L.A. ANTI-DRUG CONCERT:
FINEST MOMENTS

JEFFREY OSBORNE

Time after time, research has confirmed the overwhelming influence of black radio personalities on their audiences.

Further confirmation of this fact was visible at the Greek Theater in Los Angeles over the past Labor Day weekend, when thousands of young people turned out to hear their favorite deejays (L.A. radio across the board was represented), as well as a host of top sports figures, TV, film and recording stars tell them emphatically to say NO to drugs.

Spearheaded by Jeffrey Osborne, whose contributions were acknowledged by Mayor Tom Bradley with a proclamation of "Jeffrey Osborne Day," the free anti-drug fair and concert was the concluding event in an annual L.A. summer youth program.

As a parent and music industry colleague, I was moved and impressed by the powerful anti-drug messages delivered to the young crowd by recording industry luminaries such as Dionne Warwick, Al Jarreau, Patti LaBelle, George Duke, Janet Jackson, Apollonia and 9.9. The event delivered a totally positive message that left no doubt in the young attendees' minds that there is no relationship between success and drugs. In this respect, it was consistent with the growing industry-wide trend of stars to publicly debunk the myth which has long associated the glamour of the entertainment world with drug use. Witness the courageous stands taken recently by Natalie Cole and Rick James, among others.

And let the record show that black radio stood tall in generating a substantial part of the huge turnout for a wholesome summer afternoon which combined top entertainment and superstar role models with life-affirming anti-drug messages.

A commitment of this type is very healthy both for the community and black radio because it reinforces to the community that the stations are not only talking to, but listening to and responding to its concerns.

With all of its influence, however, black radio still suffers from the paralyzing effects of its financial problems. Its historic lack of access to adequate capital resources effectively minimizes the ability of black radio to address the problems of the community: the laundry list of social ills affecting its young listeners which is headed, unquestionably, by drugs.

Air personalities would certainly be more motivated to help on a more consistent basis if their take-home pay was commensurate with their certainly be more motivated to help on a more consistent basis if their take-home pay was commensurate with their influence and responsibility to the community. Who should bear more of this financial burden? The advertiser who is taking much more out of the black community than he is putting in.

BRE salutes Coors for its exemplary stand on drug and alcohol abuse among the youth in our society whose lives and futures stand in the balance.

And for its sponsorship of an event which, in our opinion, stands out as one of the industry's finest moments.

NEW MUSIC SEMINAR
ADDS
ISSUE-ORIENTED
SPEAKERS AND PANELS

Signalling the growing mood of concern in the industry with regard to the issues of record censorship and South African apartheid, the New Music Seminar has announced the addition of keynote speakers and panels focusing on these topics at its upcoming convention.

Dick Griffey

Frank Zappa and Dick Griffey have been named as keynote speakers. Zappa, a legendary rock figure and longtime defender of free expression, will discuss "Censorship and Record Rating," an issue that is once again of great concern to the record industry with its far-reaching implications for the continued existence of a marketplace and "artistically free climate" for the development of new music. Griffey will take on the apartheid problem from the perspective of the "International Music Industry," focusing on its relationship to South Africa and ways in which the music industry can involve itself effectively in the fight against apartheid.

While the party may not be over at the New Music Seminar - or own BRE Convention, for that matter - the festivities must legitimately pause for the real-world concerns that affect our personal and professional futures. We applaud the organizers of the Seminar for their foresight.

A TIMELY SLICE OF BLACK RADIO HISTORY

At a time when we tend to look at black radio history from the limited perspective of a decade or two, a group in Berkeley, CA is staging a dramatic reading of "If We Told 'Em, You Sold 'Em," a play with records about the first black disc jockey.

So the press release informs us, the first black disc jockey was Jack L. Cooper, who pioneered "black appeal radio" in Chicago from 1929 to 1963, after a 20-year career as an athlete, showman and columnist.

Cooper first appeared on the air, we're told, in Washington, DC in 1925. By 1947, he was grossing $185,000 (eat your hearts out!) as the disc jockey became the major force in entertainment. In addition to writing and producing several comedy and variety programs, Cooper helped pioneer the disc jockey format and was the first to air news and sports coverage for black audiences.

While we may not be able to attend the presentation when it premieres in late September, we are pleased to know one of our own is being so honored. And grateful to know on whose shoulders so many of us humbly stand.

JACKSON AND JONES
EXIT SOLAR

Los Angeles: According to reports confirmed at press time, two key Solar staffers - Chuck Jackson, Vice President, A&R and Regina Jones, Vice President, Public Relations - exited the Dick Griffey-owned company on Friday, September 30.

Their departures, coupled with that earlier of former Solar President Ray Harris, fueled industry-wide speculation as to the company's future direction.

Jackson, who could not be reached for comment, is rumored to be returning to the creative fold of Natalie Cole. During Cole's initial recording success in the mid-70s and beyond, he co-wrote and produced hits with her late ex-husband, Marvin Yancey. Jackson is also said to have been contacted for possible production work by Aretha Franklin.

In a telephone interview with BRE, Jones described her departure as amiable. "Dick always kept his word with me," she stated, "and obviously God now has something else in store for me." A publisher before her PR stint with Solar, Jones says she plans simply to "relax for a while" and consider a broader range of career options.

MOTOWN WINS FILM
MARVIN GAYE'S STORY

Los Angeles: Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Billy G. Mills recently awarded Motown Records film and TV rights to the life story of the late Marvin Gaye.

Motown received the rights during an unusual action during court proceedings, where the label bid more than $100,000 to capture the rights.

For $46,000, Motown won the film and TV rights for 18 months, with $5,000 to extend the option six months, $50,000 (minus a possible $2,500 payment to Gaye's mother) to exercise the rights and 2.5% of the profits on any completed picture.

Additionally, Motown agreed to pay Gaye's estate $15,000 or stage a premiere of the film. It also agreed to pay half of all the above fees if a sequel or remake is ever done.

Motown previously negotiated with the Gaye estate, for which Marvin Gaye III and Joseph C. Karol serve as executors, initially agreeing to pay $20,000 for an 18-month option, $5,000 for a six month extension and about $40,000 for exercising the rights. About 2.5 % of the net profits were also part of the deal.

What brought this matter to auction in court was the claim by three of the late Gaye's creditors that he owned them more than $3.6 million at the time of his death in April, 1984.

The creditors petitioned the court to see if a higher purchase price could be reached and, at the time, Mills approved Motown's proposed deal pending a public auction.

But Aug. 29, the date of the auction, only one other bidder entered the fray. New York attorney Richard V. Gaulin, representing Manhattan clothing retailer Richard Pollack and his partner, actor John Phillips, joined the bidding unsuccessfully.

Gaulin and Motown general counsel Elliot Chaum entered more than 10 bids during the proceedings, but Motown maintained an edge because of its track record in film and TV and because it owned the rights to several of Gaye's most popular songs.

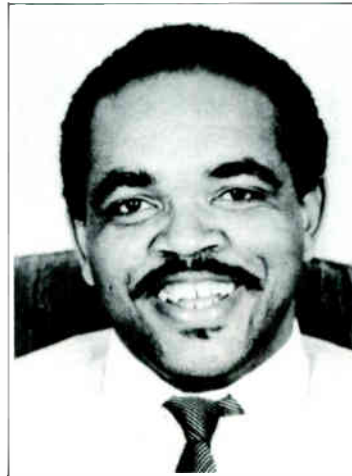

It has also been reported that Motown has been negotiating with NBC TV to turn the story of Gaye into a TV movie.

It was not known at press time if a biography by author David Ritz would be used as the basis for a script or if Motown had commissioned the script story from other sources.

Motown, however, does have the film and TV rights to Ritz's book, DIVIDED SOUL.

LYLE BAKER
NAMED VP/JOE JACKSON PRODUCTIONS

Hollywood: Joe Jackson, President of Hollywood-based Joe Jackson Productions, recently announced the appointment of music industry veteran Lyle Baker to the position of Executive Vice President.

In this capacity, Baker will be in charge of the entire operation of Joe Jackson Management and Productions, including overseeing the organization of the music production for Private I's LaToya Jackson and A&M's Janet Jackson, as well as other acts on the company's roster. In addition, Baker will deal directly with record companies on negotiations of record contracts, tour arrangements and various film projects.

Baker's music industry experience includes five years as road manager for The Jacksons and Natalie Cole. He has also managed such multi-platinum acts as LTD, Rose Royce, and Rodney Franklin - Baker was also the road manager for such rock acts as Rod Stewart and Queen.

Recently, Lyle Baker negotiated and closed a two-picture package deal with Cannon Films and has another in the works. Baker is currently orchestrating a tour of Africa and China, sponsored by Air Afrique, that will include Jermaine, LaToya and Janet Jackson, all under the auspices of Joe Jackson Productions. Baker foresees the links with China and Africa as an ongoing relationship which will allow a rich cross-pollination of musical cultures.

REV. JAMES CLEVELAND
LAUNCHES KING
JAMES RECORDS

New York: After 26 years with Savoy Records, the Reverend James Cleveland has started his own record label - King James Records. The company has been in existence for six months.

Upon the death of the original owner, Savoy was bought by CBS Records followed by a stint with Arista Records. Savoy prospered under both labels, but the present owners (Prelude) leave much to be desired in the way of business practices, according to Reverend Cleveland. He began to look for another record deal after being unsuccessful in coming to terms with Prelude. He signed with the Detroit-based Sound of Gospel label which will distribute King James Records.

"Sound of Gospel gave me the freedom to produce the kind of music I want to. I'd like to build a first class record company, similar to what the major labels have done for secular music. I feel that I have enough support around the country to sustain a label," says Reverend Cleveland.

Initial releases include James Cleveland and the Southern Community Choir, James Cleveland and the Los Angeles Gospel Messengers, followed by product from the James Cleveland Singers and Billy Preston. The Mass Choir LP, recorded at the gospel workshop, will be out by year's end.

Reverend Cleveland plans to record new gospel artists with the revenues earned from these releases. "There's a lot of dissatis-

WHY IS THIS GUY SMILING?

His name is Billy Bass and he represents Leon Sylvers' new Conceited/Motown record label. But that alone is not the reason for his 'conceited' smile. The label's first release features a smashing new artist who, according to Billy, is the "black Madonna." Look to the right and stay tuned.

MANHATTAN PICKS UP "PIECES OF A DREAM"

The smiles on these faces were generated by the recent signing of Philadelphia-based Pieces Of A Dream to Manhattan Records. Bruce Lundvall, label president, announces a fall 1985 release for the group's debut Manhattan album. Pictured (l-r) are: James Lloyd/keyboardist; Lundvall; Cedric Napoleon/bass; and Curtis Harmon/drums.

HE'S GOT LUSHUS DAIM...AND WOW

Well, here she is, folks: Ms. Lushus Daim herself. (As for the origin of her name, she says she's been "lushus" for as long as she can remember). Her first single claims she's "More Than You Can Handle," from the Conceited/Motown album of the same name. Again we advise, stay tuned.

GRP jazz artists Dave Grusin and Lee Ritenour dropped by Tower Records in San Diego for an in-store autograph appearance in association with KIFM. COLUMBIA RECORDS' ANDRE' CYMONE DOES 'THE DANCE ELECTRIC' ON VIDEO TO SUPPORT RELEASE OF HIS 'AC'LP

They shoot horses, so why not shoot a video of Andre Cymone's debut video, "The Electric Dance," from his current Columbia Records LP?

Inspired by the initial single from this album, the video was directed by music-clip vet Bill Parker of Bill Parker Prods. It was choreographed by Doug Rivera and Chea Collette.

"The Dance Electric," in this video, is the name of a club where you either dance for love or die.

During the video, Cymone's alter-ego proclaims, "Better love each other, it's almost time to go."

"Your Place Or Mine" is the latest video by PolyGram Records act The Bar Kays.

The single was culled from the band's "Banging The Wall" LP.

It is also the latest video from Ardent Prods., who hired Marius Penczner to create and direct the clip.

More than 300 extras, members of the band, and lead singer Larry Dodson are cavorting in the video, which was shot primarily at the historic New Daisy Theatre on Beale St. in the Bar Kays hometown of Memphis.

The video is about Dodson, while singing at a club, spotting a beautiful young girl (played by Piper Howse) and enchanting her with his vocal charms.

JERRY RUSHIN, VP/GM, WEDR-FM, MIAMI: STICKING TO TRADITION AND COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

Jerry Rushin and the station he works at are both rarities.

Rushin, currently vice president and general manager at the station, started his career there in 1973 and has been there ever since.

And since he's been at the station, WEDR-FM has maintained a strong R&B music identity. It has also sustained a reputation for strong public service.

But since he began programming the station in 1975, just prior to the format exodus by many in the market to disco, the station has risen from the depths of the ratings ladder to a consistent top five entry.

Rushin says that neither feat, his tenure and the station's rise, was accomplished without hard work.

"It's a stingy business," he said recently. "It's not known for charity. To survive in this business, you've got to earn it."

Rushin said that he entered the business after a stint in the service from '66 to '68 and then working as a furniture salesman in the Ft. Lauderdale area.

"I got real bored with that work," Rushin recalls. "I wanted some real excitement. My brother had mentioned his interest in broadcasting, so I decided to pursue it myself."

He began doing a Sunday shift playing gospel music in 1973 before being bumped to a Saturday shift doing R&B.

Six months later, Rushin was given a full time spot at the station.

In 1975, he was named program director at the station.

It was the burgeoning peak of the disco era. "Stations were taking on logos like Studio 54 and what not," Rushin said.

"But I took up the name 'Soulstar' and worked to keep the black identity of the station," Rushin explained.

He added, "there didn't seem to be many black singers out at the time."

"Everything was Donna Summer, Giorgio Moroder and Dance Inferno, or some nonsense."

So what Rushin did was program R&B hits from '72-'76 at a rate of about 50% of total programming.

"Our ratings stayed strong because we dared to be different; all the other stations were in the disco business so we stood out."

Rushin ceased those chores in 1980 to become vice president and general manager, his current role.

He said that the two biggest things he's accomplished thus far have been to heighten the public affairs programming at the station and solidify the station's R&B identity.

"When I came on as v.p./g.m.," Rushin explained, "it was to try to realize a strong commitment to the black community."

"It was during the time of the riots here in 1980, so we started political education programming to make the black community aware of the issues."

He continued: "We still maintain our traditional music mix; I don't know what urban contemporary is really."

Rushin said, "We look for acts that still sing songs. All stations are playing some type of black music, but only a certain type so as not to offend their white listeners."

"I have a good understanding with the owners (the Dee Rivers Group), and they gave me the responsibility to run the station without them looking over my shoulder," he said.

"We make money here," Rushin said, "but we do it the right way."

GOSPEL WORKSHOP DRAWS THOUSANDS TO NEW YORK

by April Eugene

The James Cleveland Gospel Workshop of America held their 18th annual gathering in New York August 10-16. New York brought a "magical" feeling to this celebration of gospel music attended by 5000 church and choir members. The participants attended 41 classes encompassing every phase of the gospel music industry: VOICE, ORGAN, COPYRIGHTING, EXTENSIVE BIBLE STUDY and MASS CHOIR - among others. The week's activities could be called the 'Gospel Music University.'

The workshop developed out of a need recognized by James Cleveland 18 years ago. "There was no place for gospel singers and musicians to get the kind of instruction and training offered to the secular musicians in the colleges and universities of America," says Reverend Cleveland. A faculty staff was formed from the top gospel performers who get together once a year to share their knowledge with others. Walter Hawkins, Edwin Hawkins, Tramaine Hawkins, Laura Lee, Helen J.H. Stephens, Darryl Coley and Billy Preston were among this year's attendees.

Keith Pringle, winner of the 1985 Excellence Award for Male Soloist, is a product of the workshop. "My career started with this convention. I never considered myself a singer, but through the workshops I have

TONY ANDERSON: A REAL "ARISTA-CRAT"

By Hedi Butler Wilmore

As Whitney Houston ended a smashing SRO performance at the Roxy Theatre in Los Angeles last spring, the moment took on added significance for one member of the ecstatic Arista contingent in attendance -- headed by the company's legendary President, Clive Davis.

A special glow of pride could indeed be detected by a knowing observer on the face of Tony Anderson, Vice President of R&B Promotion at Arista since February. Anderson was duly celebrating the champagne launching of his career at the label with Whitney's success.

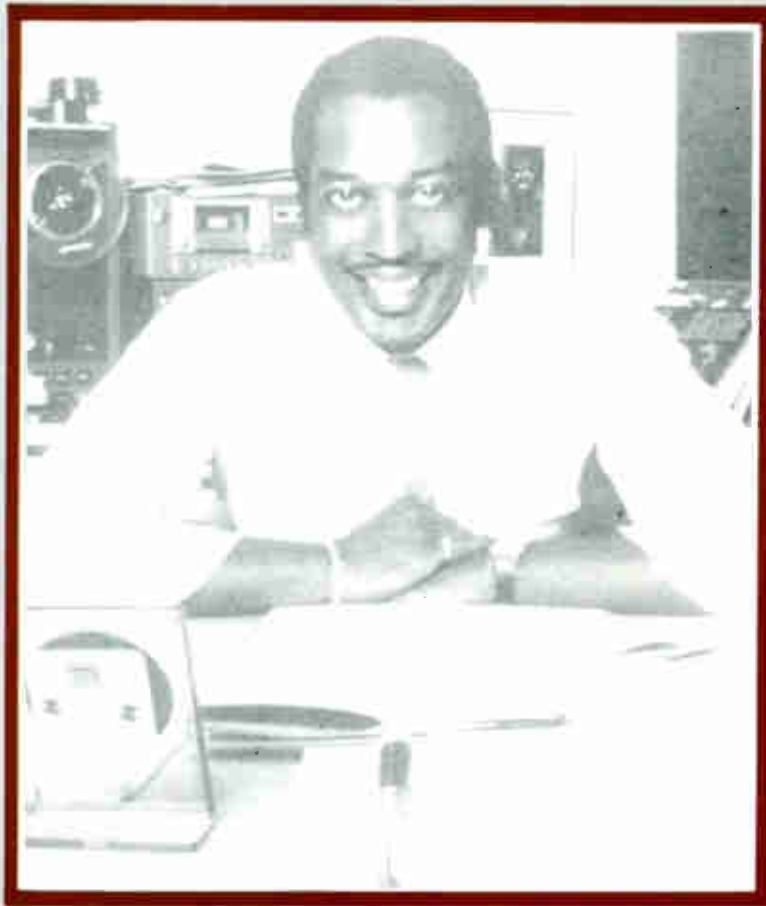

"Whitney Houston and I started at Arista almost simultaneously," he recalls. "Her debut album was released the week I came on board and we were very lucky because the first single ("You Give Good Love") and the LP (self-titled Whitney Houston) both became number one records."

By his own admission, Tony Anderson has led what many would consider a 'charmed life' in the highly competitive record industry. But unlike those whom fate selects randomly for good fortune, Anderson was fully prepared to accept the challenges of each new opportunity in a career path which led from a recording studio in suburban Washington, DC, to the executive suite at Arista Records in New York City.

Self-effacing humor warms the conversation as Tony Anderson attempts to reconstruct his professional chronology. "I'm just no good with dates," he chuckles. But he does vividly remember pivotal events such as his first visits to the Track Recording Studio in Silver Spring, MD. Accompanying Bill Quinn, a friend who was involved in putting together a record there, Anderson was exposed to the craft which would replace photography as his initial career focus.

"I watched the whole process of laying down tracks and mixing and I was totally intrigued by it," he related. "I had always loved music and was pretty good in the technical area, so the studio thing was a natural for me. After I kept coming back on my own just to observe and absorb what I could, I was offered formal training and later hired as an assistant recording engineer."

In retrospect, Tony Anderson's experience at Track was fortuitous in more ways than he could ever have imagined at the time. Working on sessions at the studio not only gave him a highly useful background in record production, but a special empathy for artists as well. "I learned firsthand what it takes to be an artist," he observed. "You lay your heart and soul out to the public where everybody gets a shot at you. Opening yourself up like that is tough for anybody."

While the engineering stint sensitized Tony Anderson to the artists he would ultimately work with in the record industry, Jonas Cash -- the man who held the key to the industry's door for him -- was in an office right down the hall. A well known and widely respected independent record promoter in the Washington area, Cash and the young studio engineer soon became fast friends.

"Jonas and I were buddies long before I understood exactly what he did," Anderson recalls. "I was impressed with the fact that he seemed to know everybody in the music business and was able to give me some of the hottest albums before they hit the streets, not to mention the gold albums lining his walls -- but record promotion, as such, was still a mystery to me."

Although he learned more about the field through their association and became increasingly interested in its professional possibilities, Anderson rejected Cash's initial employment overtures because of his engineering commitments. It was only after the studio ran into financial difficulties that the job offer from Jonas Cash became a viable option, which he accepted.

Reflecting on his early experience in independent record promotion, Tony Anderson cites the profound influence of Cash as a mentor who provided invaluable career guidance. "Jonas used to tell me all the time: 'You are not a promotion man. You are a record man. And there's a big difference,'" Anderson remembers.

An indelible awareness of that difference has shaped Anderson's own philosophy and approach to functioning in the industry. "Being a total record man means that you must understand the whole business -- how the sales department works, how marketing works, how radio works -- and use that knowledge to your competitive advantage," he says. "People tend to deal with you differently once they know that you've done your homework."

The record shows that Tony Anderson was both an excellent student and practitioner of the art of professional preparation. He describes his first outing with Cash as an "apprenticeship" during which he learned the business from the unique perspective of a black record man working primarily with pop radio.

When asked about the problems inherent in that position, Tony Anderson again cites his mentor's advice. "Although I'm sure I got more acceptance because of Jonas' reputation, he always stressed that no one could tell me I couldn't do anything if I was as good as my counterpart, regardless of color. And it's true," Anderson confirms. "If you're good, people will be forced to respect and deal with you based on ability alone."

Armed with a new sense of confidence, Anderson applied for his first job within the industry -- an R&B promotion slot at WEA. While he was not selected for that post, he was hired in marketing for the Baltimore-Washington area, where his background in pop promotion was utilized.

When he returned to work with Jonas Cash after the WEA experience, Tony Anderson was even farther along on the road to becoming a "total record man." He continued to work predominantly CHR-, AOR- and AC-formatted stations, although he maintained key contacts in black/urban radio. Among them was Donnie Simpson, who had become program director at WKYS-FM in Washington during a format change. Through Anderson's multi-format exposure, he was able to assist Simpson in broadening the pop base of his playlist -- and thus a winning programming formula and a lasting friendship were born.

Working with stations with a variety of formats, needs and concerns alerted Tony Anderson early on in his career to the importance of mutual respect in developing solid relationships with radio people. "You must work together," he cautions. "It's not just about 'I need my record played.' You've got to realize that the programmer is as concerned about his job, his format been able to develop my voice. In '76, I joined James Cleveland's group. Three years later I started the Pentecostal Community Choir and a recording career - and it all started right here at the workshop. I still come to learn and get inspiration from other singers. I'm really happy the convention is still in existence."

Ms. Adelaide Watkins, along with Irene Ware, the gospel coordinator for BMA's mini-conference October 18, has been affiliated with the workshop since its inception. "It's the most viable source for gospel music at this time," says Ware. "The seminars are excellent and they reach out for expert panelists."

The gospel workshop packs a multitude of activities into one week. Seminars and workshops are scheduled during the morning hours with practice for the Mass Choir being held in the afternoon. In the evening, regional talent showcases were held at Madison Square Garden's Felt Forum. The East Coast performed on Monday night, the South on Tuesday, the Midwest on Wednesday and choirs from the West were featured on Thursday. Commencement exercises were held Friday morning for those who successfully completed the workshops, followed by the live recordings of the Mass Choir. The choir consists of 2500 voices singing the 18 songs they have learned in the week's time. The workshop ends with the Gala Gospel Music Excellence Awards Ceremony. The participants leave the workshop with a heightened spiritual awareness, new songs and techniques to take back to their churches and apply in local workshops.

White choirs participate in the workshop, also. This is the second year that the Lighthouse Singers of Marin County, CA (directed by Helen J.H. Stephens) have attended. "Everyone's skeptical of an all-white choir. They go, 'what are they doing trying to cut into our turf?' We've gotten to know each other now and we feel very comfortable. We want all the barriers to go away," comments Robert Franco, a member of the Lighthouse Singers. "We are interdenominational and interracial," adds Reverend Cleveland.

Reverend Cleveland sees the renewed interest of young people as one of the highlights of the workshop. "Black churches are adding synthesizers and drums to their choirs. The young people are more involved and they're bringing a new feeling and greater freedom into the church. This new awareness is also flowing into the community," says Reverend Cleveland.

Miami, Florida, will be the site for the '86 workshop.

Tyscott/Circle City Records out of Indianapolis have several fall releases scheduled. Among them are the LP release of their new group Deliverance, described as having a sound similar to the Winans, a new LP entitled "Innocence" by Carolyn Vinson and the House of Joy Children's Choir.

Dr. Scott of Tyscot has also signed Theresa and Kenneth Ford to a recording contract with their first LP scheduled for this fall entitled "One Touch." The Fords have been recording and playing with Andrae Crouch, James Cleveland, Shirley Caesar, Leon Patillo, the Clark Sisters, New Jersey Mass Choir and many others and now have a chance at Tyscot to showcase their composing, producing, singing, playing and performing ability directly.

and his ratings as you are about your product. But when PD's know that you understand their needs as well, you become an asset to them, rather than an annoyance. It's a two-way street."

Tony Anderson had enjoyed considerable success in independent promotion in Washington when he was tapped by Skip Miller to become National Director of R&B Promotion for Motown. But the move to Los Angeles was a giant step for Anderson in both miles and mandate.

While some industry insiders pondered Miller's decision to place someone with only a local independent promotion background in a key national position, Anderson attributes his selection to a special professional rapport between the two men. "I think Skip was looking for someone who shared his own broad perspective about the industry -- someone who didn't have the 'tunnel vision' that limits so many," he intimates. "He knew my strengths and weaknesses when he brought me in," Anderson continues, "and without his complete support, I would never have succeeded in making the transition from independent promotion to corporate management. I'll always be grateful to him for that vote of confidence."

On the whole, however, Anderson's background enhanced his effectiveness as a manager. "While I had to become acclimated to delegating authority, I found that my nuts-and-bolts knowledge of the field was a big help to my staff," he observes. "I had done it all before without a corporate support system, so I understood their problems and could often assist them to find solutions."

Looking back fondly on his years at Motown, Tony Anderson characterizes the period as one in which he was able to establish a national posture and further his professional education in the industry under the tutelage of "probably two of the best in the business: Skip Miller and Miller London," he opines. "They were both generous enough to take the time to show me how it's done at that level -- and how it's done right."

Not surprisingly, the decision to leave Motown was not an easy one for Anderson. But he acknowledges that the Arista bid was unquestionably an "offer I couldn't refuse." It presented a challenging ground-floor opportunity to come on board in a building situation with a new management team installed by Clive Davis in a top-echelon restructuring.

Sal Licata, President of Chrysalis Records, had become Arista's Executive Vice President and General Manager; Don Jenner, Vice President of Promotion; and Ed Eckstine, Vice President of A&R. "I didn't know Sal previously, although he knew of me through my involvement with Jonas Cash," Anderson says. "But I had known Donnie for years through working his product when he and his brother Jimmy had Millennium Records. And Ed, of course, brought with him a wealth of experience from his long association with Quincy Jones. So I was very flattered to have been asked to a part of this dynamic team directing Arista's national promotion effort."

In another stroke of good fortune career-wise, Anderson joined the label at a time when its crossover-dominated R&B roster includes not only the phenomenal young Whitney Houston, but established recording divas such as her illustrious cousin, Dionne Warwick, and the super-hot "Queen of Soul" herself, Aretha Franklin. Not to mention the male contingent of the Arista R&B hit machine headed by Billy Ocean.

With the promotion of product by artists of this caliber -- as well as the label's breaking acts -- in his capable hands, Tony Anderson's future at Arista seems boundless. A charmed life? "Not really," discounts Anderson. "The music business is basically hard work -- and lots of it. But I wouldn't have it any other way."

After six highly productive months as Arista's R&B promotion chief, Tony Anderson's successful roll in the record industry continues and lends a prophetic note to Sal Licata's comment at the time of Anderson's appointment: "I went out for the best, and I got him."

That he did. And a real "Arista-crat" was created in the process.

CUE NOTES

Late word has it that Joe Fisher, long-time PD/OM at WRBD in Ft. Lauderdale, may be on an "extended vacation" after 21 solid years at the station. Indications are that Fisher's departure may have been on less than mutually agreeable terms.

KNOK/Ft. Worth has changed call letters to KDLZ-107. Kelly McCann is the Program Director and Michelle Madison will handle the MD duties.

B.K. Kirkland National PD/WBLS-MY, returned to the Apple after visiting his stations in the Bay area only to find himself minus his afternoon jock, Rick Ricardo. This left B.K. literally going from the airport to the airwaves. Ricardo, it seems, was off taking care of some real important business.

Could it be that MKYS in New York is the only FM'er in America operating without a license because of still pending matters with the FCC? Be careful...

Deepest sympathy to the family of Jonathan Fearing who recently succumbed to bone cancer. Fearing was a former Music Consultant for WBLS/New York.

YBPC's monthly meeting will be held in Jackson, MS, on Sunday, September 8, 1985 from 11-1 pm at the Hilton Hotel. The Annual YBPC Meeting is scheduled for the weekend of November 15-16, 1985 at the New Orleans Hilton.

Rod See joins WDMT/Newberry, OH in the overnight slot. See was most recently with WJMO/Cleveland.

George Reed, General Sales Manager for KDM-Atlanta Broadcasting, has announced a restructuring of the sales department for WAOK-AM and WVEE-FM with the following changes. Reed Haggard is now Sales Account Executive for WVEE/WAOK; Bob Jackson, Senior Account Executive; and Keath Bridges joins the staff as Sales Account Executive.

Others added to the combined sales force from WAOK include: John Gilliam, Joyce Rainey, Dot Smith and Brother Esmond Patterson. Charlotte Neighbors is an Account Executive. John Turner, Marvin Whaley were promoted to Senior Account Executives for WVEE/WAOK and Howard Toole continues as Local Sales Manager for both stations.

PROMOTIONS

KDKO/Denver recently joined forces with the Esquire Club and The Aurora Lounge, two Denver hotspots, to sponsor the largest celebrity carwash ever held in the Mile High city. The five-hour benefit for famine victims in Africa raised thousands of dollars. Celebrities featured were: Chris Brewer, Denver Broncos; USFL Denver Gold Cheerleaders; Ken Lanier, Denver Broncos; Fay Hill, Recording Artist; Lonnie Hill, Urban Sound Recording Artist; Thierry Smith, KDKO Sports Director; Dianne Brooks; NBA Denver Nuggets' Alex English; and KDKO Program Director, Jay Johnson.

Jazz In BRE'f

by Michael Martinez

ALBUMS BY HIGGINS, SAMPLE, COBHAM, MCCANN AND UPCHURCH REPRESENT DIVERSE SOUNDSCAPE

Jazz has its own color spectrum, and some new releases exhibit this range of rhythm, melody and harmony.

Billed as his debut release in the U.S., veteran drummer Billy Higgins' self-titled LP is serving as the flagship album for new label Riza Records, based in Los Angeles.

Higgins, joined by veteran jazz sessionists Tony Dumas on bass, Gary Bias on woodwinds and Bill Henderson on piano, plys lazy bop waters with this more-or-less straight ahead collection.

The ambivalence of this work is most evident on "Dance Of The Clones," an aptly titled, lengthy piece which deftly employs every vamp cliché a right handed pianist is victim to.

It is the energy and the solo shots by Bias that give this song its distinguishing marks.

But this inaugural release from Riza, produced by the artist with James Saad, will please those fans of Higgins and those idiomatic purists. Welcome back, Billy.

"Oasis" is the title of MCA recording artist Joe wax, which was produced by the Crusaders' triad.

He is one of the tastiest and most underrated guitarists on the jazz scene, but Phil Upchurch maintains deep resolve to leave his mark on music history.

His debut LP for new label Jam Records, "Companion," distributed by JEM, is a page in the history book that will cover Upchurch's life.

Upchurch shares the spotlight with fellow guitarist Lenny Breau. Together, they weave a harmonic tapestry of swooning passion and rhythmic variety.

The title track and "Mr. T(B.A.'s Song)," which features only Upchurch on the guitar, are stand-outs on this album. Produced by Phil, this LP sounds as diverse as the man.

Les McCann's transcendental funkiness has been absent from vinyl in recent years, but he comes back with seminal splendor on this debut release for Jam Records.

"Music Box" is the title, but the idiom will be hard to cubbyhole.

While he plays tongue-in-cheek homage to his classic "Compared To What" on this LP, it is "Blue & Boogie" and "Bat Yam" that are bound to attract the most airplay.

Billy Cobham's debut release for GRP Records, "Warning," is another muscular, bombastic fusion tinged affair.

Joined by a new band and new material, Cobham still leaves his trademark on the music. It is rhythm heavy and fairly growls at the drop of a four/four chord.

"Mozaik" and "Stratus" are examples of Cobham's energized style.

He is joined on this album by Baron Browne, bass, Gerry Etkins, keyboards, Sa Davis and Dean Brown. The album is produced by Cobham.

Sample's latest solo LP. It can barely be called a solo project, in that Sample's partners in The Crusaders, Wilton Felder and Leon "Ndugu" Chancler, are featured prominently on this LP.

It is a soothing album, with varied pulse and instrumental voice.

The most celebrated voice on the album belongs to Phyllis Hyman, who is the featured guest vocalist on the tune "Survivor."

Along with "Survivor," the title track and "Asian Eyes" are stand out songs on this

45'S

JAN HAMMER
MIAMI VICE THEME
MCA 52666

This is the hottest multi media approach we've seen, the TV theme is getting added left and right. Jazzer Hammer takes synths and whatever else to another dimension in this killer groove. Penned, produced, and arranged by Hammer. Demos: All.

THE DEALERS

THIS WAY
MOSAIC/CBS ZS4 05469
Stanley Johnson wrote this smoker for the dancers, with production credit as well along with Rodger Hawkins. The Dealers continue to offer fresh, exciting material suitable for airwaves and dancefloors. Demos: Young adults, dancers.

12"

TRINERE
CAN'T GET ENOUGH
JAM PACKED JPI 107

Trinere is another of the new breed of pop and dance oriented female soulsters, here she returns with another up-tempo dance groove. Extra hot penmanship and production from "Pretty" Tony Butler and Sherman Nealy. Demos: Dancers, young adults.

THE RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS
HOLLYWOOD (AFRICA)
EMI V 78621 502019

Cross hot rapping with the electrical energy of punk and funk and you get these madcap cut-ups. George Clinton produces the Meters original, an ultra grooving smooth funkier that is exploding on the alternative scene and will surely hit black radio full force. Demos: Dancers, teens, young adults.

MAGGOTRON

PLANET DETROIT US. THE ROXANNE PLAGUE
JAMRON 002

Sounding a lot like early Tommy Boy material, this group of party parasites add touches of vocorder and surreal synth tones to a rather ethereal general ambience.

J. BLACKFOOT

SEESAW
SOUND TOWN ST-0016

Blackfoot tells it like it is, tired of the ups and downs of, yech... relationships. Smooth, refined, and happy, shades of Smokey seem to be present. Demos: Young adults.

STARPOINT RESTLESS

ELEKTRA 9 60424 1

Starpoint offers a strong set of urban and pop oriented material in this collection produced by Keith Diamond. Four Phillips brothers back up the sophisticated vocal sounds of Renee Diggs and Kayode Adeyemo, coming up with a refined set of radio and dance music. "Object Of My Desire" unabashedly announces the sensual desires of a lonely girl; a definite radio pick, it boasts a pop-ish dance groove. "Don't Take Your Love Away" is a mounting ballad with pained female vocals gradually breaking into a harmonious duet. "Restless" is another rocker for radio and dance attention. Demos: Young adults, females, dancers.

Levi Stubbs, leader of the Four Tops, will be adding a new feather to his bonnet so to speak this fall as he journeys to London for the shooting of another movie version of the hit off-Broadway play, "Little Shop of Horrors." He will be the voice of bloodthirsty Venus Flytrap in the film that will star Steve Martin.

WHAM

Question: What to do with a race track off-season? Answer: schedule a concert. Second answer: schedule a WHAM/Chaka Khan concert center arena. Place your bets that this combination is a sure win for the Hollywood Race Track. Over 50,000 fans trekked to the tracks this past Labor Day weekend to the newest arena for concerts in the LA area.

ROSIE GAINES

Don Cornelius, Soul Train originator, discovered Capitol artist O'Bryan, and now it seems he is on the right track again with the another super-talented protegee named Rosie Gaines, whom he has signed to Epic Records. For a newcomer, Rosie has a seasoned voice that promises to make her one of this year's hottest new stars.

The Miami Vice soundtrack album - scheduled for release next week on MCA - has a stellar lineup of artists. Featured on the hit NBC-TV show's LP is Glen Frey, who contributed initially on the music and will again have two songs. Chaka Khan, who currently has a release from the Krush Groove movie soundtrack on the streets, recorded "Own The Night," produced by Arif and Joe Mardin. Grandmaster Melle Mel, the rapper who contributed to Chaka's Grammy-winning Prince-penned song, "I Feel For You," recorded "Vice" for the LP. Tina Turner's previous release, "Better Be Good To Me" and Phil Collins' "In The Air Tonight," along with five instrumentals by Jan Hammer, complete the Danny Goldberg and Michael Mann produced soundtrack.

Another MCA soundtrack release this month is "E.T. The Extra-terrestrial" storybook boxed set, featuring Michael Jackson and produced by Quincy Jones. Since the movie was re-released this summer, MCA decided to re-release this unique package as well as an E.T. picture disc.

Michele Elyzabeth Enterprises have acquired Nolan Thomas, who currently has a single entitled "Too White" on Mirage Records.

The Dick Griffey/Solar rumors of financial problems, etc. are just too rampant and too diverse to allow any real belief. With Ray Harris' departure, changes were a natural to occur. # The Los Angeles Street Scene Festival

SEPTEMBER 28/29, 1985

The world focused on the spirit to end human suffering with "Do They Know It's Christmas" and "We Are the World" — the spirit continued with Live Aid; and now we will be "Dancing in the Street." Support the celebration as the spirit continues.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE ENTERTAINMENT INDUSTRY

The City of Los Angeles has often shown its ability to stage highly successful events of worldwide stature—the most recent being the Games of the XXIII Olympiad in 1984.

We are cognizant not only of each other but of those around the world—and of their problems. To that end I am designating the Eighth Los Angeles Street Scene Festival as the largest ever City musical event dedicated to the elimination of world hunger and human suffering, and I call upon my friends in the entertainment community to lend their support.

The event will take place in downtown Los Angeles, September 28 and 29, and is scheduled for international broadcast. With your support it can become an important celebration, not only of life in this City but as a gift of life to others everywhere. Lives depend upon you.

You know we can make a difference—I know you will. Let us hear from you.

Call (213) 485-5801. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Tom Bradley
