8 Round Two!

Glassjaw is back in a big way with its latest, Worship And Tribute. After label woes left the band supportless, the metal-punk-emo-hardcore group of guys from Long Island, New York decided there was nothing to do except record an album on their own and hope someone would pick them up. Upon hearing the finished product, Warner Bros. snatched up the record like a kid in a candy store. Worship finds the group more cohesive and mature than ever before, which is just the way Glassjaw wanted it: "That record to us is awesome," says guitarist Justin Beck. "I'm proud of it."

LAURA MINOR

Salesman's Girl (HighTone)

Laura Minor has a lot of experience to draw from for her poignant songwriting: she has been a baker, a street fair vendor, a secretary, a salesgirl and a kindergarten teacher. It wasn't until she returned to Florida after college to write a book and go to grad school that she discovered music. After teaming up with local singer/songwriter Jared Flamm, Minor converted her poetry to songs and started gigging around the Gainesville area. She eventually gave up her Ph.D study and got a record deal. With Cracker/Camper Van Beethoven alum David Lowery at the helm as a producer, Salesman's Girl came to life. Although obviously country-influenced, the album utilizes rock, blues and soul to create a musical picture of a vast and varied Americana. It's a sound that has worked well for Lucinda Williams and Ryan Adams before her, and it appears that Minor will be another voice at the forefront of the new crop of astute singer/songwriters. "American Girls" is a rocker that's not only similar in name to a Tom Petty song, but is also reminiscent of his sound. On the ballad "As Close To Sacred," the artist's poetic tendencies are fully realized through lovelorn lyrics rife with religious imagery and longing. Maybe we can forgive Florida for all those boy bands after all. — Brad Filicky

ARTO LINDSAY

INVOKE (Righteous Babe)

Arto Lindsay's latest release presents itself with a confidence that only a man with over 25 years of musical know-how and experimentation can offer. Topped with a rich influence that is deeply rooted in Brazilian rhythms and an Enosque feel (from when Lindsay worked with the artist in the late 1970s), Invoke is an amazing success that is truly reminiscent of Lindsay's characteristic style. Similar to his 1999 release Prize, the tracks on Invoke are chock full of rich bossanova and tropical beats, combined with Lindsay's refreshingly tranquil and gentle voice. As an added bonus, that voice expresses itself in English and Portuguese throughout the album. With a flair for diversification, Lindsay spices up his work with a hip-hop element on "Predigo" (à la Portuguese) while constructing a montage of chilling and hypnotic sounds on "In The City That Reads" (with the help of Avey Tare and Panda Bear). Turning in the other direction, "Delegada" and "Beija-me" bring forth the image of Astrud Gilberto and Stan Getz together at the Café Au Go Go, creating a breathtaking combination of bossanova and jazz with a slightly poppy edge. With a touch of violin arrangements rounding out the album, Invoke has a little bit of everything for the esteemed listener who gives Lindsay's engaging style a chance. — Greg Winter

SLUM VILLAGE

Trinity: Past, Present And Future

While everyone adds the Slum Village sampler to their playlists, it seems beneficial to review the group's full-length a wee bit early. It's been two years since these Detroit natives released their last album (Fantastic, Vol. 2 on GoodVibe), and Trinity subsequently marks the band's major-label debut (since signing with Priority earlier this year). As the title suggests, this album gives a nod to hip-hop through its many incarnations; from the lo-fi sparse beats of the house parties of yore to the more slick, layered production of today. The combination of both these elements embodies the vision these cats have for the genre's future (due in large part to the influence of Jay Dee, who has emerged as one of today's most sought-after producers). Even with the bare-naked "What Is This," the group shows that it has more soul than the most gimmicky James Brown/Rick James wannabe who's adorned with all the bells and whistles money can buy. It's nice to know the support of a major label hasn't gone to Slum's head. As the group meanders through the psychedelic, the hard, club joints and ballads with ease and creativity, it's obvious this album represents hip-hop in its best light. Truly one for the ages. — Lisa Hageman

BETH ORTON

Daybreaker (Astralwerks)

On her past works, college radio darling Beth Orton has been anointed the queen of strum 'n' bass, a golden-throated folktronica goddess with the foresight to thread beats through her acoustic folk compositions. The British-born lass specializes in meshing what could be seen as mutually exclusive genres in a seamless, original style. Orton's mix of melancholy and devastatingly beautiful folk-with-gadgetry renders her a standout among critics, collegians and Triple A programmers. Daybreaker, the singer's first album for Astralwerks, finds her continuing with the visionary formula that has garnered her so much success and indie cred. Songs like "Anywhere" and the title track (produced by the Chemical Brothers) have their share of synthetic, hip-swaying beats, but it's Orton's beguiling pipes that your ears will gravitate toward. On the sweeping, magnetic Daybreaker, Miss Orton isn't as gloomy as she was on 1999's Central Reservation. She's still crafting mournful ditties like "God Song" and "Ted's Waltz," but for the most part, Daybreaker is hardly a downer — in fact, it's not dominated by a single sad mood. It's a confident and intimate affair that Orton fans have come to expect, and it's an album you'll reach for on the dark days and those sunny, bright, Sunday mornings when you just want to dance naked in your living room. — Amy Sciarretto

INDUSTRY NEWS

Just exactly what was the self-proclaimed "King Of Pop," Michael Jackson, thinking when he recently accused Sony Music chairman Tommy Mottola of being "mean ... a racist ... and very, very, very devilish?" The gloved one made the disparaging comments when he spoke at the Rev. Al Sharpton's National Action Network in NYC's Harlem back on July 6. Specifically, Jackson accused his record company (as well as other record companies) of being part of a racist conspiracy against black artists. Sharpton later distanced himself from the singer's controversial remarks when he told the New York Post Jackson's comments were both "unfair and unfounded." For its part, Sony released a statement calling the pop star's remarks "ludicrous, spiteful and hurtful." Hey, Jacko, this is definitely NOT the way to get out of your Sony recording contract without repaying the millions you are alleged to owe the company. • Should you want to read the U.S. Copyright Office's final rule and order concerning the newly established royalty rates for webcast performances, point your browser to www.copyright.gov/carp/webcast_regs.html. • BMI has reached an agreement on final license fees with Viacom's cable TV networks, covering MTV, VH1, etc. • Sirius Satellite Radio, with its 100-channel service, is now available across the continental U.S. Sirius' competitor, XM Satellite Radio, has been available nationwide since Nov. 12, 2001. • Gene Kan, a pioneering developer of the Gnutella music file-swapping website (and more recently an employee of Sun Microsystems), died on June 29, the result of an undisclosed

Far from being down for the count, Glassjaw is back with a new label, a fresh outlook and a second album, Worship And Tribute. STORY BY DOUG LEVY • PHOTO BY STEPHEN STICKLER

To say that Glassjaw is a bit of an anomaly is to put things lightly. After all, how many bands get scheduled to play at both the Warped Tour and Ozzfest in the same summer? And exactly what kind of band could fit both bills? A bizarre metal-punk-emo-hard-core hybrid of some sort may be the only thing that readily comes to mind, but even such a wide attempt at labeling the enigmatic quintet from Long Island, New York falls woefully short.

"It's hard to classify," admits guitarist Justin Beck, pondering the nature of his band just hours before it will hit the stage for its first Warped Tour performance. "We come from all those schools, you know? Except for emo. I don't really classify that as a school. That's just kind of like some bullshit jargon. I don't know. We've never been able to fit into a certain mold. But when people put us in with like metal, or nü-metal, which I find hysterical, it seems a little silly at times. It's just a rock band, let's put it that way."

So, this rock band has just released its second Ross Robinson-produced album, Worship And Tribute, which is also its debut on Warner Bros. Records. Following on the heels of the group's debut, Everything You Ever Wanted To Know About Silence, the new disc finds the band in a more evolved, introspective place — its tone reflects upon Glassjaw's label woes, inner turmoil, a near breakup, and of course, the inevitable process of growing up.

"The last record was kind of like, we got signed in a weekend," says Beck. "You know, we never sat down and thought about making a record. Glassjaw was always just a hobby then, for having fun. When we got signed, it was like, 'All right, you want a record deal? You got songs? All right, here, let's put a record together.' This is kind of like, we didn't take ourselves too seriously, but we actually sat down and thought about a full composition from beginning to end, and took our time with it and just had fun."

The result is a listening experience that ranges from the frightening to the sublime, kicking off with "Tip Your Bartender," a song that almost reaches out of the speakers and tears your head off with its hardcore assault, only to make way for a shockingly unexpected concession to melody. Other tracks offer elements of jazz, lounge, psychedelia and, in the case of the excellent "The Gillette Cavalcade Of Sports," even sportscaster-style commentary — but always with a high-octane, energetic edge. In a lot of ways, the band's approach to music, as well as singer Daryl Palumbo's soaring, often screamed, vocals, is often very reminiscent of a band the group readily cites as one of its biggest influences: Faith No More.

"We listen to everything under the fucking sun and the moon, but they're definitely a huge influence," enthuses Beck. "Just in the sense of like, they set this certain standard — that they have no standard. They could do whatever they want, whenever they want. That's always been like, 'Wow, that's genius.' Like, they go from a bossanova jazz song to death metal, but it's still Faith No More. That's a huge thing that I think they set out to do, which we kind of take under our wings. Just kind of like, whatever you feel like doing, you do."

That sentiment is echoed perfectly by Glassjaw's decision last Halloween to hook up with some friends, dress up as a bar mitzvah band and perform a show under the moniker Stan Levine And His Party Machine to a delighted crowd in Brooklyn.

"It was the best show we've ever played, I think," laughs Beck. "It was the sickest thing in the world — like 600 kids doing Hava Nagila in a giant circle. It was amazing."

Obviously, the wacky concept is something the guys would enjoy bringing back for a repeat performance. "It was a one-off, but if we have more time, we might try to do it again this Halloween," Beck reveals, hopefully. "It just takes some time and preparation to learn all the god-damned songs. It might be a little different this year, but Stan Levine might come out for another blast."

To throw a further spin on things, Beck and Palumbo are both straight-edge, although Glassjaw itself isn't a straightedge band. "We were, like when we started, when we were 13," explains Beck. "Right now, me and Daryl are the only ones who are... It's weird; it's like, when no one is [straightedge], to me it's cool to open your mouth... I guess it's all right to spread the word if you're the underdog. Someone who's straightedge is the underdog. I don't think it's that bad to — not preach it — but let it be known, because it's not a bad thing. It just sucks when kids take it to the next level and get stupid with it."

After all, at the end of the day, the kids — the fans — are the most important. Glassjaw's fanbase is a particularly devoted one and is growing by the day. All it seems to take is exposure to the band's music to instantly win people over. And what better avenue for exposure than college radio?

"That's like the foundation," Beck heartily agrees. "Those are the people who play shit because they want to, not because they're forced to. So, those are the people who count. That's where your real listeners go. I went to Hofstra (a private university on Long Island), and I was in the radio department, and they play good shit... I grew up listening to like, Stonybrook (another university on LI) metal stations, when I was young. It was all the college radio stations. They definitely have an influence in getting new shit out there. Unless you're an Internet geek and you just sit all day looking for new shit, college radio is definitely the best thing for that."

If you couldn't tell by now, this is not a band that's in it for the money. This is a bunch of guys making music for the sheer love of it, a group that recorded its new album after leaving its old label, Roadrunner, without even having a clue as to whether anyone would put it out. "Ross, our producer, he's like, the coolest guy in the world," says Beck of hooking up with the man who has crafted the sounds of Slipknot, KoRn, Limp Bizkit and Sepultura, among others. "He funded the whole recording. We pretty much recorded the whole album, not knowing if any label was even going to take it. It was kind of just a Ross Robinson adventure. Then a couple of A&R [guys] got word that we were out and just tracked us down. And our A&R [at Warner Bros.] was just nuts. He was going to jump in front of a train if we didn't sign with him."

This fall, Glassjaw is planning to go on the road with some friends in tow, and it's enough to get indie rockers and emo fans alike drooling in anticipation. "We're planning to do a headline tour right now," reveals Beck. "I think it's going to be us, Pretty Girls Make Graves, Camp Kill Yourself, Blood Brothers and maybe American Nightmare, hopefully."

But, even if it were to all end tomorrow, the members of Glassjaw would be happy, having already accomplished more than they could have hoped for. Worship And Tribute is exactly the album they wanted it to be. "That record to us is awesome," says Beck, humbly. "I'm proud of it. Even if no one likes it and people say we suck... it's a letdown in some sense, but in another, it's like, who cares? We put together the ultimate record. I use the metaphor all the time — you're a chef; you're creating your own pizza. You know what you're going to want in it. You know all the ingredients, you know? So your album is just your ultimate pizza pie, that you love to eat, and you know what you want. So to us, it rules. It's our favorite shit." NMR

COLD MEMORY

Damage/No Damage (Revup)
Cold Memory's first release, Damage/No Damage rocks and swings while retaining its ability to be introspective and catchy, as well as fully intriguing. As it should be, this powerful first effort by the remaining members of Lost Beat Heroes is built around 18 songs full of wonder, excitement and good old-fashioned love. It starts off vigorously with Dan Malossi's voice, which is authoritative and righteous on "All The Songs You Know Are Damaged." The pounding drum rhythms and stirring guitars then take over, dictating the way your heart beats throughout the remainder of the album. The songs flow together almost seamlessly, and yet each has a very distinct feel. "We're Alone" and "Captain's Lament" are both romantically wistful, while "Missiles" and "Locked Out" will energize you so much that you might just jump up and start rocking out, much to the amusement of everyone around you. But don't worry; they don't know what you know... yet.

Damage/No Damage is a beautiful, melodic and potent experience that is not to be overlooked.

DISBAND/ KUDZU WISH

At The Scene Of The Accident (Ernest Jennings Record Co.) Split CDs can be as unsettling as a Hostess-and-beer dinner or as harmonious as Sonny And Cher, depending on the combination of artists involved. Here, feisty Greensboro, North Carolina artists Disband and Kudzu Wish team up to pool their uncontained brand of angular rock on what results in an especially toothsome treat. Disband steps in first, opening At The Scene Of The Accident with five hook-heavy tracks loaded with diving and drilling guitars and relentless rhythms. The frustrated, scowling riffs of "The Kid Is The Champ" are punctured by Mark E. Smith-like expressions of justice, and singer Greg Collins leads Disband's battle cry with a savvy twist on "FBI/CIA." Aldous Huxtable provides intermission, a mishmash of both bands' steely sounds tumbled through a drowsy rainbow filter. The ominous yet inviting punk base of Kudzu Wish's "On The Spot" is a smart transition; the group specializes in caterwauling, jerky notes, and Adam Thorn's Cursive-y vocals are right in step with Collins' howls. Try the raved-up guitar scribbles of "USA To The World, Apathy Is My Middle Name" for dessert.

MARY GAUTHIER

Filth And Fire (Signature Sounds)
Produced by Gurf Morlix (Lucinda Williams, Robert Earl Keen), singer/songwriter Mary Gauthier's Signature Sounds debut, titled Filth And Fire, should come packaged with a sample dosage of Prozac. Not to peg her music as depressing, but Gauthier's brand of tender country-tinged folk, topped with her beautifully weathered vocals, comes from a lifetime of anguish few of us will ever taste. At 15, she stole the family car and left home. At 16, her heavy drinking landed her in a Baton Rouge, Louisiana detox, and she celebrated her 18th birthday in a Kansas City jail cell. Clearly, this not someone who had a picture-perfect life and the music reflects that. On the effectively heart-squashing "Good-bye" she laments, "Born a bastard child in New Orleans/ To a woman I've never seen/ I don't know if she ever held me/ All I know is that she let go of me." During the album's dirge-like opener, "Walk Through The Fire," Gauthier confesses, "It doesn't matter how much I pray/ The flames leap up and burn me." Tortured and effective, melodic and miserable, Filth And Fire will haunt listeners as much as it captivates them. — Kevin Boyce

GOGOGO AIRHEART

ExitheUXA (GSL)
It's summer, the air is thick and only a mud bath of sweet rock can quell this terrible state of humidity. Enter through the strata GoGoGo Airheart, a San Diego four-piece of slender wise-ass guys with enough post-punk juice to fire up any ol'

bbq. ExitheUXA, the band's fourth full-length, propels through a cheeky mix of 13 syncopated modern pop numbers reminiscent of East Coast counterparts Radio 4. In a charmingly sly mawl, singer Mike Vermillion cajoles against the group's bass-heavy backdrop of staccato beats and treble twisted riffs. "Mifi" grooves along on Gang Of Four-esque spurts of guitar and deadpan "ahs," while catchy disco tune "When The Flesh Hits" makes for a perfect makeout soundtrack. Like Jonathan Richman spurned by yet another psycho lady lover, Vermillion groans "No, no, I won't be ignored" on "Love The Depression," a cry-in-your-Red Stripe indie-cool dance ditty. Recorded by accomplished producer Rafter Roberts (Rocket From The Crypt, Autumn Leaf), ExitheUXA launches GoGoGo Airheart into stealthier rock terrain. — Solvej Schou

ONE AM RADIO

The Hum Of The Electric Air! (Translucence)

After a number of EPs, compilations and 7-inch releases, the One AM Radio has finally released a proper full-length, The Hum Of The Electric Air! Bandleader Hrishikesh Hirway has strayed from his punk and hardcore roots by constructing 12 delicate tracks of mope-core at its best. Recorded in the intimacy of the duo's own homes, that sodality translates through all of the nearly 40 minutes of music on this disc. The opening track, "Flicker," gives a good impression of what's to come; finger-plucked acoustic guitar strings, organ layers, muted drum sequences and bandmate Jane Yakowitz's somber violin provide the perfect backdrop for Hirway's nostalgic lyrics, which are sung in a breathy hush. "The House We Will Make" finds Hirway longing for the day he'll "sleep in on Sunday/ The sheets and the sun's rays will close all around/ Wash over like ocean sounds." And so goes this record; the seemingly perfect soundtrack for waking out of a dream, only to find yourself surrounded by warmth and beauty. — Louis Miller

PERFECTO PRESENTS SEB FONTAINE

Horizons (Thrive)

There's something special about Seb Fontaine. After all, he was chosen to replace Paul Oakenfold in 1999 as Cream's Saturday night resident DJ — not an easy task. With additional accolades, including four releases of his own Prototype series for Global Underground, a Saturday night mix show on Radio 1 in the U.K. and worldwide residencies including Shelter in New York City, Fontaine has developed a wild popularity that routinely places him amongst the top 20 DJs in the world. Horizons is an up-to-the-minute account of what you'll find him spinning at choice clubs around the globe. The record is an easy and accessible listen for the novice clubber, but still packs enough punch to satisfy members of the in-the-know techno crowd. Most of the tracks appearing on Horizons have hovered atop the progressive dance charts for several months, so there isn't much of a surprise here. Still, the aim of a DJ is to please his followers, and Seb Fontaine continues to point us in the right direction.

POPA CHUBBY

The Good The Bad And The Chubby (Blind Pig)

NYC residents will likely be partial to "Somebody Let The Devil Out," the first track on Popa Chubby's release, as his words mirror many common emotions surrounding the events of Sept. 11. After listening to the remaining tracks, though, it's clear that Chubby's ability to write and deliver great lyrics and music will be enjoyed by all. If you don't already know Popa Chubby, he's a funkier version of John Popper, with incredible guitars added to an arsenal of harmonica and unique vocals that fall somewhere between Big Rude Jake and Ray Charles. Michael Latrell accompanies Chubby comfortably on piano, the two of them sounding like they've played together for some time as they make "Last Cigarette" gutsy and memorable. Chubby's guitar talents are versatile, ranging from slide-guitar blues to electric riffs on "No Trouble No More" (which is reminiscent of vintage Aerosmith). Enjoy Popa Chubby now and look forward to more from him as his talents continue to grow.

With Fingers Crossed (Soft Serve)

Short and pleasant with powdered sugar on top, With Fingers Crossed has four tunes to make you smile. Led by Issac Lekach, Poulain is a great new band with a refreshing take on light, emotionally driven music. The band has been making its mark on the emo scene playing along side Desaparecidos, Onlinedrawing, and Now It's Overhead. The kids are diggin' the sound and understandably so: Poulain offers a perfect soundtrack to nighttime road trips and beach outings. The lyrics capture the pureness of youth, the sprinkles of dreams and the simplicity that makes great pop music better. The EP bursts with chemistry; Issac and Erin Gordon's deftly melded vocals complement each other, while the instrumentation takes the listener on a canoe ride through the rivers of strings, bass, seasoned percussion and gentle guitar. "Red Rover" centers on happy flashbacks and lovesick days. "Every Night Burning Bright" shuffles and shakes with a sunny disposition, and "With Fingers Crossed" kisses you with so much sweetness it leaves a cavity behind. Poulain has a bright future.

RJD2

Dead Ringer (Def Jux)
You know that feeling you get when you hear a perfect song? We're talking that deliriously lightheaded, barely-able-to-suppress-a-smile, jump-up-and-do-a-stupid-ass-dance-for-the-hell-of-it-kind of feeling — well, brace yourself, because you're about to feel like that for a whole damn album. DJ Shadow may have started the instrumental hip-hop revolution, but RJD2 is here to make the coup a reality. Despite what the name might imply, RJD2 is in fact a man, and not a machine, although the marvelously flawless way he blends his samples together could easily lead you to believe otherwise. True, Shadow's influence is obvious at times, especially on the moody, beat-driven "The Chicken-Bone Circuit," but RJ's music revels in a delightful personal aesthetic all its own. Lacing exuberant horn section samples with old-school soul while layering mind-boggling atmospherics over it all ("Smoke And Mirrors" and "Ghostwriter"), RJ makes the kind of awe-inspiring music Moby can only dream of. A handful of rappers (Copywrite, Blueprint, Jakki Da Motamouth) make appearances on the disc, as well, but it's the DJ that maintains the spotlight on this one, and rightfully so. — Doug Levy

SCION

Arrange and Process Basic Channel Tracks (Tresor)

The short-lived Basic Channel record label has developed a cult-like status for its secretive, almost mythical nature. Records were released without production notes and publishing dates, and the only clue as to where these records came from was from a cabalistic logo printed on the label. While there are only nine Basic Channel tracks in existence, the label is responsible for laying the groundwork of minimal techno. You'll still find DJs like Jeff Mills and Richie Hawtin including Basic Channel tracks as a vital part of their sets, despite many of the records being nearly a decade old. Now Scion (Pete Kuschnerit and Rene Lowe) is reintroducing the Basic Channel sound to a new generation of clubbers. With the help of a new software program, Scion has taken all Basic Channel tracks and reshaped them into nine original productions. Each reworking features between two and four original BC tracks, so you'll find different portions of the same material appear throughout the disc. Scion revisits the past to show us the future.

SODASTREAM

The Hill For Company (Tugboat)

It's unfortunate that Nick Drake has become such a stock comparison, for when an act that all but channels the fey Brit folkie comes along, mentioning his name seems like the ultimate cliché. Regardless of the risk of utter triteness, Sodastream's Karl Smith really, really sounds like a slightly less wispy, decidedly less wistful Drake. On Aussie-bred Sodastream's second effort, The Hill For Company, Smith and bassist Pete Cohen, a virtuoso of the low-end, pepper their acoustic foundation with gorgeously orchestrated flourishes provided by guest musicians. The songwriting is steadfast in its deliberation, even in the occasional brush with shiny pop, like "Fresh One." The flood of music in Sodastream's graceful and lush musical niche flows strong, not all of it extremely essential. Luckily, Sodastream's gentle infectiousness and clipped cynicism makes for compelling listening. The title of the album's last somber track, "Send My Love To Those Who Deserve It," pretty much says everything. Company is so lovely that there will be plenty pining to be the lucky recipients.

VARIOUS ARTISTS

Survive And Advance: A Merge Records Compilation (Merge)

Merge's Survive And Advance is one of those compilations that not only showcases a roster of artists, but also provides some real treats for the label's fans.

It's a 14-song grab bag of mostly unreleased gems from the mighty Chapel Hill, North Carolina label that's been putting out solid and inventive material for the last 13 years. All of the artists included have a somewhat chilled-out melodic vibe, as well as formidable songwriting skills; there's more than a fair chance that if you really dig one of the acts here you'll find a couple of new favorites after a listen or two. High points are Crooked Fingers' surprisingly poppy "Hurricane," and label head Mac McCaughan's Portastatic rocking through a live "Northern Sky." The disc also showcases some music by Merge acts with upcoming records, including the always-impressive Spoon, and the poised-to-break Destroyer. There's a reason Merge has been at the frontlines of indie rock for over a decade, and the artists on this forward-thinking compilation make a good case for the North Carolina tastemakers to be steadily growing with the times.

— Peter D'Angelo

To start with this week, CMJ would like to extend get-well wishes to Sharon Osbourne, who underwent surgery earlier this month for an operable form of colon cancer. According to Osbourne's spokesperson, the surgical procedure was successful and the Ozzfest tour, despite two postponed dates, is now moving along as scheduled. • In related Osbourne camp news, congratulations are in order for Ozzy's six-string collaborator and Black Label Society leader, Zakk Wylde, on the birth of his third child, Hendrix Halen Michael Rhoads Wylde, on July 9. Anyone want to bet that this kid will play guitar? We think we can get 10:1 odds in Vegas that Jack Osbourne ends up singing for a band that Hendrix Wylde plays guitar for. Sure, there's the age gap, but look at Ozzy and Zakk. Okay, how about this? 15:1 says Kelly Osbourne ends up managing them. • It looks like the Slipknot DVD will finally be released in October. The disc will feature a live concert filmed at Docklands Arena in London in February (the audio has been mixed by Colin Richardson), as well as a shitload of behind-the-scenes footage. "We had 25 cameras going at once, and most of us had cameras attached to our bodies during the show," the 'Knot's Shawn "Clown" Crahan told Revolver. "The concert alone has over 4,000 edits for 13 songs. I guarantee that watching this will fuck you up." • Fear Factory has posted an MP3 of "Terminate," the last-ever studio recording from the band, on its website (www.fearfactory.com). The song — which is featured on the soundtrack for the forthcoming Playstation 2 game, Terminator: Dawn Of Fate — was written and completed in the weeks following the band's breakup. Sadly, the band's personal relationships with each other have deteriorated so much that each member laid down their respective part for "Terminate" separately in the studio. • Ex-Kyuss/current Queens Of The Stone Age members Josh Homme and Nick Oliveri, Amen frontman Casey Chaos and ex-Marilyn Manson bassist Twiggy Ramirez have formed a new side project called the Head Band. "We thought that we do a lot of melodic stuff," Homme said of the new band in an interview with Metal Hammer. "But we come from a heavy punk-rock background and so does Casey. We all thought it would be great to have a project that unleashes aggressiveness. That's the Head Band. It's sort of like the pissed off version of all our bands. In Amen's case they are already a little bit angry." The new group is already working on a full-length debut, which will presumably be released through Homme's Rekords Rekords label by the end of this year. • Whether or not his comments were taken completely out of the context (we have yet to see the full interview), the leading contender for "Dumb Ass Quote Of The Year" comes from KoRn guitarist James "Munky" Shaffer, who reportedly told Metal Hammer magazine: "I think this is true. Hitler went to Heaven [if such a thing as Heaven really exists]. He felt that what he did was right, and I think that if what you feel you're doing is right, in your heart, then you can't be wrong!" However, once Shaffer recognized that his comment was arguably one of the most ignorant, asshole-like remarks ever uttered by a rock star, or anyone for that matter (and, we feel that in our hearts, so we can't be wrong!), he retracted the controversial statement just days later. "I want to make it clear that in no way, shape or form do I approve of Hitler's atrocities," the guitarist said. "Hitler's fate and treatment in the afterlife is determined by a higher power, not me or anyone else. I apologize to anyone who was offended by my comments, which read confusingly in Metal Hammer." • Former Kittie guitarist Fallon Bowman will enter the studio in August to record a full-length debut for her new project, which she is calling

Slipknot

Amphibious Assault. Though still unsigned, Bowman is working toward a late fall/early 2003 release date for the album and fans can track her progress through her official website: www.spastica.net/aa/ • Eighteen Visions has amicably parted ways with guitarist Brandon Scheipatti. Scheipatti will now presumably focus his attention on his role as the lead vocalist for Bleeding Through, while Eighteen Visions will drop its latest long-player, Vanity, on Aug. 13 through Trustkill. • Currently on the road with Arch Enemy, Nile and Origin, Florida's Hate Eternal — which features Morbid Angel guitarist Erik Rutan and occasional MA vocalist/bassist Jared Anderson — will release King Of All Kings, the highly anticipated follow-up to 1999's Conquering The Throne, on Sept. 17. The track listing for the new effort is as follows: "Our Beckoning," "King Of All Kings," "The Obscure Terror," "Servants Of The Gods," "Beyond Redemption," "Born By Fire," "Chants In Declaration," "Rising Legions Of Black," "In Spirit (The Power Of Mana)," "Powers That Be." • Zao, Underoath, Dead Poetic and Unearth are currently touring together. You can catch the tour when it steamrolls through the following markets: Chicago (7/12); Des Moines, IA (7/13); Webster-Grove, MO (7/14); Lawrence, KS (7/15); Omaha, NE (7/16); Colorado Springs, CO (7/17); Boulder, CO (7/18); Mesa, AZ (7/19); Boise, ID (7/20); Spokane, WA (7/21); Seattle (7/22); Portland, OR (7/23); San Francisco (7/24); Orangevale, CA (7/25); Goleta, CA (7/26); Anaheim (7/27); San Diego (7/28); Mesa (7/29); San Antonio, TX (7/31); Arlington, TX (8/1); Little Rock, AK (8/2); Birmingham, AL (8/3 — Furnace Fest); Orlando, FL (8/5); Ft. Lauderdale, FL (8/6); St. Petersburg, FL (8/7); Columbia, SC (8/8); Winston-Salem, NC (8/9); Richmond, VA (8/10). • Burlington, Vermont's Drowningman has broken up. "Unfortunately, after almost seven years we have decided to part ways with our vocalist Simon Brody," bassist Andrew Abramowitz told Lambgoat.com in a written statement. "Our working relationship with Simon deteriorated greatly in the past few weeks and we decided with haste, but with great relief and assurance, that we have made the right decision to separate." Abramowitz also revealed "the remaining four members will be forming a new band under a different name that has yet to be decided on." As for Brody, he issued his own statement to Lambgoat.com in which the vocalist stated that "after a fairly heated argument with a member of the band who has been playing out with the band for only six months, I made the decision I could not continue to play in the band with only two original members, [guitarist] Javin [Leonard] and myself." Drowningman's label, Revelation Records, stated that the band still plans to release its "Demos" album in early fall. The album will consist of the group's first two demos, as well as the last three songs it ever recorded as a band. In addition, Brody divulged that the band might also play some final shows. "Javin and I have discussed the possibility of playing some last shows, most likely with a slightly augmented lineup including some original members," he said. "Also there is a slight chance — as we've had several near breakups in the past — this breakup may end up only being an extended hiatus as some of us (mainly myself) work out some personal issues in our lives." The frontman also disclosed that he "will be looking for another band to play in fairly soon, most likely with Todd Tomlinson, the original Drowningman drummer, and [guitarist] Pete [Martin] from Lifetime" and that he has "been discussing trying out for 7 Angels, 7 Plagues." Mmm. It is getting interesting, isn't it? We'll keep you posted. • Oliver Gbravac is the new guitarist for Fleshcrawl.

EIGHT QUESTIONS WITH... PULSE ULTRA'S ZO VIZZA!

As Pulse Ultra's impressive debut, Headspace, continues to ascend the CMJ Loud Rock charts, the Canadian band is out tearing it up on this year's Ozzfest. CMJ recently caught up with frontman Zo Vizza to discuss a multitude of topics, including the Great White North, TOOL and strippers (which also happen to be three of our favorite things).

Pulse Ultra is from Montreal, which is renowned worldwide for having some of the finest strip clubs known to man. Care to comment?

Yeah, Montreal has amazing strip clubs, man. There this one called Solid Gold that is just crazy! And, it's $10 Canadian for a lap dance. In Los Angeles, it's $25 and you can't even touch the women! We tell all the Americans to come to Montreal. You can get drunk and girls are totally naked in showers.

How different are American audiences from Canadian audiences? Be nice. Remember, you're going to have to face us all this summer when you play Ozzfest.

The difference is minute. We're all exposed to the same media and that defines what we are. So, we're all the same individuals. You and I have had the same TV in our living room since we were kids, so you and I can relate about Sesame Street, or Mister Rogers, and basically, even though we don't have the same parents, we share similar upbringings. The media is taking over. Hollywood is the new weapon of cloning.

Forget you're one of the performers on the bill and tell me who you are the most excited to see on this year's Ozzfest.

Apex Theory. I want to see what they are like live. We're all dying to see Meshuggah. They are one of the most technically challenging bands to listen to, but there is so much to learn from them. Also, we've seen System Of A Down so many times, but every time we see them we get something new. Plus, we're doing a bunch of off-dates with them during the Ozzfest. It'll be us, System, Meshuggah, Down and sometimes P.O.D.

Who would you cite among Pulse Ultra's biggest musical influences?

We're not really obsessed with one band. [Guitarist] Dominick [Cifarelli] and [drummer] Maxx [Zinno] listen to a lot of Dream Theater and Van Halen, while [bassist] Jeff [Feldman] listens to a lot of funk. TOOL is definitely one of our influences, but we listen to everything. We don't have the mentality that metal is the only way to go. As long as it touches you, music is good in all forms.

What was one album that totally changed your life and why?

Aenima by TOOL. The music is so profound and touching. I remember one time Jeff and I were on mushrooms and Jeff almost lost his mind listening to the live version of "Third Eye." He just started laughing and crying hysterically and he was like, "This is soooooo good!" Dominick, on the other hand, hates them because his guitar riffs sound like them. I'm just kidding! He's going to come beat me up now.

BLINDSIDE

Silence (3 Points-Elektra-EEG)

Sweden may spit out the death metal like no one's business, but Blindside is here to prove that the country can also cough up some damn catchy active rock. Formed in 1994, Stockholm's staunchly dedicated Blindside became known for its impassioned performances and monster hooks, resulting in a sizable following in the Christian heavy metal scene of Sweden throughout the late 1990s. The band released two full-length albums (the most notable of them, A Thought Crushed My Mind, was issued by Tooth And Nail in 2000) and eventually nabbed the attention of the guys in P.O.D., who became huge fans and brought the Swedish quartet to the attention of its producer, Howard Benson. The respected studio vet was immediately impressed and, with his commitment to produce the band, P.O.D. signed Blindside to its newly formed record label, named 3 Points, at the end of last year. The band's breathtaking major-label debut (Elektra Records is working with 3 Points on this release), dubbed Silence, is full of the kind of melodic depth that more artists should strive for. Sure, Blindside has more hooks than a longshore fisherman trolling for tuna, but its overall message is so sincere that the band never succumbs to the sugarcoated, overproduced corniness that derails the credibility of most rock bands doing this type of thing. "Caught A Glimpse," "Sleepwalking," "Pitiful," "The Endings" and "Time Will Change Your Heart" all deserve a listen. Expect big things. www.blindside-silence.com

MAD AT GRAVITY

Resonance (ARTISTdirect)

Mad At Gravity's ARTISTdirect Records debut, named Resonance, was produced by Steve Evetts — who is known for his work with bands like Hatebreed, Dillinger Escape Plan and Earth Crisis — but don't expect much metal, hardcore or deranged mathcore from this Southern California band. Instead, this gravity defying five-piece writes infectious, melodic rock that is for fans of artists like Fuel, Audiovent and Finger Eleven. "I think we've got something really unique here," drummer Jake Fowler says of the band. "For starters, we've got a vocalist who can actually sing — and that's a rarity these days." That said, most Loud Rockers will snub their noses at this band, but that doesn't mean that Crucial Spins reporters who are having success with a band like Seether shouldn't have a listen. This album's first single "Walk Away," with its husky hook and slick vocals, is already making the rounds at commercial rock radio. "Hystorypeats" and the (gasp!) Nickelback-ish "Time And Time Again" are both obvious contenders for a second single, while "Run For Cover" and "This Collision" are good places to start to experience the more "rocking" side of Mad At Gravity. Bottom line: this band is not for traditional metal fans, but is recommended to anyone who is a sucker for good melodic rock. www.madatgravity.com

HERMANO

Only A Suggestion (Tee Pee)

As far as we're concerned, John Garcia (best known for his role as the vocalist for sadly defunct stoner rock legends Kyuss) possesses one of the finest voices in rock music. He could be in a bathroom blowing his nose and we would gleefully glue ourselves to the door listening to every snort as if he was Jesus Christ preaching the gospel. With Kyuss on a permanent vacation, Garcia has been fronting the criminally overlooked Unida (somebody sign that fucking band already!) and now, he has lent his golden pipes to Hermano, a high-quality rock band that also features former Disengage/current Earshot guitarist Mike Callahan, former Afghan Whigs drummer Steve Earle, Supafuzz guitarist/vocalist Dave Angstrom, and bassist/organist/producer Steve Dandy Brown. The group's debut, entitled Only A Suggestion (which was originally supposed to be released on Mans Ruin Records, but the label folded), is indisputably one of this year's best. The album's opener, "The Bottle," as well as "Senor Moreno's Plan" and "Landetta (Motherload)," "5 To 5" and "Nick's Yea," are all as unforgettably good as a platter of first-class hash brownies. Garcia's performance on "Alone Jeffe" is so strong that it's hard not to wonder if every A&R rep in America has shit stuffed in their ears for not snatching this guy up. Rock albums simply aren't bred this pure anymore. Do not miss out. www.fotofx.biz/hermano

This is a last minute effort, folks. I fully admit that from the jump. My heart and mind are still in Aruba, where I spent the past five days. Got my fair share of sun and surf and even came back a deflowered karaoke virgin (what do they put in those drinks?!). While I sit here at this desk thinking of the sand between my toes and how I swam with the fishes, I'm asking myself why the fuck I came back. It's not like I had anything all that great to come back to! Oh, except the job. Yeah, whatever. I should've just shacked up with some Aruban guy and eked out a living braiding hair on the beach. This real life working shit blows!

On the figurative "eve" of the release date of his debut solo album, Styles P (a.k.a. Styles) has been sentenced to eight months in a Pasadena, California pen for committing an "ungentlemanly act" (read: stabbing a man in the ass), according to the NY Daily News. I wonder what he stabbed him with... a pen? A fork? • Ill Boogie Records has released the third volume of its Independents Finest compilation series. The album features new music by the likes of Mykill Myers, Akbar, Demigodz, Rasco, Yesh, Mars Ill, Emanon and Illin' P. • Fat Joe has been charged with assault after a fight on May 12 resulted in the rapper breaking a man's jaw with a single punch. Joe has been released on his own recognizance and is expected to return to court Sept. 5. • People Under The Stairs have announced some East Coast appearances beginning at S.O.B.'s in New York (8/14); Big Easy in Boston (8/15); Pearl St. in Northampton, MA (8/16); Higher Ground in Winooski, VT (8/17); The Met in Providence, RI (8/18); TLA in Philadelphia (8/19) and Cat's Cradle in Carrboro, NC (8/20). • Onry Ozzborn and Sleep have joined forces and released an album entitled S7v7n Days under the moniker Aurora. Conceived and recorded in seven days, the album chronicles the friendship of the two MCs (they have known each other since the fourth grade) and their experiences growing up in Farmington, New Mexico. The album will be released on Momentum Studios. • Heavy D is currently putting the finishing touches on his eighth album, simply entitled Hev. The album is the rapper's first in three years. • Perhaps this is off the subject, but I gotta put in a word for my man (Philadelphia 76er) Allen Ily. Honey, straighten up and fly right! Get your mind back on the game (where it obviously wasn't this past season)!

JURASSIC-5

"What's Golden"

(Interscope)

Say you go on vacation for a while and eat nothing but the food indigenous to that part of the world. When you get home, that first cheeseburger tastes like the greatest food in the universe. Well, this new single from Jurassic-5 is as satisfying, as comforting and as familiar as that first cheeseburger. The first single off of its upcoming Power In Numbers (due out in September), "What's Golden" exemplifies what J-5 does best: syncopated, rhythmic delivery over a funky, head-nod worthy beat adorned by elements like the brief horn section and scratching. Sink your teeth into this one and enjoy the comfort of the flavor this band is known for. If this is a preview of things to come, there's no reason to have any expectations lower than high.

BENZINO

"Rock The Party"

(Elektra-EEG)

Consider this new offering by Benzino an invitation to an after-hours party at a dark, smoky speakeasy halfway down an alley lit only by the flashing neon light on the corner. Dancing to this track should only be executed by those well-versed in moving their hips in that sexy, slow way perfected by strippers. If you can't hang, don't even bother trying — you'll look like an asshole. Accented by the shake of a tambourine and an almost Middle Eastern flair, "Rock The Party" is guaranteed to be the next bump-and-grind club joint. Might as well try out your partner's moves vertically before taking it to the next (read: horizontal) level. You're gonna get dirty with this one.

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

With the release of its sophomore album, 2000's Kids In Philly, Philadelphia's Marah fell under the dreaded category of "critic's favorites." While the album's ambitious E-Street shuffle nabbed lots of praise (rightfully so), only music geeks and journalists were taking note of the band outside of the City Of Brotherly Love. With its new album, Float Away With The Friday Night Gods, Marah has changed its tune a bit. With the help of Oasis producer Owen Morris, the Philly kids focused more on writing singles than evoking the spirit of classic Springsteen and, of course, critics are now claiming Marah singer/songwriter/guitarist Dave Bielanko sounds like Liam Gallagher. Can the band ever win? CMJ recently caught up with Bielanko to get the skinny on the band's new album, working with The Boss, the perils of being scrutinized by music journalists and the meaning of "Marah."

How is Float Away With The Friday Night Gods different from Kids In Philly?

In a lot of ways, this new record is stronger if you take it one song at a time. It's a singles record. That was the idea. From the beginning, we knew that we wanted a record producer who hadn't given a shit about what we had done in the past, someone who was totally new to the band. Then, we had a process of looking for 10 songs that we could stand behind and tour on. Our guideline for each song was simple. It should be able to be played on the radio or a jukebox. Each song should be able to be listened to and taken as its own thing. It was really exciting for us to do the album this way.

Bruce Springsteen adds a guitar solo and a backing vocal on "Float Away." What was it like working with The Boss?

Musically, Bruce is someone we look to very highly. His attention to detail throughout his career and how serious he takes it is inspiring to us on many levels. When it came time to get opinions on what we were doing with the new album — because we weren't sure if we were completely insane or not — we sent a copy to Bruce. So, I said to him, "You should play on this." So, we hooked that up and did it in New York City. Bruce is just the coolest motherfucker I know, so it was really good. It was a lot of fun.

Marah's last album (Kids In Philly) endured its fair share of comparisons to vintage Springsteen. This time around, you're being compared — more vocally than anything else — to Oasis' Liam Gallagher. This obviously has a lot to do with the fact that Owen Morris, who has worked with Oasis, produced Float Away With The Friday Night Gods.

Yes, that is just a lazy comparison because of Owen. That's one of the things that might happen to you if you're a record producer. You might work with someone who experiences a huge success and obviously that will follow you wherever you go. Owen insisted that I sing the notes, figure out the melody lines, play them on a piano and sing those notes. That's a lot like how Liam Gallagher sings his songs. In that, I can see a comparison. I think Oasis is a great band. I think Bruce Springsteen is a great band. There aren't that many of them, so I don't take those comparisons too hard.

Do you look at comparisons like these as compliments or jeers?

I cringe when I see that, man. I guess you need reference points but it doesn't make me incredibly happy.

Does it bug you to be called a "critic's band"?

With this album, we needed to sever some ties. We needed to say to the critics, "We're not a critics band." It wasn't important to me, man. What's really important to me is being able to play a song and have some kid who is working at the Burger King hear our music. Up until this point, we've existed in a very strange way in a very snobbish music community. We've existed to people who are very into music. I am. You are, because you work at CMJ. But, the general public doesn't need to pay that much attention; they just need to hear a song. As a band our goal is to find a way to do that. We want to find an avenue to reach those people.

What's happening on modern rock radio right now is horrible. I wouldn't mind muscling in a bit on that territory. But, it isn't easy, man. There's a lot of money that needs to be spent to make that happen. It's a process like the Red Hot Chili Peppers went through, where you come out the other side and, all of a sudden, your voice is valid. It's accessible to people who aren't music critics or overzealous fans. There's nothing wrong with that, because that's how I've been my whole life. I know all about all kinds of music, but a lot of people don't. It's important to us that we reach some of those people because we could give them a great night out at a club. We could give people who are listening Puddle Of Mudd records, or whatever, a whole different way to look at a rock band today. That stuff is just rhyming for the sake or rhyming. Those are formulaic rock records.

The word "Marah," which translates to "bitter," can be found in the Bible. What made you choose that for a band name?

In a lot of ways, the Replacements ruined a lot of people's attitudes and I've been bitter about music all along. If you have a dark-horse mentality, it's not the worst thing that you could have because in it there's a great sense of humor. There is a way forward in the face of really dark circumstances or situations you may find yourself in if you are an independently minded rock band in corporate America. So, "bitter" seemed appropriate at the time and seems even more appropriate today. We also wanted a band name that was simple. Marah seemed simple enough that you could put it on a t-shirt and it would look cool.

5 CURRENT FAVORITES

Promise Ring Wood/Water • Pedro The Lion Control • Ugly Casanova Sharpen Your Teeth • Anniversary Your Majesty • Fine China You Make Me Hate Music

How many watts is your station? How many people do you reach?

Ten glorious watts. Due to regulations that I never understood, KWUR isn't allowed to upgrade wattage beyond that. Thank goodness for online streaming. Somehow, people still manage to hear us one way or another. The weird/great thing is that you'll randomly run across someone who's a listener. One time I was interviewing for a job and the interviewer saw KWUR on my resume and mentioned how his friend from out of town was a fan of the station.

What's the station motto/your personal programming philosophy?

"The finest in underground radio" or "25 years of debauchery," which commemorates our 25th anniversary this year.

How long have you been and will you be MD? How do you abuse your power?

This was my first and last year of being MD and milking the job for all the free CDs that I can.

What do you do to build your station's audience?

Some of the older DJs have established their fan bases outside of the college campus, namely Mike 2600, who spins hip-hop shows around town, and Techno Bob, who has a crazy amount of connections in the dance community. We've also been more proactive in recruiting new DJs, thanks to more organized training programs, adding about 40 new DJs. More DJs = more variety = more listeners.

Who are you most proud of bringing either to the station or to your campus to perform?

Every year we hold an event dubbed "KWUR Week," where we have a series of concerts of different genres. This year we managed to bring in Sick Of It All, Suicide Machines, Peanut Butter Wolf, Madlib and the frontman for Electric Skychurch. Last year's KWUR Week brought in the Promise Ring and Songs:Ohia.

What was your most successful fundraiser? How much money do you raise on average?

This past year, KWUR set up a philanthropy department to give back something to the local music community. More specifically, we decided to raise some funds for a local African-American chorus that provides music camps for kids. Being the first year we've done this, it would automatically be our most successful fundraiser (despite the fact that it was just a bucket placed outside of KWUR Week shows).

Are you on the air? What kind of show do you do?

I did a show named "Spontaneous Combustion," which was just a conglomeration of anything I felt like playing — punk, rock, emo, indie, hip-hop, electronica, whatever. I used to run a ska show, but I found that trying to strictly play one genre was just too limiting and eventually got boring.

What's the best use for a CD other than for storing music?

One DJ built a clock face out of CDs. Definitely more creative than the usual coaster or Frisbee use.

Every station has that one old dude from the local town that's been doing a show since anyone can remember. Who is it at your station, what kind of show do they do, and what's their deal?

That'd be Bill Tatalovich, who was a former music director who just works in the area now after graduating from Washington University. He was playing emo way before most people knew what it was. I'm pretty indebted to him because during my first few semesters DJing I used to look at his playlists for bands to play because I didn't know much about music.

Why did you go into college radio? Free CDs?

There just seemed to be something really appealing about having your own radio show. College radio provides a real easy opportunity to get that without a lot of the performance pressure that professional radio carries, which was a huge plus for me since I basically screw up every single show. The lure of free CDs hadn't really occurred.

When will you be graduating?

Ha ha, I'll be all done by the time this is printed.

If you could see anyone live (dead or living), who would it be and why?

Probably the Clash. My musical tastes tend to be more modern, and they're probably the only band I really like that's not in existence today.

INTERNSHIPS

Little Big Man Booking, a downtown NYC talent agency and publicity firm, is looking for an intelligent, professional intern for the fall of 2002. Position is unpaid; you must receive college credit. Duties include contract processing, website maintenance, assisting with publicity campaigns, etc. Please fax cover letter and resume to internship coordinator Andy Adelewitz at 646.336.8522; email: andy@littlebigman.com.

VP Records is currently hiring interns for the Promotions Dept. at our NY office. Interns will assist in the distribution of CDs, vinyl and POP to radio, press, retail and more. Be prepared to gain real experience! Hours are flexible, from a minimum of 20 hours per week to full-time. Current releases are Reggae Gold '02, Bounty Killer, Tanto Metro And Devonte, and Sean Paul. Please send a resume and cover letter to dustin@vprerecords.com.

Earache Records is seeking interns to assist with Publicity,

Sales and Production in its NYC office. Responsibilities include making phone calls, maintaining press kits, promotional mailings, handling stock, running errands and other duties. Internships are unpaid, but we can offer academic credit and invaluable hands-on experience. Email Curran at usapr@earache.com; phone: 212.840.9090.

Vanguard Records is seeking publicity interns to help out in our Santa Monica, California office. Interns must commit at least one day a week (flexible hours) and have basic computer skills (Word, Excel, other MS Office programs). Responsibilities include gluing press clips, creating press kits, assisting with mailings, ticket buys, etc. Roster includes John Hiatt, Peter Case, Quetzal, Julia Fordham, Peter Stuart and Robert Bradley's Blackwater Surprise. Fax resume to 310.315.9306; email: publicity@vanguardrecords.com.

Mute Records is seeking interns to help out at our label in NYC. Positions available in the Publicity, Radio and other departments. These are not paid positions, but a good chance to gain industry experience in a close-knit, friendly atmosphere. Our roster includes Add N To X, Buzzcocks, Cabaret Voltaire, Can, Future Groove Records, Laurent Garnier, Goldfrapp, Richie Hawtin, Luke Slater and more. Email your resume to Alex Schneider at alex@mute.com; fax: 212.255.6065; phone: 212.255.7670, ext. 230.

INDUSTRY

BigRecordPromoter is seeking individuals to write for the BigRecordPromoter Contact Database And Indie Resource Book. See your name in lights, tell it like it is, help a few lost indie bands, and get a plug for your company and/or yourself. No monetary compensation. Please submit one paragraph on each of the following by July 30: your bio, a synopsis of what you'd like to write, an explanation of your expertise. Questions? Contact Matt Meyerson at 310.917.1554; email: matt@bigrecordpromoter.com.

STREET TEAMS AND MARKETING

Thrive/Perfecto Records is seeking reliable street and college coordinators with transportation to fill positions immediately in the following markets: Chicago, San Francisco, Boston, Dallas, Detroit, Washington, D.C., Houston, Cleveland, Atlanta, Minneapolis, Miami, Tampa, FL, St. Louis, Denver, Phoenix, Baltimore, Las Vegas, San Diego, Memphis, TN. Upcoming releases include Seb Fontaine, Darren Emerson and John Digweed. Email tom_gonzalez90057@yahoo.com; phone: 323.308.3555.

Giant Step, an NYC-based record label and marketing company, is currently seeking music-loving reps in the following markets: Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Boston, Dallas, Detroit, Washington, D.C. and Houston. Duties include research, street promotions, possible event planning and more. Email resume to luis@giantstep.net; phone: 212.219.3567 ext. 221.

COPE WITH IT

One of the most important, immediate and real issues facing our industry today is that the collective music industry has done a piss-poor job of educating consumers about both the emotional importance and value of music in their lives and why, subsequently, the artist who bring that music to them should be supported (with $$$). It's an even tougher argument to make to kids under 22, in college, with high-speed access and a CD burner.

As "music professionals," have we accepted that the fire is out of control and that progress will be slow because "damn it, that's just how the business is going to be for a while — everything goes in cycles anyway." After all, how could we possibly fight all the battles that currently plague us: 1) CD/DVD burning, and pier-to-pier technology; 2) countering exclusive product, special account rebates, extremely low pricing and other special deals cut with large accounts; 3) creating a cohesive vision (not driven merely by greed and control) for using the Internet.

We share an inability to educate new music consumers who can understand why they should support the artists, writers and others who bring them this music. Names like AOL/Time Warner, Sony, Vivendi/Universal and Clear Channel mean little to consumers. To most, it seems as if they're being asked to spend merely to line the already full pockets of major record and entertainment companies (who are easy punching bags for consumers who are more than happy to "stick it to the man" with a download or two). Perception often becomes reality. Now is time that our message needs to be heard.

Look at the success of the "Got Milk?" commercials we know so well. They are short, direct, entertaining and get the point across about a product that's a staple of our everyday lives. I'd argue that just as milk is "essential" to the lives of most, so too is music. Where is our "Got Music?" campaign? Where is our consumer education program that helps music lovers see why it is so wrong to steal music and who the most affected are? As long as consumers see the issue as a David-vs-Goliath-corporation, we'll lose. A few weeks back I asked, "Where are the leaders for today's music industry?" Isn't this why organizations like NARAS and NARM exist, to help lead the charge on these issues?

There are very real opportunities for educating the public about why they should purchase music — whatever its format. We could use willing artists themselves to send the message. If all of the major record label and distribution companies were to chip in a small portion of their profits to buy major TV time to promote this idea that music cannot be free, we may start reaching people. First and foremost, artists are the ones who can strike this chord louder than anyone. Look, maybe this is just a hippy dream, but it seems logical that we need a little PR for the record biz — because we look like shit right now. Peace, Cope.

SPEAK OUT

BILL O'KEEFERock-A-Billy's • Utica, MI

Recently, I found myself in a conversation/argument with a few High School friends about downloading and burning music. They were having a problem understanding the harm of it all and why I was so upset with their apparent ignorance. They made the point that most performers were far over paid and did not deserve the amount of money they were receiving. I responded with how absurd it was for any of them to decide the value of a record, and more importantly how much money the performer should receive. I then asked them if they felt as if the CEO of Wal-Mart was over paid, would they feel as comfortable going in to a Wal-Mart and walking out with a garden hose without paying for it. With a bit of anger and disgust, I told them that people like themselves, who steal cable, download and burn CDs, would be the first ones to act with complete shock and dismay if their kid stole a candy bar from the local Rite Aid.

I think we've become a country of hypocrites—we act so shocked when our kids steal while teaching them their entire life that some forms of theft are justified. My hope was that my friends could grasp this logic, that their views were in the minority. But a week later, a rather good customer came into my store with a grin on his face as he told me I had new competition to deal with. To my amazement, he started telling me about his great entrepreneur of a son who would buy new releases from me Tuesday, burn 15 to 20 discs, take them to school the next day and get $5.00 a piece. After restraining myself from hitting this idiot, I explained to him that his son was a thief, not an entrepreneur.

Those two situations may hold the key to a solution regarding our downloading and burning

UNDER THE RADAR Column by Gerry Hart • ghart@cmj.com

This week in Under the Radar we want to draw special attention to those albums that are either making important moves on CMJ Retail charts, or are just about to. We'll also throw in a few reasons on the what, why, and how things are beginning to pop.

HOWIE DAY

Australia

Epic/Daze Records
Catalog No. 86708

Howie Day continues to build steam and support at CMJ retail with Australia. Our first major chain debut comes from Virgin Megastore (HQ) No. 64 and includes reports from their Boston, Chicago, Denver, and Union Square stores. Others include: Newbury Comics (HQ) at No. 66, Bull Moose at No. 38, Compact Disc World at No. 49, Manifest Discs (HQ) at No. 16, Laser's Edge at No. 17, Olsson's at No. 19 and Tower (Cambridge) at No. 21. Howie Day is a retail fav all the way. Current Top 100 chart position: No. 64*.

ASH

Free All Angels

Kinetic Records
Catalog No. 54715

Lesson here is: Do not take your eye off the ball. This is a baby record that's going to grow up to be a big record. After debuting its first week at No. 59, then dropping beneath the Top 100 radar last week, Angels re-debuts again at No. 88. This is a great Brit Pop record. In-store play this one and you will sell. Top 10s this week from Boogie (Toledo) to Good (Dallas), Lakeshore Alternative (Rochester) and Blue Note (N. Miami Beach). Watch this continue its climb. Current chart position: No. 88*.

MR. BIGG

Only If U Knew

Warlock Records
Catalog No. 2822

OK, we'll be the first to admit this has caught us by surprise. The album originally released in 2000, but sales have started to pick up on this gangsta rapper. Major chains include Music Network at No. 35 and Sound Shop & Music For Less at No. 18. One stops come in with Central South at No. 18 and Music City Distributors at No. 11. Other CMJ retailers include: Manifest Discs (HQ) No. 9, Cats/Poplar Tunes (HQ) No. 9, Sounds Familiar at No. 9. There's a SE thang happening here, be prepared. Current chart position: 106

Bold numbers signify upward movement.

YEAH, YEAH, YEAHS

Yeah Yeah Yeahs

Touch and Go

Catalog No. 238

One thing's for sure, whether you call it garage or punk rock, it seems to have climbed out of the gutter once again. NYC's latest contributions, Yeah Yeah Yeahs is spreading well beyond the Empire state. Top 50 debuts at Bow Wow Records at No. 1, Atomic Records at No. 3, Criminal Records at No. 11, Amoeba Records (Hollywood) at No. 14, Fingerprints at No. 16, and the Virgin Megastore (Union Square) at No. 38. If you play it they will buy. Current Top 100 chart position: Debut No. 77*.

BUTCH WALKER

Arista Records

Catalog No. 14743

He's recorded with Collective Soul, Injected, Lit, and Marvelous 3. CMJ

Retail responds with immediate Top 50 sales: Criminal Records at No. 20, Phil's at No. 5, Cactus at No. 35, Compact Disc World at No. 22, Rock-A-Billys at No. 3, TREX (HQ) at No. 9, Manifest Discs (HQ) No. 8, Disc Exchange at No. 22, Last Unicorn (New Hartford) at No. 15 and Disc & Tape Unlimited at No. 5. Major chains include: Warehouse at No. 2 and Music Network at No. 46. Stay tuned kids, there's more to come for Butch. Current Top 100 chart position: No. 94*.

Sirena

Palm Pictures

Catalog No. 2083

Cousteau formed in London in 1998 and follow in the line of Brit pop that includes Radiohead, Blur and Pulp. This one is right up CMJ Retail's alley with debut reports from: ear X-tacy at No. 27, Blue Note Records (N. Miami Beach) at No. 41, Music Millennium #2 (Portland) No. 8, Reckless at No. 11, Switched On at No. 11, Tower (Philly) at No. 26, Virgin at No. 41, Sonic Boom/Market St at No. 23, and Record Express (S. Windsor) at No. 76. Watch this crack the Top 100 soon. Current chart position: No. 119*.

Radio	Targets are college, Triple A and Americana. Early commitments and interest Coming from national NPR shows. 16HP has a great history with all non-comm formats and had commercial AAA ads on previous records.	The single, "Wherever I Go" is simply beautiful. It features and was written by Billy Corgan and just went for adds at Triple A this last week. Going for adds at Modern AC, college and non-comm July 25. NPR and other syndicated shows supporting with interviews.	First single is "Stinging Velvet" which will get an aggressive push at college and Triple AAA beginning August 19. Look for on-air appearances at radio around the country during tour. This record will be a classic.	"Wavy Gray" going to the Essential Beats radio panel for immediate adds. Album also being serviced to Mix and specialty shows as well as college radio with an August 5 add date. "Golden Arm," and "Requiem" are also focus tracks.
Video	There's an animated video in production scheduled for release this September.	There is a video for the opening track, "Sex With Strangers."	Animated video is in the work.	No Video
Press/TV	Features and reviews coming from Harp, Magnet, Alternative Press, CMJ Monthly (and Weekly), No Depression , Denver Post and many other weeklies. An AMAZING live band. Jetset gunning for late night TV—keep your fingers crossed or go see them when they come to town.	Upcoming support from Harpers Bazaar, Nylon, Blender, Rolling Stone, Vanity Fair, Interview (by Beck), Billboard, Pulse, Flaunt, Magnet. Catch her 9/3 with Billy Corgan on Letterman . Gap print and TV campaign will feature Marianne.	Press from everyone: Time Magazine, Living Room, Interview, Magnet, Nylon, Harp, Rolling Stone, Seventeen, Spin, Stuff, Tower Pulse, Vice, Stereo-Type, Chicago Magazine and GQ with dailies and weeklies popping up around the country.	Support from press coming from Mixer, DJ Times, DMA, CMJ Music Monthly (and Weekly), Night Guide, BPM, Alternative Press, Remix (cover story for Sept), Billboard, Wired and much more.
Tour	Full national tour kicks off Aug 20 in (16HP's hometown) Denver. 16HP will tour throughout the fall and will hit not only major but most secondary markets as well—keep checking jetsetrecords.com for updates.	Marianne will be touring the U.S. beginning this fall. Shows include: Chicago (9/13), Boston (9/14), DC (9/16), Philly (9/17), NYC (9/19 – 9/21) and over to LA (12/1).	Neko tours constantly and this album will be no exception. Tour will include over 40 dates between September and November. Do not miss her live.	Sasha will be touring like an electronic dog from 8/14 through 11/1. Aug. dates include NYC, Boston, DC, Austin, Miami, Chicago, LA, and SF. In-store signings at Virgin (Union Sq) 8/14 and Virgin (Boston) 8/15.
Internet	Fans and retailers can get a ton of info at 16horsepower.net as well as at jetsetrecords.com. Animated video e-card going out to Jetset's more than 250,000 member email list. 16HP has a very active online community fan base.	Virgin working with Sperrymedia on this one. Full listening party week of release on AOL.com (streaming songs, bios, pics, etc.). Katrillion.com is working with lifestyle sites (oxygen.com, consierge.com, ivillage.com, city-search.com, redenvelope.com). Amazon.com and RollingStone.com both featuring Kissin .	Best site is bloodshotrecords.com. Bloodshot doing online promotion with Scott Perry's Sperry Media (sperry-media.com) which will include free mp3 downloads.	Best sites are kineticrecords.com, delta-heavy.com and djsasha.com. There will be AOL.com "sessions" and Lycos "chats" with Sasha. Cornerstone helping with online street team efforts (working RIYL chat rooms and fan sites).
Notes	Lead singer, David Eugene Edward, was the son of a Hell's Angel raised by his traveling preacher grandfather. His band is born from a breath-taking originality that if you haven't spent any time with 16HP yet, you can get a good start with Folklore . Get in touch with terri@jetsetrecords.com for displays.	This is Marianne's first record in 3 years, and it's a great one. All star line-up of co-writing conspirators includes Beck, Billy Corgan, Damon Albarn and Blur, Jarvis Cocker, Dave Steward, St. Etienne. You must hear "Wherever I Go." In-store play it and Marianne will win a whole new group of fans from your customers. Keep your ears peeled for Certain Damage Vol. 125, late August.	Street teams and extensive print ads with Magnet, No Depression and the like. Neko is one of the strongest and most popular artists in the alt. country genre—and this album makes her one of the most important. In-store play copies and posters available. Call Steve Dube (steve@bloodshotrecords.com or your ADA rep for more info.	There is a very cool Sasha remix contest sponsored by Apple Computers where the fan who wins (by remixing a Sasha track) can win new iMacs (with MacOS X, flat panel display, G4 processor, DVD burning SuperDrive), iPods, and a trip for two to see Sasha in Europe, PLUS a 12" vinyl release by Kinetic of your remix. (check kinetic's site for details).

A Division Of The Good Umbrella™

I recently had the pleasure of visiting a great store while on a trip to Texas last week. After a nostalgic dinner with most of NCM (legendary punk rock combo, long disbanded), one of the guys (and former band mate of mine) checked out a bright and glowing music shop in one of Dallas' former industrial areas, Good Records. Good opened its doors early in 2000. Erik Courson, along with partners Chris Penn, Tim DeLaughter (Tripping Daisy, The Polyphonic Spree) and wife Julie came together in an attempt to bring something to Dallas that was missing: a music store run and operated by people who love music. Besides brightly colored lights, the thing that sets them apart from the competition in Dallas is selection. Good Records decided that from the beginning they'd focus on a small niche market and concentrate on what they knew best: independent music. Good has achieved its goal to become a destination, not only where people could come and buy music, but also where they could come to talk.

Their very first in-store performance was Enon, and since then they've hosted everyone from Grandaddy, Solex, South, Super Furry Animals, The Polyphonic Spree, Spacemen 3, Low and Queens Of The Stone Age. They have a number of programs available to suit everyone from major labels to the independents. Good also stretches advertising beyond the confines of the store by incorporating their web site in all ad programs. They've also got their own label: Good Records.

CMJ Q&A with Erik Courson

Current favorite?

Of course, I'm biased because we put this record out, but The Polyphonic Spree continues to awe and inspire.

Co-Owners Chris Penn (left) Erik Courson (right).

All-time favorite album?

There are so many to choose from, but the Beatles' Revolver is still one of my favorite records. It's amazing how timeless that record is.

All time favorite B-side?

Grandaddy's "First Movement/Message Send:ID#5646766" from the Crystal Lake single gave me goose bumps the first time I heard them perform it live.

First record bought? Where? When?

I bought The Police's Synchronicity on cassette from Target not long after it came. I was only 8 years old.

Favorite weekend party disc?

We came across one of those compilations of classic '80s rap tunes, and it never fails to get people moving: Tone Loc, Rob Base and the like; you can't go wrong with those.

Favorite Sunday morning disc?

Mojave 3's Excuses For Travelers always seems to set the mood.

First concert attended? Where? When?

I saw George Strait at Billy Bob's in Texas, 1981. All I remember is seeing a bunch of people's knees.

Best concert attended? Where? When?

One of my favorite moments came at the local EDGEFest in 1994. Watching local heroes, Tripping Daisy, perform in front of 20,000 screaming fans sing along to "My Umbrella" changed my life.

What artist (past or present) would you like to see live?

Of course, who wouldn't want to see the Beatles? Seeing the early Ramones would have been a trip too.

Currently reading?

Harry Potter, so sue me. Anyone have the third one I can borrow?

What do you collect?

I used to collect baseball cards as a kid, and I still have a strange fetish for all things Ernie (Sesame Street).

NEWSWORTHY

VIRGIN ASKS IF ANYONE IS CALLING LONDON

On Thursday, July 11, Virgin Entertainment Group hosted a London Calling panel at the Times Square Virgin Megastore which asked a panel record industry folks to respond to declining UK artist sales on US soil. It has been recently noted that not a single British artist is featured in Billboard Magazine's top 50 for the first time in more than 25 years. So what's happened? The Beatles, The Rolling Stones, The Sex Pistols, The Clash, The Cure, Echo and the Bunnymen, never met with the kind of resistance that both radio and consumers seem to offer the UK artist now. Among the topics the panel debated were barrier-to-trade issues (UK-US) which, conversely, are less restrictive for US artists headed for UK soil as well as issues surrounding basic artist development and tour sup-port's growing price tag. VEG's North American VP, Dave Adler, felt Virgin's hosting of such a discussion is key since, "as a British brand in America, we [believe we can be] an outlet where possible solutions can be discussed." In an effort to escalate the success of UK artists, Virgin has just launched its Best Of British campaign offering key price and positioning for UK releases (both new and catalog). All purchases of UK albums come with a free Best Of British compilation (a great mix of artist by the way). The discussed wrapped with a performance by English Beat and Fine Young Cannibals alum, Andy Cox and his new band Cribabi. More on Best of British as it rolls out in the coming months. For more info check out virginmega.com.

London Calling Panelists included:

Justin Oppelaar, Music Reporter, Daily Variety
 Bill Diggins, President, Diggit! Entertainment Management
 Andy Cox, Artist, Cribabi, English Beat, Fine Young Cannibals
 Paul DeGooyer, General Manager, Palm
 Paul Birch, Managing Director of Revolver Records, Chairman of BPI's International Committee
 Dave Alder, Senior Vice President of Product and Marketing, Virgin Entertainment Group, North America
 Jim Kelly, Head of Sales, V2
 Joy Feuer, Vice President Field Sales, Capitol Records
 Lesley Bleakley, CEO, The Beggars Group (USA, inc.)
 Brian Garrity, Editor, Billboard
 Gerry Hart, Retail Editor, CMJ

problems. What needs to be done is to guilt people into doing the right thing. Terry Currier from Music Millennium in Portland, Oregon, wrote a very informative and hopefully effective letter to leaders of our business that offered solutions and a kind of mission statement. One of these solutions (which I think would go along way) would be to produce a PSA (Public Service Announcement) where respected performers from different musical genres simply and concisely explain that downloading and burning of CDs is not only wrong, but it's also illegal. I know as a parent, I would have a hard time downloading and burning, or condoning one of my kids for doing it if I had just been told by someone I respected that it was wrong and against the law.

I guess the theory here is that if we can stop generally honest people, we have succeeded doing about as much as we can possibly expect to. True criminals, unfortunately, will probably always succeed, at least for a while. I would encourage everyone to read Terry Currier's letter or contact him at terry@musicmillennium.com.

"The album traipses through everything from Sonic Youth guitars to B-52's vox to the angular rhythms of Wire."

"...HHV's left-of-center labcoat rock immediately recalls the quirk 'n' jerk sound of 80's post-punk, yet largely maintains a modern freshness..."
