The continuing growth in country music is reflected in this year's improved directory. Probably most noticeable is the steadily expanding international listings as country music spreads beyond its historical boundaries in the U.S.

Totally new features include a survey of radio station music directors, who chose their top artists in 10 categories. The emphasis on radio in the directory is reflected as well in a steadily lengthening list that now includes radio stations that can be determined to program at least 50% country music.

For the sake of convenience in looking up artist addresses, we have grouped together personal managers, booking agents and contacts into one easy-to-locate section. For determining how to contact an artist, refer first to the artist listing where the appropriate contact will be listed in abbreviated form: i.e., BA, PM or Contact.

Still other added features in this third annual directory are listings of awards, a more comprehensive listing of festivals, television as well as radio syndication firms and a more in-depth organization listing.

On our counter in both of our stores, we display the Billboard pop singles, country singles and soul singles charts and find that our customers (a) read them, (b) use them as a stimulus to buy. There's a legitimacy connected with the charts in the customers minds and they compare them to local radio charts. Bottom line is that our image is enhanced and it has resulted in our being the hottest 45 rpm retail sellers in the market.

Billboard's Gospel Music Conference

BRIDGING

THE SECULAR WATERS

The river of religious music in America runs deep. Now it's overflowing its banks, spreading out across the land. The potential power of Gospel music in this broadened market is awesome.

But before that power can be harnessed, new channels must be opened, new bridges built. Channels of communication and bridges of understanding between the religious and secular worlds of music.

That's the reason for Billboard's First Gospel Music Conference. To exchange ideas, to seek direction, to find answers to the "how to" problems we share.

Like how to get Gospel into the racks. And how to handle Gospel promotion and retailing in the secular environment. And how to get plays for Gospel on contemporary music stations. And how to broaden Gospel's exposure on secular TV and live entertainment venues.

It takes mind, spirit and energy to open channels, to build bridges. We need yours...no matter which side of the river you're on.
