From the Publisher

Dear Reader:

Welcome to the 24th issue of Billboard's International Recording Equipment & Studio Directory. Our very first edition was published on May 9, 1970.

In the complex, highly competitive multi-million dollar recording industry, we know that vital information is the key to your success. Therefore, you have in your hands an invaluable industry directory of contacts throughout the world.

This directory can be useful to you in many ways: as a buyer to find sources of equipment and services, marketing research, planning calls on potential clients, etc.

We welcome your suggestions and comments on ways to continue to make this directory more useful.

Thank you for your cooperation in helping us gather this vital information.

Cordially yours,

Ronald E. Willman

SEVEN REASONS WHY DOLBY IS NUMBER ONE FOR HIGH QUALITY AUDIO PRODUCTION.

1. The Model 363 Series two-channel unit incorporates Dolby SR, Dolby A-type, or switchable SR/A-type modules in a compact 1 U-high chassis.

2. The SRP Series multitrack provides up to 24 channels of Dolby SR in a cost-saving configuration ideal for recording and in-house production facilities.

3. The MT Series provides up to 24 switchable Dolby SR/A-type modules under software control for channel grouping and automatic alignment.

5. The Model 422 Series is a reference encoder/decoder with four channels of Dolby B-type, C-type, and S-type for mastering and monitoring in audio and video cassette duplication.

4. The NEW Spectral Processor is a two-channel dynamic equalizer that raises low-level signals in three frequency bands as much as 20 dB without affecting high-level signals, squashing transients, or destroying overall track dynamics.

7. The Model SDU-4 is a 2:4 reference decoder for monitoring Dolby Surround and Dolby Stereo program material in broadcast, video, music recording, and some film applications.

6. The Model 430 Series, based on Dolby SR, is our newest, most powerful background noise suppressor system. For use in reducing broadband noise on location recordings for film and video applications.

Brand Usage Response Survey (U.S.)

This special Billboard survey of recording studio equipment usage was compiled from questionnaires returned by 504 U.S. recording and mastering studios from May-July 1992. Not necessarily reflecting the exact total situation in studios, the calculation shows the percentage of studios using each brand and the percentage of brand responses attained by each brand.

Listed below each category heading are the number of studios reporting information for the particular category and the number of brand responses reported by the studios. Since a studio could list more than one brand, the number of brand responses always will be greater than the number of studios.

The percentage of studios figure, which measures the strength of a brand independent of the other brands, typically will have a total percentage figure per category that far exceeds 100%. The percentage of brand responses figure, which accounts for a particular brand's position relative to the other brands, will total 100% per category. Note that the percentage of brand responses does not account for the number of items of equipment used by each studio. Thus, this percentage is not a market share percentage of actual equipment pieces used.

To expand upon the difference between the two percentages, consider the following example. Assume that a category has 500 studios reporting an average of two brand responses each or a total of 1,000 brand responses (500 x 2). If 250 studios report that they use a particular brand, then it has 50% of the studios (250/500) and 25% of the brand responses (250/1,000).

YOUR NEXT CONSOLE PURCHASE MAY HAVE A PROFOUND IMPACT UPON YOUR ART AND BUSINESS.
 SO LISTEN CAREFULLY, CHOOSE WISELY, AND BE SURE THE CONSOLE'S BUILDERS ARE PASSIONATELY COMMITTED.

POPULAR MYTH HAS IT THAT success in the music and recording business is a matter of luck, a happy spin of Fortuna's wheel. Sure.

Fact is, if you've enjoyed any luck, an unwavering dedication to your work likely made it happen.

When it's time for a new console, however, lots of people will court you for your money, but few will share or understand the nature of your passion. Does that matter?

It should. For just like you, we at D&R are serious — passionately serious — about what we do. It shows in the way we design and handcraft our entire console range.

Mere words, we know. So we invite you to listen critically to any console from any of our worthy competitors. Regardless of the price. Then apply your ears to one of our consoles. You'll hear what thousands of D&R owners know.

Our zealous devotion to quality goes beyond sonic subtleties. It also manifests itself in highly tangible ways.

For instance, we phase-correlate every audio stage. Our star-grounded circuit and module designs eat noise for lunch. And we surround the complete signal path with a custom-welded, fully shielded steel chassis.

These are just a few of the make-sense reasons why all D&R boards sound so quiet and so accurate. (Ordinary designs in an aluminum chassis can't touch this — and you can hear the difference.)

Naturally, being rather fervent in our passion, we have come up with some inspired features. Such as floating subgroups (which we pioneered, by the way). Full-band, "high-def" equalizers. Extensive sourcing. User-configurable aux send, monitor, channel, and EQ signal paths.

All of which will inspire you to work faster, more flexibly, and ultimately, more profitably.

Remember this ad? We sure do. Instead of airbrushing this stunt, we carefully balanced a half-ton D&R Avalon on the edge of the Grand Canyon. Like we said, committed.

Oh yes — this brings us to another matter. Our North American prices are factory-direct. So with D&R, your money buys far more.

Far more committed support. Far more performance. Far more features. To get to the point, far more console.

Now, if this sounds intriguingly rational, let's get to know each other. After all, our passionate commitment to handcrafting the finest consoles may have a profound impact. Upon you.

Technology in its highest form. That's the John Arrias trademark witnessed on albums he engineered for Barbra Streisand, Bob Seger and countless other artists who demand his distinctive sound of perfection.

John developed his own audio preservation system which transforms older analog recordings into crisp, clear digital sounds. And to back up these and new recordings, he uses four digital audio tape computer drive units. Whether mixing down or backing up, John relies on DIC Digital's MQ series DAT and 4 mm data grade metal particle tape products.

The only cassette made in the U.S.A., the MQ shell has increased stability and structural integrity so it can stand up to rigorous studio use inflicted by the most astute engineers.

MQ's proprietary metal particle technology is enhanced with a formulation finish that reduces friction in the tape to head interface. Combined with its dust-busting design, the MQ cassette virtually eliminates environmental contamination that leads to recording errors and tape jamming.

For impeccable recordings, today's engineers use DIC Digital's DAT tape products for the ultimate digital sound.
