disagreements with Al Teller, head of the Alliance Entertainment group which bought Castle in 1994. Before the purchase, Castle was a strongly independent-minded company, with a 14-year history.

An Eagle Rock statement says that the new company will sign artists for new, full-priced recordings, that there will be "an aggressive catalogue acquisition and exploitation strategy with plans for mid-price and budget lines," and that, "Eagle will also create and produce television and video programmes of major music events for worldwide distribution."

BMG Entertainment U.K. and Ireland has taken a "significant minority stake in the venture" with Shand and his fellow directors holding the remaining equity. Those directors include his former Castle colleague Geoff Kempin, though Shand's long-standing associates Jon Beecher and Dougie Dudgeon, who also departed Castle last year, are not involved, Shand says. The latter pair are currently launching their own label, Snapper.

BMG will distribute Eagle Rock product in the U.K. while Shand says he is now putting together a network of independents to work through in the rest of the world. U.S. product will go through "a joint venture we're about to put into place."

Eagle Rock has set up a continental European office in Hamburg and, Shand says, will take premises in New York to coordinate American activities.

The liaison with BMG means that Eagle Rock's first source for catalogue material for compilation albums will be the major's archives. Further, says Shand, Eagle Rock is planning "seven to ten" new signings this year, followed by "ten to twelve" next year.

Love This caves in

by Jeff Clark-Meads and Paul Sexton

LONDON — Love This Records, a label which has spawned hit singles on both sides of the Atlantic, has suspended trading because its offices and studio have been—literally—undermined.

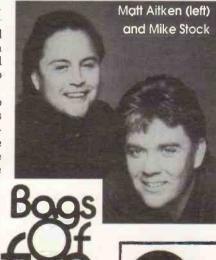

Subsidence caused by tunneling to accommodate London Underground's extended Jubilee Line means the studio is inoperable, says founder Mike Stock, and that means he cannot make records. "I haven't been able to produce anything since November," he claims.

Love This staff were told on March 27 that the label was being wound down, but Stock says that is a temporary measure until alternative premises can be found.

Stock, part of the Stock/Aitken/Waterman song-writing and production trio which dominated late '80s pop in the U.K. with a string of hits from such acts as Kylie Minogue and Jason Donovan, says he has begun action against London Underground, alongside beginning a search for new accommodation. He adds, "Staff have been laid off in preparation for the restructuring."

The most notable success for Love This in the U.K. market came with Nicki French's remake of Bonnie Tyler's 1983 hit, Total Eclipse Of The Heart. Released on the Love This imprint Bags Of Fun and produced in part by Stock and Matt Aitken, it initially peaked outside the top 50 late in 1994, but hit the top five during a three-month chart run early the following year.

Subsequent singles for Bags Of Fun and Love This by the vocalist, from Carlisle in the north-east of England, failed to repeat the achievement. Eclipse was licensed to Critique Records in the U.S., where it hit No.2

on Billboard's Hot 100.

More consistent singles success came with three top 30 entries in 1996 by AC-oriented singer John Alford, chief among them a double-sided top 10 hit with remakes of Blue Moon and Only You.

Also members of the Love This roster were two-girl, two-boy pop act Deuce, who came to the label after three top 15 U.K. hit singles on London in 1995, but managed only one minor top 30 showing on Love This in June 1996 with No Surrender.

Love This' most recent U.K. chart appearance came last Christmas via a version of Don't Cry For Me Argentina by novelty act the Mike Flowers Pops. Jeff Clark-Meads is international news editor of Billboard dialogue

Benoit Sillard, president of CLT-owned
French CHR network Fun Radio, has been re-elected president of the European Association of Radio Broadcasters
(AER) for a two year period of office.

Q: How many stations does AER represent today?

A: Through the national industry bodies from the main European countries, we represent some 4,500 commercial radio stations across Europe, with the notable exception of the Scandinavian countries, where commercial radio is still in its infancy. Two new countries have recently joined us—Greece, 18 months ago, and the Netherlands six month ago.

Q: What are today's priorities for the association?

A: The hottest issue is undoubtedly the question of the different rights broadcasters have to pay. If we are not vigilant enough, they will reach a level which will imperil the economical viability of radio stations in some countries. We have to find the right balance. We are also lobbying for the removal of all boundaries in Europe. Last but not least, the digital broadcasting issue is crucial to us.

Q: What have you achieved so far? A: From a practical point of view, we now have a three-strong permanent office in Brussels, headed by our general secretary Sergio Natucci. This structure allows us, logistically, to engage in efficient action. In terms of issues, we have been very active making our voice heard in the discussion on different European directives such as copyright, advertising limitations, concentration and pluralism.

AER was part of the WIPO hearings which led to the copyright agreement at the end of 1996. We are also active in the on-going issue of the relationship between the commercial and public broadcasting sectors, where we have scored some success—notably in the case of the recent Flemish legislation. In Greece, our involvement resulted in the vote for a law which obliges the government to allocate 10 percent of all its communications budgets for campaigns of general interest to radio.

Q: One of your main concerns over the past few years has been the question of broadcasting quotas. What is the situation now?

A: We are still against all national quotas. We believe quotas in fact act against the building of Europe. The truth is, the French situation has inspired similar quota regulations in Ireland; other countries—such as Italy or Spain-have also talked about it. We were close to the introduction of quotas in Portugal about a year ago and we acted in order to limit the damage. After we called upon the European Commission, it asked the French and the Irish government to provide explanations for the quota regulations. On three occasions, the Commission has already considered the explanations presented by France are insufficient. As for Ireland, the Commission has simply issued a warning to the government. We will continue to pursue the quota issue.

Our goal is to get the Commission to definitely ban all national broadcasting quotas, even if that means having European quotas instead. Q: What are the main challenges faced today by the European radio industry?

A: What is vital for us is to build European radio groups which can have a world-wide scope. The European directive "concentration and pluralism," currently being discussed with the Commission, must pave the way for strong and powerful European industry groups, while respecting pluralism.

That's why it is crucial to blow away all the boundaries that are currently hindering the development of such groups. If nothing happens, Europe will lose ground, to the benefit of U.S. groups.

One must not forget that communication is a sector which will create wealth and employment in the next century. It is an issue of major importance as much from an economical standpoint as for its social aspects.

Our second main challenge is, of course, how to enter the digital broadcasting era. We have set up a working group within the AER which deals with Digital Audio Broadcasting (DAB) and AER is also part of the executive committee of World DAB.

But, there is still a lot of technical and economical uncertainty about digital radio. That said, if it is obvious that terrestrial radio stations will continue to play an irreplaceable role in the future, thematic and specially targeted digital stations, which are popping up throughout the world, will play an increasingly important role in tomorrow's radio industry.

Flying inks new EMI distribution deal

by Mark Dezzani

MILAN — One of Italy's largest independent labels and distributors, Naples-based Flying Records has signed a new distribution deal with EMI Italy.

The pact is latest in a string of deals between the country's indie and major labels. Flying Records MD Flavio Rossi says the new involves distribution of their crossover artists, whilst specialist dance and alternative rock and rap acts will still be dis-distribution of their crossover artists, whilst specialist dance and alternative rock and rap acts will still be distributed through Flying Records own specialist network.

"The deal represents the recognition of the maturity and evolution of our local repertoire," claims Rossi. He explains, "Before we dealt exclusively with alternative acts, but now that several of our artists are moving into the mainstream, a major label such as EMI has the critical mass to better distribute and develop the careers of crossover artists selling albums above the 10,000 copy threshold."

Rossi adds that Flying Records will continue to distribute 12-inch vinyl singles and CD albums for their own specialist dance, rock and rap acts, and for other local and international independent labels. The first Flying Records acts to be distributed by EMI Music

Italy include the April release of cross-over rapper Flash and singer/songwriter Sergio Caputo. Amongst the international independent labels distributed by Flying Records in Italy is the US rap label Tommy Boy.

Earlier this month, the Milan based dance label Do It Yourself—currently scoring international success with dance act Gala—signed a local distribution deal with BMG. On January 1, another leading Italian indie Sugar Music (home to Andrea Bocelli) switched distribution from domestic distributor RTI Music to MCA/Universal Italy.

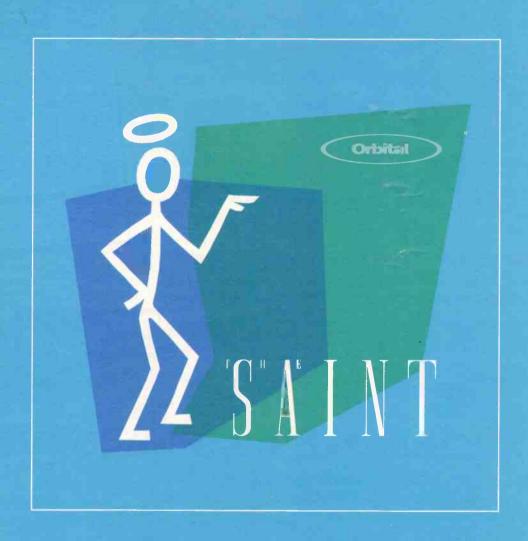

Austrian public CHR station Ö3 has entered the compilation business—with instant results. Only three weeks after the first ever Ö3 Greatest Hits CD hit the racks of Austria's retailers, the album went gold, with 25,000 units sold. The 19-track compilation was produced through a joint venture by EMI Austria, PolyGram and Warner Music Austria. The album targets buyers over 25 with a mixture of adult-oriented Top 40 hits. Celebrating the success are (left to right): EMI Austria marketing director Horst Unterholzner, PolyGram Austria president Christoph M. Wemcken, Warner Music Austria marketing director Manfred Wodara, Ö3 head of national marketing Sissy Mayerhoffer and Ö3 head of national radio Bogdan Roscic.

Awards attract record number of entries

by Mike McGeever

LONDON — A record number of entries from U.K. broadcasters have been submitted for this year's Sony Radio Awards, which will be held in London next month.

The awards are recognised as the most coveted radio honours in the U.K. More than 1,000 programmes and station projects are being considered by the 100-strong judging panel. Entries are submitted by commercial and BBC broadcasters.

Chairman of the Sony Radio

Awards committee,
John Whitney, commenting on the highest ever number of entries in the awards 15-year history, says, "Everyone recognises that winning a Sony is the ultimate radio prize. I'm delighted that the entries this year have beaten all records."

New categories have been added, and others revised over the past two

SONY RADIO AWARDS 1997 years after disgruntled commercial broadcasters had claimed the categories were biased in favour of the BBC, which in the past has regularly won the lion's share of the awards.

The categories now, "Reflect the range and diversity of both commercial and public sector broadcasting," according to Whitney. They range from best breakfast show (music and speech-based) and station of the year (local, regional and national) through to awards for sports, comedy and news broadcasting and service to the community.

Finalists in the 34 categories will be revealed on April 9 during a reception at London's Landmark Hotel. The Sony judges are selected from a cross section of the public, private broadcasters, journalists and industry representatives. The actual 1997 Sony Radio Awards ceremony will be held at the Grosvenor House Hotel in London on May 12.

Thirteen bid for Solent licence

LONDON — A wide variety of formats have been proposed to the U.K. Radio Authority for the regional commercial licence to serve the Solent area of south England, writes Mike McGeever.

A total of thirteen applications were lodged with the regulator by the deadline, which fell on March 25. The eight-year licence on offer is for a FM service to cover most parts of south Hampshire, east Dorset and the Isle of Wight, and the south-west corner of West Sussex. The service will have a potential audience of about 1.35 million adults aged 15-plus.

The following is the full list of applicants, including established radio players and newcomers to the industry, and their proposed formats: Crest 105 (Corporate Radio Ltd.), AC/easylistening; Heritage 105 (Heritage

Radio Ltd.), full-service; Hot 105 FM, dance/soul with youth oriented speech; (the Mentorn CHR/dance; Lighthouse Radio, easylistening and "polished" speech; Live 105 FM (Solent Broadcasting), adult alternative rock; Marina Radio (the Viscount Lifford), "high quality music appealing to a sophisticated audience" and speech; Melody FM (Melody FM/London), easy-listening; MTP 105.2 FM (Metropole Radio), dance; easy-listening; Radar 105 FM (Solent Radio Plc), adult rock; SFX 105.2 FM (Solent FM Ltd.), soft rock; Shoreline Radio, "popular melodic music" and speech; Solent Regional Radio, soft rock/AOR.

It will be up to the successful applicant to get the station up and running when the RA awards the licence in late summer or early autumn.

Laura Pausini continues to garner gold with the 1996 album Le Chose Che Vivi (CGD) on her 1997 world tour. Musikwoche Dieter Gorny, managing director of German music TV channel Viva doesn't pussyfoot around in an interview with German trade weekly Musikwoche. "Everything that MTV will do this year is nothing but a blow in the face of the pan-European idea, and a deliberate imitation of Viva," says Gorny. To illustrate his point that Viva's approach to the German market has paid off over the past few years, Gorny reveals some details of the station's financial performance to Musikwoche. "Since Viva's launch in 1993, we have reduced our losses like a clockwork," claims Gorny. "In 1994, we booked a loss of DM 17 million, in 1995 DM 5 million and in 1996 DM 2 million. This year, our TV operations are going to break even for the first time." He says he expects Viva to make a profit of DM 7-8 million on a turnover of DM 71 million and the Viva 2 channel to cut its losses to DM 6-8 million. "If we can continue this way," adds Gorny, "We will be able to get Viva 2 out of the red in 1998.

Music & Copyright

The music markets in the Czech and Slovakian Republics are surveyed in the new edition of the Financial Times fortnightly newsletter. Both markets are tipped as "the most mature in Central and Eastern Europe." In 1996 sales of pre-recorded music grew 21 percent (in local currency) in the Czech Republic to $86 million. The downside of this growth in the market was the decline of local repertoire's share from 60 percent in 1993 to less than 50 percent in 1996. Also in the same issue is a piece on the merger of the U.K.'s two copyright organisations, MCPS and PRS, which will form, according to M&C, "the third largest collection society in the world," behind Japan's JASRAC and Germany's GEMA, with forecasted revenues of $600 million in 1997.

Le Monde

The appointment of Patrice Gélinet as general manager of cultural station France Culture, part of public broadcasting group Radio France, on March 26, has been the subject of several stories in the French daily. Producer of a show on France Culture, Gélinet has the benefit of being an insider, but the station's other producers are apparently worried that he will implement reforms which will drastically change the "spirit" of France Culture, according to Le Monde. Gélinet is suspected of being willing to adopt a more "mainstream" approach for what Radio France president Michel Boyon once described as, "The most expensive and the least listened to," of all the group's stations.

Politiken

Danish daily newspaper Politiken records an increasing tendency among the country's labels to market MOR acts which are long past their prime in most other territories. In a special feature on the booming trade in yesterday's heroes, Politiken picks out John Denver's The Rocky Mountain Collection (BMG Denmark) as a recent example. According to the story, BMG Ariola marketing manager Henrik Hansen found it strange that John Denver was all but forgotton in the U.S. and was without a contract. He convinced the head of the company that a "best of Denver" compilation had potential in Denmark, where the large population of 22-50 year olds was largely ignored as a target market for pop music, in Hansen's view. Up to now, sales of 106,000 units would seem to have proved him right. Other companies have launched similar projects with artists such as Gheorghe Zamfir, Roger Whittaker, Bonnie Tyler, Neil Diamond and Nana Mouskouri. Politiken notes that most of the "veteran" CDs sell over the counter at petrol stations and supermarkets. Politiken (Denmark), March 25

The Times

Where the Beatles have gone, Jimi Hendrix is about to follow," warned the British daily on Easter weekend. Experience Hendrix, the business set up by Hendrix' father Al and sister Janie after they regained control of the artist estate 18 months ago, is preparing a massive revival of Jimi's oeuvre more than 25 years after his death. On April 28, MCA Records will put out what is described as Hendrix's "unfinished fifth album," titled First Rays Of The New Rising Sun, based on raw material taken from 60 hours of tapes. Simultaneously, the guitarist's four original studio albums will be remastered from the original tapes. Other projects include a movie, tentatively starring Larry Fishburn, and a TV programme. Flamenco's duel in the sun pair of Spanish "flamenco blues" albums are competing for attention in Spain, even though the artists concerned are kindred spirits.

While Raimundo Amador's En La Esquina De Las Vegas (MCA) depicts a gypsy flamenco musician's progress into the once-alien world of blues, Vargas Blues Band's Gipsy Boogie on Dro East West moves in the opposite direction, as Javier Vargas attempt to instil the passion of flamenco into blues guitar. Amador plays flamenco guitar on Vargas's record, and says that Vargas would have played on his had he been in the country when it was recorded.

The first single from Amador's album, Hoy No Estoy Pa Nadie, became the most played song on Spain's second most popular music network, the all-Spanish Cadena Dial, in the week March 8-14. "Raimundo is one of the most popular figures on the Spanish music scene," says Isabel Martínez de Velasco, international exploitation manager at MCA, "and we're sure this will be reflected in sales. His first album with us sold 50,000 units, and we expect to beat that easily.'

Amador was a pioneer of first flamenco rock then flamenco blues in the late 1970s with his brother Rafael in Pata Negra. What they did at the time was considered almost sacriligeous by the gypsy flamenco community, but that was before "new flamenco" and its varied fusions introduced young gypsies to electric music.

Vargas lived in Memphis and Los Angeles for three years in the 1970s and played with bands such as Canned Heat, developing his interest in blues guitar as well as the work of Amador ing some of the world's top tarists. Vargas's album, All Around Blues, was recorded in 1991, and eight more have Javier Vegas followed. breakthrough came when Carlos his idol, Jimi Hendrix.

Both Spaniards have giants of American music to thank for their international profile. BB King played on Amador's debut album under his own name, 1995's Gerundina; the blues legend tours Spain this June with Amador, and plans to include the gypsy on an album to be released next year featured three Vargas songs for his production, next movie Crossover. Other contributors to the Vargas album include Larry Graham (ex-Sly and the Family Stone), Chester Thompson Weather Report), Cuban singer David Montes, blues singers Larry McCray and Lonnie Brooks and Little Jimmy King (nephew of blues great Albert King). Amador guests on On The Corner Of Las Vegas, a reference to an insalubrious corner in a poor Seville neighborhood where he lived until quite recently. Another guest on this song is flamenco-pop star Rosario

"I'll be flamenco all my life," says Amador, "but blues means everything to me too. You wouldn't believe the reaction 20 years ago when I started listening to Hendrix and BB King-I was almost banished by the gypsy community I grew up with."

The charismatic Amador has played on 58 albums since 1975, although only two are under his name, and his next album assignments are with Kiko Veneno, Björk and BB King.

Vargas, meanwhile, says: "My ultimate direction is towards Hendrix, but for some time I wanted to incorporate the passion of flamenco into my feeling for blues. It's an explosive mixture, and rhythmically wide open. I've even got Cuban rhythms on the album, and never get tired of looking for interesting musical blends. My father is from the southern Andalucian port of Cádiz, one of the cradles of flamenco, so I've kind of got gypsy roots."

eggae, normally associated with sun, sand and seas, is moving into Europe's sun, snow and market courtesy of Jamaicans Richie Stephens and General Degree with their crossover single, Come Give Me Your Love.

The song has already been playlisted on Austria's Radio Wien and has been released in Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Spain on March 10 in time for the influx of Easter holidaymakers to the continent's coolest-and hottest-spots. Current airplay data shows it on the lists of three stations in Switzerland, Radio DRS, Pilatus and Radio Lac.

"It's a feelgood record, which will go down well in places where people are enjoying themselves," says RCA's international marketing manager Julian Wright, explaining why they've decided to get a head-start with this release in Europe and promote it to clubs as well as radio. "If it gets away I think it could be huge. you just have to look at the success of Inner and Chaka Circle Demus & Pliers.

The single is the debut release on the London-based Delirious label, set up last by former Cooltempo executive Ken Grunbaum with producer Danny D and licensed to RCA Records. "Our music is generally of black origin," says Grunbaum, from dance to R&B, hip-hop, house, rap and reggae. The main thrust is to make our own records, sign acts and develop artists but there will be certain one-off things that we fancy doing on a licensing basis. It's a creative label, I hope."

Singer Stephens, who already has a European pop hit under his belt as the vocalist on Soul II Soul's '92 hit Joy, and dee-jay Degree are big news at home in Jamaica, so their joint project is something of a coup for Delirious.

Says Grunbaum, "We're starting the project in Europe because we've had really enthusiastic reactions from the European company. Reggae, if it works, is an international music. It can sell everywhere, but records in this genre often take quite a while to break. We're seeing the single as an early summer release in the U.K., but we'd certainly like to create a buzz and get things going first in Europe and hopefully bounce it back into Britain."

Delirious' other international spring priority is Lift Up Your Hands, a gospel garage track by Xodus licensed from Jellybean's New York label and due for release shortly in Italy, Germany, France and the U.K.

TEXAS HALO

Mercury/PolyGram Producers: Texas/Mike Hedges International release date: April 7

The second single from the White On Blonde album is just as infectious as Say What You Want, with building strings and one of the the strongest hooks currently going. Texas have a knack of making songs which fit radio perfectly, and this one makes Sharleen Spiteri's voice virtually jump out of the speakers. As big a hit as the last one.

SHOLA AMA YOU MIGHT NEED SOMEBODY

WEA/Warner Music
Producers: D'Influence
International release date: April 7
There's little doubt that that Shola
Ama has a fantastic voice, and radio has already warmed to this familiar cover, which is reproduced almost note for note from the Randy Crawford original, a major hit back in 1981.
As well as a radio edit and three rather unpreposessing mixes, the single also includes a cut featuring a rap

PREFAB SPROUT
A PRISONER OF THE PAST

from Pras of the Fugees.

Columbia

Producer: Paddy McAloon European release date: April 21

The consumate craftmanship of Paddy McAloon's band requires their audience to be highly patient; this single introduces Andromeda Heights, their first new studio album for seven years, due next month. The upside is that fans wait in the certainty that the time is being spent honing superior, adult pop music. McAloon has apparently set aside several other ambitious projects to complete the album, named after Prefab's studio. The single is an audacious and affectionate retro celebration, its feelgood melody dressed with dramatic drums and synths in a production which kneels at the feet of Phil Spector while sounding quite contemporary.

2AM JAM BORN AND RAISED IN THE GHETTOEMI U.K.

Producers: 2AM Jam U.K. release date: March 31

DP

Laid back, poppy reggae with a serious twist. Born And Raised In The Ghetto features strong vocals and (not too politically-charged) lyrics welded to an un-nervingly deep bassline which recalls, more than anyone else, Massive Attack—and the chorus is a real grower. Outstanding mixes here include a trippy Bitter Creek mix and the bitter-sweet, almost ambient Tribute String reworking.

BRYAN ADAMS 18 TIL I DIE

A&M/PolyGram

Producers: Bryan Adams/Mutt Lange International release date: Toc

In this pean to puberty Adams jokes about "being 18 goin' on 55"—possibly, one suspects, without a stroke of irony. The Canadian rocker continues to deliver rock standards which radio will use into the next decade, and this one is an anthem which you can easily see Adams using as a closing number at any one of his epic gigs.

SACRED SPIRIT
SACRED SPIRIT II: CULTURE CLASH

Virgin

Producer: The Fearsome Brave International release date: April 14

The album lives up to its name with an eclectic mix of classical and blues styles fused with ambient textures and dub rhythms and the two-million selling success of 1994's Sacred Spirit should guarantee an uncharacteristically wide audience for this kind of music. Last time round, it was native American chants which inspired the Spirit, this time it's the musical roots of black American slaves. Elegant viola and cello solos soar out of the mix to be nudged aside by blues guitar and sparse vocals (many sampled from the archives). A vintage John Lee Hooker performance underpins one of the most beguiling and potentially radio-friendly tracks, Slow & Easy, while a tribute to fellow bluesmen is paid by Dee Hound Dog Jeffs on the harmonica-driven, guitar pickin' Legends. Two interludes titled To Be A Slave underline the theme of the album, which supports the charitable work of the Rhythm and Blues Foundation.

THE CHEMICAL BROTHERS
DIG YOUR OWN HOLE

Freestyle Dust/Virgin
Producers: The Chemical Brothers
International release date: April 7

The opening track and latest single Block Rockin' Beats sets the frenetic pace for this hotly-anticipated second album from Tom Rowlands and Ed Simons. Since their first outing, Exit Planet Dust, they have become internationally in-demand and the Setting Sun collaboration with Noel Gallagher of Oasis, which features here, gave them mainstream appeal yet kept their credibility intact. Stuffed full of samples but remarkably unfussy, the album speeds relentlessly through techno, rock and funk. The title track surges with asgood-as-real guitar licks and drums while the wails and explosions of Setting Sun give way to insistent cymbals and chopped-up, robotic vocals on It Doesn't Matter. Get Up On It Like This puts you in mind of James Brown at 78 (rpm that is) before real bass slows down the beat in the funky Lost In The K-hole giving way to Beth Orton's sweet vocals on the radio gem Where Do I Begin. A pacey rock instrumental, The Private Psychedelic Reel, ends it all leaving you shattered but satisfied.

EDWARD BALL CATHOLIC GUILT

Creation

Producer: Ian Shaw

European release date: May 5

The current wave of London-mania in Europe's fashion and lifestyle print titles could give this album a strong publicity boost. Ball is a Londoner and proved his songwriting skills working with Britpoppers the Boo Radleys on their Wake Up album. A former member of seminal power pop heroes The Times, Ball sketches an emotional map of England's swinging capital, from The Mill Hill Self Hate Club over Docklands Blues to The Hampstead Therapist. Like most of the material on the album, that trilogy combines self-reflective lyrics with a pop sensitivity weened on white R&B, Brian Wilson and David Bowie in his early, 'mod,' days. At his commercial best here, Ball delivers such potential hits as (the single) Love Is Blue and Controversial Girlfriend.

JC HOPKINS ATHENS BY NIGHT

Shell Records (U.S.)
Producer: JC Hopkins
Hopkins was discovered in 1988 by Peter Case, who offered to produce the debut album of his band Flophouse, attracted by their intelligent, poppy underground rock. Flophouse went on to make a name for them-selves as indie darlings, particularly in Japan, and drawing approbation from Dutch act Bettie Serveert. Subsequently, however, back home in San Francisco, Hopkins got sidetracked by rock'n'roll, playing his gorgeous, jazzy solo work in local lounges and bars. On this set, he brings a rock sense of urgency to multi-lay-ered—but not over-the-top—arrangements. The violins, muted trumpet and lap steel may evoke the laid-back brilliance of Van Dyke Park, but Hopkins is definitely not laid-back: there's always a sweet'n'sour tension lurking in the back-ground. Licensing/distribution is available outside the U.S. Shell Records is particularly interested in the Benelux countries, GSA, the U.K. and Japan

BB DOC RAGE DE RAISON

Boucherie (France)

Producer: Didier Le Marchand

Although this political rock quartet opens its third album with a furious grind-core track, Furya, there's a little more to them. This side project of singer Piero Sapu-also a member of the cult band Garçons Bouchers-has already caused quite a stir on the French underground scene. Rage 4.45 combines floaty synths and Indian percussion, before exploding guitars take over. Le Code Venal is a mid-tempo ballad with melodious hooks brooding vocals. Soleil Vert even has a new wave basis, slightly reminiscent of the Comsat Angels. Among flirtations with Celtic druid culture, rants at AIDS and racism and an up-tempo, jazzy swing tribute to a bar called Dellys, BB Doc stick to their (guitar) guns. Licensing is available outside France. Distribution is available outside France, Belgium and Switzerland. LUCKY LONELY

Rayvano (Holland) Producer: Herbie Chrichlow

Producer Chrichlow has written lyrics for the Backstreet Boys, 3T and Robyn, but despite the Lolita pose on the CDcover, 18 year-old vocal talent Lucky is certainly no Eurodance cannon-fodder. The voice of the former gospel choir member has enough soul to warm this melancholic track, whose radio edit contains nothing more than deep house beats, excellent harmonies and a sad melody. The Seven 50 Mix is more uptempo, but could do equally well at radio with its faster beats, jazzy organ and quirky vocal arrangements which evoke the unique sound of Apollo 440. VARIOUS VIVA DIABLO BLANCO-FREESTYLE BEATS VOLUME ONE Indochina (U.K.)

Producers: various

This hot compilation features the U.K.'s electronic aristocracy: Apollo 440, The Aloof, Morcheeba and 808 State, alongside relatively new players like Grantby and The Egg. The alternate between highly beats danceable funky stuff (808 State, Fatboy Slim) and a harder, chemical style (Philadelphia Bluntz). Grantby surprises with a spacey easy listening track (Timber), while the Egg dish out funky break beats, which would have sounded great coming from a live drummer. Purists might say leave the funky drumming to the Meters, but Akarna and Omar Santana make up for it with their out-there trance beats. Licensing/distribution is available for various territories

MINING MORE BEATS

As the world welcomes Underworld, Prodigy, Chemical Brothers et al with open arms, Genaside II look to be shaping-up as one of the next wave of "rock-ist" dance acts. Latest single, Narra Mine (a title originally put out by the act some five years ago when they were known simply as Genaside) on ffrr has the necessary ingredients-a tough breakbeat and a memorable hook- which should ensure enough airplay to provide crossover action.

A NICE WARM SUMMER HIT?

The hunt for the this year's summer hit is most definitely on. One contender is Nice Warm by M-System from Rome-based Extreme, a sub-label of Energy Records. The idea of a basic garage groove with minimal, eurobeat-style instrumentation probably sounds awful but in fact works, largely thanks to the silly vocal sample and an unfussy production. Could easily follow labelmates I.C.T. onto European dancefloors and charts. Also worth checking-on yet another Energy sub-label, D-Vision-is We Can Make It by Funky Elements. House is crossed with disco on the Dr. Tribe '70s Remix, making for a classic slice of uplifting hardbag.

TECHNO PIONEER DOES IT AGAIN For someone who has had such a profound influence on the direction of dance music, Carl Craig has managed to keep a low profile outside specialist circles. Universally lauded for his ability to make experimentation pleasant on the ears, on his latest album, More Songs About Food And Revolutionary Art (Planet E/SSR), Craig has opted for a filmic approach with soft, minimalist beats and oldschool keyboard sounds, creating moody instrumental pieces that owe as much to the mid '80s as to 1997. MSAFARA bears some comparisons to Orbital's last album, the John Barry-esque In Sides, but Craig is a native of Detroit and a bona fide techno pioneer, which shows on tracks here from the cheesy harpsichord of Goodbye World to the experimental techno of Suspiria and the 'almost pop' approach of Frustration.

MIXMASTER IN THE ETHER

Underground dance may not get much access to mainstream radio, but it's not all doom and gloom for DJs on the air. John Acquaviva puts out an increasingly popular syndicated monthly show from his studio in Ontario, and Mixmaster Morris—one of the U.K's best known deckmeisters—has been haunting the airwaves for some years now.

Morris, who records for Ninja Tune, is a frequent guest/remixer on London's KISS 100 FM. He says: "Coldcut host a show on Saturday night and me and another Ninja do mixes for that." The show, called Solid Steel, goes out between 1-3 a.m. on Sunday morning, and is now the longest running show on KISS. It is also their most syndicated programme, with Paris' Radio Nova and KISS FM in Berlin (not affiliated to the London KISS) airing the show once per month, while X-FM in Lisbon takes Solid Steel every week.

London's GLR has also been giving more space to underground sounds, hiring Ross Allen (ex-Dorado) and Charlie Gillett who both have weekly shows featuring phuture phunk, house, jungle and trip-hop.

Morris has done shows for U.S. college stations like KUCI in Irvine and Radio Free Berkeley as well as the legendary Radio 100 in Amsterdam. Under the alias Irresistible Force, he is busy recording a new album for Ninja Tune and will be appearing across Europe this summer with various Ninja artists as part of the "Stealth" package tour, which has sprung from the London club night at Ronnie Scott's. The club has had to move into Europe, partly because, say its organisers, it became too popular in London.

Says the Mixmaster: "When NME voted it 'best club' it got ridiculous, so we decided to take the concept abroad. As it stands the plan is to do a three month residency in Milan, followed by Tokyo and New York. Then there'll be an all-new club in London this autumn!"

All new releases, news, biographies, photographs and tour schedules for consideration for inclusion in the Dance Grooves column should be sent directly to: the Music Editor, Music & Media, 23 Ridgmount Street, London, WC1E 7AH, Fax: (+44) 171 2314.

Breakin' & Entering

A weekly Eurochart analysis by Bob Macdonald

Losing the battle but winning the war is the theme that dominates this week's Eurochart Hot 100 Singles.

None of the current top three songs find themselves at number 1 in any of the 16 national singles charts tracked by Music & Media (see Top National Sellers, page 15). Yet the broad pan-European appeal of No Doubt (Trauma/Interscope), R. Kelly (Jive) and Sash! (Byte Blue) earn them enough chart points to keep all the national chart-toppers at bay.

The former's Don't Speak, in its eighth consecutive week atop the Eurochart, holds at number 2 in three countries and is still a top 10 hit in nine others. Kelly continues to prove he can fly up the Hot 100 Singles, consolidating last week's ten-place climb to number 6 with a four-notch advance to 2 this week, but his Space Jam hit I Believe I Can Fly remains a long way behind the un-broken wings of his fellow Americans, No Doubt. Encore Une Fois is the highest ranked Europe-originated single one more time, but slips from 2 to 3 on the Eurochart.

This triumvirate of hits benefits from a current lack of consensus at the top of Europe's individual singles charts, a situation which sees no less than 14 singles achieve a national number 1 position this week. Only Tic Tac Toe's Warum? (RCA) is on top in more than one country, and that has the GSA region sewn upit's the best-seller in Germany, Switzerland and Austria, fuelling a four-place climb to number 7 on the Eurochart, but has yet to chart in any other territory.

There's greater agreement on the European Top 100 Albums list, where U2's Pop (Island) logs its fourth straight week at the summit, fuelled by its number 1 placings in three nations and its top 10 status in every other European country. Close behind are the ubiquitous Spice Girls, whose are also charting everywhere and have a top 10 album in all but four markets. Spice (Virgin) rebounds to number 2 on the European survey, and reaches a new peak of number 3 in the U.S.A.

Had the Eurochart existed in 1980, one of its longest running chart-toppers of that year would surely have been Ottawan's party anthem D.I.S.C.O. That song is the highest new entry on this week's Hot 100 Singles at number 40, courtesy of a rap adaptation by N-Trance (All Around The World), the group who made Bee Gees covers fashionable with their Stayin' Alive revamp. If other acts follow suit this time, a boy band version of Hands Up (Give Me Your Heart) may not be far away.

Two other remakes make strong debuts this week-Brian Kennedy bows at 48 with Put The Message In The Box (RCA), originally recorded by World Party in 1990, and Madonna arrives at 61 with Another Suitcase In Another Hall (Warner Brothers), exactly 20 years after Barbara Dickson's original success with the Evita song. In addition, JT Playaz' newcomer at 64, Just Playin' (Pukka), samples the Chic-created rhythm track of Sister Sledge's disco classic He's The Greatest Dancer.

PolyGram jazzed up

Music Group, and will be relocated to central Amsterdam from suburban Baarn. The new president of this entity will be Costa Pilavachi, current vice-president A&R of Philips Classics. He will succeed Hans Kinzl, who is due to retire at the end of April 1997.

Philips Music Group will eventually comprise four labels—Philips Classics, Point Music, Gimell and Imaginary Road—which will, "Increasingly develop their own distinct creative focus while feeding into a more centralised and creative marketing and international distribution system," according to a PolyGram statement.

Both Mitchell and Pilavachi will report to London-based Roberts. The whole idea behind the changes, says Roberts, is to, "Develop the brands," create a more efficient A&R and marketing environment and build, "A flexible and diverse repertoire mix."

Commenting on the decision to centralise all of PolyGram's jazz activities through one single umbrella, Roberts says it is, "A consolidation of the resources allocated to the artists in order to build a sophisticated international structure."

Roberts says the creation of this structure is meant to further expand Verve's, position "as the world-wide leader both artistically and commercially," in the jazz market.

In Europe, PolyGram France developed its own jazz repertoire, under the aegis of Jean-Philippe Allard. "There is no change to that," says Roberts. "France will continue to develop local acts in addition to international acts based in France such as Dee Dee Bridgewater or John McLaughlin."

Roberts believes that developing local artists allows the company to "build the local business of jazz." He adds, "The structure we set up will help identify local artists that can become global and break them on a local and global basis. The new structure creates the proper environment to do that."

For Roberts, there is no doubt that jazz is not only about catalogue sales but also developing new artists, and finding ways to reach the public—albeit not necessarily through traditional ways.

"Jazz as an influence is creeping into so much music," he says. "You can trace the influence of jazz in ambient music or in more urban genres. The influence of jazz in pop music is extremely prevalent." Roberts singles out London-based radio station Jazz FM as an important vehicle in bringing jazz music to a wider audience. "This station has been very successful in London, turning a new public on to jazz," he suggests.

"Artists such as Courtney Pine or Joshua Redman are reaching a new public," adds Roberts. "The good news is that we can now use pop media to develop those acts. It's a question of diversity and creativity in marketing."

Charity benefits from Capital Radio Awards

by Mike McGeever

LONDON – The needy children of London were the real winners when the 95.8 Capital FM Awards on March 26 kicked off a weekend of fundraising for its Help A London Child charity.

The event, broadcast live by the station, was held at London's Royal Lancaster Hotel. The awards lunch and the ensuing weekend of on-air donations (phoned-in to Capital FM and its Capital Gold AM sister) raised more than £1 million ($1.6 million), the largest-ever amount in the charity's 17-year history.

A large chunk of the total came when Capital FM listeners pledged £35,000 to hear the first airplay of the track Waltz Away Dreaming, recorded by George Michael and Toby Burke. Michael donated three times the amount donated by listeners requesting the track. Burke is the first artist signed to Michael's new label Aegean. According to Michael, the track will be released on that label, but further details were not available at time of going to press.

The awards event was attended by executives from record companies, artists, major sports figures, and the advertising industry.

The winners, voted for by Capital FM listeners and readers of London's Evening Standard newspaper, were: album, George Michael-Older/Virgin; male vocalist, George Michael; male group, Oasis; female group, Spice Girls; international act, Bryan Adams; best single, Jamiroquai -Virtual Insanity/Sony S2; female vocalist, Sharleen Spiteri of Texas; best newcomer, Kula Shaker; best dance song, Robert Miles-One & One/DBX, best concert, Oasis at Knebworth; special Help A London Child award, Spice Girls; outstanding contribution to music, Wet Wet Wet.

EMI executives and various dignitaries, including Russia's ambassador to the U.K., turned out at a reception in London restaurant/club Six Hamilton Place to mark the launch of EMI Classics' album set, Rostropovich—The Russian Years. Pictured cutting a commemorative violinshaped cake are (from left): Richard Lyttleton, president EMI Classics; Rostropovich; Jim Fifield, president and CEO EMI Music, and Jean François Cecillon, president and CEO, EMI Records, U.K. and Ireland.

its European development strategy.

According to NRJ general manager Alain Weill, the stations in Sweden and Germany will still lose money in 1997 but are likely to break even in 1998 and become profitable in 1999.

"The group consolidated its international positions in 1996," says Baudecroux. "The contribution of our European subsidiaries to our consolidated turnover grew by 32 percent during the 1995/96 fiscal year."

Baudecroux has confirmed his intention of bidding for a frequency in Austria when a tender takes place, in the wake of new communications law (see Music & Media, issue 14).

The group will also try to consolidate business in its home market, France, where recent growth in audience pushed CHR network NRJ to the second position, behind full-service station RTL. NRJ vice-president Max Guazzini says he expects this position to be strengthened with "excellent ratings" for the January-March period and has targeted a 12 percent audience market share by the end of 1997, up from a current 10.8 percent.

According to Weill, who is in charge of NRJ sales house NRJ Régies, advertising revenues were up 19.3 percent in 1995/96 over the previous year. Weill considers there is room for growth in radio advertising expenditures in France, as radio only attracts 7 percent of the total ad investments.

Weill says that he plans to, "Go to the United States and try to convince companies like Coca-Cola or Procter & Gamble to reallocate part of their advertising expenditures in Europe onto the radio sector."

Overall, for the 1996/97 fiscal year, the group's revenues jumped 20 per cent to FFr 854 million ($158.1 million), with profits of FFr 93 million ($17.2 million).

CMA appoints U.K. director

LONDON — The Nashville-based Country Music Association (CMA) has acknowledged the growing market potential for country music in the U.K. and Ireland with the creation of a director post for the two territories.

The move comes four years after CMA decided to abolish a pan-European director post and to install a network of representatives for the key European territories.

Some six months after former U.K./Ireland representative Tony Rounce left the CMA's London office, the organization has appointed former Columbia marketing director David Bower as U.K./Ireland director, effective immediately. Bower, who has been involved in the music industry for more than 15 years, reports directly to CMA senior director international and business development Jeff Green in Nashville.

CMA executive director Ed Benson comments in a statement, "We have watched country music grow significantly [...], especially in the U.K. and Ireland. To increase momentum, it was imperative that CMA recruit a top [record company] executive who can focus on opportunities in these key markets. David's appointment testifies our commitment to the U.K. and Ireland [...] at the highest level."

CMA has also announced the promotion of London-based European operations co-ordinator Bobbi Boyce to European operations manager, reporting to Green.

One of the first priorities on Boyce's agenda is to intensify CMA's market development efforts in Germany, Austria and Switzerland. Green comments, "We plan to make announcements regarding new CMA representation for G/S/A soon, as these countries also are priorities in CMA's strategic global mandate."

For the record

Sony Music Holland would like to point out that recently appointed co-ordinator business affairs Mirjam Buyteweg is not Belgian—as stated in Music & Media, March 15—but Dutch.

VC HIT THE RIGHT NOTE

Virgin's dance imprint VC Recordings is trumpeting the signing of D*Note, the London outfit whose blurring of dope culture, soul and dance beats has scored them attention. Mainman Matt Winn is a classically-trained flautist, and his two albums for the Dorado label, Babel and Criminal Justice, have earned him respect, especially for the latter album's track The Garden Of Earthly Delights. Vocalist on that seminal track is PY Anderson, sister of Jhelisa, whose Language Electric album on Dorado was released March 10 to Europe-wide critical acclaim, as was the second single from it, Sell Me Away. Both Jhelisa and PY are cousins of betterknown Carleen of Brand New Heavies fame. An album by D*Note is slated for May, preceded by a single later this month. In the meantime VC has just released (on March 30) a seven-track D*Note EP from the soundtrack of the as-yet-unseen short film Coming Down. Focusing on a latenight, post-clubbing chill-out, the film is directed and co-written by Winn, for whom, according to VC, "the visual arts are just as important as the aural soundscape." The music may be out now, but those intrigued enough by it to want to sample the accompanying visuals will have to be patient; the movie won't appear on screen until early next year.

NEW MEDIA KOMMS HOME

With music increasingly being perceived as one component of a diverse entertainment business, it's becoming vital that music execs are clued up about what shape the new media world will take. One of the more pleasant-sounding ways of doing this is Komm '97, organized by the successful PopKomm team. Held in Dusseldorf, on the Rhine, from September 11-14 the centre of the event will be on a boat. The MultiMediaMile, a series of tented exhibitions along the riverbank, will offer a full art and music programme, say organisers. For more info, e-mail komm@musikkomm.de.

Epic's publicity stunt to promote the airplay debut of Michael Jackson's new single, Blood On The Dancefloor, in Germany led public CHR station Bayerischer Rundfunk (BR) to call the burglars into the studio. Epic sent out the Jackson CD in a locked safe, and in a document leaked to OTR, threatened stations with a penalty of DM 50,000 ($30,000) if they should crack the safe and play the track before 7am on April 2, when the label would deliver the code to access the safe. Unfortunately, it seems that the stations who received the document would have had to sign it and return it to Epic to make the agreement legally binding. BR didn't and called for a welding crew instead. The result was that BR played the track at 6:45 am on April 2 while other stations apparently had to wait as long as 9:40 am-ie, long after prime time, before they got the key code.

Former Edel Scandinavia (Denmark) GM David Rowley has inked a 50/50 joint venture deal with Danish indie Scandinavian Records. The new company, called Pacific West, operates Scandinavian Records' offices from Copenhagen. Rowley, who left Edel at the end of last year, plans to focus on Scandinavian-based, album-oriented acts but will also work on special single projects and license material from abroad. Acts currently signed to Pacific West include club act Cellblock X and Swedish soul singer Sophia Rosen...And staying with the Swedish soul scene, the Stockholm office of Jive/Zomba just signed its first local act, a singer named Jessica. OTR understands that Jessica is already being likened to Toni Braxton by a certain European A&R man, who gave us the Backstreet Boys Expect French AC network Radio Nostalgie to announce the launch of a music TV channel, called Nostalgie-La Télé within the next few days. La Télé is based on the concept of the station's format with a dominance of golden oldies and French language music. Sources tell OTR that the channel is set to be part of two different satellite-delivered packages, CanalSatellite and ABSat. The announcement comes a couple of month after CHR network Fun Radio launched its own TV channel.

OTR hears that PopKomm has declared the exhibition grounds at Germany's largest music trade fair off-limits for artist showcases. To fight over-high noise levels, the organisation has decided to set up a separate stage for live performances, well away from the hustle and bustle of the fair but close to the entrance area.

In the U.K., BBC Radio 1 suffered a loss of 500,000 listeners in February according to leaked RAJAR monthly figures. The exodus listeners-some, appears, have gone to BBC Radio 2 FM—is being blamed on the sudden exit of breakfast show presenter Chris Evans in January. However, broadcasters tend to take a guarded approach the monthly figures, because the sampling is smaller than those taken during quarterly surveys.

Who owns the rights to the NRJ brand? Normally, one would think the company which bears the name. But it ain't necessarily so... As the smart businessman he is, NRJ founder Jean-Paul Baudecroux has retained the right to the brand and is licensing the rights to use the name NRJ to... NRJ. The licensing contract has just been renewed between NRJ and Baudecroux for the next ten years. OTR understands that Baudecroux, president of NRJ, will sign for a check worth FF 8.6 million ($1.5 million) for the year 1997 to... Baudecroux, owner of the NRJ brand.
